WOULD PROHIBIT THE PUBLICATION OF FAVRE TRIAL

Despite Warning That They Will Be Jailed For Covering Trial, Newspaper Reporters Prepare to Take Chance.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., March 1.—(AP.)—Although Circuit Judge Walter White announced that a cell in the Hancock county jail awaited any newspaper reporter who makes public any testimony or purported testimony in the trial this week of Jesse Favre, charged with murder, several representatives were prepared today to cover the hearing. The judge Saturday directed an order prohibiting publication of the trial and making it clear that contempt proceedings would follow any infraction of the order with a jail sentence as the penalty. He announced that some newspaper men might get a scoop in the trial, but if they did "the court would get one too." He added that publication of any "information or misinformation" concerning the case would "defeat the ends of justice."

The newspaper men, however, said today they intended to write the news as they would have done had not the judge's order been issued. The judge said news of the trial could be published after the court had censured it. One editor revealed that the vital portion of the story written for his weekly paper had been eliminated after court approval. Favre is charged with the murder of two men.

Tax Collections For February Total $6,062,839.52

Raleigh, March 1.—(AP.)—State tax collections for the month of February totaled $6,062,839.52, which is an increase over January of more than $400,000, and a slight increase over February, 1925. However, income tax collections last month have been less than those of February, 1925. The total last month is composed of the following items: Income taxes, $77,734.05; inheritance taxes, $26,059.59; schedule B taxes, $39,737.47; schedule C taxes, $40,821.16; bus taxes, $13,759.30; insurance taxes, $464,718.96.

The collections during January, 1926, were $219,481.20, while in February of last year $172,588.70 was collected. This last figure, however, did not include the insurance taxes, which was the greatest item of last month's collections. A year ago the insurance taxes were collected by the insurance department and were not included in the report of the department of revenue.

State Supreme Court Attends Funeral Of Negro

Raleigh, Mar. 1.—(AP.)—The entire State Supreme Court attended the funeral services Sunday for George Alston, 89 year old negro. He died Friday after being in the service of the Supreme Court as messenger for more than 40 years. Alston followed the fortunes of the Confederacy as a body servant during the war between the states and as a result, carried to the grave a Union bullet, which was lodged in his skull.

Plans Sweeping Cut In Output Of Alcohol

New York, March 1.—(AP.)—John A. Foter, recently appointed to take charge of the supervision of the alcohol industry throughout the country, said today that he plans a sweeping cut in the output of alcohol manufactured under government permit. It is his aim, he said, to reduce the present output from 6,000,000 to 2,000,000 gallons a year.

SAYS PROHIBITION SHOULD BE GIVEN CAREFUL STUDY

Andrews Proposes Creation Of Commission To Study Question In All Its Aspects.

Washington, March 1.—(AP.)—In the six years that prohibition has been the law no move of a similar nature has been made by an authorized administration official, although congress has been asked on numerous occasions, by various groups to order such a procedure. Mr. Andrews emphasized that it was his purpose to enforce law rather than to judge its benefits or disadvantages, and he suggests that the study be left to a commission to be appointed by the President, which would have trained experts and wide inquisitorial powers. He thought the investigation proposed at congress would be helpful but believed that would result ultimately in the recommendation of a commission to be composed of men of high standing and which would be outside of the political field.

Enforcement of the law so far, he said, has not been a fair test of the working of prohibition, and a fair test cannot be made until a judiciary and police sufficient to carry out the law are available. Complaining against the continuous agitation against the law, the assistant secretary said this was responsible for the trend of drinking. He said he hoped for the time when hostesses would apologize for serving liquor rather than for not serving it, which latter condition he said does exist to a more or less degree. He added that if improvement of enforcement conditions on its present basis, the time soon would come when the hostesses would apologize for the quality of the liquor at least.

Part Wisconsin Inheritance Law Declared Void

Washington, March 1.—(AP.)—That part of the Wisconsin inheritance tax law taxing gifts made within six years of death, as made in anticipation of death, was declared void and unconstitutional by the superior court today in a case brought by the executors of the estate of Ferdinand Schlesinger.

The issue was the question whether the statutes for taxing purposes could specify the time in which gifts may be considered as having been made in contemplation of death. The court held that the declaration that all gifts made within six years of death was arbitrary and invalid. Justice Holmes directed a dissenting opinion.

Watson-Parker Bill Is Passed By House Today

Washington, March 1.—(AP.)—The Watson-Parker bill to set up new methods of settling railroad labor disputes was passed today by the house.

