TOWNSHIP SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION BE HELD DEC. 15-16

Sessions Postponed From This Week to Above Date; To Be Held in Immanuel Baptist Church

Announcement is made by officers of Greenville Township Sunday School Association that the Township Sunday School Convention which was scheduled to meet this week has been postponed to Tuesday and Wednesday, December 15 and 16. The reasons of the meeting will be held in Immanuel Baptist Church as originally announced.

Speakers for the convention will be D. W. Sims, Raleigh, General Superintendent of the North Carolina Sunday School Association; Miss Flora Davis, Raleigh, Associate Superintendent of the same organization; and Mr. Freeman Heath, Winston, director of Religious Education of Gordon Street Christian Church. All of these speakers are said to be highly interesting and instructive.

The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Greenville Township, the Pitt county and the North Carolina Sunday School Associations. All Sunday School workers of all denominations in the city are invited to attend, and all who are interested in the development of the Sunday School are welcome in the sessions whether they are actively engaged in the work or not.

Alumnus of U. N. C. Comments on Many Changes at "Hill"

As an alumnus of the University it was my privilege recently to spend a few happy hours on the "Hill," living in vivid memory the student days spent there as a member of the class of '80. The forty-five years have gone glimmering by since that eventful period, and a distinctly new University has arisen to bless the stalwart young life of Carolina.

At the scholastic head stands foursquare a man of exalted worth and ability, happily and efficiently adapted for the large and responsible task assigned him. His collaborators in faculty are picked professionals with approved qualifications for their several departments of instruction.

It is truly amazing to an "old boy" looking upon the extensive "plant," to use an industrial term, as it is being developed and there is occasion for profound gratitude to the gracious Providence that has made it possible. Those solons who so discreetly and munificently provided the material resources for building, will surely receive the sincere thanks of unborn thousands. It is "a thing of beauty" and must become as the years roll on "a joy forever" to the appreciative citizenship of the good old North State.

Moreover, the religious interests of the institution and community at large are being adequately provided for in the modern church edifices erected and in process of construction. The last so far, but not the least in splendid architectural design and appointment for present day service, is the exquisitely beautiful Methodist house of worship, commanding an eligible site on Main street and recessed into the old University campus.

Its tall, shapely spire pointing heavenward may be viewed for many miles around. To "bring it to the capstone with cries of Grace unto it," as the Scripture phrase has it, is worthy of the noblest sacrificial endeavor of the large and affluent denomination it represents. The Rev. Dr. Walter Patten and his collaborators in the holy task well deserve the cordial sympathy and immediate assistance of every Methodist and friend of the cause in the two conferences of North Carolina. Liberal holiday offerings should freely flow into this great and good enterprise that means so much religiously to the more than 600 sons and daughters of our communion already in attendance there as students of the University. Let us all heartily rally to Patten, our Nehemiah, in his daring and heaven-approved effort in financing the tremendous work of building and furnishing, fraught with such marvelous possibilities of service to the young life of the present and future generations.

It is a real delight to the writer to learn that he has the distinction of making out of his penury as a preacher the first received contribution for the enterprise. Durham, N. C. W. A. BETTS.

YAZOO CITY STRUCK BY TORNADO TODAY TWO LARGE BRIDGES BE BUILT IN STATE

Two Persons Killed, More Than Score Injured and 100 Families Made Homeless While Other Will Connect Beaufort and Morehead City

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Two persons were killed, more than a score injured, and from 50 to 100 families made homeless by a tornado which struck Yazoo City early today, according to a message received by the State Headquarters of the Red Cross. The tornado swept into the city from the northwest, blowing down houses and buildings, and leaving a trail of destruction in its wake.

Coolidge Asked Not Sponsor Reduction Aid for State Highways

Greensboro, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, has been asked in a telegram by the North Carolina Motor Club, through Coleman W. Roberts, vice-president, not to recommend any reduction in federal aid for state highways.

Mr. Roberts was informed that the president, in his message to congress, will suggest a reduction. The protest against such action is understood to be almost nationwide, said Mr. Roberts.

The telegram to the Chief Executive follows: "Rumored that your message will suggest federal aid for state highways be reduced. Sincerely hope this is untrue, because motorists in North Carolina are strong for full continuation of federal highway aid. Reduction of federal aid will be very unpopular and resented throughout the whole section of the country and I implore you to ascertain the real sentiment of the nation regarding this important matter before taking any action."

Gastonia High School F. Ball Team on Edge for Game Saturday

Gastonia, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Cheered on by the record of a successful season and the support of the citizens of Gastonia, the football team of the Gastonia High School football team is in edge for the state championship game Saturday. The game will be played at Chapel Hill. Gastonia, winner of the Western section title, will meet Sanford, winners in the East.

Pat Crawford, former Davidson College star, is given entire credit by football followers for the success of the local team. Crawford came here three years ago and put lie into high school athletics. He has succeeded in enlisting the whole-hearted support of Gastonians and the student body of the high school.

The team will meet Sanford has scored 178 points in their ten games this season to their opponents' six points. They have proven the heaviest scoring aggregation in high school football of the State this year. Barium Springs Orphanage was the only team to score on Gastonia.

Frederick, Rutter and Jackson, backfield men, lead their teammates in the scoring. Frederick has the individual high record with 60 points.

DISABLED VETERAN WORLD WAR NOW PEDDLES BANANAS

Walter Fillyaw, of This State, Rewarded for Heroism Now Unable to Earn Living Because of Physical Unfitness

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Slightly more than six years ago private Walter John Fillyaw, United States Army shell-torn, and all but disabled, was almost bursting with pride when the Commanding officer of Fort McPherson here pinned to his breast the distinguished service cross "for extraordinary heroism."

Yesterday he was found by a reporter for the Atlanta Constitution peddling bananas on the streets of Atlanta in order to earn support for his wife, daughter, and baby son, the latter born Monday. His income was found not to exceed fifteen dollars a week.

In addition to his fifteen dollars a week he made peddling bananas. Fillyaw receives twenty dollars a month compensation from the Veterans Bureau, he said. He told American Legion officials he had been unable to obtain employment because of his physical unfitness.

