ARMISTICE DAY WAS FITTINGLY OBSERVED HERE YESTERDAY SIX MEMBERS MOB ENTER PLEA GUILTY OF MISDEMEANOR

Parade of Veterans Followed by Exercises at College Featured by Address by Col. J. Monroe Johnson, of Rainbow Division

Sam Stroups Pleads Nolo Contendere While Paul Pegram Offers a Plea of Guilty

The seventh anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which brought to an end the world's greatest conflict, was fittingly observed here yesterday, by a parade of veterans of all wars, followed by exercises in the auditorium of the East Carolina Teachers College...

Asheville, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Six men indicted as participants in the mob that stormed the county jail here on the night of September 19, entered pleas of guilty to misdemeanor charges before Judge A. M. Stack. Sam Stroups, another defendant, offered a plea of nolo contendere when the fourth day of the trial of the alleged participants began...

Attorney William G. Fortune, representing several of the defendants, offered to submit guilty pleas for three of his clients on the misdemeanor charge, but Solicitor Swain refused to accept the pleas of these three men, asserting he believed there was enough evidence to convict them all of the charges including the felony counts.

Judge Stack stated he desired to take occasion to commend Paul Pegram, 16 year old boy, for the step he took yesterday in offering a plea of guilty to the charges. He told the attorneys that up until this morning, the fourth day of the trial, only one little boy had been man enough to admit his part in that devilment.

Record Sales Are Being Made on Local Tobacco Market

That the Greenville Tobacco Market is living up to its reputation of "The Best Tobacco Market" is being more clearly emphasized from day to day as the present selling season progresses. On Friday of last week Mr. R. E. Harris, of this city, sold an entire row of tobacco on the floor of one of the local warehouses. The tobacco which was raised on the Peebles farm, owned by Mr. Harris was grown by five separate tenants and consisted of all grades from the common to the best. The entire lot weighed 6,196 pounds and ranged in price from 20 cents to one dollar a pound, bringing $3,301.68 or an average of $53.28 per hundred pounds.

Hopelessly Deadlocked Jury Selected to Try Blazer is Discharged

Littleton, Colo., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Hopelessly deadlocked, the jury selected to try Dr. H. E. Blazer on a charge of murdering his daughter Hazel, the 34 year old child woman, was discharged by Judge Samuel Johnson at noon today. The jury had had the case since last night.

on the battle fronts, the casualty lists of the various nations will indicate that indeed America was most fortunate and no "Shylock methods" should be employed in bringing about settlement of these debts, he said. America's first duty, he said, is entry into and full co-operation with the League of Nations and through that council of nations should be worked out an equitable basis of settlement.

After Col. Johnson's address Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse extended the thanks of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion to all who had a part in and assisted in any way the Armistice celebration.

Following the Star Spangled Banner by the High School band, the exercises came to a close and the veterans together with the Auxiliary of the American Legion adjourned to Forbes and Morton's warehouse where a barbecue dinner was enjoyed.

The afternoon was taken up with horse and mule races followed by back the German aggression and made possible the victory and Armistice Day. Despite the fact that the American funds made possible the successes of the Allied forces prior to the arrival of the American forces

U. N. C. Glee Club to Present Program at College Friday Eve Painleve's Latest Plan Calls for Levy 15 Pct. on Real Estate

Tomorrow night in E. C. T. C. and the famous University of North Carolina Glee Club will render a concert consisting of beautiful classical selections, Southern Melodies and folk songs.

The visit of this widely-praised organization to this city will mark the coming of one of the best musical attractions in the country. The reputation of the University of North Carolina Glee Club is well known; under the direction of its skillful leader, Paul John Deaver, the choral organization has attained a most enviable place in the realm of music. It now ranks with the St. Olaf and Westminster Chorus. Composed of thirty men selected from one hundred and twenty-five candidates, the club represents only the very best quality of entertainment.

