Bowman was brought into court yesterday afternoon after three months confinement in the county jail since his case was continued from the November term of court.

Music in U. S. Is Hampered By Foreign Lan.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—(I.N.S.)—Patrons of opera in America, who spend more real money for opera than all the rest of the world combined, should now arise and demand that opera be sung in the English language.

"How are we ever going to have a national music if we accept the dictum that our own language is not good enough to sing in?" declared Mr. Gulbransen.

"Music generally in America is hampered by this slavish attitude. How unnecessary it is for us to consider the English-speaking races inferior in music is shown by the long roll of our native opera stars who have fought their way to recognition with the handicap of learning three foreign languages."

JUDGE SAYS PROWLER IS ENTITLED TO BE SHOT

Chicago, Feb. 2.—(I.N.S.)—Investigators for civic crime agencies who invade homes in search of evidence were branded "prowlers with right to kick if shot."

"I wonder how men like you get by without getting shot," said the Commissioner to Oswald Thompson and Walter M. Scott.

The two investigators, it was testified, had torn up the Shaw home in a search for liquor.

Hono'ulu, Feb. 2.—(I.N.S.)—The U. S. S. Discoverer, of the coast and geodetic survey, has arrived in Hawaiian waters to conduct hydrographic studies.

The proposed survey off the island of Kauai is considered by the local shopping men as of special importance due to the fact that this area lies in the path of vessels traveling between here and the Orient and a number of shoals and rocks are known to be in the vicinity to be studied.

HOUSE OVER RIDES ATTACKS COOLIDGE ITS APPROPRIATION CLAIM OF ECONOMY COMMITTEE TODAY GOVERNMENT COST

The Annual Agriculture Representative Byrns, Ranking Democrat, Declares Expenses of Government Are Steadily Increasing

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—An attack upon President Coolidge's claim of economy in government cost was made in the House today by Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, ranking Democrat on the House Appropriation Committee.

Referring to the President's address before the semi-annual business meeting of government employees Mr. Byrns said the President again compared the estimated expenditures for 1926 with the actual expenditures for 1921 rather than 1925.

The proposal sponsored by Representative Jones, Democrat, of Texas, was supported by practically the entire Democratic delegation and a number of Republicans.

Blame Bad Temper for Bad Stomach

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—(I.N.S.)—Control your temper and your stomach won't control you.

Three words were uttered by Dr. William J. Hassler, city health officer, in endorsing the views held by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner of Chicago, who contends that people who have no self-control are headed for chronic gastritis, dyspepsia and similar stomach ailments.

"Most people think that their irritability is a result of indigestion," Dr. Hassler declared. "It is, in fact, just the other way around. Their indigestion is due, secondarily, at least, to their mental irritation."

While disease of some similar affection may be the primary cause of indigestion and similar common ailments, Dr. Hassler pointed out, the secondary cause is an upset mental condition.

"Bad tempers are responsible for a great deal of the nausea from which so many people suffer," Dr. Hassler agreed in commenting on the Chicago health commissioner's statement.

"Lack of self-control and bad temper are always accompanied by a mental disturbance which has been found to be one of the most important causes of chronic gastritis," Dr. Hassler declared.

In conclusion, Dr. Hassler pointed out the happily disposed person, the controlled temperament, the calm, considerate and capable person as the type which rarely suffers from stomach trouble.

SENATE PLUNGES INTO LONG SESSION SENATOR SMITH HASTEN TAX VOTE OF SHOALS BILL

Speeding Up Process Planned in Face of Warning "That Steam Roller Methods Will Not Get You Anywhere"

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Senate today plunged into a six-hour session in an effort to hasten consideration of the income tax reduction bill and thus make sure a final vote before the week-end.

The executive process was planned in the face of a warning by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, leader of the opposition that "steam roller methods will not get you anywhere."

Although Republican and Democratic regulars on the Finance Committee have compromised their differences on the surtax schedule which call for a reduction of the maximum rate from 40 to 20 percent, some opposition has developed. Senate Democrats have accepted the maximum rate upon a further reduction in the surtax to apply to incomes between $24,000 and $60,000 which would cut the revenue by $23,000,000 above that provided in the House bill.

Renewing his debate of two years ago with Secretary Mellon on the surtax rate, Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, yesterday declared the figures obtained by the special committee which investigated the Internal Revenue Bureau "dispelled the fallacy of argument" that the high surtax rate was responsible for the investments in tax exempt securities.

