MEMORIAL TABLET UNVEILED TODAY ON COURT HOUSE GREEN

Tablet Commemorates Washington's Visit to Greenville in 1791; Day's Program Featured By Splendid Address

A tablet commemorating General George Washington's visit to Greenville in 1791 was unveiled on the court house green today by the Col. Alexander McAllister Chapter D. A. R. The tablet was presented to the county by Mrs. C. F. Harvey, of Kinston, a member of the State Committee which is retracing Washington's journey through North Carolina and was accepted by Mr. S. T. White, a member of the County Board of Commissioners. The program was featured by an address by Gen. A. J. Bowley, of Camp Bragg, planting of a tree, and other interesting features. The musical program consisted of selections by the Greenville High School, "The Star Spangled Banner," "Carolina," and the Tree Planting Song.

Hon. D. M. Clark in a few appropriate words welcomed the large number of visitors on this delightful occasion, assuring them that Greenville and Pitt County consider it quite an honor to have been visited by General Washington and to have erected here such an appropriate marker commemorating his visit.

Mrs. W. D. Murphy, of Snow Hill, in a most charming manner responded to the address of welcome and then presented Mrs. C. C. Gregory, State Regent of D. A. R., who spoke briefly of the activities of the day. Mrs. Park, of Tarboro, a former resident of Greenville expressed pleasure at being here and especially on such an occasion. Col. A. J. Bowley, of Camp Bragg, lauding the Col. Alexander McAllister Chapter D. A. R., for their wonderful work, speaking in most glowing terms of Washington's life, his aims, his achievements, his travels, congratulating Greenville upon being the city wherein such a beautiful marker was to be erected, delivered an address which was both inspiring and instructive.

Following the General's address the large audience gathered around the tablet which was unveiled by little Miss Lucy James and Helen White, wearing Colonial costumes. Mrs. Harvey's presentation of the tablet was clothed in beautiful language, and showed how Washington is beloved by the members of the D. A. R., and the Women of the South.

The planting of the tree was one of the most attractive features of the day. The tree was the gift of Mrs. W. N. Reynolds, and was dedicated by the Rev. James E. W. Cook, Rector of the Saint Paul's Episcopal Church, this city.

Rev. Mr. Cook's address was splendid, conveying to the D. A. R., his interest in their work, his joy at being present on such an auspicious occasion and his love for the memory of such great men as Washington.

After Mayor D. M. Clark had extended thanks for the marker and the tree in behalf of the city, Rev. W. P. Watkins pronounced the benediction. Immediately following the unveiling a luncheon was served the members of the D. A. R., and those taking part in the program, at the Eastern Carolina Teachers College.

MEREDITH COLLEGE GIVEN $50,000 BY BENJAMIN DUKE

Students Delighted Over Large Gift; Will Be Presented to Trustees at Meeting Today in Charlotte

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—An unconditional gift of $50,000 was made to the Meredith College endowment fund by B. N. Duke yesterday; raising the total amount of the college endowment fund to $465,000. A larger endowment fund was greatly needed by the college, according to Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president. "I wish that I might adequately express my appreciation," Dr. Brewer said last night, "but I cannot. However the college authorities and students are deeply appreciative." The gift was announced at the chapel exercises at Meredith yesterday, and was met with an enthusiastic reception by the students. The matter will be formally presented to the board of trustees at a meeting today in Charlotte where the Baptist State Convention meets this afternoon.

Although Mr. Duke has made gifts to a majority of the colleges in the State, this is the first gift to a Baptist college. Pineland School, which is a Baptist school for girls received a gift of $50,000 several weeks ago with the condition that a similar amount be raised by the school.

St. Mary's School, Episcopal, was also the recipient of a gift amounting to $25,000 recently. Gifts to colleges in the State run into the hundreds of thousands in addition to several hundred thousand which he gave to Duke University. All told his gifts to educational institutions in the State have been smaller and much more widely spread than the gifts of his late brother James Buchanan Duke.

