

ELECTION FUNDS TO BE CONVERTED INTO VOTES TODAY

Standing of Candidates Jefferson Centennial Election Be Announced Sunday

Raleigh, May 22.—Converting funds raised for the Jefferson Memorial Fund into votes to be credited to designated candidates entered in the North Carolina Jefferson Centennial Election, will take place for the first time at noon today at the Citizens' National Bank by Graham H. Anderson, State Treasurer of the election fund.

The candidate leading in the number of votes to her credit will be awarded a bonus of 1000 votes. Announcement of the standing of the candidates will be published tomorrow.

E. A. Shirey at the Raleigh Banking & Trust Company has been appointed teller to receive the funds to be credited as votes to the four Raleigh candidates. W. B. Drake, is the local treasurer. There are nine cities with as many treasurers participating in the election in which seventeen North Carolina young women have been entered as candidates for the six weeks educational tour offered by the Jefferson Memorial Foundation.

Mr. Andrews will receive from the local treasurers reports of the standing of the candidates, which will be given state-wide publication each Thursday and Sunday throughout the period of the election, in which the balloting closes June 18th, with an announcement of the winners on June 20.

During the election funds will be raised to pay the 3-cent on Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's Virginia home. Each $1.00 thus subscribed will be credited to a candidate as ten votes. The total state fund raised through the efforts of the candidates will determine the number to be declared elected on the scale of one voter for each unit of 50,000 votes ($5000). The North Carolina election is a part of the National movement to purchase Monticello and make of it an American Shrine.

It was an Englishman who said patriotism which has saved the home of Shakespeare, of Sir Walter Scott, of George Washington. If a hero deserves to be worshipped, his home deserves to be maintained and there are some houses so interwoven with a noble life, so beautiful in themselves, so laden with history, that it would be a national crime to let them perish in decay. America has become aware that Monticello is one of her national treasures. Mount Vernon does not tell us more of Washington, than Monticello does of Jefferson. Jefferson's dying hope was that the nation would help save Monticello.

Does Jefferson deserve homage? The architect and builder of his own home, Monticello, designed the Capitol, Richmond, Virginia, supervisor of plans for the United States Capitol, Washington, D. C., originator of the American system of decimal coinage, farmer, lawyer, member of Virginia House of Burgesses, originator of constitutional guarantees of free speech, free assembly, trial by jury and habeas corpus, inventor of writing machine and agricultural machinery, student of Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, German and Italian, Governor of Virginia, Minister to France, student of natural history, mathematician, secretary of state, author of study of Jesus, President of the United States (two terms), issues of patent to Eli Whitney for invention of cotton gin, presented to world plans for first submarine built in America, from which modern submarine subsequently developed, announced to America first news of Watt's invention of steam engine, purchased Louisiana territory for United States, comprising whole western side of Mississippi Basin from Canada to Gulf, from Mississippi to Rocky Mountains, sent out Lewis and Clark to explore Northwest, thereby laying the basis for acquisition of entire Northwestern territory through to the Pacific, collector of data on Indian

The graduating class consists of 184 young women. Some of these will graduate from the two year normal course, and some will graduate from the four year college course. All of these young women will go out into the state as teachers. Many of them have already been employed for next year.

This is the 16th graduating class that has gone out from the college. The institution was opened in 1909, but did not graduate any students until 1911. The first graduating class consisted of 18 students. Since that time the number of graduates has steadily increased. It did not reach the hundred mark until 1923. 141 graduated in 1924. In 1925, 193 graduated. The number will probably reach 250 during the year 1926, as there will still be another class of 46 to graduate in August and still another in December.

This year's graduates will make the total number of alumnae of the college about 1400. The total enrollment of the college has been approximately 13,000. Just a little above 10 per cent of the enrollment has graduated.

Prof. J. A. Campbell to Preach Sunday in the Immanuel Church

Possibly no man in North Carolina has made a greater intellectual moral and spiritual contribution to the state than has Prof. J. A. Campbell, founder and present head of Buies Creek Academy.

