A DUAL SUBJECT BE PRESENTED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Revival Services in Memorial Baptist Church Last Night One of Best of the Series; Strong Ser- mon on "The Inner Circle"

Now there stood by the Cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary, the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, "Woman, behold thy son!"—John 19:25-26.

"The Inner Circle," the subject of last night's sermon in the Memorial Baptist Church, was developed from the above text. Dr. H. Frederick Jones, in his pleasing and interesting manner, preached one of the best sermons ever heard in Greenville, when he drew a word picture of Jesus Christ hanging on the Cross between two thieves, and four women and one man, standing by the Cross, forming the Inner Circle.

Prof. E. L. Wolslagel, soloist and musical director, rendered a program appropriate to the sermon. Mrs. Morton and Mr. Wolslagel sang a duet, and Prof. Wolslagel a solo. The message in song made the sermon most effective and was greatly enjoyed.

Dr. Jones, in developing his sermon, told of The World, Hell and Heaven being represented in the crowd who witnessed the crucifixion of Christ. The outer circle composed of the indifferent, lukewarm, not caring whether or not Christ was crucified, represented the world. The Roman soldiers and their followers, represented Hell. They were the ones who were having Christ crucified. They were the ones who said "He saved others, Himself he cannot save." They were the ones who mocked Christ because he was the Son of God. The Inner Circle, represented Heaven. They stood by the Cross. They were with Christ to the end.

McLean to Speak At Greensboro Merchants Meet

Raleigh, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Governor McLean left here at two o'clock this afternoon for Greensboro. Tonight he will address the Greensboro Merchants Association. The Executive is expected to return to Raleigh tomorrow.

Plead Guilty of Being Clad Adam Eve Costumes

Munich, Germany, Feb. 19.—(AP)—50 members of a cult called "The Friends of Light" have pleaded guilty to charges of prancing about the wooded Bavarian Alps clad in costumes of Adam and Eve. Each was fined from 100 to 150 marks for disorderly conduct.

A jealous wife, her husband a member, oblivious to the high ideal professed by the cult notified the police. A raid followed while the men and women were singing and dancing in the moonlight on the shores of Lake Tegern, their clothes hanging on nearby bushes. The Friends protested against the rude interruption.

College Girl Wallops Masher

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 18.—(INS)—Mashers and morons now have fair warning not to bother Drake University co-eds. Miss Gertrude Haynes, of Waterloo, Iowa, a sophomore, proved at least one co-ed is able to take care of herself.

She was accosted by a man believed to be a moron, as she was returning from her work at a playground center, through which she earns part of her college expense.

She first attempted flight, walking briskly. But when the man grabbed her arm she—as she expressed it—"socked him in the jaw."

The surprise blow caught her assailant off balance and felled him. Fearing the man was injured, she called the police, but he recovered and dashed away before they arrived.

RUDOLPH DISSE PAYS PENALTY IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

'Drug Store Cow-Boy' Triple Slayer, Died Today at 7:50 O'clock

Richmond, Va., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Denied a third reprieve, 21 year old Rudolph Disse, "drug store cow-boy" slayer, paid the penalty in the electric chair in the state penitentiary here this morning.

Locked in his hotel room, Governor Byrd reviewed the case until after midnight last night before he refused to grant a reprieve to the youth, who on July 28 slew Vivian Tomlin Peers, beautiful model, and his paramour, John H. Burke, Richmond Police Detective, and H. G. Carter, rival in the triangular love affair.

At 7:50 o'clock today it was announced from the penitentiary Disse had been electrocuted.

Questions the Reading Recipe On Making Beer

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A ruling by Attorney General Sargent as to whether it will be permissible under the Volstead Act to read a portion of George Washington's notebook containing a recipe under making beer at its "face and facts" dinner on Washington's birthday, has been asked by the Association against the Prohibition amendment.

A raid followed while the men and women were singing and dancing in the moonlight on the shores of Lake Tegern, their clothes hanging on nearby bushes. The Friends protested against the rude interruption.

The blushing police took their names and ordered them to appear in court. Only one of 20 arresting officers testified that he was not shocked by the nymph-like dance. Counsel for the League explained the organization sought "to develop and organize the noblest traits in man." Other persons testified that had the police failed to stop the performance the White Caps of the Mountains, an organization of rural highlanders, would have administered a series of sound thrashings.

