Ayden College Glee Club Gives Fine Program

Last Sunday evening the service at the Free Will Baptist Church here was in charge of the Glee Club from Ayden College led by Rev. H. F. Pittman. A most delightful program of songs was rendered in the presence of an overflowing congregation...

President R. B. Spencer of the College was the speaker of the evening, bringing a splendid message on "God's Purpose in Giving Man An Intellect." Taking his text from the words in Genesis 1: "And God Gave Him Dominion"...

"We have always needed Christian education," said the speaker, "but these little boys and girls who are to shoulder the responsibilities of the future, in an age when many minds are being trained to run wild, will need it far more than we have needed it."

At the close of the service the pastor presented to the church the proposition of finishing one of the class rooms in the new college building at Ayden as a memorial to the local church. The suggestion met with a ready response...

Gen. Pershing Proceeding to Washington

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 10.—(AP)—General John J. Pershing passed through here at 10:15 this morning. The condition of the Commander of the American Expeditionary Forces is serious but not alarming, was the word given out when the Havannah Special, 25 minutes late, made a three minute stop. General Pershing rested well during the night. He will proceed direct to Washington.

TODAY

(Copyright, 1925) Shopping In Millions. What Crokers Borrowed. Not Lost, Misplaced. Mussolini Thunders. ARTHUR BRISANE

High finance goes shopping. In these days of powerful credit, and big industrial units, on a wholesale scale.

All records for "cash buying" were broken in the purchase of "Associated Oil" control for $165,000,000 CASH. That's a sum equal to "the great fortune of the Rothschilds—now small change for Ford or Rockefeller."

Gold that brought the Forty-Niners to California, represents a small part of the state's wealth. Besides "associated oil" there are many California oil companies. If the right "to control," or a little more than half of them is worth one hundred and sixty five millions, how much must all the oil of California be worth?

Investigating brokers' loans in New York shows $8,513,174,154 borrowed by the brokers to "carry" stocks for their customers, "on margin."

Three thousand five hundred and thirteen million dollars is a large sum.

But it is small compared with this country's total wealth. The brokers' borrowing was used vainly by the bears in an effort to injure stock prices. The three and a half billions represent only six per cent of total stock values, listed on the exchange.

This is no time to "sell short" in this country. BUT DON'T GAMBLE. That always ends badly.

Mrs. George says, "The world is losing its ideals, liberalism through the whole world has fallen on evil days."

In Italy he saw newspapers suppressed, men elected, then thrown out of office by force, but says he, the Italian people like it and prosper under it.

"Italy is prospering, mills and factories are throbbing with life, new works are springing up everywhere, old industries are reviving."

The world has often seemed "to lose its ideals," when it has only mislaid them, temporarily. A respectable gentleman in a rough and tumble fight, rolling into the gutter, loses his dignity as he straightens out his collar, necktie, etc.

But he is alright after awhile. The nations of Europe have been rolling in the gutter, cutting each others throats, now a reversion to tourism and dictatorship is the order of the day.

Nations and individuals all return gradually to old ways of thinking, and living.

Mussolini, shaking his fist at Germany, tells the Italian parliament, "we are not afraid and won't bug an inch from our policy."

This threat refers to trouble about the Brenner Pass in the Tyrol.

Mussolini says Italy's flag shall stay there, and if necessary he will carry it forward into German territory.

Italy's deputies, delighted, greeted Mussolini with thunders of applause and "long live the duce."

That's Germany's business and Italy's not ours. But it may BECOME our business, now that we are in the World Court.

European nations want peace as we do, and hope to maintain it. But any one of them is ready to go to war under certain conditions. War questions would go before the World Court. We are IN the court, and shall not know until the time comes what may be expected of us.

You may say "we are not COMPELLED to do anything. That's true, perhaps. But we may reach a decision that will offend Europe. Then Europe, could and probably would say "In view of this distasteful action by the United States, we decline to pay our debts."

Give Europe an excuse, or what she would consider GOOD REASON for such a statement, and see what happens.

Public ownership is a fine scheme if they ever find out just who the "public" is.—Little Rock Democrat.

MERCHANTS ASS'N. IN ANNUAL MEET HERE LAST NIGHT

Session Featured by Election of Officers and Talk By N. G. Bartlett

The annual meeting of the Greenville Merchants Association was held last night in the city hall offices with a goodly number of the membership in attendance. There were several matters of vital importance to the Association presented, all of which were disposed of to the betterment of the organization.