Meredith College has nearly completed its new buildings west of Raleigh, and expect to move to the new site during the coming Christmas holidays. The cost of the first units of the new plant including equipment and furnishings is estimated at a million dollars. Several temporary buildings are being erected on account of a lack of funds to complete the entire group as planned.

Four Stores Were Destroyed by Fire in Windsor Monday

Windsor, Nov. 17.—Windsor's fire trap of old wooden buildings was largely consumed by fire yesterday. The buildings on the north corner of Main and Granville streets have been a menace to the business part of the town for half a century. The fire originated in the old Bryan Wade house lately owned by E. S. Dail as a carriage shop. It had been unused for a year or two. The flames were in the top of the third story when discovered at ten o'clock yesterday.

A strong northwest wind drove the flames up Main street and threatened the brick buildings. The loss is estimated at forty thousand dollars without insurance those who suffered less are estate of E. S. Dail, Mrs. W. G. Mizell, grocery store; Evans and Lyon, two story store and the J. P. Freeman store. Several out buildings, warehouses and shops were burned. The flames were communicated to adjacent building and across the street but the fire fighters were watchful and soon had a stream on it.

The Red Cross and Boy Scouts rendered valuable services. Williamson generously responded and sent over its truck and engine. Windsor fire fighters did valiant service, within an hour the fire was under control.

Court Martial Trying Mitchell Resumes Session Today

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Resuming its sessions today after a three-day recess, the Court Martial trying Colonel William Mitchell heard new witnesses summoned by the defense to support Mitchell's charges against the war and navy administrations of aeronautics.

At the request of Colonel Sherman Moreland, the trial Judge Advocate, two additional officers from the Judge General's office were detailed as assistant trial Judge Advocates to assist in cross examination. At the outset of today's session Colonel Blanton Winship, law member of the court, informed defense and prosecution counsel that he had been instructed by the court to ask for a determination whether the line of evidence being pursued by the defense was admissible.

"It ought to be decided," Colonel Winship said, "whether this evidence is for the purpose of the complete defense or only of extenuation or mitigation."

Representative Frank R. Reid counsel for Mitchell said he expected the defense would close the bulk of its case by the middle of next week and the question should be passed over for decision until that time. Colonel Moreland recommended that the prosecution was willing either to wait for a decision or argue the question today.

The court retired for private consultation and when it returned Major General Robert L. Howze, its president, announced "The case will proceed."

NEW CENSUS SHOWS GREENVILLE ABOVE 9 THOUSAND MARK

Census Taken Under Auspices of Local Rotary Club Shows Population of City to Be 9,059

Greenville's population is 8,371 in addition to transient population and the student body of the East Carolina Teachers College according to figures made public today by the committee recently appointed by the Greenville Rotary Club to take an accurate census of the city. It was pointed out in the report that the present student body of the college is 688 which if added to the list of residents would bring the total count to 9,059. Since the college is open forty-eight weeks out of every year with a full attendance the student body might well be termed residents of this city the report explained. While from the standpoint of the government the census is not official, it was taken by an expert and can be relied upon to be accurate.

During the course of the census taking there has been much speculation as to the result, the estimate ranging from seven to twelve thousands, but the tabulation by streets made public today including the college students shows an actual count of 9,059 with the whites more than a thousand in the majority.

The tabulation by streets shows the white population as 4,500 in addition to the 688 college students bringing the total white population to 5,188. The colored population totals 3,871.

The actual count without the college students shows an increase of 2,599 over the government census of 1920 which showed a total population of 6,460.

MRS. LANSDOWNE APPEARS AGAIN COURT OF INQUIRY

Summoned to Repeat Her Version of Story Concerning Captain Paul Foley; Attorney for Mrs. Lansdowne Excluded

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Shenandoah Court of Inquiry was tossed along a squally course today when it reconvened to investigate the charge that its own Judge Advocate had sought to bring false testimony before it.