CENTER ATTENTION ON RAILROAD ACTIVITIES

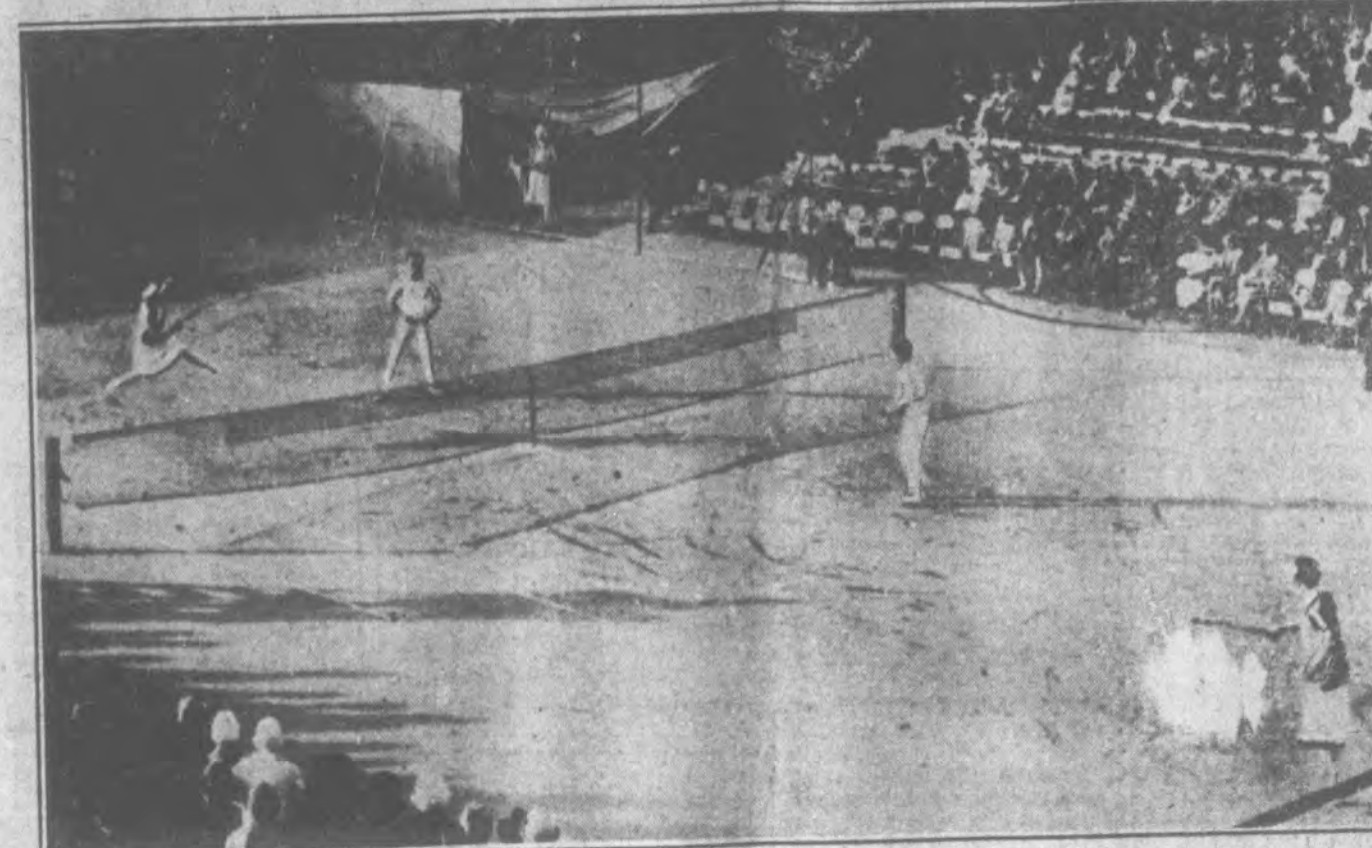

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Wall Street and transportation men of the United States were centering their attention today on railroad activities in the south.

Developments yesterday indicated that the "Walters Railroads," chief of which are the Atlantic Coast Line and the Louisville and Nashville, are nearing a merger into a system with assets of $1,000,000,000, and about 13,000 miles of track. There was also announced here that the Seaboard Air Line will add 637 miles of track establishing a through route along the Florida West Coast and across Georgia and opening new gate ways to the West. The Louisville and Nashville yesterday instead of naming a new president to succeed W. L. Mapother, appointed George E. Evans, Executive Vice President, with powers of the president. This was seen in Wall Street as an indication of the merger of the lines.

Henry Walters will continue as Chairman of the Louisville and Nashville and of the Atlantic Coast Line. It is believed he will eventually head a consolidated road which will include in addition to the above lines the Carolina (Clyncfield and Ohio, and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis,

MRS. BRYANT TRIPP DIED TODAY AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS

Winterville, N.C., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Bryant Tripp, 87, died today at 12:30 o'clock, at her home near Winterville. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with interment following in the Ayden cemetery.

Mrs. Tripp received injuries in a fall last week, from which she suffered great pain. Due to her age and the broken hip, she continued to grow weaker until her death today.

She was beloved by a host of friends throughout her community. She is survived by several children.

Negro Shot in Quarrel Over Pair of Gloves

Will Jones, negro, of Bethel Township, shot Will Carney yesterday afternoon as the outcome of a quarrel over a pair of gloves.

Jones is being held in the Pitt county jail awaiting trial. We could not ascertain the condition of Carney.

Helen Wills Wins Two Decisive Victories Today

Beaulieu, France, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Two more decisive victories today marked the progress of Helen Wills, the American tennis champion, through the Women's singles in the Beaulieu Tennis Tournament. She defeated Miss Emily Wright 6 to 0 and 6 to 0, and Mrs. Randolph Lycett 6 to 0 and 6 to 1.

Looking from the window of this little ranch house, you see five men baling alfalfa, cut last October, and now as green inside the stack, as when it was cut. Twenty eight dollars a ton is the price it brings here on the ranch, and the crop runs eight tons to the acre, even crops a season. Tell eastern farmers about that.

The Holstein cow, looking at the baling machine gives five gallons of milk a day, enough for all on the ranch, with some left over for butter." David Macanlay, who is handling the alfalfa bales, says: "They would not believe that, back in Lakewood N. J."

Many things are happening, far from this spot of the Mojave Desert, and some should be mentioned.

ARTHUR BRISBANE

Hodge, California, Feb. 17.—In California, if you want a thing in a hurry, you can get it. David Davidson, foreman of a building crew, brought here from Los Angeles, and asked to build a substantial camp house, with twelve rooms and three baths, in three weeks, will finish it in two weeks. The wonderful climate does not diminish energy.