The measure, which now goes to the senate, would provide for abolition of the railroad labor board.

Final action was taken after the house had defeated 292 to 16 a motion by Representative Blanton, democrat of Texas, to send the bill back to the commerce commission with instructions to provide for enlarging the powers of an emergency board, which the measure provides as a last resort to settlement of disputes.

BANKERS CASE RESULTS MISTRIAL

Jury Fails To Agree In Case Against Directors And Officers Of Snow Hill Bank.

Snow Hill, Mar. 1.—(AP.)—The case against the directors and officers of the Snow Hill Banking and Trust Company has resulted in a mistrial.

This was ordered yesterday by Judge Devin after the jury failed to agree. Before the case went to the jury the charges which alleged violation of the state banking laws had been thrown out of court as to G. A. Norwood, President, and A. H. Joyner, D. S. Harper, and W. H. Suggs, directors. Those for which a mistrial was declared are C. L. Blount, cashier; Dr. J. H. Hicks and V. W. Edwards, directors.

Four Teams Go Into Semi-Finals Tournament

Atlanta, March 1.—(AP.)—Four teams went into the semi-finals of the southern conference annual basketball tournament here today. Kentucky meets Mississippi A. & M. at 8 o'clock and an hour later Mississippi University will attempt to eliminate the University of North Carolina, three times the champion of the conference.

Twelve teams already have been eliminated from the tournament, including North Carolina State, which was defeated by Mississippi A. and M.

Less Drunks Last Year Than 1924

Albany, Mar. 1.—(INS)—A total of 15,070 persons were convicted in courts of special sessions in New York state in 1925 for intoxication as compared with 17,239 in 1924. Of the total of 68,287 persons convicted in these courts last year, 3,749 were women. The total number of convictions in 1924 reached 66,445 and 61,169 in 1923.

These facts were revealed in the annual report of crime statistics submitted to the State Legislature by Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, Secretary of State.

In both courts of record and courts of special sessions, there were 77,201 convictions last year as against 74,959 in 1924. Convictions in courts of records totalled 8,914 as compared with 8,514 the previous year.

In 1925, 137 persons in the State were convicted of murder and manslaughter, with fifteen executions. In 1924 there were a total of 136 murder executions.

The Grand Canyon. You Describe It. Several Billion Seats The Nation Owns It. ARTHUR BRISBANE

Grand Canyon, Ariz. (Right on the Edge), Feb. 26.—This is written with scenery on the left, the sun is sinking, an Arizona sunset. Come out there, if you want to know how it looks. On the left the moon is up, gaining color, as the sun goes down. And from this spot, you could walk a few feet, then jump down one mile. This is the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, with its thousands of towers, mountains, forts, peaks of every shape and color rising up from the Canyon's floor one mile down.

There are many kinds of folly. The champion kind would be an attempt to describe this scene. It is more than twenty miles from this typewriter, moved out of doors, to the other rim of the Canyon. Yet you can almost count the trees that grow from the rim. This air is clear, seven thousand feet above the ocean, to which the rushing Colorado is carrying the water from distant mountains.

A genuine artist, with soul, temperament and similar things could be sick and probably faint if he could look up from these typewriter letters carefully padded with rubber, toward the east and west. Below the pale moon, almost full, the sky is a dark rose purple. Below the purple there is a dark band of heavy blue. The moon, queen of Heaven, rides in triumph on a colored throne as wide as the sky.

The western horizon is a rim of gold, the farwell effort and defiance of the sun, rolling down to China, and the Canyon below, changing its colors and shadows, obedient to fading sunlight and growing moonlight. It would be worth your while to see that Shadows and bands of color a mile high, exposed layers of old earth that took millions of centuries to build, laid back by the rushing waters, each with its color and character, showing exact age as plainly as you read it in a painted face.

The shadows grow heavier with each passing moment as the golden light fades, and the moon gently rises. Dark caverns appear in the Canyon walls, twenty miles away, and seeming as near as the wall beside you. They say that Bishop Brown lost his religious faith, when astronomy taught him something about the size of the universe. They convinced him that a soul on its way to heaven would have to travel at the speed of light for a million years, through a temperature at least one hundred degrees below zero before reaching the boundary of this universe, and the beginning of heaven. That was too discouraging.

Later reports say the journey would last one billion, instead of one million "light years." What of it. If Bishop Brown could sit here he might feel his lost faith creeping back.

