DISTRICT MEETING TEACHERS BE HELD WASHINGTON 13TH

More Than a Thousand Teachers From Counties in North Eastern Section of the State to Attend Two Days' Conference

Washington, N. C., Nov. 7.—Washington is making preparations to take care of more than a thousand visiting teachers from counties in the North Eastern section of the state who will attend the district meeting here on November 13-14. The first session of the district meeting will be held at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon at the high school auditorium. At this time Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, of the State Department of Education, will discuss needed school legislation and he will be followed by Superintendent W. A. Graham of Wilmington, who is president of the State Teachers Association this year. Mr. Graham will make a report of the Legislative Committee of his association which has decided to ask the 1927 session of the Legislature to submit a constitutional amendment for an eight months school term and begin a program of normal school building.

The second general session will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the John H. Small school auditorium. The features of this meeting will be an address by Dr. Harry Clark of the chair of Education at Furman University, and a lecture recited by Mr. Edwin W. Steckel, director of music in the Gastonia Public Schools. Dr. Clark has been on state programs in other years and is regarded as one of the most attractive speakers the Teachers Association has brought to North Carolina. Mr. Steckel has been on the programs at other district meetings and his lecture recited has proved so popular that audiences have refused to allow him to quit at the end of his program. His interpretation of music is worthy the serious consideration of every one and the lecture is interspersed with comment and illustrations on the piano of what he is talking about. The final general session on Saturday morning is given over to business and to an address by State Superintendent, A. T. Allen.

In addition to the general sessions the various teaching groups will hold departmental meetings on Friday afternoon and on Saturday morning. The programs for these groups are well supplied with talent, not only from the state but from outside sources. One of the outstanding features on the departmental programs will be Miss Agnes Rice of the Iowa State Teachers College who will talk on activity programs and show lantern slides illustrating the development of such work. She will appear on both the primary and grammar grade programs. In addition to Miss Rice, Miss Elsa Beaudet of the School of Education at the University will have places on the program.

The city superintendents will discuss such important questions as the 1925 session of the legislature, advertising the schools, negro education, the demands a high school may make of the college and other important topics. Dr. Clark will appear on the superintendents program. The high school teachers will have Dr. Clark, Supt. Graham, Mr. Allen and Prof. N. W. Walker, in addition to high school people in the North Eastern district on their program. Science teachers and home economics teachers will also have interesting programs for both the Friday afternoon and Saturday morning sessions.

PRESTON NEELY WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY BY JURY TODAY

Negro Was Being Tried On a Charge of Attacking a White Woman in Asheville

Asheville, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Preston Neely, negro, on trial here in Superior Court on a charge of attacking a white woman was found not guilty by a jury reporting in court this afternoon.

The negro was immediately escorted back to jail by a platoon of National guardsmen. Spectators at the jail were dispersed with fixed bayonets in order to prevent any demonstration.

Neely was returned to jail under a technical charge of investigation. This was done, it is believed, for safe keeping of the negro for the time being.

Asheville, Nov. 7.—(AP)—With the concluding argument for the state by Solicitor John E. Swain, the case against Preston Neely, negro on trial for an alleged attack on a white woman, is expected to reach the jury in Superior Court this afternoon. George Lyle Jones, speaking for the defense this morning contended that a complete alibi has been proved for Neely and that the white woman, who accused him of the crime, was mistaken in her identification. Several persons yesterday testified that Neely was at work at the time the crime was committed. Trial of the 45 members of the mob that stormed the Buncombe county jail on the night of September 22 will start in Superior Court Monday morning. Solicitor Swain announced today. The majority have been at liberty under bonds of $2500 each, but several unable to supply bail have awaited trial in jail.

The prizes will amount to $550 and the contest is open to all college students. The essays will not exceed 600 words, Mr. Upham states. The contest will close on January 1, 1926, and the essays will be judged and prizes awarded by the association during good roads week. The announcement of the prize-winners will be made at the American Road Builders convention, January 11 to 15, in Chicago, and will be announced by radio.

Their trial will open December 14.

CITY'S RECORD OF "NO TAXES" THREATENED ONLY BY POLITICS

South River, N. J.—The record in this municipality of 11,000 of "no local taxes" is endangered only by the intrusion of politics.

Revenue from the city owned power plant and from license and franchise fees kept the tax roll away during the last year. Mayor Al'gray now stipulates that if politics is held in abeyance the city can continue the no-tax program and at the same time reduce power rates.

