FLORIDA SWEEP BY ONE OF THE WORST STORMS IN HISTORY

Bunkhouse Collapses Killing Three Negroes and Injuring Six; Winds Reach Velocity of 48 Miles an Hour

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Florida Peninsula for the past twelve hours has been swept by high chilling winds which at times has assumed hurricane proportions, and by a rain which at various points has set new precipitation records. Heavy property damage has been wrought by the winds on the east coast of the state south of Jacksonville and on the west coast south of Tampa. A fifty mile an hour wind drove over Jacksonville early today. Inland Florida, while experiencing heavy wind, has not been badly affected, advices here say. Three negroes were killed and eighteen injured when a house on the Davis Island development at Tampa collapsed during the storm and approximately $1,000,000 damage was caused at that point, according to police record. The storm swept the entire west coast and all public utilities were reported down in Tampa and all points south of this city were without telegraphic facilities. At Pablo Beach, near Jacksonville, the tide is reported to have swept a dancing pavilion from its foundation. Both the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico have been whipped into a turmoil by the high winds and there has been much damage along the coast, according to reports received here. The center of the storm is over the middle Florida Atlantic Coast Line, the local weather bureau reports, and is moving north eastward.

Tampa, Florida, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Three unidentified negroes were killed, another is dying, and five are in a local hospital as a result of a bunkhouse on Davis Island here collapsing at midnight last night. The high winds, which are sweeping this section, reached their highest velocity of 48 miles an hour at 1:15 a. m. today, according to the weather bureau station here. The wind was decreasing in velocity, and the barometer rising. The center of the storm, the weather bureau reported, is South East of this city. Trees, shrubbery, electric lights, and telephone wires were down in the residential section, while down town signs, smoke-stacks, and wooden awnings were sent to the streets which assumed hurricane proportions. The utility companies have issued warnings that the streets are not safe, due to the falling of power lines. The railroads are without wires, officials reported, and trains to this city are badly delayed. Two negro homes were blown down. The West Coast Fertilizer plant was destroyed by fire at a damage of $200,000. There were several other fires.

Funeral Services Conducted Sunday Mr. T. F. Proctor

Mr. T. F. Proctor, of Grimesland, died Saturday at 12:45 o'clock in the Rocky Mount hospital. Funeral services were conducted from his late home on Sunday afternoon with interment following in the Washington cemetery. Mr. Proctor, age 49 years, was held in high esteem by a host of friends. In early manhood he was married to Miss Mattie Buck, of this county, who with seven children survive. He will be greatly missed not only by his family but by people throughout his community.

Tobacco Market Averaged $27.16 Yesterday's Sales

According to official figures given by Secretary K. W. Cobb, the Greenville Tobacco Market, on yesterday sold 304,470 pounds for $82,684.54, averaging $27.16. The average was lower than before Thanksgiving, but this was due to the fact that a great quantity of scrap tobacco was on the floor. From now on the farmers will be selling scrap, which will of course not average as high as the good tobacco. There were one half million pounds on the floors today.

SCOUT FINANCE CAMPAIGN WILL BE STAGED TOMORROW

Sixty Men and Women to Canvass the Entire City in Interest of Boy Scouts; $3,000 is Quota for This District

At 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon will be the "Zero Hour" of the Scout finance campaign, J. B. Kittrell, local finance chairman, announced today. At that time a team of sixty men and women representing the Kiwanis, Rotary and Women's Clubs will meet at the City Hall for final instructions and assignment of territory. It is the plan of the committee to canvass the entire city by 4 p. m. and they hope that by that time Greenville will have gone "Over the Top" in pledging their quota of $3,000 for Scouting in this district. The soliciting teams will be, Women's Club: Mesdames R. F. Burnette, P. T. Anthony, J. M. Edwards, G. B. W. Hadley, J. B. James, J. B. Kittrell, H. L. Rivers, Van Staton, S. B. Underwood, C. S. B. James and D. J. Whichard, Jr.

LOCARNO TREATY COLLATERAL PACTS SIGNED TODAY

Germans Sign Gladly; Ceremony Notable for Extreme Simplicity; Pacts Guarantee Peace

London, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Germany and her principal antagonists in the World War today signed the Locarno Treaty and collateral pacts guaranteeing peace in Europe and the submission to arbitration of any disputes that may arise between them regarding their frontiers. The contrast between the signing of this momentous pact and the peace treaty of Versailles six years ago, was marked in two respects. Today there was none of the magnificence and glamour surrounding the Versailles signing. The ceremony, which lasted only an hour, was notable for its extreme simplicity, and this time the Germans came of their own free will. They signed with smiling faces in striking contrast to that other occasion when the delegates of the Reichstag appended their signatures under compulsion with white faces registering a mixture of fear and anger. Today's ceremony was carried out in a spirit of optimism, which was hailed as auguring well for a era of peace throughout Europe.