The bottom of the Canyon is almost black and the colors are fading, as they fade from the face of an old man. But tomorrow, those colors will return, in all their beauty. Night does not last, the sun returns.

This earth is but a grain of dust in space, if you like. But the power that can carve this Canyon out of a grain of dust could do anything. It could even carry our tiny souls safely across an ethereal ocean one billion light years in width if those souls were worth carrying. Are we worthy of it or not, can Divine Majesty do it, is the important question.

Many wonderful things are upon this rolling earth's surface, pyramids, sphinx, great monuments, cathedrals. Put them all down in some little corner at the bottom of this canyon, and you would need a telescope to find them. There are not seven wonders of the world, or seventeen, or two. There is only one and THIS IS IT. Come and see it.

Our feeble brains crave comparison, some measuring stick ("what is it like?" we ask). Not like anything you ever saw, or thought, or dreamed about. And here, when you look at it, you do not know what it is like. But this may help.

Superior Court Convened And Adjourns Because Of Lack Of Business. Jail Empty Since January.

Randerson, March 1.—(AP.)—Within an hour and a half after it opened here today the March criminal term of Vance county superior court adjourned because of the lack of business to handle. There were no criminal cases docketed for trial. On a one bill of indictment was given to the grand jury, and this was continued until the next term of court, the Vance county jail has been empty since the first week in January when the January term of court disposed of criminal cases awaiting trial. The vacancy of the jail and the short term of court are said to be almost unprecedented in this section and court attaches state of their definite knowledge that the March term sets a record for a number of years if not for all time.

1,559 Carloads Of Fruits Vegetables Shipped North

Raleigh, March 1.—(AP.)—During the 1925 season, 1,559 carloads of fruits and vegetables were shipped to Philadelphia from North Carolina. The state department in making this announcement tonight said the shipments had netted the growers $1,200,000. This total does not include the freight charges, loading and selling charges but is the actual amount received by shippers after all expenses were deducted. The prices paid by the firms which bought the produce probably was 50 per cent higher or about $1,800,000.

While Irish potatoes led in the number of carloads shipped with 304, strawberries brought the greatest amount of money, $292,880. Potatoes brought $212,000. We'll, the miners are back in the trenches again.—Fayetteville Observer.

PRISONER NINE YEARS IS GIVEN PAROLE TODAY

Will Savage, Sentenced To Serve Long Term Was Convicted At Age Of 15 Years; Paroled For Remainder of Time

Raleigh, March 1.—(AP.)—After nine years in the state prison, Will Savage today is enjoying the freedom of parole. He was paroled for the remainder of his term today by Governor McLean on recommendation of H. Hoyle Sink, commissioner of pardons. The man, the parole order says, when convicted was only about 15 years of age. He was convicted along with his mother for the same homicide, both being sentenced for murder in the second degree. He drew a sentence of not less than 24 nor more than 30 years.

The facts appear to the governor and the pardon commissioner to show that the boy was only an accessory after the crime and he is paroled for the remainder of his term. He was convicted in Washington superior court in June, 1916.

Governor McLean today gave his approval to a plan whereby youths under 18 years of age, who are serving terms in the state prison or in the county jail, or on the county roads, may be transferred in future to the reformatories. In case they appear likely of reformation the commissioner will take that action, the governor indicated.

Executive clemency was denied today to 15 applicants for pardon, the sentences some of whom range from a few months to 30 years. At the same time he granted one parole in addition to Savage. The parole was granted in order that a prisoner may visit his home where one of his children is dead.

REVIVAL SERVICES IN BAPTIST CHURCH CLOSED LAST NIGHT

Two Weeks' Meeting a Great Success; Many Added To Church; Great Interest Manifested.

The revival services which have been in progress in the Memorial Baptist Church for the past two weeks, closed yesterday with Dr. H. Frederick Jones preaching three strong sermons. Prof. E. L. Wolslagel, soloist and musical director, who has been assisting Dr. Jones in the song services, rendered special selections at each service. The result of the meeting were far reaching, much interest was manifested and the services were largely attended. Several young ladies from the College came under the watch-care of the church while in the city. Many joined by letter and others by profession of faith.

The meeting was a great success and was inspiring to the church members. Dr. Jones preached some of the strongest sermons ever heard in Greenville.

Yesterday's morning sermon was taken from the text "What Will You Give Me, And I Will Deliver Him Unto You?" The words of Judas when he sold his Christ, the subject. "Christ for Sale," made a wonderful sermon and gave the large audience much to think on. Dr. Jones appealed to his hearers not to sell Christ. He told of the small price which Judas received, and then the remorse, the bitterness, when he came to himself and realized that he had betrayed innocent blood.

