REVIVAL SERVICES NOW IN PROGRESS M. E. CHURCH HERE

Rev. E. L. Hillman Will Preach Tonight on "Prayer;" Musical Program a Feature of the Services

Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of the Methodist Church, Red Springs, arrived yesterday and on last night delivered his first sermon of the series of revival services which are in progress in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. The musical program which is in charge of Mr. J. C. Coston, was beautifully rendered and was one of the outstanding features of the services.

Rev. Mr. Hillman, although a visitor, is a good evangelist. He is a splendid speaker, and possesses a charming personality. His sermons are interesting, inspiring and helpful.

Services will be held twice daily, morning sermons being at 10 o'clock and the night sermons at 8 o'clock. Tonight's subject will be "Prayer."

At this morning's service, Mr. Hillman preached a strong sermon on the "Transfigured Life." The morning services promise to be as interesting as the evening services and the public is invited to attend.

Surplus Crop Bills Enters the Train of Amendment

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—The surplus crop bills entered the tortuous train of amendment today, five days of general debate having been completed late last night by the House.

Although difference of opinion have become more sharply outlined with the progress of debate, leaders are hopeful that action will be taken either Friday or Saturday. Price stabilization as proposed in the $375,000,000 Haugen bill is technically the business before the House.

M'LEAN INVITES NEW INDUSTRIES OLD NORTH STATE

Industrial Progress of State Is Again Broadcasted to Na- tion in Signed Article By Governor

Raleigh, May 11.—(AP)—North Carolina's story of industrial progress has again been broadcast to the nation, this time in a signed article by Governor A. W. McLean, which appeared this week in the Electrical World, one of the large trade publications of the country.

During the convention of the National Electric Light Association, southeastern division, held recently at Pinehurst, W. H. Onken, Jr., editor of the Electrical World, was a listener to the addresses in which North Carolina achievements and progress were recited. He was so much impressed that he made a special request for a word from Governor McLean to publish in the national convention number of the periodical.

The edition in which the article appears is for use during the convention of some 8,000 utilities executives, to be held at Atlantic City, May 18, in addition to reaching its hundred thousand regular readers.

Accompanying the article is a photograph of North Carolina's Governor. Governor McLean frankly invites new capital and new industries to the Old North State; for, he says, "the State of North Carolina has and will continue to be helpful and liberal in policy. We do not coddle corporations; but what is more important, we do not bait them."

In the article, Governor McLean said in part: "In the industrial development in North Carolina—a State only recently described as one which has cleared with one bound the morass of fifty years of poverty and depression to reach the level plain of a new century of promise and achievement—electrical energy has had a major part.

"A little more than two decades ago there was not in the entire state a single electric power plant in the modern sense. "To day there is a conservatively total hydro electric power installation of 600,000 H.P. on North Carolina streams. The output of electrical energy totals 1,500,000,000 kilowatt hours a year. At present electric power and light utilities, have installed in this State 433,711 H.P. and in addition deliver the output of 411,000 H.P. installed in other states, and this 845,000 H.P. is carried over two thousand miles of high power transmission lines.

"What the release of this store of clean, economical and reliable power has meant to North Carolina is reflected in what North Carolina industry has achieved. "More than 50 textile mills give employment to 90,000 persons and manufacture products of a yearly value of $400,000,000.

Great factories, the largest in the world, make North Carolina the premier state in the manufacture of tobacco, the products of which have a value upwards of $300,000,000 annually.

"In 1923, according to official figures of the U. S. Department of Commerce, the total value of our manufactured products was $951,911,000. "Electric power has freed our industry for expansion. Income parably has it helped to raise the standard of desire out of which the standard of living is born.

"In dealing with this great new industry which has so wise a way and with so little friction recognized the necessity for government regulation, the state of North Carolina has and will continue to be helpful and liberal in policy. We do not coddle corporations; but what is more important, we do not bait them. If the state is to continue its wonderful expansion; if it is to make the best use, through allied industry and manufacture, of its rich mineral resources; if it is eventually to secure economic practice on the farm, we all know that to these ends nothing will contribute more greatly than the corresponding expansion of our supply of electrical energy."

