SAYS AMERICA MUST LEAD WAY IN CHRISTIANITY

Soper Addresses International Council Religious Education in Session Birmingham

Birmingham, Apr. 17.—(AP)—America situated at the center of the world, must heed the call to Christian young people with open mindedness and courage. Edmund D. Soper, of Duke University, told delegates to the International Council of Religious Education here today.

"The point to be remembered is that America is a very real sense is at the center of the world, that the water, which washes her coast, touches upon land of more different civilizations than can be said of any other land," the speaker declared.

"America today is the most strategically situated nation in the world and when it is realized that she is the wealthiest land, the least danger of invasion and of international complications, which might prove vital to her very existence. It must be born upon every American there is a responsibility as great as any that has ever been carried by any other people, if not greater."

"I should say that the initial call of America to her young people to understand not only what has just been said about her strategic position and influence, but what Americanism really is or ought to be.

"Undoubtedly we are very rapidly developing something unique in this land of ours. Many forces are at work, each trying to put its stamp upon the America which is to be. Let us realize, and we ought to in an educational convention like this, that education can be educated into new altitudes, and that it may take place with great rapidity. The reason why we are likely to be surprised is that no matter how rapidly the process of education proceed, they are necessarily quiet and unobtrusive. Germany was transformed into a warlike nation between 1870 and the World War.

"What is Americanism, or at least some feature, of the Americanism we should like to see become true? We must realize that the backbone of our tradition is English brought here by the Pilgrim fathers. They brought with them certain ideas about political independence, worshiping, according to the dictate, of our own conscience, the rights of the individual man, which are included in the word 'democracy'.

They have been very influential in the development of our institutions. I should say that Americanism challenges her young people to find out what her basic institutions mean, and to determine the kind of Americanism they would like to have preserved as we assimilate the great foreign born population and seek to weld all the people into a unity which shall be distinctively American.

"American is a sense of which all right-minded men and Christians can feel proud.

"In ordering this there are several features, of the case to which attention should be given. They must be open-minded and in being open-minded they should look both ways, backward as well as forward. For there is that in the past which undoubtedly must be preserved. It is not possible to start all over again. The past has its influence, and we will not or it. We must urge upon these young people the deliberate choice of what is good and what should be conserved down through the years to come. But they must also be open-minded as they face the future and realize that new methods and viewpoints must be characteristic of them as of their forebears, when they faced crises in the past. Boldness is closely connected with openmindedness if it is to result in any practical benefit. Courage is called for today, in any period of the past.

Norfolk, Va., April 17.—(AP)—Alfred M. Ramage, of Joplin, Missouri, a passenger of the steamer Northland, of the Norfolk and Washington line disappeared early today, police were informed by officials of the ship upon its arrival here.

The absence of Mr. Ramage was noted shortly before arrival of the vessel and the passenger which today recalled seeing him about five o'clock this morning. The man's personal baggage was found in his stateroom. It contained two letters, one addressed to John H. Canell, of Joplin, Missouri, and the other to his mother, Mrs. S. Y. Ramage, at Pinehurst, N. Interest in Golf Increases Germany, Query Indicates

St. Andrews, Scotland, Apr. 17.—(AP)—An indication of the growth of golf and the spirit in which it is played in Germany is seen from the fact that for the first time the Club Zur Vahr at Bremen asked the Royal and Ancient Club for advice on a disputed point.

The question raised related to the decision of a tie in a stroke competition in which one competitor refused to play off over 30 holes, because Rule 3 of the Special Rules states that a "tie or tie shall be decided by another round."

The Rules of Golf Committee upholds the objection, subject to there having been no special rule made to govern the competition in question and suggests that a new round of 18 holes be played.

DECLARES BEER DOES NOT HELP PROHIBITION

Canadian Declares Legalizing of Light Alcoholic Drinks Does Not Stop Bootleggers

Washington, April 17.—(AP)—The Senate Prohibition Committee was told today that legalization of beer has not solved the temperance question in Canada. Devoting the entire session to the testimony of a former attorney general of Ontario, W. E. Raney, the investigating committee was advised that the bootleggers still abound in the Canadian province where honest prohibition has given way to sale of light alcoholic drinks under Government control.

