BARTLETT SAYS EXPOSITION WAS BEST IN HISTORY

Thanks All Who Contributed Towards Making 1926 Exposition Best of the Four Held to Date

The Fourth Annual Eastern Carolina Exposition is now in the past and things are already beginning to move towards the next one to be held in 1927. There are already two or three towns that are being mentioned very prominently as probable locations for the 1927 show. "We don't have any idea where the 1927 Exposition will be held," Secretary Bartlett stated Monday, when he was asked more than a dozen times where the next Exposition would be held. This matter will be determined within the next forty days, however, according to information coming from headquarters at Kinston.

But before the 1926 show is cold, Secretary Bartlett said he wanted to thank through the press those who contributed towards making the 1926 Exposition the best of the four held up to date. "It is impossible for us to see each individual," said Mr. Bartlett, "in person, who helped in this big undertaking and we must resort to the press. In the first place, we are indebted in no small way to those local committees in Greenville, Ayden, Farmville, Bethel and the towns outside of Pitt county, for the splendid work which they did."

"There was no discord. Everything that was done was unanimous. Then, too, the ladies' division came up for a great deal of credit. Under the able leadership of Mrs. H. E. Austin the ladies made a large contribution to the success of the Exposition. They worked hard and unselfishly and did the job well; and the city officials of Greenville, Mayor Clark, the City Council, Light and Water Department; and especially the police force, directed by Chief Jones. They even had less than the average arrests for the week. This is a distinct compliment to Chief Jones and his co-workers. The Greenville Merchants' Association, directed by C. B. Rowlett, Secretary and J. B. Blount, President, threw its entire support behind the show from the beginning and helped to push it to success."

"The Press, both local and otherwise, is due a great deal of credit. Especially is this true of the Greenville Daily Reflector, and the News and Observer. These two daily papers turned their front page over to the Exposition and with Ben Dixon McNeill handling the pen for the News and Observer and Dave Whitchard for the Reflector, the story was told in an unceremonious manner. We appreciate the unselfish support of the press."

"The Platform Manager, J. B. Jazes, is entitled to no little credit for making the program so systematic and on time. There was there and handled the job in a most excellent manner."

"The local automobile men in Greenville did their part nobly; the local merchants who took floor space should feel happy that they had a part in putting the big job over. The various clubs of Greenville: Rotary, Kiwanis, and the Woman's Club were very helpful."

"The Boy Scouts are to be congratulated on the splendid work that they did during the week. The ushers who so gladly assisted in handling the immense crowds Monday afternoon, Monday night, and Tuesday night, are due a part of the glory. The owners of the warehouse, Messrs M. Gowan and Cannon, the present owners, Messrs J. N. Gorman and Son, ex-owners, were very accommodating and did everything possible to make the machinery move smoothly. The marshals, directed by Chief Dave Whitchard, handled the three parades perfectly and deserve more than the usual amount of praise for there being no accidents of any kind during the three big parade days. If anybody has been overlooked, simply consider yourself 'thanked.'"

"The Exposition was a success from every point of view and the interest manifested by the people of the section is but an indi-

BUTLER DENIES ATTEMPT FORCE OFFICERS TESTIFY

Admits He "Upbraided Officers for Equivocating in Their Statements" Concerning Williams Party

San Diego, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler, star prosecution witness in the courtmartial of Colonel Alexander S. Williams on a charge of appearing drunk at the Hotel Coronado resumed the stand at the opening of today's session, and categorically denied that he had attempted to browbeat subordinate officers into testifying against the Colonel.

General Butler admitted he had called Captain C. B. Cates and other officers before him and upbraided them for "equivocating in their statements they had submitted to him covering the Coronado cocktail affair."

"Yet, I told them they were a lot of boys running around in circles," said General Butler, "Go out now and tell the truth, I told them 'or you'll get into trouble.'"

13 MEMBERS OF HOUSE COMMONS ARE SUSPENDED

Charged With Wilfully Obstructing Business Thirteen Labor Members Withdraw From House

London, April 15.—(AP)—Thirteen labor members of the House of Commons were suspended today after an overnight sitting of Parliament for wilfully obstructing business. Neville Chamberlain, conservative member named the offending members and moved that they be suspended. His motion was carried by a vote of 163 to 76. They withdrew from the House.

The House was discussing clauses of the economy bill when at six o'clock this morning J. H. Thomas, former Secretary of the State for the Colonies, moved an amendment on motion proceeded normally but after the prescribed time the tellers had not returned with the figures. It was reported that certain members in the "aye" lobby had refused to pass the tellers.

The committee chairman then demanded the names of those abusing the rules of the House and when these were given the proceedings were suspended and the speaker of the House summoned from his head. Business then was resumed with the suspension of the members who had interfered.

French Franc Sinks to a New Low Level Today
Paris, April 15.—(AP)—The French Franc today sank to a new low level for all times. The official closing quoted it at 29.61 to the dollar and 143.5 to the pound.

Decorations Beautiful.
The tobacco warehouse was converted into a veritable garden where everything looked attractive. This was done by Fred R. W. Reh, the veteran decorator of Eastern North Carolina. Mr. Reh has had the contract for the past three years and will continue to have it, if he wants it, as long as we have the Exposition. To say we are happy is putting it mildly.