AS SPAGHETTI PRICES SOAR ITAL'S PATRIOTISM IS TESTED Rome—Wounds of war scarcely could be more painful than wounds of peace which are coming to Italians in the form of restricted rations of spaghetti, macaroni and ravioli, those pillars of the Cis-Alpine cuisine. With Italy making an effort to rid itself of the need of wheat importations by the erection of tariff walls, the domestic supply as yet is insufficient. As a result, prices of spaghetti and other food pastes have soared to such prohibitive heights that vast numbers of people are forced to reduce their rations.

WILBUR DECLINES APPOINTMENT ON CALIFORNIA BENCH

Feels That His Duty Lies in Washington and Will Not Resign His Post in Cabinet

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur in declining appointment as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of California, appears to have put a final quietus on persistent rumors that the intended soon to resign from his post in the cabinet. A feeling that his duty lay in Washington was given by the Naval Secretary as the reason why he could not accept the offer of Governor Richardson of the place on the California bench, which he resigned when President Coolidge appointed him to succeed Edwin Denby in the cabinet. Criticism leveled at Secretary Wilbur recently in connection with the Shenandoah and other naval mishaps have caused rumors that he soon would resign and President Coolidge last week took cognizance of these by making it known that no such change in the cabinet was contemplated. The Secretary also has consistently denied them and his refusal of the California Chief Justice offered him yesterday given an air of finality to the denial.

MITCHELL'S COUNSEL FAILS IN AN EFFORT TO UNSEAT GRAVES

Court Martial Over Rules the Charges That Graves Had Interfered With Cross Examination of Witnesses

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Counsel for Colonel William Mitchell failed today in a spectacular attempt to unseat another member of the Mitchell Court Martial—Major General William S. Graves. After a consultation in secret the court over-ruled defense charges that General Graves had interfered with the cross examination of prosecution witness and had displayed bias. The decision followed another fiery altercation in open court arising from a comment made in undertone by General Graves regarding the methods of the defense Attorney Representative Reid, of Illinois, in his questioning of witnesses.

Carter Will Not Accede to Request of Gov. Ferguson

Fortworth, Texas, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Amos G. Carter, chairman of the Board of Directors of Texas Tech College, whose resignation was requested Monday by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, will not accede to her request, he announced in a formal letter to her and a statement to the public issued here today. The letter and statement denied all the charges made by the Governor and declared that it is the effort on the part of the Fergusons to divert attention from the Highway disclosures.

Duke University to Play Columbia Uni. In Football in '26

Durham, Dec. 1.—(AP)—For the first time in a number of years, Duke University will play Columbia University in football in 1926, next year's official schedule, just announced here, shows. Duke's official 1926 football schedule follows: September 25—Guilford at Durham. October 2—Richmond University at Richmond. October 16—Carolina at Chapel Hill. October 23—Columbia at New York. October 30—Wake Forest at Durham. November 11—N. C. State at Raleigh. November 25—Davidson at Durham.

TAX COLLECTIONS LAST MONTH SHOW GREAT DECREASE

State Tax Collections Last Month Totaled $549,034.13 As Compared With $1,047,421.77 in October

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Tax collections in this state last month showed a let down from the total of more than a billion in October. State tax collections last month totaled $549,034.13 as compared with $1,047,421.77 in October. November of this year however shows a gain over the same month in 1924 when the total collection were $391,114.63. The decreased total is reflected in every form of tax collected by the greatest drop in the franchise collections. These taxes are payable in October and November and the major part was paid during the former months. The figures given out today by Commissioner Doughton do not include taxes on gasoline and other taxes collected by the automobile license bureau. During the first five months of the fiscal year 1924-25 the total collections were $1,694,495.23. For the first five months of the present fiscal year the total collected was $3,347,696.44.

Pinchot's Plan for Ending Anthracite Strike Has Failed

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Governor Pinchot's plan for ending the anthracite suspension has failed, the mine owners having rejected it and hope of an early peace today appeared slight. A letter from the operators sent to the Governor late yesterday apparently left miners and operators as far from an agreement as when their wage negotiations were broken off at Atlantic City on August 4. Whether Governor Pinchot would make further efforts to bring the two sides together could not be learned.

SAYS MA FERGUSON DECLARES BETTER HAS NOT ANNOUNCED LEGISLATURE PLANS SCHOOL SYSTEM IS NEEDED IN COUNTY

While James Ferguson Says His Wife Has Made No Formal Announcement Saturday Announces His Plans for Special Session

