GRAND JURY FINDS COUNTY AFFAIRS IN GOOD CONDITION

Commends R. E. Corbett for Splendid Upkeep of County Home and Its Surroundings; Asks That Prisoners Be Furnished More Blankets

The following is the report of the grand jury for this term of court: To His Honor Judge W. M. Bond, presiding at the November term of Pitt Superior Court.

Greeting: We, the grand jury for this term of court, beg to submit the following report:

We have passed on all bills and other matters presented to us, except those in which we were unable to secure witnesses.

We have visited the officers of the Sheriff, Register of Deeds, Clerk of the Court, Auditor, Treasurer, Board of Health, Board of Education, Welfare office and those of the County Agent and found them all in splendid condition. The records being well and neatly kept.

We visited the jail and found the condition there very good, all prisoners were satisfied as to the food and the bedding was clean and in good shape, their only complaint, they did not have sufficient cover, so we ask that the prisoners be furnished with more blankets.

Conditions at the County Home and Convict Camps could hardly be improved upon and we especially wish to commend Mr. R. E. Corbett for the splendid upkeep of the county home, and its surroundings. All teams and other stock at the home are being well cared for.

We wish to thank the presiding Judge, the Solicitor and all court officers for the courtesy extended to us in our work as grand jurors at this term.

We wish to especially commend Judge Bond for the expeditious manner of handling the business of this court and for the fair and impartial manner in which he deals out justice.

Respectfully submitted,
J. A. JARRELL,
Foreman.

Sentence of McGill—Commuted to Life Imprisonment

Raleigh, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The sentence of Martin McGill, Union county negro, whose death in the electric chair was set for today, was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor McLean last night.

The commutation was on the recommendation of Pardon Commissioner Sink, whose trip to Union county yesterday convinced him, he said, that the negro was convicted of first degree murder instead of second degree murder chiefly because of his previous bad reputation. Eight of the twelve jurors signed a petition asking that the sentence be commuted.

McGill was convicted of the murder of his wife in August. The crime occurred last March. The negro fled to South Carolina and was brought back to this state and when he was arraigned, was convicted of murder in the first degree.

Papers Missing From Clerk of Court's Office in Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Reports, that papers presented to the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals in support of the petition of State Senator Alfred C. Smith, of Norfolk, to be admitted to practice law in this state, are missing from the office of the Clerk of Court, were confirmed today at the clerk's office. The missing papers included what purported to be a certificate of the Supreme Court of South Carolina showing that Senator Smith was duly licensed to practice law in that state and it was on the basis of that certificate that the man was granted a permit to practice in Virginia.

Charges were made yesterday that Smith legally had no right to practice law in Virginia as he had been convicted of crime in Colleton County some years ago.

YOUNG WHITE BOY BEING HELD CHARGED WITH MURDER OF NEGRO BOY

Don Squires, aged 12 years, white of Yatesville, is being brought to the Beaufort county jail today by Deputy Sheriff Cutler, in connection with the killing of Jay Peeler, 8 years old old negro, who was shot in the head at 10 o'clock this morning and who died at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It is alleged by two other white boys that Squires fired the fatal shot.

GARALD CHAPMAN MUST PAY DEATH PENALTY ON DEC. 3

Loses Fight for New Trial; Counsel Says Effort Will Be Made Have Him Returned to Atlanta Prison

Richport, Conn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman sits in his cell at the prison in Wethersfield today knowing that presumably he has less than a month to live.

The notorious mail robber and convicted slayer has lost his fight for a new trial. The State Supreme Court decided against him yesterday in sustaining the verdict of the lower court, which found him guilty of the murder of patrolman James Skelly, of New Britain, Conn., on October 12, 1924.

Chapman was sentenced to be hanged last June, but was granted a reprieve by Governor Trumbull when an appeal was filed. He now must pay the death penalty on the morning of December 3, unless proceedings contemplated by his counsel should succeed.

When notified by the prison warden at Wetherfield that the supreme court had ruled against him, Chapman's only comment was "was no more than I expected."

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Doubt that Gerald Chapman would hang was expressed today by Frederick J. Groehl who was the bandit's counsel at his trial for killing a New Britain, Conn., policeman.