Col. John M. Johnston To Deliver The Armistice Day Address at Teachers College

The Armistice Day address which will be delivered in Greenville on Wednesday, November 11th at 11 o'clock by Col. John Monroe Johnston, will take place in the auditorium of the Teachers College instead of in the court house as heretofore announced. The change was made owing to the fact that such a large crowd is expected it was feared that the court room would be inadequate to accommodate the people.

The Legion has made great preparations for the event. They have made their plans to make it the greatest Armistice Day Celebration since the signing of the Armistice, and the indications are that they will be successful.

In securing Col. John Monroe Johnston, the Legion is bringing to the city and county one of the greatest speakers of today. An ex-serviceman, a splendid citizen, an orator and several other traits of character makes Col. Johnston an outstanding figure in public affairs. He will bring a message that will be both inspiring and enjoyable.

The parade, for the day, will form at the Atlantic Coast Line depot. Every ex-serviceman in the county is expected to take part in this feature of the day's exercises and is requested to wear his uniform.

Following the address at the Teacher's College, dinner will be served at Fushes and Morton's Warehouse to Veterans of all wars. The afternoon will be featured with a war picture at White's Theatre, a foot ball game at the Fair Grounds and perhaps other interesting features.

So far as could be learned here the officers opened fire when the small touring car, in which Cyburn, another man, and a woman was riding, refused to halt upon command. No shots were fired from the automobile. It was stated.

Officers reported that 50 gallons of whiskey were found in the automobile. Cyburn died a short while after being shot.

LAW FORBIDDING PULLMAN CHARGE MAY BE TESTED

Law Was Passed By General Assembly of '23 and Sponsored by Travelers Protective Association

Raleigh, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The validity of the North Carolina law prohibiting the collection of a surcharge on a Pullman fare on any journey entirely within the state, which was practically nullified November 1 by an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, may be tested out in a criminal action in the courts of this state.

The law was passed by the General Assembly of 1923 and was sponsored by the Travelers Protective Association. Yesterday afternoon representatives of the Association conferred with the Attorney General as to a means of testing out the validity of the law in the light of the I. C. C. ruling that the surcharge must again become effective on December 10.

The surcharge was imposed by the Government during Federal control of the railways in the war period and has remained in force ever since. The Pullman Company does not get the benefit of it, but merely acts as a collection agency for the railroad.

Urges States Encourage Resumption Home Rule Prohibition Enforcement

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary Andrews of the Treasury today called upon the states and communities to encourage the resumption of home rule in the enforcement of prohibition. Only by such effort, he declared, could the federal agent be removed from the status of village policeman.

Addressing the National conference of the Anti-Saloon League, the treasury officer, who is the directing head of the Federal Prohibition Enforcement, declared the Department had now concentrated its efforts upon dividing the work equally between the state and Federal authorities in order that there may be "more punch" in law enforcement and more speed and an avoidance of an overlapping duty.

Explaining in some detail the recent re-organization of the Federal enforcement machinery, Mr. Andrews said he believed important progress had been made in the direction of greater enforcement.

He emphasized that it was his policy to fight vigorously the big operators in the illegitimate liquor traffic and at the same time to protect in every way legitimate industry in its use of industrial alcohol or production of cereal beverages.

U. N. C., State College Will Not Meet In Football Next Season

Raleigh, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The University of North Carolina and State College will not meet in football next season. The announcement by State College officials here today came after it learned that athletic coaches of the two institutions at Durham failed yesterday to agree upon a date for the game.

State College, it is understood, at the meeting maintained that the game, which has generally been played here during the fair week comes too early in the season and held out for a date in November with the game to be played in alternate years at Chapel Hill and Raleigh. The University authorities on the other hand argued that a State Carolina game during November would overshadow the long standing Virginia-Carolina game and for this reason it was stated, refused to agree to the later date.

Failure of the two committees to agree upon a date does not mean a break in athletic relations between the two institutions, it is stated. They will continue to meet in other branches of sport, but for next season at least there will be no football games.

Recommends That Pullman Company Be Acquitted of Charges of Racial Discrimination

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A recommendation that the railroads of the state and the Pullman company be acquitted of charges of racial discrimination was made before the Interstate Commerce Committee today by one of its examiners, who investigated the subject. The investigation resulted from a complaint by Dr. Edward Crosby, a negro physician, who sought damage of $120,000 because of alleged discrimination. John McChord, who took evidence for the Commission in the matter, reported that "unjust discrimination or prejudice against persons of the colored race in favor of persons of the white race has not been shown as alleged" and added further that "The commission has no jurisdiction to award punitive or exemplary damages." He recommended that the commission dismiss the complaint and deny any reparation.

