

REVIVAL SERVICES IN BAPTIST CHURCH LARGELY ATTENDED

Dr. H. F. Jones Will Preach Tonight on the Subject, "The King's Business Re- quireth Haste"

Dr. H. Frederick Jones preached a strong sermon in the Memorial Baptist Church last night on the subject, "No Man Careth For My Soul." The song service, under the direct of Prof. E. L. Wolslagel, was very enjoyable, and the musical program consisted of chorus singing, a duet "The Rugged Cross," by Prof. Wolslagel and Mrs. Earle Carter, and a solo by Prof. Wolslagel.

Rev. Mr. Jones took his subject from the text, Psalms 142-4—"I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me; refuge failed me; no man careth for my soul." The sermon was developed by many stories wherein the speaker related how people had become discouraged because "no-body cared." He appealed to the large audience to try to seek lost souls and tell them of the saving power of Jesus Christ. Mr. Jones repeated time and again the terrible indictment, "No man careth for my soul." He told of the importance of speaking to the children in the home, the gardener, the grocer boy, the merchant, the friend, about their soul's salvation.

"Let them know you are interested," said Mr. Jones, "and you may be the means of saving them from everlasting Hell."

At this point the speaker related an interesting story of how one of the most cultured women in a church, went to the red light district, manifested an interest in a woman who was an outcast and succeeded in bringing her into the church. There is always someone who can be spoken to, and perhaps a few words spoken in the right manner and the right time can turn steps from the downward road to the road that leads to everlasting life.

The following poetry has been quoted by Mr. Wolslagel during the meeting, and shows just how much God needs our help:

He's counting on you,
The Lord of us all,
He's needing your help,
Though your task may be small.

He's needing your hand,
And the love of your heart;
Are you giving your help,
Are you doing your part?

There are errands of love
Where your feet ought to go,
And your hands ought to help,
Oh, He's needing you so!

He's needing you so;
None other can fill,
The place that is yours,
Your part of God's will.

Don't let the days drift,
In idleness by,
You've a mission in life,
A purpose that's high.

He's counting on you,
The Lord of us all,
He's asking your help;
Will you answer His call?

Some Other Day

There are wonderful things we are going to do
Some other day;
And harbors we hope to drift into
Some other day;
With folded hands and oars that trail,

We wait and watch for a favoring gale,
To fill the folds of an idle sail,
Some other day.

We know we must toil if ever we win,
Some other day;
But we say to ourselves, "There's time to begin,"

Some other day,
And so deafening, we loiter on,
Until at last we find withdrawn,
The strength and hope we leaned upon,

Some other day.

Dr. Jones will preach tonight on the subject, "The King's Business Requireth Haste." Prof. Wolslagel has arranged a musical program appropriate to the sermon.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

The Tax on Fools.
Romantic Oil.
American Not Mexican.
One Surprised Briton.
ARTHUR BRISLANE

The Italian Government runs a lottery, as do many other nations. The latest drawing yielded a government profit of five million dollars, gambling excitement being increased by an individual predicting winning numbers. The numbers didn't win, but in Naples, alone the people spent fifteen million lire for tickets.

In Italy they call the lottery "the tax on fools."

We need not criticize Italy, for in this country according to statistics race track fools tax themselves eight hundred million dollars a year handing the money to bookmakers.

And get rich quick schemes tax the American public, especially women, a thousand millions more.

The marvel is that the people have any money left when the gamblers and the get rich quick schemers finish with them. It is all for the best probably. He who loses his savings must continue to work hard. Hard work, not people living on their incomes in idleness, is what the country needs.

Even the prosaic oil business is romantic. You know of the oil well that the Rockefeller have "brought in" within the Arctic circle. It would cost fifty millions to run in a pipe line. But at least the Rockefeller have that there is an Arctic reserve.

At Ventura, on the Pacific coast, the Shell Oil Company's docks were washed away. Its tankers could load no oil.

Associated said "bring your tank ships here, we'll load them." Associated runs a pipe line half a mile out on the bottom of the sea, has a flexible pipe anchored at the surface and fills tanks, storm or no storm.

Nearby, are wells driven down through the water, pumping up oil from below the Pacific. Submarines some day will find much wealth for enterprising prospectors.

The flying machine is used in prospecting now.