SAYS PARLEYS TO SETTLE STRIKE ARE PROCEEDING

Peace Negotiations in Great Britain's Gen- eral Strike Going on Under the Surface

London, May 11.—(AP)—Peace negotiations in the Great Britain general strike can be definitely said to be going on under the surface.

They have not yet reached an official status and what results they will achieve remains to be seen, but a man high in the labor ranks stated this afternoon that parleys were proceeding. They were insuch a delicate state however, he added, that nothing further could be said for the moment.

He said it was possible something tangible would be forthcoming tomorrow but emphasized that nothing definite was in sight.

BILL PROPOSES CREATION THREE NATIONAL PARKS

Tracts in Three States Would Comprise a Total of 1,300,000 Acres and Would Be Presented to Gov- ernment

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Creation of three new national parks is proposed in bills approved today by the House Public Land Committee. The tracts, Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, Shenandoah in Virginia and Great Smoky Mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee would comprise a total of 1,300,000 acres and would be presented to the Federal Government after being purchased by the states.

Associations in each of the four states have raised a large part of the purchase price of the land to be included in the parks, with no part of the purchase price to come from the Federal Government. More than $1,900,000 each has been raised by organizations supporting the Great Smoky Mountains and Shenandoah projects.

The Great Smoky Mountains would be the largest with 704,000 acres with the provision that the Secretary of Interior be authorized to accept a minimum of 150,000 acres for administration.

Actress Asked to Explain Her Role of "Eve"

New York, May 11.—(AP)—Deryl Halley, actress, was ordered to explain in court today her role of Eve at a show attended by Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the Governor.

Sargeant George "Hardboiled" Smith and two patrolmen arrested Miss Halley last night in a Garden of Eden scene in "Bunk of 1926." She had been under a canvas tree while smaller Evils danced through the isies and dropped apples in the laps of men who seemed to want them. Sargeant Smith said Miss Halley was not wearing tights. Mrs. Smith said she liked the show "immensely."

Four clergymen were in the audience.

Lord Asquith, former Prime Minister, declared that the freedom of Britain is at stake in the fight between the unions and the Government. Rudyard Kipling, in poetry, urged strikers to keep the peace. Arthur Henderson, a union leader, takes his stand with the conservative element of labor.

EUROPEAN PLAN TO TAKE CHARGE OF RADIO WAVES

International Confer- ence on Broadcast- ing Attended by 20 Countries

London, May 11.—(INS)—Recommendations which will, in all probability, entirely revolutionize the present method of public radio broadcasting are made in the published report of the International Conference on Broadcasting, recently held at Geneva, Switzerland.

Representatives of twenty European countries took part in the conference and provisionally approved the recommendations "as an excellent basis for the solution of the problem of mutual interference."

The chief features of the report are: Firstly, The division of all European broadcasting stations into two classes—those with "exclusive" wave lengths and those with "common" wave lengths. Secondly, The discovery of a method of standardizing wave lengths by a wave meter common to all countries, every station being compelled to adhere rigidly to the wave length allotted to it.

By "exclusive" wave lengths, the report means those guaranteed clear of interference and not shared by any other station. These, according to the report, will be allotted to large, high-powered stations, and each country will be given at least one exclusive wave length. Some countries have already been granted general exclusive wave lengths on account of the density of their population, large area, or educational needs.

The new scheme, not only reserves wave lengths for existing and projected stations, but allows for at least one exclusive wave length for countries where broadcast casting still remains undeveloped. "Common" or local, wave lengths according to the report, will be allotted to low-power stations of the relay type, serving local listeners. They are wave lengths not reserved for any one station but on which several stations may work.