A feature of the program to be presented here will be the baritone solo parts by Jerome Swinford, celebrated New York artist of the Tar Heel company for his second successive year. The noted singer, who will travel extensively throughout the South this fall, is expected to be a great drawing card here.

The program ranges from sixteenth century masterpieces to light creations, popular music, and spirituals. Especially delightful selections by the club will be: "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones," a beautiful 17th century German melody, "Grant Us To Do With Zeal," Bach's masterpiece. "So, How a Rose E're Blooming," a wonderful expression by Proctorius. "A Moorish Serenade," a haunting melody by Dr. Daniel Protheroe of Chicago. "O Song of the Road," a magnificent song dedicated to the University of North Carolina Glee Club by its author, Dr. Protheroe. "The Wreck of the Julie Plante," a vivid narration of a storm and its disastrous results.

An unusual demand has been made for tickets to this feature attraction. All indications are that a great assembly of music lovers will hear the well-known University organization tomorrow night.

SEVERAL KILLED WHEN PASSENGER TRAINS COLLIDE HERE NEXT TUESDAY WASHINGTON TABLET URGES MINISTERS TO LIVE CLEAN AND KEEP OUT OF DEBT

Both Trains Proceeding in a Heavy Fog; Wreck Occurred at Plainsboro, N. J.

General Bowley Will Deliver the Address at the Unveiling of the Tablet by D. A. R.'s

Bishop Collins Denny Receives Five Young Men in Membership of Methodist Conference; Declares Those Who Doubt Virgin Birth Not Wanted in Ministry

Plainsboro, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Thirteen persons were killed early today when a St. Louis Express train of the Pennsylvania Railroad collided with New York, telegraphed another Pennsylvania train from Washington also bound for New York. Eleven bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of the two rear cars of the Washington train and two more bodies still are in the wreckage.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Ten or twelve persons were reported killed and several injured when the Pennsylvania passenger train from St. Louis to New York telegraphed the two rear cars of the Washington to New York train at Plainsboro early today. Both trains were proceeding in a heavy fog.

The rear car a pullman, carried nineteen passengers. Victims carried from the wreckage were rushed to hospitals at New Brunswick and Trenton. A corps of relief workers, doctors and nurses went to the scene in a special train.

Three persons are known to have been killed today when Pennsylvania Express, No. six running from St. Louis to this city crashed into the rear of Pennsylvania Express No. 166 enroute from Washington to New York. The accident occurred during a heavy fog near Plainsboro, N. J.

Dr. Arthur W. Belting, of Trenton, N. J., reported that he believed the death list would reach at least eight or ten, and that 25 passengers were injured. A railroad detective returning to Trenton from the scene, expressed the opinion that the death list might reach 20. Physicians and nurses were sent from Trenton and New Brunswick to the scene and a wrecking train also left today. The engine from the train from St. Louis collided with the rear pullman car of the Washington train and caused the rear sleeper to telescope the pullman ahead. Two pullmans were derailed and the force of the collision caused the upper berth to fall in, pinning sleeping passengers in the wreckage. Wrecking crews found great difficulty in reaching the dead and injured. Acetylene torches were employed to burn away the wreckage.

They will bear the following inscription: "In patriotic commemoration of the visit of George Washington on his tour of the Southern States, 1791. Marked by the Daughters of the American Revolution of North Carolina."

An evergreen will also be planted near the tablet which was presented to this chapter by Mrs. W. N. Says Europe Asking for a World Court of Arbitration

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Locarno conference has done more to bring about lasting peace than any event that has ever occurred, in the opinion of William B. McKinley, United States Senator of Illinois. He is to speak before the Illinois League of Women voters here today. The people of Europe are asking more things that their problem may be fully solved, he said, and that is a world court of arbitration.

"They recognize in the United States the greatest nation on earth and they know that situated as we are, we have no other motive than to attend to our own business." "The court is now in existence at the Hague and the general terms on which the American entry can be obtained are set forth in the Republican platform."