Mr. Groehl said that efforts would be made in the Federal Court at Hartford, Conn., to have Chapman returned to the Atlanta penitentiary to complete his 25 year sentence for a New York mail robbery.

Mr. Groehl expressed the belief that Chapman could not legally be executed before completion of his Federal term. He added that an appeal to the United States Supreme Court was likely, if necessary. Chapman was taken from Connecticut to Atlanta by special arrangement.

Greensboro won the attendance cup by a safe margin and Wilmington came second with Raleigh third. Election of officers officially closed the convention and final adjournment was expected this afternoon after a luncheon with retiring District Governor Sikes presiding.

MILLION PERSONS EXEMPTED PAYING FED. INCOME TAX

Exemption for Single Persons Raised to $1,500 and Heads of Families Raised to $3,500; $200,000,000 Slashed From Annual Revenue

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The limit on which the 20 percent deduction for earned incomes may be made by tax payers was raised today by the House Ways and Means Committee from incomes of $10,000 to incomes of $20,000. The committee rejected proposed to repeal the capital stock tax and modify the capital levy of 12 1/2 percent.

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—More than $200,000,000 of the annual burden of $7,000,000 federal income tax payers would be removed under income rate revision voted by the House Ways and Means Committee in preparing a new revenue bill.

The committee yesterday voted a reduction in the maximum tax rate from 40 to 20 percent, cut down the normal rate and increased the personal exemption.

By increasing the exempt from $1,000 to $1,500 for single persons and from $2,500 to $3,500 for married persons, the committee relieved more than 1,000,000 payers in the small income class from the necessity of paying any tax, as well as reducing the burden of all others of the Federal tax bill.

In deciding also to curtail present provisions of the law allowing a 25 percent reduction for earned income, the committee reserved decision on the question of increasing the present income limit of $10,000 to which such reduction applies. While no vote of the committee on any of the changes were announced by Chairman Greene, it is understood party lines disappeared and harmony prevailed throughout the consideration of the income schedule, consideration as the heart of the revenue bill, with a similar accord in prospects in disposing of other features of the bill.

The new normal rates voted by the committee would reduce from two percent to one and one half percent a rate on the first $1,000 of taxable income, cut from four percent the rate on the next $4,000 and have a five percent levy instead of the present six percent applying on taxable incomes in excess of $9,000.

In taking up for consideration today the corporation tax of 12 1/2 percent, the only likelihood of any change by the committee in this rate was a slight increase should it act favorably on proposals before it to repeal the capital stock tax of $1 on each $1,000 of stock.

Believes Body of Youthful Pharaoh Is In Sarcophagus

Cairo, Egypt, No. 6.—(AP)—The excavators at King Tut's cave have discovered what they believe to be definite proof that the body of the youthful Pharaoh is actual in the sarcophagus, whose splendors have aroused the admiration of Egyptologists. Their find consists of the inner coffin shaped to fit the form of the body. About this is a linen shroud covering over the coffin except the face, on which are the painted features customarily depicted on such encoffinments. The features are believed to represent those of King Tut himself. A string of beads and flowers were found around the head of the coffin of the sleeping monarch and at about the position of his chest.

FALKLAND MAN IS FOUND DEAD AT TOBACCO BARN

Mr. David Johnston Found Dead On Tobacco Truck; Death Believed to Be Result of Too Much Drinking

Mr. David Johnston, 52, white man residing in Falkland Township was found dead yesterday afternoon at 7 o'clock by a negro who lived on the same farm with the deceased. The coroner was summoned but upon investigation he found that death was believed to be the result of too much drinking and no evidence of foul play was found, the case was dismissed. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home with interment following in the Farnville cemetery.

The facts surrounding the death were that Mr. Johnston accompanied by his son started to Farnville to transact some business. On the way they met a negro with some whiskey. Mr. Johnston and his son both took a drink and proceeded on their way. Upon their return they stopped at the home of the negro, who had by this time hidden his whiskey at the barn. Mr. Johnston, his son and the negro this time took two or three drinks. After which Mr. Johnston lay down on a truck, the negro returned to his work and the boy went on home to carry a few things which he had purchased in Farnville.