Senator Norris also attacked Secretary Mellon charging that four Pittsburgh banking firms, in which the cabinet member was interested, had filed consolidated tax returns. He said the firms thus saved $21,000 in taxes, and one of the Treasury investigators has ruled such consolidation not legal.

Action of the banks was defended by Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, who said he was a director in the firms. He contended that the instance was the "perfect example of what the law extended" while Senator Norris declared it showed the need of more publicity on the proceedings in the Treasury.

Keep Maiden Name Urges French Women

Paris, Feb. 2.—"Every woman ought to belong to the Lucy Stone League," declares Yvonne Netter, one of France's best woman lawyers, "especially if she is in business or ever intends to go into it."

In France the wife has the legal right to keep her maiden name after marriage. No law compels her to take that of her husband and it would be much better if all women knew this and acted accordingly, is what the French woman lawyer thinks. The name of the husband has never been that of the wife and she has to submit to sufficient humility and inferiority in face of the law without adding this one to her account.

French women are still very much under their masters' thumbs. Their property and possessions are automatically given over to the husband upon marriage and the wife can neither buy, sell, nor acquire what she wants without his authorization.

Bill Provides for Distribution of Power in Neighboring States and Other Measures

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee was notified today by Senator Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina, that he would call up his Muscle Shoals bill before executive session tomorrow and urge its adoption by the committee.

The committee previously had agreed to vote on the resolution tomorrow and Senator Hollis, Democrat, Alabama, declared he would make a point of order against the Smith move and insist on the vote.

The Smith bill would provide for the distribution of power in the neighboring states and experimentation on a large scale in process of producing nitrogen.

Machine to Read the Hair, Maybe

Boston, Feb. 2.—(I. N. S.)—A machine that reads the hair may eventually replace the Bertillon system of detecting criminals by finger prints.

Arthur Druff, New York scientist, told the convention of New England Ladies' Hairdressers of the invention.

The machine, he said, is known as the meter reader. At present it is used to test hair for permanent waving. The process requires considerable trial and error. Testing samples are partly chemical and wholly physical and sometimes require from three to four tests for proper results.

No Report From the Coast Guard Cutter Modoz

Wilmington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—No report had been received today from the Coast Guard cutter Modoz, which left port here Sunday to search for four men missing with two barges. The barges broke away off the South Carolina coast during the Atlantic storm at the end of last week with four men aboard. The tug put here and reorted the loss and the Modoz took up the search for the men and barges.

WORST BOOKS

Interesting, perhaps, but far from conclusive will be the results of the questionnaire of the New York public library on "the ten worst books" of the year.

Determination of the "ten best sellers" is possible without chance of error, and it is within the power of any library to ascertain which volumes are most in demand or which class of literature is most popular. These are matters of record.

One might readily designate the ten "worst sellers," but who will make so bold as to decide for another which are the worst publications of the year? On nothing do opinion differ more than on literature, and the standards by which books may be judged are as many as there are readers.

Popularity is not a measure of literary worth. Many best sellers are not deserving of the name literature. Imperishable literature enjoys the least contemporary favor. With rare exceptions popularity is proof of a book's unworthiness.

If great harm is not to be wrought, the quest for the "ten worst books" should classify the answers according to the occupation, age and cultural standing of the persons submitting them. Far more interesting than a symposium of opinions on the "ten worst books" would be a classification of the authors of those opinions.

HOW WE LOVE A MYTH!

The written records of that part of the world subject to cold and snow invariably disclose, as far back as we may proceed in them, that the periods of the year now designated as February and March have considerable of winter in them. February is treated distinctly as a winter month, and March, although classified as a spring month, is one of the stock illustrations of whimsicality, frequently with great suddenness running from the extreme of placid summer-like weather to snow storms and freezing cold.

Yet because of a myth started so many centuries ago little is known of its origin we every year at this period go through the form of consulting a groundhog—in Germany it is a badger—to find whether winter is to end now or whether we are to have six more weeks of it. This has been engrafted upon Candlemass Day, February 2nd, at one time extensively observed as a religious holiday. The saying is that if the groundhog or the badger sees his shadow on February 2nd, there will be six more weeks of winter, but that if he is unable to see it, then the end of winter is at hand.

If Candlemass day be dry and fair,
The half o' winter's to come and mair;
If Candlemass day be wet and foul,
The half o' winter's gane at Yule.

How we do love our myths!
And yet there are some who think they can banish Santa Claus.

