

REVIVAL SERVICES CONTINUE DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Dr. H. Frederick Jones In Strong Sermon Last Night On "Removing The Obstacles."

A large audience heard Rev. H. Frederick Jones, at the Memorial Baptist Church last night in a strong sermon on "Removing the Obstacles." The music, as usual, was enjoyed and Prof. E. L. Wolslagel delighted the large audience with a beautiful solo. Dr. Jones developed his sermon from the text concerning the death of Lazarus, and the raising of the dead by Christ. John 11:44-45. Before Lazarus was raised the stone was removed, Christ did not remove the stone, which was the obstacle keeping Lazarus in the grave, but he said "Take ye away the stone." Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. We must remove the obstacles which keep us from Christ, and Christ will help us and give us strength in removing them.

Dr. Jones appealed to his large audience to take away the obstacles, to give up that sin which is keeping them away from Christ, and to accept Him before it is too late. He told of the awful sin of gossiping, and other things which tend to pull down instead of elevate, and quoted a short poem which appears elsewhere in the paper, and which is a sermon within itself.

And after the stone had been taken away, Jesus lifted up His eyes and said, "Father I thank Thee that Thou hast heard me." God will always hear us if we pray with faith.

And when He had thus spoken He cried with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come forth." And he that was dead came forth, just as those dead in sin, can live again, if they only believe. And Jesus saith unto them, "Loose him, and let him go." Just so with sinners when they repent, those sins which blind them are broken and cast aside, there to remain as long as we remain true to Christ. Dr. Jones, appealed to sinners to break away from their sin and live the life worthy of a real man and woman.

Services again this evening. The public is invited to attend.

New Yorkers Being Bilked Out Millions By Fake Mediums

New York, Feb. 23.—(AP)—New Yorkers are being bilked out of millions of dollars annually by fake mediums and spiritualists, who cloak their operations under a ritual of the semi-religious characters, so says a survey by a committee given to Representative Sol Bloom, who is considering seeking legislation from Congress on the matter since the mediums do a mail order business.

Two Patrolmen Of St. Paul Shot By Unknown Man

St. Paul, Minnesota, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two St. Paul patrolmen were shot by an unidentified gunman in the residence district here today and then as they lay helpless in the street each shot through the head. The slaying came as a climax of a search for robbers who had terrorized the resident district Monday night and early today and who had committed seven hold-ups in three hours. The slain policemen, John Schultze and Fred A. Poitsch, were patrolling the district in an automobile and had started to investigate a large car when the shooting occurred. Poitsch flashed his light into the machine and was met with gun fire, two bullets hitting him. As Schultze started to aid his companion he was also shot.

ROTARY CLUB FOR NATIONAL GUARD UNIT GREENVILLE

General J. Van B. Metts Addresses Club On National Defense And The Need Of The National Guard.

A unit of the National Guard for Greenville and Pitt County was the principal topic of discussion at last night's meeting of the Greenville Rotary Club and the club went on record as favoring the organization of such a unit in this city. Several visitors were present and enjoyed the meeting.

Following the evening meal, Prof. E. L. Wolslagel, evangelistic singer at the Memorial Baptist Church, entertained the club with songs and a short talk. The next speaker on the program was General J. Van B. Metts, of Raleigh, who addressed the club on National Defense and explained fully the part that the National Guard plays in the National Defense program and the advantages of a National Guard unit to a community. Major Thorpe, of Goldsboro, also made a short talk on the subject of National Guards. Following the addresses the club went on record as favoring the organization of a unit here and a committee to work with a similar committee from the Kiwanis Club was appointed. The proposed unit for Greenville is a battery of artillery and the minimum number of men needed for the organization is 65.

The program committee reported last night that arrangements were being made to entertain the members of the Washington Rotary Club at a barbeque here on March 22 and all the "Rotas" are looking forward to the occasion. The Boys' Work Committee reported that plans were now well under way for the Annual Pitt County Track Meet to be held this year on the 29th of March and indications are that this year's event will be the greatest of its kind ever held here.

Visitors present at the meeting were Prof. E. L. Wolslagel, General J. Van B. Metts, Major Thorpe, E. K. Bryan, Lester Jones, K. T. Futrell and Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse.

Labor Department Asked Investigate Status Of Count

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Representative LaGuardia, Socialist, of New York, announced today that he would ask the Labor Department to investigate the status of Count Ludwig Salm Von Hoogstraeten, husband of the former Millicent Rogers, to determine if he was subject to deportation on the ground that he might be a public charge.

Count Salm arrived here from Palm Beach, accompanied by his mother, but kept close to his hotel room. Mr. LaGuardia said he expected to forward a letter to the Labor Department late today asking an inquiry into the Count's case and if it was found he was without visible means of support his deportation would be requested.

TODAY

(Copyright, 1925)
She "Stepped Out."
The Lady Stays Here
So Does Malaria.
He Invented Barbed Wire
ARTHUR BRISBANE

"Stepping Out"—is a new and effective euphemism in the divorce courts. John Preston Knox, of San Francisco, told the judge he wanted a divorce "because my wife wants to step out." She wrote him that he was too slow, he said, and did her "stepping out" with R. C. Diel, a professional automobile racer, much less slow than the husband. The "stepping out" being proved the husband got the divorce.

Lady Cathcart, thanks to a habes corpus writ, stays with us, and the Aquitania sailed for Europe yesterday with one empty cabin that Secretary Davis had engaged to deport the English woman whose "moral past" offends our high standards.