Mrs. Lansdowne Says Letter From Foley Was 'Insult' to Her Husband

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Called to substantiate Colonel Mitchell's charge that improper attempts had been made to influence her testimony before the Chenango Board of Inquiry, Mrs. Zachery Lansdowne, wife of the late Brigadier General Mitchell, testified in the Mitchell court martial today that Captain Paul Foley, of the Naval Board, had sent her letter which was an "insult" to the memory of her husband.

Mrs. Lansdowne testified that the letter from Captain Foley was given her by Mrs. George W. Steele, Jr., wife of Captain Steele, of the navy who is commander of the Lakehurst Air Station, and of the Dirigible Los Angeles.

Defense counsel then read extracts from Mrs. Lansdowne's testimony before the board, but the prosecution objected and was supported before the court. Mrs. Lansdowne stated that she did not tell Captain Gherardi who is aid to Secretary Wilbur, that "things she had said to newspapers about the Shenandoah were lies."

"I denied to Captain Gherardi," she said, "that I had said that the Secretary of the Navy personally was the murderer of my husband. That is all I denied." The defense then introduced copies of letters between Captain Lansdowne and the Navy Department relating to plans for the Shenandoah's last flight. The witness stated that Captain Foley and Captain Gherardi both visited her before she appeared before the Shenandoah board. Captain Foley, she said, attempted to impress her with the importance of the board and she told him that she would emphasize the fact that the court had evaded the issue.

"That the Shenandoah had been sent on a political flight despite Secretary Wilbur's denial. Captain Foley said I had no right to say it was a political flight as the taxpayers had a right to see their property."

Mrs. Lansdowne further testified that the letter Captain Foley sent her suggested that she state her willingness to waive legal defense on behalf of her husband and authorize the naval court to act for him.

Answering a question from the court Mrs. Lansdowne said the letter from Captain Foley had no signature attached to it and no mark to show it came from the Navy Department. She was then asked how she knew it was sent by him and delivered to her by Mrs. George W. Steele, Jr., wife of the commander of the Lakehurst Air Station, who said Captain Foley sent it.

DO IT NOW

It is never too late to learn that it is never too early to do your Christmas shopping. It is not now too late to learn that the early Christmas shopping has already begun.

There is only one excuse for putting off the holiday buying until the eleventh hour and that excuse is no longer being accepted by the credit departments of many stores.

The blessings of early Christmas buying are so many that it is difficult to understand why there are still people who do their shopping on Christmas eve. Depleted stocks, tired clerks, crowded stores and the necessity for haste are only a part of the arguments against the last minute rush.

Every merchant is as desirous of giving service and a good selection of stock as every customer is desirous of obtaining them and that is why many inducements in the way of credit sales, deposit purchases and Christmas storage are offered at this time of the year. There is only a certain amount of Christmas buying to be done, whether early or late, so the merchants have no other thought in urging early shopping than to make it as comfortable, convenient and satisfactory as possible.

Everybody, everywhere, predicts a record Christmas business this year, which is all the more reason to obey that impulse and do your Christmas shopping early.

It now looks like the Mitchell trial might drag out as long as a congressional investigation.

IT'S THE SAME OLD WORLD

It is true that the burden of reproach of the wickedness of the time is usually placed on the shoulders of youth. Bishop Hughes, in Chicago, takes cognizance of this mischievous idea and does a public service in warning the country that the constant indictment of the young people does harm and not good.

Environment changes, progress of many sorts contributes to a social transformation which is marked in proportion to development. The one thing that changeth never is human nature, and, among normal young men and girls, the instinct of today is much the same as the instinct which ruled their elders, modified not by their tastes but by new surroundings.

Inasmuch as it is the elders who take credit for the inventions, discoveries and developments which have produced a new manner of living, why blame the youth of the land for adapting themselves to the change? It is, as Bishop Hughes says, merely habit to be shocked at youth; it is never wisdom. Soon these precocious children will be the parents who in turn will view with misgiving the tendency of daughter to go airplaining with a strange young man in the evening.