The afternoon service was for men only, and the subject was "Citizens of Two Worlds," the sermon being developed from the text "Your Citizenship is in Heaven." Dr. Jones showed that every man is a citizen of two worlds, "Earth and Heaven," or "Earth and Hell."

His sermon was a strong appeal to men to live Christian lives, and to have their citizenship in Heaven.

Last night's sermon, the closing of the revival, was developed from the text "In That Night Was Belshazzar, the King of the Chaldeans Slain." Subject, "The Banquet of Death." Dr. Jones developed his sermon in a most unique manner. He drew a word picture of the banquet hall, the castle and its surroundings. "The Banquet," declared Dr. Jones, "was several in courses: 'Gaiety,' 'Profanity' and finally the tragedy, the handwriting on the wall and the death of Belshazzar. "He that being often reproved, hardeneth his heart, shall suddenly be destroyed and that without remedy."

Prof. Wolslagel thanked the people of Greenville for their hospitality and expressed great pleasure and joy at having been given the opportunity of spending two weeks with them.

He left immediately after the services for New York, where he will spend a week with Mrs. Wolslagel and the children before going into another revival service. While in Greenville he won a host of friends, and upon his return next year will be given a warm welcome.

Mississippi was at the bottom of the list with none dead and only three injured. North Carolina reported 10 dead and 18 injured.

Tokyo, Mar. 1.—(INS)—There will be no politics on the air in Japan. WHERE IS OUR QUEEN?

Just ten days before the names of the young ladies who are to represent Greenville in the Queens' contest at the Eastern Carolina Exposition here must be turned in to the committee yet no move toward the selection of Greenville's contestants has been made. There are numbers of beautiful young ladies in Greenville eligible to be contestants, and the city should not wait until the last minute to make its choice. Since there have been no definite steps toward the selection to Greenville's queens it has been suggested that each of the various civic organizations and clubs select one contestant, submit the names to a committee made up of one member from each organization and let this committee choose the five contestants from this list. At any rate, regardless of the plan to be followed, it is high time that Greenville was getting busy in the selection of its contestants for the Queen's contest.

DOLLAR DAY

Next Thursday has been set aside as Dollar Day by members of the Merchants' Association of this city and on that day every merchant member of the association will offer special dollar values. Former cooperative dollar days have proved of great benefit to the buying public of this community and indications now are that next Thursday will eclipse all former dollar days here. Watch the ads closely each day from now until Thursday and then take advantage of the hundreds of unheard of values offered by the home merchants.

NO USE FOR FACTS

Concerning aluminum, the senate does not care for the facts. This was decided yesterday by a margin of three votes upon the issues raised by Senator Walsh's resolution.

The Federal Trade Commission charged the Aluminum Company of America with a violation of law. Attorney General Stone charged it with violation. He was promoted to the bench of the supreme court. His successor, Mr. Sargent, went to sleep so far as aluminum was concerned for ten months, while the statute of limitations was running against some of the charges, and when questioned upon the subject revealed astonishing ignorance of such an important proceeding before his department. The midnight statement whitewashing the aluminum trust on the eve of The World's series of articles upon the subject was followed some weeks later—Mr. Sargent having presumably informed himself meanwhile that there was such a case in his department—by a second whitewashing statement that there was no reason for pressing the case before the courts.

A majority of the Senate Judiciary committee disagreed with the department and agreed with Mr. Walsh that it would be interesting at least to find the facts by a senate inquiry. The Senate in its wisdom has decided that it has no interest in the facts. Possibly the country may differ.

State of North Carolina, County of Pitt,
TO THE TAX PAYERS OF PITT COUNTY
You have made for yourselves a record as having paid taxes more promptly than the tax payers of any other county in the state... Dr. Brooks stated in the papers of the state last summer that Pitt County was the best governed county in the state, and that in his opinion the other counties would profit by instituting the same system. We are all real anxious to keep up the record we have made for ourselves. As sheriff I am unable to do so without your cooperation. Kindly see that your 1925 taxes are paid at once and save me the embarrassment of having to levy on your personal property. Thanking you for the courtesy of your attention, I am,
Very truly yours,
A. C. JACKSON
SHERIFF OF PITT CO.

To The Voters Of Pitt County

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of JUDGE OF COUNTY COURT OF PITT COUNTY subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in June.