That cabin in the Aquitania is interesting. The lady did not pay for it, as she was to be sent away against her will. Did Uncle Sam pay for it, and if so, did he engage a private cabin in the Aquitania, first class, because the lady accused of immorality had a British title?

Many mothers with children, with no past objectionable to our national purity are deported day after day from Ellis Island in the steerage. Why the discrimination is favor of the charming lady to be sent home because she once eloped with a man not her husband? We seem to mix respect for British rank with our hatred of loose morals.

Secretary Davis with intentions and moral character of the best, says, "Lady Vera Cathcart was seeking advertising and has got it, all right." That may be, but Uncle Sam was not seeking advertising, as a very silly person, and nevertheless, "he has got it, all right."

Dr. Singer, of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, says mosquitoes kill every year three million human beings. By implicating germs of malaria in their blood.

This loss, Mr. Singer estimates at one hundred million dollars a year, rather a low estimate, thirty-three dollars a head. Even a man with malaria should be worth more than that.

If three million people, or three thousand died in some dramatic way, the Government would do something about it. But what happens quietly following a mosquito bite, arouses slight attention.

Nathan Straus, who has done more to protect child life than any other man, said long ago, "If one young child were put to death publicly, with a crowd looking on, those guilty would be excited, and national excitement would know no limit. But a hundred thousand children can be put to death quietly by sellers of impure milk and nobody pays any attention."

Mr. Straus, fortunately, did pay attention, and cut down the death rate among very young children by at least half.

The Prince of Wales takes leprosy in the British Empire more seriously than our Government takes malaria in the United States. In all the British Empire, Asia, Africa, everywhere, there are three hundred thousand lepers. The Prince urges his government to stamp out the disease.

We have in America, millions suffering from malaria, which like leprosy, destroys usefulness, and causes death.

To drain swamps where mosquitoes breed, in the meanwhile using flying machines to "dust" the swamps with a dust deadly to mosquitoes, but harmless to human beings, would soon end the malaria plague in the United States.

Jacob Haish, who invented barbed wire, and an automatic machine for its manufacture, is dead, 90 years old. Cattle men and farmers will bless his memory and hope he went straight to heaven.

Horses and other animals torn on his barbed wire will feel differently, especially the thousands of western cattle, that drifting before a storm, were stopped by weak strands of barbed wire and lay down to die.

IN PATH OF AVALANCHE

"DOLLAR DAY" IS SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY, MAR. 4

First Of a Series Of Special Selling Periods To Be Sponsored By The Merchants' Association, Various Firms Already Making Plans For Event.

Thursday, March 4th, will be "Dollar Day" in Greenville, and will in proportion exceed any special selling event ever before attempted by the Greenville merchants. It is the first of a series of special selling periods to be sponsored by the Merchant Association and participated in by members during the year. The various firms have already begun their plans for the occasion, and the buying element of this section of Eastern Carolina will experience their greatest buying opportunity on this date.

Having already attained recognition as the shopping center of more than twenty-five counties it is believed that events of this nature will attract people from even a larger area than have heretofore visited Greenville for shopping purposes. The city has won this distinction because of the class and variety of merchandise carried in the stores, which will in every respect equal that found in the much larger cities.

Keep this initial special selling event fresh in your memory and take advantage of its offerings on Thursday, March 4th.

SINGER SPENDS EVENING UNDER POLICE GUARD

Beniamino Gigli, Italian Tenor, Fails To Fill Concert Engagement Due To Black Hand Threats Against Him.

Detroit, Feb. 23.—(AP)—After spending an evening under police guard in a suite at a hotel here Beniamino Gigli, Italian tenor, left for Buffalo shortly after three o'clock this morning without filing a concert engagement here tonight. The sudden departure of the singer was said to be due to the Black Hand threats made against him.

Shortly before the arrival of Gigli and his party from Chicago early last night, police received a typewritten note signed "Two Friends of Italy," which said: "If Gigli wants to adorn a slab in the morgue let him try to sing in Detroit. We will cut this canary's throat."

Detectives from the "Black Hand" squad met the singer and his party at the train and accompanied him to the hotel where they guarded him until after midnight.

Says Offense Of Countess Nothing To Prince Wales

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Representative Celler, Democrat of New York, suggested today that the offenses of the Countess of Cathcart amounted to "nothing" compared to those of the Prince of Wales, "who was healed to enter," asked the New York Representative in a statement. "His parents are kept up all night worrying about his night life."

BANK OF STOKES COUNTY ROBBED OF $50,000 TODAY

Winston-Salem, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Bank of Stokes County located at King, N. C., fifteen miles from here, was robbed early this morning. Officers of the bank say the loss will exceed $50,000. An Acetylene torch was used to cut a hole in the back of a small safe and from this the thieves lifted the loot. They left a small part of the contents of the safe, being unable to handle some of the articles on account of heat created by the torch.

H. H. Leake, cashier, said the safe last night contained $7,000 in currency, $1,000 in gold, $1,200 in silver. There were also stocks and bonds in considerable amount and registered, and about $35,000 in negotiable notes. The entire loss is covered by insurance.

The robbers left little clue to their identity. Although a fingerprint expert has made a careful survey of the scene, he has not yet found much that would give a clue.

PRESCOTT WILL HEAD BANKERS ENSUING YEAR

Ayden Banker Elected President Group 1, North Carolina Bankers' Ass'n.; Local Bankers Also Honored At Ahsokie Meet.

At the meeting of Group No. 1 of the North Carolina Banking Association which convened in Ahsokie, yesterday, Mr. G. W. Prescott, of Ayden National Bank, was elected President; J. H. Waldrop, Cashier, Greenville Banking & Trust Co., Secretary, Treasurer, and W. H. Woolard, Vice-President of Greenville Banking & Trust Co., State Committee. Mr. E. H. Foley, Assistant Cashier of the National Bank, spoke on "A. I. B. Chapters for Counties."