My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. "My side hurt less and I began to improve in health... 303 Fires Were Reported in State During December

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—(AP)—There were more fires reported in North Carolina during the month of December than in any single month in the history of the State Department of Insurance, and December was the first month since December, 1923, when the fire loss exceeded $1,000,000, it is shown by the monthly report of the department made public today.

A total of 303 fires were reported during December, with a loss for the month of $1,339,854. The value of the property at risk was $5,059,206, and the insurance involved, $2,824,139.

Last month's fire loss slightly exceeded that of December, 1923, when the loss was $1,334,763, or about $5,000 less. The other month when the fire losses exceeded a million dollars was December 1922, when the loss was $3,022,000. But approximately $2,000,000 of this was the result of the New Bern conflagration.

Today's report indicates that Insurance Commissioner Stacey W. Wade's earlier estimate of the December fire loss was approximately correct. After the "week's holocaust" between Christmas and January 1, Mr. Wade estimated that the month's losses would total about one-half million dollars. Of the total number of fires during December, 294 were in dwellings, with a total loss of $1,111,623, or an average of about $500 per fire. The remaining 99 fires were in business, church, factory, school, and other buildings, with a total loss of $1,288,231, or an average loss of about $13,000 per fire.

Losses in 24 of the fires ran

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This Greenville Woman Who Tells Her Experience.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for their backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Greenville case is one of many:

Mrs. M. Fleming, 293-10th St. says: "I couldn't bear to be on my feet long as darting pains thru my back almost drove me wild. A dull misery in my kidneys took all my strength. If I turned quickly, sharp pains shot from my back clear up to my head and spoke floated before my eyes. My kidneys acted frequently so it was painful to walk. I used Doan's Pills until I was entirely cured." Get at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

New Method Quickly Banishes Heavy Coughs

Why be annoyed and weakened by persistent, strength-sapping coughing spells when you can, through a very simple treatment, quickly stop all irritation and very often banish the trouble entirely in 24 hours?

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. Thus, with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

A MISTAKE IN NAMES

It has been called to our attention that in the account of the banquet given by the Fair Association, and which appeared in our paper a few days ago, the writer stated that Mrs. W. E. Hooker made a talk, when it should have been Mrs. T. E. Hooker, superintendent of the Art department.

"BOHEMIAN GIRL" ADVANCE SALE OPENS WEDNESDAY

The interest shown by the music lovers of Greenville is very noticeable in intense enthusiasm with which the appearance here of this popular opera is being received. Manager Marcus feels confident a capacity business will greet Miss Valentine and her excellent organization, when they appear Friday night especially inasmuch as his efforts to arrange the very lowest prices obtainable on such an organization, were finally agreed to. When one stops to consider a production of such magnitude, presenting an all-star cast of principals, orchestra of symphonic players—and one of the greatest singing choruses ever brought to this city, it is not hard to understand the conviction of the knowing ones. Miss Valentine will personally conduct. The scale of agreed prices range from two dollars down.

May Valentine, who is bringing "Bohemian Girl" to this city on Friday, February 5th, to White's Theatre, points with pride to the number of college fraternities and sororities that are represented among her co-workers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our many thanks and appreciation for the kindnesses and sympathy shown us at the time of the death of our son and brother, Mr. Daniel Lee Jones. Our sorrow for the past several weeks has been heavy to bear and your kindnesses have helped us in our darkest hours. May God bless each of you. —Mrs. Mary Jones and Family

DEMONSTRATING PRACTICAL FARM METHODS NOW

Chicago, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, the man who overturned precedent by declining the vice-presidential nomination after he had been formally chosen by his party and who is leading a movement for an export corporation for disposal of crop surpluses, actually a dirt farmer.

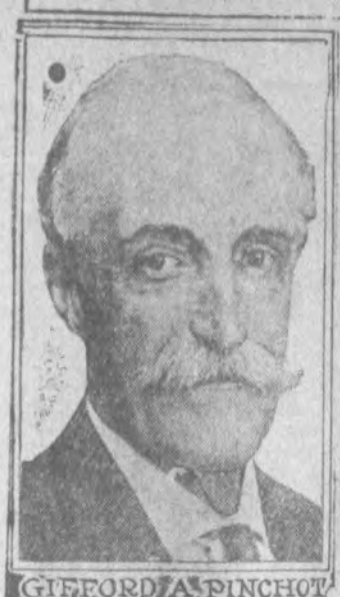

Mississippi Farm, which spreads its broad expanse of 4,500 acres along the Rock River near Oregon, Ill., 99 miles northwest of Chicago, in his only home and has been for a quarter of a century. The farm is divided into eleven units, ten of them filled by share croppers, or, as the former governor terms them, partners. The eleventh unit, a full section of 640 acres, is the "home place" and it is there that Mr. Lowden actually puts into practice his theories of practical farming, while, at the same time, acting as general overseer of the other ten units.