Dr. Crosby asserted in entering the proceeding that the Nashville Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway in 1923 had failed to furnish necessary facilities for the comfort of colored passengers on a trip from Chattanooga to Atlanta. He also mentioned that he had been refused on other occasions Pullman tickets on certain trains. During the hearing the officials of the Pullman Company declared there had been no refusal generally to sell Pullman tickets to negroes. The other ground of complaint cited by Crosby, the examiner said, was counted by previous ruling of the commission declaring that it was reasonable to segregate negro and white passengers on trains in Southern territories.

Secretary Hoover declared today in an economic review made public as part of the annual report of the Commerce Department. OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"IS IT A DREAM?"

1. Timothy 4:10:—"Who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those who believe."

I sat alone in my study when the evening sun was low,
The pen lay idly in my hand, and my thoughts had ceased their flow.
I think I was musing sadly, as the Stranger knocked the door,
For all my volumes lay open scattered on table and floor.

Yes, the Stranger knocked and entered, and He found me sitting thus—Gazing far out to the Westward, admiring the crimson flush;
It bathed earth and sky in a glory too bright and too deep to last—
Like some sweet angelic vision, now here, and forever past.

Yes, the Stranger knocked and entered, yet I knew not He was there,
For I had not heard or seen Him, as I watched the sunset fair.
The ruddiest tints had faded out of the skies and my heart,
When, smothering a sigh, I turned, and saw Him without a start.

I never started nor trembled for something kept me so calm.
It seemed like the Good Physician come with His Gilead balm.
Long, long for him had I waited—long, long had I prayed Him come
And carry my wearied spirit away to His love-lit Home.

He laid His hand on my shoulder and spake with words low and clear:—
"My child, you have called Me often; I have come, yet do not fear.
You must leave your holy study, the place where you daily prayed,
And enter the Land of Glory, and hear the golden harps played."

I arose at once to His bidding, and followed Him out of the room;
The earth lay wrapt in the mild light of the pale and crescent moon.
Soon, this was lost to my vision, and around us was desolate night—
But I felt Him in the darkness, followed, and knew I was right.

Ere long, away in the distance, I saw a speck like a star,
Which, as we swiftly drew nearer, grew brighter than sunlight far—
Till I scarce could see, for my tears, through the glory supernal, Dimmed the jasper, the gold, and the pearl of the City Eternal.

The turrets were all radiant with splendor unspeakable.
And the "Many Mansions" were lighted with brightness ineffable;
While through the wide-open portals rich melodies floated sweet—
The music of children's voices, who played in the golden street.

I heard the anthems of Heaven; I saw the dear faces there,
With never a trace of anguish, never a furrow of care.
But as my Savior passed the gate, and I was following on,
I heard a piercing, hollow shriek—a wailing both loud and strong.

I turned—and saw my one brother below in the fearful pit,
With agonies dire tormented, by the fires of Conscience lit.
I laid hold of the Golden Gate, lest dizzy and sick I fell—
Fell down that dark, awful chasm that yawns 'twixt Heaven and Hell.

My Savior had gone before me and was passing to His Throne,
When, turning around to cheer me, He found Himself all alone;
For though the myriad angels were bending at His blest sight,
He missed the soul He had wanted—the soul He had feigned that night.

And He beckoned me to follow, but still I stood there—outside.
The music no longer charmed me; I saw not the City's pride.
And when He came back to fetch me, and said in His gentlest tones:—
"My child, come in, come up higher"—I only heard his sad groans.

And I falteringly pleaded:—"My dear Lord I cannot come;
Not for me rises the music, not for me this heavenly home.
Below, in the pit of darkness, my only brother now cries,
And how can I sing their anthems, while yonder in pain he lies?"

"I will leave the bright golden crown Thou wouldest place on my head;
The harp, the palm of victory, give Thou to others instead.
I ask for no other mercy, as back into night I go
But that Thou wouldest bless and help me to save my brother from woe.

"On earth Thou saddest, dear Savior, I am come to seek the lost;!
Thou didst save a poor sinner like me—Thy Cross was the price, the cost.
That great love of Thine, my Jesus, has entered my human heart,
And Heaven cannot make me happy unless my brother shall part."

And then were the angels silent, and the children ceased their hymn,
For they marvelled at my boldness in speaking so to Him.
But the Savior, He only smiled; a sadness His face swept o'er;
"Twas a sweet, sad smile, half gladness, that I feared as ne'er before.

Then He spake, with love and pain mingled:—"Thou art right, my dearest child;
My Throne must still be without He, till I save these lost and wild.
I, too, will go down there with thee, and seek the souls in prison,
And, maybe, even from deepest Hell these spirits may yet be risen."