The meeting was largely attended and much interested manifested. The morning session was opened promptly at 10:30 o'clock, with President Jesse B. Ross, calling the group convention in session.

On behalf of Ahsokie, Mayor L. C. Williams gave the welcoming address, and David Colin Barnes, President of the Hertford Bankers' Association, gave the visitors a wide open welcome from the organization he represented. John B. Moss, of Washington, responded to the welcoming address on behalf of the visiting bankers, and Group No. 1.

Officers of the group made their report and committees were called on as the next order of business. T. A. Avera, vice-president and trust officer of First Banking Trust Company, Rocky Mount, was the top-liner for the morning session. He spoke on "Elimination of Three Unnecessary Evils."

The afternoon session was featured by two speeches, one by Mr. E. H. Foley, assistant cashier of the National Bank, and the other by W. H. Nea, assistant cashier, Charlotte National Bank. Mr. Foley made a strong appeal for greater interest in the American Institute Banking Work, speaking from his personal experience, as a member of the Pitt-Burford Chapter and from observation of the work done at other places. He spoke with a seriousness that carried conviction, and his speech will be of value and interest to those who are entering the banking business, or those who contemplate such a step.

Mr. Nea spoke on "Educational Program of the North Carolina Bankers' Association."

These two addresses were followed by a round table discussion in which a large number of bankers took part. This was followed by the election of officers.

A telegram of sympathy and appreciation for his active interest and work in behalf of Group No. 1, was sent to W. R. Willis, formerly of this city, but who is now in Elizabeth City. Mr. Willis was unable to attend and president Jesse Ross read a letter from him in which he expressed his regrets. He was State Committee man for Group No. 1 during the past year.

Mr. John Short, of the Farmers Bank, was named on the Resolution Committee at the morning session.

Charleston, West Virginia, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Lack of funds for relief work has caused district officials of the United Mine Workers to call off strikes in the Southern West Virginia Bituminous Coal Fields. Local unions were advised by Percy Tetlow, President of District 17, that after March 1 relief funds would be exhausted and that he "relinquently" advised the men to return to work.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON AT EDUCATION MEET

President Coolidge Characterizes Nation's First President As "The Great Example Of Character."

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—President Coolidge, on the birthday anniversary of George Washington, paid tribute to him tonight as "the great example of character."

Speaking before the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association, the President avoided direct reference to the recent controversy over Washington's personal habits and religious devotion, but he reminded his audience no one clung more tenaciously to what he believed was right or was prepared to make greater sacrifices for a just cause.

"We shall fail in our estimation and understanding of him," Mr. Coolidge said, "unless we remember that during his life time he had to build a place of religious worship; in his will he provided for institutions of learning and in his farewell address he emphasized the spiritual values of life. But what he did was even more eloquent than what he said. He was a soldier, a patriot, a statesman; but in addition to all these he was a great teacher."

"He believed our political institutions were superior to those of other countries but he never preached hatred of all things foreign and he made large concessions in the negotiation of treaties for the settlement of disputed questions which were for the advantage of foreign nations. He believed that obligations were mutual, that what we expected to receive we should be ready to give, both in the field of citizenship and in the larger domain of international relations. He clung to the realities. That was his greatness."

"Washington has been known as one of the most practical of leaders. He was not emotional." (Continued on page 6)

Favor Use Power At Muscle Shoals For Chemicals

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Harry A. Curtiss, professor of chemistry University and a member of the President Agriculture Commission told the Senate Agricultural Committee today that he favored the use of the power at Muscle Shoals for the production of chemicals. Chemicals, he said, are of more importance to the country than the production of power.

Edward Matthews of Washington was in the city today.

State Continues Hold Lead In Textile Industry

Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—North Carolina continues to hold the lead in the Textile Industry, which was taken some months ago from Massachusetts and South Carolina.

Departments of Commerce show that in North Carolina during the month of January the active spindle hours were 1,849,456,820 as compared with 1,669,782,436 for South Carolina and 1,630,236,457 for Massachusetts.

McLean Says He Will Ask For a Survey If Needed

Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Governor McLean reiterates his previous statement that if "reputable sources" report conditions justifying such action, he will ask for a survey of working conditions of women in North Carolina especially in the textile industry. Thus far, he states, nothing has been called to his attention requiring investigation.

THE RELAY RACE

Tuesday May 4 is the day for the second annual relay race in this country. Contest between the Washington and Greenville high schools and already much interest is being expressed by the boys of the two contesting schools.

Last year the race began in front of the Pitt County Court House and terminated in front of the Beaufort County Court House and the beginning and end of next week's race will be just reversed. Last year persons who travelled the road to witness the race at its various stages paid little heed to the requests of the race officials not to crowd the runners off the road and several times the runners were delayed by having to go around traffic jams.

GUARD UNIT HERE

If the movement for the organization of a unit of the National Guard here is carried to completion a long felt need in Greenville will have been realized. In addition to being necessary as a part of the nation's defense against outside intrusion or invasion the guardsmen are an organized protection against an internal emergency and this is something that Greenville and Pitt County have been without for many years.

city and it is time for the fans of the national sport among the grownups to begin to make plans if Greenville is to have baseball this summer. Some of the cities in Eastern North Carolina are sending out questionnaires in an effort to learn what towns would be interested in forming circuits for this summer. If Greenville is not to be left behind it is time we were getting busy.