Austin, Texas, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has made no formal announcement on the matter of calling a special session of the Texas Legislature as demanded by a number of the members of the Lower House, her husband, James Edward Ferguson, said today. It was reported yesterday that she had made an informal statement to a representative of the Baltimore Sun that she would not call a session. "Now get this straight," Ferguson said, "Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has not made any formal statement as to whether or not she would call a special session." When asked if the Governor had been correctly quoted yesterday by the Baltimore Sun, Representative Ferguson replied, "I'll let you newspaper men argue that out for yourselves." Almost fifty members of the House have served notice on the Governor that a special session would be called by the speaker unless she issued the call by December 16. The demand for the session grows out of alleged irregularities in the Highway Commission which has resulted in the resignation of two highway commissioners and a $600,000 judgment against the American Road Company which held large highway contracts. In the meantime threats to call a special session of the Texas Legislature to investigate Governor Ferguson's administration have turned to action. Lee Satterwhite, speaker of the House, and leader in the forces demanding the session, announced last night at Amarillo that he will call the Lower House to assemble January 4. The call will be made public December 20. If the call is issued by the speaker, under the law the session would be allowed to consider only impeachment proceedings. Mr. Satterwhite's action followed a statement of Governor Ferguson given in an interview with a newspaper correspondent that she would not call the demand session. "I am not going to throw myself to the wolves who want to gather here and tare me apart," she is quoted as saying by the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun. "Let them assemble if they want to. Let them start something. I'll still be here when they finish."

EDWARD THOMAS QUALIFIES AS CITY'S FIRST LIFE SCOUT

Edward Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas, of Eighth St., qualified as Greenville's first Life Scout at a Court of Honor held at the Rotary Building last night. To earn the Life rank a Scout must have attained first class rank and have earned Merit Badges in First Aid, Physical Development or Athletics, Personal Health, Public Health, Life Saving, procuring five optional subjects. Life Scout Thomas has made a fine record in Scouting and promises to be the first Greenville boy to reach Eagle rank which is the highest honor a Scout can attain. He is a sophomore in Greenville High School and a Daily Reflector carrier. Tenderfoot Scouts Shofick Hatem, Geo. Coppedge and Max Munford were promoted to second class and the following Merit Badges awarded as follows: Joe Dixon, Jr., Life Saving, Personal Health and Swimming; Zack Van Dyke, Pathfinding; Hoover Taft, Public Health, Swimming, Life Saving, Firemanship, First Aid to Animals and Poultry Keeping; Edward Thomas, Athletics, First Aid and Life Saving; Murry House, First Aid to Animals, Swimming, Public Health, Life Saving, Personal Health and Firemanship. Scouts House and Taft were awarded Star Scout rank. To attain this rank must be first class and have earned five Merit Badges. Members of the Court of Honor present were W. H. Rogers acting chairman, D. M. Clark, J. H. Blount, Dr. C. L. Outland, Jas. A. Keech and J. H. Wilcox.

Big Time Night At The Pythian Lodge Thursday, Dec. 5th

The Pythian Social evening in place of the regular lodge meeting last month was a great success. Everybody seemed to have a free and easy time because there was no formality, everyone being allowed to choose entertainment for themselves, cards, pocket billiards, pool, music and dancing were the means of entertainment, and refreshments, and smokes were provided in plentiful quantities. On next Thursday evening, December 5th, another Social will be had at the K. of P. Club and Lodge rooms, and every Pythian in Greenville, whether he is a regular attendant of the Lodge meetings or not, is not only invited but expected to come and bring his lady friend, sweetheart or wife and join in the fun. These Social events of the Pythian Lodge are to be held regularly on the last weekly meeting night of each month, but Thanksgiving Day interfered with arrangements for November Social and the date was moved one week later, so that everybody can come.

W. C. McCormick Appointed Assistant State Forester

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Appointment of W. C. McCormick, assistant supervisor of Cache National Forest, Logan, Utah, as assistant state forester in this state has been announced by J. S. Holmes, state forester, of the Department of Conservation and Development. The position to which Mr. McCormick has been appointed has been vacant since September 1, when Harry Lee Baker resigned. The position is a highly important one, and the department has experienced difficulty in securing a competent man to fill the place, said Mr. Holmes. Mr. McCormick, who comes to this state highly recommended by the United States Forest Service, Mr. Holmes said, has been with that service for the past 10 years. He has had much practical experience in the prevention and control of forest fires in several of the western states. Mr. McCormick is a native of Oklahoma, in which state he was educated. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick will leave Utah about December 15, and drive through the country by automobile.

TWO FORMS OF DEATH PUNISHMENT IN KENTUCKY

Frankfort.—Kentucky is unique in having two forms of death punishment, hanging and electrocution. Hanging is for crimes against women; electrocution for murder. The 190 legislature passed the hanging law. A Lexington hanging recently was the first one under the act which brought back the discarded gallows, which Clerk Goodman of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, said has deterred unlawful commissions pronouncedly.

SCOUTING AS A CRIME PREVENTATIVE

"As the twig is bent the tree's inclined." From this statement is deduced a fundamental truth, "Crooked trees and crooked men were not given the right start in life." Boy Scout training gives a boy the "rightest" kind of start he could possibly get. Crime can be held in check and utterly defeated only through the right education of youth. It must be attacked at its source.

