Coveleski struck out five and allowed seven hits while Aldridge struck out three and allowed eight hits.

MITCHELL REFUSES TO TESTIFY NAVAL COURT OF INQUIRY

A Formal Subpoena for His Appearance Issued Today By the Naval Body

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell refused today to testify before the Naval Court investigating the Shenandoah disaster.

After he had objected to being sworn before the court under the order of the army directing him to appear, a formal subpoena for his appearance was issued today by the Naval body. Judge Advocate Foley delivered it in person and Mitchell refused to accept service under advice of his counsel.

While the court was in executive session determining its course, after Mitchell had objected to taking the oath, Representative Frank R. Reid made public a communication which the Colonel sent yesterday to the Adjutant General of the Army. Advised officially that Colonel Mitchell had refused to appear the court direct—the Judge Advocate to communicate that fact to the War Department, which originally had ordered Mitchell to come before the court and give testimony.

Colonel Mitchell's communication said: "I hereby request that the orders from the Adjutant General delivered October 7, 1925 that I report to the Naval Court of Inquiry at ten o'clock October 8, 1925 be revoked. My reasons are as follows:

"A. I have been notified by the War Department that Court Martial proceedings are impending against me."

"B. I am advised by my counsel that it would be inconsistent with my legal right and may prejudice my case should I be required to testify before the Naval Court on matters liable to be the subject of inquiry in possible court martial proceedings."

"My counsel advised me not to testify at this time before the Naval Court of Inquiry, but to request a delay until final action shall have been made on my court martial proceedings."

"This communication is sent direct as there is not sufficient time for me to send it through the headquarters district at Washington. A copy has been sent to headquarters."

There being no other witness available for the inquiry at this time the court then adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow.

Aldridge flies out to pitcher. No runs no hits no errors.

Washington—Rice singles over second. S. Harris is forces Rice out at second. Goslin out pitcher to first. Judge flies out to second base.

Pittsburgh—Moore hit to Peckinpaugh at short who juggles ball. More safe at first. On hit an run play Moore is safe at second while Stanley Harris throws Carey out at first. Cuyler hits home run scoring Moore ahead of him. Barnhart singles through short stop. Judge muffed up Traynor's grounder and both runners safe. Wright fouls out to third. Grantham fouls out to catcher. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Ninth Inning

Washington—J. Harris gets base on balls. (McNeeley takes base to run for Harris.) Meyers singles to left field, McNeeley going to second base. Peckinpaugh gets base on balls, filling bases. Severeid batting for Ruel sacrifices scoring McNeeley. Reuther batting for Coveleski strikes out. Rice out Moore to Grantham. One run, one hit, no errors.

Pittsburgh—(Not played.)

VETERAN BASEBALL PITCHER SUGGUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Chris Mathewson, Hero of World War As Well as of Diamond, Dies at Mountain Camp

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Christy Mathewson, one of the greatest pitchers of all time, is dead at his mountain camp.

A hero of the world war as well as of the diamond on which he was the first big college star, died last night of tuberculosis and pneumonia, the result of being gassed while a Captain in the chemical warfare service in France. The end came while his buddies in the American Legion were holding their annual convention in Omaha and while Walter Johnson, his greatest contemporary, was being hailed as a hero in the world series, such as Mathewson had been in the past. "Big Six" as he was known before his stature battled intermittently with tuberculosis for five years, went to France in 1918, after three years as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. He was taken seriously ill in 1920 and retired to Saranac Lake. His body will be taken from Saranac Lake to Lewistown, Pennsylvania, tonight where funeral services will be held Saturday.

Sketch of Life.

Christy Mathewson, idol of the nation's baseball fandom over a span of more than two decades, and one of the greatest pitchers the game has ever known, was a symbol of the highest type of American sportsmanship.

Running the full gamut of baseball fame, first as a playing star, later as coach and manager, Mathewson left the game to answer a greater call during the world war; subsequently fought and won a battle for his life, threatened by after effects of his service, and then capped the climax of his diamond career by returning as part owner and president of a major league club.