A short while later the little son of the negro went to the barn. He returned a few minutes later and told his father that Mr. Johnston was asleep. About 2 o'clock the negro went to the barn and found Mr. Johnston dead.

The deceased is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter.

WASHINGTON ROTES ENTERTAIN LOCAL CLUB AND LADIES

Atendance Contest Between Two Clubs Begins Last Night With Washingtonians Hosts At Oyster Roast

Washington Rotarians and their wives were hosts to the Greenville Rotarians and Rotary-Anns at a delightful oyster roast at the Eureka Mill in Washington last evening. The affair proved an enjoyable occasion for both the hosts and their guests.

While there was no set program for the evening other than a supply of oysters that surpassed all expectations, there were several impromptu talks intermingled with songs and laughter. Recently the Rotary Clubs of this district have been paired in attendance contests during the next few months and the Washington and Greenville clubs are competitors for the attendance honors. Last night's meeting marked the beginning of the contest and the Washington Rotarians chose that occasion to entertain the Greenville Club.

Pitt County Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases which convened in this city last Monday morning with Judge W. M. Bond presiding, came to a close this afternoon with the docket being cleared of a large number of cases. The sessions have been featured by a number of defendants drawing prison sentences, number being found not guilty, and a few sentenced to the county roads.

The case against Mr. W. H. Turner, of this city, charged with assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill, consumed practically the entire yesterday's session. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of assault with deadly weapon, and judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.

With the exception of this case the following cases were given a hearing yesterday and today.

The case against Bonnie Gray charged with having whiskey for sale was continued. The case against John Cunningham and Sander Cunningham, charged with driving car under 16 years of age, was continued. The case against Dave Baker, charged with reckless driving was not pressed.

Ben Leggett was adjudged not guilty of the charge of burglary.

The case against C. H. Townsend charged with sander will be the first to be tried in the January 1926 term of Pitt County Superior Court.

Richmond Langley was adjudged guilty of the charge of burglary and was sentenced to state's prison for a term of one year.

John Page pleads guilty of the charge of larceny and is sentenced to jail for a term of 4 months to be assigned to work on roads.

William H. Sugg charged with abducting man's wife, tenders a plea of assault on female. Judgment that defendant be confined in jail for a term of 60 days to be assigned to work at county home.

The following cases were continued: Nelson Hopkins, charged with selling liquor; Roy Dixon, charged with selling liquor and Charlie Eason, charged with having liquor for sale.

Miss Maude Wallace, Granted L. of Absence

Raleigh, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Miss Maude E. Wallace, assistant state home demonstration agent for the State College of Agriculture, has been granted a leave of absence from the college for the year beginning January 1, it is announced by I. O. Schaub, director of extension.

Miss Wallace came into the employ of the college on May, 13, 1919, when she was appointed home demonstration agent in Cabarrus county. She remained in that county for about six months, when she was promoted to district agent in charge of home demonstration work in the Piedmont section of the state, with headquarters at Greensboro. In January, 1921, Miss Wallace was again promoted to be assistant state agent under Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, with headquarters at Raleigh.

During her seven years of service in North Carolina, Miss Wallace has won a notable place in the affections of the farm women of the state, says Mrs. McKimmon. She has been concerned largely with the field work in her office, assisting home agents in their county-wide campaigns and in resting the work of the different agents to a state wide plan. Mrs. McKimmon says that Miss Wallace's work with girls has been especially valuable.

GOVERNOR'S ROOM WILL SHOW HUMAN VIRTUE SIN MURALS

ARTISTS COLONY AT TAOS FIND INDIANS BEST PICTURE TYPE

Lincoln, Neb. Virtues of the human race will be exemplified in mural decorations which will adorn the governor's reception room of Nebraska's new $9,000,000 statehouse. Augustus Vincent Tack, New York artist, has in mind the wish of the late Bertram G. Goodhue, architect, who designed both the capitol and grounds, that the governor's official rooms be made "the most beautiful room in the world."