There is much excitement about the Mexican-American Dive Resort, maintained at Tia Juana just across the California border. Two American girls drank in one of the Tia Juana saloons with their father and mother. Then, it is said, they were drugged, and subsequently outrageously treated by men that may be shot for their crime. The unfortunate father, Petzet, of San Diego overwhelmed with shame, killed himself. His wife and two daughters, to wipe out the stain.

Very tragic, and the news that 52 of Tia Juana's drinking dives have been closed, is good news.

Secretary Kellogg doubtless will find a way to prevent constant migration of the United States citizens to the dives across the border.

And when the United States newspapers talk about the Tia Juana disgrace they should remember that it is a United States disgrace, more than a Mexican Tia Juana's drinking dives and race track dives are patronized and kept going by people from the United States.

If the American father had not taken his wife and daughters to a Tia Juana drinking dive, the daughters would have kept out of trouble, the father would not have found it necessary to kill himself and his family.

The Earl of Craven is probably the most amazed Briton now alive on earth.

The immigration department wants him on a charge of "moral turpitude" and there is talk of locking him up at Ellis Island and shipping him back to the British House of Lords, "as is."

To keep out women that do not quite come up to our high and pure moral standards might be treated as a fairly good joke.

But deporting a genuine nobleman, unable to pass the Y. W. C. A. acid test is new.

Roosevelt Hero Faces Battery of Cameras

FACING THE CAMERAS
Captain Fried, of the S. S. Roosevelt, who directed the thrilling rescue of the crew of the Antiope when it was sinking during an Atlantic storm, tried to dodge the limelight when his big liner steamed into New York on the return trip, but finally faced the battery of cameras when his wife consented to pose with him. Thousands turned out to honor Captain Fried and his heroic crew.

Reports Bill to Carry Program Naval Air Service

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The House Naval Committee today reported a bill to carry out its new five year building program for the naval air service at a cost of nearly $100,000,000.

The measure provides for two dirigibles, each three times the size of the wrecked Shenandoah, 1,000 airplanes, and an item of $300,000 for the purchase of an all metal airship.

The program calls for an annual expenditure of $20,000,000 and while a somewhat similar figure was inserted in the naval supply bill yesterday in the Senate no difficulty is expected in reaching an agreement when the measure goes to conference. Chairman Butler is expected to introduce within a few days a bill embodying a program in slightly modified form.

MAJORS OF ARMY AIR SERVICE TO BE REPRIMANDED

Majors H. H. Arnold and H. A. Dargue Found Responsible for "Objectionable Activities in the Air Service"

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Majors H. H. Arnold, and H. A. Dargue, of the army air service have been found responsible for "objectionable activities in attempting to influence air service legislation and will be reprimanded.

The findings resulted from an investigation ordered by Secretary of War, Davis, following distribution of circulars urging support for air service legislation favored by Major General Mason M. Patrick, Chief of the army air service.

Major Arnold is information officer in General Patrick's office and the General, who has been given authority to administer the discipline, found him most capable and announced that he would be sent to duty outside of Washington. Major Dargue is chief of the war plans division of the air service.

General Patrick in announcing his findings issued a statement replying to intimations in Congress and elsewhere that the investigation was really intended by the War Department to force him out of the service. In his behalf he said, "There was absolutely no foundation of fact for any such nonsensical statements."

President Coolidge Is Suffering Today From Heavy Cold

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—President Coolidge, after a brief stay today in his office, returned to his living quarters in the White House, to seek relief from a heavy cold. The President conferred during the morning with Chairman Madden, of the House Appropriations Committee, and received a call from Ambassador Rian, of Spain. He then cancelled all other engagements for the day.

GENERAL PROBE OF GREENVILLE CONVICTS' DEATHS ARE ELIMINATED IN BEING CONDUCTED GAME LAST NIGHT

Attorney Gen. Davis Investigating Deaths of Convicts of Alabama Mines Operated by Convict Labor

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The State and Treasury Departments were asked today by Representative Swing, Republican of California, to request Mexico to free border of vice resorts which are operated for the purpose of preying upon American citizens.

It was explained by Mr. Swing that the death of the Petzet family, after mistreatment of two of the daughters in Tia Juana, prompted his action. Both Secretary Kellogg and Assistant Secretary Andrews of the Treasury, he said, had received the request sympathetically. Numerous protests and appeals growing out of the Petzet tragedy, Representative Swing added, had reached his office. Several years ago he declared, he urged establishment of a 50 mile zone along the border to be free from liquor, vice and gambling. As an immediate moral protest and in order to restrict border vice activities, he said he had asked General Andrews to issue an order to advance the closing time at the border to an earlier hour each night. He expressed confidence that the administration would take prompt action.

