McLEAN DENIES CLEMENCY TO MEMBERS MOB

Fifteen Members of Asheville Mob Which Stormed Jail Will Have to Serve Sentences

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Fifteen members of the Asheville mob which stormed Buncombe county jail several months ago, will have to serve their sentences. In declining clemency to the men last night Governor McLean lauded the action of the Buncombe county sheriff and his deputies in their handling of the situation. He called attention to the fact that the men who were applying for clemency now were seeking to take advantage of the very system of law and order which they openly flaunted when they attempted to take the negro charged with an attack from the sheriff.

"The only way to suppress lynching is to let those who engage in it understand they will be punished and punished severely," declared Mr. McLean, in the statement which he issued outlining his reason for declining clemency.

The Governor expressed sympathy for the families of the convicted men, and added his opinion that the citizens of Asheville and its welfare organizations would see they did not suffer while the men were serving time. He declared that rather than feeling any sympathy for the men themselves, sympathy should be on the side of the law, which they attempted to set aside.

Governor McLean today wrote Mayor J. C. Cathey, of Asheville, asking him to make an investigation to learn if any of the families of the 15 men on whom prison sentences were imposed for storming the Buncombe county jail and to whom the Governor yesterday declined executive clemency, are likely to suffer as the result of incarceration of the male members of the families.

In cases where there is likely to be suffering the Governor asked Mayor Cathey to call to his aid the local relief organizations. If the Mayor finds that the needs of the families cannot be taken care of locally, he is asked to report the matter to Governor McLean in order that the executive may aid in rendering assistance.

President and Mrs. Coolidge Invited See Play Makers

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge were invited today to attend the performance here tomorrow night of three one act plays by the Carolina Play Makers. The invitation was extended by Senator Overman, of North Carolina. The President was told of the work that the Play Makers are doing toward development of a National Drama in North Carolina. He said he did not know whether it would be possible for him and Mrs. Coolidge to attend the Play Makers, but that they would make an effort.

Republican State Confab Be Held April

Durham, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Republicans of North Carolina today were looking forward to April 8 when their state convention will meet. In executive session yesterday afternoon the state executive committee of the party decided to hold the meeting in Durham in preference to Raleigh, and elected Johnson J. Hayes, of North Wilkesboro, as National Committeeman succeeding John J. Parker, of Charlotte, who resigned.

Bill to Regulate Radio Approved

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The White Bill, to regulate radio, was approved today by the House Merchant Marine Committee.

Nude Roman Potency,
Some Starve, Some Don't,
Some Can Drink,
More Post Office Flying.
ARTHUR BRISMAK

The Popolo Di Roma says Minsolini's magnificent detour of Germany must not be dissected or discussed. "It is necessary that it remain with us in its nude Roman potency."

It is possible push nude Roman potency too far. Italy's plan for regaining domination of the Mediterranean which nude Roman potency won by the destruction of Carthage, causes anxiety and anger in France, Spain, England, Russia and Greece. If war should come it would be a matter of flying machines, coal, money and especially international alliances.

The Italians are wonderful fighters. No nation excels them in courage, but you cannot win modern wars with fine phrases, nude Roman potency, or unlimited courage. If your enemies combine against you.

Mrs. Mary Harrington of Mahoney City, Pennsylvania, had several children. Her husband, a coal miner on strike, went to look for work in another town. She gave her children what food she had, and she died of hunger.

One advantage is with the mine OWNERS. No matter how long a strike lasts, mine owners, their wives and children never starve.
That's an advantage, yet pushed too far, it can become a DISAD-VANTAGE.

When told that the poor had no bread Marie Antoinette wondered "why she did not eat cake." Later she had her husband stopping cavalry, via the guillotine. She was only a poor fool.

An able statesman of her time suggested that the people eat grass.
The people stuffed his mouth with grass when they carried his head around on the end of a pike. It is well to remember these things even in happy, prosperous days.

The Reverend James Empring-ham, of the Protestant Episcopal Church Temperance Society favors modification of the Volstead Act, to legalize light wine and beer.

Bishop Manning who says Em-pringham has not right to speak for the church, calls drinking "not a sin," but says prohibition laws should be obeyed. This does not annoy rich laymen, his parishioners, nor building for him the great Cathedral of St. John the Divine.
They can drink whatever they want from cocktails to port, with sherry, hock, champagne, and claret in between.

Cardinal Hayes, just returned from Rome, tells New York reporters, referring to prohibition that it is "improper to ask our children to consider vile and outlawed that which we must use daily in our worship."

Many find it hard to understand why use of alcoholic wine should be permitted in churches, Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and forbidden elsewhere. Others ask why, if alcohol is so vile, the sacred blood should actually be physically present transformed into an alcoholic drink, instead of being transformed into something non-alcoholic.

That is for discussion by those with religious authority. Ordinary men wonder that prohibition has succeeded in driving out comparatively mild alcoholic drinks that many European nations have used for centuries, without drunkenness, while bootleggers have enthroned whiskey as the national drink.

Mr. Tucker, United States District Attorney, tells New York business men it would cost $15,000,000 a year to enforce prohibition in New York State alone. He might add that such an expenditure would not actually enforce prohibition.
You could not stop the bootleg traffic with its profits of hundreds of millions annually, if you spent a thousand million yearly.