It is stated that both Friday and Sunday are rest days in Turkey and it is proposed to abolish the first. The present arrangement would seem to be more agreeable than the change suggested.

Discovery of Moslem Woman Mayor Fires The Vote Campaign

Constantinople—Turkey's one and only mayor has been found and the fact that for years she has administered her office as an illiterate has fired the courage of feminists here in their campaign toward the vote for Moslem women.

Koudret Manoum, a woman beyond sixty, for many years has been unanimously elected mayor of the village of Gerzat in the vilayet of Erdaahan. She can neither read nor write, but she knows all the laws of the village by heart. She is a widow and with her daughter-in-law and two granddaughters, does all the work on the farm, which is their only source of livelihood.

It is the example the leaders of the "Union of Women" can cite in proving a Turkish woman's ability in government affairs. While Mayor Manoum has a masculine bearing and masculine interests, the Union points out that she has an intelligence superior to that of all the men in her vicinity. For that matter, the union claims the average Turkish woman is more clever mentally and more entergetic physically, than the average Turkish man.

TRAY NOW ONLY RARELY USED FOR FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Tallahassee, Fla. — Tallahassee's funeral announcements by salver, a custom handed down from Spanish occupancy, are followed now only by a few of the older residents.

During the earlier days of Florida's capital, funerals were always preceded by announcements, in the form of invitations, written with a pen, and in bold handwriting upon large cards. The cards, bordered with wide pieces of black ribbon, run pen, and in bold handwriting upon a salver. An old negro, clad in black silk, carried them through the streets and to the homes of the close friends of the departed.

The duties of bearing the invitations about were not assigned to just any negro. There was always a particular one for the work. For many years, before and after the Civil War, Primus, the ex-slave of a prominent local lawyer, bore the tray. James Stratton, an aged janitor at the Elks Club, is used now, whenever the custom finds spasmodical renewal.

MAINLAND FOOTBALL TEAMS TO INVADE THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

San Francisco. — Football has staged its longest end run to cross the goal line of America's most western outpost—Hawaii.

In the islands, where heretofore only ordinary interest has been manifest, the sport has penetrated to virtually every point. The thump of the pigskin will resound across 2,100 miles of the Pacific this year when three college teams journey from the United States to take on the pick of the islands at Honolulu.

The first inter-sectional game is scheduled for Dec. 12, when the Colorado Aggies meet the University of Hawaii. On Christmas Day Washington State College will line up against the Senior League team. The football classic of the islands will be played on New Year's Day, bringing together Washington State and the University of Hawaii.

The University of Hawaii will make a trip to the state to play Occidental College at Los Angeles on Thanksgiving Day. Last year at Honolulu, the island team defeated Occidental, 19 to 6.

ALBUM OF SELECT FILM STARS ARRANGED AS MUSEUM EXHIBIT

Hollywood—Stars of the film firmament have achieved the dignity of museum exhibits. Their faces soon will be on file in the British Museum at London.

Original photographs of all the better known motion picture players including some whose screen progress was cut short by death, have been collected into an album of some 200 pages for shipment to the British Museum. Duplicates of the collection are being prepared for the Library of Congress at Washington and the New York Public Library.

First in the book of portraits, most of which are autographed, is an old print of John Bunny, portly comedian whose popularity dates back to the days of the old nickelodians. It is accompanied by a letter from his widow telling of how he began his film career.

On the committee of patrons sponsoring the collection are Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Lillian Gish, Gloria Swanson, Charlie Chaplin and other celebrities of filmdom.

When the second act has come to an end—and the curtain is rung down amidst whirling applause—when you mingle outside with the excited throngs in the lobby—have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN the thrilling second act of the best show of the year has just come to an end. And the stars have taken their curtain calls in answer to round after round of applause. When you join the crowds outside just as pleased and thrilled as yourself—have a Camel!