There is a four-room office building, with two clerks on the "home place" but management of the property finds the former governor most every day in the open, usually astride a rather spirited horse as he directs the harvesting, plowing, feeding and milking.

One-third the acreage is under cultivation, a second 1,500 acres is devoted to pastures and the remainder is in wooded upland, corn, oats, barley, rye and alfalfa make up the Mississippi crops, but because of development of the farm's dairy herds little is left for marketing.

Distributed among the eleven farm units are 350 Holstein-Friesian, an milch cows. Six of the units are stocked with full blooded, registered cows, while the other five units operate with "grade" cattle, cross breeds, MWYWP, NXP, NXP cross-breeds, although the percentage of pure blood is high. On the "home place" Mr. Lowden has nearly fifty purebred Holstein Friesians, and space is being provided for additions.

BRAND'S HAIRCUTS PRESAGE A RETURN TO PREMIERSHIP

Paris, Feb. 2.—(AP)—When-couch Aristide Briand of France gets one of his not too frequent haircuts, a whispered rumor immediately goes the rounds of the Senate and Chamber lobbies: "Do you see him? He's had his hair cut! Look out for a cabinet crisis within the next couple of days! The Old Man is coming back to power!"

For, as a matter of fact, each summons that the veteran statesman has had to the Elysee to be charged with forming a government—and he has done this eight times—has been preceded by a visit to the barber.

Just before his last accession to the premiership, he had declined M. Doumergue's offer and for the first time in parliamentary history had gone to the Elysee with his bushy hair sticking out on all sides from below his derby. He was sitting in his office at the Quai D'Orsay, when M. Philippe Berthot, director of the Foreign Office, entered with some papers.

At that moment M. Bethelot's barber was announced and the director generously offered to let his chief have first call on the hairdresser's services.

"Not on your life!" Briand replied. "I've just declined the premiership, and Herriot is now having his troubles trying to form a ministry. If I get my hair cut, they'll say I'm trying to torpedo him!"

But in view of the fact that he had to go to London for the solemn signing of the Locarno agreements, Briand relented, and went under the shears. In a few hours' time, M. Herriot had failed to compose a ministry, and M. Briand was back in power.

JAPAN'S FIRST BAD GUN BANDIT IS BEHIND BARS

Tokyo Police Breathe Sigh Of Relief As Spectacular Man Hunt Is Ended; Murders and Robberies In All Parts Of Country Laid To Onishi, Crime Wizard.

(By Luther A. Huston) L.N.S. Staff Cor.

Tokyo, Feb. 2.—Numerous high officials and the general public of Japan are breathing easier, now that Seijiro Onishi is behind the bars. And the police departments of Tokyo, Osaka, Kobe and other cities are enjoying a soul-satisfying last laugh.

The capture of Onishi ended the most prolonged and spectacular man-hunt in recent annals of Japanese criminality. For more than two months Onishi flitted around Japan, literally thumbing his nose at the police department and sending from time to time insulting notes telling the police how stupid he thought they were. During this same period he committed a half-dozen robberies and one murder, all of which added to the agitation of the police and the apprehensions of the populace.

His First Murder

The search for Onishi began last October when he shot to death a school-master, whom he was attempting to rob and stabbed to death a policeman who sought to arrest him. These crimes occurred at Shinagawa, a suburb of Tokyo, and shocked the entire country. Although the police were camping close on his trail, Onishi spent nearly a month thereafter in the vicinity of Tokyo, committing numerous spectacular robberies.

When the chase around Tokyo became too hot, Onishi stole 100 yen from a priest at Horoin Temple and went to Osaka, signalling his arrival in that city by breaking into a restaurant and stabbing to death a waitress who tried to raise an alarm. Two days after he robbed another temple and escaped to Manchuria where, it is alleged, he robbed the homes of several wealthy Chinese.

Gunmen Are Rare

Murders and robberies with a gun are extremely rare in Japan. The customary weapon for crimes of violence is the dagger and a bad, bold gun-man like Onishi was something entirely new. The inherent fear of the Japanese for a gun undoubtedly is one reason why Onishi was able for so long to "get away with it."