Californians are passionately devoted to their state. A native son, taking gasoline at the summit of Cajon Pass, 4,200 feet up, had written on the back of his car, in large letters, this legend: "Just back from Florida. Barnum was right."

"No," said he, "I have never been to Florida, I'm not fool enough to leave California. That sign on my car? That's just patriotic California advertising."

Much advertising, of all kinds, many expressions of gay humor and some serious thought may be read on automobiles, as they fly past. One sedate person, driving a small car, at a very high speed, had written on his back curtain, "Jesus, The Light of the World." Another automobile sign, in lighter vein reads: "In case of fire, throw this in."

The people of this coast here on the high desert, or farther west, at the Pacific's edge are all cheerful, with a serious note predominant. You can drive under a twisting, dangerous, short tunnel and read, on one side: "Read Your Bible." On the other: "Fear God, You Are Facing Eternity." On the whole, however, the roads are safe, drivers careful.

Everywhere you see the sign: "Buy goods made in California, and build up your state." That sign is recommended to foolish earners that demand goods made in England and France, forgetting that money made in this country should build up this country.

Congress devotes thirty four million dollars to aircraft, not enough, but better than nothing, and the total appropriation for the navy, three hundred and sixteen millions.

The idiosyncrasy of that last figure is made clear by the fact that if war of the modern kind should come the airships would have to protect our hundreds of millions worth of ships floating on the water. Only submarines and flying machines would be of any value.

In any real business, managed by competent business men, such trash as our battleships would have been junked long ago.

President Cancels Cabinet Meeting Due to Illness

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The President cancelled today's cabinet meeting and remained in bed seeking relief from the heavy cold from which he is suffering.

The cabinet session and a conference with Director Lord, of the Budget Bureau, which was also called off were the only morning engagements of the President. He planned to get up later in the day and go to the Executive office for his semi-weekly conference with newspaper correspondents.

While White House officials reiterated today that the President was suffering from a cold his pulse and temperature they said was normal, and by remaining in bed he was merely seeking to conserve his strength.

District Confab Bankers Be Held In Ahooskie

The annual district convention of bankers of this section, of which the local banking institutions are a part, will be held in Ahooskie on next Monday, it being a National holiday observance. In this particular group there are seventy odd banks, 11 of which are supposed to be represented at these annual events. Two or three officials of the local banks are on the program for addresses, featuring banking conditions today, as compared with activities and achievements of former periods.

A judicial decision, declaring the tax on gifts illegal, is welcome. That law was simply a good excuse for selfishness, unwilling to give away anything. Every man worth while should put property, as fast as he can, in the name of his wife and children, and beyond the reach of any foolishness that he may develop later.

The two vessels, under command of Vice-Admiral Hildesneke, will carry about 150 graduates of the Naval College and the Colleges of Naval Engineering and Naval Paymasters, who will be given practical training at sea.

MANY LONDON BUTLERS SEEK NEW YORK JOBS

London, Feb. 18.—(INS)—London is full of ex-butlers without jobs who would like to get to New York to take advantage of the well-paying jobs they hear about, but are prohibited by the strict American immigration laws.

The normal salary of a butler here is $800 a year. Not only is there not much money in this form of service any more, but many people are reducing their establishments, finding that they can get along with a young man who will work with a footman, a proceeding to which the old pre-war butler would never have consented.

College men never graduate in a hurry. They do it by degrees.—Mobile News-Item.

PAYLOR ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR DISTRICT SOLICITOR

Mr. John Hill Paylor, popular and well-known attorney of Farmville, today announced his candidacy for Solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in June.

Mr. Paylor is the second Pitt county man to enter the Solicitorship race. Mr. D. M. Clark having already announced his candidacy.

The young Farmville attorney possesses a host of friends throughout the county who will give him their undivided support.

Railway Traffic Blocked Today Several Hours

Salisbury, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Both tracks of the main line of the Southern Railway were blocked about midnight when several freight cars were wrecked in the Southern limits of the city and all traffic on the road was blocked for several hours. The wreckage was cleared sufficiently at eight o'clock this morning for trains to resume their running. No one was injured.

JAPAN TO USE WARSHIPS TO TRAIN MEN FOR NAVY

Tokyo, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Two Japanese warships, the Yakumo and the Izumo, will be utilized as training ships for the Japanese navy during 1926 and will make a round-the-world cruise, leaving Japan sometime in July.

The finding of the grave rewarded a search of several years by Mrs. Z. W. Copeland, of Elberton, a student of the Revolutionary history.

Nancy Hart, according to the historical story, captured six Tories during the revolution, when they came to her home in Elberton county, Ga. They demanded dinner and she prepared the meal. While they ate, she obtained a shotgun, captured the visitors and held them until all came.

Hart County, Georgia, which adjoins the old Hart tract, is named in honor of Nancy Hart. Mrs. Copeland's researches found Mrs. Annie McL. Dennis Hart, a great-granddaughter of the Georgia heroine, and Miss Sygg, a great-granddaughter, who is still living in Kentucky, and is 98 year old.

COUNTESS WINS RESPITE FROM DEPORTATION

Writ of Habeas Corpus Calls for Appearance Countess Cathcart Tuesday.

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The Countess of Cathcart won a temporary respite from deportation today when Federal Judge Goddard issued a writ of habeas corpus calling for her appearance in court next Tuesday morning.

