MITCHELL ALLOWED TO ASK TESTIMONY LIST OF WITNESSES

Subpoenas to Be Served on Three Cabinet Members and a Long List of Witnesses; Mitchell Apparently Given Free Hand in Effort to Defend Himself

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The court martial trying Colonel William Mitchell held today that the Colonel was within his rights in asking for the testimony of the long list of witnesses, including three cabinet officers, in defending himself against the charges of court martial growing out of his attacks upon the government's air policy. After the court had examined the list, Major General Robert Howe, President of the court, directed the prosecution to "take immediate steps to facilitate the defense by securing the witnesses and documents called for."

Adjournment then was taken until Monday to permit preparation and serving of subpoenas. On the list are Secretary Davis, of the War Department, Wilbur, of the Navy Department, and Jardine, of the Agricultural Department, Everett Sanders, Secretary to President Coolidge, and many high ranking army and navy officers as well as others in civilian life, who have had contact with aeronautics, have been enumerated.

Some of those named are at Honolulu and at other points, and it was indicated that no decision has been reached as to whether all of them would be brought here.

The action of the court apparently means that Mitchell will be given a free hand in threshing out the whole air craft controversy in court in an attempt to prove that he was justified in charging that the army and Navy Air Services were being administered with "criminal and almost treasonable neglect, of the best interest of the country."

Greenville Parties In Auto Accident Near Grifton Sun.

(Kinston Daily News.)
Mrs. Carl Waters and little son were injured in an automobile accident on the Grifton road Sunday night. The car in which they were riding was struck by an automobile driven, it is said, by L. W. Gaylord, a Greenville attorney. The latter was blamed for the accident. Identification of the car was made by Mr. Waters by a telegram to Raleigh. A warrant was issued yesterday and the Greenville man placed under bond pending a hearing of the case. Eight stitches were required to close an ugly wound on Mrs. Waters' head, and she was otherwise injured. Following the collision, it was said by Mr. Waters, the driver of the Greenville car refused him help to bring his wife and little son to Kinston, as he was using ugly language, it was said. A companion of the Greenville driver was hurled from his car and slightly injured.

Railroad Disclaims Responsibility School Bus Train Collision

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad today officially disclaimed any responsibility for the school bus train collision yesterday at Nahunta, which resulted in eight deaths and injuries to 21 persons. Officers declared they had affidavits from five persons who saw the crash to the effect that the engineer blew his whistle for the crossing and was running his train not in excess of 25 miles an hour. These witnesses also said the school bus was running at a rapid rate of speed and did not slow up for the crossing, the officers said.

ACTUAL WORK ON NEW REVENUE BILL BEGINS WEDNESDAY

Committee Calls On Revenue Bureau for Outline of Conditions at Concluding Sessions Today Preparatory to Drafting Tax Reduction Bill

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee called upon officers of the Internal Revenue Bureau to outline conditions in the Bureau at the concluding sessions today of the committee hearing preparatory to drafting a tax reduction bill. The committee has heard arguments for repeal of reduction of almost every tax now in effect and tomorrow it plans to start the actual work of whipping the new revenue bill into shape. Secretary Mellon has told it the conditions of the Treasury will permit reduction of only about $300,000,000 in the government's annual revenue. Of this amount he suggested $140,000,000 be applied to income tax reduction, $100,000 to repeal of the inheritance tax and the remainder to special or miscellaneous levies.

The committee also has before it estimates of the Secretary on the cost of collecting each $100 of revenue during the last fiscal year at $1.44. He did not have figures on the cost of collecting specified classes of taxes, but estimated that it cost about $5,000,000 to collect returns on incomes of $5,000 and less with about $167,000,000 netted from this source.

Submits Bid for Muscle Shoals Under A 50 Year Lease

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Fred C. Hephurn, former Vice President of the Pennsylvania Public Service Company, and a group of New York capitalists, have submitted a bid for the operations of Muscle Shoals under a 50 year lease with a guarantee to produce all fertilizers that the market will consume and an annual rental of $2,000,000. The bidders agreed upon a $15,000,000 corporation and to take over all of the government's holdings at Muscle Shoals. In addition to manufacturing fertilizer, they would expect to produce other chemicals. They made the bid without reservation and announced they would be ready to take over the property in short notice.

The majority report of the Muscle Shoals Commission stipulates that 90 days after passage of the government will begin operation of Muscle Shoals if the satisfactory private lease has not been accepted.

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—President Coolidge believes the members of the Muscle Shoals Commission will be able to compose the differences of opinion as to what should be done with that property and will be able to submit a unanimous report.