Women Storm Liquor Hearing to Fight Booze

These women headed the group which presented petitions at the Senate liquor investigation being held at Washington. They all are ardent drys. Left to right—Mrs. Jessie W. Nicholson, Mrs. W. J. Goodman, of Chicago, president of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society; Mrs. Haynes Lippincott, of Camden, N. J.; Mrs. H. W. Peabody, Boston, national chairman of Law Enforcement League, and Mrs. Samuel Bens, who led the dry envoys.

ELECTRIC POWER FOR ALL PURPOSES HERE IN ABUNDANCE

Representatives of the several towns and cities in Central Eastern Carolina during the past several months have held many conferences working out plans to connect, by high power transmission lines, the several municipal plants, for the more abundant and cheaper production and delivery of electric power. In the main, plans for this purpose have been agreed upon. Each municipality has the privilege, at such time as it sees fit to exercise it, of connecting its electric plant in the system. There is no obligation, but the appealing economic advantage addresses itself to each municipality, and each will ultimately become a member of the system or not to do so as has its best interest direct.

The Water and Light Commission of Greenville and its superintendent, Mr. Swartz, assisted by F. M. Weeten, has been aggressive in promoting the establishment of such system, and have led the campaign to accomplish it. Reason, prompting this effort are fundamentally sound. Several large electric power corporations have made repeated efforts to purchase of the towns in this section, their electric light plants and to enter into contract with each town to sell to it, and, citizens under exclusive contract, shutting out all competition the electric power; to be transmitted from some central plant for removed from this section. Such selling would mean "scraping" the light plants now owned by the towns, and leaving on them the burden of maintaining the water and sewer plants, and would make each town wholly dependent for electric current upon a corporation foreign to this section, for a long period of years—forever, so far as this generation is concerned. The electric light plants have become very profitable as these towns have grown large, therefore the effort to purchase them. The Greenville plant, during the past fiscal year, earned approximately $63,000, this sum has been used as follows: Approximately $19,000 on time deposit; $12,000 on check ing account; and the remainder has been spent in making extension of electric, water and sewer line for Greenville. The electric light plant would have during the past fiscal year, paid into the Treasury $63,000 under taxation more than was levied and collected. The taxpayers in the other towns in this section have had, in a more or less degree, a like benefit from their light plants, this profit should be preserved to this section, and its increase enjoyed.

During the past quarter of a century, the towns in Eastern Carolina, and the communities surrounding them, have labored and fought to overcome poverty annihilate damaging living conditions and have attained a positive degree of success. It has had very little assistance. Mud roads have been succeeded by hard-surfaced roads; surfaced wells for drinking water have been succeeded by deep wells and municipal water plants under State regulations; malaria swamps have been immensely reduced by drainage at local expense, and malaria, chills and fevers placed under human control; isolation succeeded by modern communications and transportation; ignorance by modern and efficient schools increasing yearly in usefulness; religious and civic life enlarged and many time multiplied by the radiating forces of churches and Sunday Schools. The people of Eastern Carolina have wrought these changes, now possess an independence and attain a growth and prominence never before known in this section, and it is to maintain and preserve these benefits, that the several towns have planned to unite their power plants and efforts.

Already Greenville and Tarboro have passed resolutions authorizing the construction of high power transmission lines, making the first length in the making of a system that will accomplish this purpose. According to existing plans, other towns will join in the making of other lengths in the system as their economic need for it arises.

DR. F. B. SHORT TO ADDRESS BUSINESS MEN'S INSTITUTE

Minister of Considerable Prominence to Speak Friday Evening On Subject of "Religion and Business"

Dr. Francis B. Short, of New York, will speak at the courthouse Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock, using as his theme, "Religion in Business." Dr. Short is a Methodist minister of considerable prominence and much of his life's work has been in the study of business relations to religion.

Dr. Short's lecture is a continuation of the work that has been in progress with the local business men this week in the conducting of merchants institute to better fit them in the handling of their respective businesses. The speaker being here on Friday to fill a business engagement has upon solicitation of the Secretary of the Merchants Association consented to deliver this particular lecture which has created considerable favorable comment wherever Dr. Short has been heard. The public is cordially invited to hear this lecture without any cost to them.

Secretary Rowlett stated today that this evening's session of the merchants institute would conclude Mr. Frank Stockdale's engagement here, and that every one, and especially the salespeople should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him, as each of his messages are proving of great benefit to the employers as well as the employees.

Says Consecration Money Way Apply the Golden Rule

Birmingham, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Consecration of money is the one big way to apply the golden rule, said J. L. Kraft, Chicago manufacturer today, in his address before the international council of Religious Education. "Who we give, we get," said Mr. Kraft. "We must give if we are to get and the more we give the more we get. We are too liable to think the amount we give must depend upon the amount we get. No so. When we think that we have the cart before the horse. The amount we get depends upon what we give."

"Institutions teaching the power of Jesus Christ to save, are crying out all over the land for money. These institutions are so constituted that they can not earn it. God has given to you and to me the power to earn it and the trouble with most of us is that we keep more of it than we need."

"Let us then consecrate it. There is every reason why we should and none to the contrary. We can not take it with us and if we leave it for others to spend our purposes may be defeated. Not to consecrate money, may condemn us and by giving largely, we get largely."