For decades hundreds of boys and girls have been drinking from this Divine spring of inspiration every year, and have been returning to the best homes of our land to live out the high ideas which have been inculcated in their hearts and lives.

Doubtless no school in the country has prepared so many boys and girls for college than has Buies Creek. Hundreds of her sons and daughters have gone into the ministry, into our mission fields and all branches of our denominational work.

On Sunday morning at the Immanuel Baptist church, the whole community will have the rare privilege of hearing this distinguished, widely loved and particularly interesting speaker and educator in a most delightful message.

The public is cordially invited to be present.

When Paderewski was Premier Marshall Pilsudski who has recently assumed leadership in the country, was for a short period a government official under the military statesman.

TODAY

(Copyright 1926)
Pinchot's Second Surprise. Motors, Sex and Rum. Cheering Gam—3 Cheers. We're Hardened.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

"Wet and Dry."
The Pennsylvania excitement is only begun. Gifford Pinchot, a man of sincerity and character was third in the race. The best men often know the least about politics.

But Pinchot, presumably, has not finished. His candidacy killed Pepper, the administration candidate. Running as an independent "dry" Republican, he might beat Vane, the wet Republican. Remember Pinchot got more than 300,000 votes. They would stick. He might send a Democrat to the Senate from Pennsylvania; beating the regular Republican on election day, as he beat the administration man on primary day. Stranger things can happen, in a political fight about the citizens' right "to do as they please."

How will Pennsylvania's election affect the 1928 campaign? What will it do to the Volstead Law, if anything? Old Congressmen will vote cautiously, in spite of any apparent wet victory. They know that if they vote "dry," the wets will forgive them. But if they vote "wet," the dries will never forget or forgive.

To attack a prohibitionist's drink belief, is like attacking the faith of a deeply religious man. After that, you are gone.

On the other hand, with Governor Al Smith of New York, an open and very "wet" candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1928, President Coolidge's friends will have to think hard about the "beer and wine" question in big cities. The President is as dry as Sahara's sands, or, if not, he would act as such, as long as the constitutional amendment and Volstead act endure.

But some Republican sop must be offered to the wet vote. Senator Wadsworth, Republican from New York, is as wet as Governor Smith himself. That might help. Out there are women voters, the Methodist and other clergy, the country districts, generally "dry" to be considered. And to offset the Methodist Church, there is the Catholic church, with its three American Cardinals urging enforcement, but opposed to the Volstead act.

Steering between Scylla and Charybdis would be child's play, compared to steering a political bark in 1928. It might be rewritten, "thus, when I shun ice water, you father, I fall into light beer and wine, your mother."

Miss Florence Monahan who runs the Minnesota state reformatory for women says the three causes of crime here are "sex, automobile, prohibition" and adds those three causes are unknown in Europe. That will surprise Europe, weak on prohibition and automobiles, but not on the first of the three crime causes.

Dido was ranting up and down the beach. Anthony leaving the wise, beautiful sister of Augustus to follow (Cleopatra, and Abela) ruining a fine career, long before the first American lobbied her hair, shortened her skirt, powdered her nose and forgot her grandmother's precepts.

Surgery might help with the "sex" crime cause, as it did in Abela's case.

But prohibition will stay, if only in a modified form, and soon 5,000,000 automobiles will be added to the 22,000,000 already running around in America.

What have automobiles to do with crime or immorality? Duck Turpin had no automobiles, the poor girl with the scarlet letter had none.

Frederick the Great's father followed little boys, heavy stick in hand, saying "I'll make you love me" when they fled before him. The French have similar difficulty in winning the affections of Syria, now under French mandate, thanks to the League of Nations. Yesterday the French found it necessary to bombard Damascus from the air, once more, and the killing of five hundred non-combatants was an unpleasant incident.