Chairman McKenzie, of the Shoals Commission has advised the President of the possibility that majority and minority reports may be submitted because of disagreements among the members, but the President understands the differences concern minor details. He believes also that the Commission's report will be such that it will receive his own full support and that of Congress, although he has not received detailed information concerning it.

Coolidge Desirous of Paying South a Visit Near Future

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—President Coolidge is desirous of paying the south a visit in the near future, and would like to be able to do this winter. At the White House it was said, however, that the President is of the opinion that an extended trip this winter with congress in session would be out of the question.

The President is particularly anxious to visit New Orleans and it was indicated today that he might take advantage of an early opportunity to accept one of several invitations to visit Louisiana.

ELIAS H. MORTIMER

Canon Carnegie, of Westminster, has denied emphatically that he said: "America is degenerating from a human society into a monkey house." Paderewski will never play in Washington again, refusing to appear as a paid performer before statesmen he met in conference with Premier of Poland. Arthur Meighen led the Conservatives to victory in the Canadian elections, defeating, among others, eight members of the Liberal cabinet, including Premier King. Elias H. Mortimer, who boasted of his influence in Washington and was the chief witness against Col. C. R. Forbes, was accused in New York of obtaining $50 by fraud.

J., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Robert Reid, a Long Island "Apostle of Doom," who predicted that the world would end on February six, last, today announced in Europe that the present reign of peace would end on Armistice Day. Takes Steps Towards Additional Routes for Transportation Coal

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Further steps were taken today by the Interstate Commerce Commission toward opening additional railroad routes for the transportation and substitutes for anthracite coal to New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

In two separate orders the Commission re-opened proceedings affecting rates on Anthracite in order to consider the rate on Anthracite coal produced in Virginia or preventing its movement to the consuming territory, and whether through and joint rates from southern west Virginia to consuming territory may not be established.

ELECTION CONTESTS ATTEMPT SMUGGLE BEING HELD TODAY SAWS ASHEVILLE IN THIRTEEN STATES JAIL IS THWARTED

Prohibition and Ku Klux Klan Four Saws Found in Loaf of Bread; Jail Takes On Military Aspect With Mansel and Neely, Negroes, Heavily Guarded

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan furnished the issues in some of the most spectacular of the election contests, which are to be decided today in thirteen states.

The wet and dry question is at the front in the New Jersey gubernatorial contest with a Democratic candidate declared for modification of the Volstead Act and the Republican favoring enforcement of it.

The Ku Klux Klan issue has been raised in the mayoralty fight in Detroit and Louisville, Ky. Prohibition also has figured in the Detroit contest and as well as in the campaign for mayor of New York.

New York, Kentucky, New Jersey and Virginia are to elect members of the State Legislature, while the voters of Pennsylvania will fill one state office. Constitutional amendments will be voted in New York and Ohio, while Virginia also elects a governor and a slate of state officers.

Boston, Kansas City, Indianapolis and Pittsburgh are among the cities where mayoralty contests will be decided.

Episcopalians Will Make Pilgrimage to Bath Nov. 12th

Episcopalians of the State and elsewhere are invited to make a pilgrimage to St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Bath, in Beaufort county. This is the oldest Episcopal church in North Carolina and probably the oldest south of Virginia, having been built in 1734. It is one of the few old churches whose original walls are still standing. Thousands of tourists visit the old town of Bath, the first capital of North Carolina, and the church each year. There has been such a general expression by Episcopal visitors for a pilgrimage to this sacred building, and those congregations who have made them have expressed such gratifying helpfulness that the authorities have responded in planning a general Pilgrimage. This is to take place on the 12th of November.

The service will be at 11 o'clock. The Rt. Rev. T. C. Dart, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina will celebrate Holy Communion and make an address. Rt. Rev. J. B. Cheshire, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina will preach the sermon. Music will be by the choir of St. Peter's, Washington. All visitors are asked to bring lunch which is to be served on the church lawn immediately after the service.

Bath is on the hard surface road, fifteen miles east of Washington, just off route 91.

Rectors of Episcopal Churches throughout the State are asked to call this invitation to the attention of their people and are themselves urged to be present and take part in the service.