TODAY

(Copyright 1926)
Now Burbank Knows. To Legalize Prize Fights. Consider New Orleans. Hear Colonel Ewing.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Burbank is dead, and knows more than he could guess at, concerning providence and the hereafter.

He said, in a hasty moment, that he did not believe an all powerful and merciful God would create weak human beings, knowing exactly what they would do when created, and then burn them thru all eternity. He, Burbank, would not treat one of his plants that way, or expressing his views, he was overwhelmed with reproaches and many abusive letters, from well meaning believers. His doctor says the abuse undoubtedly shortened the old man's life. He was 77.

This shows that it is hard for us, even for some clergymen, to take seriously the doctrine that Americans have a constitutional right to believe what they choose, and express their beliefs. Religions can set up theories flatly contradicting each other, and each is respected as it should be. But let any one say "You can't be all right, and I think you are all wrong," and you hear dismal howling.

Burbank cultivated his own garden, made plants grow better than they had grown before, did his work well. Perhaps Divine Justice will forgive him for suggesting that it could be guilty of such cruelty as would disgrace an Apache Indian on the war path.

Today Chicago will vote on the proposition to make prize fighting legal. That is the plain English of it. The intelligence and character of Chicago will be reflected in the vote.

Prize fighting is brutality, spreads together criminals and spreads the worst diseases.

Prize fighting makes heroes of thugs and law-breakers, setting a false example before growing boys. It has been said that prize fighting trains men "to be courageous and defend their country." Well known American prize fighter, and parents, were all hiding under the bed when the war broke out, or they gave lessons to soldiers in camp, far from the shooting. You cannot mention a prize-fight champion that volunteered to fight for his country.

Prize fighting means violating the law against assault and battery for the sake of profit. City voting for it would disgrace itself.

This is written after seeing New Orleans, with Colonel Ewing, boss of the New Orleans States as lecturer and guide.

Colonel Ewing will go to his grave, forty or fifty years hence, filled with anguish, that millions of Americans should have lived and died without spending at least a month in New Orleans. It is to him, like living in Egypt, without seeing the pyramids. 135,000 men and women of French decent live in New Orleans, which makes many things, including perfect cooking, that other cities have not.

The old French cathedral is beautiful and the Cabildo, in which was signed the Louisiana purchase, is a museum of American treasures and memories, not equalled elsewhere.

We bought Louisiana, by the way, a territory that reached north, from the Gulf to the Great Lakes, for three cents an acre, the world's record in real estate bargains. "The first consul of France," as Napoleon was then called, must often wonder, in heaven, why he did not hold on to that parcel.

New Orleans is a city of sunlight, warmth, beauty, grace, wide streets that make Fifth Avenue or State Street seem narrow lanes. The people are cheerful, courteous and energetic.

But Colonel Ewing wants you to know first of all, that New Orleans is a leading American boom town. He must have written the sign that taxi drivers put on their windshields, I BELIEVE IN NEW ORLEANS.

Bear in mind and remember, Colonel Ewing tells it to you, that the Gulf Coast, adjoining New Orleans, is the real "American Riviera." Others are imitations, and Chicago knows it, if slow New York does not. Fifty-five millions (Continued on page 6)

CHILDREN PICKET WHITE HOUSE BY ORDER STRIKERS

Six Little Girls Carry Banner in Front of White House as a Form of Protest by Striking Textile Workers

Passaic, N. J., April 15.—(AP)—Picketing of the White House by children was one of protest adopted today by the striking textile workers.

Six little girls ranging in age from four to eight years were sent to Washington to carry a banner in front of the White House reading:

"Mr. President, does the United States Constitution cover New Jersey? Are meetings halls closed? Is free speech denied. Are leaders illegally arrested and placed under exorbitant bail?"

Some 50 children of the striking workers were designated to picket the State Capitol in Trenton and the home of Governor Moore in Jersey City.

The special object against which protest is raised is enforcement of the riot act regulation. By reading the riot act, the sheriff of Mercer County has forbidden all parades of all kinds, except those of the State Police, and the Sheriff of Mercer County has forbidden all parades of all kinds, except those of the State Police, and the Sheriff of Mercer County has forbidden all parades of all kinds, except those of the State Police.

SAYS CONGRESS HAS POWER PERMIT SALE OF WINES

Has Power Legalize Sale of Cider and Wine For Use in the Home

Washington, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Congress has the power to permit and legalize cider and wine containing probably from 2.7 to 11.68 per cent of alcohol to be sold for use in the home, Representative Hill, Republican, of Maryland, declared today before the Senate Liquor Committee.

Hill, a leader of the wets in the House, based his statement upon decision of the court, in the case brought against him by the Government because he manufactured cider and wine in his home.

The case, he said, was tried upon Section 29, of the Volstead Act, permitting the manufacture in the home of non-intoxicating cider and wine. The jury held liquor without alcohol content was non-intoxicating and the Government did not appeal.

Representative Hill was the first of the number of members of the House who appeared to close the case of the wets. At the outset it was agreed that the wet could take up the remainder of their time with argument at the close of presentation of the dry side of the question, Bishop James J. Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, interposed an objection suggesting that the drys have the closing arguments, but Senator Goff, Republican, of West Virginia, said the wets had the affirmative and under the usual practice they should have the closing.