With the accused naval officer Captain Paul Foley, waiting to deny that he sought to influence the testimony of Mrs. Margaret Lansdowne and with Mrs. Lansdowne's attorney excluded by a marine guard, the widow of the Shenandoah captain was herself summoned to repeat her version of the story.

Mrs. Lansdowne told the court that she had not used the expression "false testimony" in describing in a newspaper interview the efforts she said were made to guide her testimony before the court.

In the meantime the excluded lawyer, Joseph Davies, a former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, stood just outside the rail of the court repeating his demand that he be heard. The marine who had lead him away from the bench again took him by the arm as he sought to argue with the court.

"Is this man to take me out of the room?" The lawyer asked. "He will if you do not keep quiet." Returned Admiral Hillary P. Jones, President of the court.

"Then I will abide until the court rules," he replied. But the court itself decided to ascertain what the man wished to make and declared a recess while its new Judge Advocate Major Henry Leonard questioned him quietly.

After once refusing to testify because her attorney had been excluded from the court room by a marine guard, Mrs. Lansdowne reversed her decision and said that what she had charged was that Captain Paul Foley formerly the Court's Judge Advocate sought to have her "twist the facts."

Her lawyer, Joseph Davies, had been ejected after the court had overruled his plea that even though she occupied no status in the court, the window of the Commander of the Shenandoah was entitled to counsel.

As soon as she took the stand Judge Advocate Leonard objected to Mrs. Lansdowne reading a memorandum.

"I respectfully decline to testify," she replied.

"And I now advise the witness that she should not testify," said Davies. A Marine under orders then lead the attorney from the room. The Judge Advocate declined to excuse the witness however, and went on with his questioning. "Did you make the statement attributed to you in this article?" He asked in presenting a story distributed by the Universal Service quoting her as saying Captain Foley had sought to have her make false testimony.

"I did not make all of the statement," Mrs. Lansdowne replied. "I did not use the expression 'false testimony.' What I said was an attempt had been made to make me twist the facts."

guage, seal, etc." So it becomes evident that one may be intemperate in many different ways. There are intemperate eaters, intemperate smokers, intemperate workers, intemperate sleepers, intemperate idlers, intemperate spenders, intemperate talkers, intemperate thinkers, intemperate reformers; and finally there may be intemperance in anything.

In an essay on "The Evils of Intemperance" appears the statement:

"The history of mankind has shown that intemperance is the greatest evil which has afflicted the human race. Yet this is the lesson that mankind from age to age and from generation to generation persistently forgets. Spiritual intemperance unlooses the forces of hate, bigotry, oppression, tyranny, and the like, any and all of which have potentialities for evil in civilized communities that may be compared only with the physical intemperance that weakens and destroys barbarous or semi-civilized peoples."

Victory in civilization's war against intemperance in the use of intoxicating liquors will not abolish all intemperance. There are other forms of intemperance equally devastating and intolerable.

MACOMBER'S "STATESMAN" WINS ONLY WITH WINDER IN SADDLE

Paris.—"The Statesman," a thoroughbred horse belonging to A. K. Macomber, American oil magnate, has an eye for a jockey and expresses himself in such a way as to gain his preference.

Six times this season the colt went to the post. Three times he crossed the tape a winner. Three times he finished last.

"The Statesman" earned his brackles with Jockey Winder up. His losing races were ridden by Jockey Clout. Stable hands make no secret of the horse's dislike for Clout and love for Winder.

On the three occasions Jockey Clout rode the colt, "Statesman" did all he could to throw the lad and then refused to start or lugged throughout the race. In training, he will not work if Clout is about.

But let little Winder come along and immediately the colt becomes good natured, buries his nose into the lad's arm and runs like a streak of lightning when he takes the track. Clout is rated as a very good jockey, with more experience than Winder, but this matters not with "The Statesman," who, like a human, has his likes and dislikes.

