

AUTO ACCIDENTS TAKE HEAVY TOLL IN HUMAN LIVES

Figures Coming From Larger Cities Show Last Year's Toll Far Heavier Than That of Preceding Year

Chicago, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Automobiles took a far heavier toll in human lives in 1925 than in the preceding year, figures gathered by the Associated Press from a number of the larger cities indicate.

Many of the great metropolitan centers with a few notable exceptions were in the column of heavier fatalities while a number of the smaller cities reported a slight increase from 1924. In a group of representative American cities, 40 reported a heavier death toll for the year just ended, while in 20 the death list was approximately the same, where some were lower. In a number of the latter places however, there statistics did not cover the entire year.

Among the larger cities Chicago and suburb reported 787 deaths in 1925 against 703 in the previous year; in Philadelphia the fatality list jumped from 285 to 325; the increase in Detroit and vicinity was from 366 to 395, and Cleveland 185 to 205. Increases were also noted at Columbus, Toledo, Atlanta, Louisville, Birmingham, Boston, Memphis, Oklahoma City, Jersey City, Providence, Seattle, and Portland.

In New York City, St. Louis, Kansas City, figures for the two years virtually were the same, but the New York figures covered only the first ten months of each year. Fewer automobile deaths occurred in the nation's capital and in Pittsburgh, New Orleans, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

In the first ten months of 1925 there were 8100 deaths in New York City, against 808 for the same period in 1924.

Motion Picture Theatre Owners to Meet Jan. 15

Charlotte, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Theatrical men from every part of the state will attend the mid-winter meeting of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of North Carolina here January 15, those in charge announce.

The gathering will not be in the form of a convention, but more in the nature of a "get-together" affair about the banquet board. The place for the sessions has not yet been selected.

Approximately 175 leaders in the cinema world of the state are expected to attend. In addition to theatre owners, a large number of film exchange managers will attend.

The organization was founded 12 years ago, and in the past the custom of the body has been to hold an annual mid-winter session at Charlotte, and a mid-summer session at either Asheville or Wilmington.

Hilde Brand Mountain Is Burning Today

Connally Springs, N. C., Jan. 1.—(AP)—Hilde Brand Mountain, a few miles south of this place, was burning this morning after the fire had raged throughout the night. Smoke filled the country side between Connally Springs and Icard, and the odor of burning timber was strong.

Men were organized early this morning to fight the blaze, as it began to sweep into the valley below Hilde Brand Mountain. No estimate could be obtained as to the amount of damage, but much of the burning territory is virgin forest.

Most of the burned area belonged to John E. Coulter, of Connally Springs.

It is estimated that between three and five hundred acres of timber land have been stripped of its growth by the fire, and the damage has been roughly estimated at about $75,000.

By noon today the fire was actually under control.

MRS. A. HATHAWAY DIED LAST NIGHT

Mrs. Alice Hathaway, 62, died last night at 7:15 o'clock at her home in Dolvor Township near Gum Swamp. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon by Elder E. B. Joyner, with interment taking place in the Howell Bullock's burying ground.

Mrs. Hathaway had been in declining health for nearly two years. She possessed a host of friends and was popular throughout her community. Being a loyal member of the Gum Swamp Primitive Baptist Church, she was beloved by the entire membership and her passing has caused great sorrow.

Mrs. Hathaway is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. W. Joyner, of Tarboro, Route 4, one son, Mr. R. F. Butts, of Greenville, Route 6; two brothers, Messrs. Jonas Warren, of Farmville and George Warren, of Durham.

Heroes Selected to Be Carved on Stone Mountain

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—Alabama's five Confederate heroes, whose figures will be carved on the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial now under construction near Atlanta, have been selected by the Alabama Memorial Association, it was announced by that body following the recent conference held in Montgomery for that purpose.

Admiral Raphael Semmes, General Joseph Wheeler, Colonel John Pelham, Dr. Lafayette Guild, and General Henry De Lamar Clayton are the five Confederate heroes from Alabama who have been chosen.

The Association adopted a resolution requesting the Stone Mountain Memorial commission to place the figure of Emma Sanson, Confederate girl hero from Alabama, on the horse with General Nathan Forrest, noted cavalry leader, whose figure will appear leading the group of Tennessee heroes.