Pleads Guilty to Adultery Charge

Allentown, Pa., Apr. 15.—(AP)—Charles Garland, head of the April Farm Free Love Colony near Copersburg, pleaded guilty today to a charge of adultery. He was sentenced to serve 60 days in jail and pay a fine of $500.

U. S. LAGS IN AIR PROGRESS WHILE EUROPE BUILDS

Great Aeronautic Advance Made By Germany During Recent Months

By ROBERT S. THORNBERGH, INS Staff Correspondent
Washington, April 15.—In spite of the restrictions in the Versailles treaty on the development of aeronautics in Germany the progress of civil aviation in that nation during the past year, was marked, in contrast to the virtual standstill of that mode of communication in the United States.

Two leading German air-service companies reported a total distance flown of over 2,300,000 kilometers in 1924, nearly double the distance flown in 1923, while the number of passengers carried increased from about 10,000 in 1923 to over 20,000 last year. A large increase in the amount of freight, baggage and mail carried was also reported to the Department of Commerce by Vice-Consul Paul Boverman, of Berlin.

Two highly successful experiments in regular night flights were made by the Junkers-Luftverkehr from Berlin to Stockholm and the Deutscher Aero-Lloyd from Berlin to Copenhagen, according to Boverman.

Both concerns have also inaugurated regular winter schedules. The reconstruction of all-metal planes, designed solely for transportation of freight, mail and baggage is contemplated as soon as their unrestricted use is permitted in Germany, the department was informed.

"Another important step forward in the improvement of German air service was the arrangement with the Federal Railways, whereby passengers were permitted to forward their baggage by train simply on presentation of air tickets," the consul said. "The arrangement holds good only within Germany."

Plans were also reported by Consul General J. J. Lay, of Calcutta. Three schemes are under consideration for air service for India, Lay said. An England-India air service by dirigible, a Mediterranean-Berish Gulf service between Calcutta and Rangoon are planned.

The British government, according to Lay, has definitely decided to carry on the dirigible service on an experimental basis for three years. Two airships about twice the size of the American Los Angeles, are under construction in England and it is estimated that each will have a capacity of 100 passengers. One hundred hours flying between England and India with an intermediate stop are contemplated.

This service will be inaugurated in 1927, according to the present plan. The probable fare from London to Calcutta will be 100 pounds sterling.

Airship Norge On Way to Leningrad
Oslo, Norway, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Flying eastward of Sweden across the Baltic Sea and over the Gulf of Finland, the Amundsen-Ellsworth Polar Expedition airship Norge, was on her way to Leningrad today.

The airship which arrived here yesterday afternoon on a 600-mile voyage from Pulham, England, cut loose from her moorings last morning for another 600-mile trip through the air to Soviet Russia.

From Leningrad it is expected the Norge will proceed to Kings Bay Spitzbergen which will be the base for the expedition.

VALUE OF TRAINING

"Every time you make a boy a trained worker," a prominent banker remarked, "take him out of the unskilled class and put him into the skilled class, you more than double his earning and producing power. For that reason," he said, "the money we put into education is the best investment on this earth."

We are spending more money on our penal institutions than we are spending on education. We are faced, too, with the appalling fact that nearly three-fourths of those confined in the penal institutions of our country are under twenty-one years of age, young people who should just be starting out on their life careers—and we must not forget that "the finest prison conceivable is only a monument to neglected youth."

A REAL BASIS FOR COMMERCIAL FLYING

Congress has ended its five years of neglect of commercial aviation by the passage of the Bingham bill, providing for a bureau of civil aeronautics, licensing and regulation of commercial air activities. In 1921 this question was urged upon Congressional attention. In 1922 the Wadsworth bill for the purpose passed the Senate. But the House has unaccountably held back. Now, for the first time, commercial aviation is lifted from the limbo of an uncontrolled, unrecognized business, with a large wildcat element, to an industry as carefully supervised as inland steamboat traffic.

It has long been clear that if we were ever to have large-scale commercial aviation, Government agencies would have to supply the same kind of aids they give to navigation. Cities will build air ports as they have built water ports. The Federal authorities—as the new bill provides—will determine routes, furnish traffic signals, build air "light-houses," and study air currents and weather. Air terminals will be designated. The operation of the new law, with aviators licensed after examination, and aircraft systematically inspected, will give the public a confidence in passenger aviation which it could not feel before. It will encourage capital to enter the field, assured that it has a legal status, and that responsible lines will be protected against wholly irresponsible competition.

Last year we had a few important passenger companies like the Aeromarine Airways and Curtiss Exhibition Company, while the plans of the Fords and of the National Air Transport Inc., attracted wide attention. Such enterprises may prove the nucleus of a vast transportation system a quarter century hence.—N. Y. World.

Senators Weak in Box and Outfield; All Are Hopeful

By FORD C. FRICK
INS Staff Correspondent
New York, Apr. 15.—There's an old wheeze to the effect that if you continue to prophesy a thing long enough and hard enough it will eventually come true. Which is about the only atom of encouragement coming to baseball experts as concerns their diagnosis of the Washington Senators. For three years now the boys have been singing sad requiems over the prostrate form of the Griffith entry before the season starts.

And twice in a row the corpse has come to life and knocked the mourners for a row of galvanized iron ashtrays.