Some recommend legalizing light wine and beer, while keeping out the saloons. Others equally sincere, believe that legalized wine and beer would be used as a mask for more leag whiskey.

SMALL DOCKET GIVEN HEARING IN COUNTY COURT

Several Cases Continued, One Defendant Sentenced to the Roads, Another to County Home

Tuesday's session of County Court was featured by only a few cases, and these were quickly disposed of. A large number of cases were continued.

S. Everett, charged with gambling, adjudged not guilty.

B. F. Varnelle was adjudged not guilty on the charge of gambling.

Dennie Adams, Jr., was adjudged not guilty on the charge of assault.

Felix Matthews was adjudged not guilty on the charge of possessing whiskey.

Jim Taylor, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was adjudged guilty and sentenced to 6 months in jail. Defendant appealed to Superior Court.

Stephen Everett, charged with gambling and resisting officer, was adjudged not guilty.

Sam Lupton, charged with driving car while drunk, was found guilty and fined $50.00 and costs.

Eli Hodges was adjudged guilty of false pretense and sentenced to 6 months at the County Home.

The cases against B. F. McLemore, charged with carrying concealed weapon, driving auto while drunk, and receiving, possessing and transporting whiskey, were transferred to Superior Court for trial by jury.

The case against William Pittman, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was not prossuted.

The case of Jarvis Stephens, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was not pros-
suted.

Recommends An Investigation of Alumnum Co.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)— Another investigation of the Alumnum Company of America, in which Secretary Mellon is a stockholder, was recommended to the Senate by its judiciary committee.

The committee divided nine to seven with the seven Democrats, and Senators Borah, of Idaho, and Norris, of Nebraska, Republicans, voted for the Walsh report recommending such an investigation. The other seven Republicans signed the minority report recommending that no inquiry be held. The two reports will be presented to the Senate and the issue will be fought out there.

Forbes Asks Court Review Conviction Charge Conspiracy

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)— Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans Bureau, asked the Supreme Court today to review his conviction of the charge of conspiracy.

Justice's air board chief, understanding commerce, wisely emphasizes the importance of the commercial airplane, in and out of the post office. That development is progressing at a rate that makes the inactivity and incompetence of the army and navy aircraft less and less important.

Mr. New, the Postmaster General, works constantly at air mail extension. On April first, the transcontinental air mail will divide at Salt Lake City, and thence, separate flying machines will carry mail to northern and southern California, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Mr. Mayo, Ford's chief engineer, says Henry Ford is planning many new "airways."

He has planes running now from Detroit to Cleveland and Chicago.
He plans another line to Buffalo, another to Boston, connecting lines to New York, taking in Springfield, Massachusetts, Albany and New Haven.

What is more important, Ford expects to add to his express carrying, a flying passenger department.

GREENVILLE GIRLS DEFEAT EVERETTS

Another Victory Added to Their List When They Defeat Everett Girls by the Score of 43 to 27

The Greenville girls sextette added another victory to their list when they defeated Everette by a score of 43 to 27. The game started off with a bang with Everetts shooting the first goal. Greenville followed with several straight goals.

The forwards played their usual good game of shooting quick goals. The guards showed decided improvement in guarding and passing. Less fouls were made and no substitutes were needed throughout the game.

The line-up was as follows:
Forwards: Capt. Lela Brown Stancil, Sarah Ogletree, Evelyn Hart; Guards: Dorothy Ward, Bonnie Dickinson, Janie Gold Hardee.

Henry Ford Asked Finance and Direct Relief Society

Washington, Feb. 11.—(INS)— Henry Ford, into whose mail pours a daily gamut of requests for philanthropic support, will be asked to prepare the life work of E. E. Dudding, founder of the Prisoners' Relief Society. In a letter sent to the motor king, Dudding has asked the assistance of Ford, as an organizer, to establish means for carrying on the work.

Dudding started his career as a dry goods salesman with a West Virginia firm. Circumstances landed him in prison and since his release he has devoted his life to others who enter the free world again after release from sentences.

"With my own personality I have built up on a small beginning the Prisoners' Relief Society, which has now lived twelve years. Now I feel sure that my sunset days are here and I am trying to locate some man or woman who will be willing to accept and continue the work after my death."

Applications to Practice Law Heard in Court

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—(AP)— Charges and countercharges were heard by the Supreme court today in connection with the applications of Rex L. Farmer, of Wilson, and Otis Duke, of Greensboro, for licenses to practice law in this state. Objection to Duke was made by his former wife, who charged that his moral character was not such as to justify the court licensing him. Farmer is charged with having misappropriated the funds of the Ku Klux Klan. The applicants defended themselves against the charges at today's hearing.

REVIVAL SERVICES TO BEGIN SUNDAY

BAPTIST CHURCH Was Being Held in Connection With Slaying of Mrs. Annie Burgess Asheville

Revival services will begin in the Memorial Baptist Church Sunday morning, and will continue two weeks. Services will begin at seven-thirty o'clock each evening and will be conducted by Rev. H. Frederick Jones, pastor of the church, assisted by Prof. E.
L. Wolslagel, soloist and musical director.