"A Scout is Trustworthy." Statistics bear out the fact that this Scout law is lived up to. In a series of honesty tests applied to school children, a group of Boy Scouts who had been organized in a troop two years had the highest score, 82.3 per cent. With 17.7 per cent of being 100 per cent trustworthy and honest!

Some crooks are educated, but few educated men are crooks. Boy Scouts composed over 40 per cent of the fourteen boys out of each 1,000 who continue their education through college. We have developed the fact that Scouting stimulates ambition in boys.

One of the chief scout executives has said, "None of the problems facing America today are beyond solving if we will but treat them in a fundamental way—not by passing laws or enlarging our police forces, our reformatories and jails. The solution, in my opinion lies in the development of physical fitness, mental alertness and, above all, in a development in our boys and girls of character—moral straightness."

Mr. K. T. Futrell, County Welfare Officer, says:

"I have never had a single case of a Boy Scout coming before me for supervision. My experience in that regard I have found to have been the experience of every Welfare Officer with whom I have discussed the matter."

In further testimony to scouting, Mr. Futrell says:

"The boy of today is the material of which future citizenship is being made and the greatest question before the American people of today is the citizenship of tomorrow. The highest practical result of fully developed intelligence, either in the individual or the community, is the prevention of waste and there is no each member is required to degenerate waste than the waste of human material."

"All recognize the fact that the most difficult problem of the which modern civilization confronts is the growth of crime. To be successfully met, it must be met at the beginning. The plan, inaugurated by the boy is the beginning."

"The small amount saved by a so-called policy of let-it-ride alone draws a heavy rate of interest and society in the end must pay the account, or for providing a definite sum principal and interest. "It is far cheaper and infinitely more effective to prevent the moral delinquency of youth than to attempt to restore manhood in later years or to repair the ravages of fully developed and indolence and crime."

"In my experience of many years as Probation Officer, among the hundreds of cases of child delinquency brought before me, I have never had a single case of a Boy Scout before the juvenile court."

"The Boy Scout movement is one of the greatest agencies in America for the creation of a moral citizenship for the future and for the prevention of crime, youthful delinquency and the waste of human material in general."

"It should be liberally supported by every good citizen."

A committee on tomorrow will solicit funds to carry on this great work in this community for another year and every citizen should bear in mind that money so spent is an investment in the future.

MAILING EARLIER

The "Mail Early" urging promulgated last year by the postoffice department met with a gratifying response. Though reasonable success was attained, the goal is set still higher for this year. "Mail Early" might be this year's slogan. The purpose is to relieve postal employees of the overwhelming last-minute rush of former years by distributing the handling of parcels over a longer period, entirely eliminating a peak of the load from Christmas itself. The "zero hour" has been advanced, it is announced. Rural carriers will make no deliveries on Christmas and city carriers will stop work at midnight December 24. It is recommended that Christmas parcels be mailed between December 10 and December 20. It is urged also that Christmas cards be mailed early, lest they be not delivered until after the event.

The matter of delayed shopping and delayed mailing is mainly a habit. Some folks are constitutionally slow. To be beforehand in any action is the exception rather than the rule. While it may be practically impossible to induce some to act early, if those who are amenable to suggestion do, the end is gained by having at least a part of the business out of the way before the procrastinating ones come along. Thus the congestion which might otherwise result is in some measure avoided. It would be easier to shop early and mail early than to delay until the crowds are greater, but habit causes some of us to put off a task as long as possible. It is the correction of a bad habit which the postoffice department is seeking.

TEACHING THRIFT

Many Greenville residents will have impressed upon them the value of consistent saving. The banks of this city are now mailing out the grist of annual Christmas savings club checks to subscribers of those clubs and the total distribution will amount to a considerable sum. Under the rules of the savings clubs conducted by the banks, no each member is required to designate a definite amount each week, and the checks now being received cannot but serve as an impressive evidence of the value in saving a small sum.

The Christmas savings club plan, inaugurated by the banks of the nation but a few years ago, has been accepted by a host of people as the means of interest and society in the or a permanent bank account and must pay the account, or for providing a definite sum of money for their annual Christmas buying. In either instance the clubs are demonstrating annually to thousands of people what can be accomplished through thrift, in either a small way or a big way. The average club member is having it proven to himself that if it is possible to accumulate even a small sum through meagre weekly saving, it is possible to accumulate an impressive sum by the practice of thrift and adherence to a definite plan for saving.

Farmers Using Better Business Methods In Marketing Products

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Farmers generally over the United States are using better business methods in handling and marketing their products, the bureau of agricultural economics has pointed out to the United States Secretary of Agriculture, says a Department of Agriculture bulletin received here today.

"This is shown," says the report, "in the manner in which farmers have rebuilt their business from the depressions of five years ago. It is shown also by the steadily increasing call for information on standardization and inspection of farm products, farm management, credit facilities, and both domestic and foreign market news."