Washington, April 17.—(AP)—The drys drew up in battery of lay witnesses today to carry forward the bombardment against modification measures at the Senate Prohibition hearing.

Elsewhere meanwhile the legislative committee of the Anti-Saloon League was called in council to consider action on the testimony of Assistant Secretary Andrews and United States Attorney Bunker, of New York.

The big guns of the dry battery of witnesses today included W. E. Raney, former attorney general of Canada, who was placed on the stand to combat the testimony of other Canadians, Professor Irwin Fisher, of Yale, and A. A. Stagg, football coach of Chicago University.

A number of taxpayers granted an extension are yet to be heard from, Mr. Daughton pointed out, and those business concerns, which operate on the basis of a fiscal year, have not as yet made their returns in a number of cases.

FRANC DROPS TO NEW LOW RECORD

French People Donating Their Jewelry in Efforts to Stabilize Value of Franc

Paris, Apr. 17.—(AP)—The franc was quoted this morning at 29.82 to the dollar. This new low record non-pulsed the French public which by gifts of jewelry and checks has been responding to appeals of Minister Peret and Marshal Joffre following the example of President Doumergue and Premier Briand in making patriotic donations to the "Save the Franc" fund.

"In the present circumstances no hesitation can be tolerated," said Marshal Joffre, quoting from his Marne battle order of 1911 upon assuming the Presidency of the National Committee which is inaugurating the drive for voluntary contributions.

Offers are coming in from persons in all walks of life, the gifts ranging from the Prince of Monaco's 50,000 francs to a peasant's gold watch and chain.

Overworking of Bagpipe Causes Scots to Protest

Geneva, April 17.—(AP)—Nero is reported to play the bagpipe long hours he was able to fiddle.

This and other intonation relations of the bag pipe and the organ have been brought out by Scotsmen who are up in arms against the national instrument because it has been made to work over time in some of the night clubs. They would have the bagpipe declared a public nuisance, and have taken their contentions to court for a ruling.

The claim is made by the same source that the bagpipe was not only used by the Greeks and the Romans, even before Nero's time, but that in the course of events it was introduced into Scotland from Ireland.

A Pullman Advantage. You Can Look Out. See Arizona. Real Promised Land. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

"A ship," Dr. Johnson wrote to Mrs. Thrale, "has all the disadvantages of a prison, with the additional disadvantage of being unsafe."

A Pullman compartment in which this is written has, quite the other way, all the advantages of a cage with two added advantages. Most important: You can look out of the window. And there are no worms.

In a Pullman "sitting room" as in the town you have all your possessions with you, all your troubles far away. No telephone rings, nobody calls with a letter of introduction, nobody wants to sell you anything, or buy anything.

In the sleeper as in the tomb you have left one place and are going to another. The inside of the Pullman as of the coffin, is carefully padded, you sleep as long as you please. The porter like the angel Gabriel is considerate, and waits.

In the coffin as in the train you travel. Our real journey is with the sun, through space. Little trips going to and fro on the earth do not amount to much.

In the coffin you travel, with the earth around the sun about 550,000,000 miles every year. And you travel even further as the sun drags you and the earth through space we know not whither—perhaps to some final landing place, where all earth's souls are discharged at once as a ship unloads its cargo, at the end of a voyage. How welcome will be the words "ALL OUT."

Out of the car window, on the Southern Pacific Sunset Limited you now see the state of Arizona big as New England, with the population of Cleveland settled over its vast territory. We certainly have unoccupied land to spare in our country what a pity our dog in the immigration manager policy should keep good men and women out—the men and women that came here in years past and made the country what it is.

This is the town of Picacho, named for a tall mountain that was a landmark for early pioneers in their covered wagons. From this spot starts the new branch of the Southern Pacific, that will run through the Casa Grande Valley with its 120,000 acres soon to be irrigated by water from the Coolidge Dam, on the Gila River.