Prof. Wolslagel, formerly of Asheville, N. C., is now making his home in New York. He possesses a magnetic personality and is considered one of the best soloists in the country. He is also a splendid chorus leader. Mr. Wolslagel is now helping in a revival meeting in the First Baptist Church, Rocky Mount.

Rev. Frederick H. Jones has been pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church since last November and has won for himself splendid recognition as a preacher and pastor. He will bring timely messages which will be inspiring and of great interest.

Pershing Returns Washington Today

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)— General Pershing returned to Washington today for medical treatment after a five-months absence in South America, as head of the Tacno-Arica Plebiscite Commission.

After brief greetings at the station the General was taken to his headquarters in an uptown club. The effect on the General's health of the voyage from Tacno Arica to Washington was described by members of his party as negligible.

LEAN YEAR IS EXPERIENCED BY AUSTRIAN STATE OPERA

Vienna, Feb. 10.—(AP)—State-managed opera in Vienna has had one of its lean years, and it is conservatively estimated that the deficit for 1925 will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, as compared with $900,000 in 1924.

A recent performance of "Bajazzo" earned only $108—the smallest evening box office taking for years —and in order to fill the house, 1-000 tickets were given away.

The poor attendance was partly accounted for by the fact that Sganerell which was to have been played, was cancelled, and holders of tickets in many cases refused to accept the substitution of Bajazzo.

INGRAM RELEASED FROM JAIL TODAY

Was Being Held in Connection With Slaying of Mrs. Annie Burgess Asheville

Asheville, Feb. 11.—(AP)— Caleb Ingram, employee of the City of Asheville, who has been held here for two weeks in jail in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Annie May Burgess, was released this morning by police Judge Cameron MacRae, after a preliminary hearing. No probable cause was found by the court.

Mrs. Bonnie Ledford was also ordered released when the Solicitor agreed that the same evidence held in her case as was given in the Ingram hearing.

William Davis, alleged former suitor of the 23 years old victim of the killing, will be granted a hearing in police court Friday morning. Davis has been held in connection with the slaying for three weeks.

1926 Be Greatest Touring Year

Yellowstone Park, Feb. 10.— (INS)—This year will be the greatest touring year, the greatest out-of-doors year in the history of America, according to a National Park bulletin, which observes that the American people as a whole are receiving better wages and spending their money to greater human advantage than any people that ever existed.

"Almost every land where the American flag flies is now within easy reach of some national playground," says the bulletin.
"Maine has its Lafayette Park on Mt. Desert; Alaska its Mt. Mc-Kinley Park; the Hawaiian Islands their three great volcanoes in National parks."

"In between we find Glacier
National Park, Yellowstone National Park, Grand Canyon, and hundreds of smaller parks and monuments. Many states have their wild places and the movement for game refuges has developed until anyone interested in nature can find the wild things in the open under Government protection."

"Interest in the out-of-doors has been growing rapidly in recent years. It is noteworthy that the nation's health records improve in ratio parallel to the interest of the nation in out-door life."

Charges Shipping Board "Jobbers" Other Bidders

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)— A charge that the Shipping Board "jobbed" other bidders so that the Ford Motor Company would purchase 200 ships was made today before the Senate Commerce Committee by L. B. Miller, a Baltimore attorney.

DEPT. OF LABOR FORECASTS VOTE CONSIDERS PLANS TO SETTLE STRIKE TAX REDUCTION BILL TOMORROW

Proposed Plans for Settlement Receiving Very Careful Scrutiny in High Official Circles

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)— Agencies of the Federal Government have been taking a very wide interest in the renewed negotiations for peace in the anthracite industry. Although President Coolidge apparently is not prepared to abandon his policy of non-intervention, the mediators of the Labor Department are concerning themselves directly with the peace discussions and proposed plans for settlement are receiving very careful scrutiny in high official circles of Washington.

From the start of the suspension, the Government mediators have been in close contact with both sides under the plan of mediation and conciliation provided by law. The extent to which they may have gone in suggesting a solution never has been disclosed, but it became apparent today that all of the details of the negotiations have at least been considered here and that future compromise proposals now are under consideration with the Labor Department.

Secretary Davis, head of the Department, discussed the situation today with President Coolidge.
The Secretary said afterwards, however, that he knew of no development that would indicate a change in the President's handoff policy. He declined, however, to go into the question of what the Labor Department was doing under its general authority to mediate in labor difficulties.

Wellesley College Girls Graded on "Personality"

Wellesley, Mass., Feb. 10.— (INS)—Wellesley College girls in the future are to be graded according to personality.

A new Personnel Board at the college will tabulate the girls from year to year to guarantee, as far as possible, that the collegians will find suitable positions when they leave college.

The new Personnel Board is composed of President Pendleton, Prof. Wood, director of the Bureau of Occupations, the three college deans, the college psychi-cian and the head of the psychology department.

A ready board is preparing material on next year's incoming class. Miss L. Knapp, dean of freshmen, is in New York confer-ing with prospective students and obtaining data for the qualification cards set aside for each girl.

Every Wellesley department contributes to the fund of information that Miss Alice Wood, as director of the Personnel Board, and her assistants compile during the four years of each girl's college life.

The object is to rate each girl on her powers of comprehension, initiative, reliability, memory, integrity and other traits. Each girl is graded on the cards as "superior," "average" or "lacking" in different traits.