Friends Anxious Concerning W'abouts Two Delaware Men

Wilmington, Delaware, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Worst having been received for a week from Secretary of State William G. Taylor and Edward R. Pusey, both of this city, who are cruising in southern waters in a small boat, Governor Robinson, through Senator Baynard at Washington, has enlisted the aid of the coast guard service in an effort to locate them. Senator Baynard reported to the governor that the Navy Department had sent a coast guard cutter to search for the boat. The two men left October 17 in Mr. Pusey's 35 foot Runy 3, intending to take the inland route to Miami, Florida. They were heard from regularly until last Tuesday when communication stopped. At that time they were at South Port, N. C., awaiting improvement of weather conditions before proceeding. The families of both men said today they had heard nothing from them.

France Is Facing Great Financial Problem Now

Paris, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Parliamentary Government of the Socialist party decided this morning to abstain from voting when the motion of confidence in the new Poincare government comes up in the Chamber of Deputies.

The Poincare Government in its declaration of policy to Parliament says it will "resolutely pursue with determination to succeed the negotiations with the allied begun in London and Washington by the preceding government with a view to settlement of the debts."

The ministry's pronouncement finds the financial problems the greatest facing the country. As was expected it declares for a sacrifice in which will participate all "forms of wealth" and the Revenue from which is being used exclusively in reducing the debt.

To accomplish its program of financial rehabilitation the declaration says the government intends to assure monetary stabilization.

"The menace" of the rebellion in Morocco, it declares, has been completely swept aside. The first move for peace must come from the rebellious tribesmen. As to the trouble in Syria, the government says that arose from anti-foreign intrigue and "false news from Pan Islamic and revolutionary centers."

It lays down a program calculated to hasten the hours "when the people of Syria shall be capable of governing themselves."

GREATNESS

"Self-made" is "self-reliant" grown up. Confidence is the father of achievement, while independence and initiative are achievement's hand-maidens. Never was a self-made man made by reliance on others, by outside influence or good luck.

It was making the most of his own resources that took Lincoln from rail splitting to the White House; "pull" did not raise Carnegie from stoke-boy in an iron furnace to builder of the greatest steel industry in the world; Thomas Edison did not become the greatest inventor of all time by patiently waiting for the inventions of others; Henry Ford is not the nation's wealthiest manufacturer because he waited for others to experiment with the low-priced automobile, and Columbus did not tarry in the courts of Europe until others set sail for the lands beyond that western horizon.

Every man is the creator of his own destiny. He is provided with certain physical talents at birth, environment may add or detract from those talents during the period of adolescence, but once out in the world it is "every man for himself." Self-reliance is the ever-available and omnipotent weapon of life while reliance on others is life's shackles.

Great achievements came from great minds, great minds from great thoughts, and great thoughts from a true respect for one's own ability.

BIG BUSINESS

There are three distinct shopping seasons in the year—fall, Christmas and Easter—and not the least popular of these is the former. The fall and spring seasons are especially devoted to the renewal of personal wardrobes by both men and women and in this they are different from the Christmas shopping period.

The autumn months may be said to be peculiarly adapted for shopping. The days are bright and cool, the stores have been restocked, the weeks afford more time for store-touring and there are so many things which must be purchased in the way of personal attire and household needs.

It has become a national custom for the family as the vacation season closes in the late summer to concentrate its budgeting and saving on the requirements of the fall and winter. The anticipation of the fall shopping is quite as pleasurable as the actual shopping is necessary. Everybody saves for it participates in it.

That the fall months are bumper shopping times for the local business places is manifest. Everywhere are visible the unmistakable signs of business activity. The show windows are more brilliant, the show cases and shelves are piled up high with fresh merchandise and the store aisles are bustling with eager customers.

The merchants are augmenting this business boom and aiding the shopping public by increasing their newspaper advertising. This advertising gives to both merchant and customer an additional sales force and another show window.

Many men act as if asking them to pay a bill they owe were an insult.

The burning question of the hour is "Who will get up and start the fire?"

Winter brings back the man who takes a cold bath daily and lies about other things also.

Moving the telephone hook too rapidly doesn't give a signal but it relieves the mind a little.

Women look better than men, but a man doesn't have to stay at home after he washes his head.

EVIDENCE OF EARLY TRADE IN INSULAR PROVINCES OBTAINED
Ann Arbor, Mich.—In a collection just brought back to the University of Michigan museum is believed to be evidence that the Chinese, as well as the Hindu and Javanese peoples had trading relations with the Philippines as far back as 1500 years.

Dr. Carl E. Guthe, assistant director of the museum, in a three year expedition into the interior of the Philippines and other insular possessions obtained 970 articles of the past, each bearing a wealth of history. Two pieces of china bear the K'ang Hsi dynasty mark. The dynasty existed from 1662 to 1722. Dr. Guthe believes he has other china that will date back to the Ming dynasty and perhaps some that felt the heat of firing ovens during the Sung dynasty from 960 to 1126.