We have the land, the water, the money—we lack people that want to work the land and know how. And we hold our nation back, by refusing admittance to the most desirable people on earth, that would come to us from the troubles of war, as they formerly came from the troubles of religion.

In this one state, there is health, room and opportunity for half the people in the country. Perhaps workers for these newly irrigated lands will be brought from Porto Rico, a few thousand of them at least. They are "citizens" and can come and go, even as contract labor. And they can be shipped from Porto Rico to Galveston for twenty dollars a head, less than the freight on a cow. The human takes less room, loads and unloads himself, and no "cruelty to animals society" prevents packing him in. Would it not be better to admit Europeans brought here by the ambition and courage that brought our ancestors, rather than bring in, by shiploads, Porto Ricans that may not like the climate?

To talk about the productive power of the soil, desert land some of it washed down from the mountains, when water is added, seems like a fairy story and more unbelievable than Jack and the Beanstalk. One acre of desert land lying by will produce as much as a carload of lettuce, melons or other produce.

Guess work? No, go to California's Imperial Valley and see. You could buy "worthless" arid desert land there, recently for fifty cents an acre. You cannot buy it at all now. There, 25,000 acres planted with cantaloupes ship out.

CONCLUSION OF WILLIAMS TRIAL STILL UNCERTAIN

More Witnesses Called to Clear Up Evidence in "Cocktail Court Martial"

San Diego, Calif., April 17.—(AP)—The "cocktail court martial" of Colonel Alexander S. Williams, hovered today at the cross roads of evidence. Its direction and duration were both uncertain as the court prepared to call two and perhaps more witnesses to clear up disputed points in previous testimony and to get "the facts which the prosecution apparently has been unable to bring out and which the defense probably does not want to see brought out."

Dear Admiral Thomas Washington, president of the court, who uttered this comment on the difficulty of digging out "the truth" about what happened at the hotel Del Coronado on the night of March 3, yesterday found his way blocked by a tangle of technicalities as he sought to steer the trial to its conclusion.

Repeatedly withdrawing his questions on objections interposed by defense counsel and sustained on the advice of the Judge Advocate, General Smedley D. Butler announced he had no more witnesses, but nevertheless the court was able to obtain additional evidence on several important phases of the case.

It obtained from Captain Charles D. Rice, Assistant to Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler's chief of staff, the flat statement that Colonel Williams was drunk at the hotel on the night in question and that General Butler did not attempt to brow beat his subordinates into submitting statements accusing the colonel of intoxication. At least Captain Rice was sure that he himself did not feel under duress when he made his statement.

It obtained similar assurances as to General Butler's attitude from three other officers and finally it obtained from these same officers testimony supporting General Butler's diversion of certain conversations with Captain Clifton R. Cates relative to whether the Captain had told the General, Colonel Williams was drunk or merely "appeared sick or drunk." General Butler testified Cates told him the Colonel was drunk. Cates in his testimony flatly contradicted the General and insisted he had said sick or drunk.

Missing Airmen Found in Desert

Cairo, Egypt, Apr. 17.—(AP)—Both Captain Estevez, leader of the Spanish-Minola flyers, and his mechanic, Calvo, have been found, messages received here say that they are in "fairly good condition" despite their wanderings in the desert since last Sunday when their airplane was forced down about 100 miles from Amman, Palestine.

Argentine Ant Waging War On Domestic Pest

Sacramento, Cal., April 17.—(AP)—A race war is raging in California and state authorities, far from trying to pacify the combatants, are adding to the slaughter by envenoming it: poison them all—namely, dark-brown Argentine ants and their resistive hosts, the fire ants.

Fifteen years ago entomologists predicted the energetic Argentine ant eventually would crowd out all other breeds and become survivor of the ant race in this state. Late bulletins from the front indicate that while the prophecy has not fully materialized the South American insect has most of his rivals on the run.