Maybe they will do it again this year. Maybe not.

If they do, then Bucky Harris is a miracle man for a fact. Bucky's club this year is like the seven-year old thoroughbred or the thirty-five year old boxing champion. You can't tell about 'em until the bell rings or the barrier goes up.

But certain factors are apparent. Bucky hasn't strengthened his team any, and most of the other managers have. Then all the club are a year older now, and that added year is a lot harder on Bucky's veterans than it is on Connie Mack's youngsters for instance. To offset that, however, are these equally potent and self-evident facts.

The Senators are a mighty smart ball club—smarter perhaps than any other club in the league. And they have the old winning spirit.

Three glaring weaknesses appear in the Washington line-up. One is in the pitching box, Johnson, Coveleskie, Reuther and Bush can't be expected to carry the burden of many more hard campaigns. And Harris has no one to replace them. His youth pitchers are mediocre at best. And mediocre youngsters never yet figured very much in a pennant race.

Then Bucky needs a short stop. Peckinpaugh has about finished his honorable career. And Buddy Meyer, despite press agent notices, isn't a whirwind by several laps. Buddy is fair—but he's young, and he's inexperienced. As a kid, he isn't as good as Mark Koenig of the Yankees. And as a veteran he can't hold a candle to Joey Sewell, for instance.

Right field is another problem. Johnny Tobin, aged and a bit decrepit, is many miles removed from the best outfielder in the league. And Joe Harris, slugger that he is, never was a great outfielder. There's a ways the danger of Joe getting killed by a fly ball some day. And killing is always messy, even though it's just in fun.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenthu, to others, who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenthu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. SPEED OF AMERICAN KISS STARTLING TO PLAYWRIGHT
Hollywood, Cal., April 13.—(AP) The momentum of American occupation has staggered Ernest Vajda, Hungarian playwright, who is working here in the Famous Players-Lasky motion picture studio. The writer from the land of the Magyars, where a kiss is still a kiss to be given and taken seriously, is frankly puzzled by its high speed delivery in these United States.

"I do not criticize, but I am bewildered by the terrific pace of the American salute of affection," he said. "I have seen hundreds of instances of young men driving automobiles with one hand, the other about a girl's waist, oblivious to traffic or to the danger of collision, snatching kisses while traveling thirty miles an hour."

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" COMING TO WHITE'S
"Abie's Irish Rose" is smashing records everywhere. Miss Nichols, a woman in her late thirties, has fought single handed the theatrical booking offices—something that no other producer did with success. Her play is now in its fourth year at the Republic Theatre, New York.

An idea of its tremendous drawing power can be had from the fact that cities which are ordinarily good for but one or two nights have given the attraction capacity business for three and four weeks. Cite, like Pittsburg where a Broadway show never lasts for more than a week, supported "Abie's Irish Rose" for twenty-four weeks. And when it was obliged to leave the theatre at the end of that time, due to prior bookings, it refused to quit the smoky city but instead engaged a burlesque theatre, where it ran to profit for an additional five weeks.

Manager Corbett is looking forward to banner business with

"Abie's Irish Rose" when it opens at White's Theatre next Tuesday.

California Tours Given By Merchants Creating Interest

With the Exposition over and with the return of the sunshine after the rainy days of the first of the week, interest in the three free trips to California to be given by nine of Greenville's progressive business firms is again on the increase and the candidates who have already entered the campaign are wakening up to the wonderful offer that is being made them by the merchants in return for a little work during their spare hours. At a meeting of the participating merchants last night, it was decided to stage a banquet next Tuesday evening at which the present contestants and others who enter the campaign, between now and that date will be the honor guests.

The nomination books of the campaign are still open and any white lady in Greenville or surrounding territory is eligible to compete for one of these wonderful free trips. The merchants are urging that all who are interested in entering the campaign for one of the free trips do so at once while the campaign is yet at its beginning and there is still time to win. At the banquet next Tuesday evening speakers will give full instruction to the contestants and much valuable information regarding how to get the best results from their efforts in the campaign.

Perrett Will Visit United States in May

Paris, April 15.—(AP)—Le Solr today says that Finance Minister Perrett will leave for Washington in May where he hopes to be able to sign a debt agreement with the United States.

Tularemia Disease Spread by Rabbits, U. S. Warns

Washington, Apr. 15.—(INS)—Watch out for the epizootic disease known as tularemia. According to investigations made by the United States Public Health Service and the Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture, this disease, also known as "rabbit fever" or "deer-fly fever," which kills off wild rabbits in great numbers, may also be transmitted to human beings through the bite of blood-sucking flies and ticks and through handling or coming in touch with the blood and internal organs of infested wild rabbits.

Government officials have called attention to the prevalence of tularemia in order that, to prevent possible infection, persons exposed to the disease may observe precautions, such as wearing rubber gloves, rinsing the hands in antiseptic solutions after handling wild rabbits and treating insect bites promptly with iodine.

Many persons have become infested by dressing wild rabbits for the table or by cutting them up for fish bait or feed for poultry, swine or other stock.

Cases of the disease have occurred in Arizona, California, Colorado, District of Columbia, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

This distribution indicates that the disease probably occurs throughout the United States and its recognition and occurrence in other states will be only a matter of time, as it was found in nine new states during the past year.