Sam O. Worthington

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF NORTH CAROLINA:

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator for North Carolina. If you intend to participate in the Democratic primary next June, you will please consider this an earnest personal request to vote for me for United States Senator. This plain, blunt announcement of my candidacy and personal appeal for your support may or may not tickle the ears of the groundlings and may cause the judicious and dignified in and around Washington City to grieve. However, I shall carry on a vigorous campaign throughout the State till the election is over.

I am writing to a great many of my friends and acquaintances and hope to meet and get acquainted with every voter personally during the campaign. Remember, any good word or kind act in my behalf between now and the primary will be appreciated and never forgotten.

Having solicited your vote and support, it may not be amiss to tell you something of my prospects and purposes: While no one in particular urged me to offer for this high and honorable post, yet, since I have made known to my friends my ardent ambition to serve my State in the United States Senate I have had assurance of strong support from thousands of voters who have heard I wanted to make the race. I am much pleased and encouraged by the favorable consideration my candidacy has received so far.

While not, perhaps so great an honor as when Nathaniel Macon and Zeb Vance held that exalted position, the Senatorship is yet regarded highly as a position of dignity and some degree of usefulness both to State and Nation. There doubtless are amongst you, those who feel that I am not a big enough man for it. I will say there have been times when I myself am none too sure of my fitness, but I have the will to grow and serve. We know our political history records the slaughter of many ambitious statesmen, not to mention politicians. For that Caesar was ambitious Brutus slew him. The Democracy of North Carolina, if it sees fit, may take my measure; I can take a licking if I have to.

The rank and file of Democrats of North Carolina never have favored conferring office for life, or committing to inner circles the award of honors without limit of time, in perpetuity. The Democracy of my State does not owe me or any other man the Senatorship. I am frankly asking you to vote for me for this office, hoping, if successful, in my laudable ambition, that I may be given wide opportunity to fight for the things my party believes in and my friends and neighbors want done. I believe in friendship and party loyalty. When a friend of mine asks me for anything that I am free to grant him, he gets it. I am not expecting the support of those who are bound by ties of political affection or obligation to the incumbent Senator whose seat I wish to occupy.

There is a new day dawning, a new order arising in North Carolina. I want to rise with it, and assure one and all, each and every voter that in so doing, I will never forget my raising.

SCHOOL NEWS

Mr. Meadows at Chapel
Mr. Leon Meadows, head of the English department at E. C. T. C., came over on Monday and gave us a talk on Good English and Better Speech Week. Mr. Meadows thought it was very appropriate to begin a Better Speech campaign on George Washington's birthday. "People are judged," said Mr. Meadows, "more by the English they speak than by the company they keep."

The reading of good books was the topic discussed at greatest length. Mr. Meadows stressed the point that we should read old books that have stood the test of time, and stated that he agreed with Alonso of Aragon, who said, "Old wood is best to burn, old wine to drink, old friends to trust, and old authors to read."

It was very fitting to begin Better Speech Week on Washington's birthday. It was also appropriate to start Better Speech Week in the G. H. S. by a speech from Mr. Meadows.
BILLY BROWN, '26.

Better Speech Week
This week has been aside as Better Speech Week throughout the nation. The Greenville High School has stressed the need of better English in several ways. The English teachers have lectured to the pupils on this topic. Members of the student body have made posters which attract the attention of every one who sees them and make all realize the need for better speech.

Wednesday morning in chapel, the Junior class gave a very interesting program on the need of good English. The program was under direction of the practice teachers from the college who are teaching in the Junior English department.

The following program was given:
Song, "Strive for Better English," composed by an E. C. T. C. student.
Scripture Reading, Aline Johnson.

Prayer, Aline Johnson.
Play, "Who Won the Victory?" by Aline Johnson, president of the Junior class, with the following cast of characters:
A high school principal, Albert Jones.
A business man, Shaffie Hatten.
A steady girl, Louise Jones.
A flapper, Mittie Smith.
Office boy, George McGowan.
Good English Pledge, Bennet Moseley.

Song, "Good English Week," composed by Miss Shelton McArthur, and sung by entire school.
Mrs. Bowen's classes will have charge of the program next Monday morning thus carrying out the idea that all weeks should be Better Speech weeks. These classes will present two original one act plays.