But after all this, remarkable achievements of Mathewson's career are recounted, the greatest tribute of all will be paid to his wonderful pitching skill. For on the mound he was a master craftsman, the most consummate and brilliant artist of all time, in the opinion of many of the game's closest critics.

"Big Six"—a sobriquet contracted from "Big Six Footer"—started his major league career with the New York Giants in 1900, and it was during his 17 seasons with that club that he carved a lasting niche for himself in the twilight hall of fame. Later he became manager for two and a half years of the Cincinnati Reds; served as a captain in the chemical warfare arm of the American Expeditionary Force during the world war; returned from the service to rejoin his old team—the Giants, as a coach, and retired from the game temporarily in 1920, when his health was dangerously impaired. He came back, again hale and hearty in February, 1923, to accept the presidency and part ownership of the Boston Nationals.

BELIEVE LEVEES SAVED PUEBLO FROM 'NOTHER FLOOD DISASTER

Pueblo, Col.—(AP)—Levees and flood control work of the Pueblo conservancy district saved Pueblo from another disastrous flood in July. Cloudbursts in the mountains in the same month of 1921 brought down a deluge that flooded a large part of the city and took more than 100 lives.

Observers believe the amount of water that flowed through the Arkansas channel in July this year would have caused a repetition of the disaster had it not been for the levees, which enabled the channel to carry a greater volume of water without danger to Pueblo.

Free Will Baptist Church Holds Its Yearly Conference

With what was acknowledged by the oldest members of the church to have been the largest attendance of membership in the history of the church, the local Free Will Baptist Church held their regular yearly business meeting last evening, with the pastor, Rev. L. E. Ballard as moderator.

The reports, while not showing a very large increase in membership for the year, shows that a good year's work has been done. The financial reports show up well in view of the general depression felt during the year by members of the Church, the treasurer's report showing that the budget of the Church has been taken care of with a balance of pledges on hand.

Quite a bit of interest was manifested in a resolution presented by S. M. Walters outlining a plan for more effectively organizing the church for the ensuing year. The resolution provided for a broader work along the lines of missions and church extension, and called for a number of additional officers for the church. It also endorsed the Choir Association recently organized by the pastor and Mr. E. D. Griffin, director of Religious Training, and the Women's Missionary Society. The resolution was received without a single negative vote.

Without an exception every member of the official staff of the church was re-elected for another year, and all committees named by the pastor were approved by the church.

The membership of the church are looking forward to a great year for the work.

The National Air Races Begin Today

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Oct. 8.—(AP)—In a great concentration of American civilian and service air craft, some 500 planes were here today for the National Air Race and a sham battle with a monster invading foreign fleet.

During a program of ten races lasting three days, 45 army airplanes constituting nearly the entire force of thoroughly efficient up to date machines in the military service, will be charged with locating and repelling an imaginary enemy force of 400 planes

MINISTERS TO TAKE RELIGIOUS CENSUS OF GREENVILLE

Doctor H. Frederick Jones Received As a Member of the Ministerial Association

The Greenville Ministerial Association met in their regular monthly meeting Monday morning in the Woodmen Hall, with the president, Rev. L. E. Ballard presiding. All members of the association were present, except Dr. Cook, rector of St. Paul's church, who was making preparations to go to the hospital in Richmond.

After the devotional service, Dr. H. Frederick Jones, the new pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church was formerly received as a member of the association. Dr. Jones was introduced to the Association by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who in a few well chosen words spoke of the pleasant associations with Dr. Jones to date, and of the joy of having him as a member of the Association. He then offered a few remarks relative to the accomplishments of the Association in the past, and of the possibilities of the future.

In his response Dr. Jones expressed himself as being pleased with Greenville, and with the promising outlook for his work. "I am here to love everybody, and I want everybody to love me," he said. He expressed his appreciation for the "good things said," and pledged his loyalty to the Association.