For no other friend is so cheerful, so resting between acts as Camel. Camel adds its own romantic glamour to the brightness of memorable occasions. No other cigarette ever made—and kept—so many friends. Camels never tire your taste no matter how liberally or zestfully you smoke them. Camels never leave a cigarette after-taste. All the desire to please, all the skill to serve of the largest tobacco organization in the world, goes into this one cigarette.

So when you leave the theatre pleased and inspired for greater things, when you see life's problems and their solutions clearer—lift the flame and taste the mellowest smoke that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

The following invitation has been issued: The Colonel Alexander McAllister Chapter D. A. R. request the honor of your presence at the unveiling of the Washington Tablet on Tuesday morning, November Seventeenth nineteen hundred and twenty-five. Eleven o'clock. Greenville, North Carolina.

THE ROUND TABLE CLUB MEETS

On Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 10, Mrs. S. J. Everett entertained the Round Table in her home, and in her sincere hospitality made the occasion a happy one for each. The attendance was good, and the club was glad that Mrs. E. B. Higgs was able to be with us again. We were delighted to have Mrs. Leland O'Brian as guest of the afternoon, also we welcome to the club Mrs. O. G. Guley who will be the guest of Mrs. H. J. Carr during her absence from the Club. Our president, Mrs. Herring gave us a full business session. The club appreciated the honor of an invitation from the Daughters of the American Revolution through Mrs. C. F. Harvey to attend the exercises of the unveiling of the bronze tablet commemorating George Washington's visit to Greenville in 1791, on Nov. 17, on the court house green. Mrs. J. E. Winslow was appointed to represent the Round Table at these exercises, as Mrs. Herring wished some one to go in her place. In the study of Area Chair Travels, the trips for the day were through the "Mother Country."

From William Dean Howells' book "Certain Delightful Towns in England," Mrs. Jesse Moye gave us a wonderful synopsis of his travels with emphasis upon visits to Plymouth, Exeter, Bath, Wells and Bristol, Canterbury, Oxford, London, with mention made of many places connected with American history and tradition, including scenes of Dickens and Jane Austen's novels. Then Mrs. Milton White from W. H. Hudson's book, "A Foot in England" took us on an excursion through the rural spots where there was much of human interest and her vivid descriptions of the travelers' experience made us feel that we too had witnessed these scenes.

The call for current events, to which all responded was a pleasant feature. Other visitors not mentioned above included Misses Margaret Shields, Everett, Elizabeth Higgs and Rosina Pittman who assisted Mrs. Everett in serving a beautiful luncheon, a real "Thanksgiving" feast. Then the gathering twilight bade us homeward turn.

LITTLE MISS JANE FORBES ENTERTAINS

Hostess at Delightful Party in Honor of Fourth Birthday.

Little Miss Jane Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Forbes, delightfully entertained a large number of her friends at a party on Armistice Day, in honor of her fourth birthday. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and invited to the drawing room and library where a number of interesting games were enjoyed. Miss Naomi Gaskins being the successful contestant in pinning the donkey's tail on was given an attractive box of candies. The fish pond was visited and each little boy and girl found fastened to their pole, a noise maker. A merry time followed with each vying with the other to see who could make the most noise.

After several other games the children were invited to the dining room. Upon entering the room and after viewing the beautiful birthday cake with its four candles, the guests toasted Jane with a birthday song. The dining room table was especially attractive with four large white candles, surrounding the birthday cake which was arranged on a mound.

Mrs. Forbes served an ice course, each plate being decorated with an American flag, suggestive of Armistice Day.

NEW GRIFFITH FILM "BIG" IN SIMPLICITY

Mob and Spectacle Scenes Forsaken in "The White Rose" for Characterization.

Probably the most delightfully artistic and by far the greatest heart appealing story yet to come from that master of the motion picture, D. W. Griffith, is his newest offering, "The White Rose," a United Artists Corporation release coming to White's Theatre today.

It tells a story old in theme, simple and direct, but in such a manner as to make it possibly the one "big" outstanding picture production of the present season. Mr. Griffith has forsaken mobs and huge ensembles for direct and careful characterization in this new screen offering and has succeeded to such a degree that experts predict he again has shown the way for better pictures in the future.