GREENVILLE HIGHS WOULD REQUEST MEXICO TO FREE BORDER RESORTS

Maysville Highs Defeat Locals in One of the Cleanest Games of the Season; Eliminated From Championship Race

The best team won. That is the story in brief of the second game of basket ball in the elimination series played last night in Kinston between the Greenville and Maysville Highs, in which the latter was victorious by a goodly margin of 43 to 26. Until last night the locals had a perfect score for the season being played and won eight consecutive games.

Notwithstanding the fact that both quints were struggling for supremacy towards the State championship goal, the game last night was one of the cleanest, in which there was absolutely not the least sign of roughness on a single player, there being but a few fouls called. The Maysville boys, because of their size, were able to make their passes over the heads of the locals and this one factor gave them the victory, and their accuracy in shooting had a slight edge on that of Greenville.

The scoring for Maysville was very equally divided among the five players, but for the locals, Doug West was the outstanding star of the contest with fifteen points to his credit. Several times he dribbled the entire length of the court through every member of the opposing team for a score, and with proper support from his teammates the score would have been closer.

AYDEN RE-DRYING TOBACCO PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

$27,000 Plant With $7000 Insurance Destroyed by Fire of Unknown Origin

The re-drying tobacco plant, at Ayden, was destroyed by fire of an unknown origin last night at 10 o'clock. The plant, which was owned by a stock company, cost $27,000.00, with $7,000.00 insurance.

The plant was located near Griffin's Mill, north of the city. The splendid work of the fire company saved the adjoining buildings. Several tenant houses caught fire also, but the flames were quickly extinguished without serious damage.

QUEEN'S CONTEST TO BE FEATURE OF EXPOSITION

The Eastern Carolina Exposition and automobile show will be staged in Greenville, April 5 to 9. Taking all the various phases of the exposition into consideration, perhaps one of the most important attractions will be the Queen's Contest.

The Queen's Contest, in which the young ladies from the towns which belong to the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, compete, always attracts wide attention and several contestants vie with each other, to win the valuable prizes, diamond rings.

The regulations regarding the entry in the contest are as follows:

1. No young lady can be a candidate in this contest, who has not passed her 17th birthday by April 1st, 1926.
2. Only single young ladies are eligible to participate in this contest.
3. All entries must be formally registered with the Secretary-Manager, Newel G. Bartlett, Kinston, N. C., not later than March (Continued on page 6)

SAYS RESORTS ARE OPERATED FOR PURPOSE OF PREYING UPON AMERICAN CITIZENS

Tusculum, Ala., Feb. 17.—(AP)—A general investigation into recent deaths of convicts of Alabama mines operated by convict labor, is being conducted by Attorney General Davis, following the filing of complaints. John W. Taylor yesterday asked that an investigation be conducted into the death of his son, who died at a convict camp after serving eight days of a ten year sentence. Announcement by the Attorney General also indicated a grand jury investigation will be requested into the death of James Knox, a West Virginian, who died in a convict camp in August 1924. He said efforts had been made to frustrate his inquiry into the case.

Mr. Taylor, in his complaint filed with Sheriff Cobb, of Colbert County, charged that his son was beaten to death by two negro trustees, who had been ordered to punish him. Mr. Taylor said his son had never been troubled with his heart. He requested an exhumation of the boy's body to determine if possible what caused his death. The Taylor case is similar to that of Knox, who reports say was scalded to death when he fell to dig his share of coal. The Attorney General has been investigating his death, but has not given the report, which he said will be voluminous. Prison records state Knox died from poison, self administered. Many newspaper reports said that Knox was scalded to death in a vat and poison forced down his throat.

WITLESS LAW ENFORCEMENT

The New York immigration authorities, who have got us into the Countess Cathcart mess have their defense. They point to the law which directs the deportation of "any alien who is convicted, or who admits the commission, prior to entry, of a felony or a crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude."

But it is too much to expect of our immigration inspection staff, composed as it is of adults, that it enforce the "moral turpitude" law with a touch of common sense? Does not teach of these officials know what is sought under this law is to exclude criminals—murderers, gunmen, thieves, bombthrowers, confidence men, procurers, swindlers, etc.—and not persons who have broken the Seventh Commandment?