The only matter of business discussed was the question of taking a religious census of the city in the near future. The Association acted favorably on the suggestion, and appointed a committee with Dr. Jones as chairman, to arrange for the census, and give proper publicity to the movement. It was decided that owing to the revival season being on at this time that the actual taking of the census would be deferred until the month of November, but pastors and religious leaders of the city are to be urged to keep the matter before the people.

Rev. L. E. Ballard, president of the Association, announced that the next meeting would close his year as president. He said he was glad that the end of the year would find a full line-up of pastors. "Just after my election," said Mr. Ballard, "the members of the Association left one by one, until we only had a very few members. I am glad however, that the tide has turned, and the membership is getting back to normal. It saves the administration of Brother Leach and myself from disgrace."

The closing Year has seen a change of pastors in every church in the city except three, the First Presbyterian, St. Paul's Episcopal, and the Free Will Baptist. New pastors "are on the job" now, however, in every church with the coming of Dr. Jones and a splendid spirit of co-operation exists between the ministers.

Calls Attention to Error in Report of Recent Flooding Case

H. B. Sugg, head of the negro school in Farmville, stated yesterday that in a recent news story carried in the columns of this paper regarding the flooding of a negro doctor in Farmville, that the portion of the news report which referred to the negro doctor's visits to the school and the principals reporting the affair to authorities was erroneous.

Sugg stated that the negro schools in Farmville and that section had not yet opened and that his knowledge no speaking nor meeting had been held at the negro school and that he had made no report to authorities regarding the negro doctor's actions.

COUNSEL CONTINUES DECREASE IN VOTES ARGUMENT IN TRIAL COMES TO NIGHT OF W. B. COLE TODAY IN PRIZE CONTEST

Douglass Declares That Cole's Declaration "That He Was Not Sorry," Made His Blood Run Cold

Richmond County Court House, Rockingham, N. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Confidence was stamped upon the features of W. B. Cole today as the jury, that will decide his fate for the killing of W. W. Ormond, his daughter's former sweetheart, heard the concluding argument in his trial. The wealthy cotton manufacturer read letters while Ormer L. Henry addressed the jury in his behalf. Several score persons were in the courtroom and over hanging clouds made it necessary to use lights. Judge Finley was engaged in preparing his charge to the jury in the belief that arguments will be completed today. Mr. Henry said in substance that "the state has declared that Cole thrust his daughter into the breach. The young woman is in the breach because Ormond dragged her there."

William C. Douglas, of Raleigh, who was scheduled to follow Mr. Sedberry, interrupted the speaker when he referred to the physicians, who were called by the defense. Their testimony was not allowed and the court suggested that the speaker omit the reference. Mr. Douglas was the next speaker.

"Oh God, is this a circus? Can it be that what the defense has said is true? In the 40 long years of my practice I have never approached so solemn an occasion."

Mr. Douglas is the oldest lawyer in point of years, participating in the trial.

"Men of this jury you shall not bring down Darrow's cursiveness and transplat it in a man of North Carolina." Mr. Douglas characterized Cole's insanity defense as a hokus pokus tom foolery Chicago sodom.

"Bill Cole says he prayed and got up and killed. As a cure for insanity that's got Sloane's liniment and Tutt's pills beat all to pieces."

"I am not blooded, but there is one thing in this case that makes my blood run cold, Cole says he was not sorry."

Indicated Cotton Production of North Car. 1,150,000 Bales

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—An indicated total production this year of 14,755,000 500 pound bales of cotton over 17,191,710 running bales had been ginned prior to October 1, was announced today in the consolidated report of the Department of Agriculture and the Census Bureau.

The indicated production a fortnight ago was placed at 13,831,000 bales. Last year's crop totaled 13,627,936 bales.

The indicated production by states today is as follows: Virginia 48,000; North Carolina 1,150,000; South Carolina 850,000; Georgia 1,065,000; Florida 36,000; Missouri 245,000; Tennessee 465,000; Alabama 1,229,000; Mississippi 1,750,000; Louisiana 85,000; Texas 3,875,000; Oklahoma 1,540,000; Arkansas 1,400,000.