Fillyaw is a native of Fayetteville, N. C., and married Miss Sadie Crawford, of Union, S. C., in April 1918 shortly before he went overseas.

Legislation Carry Out Recommendations Air Board Being Prepared

Washington, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Legislation to carry out the recommendations of the President's Air Board for expansion of the Army and Navy Air Services already is being prepared by Republican leaders for early introduction in the Senate. Chairman Wadsworth, of the Military Committee, will sponsor the provisions dealing with the Army Air Services, and Chairman Hale, of the Naval Committee, will draft those dealing with the Naval Air Forces.

Pinchot Renews Effort to Settle the Anthracite Strike

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Governor Pinchot has renewed his efforts to bring about a settlement of the anthracite fight. Following the rejection last week of his peace plans by the operators, the Governor last night invited civic and business leaders of the hard coal business to meet him in Harrisburg next Tuesday for a further discussion of the situation.

FARMERS' UNION HOLDING ANNUAL MEET IN RALEIGH

Adopts Resolutions Opposing Proposed Increase in Public School Term, and Asking That Court Trials Be Expedited

Raleigh, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Resolutions opposing the proposed increase in the public school term, condemning military training in church and state colleges, and asking that court trials be expedited, were adopted by the North Carolina Farmers' Union in executive session here last night. The Union is holding its annual convention here. A resolution dealing with the court proposals that lawyers speeches in court be abolished and that the law be explained by the judge, and the necessity of appointing more judges to hold special court terms, and make it possible to clear the docket. "Congress should never again be able to declare war," declared the resolution which placed the body of the order as favoring a referendum before any future declaration of war. The resolution adopted embodied an attack on standardization of colleges. "The requirements," said the resolution, "bear the earmarks of capitalism and this is an effort to organize wealth to determine a character of education to prevent thought and freedom of speech, and to perpetuate 'autocracy.'"

Eastern Carolina Exposition Will Be Staged In April In Gorman's Warehouse

The first concrete step taken, since Greenville was awarded the 1926 Eastern Carolina Exposition, was the selection of the Warehouse and making the floor plans this week. Secretary Bartlett came over to Greenville Monday and with Mr. Alfred Cheney, a civil engineer plans were laid out for making the house a "Thing of Beauty" for the week of April 5th, Messrs. E. G. Flanagan and Judson Bleunt, announced that all arrangements had been made to use J. N. Gorman's warehouse for the big show. This is one of the largest tobacco warehouses in Eastern North Carolina. It will furnish 48,600 square feet of floor space in the main building and several additional thousands if there is need for it, in the two annexes. The joints are high enough to make the decorations very effective, and when the veteran decorator, Fred Reh, headquarters Washington, D. C., puts the last touch, no body will ever recognize it as ever having been a tobacco warehouse. Mr. Reh has been the official decorator for the Eastern Carolina Exposition for the past two years and from all indications, has a permanent job as long as the Exposition lasts.

SIX INJURED WHEN BRIDGE COLLAPSED

Thrown to Track and "Badly Mashed" When Bridge Gives Away

Danville, Va., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Six men were injured near here today when a bridge on which they were working collapsed. Telephone reports from the scene, about ten miles north of here, said they were "badly mashed" and were being rushed to a local hospital. The bridge spanned the Eastern Railway Track between White Oak and Blair, and when it gave way the men were thrown on the track below.

Kipling's Condition Remains Serious

Burwash, England, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Rudyard Kipling's slight improvement in his fight against double pneumonia was maintained this morning. He passed a fair night, but his condition remains to be serious.

MILLION VISITORS EXPECTED AT EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

Chicago—Chicago faces the problem of caring for more than a million visitors next June 20-24 during the Catholic Eucharistic Congress, meeting for the first time in the United States. Leaders expect it to be one of the most notable gatherings in the history of the church.

Every hotel, restaurant, cafe and cafeteria of the hundreds here has been asked to co-operate with committees in charges of caring for the delegates, who will include representatives or reigning Catholic dynasties and papal dignitaries.

Arrangements for the spiritual side of the congress, in addition to its sessions, include the Eucharistic procession, traditional feature of the meeting, in which most of the delegates will participate, and a Mass in Soldiers' Field. United choirs of hundreds of school children are training to sing the Mass, the altar for which will be erected in the arena of the Municipal stadium, which has a capacity of 50,000.

An art exhibition in which prominence will be given to the work of Catholic artists, priests and nuns in this and other lands, is a plan of an exhibits committee which has the assurance of displays from Italy and France.

TOLSTOY'S HOME AND WORKS TO BE GIVEN THE SOVIET RECOGNITION

Tula.—Soviet Russia will recognize the attainments of Leo Tolstoy, the famous novelist and social reformer, with the issue of a centenary edition of his works at the celebration September 10, 1928, of the writer's hundredth anniversary. The Tolstoy Museum in Moscow will be made a permanent edifice.

All the buildings of the Polyana, Tolstoy's home in the village near here, will be turned into a national shrine and museum. Already a museum has been established in the village. The curator being Tolstoy's daughter, Alexandra.

Wets and Drys Are Again Preparing for Debate of Liquors

Washington, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Prohibition enforcement suddenly has taken its place among the outstanding past issues that are agitating Washington on the eve of the opening of congress.

Aroused by the cumulative force of a long series of events ranging from General Andrew's shake-up of the prohibition unit to a row of local enforcement methods in the National Capital, both the wets and drys are again going into action for another round on the debate of liquors. On top of the attack of the drys on the wets' prohibition regime, the wet members of Congress renewed their attempt to force a change, and one of them, Representative Dyer, Republican of Missouri, said he would ask the new congress for out-right repeal of the Volstead Act.

Tonight at a public dinner here Representative of the Anti-Saloon Leagues, whose Chicago conviction recently threw down their gauntlets to negligent enforcement officers will restate their attitude for the benefit of officers Washington. Several members of Congress are expected to attend.

Fifteen Additional Indictments Returned Chicago Bomb Outrage

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Fifteen additional indictments naming 20 new defendants were returned today in the special grand jury investigating here of 119 Chicago bomb outrages during the past year. Among those named were gangsters, officers of the Retail Cleaners and Dryers' Union, Battery Dealers' Association, the Shoe Repair Union, and other trade union officers.

