MITCHELL'S PLEA IMMUNITY FROM TRIAL OVERRULED

Rules Charges Were Offense Against Military Discipline and No Refuge Could Be Taken in Guarantee of Free- dom of Speech

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Colonel Mitchell's plea of immunity from military trial on the charges pending against him was overruled today in the general court martial proceedings against him. The court's law officer ruled that when Colonel Mitchell charged the war and Navy Department officers with "criminal and almost treasonable" conduct in administering the air service, he committed an offense against military discipline and could not take refuge from punishment in the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech as he had sought to do.

This opinion, the effect of which merely was to sustain the jurisdiction of the court and make it possible to proceed with the trial, was approved by the court itself after a short consultation in secret. The opinion was rendered by Colonel Blanton Winship, law officer for the court.

The ruling applied specifically only to the specification of the charges against Colonel Mitchell for his first San Antonio statement criticizing the conduct of the air service, but it was in the nature of a test and one by which the court then proceeded in rapid order to overrule Colonel Mitchell's objection to its right to try him on the remaining counts.

Representative Reid, of Ill., counsel for Colonel Mitchell, then moved that all of the charges be stricken out. He said the court's record failed to show that the commanding officer of the accused had ordered the charges against the defendant investigated as required by court martial regulations.

"If Colonel Mitchell has been guilty of any offense," Mr. Reid said, "it should have been charged" by his commanding officer at that time—Major General Ernest Hinds in charge of the Eight Corps Area of San Antonio.

The record does not show that General Hinds or Brigadier General Rockenback, commanding the district of Washington, thought any crime had been committed.

"From where does this strange power come that stretches out over these two commands? It does not come from the officers under whom Colonel Mitchell served in Texas, or in whose jurisdiction he is at present."

Colonel Moreland for the prosecution replied that it was not required under the court martial regulations that either General Hinds or General Rockenback actually bring the charges.

"This is a Presidential court," said Colonel Moreland. "There is no requirement that the regulations shall be carried out explicitly so long as the substance is there."

The charges are signed by an officer in the Judge Advocate General's Department of the War Department and Colonel Moreland said the President had designated that officer to act as accuser as the President has a right to do as Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy.

The reference to the "Presidential Court" brought Mr. Reid to his feet. "I hate to think this is a case where necessity knows no law."

"What strange power is this we are facing? This is indeed an abnormal case." "You don't mean to tell me that the President himself had these charges prepared? The trial officer does not know what he says, unless my ears have deceived me. The President did not make these charges."

The defense attorney declared that in any event he knew of no provision of the court martial regulations that gives the President or the Judge Advocate General the right to bring charges.

In the midst of discussions the court recessed for lunch, and was to reconvene at two o'clock.

FOURTEEN BARRELS OF LIQUOR STOLEN FROM JESSE LASKY PUBLIC LIBRARY TO ENTER NEW PHASE GROWTH ON NOV. 1

Liquors Worth $10,000 at Pre-War Prices Stolen While Being Transferred From Box Car to Mr. Lasky's Fifth Avenue Home

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Fourteen barrels of liquor, his entire stock guarded since prohibition laws have been broken by high-jackers from Jesse Lasky, vice president of the Famous Players Lasky Corporation. The liquors worth $10,000 at pre-war prices and not insured were mingled with other barrel containing silver and household goods in a box car at the Pennsylvania freight cars. The high-jackers also got four barrels of silver worth $5,000.

A detective was guarding the consignment which had been shipped from Hollywood under a permit and was awaiting transfer to Mr. Lasky's Fifth Avenue home. As three vans drove into the yards to get the consignment three or four masked men leaped upon the drivers and the detective, forcing them into an empty box car, locking the door and then set about with the robbery. At the time of the theft an inspector of the railroad was looking for Mr. Lasky to collect $241 additional freight, because of the value of the shipment.

Full Time Librarian, Miss Ora Fuller, to Take Charge; Will Be Open Both Afternoon and Evening

The Greenville Public Library will enter on a new phase of its growth November 1st.

It was just two years ago that the library grew to such an extent that it was found necessary to keep it open six days a week instead of three, as had been done for years.

The library has grown steadily with Mrs. W. L. Hall as librarian, until it was found necessary to have a full time librarian.