Onishi also was responsible for the breaking of another precedent—when news of his capture at Kobe was flashed to Tokyo, the newspapers issued extras which was the first time that Japanese newspapers ever put out extra editions on crime stories.

The capture of the gun-man cost the police about $60,000. But the police, remembering those insulting notes and harassed days and nights, will tell you it was worth it.

"Viewing With Alarm" Not New, Says N. C. Paper

Moultrie, Ga., Feb. 2.—(I. N. S.)—Folks who criticize newspapers for printing crime news, and other "destructive" news, are not as modern as they think.

"Citizens of North Carolina, nearly a hundred years ago, were viewing with alarm" the tendency of newspapers to be "sensational," according to a copy of the Western Carolinian, published in 1835, owned by R. W. Stewart of Moultrie. The paper, yellow with age, also reveals that another political burlesque which many politicians consider of the present era had an echo a century back. Washington dispatches to the Carolinian quote political leaders of the day as decrying the tendency to "centralize too much government authority in Washington."

"I believe the voters of this sovereign state will show Andrew Jackson and Van Buren that we don't need their advice as to whom we elect to office," asserts one statesman in the columns of the paper.

One of the most interesting articles in the paper is the report of George Townsley, who had just returned from Texas, where he had been sent by a group of Greene County citizens, to investigate the country, and make recommendations with regard to their migrating to the new country.

Texas, then a vassal of Mexico, was described by Townsley in detail, with considerable attention to a form of "trial marriage" then in vogue there.

Describing the government of the Lone Star State, he said:

"The government is very unsettled, there being continued broils and disturbances, and not merely of words, as in the United States, but of blows, knives and guns, and the victors in these fights run their communities."

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By ETHEL MARSHALL, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent. London, Feb. 2.—It is now that the debutantes of the coming London season are beginning to find their feet in the social world, and present tendencies suggest that the Courts will be very brisk and bright affairs—if the young people have anything to do with it.

Most of the parties given during the next few weeks will be to enable the budding "debs" to make acquaintances which will be useful later—and also to add to the number of those who act as dancing partners and escorts at the big functions which are to come. They are having their revenge on the young married set and the debutantes who monopolized most of the attention during the last season. The younger people are of paramount importance at the moment, and they are making the most of this while it lasts does not seem to be languishing.

Among the prospective American "debs" who are already in town are Miss Sheila Bedford, of New York, who is staying at the Savoy, Miss Ruth Morehead, of New York, and Miss Alice Payne, of Washington, who is at the Berkeley. Miss Alice Emery, of Chicago, Miss Rosalind Boyer of New York, Miss Muriel Hill, of Boston who are staying with friends in London. Many more American girls will be making their preliminary entrance into London society during the next few weeks, and promising parties for them.

Now that nights are too cold for treasure hunts or for playing at "Night-time Days" the Bright Young People of London are spending their surplus energy by playing indoor games, even dancing has accumulated recently to the childish delights of hide-and-seek, only now they call it "Sardines" because every seeker on finding the hider attempts to hide as well in the same place, however restricted space may be.

Trust the Bright Young People, however, to find a new game with a tinge of originality. They call this game, "Are you engaged?" Prince Henry played it until four o'clock the other morning at the big private party which was given at the Savoy by the Montbattens. First of all the room is cleared of the guests except three people, one of these being a guest who knows the rules of the game,—we will call him the impresario—and the other two being a man and a woman,—but the latter must not be married or engaged to each other. "Imagine you are an engaged couple," says the impresario to the pair, "and imagine you really were engaged."

Having settled them into an "engaged" attitude, the impresario goes to the door, and brings in a man, who, on seeing two people whom he had not linked together before, in a somewhat affectionate attitude is not unnaturally surprised. "How would you sit, if you were an engaged young man?" Asked the impresario of the last corner. "Can you improve on that * * *?" And so the game goes on, a man and a woman being let into the room alternatively, each discarded over joining the gradually growing audience in the drawing room.

It sounds interesting, doesn't it. But it is also highly proper. The masked balls of the new season are truly masked. No longer may the beautifuls pretend to conceal their identity with a strip of black silk. If the invitation be for a masked ball you must appear with a mask which gives you a new identity—cunningly shaped and fitted mask like those used by the actors in the Greek plays now being presented at a London theatre. One of the first, and most successful of the "character balls" was one given by Mrs. Henry Longman, of Washington. She stipulated that her guests should adopt character masks from the famous operas.