KLAN OFFICIALS HOLD SESSION IN ASHEVILLE TODAY

While Secrecy Veils the Time and Place of Assembly, Mat- ters of Vital Import- ance Are Transpir- ing

Asheville, May 11.—(AP)—Ku Klux Klan officials representing the provinces lying west of Salisbury in the real of North Carolina, quietly assembled in Asheville this morning and went into executive session at an unknown place.

While secrecy veiled the exact time and the place of assembly, it was said in highly authentic sources that matters of vital importance to the Invisible Empire were transpiring.

Dissatisfaction as to the way C. C. McIlwaine, the Grand Klansman, to Judge Henry A. Grady, Grand Dragon of the realm of North Carolina, has been conducting the financial affairs of the Klan in this state has developed among the mountain Klans to such an extent that many predict a movement will be launched here to oust Judge Grady from the office. This is one of the issues which is likely to claim attention in the secret session here.

Another principal item scheduled for presentation in the executive session, it was learned, is the arrangement of plans to be made in connection with the conference to be held here in June, which it is said, will be attended by Klan representatives from all parts of North Carolina.

OTHER WOMEN TO RUN AGAINST MA FOR TEXAS JOB

Mrs. Ferguson's Can- didacy for Renom- ination Brings Two New Opponents

Fort Worth, Tex., May 11.—(INS)—"Ma" Ferguson has started something.

When Texas' first woman Governor announced her candidacy for office two years ago, other Texas women simply looked on with idle curiosity. But when the woman executive announced herself for renomination this year two other Texas women decided that they, too, would seek the gubernatorial honors. So, as matters now stand, "Ma" will have two members of her own sex as opponents in the July primaries, together with the male candidates.

These women are Mrs. Edith Wilman, of Dallas, and Mrs. K. M. Johnston, of San Antonio. Mrs. Wilman has seen previous public service. She was the first woman member of the Texas State Legislature. She also was a member of a special supreme court of Texas, serving in the case of the Woodmen of the World two years ago, when the regular supreme court was disqualified.

She also sponsored the establishment of the State court of domestic relations in Dallas. She now is a practicing lawyer in Dallas. She is understood to stand for strict enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Mrs. Johnston is a business woman. She studied law for a number of years in the office of her father, Judge W. A. H. Miller, who was a district judge in Austin. She owns a large ranch in Mexico and has personally managed these interests for the past nine years. She divides her time between her ranch and business interests in San Antonio. She has declared herself against the present dry law, and against the Ku Klux Klan, which may or may not be a figure in this summer's primaries. She explained that she has always been in favor of temperance, but thinks the present laws are too drastic.

Political observers are of the opinion that the real race will be between Mrs. Ferguson and Dan Moody, youthful attorney general, although Lynch Davidson of Houston, also is considered a potential candidate. Moody has criticized the Ferguson administration's policies.

A Desert Tragedy.
Newspaper Warning,
They'd Elect the King.
End in Sight.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Mrs. Cox, a young mother, on the Arizona desert, was alone with her two little girls, one four months, the other three years old. Her husband was away. She was bitten by a rattlesnake, the dreadful poison worked so fast that she had no strength to crank her little automobile and go for help. Knowing that she was dying, not daring to leave her two babies to die of thirst or be killed by prowling animals, she killed them, then died of the snake poison.

Earnest citizens are asked to "express their opinion as to her conduct." The answer is that the decision rested with the mother. The mother struggled against the poison for 24 hours, her body swelling, blood flowing from a wound she had cut to let out the poison. Then she shot her two children to death and wrote "bury me and the children in the same casket." OPINIONS concerning that tragedy are not important.

Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt's little Toledo newspaper is in the hands of a receiver in Los Angeles which emphasizes the warning given in this column more than once against buying stock in newspaper enterprises. Those offering stock may mean well but they cannot know whether they are headed for prosperity or a receiver. Stock in a profitable newspaper is not for sale, the other kind should not be bought.