Painful Rheumatic Swelling Disappears Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take A Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allen's Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

James H. Allen, of 25 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved from the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLEN'S, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Pitt Drug Co., and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLEN'S with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

Below is a quotation from it. "Interested as the Institute is in dry cleaning and stain removal by safe methods at home, we realize that no home has the facilities for this work that a good dry cleaner offers. Furthermore, we are convinced that modern equipment is necessary and this is not merely a bucket and pressing board." —Good Housekeeping Magazine. PRIMITIVE MOVIES
OF PENNY ARCADES
GRIND OUT HISTORY

Los Angeles.—Only a half hour's ride from the humming studios of Hollywood and Culver City, where the movies march off to their appointed future with a great blare of publicity, there is a place where time has stopped and where one may see the film industry in its swaddling clothes, naively offering to the passerby "Pictures That Move" for a penny.

It is in the penny arcades of Main street, Los Angeles, where Jim Jeffries in still heavyweight champion of the word and where, on the picture postcards of a bygone era, Gloria Swanson still wears the bathing suit of her beach comedy days.

Here, in machines called Microscopes, is the great Jeffries-Sharkey fight of November, 1899. Filmed by the old Biograph company in New York, it still feeds the gaze of the ring fan willing to put a penny in the slot and turn the crank. Here Jack Dempsey is yet an unknown; of his victory over Willard no hint has penetrated this hiding place of the past.

And here, if one has a good memory for faces seen on the nickelodeon screen almost a score of years ago, one may recognize other features still familiar, and perhaps even famous, in filmdom.

In his early association with Biograph the man who later directed "The Birth of a Nation" earned a modest living directing these quaint, microcope pictures which have been peering into a hollow contraption of metal. If one is not afraid of being seen in these penny arcades, and one searches long enough, it is even possible to find somewhere the Mutescope in which David Ward Griffith acted. And after a few hours spent among the Microscopes of the penny arcades the student of motion picture destiny may gain new respect for the men who, like Griffith, took these crude and customarily scandalous one-minute comedy affairs and out of them, step by step, lifted motion pictures to their present plane.

STRANGELY PARALLEL

Winnipeg, Sask.—Wounds received by Ernest and Harry Gridley, twin brothers, on the Western front in the World War left each minus his left leg. The brothers were wounded at the same time on the morning of October 30, but one year apart.

Records show that each was operated on nineteen times for war injuries.

The brothers were reunited at a convention of the Canadian Amputations' Association here. Ernest lives in Winnipeg and Harry in Toronto.

FIRST TOWN TO GO
DRY, GIVE WOMEN VOTE IS HARMONY

New Harmony, Ind.—This little community which first offered to America equal political rights for women, universal elementary education, prohibition of liquor, and other reforms then regarded as communism, is to be made accessible to tourists after a century of isolation.

Three Thomas Say, zoologist; John Ardison, ornithologist; John Chapple, Smith, engraver, and General Troost, geologist, began the work which later honored them fame.

Headed in the West by a valley in the far southwestern "fin" of Indiana, New Harmony has kept to itself its interesting history, even when those who knew the way, had penetrated the hills which hide it from the main highways. Now the Automobile Motor Club and the Hoosier Automobile Association have joined to mark and improve the trail connecting it with advertised highways.

It was in 1815 that George Rapp brought hither from Europe a group of German followers, who established in the wilderness a colony which they named "Harmony." All the soil settlers lived a life of great self-denial, shared equally in poverty, and received the necessities of life from a common depot. The stone buildings they erected are still a mark on an outer wall of what was a Puritan storehouse survive at the site of which the peasants assembled a century ago to march to the fields.