Emma Sanson won fame when she rode behind General Forrest while he was in pursuit of a Federal force, near Gadsden, and under fire pointed out the ford over Black Creek which the general used in pressing his offensive against the enemy.

ARTHUR BRISBANE

All find comfort in knowledge that more years are to come. Every man above a fish in mental rank should wish for a year of work that when his last day comes will help answer the question, "What'd'd you ever do worth while?"

Some day will come the last day of the last year of this earth. How many humans will be left then? Shall we then know that there are other years, millions of them, ahead of us on earth planets, in other solar systems? or shall we still wonder and shiver in superstitious terror, occasionally cutting each other's throats for the glory of our various gods, as human beings have done for the last ten thousand years and more?

The year ended peacefully, on the whole. France is worried about the "world empire" that Mussolini is supposed to plan. Italy fears that the fighting Turk who has stripped the veil from his women and drawn the sword may establish a sort of Monroe Doctrine control over the Balkans.

Off hand, that would sentence him to hell. But, when he once suggested ammonium chloride as a cure for lockjaw. He ate an ounce of the preparation every day for three days, risking his life to prove the doctors opposing his remedy were mistaken. As a result, Haldane has saved the lives of thousands of children.

If they have lawyers for the defense at the last trial, the angel defending Haldane should find useful material in the New Testament.

A Chicago poet, sick of his porcelain bath tubs and gilded radiators, that no longer satisfy his soul, is off to bury himself in the northern woods to live a man's life in the wilds.

Good luck to him, but he should think over Samuel Johnson's reply to a friend that asked him to walk in the country.

"Sir, when you have seen one green field, you have seen all the green fields. Let us take a walk down Fleet street."

The Democratic Party is worried, because John W. Davis, by hurt, the Democratic Party, for years, because John W. Davis, its most recent high comedy candidate for president, represents the telephone company in its effort to get rates twenty-five per cent higher, but that won't matter.

Now, Colonel John Mills, retiree takes more than that.

Britain is worried because she may have to fight Turkey to get oil that she wants.

Lloyd George's view that Turkey is "bluffing" is only partially comforting.

Britain as of old, has got the men, got the ships and get the money, too. But the men do not want to be conscripted. And the money knows by sad experience that it would be conscripted.

Otherwise, barring chronic fighting in China, wicked plans in Russia, bolshevik propaganda in India, and the Tacna-Arica row, which involves Uncle Sam, everything is serene.

The more earnestly you try to be a fundamentalist and believe that this world is only 6,000 years old, and was made—all furnished—in six days, the more scientists pick on you.

Now, Colonel John Mills, retired army engineer, tells you our earth was born following the rushing of two gigantic suns.

That collision provided heat for our sun, which is a million times as big as our earth, and this earth is one little fragment from the collision.

If W. J. Bryan were alive he would say, "You might as well say that two locomotives collided and produced a wheelbarrow," you really do not know what to believe.

When the Angel Gabriel reads his reports on judgment day a difficult question must be settled concerning J. B. S. Haldane, greatest of young British scientists, teacher of bio-chemistry at Cambridge University.

He has been dismissed in disgrace, convicted of "gross im-

GREAT PROGRESS PREDICTED FOR STATE THIS YEAR

Note of Bouyant Optimism for Increased Prosperity Sounded As New Year Comes In

Raleigh, Jan. 1.—(AP)—State department heads last night joined with Governor McLean in reviewing the past year as one of progress and achievement, and in predicting even greater progress and an increased prosperity for North Carolina during the year 1926.

New Year messages to the people of the state from the Chief Executive and the heads of the various state departments, differ, of course, in language and idea, but through them all runs a vein of gratification and pleasure over accomplishments of 1925 and a note of bouyant optimism for the year just ahead.

Almost without exception, they express confidence of a greater material growth and prosperity in 1926 than any ever experienced in the past by this state, and most of them are equally hopeful for progress in other than purely material lines.

The prophetic optimism of most of the department heads is based to a large extent upon their observations and experiences in their peculiar lines of work during the year 1925, and most of them review the work along their particular lines during the past year, and make some comment on what may reasonably be expected during the New Year. But the spirit of optimism runs through them all.

In North Carolina, progress and prosperity during the past year have been steady and permanent," declared Governor McLean. And he added that "the new year is pregnant with even greater possibilities. Wonderful possibilities present themselves on every hand."