FORD'S BLACKSMITH SHOP

Henry Ford has bought the old blacksmith shop in Chestnut Hill, near Boston, and will send it, knocked down, f. o. b., to be set up again by his curio-assembling plant at the Wayside Inn at Sudbury. This is the shop that suggested to Longfellow his poem about Japhet Taft, the original Village Blacksmith.

We fear that when Henry Ford has his new old shop set up his Sudbury experts the result may prove disappointing to antiquarians. What is a Chestnut Hill blacksmith shop doing in Sudbury, to begin with? Then it should stand under a spreading chestnut tree, and all the chestnut trees that did any spreading were killed by the blight. They might plant a young chestnut tree that would perhaps be big enough to look right before the old shop rots down. But could it survive the carbon monoxide emitted by flippers clustering about the old inn?

The last Blacksmith Taft retired ten years ago and died three years ago. His shop is tumbling down—that is what it means when they say it will "require much renovating." More frankly still, it will be "re-built as nearly in its original form as possible." A different shop in a different place under a different tree and without any sturdy blacksmith may be very interesting. It will not be what Longfellow saw.—N. Y. World.

CABLE LETTER

London, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, the militant leader of the "votes for women" cause before the war, has returned to the suffrage battle ground after spending the last eight years abroad. She has come back to England to take part in the campaign more peacefully than those she led years ago, to extend the franchise so that British women may vote at 21 instead of waiting until they are 30 years old. "Women's Week," to be marked by oratory and processions throughout the country, is to take place early in June to push the demand for this extension of the suffrage. Mrs. Pankhurst, who has been in France, Bermuda, Canada and other parts of the world since she left England in 1917, considers that women have not done badly in politics and otherwise, considering their difficulties. "Now that we have gained the vote," she said, soon after her return, "we still have to prove ourselves worthy of it. Our campaign now must be to redeem our promises to teach the world that women are quite as capable of government as men." (Though in her 71st year, Mrs. Pankhurst is an enthusiastic in the cause of women as ever. She said she intends now to give special attention to industrial peace, housing and electrification, while promoting the interests of women in general.

King George and Queen Mary have just moved into Sandringham House, the Norfolk estate of the Windsor family, which has become the personal property of the sovereign by the will of Queen Alexandra.

Sandringham is now the only one of the many properties visited each year by their Majesties, who is owned by the King and not by the state. King Edward bought the country mansion when he was Prince of Wales and will let it to his queen.

Sandringham was the favorite residence of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, as it is with the present sovereigns. At Buckingham Palace, Hollywood Palace, Balmoral and Windsor Castles, the Royal family must hoist their standard above the roof and live in the luxury which the state provides, but at Sandringham they live like the family of a country gentleman, with only the cares and freedom of country folk.

York cottage, also on the Sandringham estate, now has been left vacant by the King, but probably will not be allotted to the Duke and Duchess of York, as at first supposed, because of the possible marriage of the Prince of Wales, who by precedent becomes the householders at the cottage.

Sandringham House was entirely redecorated under the supervision of the Queen before the Royal couple moved in. The heavy Victorian draperies and red plush carpets were taken out and modern improvements built in. This makes the royal home the envy of the richer subjects which live in the neighborhood.

Great Britain claims world leadership in railroad safety. Last year only one passenger was killed in a train accident. In the present century there have been two years—1901 and 1908—without a fatality, and in 1909, as in 1925, only one was killed, while in 1916, 1919 and 1923 there were only three. As 1,700,000,000 passenger journeys are made by train every year, chance of death is infinitesimal.

The problem of railway transportation in Great Britain is entirely different from that of the United States. Long hauls are negligible. Sleeping cars are needed only in two directions from London, toward Scotland, a short night's run, and to Plymouth. But in the many thickly populated districts of the country railway tracks form a network such as exist in America only near New York, Chicago and other large cities.

Paris, Feb. 20.—(AP)—What is known in France as "an American bar" recently has become an adjunct of the French country house. There are many chateaux now in which such bars, have been installed in the library or smoke room, with a professional white-coated barkeeper behind the counter and high stools for customers. These are nearly all occupied at "cocktail hour," considered another American institution.

Most of these "American bars" have been installed by Parisians who have contracted drinking habits said to be American and who have bought or rented ancestral homes in the country. Ever since Aristide Briand, who assumed the onerous duties of premier and foreign minister while in noce too robust health, went on a strict diet, his famous cook, Madame Rosalie, has been almost inconceivable.

Madame Rosalie has cooked for some of the most famous persons of her time, as she presides over the kitchens of the Quai D'Orsay, and has superintended more than her share of state dinners for visiting celebrities. Up to recently, M. Briand, who has been foreign minister several times, has done ample justice to Madame Rosalie's art, as good food has been one of his chief delights.

Now, however, he is confined by his physicians to broth and toast and such spiritless concoctions and has to eschew formal and official luncheons and dinners. He takes his simple fare at home and then turns up at these functions in time for the coffee and speechmaking.

Americans visiting France this spring will find a new and interesting museum of the French revolution in the old palais de Justice, where Louis XVI, Marie Antoinette and other famous victims of the revolutions were confined before they took their journeys to the guillotine. A lofty, rather gloomy chamber in the Palais, which has been used as a restaurant for some time, will be converted for this purpose. In the days of terror this room was an ante-room to the Conciergerie, and its walls looked down on many of the tragic scenes of those stormy times. Lynch law has just furnished the French language with two new words which the committee revising the dictionary of the French Academy officially has admitted into good usage. These are "lyncher," a verb, and "lynchage," a noun derived from the verb. "Lyncher" is defined as "to kill without trial—from what the Anglo-Saxons call lynch law, loi du talion," and "lynchage" as "the action of lynching or the result of such action."