The tale has to do with an orphan girl and a young divinity student who meet when the latter is making a walking tour to learn of the world and its ways. What transpires results in a denouement of compelling power and tender beauty. Griffith journeyed with his company to the famous Bayou Teche country of western Louisiana for his scenes and they are recognized as the most strikingly charming yet shown on any screen.

Guley, the President presided over the meeting, reading from Psalms, chapter No. 112 followed by prayer by Mrs. H. E. Austin.

Following the devotional exercises a short business meeting was held. The class voted to send a Thank Offering of five dollars to Mr. J. H. Eason at Brevard.

Next came the social hour during which Mrs. Coleman and Miss Helene Higgs delighted every one present with several vocal selections.

Two very interesting contests were conducted by Mrs. John W. Curiton, of Greenville, S. C. who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Coleman. Mrs. Milton White was the lucky recipient of a music box in the first contest, and Miss Higgs the proud possessor of a fat pig in the second contest.

At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served.

SUFFERED WITH PILES FOR YEARS Says Hamadala Has Cured Him

3152 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y. August 15, 1924.

Gentlemen I have been troubled with piles for twelve or thirteen years and although I consulted several of the best recommended physicians, and used various ointments prescribed by them as remedies, I was never able to obtain relief.

Through an acquaintance I was advised to try Hamadala's Pile Tablets, which I did. I took just one box. Nearly four months have elapsed since I stopped taking the tablets, and there is no sign of the piles returning. I am therefore writing this letter with the absolute belief that Hamadala's Tablets have permanently and permanently corrected my trouble.

Yours very truly, JOHN McALLISTER.

Hamadala is an internal constitutional treatment for wind, bleeding or protruding piles. It is dispensed in her refund guarantee by Pitt Drug Co. and all good druggists. Out of town sufferers can obtain by mail. Price $1.50.

HENRY FORD LEADS U. S. MARINE CORPS CLASS IN REVIVAL WAS FORMED 150 OLD DANCE STEPS YEARS AGO TODAY

Detroit.—St. Paul's Cathedral hall which has seen the election of two bishops and the settlement of many weighty diocesan problems of the Methodist Episcopal church, has become a Mecca for those who believe with Henry Ford, in the revival of the old-fashioned dances.

With the hearty endorsement of Bishop Herman Page, the hall is being used twice monthly for classes of instruction in the almost forgotten steps, and there is being aroused an enthusiasm which Mr. Ford is hopeful will return the waltz, the gavotte, the schottische and even the homely, boisterous quadrille to a parity with the Charleston.

Mr. Ford has been one of the most active participants at the Cathedral parties, acting as instructor to matrons and misses alike. Mrs. Ford, too is showing a lively interest, and the two are among the most accomplished dancers.

Classes are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Lovett, who conduct dancing classes under Mr. Ford's auspices at Dearborn. This quarter—Mr. and Mrs. Lovett and Mr. and Mrs. Ford—work zealously at each meeting to illustrate the old dances reviving them for the more elderly pupils, introducing them to the young people.

The Ford orchestra is a strange contrast to the blatant, derided cornet the beating saxophone and the assertive tympani of the modern jazz band. There are no crashing cymbals, no rapping and syncopated pianoforte. The orchestra consists of a Hungarian cymbalon, a dulcimer, a great horn like a tuba, a violin and a guitar—a quaint quintette that provides a fitting background for the modest steps danced to its music.

The music, too, is reminiscent. Here and there come melodies recognizable to those whose memories dig back into the nineties. "Nellie Gray" is there, as are many of Stephen Foster's strains. Young faces remain impassive as these melodies sing forth but old and young alike respond to the gleeful "Ta-ra-ra-rum de Ay".

The intricate steps of the old dances are given much attention. The old-fashioned waltz finds many exponents who need little more than a brushing back of memory to make them proficient. The "Varsoviense" of Warsaw, which seems like a triple step, has become popular.