"We can and must achieve greater results during the year 1926. We must go forward along every line of endeavor."

"But, with all the state's optimism, it must not forget to render humble thanks to the Giver of all Good for the manifold blessings we have enjoyed in the past, as well as the blessings we believe are in store for us in the near future."

JAMES J. WALKER BECOMES MAYOR NEW YORK TODAY

New York, Jan. 1.—(AP)—James J. Walker, former song writer and State Senator, and Tammany protégé of Governor Smith, became Mayor of New York today.

Thus for the first time in history Tammany controls both state and city governments at the same time.

Mayor Walker succeeds John F. Hylan, for eight years the storm center of metropolitan Democratic politics, who resigned a full day in advance of the end of his term to insure his pension rights.

Brogen Sworn In As Associate Justice Today

Raleigh, Jan. 1.—(AP)—William J. Brogden, of Durham, was sworn in as Associate Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court in the Supreme Court room by Chief Justice Stacy at noon today. Governor McLean sat with the court while Mr. Brogden took the oath of office. The ceremony was carried out with traditional dignity and solemnity and was witnessed by a round of state officers and Durham citizens that filled the Supreme Court room. Just as noon arrived the advance of the Supreme Court and Governor was heralded by the martial and barbarian of the court. The spectators stood as the Governor entered and court was opened. Mr. Brogden was then presented to the court and the Governor by Attorney General Brunmitt. After he repeated the oath, Jones Fuller, Durham attorney, and former law partner of the new Justice, praised Mr. Brogden in a short talk.

200 INJURED WHEN GRAND STAND COLLAPSES IN PASADENA, CAL.

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 1.—(AP)—200 men, women and children were injured today when a temporary grand stand, located on the corner of Colorado Boulevard and Madison Avenue collapsed. The grand stand had a seating capacity of 300 people and was crowded with spectators who were attending the "Tournament of Roses." The grand stand which was 30 rows high, each 75 feet long, swayed with its human load and collapsed into the street. Great confusion reigned among the hundreds of spectators who were on the street, witnessing the "Rose Parade."

Every taxi available was used in rushing the injured to the hospitals which were taxed to their capacity.

One woman was later reported killed.

NEW YEAR FINDS FORCES IN STRIKE STILL FAR APART

New York, Jan. 1.—(AP)—The Anthracite strike which began four months ago entered the new year with the contending forces still far apart.

The miners and operators after struggling for three days and nights, exhausted their argument last night in the endeavor to persuade each other to concede something, and send the workers back to the mine. A recess was declared until Tuesday in the hope that meanwhile something may develop to bring the two sides together.

Major W. W. Inglis, head of the operators group, left for Scranton, Penn., while John L. Lewis, president of the Miners Union, remained in New York. The miners made known that they would not confer during the recess. It is understood that the recess was desired by the operators. From this the inference was known that the representatives of the coal companies expected to confer before rejoining the miners in conference.

Elks Club Houses Raided Last Night

St. Louis, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Two officers and two other members of the Elks Lodge here are under bond on liquor charges and the club house may be padlocked as a result of a raid on the club last night by Federal Dry Agents, who seized liquor that had been stored away for a New Year's Eve party.

The Elks Club House, at Plattsburg, N. Y., was also raided last night by Federal agents, who seized a quantity of liquor and arrested the club steward.

Young Men Enter Old Established Insurance Agency

Mr. Julian J. White, son, and Mr. William W. Lee, son-in-law of Mr. H. A. White, have become associated with him in the insurance business and in the future will take an active part in conducting the business, under the firm name of H. A. White and Sons.

The insurance business was established in 1895 by Mr. H. A. White who has conducted it successfully ever since, and during which time it has grown to large proportions.

Both Mr. Julian White and Mr. W. W. Lee are young men of sterling character and are popular with all classes of people. They will bring added strength to the already well established business. Their friends wish for the new firm continued success and prosperity.

FALSE ALARMS RESULT DEATH THREE FIREMEN

Alarms in Lexington Believed to Have Been Turned in By Mid-Night Revelers

Lexington, N. C., Jan. 1.—(AP)—At 11 a. m. today the list of dead from the crash of the fire truck here shortly after midnight remained at three, but attending physicians hold out practically no hope for the recovery of Henry C. Gibson, who suffered a fractured skull, and other injuries.