Confederate Navy Yard in Charlotte Swept By Fire

Charlotte, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A spot of historic interest was razed by fire here early today when flames swept the old Confederate Navy Yard, destroying structure and causing damages of approximately $75,000. The fire started shortly before three o'clock and was confined to the one building, which was in use as a store house.

During the war between the states the site was used to store the supplies from the Norfolk Navy Yard, which were moved here to save them from capture by the Union troops.

Condition Miss Kennedy Continues Grave, Report

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The condition of Miss Minnie E. Kennedy, who, as superintendent of the elementary department of Sunday school work of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, has made a wide circle of friends in every section of the church's territory, continues grave, but is said to be more hopeful.

Miss Kennedy recently underwent an operation for mastoiditis, and her illness was complicated by an infected blood stream.

SEVEN ISSUES IN RHINELANDER CASE READ TO THE JURY

Jury Not to Pass on Validity of Marriage But Will Simply Answer "Yes" or "No" to the Questions.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Superior Court Justice Morsecauser beginning his charge to the jury in the Rhineland annulment case this morning read to the jury the seven issues to be determined. The jury itself will not pass upon the validity of the marriage but simply will answer yes or no to the seven questions covering the principal points in the case.

The special term of court later must decide whether Leonard Kip Rhineland, the plaintiff, shall be freed from his wife, Alice Jones Rhineland, daughter of a molatto. The jury's decision on the seventh point upon which it must pass is of the greatest importance to the outcome of the case. This point is, did the plaintiff cohabit with the defendant after he had obtained full knowledge that the defendant was of negro blood? If the jury makes decision favorable to Rhineland on the first six points, but answered "yes" to the seventh question, the whole case will be up set.

The other six questions are: "At the time of the marriage of the parties was the defendant colored and of colored blood?"

"Did the defendant before the marriage by silence conceal from the plaintiff the fact that she was of colored blood?"

"Did the defendant before the marriage represent to the plaintiff that she was not of colored blood?"

"Did the defendant practice said concealment or make said representation with the intent thereby to induce the plaintiff to marry her?"

"Was the plaintiff by said concealment, or by said representation, or by both induced to marry the defendant?"

"If the plaintiff had known that defendant was colored blood would he have married her?"

Homer St. Gaudens to Deliver Address On "Art for Everyone"

Raleigh, Dec. 4.—(AP)—"Art for Everyone" is the subject announced for the lecture of Homer St. Gaudens, director of fine arts, Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh, in the auditorium at Meredith College, on the evening of December 11.

Mr. St. Gaudens, who comes to Raleigh under the joint auspices of the State Literary and Historical Society and the North Carolina Arts Society, which will be in session here December 9, 10, and 11, is a sculptor of national repute, and is strongly recommended by the National Art Galleries Association, says R. B. House, secretary of the Historical Society.

By co-operating in the matter of dates for their annual sessions, four organizations gather in Raleigh during the week of December 7. In addition to the State Literary and Historical Association and the North Carolina Arts Society, the North Carolina Folk Lore Society will hold its meeting here, and the Carolina Playmakers will present a bill in Raleigh during the week.

In addition to the lecture of Mr. St. Gaudens, and the bill of plays by the Playmakers, other interesting features of the week will include an address by Hatcher Hughes, at Meredith College Thursday evening, and an exhibition of the paintings of Emil Fuchs at the Woman's Club on Friday. The Hughes comes to North Carolina under the auspices of the Literary and Historical Society and the exhibition of Mr. Fuchs' paintings was arranged by Mrs. R. L. McMillan, chairman of the art department of the Woman's Club. Mr. Fuchs will lecture at a joint session of the Literary and Historical Association and the North Carolina Arts Society, to be held at the Woman's Club Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

FARMERS APPEAL

By O. L. JOYNER

THE EASTERN NORTH CAROLINA TOBACCO FARMER AND HIS OPPORTUNITY.

The tobacco farmers of Eastern North Carolina are as a whole in a class by themselves. By natural environment the farmers of this section have a decided advantage over the tobacco farmers of any other section, and by all means they should work and fight to preserve their heritage and to advance and enhance the resources with which nature has so abundantly endowed and blessed them.

Eastern North Carolina is primarily and naturally, strictly an agricultural region. Every enterprise and industry, ever city and town, and every citizen in this section is almost wholly dependent on agriculture for subsistence and existence. How much, therefore, is the success or failure of the proper use and development of agriculture important to each and every one of us who live in this section.

Those who do not live on farms, or who are not personally interested in farming are nevertheless very vitally affected by the success or failure of agriculture. It is, therefore, the concern of everyone in this section to aid and encourage, and to aid and encourage, and to help in a spirit of active co-operation in the development of farming. But it is the farmers after all, themselves, who must stamp the great importance of their business upon the minds and hearts of all other professions.

The farmers must have faith in and respect for their calling first before they can successfully inspire faith and respect in others for it and therein lies to a large extent one of the principal contributions regions why the profession of farming has never occupied a higher level along with other professions of men. Let the farmer stamp his own personality, his individuality on his farm operations the same as the merchant and the banker impresses himself upon the business with which he is identified and the profession of farming will be elevated instantly as nothing else could or would do it. This brings up the relative position of the Eastern North Carolina farmer to the farmers of other sections. No where has more progress during the past twenty years been made in farming than here in Eastern North Carolina. There is a striking individuality that is noticeable in the farming operations in this section not seen even in other bright tobacco growing localities. This is individualistic. There is also a commendable spirit or rivalry on the part of the farmers, each striving to do his work better, to grow better crops, to build better barns and other farm buildings, all of which makes for and tends to the elevation of the business of farming. Let this work go on and a few years more under the stimulus of the splendid development going on in all other lines of industry the farmers of Eastern North Carolina will come into their own in the realization of the unparalleled natural advantages of this the greatest bright tobacco region in the United States.

TOBACCO MARKET REPORT.