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Unless legal complications intervene, the Countess of Cathcart, excluded from the United States on grounds of moral turpitude because of her elopement in 1922 with the Earl of Craven, faces deportation tomorrow or Sunday.

The Countess, investigation officers said, still has a chance to go voluntarily. She insists, however, that she will fight to a finish.

From Lady Craven comes the statement that the Countess was warned in London that she would be excluded.

The Countess of Cathcart, ordered deported from the United States, has cabled to London that she hopes to be back here for the opening night of her play "Ashes" which is to be produced within three weeks.

Prof. Wolslagel to Hold Service for Federation

Prof. E. L. Wolslagel, soloist and musical director for the Memorial Baptist revival services, will conduct services for the Laymen's Christian Federation, Saturday morning at 11:15 o'clock. The members of the Federation and the public are cordially invited to attend.

Charges Forestry Assn Conducting Propaganda Cam

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A charge that the American Forestry Association has conducted a campaign of propaganda throughout the country in behalf of policies of the Forest Reserve of the Agriculture Department, was made today by Chairman Stanfield, of the Senate Public Lands Committee.

Heavy Frost Probable Tonight

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Heavy to killing frost is probable tonight as far south as Northern Florida and light frost may be expected nearly to Miami, the weather bureau forecasted early today.

Nancy Hart's Grave Is Found In Kentucky

Elberton, Ga., Feb. 19.—(INS)—The grave of Nancy Hart, heroine of a famous Revolutionary War episode, long sought by Revolutionary historians and students, has been located near Henderson, Ky.

The finding of the grave rewarded a search of several years by Mrs. Z. W. Copeland, of Elberton, a student of the Revolutionary history.

EARLY AGREEMENT INHERITANCE TAX IS NOW EXPECTED

House Conferees Consider Proposal and Indicate Expected Agreement Before Night

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—An early agreement between the conferees on the tax bill by which the inheritance tax will be restored to the measure was freely predicted today after another two hours' conference of representatives of the Senate and House.

The inheritance tax, which the Senate has voted to repeal, has been a main stumbling block to final agreement.

In yielding to restoration of the inheritance levy it was indicated the Senate had gained its point for a retroactive cut on the levy by which the increased rates voted two years ago would be wiped out in favor of the lower rate in effect in 1921.

The conference, which broke up for a while yesterday during the fight on the inheritance tax, reached another crisis today. Senate conferees informed the House how far they were willing to go on a compromise and left the conference until later in the day.

House conferees considered the proposal for another hour and indicated they expected an agreement before night.

Campaign to Close Non-Union Mines Is Unfounded

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The South Western Indiana coal field is on edge as a result of the recent sporadic clashes between non-union miners and union sympathizers had a nervous twitch early today when reports were circulated that a band of Herrin, Ill., miners were enroute there to aid in a campaign to close non-union mines.

The reports, first given circulation by an Evansville police captain, apparently was without foundation. The officer said his information came from a motorcycle scout.

There was no invasion today, and a check-up of joints along the Wabash river, which separates Indiana from Illinois, disclosed there had been no unusual influx from Illinois.

Miners in Gibson county are said to have received offers of aid from Herrin miners, but reports said this aid had been declined. The Sunnyside Mine, near this city, which union sympathizers have sought to close, was operating this morning.

Radio in Wilds of Congo Finds Lost Brother

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 19.—(INS)—A remarkable story of the reunion of an American woman, living in San Francisco, with her brother, from who she separated in Copenhagen a quarter of a century ago, now living in the wilds of the African Congo—effected by means of amateur radio enthusiasts—has come to light here.

Mrs. Lydia Nelson read in a newspaper that Radio Station OA—4Z had been getting wonderful results, broadcasting, having been heard by amateurs in Europe and various cities, in America. She wrote the operator of the station, J. L. Street, at Capetown, and asked that a message be broadcast in search of her brother, Sigfred Yensen, who she heard, had gone to the African Congo.

Street complied with her request, and out of the jungle came a message from Yensen.

An amateur enthusiast in Memphis, sitting long after midnight, over his powerful receiving set, picked up this message from the Capetown station:

"Sigfred Yensen has been located in the Congo. Please notify Mrs. Lydia Nelson, 1139 McAllister street, San Francisco, that he is writing to her."

"My brother must have picked up my message on a radio set at his home far in the wilds of the Congo," Mrs. Nelson wrote, gratefully to the Memphis amateur. "I can hardly wait until his letter comes."

WHO GETS TAX REDUCTION?

The bills are being put through Congress to lop off millions of federal taxes will benefit the great mass of the taxpayers, including the large taxpayer and the non-taxpayer.

Tax reduction is inevitably a great stimulant to industry, to investment and to the inauguration of new enterprises, because it means a lowering of production costs.

Now it is a fact that cost of production is almost inevitably passed on to the consumer, as much as raw material and labor costs, only the item of taxation is a permanent one liable to be increased by state and local authorities.

It is not easily controverted that the sale price of an article, which must be the total cost of production plus a profit, and all cost of operation, is finally taxed upon the consumer. And so it comes about that all are benefitted by tax reduction.

DON'T KILL THE BIRDS

Department of agriculture estimates given 75 billion as the probable number of birds in the world, about 40 times the number of people. They estimate five billion birds in the United States.

Birds are mankind's best friends. Practically every bird is a costless, automatic self-perpetuating bug-and-worm-killer, without whose aid the country would soon swarm with insect plagues like those of Egypt in the times of Pharaoh.