The side and end walls will express the virtues of the state. The end wall at which is the fireplace will represent the state on the right as the provider of learning in its universities and schools and on the left as the protector of the sick and helpless in its hospitals and asylums. The opposite wall will represent the idea of equality before the law in which will be seen all sorts of men. In this panel the law itself is represented by the seven ancients of the law, who stand as judges before the procession of human beings.

This same procession passes around the whole first plane of the decoration and is divided into three groups. These represent the liberty of speech, liberty of religious observance and liberty of the electorate or political freedom.

Opposite these panels will be balancing groups expressive of contentment and happiness, symbolizing prosperity.

In the next section are represented the virtues of citizenship—Courage, Magnanimity, Perseverance, Vis on Enterprise, Hospitality, Righteousness and Understanding.

The ceiling proper represents the virtues of life. This is divided into seven panels. In one of these will be Agriculture in the person of Ceres. She is attended by the favoring winds which bring the rains and produce abundant crops. Opposite this panel in which a figure representing life giving energy, like a sun in the center of the universe.

At the extreme end of the ceiling panels is a representation of the tree of life, signifying the successive generations of men.

FARMERS APPEAL

By O. L. JOYNER

THE POSSIBILITIES OF GREENVILLE

I was sitting in the lobby of a hotel a few nights ago, in Ahsokie, one of the most prosperous, thrifty, and progressive towns in the State, when an old friend whom I had known for a number of years, and who lived there, came in, and after greeting me, remarked: "Mr. Joyner, Greenville seems to have the only tobacco market in the state this year. Why I never knew much, or heard much about Greenville before, but this year everybody around here is talking Greenville and nearly all the farmers, who have heretofore been selling in Wilson and Rocky Mount, are now selling in Greenville, and Greenville seems to be the talk of everybody around here."

I mention this to call attention to what I have often said before, that Greenville occupies the most advantageous position, relatively speaking, of any tobacco market in the eastern part of the state, and all that is needed to place it where it properly belongs, as the leading and best tobacco market in the State, is for all the people who live here and who believe in Greenville, and who love Greenville, and want to see it take its rightful place, is to wake up to the fact that Greenville is the very best town to live in, to be found in this section of the state.

We have all been too prone to be satisfied with ourselves, to be content to enjoy our own good fortune, with too little desire to share it with others; too lethargic with regard to the blessings of our own community to go out and tell others about them. If the people of Greenville and those living in the contiguous territory would take the interest in letting outsiders know what we have and what we are, that many towns and communities much less favored and much less advantageously located, take in their home towns and communities, the population of Greenville would increase in the next five years, more than any ten years of its past history; and if everybody would pull for the Greenville tobacco market, tell the truth, and nothing but the truth about it, the next year would place it far and away ahead of any market in the state. At some future time, when I have more leisure and a better opportunity, I hope to more adequately call attention to the unequalled advantages and excellent opportunities of this much favored town and locality. In the meantime, let everyone who is, or should be interested in Greenville, present or future, locate Greenville on the map and contemplate the territory surrounding it, and then see what an untold development lies in store for us, if we will all pull together for Greenville.

THE GREENVILLE TOBACCO MARKET REPORT.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the first of the week, with an incessant, all day rain Monday, and soft damp weather nearly all the week, the market has remained strong. All grades of tobacco have sold well, and there has been practically no decline on anything in good order or condition while, of course, tobacco of high color and badly in oft condition has not sold as high as before the bad weather. It has simply been almost unprecedented that prices have remained so well sustained during the protracted heavy sales and bad weather conditions, all of which is conclusive proof of the strength of the market, and the demand for the tobacco. All of us like to have our opinions verified, and I am, no exception to the rule. With the opening of the markets in the east, with prices averaging around fifteen cents per pound, it was difficult to find anyone bold enough to even suggest twenty-five cents average for this crop.

I expressed the opinion that the crop would average above twenty-five cents. It is true that much more of it was sold below twenty cents than I expected, probably a fourth of the crop, but unless the remainder of the crop shows up much more inferior than the first and recent offerings indicate then the crop will average well over twenty-five cents per pound.