After the Germans had cultivated 7,000 of their 59,000 acres and built cotton, wooden and their huts, they sold the entire colony, in 1824, to Robert Owen, wealthy Scotch philanthropist and social visionary. Rapp, being his settlers in Scotland, Owen brought many leaders in science and education. The community was named "New Harmony," and William Maclure, Scotch educator, established an advanced public school system. But slothfulness, tied with ignorance and the experiment, failed.

Equal political rights for women were demanded first by French Wright in a speech at New Harmony; it was the first community to demand the abolition of alcoholic liquor. It was an early center of slavery abolition, Universal elementary education, at public expense without regard to sex or age was first proclaimed here and in later years the community introduced to the middle west compulsory education, its system being the foundation of the Indiana compulsory education system later patterned throughout the west. The first club exclusively for women was formed here.

Today the village contains a scant thousand persons. The descendants of its founders have scattered or their blood has become intermingled with that of subsequent settlers.

GERMANY NEXT COUNTRY TO GO DRY THINKS
DR. CHERRINGTON

Westerville, Ohio.—Despite the fondness of many Germans for their beer, Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, believes that Germany will be the next great country to go dry. Economic conditions will demand the change.

"The European industry is finding it hard now to compete with American industry," he said. "The reason is that prohibition is reflected in a better American workman, and this improvement goes all along the line."

Dr. Cherrington says that the adoption of prohibition by either Great Britain or Germany will cause other countries of the world to fall in line.

NORTH CAROLINA TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

Tuberculosis Christmas Seals will be placed on sale in Greenville this year under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Viola who has long been interested in improving health and civic conditions in our county.

An intensive effort will be made during the period of the Seal Sale to secure sufficient funds to make a real forward step in the tuberculosis campaign in this county. Unfortunately the funds raised by the sale of Christmas Seals are not sufficient to provide treatment in a sanatorium for all the victims in this county who are in need of such treatment, but a great deal may be done with a relatively small amount in an educational way to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.

Children are more susceptible to tuberculosis than grown-ups, especially the weak and undernourished children. Realizing the truth that a large percentage of break-downs from tuberculosis in later life is caused by infections which have gained some headway in childhood the National and North Carolina Tuberculosis Associations are devoting a large part of their time and funds to the elimination of malnutrition among the school children. Every dollar spent for Tuberculosis Christmas Seals will aid in this work and will enable many children to live a healthy, happy and useful life who might otherwise fall a victim of the Great White Plague.

INVASION OF TOURISTS LEAVES THE FRENCH WITH SMART PHRASES

Paris.—William of Normandy's rather forceful conquest of the British Isles gave thousands of Norman-French words to the English tongue. In these latter days the ever-increasing invasion of English and American tourists has added a heterogeneous collection of isolated words and phrases to the vocabulary of the smart Parisian. Words ending in "age" have a special fascination for the Parisian who wouldn't think of trying for a comprehensive English vocabulary, but who likes to interlard his sentences with words of a bizarre sound. A driver jacket is always a "smoking," one travels in a "sleeping," or "sleeping car," and one ever goes out for an afternoon's "floating" in the Bois de Boulogne of a bright autumn day. "Week-end" came into general use during the endless conferences of the post-war years, when English statesmen insisted upon getting away Friday night for a rest over Sunday from official cares. In a similar way Parisians have learned to take their "five o'clock." "Flirt," used as a noun and not as a verb, is in good usage.

Sporting terms, such as "knock-out," "apercut," and the "deuce" and "love" of tennis, have gotten almost rational circulation, despite the efforts of a number of eminent sportsmen to persuade their followers to use the pure French.

SEVEN YEARS LATER, Mrs. Sarago said: "I think Doan's are splendid, although I haven't needed them for a year."

UPPER NATIONAL LIFE IS THE AIM OF AZERBAIJAN STATE

Baku. — Azerbaijan, heretofore one of the most backward states in Europe, has embarked upon extensive irrigation, railroad, engineering and agricultural enterprises, which are eventually expected to rank it with the more advanced sister state of Georgia.