Ginning prior to October 4 counting round bales as half bales included the following states, North Carolina 392,970; Tennessee 159,961; Virginia 6,822.

Three Weeks From Tonight Reflector Awards Hudson Coach, Ford Coupe and Other Prizes; Lead in Doubt As Important Period Nears Close

Tonight is most important of all nights in the Daily Reflector's subscription and prize campaign with the possible exception of the closing night which comes on October 29th. Tonight at eight o'clock marks the close of the First Period of the campaign, the time when the most votes to be had on subscriptions will expire.

Starting tomorrow the campaign will enter the Second Period which will run for two weeks. During this period votes given on subscriptions will count just about one-fifth less than they do up till the close of business tonight.

Three weeks from tonight will come the close of the subscription drive and with it will go the awarding of over $2,700 in prizes and commissions. A Hudson Coach, Ford Coupe, $250 Living Room Suit, $187 Dining Room Suit, $15 Radio and two cash prizes of $50 and $30 each besides commissions checks to non-winners will be distributed. No losers—all ten contestants listed will be awarded something.

The entry list for this campaign will close tonight also at eight o'clock. If no new names are received before that hour the prize winners will be determined by the judges on Oct. 29th from the ten already listed. To the campaign manager it looks now as though all the winners are on the list.

All who have their names enrolled are hurrying on to victory. Everybody working knows each other personally with the possible exception of one or two who, although not personally acquainted, know who they are, where they live and in fact know many of their friends. Those who haven't met will no doubt have the opportunity before this day is over as all are expected in today for their final turn in before the big voting period comes to a close.

Big things are looked for today. Records that have stood the test for the past four weeks are expected to be shattered before eight o'clock when the contestants wind up the most important period of the campaign in a blaze of glory. Many surprises are looked for. Leadership as it now stands may crumble and new leaders may appear to guide their campaign during the coming three weeks straight on to victory and the Hudson Coach.

A great big strong finish tonight will have more to do with clinching victory and one of the automobiles than a garrison finish on the closing night. Promises should be made to come into the fold today—don't leave anybody go un solicited today that you can possibly help. One or two subscriptions may have a lot of bearing in the final reckoning. It did last year when Miss Hannah Dixon missed the Ford Coupe by about two yearly subscriptions. Think look just as close this year.

TRUTH WILL LOSE

As the Cole trial in Rockingham progresses the charge made by the Virginian Pilot in a pre-trial editorial that the trial would bring out every phase of the case except the truth which will "remain at the bottom of the well" is being realized as an apparent fact.

In its editorial just prior to the opening of the trial the Pilot says:

"North Carolina is staging this week a murder trial in which nearly everything possible has been done to make sure that, whatever the outcome, there shall be no impassionate, cool-headed, even-handed service of justice.

"A prominent and wealthy cotton manufacturer shot and killed the son of a Methodist preacher, who also had a good record as a soldier in the late war. No explanation of his act was vouchsafed by the slayer, and the public was left to guess at what lay behind the tragedy.

"The result has been a disposition on the part of Tar Heels everywhere to take sides violently. The known position of the slayer was all the assurance needed that his defense would be skillfully conducted by the ablest lawyers money could hire. Immediately there was a popular movement to provide equally capable assistance to the State's officers engaged in the prosecution. Methodist preachers poured money into the fund to avenge the son of one of their colleagues. The American Legion contributed heavily to the fund to avenge one of its members. The appeals for this fund have created an extraordinary popular interest in the case, or rather, a popular demand that the manufacturer be sent straight to the electric chair. His friends, endeavoring to counteract this wave of popular feeling, have fermented to the best of their ability a belief that the dead man was the greatest scoundrel unhung and that his slayer ought to be given a medal along with his liberty.

"The truth probably is that two imperious and ill-controlled natures clashed with a resultant disturbance of the peace. But no such truth will emerge from the trial. The result of that will be to make of one man a hero and the other the blackest of villains. In such a case the chances are all with the living man, of course. Still, there is always a possibility, remote though it may be, that the dead will be vindicated.