The bureau is organized to obtain by research and investigation, the Department bulletin points out, facts on practically all phases of the economics of agriculture, from problems in farm management to the final distribution of agricultural products to the consumer. It is essentially a service bureau to give farmers the best available information on these subjects.

Federal standards are now in use for 32 leading fruits and vegetables, eight grains, 7 varieties of hay, cotton, wool, tobacco, butter and eggs, and for a number of classes of livestock and dressed meats. The American cotton standard is now used throughout the world, it is pointed out, and the bureau is endeavoring to effect similar uniform standards for wool.

Market news reports on shipments, supplies, and prices of farm products in the leading market centers are used by farmers everywhere, a nation-wide service on collecting and disseminating this news by telegraph and radio having been organized. The bureau operates the largest government leased wire circuit in the world in connection with this service, says the bulletin.

Facts provided farmers on the outlook for specific farm crops, it is considered by the bureau, have done much to enable the farmers to plan their operations. The pig surveys by the bureau have been used widely in an effort to reduce the ups and downs of the hog industry.

"Special effort is made in the marketing work of the bureau to determine the kinds, quality, and quantity of products which are and which should be offered for sale," says the bureau's report. "In the process of distribution, questions of standardization, packing, assembling, transporting, warehousing, financing, and finally of retailing all call for special studies and services."

"Without broad information in regard to general economic conditions, the farmer is not able to meet the changing conditions in domestic and world markets. Hence, the need of closely co-ordinating the facts of national and world production, movements, and prices for the purpose of providing a basis upon which farmers may plan their program of work."

So Was Mr. Little, Who Tells His Experience

Are you tired all the time; worn-out night and day? Does your back ache as if it would break? Do you suffer dizziness, headaches, rheumatism, twinges, or distressing urinary disorders? You have good cause then, to be alarmed about your kidneys. Do as many of your townfolk recommend. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. This Greenville case is convincing: J. W. Little, grain buyer, 1315 Dickerson Ave., says: "My kidneys became disordered from constant riding and weren't acting as they should. The sensations were scummy and highly colored. I had a feeling of listlessness and became tired more easily than usual. I lost no time getting Doan's Pills at the Warren Drug Co., and one box put me in good condition."

PACIFIC MAIL BOATS CLOSE HISTORIC 77-YEAR CAREER

San Francisco. — On a dull November day 77 years ago, a great side-wheel steamer, her decks teeming with hungry, jinkempt, but riotously joyous gold seekers, many of them bagged from tropical fever, came through the Golden Gate and anchored in the stream, the first steam vessel to enter this roadstead.

On a sparkling fall day in 1925, trim freight craft, loaded to the gunwales with a rich cargo, was warped into a lowering dock on the San Francisco waterfront and spun down the house flag from her main truck for the last time.

These two events marked the beginning and the end of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, oldest steam water carrier on the continent with the exception of the Cunard, and once credited with being the greatest of the world's ocean transportation companies.

From the time that the California paddled into the harbor until the trim Solana tied up and handed over her papers to her new owners, the history of this company was spiced with romance and shadowed deep by tragedy.

The California did not see New York on October 5, 1848 with a happy company bound for New Granada, far to the south where the Americas joined and for the Oregon wilderness. While she was on the way, word came to her that gold had been discovered in California. The news brought on a sort of treasure madness to the ship's company. She moved swiftly down the Spanish Main under throbbing boilers until she came to the Isthmus of Panama. There the treasure seekers left her in one eager lurch.

Their hope was to get to Panama and catch a boat there which would get them to the new Golconda before the California arrived. They drifted up the Chagres River in canoes poled along lazily by the coppery natives who would stop for rest at every shady place. The choked the boulder-lined trails that had been blazed out three centuries before by the Spanish conquerors bringing back the treasures of the Incas and the Aztecs. They fell and died of fever and exhaustion when the trails gave way to tangled jungle growth. A few pitiful hordes reached Panama at last—to find no ship there.

Many dropped from the dread Chagres fever while they waited. Other hundreds joined them from other ships. The California came in sight at last.

But 400 could get aboard and they packed in 'tween decks, sweating, swearing, but feverish with hope. The others were left behind to await their craft or to die.

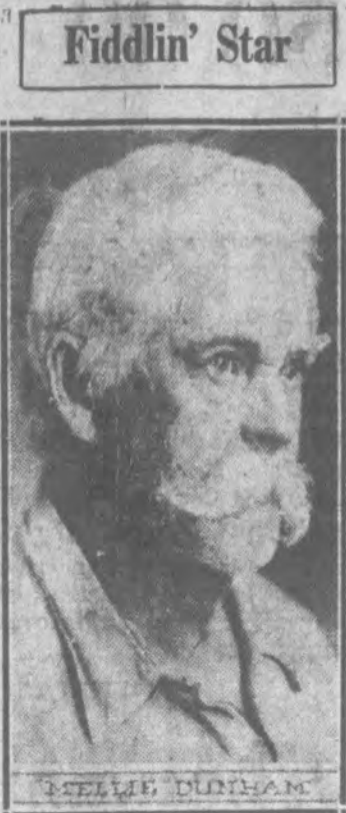

A few weeks later, the California her galley bare, her coal gone, but her devil-may-care company sustained by their great excitement, paddled into the harbor of San Francisco.