ITALY'S ABILITY TO PAY

If a permanent settlement of the Italian debt is to be concluded, the negotiations at Washington will necessarily be governed by practical considerations of Italy's capacity to pay. Italy now owes the United States somewhat more than $2,000,000,000, including accrued interest. If this debt is funded on the basis of the British settlement Italy's annual payments will be about $70,000,000 for the first ten years and $80,000,000 for the next fifty-two years. The total payments under this arrangement would be about $14,500,000,000 on an original loan of $1,643,000,000.

Should the settlement, however, be made on the basis of the last French offer, the annual payments would begin at $20,000,000 and increase to $50,000,000 after the twelfth year, continuing at this figure for the next fifty-six years.

It is obvious that these payments in the long run must be made out of income and not from loans. There must be a budget surplus sufficient to meet the service on the American debt and also a favorable balance on international payments equal to the sums to be transferred. When these tests are applied to Italy they fail to indicate her ability to make such payments in the near future as would be required under the British plan or even under the more lenient French proposal.

With heavy sacrifices on the part of her people Italy has improved her budgetary position in the past two years, but higher taxes to create the necessary surplus for debt service would probably defeat their own purpose. The prospect of a favorable balance on international payments is likewise unpromising. Italy is deficient in natural resources and can therefore export little in the way of raw materials, while her exports of finished goods are hampered by the present world-wide fondness for high tariffs. Large quantities of foodstuffs must also be imported. While the visible import surplus has been reduced to nearly the pre-war figure, further improvement in this direction will be slow.

For these reasons Italy will probably require more lenient treatment in the first few years than has been asked for France, and our Debt Commission should take the same attitude that a lender takes toward a hard-pressed client. It should be ready to accept such a sum as the best financial option will approve as being within the ability of the country to pay.—New York World.

New Cherry View Subdivision to Be Sold Tomorrow

The colored population of Greenville are having offered them the best opportunity of their life time in the sale of the New Cherry View subdivision which will sold at auction tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. As a home site there is no property in Greenville available that can near compare with it because of its ideal location, being within a short distance of the colored graded school, theatres and churches, and the city's business district is but a few blocks away. As an investment it is bound to do as all other desirable residential property has done in Greenville, and that is to advance in price. The terms are easier than any offered before on like propositions, being only one-fifth cash and the balance over a period of several years. A Ford car will be given away, and every person over eighteen years of age attending the sale will have an equal chance to win.

FIRST MODERN APARTMENT IN TOKYO RENTED BEFORE READY

Tokio.—Residents of Tokio are to have their first experience with life in a modern American apartment. The first such building ever constructed here will soon be ready for occupancy.

Prof. K. Morimoto of the Imperial University has supervised the work of construction, with assistance of his wife, and will direct the management.

The building is on the American style throughout. It is four stories high, fire and earthquake proof, built of reinforced concrete and contains 42 apartments ranging from one room to six. More than 170 persons have filed applications for the apartments. As the government advanced part of the 500,000 yen which the building cost, it was stipulated that not more than one-third of the occupants may be foreigners.

The building is fitted with a hot water heating system, electric gas, telephone and other modern conveniences. The walls and ceilings are sound-proof. The bath rooms are furnished with foreign imported tubs and have tile floors. The floors of other rooms are of polished wood.

On the first floor of the building are public rooms, including dining room, reception room, cloak hall and store. In the basement are laundry and drying rooms, storage and refrigerating rooms, the heating plant and a garage. There are accommodations for guests, who may be had by the hour, by the day at a nominal fee. Foreign style food will be served in the restaurant, which will be open to the public. Service may be had from the restaurant to any apartment.

The apartments were built as an experiment by the Culture Diffusion Foundation, of which Mr. Morimoto is director, to show the practicability of modern Western apartments in Japan.

Gorman's Market Report

The market was easier the first of the week. On Wednesday the head buyers from Richmond and New York were here and the prices stiffened on all grades. Our Thursday's sale was the best as to prices that we have had this season. As we have before stated we see no reason for any decline except on account of the congestion. The trade needs and will buy this crop at good prices, if we use judgment in selling; so handle it right and take time to sell. The market has been blocked all the week. With light sales we believe prices will stiffen from what they are. GORMAN'S has First Sale Monday, First Second Sale Tuesday, No Sale Wednesday (Armistice Day), First Sale Thursday and Second Sale Friday. Below we give you a few sales made Thursday. Send your tobacco to Gorman's and you will get the top of the market.