It is otherwise with bonds of an established profitable paying newspaper. The New York Evening Journal for instance calls in this week, and pays off more than ten years ahead of time two and one half millions of bonds issued within the year, and the buyers get a bonus of four percent, for surrendering the bonds.

No property is harder to build than a newspaper, none harder to kill than one thoroughly established. James Gordon Bennett's New York Herald proved that for many years.

The Prince of Wales and his brother, the "Duke of York," in the House of Commons, heard a labor member, George Buchanan, demand abolition of kings, and the establishment of a British republic.

Buchanan would discover, if he got his republic that it takes more than a name to change a government of people. You could call Persia a republic, but still you would have Persia. We call this a republic, and so it is, and a fine one.

But how many voters of our noble republic can tell why they are Democrats or Republicans, how many can name the Congressman from their own district. Their two United States Senators, or the Lieutenant Governor of their state? If England SHOULD have a republic, it is likely that King George or one of his sons would be elected. Nations do not change suddenly.

Next week may see the end of the big strike in London, the leaders know they cannot win this time. For that reason the London Stock Exchange prices are not much agitated.

Rioters in England proceed cautiously for good reasons. British law and judges are not sensational about killing. Murder is order, and murderers are hanged. It does not help a man, there, to plead that he was excited, or has a wife and children that need him. They do not send bouquets to murderers in jail, nor allow shyster lawyers to keep any kind of a murder alive for years, "if he has the price."

London motor buses run with barbed wire entanglements, covering the hoods to protect them from rioters that open and smash the engine. That is borrowing an idea from the great American west. Here a cowboy, before he lies down stretches a hair lariar around his sleeping spot. He tells you that a rattlesnake will not crawl over hair because it tickles or hurts him.

AMERICAN NAVY EXPERTS ACCEPT FLIGHT AS FACT

Other Countries Await Positive Proof of Byrd's Achievement, While America Accepts the Fact Notwith- standing Feeling

New York, May 11.—(AP)—American navy experts are accepting as a fact accomplished the flight of Lieut. Commander Richard E. Byrd and pilot Floyd Bennett, from Spitzbergen to the North Pole and back, notwithstanding the feeling of reserve held in Italy, Denmark, Norway and Germany pending positive proof of the achievement.

With his sun compass and his own bubble sextant, Byrd at all times, was able to determine his exact position and to know positively when he crossed over the pole and circled about it. It is the belief of naval experts that with a bright sun, shining and with absolute freedom from fog or clouds, Byrd was certain when he returned to Kings Bay that he had visualized from the air the scene that Peary had observed from the ice—the exact top of the world.

It is the opinion in Navy circles that with the formula which has been worked out for him to determine his geographical position, Byrd's claim will prove not side the realm of contradiction. Because of the sun compass and his own bubble sextant, resort to the mariner's compass, which is of little value in the Arctic regions owing to magnetic variations, was unnecessary. He sailed nearly straight toward the pole without any markers below to show him the route and the plane winged it, way back over the vast stretches of ice directly to the spot where the Byrd men started on their momentous journey.

Finds Skull of Unidentified Man

Kinston, May 11.—(AP)—The skull of an unidentified man, was found here by ditchers in Lincoln City, a negro suburb. The opinion that of the skull is that of a middle aged man who worked Standard Oil Company, and disappeared, has been expressed. Gold and other fillings in the teeth are said to correspond.

Fast Train of Great Britain Wrecked Mon.

London, May 11.—(AP)—The first case of serious sabotage since the general strike began was reported today. The famous "Flying Scotchman" express from Edinburgh, to London, one of the fastest trains in Great Britain, was wrecked yesterday near Newcastle and the authorities today claimed a rail had been deliberately loosened. The train was being run by a volunteer crew replacing railway men. Luckily the engineer had slowed to a bare six miles an hour and only one passenger was injured.

Four deaths from railway accidents have occurred in the last 24 hours.

Three passengers were killed and a number hurt when a train manned by volunteers collided with a freight train near Edinburgh and another accident at Cambridge. One person was killed and two were injured.