Opening of the Debating Season

On Tuesday, February 18, the contestants for the debating team met in Mr. Keech's office. There were eleven entries for the four places on the team. Ada Orton Moore and Harry Perkins, members of last year's debating team, are going to have "rough sledding" before they are assured of a place on this year's team. Among the aspirants for places are honor roll students such as Jack Tripp, Joe Freshack, Aline Johnson and Harry Johnson. The query for the North Carolina Debating Teams this year is "Resolved That North Carolina should levy a state tax on property to aid in the support of an eight months school term." The preliminaries will be held next Tuesday and students selected will begin work immediately for the first clash with Kinston.

Another Member of Faculty

Each teacher of G. H. S. has been handicapped by having to teach too many classes. To the teachers' relief, a new member, Miss Mary Van Valkenburg, has been added to the faculty list, making a total of thirteen regular teachers, one part-time teacher in mathematics, one part-time teacher in English, and three music teachers, who have high school pupils.

Miss Van Valkenburg, the new teacher, comes to us from Lizzella, Ga. She has an A. B. degree from Wesleyan college, Macon, Ga., and has done some summer work at the University of Georgia. Last year Miss Van Valkenburg taught in Lafayette, Ga. This year she taught in Lizzella, Ga., until she came here.

Miss Van Valkenburg will teach in the mathematics and civics departments, and will be sponsor of the expression department of the Debating club. She has a room with Mrs. John Hassell.

"We have Never Lowered the Quality to Reduce the Price"

Since 1903, when the Ford Motor Company was formed, Ford cars have been constantly improved in quality, comfort, convenience and appearance. Recent improvements include new and attractive body lines—a lower center of gravity—closed cars in color, and all-steel bodies.

The basic features of Ford design have been retained. Three point motor suspension, planetary transmission, dual ignition system, torque tube drive, multiple disc-in-oil clutch, splash lubrication, thermo-syphon cooling system—all have been features of the Ford car for eighteen years. On the whole these features cost far more to manufacture than conventional design but are used because of their superiority.

The Ford Motor Company has carried out a program of price reduction that has consistently kept Ford value supreme in the automotive industry. This has been made possible by the enormity of Ford production. With lesser resources, Ford quality would not be possible at anywhere near Ford prices.

The tremendous demand for Ford closed cars has again made possible substantial price reductions.

CORINNE GRIFFITH IN NEW SCREEN HIT

A new Corinne Griffith, an amazingly saucy creature, with pep and impudence fairly exuding from every pore!
 The stately and demure and essentially cultivated personality known as Corinne Griffith on the screen has undergone such transformation. And, if wondering admirers who read these lines still doubt, let them go to White's Theatre Monday and see for themselves.
 Miss Griffith's complete change of personality is accomplished in a new June Mathis adaptation of an Edna Ferber story, "Classified," which comes to the screen from First National.
 In it she portrays a sophisticated yet sentimentally inclined "lapper" type. She brings to the screen for the first time to our knowledge the want ad girl of the daily newspaper. The realism of Miss Griffith's work in this new direction is a revelation and represents another triumph for one of the screen's most versatile actresses.

WALES ON SCHOOL VISIT PLAYS BALL WITH PUPILS

London, March 1.—(INS.)—The proudest girl in England is Gladys Bull of Kennington. She is the head girl of Kennington Road school, and after the Prince of Wales suddenly called at the school and shook hands with her, all her school friends crowded to kiss the hand the prince had shaken.

 "The prince was charming," says Gladys. "A little worried, perhaps; but that may have been because his arm, which he carried in a sling, was giving him great pain."
 "He asked me how many of the girls could swim, and where they went swimming. I told him and then he shook hands with me."

 The school is on the estate in the south part of London from which the income of the prince is derived. He spent two hours among the children in the kindergarten, playing ball with them.
 "Children did not have so happy a time as this when I went to school," he remarked in leaving.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By ALICE LANGLELIER
INS Staff correspondent
Paris, Feb. 27.—American millionaires are enjoying great popularity on the Paris stage for the moment. The one in "Pas sur la Bouche" (not on the Mouth) at the Theatre des Nouveautés has been amusing French audiences for more than a year. Now William Stevenson has come along in "Passionement" (Passionately) at the Theatre de la Michodiere.

He arrives in a yacht fresh from New York City with his pretty wife for whom he has fears in naughty Paris. So he anchors the yacht in Trouville harbour and while he goes off on important business, insists that Mrs. Stevenson only appear disguised in a white wig and blue glasses. Robert Percival, with whom he is negotiating for the purchase of certain oil-lands, one day surprises the wife without her make-up and immediately falls in love. After many amusing complications, Stevenson takes Robert as a business associate, divorces his wife and they all live happily forever after.