"In between we find Glacier
National Park, Yellowstone National Park, Grand Canyon, and
hundreds of smaller parks and monuments. Many states have
their wild places and the movement for game refuges has developed until anyone interested in
nature can find the wild things in the open under Government protection."

Another Serious Effort Is Being Made End Strike

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—(AP)— Another serious effort to end the long anthracite strike is being made. This time the scene again is in Philadelphia where the operators and miners broke up their last conference on February 2nd.

Smoot Declares Vote Friday Would Assure Tax Reduction By March 15

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)— A Senate vote tomorrow on the tax reduction was forecast today by Chairman Smoot, of the Finance Committee. The final roll call planned for today was postponed while administration Republicans sought to recoup some of the Revenue losses voted yesterday by repeal of the taxes on automobiles, cars and trucks, admissions and dues.

Chairman Smoot said a vote tomorrow would assure tax reduction by March 15 when the income tax installments are due.

The tax slash orgy indulged in by the Senate last night resulted in $100,000,000 being added to the $350,000,000 reduction provided by the tax bill and also resulted in repeal of the inheritance tax.

The sudden turning of 16 Republicans, who first voted against repeal of the Inheritance tax and then joined an almost solid Democratic line up in wiping out the tax on automobiles, admissions, and dues prompted a quick recess, and this was moved by Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania,
"in view of the storm."

Chairman Smoot, of the Finance Committee, hopeful that the storm had worn itself out overnight sought today to round up enough strength to undo yesterday's action. The total reduction of $452,000,000 now provided by the bill is more than the figures provided by the House measure and $125,000,000 above the maximum reduction set by Secretary Mellon.

Meeting Regarding Moving State Fair Called for Feb. 25

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A meeting of the board of directors of the North Carolina Agricultural Society today was called for February 25. The meeting was called for the purpose of receiving the reports of the special committee appointed to investigate and make recommendations with reference to moving the state fair. It is generally conceded that if it is decided to dispose of the present fair that there will be no fair this coming fall. The meeting February 25th probably will determine the question, said Secretary H. M. Longong, of the Society today.

Diploma for Horses Is New Race Plan

Wooner, O., Feb. 10.—(INS)— A plan that would revolutionize harness racing has been evolved by Comon Pleas Judge George A. Starn, of this city, owner and lover of race horses, who makes the rounds of the harness tracks in this vicinity each summer in addition to his court duties.

Judge Starn's plan contemplates the elimination of the system by which horsemen attempt to keep their steeds from making records in order that they may compete with better chances of winning the more tempting purses offered at certain tracks.

Starn would put a racing record on a par with a diploma, and no horse without a "diploma" from any one class could enter any faster class. The incentive to enter faster classes is taken care of through a series of sealed purses, the faster events in each instance being for much larger purses.

"Do you know of any other line of sport?" Judge Starn asked,
"where the earning power of the performer increases as his ability increases? In professional baseball, basketball, football, prize-fighting, the greater the performer, the greater his earning power or salary. The same is true in any line of business or profession and ought to be true in harness horse racing."

4 Men Injured In Clash With Coal Bootleggers

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 11.—(AP)— Two men are in a hospital suffering from wounds and two others were badly beaten up in the clash between several hundred men and coal bootleggers at Carbondale today.

DOING NOTHING AND DOING IT BADLY

The Senate has finally appealed to the Chief Executive to intercede in the Anthracite controversy. After having refused twice to take such a step, seeing the growing pressure for action, a resolution was adopted asking President Coolidge to call a conference. It is not surprising that the answer to the request reiterated the President's policy of non-intervention.

The strike question has reached the stage where people are suffering and should be settled. The conference between the miners and operators have failed to settle the controversy, and if the Chief Executive can in any possible manner bring order out of chaos, he should act.

In commenting on the President's indifference, inaction and the policy of non-intervention, the New York World has the following to say:

"The President's determination to do nothing about coal has finally provoked the Senate. Something of the sort was bound to happen, for Mr. Coolidge's indifference and inaction are indefensible.

"The World has never believed that the President ought to intervene in order to settle this strike. But Mr. Coolidge has had the coal question before him ever since he took office on Aug. 3, 1923. He has been President during two strikes and in all the time that has elapsed he has not made one serious effort to establish peace in the industry. He made a tepid recommendation to Congress in 1923; never took the trouble to have a bill introduced embodying his recommendations; forgot all about coal in 1924; and in 1925 made another tepid recommendation which he has not lifted a finger to have enacted. Is it any wonder that the Senate has lost its patience?"

"It may be said, of course, that the Senate has asked the President to settle the strike instead of offering him the legislation which is needed in order to prevent strikes in the future. But when, pray, did Congress ever work out far-sighted legislation adding to the powers of the President if the President himself showed no interest in that legislation? The rebuke administered to Mr. Coolidge by the Senate yesterday was invited by Mr. Coolidge's inveterate desire to avoid the trouble and the political cost of national leadership. "If Mr. Coolidge had taken his own recommendation seriously when Congress met in December, if he had mobilized opinion behind them, if he had brought his own party into line for them, he would not only have exerted a powerful and probably decisive influence for the settlement of this strike but he would not be chargeable with neglecting constructive action to prevent another. The public has been patient and willing to suffer the inconvenience of this strike in the hope of obtaining a lasting settlement. If Mr. Coolidge had the stuff of leadership in him he would have made himself the spokesman of that public attitude and would have forced through legislation of permanent value. Had he done that, as was urged again and again to do, he would almost certainly have helped to settle the present strike without departing from the sound principle that it is not the business of a President to meddle ex officio in industrial disputes. For if the President and Congress had started to work on permanent coal legislation, the miners and the operators would have other things to think about than their immediate differences.