How has the witless insistence of the immigration officials on the letter of the law served the cause of American purity? It has served it by giving national publicity to a divorce case four years forgotten, by stimulating the sales of tabloids serializing the unfortunate lady's "confessions," by bringing embarrassment upon the family of the lady's paramour now and for some time reunited to his wife and children, by causing him to flee to Canada to avoid a sensational government inquiry into an episode that he had buried, and by familiarizing five million flappers with a scandal that they were too young to understand when it was running for the first times as news. Had the Countess Cathcart not been held up none of this elevating stuff would have got into the prints. Not in a long time has an act of witless righteousness been paid for so promptly and so dearly. — Virginian Pilot.

WE MUST NOT FAIL

In an effort to dispose of North Carolina's quota of the Stone Mountain Memorial Coin, the "last call campaign" will be launched February 17th under the direction of ex-Governor Cameron Morrison, assisted by several of North Carolina's most charming women.

It is regrettable but true that the "old North State" is far behind the other states in buying their quota of the coins and we wall want them, but we did not know that they will be taken off the market March 7. Another thing that we did not know was that Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi, South Carolina and Georgia have practically taken their entire quota, and that active campaigns are being conducted in Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Surely North Carolina is going to come to the front more splendidly than any other people in this whole Southland. Just as soon as we realize that we have overlooked "doing out bit" no doubt we will awake and get to work. All North Carolinians want is an opportunity to "do their bit" in giving honor to our Southern soldiers.

Let's be ready when the "Harvest Campaign" is launched, and not have it said of us that our own Tar-Heel State failed to raise its quota of 150,000 coins, the proceeds of which will be used in carving the figures of her five Generals.

Please don't let's fail. Our honor is at stake.

Anti-Trust Suit Fight Monopoly C'mbat Monopoly

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The Department of Justice's anti-trust suit against the National Food Products Corporation filed last Saturday in New York, was in line a purpose to forestall tendencies toward monopolies rather than combat a monopoly already formed, it is explained here. It is made clear that the Department would not hold in the petition for the restraining order that the corporation has acquired actual control of a number of chain groceries and other food and dairy organizations as previously reported. It was set forward rather than the corporation had obtained stock in such organizations, the amount of which was not specified and this stock should be relinquished. The National Food Products Corporation was organized as a holding company, the Government contended, with the purpose of acquiring stock in food companies throughout the United States.

Training Zuni Indian to Beat Paavo Nurmi

California Athletes Expect To Produce Greatest Runner The World Has Ever Known Series Of Races For 1926 Planned To Develop Class Of Outstanding Sprinters.

Los Angeles, Feb. 17.—(INS)—Has America a more marvelous runner than Paavo Nurmi?

Bob Weaver, president of the Southern California division of the A. A. U., believes that the Zuni tribe of Indians can produce a track athlete never before equalled in all the world.

To that end he has inaugurated a series of races for 1926 which he hopes will develop an outstanding Indian racer.

The Zuni Indians have always been known as runners and years ago won distinction carrying messengers and mail across the desert wastes.

One Zuni formerly carried the mail between Zuni and Panah stations in New Mexico, covering the round trip, a distance of forty-six miles daily, between sunrise and sunset.

Weaver believes that his series of race meets, the first of which resulted in a victory for Thomas Humphreys, a Sherman Indian school student, will develop an Indian runner worthy to compete against the world's best in the Olympic games, 1928.

Humphreys won a six-mile race against the leading white men of this section and broke the tape without extending himself.

"Zuni Indians would rather run

Who Gets Rescue Hero

A HERO'S REWARD

Mrs. Fried went aboard the S. S. Roosevelt from a tug when the American liner returned from Europe after its thrilling rescue of the crew of the freighter Antiope in mid-Atlantic on the outbound trip. She greeted her husband, Captain Fried, with a hearty kiss.

than ride," Weaver declares. "The Zuni method of catching and breaking in a horse is its start chasing the animal across the prairie land. They keep running until the animal falls down from exhaustion. Then the Indian puts the horse on the back to tame him, climbs on the horse and gives a demonstration of who is boss."

While in training for a race, the Zuni Indian's chief food is bread. For breakfast he has light bread and nutmeg stew. For lunch he has bread made from blue corn, baked in strips, as thin as paper. For dinner he has more bread and coffee.