It is perhaps good business for the nation that gun and ammunition prices are so high that comparatively few people can buy them for bird-killing. There was a time when the household shotgun was desirable, even necessary to fill the family larder; now the kitchen table is supplied best, by the absence of the means to kill the birds that save the crops.

ARE YOU A GOOD CITIZEN?

The obligations of citizenship do not rest solely or chiefly in the exercise of the privilege of voting, or in conducting campaigns or in holding offices. Important as are all the duties, their performance will amount to nothing unless our citizens are imbued with the spirit of our institutions, which means respect for a government of law, a sincere desire to better in every practical way the conditions of human life, loyalty in all relations of life, and the disposition to be kindly and fair in all dealings with one's fellow men." — Charles E. Hughes.

NORTH CAROLINA GUARDS HER FORESTS

The state of North Carolina is launching an intensive educational program to build up her forest wealth. The state will join other progressive members of the Union in checking the devastating work that has been going on in forests.

The state will not confine itself to artificial planting of forest tree on denuded areas, but will make a survey to select the lands best adapted to growing forests.

Governor McLean proposes to employ the radio from a central distributing plant at Raleigh, to conserve and protect from fire and waste present forest resources and increase plantations as rapidly as possible.

WORLD'S BIGGEST SHOW OF PRICELESS JEWELS STAGED AT BARODA FETE

Bombay, Feb. 18.—(INS)—What is claimed to be the most priceless collection of jewels in the world were on view at Baroda recently.

The property of the Maharajah of Baroda, the jewels saw the light of day for the first time in many years at a fete held by the Maharaja in celebration of the State's jubilee.

Only worn on the most important State occasions, the jewels include a gorgeous collar of fifty diamonds, some as large as walnuts, and a famous diamond pendant called "the Star of the Deccan."

Besides the jewels personally worn by the Maharaja, there were also on view for the benefit of the Maharaja's guests, strings of pearls graduating in size from that of a large marble, rings, necklaces, and clusters of sapphires, and clusters of rubies as large as grapes.

A carpet ten feet by six was woven with strings of pearls and incrustured with circles of diamonds. It took three years to make this carpet.

It is natural that men should object to women drinking, especially in view of the alarming rate the new enforcement drive is cutting down supply.—Durham Sun.

BRITAIN IS BECOMING NATION OF MERE CLERKS, FEARS LORD SOUTHWARK

London, Feb. 18.—(NS)—Britain is in danger of becoming a nation of clerks, according to Lord Southwark, a well-known figure in the world of commerce here. His Lordship's contention is supported by many other prominent Englishmen. Addressing the annual meeting of the British Chamber of Commerce at Bath, Lord Southwark deplored the increasing tendency of the English State schools to turn out boys whose only qualifications were clerical, and declared that the worship of the black coat among Englishmen had resulted in the market being flooded.

"Businessmen are agreed," he said, "that the present English system of elementary education tended to produce and increase unduly the supply of clerical assistants. This craze to become a clerk has resulted in the market being flooded with clerks and unemployed, who have a smattering of all subjects but are masters of none."

Ten-Acre Tobacco Crop Brings $6,000 (Clipping from the Raleigh News & Observer)

"Kinston, N. C., Nov. 12th—A ten-acre crop of tobacco on the farm of J. E. Mumford, of Pitt County, has paid him more than $6,000 this fall. He has received more than $600 per acre for the production in spite of the early season slump. Most of the $6,000 represented profit to Mumford, according to warehouse acquaintances here, since he is a "live at home" grower, producing his own pork, grain and other necessities."

Chas. W. Priddy & Co., Inc. Norfolk, Va. Gentlemen:— I made ten (10) acres of tobacco this year, on which I used your VELVET TOBACCO GROWER, applied at the rate of 1000 pounds per acre.

I harvested from this 10 acres of land 12,500 lbs. of tobacco, which is an average of $1250 pounds per acre. I have just finished selling this tobacco, and it brought me in a net return of $6,004.00; this is an average of a little over $600.00 per acre.

I attribute the satisfactory prices received from my tobacco crop to its fine quality, and I attribute this fine quality in a great measure, to the Fertilizer used, namely VELVET TOBACCO GROWER, which, in view of my experience, I consider the best Tobacco Fertilizer sold in this community. This Fertilizer was bought from MESSRS. FURNACE BROTHERS CO., AYDEN, N. C. J. E. MUMFORD, Hanrahan, N. C. Nov. 25th, 1925.

WE MAKE FERTILIZERS ADAPTED TO THE CULTIVATION OF DIFFERENT CROPS IN ALL SECTIONS. OUR FERTILIZERS ARE SOLD BY THE MOST RELIABLE DEALERS IN EACH LOCALITY. IF THEY ARE NOT SOLD IN YOUR VICINITY, WRITE US DIRECT.

Soviet to Send Delegates To Arms Meeting

May Agree to Co-operate By Reducing Armed Forces, Retaining Propaganda; Battle With Enemies On The Outside Is Political Says Red Leader.
By H. R. Knickerbocker
INS Staff Correspondent
Moscow, Feb. 18.—Soviet Russia may attend the disarmament conference planned by the League of Nations and may cooperate by reducing its infantry, cavalry, artillery and even its air fleet, but so long as it retains its propaganda corps, the Red Army, in the opinion of its leaders, will maintain a comfortable superiority over all "bourgeois" military forces.

They feel justified in ascribing so much importance to propaganda because in the past it proved its potency. The Red Army beat back all invaders during the intervention, and without exception every leader gave a large part of the credit for the Soviet victory to the power of its propaganda.