Simultaneous with the visit to the United States of Burgomaster Scharnagel of Munich in connection with the municipal loan obtained in New York, it was announced that Munich has sustained a loss of $50,000 marks by a venture into the hotel business.

As a promotion scheme, the city some time ago bought 52 per cent of the stock of the Munich Hotel Company, which controlled three Bavarian hotels. The hotels did not pay and the city sold the stock at a loss.

It is also recalled that exactly 600 years ago, Munich negotiated its first loan. It amounted to $250 and was obtained from the Free city of Regensburg. Some members of the city council at the time protested against the loan because they believed Munich would be forever subject to the dictates of Regensburg.

The Anglo-American experiment of garbing Shakespearean actors in knickerbockers, or evening dress cannot be applied to Schiller in Germany. Dr. Leopold Jesener, director general of the Prussian state theatres in Berlin, has ruled.

One of his producers, Dr. Piscator, was entrusted with the task of bringing out Schiller's "The Robbers." Fritz Kortner, a favorite star, was to play the role of Franz Von Moor, oldest son of a medieval count. But when the producer prescribed that he wear knickerbockers, Kortner went on strike. He pleaded with Dr. Jesener who, though known as a modernist, agreed that Franz Von Moor in knickers was more than any serious actor could stand. As he did not want to lose Dr. Piscator, however, it was agreed to drop Schiller's drama altogether.

TRY OUR WANT ADS Quick Way to Stop Night Coughing New Method is Remarkably Effective No need to put up with that disagreeing, weakening, sleep-robbing and cough another night. For there is simple but very effective treatment which, usually with a single dose, stops all irritation and lets you sleep around the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take one teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of night coughing. So the coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throats, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

State of North Carolina, County of Pitt, TO THE TAXPAYERS OF PITT COUNTY You have made for yourselves a record as having paid taxes more promptly than the tax payers of any other county in the state... Dr. Brooks stated in the papers of the state last summer that Pitt County was the best governed county in the state, and that in his opinion the other counties would profit by instituting the same system. We are all real anxious to keep up the record we have made for ourselves. As sheriff I am unable to do so without your cooperation. Kindly see that your 1925 taxes are paid at once and save me the embarrassment of having to levy on your personal property. Thanking you for the courtesy of your attention, I am, Very truly yours, A. Conquers Bad Breath and is Popular Again

"The day I started taking Carter's Little Liver Pills," says Mr. John A. Perry of New York City, "my habitual bad breath and bad stomach stopped. I strongly recommend them to all those afflicted with these nasty troubles. I assure you that my own case was a bad one, causing me untold embarrassment, and Carter's helped me right from the start." Bad breath comes from sour stomach and can usually be relieved quickly by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are wonderful for constipation, sick-headache and indigestion and they physic the system in a mild and gentle manner, no bad after effects. Recommended and for sale by all drug stores.

Washington Checks "Mystery Bill"

Washington, Feb. 22.—(AP)—A bill introduced by Mrs. Martha Washburn before her marriage to a Washington and which bore the name of "Mystery Bill" for payment, with interest, in the years later, impressed her as "somewhat mysterious" in need of "further explanation" before settlement.

and friendly manner, that I will strictly comply with whatever honor and justice may demand from my wife's engagements, but I cannot (under knowledge I have of the affair), conceive myself bound by honor or good conscience to pay more than the original sum (of 100 pounds at any rate) as she, before marriage, and I ever since marriage have always been ready and willing to settle and pay to the utmost extent of her promises.

Splicing Broken Ocean Cable Is Task of Thrills

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Stretching out and away, like a tiny thread of life itself, the trans-Atlantic cable from Cape Cod to Brest usually connects the Old World With the New.

Freighted with messages of vital importance to man, this slender bridge 3,200 miles long lies deeply buried in the eternal darkness of the sea. There it whispers its messages of life, love, death and destruction to the unsympathetic waves.

But sometimes it breaks! When this happens there is much concern in the offices of the French Cable Company—a breathless suspense, while delicate instruments are locating the break. Often it is near the middle of the ocean, and when the break is located the cable repair ship Edouard Jeramec is dispatched to the scene.

A marine oddity, the Jeramec is one of the finest cable ships afloat. Huge tanks below decks house 250 miles of deep sea cables. Grappling hooks of all descriptions, weighted to sink them three miles below the surface, are stowed properly away. Buoys, to mark the ends of cable when located, are lashed on deck. Powerful winches fore and aft, are ready to reel in or out of the heavy strands.

It is heartbreaking work, this locating the broken ends of a deep sea cable. Captain Julien LeMartelu and his crew will assure anyone. In Europe and America cable transmission is hindered while the Jeramec gropes about the ocean floor. Howling winds and lashing seas must be disregarded. Huge lights transform night into day, and the work continues.

Often the cable is located and the business of bringing it to the surface, a matter of eight hours work, is begun. And often it almost reaches the deck of the ship, only to break again, and slide mockingly back to its resting place in the mud and slime of the bottom.

Storms, too, add their fury to set at naught the work of the 85 sailors who man the Jeramec. A notable instance of this occurred last June. The cable had broken and the Jeramec had finished both ends from the bottom off Hatteras, the "Atlantic Cape of Storms." Chief Splicer Yves Michel was working rapidly on the final splice, and the crew were congratulating each other on having completed their task in 40 days.

