REITERATES CHARGE OF AVIATORS FLYING IN FLAMING COFFINS

Colonel William Mitchell Resuming Stand Insists There Had Been No Increase in Safety for Flying Man

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Col. William Mitchell reiterated before his court martial today his charge that American aviators were flying in flaming coffins. Resuming the witness stand for the conclusion of his cross examination at the hands of Major Allen Gullion, Assistant Judge Advocate, the air officer insisted there had been no increase in safety for the flying man. Major Gullion developed by questioning that the number of flying hours per fatality for the fiscal year of 1921 was 934 while the fiscal year of 1925 showed the number to be 5,269.

"Doesn't this prove conclusively that safety in flying has increased from 1921 to 1925 about 500 per cent.," Major Gullion asked.

"It is a very misleading statement," Col. Mitchell replied. "There is no increase in safety. There is a decrease in safety. Our personnel in better trained now than in 1921 and flying is much more restricted than then. The machines are still flaming coffins."

In reply to the question as to whether he knew that flying in the United States was twice as safe as in Great Britain and four times as safe as in Italy, Col. Mitchell said he did not know that and that figures can be twisted. Therefore our pilots are the best in the world.

In reply to a question as to what planes he meant when he referred to them as flying coffins he answered the "DH's." "It constitutes criminal negligence to keep using flying ships of that kind."

Urges Increase in Reserve Officers of the Field Artillery

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Renewed complaint over the effect on Army training of the lack of suitable quarters at Army posts is voiced in the annual report of Major Gen. W. J. Snow, Chief of Field Artillery. Speaking of observations made during his inspections of regular field artillery units and despite the "marked advances in efficiency" he noted, Gen. Snow said:

"However, the desired standard of efficiency has not been reached for several reasons, the most outstanding of which are—lack of suitable quarters at many stations, necessitating large fatigue details to maintain them, and the fact that the regular Army is overloaded and overworked in carrying out its part of the national defense plan."

Gen. Snow declared that the "fire hazard has been hanging over the artillery school for years like a sword of Damocles."

The report urged steps to increase the number of reserve officers of the field artillery, only 8,899 being enrolled on June 30, 1925 while 20,000 would be needed in a major emergency.

Asks for Cooperation of Radio Amateurs in North Carolina

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Colonel Jas. M. Little, acting executive of the 161st Infantry, has forwarded radio amateurs in North Carolina a letter, asking their co-operation.

The 161st Infantry brigade and 316th Field Artillery, co-operating with the Signal Corps of the army in a nation-wide scheme for military communication," says the letter, desire the aid of transmitting radio amateurs throughout the state.

Among reasons for the scheme are given the following: to secure additional channels of communication for emergencies; to provide a reservoir of radio operators; and to provide means of establishing contact with amateur radio operators.

FLEMING FAMILY HOLD RE-UNION

Twenty-Two Members of Family of Mr. O. C. Fleming Spend Pleasant Day at Stokes

(By Lucille Fleming). Stokes, Nov. 24.—There was much joy and pleasure reflected Friday, Nov. 20th, 1925, when the family of O. C. Fleming of Stokes, N. C., came together for a reunion.

There was about twenty-two of the family present including all of his children and grand children.

Mr. Fleming is 76 year old and very active for his age. His wife passed away several years ago, leaving to this union six children, four boys and two girls, all of which are living and present on this occasion, except one who died several years ago. The children of Mr. Fleming present were: Miss Mary Fleming of Stokes, Mr. J. S. Fleming of Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fleming of Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fleming of Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rawls, of Robersonville with their families.

The guests began to arrive about twelve o'clock and by twelve-thirty all were there.

After the guests had all arrived they went in the living room where his grand daughters, Lucille and Janie L. Fleming presented him with a large rocking chair as a birthday gift.

About one o'clock a bountiful dinner was served. The old folks then gathered around the house talking of old times, while the children played around the yard. Soon they all departed to their homes after having spent a day that will long be remembered.

BRIAND DECLINES TO FORM CABINET

Paul Doumer Requested to Form Cabinet Following Briand's Refusal; Will Give Answer Within 24 Hours

Paris, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Senator Paul Doumer today accepted in principle President Doumergue's request that he form a cabinet, saying that he would reply definitely within 24 hours.