LACROSSE GAINS GROUND

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Lacrosse, a comparatively new intercollegiate sport, has gained a firm foothold in twenty-five American universities and, in the opinion of F. M. Touchton, Yale coach, is threatening the popularity of baseball as a spring college pastime.

NEGRO SCHOOLS COMMENCEMENT HERE YESTERDAY

Day Featured by Parade, Athletic Meet and Interesting Literary Program

The county commencement of the negro schools of Pitt county under the supervision of County Superintendent R. G. Fitzgibbon and G. R. Whittier was held here yesterday with a full program, beginning with a parade at noon in which thousands of school children took part, followed by an athletic meet at the fair grounds and concluded with a literary program in the auditorium of the negro school last night. The entire exercises together with the exhibits of the work of the various schools of the county was a great success. The Falkland school with its motto of "Future Farmers" drew considerable attention and applause. The city elementary and high schools co-operated with the county schools in the staging commencement and the entire parade was under the direction of C. M. Epps, head of the city's negro schools and whose efforts have meant much in the uplift of the negro race in this community.

The athletic events were interesting and exciting and the laurels were won by the following schools: running high jump, Farmville; 100 yard dash, Training School; 50 yard dash, Whiteville; relay race, Grimesland; water ball, Bruce and Falkland.

In the Domestic Art and Industrial Departments the following were winners: Baby slippers, pink wrapper, Post Oak School; pine needle work, and posters, Bruce; mats, St. Peter; baby caps, Whitehurst; hand sewing, Nichols; for the best showing in cooking, Simpson; first prize, Cooney Training School; second prize, Best sewing, Training School, Grimesland; first prize, Ayres sewing prize.

Oysters Catching Cold Causes Loss Japan Industry

Tokyo, April 17.—(AP)—Because oysters like humans are subject to bad colds, a loss of more than 600,000 embryonic cultured pearls is estimated to have been suffered by pearl raisers of Ago Bay near Nagasaki.

Ago Bay is the center of Japan's cultured pearl industry. Here they succeed in implanting in oysters grown into rich necklaces. The season's drought is said to have caused the water of the bay to become extremely cold and the change in temperature, experts said, resulted in the parent oysters' catching cold and dying.

Anti-Flirting Committee Named

Honolulu, April 17.—(AP)—Fear that the alluring smiles and soft words of Japanese women travelers would lure too many customers away from the shops run by the opposite sex has resulted in the appointment of an anti-flirting committee by the Japanese Barbers Association.

The harbor from each of the twenty-four districts in the city was selected to act on the committee, which will watch the female shops in effort to put to an end to the flirtations. The association has issued a decree forbidding flirting but no expiation has been made as to how the law will be enforced.

Grid Candidates At Tulane Urged Make Grades First

New Orleans, Apr. 17.—(AP)—Clark Shaughnessy, coach of the Tulane football team, undefeated in 1925, in addressing the Tulane student body called on football players and prospective players to "cut out theatre and anything else interfering with studies."

The coach, speaking in support of a movement to bring every possible football player in the university out to spring practice, declared that men who expect to play football must pass their scholastic work.

"If I don't take but twelve men to play Missouri, New York and Georgia Tech, they will be twelve good men."

SHE PLAYS MOTHER AND GHOST AT ONCE

Glady Brockwell, one of the all-star cast of "Chickie," at White's Theatre Monday only has had a life of paradoxes. She started her career at the age of three, playing the part of a boy. Then she quit the stage—until she was seven, when she entered stock. A year later she was in musical comedy, but has hardly started when she was in Salt Lake City playing with Willard Mack in stock. She broke into the movie, with a bang—as a screen vamp. Just as movie fans were raving over her vamp roles she burst forth as a character actress. She is still at it. Her latest feat was playing in two pictures at once—in one as a ghost and the other as the very-much-alive mother. Both were for the Earl Hudson unit, of First National.