The congratulations came too soon, however. Out of a clear sky came a hurricane. The ship was thrown violently on her beam ends. The cable had to be abandoned, and the Jeramec raced before the gale. It lasted twenty minutes, but was of such force that the topmasts were torn out of the ship, and her wireless aerial sent spinning to leeward where it trailed crazily over the side and tangled in the twin propellers. Repairs were made, and the Jeramec returned to Hatteras to begin anew.

Heir to $50,000,000

This is the first posed photograph of the Salm baby, now fifteen months old. His father, Count Salm, is at Palm Beach to visit the boy, who is in the custody of his mother, the former Millicent Rogers. She one day will inherit her father's $50,000,000 which in time will pass on to her son, Peter.

Queen Mary Sets Hair Fashion

London, Feb. 23.—(INS)—Queen Mary has set the fashion of natural grey or white hair for ladies of advanced middle age. The Queen has never attempted to color her hair—and its whiteness adds greatly to her dignified appearance.

And now the great majority of the ladies of her age are following her lead.

At any exclusive gathering, the number of women present with whitening hair is extraordinarily noticeable. Even among young women there is little attempt now to conceal the early approach of grey hairs.

It will be remembered that Queen Alexandria preserved beautifully colored golden hair almost to the day of her death.

GOSSIP TOWN

The following poem has been quoted from the pulpit by Rev. H. Frederick Jones, and by request is being published:

Have you ever heard of Gossip Town,

On the shores of Falsehood Bay,

Where old Dame Rumor, with rustling gown,

Is going the livelong day?

It isn't far to Gossip Town

For people who want to go;

The idleness train will take you down,

In just an hour or so.

The Thoughtless Road is a popular route,

And most folks start that way.

But it's steep down grade; if you don't watch out,

You'll land in Falsehood Bay.

You ride through the Valley of Vicious Town.

And into the Tunnel of Hate.

Then crossing the Add-to-Bridge you walk,

Right into the City Gate.

The principal street is called "They Say,"

"I've Heard" is the public well,

And the breezes that blow from Falsehood Bay

Are laden with "Don't You Tell."

In the midst of the town is "Telltale Park,"

You're never quite safe when there,

For its owner is Madame "Suspicious Remark,"

Who lives on the street "Don't Care."

Just back of the park is Slander's Row,

'Twas there that Good Name died,

Pierced by a dart from Jealousy's bow,

In the hands of Envious Pride.

From Gossip Town peace long since fled,

But envy and strife and woe,

And sorrow and care you'll find instead,

If ever you chance to go.

BROADWAY IS THE ONLY STREET THAT IS NEVER ASLEEP

Broadway knows no closed season.

Continuous is its life its pulse beats ceaselessly. At all hours of the night, as of the day, it swallows up its millions of pleasure-seeking votaries, and vomits them out of its theatres, cafes, and dance halls.

But it never closes. How it moves, and what sort of life it lives, is shown in "Broadway After Dark," the screen version of the Owen Davis melodrama, which will play at White's Theatre Wednesday.

This Warner Brothers' Classic of the Screen is an honest attempt to reveal via the screen the soul of the world's greatest city, to show that beneath the outward glare and glamour of the Great White Way human hearts and impulses are the same as on "Main Street."

Being situated on the East side of Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and bounded on the West by said Railroad right of way, of way, on the South by Matilda Cox, on the East by Mrs. Bettie Cannon, and on the North by W. H. Hardee and known as the Ben Sutton lot.

FIDELIS CLASS MEETS

On Friday evening, February eighteenth, a large number of the members of the Fidelis Class of the Immanuel Baptist Sunday School gathered at the church in spite of the stormy weather.

In the absence of the president, the first vice-president, Mrs. O. Q. Lassiter presided. After the devotional exercises, the regular business session followed. A number of excellent reports were made, and new plans for class work suggested.

Among these was the unanimous decision to give at the next meeting a pillow-case shower for the Baptist hospital. It was further agreed to adopt the "sister plan" of keeping in touch with absent members.

At the conclusion of the business hour, the teacher and the officers, who were the hostesses of the evening, served light refreshments.

The New and Smart Will Usher in Spring

The dearest frocks ever made to be worn are those we find coming forth this spring, so lively and carefree of mood. Their little fitted bodices and flaring skirts make the most adorably feminine of all silhouettes. In coats, the cape's the thing and madam, if she's wise, knows it's to her advantage to wear this flattering mode.

The crocheted hat this Spring is known by its cut, its smartness appearing in soft creases and unexpected slashes. They're so debutantish looking, worn with the new jagged bob.

FIND NEW HOPE TO DEFEAT U. S. FOR WALKER CUP

British Study American Golf Team And See Youth As Element Of Weakness; Strong Yankee Finish In Previous Years Big Factor In Capturing Titles.

By F. A. WRAY
INS Staff Correspondent
London, Feb. 23.—Now that the American golf team has been closely studied British hopes of gaining the Walker Cup are steadily growing.

Despite all previous experiences certainly not of the encouraging order, there is a growing belief that this year's team from the United States can be beaten, mainly on account of its strong youthful element.

Up to now the British have mainly been beaten by the fine finishing finish of the American team. Three years ago, at St. Andrews, when the foursomes and the first half of the singles had been completed, victory for Britain seemed certain, but then the home players in match after match, allowed their winning advantage to slip away, and Americans went away victorious.

Americans' Outlook

It was in this contest that Francis Ouimet played one of the finest finishes ever seen, against Roger Wethered. Ouimet played the last three holes in three, four, three, and only in this way was he able to snatch a half. The rest of the American team fought back in similar fashion and took the cup back with them against all expectations.