Senator Doumer was summoned to the palace by the president after Aristide Briand, seven times Premier of France, had today definitely declined to form a cabinet in succession to the fallen Painleve Ministry in which he was Foreign Minister.

M. Briand had been urged to assume the premiership for the eighth time as a patriotic duty in view of France's political and financial troubles but the Socialists refused to cooperate with him.

Paris, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The question mostly absorbing the country this morning is whether Aristide Briand, already seven times Premier of France, will take the helm of the ship of state dropped by Paul Painleve and endeavor to steer the craft safely across the shoals of finance that threaten to wreck it. The impression prevailed among M. Briand's friends that when he made his call today upon President Doumergue it would be to decline to accept the task of forming a new ministry but no effort will be spared to induce him to reconsider his refusal.

After Failing to Rob First National Bank of Cassopolis, Mich., Bandits Leave by Music of Own Revolvers

Cassopolis, Mich., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Armed bandits terrorized Cassopolis for nearly three hours early today, firing at every resident who dared to appear on the streets and finally roared out of town to the staccato accompaniment of their own revolvers after failing to rob the First National Bank.

Their number was variously estimated by excited Cassopolis residents at five to ten. From the confusion of scores of accounts by persons whose temerity led them to see what all the shooting was for and whose better judgment almost as quickly sent them out of sight and gun range, this is what happened:

The bandits entered Cassopolis shortly after two o'clock and bound the night watchman and three other men who were in all night restaurants, cut the telephone and telegraph wires leading out of the city and for two and a half hours owned the town. At 4:45 a. m. after an ineffective attempt to break the vault of the First National Bank the bandits left in automobiles heading toward Niles.

PRELIMINARY STEPS TAKEN TO ORGANIZE D. A. R. CHAP. HERE

Chapter Named Benjamin May-John Moye, to Commemorate Brave Deeds of These Two Prominent Revolutionary Heroes

Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, about fifty ladies met at the home of Mrs. T. E. Hooker on Fifth street, for the purpose of organizing a D. A. R. chapter, with the help and guidance of Mrs. Kate Parks, of Tarboro, State Vice Regent.

The organization was not perfected, but preliminary steps were taken and the naming of the chapter accomplished, this being the Benjamin May-John Moye, to commemorate the brave deeds of these two prominent Revolutionary heroes.

Greenville has long stood in need of a D. A. R. chapter, in order to keep green the memory of her illustrious sons of the past.

Pitt county is rich in history and the Benjamin May-John Moye daughters hope to delve into the past and keep alive its brilliant record of Revolutionary times.

TAX REDUCTION BILL PROVIDES ESTIMATED CUT $335,236,000

Principal Portion Will Be Given Income Tax Payers Whose Burden Will Be Cut By $193,575,000

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The tax reduction bill as completed and unanimously approved by the Ways and Means Committee to go to the House provides for an estimated cut of $335,236,000 annually in the Federal tax burden. The measure he presented to the House on the opening day of Congress December 7, provides relief for every Federal tax payer and through increased personal exemption will relieve more than a million persons from paying any Federal tax.

The principal portion of the reduction will be given the income tax payers whose annual burden will be cut by $193,575,000 beginning with taxes to be paid in the next calendar year. Cuts in the normal and surtax rates account for most of this.

CITY TERRORIZED NEARLY 3 HOURS BY ARMED BANDITS

"HUMAN FLY" WILL SCALE HOTEL BLDG. TOMORROW NIGHT

"Dare Devil" Rowland to Give Thrilling Exhibition High Above City Street; Will Do Chair and Table Balancing Stunts on Edge of Proctor Hotel Roof

"Dare Devil" Rowland, known as the "Human Fly" will scale the Proctor Hotel building in this city tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock and give an exhibition of table and chair balancing on the edge of the roof. The "Human Fly" who hails from Cleveland, Ohio, is appearing in Greenville under the auspices of The Daily Reflector. In appearing here in his death defying stunts, however, Mr. Rowland relieves his sponsors of responsibility case of accident.

Rowland has put on his stunts in cities throughout the country for the past nine years and besides being a climber of note he is quite a comedian and orator. A large majority of his performances have been in the west and middle west, this being his first trip into the South.