King George held a privy council at Buckingham Palace this morning. Whether it was for ratification of further emergency measures was not disclosed.

A Government spokesman outlined the situation at the beginning of the eighth day of the strike said there had been important defections among the railway men, but that the main bodies of strikers remained out.

The whole country was quiet, he added. The impoverished transportation services were steadily expanding and the measures for protection for the volunteers had proved efficacious.

THE RECKLESS DRIVER

Automobiles killed or wounded 630,000 people in the United States in 1924. In 1923 and 1924 there were four and a half times as many American casualties from automobiles as there were American casualties in 1917 and 1918 in the World War.

The state of Connecticut has evolved a much better plan. It has passed a law that requires every person who is caught violating the automobile laws or who causes an accident to assure the state of his or her ability to pay for damage up to $10,000.

This law has many advantages. It puts no burden upon anyone until there is reason to suspect that he may endanger life or property by his driving. Then it insists that he shall give an assurance of responsibility that will not only pay for the damage he may do but will certainly act as a deterrent against reckless driving.

Even a temperamentally reckless person is likely to be much more careful with $10,000 of his own money in the hands of the state subject to forfeit for damages if he has an accident.

"MADE IN U. S. A."

However much a poor man may be inclined to help his fellow man, he is hampered in his intention by reason of his poverty. The prosperous man, with the same altruistic spirit, as manifestly more consequent to a community. The prosperous nation, by the same token, lends most aid to the humanity of the whole world.

America, prosperous, may do great things for all mankind. Indeed, she is doing it. Without our prosperity, how could this country have given the support which the Allies so direly needed during the war?

No answers are needed, although the questions are pertinent. They are rhetorical questions, calculated to demonstrate the need of continuing this prosperity.

After the war, we heard much of the argument that our debts could be settled only through imports of goods or cancellation of at least a part of the war debts. In the long run, the former process would defeat its own purpose, if carried to the necessary extreme.

Reduced production meant lessened prosperity. This ultimately would mean less business both for exporters to this country and for the American merchants. It is obvious that "charity" (rightly) begins at home, for only thereby can charity be rendered abroad.

McGraw May Build Hospital Keep Giants All Under One Roof

New York, May 11.—(INS)—For some reason that John McGraw would be particularly interested in learning, the New York Giants seem to be a body of men completely surrounded by invalids.

For upward of two or three years, dead and dying Giants have collapsed without warning, usually selecting a most inconvenient moment with the ball player's customary lack of courtesy and consideration.

This had an undeniable touch of crudity about it and was unworthy of the best traditions. Freddie Lindstrom was young, ambitious and full of originality and, when he decided he had earned the right to shoulder a crutch with the best of them, he strove only to achieve the unique.

McGraw has the most complete array of interchangeable parts on the market. If it wasn't for this fact, there would be times when the Giants could be called a ball club only through courtesy.

Fishermen Pick Dog Out of Ocean; Brings Good Luck

Portland, Me., May 10.—(INS)—Three miles off the coast of Miquelon, Nary a fish biting. Fishermen of the Gloucester fishing schooner bemoaning their luck.

But you can't tell the crew of the jolly Henry Ford that story. The sailors insist that the dog came from the deep, where the fishes play.

For no sooner had the black fellow been hauled to the deck than the fish began to bite.

Where they had been waiting hard luck the crew of the Henry Ford found that fish arrived in such swarms that they couldn't handle them.

With the mascot the most popular living thing aboard ship, the Henry Ford sailed in here with 45,000 pounds of halibut to prove that the dog brought them luck aplenty.

When the dog came on deck the Henry Ford was covered with ice.

the water was filled with great chunks of ice and the sailors insist that no dog could live in that water nor could it swim three miles.

At any rate, wherever the wonder mascot came from the sailors are taking no chances that the dog will go back. Securely fastened to the deck by a chain, the Newfoundland will go on many another fishing expedition.