The library committee of the Woman's Club with a representative from the Board of Trustees of the City Schools, the Rotary Club, and the Kiwanis Club appeared before the Board of Aldermen, and stated the needs of the Public Library.

The a decision was made by the board of library to the community voted to increase the town's support of the library sufficiently to enable the committee to employ a whole time librarian.

Miss Ora F. Fuller is to be the new librarian, and will take charge November 1st.

Miss Fuller taught in the Greenville High School last year. She has had some experience in classifying and organizing school libraries. She is a graduate of a Kansas University and has done graduate work in the University of Chicago.

The library committee of the Woman's Club feel that they are most fortunate to have Miss Fuller.

The library is located on the first floor of the Evans Street School, and will be open every day except Sunday from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

This is the first time that the library has been kept open at night, but the committee feels that there are a number of people who would like to do reference work or read in the library at night.

The following changes have been made regarding fines:

Books that are kept out over the date that it is due to be returned will be fined two cents a day except new fiction, which will be fined 5 cents a day. This is done in order that the current fiction may be available to a larger number of people.

The Greenville Public Library has reached a period when it should be a real help to the people. If you are in need of any information ask Miss Fuller. She will get this information for you or tell you where you can find it.

The slogan for the Greenville Public Library is: "Let the Library Serve Greenville."

Says Post Article Was As Submitted With Two Exceptions

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The naval court of inquiry into the Shenandoah disaster has been informed by the Saturday Evening Post that the recent post humorous article by Commander Zachery Landowne of the Shenandoah, was printed as originally submitted except for the title and the last three paragraphs, which were an argument to send the dirigible into the arctic. These were eliminated as no longer having point. The court had asked the magazine as to the authority and completeness of the article with the view of possibility of incorporating it in the record, but it was said today that this probably would not be done, it being held that evidence before the court as to the maneuvering ability of the craft in all types of weather was complete.

GREEKS EVACUATE BULGARIAN SOIL

Evacuation Takes Place Seven Hours Before Time Limit Set by League Council

Petrick, Bulgaria, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Greek troops evacuated Bulgarian territory at one o'clock this morning, or seven hours before the time limit fixed by the League of Nations council. Bulgarian forces will reoccupy the evacuated area tomorrow.

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Apprehension in the League of Nations' quarters of the reported renewal of fighting along the Greco-Bulgarian frontier was relieved today by receipt of the official dispatch from Athens stating that despite "The Bulgarian attack" the Greek Government had issued definite orders hastening the evacuation of Bulgarian soil by its troops. The Athens government, in the previous telegram informed the League that a Bulgarian detachment on Tuesday night had attacked the Greek forces near Rama. The telegram continued that in view of this Bulgarian aggression the military command had ordered suspension of the withdrawal of the Greek troops until they were able to overcome the Bulgarian assault.

Later came an urgent telegram from Athens timed 10:30 last night declaring that although the Greeks had been compelled to delay their retirement, the Greek Government "in its strong desire to conform with the desire of the League had given clear instructions to continue the retreat despite the difficulty due to the presence of armed bands because it desired to spare human life."

In conclusion the government stated that it would neglect no steps to insure evacuation of Bulgarian territory at the hour fixed by the council, which was eight o'clock this morning, Paris time.

The League council today began a secret session to discuss the telegrams from Athens and also to consider the appointment of a committee of investigation.

Death Rate From Tuberculosis in State Is Decreasing Now

Raleigh, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Although figures for a period of 11 years, compiled by the bureau of vital statistics of the State Board of Health, show that the death rate from tuberculosis in this state is decreasing, there is much still to be desired, according to Dr. P. P. McCain, superintendent of the North Carolina Sanatorium.

Although Dr. McCain estimates that there are at least 15,000 cases of the disease in North Carolina, there are only 873 hospital beds in the state for tuberculous cases, he states. This is exclusive of the large government sanatorium at Oteen, which has 1,000 or more beds for ex-service men, but which, of course, is open to men from all over the United States.

Dr. McCain's estimate of the number of cases of tuberculosis in this state is based, he says, upon the number of deaths, and includes cases in all stages of the disease—arrested, quiescent, and active. This number he says is a "conservative estimate."

Two thousand three hundred fifty-five new cases were reported during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, he states. And he adds that "of course nothing like all the new cases which developed were discovered, and probably a good many of those discovered were not reported."