The whole incident reveals an alarming weakness in Mr. Coolidge's equipment. When there is nothing to do he has the good sense to do nothing, and he does that very well. It is one of his virtues that he is not always anxious to do something, even if it is the wrong thing. But when there is a crisis, such as existed over corruption in the Harding Cabinet, over the bonus, over Japanese exclusion and over coal Mr. Coolidge just trusts to luck and the probability that the unpleasantness will blow over sooner or later. There probably has not been a public man of our time who placed so much reliance on the capacity of the voter to forget, or did so much and so persistently to damp down the public interest in public questions. It is a policy of inertia founded on apathy. The result in the coal question is two costly strikes in two years and not a single constructive act by the President and Congress."

"If Mr. Coolidge had taken his own recommendation seriously when Congress met in December, if he had mobilized opinion behind them, if he had brought his own party into line for them, he would not only have exerted a powerful and probably decisive influence for the settlement of this strike but he would not be chargeable with neglecting constructive action to prevent another. Old Pipe, we're pals for keeps

SIX months ago, Old Pipe, we were headed for absolute divorce. We were wrecked on the twin rocks of Tongue Bite and Throat Parch. I tried tobacco after tobacco. Then . . . I found Prince Albert!

Today, Old Pipe, you're closer to me than a tattooed anchor. P. A. made you sweet and cool as the wind from a laden orchard. P. A. led me out of the hot-pipe desert into the pleasant valley of contented smokers. Comfort fell upon me . . . and it was welcome as rain to a dusty frog.

Say good-bye to worry, you fellows who don't yet know the joys of a jimmy-pipe and P. A. Tell gloom to be on its way. Your first fragrant pipeful will give you a 99-year lease on happiness. Prince Albert is the mildest, sweetest, kindest smoke mortal man ever knew.

Prince Albert gives you a helping hand when you are down and the glad hand when you are riding the crest. A real friend that understands your every mood. Make a break now for the nearest shop where they hand out pipe-peace in tidy red tins.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin tins, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Cromwell Has Hope or Title in 64 Athletes

Southern California Coach Sees National Track Honor in Season's Squad; Season Starts at End of This Month, With Big Meets Scheduled Across Country

By COPPELAND C. BURG, (INS Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, Feb. 10.—Coach Dean Cromwell of the University of Southern California believes he has a bright chance to again win the national track title despite the fact the heavy-heavy hangs over his head in the form of the eligibility axe.

Sixty-four athletes are in Cromwell's squad this spring and of the men who went East last season to cop national honors, only three are missing.

Off-setting these point-scoring, Cromwell has Lee Barnes, Olympic pole vault champion, who comes up in freshman ranks.

Mad Houser, Olympic shotput champion, is showing splendid form. Leighton Dye in the hurdles; Kenny Grumbles, low hurdler; Percy Neirbach, half-miler, are evidencing early workouts which make them too nas in the money men at the national meet this year in Boston.

The Trojans will be weakest in the sprints.

Hershel Smith, who won the national Junior A. A. U. dash, is fighting for first honors on the Southern California squad with Brice Taylor, the colored star. Ed Hense, John Parsons and Jack O'Malley complete Cromwell's present dash material.

Ralph Shawhan, formerly at Ames, Iowa, is showing well in the mile.

Morton Kaer, football star, is out in the quarter-mile hurdles and javelin events, and Hobbs Adams, another gridiron performer, is Cromwell's chief threat with Houser in the hammer throw.

The return to college of Arden Hughes strengthens the Trojans' quarter and half-mile material. McDaniels, Wallace and Bruce Smith are also available in the quarter and Vose Adams, Harold Lovejoy and Percy Neirbach will compete in the half with Hughes.

Kaer and William Cook are tossing the javelin more than 180 feet and four others are only a few feet behind them.

The Trojans will have plenty of competition before leaving for Boston to defend their national title. They start the season February 20 against Occidental College, then meet Stanford at Palo Alto and California here. A meet with Arizona is also contemplated and another meet against Southern California conference schools is also in the making for the late spring.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creosolium contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creosolium is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu.

Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved by the taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creosolium Company, Atlanta, Ga. 1924.

Mexico Finds Opium Fields in Several States Mexico City, Feb. 10.—(INS)—Vast opium production in the Chinese settlements of the State of Sinaloa has been discovered by secret police and drastic measures are being adopted to destroy it.

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear
Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges

James H. Allen, of 20 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Pitt Drug Co., and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

Mlle. Andre Lefebvre

Mlle. Andre Lefebvre, dancer, has been arrested by the French Government charged with having given military secrets to British spies.

Fields of poppies have been found in the neighborhood of Hucabampo and Navajoa.