Henry Yarborough, driver of the truck, also was in a critical condition, but was reported improved slightly. Officers were investigating the accident with a view of ascertaining who turned in the false alarm to which the men were answering when the truck overturned.

Lexington, N. C., Jan. 1.—(AP)—A false fire alarm supposedly turned in by some midnight reveler, was today held responsible for the death of three others.

Shortly before the New Year firemen and the injury of three was ushered in two alarms, later said to have been false, were reported and were followed shortly afterward by the accident which occurred when truck number two answering one of the calls struck an automobile and turned over three times. The dead are Douglas C. Cope, 50, Edward Cope, 25, Howard Michael 30.

The injured are Henry C. Gibson, Henry Yarborough, and Riley Cope.

Yarborough is believed to be fatally injured. Edward Cope and Riley Cope were sons of Douglas C. Cope.

The automobile struck by the truck was that of John H. Thompson, son of Lexington. He is not being held as officers declared the accident was unavoidable.

One Killed, Two Injured in Auto Accident Today

Rocky Mount, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Frank Belknap, 22, member of the Rocky Mount Fire Department, was killed and three other young men were injured when a small closed car in which they were riding left the Wilson-Selma highway late last night and crashed into a telephone pole. Belknap was instantly killed. The three other occupants, Herndon Perkins, Charles Dove, and Dorsey Battle, also of this section, were injured and taken to Wilson for hospital treatment. It was reported that the car went into a ditch while being passed by another machine. Belknap was driving at the time the accident occurred.

Science Looks to New Year for New Discoveries

Chicago, Jan. 1.—(AP)—A year of achievement behind the scientists look to 1926 as providing further opportunities to relieve suffering, combat disease, and throw light on hidden mysteries in medicine, history, biology, zoology, and kindred fields.

Discoveries of 1925 outlined in meetings of scientific bodies during the last phase of the year will be made the basis of the endeavor of 1926.

Among the findings were: Inheritance and race characteristics show manifestations in the blood in a discovery that may be of significance in law suits and cases of disputed parentage, by Dr. Lonie H. Snyder, North Carolina State College.

Durham to Have New Baseball Park Next Year

Durham, Jan. 1.—(H. N. S.)—Baseball fans who attend the opening game of the 1926 season will be received in a new baseball park.

Final plans for Durham's new athletic arena have been completed, according to information issued by W. H. Bown, president of the Durham Baseball Association.

THANKS

Greenville people are appreciative for the wonderful services rendered by the Washington and Farmville fire companies yesterday morning when a section of the business district of our city was swept by a $150,000 fire.

If these towns ever need our assistance we will gladly respond with our fire company or in any other way in which our services are needed.

Washington and Farmville, we thank you and congratulate you upon having such efficient and capable fire companies.

THE "NEW" YEAR

The New Year will be a repetition of old experiences, a re-enforcement of old laws, a reaffirmation of another common saying which is that human nature changes little and human relationships are much the same today as they were when the first philosophical writer first set his chisel to work on the stone tablets whereon were written the observations and records of that far-off time when the human race first began to discover the antiquity of the planet and the unswerving laws that govern it.

We enter upon the New Year, to be sure, but in it we shall be responsive to the same forces as heretofore. We will be rewarded as we put our selves into harmony with divine statutes and punished as we disregard them. There are but two lamps by which our feet may be guided, those of experience and conscience. If we profit by one and hearken to the other, we shall avoid many of the pitfalls that lie ahead; the same old pitfalls, in the same old places and hidden in the same old manner. If we play the game in accord with the rules laid down by that "still small warning voice within," we shall escape the old retributions for the same old errors that men and women has been making for thousands of years.

HOME INSTINCT STRONG AS EVER

Few men and fewer women begin life without the ambition to own a home of their own. A place which in mind at least is to be almost sacred. A castle protected by the law of the land safe from intrusion. Where the family is to be reared; to be adorned and beautified during the vigorous years of life and then truly a haven of refuge in the declining years.

Men and women are the same today as yesterday. Instincts are the same. Inherent qualities are not controlled by changed conditions. Modern life may suggest subterfuges for a home, may make the realization of the desire for a home difficult, but though the subterfuge triumph and the desire fail, the instinct though stifled is as strong as ever.