Of the total number of new cases reported during the year mentioned, 1,440 were white and 915 negroes, Dr. McCain says.

Eight More Counties Have Been Invaded Mexican Bean Beetle

Raleigh, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Eight more counties in the state have been invaded by the Mexican bean beetle during 1925, Dr. R. W. Leiby, entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture has stated.

Recent scouting of workers of the division of entomology show that counties into which this pest has spread during 1925 are: Stokes, Rockingham, Forsyth, Guilford, Davie, Davidson, Rowan, and Cabarrus.

"This pest," says Dr. Leiby, "is spreading over the United States much as the boll weevil spread over the cotton belt. About seven years ago, it became established in Alabama, having been accidentally introduced from Mexico. The two counties of Clay and Cherokee, in the southwest corner of the state, were invaded early in 1921. Thereafter the spread was eastward and northward in the state, at the rate of 35 to 75 miles a year. The invasion now extends as far north as Ohio."

COMPSON NOT SO STYLISH BUT TOPS ENGLISH GOLF PROS

London.—Leading all the golf professionals of Great Britain this season is Archie Compson, a strong, silent giant from the great closed spaces of the industrial Midlands.

Not all Compsons are the neat and busy ways of the most of the golf masters of this country and America. No matter how great a gallery is waiting to watch him play, Compson does not strut out to the tees with slicked hair pressed plus fours, polished brogues or stockings of gorgeous hue and complex design. He comes on the course wearing an old pair of woolen trousers, a lined by some sun and a great deal of rain. Above them is an equally good and very practical sweater, and below a pair of unpolished shoes that Charlie Chaplin might envy. No tweed cap adorns his head, and the hair comes down in a thick, straight line.

But he gets there just the same. No longer is Abe Mitchell, with his neatly pressed tweeds and graceful strokes regarded as the master of all the masters of match-play. Twice this year Compson has met him in important tournaments, with his purses at stake and both times the man from Manchester has beaten Mitchell. In addition to winning both of these tournaments and several minor ones, Compson was the only Briton other than Ted Ray to give any world-wide competition to the American aggregation who captured the honors again in the British Open Championship. He finished only a stroke behind J. H. Larnes, the winner.

There is a wealth of personality about Compson, and personal to a sort that is rare on the trim greens of English golf courses. His very presence topples over the theory that the game is the thing after all and not victory. Compson plays to win, and, unlike many others, he admits it. The fact surely extends from him. With a scowl nor unlike the one Dempsey carries in the ring, the Manchester giant gets up on the first tee and by vicious practice swings and his whole menacing mien, seems to frighten all but the bravest of opponents. It is written all over him that he is ready for a fight, intends to give no quarter and doesn't expect any.

What Does the Word "ORTHOPHONIC" Mean

The word "Orthophonic" is a coined word meaning "true in sound," taken from two Greek words Orthos and phone. This is the word that describes the new Victrola that will be shown in Greenville next Monday, "VICTOR-DAY."

The new "ORTHOPHONIC VICTROLA" is already acclaimed the greatest contribution to music since the invention of the first Victor Talking Machine thirty years ago. At the demonstration in New York City at the Waldorf Hotel, the most noted scientists, engineers and musicians opened their eyes wide with amazement at the wonderful music that came from the new invention.

The new models are even cheaper than the old and they actually revolutionize the talking machine industry. All next week we will demonstrate at our store this remarkable new instrument. We will only have sample models. Our stock will arrive later.

If you love music, in its most natural character, if you are in any way interested in music, you will surely enjoy hearing the new "Orthophonic Victrola."

We will give a special demonstration at White's Theatre Monday night. The program for the evening is an especially good one and with the new type music to be heard in Greenville for the first time, you will certainly be well entertained.

Don't forget the date, Monday, November 2nd.

GOING AFTER 'EM

The troubles of a country editor are well illustrated in this editorial from the Melross, Wis., Chronicle:

"It is reported that one of the fastidious newly married ladies of this town kneads bread with her gloves on. This incident may be somewhat peculiar, but there are others. The editor of this paper needs bread with his shoes on; he needs bread with his shirt on; he needs bread with his pants on; and unless some of the delinquent subscribers to this 'Old Rag of Freedom' pony up before long he will need bread without a damn thing on, and Wisconsin is no Garden of Eden in the winter time."