Captain John Marshall, the skipper who curiously enough bore the name of the discoverer of gold, led one party into the hills and was lost to history. Another who fairly leaped over the California's side was William Van Voorhes, who later became Secretary of State of the United States.

The California waited and waited in the harbor, but her gold mad crew never returned. Some historians say that the crew of the second ship of the line, the Oregon, was put in chains after her arrival in San Francisco, so that it could not yield to the siren call from the "diggins."

The history of American finance would not be complete without frequent references to the Pacific Mail. Established in 1847 in New York by William H. Aspinwall and associates on a capitalization of $400,000 and with a mail subsidy of $199,000 annually from the government, it had reached the towering capitalization of $2,000,000 by 1850.

The line was formed to institute a monthly mail service to the new territory opened up by the treaty of peace between Mexico and the United States of April 13, 1848, and vast unexplored Oregon lands made available by the Anglo-American treaty of the same period. The Western terminus was to be on Puget Sound, but the gold rush blocked that plan and the ships tied up at the rainbow's end in California.

In the late '50s, Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt offered some lively competition with his steamer line from Nicaragua up the west coast, but trade agreement soon dulled the edge of this opposition. In 1865, the company by a master stroke broke the English and French monopoly of eastern Asiatic trade by starting a line between San Francisco and Hongkong by way of the Hawaiian Islands and Japan, and won an annual mail subsidy of $500,000. By 1867, the company had a fleet of 25 big steamers on the waters of two oceans and the commercial mastery of one of those oceans, the Pacific.

The company survived some 14 stunning disasters to its vessels, the loss of the steamer Central America off the coast of Florida in 1857.

The Central American buckled up in a storm, with the loss of 419 of her 582 passengers and crew. Captain Herndon, famed Amazon explorer who was master, went down with his ship. In the same year the steamer Columbia was lost in the China Sea.

The company's ships also made vivid history of another sort. The Mongolia, big passenger liner, was credited with being the first American vessel to sink a German submarine in the World War, this event hapening, however, after she had passed out of the company's hands.

In 1910, the company, hit hard by the wage and other provisions of the Seaman's Act, sold its big trans-Pacific trade supremacy for a quarter of a century, and substituted three smaller boats.

Later, the company acquired five boats of the President type under charter from the government. The sale of these boats to the Dollar Steamship Company a few months ago marked the beginning of the end of the historic old carrier. The route between the Pacific and the Atlantic by way of the Panama Canal was maintained for a time, but was finally disposed of, and the company was left with but one steamer, the Solana.

Just a few days ago the house flag of the Solana came down and the history of the famous American steamship company was at an end.

"CHARLESTON" GETS COLD
SHOULDER FROM ROMANS

Rome—Rome has turned a cold shoulder to the "Charleston." Jazz dancing to the tune of wailing saxophones and crashing trappings of Americanized bands long has been in vogue here. Even "blues" numbers have had their devotees. But the hipswaying gyrations of the latest American dance are considered just a bit too much. The "Charleston," therefore, is almost unknown in Rome's three cabarets, although it is occasionally seen on the dance floors of large hotels patronized by Americans.

TWO HOUSES AND STORE DESTROYED BY FIRE HERE EARLY TODAY

A house and store belonging to Washington Edwards, colored, and a house belonging to Bettie King, colored, located south of the Norfolk Southern Railroad were destroyed by fire of an unknown origin early this morning.
According to information the fire had its origin in the home of Edwards and quickly spread. The fire department responded and their heroic work soon had the fire under control.

John H. Wilcox, is the Scout Executive of the Pamlico Council Boy Scouts of America which gives leadership to Scouting activities in Pitt, Martin and Beaufort counties.

Mr. Wilcox came to Greenville when the Pamlico Council was organized last January from Louisville, Ky, where he was assistant executive of the Louisville Scout Council. He is an Eagle-Veteran Scout having joined a troop soon after Scouting was introduced in America in 1910 and has grown up with the movement.

In an interview this morning Mr. Wilcox stated that while the splendid increase in the number of troops and scouts registered in the council territory is most gratifying that the foundation has just been laid and the council plans to have 700 Scouts enrolled during 1926 and to have at least 175 of these to be of First Class and Merit Badge rank.

A full program of activities for 1926 has been planned which will give Greenville a higher standard of Scouting than we have ever had.

AT WHITE'S THEATRE.

Local theatregoers will have an opportunity at White's Theatre Friday night, December 4th of seeing "The Gorilla," in which metropolitan newspaper reviewers say there is more mystery than in a combination of all other mystery plays produced within the past ten years. The play has been thrilling and delighting audiences in New York, Boston, Chicago and London; for months and it comes here heralded as an unusually attractive entertainment.