Mr. N. G. Bartlett, Secretary of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, who is directing the plans for the Exposition to be held in Greenville during the week of April 5th, met with the Association and briefly outlined the necessary activities preceding the opening of Greenville's biggest event. He was very optimistic in his remarks as to what had already been accomplished and expressed himself of the belief that this the fourth annual event would far excel those preceding.

The following members of the Association were elected to the Board of Directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. Luther Herring, C. W. Willard, J. J. White, J. H. Blount, Curtis Perkins, Frank Wilson, W. H. Woolard, J. N. Hart, L. A. Stroud, C. Heber Forbes Arthur Denton. After the general meeting, the directors met and elected the following officers: Mr. J. H. Blount, President; Curtis Perkins, Vice-President; Frank Wilson, Treasurer. Mr. C. B. Rowlett was again employed in the capacity of secretary.

Person Starts Another Suit Against Co-Ops

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—Willie M. Person, former State Senator from Franklin county, whose petition for a receiver for the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association was denied last Friday by Judge Thomas H. Calvert, yesterday announced that he had taken a new suit in that case, thereby withdrawing it from the records, and has instituted a new suit in Franklin county in which 25 members of the association appear as plaintiffs with Senator Person acting in the sole role of attorney.

Colonel Person gave notice before Judge Calvert of an appeal to the Supreme Court but stated yesterday that he had decided to abandon the plan and to proceed by the new action.

According to Senator Person, Judge Calvert had never signed a judgment in the original action and the answer of the association which was read at the hearing has never been filed with the clerk of the court. By securing a non suit before the clerk, Colonel Person hopes to wipe out the record clean and start with a new slate.

In the new action, only the summons has been issued, the plaintiffs having until February 23 to file their complaint. Colonel Person stated yesterday that in his complaint he will ask for an accounting of alleged excessive sums, which he charges were spent for the association for salaries, attorneys' fees, redrying operations and publicity. In his original action, Colonel Person charged the directors with personal responsibility for all those items and for salaries paid to some of their number as employees.

Colonel Person stated that he expects after the pleadings have been filed to ask for a receivership before Judge M. V. Barnhill who is now holding the courts of this district.

Ponzi and Wife Arrested Today

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Charles Ponzi and his wife were arrested in the office of Ponzi's attorney here shortly before noon today. The warrant, served by sheriff's deputies, ended a 36-hour search for Ponzi after he had been indicted in Tampa on Monday. He drove from Tampa to Jacksonville, arriving yesterday morning and evading arrest long enough to complete arrangements for his bond.

First Picture of the Antiope Rescue

This remarkable photograph, snapped from the deck of the S. S. Roosevelt, shows the S. S. Antiope, British freighter, in its death throes in mid-Atlantic. The Roosevelt, after risking disaster for three days, finally succeeded in rescuing the Antiope crew. Two of the crew of the United States liner were lost when a life boat was smashed against the vessel by a terrific wave.

COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM IN WILSON TUESDAY

Much Progress Made in Plans for a Diocesan-Wide Evangelistic Campaign

The commission on Evangelism appointed by the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, met yesterday at the Hotel Cherry, Wilson N. C.

There were present Rev. Clarence O. Pardo, Williamson, the chairman of the commission; Rev. Stephen Gardner, Washington, the Diocese secretary; Rev. Walter R. Noe, Wilmington; Rev. Joseph N. Bynum, Belhaven; Rev. James E. W. Cook, Greenville; and Mr. George C. Royall, of Goldsboro, who is a prominent layman of the church, and deeply interested in work among men; and, as visitor, Rev. J. W. Hayes, of Farmville.

Much progress was made in the plans for a Diocesan-wide Evangelistic campaign, with the object of arousing the whole church, clergy and laity, to the wonderful opportunities presented today for the expansion of the Kingdom of God.

Questionnaires have been prepared so that each parish in the Diocese can register its needs, and the co-operation of the clergy has been remarkably fine. The Diocese of East Carolina is leading the whole general church in the matter of Evangelism.

SNOW STORM OF GREAT FURY OVER THE NORTHEAST

Train Service Disrupted, Transportation Lines Out of Commission As Result of Second Snow Blizzard

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—North Eastern United States, which has not yet dug out from under the snow banks left by last week's blizzard, today was swept by another storm of equal fury. Train service was disrupted and service cars and motor traffic were all but paralyzed.

Driving down on a North East gale, the blinding wall of falling snow largely nullified the efforts of thousands of workmen throughout the section to clear the streets and highways of the previous fall, which already has cost millions of dollars.