Beautiful Evening Wedding in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Last Night.

Goldsboro, Nov. 8. One of the most beautiful weddings Goldsboro has ever witnessed was solemnized in St. Stephen's Episcopal church Tuesday at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of a congregation that thronged the church to overflowing and the standing room in the rear, the contracting couple being Miss Dorothy Simmons, of this city, and Mr. Francis Bowen, of Greenville, N. C. The bride is the very beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Simmons, of South William Street, and who from childhood has been, for all that wins the hearts of a people, a universal favorite in Goldsboro, which she had the honor of representing, by popular vote, "beauty queen," in the Eastern Chamber of Commerce contest in Wilson, two years ago. After finishing the High School here, she graduated from St. Mary's, Raleigh, and yet from childhood she had ever been so abundant in girlish joy, so in love with life and everybody in all that is worthy, and so popular with all who knew her in all walks, that her host of social and admiring friends had hardly realized she had grown to bridal years.

The groom is a substantial young business man of Greenville, where he is associated with his father, and where he holds the esteem and confidence of his people for his fine personality and intrinsic worthiness.

For this happy bridal the church had been rendered by loving hands superlatively beautiful in its decorations of growing green and blooming flowers and its myriad of lights, which shed a nebulous halo o'er the scene—made more mystic and enchanting in all its loveliness and splendor of nature and art by the deep significance to which it all referred. And while the large congregation waited for the ceremonial and revelled in the scene before them and the sentiment of the hour, there came to them the sweetest of music—from the pipe organ, presided over by Mrs. Geo. B. Bynum, with Mr. E. F. C. Metz accompanying on the violin.

Promptly at the expectant hour, the notes of Mendelssohn's Wedding March signaled the approach of the bridal party. First came the ushers: Messrs. Leland Edmundson and Shep Morton. Then came the bridesmaids, Misses Sarah Giddens and Josephine Forbes, gowned alternately in black and white panne velvet with rhinestone girdles, and black and white tulle head dress entwined with rhinestones with rhinestone slipper buckles and carried an arm bouquet of gold chrysanthemums.

Next to enter were James T. Little and Vance Perkins of Greenville, followed by Misses Lucile Demjsey and Ruth Wilkins in black and white panne velvet respectively with rhinestone trimmings and carried arm bouquets of gold chrysanthemums, Messrs. Sterling Wooten and Paisley Boney then followed, after which came Misses Lottie Simmons and Pearl Wright of Greenville, in black and white panne velvet with rhinestone trimmings with arm bouquets of gold chrysanthemums. Next to enter were Mr. Howard Bush of this city and Mr. Bert Bateman, of Wilson.

Miss Lena Simmons, sister of the bride then followed as maid of honor gowned in black panne velvet with rhinestone trimmings, and carrying an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Preceding the bride came the cute little flower girl, Misses Mary Simmons and Helen Person, daintily attired in white ruffled organdies with tulle bandeaux and carried miniature brides bouquets of gold chrysanthemums. The bride entered on the arm of her father, and was never more radiant and beautiful than in her wedding gown of dutchess satin, made of old fashioned laces and chiffon ruffles. The tulle veil, cap style with real lace was elaborately embroidered with seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bride's bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. As she neared the chancel, where her attendants stood gracefully grouped in the presence of the waiting minister—the groom's own pastor, Rev. J. E. W. Cook, rector of Greenville, Episcopal church, the groom, with his best man, Mr. Frank Rice, also of Greenville, approached from the sacristy, and received his bride from her father, and the twain then pledged their mutual troth, the ring service being used, and then the rector of St. Stephen's, Rev. W. O. Cene, completed the ceremony, the prayer and the benediction. The grouping at the altar, the scene, the sentiment, the significance of it all, was such that none may look upon without realizing the unction of a blessing in the vision, for it was sentient with types of everything that is of and for the better, the highest life—love, faith, hope, truth, mercy, gladness—pointing humanity to the loveliest way which makes for the only abiding happiness that can be known in this life; types before which all of us—for all the world loves lovers—might bend our knees and doff our caps in reverence without sacrilege.