Other dances include the old round dances, the square dances, the redowa waltz, the valse waltz, the heel-and-toe polka, the seaside polka and several types of the schottische and gavotte.

Philadelphia.—The United States Marine Corps is 150 years old today. Almost eight months before the embattled colonists declared independence from the British crown, the Continental Congress, sitting in Philadelphia, authorized "that two battalions of Marines be raised." Thus the United States Marine Corps came into being even before the United States government itself.

Samuel Nicholas, a Philadelphian, was commissioned captain of Marines and was the first recruiting officer of the corps, setting up a recruiting rendezvous in Tun Tavern, a famous hostelry of old Philadelphia, situated on one of the quaint cobble-paved streets leading to the Delaware River wharves. Captain Nicholas subsequently became first commandant of the corps. On the site of the old tavern long since eliminated by expanding commerce the Thomas Roberts Hotel Marine Post of the American Legion will unveil today a bronze tablet commemorating the sequel-centennial of the corps and marking its birth place. A banquet and ball will be held tonight.

Easing their claim to seniority among branches of the United States arms, on the commissioning, December 22, 1776, of the first American navy by Congress, wherein the establishment of the Marine Corps was officially accomplished, the Soldiers of the Sea are proud of their "first" in age as well as their service in many far-flung activities of the United States. The traditions of the Marine Corps, expressed in its slogan, "Semper Fidelis" (Always Faithful) have not been allowed to transish. The organization's inscription, which can be read on the blue and gold banner of the Marine, "From the Shores of Tripoli, to the Halls of the Montezumas," describes only truthfully the ubiquity of these versatile "Web-footed Soldiers."

After the march of a detachment of Marines over nearly 600 miles of African desert, during the trouble between the young American Republic and the Tripoli pirates in 1803, at which time the Americans stormed and captured the native fortification at Derne and, for the first time in history, hoisted the unfamiliar flag of Stars and Stripe over an Old World fortress, the Marines claimed "the shores of Tripoli" for their own. Years later, during the Mexican War, a division of Marines was the first American troops to penetrate the Mexican capital and enter the Grand Plaza of the City of Mexico, hence their right to add "the halls of the Montezumas" to their banner.

Conspicuous in every war fought by this country, and distinguished in remote campaigns from Formosa to Abyssinia and from Bering Straits to Valparaiso, the Marines had gained reputation long before their spectacular participation in the Battle of Belleau Woods, in France, in June, 1918, when the final German advance was halted. That action alone, caused the French government officially, to rename that battlefield, "Bois de la Brigade de Marines."

LORD MAYOR'S OFFICE ABOUT 100 PER CENT WITH THE SUFFRAGE

London.—Women's suffrage is about 100 per cent in effect in the office of Sir William Pryke, Lord Mayor elect.

On leaving the Mansion House at the expiration of the Lord Mayor's term of office, the Lady Mayor receives a present of jewelry from the city.

What Is Meant by Charge Accounts?

Briefly this—A merchant agrees to loan the purchaser a bill of goods to be paid for in cash in 30 or 60 or 90 days. Then the merchant, operating charge accounts, is in reality in the Loan Business. Yes, and with definite rates of interest which he collects.