Tularemia is carried by jack rabbits, snowshoe rabbits and cotton tails, and also by certain species of ground squirrels. In human beings the usual symptoms are headaches, chills, bodily pains, vomiting, prostration and fever, followed by painful swelling and later supuration of the glands. It is a disabling disease incapacitating the patient for weeks or months and at times terminating fatally.

The control measures being directed by the Biological Survey against wild rabbits and other rodents in the Western states for the protection of forage and other crops are not only accomplishing this object, but also are safeguarding human health by checking the occurrence of tularemia.

Filipinos Have More Liberty Than in U. S.

Indianapolis, Apr. 15.—(INS)—The personal and political liberty of Filipinos today is equal to that of residents of the United States.

That statement was made in an address here by John W. Houssemann, vice-president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Philippine Islands, and for many years a judge of the judicial courts.

If anything, he declared, Filipinos enjoy a larger personal liberty and more extensive political privileges than do Americans.

Houssemann cited four reasons in support of his assertions:

1. Filipinos do not have to pay a Federal income tax.
2. They are not subject to draft in time of war.
3. They are exempt from the American laws except those specially applying to the Philippines.
4. Their own legislature, which they themselves elect, is empowered to enact tariff, immigration and coinage legislation subject only to Presidential veto within sixty days.

No State in the Union enjoys the latter privilege, he declared. The constant agitation in this country for Philippine independence does not represent the voice of the millions of the Filipinos profitably employed under American protection, he continued, but reflects the attitude of a minority of "mixed blood politicians" numbering between 30,000 and 40,000 out of a population of 12,000,000.

FOREIGN TRADE MEN TO MEET AT CHARLESTON, S. C.

Charleston, S. C., April 15.—(INS)—The United States' foreign trade policy will be the principal topic of discussion at the thirteenth annual convention of the National Foreign Trade Council here April 28-30.

One of the main addresses along this line is scheduled to be made the second day of the convention, when Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles will speak on "The European Situation in 1926."

Among the speakers who will also deliver addresses along this line are: "Commercial Possibilities of the South Atlantic," A. Goodwyn Cheat, of Charleston; "The South's Part in American Exports," George G. Crawford, president of the Tennessee oil, Iron and Railroad Company, Birmingham, Ala.; "Economic Resources of the South Atlantic," Erich W. Zimmerman, professor of commerce at the University of North Carolina.

P. A.

is pippin pipe tobacco

THOSE fellows who get so much fun out of a pipe—don't envy them... emulate them! Get yourself a jimmy pipe and a tidy red tin of Prince Albert. That's what they did, and look at them. Wearing smiles a mile wide. Puffing away on good old P. A. and happy as ducklings in their first rain-storm.

There's no trick about it... no deep, dark secret. P. A. is pippin pipe tobacco, made for pleasure and lots of it. Prince Albert is mellow as moonlight on a silent summer sea. Fragrant as a breeze that filters through apple-blossoms. Cool and sweet in a way that spells comfort to a pipe-smoker.

Not the least of P. A.'s virtues is the kindly way it treats a fellow's tongue. The Prince Albert process cut out bite and parch years ago, thereby opening the gates to smoke-peace for millions of men. No matter how hard you smoke P. A., there is no protest from your tongue or throat.

To make sure that you are not missing the full enjoyment of your pipe, go to the nearest tobacco shop and tell the man you want a tidy red tin of Prince Albert. He knows of hundreds of men that have found the enjoyment that's waiting for you. There's a revelation coming to you with a pipe—and P. A.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Newnham Leave for Wilson Today

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Newnham, who have been making their home here for the past three years, left today for Wilson where Mr. Newnham, golf professional, will have charge of the Wilson golf course. During their stay here Mr. and Mrs. Newnham have won a host of friends, who regret to see them leave, but wish for them every success in the future. In expressing regret at leaving, the Newnhams have the following to say: "To our friends of the Greenville country club and city: "We are leaving with regret a city in which we have lived for 3 years. Greenville country club will have one of the most beautiful golf courses in the state. Trees which have been planted will stand out in the next few years a splendor of beauty. With the oaks there is the pecan, which will be a standing figure. The grass on this nine hole course can't be equalled in the state. It will always stand at the front for its beauty.

"Golf is young at Greenville yet, but everyone must know that the age of people is going on just the same.

"You never know how much benefit you derive out of golf until you get into the game. Ask anyone who plays golf and he will tell you he is a different man today and wished he had taken it up years ago.

"A golf course to a city is the making of it. Watch the papers in a short time about golf courses going to be built in North Carolina.

"Greenville three years ago, is not the Greenville of today. We have seen a great improvement while we have been here. Your city with a golf course is talked all over the world. News has reached London. When the tobacco buyers were here, this was asked, "Do you happen to have a golf course here?" The answer was yes, "Have you a professional?" "Yes." And they said "What a jolly nice course you have!" A great deal of hard work has been done on these links, take for instance 60 acres of land under grass and you know how grass grows. It has kept the mowers going from April to September and October, every day.

"There are a good many new members joining and the man who has given up his membership will regret it some day—time will tell.