The gale then swept out to sea, piling up mountainous waves and hampering shipping along the North Atlantic. Wireless companies reported numerous calls from ships regarding radio compass bearings and one vessel was known to be in distress. This was the fishing schooner Ralph Brown, which was driven ashore near Gloucester, Mass. Three members of the crew of 21 were known to have been lost.

Suburbs and outlying villages were particularly hard hit, many being completely isolated. Transportation lines in many of these places were partially or completely out of commission.

At Worcester, Mass., schools were closed for the day. A score of railroad trains were stalled in snow drifts, some of which were ten feet deep in the snow bound Northeastern section of the United States this afternoon. Snow was still falling. Eight trains were stalled in New England and a dozen were snowed in on Long Island. All schools in New York State and many in surrounding states were closed. County court closed on Long Island.

Shelf Service Grocery Company Granted Charter

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Among the certifications of incorporation issued by the Secretary of State today was that for the Shelf Service Grocery Company, of New Bern, with authorized capital of $50,000, of which $1,500 was subscribed by M. C. Brooks, M. L. Brooks, A. M. Brooks, and others, all of New Bern.

FIGHT AGAINST WORLD COURT TO BE RE-OPENED

Senators Likely to Come to Grips Again in the Fight at the Ballot Box

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Senators who opposed each other in the World Court fight likely will come to grips again this time in the fight at the ballot box. Opponents of American adhesion to the Court, in continuing their opposition in a plea to the public, will seek to prevent reelection of those who advocated joining the tribunal. This appears as the first development of an informal conference of the irresconcilables last night called by Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, who was among leaders in the fight against the World Court resolution adopted by the Senate.

Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, one of the court foes, will open the campaign in a radio address before the Knights of Columbus in Chicago on February 21. The fight against the Court itself will be reopened by Senator Borah with a radio speech at a Chicago radio station on Washington's birth day.

The conference of Senators yesterday was described as offering opportunity for a canvas of the situation and to bring out the views of individual Senators as to their course of action. It was attended by all those who voted against adherence with the exception of Senators Watson, Republican of Indiana, and Dill, Democrat, of Washington.

Resignation of Bramham May Feature Meet

Durham, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The resignation of W. G. Bramham, as chairman of the Republican Executive Committee in North Carolina and the choice of a successor if his resignation is accepted, was expected to feature the session of the committee when it met here this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Bramham had previously announced that he would resign at today's meeting.

With the question of Bramham's resignation and the choice of a successor to come before the committee in addition to other duties, the meeting was expected to be an extended one. A date and place for the meeting of the Republican Committee convention and the nominating of candidates for state offices and a national committeeman to succeed John J. Farker, of Charlotte, were among other matters to come before the committee today. The candidates named will be subject to the ratification of the convention when it meets.

Messer Sentenced 18 Years Prison

Waynesville, N. C., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Guilty of manslaughter was the verdict returned here this morning by the jury in the case of Mevin Messer, charged with the murder of his wife on January 17.

Judge Oglesby immediately sentenced Messer to serve 18 years in state prison. The jury had been out nearly 24 hours.

In sentencing Messer Judge Oglesby announced that he would not give the defendant the full penalty because of his advanced age.

Wilbur Endorses President's Air Board Proposal

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur, before the House Military Affairs Committee today, endorsed the President's air board proposal for Assistant Secretary of the Navy to take charge of aviation. His previous testimony before the committee that the department "could get along with or without the new secretary," he said, should not be interpreted as denoting indifference to the proposal. The board's recommendation, he said, was based on sound reasoning.

SCORE DEMOCRATS FOR JOINING WITH THE REPUBLICANS

Insurgents Take Democrats to Task for Coalition With Republican Majority On Inheritance Tax

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Senate Republican Insurgents who joined with the Democrats two years ago in tying up the Senate organization, today took Democratic leaders under task for forming a coalition with the Republican majority on the tax bill. Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, first brought up the subject during the debate on proposed repeal of the inheritance tax. He was joined by Senator LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin, who was bitterly assailed in proposing the repeal.

Criticizing the provision for a retroactive reduction in the inheritance rates, Senator Norris discussed particularly the benefits which Duke University of North Carolina would receive because of this provision.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee which framed the compromise bill, asked whether the Nebraska Senator was intimating that he favored the amendment "merely because it will benefit the estate of the late James B. Duke."

"No, indeed," said the Senator, "I am discussing the benefits to be received by several million dollar estates. I do not charge had faith or impugn the motives of the Senator from North Carolina in the least."