St. Bernard Pass Is Replaced by Tourist Hotel

Paris, May 11.—(INS)—"Tout passe," everything changes, and this time it is the turn of the monastery of the Great St. Bernard Pass.

The famous old landmark will soon be replaced by a luxurious tourist hotel, according to the Swiss authorities, and no longer will the wanderer rest up for delightful days without untying his pursestrings in the spot made famous by Napoleon's army.

With the building of a palatial hotel in the pass, will disappear one of the most picturesque corners of the old world. What more delightful sight than the one one gets upon arriving at dusk after a ten-hour walk from Martigny, before the walls that seem to defy Eternity.

The Solicitor of a District is one of the most valuable or one of the most detrimental and dangerous citizens within its borders. Practically the whole criminal law is in his hands. He can enforce it or not.

He should be clean, honest, conscientious, well trained, learned in the law, active and fearless in the prosecution of all violators of the law, regardless of their social position or the length of their pocket-books.

He should especially prosecute with relentless vigor, deliberate, cold-blooded violators of any law that tends to tear down the social fabric, destroy the home life and damn our boys and girls.

He should spare no effort to see that full justice is meted out to all criminals and that the public is fully protected from their devilry.

Hon. D. M. Clark possesses the necessary qualifications for the making of an ideal Solicitor. Elect him and he will give the Fifth District a clean, efficient administration—one that all patriotic men and women will be proud of.

He has filled a number of public offices. In every one of them he has proven eminently successful and entirely satisfactory to law-abiding citizens.

As the Mayor of Greenville, an office which he has held four terms he brought order out of chaos; was a terror to the criminal element and gained the respect and confidence of those who believe in the reign of law and order.

I urge all our good, true patriotic men and women to register and vote for Hon. D. M. Clark for Solicitor of the Fifth District.

Earnestly, W. M. HINTON.

I AM MUSIC

Servant and master am I; servant of those dead, and master of those living. Through me spirits immortal speak the message that makes the world weep, and laugh, and wonder, and worship.

I tell the story of love, the story of hate, the story that saves and the story that damns. I am the incense upon which prayers float to Heaven. I am the smoke which falls over the field of battle when men lie dying with me on their lips.

I am close to the marriage altar, and when the graves open I stand nearby. I call the wanderer home, I rescue the soul from the depths, I open the lips of lovers, and through me the dead whisper to the living.

One I serve as I serve all, and the king I make my slave as easily as I subject his slave. I speak through the birds of the air, the insects of the field, the crash of waters on rock-ribbed shores, the sighing of wind in the trees, and I am even heard by the soul that knows me in the clatter of wheels on city streets.

I know no brother, yet all men are my brothers; I am the father of the best that is in them, and they are the fathers of the best in me; I am of them, and they are of me. For I am the instrument of God.—I AM MUSIC.

Falkland School Finals Were Held During Past Week

(By Lucy Cherry Crisp)

Falkland, May 11.—Thursday and Friday, May 6th and 7th, were milestone days in the Falkland community, for they marked the end of the fourth scholastic year in the history of the Falkland consolidated school.

The occasion was celebrated by entertaining and interesting commencement exercises, which were held on Thursday evening, Friday morning and Friday evening, and were well attended by patrons from all the district served by the school. On Thursday evening the primary and grammar grades presented a Tom Thumb wedding, folk songs and dances, and a short one-act play—all of which were very well done and mightily pleasing to the large audience.

At 10:30 o'clock, on Friday morning, the crowd had gathered again, this time to witness a lovely Maypole dance on the campus with primary children as dancers. Following the Maypole dance, an indoor program was presented. Rev. J. Cook Campbell, pastor of the Falkland Presbyterian church, made the prayer of invocation, which was followed by a group of musical numbers.