Hundreds of Chinese were found employed in the cultivation of the poppies and harvesting the seeds, and one plantation alone is known to have produced 500 kilos of opium in one year.

This is well above 1,000 pounds. It was sold at tremendous profit, a goodly portion of it finding its way across the American border by the Chinese underground smuggling route.

The authorities have long been aware that opium was being produced in Mexico, sold here and exported. Sometime ago they found a few fields of poppies in the State of Sinaloa. These were destroyed, but the traffic continued.

This caused the further search which resulted in the finds in Sonora. Not only were the fields extensive, but there was also found all the apparatus for the refinement of the drug.

Orders have been issued for the destruction of the fields and severe punishment of the offenders, almost exclusively Chinese. It is believed, however, that there are still other sources and the search is not to be abandoned. Over on the west coast the territory is so great that Chinese settlers are able to avoid contact with officers for months and fields of hundreds of acres may escape detection.

It is also believed that the opium trade accounts for the recent alarming stories of pirate in the Gulf of Lower California.

IN 24 HOURS ENDS NEURITIS

When you're tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to Pitt Drug Co., or some other good druggist and get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form, for the liquid form is a special preparation for rheumatism.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, those persistent, nerve racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights. A few more doses and the pains have left you forever.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, gouty conditions and what is known as rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven wonderfully successful in all forms of neuritis and sciatic nerve pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dose of any kind—it does not. Such things are only makeshifts and can only at the best give temporary relief.

Be sure you've got neuritis and then get Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2. Pitt Drug Co., can supply you.

Night Coughing Relieved At Once

Why suffer continually from a persistent, weakening night cough when you can get almost instant relief, and usually break the cough completely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. As a result even the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

MRS. W. W. PHELPS ENTERTAINS

Hostess At Bridge On Wednesday Afternoon

On Wednesday afternoon, at her home on Evans street, Mrs. W. W. Phelps delightfully entertained at bridge. The home was decorated suggestive of the Valentine season.

Upon arrival, the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Phelps and invited to the drawing room and library where five tables were arranged for the games. Mrs. F. M. Parks, making the top score, was presented a potted plant, while Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., was given the low score prize, a novelty valentine. The table prizes, miniature potted plants, were presented Mrs. A. M. Moseley, Mrs. C. B. Rowlett, Mrs. L. W. Gay ord, Mrs. D. E. Taylor, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Bruce Warren. All the prizes carried out the valentine idea.

After a number of interesting progression, the hostess, assisted by her daughters, served a tempting salad course.

FIRST OF A SERIES WEEKLY DANCES AT COUNTRY CLUB TONIGHT

The first of a series of weekly dances at the Greenville Country Club will take place this evening. The dances will be regular weekly affairs and will be given on Friday evenings. Due to the American Legion play in White's Theatre tomorrow evening, the dance will be given this evening.

The dance will be the opening of a number of spring activities which the club is planning. Present plans are to erect a swimming pool on the club property before summer.

The local orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the series of dances, and a pleasant time is assured all who attend.

MRS. T. E. HOOKER ENTERTAINS END OF THE CENTURY CLUB

The End of the Century Club was delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Travis Hooker at her home on Fifth street. The president, Mrs. J. L. Fleming, presided.

A short business session was held after which the meeting was turned over to the program committee. The club is studying this year "A Reading List of Biographies." As the date of this meeting was so near Lincoln's birthday, the subject for the afternoon was Abraham Lincoln.

A sketch of Lincoln's early life was read by Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse, and some selections from an oration delivered by Henry Watterson in 1895, on Abraham Lincoln, were read by Mrs. R. H. Wright.

A delightful musical program was rendered. Mrs. Knott Proctor and Dr. Miller sang several beautiful songs, being accompanied by Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Miller. The visitors present besides those taking part on the program, were Miss Mead, Miss Bertollet and some of their friends enjoyed

MRS. LAWSON'S SONG RECITAL PLEASES

AUDIENCE HERE On Tuesday evening several members of the Woman's Club and Mrs. W. I. Wooten. The social part of the meeting was very much enjoyed, at which time a delicious salad course was served.

A delightful song recital rendered by Mrs. Franceska Kaspar Lawson, of Washington, D. C., in the auditorium of the High School. Mrs. Lawson's charming personality and sweet voice captivated her audience and applause was generous. The program was varied, all numbers pleasing her hearers, especially the old melodies to which Mrs. Lawson played her own accompaniment.

Miss Mary Bertollet; at the piano, shared honors with the soloist. All present were warm in their praise of the splendid program so well given.

Criticizes Co-eds As Housekeepers

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 11.—(INS)—Just because a girl scatters a few papers on the floor of the University of California Women's club rooms—or if any club rooms for that matter—is no reason why a crabbly old janitor should up and say she'll never make a good housekeeper. And, anyway, what does a janitor know about girls?

These statements were issued from indignant lips of scores of University of California co-eds today because of charges made by Emil Hildebrand, head janitor of Stephens Union clubhouse, that campus girls threw their papers and refuse on the clubhouse and were "too lazy to keep the place clean."

"There's a reason for girls being careless in their club rooms," explained Miss Margaret Leisenring, president of the Junior class and prominent in campus affairs, who quickly took up the cudgel against "that old janitor person."