DECLARES PUBLIC BENT ON ENDING PROHIBITION

Senator Edwards Describes Drafting Constables as Straw Break Dry Camel's Back

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Presidential order authorizing appointment of state, county and municipal police as Federal Prohibition Agents was described today by Senator Edwards, Democrat, of New Jersey, as "the most revolutionary order ever issued from the White House in time of peace."

"And in making this statement," he said, "it is not my purpose to disparage or unjustly criticize President Coolidge because I honestly believe that if there is one person in these United States who is sincerely trying to enforce prohibition that person is Calvin Coolidge. He has proved my faith in him in both his personal and public utterances and acts."

But for the most powerful nationality of the world to admit through its executive that in order to bring about some small resemblance of law and order in prohibition enforcement, municipal and county constables must be drafted at a dollar a year to assist in apprehending federal law violators is the straw that will and must break the dry camel's back. States are to be used as cat's paws in the grand game of upholding the hands of the anti-saloon league administration. The already unmanageable army of official snoots and sneaks is to be vastly increased and the bonus of enforcement lifted from the shoulders of the federal government where it belongs on to the backs of the states."

The Senator said the President might issue "prohibition executive orders" daily to the end of time, "but America still will have her bootleggers, her hijackers, her poison liquors, her home brew and her stills." He added, "that the public is bent upon ending prohibition and urging a national referendum."

Chamaeo has shown great class in games with famous players. While his best games is three cushions, he has recently developed a fine game at billiards, too.

CANDY KID GREET'S FATE WITH SNARL

Jury Decides That R. R. Whittemore Deserves to Expediate Crime on the Gibbet

Baltimore, May 22.—(AP)—Richard Reece Whittemore, bandit dandy and confessed slayer, has greeted his fate with a snarl. His feet figuratively threading the gallows stairs, he last night spat in the face of the youths! State attorney, who had fixed a rope about his neck. Whether he plunges to oblivion at the end of it rests with the criminal court judge.

A jury decided that the slayer of Robert Holtman, Maryland penitentiary guard, deserves to expediate his crime on the gibbet. Tactily it gave the judge authority to exact a life for a life but he may in his discretion sentence the "candy kid" to life imprisonment instead.

ROSS CONTENDS EXCESSIVE DRINK CLOUDED MIND

Being Tried on the Charge of Murdering Mr. and Mrs. Odom Last Sunday Afternoon

Warrenton, N. C., May 22.—(AP)—Argument in the Ross murder trial here begun shortly after noon today with seven attorneys to be heard. The case is not expected to go to the jury until tonight.

More composed than he was yesterday, Ross today underwent a grueling cross examination but stuck doggedly to his contention that his mind is at blank so far as last Sunday afternoon, when the double murder was committed, was concerned.

The defense today offered the testimony of Dr. Winstead of Nashville, who described the nature of the delirium tremens and alcoholic epilepsy and amnesia. The defendant is contending that his mind was clouded as a result of excessive drink. Dr. Winstead said he would not pass upon the defendant's sanity because he had not had time to examine him. The state then produced Sally Odom, the step-daughter of the man and several neighbors from his home at Hollister. They testified that they had never noticed anything that suggested that Ross was not sane or that he had ever acted in a peculiar manner so far as they could discern. The murder of Mr. and Mrs. Odom occurred last Sunday afternoon at their home where the step-daughter went for shelter, after leaving her father's home on account of ill treatment. Sally Odom testified that W. L. Ross, her step-father, shot Mr. and Mrs. Odom and tried to kill her but that she escaped.

BROKER FORESEES CHAOS IN WORLD MARKET

Los Angeles, May 22.—(INS)—The crude rubber market of the world and rubber shares are in the most chaotic and fluctuating state since before the World War. D. B. Judah, leading rubber broker of Shanghai, China, declared here today.

While the Co-onial office in London has announced a new method of restricting output to go into effect August 1, if rubber falls below 42 cents a pound, Mr. Judah said he doubted if this would have a stabilizing effect. "I see little prospect of an early return to normal," he declared.