And as He spake, He took my hand, passed out of the pearly gate.
Down, down, down, we both descended with a pace that would not wait;
While the angels of God upraised a mighty, thunderous shout
To the Seeking and Saving Lord, Who never will cast one out.

I awoke, alone in my room; my books lay open around;
But no longer could I study—I closed them without a sound.
Down, to the city slums I went, to the dens and haunts of sin.
And spake to the tired sinners of that wondrous love of Him.

My heart grew strangely quiet as I toiled the long night through,
For of His Love my tongue would speak to those whom I never knew.
And wearied man, and weakly child, murmured in their lonely pain:—
"God bless and keep both thee and thine, thou hast shewn us The Christ again."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father, The Great Architect of the Universe, to call from labor to refreshments our worthy brother, B. W. Tucker, who was a zealous Mason, a man who lived and walked a straight forward and upright life, a life that is an exemplification of the tenets of our Order, brotherly, love, relief and truth, and Whereas, those of us who survive him, while howling in humble submission to our Heavenly Father's divine will, desire to bear witness to his virtues and their love and esteem. Therefore be it resolved by Winterville Lodge No. 523 A. F. & A. M., in regular communication assembled;

1st. That in his death our Order has lost a royal member, the community and state a useful and upright citizen, true to his government and just to his country.

2nd. That we will greatly miss him here and will ever cherish his memory, and endeavor to emulate his virtues.

3rd. That we extend to his widow and family our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement.

Chicago.—A typical pioneer is the 100-pound bit of femininity, Mabel Reinecke, who presides as collector of internal revenue for the Chicago district.

Five hundred employees in her office, nearly 200 field employees, and collections of approximately $200,000,000 a year from 700,000 income taxpayers leave her undruffled of temper and never groping for command of the situation.

"First woman to" is an expression found frequently in a sketch of her 14 years in public life, which started well before she had attained her majority. She is "first woman to" hold a presidential commission, occupy a federal executive position in Chicago.

Be a secretary of the Cook county Board of Assessors.

Organize Republican women. As a trail blazer she was thus described by the late Senator Medill McCormick when she was elevated to the position she now holds.

"Her promotion proves that a career in the public service like the free exercise of suffrage, is open to men and women on equal terms.

At the same time, her husband says she is the best cook in Chicago.

Fourteen years ago, when as Mabel Gilmore a little miss of 18 years, she took charge of the Progressive Republican campaign for mayor of Charles E. Merriam.

Later she became secretary for Harold Ickes, Progressive National Com mittee, and virtually managed the woman's end of the Bull Moose campaign.

After five years of working in the ranks she achieved her "recognition," secretary to Charles Ringer, member of the Cook County Board of Assessors.

Another three years and she had gained the endorsement of both Illinois' United States Senators, McCormick and William R. McQuay for appointment as chief deputy to John C. Cannon, then collector of internal revenue. Mr. Cannon was ill health, and shortly after Mrs. Keicke undertook the heavy burden of first deputy the entire load was shifted to her shoulders. Upon his death she gained the appointment as chief by the late President Harding.

Since then millions of dollars of revenue for the federal government have streamed through her fingers to the Federal Reserve system with a definite order and precision.

Her salary is $8,000 a year. While busy in her onslaught on the Hydra politics, she found time to marry to George W. Reinecke, young Chicago real estate man.

Perhaps her outstanding performance prior to achieving her present position was upon passage of the suffrage amendment, when she visited virtually every section of the United States to organize the new voters.

Mrs. Reinecke as a good housekeeper in her office. Her desk is a marvel of tidiness, despite the great rush of papers dealing with the nation's millions that must receive continual attention to avoid a flood.

CAROLINA GLEE CLUB
TO APPEAR AT TEACHERS
COLLEGE, FRIDAY, NOV. 13

Greenville music-lovers will have an opportunity to hear the celebrated University of North Carolina Glee Club on Friday, the 13 of November, when the Poe Literary Society of E. C. T. C. sponsors a concert given by the well-known organization in the auditorium.

In choosing the University singers for its musical program, the society has an excellent selection. Perhaps no other glee club in the country enjoys as enviable a reputation as that of this unique feature of the music department at the historic institution. There, in an atmosphere of sacred traditions and illustrious past, Paul John Weaver, prominent University musician of unusual talent, has built up from a body of one hundred and twenty-five candidates, a choral organization of sixty members possessing remarkable finesse and vocal ability. From this number, a select company of thirty or forty men are making the trips of the season.

An especial feature of the program which will be executed here is a number of songs by the Club's artist,
Jerome Swinford, popular New York baritone.