The arch criminal is a master mind in crime; who gives himself the nickname of "The Gorilla." He gives his victims advance notice that they have been selected as his prey and he leaves the imprint of a Gorilla's paw wherever he has been, thus keeping everybody in a ferment of excitement. At times the scenes are in-

REALISM INVADES RANKS OF FRISCO CHINATOWN THEATRES

San Francisco. — Realism has invaded San Francisco's Chinatown theaters.

In a stage play called "The Golden Butterfly," a motion picture showing a river was introduced as part of the scenery. The actors stood back of the screen, appearing to be on the banks of the stream as they spoke their lines in Cantonese.

The hero, hard pressed by his enemies, feigns to have been killed, but when they approach his body, he suddenly hurls them into the river. The new version was so skillfully handled that the villains appeared to have disappeared under the swirling waters of the screen.

SKILLED TRADES ADVANCED TO INSURE HOME HAPPINESS

Kansas City.—Working on the theory that when a discouraged man returns home after a day's employment for which he is not fitted his depression engulfs the household, Kansas City schools are popularizing the skilled trades.

"We are instilling in the minds of the children a proper appreciation and emulation of skilled workmanship," said Superintendent L. L. Cammack. "We are showing the pupils the desirability of engaging in the trades and, at the same time, giving them an opportunity in vocational classes to discover the trades for which they are best equipped."

FRENCH HUMOR STILL HOLDS THE SWAY IN PARIS LATIN QUARTER

Paris.—Stars may come and go and obscurity in so far as tourists are concerned may continue, but the gay Latin Quarter cabarets remain the same as of old.

All the glitter and splendor of the Folies Bergere and other great music halls, which are filled with Americans anxious to see Paris at its full height of naughtiness, are missing in the Latin Quarter shows.

But what they lack in the way of slightly clad dancers, the cabarets make up in the suggestiveness of lines in many of the songs and monologues. The humor, however, is lost on listeners without a thorough knowledge of French, and it is for this reason that tourists seldom find their way here.

Resembling somewhat the Flying Bat, in Moscow, which produced Balieff and the Chauve Souris, later famous in New York and London, the Latin Quarter cabarets exhibit many pictures of former artists that have graduated to the great theaters.

The really famous stars in these cabarets, however, have a large following and do not care to give up careers which have much to their liking to try new audiences.

Many of the droll entertainers are bringing to the grandchildren of their first admirers.

CRITICS UNANIMOUSLY APPLAUD "THE GORILLA"

"The Gorilla" has this special and remarkable character: if you aren't thrilled to the marrow of your head, you are amused to the center of your brain.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

"The Gorilla" played by a hand picked cast is decidedly a real entertainment, what time it is not causing one to rock almost from one's seat with laughter. It thrills and chills, and mystifies.—Norfolk-Virginian Pilot.

"The Gorilla" so-called mystery comedy is sheer travesty, but the most thorough-going entertainment we have seen at the Atlanta Theatre in many, many seasons.—Atlanta-Georgian, Nov. 19th.

Movies Fluctuate Like Figures on the Stock Market

New York.—Feeling the pinch of industrial disputes and the seasons' vagaries of the weather, the number of motion picture theatres in the United States fluctuates much as do the figures on the stock market.

The show houses of the industry have been counted, however, and the motion picture producers and distributors at America placed the November total at 29,415. At the same time figures were released showing that upwards of twenty million people visit these theatres daily.

The tabulation of movie houses was first attempted and exceeds by nearly four thousand the estimates that various agencies have made. A significant fact noted in the count was the increase in the number of small houses.

A guide book will be prepared from the data, making available to the patron an index of the picture theatres of the country.

The situation in the anthracite region adversely affected the movie business, as disclosed in a decrease in numbers. A cross the country to Montana, however, the activity about the Anaconda mine operations brought the number to a new high figure. Approach of winter weather caused the closing of a large number of coast and resort amusement houses, although in other sections it became the season for reopening.

Pastings of daylight time and the end of long summer evenings, inducements for the air-dome and open air theatre, were additional factors. The distributors have concluded after a consideration of all seasonal features in the business that there is a balance in movie exhibitions and patronage.

Taking the seating capacity of the theatres as a basis and figuring conservatively on a filled house twice daily, the report of attendance was compiled principally from a report made by H. M. Richey, general manager of the Michigan Motion Picture Theatre Owners Association.

A tendency toward the building of large theatres in the cities was noted, presumably to increase seating capacity and thereby lower admission prices. In towns, however, theatres are being erected on a smaller scale. Architectural and utility beauty was shown in the building plans of all modern theatres.

Suit Reveals the Alleged Love Affair King Frederick

Berlin.—A hundred and sixty year-old legal battle, revealing an alleged clandestine love affair of King Frederick the Great and involving an estate valued at $37,500,000, is approaching final decision in Germany's highest courts.