Replying to Senator Norris, Senator Simmons said the Duke foundation would save about three or four million dollars by virtue of the retroactive provision and by this amount Duke University would be benefitted of about ten per cent and the balance superannuated ministers.

"Here is a college," Senator Norris continued, "your alma mater which is going to get several hundred thousand dollars for public funds in the tax bill and here is a coalition between Democrats and Republicans and we find in their agreement a provision for the benefit of a Methodist University."

Senator Overman, Democrat of North Carolina, vigorously defended the retroactive provision and denounced as "unworthy of a Senator the casting of criticism on the late Mr. Duke."

Senator Overman characterized Mr. Duke as a philanthropist and pointed out the benefits he had provided for the people of North Carolina and South Carolina in his will. "He has paid his taxes," Senator Overman said, "and now after he is dead and his money goes to charity and other public institutions, there is no reason why that money should also be taxed under a higher rate than we ever have or intend hereafter to impose on inheritance."

Senator Simmons called attention to the fact that the Duke estate would be only one of many estates which would be benefited by terms of the retroactive reduction in the Revenue Bill and Senator Norris conceded this.

PITTSBURGHERS CARRY THEIR OWN COMFORTS

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—(INS)—Several score Pittsburghers, bent on attending the annual New Orleans Mardi-Gras, overcame the problem of hotel accommodations by taking their rooms with them when they left for the Southern metropolis.

They were aboard the packet steamer, Kate Adams. Three weeks will be consumed on the trip, stops being made at important cities enroute. Four days will be spent in New Orleans. From start to finish the river steamer will be the home of the passengers.

POLITICIANS AND IDOLS

Those who detect defects
in the present crop of politicians—national, state and local—are wont to place the blame upon the politicians themselves if the public has lost confidence in them.

One such critic supports his general indictment against the seekers after public office with a comparison of the public attitude toward the politician today, twenty-five years ago and a half century ago. He takes the position, and probably with reason, that public officers were held in much greater esteem and trust
fifty years ago than now, and he cites instances where certain notables in national politics became popular heroes of their day, honored by all and worshiped by the masses.

Today, he laments, none escapes suspicion of selfish motives and all, in the public eye, are ordinary individuals who owe their high office to the voters, not to any superiority over the voting majority.

But this line of reasoning proves nothing. One can start at the same place and prove by the same route that the new attitude toward the politician is the result of a higher standard of intelligence among the voters, not of any moral or mental deterioration among the rank and file of office-holders.
One conclusion is as logical
as the other.

To some the weight of the evidence will be in favor of the latter theory. The mere fact that congress is so willing to investigate government acts and actors is some proof that there is greater honesty among politicians.
Where there is chance of recrimination pots do not call kettles black. And those who dig deeper than the idolatrous school text books learn the great national figures of yesterday did not always merit the public's faith and reverence. And the fact that the masses have taken the supernatural out of the politician is proof positive of a higher average of intelligence. No longer can the stump speaker talk the American people into believing him a demigod, a being above them.

THIS ONE IS WORN OUT

The "decent and law-abiding citizens" have a sneaking feeling that certain persons are trying to spoof them. They haven't yet made up their minds whether those persons believe the people are stupidly credu-lous or are merely seeking to amuse the public with extravagant fairy tales.

Does Admiral-General
Lincoln C. Andrews, chief prohibition enforcement officer, desire the taxpayers to take seriously his pronunciamiento that before there can be effective prohibition enforcement the government must create a bureau—with offices, officers, clerks,
agents and investigators,
not forgetting an adequate appropriation for all these —which would ascertain how efficiently prohibition is being enforced?

Surely George H. Carter, public printer at Washington, was speaking in jest
when he stated that the federal government can save money by providing an appropriation for the establishment of a government newspaper.

And is the public to believe that the way to stop lawlessness is to pass more laws or that other myth that government is bigger than the economic law of supply and demand?

Perhaps the taxpayers and voters in the past have given cause to the exploiters of the people and the public treasuries to believe the public to be an easy mark. There have been times when the "great majority" has seemed to swallow hook, line and sinker but they are recurring with less and less frequency.

As the Judgeship of the District has now been shifted from Pitt to Craven County by reason of the resignation of Judge Albion Dunn and the appoint-majority out of a total of 10,000 votes, and having received flattering encouragement from all sections of the District, I hereby announce my candidacy for Solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District, subject to the approval of the voters in the Democratic Primary to be held on the 5th day of June, 1926.