One of the governments greatest problems is to reduce the illiteracy of the people. Only ten percent of the population is able to read and write. For centuries the country has lagged behind all its neighbors in intellectual progress. In an effort to simplify education of illiterate classes, the complicated Arabic alphabet has been substituted for the more simple Roman characters. Education of all classes is now compulsory.

Development of Azerbaijan is enhanced by the fact that the state has no political problems, the currency has been stabilized and all minorities have been given equality of position and opportunity in the promotion of national life.

The principal industries are agriculture and fishing. The state has nearly 300,000 acres of cotton under cultivation and the Soviet government is spending $20,000,000 on irrigation. The state is now producing several million pounds of cotton annually.

A. L. Orakelashvili, president of the Trans-Caucasian republics which comprise Azerbaijan, Georgia and Armenia, said the Karata-Kaloki canal now being built will irrigate 150,000 acres. Several new railroad lines are under construction, the most important of which is the Julf-Baku line which will link Western Persia with Baku and other Caspian ports.

The part the American Near East Relief organization has played in forming the foundation for Azerbaijan's development is praised on every hand. Among the most destitute and ignorant the care which the relief offered through the American people is understood and appreciated. In these people, said Mr. Orakelashvili, will be found the best expression of thanks and appreciation for the help given the thousands of orphans and refugees in this part of the world.

ST. PAUL'S VICAR PREACHES AS A PAL, NOT AS "HIGHBROW" Kinston-on-Thames—If the parishioners of St. Paul's church, Kingston Hill, desire intellectual stuff in the pastor's sermons, they have been told to go to someone else. But if they want a pal, the Rev. A. Wellesley Orr, the Vicar, has asked them to come to him.

"The Archdeacon of Canterbury advised me that the mistake I have been making is that I look upon my people, who have to listen to my sermons, as just ordinary men and women," said the Vicar. "I was reminded that you are my intellectual superiors, who need from me far more than I have ever given you."

"You have learned to play the piano, to knit jumpers, and by wireless you have been brought into contact with the most intellectual subject. You have a motor bike and side car, and so you have traveled. You visit the movie once or twice a week and see the intellectual Charlie Chapman. You have made such advances that you can easily spot the winner in the 230 horse race almost any afternoon."

"I have not time for these intellectual things."

The Vicar believes men and women go to church seeking ideas.

I had always been a very active woman, used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink was indeed a hardship."

Submarine Policy Remains Unchanged

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—policy as to submarines laid down by the Washington Government at the time of the Arms Conference here remains unchanged...

ENGLISH CONSIDER WOMEN FOUR MINISTRY TO MEET SITUATION

London.—"Her Grace, the Archbishop of Canterbury," may be known by the present generation of children in England.

So evident is the lack of candidates for the ministry in the Church of England that authorities are being forced to consider the problem of admitting women to the Holy Orders.

Several leading churchmen have warned that the day of women preachers is in sight. This restraint on feminine equality will be removed in the next generation, they said.

unless there is a revival of religious interest in the country.

The church has been restricted by the scarcity of ministers during the last 30 years and the situation now is acute, the Bishop of Canterbury told the church congress.

Rev. H. M. M. Watkins, curate of the fashionable church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Square, has written in a parish magazine that it now is a necessity that the church move in progress with national life and allow the women to minister in the Church of England.

In the congregations and law church offices, women already outnumber men and at church conferences the bulk of delegates are women.

WATER AND POWER OPENING UNRECLAIMED AREAS OF WEST

Guernsey, Wyo.—Water and power, more precious than gold in unreclaimed parts the West, are coming the help towns and industries where waste land desert stretch into sections of two states.

Government workers are building a great dam on the Platte river, here, as another step in the development of isolated regions. The dam will supply water to hundreds of farmers living in an area of 270,000 acres in Wyoming and Nebraska.