Red success then was won with emergency propaganda, but since that time, for four years, the Soviet general staff has been perfecting its system of "getting at the enemy's rear," and training its officers in the art, until today its organization is unrivalled.

No secret is made of the Red Army propaganda corps. Speaking to a general assembly of the Red Army "political workers," M. I. Kalinin, president of the Soviet Central Executive Committee, has outlined in exceptionally clear form the functions of the Red propagandist in the Soviet Union's next war.

"You are getting ready, politically," said Kalinin, "for battles with the outside enemy. Political work in the army has its own peculiar difficulties. It demands careful and attentive application of accumulated experience."

"First of all, we do not know in detail the situation of the war which may take place. We do not know it politically nor in a military way."

Sisler Called Baseball Slicked

By David J. Walsh
INS Staff Correspondent
New York, Feb. 19.—First thing you know, this man Sisler will go down on the lower East Side and start selling hair restorer to the Russians. He seems to be that kind of a city slicker.

A trifle more than a year ago when George was just a young fellow, trying to get along, he held earnest converse with our Mr. Huggins, as a result of which Urban Shocker went to the Yankees. Bush, Giard and Gaston went to the Browns and some of our despondent citizens went to the river. George got the newspaper decision over Mr. Huggins on this occasion without a dissenting vote.

That was his first big trade. His second was swung a few weeks ago when he sent Bush and Johnny Tobin to Washington for Tom Zachary and Vic Ballou. This one may or may not turn out to be a good fast draw, but that is a minor consideration.

The big point is that Sisler, in two deals, has taken title to four pitchers for one. He merely gave away Shocker and, darling, he is growing old. In return, he has Gaston, Giard, Zachary and Ballou, the latter being the only member of the quartet who has yet to prove that he belongs.

The writer maintains that that is smart trading, regardless of whether Washington or St. Louis benefits most by the last trade. Sisler needed pitchers. He got more than a few. The net result is that plenty of able citizens are picking the Browns to run not worse than second in the American League this year.

The key-men in the recent deal—as the writer sees it—are Tobin and Ballou. Bush and Zachary should prove about a stand-off, although we are inclined to feel that Bush may stake himself to a final fling in 1926 before calling it a career. When both were good, Bush was a better pitcher than Zachary.

As for Tobin, he was a great outfielder until last season when his work fell away almost simultaneously with the rise of Harry Rice. In consequence, Tobin was of no particular value to the Browns. This, by the way, has been one of the features of Sisler's trading to date. He never gives away a player until he can spare him. Shocker had outlasted his welcome in St. Louis some time before the Yankee deal transpired.

Tobin, like Bush, may have one good year left in him. The chances favor it because veterans seem to thrive under Stanley Harris' direction.

Ballou did some impressive pinch-pitching in the last world series. At one critical stage, he was rushed in from the bullpen to face Traynor and Wright with a couple of men on, one out and the Pirates needing a run to tie. He fanned the dangerous Traynor on three pitched balls, got two strikes on Wright and on the next pitch forced him to ground out.

In the sixth game, he pitched the ninth inning, passing the first man to face him and retiring the next three in order.

If these performances were at all typical of the young man's ability, Sisler has picked up a live one.

Maj. Burke, Famous Rebel, 85, Exiled 35 Years, Home to Die

New Orleans, Feb. 19.—(INS)—A little group of Confederate veterans, aged and feeble, is making preparations here to welcome back to his home Major Edward A. Burke, 85, former gallant Confederate officer, and later State Treasurer of Louisiana, who will soon end a 35-year exile in Honduras, and come back to New Orleans.

Major Burke, indicted in 1889 on 19 counts of misuse of state funds, involving $200,000, fled to Honduras to escape prosecution.

He had served with distinction as a Confederate officer, and later in the bitter interstate warfare by which the whites drove out "carpet baggers" and negro officials in Louisiana, during the reconstruction period. Prior to his indictment, Major Burke had been a social and political leader in New Orleans and other Southern cities.

During his long stay in the Central American Republic, the major rose to a position of high influence with the Honduran Government. He became director of the National Railway, and operated the principal hotel in the Republic. He participated in half a dozen revolutions, and managed always to remain in favor with the faction in control of the government. The dismissal of the indictments against him recently followed a conference by Governor Fuqua, and the attorney general of Louisiana. Governor Fuqua, declaring that the major had "suffered enough," suggested that the indictments be dropped so that the aged veteran "might come home to die."

Major Burke, although he is 85, is said to be still in robust health, and is described by tourists as a striking figure, well known throughout the American tropics for his bravery and courtly dignity. He is said to wear a white linen clothing and a huge Panama hat, and to number among his close personal friends big government officials, soldiers of fortune and other outstanding figures of Central America.

FORMING AIRSHIP CLUB TO BOOST AERONAUTICS
London, Feb. 17.—(INS)—An airship club has been formed here to promote private interest in the lighter-than-air branch of aeronautics.

The club proposes to build an airship of 70,000 cubic feet capacity as a training ship, and arrangements have been made by which members of the club may purchase small airships of 44,000 cubic feet capacity for $10,000.

HOOT HAS HARD TIME WITH SPOOK

Wanting to do one thing but forced by fear of death to do another was the event in "Spook Ranch," which will be shown at White Theatre, tomorrow, which led to a series of comic and also serious situations for Hoot Gibson and his leading lady, Helen Ferguson.