A number of inquiries has been received during the last few days asking information about the prices of tobacco since Thanksgiving. Most of these letters are from distant counties and generally convey the information that the writer has heard the market had gone to pieces, and tobacco was selling very low. As a matter of fact there has been some decline in certain grades of tobacco, but on the whole it is nothing like so much as the general impression seems to prevail. The market average for the two weeks prior to Thanksgiving was only about four cents above the average of the market for practically the same period since Thanksgiving, and when it is considered that there has been a great deal of low grade, common tobacco sold, the drop in the market does not seem to be so great.

A great many farmers have sold out or are now selling, and there is always more or less ruff-raff held over and sold on the last sale. This, of course, lowers the average price.

Then, too, there is not as large a percent of good to fine tobacco on the market now. Most of the very recent offerings has consisted of medium and low grades. There is no reason so far as I know why tobacco should not sell just as high now and the remainder of the season as it has sold at any time this year. The market is in a good strong condition and in all probability will remain so.

COSTS GOVERNMENT $500 EACH TO TRAIN SECOND LIEUTENANTS

Galesburg, Ill.—It costs the federal government, in maintaining 124 senior R. O. T. C. units at as many colleges, about $500 to produce a qualified Second Lieutenant of Infantry, says Captain Robert W. Corrigan, Inf., military instructor at Knox College, in an article for the Infantry Journal.

"There is absolutely no market in which you can buy one, and there is no mechanical or other substitute for one when you need him," the officer writes. "In comparison with the wealth of the United States, and in view of the valuable insurance bought with these expenditures, the amount spent on R. O. T. C. units is 'infinitesimally small.'"

Primarily, the purpose of the R. O. T. C. is to supply nearly 10,000 replacements for the organized reserves of the army annually, and secondarily, to improve the physique, habits, minds and morals of a much larger portion of the population than finds its way into the reserves, Captain Corrigan says. The influence of the corps is felt upon all students who have enrolled though no more than one-fourth of them may continue the work through the fourth year, qualifying for commissions.

When the Secretary, Treasurer and chairman of all committees and departments had reported, it was very evident that this club is a beehive of activity.
Mrs. R. L. Carr, chairman of the Library Committee, told of the marvelous growth of the Public Library, under the new Librarian, Miss Fullen. These statistics are given weekly in the Reflector, under "Library News." The most noticeable growth is in the evening patronage, showing that the evening hours satisfy a real need.
On recommendation of this committee, the Club voted to take out 15 more shares of Building and Loan towards our new Home and Library.
The membership committee presented one name, which was accepted Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, chairman of Household Economics, voiced the disappointment of the Club that Mrs. Jane McKimmon was sick and not able to be here to give her talk on "Making the House a Home." Mrs. McKimmon will give us another date early in the New Year.
Mrs. Moore announced a demonstration in Christmas candy making to be given in the Domestic Science laboratory at the High School on the afternoon of December 17th.
The chairman of the Garden Club announced the next meeting on December 10th with Mrs. Key Brown, when Dr. R. L. Carr will speak on "Shrubs."

Mrs. Viola, chairman of Civics and Health, reported on the Red Cross Roll Call, which was conducted by this department. The result was up to the mark of the past few years, but shows a waning in the interest of many people in the work of the Red Cross. This should not be so, for the benefits of the Red Cross to stricken communities are given in times of peace as well as in times of war. If anyone was overlooked in the canvass, Mrs. Viola will be glad to receive their membership of $1.00 for the year.
Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are now being put in circulation by this department. The goal for Greenville this year is $500 of which amount three fourths will be retained for local use.

Mrs. T. A. Person, treasurer of the T. B. fund, told of some of the uses to which this money has been put during the past year, warning our hearts with the thought that we are, in a small way, helping to relieve some of the misery in our community.
It has been an "unwritten law" for several years, for each club woman to buy at least $1.00 worth of these seals, and many buy more than this amount.
Mrs. Woodard, chairman of the Literary Department, reported good attendance and much interest in the bi-weekly programs of this department. The study course followed is "Good Books," put out by the University of North Carolina.
The Club voted $10.00 to the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion, to help with their Christmas gifts to Oteen.
The subject of suitable moving pictures for children was discussed especially regarding the Saturday program, which is so largely patronized by children of school age. A committee consisting of Mrs. J. B. James, Mrs. L. C. Skinner and Mrs. Ray Tyson was appointed to confer with the manager of the theatre on this subject.
The chairman of Fine Arts, Mrs. E. W. Griffin, then took charge of the meeting. After announcing plans for Christmas Carol singing on Christmas Day, she presented the following program, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The choruses by the High School Glee Club were very well rendered, and showed careful training by their efficient teacher, Miss Eugenia Thomas, who gave a short sketch of the composers before each selection. Two piano solos were next rendered, each one being introduced by a few remarks by Miss Thomas.

Miss Irene Hand read a delightful paper entitled "Hearing America First," revealing to our astonishment the wealth of talent native to America, both in the indigenous music of the Indian and negro, and in the rapidly increasing compositions of all types of music. These are being introduced into European countries, and gaining for America her well deserved reputation as a musical nation.
A charming vocal solo by Miss Helene Higgs, who always pleases her audience, ended one of the most enjoyable meetings of the Woman's Club.
I Love A Little Cottage—Geoffrey O'Hara.
Pale Moon—Logan.
High School Glee Club
Indian Lodge—E. MacDowell.
Juba Dance—Nathaniel Dett—Eugenia Thomas.
"Hear America First"—A Talk—Miss Irene Hand.

MRS. E. B. ALLSBROOK ENTERTAINS NURSES' CLUB
Mrs. E. B. Allsbrook was hostess on Thursday evening to the members of the Nurses' Club. Every member was present to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Allsbrook except two.
After the regular business sessions in which many matters of importance to the club were discussed, a social hour was enjoyed.
The hostess assisted by her sister Mrs. W. C. Vincent, served a salad course and hot chocolate.