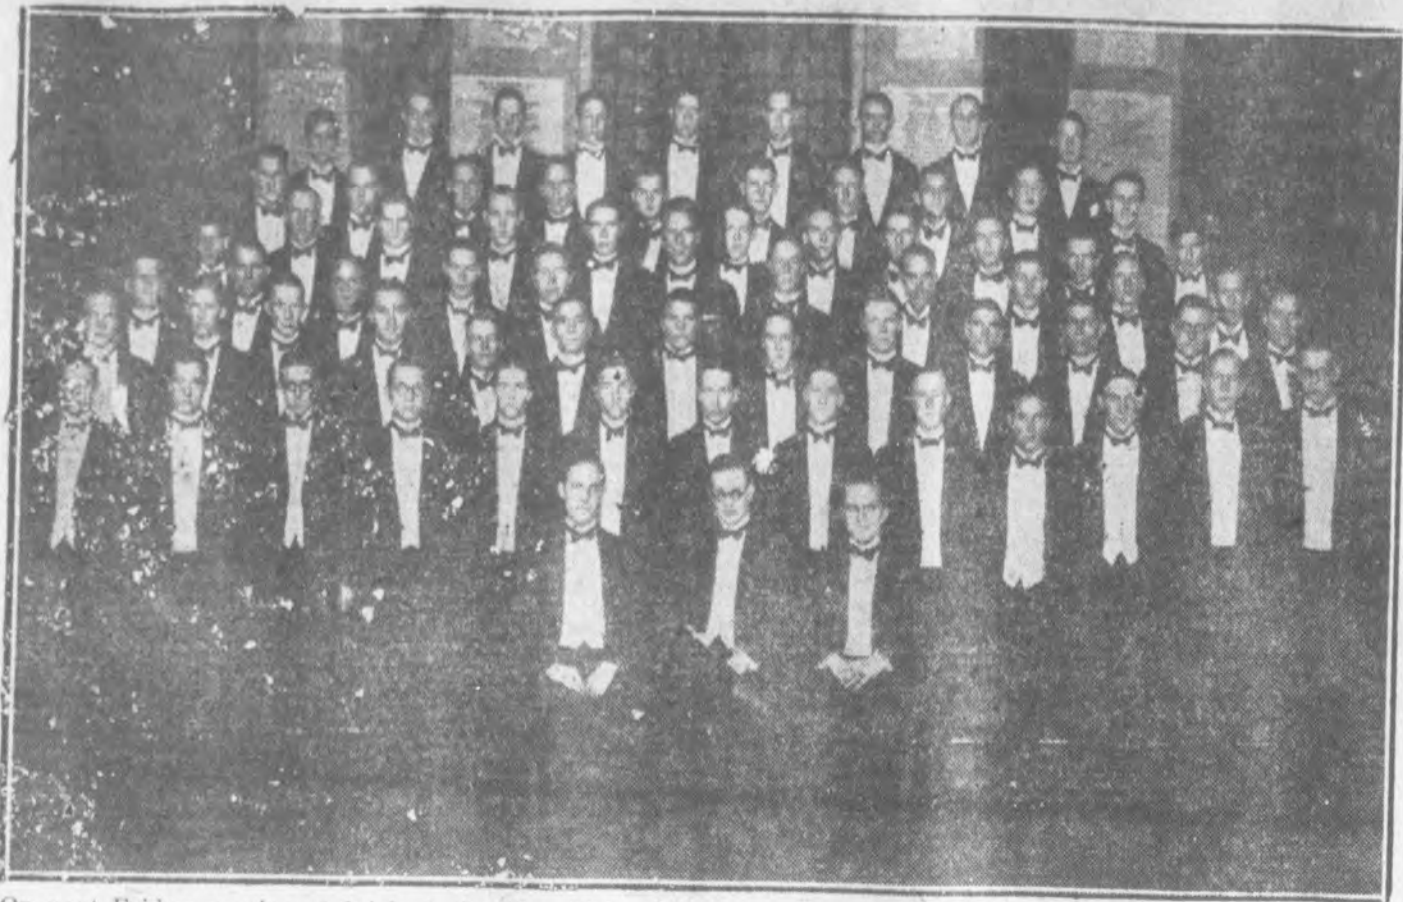

How does he collect interest? By adding to the retail price the prevailing bank loan rate on money, plus his previous rate of losses sustained through unpaid accounts (usually 5 per cent on sales volume), plus his overhead cost of collections and bookkeeping expense. The customer must always pay these extras.

To Pay Cash As You Go Makes It Possible for you to enjoy the freedom of purchasing wherever you can save most.

Have you ever noticed how much more courteous and painstaking salespeople are in stores where a Cash Selling Policy is maintained!