Another interesting discovery was that of human teeth decorated with gold. When Magellan passed the Philippines on his trip around the world in 1521, his chronicler, Paganetti, told of native chiefs with teeth so decorated. Dr. Guthe has found a dozen exhibits of gold filled teeth.

Dr. Guthe believes the natives filed their teeth with some rough instrument, probably a stone, and when the

SYSTEM OF STAGE REHEARSAL ADOPTED BY MOVIE COMPANY
Culver City, Cal.—The rehearsal of the legitimate stage is being utilized by a large motion picture studio here to eliminate the experimenting, cutting, and retitling of films, a process that usually takes longer than the actual production of the picture.

The plan has partially done away with surplus footage and removed practically all the experimental phases from production, studio officials claim.

The players are sent through careful rehearsals from the script of every scene in the play. As these are rehearsed they are timed. At the conclusion of each scene the director knows approximately how much film will be needed. In the rehearsals camera angles, closeups, and other details of scenes are perfected so that the director and star know exactly how each detail will look on the screen.

Try-outs also are applied to members of the technical staff. Electricalians are sent through rehearsals by the chief cameraman, thus eliminating experimenting and tests with light while the picture is being filmed.

DRAIN OVER-IRRIGATED LAND BY PUMPING FROM DEEP WELLS

Berkeley, Cal.—Drainage of over-irrigated lands by pumping from deep wells is the latest method put into use by farmers of the Pacific coast states in their fight against alkali or water logged soil.

Drainage by deep ditches or by filling had proved to cost $40 to $60 an acre and had usually necessitated formation of drainage districts and issuance of bonds secured by lands which were already part of bond-carry or irrigation districts.

The deep well pumping system was originated six years ago, but it has been adopted in the irrigated region of central California until now more than 400 wells are draining nearly 100,000 acres.

The wells are 125 to 200 feet deep and the water is pumped by electric driven rotary turbines. Each pump will maintain the underground water at any desired sub-surface level over approximately 100 acres. The principal point in favor of the well and pump drainage, is that it delivers to the surface water available for irrigation worth more than the current needed to run the electric pumps.

Shilling a Day for Liquor.

Birmingham, Eng.—A shilling a day for liquor seems "a moderate allowance for a man," said Lady Selborne in the course of a speech before the National Council of Women. "Drunkenness is the evil," she declared, "not moderate consumption of liquor, which is a gift of God for our benefit."

Robert M. Koenig Found Remedy For Pimply Skin
For years my skin would break out every once in a while—and ointments did very little to help me. I read a doctor's article stating that pimply skin usually comes from the stomach—and bowels not getting rid of the poisons. I tried Carter's Little Liver Pills for a few days—and since that time my skin is smooth and clear. Now I tell my friends the right way of getting rid of broken out skin—and also for them.

STOP THAT BACKACHE

Many Greenville Folks Have Found the Way

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Greenville resident says:

Mrs. Jacob Wilson, 1112 Evans St. says: "There was such a bearing-down feeling in my back I had to rest occasionally. When I stooped, a severe stab of pain shot through my kidneys. Many times I got dizzy and specks floated before my eyes. My kidneys were annoying also as they didn't act as they should. I sent to the Greenville Drug Co., and got Doan's Pills. They soon relieved me."

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form With the Assistance of Black-Draught.

West Graham, Va.—The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, now past 80, living here, has a high opinion of Black-Draught, which he says he has taken, when needed, for 25 years. "For years I had been suffering with my liver," he says, "sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief."

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot of trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and had headache, caused from extreme biliousness."

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver. NC-166

AS OTHER EX-RULERS SHORT SKIRTS ONLY ENJOYS EASE SULTAN MODERN FASHION TO FIGHTS OFF POVERTY SHOCK WOM'N RULER

San Remo, France.—Sultan Mohammed VI, the last ruler and caliph of Turkey, is struggling to maintain himself and his small household at his quiet retreat on borrowed money or on charity funds sent him by relatives and former supporters.

While other former European monarchs and nobles are living in comparative luxury in foreign lands, Mohammed VI, must make repeated calls for assistance to save him and his modest retinue from poverty.

The aged Sultan recently was so hard up that he was obliged to dispense with his young son's German nurse. Soon after that he was threatened with eviction if he failed to pay his rent. Things looked black for the once wealthy and influential head of the Moslem world, when his sister saved the situation by paying a diamond ring and a rope of pearls.