Unmistakable signs of the passing of the old order in the life of the French boulevards came this week after the decision of the management of a celebrated cafe to discontinue the custom of furnishing its patrons with writing materials. No longer are pen ink and blotter to be had for the asking and students and literary men wanting to pen their thoughts while they sip a coffee or "petit verre" will have to look for other haunts. Certain old habits are lamenting the change, but it was bound to come, and what with the flaming electrical signs outside and the flaza band inside it had become a far cry from the old literary cafe anyway.

Eighteen thousand francs was the price paid for a bundle of 15,000 love letters addressed to Victor Hugo by his sweetheart, Juliette Drouet, during the years of 1833 to 1882. In the pile of paper yellowed by time, is the entire intimate life of the two lovers, Hugo himself declared to his friend one day "All our life is there, written day by day and thought by thought! All that you have dreamed is there and all that you have suffered. Every one is a charming little mirror reflecting different phases of your lovely soul."

TODAY

Perhaps you have seen a great stadium with football playing, and 60,000 people looking on.
This is a stadium of solid, golden many colored rock, and there are about sixteen hundred million people on this earth. In this little section of the Canyon, you could arrange a stadium supplying roomy separate seats, for each one of the sixteen hundred million, and leave room in the upper rows of seats for five thousand millions more.

If five hundred millions of them shouted together at one side of the arena, those on the other side would hear only a feeble murmur, if they heard anything.

Must feeble man abuse himself, cringe and say, "I am nothing," as he looks into this gulf? Not at all. He can say, imitating a well known genius, "I also do all things."

If the sixteen hundred millions did gather here, man with his radio and amplifier, could make it possible for one voice to be heard by all.

And men at this moment are harassing, for crops and power, the Colorado river that rushes by down there. That river is the power that will make the river man's servant, power enough even to dig such a canyon as this, if he needed another.

This is a wonderful canyon, and like the heavens, it declares the glory of God. But man, a speck of the power that rules all, he also amounts to something. And he is a highly respectable insect when he respects himself and uses his brain.

For one thing be grateful. Postpone your coming as long as you must, you will find this canyon as it is today. Return reincarnated in ten thousand years, the bed of the Colorado will be a little lower, but no change in the Canyon.

THIS SCENE OF GREAT BEAUTY AND POWER IS THE PROPERTY OF THE NATION, A NATIONAL PARK, UNSECRATED FOREVER.

No men, no money making, no factories, chimneys, smoke or machinery can ever spoil it.

17 Superior Courts Will Be In Session During This Week

Raleigh, March 1.—(AP.)—Two of the 17 superior court terms opening in North Carolina this morning will be presided over by emergency judges.

Governor McLean has named W. B. Snow, of Raleigh, as emergency judge to hold the regular Buncombe term of two weeks for the trial of civil cases. A special two weeks' criminal term which will also open in Buncombe today will be held by Judge P. A. McElroy, of Marshall. The simultaneous terms in Buncombe are possible, due to the fact that that county has two court rooms.

The other emergency judge who will hold court this week is Judge C. C. Lyon, of Elizabethtown. He will hold court in Guilford this week, in lieu of Judge T. B. Finley, of North Wilkesboro, who has been relieved for the week. The Guilford term is for two weeks. It will be devoted exclusively to the criminal docket.

Judge W. F. Harding, who would have held the regular Buncombe term, is in exchange with Judge McElroy, and by reason of the exchange, Judge Harding will preside in Mecklenburg. That term is a civil one, to last two weeks.

Judges Michael Schenck, of Hendersonville, and A. M. Stack, of Monroe, are also in exchange. Judge Schenck, therefore will go to Henderson county, his home, to hold a two weeks' term, mixed, and Judge Stack will hold in Anson. The Anson term is for one week. It is a civil term.

Another exchange in effect this week is that of Judge W. A. Devin, of Oxford, and Romulus A. Nunn, of New Bern. By virtue of the exchange, Judge Nunn will hold the second week of the Greene county term, begun last Monday, and Judge Devin goes to Durham. The latter is a civil term, to continue through the second week.

Judges Thomas H. Calvert and M. V. Barnhill, of Raleigh, and Rocky Mount, respectively, in exchange for some weeks, return to their regularly appointed courts this week. Judge Barnhill will preside in Wake, and Judge Calvert in Edgecombe county. The Wake term of one week is criminal. That in Edgecombe is also for one week. It is a mixed term.

Judge H. A. Grady, of Clinton, goes to Currituck county this week. Court in Currituck will last for one week. It is to be a mixed term.