Marriages are made in heaven, but most of the preliminaries are arranged in the auto.

THE LODGE ATTACK ON WILSON

The late Senator Lodge's review of the years 1913-1920 in "The Senate and the League of Nations" would be more ingratiating if it did not reveal traits which Mr. Lodge displayed in political life. It would be more convincing if it were not full of essential contradictions.

The story of these years as it is told here shows that Wilson's efforts to solve the Mexican problem, his efforts to keep us out of war after the Lusitania affair and his desire to use American influence in favor of a mild peace filled Mr. Lodge with a growing prejudice against him. Yet Mr. Lodge would have us believe that he entered the League fight without prejudice. His book betrays in almost every chapter an intense dislike of the President's mind and temperament. Yet he repeatedly disclaim any personal animus in 1919 against Mr. Wilson. Most important of all, Mr. Lodge's book would persuade us that Wilson defeated the treaty and the covenant despite Lodge's loyal efforts to preserve them. There is a suggestion here that had it not been for Wilson the Republicans would have brought this country into the League. Wilson retired from command in 1921. His retirement was followed by no Republican action.—N. Y. World.

ROUND TABLE CLUB MEETS.

The Round Table Club was delightfully entertained Tuesday Oct. 27, by Mrs. W. B. Tighman. Fifteen members were in attendance and the club enjoyed having Mrs. McDonald as a guest of honor. Business of the club was quickly dispatched by the President after which the chairman of the programme committee announced that we were ready to travel to South America, this being our subject for the afternoon. Mrs. Milton White carried us down the west coast of South America to Guayaquil thence over the Guayaquil and Quito railroad and thence surmounted the Andes. In traveling through Ecuador we had a glimpse of its beautiful scenery and we were made to wonder why more tourists did not visit this country.

Mrs. White was followed by Mrs. N. C. Vincent who gave a most interesting talk. She gave us an insight into the lives of the South Americans and our travel with her could not have been more delightful. Current events proved most interesting and we lingered long over the "tea cup" loathe to leave after having had one of the best meetings in the history of the club.

There is plenty of good comedy in "Rosetime," and is being carried by capable people.

"RECOMPENSE" NOT AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL.

SAYS NOTED WRITER

"Recompense," the sensational sequence to "Simon Called Peter," was in no sense autobiographical, according to Robert Keable, the author. Mr. Keable came to the United States to help in the transportation of his story to the screen, and made this statement in answer to questions from numerous admirers. "I have never had the good fortune to meet a woman as attractive as the one of my novel. It is true, however, that I was a chaplain in France during the war and came back a chaplain after the war was over. "I had been frightfully keen on religion since I was a boy. At one time I nearly became a Roman Catholic. It was after the war was over and after I had gone through great mental stress that I decided to resign my orders. I had to earn my living and I knew of no way of doing it except by writing. At that time I was in the center of Africa, where I had been a missionary before the war and whether I went back after the war was over.

Percy Peabody, the rissy, slushy scenario writer is a recreant in "Rosetime" at White's Theatre Tuesday night.

STREET MARKET FOR STAGE FOLK SERVES THEATRES OF WORLD

New York. With the exception of the 2,000 stage folk who during a season play New York and actually are in touch with their managers, 37,000 others who are sent from here to many parts of the world, depend more or less on the "corner gangs," as the police dub them.

Every casting agent, the percentage man, maintains an office a place where mail may be addressed and where dead photographs may be stored to await the final fitting out. So when the police threatened to arrest letters on Broadway, affected many "types" who wait at prescribed places for appointments.

This custom, old trompers say, originated in the pride of the actor of other generations. One call on a producer or agent for introduction was proper, but any more would be a confession of idleness, an unpardonable sin in older days. So, even though each mail might be an egg cooked over a gas jet in a cheap room, the character man would each afternoon array himself in his best wardrobe and sally forth to be "found." The managers, being aware of this, would then walk through the crowds and pick their types.

Although much of the prosperity has departed, the custom still survives insofar that on the northeast corner of Broadway and Forty-fourth street gather the "straight," or gay party men. At Forty-sixth, vanderbeams test their new jokes on each other. An entire picture might be cast in a walk of the short block between Seventh Avenue and Broadway on Forty-seventh street.