"Members, make a pledge and each one takes out a friend and shows him or her what you have. Come, let them swing that club in their hand and knock that little ball away. I can tell you what the answer is—success, Greenville, we are sorry that we are leaving, but don't give up, we have left something behind us; that is, we love the people of Greenville and all that you have done for us. Always boost your city and don't forget the golf links."

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work.

"I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of three times, then I would be very constipated.

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything.

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work."

Head Stones for Soldiers' Graves to Be Furnished Free

The following has been received from Congressman Lindsay C. Warren, which should be of great interest to many of our people.

The government will furnish free of charge, upon application duly made to the War Department, a white marble headstone for the grave of every soldier, sailor or marine who served in the army or navy of the United States, whether regular or volunteer, and whether he died in the service or after honorable discharge. This does not include Confederate soldiers.

Civil and Spanish War veterans' headstones are 39 inches long, 12 inches wide and two inches thick; top slightly rounded, with emblem cut within a sunken shield. World War headstones are 42 inches long; 13 inches wide and four inches thick, and within a small circle will be cut either a Latin cross for Christians, a star of David for Hebrews, or no emblem, as elected. The inscription on every headstone will consist of the soldier's full name, the state from which he came, his rank, division and date of death. The stones will be shipped freight prepaid by the Government, to the nearest railroad station.

If those desiring headstones for their deceased sailor or soldier loved ones will write me I will take pleasure in supplying them with all necessary information and the proper blanks for use in making application for the stones.

Lindsay C. Warren.

S. S. Hadley Dies Result Of Injuries

Williamston, Apr. 12.—Sunday morning in the trying hour between 3 and 4 o'clock, when vitality is at its lowest ebb, Samuel Sheppard Hadley passed away as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident which occurred Friday. In the two days that he lived he fought hard for life, more for his children's sake than for his own. During the days he was conscious most of the time, the nobleness and unselfishness, of his spirit were manifested very beautifully in the consolation and sympathy that he held for Miss Mary Cook, whose car ran over him. He assured her that he did not hold her responsible, even when he knew he was at death's door, and the sincerity of his desire for her not to be troubled was very touching. Mr. Hadley was a large landholder in this county and possessed much property in Williamston, he and his brother owning the Atlantic Hotel.

Mr. Hadley was in his sixty-sixth year, and was the son of William Grainger Blount Hadley and his wife, who was Harriett Louise Smithwick. He was born at the Hadley homestead on the Williamston-Jamesville highway, and the old plantation was in his possession at the time of his death. He was one of six children, but is survived by his youngest brother, T. S. Hadley, alone.

In early life he was married to Miss Della Wilson, who died twenty-four years ago. Of this union two children survive, Mr.

Z. Vance Bunting, of Bethel, and Dr. Sampson Hadley, of Norfolk. He was a member of the Christian church, having joined shortly after his marriage.

The funeral services were held at the Atlantic Hotel, where he lived, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Rev. A. J. Manning officiating. Interment took place in the Baptist cemetery. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

Hall-bearers were Wheeler Martin, B. A. Criteher, Henry Harrison, J. O. Manning, Clayton Moore, H. T. Robinson, P. H. Brown and A. Hassell. Honorary: H. M. Stubbs, E. S. Peel, W. C. Manning, R. J. Peel, Claude Keith, C. D. Carstarphen, J. H. Britt, J. F. Thigpen, S. S. Brown, G. W. Blount, J. G. Staton, J. E. Pope, Dr. W. E. Warren, Dr. J. H. Saunders, F. U. Barnes and J. W. Manning.

Those attending the funeral from a distance were Mr. Sallie I. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Acre, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pruett, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wilson, Messrs. R. A. Coburn and C. C. Martin, of Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilson and Dr. Mrs. R. J. Nelson of Robertsonville; Mr. W. H. Warriek, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Powell and Mrs. Fehring, of Grifton.

Clerk Is Now Lord Allgood

Akron, O., Apr. 15.—(INS)—Fired from his job as a shipping clerk in an Akron rubber factory Albert Webster thought the world was just a place to worry. Then came a letter and Albert changed his mind.

But his name is no longer Albert. The letter changed all that. He is now Lord Allgood, of Durham, England, and he is master of an English estate of 3,000 acres.

He was a shipping clerk here six months ago. Then his uncle, Lord Allgood died, and the aunt offered to adopt the Akron man and permit him to assume the title.

He was summoned to Washington in connection with the arrangements and in his hurry forgot to notify his foreman of his absence. Negotiations in Washington lagged and he returned to take his old job. His job was there all right, but another man had it. His time card read "Dismissed for being absent without reporting."

He explained the circumstance, and was reinstated. But now he won't need the rubber company's semi-monthly pay envelope and is on his way to his estate and dignities.

uable work upon the British industrial crisis which has appeared into the war.

The authors are two young engineers, Bertram Austin and W. Francis Lloyd, who went to the United States at their own expense to study the problem.

Among their important conclusions is that small profits and a quick turnover is one of the chief causes of American prosperity, coupled with a wide use of labor-saving devices in manufacturing.

Feeding Scraps Hard On Chicks

Investigation of some recent baby chick losses has revealed that many poultry raisers are accustomed to throw table scraps into the chicken yard in the evening. This is a dangerous practice. In this warm weather such waste matter decays very rapidly and becomes injurious to the immature digestive system of the chicks. Moreover, such scraps are hardly ever balanced so as to give the chicks the all-round development the poultryman wants. Even if fed as a supplement to a balanced ration, scraps have a tendency to unbalance it.