There are those who regret that the modern idea suggests placing the home secondary in importance in life. Why a castle, when theatres, dances, card parties and amusements in public places must be attended every night in the week? Too many consider the home with family prayers, family gatherings and a place which is considered habitable several evenings during the week, one which is presided over by some old fogey. The pendulum has swung forward and will swing back. There will come the time when the home owning and home loving instinct will prevail and the home be reinstated.

Love may teach him to forget, but alimony makes a man remember much.

Professional reformers think it is their business to keep humanity from reverting to type.

Raido Concert Given In Honor Dr. J. W. Wellons

Greensboro, Jan. 1.—(AP)—While Dr. John W. Wellons, Christian minister and active Chaplain of the Masonic and Eastern Star here was sleeping last night on the eve of his 100th birthday, Station KDKA at Pittsburgh was broadcasting a concert in his honor.
 Dr. Wellons retired at eight o'clock and the concert began an hour and a half later. The little Symphony orchestra from the Westinghouse Station presented a program rendering old numbers such as "The End of a Perfect Day," and "Happy Days Gone By." After each number the announcer said the program was in honor of Dr. Wellons. This morning Dr. Wellons motored from this city to Elon College where he delivered an address in the institution of which he is one of the founders. Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy in the Wilson Administration, was scheduled to present words of greeting during the exercises. Dr. Wellons is one of the oldest Masons in the United States.

 WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE DAILY REFLECTOR

 Washington, D. C.

ECONOMY PLUS SENTIMENT IS NATIONAL CAPITAL IDEA

Washington, Jan. 1.—"Save our feelings and your money at the same time!" is the plea of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia in their petition to Congress asking for the abolishing of capital punishment in Washington.
 The last Congress substituted electrocution for hanging in the National Capital, after 55 condemned persons had been executed on one scaffold in the old jail here. The old gallows—on which Giteau, the slayer of President Garfield, had been among the first to suffer death—was carried away so soon as the law was enacted last spring, but the Commissioners have delayed investing in an electric chair. They hope Congress will do away entirely with the death penalty.
 This would, of course, relieve the District of the necessity of providing such equipment—and the Commissioners would be saved the disagreeable task of going marketing for apparatus with which to put fellow beings to death. Such machinery is expensive, and it is a happy thought to plead economy in the matter at a time when government has settled itself down to spare operating costs as much as possible. So if the national legislators do away with capital punishment here, taxpayers will benefit as to pocketbook and the Commissioners with respect to harrowed feelings. Of course, too, there will be gain to certain felons.

"Well, we don't do so badly after all!" It was Rep. Green of Florida who thus shook hands with himself and his fellow members of Congress while discussing in a hotel lobby last evening the woes of the French republic. "Wonder how many of our constituents at home are watching this row across the sea and feeling glad that America is better governed."

Rep. Fear of Wisconsin nodded contentedly. "We do a lot of talking over on the Hill," he admitted, "and sometimes we call one another names before we get the country to running just to suit us, but all that is camp-meeting sweetness of temper to the way old world officialdom performs. They ought to watch us and learn real politics as Uncle Sam plays the game."
 Major Harry Hawes, a St. Louis Member of the House, shook his head. "You don't know those French people," he declared. "They expect a certain amount of fighting and they won't elect a man to another term in office if he hasn't about killed some of his brother job-holders over affairs of state. We couldn't get a re-election over there on our individual records. We're too peaceful."

Official Washington—executive, legislative, judicial and diplomatic—is deeply interested in political developments in the old world this winter, and especially are France and Germany being studied with concern. The former country will be much referred to in Congressional debate before the session ends, and not always, it may be prophesied, to the enthusiasm of French readers of American cable news.

The most popular auto parking place in all Washington is the region known as the Ellipse, which is a portion of Potomac Park, just south of the White House and north of the Washington monument. All day parking is permitted around the Ellipse, and there is continuous rivalry between federal employees on the one hand and business workers on the other as to who shall first pre-empt space there in the morning. Near by are the Treasury, the State and War and Navy departments, and several other government agencies, so that thousands of toilers in these government departments seek

FRANK WILSON TO CONDUCT JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

The January Clearance Sale of Frank Wilson, The King Clothier, will begin tomorrow, and continue for several days. In the sale Mr. Wilson is offering many valuable bargains in suits, overcoats and topcoats.