WEARERS OF GREY ARE WINDING THEIR WAY HOME TODAY

Confederate Veterans Will Meet in Comradeship As Long As Any Two Are Left

Birmingham, Ala., May 22.—(AP)—Confederate Veterans, who broke camp here after their 36th annual reunion, were today scattered in all directions. A group of several hundred journeyed in a special train to Stone Mountain near Atlanta to get a first hand view of the projected memorial to the Confederacy. These excursionists will leave Atlanta late in the day reaching Birmingham late in the night. Hence they will depart for their homes.

Farewell and goodbyes were said amidst smiles and tears for many of the old warriors were forced to admit that in this evening of their lives, the sun was fast sinking. But the parting was made easier they said, by the rewards reaped by their gallant host during the reunion. The encroaching shadows were brushed aside as they passed in review before their commander and before the eyes of applauding thousands.

The annual parade was marked by a demonstration which made brave hearts leap with new-found joy. In all their days they said they had never been so feted.

Commander-in-Chief, M. D. Vance, who took the reins of authority, pledged his men that they would meet in comradeship as long as any two were left. It was retiring Commander W. B. Freeman, who successfully put down an attempt to end the reunion. General Vance vouched that General Freeman's flaming talk would be held high and that the Confederacy as represented by this shining remnant of Lee's gallant legions, would carry on.

Deputy Sheriffs May Accept New Fed. Assignment

Raleigh, May 22.—(AP)—State, municipal and other officials in North Carolina can not, under the law, hold two offices, they are ineligible for the new jobs which the prohibition unit will have as a result of President Coolidge's order of yesterday. However, the Supreme court has held that deputy sheriffs are not officers so they may be allowed to accept the new Federal assignments and will thus have the power to cross the county lines to make prohibition violation arrests.

Registration Books Close at Sun Down Today

Raleigh, May 22.—(AP)—Registration books all over North Carolina closed today at sundown. Those who are required to register at this time and who if they have not by tonight will be ineligible to vote in the Primary election on June 5, or the General election in November, are those who were not registered for the last General election, in the case of those who were registered two years ago but have since moved their place of residence, new registration is required.

DENMARK EXCITED OVER SENDING OF PICTURES BY RADIO

System Invented Recently by German Scientists and Followed by Experiments Between Berlin and Vienna is Claimed to Be More Rapid Than Other Plan

Copenhagen, May 22.—(U.S.)—A new method of sending radio pictures is being tried out in Denmark where it creates wide-spread attention. The system was invented recently by the German scientists, Dr. Schroeter and Dr. Kopsch, and the first experiments were made in April by transmitting radio pictures from Berlin to Vienna.

The transmission is executed by placing picture rotators at the sender station and the receiver station. It is an ordinary metal rotator around which is placed the picture that is to be radio photographed. Every point in the picture is influenced by a strong ray of light and when this falls on the rotator which is in motion the illuminated part will describe an encircling movement. The photography is watched, as it were, by an electric eye, which is the photoelectric cell and which reacts according to the light or dark points, sending stronger or weaker waves into the receiver accordingly. In the receiver the waves influence the Karolus-cell which on a similar rotator writes down the light and dark points by the help of a ray of light. The writing down takes place in a dark room and on a photographic paper sensitive to light.

This radio-telegraphic picture transmission has the advantage of being much quicker than any other method, it is claimed. A photograph of the size 9 times 12 has been transmitted in the course of a few seconds. It has been intended to build a big station in Vienna for the transmission of radio pictures.

The railway that is being built through the interior of Zealand is repeatedly being delayed by earth disturbances resembling quakes and blocking the line for long distances. The last quake that has just occurred spread over an area fifteen miles long and brought down upon the railway line no less than 4000 cubic meters of earth. It is declared by sightseers that the earth is in constant movement, and the opening of the new railway, that should have taken place about this time, has been postponed for an indefinite period. account of the frequent disturbances of the earth on both sides of the new transportation line, and it is feared that it will take considerable time before people dare to take the risk of using the railway to any large extent.