Miss Ferguson plays the part of a Spanish girl who is held a prisoner in a rancho house which is believed to be haunted. A gang of ruffians are holding her and her father in an effort to obtain from them the secret location of a valuable mine on the ranch property. When Hoot enters, playing the part of Bill Bangs, a Texas cowboy prospecting for gold on the edge of the Mojave desert, he finds that the girl, Elvira, is apparently a prisoner but he doesn't comprehend the entire situation, and in a talk with the girl she first starts to tell him the truth, but then changes her story when she sees herself threatened through the portieres.

Rhineland, Wis., Feb. 18.—(INS)—Marbles, sleds, skates, kite flying and the rest of juvenile pastimes—outdoor and indoor—are forsaken in this town while the boys are busy hunting rats.

It is no uncommon sight to see Willie and the "gang" stalking their quarry in barn lofts, cellars, and any other place where the rodent may be found, to be hastily dispatched and amputated from his tail.

The reason? Since the manager of a local moving picture house nearly lost his theatre by fire, which threatened, for a time, the entire town, thru the activities of the match-bibbling animals, he has offered an admission tickets for every five rat tails brought to him.

SCOUTING EDUCATION

Scouting education is more than a phrase. The scout program is recognized among school men as an important supplement to the work of the schools, Dr. John H. Finley, who was formerly Commissioner of Education, of New York State, believes heartily in Scouting; Dean Russell of Teachers' College, has pronounced it pedagogically perfect; Dr. Fretwell, former Acting Director of Education, conducts scout training courses at Teachers' College.

At a recent educational conference in London, recognition was given to Scout educational work. Sir Robert Baden Powell, as chairman, pointed out the number of colleges and universities in the United States that are conducting scout training work. He calculated that when the scouts in the world numbered 100,000,000 all following the same ideal of good will and service for others, there would be a change in spirit such as would make the world a better place to live in.

Scouts Numerous Among College Students

The relation of scouting and higher education has attracted the interest of many colleges and universities. Several of them have made a count of the former scouts in their ranks. In some instances, from one-third to one-half the student body was found to have received Boy Scout training, as seen in the following table.

	Per Cent

Continued membership in a scout troop is found in many cases to leave its mark upon the educational ambitions of a boy. In Austin, Minn., for instance, all the local boys now attending college are or have been scouts. There are twenty-three altogether.

Out of every thousand boys who enter the public schools, according to statistics for the country as a whole, only 111 finish high school, and only fourteen finish college. Harvard and Yale in surveys of their undergraduates, have found that of the group who finish college more than 40 per cent have been scouts.

Occupations of Scoutmaster

There are over 20,000 men now devoting time and thought as scoutmasters of Boy Scout troops and as many giving similar service as assistant scoutmasters. A scoutmaster must be an American citizen, 21 years of age and over, and approved to the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America by a troop committee of responsible citizens representing the institution with which the troop is to be connected, as a man of established good moral character and with the right interest in boys.

The records of the National Office show that 37 per cent of scoutmasters or approximately 7,000, are in mercantile occupations. The next largest group is men from mechanical lines of work, 3 per cent.

Institution, Sponsoring Boy Scout Troops

The 22,000 Boy Scout troops in the United States are distributed in the proportion of a little over 55 per cent, or 12,117 in churches, 838 being in Roman Catholic churches, 198 in Jewish and most of the remainder in Protestant churches. 4,228 troops are sponsored by community groups; 1,881 are in schools; Y. M. C. A. branches sponsor 199; Knights of Columbus, 135; and Y. M. H. A. 49 troops. The American Legion has 720 troops under Posts, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Elks and similar organizations, approximately 514. The remainder of the 22,000 troops are organized in connection with community centers, industrial organizations, libraries and various societies and clubs.

Boy Scouts and Camping

Over 64,000 acres of country, valued at two and a quarter million dollars, and having a capacity of 100,922 scouts at one time are now devoted to organized Boy Scout camps in the United States, under the immediate supervision of 556 local councils and the general direction of the Camping Department. During the summer of 1925, 259,702 scouts attended these camps, for one or more weeks, at an average cost to the boy of $5.83, as against $6.87 cost to the council per boy. In addition to the council camps, there are 2,806 individual troop camps accommodating another 100,000 boys.

Scouting has also developed 110 organized winter camps, with an average attendance of 85 boys for real camping. These camping statistics do not include the thousands of week-end overnight hikes, winter and summer, which take hundreds of thousands of scouts out into the open.

To the hiking and camping activities of the Boy Scouts of America during the past sixteen years, can reasonably be traced a large proportion of the present out-door recreation movement for everybody. Scouts are missionaries of the out-of-doors, and by their enthusiasm carry this healthful doctrine into their homes, and thus it spreads.

WILD DUCKS ALONG PAMLICO SOUND FURNISH GREAT HUNTING SEASON

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 17.—(INS)—The abundance of wild ducks and geese in the vicinity of Ocracoke, on Pamlico Sound, during the season just closed, furnished the best hunting in this territory in years, according to North Carolina hunters, and many Eastern hunters spend the closing days of the season in this hunters' paradise.

Unusually low-tidewater in this region, however, made the shooting more difficult, and added to the uncertainty of the sport, the hunters report.

The tens of thousands of geese and ducks which winter in this vicinity usually feed in the edge of the water, where wild rice grass and other water-fowl delicacies grow abundantly. As the shooting blinds are located on the shoals. The low tide that has prevailed, however, caused the game to feed at some distance from the blinds, requiring greater accuracy on the part of the hunters, local sportsmen.