"The girls don't look on the clubhouse as a home, but rather as a recreation spot," Miss Leisenring said. "Girl would keep their homes entirely different." Miss Rosa Bloxham, treasurer of the Woman's Athletic Association, excused her co-ed associations on the ground of time. "They would all make good housekeepers," she says, "and most of them are that already." And that's how Mister Hildebrand was squelched. "Nothing to say," was his only comment. "I'm through criticizing girls."

Thumbprints of William, Conq'r Are Discovered

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—(INS)—William the Conqueror made history for England before he could even write, as was the case of all kings in those times. William could only make his autograph sign manual, a rough cross, witnessed by other crosses. These crosses are so rare that the British Museum has even failed to procure one.

However, today, Charles Sessler, antiquarian, has the only known document of the great William, which bears the actual imprint of his hand.

In spite of the crudity, the mark was aw. Below the crosses are printed by a scribe the identification of the King, Queen and that of John Archbishop of Canterbury. There appear also two other crosses, drawn more roughly. The scribe identified them as Roger and Robert de Belleme, witnesses.

The document is written in Latin. It is a grant by Walerand, Count of Meulon Edmunds, to St. Stephens Church, Caen. St. Stephen's was William's church, built by him. John, Archbishop, one of the signatories with the English King, was none other than Lanfranc, appointed by the King, abbot of his church. He was later raised to the archbishopric.

It was from the St. Stephen's Church that William introduced the curfew in 1061, when all were

Little Button at White House Is Solid Gold

When President Sets Big Conventions Going He Uses Famous Telegraph Key Instrument Mounted on Slab of Alaska Marble, Studded With Score Of Nuggets.

(By Frank Hall Fraysur) INS Staff Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 11.—Newspaper dispatches have woven so much fame around the little "button" that the President pushes when he sets big convention and exhibitions in motion, hundreds of miles away, that out-of-town sight-seers to the White House have demanded open inspection of the proverbial object.

They have revealed that the "button" is a telegraph key—but a mighty splendid telegraph key. Except for the point of contact, the entire instrument is solid gold, mounted on a slab of Alaskan marble and studded with a score of gold nuggets—the first that came out of the Klondike when gold was struck there.

This famous instrument had served since 1909 as the Presidential point of electrical contact when he "starts things going." Its First Use The key was presented to President Taft by George W. Carmack, discoverer of gold in Alaska, and was originally used to open the famous Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle, June 1, 1909. This ceremony was performed in the East Room of the White House before one of the most distinguished audiences ever assembled there.

Four Presidents and as many first ladies of the land have since used the key in opening some of the epoch-making events of the last fifteen years.

Edward Smithers, chief telegrapher of the White House, is the guardian of the instrument, having been given it by President Taft. Whenever there is an important "button pushing" at the White House, Smithers uncovers the key and lends it for service. The most famous incident in which the key has served was that on October 10, 1913, when President Wilson, touching it in the East Room of the White House, blew up the Gamboa Dyke of the Panama Canal, virtually completing the ten years work of American engineers in making the first slip connection between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Used By Wilson Only President Wilson and Smithers were present on this occasion, despite the tremendous significance of the event throughout the world.

A year and a half later, on January 1, 1915, President Wilson arose from bed at 3 o'clock in the morning, went down stairs alone, and pressed the golden key to open the Panama-California Exposition in San Diego. Two months later, on February 20, 1915, he opened the Panama-Pacific Exposition in the same manner.

The most notable part the key has played since was on September 27, 1924, when President Coolidge opened the Skagit Hydro Electric Plant at Seattle.

Mrs. Coolidge has used the key several times, twice during the past year—to open the Women's World's Fair in Chicago on April 19, 1925, and to open the charity bazaar of the Lenox Neighborhood Association at Grand Central Palace, New York, on December 12.

Ouch! Aching Joints Rub Rheumatic Pain

Rheumatism is "pain" only. Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Lumber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains.

Joie Ray Has Strutted His Last

By DAVIS J. WALSH (INS Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 10.—The brevity of fame is so well and favorably known as to constitute a bromide, oft tried and always true. Yet a glycerine tear can be mustered over the situation every time the occasion arises. It is always good for a return engagement.

For example, take the case of Joie Ray. The film was not far distant when the writer, among many, looked upon Joie as the beau ideal of distance runners, a modern Alf Shrubb, whose amateur record would survive the ages. But the young man is going into retirement with his name appearing only twice in the record book.

Another season or so of competition and even those landmarks of past greatness may be obliterated and then you won't be able to find Joie's name in the book with the aid of a central office detective.

However, the two records in question happen to be no man's push-over. One of them is the world's indoor record of 4.12 for the mile, held jointly by Ray and Nurmii. Paavo seems to be the only one in sight with a chance of bettering that one and the possibility exists that he may never run again indoors. I think case, the record would survive—until another Nurmii came along, which might be no later than tomorrow.

Great as a competitor may be, his equal or superior seems to be just around the corner.

Ray's second record, and the only one he holds exclusively, is that of 2.29.3-5 for 1,000 metres. They say this one is to be "taken" at almost any time, although few of the good ones are interested in odd distances of this type.