Respectfully Submitted,

WESLEY PHILATHEA CLASS MEETS

The combined business and social meeting of the W. P. Class of the Methodist Church on Monday evening in the home of Mrs. J. W. Higgs, with Mesdames Milton White, K. T. Futrell and Marlon Blount, assistant hostesses was a most delightful occasion.

The valentine thought prevailed in the decorations—in the program and in the prizes, lending a charm.

The attendance was large and visitors whom the class welcomed included Mrs. T. K. Weylen and Mrs. L. A. Izlar, of Charleston, S. C., and Mrs. White, from Arthur.

Just before the meeting opened Miss Lill Wilson gave the class a surprise by presenting Ethel Lupton, the little girl from the Orphanage, in whom the class is especially interested. Mr. Barnes, the superintendent, had consented for her to make us this visit, and her childlike expression of pleasure and appreciation was an inspiration to us.

Mrs. Gulley, our president, and Mrs. Zeb Brown, conducted the devotional feature after which the business was characterized by enthusiasm. Then the following program was given:

A hand-shaking contest, in which the prize, a beautiful doll, was won by Miss Martha Lee Cowell, which she most graciously presented to little Ethel.

Then a relay heart-race between Mrs. Wiley Brown and Mrs. Tom Person, and by a close margin the prize, a red satin heart-shaped box of candy heart, went to Mrs. Person.

By everyone present, a hunt for pennies, under three captains, representing from the baryard, guineas, ducks and chickens—these captains, Mrs. Herring, Mrs. R. G. Fitzgerald and Mrs. H. L. Carr, respectively, lead forth—Mrs. Carr winning the prize, another box of candy hearts.

An exhibition of mind reading afforded much amusement.

Following this a "pianologue."

James Whitcomb Riley's "Old Sweetheart of Mine," was splendidly rendered by Mrs. Milton White, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Blount.

From this sublime height, Mrs. Milton White again brought us to the humorous, by reading the announcements of a "Cullud Parson" of the week's activities of his congregation.

An ice course, with candy kisses and a "lot o' good fellow-ship" closed the meeting.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By F. A. WRAY
INS Staff Correspondent—London, Feb. 9.—Modern woman, with her dances and her shingled hair, is closely allied to her sister in the jungle, according to Mrs. Jana Strickland, the big-game hunter exploring the Belgian Congo. Describing the native dances, she says:

"They are singularly grotesque and reminiscent of primitive savagery. I could not help detecting in parts a strange similarity to the more advanced jazz dancing; in fact, it is difficult not to believe that the present day style is not a direct hark back to these primitive artists of the jungle."

"I have often wondered, when you contrast the abnormalities which are labelled progress and the intense plea of nature termed barbarism if the expressions are not interchangeable; but ultimately modern thought may favor a reversion to type."

"Nature ordained that shingled hair should be the vogue of the jungle; civilization has shorn its locks in uniformity. The native wears a ring in his nose; the modern lady affects a ring in the ears. The native lady seems excessive dress; the ball-room debutante is not far behind."

"In a thousand ways civilization reaches back to barbarism and studiously imitates its practices."

A romance of modern engineering is rapidly approaching completion in a remote, closely-guarded workshop on the eastern outskirts of London.

Here, after laboring secretly for more than a year, a group of British experts, basing their research on every known technical fact, are striving to place Britain ahead of the United States, France and Germany in the race to produce an engine for flying machines which operates on the turbine principle and uses a crude oil fuel which costs about one-fifth of the price of gasoline.

Three complete engines have been built and each has been an improvement over its predecessor. A perfect power plant is in hand, astonishingly small for the 500 h. p. it develops. Its main secret lies in wonderful motors, revolving within a specially designed metal chamber. Attached to this mechanism is a "huh-huh" mechanism, running at a very high speed. The perfected aero-turbine, it is claimed, will be one half of the weight of any similar aeroplane engine developing a similar power, while for fast fighting or racing planes it will have the advantage of offering a quarter of the frontal resistance—creating area of motors of more conventional design.

The aerial turbine, in addition to its cheap fuel, promises to employ so few working parts that its construction should cost only one-third that of the usual type of gasoline engine.

The English war-widow is a very fascinating person and is in great demand, it would seem from an announcement made by the Pensions Ministry here that since the world war over 96,500 war widows have remarried.

The Ministry remarks that some of the widows have re-married several times, and that cases have come to their attention in which attractive widows have been halting between two and more proposals.