"The only party that has no more chance of a fair hearing than a cardinal in a klonvocation is Truth, who will certainly remain at the bottom of the well."

Mars has two moons, but, so far, we have managed to get along here very nicely with one.

Two Major Advantages Studebaker Alone Offers

1-One-Profit Value 2-Unit-Built Construction

THERE are (as you probably know) only two manufacturers who actually build their cars complete — make all their own bodies, engines, clutches, steering gears, differentials, springs, gear sets, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings.

The steering mechanism is especially designed for easy driving with the big balloon tires

One of these is Ford—in the low priced field. The other is Studebaker in the fine car field.

Because we eliminate the extra profits and overhead that many other manufacturers have to pay to outside parts and body makers—we are able to use finer materials and workmanship—yet charge no more than competing cars.

But there is another side to One-Profit manufacture — a feature that no careful buyer can afford to overlook.

Under this One-Profit policy the entire car is designed, engineered and manufactured as a complete, coordinate harmonious unit in Studebaker plants. Being Unit-Built it functions as a unit. And this adds years to its life—gives you scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation—greater riding comfort—minimum repair costs—and, finally, higher resale value.

Examine the Standard Six Coach closely—make detailed comparisons with other cars—and you will understand the full meaning of One-Profit value.

A Coach of quality

It is called a coach only because it is the lowest priced closed car ever sold by Studebaker. But it is a quality car through and through.

Do not buy this coach with the expectation that you'll have to trade it in at the end of a year or so. It's not a one-year car.

Instead, it has been honestly built to give you scores of thousands of miles of dependable service.

Notice the durable wool upholstery. See the heavy ornamental hardware; the plate glass windows and windshield; the fine trim to hide all tacks; the clock and gasoline gauge on dash; automatic windshield cleaner; stop light; locks on ignition, steering gear, door and spare-tire carrier—all operated by a single key.

These are all features that you can easily see. But down underneath that glistening coat of metallic enamel you'll find the same quality of materials and workmanship that are out in the open.

The sturdy frame for the body is built from the fine northern ash and hard maple. Slam the door and the sound says quality. Underneath the upholstery you'll find two layers of washed, quilted cotton, one layer of genuine curled hair and extra long springs closely held together by small coil springs. This is the identical cushion and seat construction used in the highest priced cars.

Long resilient springs made of special chrome Vanadium steel give greater buoyancy and protection from road shocks.

The crankshaft is completely machined on all surfaces to eliminate vibration. And the motor is the most powerful in any car of this size and weight, according to the rating of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. It is a motor built for smooth, trouble-free service at 5 to 55 miles an hour—not for excessive speed or spectacular stunts.

The body is smart in appearance — yet provides ample room to seat five passengers in real comfort. Ample room to enter or leave without disturbing occupant of folding seat.

Make comparisons before you buy

These are advantages made possible by One-Profit manufacture. Check them off point by point—in comparison with other coaches.