Here the stage gives way to the orchestra pit in the next three blocks north. Musicians ready to play for any occasion loiter here and a good first violin may be found even in a north.

There are hundreds of other places of rendezvous nearby, adjacent to the streets, in private alleys and cafes. Even barber shops have their coffee and some restaurants and hotels are known for the patronage of luminaries where business is mixed with the demimouche. But always the business reverts to the street corner.

Hundreds, sometimes thousands of the men—juveniles, character men, chorus boys, superni—all have their appointed station to await some of a place which may lead them anywhere. A job, not art. But work that is the feeling of the younger generation, for the great majority

PILE SUFFERERS GET QUICK RELIEF

Mr. H. P. Seaman of Abington, Mass., writes: "I have had piles for 25 years and you can imagine the number of remedies I have tried, but I never had any real relief until a neighbor of mine, Mr. F. E. Perkins gave me a box of your Hamadala Tablets."

Mr. Eugene P. Uener, of Dunville, Ontario, writes: "I wish to thank you for the benefit I have received from using your tablets for piles. I have suffered with bleeding piles for over 29 years and have tried everything from the best doctors to all the advertised remedies, but Hamadala is the only thing that ever helped me."

The Hamadala Treatment is sold by Pitt Drug Co., and all good druggists under a rigid guarantee. Out of town sufferers can obtain them by mail. Price $1.00.

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Baltimore, S. C.—Mr. W. E. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating, sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164

HERRIN RECOVERING FROM EVENTS SHAT PUT NAME IN BLOOD

Herrin, Ill.—A sign in a store window reads: "Former Herrin tailor returned, firm under a new name." It is a sign of the times in Herrin. Change the name and there would be few visible indications that here is the place which wrote its name in blood. They are returning to Herrin—the people who went away while the "war" raged—and the town is trying to heal its wounds. Ten widows, 28 orphans, and 13 dead men are hard to forget.

Among many reasons for the town's come-back these are outstanding: Elimination of the champion gun toters; a religious revival; a return of activity in the coal fields.

There are many other signs of regeneration. Bank deposits in two weeks this fall jumped $50,000. Two chain stores have opened branch houses, one a grocery concern, the other a national music house.

At the beginning of this coal season, three banks were handling a monthly payroll of more than $700,000. In 1924 there were 47 mines operating in Williamson county, producing almost 10 million tons of coal a year and employing more than 12,000 miners. In 1925 more than 20 mines closed. The mines are opening rapidly. Stores are starting up. Empty houses are being occupied.

It is estimated 200 families left Herrin during the internecine strife. Property depreciated 50 per cent. And there were bankruptcies, stagnation and despair.

This happened while 95 per cent of the citizens looked on in horror at their own town gone wild, helpless to stop it, yet bearing equally with the fighters the evil reputation.

Besides the signs of commercial resurrection there are others. Gospel quotations are posted in public places. One over the cashier's window in the leading hotel is familiar.

"For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

A wild, dirty little mining town is the picture of Herrin that has gone out into the world. A clean, cultured, naturally prosperous city of 12,000 is the fact.

The local chamber of commerce

Scene from "RECOMPENSE" (Sequel to "Simon Called Peter?") A Warner Picture

says that Herrin has a higher percentage of home owners than any city in the United States.

The disastrous Southern Illinois tornado of several months ago, which did not hit Herrin, but brought foes into contact in a work of mercy, was an ill wind that blew good to Herrin.

Some of the leaders in Herrin's troublous days were strangers. S. Glenn Young, who tried to clean the town with a gun, was a stranger; Howard S. Williams, revivalist, who tried it last summer with a Bible, was a stranger. Many strangers were among the leaders of the strip mine massacre of June, 1922, which occurred about half way between Herrin and Marion.

ETON BOYS HAVE AS MANY LAWS TO OBSERVE AS LESSONS

Eton, Eng. — New boys entering Eton College are confronted with as many rules and regulation as lessons. They find they may only walk in certain places; they are forbidden to go to any race course in the neighborhood or walk on the river bank during Windsor races, and they are forbidden to go into any wine merchants, tobacconists or pawnshops.

No hotel, public-house, private house, house-boat or launch may be entered by boys without the express leave of their house tutor. All shops are "out of bounds" on Sundays.

Will See Cathedral 32 Miles.