REELFOOT LAKE THIS SEASON A HAVEN FOR HUNTED WILD LIFE

Nashville.—Reelfoot Lake, winter quarters for millions of the wild duck family, this year offers protected refuge to the migratory visitors from the north and the far northwest.

A sanctuary in the grassy bend of the curiously-shaped lake and in the deep wild grasses is wired off from the reach of the hunter's gun.

A heavy fine is provided for any person who enters the wire enclosure or drags a boat about the grasses within, which will be permitted to grow up in the wildest confusion, untouched by human.

Reelfoot lake was formed by the great earthquake of 1811-12. It is ragged and jagged. Some parts of the marshy sections are impenetrable and it is very dangerous for hunters to attempt a trip on its vast expanse without the guidance of a "pusher."

Reelfoot's northern tip extends just over the Kentucky state line. The lake proper contains 14,160 acres and with its marshes included, 25,050 acres.

Thousands of sportsmen from the United States and many from foreign countries have visited the lake every year. A conservative estimate of the number killed on the first day of the open season was 10,000.

The state is considering the establishment of a biological station there for scientific study and investigation.

TANGO MAY BE LAST GASP IN RHYTHM BUT VISITORS SHUN

Paris.—Dancing masters, and especially dancing mistresses, have decried that the tango must be danced; that it is the last gasp in rhythm and the poetry of motion.

Spaniards and South Americans make a majority of the dancers in fashionable clubs and cafes when the tango comes on. This is especially true at afternoon dances, when most of the participants are not in formal dress.

One American girl who refused the tango at a tea party laughingly apologized: "I have given it up. I have decided that it could only be danced with some man one is desperately in love with and should be done on a secluded verandah in the moonlight. It is too hard to stage it properly."

WEST VIRGINIA TO DEDICATE ITS NEW $600,000 STADIUM

Morgantown, W. Va., With Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Governor Gore of West Virginia heading groups of distinguished spectators from two states, West Virginia University will dedicate its new $600,000 Mountaineer Stadium, November 14, Penn. State will oppose West Virginia in the gridiron clash.

The stadium was built from funds contributed by more than 7,300 West Virginians. It is horseshoe shaped and at present will seat 33,000. Erection of an upper tier would increase the seating capacity to 50,000 and the building of another section at the end would make the capacity 75,000 or 80,000.

MOVING SIDEWALKS MAY HELP PARISIANS ALONG BOULEVARDS

Paris.—Moving sidewalks will be established on the fashionable Paris boulevards and a few other congested thoroughfares in an effort to meet the transportation problem, if experiments conducted by the Inventors Office show the expected result.

The principal point to solve is the gradual transition from normal walking pace to a speed of eight miles an hour, without subjecting the passenger to jolts or the danger of a fall.

To system now under trial partly accomplish this. The first, however, which consists of small fixed rollers turning on themselves, imparts a tickling sensation to the sole of the foot. The second, which is made of strips of leather belting, is free from this defect but the transition from one speed to another is more abrupt. Both systems are provided with moving handrails on either side.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE

Elizabeth City, Nov. 16.—James Dyson, aged 17, giving his home address as Florida, likes Elizabeth City because of his fondness for the city on the Pasquotank, coupled with certain other circumstances, he was held for the Edenton police, if they wanted him and for trial here in the event they didn't. He is charged with the theft of an automobile belonging to O. C. Weyb, of Edenton.

Knoxville, Tenn.—My grandson (picture above) who is now about 8 years old, has always been rather delicate, due to the fact that he has always suffered from constipation and liver trouble, but Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have relieved him of these conditions, and he is no longer a delicate boy, but is filling out and getting stronger day by day. He was always under weight but now comes up to all the requirements at school. I do not think there is any medicine that is so harmless, and yet so beneficial, to give children (and grown-ups as well). The "Pellets" completely regulate the stomach, liver and bowels and keep the system in perfect condition.—Mrs. E. M. Madron of 611 Chamberlain St.