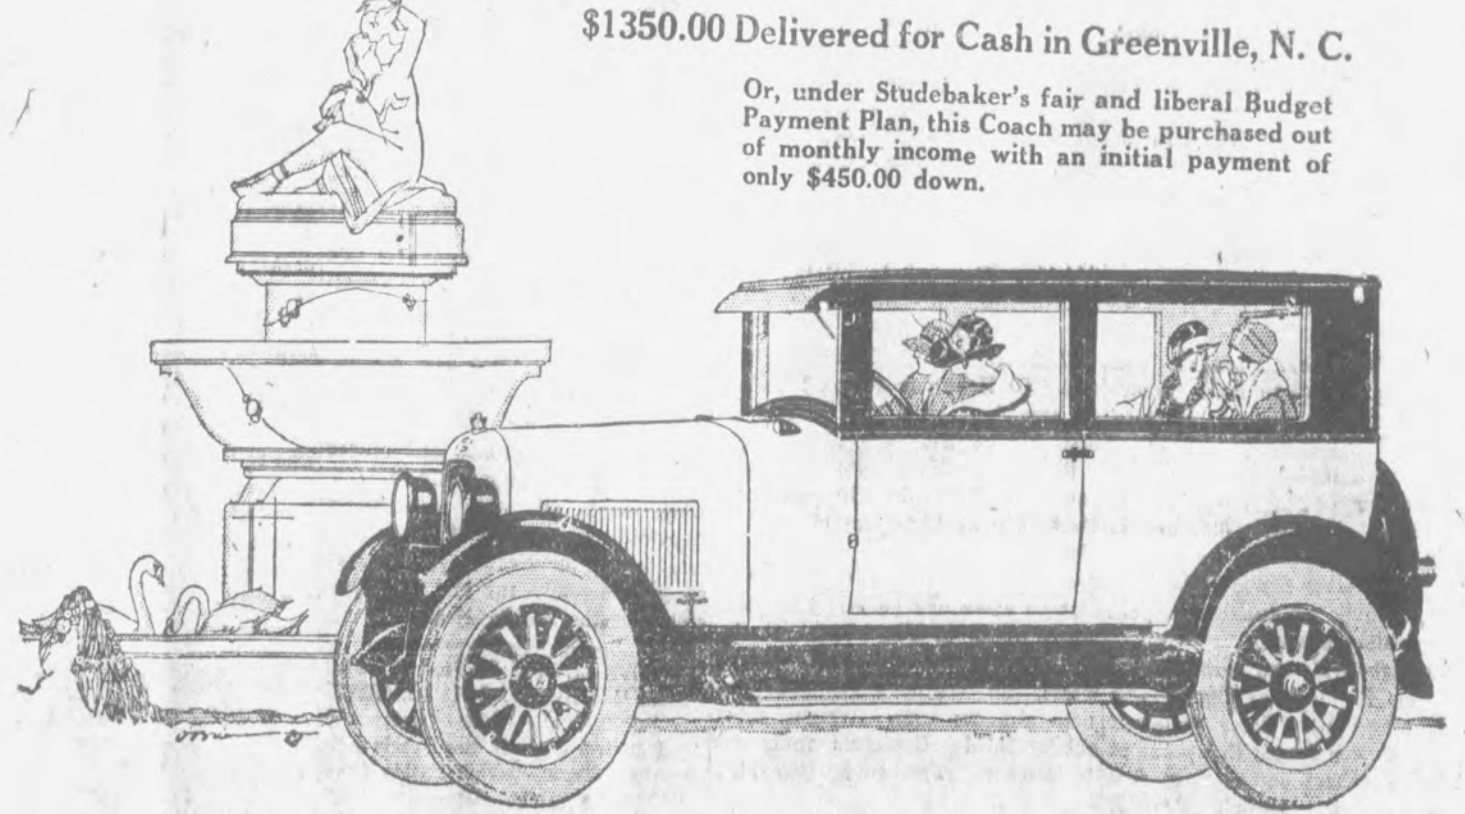

Only after you have seen this One-Profit Studebaker with its Unit-Built construction, will you realize why it offers a value that cannot be obtained in any other car. It is the automobile equivalent of Pullman transportation.

The Studebaker policy of "no yearly models" is a further protection to owners. Under this policy Studebaker cars are always up to date — get add improvements from time to time and do not save them up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete.

Come in—let us demonstrate the Standard Six Coach without obligation on your part.

CONGRESSMAN WARREN ENDORSES THE UNITED STATES NAVY BAND

The following letter from Congressman Lindsay C. Warren to Mr. K. T. Futrell secretary-treasurer of the Kiwanis Club will be read with interest by those who expect to attend the concert to be given by the United States Navy Band in this city on Monday evening, Oct. 19.

"My dear Mr. Futrell: I see that Greenville is one of the four cities in North Carolina to be visited by the United States Navy Band. I can not speak too highly of what this will mean for your citizens, as this band is one of the greatest organizations in the world, and during the rare occasions they are on concert tours it is greeted by packed houses.