Rowland's single mishap since the beginning of his thrilling career occurred in Bloomfield, Iowa, in 1924, when he fell thirty-five feet to the pavement below fracturing his left hip and arm which necessitated his confinement in a hospital for four months. This wizard has to his credit the climbing of the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York, 22 stories, before a crowd of spectators that blocked traffic in the streets below.

Rowland has a wife and child and despite the daring of his death defying feats they always accompany him on his tours and stand breathless with the crowds below to watch "Hubby" and "Daddy" do his "stuff."

MAN DROWNED WHEN TRUCK GOES THROUGH OPEN DRAW BRIDGE

Rudolph Sawyer, Truck Driver, Enroute to Greenville With Tobacco Crashes Through South Creek Bridge Opening; Others Uninjured

Aurora, Nov. 24.—Rudolph Sawyer, engaged as a truck driver, was drowned in South Creek near here Monday morning at 5:40 o'clock, enroute to Greenville with a load of tobacco which was to be sold there Monday.

It is not known exactly how the accident occurred but the draw of the South Creek bridge was being opened for Charles Midyette's freight boat to pass through, when Sawyer came up. It is presumed that his attention was diverted and as a result he went through the open draw to his death. The body was recovered at 9 o'clock, after a thorough search.

Two other persons, a colored man and woman, were also on the death truck, owners of the tobacco that Sawyer was hauling but these were not injured. The colored man saw the open draw in time to leap off the truck before it fell, landing on the bridge safely but the woman, not so alert, crashed through and in a few moments rose to the surface of the water and was pulled out. Sawyer would also have risen but when the corpse was found, a large gash was discovered on his temple, showing that he had been stunned in the fall.

Rudolph Sawyer, who was unmarried, was the son of Mac Sawyer, a farmer of Aurora, and is survived by his mother and father, four brothers and a sister.

TYSON RE-UNION TO BE BIG EVENT

Annual Re-union to Be Held at Old Tyson's Church Near Farmville, Thanksgiving Day

The indications are now that there will be a large crowd at the annual Tyson reunion at old Tyson's Church near Farmville, on Thanksgiving Day. The program given below shows that there will be interest throughout the exercises.

Hon. Andrew Joyner of Raleigh has written that he is coming strong, and that he will present a historical paper that will be of vital interest to the families of Tysons, Mays, Barretts, Hortons, Bynums, Sheppards, Joyner, Moyes and numbers of others. This is expected to be a most interesting paper.

The genealogy committee has been doing a great deal of research work both in this county and Beaufort county, the original home of the Tyson family when they came from Scotland. This report will be among the most interesting things of the reunion. It will be presented in a unique and original way; which will not be divulged until the meeting.

One of the principal speeches of the day will be delivered by Rev. Francis Joyner of Littleton, Rev. Mr. Joyner is an Episcopal rector and a splendid speaker.

The recent Maj. Benjamin May celebration here has caused unusual interest in the Tyson reunion, as the Mays and Tysons are closely connected, Maj. May having married Mary Tyson.

FREE FOR ALL FIGHT FOLLOWS SUCCESS OF FOOT BALL TEAM

Northwestern University Men and Women Rampage Over Evanston Celebrating the Prowess of Team

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Defying police, pistols, tear bombs and streams from fire hose, 200 Northwestern University men and women last night celebrated the prowess of their foot ball team by rampaging over quiet Evanston.

Before the enthusiasm waned early today a vacant fraternity house was in ashes, a policeman had two broken ribs, four students were in jail, scores had black eyes and cracked heads and Mayor Charles E. Bartlett was nursing a bruised head and declaring that Northwestern would never have the new stadium it was planning.

Police and firemen were helpless when the pre-arranged jubilee began about nine o'clock. Officers were stripped of their badges and made victims of their own night sticks; firemen dashing to answer numerous alarms most of which were false, but some because of fires, had their hoses knotted and their equipment dumped and scrambled.

Finally, after reinforcements and riot squads came from Chicago, and forty world war veterans were organized by former service men to aid the police, the students retired to Lake Michigan front where they ended the evening with bon fires, songs and cheers.