MRS. J. P. ROWLETT ENTERTAINS.
Hostess at Linen Shower in Honor of Mrs. J. C. Whiteford, Jr.
Honoring Mrs. J. C. Whiteford, Jr., Mrs. J. P. Rowlett, on Thursday afternoon delightfully entertained at bridge and a linen shower. The attractive home on Dickinson Avenue, ensuite, was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. The bright fires and shaded lights added much to the effectiveness of the decorations.
Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and honoree, Mrs. C. B. Rowlett making the top score was presented a silver perfume flask while the table prizes, attractive hand made powder puffs, went to Mrs. Hogan Gaskins, Mrs. K. B. Pace, Mrs. Francis Bowen, Mrs. S. M. Woolfork, Mrs. W. M. Seales, Miss Hennie Whichard and Miss Rose Hadley.
Mrs. Rowlett remembered Mrs. Francis Bowen, Mrs. C. B. West, Jr., and Mrs. J. Q. Trotman, recent brides, with Italian cut work tray covers.
After a number of interesting progressions, Master J. P. Rowlett, Jr., presented Mrs. Whiteford, a large white crepe paper basket, containing a shower of beautiful linens. As she opened the packages, the honoree in her own charming manner, thanked each guest for their remembrance. In the shower was a linen luncheon set, the center piece being the gift of the hostess.
Mrs. Rowlett assisted by Mrs. W. A. Sellars and Mrs. C. B. Rowlett served a tempting salad course with hot tea.
Mrs. Whiteford has just returned from her bridal tour and the shower, the first post nuptial event was

PYTHIAN SOCIAL GREATLY ENJOYED
The Pythians held their regular monthly social Thursday evening. A large number of guests were in attendance and the event proved a great success. The reception rooms were appropriately decorated for the occasion.
Upon arrival each lady was given a number of Knocks, with which they gained admittance to the lodge rooms. They were received one at a time and initiated into a new order founded on fun, merriment and happiness. After all had been received, they were given charge of the order, and Miss Ernestine Forbes was elected president.
After delivering her inaugural address Miss Forbes announced that as long as the men had placed them in charge they would proceed by choosing their partners and telling them exactly what to do.
Music and dancing were enjoyed after which refreshments were served.
The socials will be held each month at which time an interesting program will be given.

London.—Mrs. Kate Perugini, last surviving daughter of Charles Dickens, who has just celebrated her 86th birthday, takes pride in the fact that she has never made any attempt at literary achievements.

Mrs. Perugini remembers all the great contemporaries of her father—Thackeray, George Eliot and other early Victorians. She resembles her father more than any other member of the family.

SAYS SOUTH CAN MEET
WORLD DEMAND FOR COTTON

Auburn, Ala.—Boll weevil or no boll weevil, the cotton belt of the United States can produce all the fleecy staple the world will consume and pay for at a "living price," in the opinion of Alabama Experiment Station officials.

This could be accomplished through intelligent use of fertilizer and better varieties of seed, said Professor M. J. Funchess, director, after studying results of experiments extending over a fifteen-year period. The added cost necessary to increase production would be small compared with the net return and it would not be necessary to extend the cotton area, he explained.

"THE GORILLA"

"The Gorilla," one of the recent hits of the New York, Boston, Chicago and London stage, is announced for tonight at the Whites Theatre where it will be played by a special company. The cast includes: Sid Williams, Edwin Foresberg, Elen Crowe, Victor Browne, William Balfour, Tom Burton, Clyde Dison, Bertram, Jack F. Ayres, James Kelo and Bernard Craney.

This play was written by Ralph Soenne and staged by Donald Galaher. It is said to be a "mysterious melodrama" like "The Bat," "The Cat and Canary" and "The Last Warning." To outline the story, says the press agent, "would be to invite permanent mental derangement." The plot contains a master criminal, known as the "Gorilla," who threatens the tenant of a haunted house. It also contains a playright in love with the tenant's niece, two detectives, a butler, a locked chest, a dead sailor, the Ku Klux Klan, screams, pistols, shots, sliding panels, and the inevitable reporter.

WHITE MAN'S ENGINEERING FEAT ENDS ANCIENT INDIAN TRADITION

Albuquerque, N. M.—Engineering wizardry of the white man has blasted an Indian tradition of three hundred years' standing at the Pueblo of Isleta, near here.

Since the year the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth, the body of Juan de Padilla, martyred Franciscan padre, has risen annually to the earthen surface of the Catholic chapel in the pueblo plaza where it was buried beneath the altar, tradition runs.

Two years ago the United States Indian Service constructed an irrigation ditch through the plaza and since there have been no further risings of the body.

The body is in a remarkable state of preservation, resembling a mummy with long, dark whiskers, Indians who have seen it said.

Slain by Indians in 1580, half a century after he remained behind when Coronado's expedition returned to Mexico, Father Padilla's body was removed from the distant Grand Quivira, according to tradition, and was placed beneath the altar of the Isleta church.

The white man explained it as a natural phenomenon but the Indian always regarded it as an unearthly act.

REBEL BELIEVES PIGMIES ONCE HIGHLY CIVILIZED

Tucson, Ariz.—Whether the pigmy of Dutch New Guinea is evolving or degenerating first must be determined before it may be classed as the "missing link," in the opinion of Albert Rebel, Tucson editor, who has seen the creature.

In commenting on the Smithsonian Institution's expedition to Dutch New Guinea, Rebel told of impressions formed when he went with a Dutch geological party to the uncharted fastnesses of Sumatra in 1918.

Pigmies may easily be called "ape men," he said, for their mode of living is not much above that of apes. Although his first contact with the Bataks of interior Sumatra almost convinced him he had found the gap in the Darwinian hypothesis, Rebel was amazed to learn the savages once had known a comparatively high state of civilization, as evidenced by remnants of art and writings in an alphabet known only to them.

DIG MAIL ORDER BUSINESS BY AMERICAN LIBRARIES

Chicago—American libraries are doing a large mail order business. Free books, delivered by parcel post, have been offered by the St. Louis Public Library several years and in 1924 approximately 2,500 volumes were distributed to patrons, many of whom are blind.

In Chicago and Seattle a borrower deposits a dollar to pay postage on books mailed. When the amount is nearly exhausted, the reader is notified so it may be renewed.

The Free Public Library in East Orange, N. J., delivers books by messenger at the expense of the borrower and many libraries throughout the country have instituted the "vacation privilege" system, under which a patron may keep books during the summer or have them exchanged by mail or express.

As a part of its adult education movement, the American Library Association is encouraging the development of the mail order distribution of books.