But even if neither mark is wiped out, Ray will have all too little to show for his career of sensational running. No other runner has beaten 4:20 for the mile more than fifty times, no runner, with the exception of Nurmii and Ritola, has been able to better Shrubb's time for two miles. Certainly, none has bettered the consistency Ray knew when he was at the top of his form seven years ago.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days.

YOUR CROPS --- and YOU!

Your body needs attention and medicinal correction at certain intervals. It always needs food to make it perform as it should. When you get in this condition, you go to an expert—a doctor. He prescribes and you receive a preparation to cure your ills.

Your land is no different than your body. It produces crops each year. Its "energy" is exhausted. It needs a certain "medicine" to put it back into good working order. You cannot get a "soil doctor" but you can get a "remedy" which has proven itself year after year and is compounded to "cure" the individual "ailments" of your soil.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

INS Staff Correspondent
By ALICE LANGELIER
Paris, Feb. 11.—Just thirty years after the first representation of "Cyrano de Bergerac," a splendid French troupe is reviving it at the old Porte St. Martin Theatre in Paris.

Edmond Rostand's famous play is still drawing great crowds to the same theatre where the great Coquelin died, although the only remnant of this "erection is the sign of the celebrated actor, Jean Coquelin, always the jolly fat Ragueneau who makes delicious cakes and tarts.

Cyrano, this time, is Victor Francen, in this role, as in the others, pleasant and charming. If he is not the perfect "discur" of verse, he proves that he is a noteworthy comedian who does not exaggerate. Jeanne Provost is a most adorable Roxane and critics all agree that this part has never been played with more delicacy elegance and delightful coquetry.

The interesting fact about this revival is that the old play has lost none of its old-time popularity.

To help the great crowds of tourists, which are expected in the gay city next summer, information bureaux will soon be established in the five leading railway stations of the French capital.

The first of the bureaux opened recently at the Gare du Nord and the arrivals for Christmas found it very useful, especially one inquirer whose hat had blown out of the train window on his way to Paris. Lodgings were indicated and the names of good restaurants offered.

All of the interpreters and guides can speak English and French and there will be others, no doubt, who know Italian and Spanish as well as German. Precise information as to theatres, churches, railway schedules, addresses of business-houses, tourist agencies or American banks—all this and much more will be furnished, free of charge, with tact, courtesy and a desire to please thrown in. The French really want to make their Paris a "friendly city."

The recent floods in Paris and the suburbs made a few happy individuals. And while the Parisians read with satisfaction of the rapid fall of the Seine, the boatmen in and about their idle boats contemplating the subsiding waters with disconsolation. While the floods lasted, the barges and other vessels which ply up and down the Seine had to stop in Paris when they couldn't pass under the bridges. This meant that the boatmen and their families had an opportunity to see a bit of the gay capital. In the morning, the women could be seen taking their baskets to market and then at night whole families from the "Swift," the "Swallow," and other boats could be seen going off to see the bright lights and one of them cursed their fate.

Then there were some others who were not unhappy over the floods. These were the fishermen to be seen hanging over the parapets and bridge all along the quays. Very few people have ever seen a fish caught in the Seine, but there must be a few in it and the old-timers say they really are quite abundant when the waters are high.

Ice Under Bridge Puts No Damper On Enthusiasts

By DAVIS J. WALSH,
(INS Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 11.—The green, sun-lit hills of Poughkeepsie may seem like a vista of the distant future these ice-capped days, yet the University of Washington already is thinking in terms of another championship crew and not without reason. After sending East consecutive winners in 1923 and 1924, the Huskies finished a clinching second to a great Navy eight last year, the Middies winning by a half.

The good word from the Northwest is to the effect that the 1926 Huskies figure as the superior of last year's outfit and that only a superchampion can hope to row them down. Eight letter man, headed by Al Ulbricksen, are trying for places in the boat, it seems, and none of them are too sure of being named, at that.

So good is the material, in fact, that "Rusty" Callow has seen fit to rearrange his men to the extent of sending such an oarsman as Ulbricksen from stroke to No. 6. This has been done to make room for Jim Matthews at the pace-setting seat, the latter being a natural stroke oar.

So is Ulbricksen, for that matter. But it also happens that he can fit in anywhere in the forward part of the shell and Matthews can not. The shift simply is prompted by Callow's wholly logical idea that two stars are better than one.

Washington, of course, must first win its annual race with California before laying active plans for an Eastern invasion. The Bears are said to be in the midst of a crew revival, which may mean anything or nothing. If California really is coming back to its old standard, Washington may be in for a fatiguing afternoon, in spite of its impressive material.

The present boating includes the names of men familiar to the average Eastern follower of rowing. They are being seated in this order: Matthews, stroke; Stanford, No. 7; Ulbricksen, No. 6; Condon, No. 5; Kerns, No. 4; Glerup, No. 3; Mart, No. 2; Keith, bow; Withenow, coxswain.

It may be interesting to remember that the only Eastern coaches capable of giving the Huskies a run for it during the last four or five years, Dick Glendon and his father, have left the Middies in favor of Columbia. This may mean a lot to both institutions, although the effects may be in opposite directions. As a matter of fact the Glendons can hope to do little in one year at Columbia while the Middies are certain to feel the effect of their absence.

Another strike is reported in Hing-Kong. The Oriental rapidly is taking up the customs of his occidental brother—Durham sun.