President Walter Gill Scott, who had been out of Evanston, returned as the celebration concluded. His only comment was that the burned house was not worth much anyhow and that the University would not interfere in behalf of the students who had violated the city ordinance. "They will have to stand the consequences of the city court," he said.

Sid Morgan Paroled By Governor McLean

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—Governor McLean yesterday paroled Sid Morgan, of Pitt county, and Hubert Summey, Transylvania county, for the remainder of their terms. He declined to parole two prisoners, Joe Davis, Mecklenburg and Tom Latham, of Craven county. The paroles granted and those declined were upon the recommendation of the Pardon Commissioner, H. Hoyle Sink.

Morgan, convicted at the April, 1925 term of Pitt Superior court, for violation of the prohibition laws and sentenced to four months, on the county roads, took an appeal to the Supreme Court. This, however, was later pardoned, and the defendant began the sentence.

The trial judge has advised the Governor that, at the time of the trial, the prisoner was unable to pay a fine, and that, for that reason, it was necessary to give him a road sentence. The judge now recommends clemency, as do a large number of citizens of the prisoner's community, on the grounds of his former reputation and the conditions surrounding his home.

On their recommendation and because the prisoner has only a short time additional to serve, he was paroled by the Governor.

INSCRUTABLE
Public opinion is inscrutable. Its inner workings are unfathomable and its outward manifestations can be neither foretold nor accounted for. It is as changeable as the winds and as inconsistent as a political uplifter.

A golden opportunity to observe all these characteristics of public opinion in action has just been provided the public which both creates and is guided by public opinion.

When Loeb and Leopold were sentenced in Chicago to life imprisonment for the murder of a boy under conditions which clearly proved the murderers to be perverts and mentally deficient, general protest was provoked throughout the nation. It was clear that the majority of the people believed the two youths should have paid for their fiendish crime with their lives, although admitting no normal being would have been capable of their acts.

Some months after the Loeb-Leopold incident a demented youth in New Jersey murdered a taxi driver and a 6-year old girl. He was speedily tried, convicted of first degree murder, and sentenced to die in the electric chair. All three youths are of approximately the same age, all are sons of wealthy parents and their offenses are strangely similar. The only difference between the two cases is that Loeb and Leopold were university students and Harrison Noel, the New Jersey murderer, was a paroled inmate of an insane asylum.

If one of these crimes was the act of a mad man, then both must have been, and yet the public reaction to the Noel case was just the opposite of its reaction from the Loeb-Leopold case. Public opinion is convinced Noel is insane and public opinion is not yet persuaded that society has the right to take the life of mentally irresponsible slayers.

INDUSTRIAL U. S. MOVES

The New England mind is troubled. Within and without the press has sensed something wrong. Industrial leaders are meeting in solemn conclave. Behind it all is the discovery—distressing to New Englanders—that the New England states are no longer supreme industrially; that the South is now leading in the manufacture of cotton goods and New England shoe factories and tanneries are moving westward.

New England's surrender of domination over the nation's industry was inevitable. As the first section to be developed, it had to be the first to exhaust its resources, which is the beginning of the decline.

The geographical condition which favored New England in the days of its colonization and industrial development are rapidly disappearing. Its primeval pines are gone and many miles and high mountains separate it from new timber sources. It has always been far removed from fuel resources. The center of distribution has traveled far west of New England through the more general distribution of the nation's population and the extension of railroads. These conditions combined to make possible the building of cotton mills in the southern cotton fields and shoe factories and tanneries nearer western sources of leather supply.

New England's remaining hope of regaining her lost prestige as a manufacturing center is in her water power. Her rivers, mountains and irregular coast line place her second only to the Far West in harnessed and potential water power. The New Englanders however can no longer be the "only" cock on the roost of American industrialism.

AS TIPS DECLINE AMERICAN TOURISTS LOSE POPULARITY

Genoa, Nov. 23.—Once famous for his tendency to give lavish, excessive gratuities, the American tourist in Europe during the last year or two has fallen so far from grace in the eyes of the horde of European underlings who must live by tips, as to earn a reputation for miserliness.

So confirmed is the new verdict, according to Mario Signorini, of Milan, train conductor, that conductors nowadays convict the American on sight as a "black rascal," which is railway vernacular for "no tip." The tourist remains in the shadow of this dreadful appellation until he proves himself innocent.