But this time it is hoped that the British players will put up a far harder fight. It is also considered that the United States is taking a big gamble by including Roland MacKenzie and Watts Gunn on account of their comparatively small experience.

Nether it is pointed out by the leading golf authorities here, has any conception of English golf conditions, and it is argued that youth and want of experience will tell against them on their first visit, just as it did with Bobby Jones five years ago, and Jesse Sweetzer during the last American tour.

It will be remembered that at Hoylake Jones was beaten by a very inferior golfer, being completely put off his game by the fast greens, to which he was absolutely unused. In the same way, at St. Andrews, he was so upset by conditions that he picked up his ball and retired. Sweetzer, at Deal three years ago, had a heartrending experience. New conditions upset him temperamentally and he underwent a very bad defeat.

Walter Hagen and Jim Barnes were equally unsuccessful on their first trip to England. On his first appearance, the only thing that distinguished Hagen from the ordinary rut of golfers was the new fashion in clothes that he set. But what a difference the second time he came and understood conditions!

Hutchinson's Progress

The only representative of America who has ever done well here on his first visit was Jack Hutchinson, but he was not only born at St. Andrews, where he won the championship, but spent four months practicing on "his course" before the event.

So it is quite possible that MacKenzie and Gunn may not realize expectations. If they fail to show home from then the United States team will be materially weakened.

In addition to this, the British argument is strengthened by the fact that the British team is likely to be stronger and sounder than in past years. This coupled with the offer of wealthy amateurs to have the team coached by leading professionals, as a team and not as units, goes far to strengthen British confidence and is sending interest in the match up to fever heat.

Many Women Annoy Rudolph

New York, Feb. 23.—(INS)—Rudolph Valentino is fed up with women—and it's their own fault.

The screen star discloses that during a recent visit to London in connection with his divorce case, he was flooded with feminine attentions, not only at his hotel and at his public appearances but also in the form of letters from admirers, either telling him how much they liked him and his acting, or asking for advice in matters of dress and complexion. Valentino is provoked.

"Do you think short skirts break the line?" writes one. "Breaking the line" may be familiar jargon to ladies; it merely sounds nautical to me. Or perhaps I am thinking of "crossing the line" I don't know or care.

"I am tall and slim," writes another, "with good features. Do you think Russian boots will suit me?" I imagined she intended to write "good feet" and dismissed it as delicate.

"But I am pleased to receive these letters, if only for one reason. I have a little nephew who collects stamps. He is having a tremendous time just now.

"And then there are girls who aspire to screen fame. Every day they write me and phone me.

"To be a successful film actress, a girl must have all three of these attributes: good feature, as distinct from mere prettiness; a real screen ability, which can be confirmed only by that soul-straining process of going through the mill, and a personality that impresses. Without one of these she is useless. With all three her struggle for fame is still about the hardest in any profession in the world."

Valentino says he is sorry for the love-sick girls who write him, and concludes that "there must be something wrong with the eye-sight of the young men in their districts, or these girls would be far too happily engaged to write to me."

NO STRIKE IN BRITAIN WHEN COAL DOES END

London, Feb. 23.—(INS)—After the most thorough inquiries in the industrial districts of Lancashire, Glasgow, South Wales, Newcastle, the manufacturing districts of Yorkshire and the Midland manufacturing belt of England, it is shown no serious trouble need be feared from the "Reds" if the industrial volcano explodes when the coal subsidies end in May.

There seems no doubt, according to Government reports, that Communist agents have been planted in the postal services and in numbers of big engineering and industrial concerns. As a result of their efforts, there may be a number of coal strikes and disturbances. But nothing in the nature of a general uprising, anything to upset the orderly routine of the country, is to be feared, and the opinion is expressed that the police may be trusted to deal with any local happenings that arise.

They plan to visit many large American cities, but Hollywood is their especial goal—the citizens of the North want to see the movies in the making.

When they get to the white lights of Broadway, they will make one of the oddest sights New York has seen since prohibition.

Forty Eskimos To Visit Old Broadway

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 22.—(INS)—North will visit South this spring when forty Eskimos arrive in Hollywood from the ice-bound stretches of Alaska.

With riches gained from the sale of their trapping products, a band of Eskimos, wishing to spend their wealth on the white man's luxuries, are awaiting the first boat out of here to Seattle.

"I am tall and slim," writes another, "with good features. Do you think Russian boots will suit me?" I imagined she intended to write "good feet" and dismissed it as delicate.

"But I am pleased to receive these letters, if only for one reason. I have a little nephew who collects stamps. He is having a tremendous time just now.

"And then there are girls who aspire to screen fame. Every day they write me and phone me.

Anchored Barge Is Floating Tee For U.S. Army Golfers

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—(AP)—A golf barge, which among other distinctions boasts of a floating tee costing $30,000 and which names as well as numbers its holes, is providing entertainment for officers and men of Fort Baker, across the bay from San Francisco.

The course is laid out on the military reservation, so that except at three holes players have a view of the Pacific at all times.

Each of the nine holes now in use has been named after a major engagement of the American Expeditionary Force. Par is 34 and the golfer must travel 2,746 yards to make the round. To comply with government regulations, the course is operated by the Fort Baker's Officers' club with membership by invitation. There are no profits or dividends.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By COPELAND C. BURG, INS Staff Correspondent

Hollywood, Feb. 23.—Men dress cheaper in Hollywood than anywhere in America.

In the first place, they never wear hats in the cinema capital. Day and night everyone runs about hatless. Even at dress affairs, the men appear without caps.