Children should start the day with a substantial breakfast. Milk for this meal may be used on cereals, or in cocoa, as well as to drink. When children carry their lunch to school, as most rural children do, a bottle of milk is a splendid addition to this meal, which should also include fruit of some kind, as well as sandwiches and other good food.

Beauty Prizes.

Adrienne Dore, "Miss Los Angeles," is home after a tour of the East, bringing with her the prizes she won in the East. In the national beauty contest she won second place.

Mrs. J. K. Young has returned from several week's stay in California.

Mr. J. K. Young has returned from New York where he has been to buy new stock for Youngs.

MAYOR'S COURT

Bessie Cox charged with carrying upon her person a concealed pistol. Bound over to county court and directed to the attention of the health officer as the evidence strongly tended to show that defendant was mentally unbalanced and dangerous to be at large.

Joe Brady, charged with blocking traffic. Allowed to pay the cost.

Dora Wiggins, charged with disorderly conduct. Allowed to pay the cost.

Malcomb Watts, drunk and disorderly, fined $10 and cost.

Rufus Vines, charged with assault. Sentenced to 30 days on roads with judgment suspended for two years upon good behaviour. Committed to jail in default.

Fred Falkner, charged with committing a trespass. Fined $10 and cost.

Rainbow is Infallible Sign of Grid Victory In Hawaii, Believe

Honolulu. It has come to be a popular belief here that so long as a rainbow appears in Manoa Valley when the University of Hawaii eleven plays the team must and will be victorious.

Scoffers are told that in the last three years the university has lost but one game, to Pomona College at Pasadena last Thanksgiving Day—and there was no rainbow in the sky in California.

The tale runs that three years ago some superstitious Hawaiians on the varsity petitioned for a charm from a Kahuna, ancient medicine man of the islands most noted for his ability to "pray a man to death." Practice of the art of the Kahuna was made illegal some years ago by the legislature, but high in the mountains or deep in the valleys of the islands it is said that the Kahunas still hold forth. The tale continues that the incantation of the Kahuna was, "No one can beat Hawaii when there's a rainbow in the sky."

At that time the navy team from Pearl Harbor dominated football here. For two years it had been champion. This time the day of the Navy-Hawaii game broke with a cloudless sky. The navy made three straight touchdowns. Within ten minutes of the end the navy was leading, 19 to 6. Up in Manoa Valley cloudbanks gathered and a rainbow appeared. The university then proceeded to make two touchdowns. The score was tied just as the game ended.

The 1925 season opened auspiciously, with rainbow. The university defeated the Hawaiian national guard 26 to 0. Whether the rainbow will prove potent enough to down the Colorado Aggies, who come here Dec. 12 the Washington State, scheduled for Christmas week, remains to be seen.

Members of the university sport wear miniature rainbows on the arms of their jerseys.

CHURCH DESIGNED AS FUNERAL CHAPEL POPULAR WEDDINGS

Glendale, Calif.—A tiny church in a cemetery, built to serve as a funeral chapel, has become one of Southern California's leading matrimonial altars. It is known as the "Little Church of the Flowers." There is no pastor or congregation.

Upwards of 175 couples already have been wedded there this year and several christenings also are on record. The chapel is patterned after the noted church of St. Giles at Stoke Poges, England, from whose burial ground the poet Gray drew the inspiration for his "Elegy."

It is principally from its interior that the church derives its name. Flowers bloom the year round within it. The nave is bordered on each side by small conservatories which are kept constantly filled with flowers, ferns and other plants from a nursery maintained in connection with the cemetery. Brides and grooms have been attracted from many sections.

Although all of the weddings have been unpretentious, many wealthy couples have chosen to be married there.

MANNEQUINS NOW TAUGHT TO STRUT, GLIDE, PAUSE AND POSE

Paris.—It was the Mock Turtle in "Alice in Wonderland" who studied "reeling and writing" in his under-sea school. Paris is going to do the Mock Turtle one better in a school for Mannequins, where "pausing and posing, and strutting and gliding" will form part of the curriculum this Fall.

Less mysterious in their nature are the simple physical exercises to keep the girls' figures trim and neat—the instruction in the art of "wearing furs" and initiation into the secret of "showing off" a gown. The course requires from 18 to 20 lessons.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevin, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. 'I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of three times, then I would be very constipated. 'A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. 'It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of 'pep' and could do twice the work.'"
One cent a dose. NC-161

Sydney, N. S. W.—A bill to abolish the death penalty will be presented to the next session of the legislature by the state cabinet.

The measure would substitute imprisonment for hanging in cases of convicted murderers, the sentence varying in severity in accordance with the circumstances of the crime.