But, Signor Signorini hastens to explain, the American is not really a miser. Rather, he becomes one thru a misunderstanding and misrepresentations of tourist agencies in America and England.

"These agencies," declare Signorini "sell tickets to tourists on the assumption that all expenses are included in the purchase price. While they may not say this, they intimate it and the tourists make up their traveling budgets accordingly. Many tourists, especially those of the middle class who now travel in great numbers, work out their economic plan on this assumption. In some cases, they spend as much as they can afford and are not prepared for additional expenses.

"The fact is, of course, that service on European express trains is not included in the price of the ticket. This is clearly established by law and is printed in French on the tickets. Americans, however, cannot or do not read the announcement. In addition our company does not permit us to ask payment. The result is that we get nothing from Americans while we get the normal payments from other travelers."

AMERICAN STUDENTS IN PARIS CALL ON THE PARENTAL POCKBOOK

Paris. Those American students in Paris who confidently told their parents that living here was so reasonable they could surely do two years work in one, already are writing home for increased allowances.

In the famous Latin Quarter, prices of board and lodging have gone up appreciably. Furnished apartments which once cost 500 francs a month now are renting for thrice this sum.

The long colored glass of appetizing mixture that costs the French student one franc and 70 centimes—leaving him the extra 25 of his two francs for a tip—cost the obviously American patron three francs fifty, with the implied obligation of tipping the boy 50 centimes.

D'ANNUNZIO AND DUSE OBITS TO BE WRITTEN BY TRAVERSI

Rome.—Camillo Antona-Traversi, whose dramatic works were well known in Italy a generation ago, is embarking on the task of telling the life story of Gabriele d'Annunzio, as well as writing the biography of Eleonora Duse, the actress. Traversi for 35 years, has been a resident in Paris.

Of the two works, that on d'Annunzio will be the more difficult, Traversi believes. "To write the life of such a great living author is a difficult, audacious and perhaps courageous enterprise," he said. "I do not know a life more varied, more beautiful or more romantic. My work will be in many volumes."

The book on Duse, which Traversi already has begun, will be called "Eleonora Duse, Her Life, Her Glory and Her Martyrdom."

ANDES ARE GEOLOGICALLY WORLD'S INFANT MOUNTAINS

Baltimore.—The Andes are geologically the world's baby mountain range, in the opinion of Joseph T. Singewald, professor of geology at Johns Hopkins University. Returning from an exploration trip along the waters of the upper Amazon river in Peru, Professor Singewald says red beds containing fossils have been located on both the east and west side of the inner range of the Andes, indicating that these mountains are at least 10,000,000 years younger than previously believed. This discovery, with the added fact that fossils also were found at an elevation of 14,000 feet, convinces the professor that the Andes is the youngest large mountain range.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine, and now he says: "Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated, I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated. A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work." NC-151

Backache is a Warning!

Greenville Folks Are Learning How to Heed It

Are you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff? Drag through the day feeling tired, weak and depressed? Then you should help your kidneys. Backache is often the first sign of failing kidneys. Urinary troubles quickly follow. Neglected, there's danger of gravel, dropsy, or fatal Bright's disease. Don't wait for serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Before it is too late. This Greenville resident tells an expert case: J. O. Evans, 200 E. 4th St., says: "My back was giving me a lot of trouble. I had a dull aching in my kidneys and this bothered me. Sometimes in the morning my back was stiff and sore. When I stooped a sharp catch took me but I used Doan's Pills and it wasn't long before my back was well."

EXTENSIVE DEVELOPMENT OF DIRIGIBLE PLANNED AT AKRON

Akron, O. — Akron, the rubber manufacturing capital of the world, has hopes of being the Friedrichshafen of the New World.

The first step toward this realization has been the bringing of 14 high officials of the original Zeppelin works in Germany to the headquarters of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation.

Months of laboring over blue prints and charts have brought forth designs for new development in the realm of lighter-than-air craft. Whenever there is a market for a commercial or military airship, the transplanted Zeppelin works will be ready to build it.