The water fowl, after the end of the open season, becomes quite tame and mingle with barnyard fowl in this region. Many of their young, raised under such conditions voluntarily become domesticated, and do not migrate. These semi-tame fowl make ideal decoys.

Cannes, France, Feb. 19.—The hotel proprietors may soon open prize contests for best suggestions on "What to Do When It Rains."

The visitor expects sunshine, lots of sunshine. The hotel keepers talk nothing but sunshine. The realtors shout it from the housetops. All the booklets published about Cannes fairly reek sunshine—when the visitor doesn't get it he wants to know why.

Tennis, golf and walking are the principal pastimes. When it rains all become impracticable. The hotel manager does all he can to appease the disgruntled spirits of his clients when it rains. He trots out the finest Mah Jong sets and gets the card tables arranged around the salon, but the clients demand sunshine.

The umbrella shops, which are scarce and only to be found on the little side streets, are the only centers of attraction when it rains. Nobody wants to remain indoors, it's too disagreeable, and yet it's equally disagreeable to go out.

kind of melody," said the composer of "Lazy" to the International News Service. "Take the music of that talented George Gershwin for instance. That is really a serious attempt to evolve what we call good music out of the barber shop chords of a few years ago. I have been coming over to Paris for the last fifteen or sixteen years and I find that nowhere outside of America is our music so appreciated as it is here. There are many eminent French composers, like Arthur Honneger and Darius Milhaud, who claim they find a freshness and inspiration in our simple, melodious themes, that is only comparable to the music of Mozart and Haydn. "I don't mind telling you that I should like to be the author of the first jazz opera."

When it was suggested that Berlin might be like Wagner, who wrote his famous Tristan and Isolde opera under the fascination of the beautiful Mathilda Wesendonck and that the love nest of the Ghetto genius and the Park Avenue debutante on the top of Cimiez hill overlooking the crescent harbor of Nice would be the scene of the first dignified opus that would bring jazz into its own, Berlin smiled and said:

"Now don't kid me. I'm no Wagner and I know it, but I have confidence in the future of American music and I shall do all I can to make it the real national expression of a new people."

mess, control it, and encourage it, not discourage it. No business in the United States is as big as it ought to be.

Anthony Dimba, editor of a communist newspaper, to be tried for blasphemy, under a law two hundred and twenty nine years old, is accused of denying the existence of God. His lawyer will say that the constitution, which guarantees free speech, rules out the blasphemy charge.

Why not leave the case to the Ruler of the universe, in Whose omnipotence the vast majority believe. He has power to wither Mr. Dimba, as the barren fig tree was withered. But it is possible that omnipotence is not much interested in what Mr. Dimba believes.

The way to make foolishness, blasphemous or other, important, is to take it seriously.
Thousands cheered Mr. Trotsky, of Russia, while he denounced the United States as the world's slave driver. He said this grasping nation was trying to get a mortgage on the whole world.
The whole world seems to want to sell as a mortgage, for dollars, and we are buying billions of the world's bonds, which may come home to roost at very few cents on the dollar.

Trotsky's judgment on wealth is not sound. It cannot be. His salary from the Russian Government is only twenty two dollars a week, and with that he must pay communist dues, income tax, etc. Russia's Prime Minister, Rykoff, and all other members of the cabinet get only twenty eight dollars a week.

Wife's Divorce Suit Ends Canaday Case

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 18.—(INS)—The final chapter in a romance of mother love that stirred the entire nation will be written here soon if the plan of Mrs. Virginia Canaday carry.

Mrs. Canaday, whose efforts to keep custody of her son, Roscoe, Jr., were successful only after she kidnapped the child from her husband's home in New York, fled with the boy to her home here, and successfully resisted extradition to New York, where a grand indictment her, has filed suit for divorce against her New York millionaire husband.

The kidnapping episodes started following the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Canaday. She returned to her home here with the child. It later was snatched from Mrs. Canaday's mother's arms, while she was walking in a park. Mrs. Canaday went to New York where she found her son in the home of her husband.

Mrs. Canaday seized the little boy, and raced back to Texas by fast trains and speedy motor cars. Agents of her husband pursued her, but she crossed the State line well in advance.

Mrs. Canaday fought extradition and finally, following a protracted hearing at Austin, Governor Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson refused to honor the requisition of Gov. Smith of New York.

Careful watch is kept over the Canaday heir as he plays about his home here to prevent a repetition of the incidents that have filled his few years with adventuresome happenings.

Widow of Famous Aviator Plans Live By Running School

Boston, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Mrs. Marguerite Biscoe Hogue, pretty widow of Lieutenant Mark C. Hogue, undaunted by the fact that her husband was killed when his plane went into a nose-dive intends to continue the life work of her husband and open a school of aviation.
Although several of her dead husband's flying companions have tried to talk her out of the idea, she declared in an interview that it was her late husband's wish that she carry on an that she intended to do so.

The courtship of the late aviator and the girl who became his wife was a courtship of the air. They had been married but eight months when the husband, flying with George Burroughs, reared, as passenger, crashed to death in East Boston. Both men were instantly killed.

At the time it was not known here that Lieutenant Hogue was married. His bride rushed here from New York and she has been in Boston ever since, living with her mother.

"I shall never marry again," she said as she held in her hand the last picture of her dead husband, taken in his white summer aviation suit two days before his death.

"Why should I be afraid. If I am to die, I shall die, and when it happens I want to go as he did—in the air."