Scarcely had this debt been settled when the Sultan's nephew came to Paris and squandered half the sum realized on his mother's jewels, which was said to be a million francs.

A fresh call will probably be made upon the former monarch's relatives but many of them are in as gross need as the ex-Sultan himself. For example, Prince Ziaeddin, eldest son of the Sultan's predecessor, Mohammed V, is in the last stages of destitution. He and his wife had two daughters are facing eviction for non-payment of rent. Evictions have started a subsarpon in their behalf.

The situation of the other 250 members of the Imperial family of Turkey who were driven from Constantinople is even more acute than that of the Sultan. They are scattered in different parts of Europe and live only by the charity of their friends. When they were expelled from Turkey they were allowed to take about 150. Their property was nationalized and their jewels and property confiscated. These fugitives include 35 Princes and Princesses of the House of Osman three Sheiks-ul-Islam, a former Grand Vizier, many cabinet ministers two Court Chamberlains, half a score of editors, many army and navy officers and a number of high government officials.

One of these Turkish noblemen, Dje-mal Bey, a former Minister of the Interior, finding it impossible to make a living in Europe, returned to Turkey. He surrendered to the authorities, was sent to Angora, and immediately tried for treason. He was found guilty and executed. Many like him would like to return to their homeland rather than starve abroad but know they will suffer the same fate, and so they continue to live in European cities.

The more energetic and practical of the number are making a living at hard manual labor. One of them, for example, works as a cook in a Turkish restaurant in Paris, a second drives a taxicab, a third peddles German-made "Persian" rugs at the Riviera resorts, another sells cheap cotton stockings on the streets, a fourth hawks bananas, another sells chestnuts on the curb, and so on.

London.—Of all the ultra modernism about the English girls of 1925 only the short skirts are a shock to the orthodox sensibilities of the Begum of Bhopal, the only woman ruler of the 700 potentates of India, who is in London taking in western civilization through her Mohammedan veil.

The most advanced woman of her race and among the most progressive of the Indian rulers, the Begum, despite her 67 years, has come to London with her son and heir to learn the ways and manners of the land of her suzerain.

Her Royal Highness wants her grand-daughters to learn a woman's work but she would not think of sending them to universities. Such institutions are a good place for boys but not for girls.

"I don't think women need to know as much as a man," she added, in dismissing the subject of women's place in the sun.

The Begum has established herself in an English mansion in the heart of Mayfair which counts as nothing more suggestive of her native land than an axminster carpet. Her household of 30 members are mostly court officials and personal maids, and it is an English butler who opens the pretentious door and a Cockney maid who pours out afternoon tea. The Begum is in purdah all the time, as the laws of her religion demand and it is only a pair of sparkling eyes that one is permitted to address.

But the Begum is not travelling in state. Quite the contrary, for the representative of The Associated Press who called upon her was taken without ceremony into her private sitting room and presented to the Begum as she threw aside a piece of highly colored embroidery upon which she had been working.

"I am quite attracted to English girls but I cannot believe they should go about in such short skirts and without guardians," the Begum told her interviewer. "By I suppose short skirts are the fashion."

The two sons of the Begum have several daughters and in the rearing of these children the Begum takes a personal interest.

"I want my grand-daughters to learn a woman's work," she asserted. "They must learn to run a household, supervise cooking and know how to settle work but I would not think of sending them to universities. That's a good place for boys but not for girls."

Her Royal Highness herself received a part of her education from tutors sent to her parents by the British government. From them she learned English, French and elementary mathematics. But for other subjects this powerful ruler has a natural dislike.

The heir to the throne, who accompanied his mother, has spent most of his time in driving through the downtown streets and marveling at the shop windows.

JAPAN ENCOURAGES DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE OF RADIO SUPPLIES

Tokyo.—That foreign-made radio apparatus is a luxury in Japan is the opinion of the financial authorities, who are reported to be planning the application of a luxury tax of per cent ad valorem on all imported radio goods.

At the time the Luxury law went into effect in July last year, radio in Japan was in an infant stage of development, and no consideration was given to the application of the law to radio instruments imported there from foreign countries.

With broadcasting started early this year, radio has become popular all over the country, and receivers alone are imported to the amount of 100,000 yen a month. Duties averaging from 20 to 30 per cent have been charged.

Mr. Tomida, chief of the financial bureau of the finance department, said that "radio in Japan is not yet practical for commercial purposes, and is still a luxury. We intend to limit the importation of foreign radio goods."