Anne Nichols, just slightly over thirty, is the only woman in the world—Who is a theatrical producer, director and playwright—Who staked her last cent that critics were wrong when they said the show was terrible. Who now sees her show on Broadway in its fourth year. Who has six other companies touring America and another preparing in London. Who has answered the riddle:

RUPTURE Expert Here

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Proctor Hotel, and will remain in Greenville this Wednesday only, April 21. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and with standing any strain or position no matter the size of location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. CAUTION—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section. N. B.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts.—F. H. Seeley. Home Office, 117 N. Dearborn St., Chicago. P. S.—Fraud Warning—Many complaints have reached me from dissatisfied purchasers that certain parties have been traveling about under misrepresentations—imitating my ad. and claiming to be associated with me or my establishment. Substituting an inferior imitation for my goods and improperly fitted, all of which is false and fraudulent and an imposition on the purchaser.

Miss Emily Moy, making the top score, was given a box of candy. After several progressions the hostess served an ice course. Mrs. Evelyn Gorman, Mrs. Graham Flanagan and Mrs. John Flanagan were guests of the club.

CABLE LETTER

London, Apr. 7.—(AP)—The Lord Chamberlain's Office and fashionable modistes of the West End of London and in Paris are at great variance as to how long the skirt of a fashionable gown should be.

Four or five inches from the ground is the edict of Queen Mary which has remained unchanged for several years in spite of the exposed knees which Paris designers have been favoring. Women presented at the Court of St. James have been compelled to listen to the dress regulations set forth by the Lord Chamberlain's office and there is no indication that there will be any modification in the rule about skirt lengths. Many dress makers have made requests that the regulations be altered to allow this year's court dresses to be eight inches from the ground but their request has been refused by the Queen, who thinks that enough consideration has been shown to present fashions by allowing trains to be eighteen inches long instead of the former regulation of four yards. Fashionable dressmakers in London, however, say 8 or 10 inches from the floor is the really smart length, especially for young women. The shortening of the court trains has done much to improve the grace of debutantes, walking and courtesying before the Royal Throne. Long trains have been responsible for many social tragedies at courts. One foreign woman became so entangled in her train at a recent court that she fell flat.

Before being laid up by his recent ear operation the Prince of Wales was practicing the java, a new dance which is catching on rapidly in London. "Valencia" is now all the rage here and in Paris, insists the Java and not the fox trot must be danced to this Spanish tune, dancing masters are busy teaching the new steps.

Contact with royalty means just as much in the kitchen as it does in the parlors. The royal servant, who look after the wants of the tenants of Buckingham Palace, it seems, are the elite of their social circles—so much that of the recent annual London servant ball, the honor of being patron and of doing the receiving fell to the head butler of the King and his assistants.

And if reports are correct, the Royal minions exhibited rural hauteur. While Ducal butlers unbent to dance with maids and cooks who work for just peers and Mayfair folk, the royal box reserved for the King and his company on the occasions, was occupied by his servants, who for the most part, looked on.

About 1500 servants, attended the dance, which necessarily was one of the few functions given that night in the West End.

Paris, Apr. 17.—(AP)—The judges of their divorce court at Nice have decided unofficially that their decisions need never become public unless released by one of the parties, or when future litigation demands the publication of the court's findings. This decision, which apparently goes some distance in establishing a "perfect divorce center" is expected to more than triple the court's work during the coming year.

Americans can procure a di-voiced in Nice in the record time of 21 days, providing both parties have complied with the spirit of the law and have registered a declaration of intention as regards their future domicile.

The French law that no woman can marry until 300 days after her divorce is not applied to foreigners, who are forced only to wait the seventy days during which either party can file an appeal to the decision.

The Gobelin tapestry manufactory, one of the sights of Paris on every tourists program, has admitted a second woman as a worker and the manner of her admission is a testimony to the progress made in securing treatment for women as for men.

Five years ago Mlle. Andree Etievenon had to face all sorts of resistance and employ every kind of ruse before she succeeded in being accepted as the first woman pupil at the Gobelins Manufactory. She is now a full fledged artist who works on the most important subjects.