In Vance, Judge E. H. Cranmer, of Southport, will hold a one week criminal term. The Chatham term is also for one week, to be devoted exclusively to the civil docket. Judge N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, will preside.

Mixed terms of two weeks each open tomorrow in Wilkes and Swain counties. Judge Thomas J. Shaw, of Greensboro, will hold the Wilkes court, while Judge John M. Oglesby, of Concord, will preside in Swain.

The mixed term in Onslow is for one week. Judge W. M. Bond, of Edenton, will hold the court. Judge G. E. Midette, of Jackson, goes to New Hanover for two weeks. Only civil cases are on the calendar for trial at this term.

The Rowan term will be held by Judge T. Bryson, of Bryson City. It is a one-week civil term.

Courts previously opened will continue next week in Greene, Robeson, Rockingham and Caldwell counties, making a total of 21 superior courts in session during the week.

Ore Treatment a Monument to Woman

Denver, March 1.—(AP.)—From a woman's hatred for dirt has developed the oil selective flotation process which has made the treatment of complex and low grade ores a success. Millions of dollars have been made and saved by the method, although its originator, Carrie Everson, has passed into practical obscurity.

J. J. Clark, majority owner in the big Kittitac mine at Silverton, Colo., tells how she stumbled onto the idea, and other Denver mining men vouch for his story.

"One day in 1897," Clark says, "Miss Everson was in her brother's assay office in Denver and saw a pile of dirty ore sacks, which her woman's instinct for cleanliness impelled her to tackle. She doused them in a pail of sudsy water and swished them around until a scum appeared on the surface of the water, a scum which, to her eyes, appeared to contain mineral values, although at the time she could not conceive of metals floating.

"She removed the scum, poured out the sudsy water and found at the bottom of the pail a sludge which she knew to be only waste rock particles. The mineral values had floated to the top while the rock sank.

"Her brother analyzed the scum and determined that lead and zinc values had ridden to the surface on the grease bubbles from the soap, just as in the modern flotation process they rise to the surface on tiny rafts of oil.

"The brother took up the idea and started to develop it in a small way, trying to interest many prominent mining men. In a short while many scientific investigators were at work on the same thing, but it was several years before the oil flotation method became any more than a secondary method of separating ores.

"The idea never died out, however, and ten years ago metallurgists in Australia made a great step by floating silver, lead and zinc separately in different oils. The war halted perfection of the process and it was not until 1920 that both Australian and American metallurgists made real progress and developed the method to a practical position. Now it is used almost throughout the world and has made paying projects out of workings hitherto unprofitable."

Honolulu Football Players To Meet Invading Teams

Honolulu, Mar. 1.—(INS.)—Three mainland football teams will be brought to Hawaii during the 1926 season to meet the University of Hawaii according to announcement by Coach Otto Klum of the local "Rainbows." Visiting teams will be played here on December 4, December 18 and January 1.

The team brought over for the New Year's game will meet some other local eleven on Christmas Day. Coach Klum has written sixteen mainland colleges asking them if they would be interested in sending their football teams to Hawaii during the 1926 season.

LINCOLN DOCUMENTS FOUND IN OLD COURT

Lincoln, Ill., March 1.—(INS.)—Covered with dust and rusty with age, a veritable gold mine of Abraham Lincoln documents, penned by the hand of the Great Emancipator himself, have been unearthed here, the only city which Lincoln, before he became world famed, authorized to use his name. The papers were found through the activities of P. M. Angle, historical investigator of the Lincoln Centennial association.

Angle, armed with case numbers, found the papers in the yellowed with age files of the Logan county circuit court of 1857 to 1860. They are a part of records which it was believed when the Logan county court house burned in 1857, The declarations, replies and other legal documents were taken to Springfield, where photostatic copies will be made.

SAYS MRS. COOLIDGE DOES NOT TALK BUSINESS WITH HUSBAND

New York, March 1.—(AP.)—Mrs. Coolidge never discusses business with the President, C. Roscoe Sloop, his former secretary, discloses in his new book, "The Mind of the President." "But she has provided a home atmosphere that has made infinitely easier the development of the president's unique personality," Mr. Sloop adds. "There he has refreshed his weary spirit when the day was done. There he has ever found the warming fire of sympathy and affection, the inspiration of a happy and contented companion, the fortifying example of another blameless life."

Mr. Sloop's book, to be published by Doubleday, Page and Co., is made up of extracts from the President's public utterances.