SLURKING COYOTE REPLACES LION AS MENACE IN MONTANA

Missoula, Mont.—The mountain lion has yielded to the slinking coyote as the greatest menace to wild life in Montana.

To save himself and his stock, the buckskin-coated pioneer of the eighties fought the lion. In modern days the state posted a bounty of $20 for each of the animals killed.

This warfare has progressed to the stage where only one deer, a favorite prey, has been killed by the mountain king this year. The coyote, however, has claimed several victims.

SOUTHERN COLLEGE HEADS AVERAGE $6,101 ANNUALLY

Georgetown, Ky.—College presidents of the South are making their contributions to education at average salaries of $6,101 yearly.

This was learned by James Moreland, registrar of Georgetown College, after making a survey of 44 first rate Southern institutions.

His investigation also revealed that full professors averaged $3,111, department heads $3,099, college treasurers $3,006, registrars $2,337, executive secretaries $2,094. Deans averaged $3,534 while the lowly instructors were at the bottom with $1,588.

Salaries of heads of departments at the University of Texas showed more than those received by presidents of several colleges. Texas was the highest paying university in the South with $10,000 for its president down to $1,900 of instructors.

NEW YORK PARK PLANNED IN NEW MEXICO MOUNTAIN RANGES

Santa Fe, N. M.—Far from the beaten path of travel a new national park is being planned in the Jemez and Sangre de Cristo mountain ranges in northern New Mexico.

At the southern entrance of the proposed park is a beautiful canyon which has a high water-fall that roars and sparkles. There is a cave whose sides have been painted in brilliant colors by nature's chemistry.

In the center of the region is the Valle Grande, a huge extinct volcano, a "large" crater in the Southwest. Near the crater are stone formations resembling Gothic cathedral spires.

Just a regular looking boy is this little fellow. Hardly recognize him, would you? He happens to be Jackie Coogan, who is soon to lose the Dutch job that helped him run nothing into one million dollars.

That country is a vessel the exact duplicate of the boats used by the old Vikings.

His boat will be 40 feet long and 12 feet wide and will follow a route by Dover, Finisterre, Madeira and then across the Atlantic in the hope of reaching Philadelphia.

The Norwegians still dispute Columbus' claim and insist Ericson was the discoverer of America.

HORSE STEALING PASSING, BUT THE ASSOCIATION FINDS OTHER WORK

Jacksonville, Ill.—White horse stealing has shown a steady decrease with the passing of years, the Anti-Horse Thief Association still flourishes.

A fraternal, protective and detective organization, composed of men banded together for the mutual protection of their property, it has more than 50,000 members in eight mid-western states.

Just when the first lodge bearing the name was organized is not certain, but the first of which there is any record was organized in Clark county, Missouri, in 1854. A. C. Reid, who resides near here, has been president of the organization 32 years.

The association does not limit its activities to capturing horse thieves. During the last year, some of the 500 members of the Jacksonville sub-order had property, including chickens and hogs, stolen to the value of $1,300. Approximately $700 worth of this was recovered.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

STEAMERS TO REPLACE OLD SALMON PACKING SAIL FLEET

San Francisco.—The historic wind-jammer salmon packing flotilla, which yearly invades the icy waters of Alaska, is being steered into the Sargasso Sea of Oblivion by the Giant Steam.

Displacement of the sailing fleet was begun by the use of two small steamers by one company this year. Next spring, there will be more of them, and local marine officials doubt whether there will be a sail left on the Alaska run within two or three years.

Departure and return of the packing fleet has been picturesque incidents on San Francisco's water front many years.

Most of the vessels go to far-north Bristol Bay, and they begin to leave the middle of March, sailing every day or two until are on the way. The northward sail usually takes 20 days and often longer. The return from Bristol Bay, made in September as a rule, often requires no more than 15 days. Favorable winds prevail, and there are currents that speed the vessels southward.

The crew and canners form a motley and colorful crowd. Nearly every nationality is represented, and many a swashbuckling tale could be written around the voyages. Fights and love have been recorded, and weary kippers have thanked their stars when they sighted the Golden Gate again.

It is a bleak, hard life for the men during the five or six months they are away, but there is nothing to spend money for, and generally they return with their wages in their pockets.

"THE GORILLA."

"The Gorilla," one of the recent hits of the New York, Boston, Chicago and London stage, is announced for tonight at the Whites' Theatre where it will be played by a special company. The cast includes: Sid Williams, Edwin Foresberg, Ellen Crowe, Victor Browne, William Balfour, Tom Burton, Clyde Dison, Bertram, Jack F. Ayres, James Kelo and Bernard Crane.

This play was written by Ralph Spence and staged by Donald Gallaher. It is said to be a "mysterious melodrama," like "The Bat," "The Cat and Canary" and "The Last Warning." To outline the story, says the press agent, "would be to invite permanent mental derangement." The plot contains a master criminal, known as the "Gorilla," who threatens the tenant of a haunted house. It also contains a playwright in love with the tenant's niece, two detectives, a butler, a locked chest, a dead sailor, the Ku Klux Klan, screams, pistols, shots, sliding panels, and the inevitable reporter.

WHITE MAN'S ENGINEERING FEAT ENDS ANCIENT INDIAN TRADITION

Albuquerque, N. M.—Engineering wizardry of the white man has blasted an Indian tradition of three hundred years' standing at the Pueblo of Isleta, near here.

Since the year the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth, the body of Juan de Padilla, martyr of Francisco's padre, has risen annually to the earthen surface of the Catholic chapel in the pueblo plaza where it was buried beneath the altar, tradition runs.

Two years ago the United States Indian Service constructed an irrigation ditch through the plaza and since there have been no further risings of the body.

The body is in a remarkable state of preservation, resembling a mummy with long, dark whiskers, Indians who have seen it said.

Slain by Indians in 1580, half a century after he remained behind when Coronado's expedition returned to Mexico, Father Padilla's body was removed from the distant Grand Quivira, according to tradition, and was placed beneath the altar of the Isleta church.

The white man explained it as a natural phenomenon but the Indian always regarded it as an unearthly act.

REBEL BELIEVES PIGMIES ONCE HIGHLY CIVILIZED

Tucson, Ariz.—Whether the pigmy of Dutch New Guinea is evolving or degenerating first must be determined before it may be classed as the "missing link," in the opinion of Albert Rebel, Tucson editor, who has seen the creature.