This sale is being conducted for the purpose of reducing the stock, in order to get down to the size stock where Mr. Wilson can adopt the new merchandising policy, which he expects to put on in the near future. The excess stock is being sold at attractive prices.

The new merchandising policy will enable Mr. Wilson to offer to the public a fine selection of goods and give him a quicker stock turn-over. Nothing was purchased for this sale. It is the regular stock of standard quality merchandise.

COLOR GRAVURE

A CORRECTION

It has been brought to our attention that in the account of the fire yesterday the statement, concerning the owners of the buildings in which Meseley Brothers Insurance Company and Home-Station Drug Company were located, was misleading. The building in which Meseley Brothers Insurance Company and the Postal Telegraph Company were located was the property of Mr. W. L. Patrick. The drug store building was owned by Mrs. Van Station. This is practically the way we expressed it except we combined the statement which left the impression with some people of a partnership. We also stated that the drug store belonged to Mr. Stator.

"HAWAIIAN NIGHTS," A ROAD SHOW, AT WHITE'S
If you like romance, if you want to laugh, if you enjoy the grace and rhythm embodied in dancing, and exquisite music, if you appreciate beautiful tropical scenery with moon light nights and fiery volcanoes, don't fail to see "Hawaiian Nights" which is to be presented in Greenville at White's Theatre today, matinee and night. Big New York show.

The "Hawaiian Nights" company is composed of eleven members, among whom are Emile Montrose, a most capable and versatile actress, Marjorie Chester, the beautiful titian haired ingenue, Kenneth Curry who made such a hit in "White Cargo," Raymond Cardwell of Metropolitan fame, and Robert Waleale and his melodic band of Hawaiian musicians and fascinating hula-hula dancers.

The play, written by that dean of playwrights, Lincoln Osborn, concerns the love of the beautiful Hawaiian girl for the American naval lieutenant who does not return her love as he dreams of the golden haired sweetheart he has left in the States, and whom he intends to marry. How the Hawaiian girl finally triumphs and then in her hour of victory commits the sacrifice which proves her love, is told in stirring lines of purest comedy and deepest pathos with brilliant acting and exquisite music and dancing and singing interspersed throughout the play. This production is playing larger cities such as Columbia, Charlotte and etc. The music, singing, and dancing are of the best.

SOME ANCIENT RESOLUTIONS

A New Year's Meditation (By Rev. C. J. Harris)

Abram. "And Abram took Sarah his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, . . . and they went forth to go into the land of Canaan."

Moses. "And Jehovah said unto Moses in Midian, Go, return into Egypt. . . . And Moses took his wife and sons, . . . and he returned to the land of Egypt; and Moses took the rod of God in his hand."

Paul. "But one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the thing which is before, I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Though we may come short this year and next, we must be sure that each year has added to our strength, and that for the coming one we have a higher goal than we had in the past. Our lives should show a growth in character. Each new year should be a promise of greater deeds than ever before, even though our resolutions be the same as always: This year I will put myself in God's hands to use as He will, and I will do my best at the task assigned me, for this year I am stronger for having used my talents last year.

The New Year is a tale to write. Upon a page, new-turned and white.

The New Year is a song to sing. A score set to each soul's harp-string.

The New Year is a garden plot. Where we may grow good seed or not.

The New Year is the house we build. With daily deeds its growth fulfill.

The New Year is a call to aid Our brothers who are tired, afraid.

The New Year is another chance To fill life's ruts or to advance.

A happy New Year to all, with the glad anthem, "Praise ye the Lord."

RED OAK NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Tyson were given a complete surprise during the Christmas holidays when all of their married children and families met at the old home to spend Sunday, December 20th.

The first child married about fourteen years ago and since that time there has never been a time when all the children and parents were together. The children each carried a regular feast with them and when it was spread upon the table and upon everything else convenient in the dining room it looked as though prepared for a king. They also carried Mrs. Tyson her Christmas presents and they were put on a table next to the dining table.

After dinner was enjoyed we went to the living room and sang songs and had a general good time. These presents were Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Tyson and children, Dorothy Raymond, and Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman Allen and children, Graham and Marjorie Dean; Mr. and Mrs. Kid Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. Perene Tyson and daughter, Betty Sue; Miss Charlotte Tyson and Miss Em Joyner of Greenville.