Strangely enough, an English war-widow's pension from the State ceases when she re-marries.

Pigeon-Flying Now Popular With Far West

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Training of carrier pigeons, which until recently in the West was almost exclusively an army peacetime pursuit to quicken the combat forces' most dependable means of communication on shell-rocked battlefields, has claimed a position of popularity as a civilian sport along the Pacific coast.

Fostered and encouraged by army and reserve circles, pigeon-flying has grown in favor until the number of clubs existing and the membership engaged in this pastime presage rivalry with Atlantic seaboard enthusiasts for supremacy.

An affection for the delicately bred birds, gained in war time by their effectiveness as a means of liaison, has been turned into an appreciation of their sporting possibilities. The flying courses that have been mapped and used in pigeon racing along the fringed borders of the Pacific offer, because of varying climatic conditions, as difficult tests for bird stamina and training efficacy as can be found.

In competitions from Salem, Ore., to Oakland, Cal., the tiny racers pass through the chilled air stratas above snow-capped mountains; through fogs and mists; through both rare and heavy atmosphere and, at the finish through the hot, usually dry air above the San Joaquin Valley of California. Under these severe conditions the birds cannot make the time registered in Eastern contests nor fly continuously throughout the day as do the Eastern pigeons. But the contests develop a hardiness and a fortitude that will prove of inestimable value, army men believe, if their use should ever again be required in warfare.

Late next June most of the clubs of the west will call for flights from Pocatello, Id., to Oakland, and from Salem to Oakland. From 700 to 1,000 birds likely will be entered.

Signal Corps pigeonering at present, besides encouraging civilian interest, is directing efforts toward the better training of night-flying birds; breeding of those able to fly effectively through fog and at high, mountain altitudes, and to inter-island flights where a practical peace-time use for the birds prevails.

Col. Arthur S. Cowan of Ninth Corps Area Headquarters, believes that experimental work started in Panama and carried on extensively at Ross field, Calif., and at Honolulu will give the United States a vastly superior bird equipment.

Though the pigeon was recognized as a military adjunct as early as the fifth Egyptian dynasty about 3000 B. C., America's entrance into war found this country, he said, the only one of the great powers virtually without trained pigeons. Germany had an efficient and well established service which was used by all arms and was effective in getting messages from intelligence operatives in England to the war department at Berlin.

American army officers learned that the artillery batteries played havoc with telephone and radio systems and that when advanced or detached units found themselves far from friendly lines and the need was urgent, to notify headquarters that the pigeon was the most trustworthy messenger. It could mount rapidly, quickly getting above artillery fire and gas clouds, and flying at express train speed, seldom failed to deliver. When every other method of communication had failed, the bird nine times out of ten got through safely, sometimes exhibiting a heroism that won war department commendation.

SYRIANS WANT KING IS DEMAND ON FRENCH
Beirut, Feb. 10.—INS—Syrian nationalists want King. This is one of the proposals they are making to the French, who they are endeavoring to dislodge from control of the country, despite the mandate given to France by the League of Nations.

Among those suggested for King of Syria are Prince Omar Tousson, cousin of King Fud, of Egypt and member of the Khedivial family, and Emir Zeid, brother of King Faisal of Iraq. Emir Zeid is now an undergraduate at Oxford.

COMEDIANS

A man can learn to be a good mechanic, study until he becomes a great scholar or engage in business until he is rich, but a good comedian is just born that way and the best comedians are known at natural comedians. Mr. Van Arnam has secured for his Minstrel show this season all "natural" comedians and as he gives the show his own personal attention, each one of the several fun-makers appearing in the First Part or Folio, was selected on the merits of his own particular brand of humor. Mr. Van Arnam gives the same careful attention to every detail of his show and maintains the same high standard throughout the entire season which he sets at the beginning. Van Arnam and his Minstrel Company will be at White's Theatre tonight.

GETTYSBURG

The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldiers' last tattoo,
No more on life's parade we'll meet
That brave and fallen few,
On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread;
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of our dead.

You will have an opportunity tomorrow to contribute to this worthy cause, helping erect a monument at Gettysburg to our Confederate dead.

Governor McLean heartily endorses this campaign and says North Carolina's contribution to this battle is almost unparalleled in the history of warfare.

It was at Gettysburg that the gallant 26th North Carolina Regiment, commanded by one of the youngest and most gallant men produced in the Confederate army, Col. Harry K. Burgwyn, Jr., suffered more than 80 per cent casualties.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy are counting on your help.