Pittsburgh. — The University of Pennsylvania's 52-story Cathedral of Learning, a structure of glistening limestone 680 feet above the Oakland district of Pittsburgh, will be visible to the naked eye for a distance of about 32 miles in all directions.

The cathedral will house practically all the activities of the university.

AMERICAN ARCHITECTS OPPOSE PLANTS TO TEAR WATERLOO BRIDGE DOWN

London. — Condemnation of the proposal to tear down Waterloo Bridge, the famous Thames side bridge said to be one of the finest bridges in the world, is made by several branches of the American Institute of Architects. Writing to the London County Council, who have control of the bridges of London, the Chicago Chapter of the Institute urges the claims of the bridge as a great London monument.

The Illinois Chapter writes that "to the students and lovers of archi-ecture there stands none of greater historical interest than Waterloo Bridge." Other Chapters have written in a similar vein.

BOY SCOUTS BUILD TRAILS IN 3 OF THE NATIONAL FORESTS

New York.—Eagle Scout Trails are well under way in three of our National Forests, as a result of the labors of Boy Scouts during the recent summer vacation period.

In Yellowstone, Glacier, and Ranier National Parks, three groups of Eagle Scouts worked without pay for two weeks as a public service. Bridges and over six miles of forest trails were built by the Scouts. Main-ance was provided by the Park Service.

The work took the scouts into real wilderness. Activities were under the direction of forest rangers and government engineers. Officials from each of the three parks expressed high appreciation of the boys' efforts.

SLEUTHS SNAKE TO HEDGE; IS SLAIN TO AVENGE BOY'S DEATH

Douglas, Ga.—Davis, hunter and trapper of snakes, has scored again. Crawling through a dense thicket and roping with a shoe-string a five and a half foot rattler that was thought to have caused the death of a boy, Lewis Adams, C. M. Davis, the youthful foe of snakes, added another skin to his collection.

The snake was identified as the one which struck young Adams, through the finding of double fangs on the right side and none on the left. These tallied with the wound.

The Adams boy had gone into the woods carrying a sing-shot with which to hunt birds. He was bitten and died that night. Hearing of the incident, Davis started on the trail of the reptile, and after considerable hunting found it in a hedge near a

RACING SCHOONER MAKES PORT AFTER A PERILOUS 71 DAY TRIP

FRENCHMAN REALLY DESTITUTE WHEN FUNDS BELOW $22 A YEAR

Charleville. — A Frenchman is really destitute and worthy of receiving municipal poor relief, if his maximum revenue is not superior to 48 francs a year.

At least, that is the way the law now stands. But, owing to the lump in exchange, and the height of post-war prices, the mayors of the Meuse valley towns have just asked the central government authorities to raise the rate to permit their aiding people who cannot show over 1,500 francs a year net revenue.

In case their demand for a change in the poor law is refused, they propose an interpretation of the present law, now twenty years old.

OIL SHALE INDUSTRY IN JAPAN SOURCE FOR BIG DEVELOPMENT

Tokyo. — Japan's oil shale industry in Manchuria probably will develop into one of the big assets of the Empire, said Viscount Masatoshi Okochi, professor in the Tokyo Imperial University and a noted metallurgical authority.

He declared in general that the industry bids fair to succeed if the dry distillation system of oil shale is conducted according to the approved method which is used in Scotland.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heat the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

WOULD SIMPLIFY INCOME TAX PART OF REVENUE LAW

Combination of Normal and Sur Tax Rate into One Graded Scale of Normal Rates Under Consideration

Washington, Oct. 29. — (AP)—Simplification of the income tax section of the Revenue Law by combination of the normal and sur tax rate into one graduated scale of normal rates is under consideration by Representative Bacharach, of New Jersey, a Republican member of the House Ways and Means committee, which will start next week on the drafting of a new Revenue measure.

Mr. Bacharach would arrange the rate to provide for the same amount of taxes on all incomes as would be proposed by the committee in its new bill. He is seeking to simplify the returns against which many protests have been lodged, tax payers pointing out that they are forced to appeal to expert accountants in many instances to make out their return.

The committee went ahead today with the public hearing on Revenue of the law with representatives of the Alcohol Industry allotted most of the time for the day's session. Only a few more requests for hearing are now before the committee, which expects to conclude the hearing this week.