The speaker of the morning introduced by D. T. House, Jr., principal of the school, was Prof. Leon R. Meadows, of the Teachers' College at Greenville. Prof. Meadows' address, having as its theme "The Ends and Means of Education," was both inspirational and educational in its message. The three chief ends of education, as discussed by Prof. Meadows, were: Education to make possible a better type of existence, the "bread and butter" purpose; education for leadership and service—"Education is power," said Prof. Meadows, "and power controls"—and, as a third end, education for personal freedom and happiness. As to the means whereby these ends may be realized, Prof. Meadows mentioned three as of greatest importance: native ability, which should be wisely used and developed; environment—a thing of great importance; and good, hard work, which is the "without which nothing" in the opinion of Falkland's commencement speaker.

After the address, certificates of admission to the High School

ALL OUT OF SORTS

So Was This Greenville Woman Who Tells Her Experience

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Greenville case is one of many:

Mrs. M. Fleming, 206-17th St., says: "I couldn't bear to lie on my feet long as darting pains through my back almost drove me wild. A dull misery in my kidneys took all my strength. If I turned quickly, sharp pains shot from my back clear up to my head and specks floated before my eyes. My kidneys acted frequently and at times by leaps and bounds. It was painful to walk. I used Doan's Pills until I was entirely cured."

"I PREFER oil stoves to any other kind. I speak from the fullness of 30 years' experience with them. Oil is clean, economical, and dependable. It saves a world of work. No coal or wood to carry in, no ashes to carry out. And no dust."

"I have just completed a special experiment on the 1926 model Perfection Oil Stove, testing it under all possible cooking conditions. I cooked many meals in my own kitchen. Every dish was deliciously cooked."

Immediate Cooking

"Steak began to broil and my molasses cake began to rise almost as soon as I lighted the burners. There was no waiting for the heat to 'come up.'"

"The bottom of every utensil used in the experiment was as clean as a china dish. No scouring was necessary. Those long Perfection chimneys certainly are insurance against sooty kettles."

All at the Same Time

"I cooked many things at once. For boiling beef I used a very low flame. I French-fried potatoes over a hot flame with yellow tips about 1½ inches high above the blue area. I cooked white sauce over a medium flame."

"I used all grades of heat at the same time satisfactorily."

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Mexico City, May 10.—(INS)—"Deacon Fingernails," probably the most celebrated petty robber in the metropolitan district, whose name is Alberto Covarrubias, and who has record of more than 1,000 arrests and fifteen hospital experiences in his twenty-five years of thievery, will thump cobblestone pavement with his wooden leg as he marches with other criminals from Belem prison to the train that will carry the next consignment of convicts to the penal colony on the Tres Marias islands, off the coast of Nagari, in the Pacific.

Covarrubias was caught stealing meat from a butcher shop. He is specially was robbing country Indians enroute to the city to sell their produce. He was also a skillful pickpocket in the metropolis.

Knocked down by the swing of a policeman's ride, the "deacon" said, as he lay in his cell with wooden leg for pillow, that the world must be against him, that he doesn't comprehend why he should fall into jail so frequently.

Federal inventory of Catholic churches has brought to attention in the old Basilica of Guadalupe a pendulum clock, which has been ticking correct time for more than 200 years.

Not long ago the proposal of an American antiquarian to buy the historic timepiece was refused. It may be removed from the seclusion of the Basilica to the national museum.

A French clockmaker built the clock, long before the invention of the twenty-four hour system of timekeeping, now effective in Mexico, Canada and some other countries.

While Americans must eat either California or Florida oranges, because of the prohibition against Mexican citrus fruits, the west coast orange orchards are continuing to find lively demand in Canada. Hundreds of cars of Guaymas and Hermosillo fruit cross the United States in bond to Canadian markets.

From the San Jose district, near Guaymas, 11,500 boxes of oranges have been shipped this year.

Fon Qui, who saved a fortune in his thirty years of mercantile operations in Sonora and went back to his beloved China to enjoy a rest, met far worse disaster than if he stayed here and faced the anti-Chino sentiment, according to his Guaymas friends.