The Kiwanis Club is certainly to be congratulated for giving the people of Pitt county the opportunity to hear this great organization for it is truly one of the worth while things that has appeared in our section of the state in many years."

PICTURE HAS GOOD STORY, WITH PICTURESQUE LONDON LIMEHOUSE AS ITS SETTING

"Madonna of the Street," Edwin Carewe's latest picture featuring Nazimova and Milton Sills at White's today. The picture is the first famous Russian actress has appeared in since she deserted the cinema for vaudeville and the legitimate stage two years ago.

"Madonna of the Streets," a story of London, is taken from "The Ragged Messenger," by W. B. Maxwell, an English author of world-wide popularity. The book has been acclaimed as one of the most notable literary products of the modern school of English authors, and the scenario is the best that Nazimova has ever chosen. The picture is not only interesting in itself because of its story interest, but it allows both Nazimova and Sills to show their best acting ability.

MESSANGER BOY CHOKES BULL DOG TO DEATH

Ernest Knox, messenger boy for the Postal Telegraph Company, while on his way home last night was attacked by a bull dog which he succeeded in choking to death before he received inquiries other than a bitten finger.

The young man resides a short distance north of the city and had crossed the river bridge when an automobile with the dog in it passed. The dog jumped out and made for Ernest who ran into a wire fence. Catching the nose of the dog, and holding to his collar, Ernest succeeded in choking him to death but not before he had suffered an injured finger.

Safeguard to Health that Insure School Children's Success

Good health is the foundation of success in any line of endeavor. Especially is this true of school children who must expand physically and mentally at the same time.

Children with robust bodies, full of life and vigor, have a big advantage over others less well fortified naturally, or handicapped by illness. When a child is really sick, the proper thing to do is to call in your doctor and help the child get well without delay.

You are sure that our drug store is the proper place to get any needed medicines, but have you ever stopped to consider its vast importance in other ways, ways that have a direct bearing on your own success and happiness in life as well as the welfare of your children?

Here you find not only pure and potent drugs for compounding into medicines, as ordered by your doctor, but hundreds of preparations and supplies for healing hurts, taking the kinks out of aching muscles, building flesh on emaciated bodies, regulating temporarily disordered organs of the body, and also scientific helps for destroying the germs that cause ill health.

In many, many ways our drug store safeguards the health of your children and thus contributes largely to their success in school and in later years.

Lady Says Her Back "Hurt Night and Day"—Least Noise Upset Her. Better After Taking Cardui.

Winfred, Texas.—"My back hurt night and day," says Mrs. C. L. Eason, of R. F. D. 1, this place. "I ached and ached until I could hardly go. I felt weak and did not feel like doing anything. My work was a great burden to me. I just hated to do up the dishes, even. I was no account and extremely nervous. "My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do me good, so she told me to take it. My husband got me a bottle and I began on it. I began to improve at once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby's birth. "I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me. It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better. "I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers, for to me it was a wonderful help. . . . In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine." Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. For sale everywhere. NC163

Former Pastor Baptist Church Is Pleased With Selection of Mr. Jones

The following letter from Rev. Leland W. Smith, former pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, now pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Fountain City, Knoxville, Tenn., will be read with interest not only by members of the Baptist Church by friends of the Church.

Greenville, N. C., October 6, 1925.

Editor Daily Reflector:

I beg the privilege of using the columns of your paper to express to the people of Greenville in general and the Memorial Baptist Church in particular my heartfelt congratulations in the coming to your city of the Rev. H. F. Jones of Portsmouth, Va. Mr. Jones is a minister of the Gospel tried and true. He will be found on the side of Righteousness and God will, I am sure, espouse every interest that looks to the uplifting and betterment of Greenville as a whole. I wish to commend him especially to the other pastors and ministers of the city and one who will co-operate in every worthy enterprise and on whom they can depend. Mr. Jones has the reputation of being gifted as a leader of boys and young people and it does my heart good to know that such a man is coming to Greenville. I wish for the Memorial Baptist Church the best and the most fruitful of the many pastorates in the four history of their church. Greenville is a most delightful place in which to live and I am sure that Mr. Jones will be happy in his work there. Just this further word of my personal greeting to all the Greenville people - while the lines have fallen unto us in pleasant places and we are happy in our work here, nevertheless, we miss our friends and acquaintances of Greenville and think of you often. We send our love to everybody. We pray God's richest blessing upon the entire city.