Designs for the GZ-1, the world's largest dirigible, have been completed to carry 100 passengers and to make the trip between New York and London in 48 to 64 hours, depending on whether it is flying eastward with the prevailing winds, or westward against the wind.

Commander Jacob H. Klein, executive officer of the Los Angeles, declared recently on a visit to the scene of the Goodyear-Zeppelin operations that there is room in the navy's hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., for a 6,000,000-cubic-foot ship, alongside the ship he commands which has a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet.

"I believe not only that a ship the size of the GZ-1 would be practical, but that shortly we shall see airships built with a capacity of 10,000,000 cubic feet, which will probably be the maximum capacity for many years to come."

The British government at present is building two ships of 5,000,000 cubic feet capacity each, the Goodyear-Zeppelin officials are informed. These British ships, built for hydrogen, gas of greater lifting power than helium, will compare in performance almost exactly with the GZ-1.

So confident are the officials of the new concern, which is connected with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, that commerce via air is at hand, that they believe once under way their work will develop beyond the proportions of that enjoyed by Friedrichshafen in its hey-day.

Besides designing the GZ-1, the 14 engineers from Friedrichshafen and three or four Americans have been working for several months in planning hangars and operating fields selecting tentative locations for them, designing mooring masts and making a study of operating and climatic conditions in the United States along the lines of various projected routes.

Among the German officials of the Goodyear-Zeppelin company is Captain Ernst A. Lehmann, vice-president and director. Lehmann's most recent achievement of world-wide note was his piloting of the ZR-33, now the Los Angeles, to the United States from Germany in the summer of 1924.

Dr. Karl Arnstein, another vice-president of the corporation, was chief engineer of the German Zeppelin building corporation at Friedrichshafen. He designed the ZR-3 and 100 other airships before and during the period of the World War. Besides Captain Lehmann, two other Zeppelin officials are now directors of the new company. They are Dr. Hugo Eckener and Harry Vissering, of Chicago.

G. M. Stadelman, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and P. W. Litchfield, vice-president and general manager of the same concern, held the same positions in the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation.

RHEIMS ONE CITY WITH HOMES-BEGGING; THE REAL ESTATE SLUMPS

Rheims. — Rheims is among the few cities in France with empty apartments and a slumping industrial real estate market. The return of the population has not kept pace with rebuilding and restoration, as there are only 75,000 inhabitants as compared with 117,000 before the war.

To the world, Rheims generally is associated first with cathedrals, and then Champagne. Before the war, however, it was an important industrial city, where wool weaving, spinning and bleaching employed 10,000 persons, now reduced to about one-third of that number.

Land which at Armistice time sold for 10 to 30 francs the square meter, when it was thought that the city would be itself again in a short time, is now offered at from 5 to 10 francs.

The "League for the Industrial, Commercial and Labor Development of Rheims" has been formed to come to the rescue.

Tells Why He Can Now Eat Hearty

"A letter which I read in the paper about Carter's Little Liver Pills fitted my own case so closely that I could not help trying them and am very happy I did." So writes Mr. Frank J. Trumbull of Jersey City, N. J., whose letter goes on to say: "I had heard about Carter's Little Liver Pills for years but never knew they helped overcome poor appetite and sour stomach until I read about another man in the same plight who took Carter's with good results. I tried them and can honestly say that they freed me of nasty gas on stomach, so that I can now eat without getting bilious, and they improved my appetite fully 100%. You can rest assured that from now on I will boost Carter's Little Liver Pills whenever I can." Recommended and for sale by all drug stores.

That You May Know

Good Housekeeping Institute is interested in your Dry Cleaner also. Read in the November issue of Good Housekeeping, "Can It Be Dry Cleaned?" Below is a quotation from it.

"... A good dry cleaning service means a substantial saving in dollars, in lengthening the life of fabrics. Recent investigations also point to the fact that, when soiled articles are properly cleaned, many bacteria that may be clinging to them are destroyed. Good dry cleaning can therefore rank as an important health service in any community.

"For these reasons the Institute has been making a study of the dry cleaning industry, to find out what can be considered a good dry cleaning plant and what sort of cooperation from patrons such a plant needs. For there are good plants and poor plants, and the latter we all wish to avoid." — Good House Keeping Magazine.