If scraps must be fed, they should be fed only while fresh, and when the chickens can clean them up quickly. They should be fed to the mature hens, not growing chicks.

The Purina 1926 Poultry book, distributed free through the courtesy of Turnage & Winslow of this city, contains detailed directions for feeding growing chicks for more rapid development and mature hens for egg production, as well as much other valuable matter of interest to poultry raisers.

Passing the 24th Year of Actively Serving

Upon Wednesday of this week falls the twenty-fourth birthday of the J. C. Penney Company, for it was on April 14th, 1902, in a small village in Wyoming, that the first step was taken to lay a foundation for a business structure that in little less than a quarter of a century was to grow into an institution of country-wide dimensions.

Mr. James C. Penney now, as then, stands at the helm. To his inspiration, to his mastery, to his eminent direction, to his unalterable faith in the application of the principles of the Golden Rule in business, is due today, and has been due from the beginning, to a large extent and in a far-reaching way, the success of the Company which bears his name.

But surrounding him and working elbow to elbow, other men, well equipped and versed in business pursuit, have contributed large measures of discriminating activity. Along the ranks, from executives to the hundreds of co-partner-managers of the Stores as well as the thousands of salespeople, the same ideals of service as ruled Mr. Penney continue to dominate every move.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By CHARLES A. SMITH, INS. Staff Correspondent.

London, April 14.—The writer of the book of Job, living between 2,500 and 3,000 years ago, accurately presented some of the discoveries of modern science, according to Commander V. L. Trumper, in a lecture to the Victoria Institute here.

He put forward the theory that the book of Job, besides being a magnificent philosophical poem, containing scientific statements, a-l-lusions, and implications which are marvelous when account is taken of the state of human learning and science at the period the book was written.

"About that time," Commander Trumper said, "it was generally believed that the earth was flat, with tunnels in the foundations to permit the passage of the sun and stars."

"Yet we read in the Book of Job, 'He stretched out the earth over the empty space, and hanged the earth upon nothing.' I submit that this is proof that the writer knew that the earth was spherical centuries before anyone else."

"A recent announcement by a biologist," continued Commander Trumper, "was that certain birds of prey can alter the lens of the eye in shape, so that when the bird is making a swoop after its victim it can keep the object accurately focused."

"In Job, Chapter 28, Verse 7, we read: 'There is a path . . . which the vulture's eye hath not seen. To continue, it was not until the seventh century that Torricelli, the inventor of the barometer, proved that air had weight. But in Job we are told that 'God understands the way thereof . . . to make the weight for winds.'"

After discussing the merits and demerits of the plan for nearly a quarter of a century the post office has established a parcels post system similar to that in operation in the United States and thirty other countries.

A lonesome young man in London only has to read the newspapers now to find an agreeable feminine companion.

A search of the "personal column" will probably bring him face to face with an offer like this: "Young lady, polite, fair, blue eyes, fond of dancing and theatres, wants young partner for good-class evening dances, sharing expenses 50-50.—Violet, (followed by an address.)"

Convince-I that one of these "dear little things" needs his attention, the young man, however, is likely to find that it is difficult to permit her to pay half of the expenses, and that it is also not easy to turn down suggestions for the purchase of silk hose and lingerie, fur coats and jewels.

All of these "parlors" who advertise their charms and willingness are not of the half-world, either, according to those familiar with social conditions here, it being stated that many girls of good families hard up for the luxuries they desire, sit out at night in this way. Society writes at such seasons the explanation being that there are so many who do it that it is hard to know where to draw the line.

Town-planning is being urged to prevent the destruction of the beauty of the country around Canterbury by the inroads of coal mines.

Mining companies have discovered a rich coal field underlying this country, and the first mine has been sunk less than two miles from Canterbury. The plans of the developers include the establishment of a number of villages for miners and their families. Persons interested in the preservation of the old English countryside are urging that these villages and the mine-buildings are designed in such a way that the garden-like charm of the country, and its historic and scenic value is not destroyed by the advance of commercialism.

BOND STREET MERCHANTS FORMING STRONG UNION

London, April 15.—(INS)—Owners of the explosive shops of Bond Street are envious of the power of the Fifth Avenue Association of New York.

The Bond Street Association is only a year old, but it has ambitious plans, including the acquisition or control of all property in the street so that it can designate what firms can be represented there, and the planning of all the buildings so that an architectural standard may be maintained.

It also wants to drive all banking houses out of Bond Street, reserving the famous thoroughfare for small shops.

Millions in money and people will pour in from Chicago and the lake cities to the Gulf Coast in winter, disdaining other resorts, as the great crowd from Philadelphia travels to Atlantic City, ignoring New York resorts.

Beet sugar men are down here, convinced that the soil, deposited more than a hundred and fifty feet deep by the Mississippi, will do for beet sugar what it does for cane sugar.

Two things this nation, should do now, as the "don't mean maybe" song says. It should establish a waterway, for ocean steamers, from New Orleans to Chicago and the other lake cities.

And second, the wasted, surplus waters that rush past this city to the gulf, through a channel 100 feet deep, should be diverted and made to irrigate lands to the west that