ROMANCERS DISTORT PICTURES OF LIFE IN SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

Tokyo (AP) - A 2,000-mile shopping expedition, from Jalut, one of the South Sea Islands, to Tokyo, was recently made by the Rev. C. R. Heine, a representative of the American Board of Missions, who has been stationed in this lonely, far-away post for 25 years. Out in the Marshall Islands, which is the group to which Jalut belongs, where there are no automobiles and where one pays calls over a distance of 200 miles, the Rev. Mr. Heine reports that considerable progress is being made among the natives under the supervision of the Japanese. Most of the Germans, he reports, left voluntarily at the beginning of the World War and the rest were deported when the war ended and the islands were put under Japanese mandate. Now there is only one other white on the island beside Dr. Heine, who is an Australian. There are no hotels and no motion picture shows and no amusements, and the roads are mere paths not more than eight feet wide, cut between the plantations and the jungle. "No, the South Sea Islands are not exactly as painted by the romancers," said Dr. Heine, "as far as comfortable living is concerned. But it is quite true that the 9,500 natives of the Marshall group are nearly all well-to-do because of an industrious development of the land. There is no great wealth and yet there is no poverty at all. Some of the native chieftains even have private yachts which take them from one island to the other, each one being between 60 and 100 miles apart. They may even have planes some day.

"But if one wants to call on a white friend in the South Seas, the nearest are in the Gilbert Islands which are under the British mandate and some 300 miles away." "Life in the South Sea Islands is the most part uneventful," says Dr. Heine, "and there was one period shortly after the World War when for more than a year the inhabitants were without newspapers from the outside world. There had been stories circulated in Sydney and other quarters to the effect that the Germans had prepared elaborate fortifications and secret supply bases in some of the South Sea Islands. For this reason the Japanese and other Allied powers prohibited the islanders from any communication with the outside world, and boats were allowed to stop only for the purpose of landing provisions. We heard vaguely about the war from the lips of the seamen, but it was not until everything was over that we were able to get any definite news at all."

OLD EASTERN BAPTIST ASS'N. MEETS HERE

The Old Eastern Baptist Association held a successful Annual meeting at Sycamore Hill Baptist church, this city, Halifax, Edgecombe, Craven, Beaufort and Martin counties represented with large delegations. The public program rendered with County Supervisor G. R. Whitfield acting as master of ceremonies, was a great success. The masterly address by Judge Wooten was well received by the visitors the spirit of Amity and Good will ran through the entire address. The principal of the city schools, C. M. Eppes, for school and A. M. E. Zion church in his own frank way gave the Association words of sincere welcome, on the condition, that they came to build up and care for those interests that are helpful to the race. He urged that we co-operate with those that are sincerely bending their energies to aid those who need it. The Graded and High School sang a well-come song, of the Folk Lore Type, "Gwine to Lay Down My Burden Down by the Riverside."

The Negro citizens gave the visitors a Greenville greeting. The address of Judge Wooten was very pleasing to the ministers and home folks, and showed the growing tendency of fair play.

The response for the Association delivered by Rev. C. C. Staton of Weldon, N. C., as well as the Educational sermon by Rev. Brooks, of Beaufort rang clear in practical advice to the Negro people to heed the signs of the times and labor to accomplish something in this life.

The officers who direct this Association are Revs. W. S. Wiggins and E. A. Taylor of Halifax. The Association was addressed by a Haytian, Dr. Jacques.

The State's standardization of schools and supporting the same with liberal appropriations was stressed by C. M. Eppes and leaders urged to co-operate with those who control in the interest of the children. The next session is to be held near Scotland Neck with Keehukee Church.