Mlle. Marguerite Leger, the newcomer is only 17. She did not have to meet the same difficulties as her predecessor but was admitted to the entrance competition without question and passed in first. She is now a "pupil" and works on screens, hearth rugs and small pieces. In two years she will rank as an artist and be allowed to work on sayonnerie carpets and large tapestries.

She will have her share of the large grounds attached to the Gobelin Manufactory which are divided into gardens for the employes. It is a sign of the times that the tulips and roses that once occupied these gardens have made way for cabbages and potatoes.

BIGGEST METAL SCREW IN NEW BRITISH AIRSHIP

London, Apr. 16.—(INS)—Claimed to be the largest metal air-screw yet constructed, a two-bladed propeller of stainless steel has been completed for the new British airship R-101.

The air screw, which is the first of three to be provided for the airship, will be reversible. A special hub mechanism is being provided which will enable the angle of the blades to be altered so that they will have a retarding effect when the airship needs to check her forward speed.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT
MEDITATION

"But Where are the Nine?"

St. Luke 17:17:—"Were there not ten cleansed?
But where are the nine?"

As I read the New Testament I am impressed with the feeling that our Lord did not love to work miracles. He wished to hide them rather than display them. He never wrought even one to be seen of men.
Miracles were nothing to Him except as signs of Divine grace, on the one hand, and of human love and compassion on the other.

Hence His constant demand for faith; for only as one felt in the sign the love which prompted it, could a miracle do him any real or lasting good.

These ten lepers probably "stood afar off," keeping as the Jewish law required, a hundred paces distant from Him—and so gave Him no opportunity of laying His gracious and cleansing hand upon them. Yet, from their distant post,
"they lifted up their voices, and cried, Master, have mercy upon us!" And why should they have asked health of HIM, if they did not believe that He could give them health?

So when He answered back, "Go, shew yourselves to the priests," they again proved their faith by an instant obedience to His command.

And as they go their faith is rewarded; they feel new tides of health flowing back into their dead flesh and rotting bones.

Yet only one, moved by gratitude and love, returns to glorify God, and to give thanks to Jesus. Only one, therefore, hears the gracious words, "Thy faith hath made thee whole," or, as the Greek means, "Thy faith hath SAVED thee."
For a man is neither "saved," nor made "whole," by being made sound in body. Whatever his "faith," no man is a whole or a saved man until faith has unsealed the fountains of thankfulness and love within him.

Better that the body be consumed by the most loath-some disease, so that the soul be in health and prosper, than that a soul dead to wonder and gratitude and love should dwell in the healthiest of frames. For the soul has the power of weaving a body, and is always weaving for itself the "spiritual body" in which it will abide when once it has "shuffled off this mortal coil."

There are some things far worse than physical disease.

The body MUST come right if only the soul be right with God.

Yet, how could men be so thankless? How could they have so much faith—and still so little faith—faith in the Healer, but not faith in the Saviour?

Naturally, we should expect them to be overwhelmed with gratitude to Him; and it distresses and puzzles us to think that they should be so dead to all the higher emotions and aims, so thankless.

It would not have cost them much to thank their Healer. They did not have to travel far in order to "show themselves to the priests." Any priest was competent to examine them and to pronounce them cured, and the priests, except for their brief turn of service in the temple, were scattered through the land.

Moreover, they felt that they were "cleansed" before they reached the priests; and the Samaritan seems to have turned the instant he "saw that he was healed," and to have found Jesus at the very spot he had left Him.

Why did they not all yield to the same gracious feeling, and return to thank the Master who had had compassion on them?

The answer to that question will be all too easily answered in our own experience.

There are many men who, like the nine thankless lepers, have faith enough for the health of the body, but have not faith enough to secure health and prosperity of the soul.

They believe health to be a great good, as indeed it is; and they believe success in business to be a great good, as indeed it MAY BE; hence they carefully study and observe the laws by which health and success are conditioned. They will not violate willingly any of these laws.