At the conclusion of the ceremony Lohengrin's Wedding March was played, while the bridal party, following the smiling and radiantly happy bride and groom, repaired from the church to waiting automobiles and were driven to the bride's home, and after she donned a traveling suit the happy young couple left on the North bound A. C. L. train for an extended bridal trip, after which they will be at home to their friends in Greenville, N. C.

LAWRENCE RISING'S BEST SELLER.

Heralded as one of the finest pieces of modern literature turned out by any of the younger authors, "Proud Flesh," from the pen of Lawrence Rising has been translated to the screen by King Vidor for Metro-Goldwyn Mayer.

The screen version of the remarkable novel, which is now being shown at White's Theatre today is accepted as one of the most powerful portrayals dealing with the San Francisco earthquake and fire and the subsequent recreation of that great city.

Eleanor Boardman plays the part of Fernanda, depicting a sophisticated, young woman of the world, whose culture fails to interfere when she meets Patrick O'Malley, played by Pat O'Malley. Harrison Ford portrays Don Jaime, a likeable member of the Spanish nobility.

WINDJAMMER NEAR ITS END AS BRITISH CARGO VESSEL

Liverpool.—The windjammer has just about given up the ghost, at least so far as the British flag is concerned. The old full rigged vessel that once carried the brunt of the sea cargo is too slow nowadays and it does not pay.

The thousands of these British ships that sailed the seven seas now number six. The survivors remaining upon Lloyd's register are the Monkbarons, William Mitchell, Garthpool, Garthneil, Kewa and Kilmalle, each of which is known in many American ports and especially Honolulu and Manila. All have served 30 or more years, and with the exception of the Garthpool are three masted vessels. The Garthpool is the sole British four masted on the job and among seamen is known as "The Ghost," because of the great fleet of such ships all gone to Davy Jones' locker, which it represents.

Finland seems destined to become the worlds last owners of ships of this type, as most of the British sailing vessels sold within recent years have been bought by Finnish interests. Grain from Australia, a trade from South America and sail outward from Liverpool are about the only cargoes now offered for sailing ships.

Negro Denies the Charge of Attack Asheville Woman Asheville, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Preston Neely, second negro on trial here charged with an attack on a white woman, took the stand in his own behalf today, making a complete denial of the charge and testified that he was at work in a restaurant at the time of the attack.

In the court session late yesterday the victim had pointed out Neely and declared positively that he was the negro who attacked her after drawing a revolver and threatening to kill her if she made an outcry. The defense indicated that it would introduce several witnesses to establish Neely's alibi. Charles Moxley, his employer, and several employees of the restaurant were expected to testify today that Neely was at work when the crime was committed. In her first assertion the woman said her assailant wore a blue coat and new overalls. Today Neely admitted owning a blue coat, but said he had not owned overalls in many months. A statement signed by several white residents of Laurens, S. C., said that Neely bore a good reputation in that city, his home. The state closed its case early today and it was expected the defense would complete its side of the case this afternoon with the case going to the jury tonight. On Monday the members of the mob, which attempted to get Alvin Mansel from the Buncombe county jail last month following his arrest for attacking a white woman, will go on trial.

National Guard Officer Making Search for Taylor and Pusey

Wilmington, Delaware, Nov. 6.—(AP)—By direction of Governor Robinson of Delaware, Major Harry R. Van Sciver, a national guard officer, is making systematic search along the South Carolina coast for evidence in connection with the disappearance of Secretary of State William G. Taylor, Edward R. Pusey an dan engineer on a yacht Bunny the Second. Major Van Sciver has established head quarters at Georgetown, S. C., and has set up a beach patrol between that place and Pauley and North Island. The Bunny Second was reported to have burned at that vicinity about October 24 and nothing has been heard from the three men since that date.