The runners of the Hopi tribe are bitter rivals of the Zunis. Recently a Hopi racer defeated a Zuni runner and the Zunis circulated the story that the defeat was accomplished by sprinkling Hopi medicine on the track.

As soon as the Zuni-tribe's champion crossed the medicine his legs became weak and the Hopi runner was enabled to breeze home as an easy winner.

N. C. Automotive Trade Ass'n. Be Held Twin-City

Winston-Salem, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The annual convention of the North Carolina Automotive Trade Association, to be held here on March 17 and 18, will be the most largely attended meeting of its kind ever held in the state. Henry W. Mastern, chairman of the local convention committee believes.

A tentative program for the convention has already been mapped out. National, state and city officials have been invited to attend the sessions, and an interesting and entertaining business and social program is being prepared. It is stated.

The convention will actually get under way at a luncheon on the seventeenth, at which reports of officers and committees will be heard. There will also be speeches at the luncheon. The forenoon of the first day will be devoted to registration and committee meetings.

At a banquet to be held on the evening of the seventh, officers for the current year will be chosen.

The second day of the convention will be devoted to the problems of automotive salesmen. The sales congress on the second day will be led by officials of the National Automobile Dealers' Association and by Howard J. Wischaupt, sales analyst.

The convention will close with an Oriental Frolic at the country club on the evening of March 18.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How to Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no straggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils. Let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centres of Population.

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent.

London, Feb. 17.—Brilliant color schemes are to be the fashion for the interiors of the Mayfair mansions during the coming season. Many prominent hostesses are remaining in town, living temporarily at hotels, and superintending the redecorating themselves.

Among the most popular schemes are variations on that adopted by Lady Astor at her St. James Square house—gold-paneled walls, silver ceilings and dark blue or black floors.

The more ordinary kinds of panelling are giving way to walls of delicately shaded enamel. "Sunlit stairways" are another noteworthy novel for which Mayfair has fallen. Here the general scheme is a deep rich brown carpet, silver rods, and the banisters shaded from a deep brown at the bottom to a lighter tone at the top. The sunlit effect is obtained by the lower parts of the banisters, being dusted with gold paint.

The superstition which looks upon numbers and statistics as the work of the devil is recognized by the Church of England in its new official year book.

"From time to time," says the editor in the introduction, "arguments have been put forward depreciating the value of these returns. There are other critics who object to the use of statistics, in any shape or form. They are wont to quote the catastrophe which fell upon the Israelite king who numbered the people, and they refer, with approval, to the implied condemnation of Holy Scripture of the collection of figures."

It is stated that many persons, even to the present day, object to be "numbered" in the course of the regular census taken by the Government.

It is understood that King George and Queen Mary will embark on another short Mediterranean cruise when the various functions which the Court's return to London has entailed have been disposed of. Quite a number of private floating palaces are at present in the Mediterranean, including many American yachts, making cruises preparatory to Southampton or up the Thames for the London season, but the King probably will avoid the more popular ports and places, making the most of his brief holiday in the company only of a British destroyer. Princess Mary is not expected to share the trip, the King and Queen being accompanied by the Prince of Wales unless it is decided that he should remain in England as Regent.

Mrs. George L. Kennedy, of Boston, famous for her musical parties, has been responsible for the return of the harpsichord to popularity in London.

At her group of musical evenings given recently, Mrs. Kennedy put aside the cello, which she usually plays for her guests, in favor of the harpsichord. It was the greatest discovery of the month, and now the harpsichord is an indispensable adjunct to the fashionable drawing room—if you can get one, for even in London they are few, and their price is commensurate with their antiquity.

The show, of the spring frocks by the leading London houses, to which only a privileged few are invited, indicate that grey is to be the fashionable shade wherever a neutral tint is needed—and also that the promised increase of length has not materialized.

Knee-length frocks, are definitely to remain fashionable for the spring, but the increased length has been put off until summer, or there over, full use being made. Evening gowns are to be gay of gold, silver and the new bronze tissue.

Professor Ross, sound thinker, of the University of Wisconsin, has cheer for this troubled world.

It is getting better, he says; 100 years hence, the average man will enjoy benefits of civilization "now enjoyed only by the most advanced people."

Religions are less violent in their hates than they used to be. The average length of life is increasing. Child welfare is considered more important than any particular detail in baptism or any squabble about the nature of the Trinity.