The ever-popular dress in Hollywood today is golf pants, open throat shirt and a light sweater. Neckties are never worn.

Overcoats, spats, neck-scarfs, colored-bordered handkerchiefs and other effects considered essential for the well-dressed man are carefully scorned in Hollywood.

In fact, should a screen director or actor appear in public "dressed up" he would get a good laugh from his friends. And to wear ordinary trousers and a hat is a positive indication of senility.

Can a girl named Mary Brown or Jane Smith make good in movies without changing her name? One member of the Smith family achieved great fame in Hollywood, but she changed her name to Mary Pickford.

Clarence Brown, a screen director, is to revive the ancient brocade of what's in a name.

He has agreed to receive pictures of all girls in the country named Brown and after a careful study will pay the expenses of one member of the cast Brown family to Hollywood for a screen test.

Brown's only demand is that if the screen test is successful the candidate for film success must keep her name as Brown and forego any exotic nomenclature.

The so-called sex picture is on the wane. Within six months it will have passed entirely. "Flaming this" and "Burning that" already are as out of date as pie-throwing in pictures.

Return to the historical productions seems likely.

The 1926 crop of pictures will include many comedies, with the ever-popular pageant and historical pictures representing the leading successes.

Not content with making fabulous weekly salaries, Hollywood's women stars have side-lines which are bringing them huge profits.

One actress has an interest in a brand of toilet articles, bearing her name, which is heralded as exceptionally lucrative.

Another has a gown shop, where every dress is said to be personally approved by the noted star before it is sold.

Other stars own candy shops, art stores and hotels.

Two prominent actors recently purchased a barbershop and shoe-shining parlor in the heart of Hollywood.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON AT EDUCATIONAL MEET

He was possessed of that broad comprehension of a situation which made his judgment eminently sound. With the possible exception of the field of Monmouth, when disobedience of his orders amounting almost to treachery was losing the day, history always reveals him as calm, cool and collected.

"He wished to see his country not only materially prosperous and politically successful, but beyond that, and above it, he wished to see the intellectual, moral and spiritual life of the people developed. This is the side of Washington to which too little attention has been given.

"In his farewell address he solemnly warned his countrymen that these are the foundations on which rest all American institutions. More than that, they are the foundation on which all civilization must rest. It is as an expounder of these great principles that he performed the greatest service for the world."

Tracing the development of education in the United States, the President declared "the country at large had not failed to follow the precepts of Washington," and continued:

"From the three institutions of higher learning in existence at the time of his birth, the number has grown to 913, with a total enrollment of over 664,000 students and over 36,000 teachers, an endowment of nearly $815,000,000 and a property value of over $1,000,000,000. Our elementary and secondary schools have expanded until they provide for more than 26,000,000 pupils and require over 822,000 teachers. In 1912 the total amount expended yearly for all educational purposes was about $706,000,000. This has been increasing with great rapidity, until in 1924 it reached $2,400,000,000.

"This represents the result which has been secured by the carrying out of some of the most important policies of our first President. It should be noted that these are the policies of peace. They are based on a desire for intellectual and moral enlightenment. They are only means by which misunderstandings, suspicions, hatreds, and wars can finally be eradicated from the earth."

TODAY

Haish will find thousands of men hung up by barbed wire entanglements and riddled with shot during the big war. He never planned that.

Dr. Charles E. Barker tells you how to live to 100. Drink ten or twelve glasses of water each day, exercise every morning before you start the day's work, eat little meat take a teaspoonful of salt each morning in a glass of warm water, and two tablespoons of bran in water each night. Many would prefer not to live one hundred years.

The German Aero Lloyd, combining Germany's flying companies, is starting 42 flying lines, reaching all Germany and many foreign countries. One day flights from Berlin to Moscow are part of the program. Since the end of the war Germany, forbidden by the Allies to manufacture flying machines, has had to content herself with planes having no engines. She is now making up for lost time, and sets an example needed in this and other wars can finally be eradicated from the earth."

NEW MESSIAH IN INDIA STIRS RELIGIOUS INTEREST

Bombay, Feb. 23.—(NS)—The proclaiming at Adyar, India, of a new Messiah through the person of J. Krishnamurti, a young Hindu who has been trained as a prophet by Mrs. Annie Besant, the noted English theosophist, has aroused widespread discussion and some apprehension in Indian religious circles.

Thirty-three countries were represented at the Adyar ceremonies, which were held in connection with the coming of the Messiah, the United States sending thirty-six delegates, while representatives were also present from all Europe and from China, Iceland, Argentina, Australia and Uruguay.

The new religion which the Hindu Krishnamurti is to found is to be according to theosophists here, a "Spiritual League of Nations, not replacing present religions, but binding all of them together."

PALE, NERVOUS

West Virginia Lady Says That She Was in a Serious Condition, But Is Stronger After Taking Cardui.

Huntington, W. Va.—"I was in a very weak and run-down condition—in fact, was in a serious condition," says Mrs. Fannie C. Bloss, of 1944 Madison Avenue, this city.

"In my left side the pain was very severe. It would start in my back and sides. Part of the time I was in bed and when up I didn't feel like doing anything or going anywhere.

"Life wasn't any pleasure. I was very pale. I was nervous and thin, and so tired all the time.

"My druggist told me that Cardui was a good tonic for women and I bought a couple of bottles. I took two bottles, then I noticed an improvement. I kept on and found it was helping me. I have taken nine bottles. I'm stronger now than I have been in a long time."

Cardui is made from mild-acting medicinal herbs with a gentle, tonic, strengthening effect upon certain female organs and upon the system in general.