Pershing's Son as a Motor Mechanic in Paris Garage

Paris.—General Pershing's son Warren may be in training to follow the footsteps of his illustrious father, but he has shown a fancy for greasy overalls, the steering wheel of a motor car and the repair bench in the garage. One of the conditions upon which the General permitted Warren to prolong his vacation period in Paris was that he work. He obtained a job in a garage and the motor repair bench at which he labored for six weeks is open to him should he return for another spell during his Switzerland school days. From that it is assumed that Warren was worth his salt as a mechanic. Because he was General Pershing's son brought him no favors. The first day he got a mild "bawling out" from the foreman, who, seeing the boy looking at a motor, yoke him up with "Well, you're not here to look, but to work." Warren was far from workshy, however, and the 16-year-old lad who arrived at 8:30 each morning was unrecognizably covered with dirt and grease less than two hours later.

When it became known that General Pershing's son was working in a motor shop, the premises were soon besieged by reporters and cameramen. It was impossible to get him to pose for his picture and most of the cameramen had to be contented with pictures of Warren's back or his legs sticking out from beneath a car. The worst onslaught came from the women special writers. The repair pit was Warren's refuge. "Won't you come out and talk to me?" many of them coaxed. "I'm sorry, Miss, really, but my boss pays me to work and I'm here to work."

13 HORSES AND FOUR FALSE STARTS KILL THE STARTER

Marseilles.—Thirteen horses and four false starts in the same race killed Marcel Blinou, for more than 9 years official starter at the Marseilles racetrack. The "Palm-tree Stakes," one of the features of the season here and always heavily bet upon, was being run off before an excited and nervous crowd. One, two, three, false starts. The crowd began to protest and to hiss the starter. Blinou raved red in the face, and called the horses back for a fourth start. Again, it was a false start. Blinou swayed on his feet for a moment, then fell to the ground. He had died of heart disease.

Allen Named As Chairman Wilson Birth Place Mem.

Raleigh, Nov. 6.—(AP)—State Superintendent of Education, Arthur T. Allen, today was named by Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, President of the University of Virginia, as the Chairman for North Carolina of the Woodrow Wilson birth place memorial. It is the plan of the organization to preserve the birth place in Staunton, Va., where the great war President was born on December 28, 1866.

him a real French driving license as a souvenir of his experience in a Paris garage.

Miller Pleads Not Guilty of Charge of Conspiracy

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Thomas L. Miller, former Alien property custodian, pleaded not guilty when arraigned today on an indictment charging conspiracy to fraud the government and was held in $5,000 bail.

Mr. Miller's counsel asked Judge Goddard for a continuance of the case for a week to give the defense an opportunity of arguing a motion on the indictment. The defendant was told he could change his plea within ten days after the decision on the forthcoming motion.

The National Security Company furnished the bond. Mr. Miller himself appeared before Judge Goddard today, but made no statement in his own behalf. Robert Johnson, attorney representing the former alien property custodian, later said he would insist first upon a bill of particulars. The indictment was incomplete and "fictitious" in its details, he asserted, and emphasized the charges made therein that the alleged overt acts occurred between January 7, 1921 and December 31, 1922. He said this period was set in an effort to prevent operation of the statute limitations, which otherwise would outlaw the alleged crime.

MAY TURN SAWDUST AND WASTE INTO NON-INFLAMMABLE BOARD

Tacoma, Wash.—A synthetic board non-inflammable and resisting heat and cold, may soon be manufactured from sawdust.

A group of lumber men here became interested in the possibilities of the product, after a demonstration proved that the synthetic board would withstand a flame that would cut through steel. Sawdust and other mill waste are treated with chemical and made into a pulp. The pulp then is pressed into boards of any size.

TAX ON FORGETFULNESS LATEST OF THE FRENCH FINANCE FASHIONS

Paris.—A tax on forgetfulness is the most up-to-date thing in French revenue novelties. The gentleman who leaves stock certificates in his taxicab and Madame who forgets everything from her cigarette case to her pocket-book will now pay rather heavily when they claim their belongings at the Lost Property Office in the Police Headquarters.

Money and securities will be returned to their owners at a charge of 4 percent of their value. Jewelry, "except anything having no intrinsic value," is redeemable on the same terms. The "no intrinsic value" clause is expected to kill a very promising publicity field in the matter of lost jewelry. For every other article, new or nearly new, two francs will be charged; for everything else, one franc.