In commenting on the Smithsonian Institution's expedition to Dutch New Guinea, Rebel told of impressions formed when he went with a Dutch geological party to the uncharted fastnesses of Sumatra in 1918.

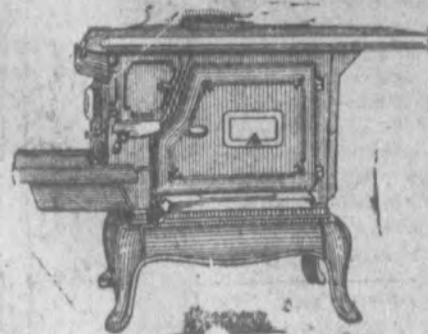

Pigmies may easily be called "ape men," he said, for their mode of living is not much above that of apes. Although his first contact with the Bataks of interior Sumatra almost convinced him he had found the gap in the Darwinian hypothesis, Rebel was amazed to learn the savages once had known a comparatively high state of civilization, as evidenced by remnants of art and writings in an alphabet known only to them.

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Editor:
Your correspondent steadfastly believes that as citizens we should more persistently and religiously strive to save the man from the bottle, no less than the bottle from the man.

Such procedure will surely diminish the demand for intoxicants and ought to bankrupt the manufacturer and retailer of ardent spirits. Though the press and the platform and the pulpit and by personal appeals, lovers of their fellow men should faithfully seek to win the liquor drinker away from the baneful habit. Collaboration like this with the civil and federal authorities would undoubtedly bring things to pass for the overthrow of the drink demon and speedily.

The churches and temperance organizations should again be mobilized with the old-time fervor in this great objective. The fatal habit and appetite can be removed. Gospel temperature campaigns may be so directed as to achieve a glorious salvation along this line for sobriety. Souls may be redeemed from the bondage of drink and fitted for real happiness here and hereafter.

On with this drive, Christians!

HOLLYWOOD'S INSIGNIFICANCE BROUGHT GROWTH AND FAME

Hollywood. — Because of its insignificance not so many years ago, Hollywood became one of the goals of the world's movie-struck.

During the first ten years after 1909 when the motion picture industry was beginning to come into being, Hollywood stubbornly refused to show any marked growth.

There was no lighting equipment then such as is used now, and pictures made in California, where there was plenty of sunshine, showed results that were difficult to obtain in sections more frequently visited by rain.

Back in New York, the Nestor Company of David Horsely was experiencing unending trouble. With a large payroll to meet, rain or shine, bad weather was eating up the profits.

The heads of the Nestor Company had heard of Hollywood. It was a pretty place. But the best feature was that a location for a studio probably could be obtained there for little or nothing.

Although today the industry looked upon by every citizen as the community's greatest asset, its entry into the town was not sought, and it was several years before the people awoke to the fact that the movies were making Hollywood, and the business became persona grata.

For years after their arrival, that is until the drawing power of the industry became obvious, the people of Hollywood were subjected to all manner of insults. And in the board of trade there arose many heated debates over the movies, but the business men favoring them finally won.

With the rise of freedom to power, the fame of Hollywood, which became a part of Los Angeles in 1910, but which never lost its individuality, spread. At the coming of the first studio in 1911 the population of the place was about 7,000. Today it is estimated at 125,000. There are 24 studios and 60 producing companies, employing 25,000 persons. The business represents an investment of $1,125,000,000.

WELWYN, Herts, Eng.—Women, because of their natural tendency to home-making, are better qualified than men to raise poultry, says Miss Harrison Bell, operator of the All-Women Chicken and Duck Farm.

As the name indicates, all work about the farm is done by women who are studying with a view of branching out for themselves as soon as they have graduated.

Poultry raising, in Miss Bell's opinion, is an ideal career for the out-of-door woman.

"Purina" Makes the Difference!

EQUAL in laying ability. But the hen on the right was fed a common grain ration while the other was fed Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow. Grains have lots of material for yolks, but far too little for whites. As they can't lay yolks only, grain-fed hens lay fewer eggs.

Purina Poultry Chows

form a complete ration, containing material for an equal number of whites and yolks. They get the most out of your hens, and cut the feeding cost per dozen eggs.

REHABILITATION OF THE TORNADO SWEEP AREA STILL UNDERWAY

Chicago.—The annual Red Cross roll call finds this organization just finishing its biggest disaster relief job of the year—in the section of Missouri, southern Illinois and Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, swept by the disastrous tornado of March 18.

Nearly two million dollars has been spent by the Red Cross in assisting the residents of the affected area to rehabilitate their communities, and a "back to school" campaign is now in progress.

One of the biggest problems is to overcome the fear of the children of even entering school buildings, from which so many of their playmates were taken out dead last spring. The least puff of wind unnerves them.

There still are 500 injured in need of medical attention, 266 of them at West Frankfort. It may be a year before some of these cases are completed.

Thousands of families have been assisted in restoring their homes and farm buildings, especially in the towns of Gorham and DeSoto, Ill., and Griffin, Ind., which were demolished by the storm.

COLD WINTER BRINGS DANGER TO THE INLAND COAST GUARD

Louisville, Ky. — Predictions of the coldest winter since 1918 brings no visions of cozy, ice-bound weeks to the crew of America's inland coast guard station, located on the Ohio river here.

Instead, they see a season of danger and struggle with the greatest of freshwater perils—the ice surge.

Since there are no more calls to rescue mariners adrift, but instead the sick calls for a small part of the maintenance work. He is forever engaged—two watches by day and two by night. There are a dozen duties each week.

There is the eternal "pulling" of quarters, equipment, and supplies, including everything from heating stoves and trees to covering of barges.

On the day in three weather belts with choppy ice the station and nearby, the big boat must not be too far from the shore. It would be a disaster when the gorges descend. No other winter boats on the gorge, but several are in north missing.

On the winter of 1918, for instance, explained W. T. Farrell, chief business manager and first in command here. "There had been nothing like it for so long nobody took the precautions they should, or took shelter in the boat canal. That is the worst ice harbor on the Ohio, and could accommodate every boat in the river district. It was more or less an accident that any vessels were saved.