But when God assures them that spiritual soundness is far more valuable than physical health, and that treasure in heaven is worth more than all the wealth of earth, they do not believe Him; some of them will even smile and say that no man can or does, honestly believe THAT.

St. John's wish for his friend Gaius, "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health ACCORDING AS THY SOUL PROSPERETH" is a mystery to some men; and it may be doubted whether they would care to have even St. John for a friend if he were constantly beseeching God to give them health of body only in proportion to their health of soul, and prosperity in business only in proportion to their growth in faith and righteousness and charity.

We all know such men as these. And as long as we know them, and feel that we are ourselves in some measure touched with their incapacity for spiritual things, we need not be surprised at the lepers who had faith enough for healing, but not faith enough for salvation.

day's issue).

I just hated to do up the dishes, even. I was no-account and extremely nervous. My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do me good, so she told me to take it. My husband got me a bottle and I began to use it. I began to improve all once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby's birth. I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me. It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better. I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers, for to me it was a wonderful help. In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine. Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. For sale everywhere. NC-162'

8 P. M.—"If the Religious are Scarcely Saved, When Shall the Ungodly and the Sinner Appear?" Ten fundamentals of New Testament Christianity for which this church stands.

1. The competency of every individual soul under God to settle its own destiny.
2. A salvation which is spiritual, wrought and personal.
3. Regenerated believers only should receive the ordinances of the church.
4. The omnipotent, omniscient, omnipresent Christ is the only head of the church.
5. Christ the only King and Lord and every man a brother, and only a brother, to every other man.
6. Absolute liberty of conscience for all people in matters of religion.
7. Absolute separation of the church and state.
8. Each local church a self-governing independent democracy subject only to Christ's will.
9. The Great Commission, the program of this church.
10. The word of God only, as the basis for union and comity between Christians.
This church is not a hospital, though it ministers to the spiritual and moral ailments.
This church is not a gymnasium, primarily to develop ethical muscle.
This church is not a cold storage plant to keep a few saints from spoiling.
This church is not a club to give a little religious polish to complacent members.
This church is an organized body of Regenerated Baptist Believers, who have banded themselves together voluntarily to administer the affairs of the Kingdom under the leadership of Christ, united in the belief of what He taught, covenanting to do what He has commanded and co-operating with other like bodies in Kingdom movements.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Berlin, April 17.—(AP)—About three million marks worth of appropriations for the German Army fell a victim of the economy dictator's axe when the Reichstag budget committee curtailed budget figures for the coming year. The total includes about one million marks for artillery munitions alone. The item "arms," ammunition and war material, was re-trenched by approximately half a billion marks. Other curtailments included appropriations for manoeuvres, motor park, physical exercises.

The curtailments which were advocated by Communists, Socialists, and Democrats, were criticized by the Minister of Defense, who claimed that he doubted whether the Reichswehr would be in a position to fulfill the task allotted to it, namely protection of the borders and maintenance of order within.
Nationalist deputies opposing the curtailments claimed that part of the ammunition used by the Reichs-wehr was manufactured during the war and formed a great danger to the troops. Explosions of hand grenades had occurred very often, inflicting losses on the Reichswehr.

Heligoland, Germany's most formidable naval stronghold before and during the war, has been converted into a peaceful breeding place for lobsters. Under the supervision of the Hamburg Biological Institute the former submarine "nest" has now become the most important center of German lobster fishery, which had been severely handicapped by war activities.

Germany was so sure of victory that she prepared herself for a new war during the World War, but she never for a moment thought of defeat, and consequently was utterly helpless when it came.

This revelation was made by General von Schoenach, former Prussian general, who, after the revolution turned Republican and is now one of the most prominent leaders of the Republican military league called the "Reichsbanner." Schoenach relates the story of his conversion in a book entitled "My Damascus," in which he says that mobilization plans for a war possibly following the World War were already completed during the war by the German General Staff.
General Fiedendorf was to become Chief of Staff after the war. He had already inspected his new quarters in Berlin and ordered changes for the arrangement of rooms. A large number of new divisional headquarters had been designated, mostly situated on Russian territory.