The claimant is Arno von Fredersdorff, while the defendants are descendants of a historical character, Marie Elizabeth Daum, beautiful daughter of a Potsdam merchant, who lived in the eighteenth century.

For many years, the Fredersdorff family lost suit after suit for the estate, but several years ago a document claimed to be a confession of Mile. Daum in which she reveals that she came into possession of the property through intrigue, murder and falsification, was found. Then Fredersdorff won a series of victories in the lower courts and the defendants appealed.

Fredersdorff claims the fortune dates back to his great uncle, Michael Gabriel von Fredersdorff, secret chamberlain of Frederick the Great. Many favors and much property were heaped upon the chamberlain by the king.

Mile. Daum, with two children, moved into the palace, where she was known as Mrs. Fredersdorff, widow of the subject of much attention by the king, the Fredersdorff petition alleged. The real Mrs. Fredersdorff, it is contended, died under mysterious circumstances in 1757. The chamberlain died a year later.

The alleged confession reveals that Mile. Daum met Frederick while he was crown prince and when the latter became king and heaped favors upon his chamberlain, she became jealous. As a result the document continues, she poisoned both the Fredersdorffs and altered the chamberlain's will so as to win his property and filed a fake marriage certificate showing she was the chamberlain's first wife, whom he had not legally divorced before marrying a second time.

HORNBY SETS NEW BATTING MARK FIVE YEAR AVERAGE

New York.—Rogers Hornsby, hard hitting manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has removed any doubt of his place among the greatest batsmen of modern times.

When "Rajah" led the National League for the sixth straight time his season he also compiled the astonishing five-year batting average of .402, a mark which eclipses by two points the best five straight years Ty Cobb ever had. Cobb amassed an average of .400 in his best stretch of batting, 1909 to 1913, inclusive.

Hornsby's marks for the 1925 season, his first as manager, were follows:
Batted over 400 for the third time, equalling all records in the history of the game.
Led both major leagues in batting.

Six Year Old Egg Clear.
Bellingham, Wash.—An egg, buried three and a half feet under the ground for six years, has been uncovered here and declared to be "as clear as if it had been in the ground only six days" by H. G. Smith, manager of the Washington Co-operative Egg and Poultry Association's station.

No one, however, volunteered to eat it.

MINIATURE CITY BUILT BY BUSINESS MAN AS DIVERSION

Denver, Colo.—A Denver man's diversion from the cares of his business has resulted in one of the major attractions along the city's mountain park drives.

From a modest beginning has grown Turner's "Tiny Town," a miniature village in Turkey Creek canyon, 30 miles from here. The "town" covers several acres, has electric light ed streets, a real railway system, a small steamship that plys on a miniature lake as well as smelters and mines on the hilly slopes and outlying ranches, dairy barns, silos and farmhouses.

The spire of the "cathedral" is on the level with the head of a six-foot man when standing erect; a child figuratively wears seven league boots when it strides about the streets, and the railway station makes a comfortable home for a small dog.

More than a decade ago George E. Turner felt he must have some outdoor diversion. He did not care for fishing, golf, hunting, or hiking, so he seized upon the plan of building the "Tiny Town" across the road from his mountain summer home.

SCIENTIFIC POEM SOURCE OF DERBY ENTRANT'S NAME

Frankfort, Ky.—Race horse fans, like crossword puzzle bugs, may have to consult the dictionary, if the New York Jockey Club approves Swigert Taylor's application to have his chestnut colt 1926 Kentucky Derby entry named "Isostasy."

Friends of Taylor predicts when the colt starts in the Derby, it will be a long shot because Mr. Taylor alone will be able to pronounce the name and get a wager.

Suggestions for the name came in a poem of W. A. Parks, Canadian professor, submitted to the British Association for the Advancement of Science at South Hampton, England.

CLIMATE AND SURROUNDINGS SUICIDE FACTOR IN GERMANY

Berlin—Climatic conditions and natural surroundings are predisposing factors in suicides, the Berlin Tageblatt has found.

In order to establish authentic suicide statistics in Germany, the newspaper analyzed the compilations of a number of government bureaus, resulting in several peculiar disclosures.

Regions with a pronounced change of seasons recorded the greatest number of suicides and this was given as one of the reasons why self destruction was more popular in Central Europe than in the extreme northern countries or in the tropics. Altitude also appeared to play a significant role, the analysis showed, suicides in the lowlands being far more frequent than in the mountains.

In Germany, Monday and Tuesday were suicide days, though women frequently showed a predilection for Sunday. Most suicides occurred at night and indoors was the favorite scene for the acts.

A startling percentage of suicides was recorded among divorced persons. Generally speaking, countries with a high birth rate recorded much fewer suicides than others. Mental derangement, and not disarrangement in love, was the principal cause of self-destruction.