Everyone departed late in the afternoon declaring they had spent a most enjoyable day.

Miss Emma Nichols of Arthur visited Miss Charlotte Tyson during the holidays.

Miss Lula Harrington spent last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Stewart of New Bern spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Timberlake.

Miss Naomi James, of Liberty, N. C. spent the Christmas holidays with Miss Louise Stokes.

Mr. Shellie Nichols of Wilson visited in our community recently.

Mrs. Alice Phillips of Simpson, Mr. Leon Fornes and Miss Gray visited Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stokes Sunday.

Miss Pattie Jenkins, who is teaching in Raleigh, Mr. Berry Jenkins, who is attending school at A. & E. College, visited at the homes of their sisters, Mrs. James Allen and Mrs. B. L.

QUICK SETTLEMENT
Mr. H. A. White, Agent, Greenville, N. C.

Tyson during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazel James and children of Liberty, N. C., spent Christmas with Mrs. James' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Vainright.

Miss Irma Nichols and Allen Perry of Arthur, Shellie Nichols of Wilson, Miss Naomi James of Liberty, Misses Louise Stokes, Elizabeth Allen, Lila May Forbes, Chester Allen, Linda Stokes, Hubert Crawford visited Mrs. Charlotte Tyson Christmas night. Piano and Victrola music was enjoyed throughout the evening.

Miss Helen Alexandria of Roper has returned to assume her duties at Frog Level School.

Miss Edna Faris and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Glenn of Prospect, Va., have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Corey.

Mr. and Mrs. Perene Tyson spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nichols in Arthur.

The Christmas tree exercises given at Red Oak was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The many friends of Mr. J. J. May will be sorry to learn that he is very ill at his home. We wish for Mr. May a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins and children visited in our community during the holidays.

The only accident that happened in our community during Christmas happened to little Joseph Tyson. He fell in the fire and burned one of his legs. He is getting along as well as could be expected, though.

What's the Difference in Mule Feed?

IT'S not the amount of feed you give your mules but the kind. Just a monotonous diet of corn, oats with hay fails to supply work animals with a sufficient variety of diet to keep them in good shape. Mules fed in this fashion get plenty "to fill 'em up."

Picture yourself sitting down to meals of bread and water. You would soon lose your health. If you could have plenty of good meat, and fresh vegetables, your health would soon come back.

You don't need as big a bucket to measure out a feed of O-Molene as you do for a feed of corn and oats. It takes much less O-Molene.

O-Molene contains the variety of foodstuffs necessary to keep mules in perfect condition. You get more work from them. Mules like O-Molene because it is made exceedingly appetizing by a special process of crushing the select grains. O-Molene is being used by many of the largest mule owners in the country, because it is the cheapest in the long run.

ANNOUNCEMENT

It has been the policy of this Association since it first began operations to offer to the public, shares in a new Series every six months. The Series have been opened on the first Saturday in May and November of each and every year.

In order to meet the ever increasing demand for shares in this Association the Board of Directors have authorized its officers to open a new Series every three months. This will make it possible for the public to acquire shares more frequently, and eliminates the necessity of making large back payments by those that do not enter on the day a Series is opened.

We therefore take pleasure in announcing that from this date forward, we will open a new Series on the

1ST SATURDAY IN FEBRUARY

1ST SATURDAY IN MAY

1ST SATURDAY IN AUGUST

1ST SATURDAY IN NOVEMBER

EACH YEAR

The Board of Directors have also authorized the issuance of new forms of Shares. In the future we will offer Shares in each Series, as follows:

12 1-2c--25c and 50c Weekly Payments

12 1-2c Weekly Matures $100.00 in About 11 1-2 Years

25c Weekly Matures $100.00 in About 6 1-3 Years

50c Weekly Matures $100.00 in About 3 1-2 Years

PAID-UP-SHARES PAY 5 PER CENT PER ANNUM, PAYABLE BY CHECK FIRST DAY OF JANUARY AND JULY

By offering this variety of Shares we are enabled to meet the needs of any investor or borrower. We will be pleased to explain any and everything concerning Building and Loan operations to inquirers. Come to see us, or write.