A Chinese rebel faction seized Fon Qui upon his arrival and "trimmed him" of 60,000 pesos, under penalty of death for refusal, when they raided his store, a cablegram to Chinese here reported.

The celebrated Universal Taurino, for years the bull-fighters magazine of record, has changed from a periodical of blood and sand to one of sports of all sorts.

Which explains the tremendous and growing popularity of American games and contests. There is hardly any field of athletic endeavor that has not come into its own within the last few months and the great bull ring is now used as frequently for prizefighting as by the matadors. Within recent months this would have been desecration.

In this broad valley, flat as a pancake, there is room for thousands of baseball diamonds and it is no exaggeration to say there are nearly a thousand in use on Sunday.

There are track teams galore. On Sundays on the broad Paseo one encounters hundreds of youngsters in running togs going through the various paces.

The lakes and swimming pools are always filled with rival teams in swimming and diving, most conspicuous among them the recently emancipated Mexican girl with the boyish bob. Until a brief while ago she was never permitted out of the sight of a chaperone. Now she drives her own car, wears knee dresses and does pretty much as the normal American girl.

Stores for the sale of sport goods have sprung up all over the republic.

BIG TAX CASES COSTING U. S. GREAT SUMS

The Adjustment of Complicated Claims for Reduction in Assessments Force Uncle Sam to Keep Immense Staff of Experts in All Lines

Washington, May 11.—(INS)—Adjustment of big tax cases is one of the most complicated tasks faced by the Federal Government.

An example of the intricacies of this litigation was disclosed in the announcement of the closing of a case with a payment of $5,000,000 to the Government by one of the biggest corporations in the United States.

It cost the Government about three years' time and more than $150,000 to get a verdict in an unusually hard-fought contention. About twenty-five men gave their entire time for two years to the litigation.

The case, it was learned, involved timber and mining properties in the United States and Canada, water power, real estate, railroads, lumber and mine camp commissaries, the mercantile business and many other details of industry.

Among the contentions of the corporation was for a reduction in gross income arising from damage to timber by fire. Disastrous forest fires swept through the timber lands of the corporation in several states of this country and various districts of Canada in 1917. Other forest plagues damaged the timber.

Timber experts were not put on the case until 1924 and 1925. Agents, both of the corporation and the Government surveyed

Says He Felt Drunk Most of the Time
"Brooklyn. Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes:—'I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me.'" the lands and finally reached a determination of the damage by fire.

Hydraulic engineers were employed to fix valuations and the potential earning power of several water-power plants used to operate the various phases of the corporation's plants.

Owing to the deep snows in many of the timber properties and other portions of the corporation's plants summer field work only was possible. The data compiled during the summer required the entire following winter to decipher.

As a rule the Government and corporation examinations were made separately, following which came a long period of litigation to reach a compromise or agreement as to the figures to be used.

In this case it was estimated that the taxpayer spent probably five times a much as the Government.

Officials said that on the average the expenses of taxpayers in prosecuting tax appeals is materially heavier than that of the Government. Attorney's fees of taxpayers alone frequently amount to more than the entire cost of the litigation to the Government.

Several thousand important tax cases are now pending in the Bureau of Internal Revenue involving disputed claims of $500,000 and over. The annual income of these corporations and individuals runs into the billions of dollars.

Experts for the Bureau of Internal Revenue are now at work in Mexico, Canada and other countries, as well as the United States, in examining the physical plants of corporations whose taxes are in litigation.

The bureau employs not only tax auditors, but oil and mining engineers, amortization experts attorneys and a wide variety of other technical men who are continually laboring on intricate problems arising from taxation.

Officials said that questions of fact rather than law are now the chief points of variance between the Government and taxpayers. A fairly comprehensive code of "common tax law" has been built up through court decisions since the contention which, a few years ago, marked the adjustment of taxes.

BILIOUS ATTACKS
From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, full full of pep and could do twice the work."