"The idea of a league of nations with the purpose of preventing war does not come from President Wilson, but can be traced as far back as the Israelitish History," said Dr. Klee, Bigsaw lawyer, in a lecture delivered before the semitic community.
"Our prophet Jesaias forecasts the idea of such a league by saying that there will be a time when swords will be converted into ploughs and that in future nations will no longer wage war against each other. The original of a league of nations lies in a Weltan-schauung embracing the world in love. Thus, this idea is an ancient tradition of the Israelitish world."

more than 20,000 carloads a year and 20,000 acres of lettuce send out 15,000 carloads from what once was called "worthless desert land."

This is a hospitable country, and at each station, Tucson especially, they ask you to stay, because they have "the finest climate in the world." It is literally true in each case, for the climate is perfect, no climate can be better than that.

At Wellton, Mr. Winsor, president of the Arizona Senate and champion booster for his state, comes aboard to tell you that at Yuma, and hour away, the Chamber of Commerce and the Indian band will be at the station to welcome you.

You remember in your illustrated Bible, the gentlemen that went to spy out the Promised Land and came back staggering under the weight of one bunch of grapes.
Senator Winsor could beat them.
"Compared with the Yuma Mesa, that Promised Land was just thin soil, hardly worthy of irrigation.
And look how that Promised Land has run out. You could not weaken the soil of the Yuma Mesa with five thousand years of civilization.
It is more than one hundred feet deep, to fertilize it would be to insult it, like giving ten cents to Rockefeller. And so it is, pretty much, all over the state. The Yuma Mesa, by the way, according to Government reports, is most free from frost of any place in the United States.

W. R. Hearst has one of his five sons at school in Tucson, and that young man, in his teens, reports that Arizona is "the cats." All American youth will know what that means. It is the highest praise. You really ought to see Arizona, and all the rest of this country. It is one big wonder, one big opportunity.

P. S.—They like President Coolidge all through this country. On the crowded observation platform one man, in blue, says to another in speckled gray, "We need a man like Coolidge in these times. They can't control him." "No," says the speckled gray man, "and they can't stampede him, either." The platform discusses the next campaign and turns out to be unanimous for Coolidge in 1928, and certain that he will have to run again, for his second election, whether he wants to or not.

Women's Exclusive
Golf Club London
Model for Others

London, Apr. 17.—(AP)— London's first golf club for women exclusively has proved such a success that a movement has been started to organize others of its kind.

The club, tucked away at Mitcham Junction, where the country has shaken off the suburbs, was launched in 1893, and is conducted by Mrs. William Desne, formerly an international golfer, and Miss Betty Hlye.
They pay special attention to the needs of the working woman who finds it difficult to get a game of golf at the ordinary course because of the influx of men players.

Now and then, by special arrangement, men are allowed to play at Mitcham, but no mere man may become a full member of the club.

As a side line the women golfer grow all their flowers and vegetables and in the summer gay supper parties are served in the open air. Alcoholic liquors are barred in the club.

Your Biggest Task is Cooking

But it is different today in the modern home.
Electric cookery has made it easier for the housewife. She does not have to stand over a hot stove all day—she is free from worry, care and constant attention. It is no longer a task but a pleasure to cook; so quickly, so easily, and so well can it be done. Think what it will mean to cook in a cool kitchen with no soot, smoke or dirt; free from uncertain heat which cannot be regulated; with your heat immediately and constantly obedient to you.

Oven Heat Control

Automatic Heat Control keeps the oven at an unvaried and even heat, making it always possible to maintain the exact heat desired in the oven, so previous cooking results can be easily duplicated.

UNIVERSAL
LANDERS, FRARY & CLARK, NEW BRITAIN, CONN.

The UNIVERSAL Oven Heat Control will automatically watch over the entire cooking operation. Your personal attention is not required and this permits you to hours of leisure every day.