Available dangers from the 1918 run into the millions. Many boats were dashed over the falls. The Princess and the Island Queen had worked up the Kentucky River. They had always been safe there, but this time a smaller gorge came down the Kentucky and pushed them out into the Ohio just in front of the big one.

The Princess was wrecked and sank. We got word to get a line to the Island Queen. We could never have done it, but her crew of 12 managed to get a line ashore at Eighteen Mile Island just as the gorge jammed for a few hours.

"By offering a good big sum the boat owners persuaded Captain E. T. Miller to risk his big Great Northern to bring in the one still afloat. In going out to the rescue, the Northern broke a passage through the ice so that we could get loose, and when she came back those who had no other, including a big wharfboat and the coast guard station, were ready for her to tow us into the ice harbor.

"But all of the shipping didn't get out. About 90 coal barges valued at $3,000 apiece went over the falls and only ten were saved. Besides these dozens of shantyboats, launches and freight boats were lost. Dams and piers were all knocked out. It was bad business."

ILL PRINCE CURED WHEN FORESTER POUNDS HIS BACK

Copenhagen.—King Christian of Denmark has a novel way of curing lumbago.

While he and King Gustaf of Sweden were hunting elk with Prince Charles, the latter suffered an attack. King Christian immediately ordered one of the foresters to hammer away with clenched fists at the small of the prince's back.

Prince Charles howled with pain, but after a drubbing lasting ten minutes admitted the lumbago had lifted.

"I had my revenge," said the prince. "I managed to pot two elk that day while Christian did not even get a chance of blazing away a single shot."

LOS ANGELES CHINATOWN TO GIVE WAY TO NEW BUILDINGS

Los Angeles.—Los Angeles' Chinatown and celebrated Plaza, each rich in colorful history of the early days, are facing destruction as the land of progress moves onward.

The two are within the forty blocks where $50,000,000 will be spent on a civic center and union railroad terminal, the plans for which call for demolition of virtually all buildings now standing in architectural design.

It was on the Plaza that the Mexican governor, Felipe De Neve, founded El Pueblo De Nuestra Señora De Reyna Lo Los Angeles September 4, 1781. It was the scene of the marriage of Pio Pico, California's famous Mexican governor.

Here it was that the official document was read naming Los Angeles instead of Monterey, the capital of the state. In 1843 a road-weary courier shouted from the Plaza that gold had been discovered in Northern California. Two days later, the dusty throat of California was choked with wealth seekers and only twelve persons were left here.

Life about the Plaza has not always been happy. Eighteen Chinese were hanged here in 1871 during a week of rioting.

Chinatown adjoining the Plaza, contains Ferguson's Alley, Apablaza and Marchessault streets, where young Chinese trade with tourists and old men sit silently puffing at long-stemmed pipes.

Ten years will be required to complete the reconstruction program, but already demands are being made to save the plaza. It appears certain, however, that the old tunnels and underground chambers, to which the Chinese settlers fled at any suspicion of recurrence of the massacre of 1871, must surrender to steam shovel the secrets they have hoarded for decades.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER MORTGAGE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage deed, executed and delivered by Lorenzo McLawhorn and wife, Susan E. McLawhorn to F. M. Wooten, bearing date May 15th, 1917, the said F. M. Wooten will expose to public sale before the court house door in Greenville, N. C. on Wednesday, December 23rd, 1925, at 12 o'clock M.

The following described real estate: Situated in North Carolina, Pitt county, and in the Town of Ayden; being lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, in Block F, as shown in the Plat of said Town, except that portion owned by the Town of Ayden, and on which the Town Hall stands. That portion which will be sold is described as three parcels:

PARCEL I. Bounded on the north by First Street, with the frontage thereon of 114 ft., on the west by a public alley, on the south by Parcel No. 11, on which the Wholesale Building occupied by Tyndall, Boyd and Strohd, and on the east by Railroad Street and being the same occupied by the Garage and Masonic Lodge.

PARCEL II. Bounded on the north by Parcel I, above described, on the west by a public alley, on the south by the said Town Hall, and on the east by Railroad Street, and is the same on which stands the building occupied by Tyndall, Boyd and Strohd.

PARCEL III. Bounded on the north by the said Town Hall, on the west by a public alley, on the south by the lot of S. A. Jenkins and on the east by Railroad Street; it being a vacant lot, and joint interest in the southern wall of Ayden Town Hall, and joint interest in the northern wall of S. A. Jenkins' Store.

Also all the right, title and interest of the estate of Lorenzo McLawhorn in the following described tracts of land, situate in said county, and state and in Winterville Township, and more definitely described as follows:

TRACT I. Is in two parcels: PARCEL I. Bounded on the south by McLawhorn's land and Jerome McLawhorn, on the west by Herman McLawhorn, on the north by Charles McLawhorn and E. E. Dail, and on the east by H. C. Beppard and Mr. B. T. Cox, and is known as the Lorenzo McLawhorn Home Farm, at Renston, containing 248 1-2 acres more or less.

PARCEL II. Adjoining the above described tract, or parcel, the lands of J. F. J. McLawhorn, W. L. Tripp and others, containing 186 acres, more or less.

TRACT II. An undivided one-half interest in that tract of land known as the Bowie, or Harrington Place, adjoining the lands of Frank McLawhorn, Jordan Nelson, Frank Dail, W. L. Tripp, Henry Braxton, J. L. Brown and others. This entire tract containing 291 acres, more or less.

The above described three parcels of farm land will be sold subject to a prior deed of trust thereon, to John A. Coke, Jr., and F. M. Wooten, trustees, to secure the payment of a debt to the Life Ins. Co. of Virginia, so it is the right, title and interest, only, of the estate of Lorenzo McLawhorn, deceased, therein, that will be sold.

For specific and detail description of the property herein described reference is made to that certain mortgage heretofore referred to, which is recorded in Book D-12, page 487, Pitt County Registry. Terms of sale CASH, at the expiration of the ten days allowed by law, for advanced bid. Ten per cent of the bid accepted on sale day must be deposited to make good bid.

This Nov. 21st, 1925. F. M. WOOTEN, Mortgagee.