Illegal night clubs have not been unknown in Copenhagen for the last few years and some time ago one of the most renowned of them, the "Adlon," was closed by the police. During the last few days the same club has been in the public eye once more, however, as the tax authorities of the Danish capital have exacted that the Adlon should pay luxury tax of its dancing balls just like other establishments where people dance. The president of the club was no little surprised when the other day the city authorities presented him a bill demanding an amount of 35,000 kroner as tax of income of the club. The leader of the club declares that even if he were able to be would not pay and it is most likely that the matter will be brought into court.

Meanwhile, the newspapers attack the tax authorities for their money-grabbing activities and it is asserted that the Adlon's dancing halls were not public halls and thus not legal tax objects. If the bills were contrary to the law, which was maintained when the police closed the club, it would be to tax a crime if the authorities follow up their intention of levying a tax. It is to be hoped, the papers declare, that the country should be exempted from decisions giving precedents to the levying of taxes on crimes.

At a meeting of teachers from all over the country the great Danish education authority Dr. F. C. Krarup delivered a lecture the other day, recommending very strongly that ethics be considered a special subject that should be laughed in the public schools. The subject should be separated from the instruction in religion, he asserted and be considered individually. This would lead to a renewed interest in and respect of morals, and even religion would gain by such separation. The speaker turned against the practice of teaching dogmatics in the schools and wanted to have it replaced by more extensive reading of the life of Christ. The lecture was received with much approval by the vast audience, in spite of the somewhat radical nature of its main points.

HE CAN SING

The following poem was written by Myrtle Sutton, who attended the revival services held recently in the Methodist church, and who enjoyed Mr. Coston's singing.

Mr. Coston he can sing,
If that's the only thing,
Mr. Coston, he can sing,
He can make the music ring,
You ought to hear him sing.

It fills you full of wonder, to listen
At his singing, and see his eyes
glisten;
It makes your heart throb with wonder,
As he seems to guide the plowder
Don't you think Mr. Coston is a wonder?

He sings as though he never had a trouble,
For his lips are never double;
But his smiles pour fourth like a brook of bubbles,
As he makes his song clearly ring
As he tries to make thy memory of Christ cling.

46,000 WERE SAVED FROM DEATH IN TWENTY YEARS SAYS U. S. STEEL REPORT

New York, May 22.—(INS)—Twenty years of organized accident prevention in the plants of the United States Steel Corporation has saved 46,000 men from death or serious injury, has averted accidents which would have disabled 322,000 other workmen, and has resulted in a very large saving of money, it is shown in the 1926 report of the Steel Corporation's Bureau of Safety, Sanitation and Welfare.

The report shows that the Corporation has spent $138,000,000 for safety, sanitation and welfare in the last fourteen years, the largest item being $45,000,000 for the relief of injured employees and of the families of employees killed. Prof 1912 to 1926 the Corporation spent $31,700,000 for sanitation, $28,000,000 for playgrounds, clubs, schools, gardens, visiting nurses, and similar activities, $15,700,000 for accident prevention, $13,000,000 in pensions, and $22,000,000 for the employees' stock subscription plan.

HOUSE OF LORDS ACCEPT IDEA OF BIRTH CONTROL

London, May 22.—(INS)—The House of Lords—reactionary as its character may be—has accepted the principle of birth control. In the past year instructions have been given to local Health Committees to withhold from married women in their districts information as to the best means of limiting their families. The instructions have been literally carried out.

In the House of Lords, Lord Buckmaster, ex-Lord Chancellor,

Wants Test

Senator Davis A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, has announced himself in favor of a State wide poll on prohibition, as a result of the victory of William S. Vare in the Pennsylvania Republican Senatorial primaries.

asked that these instructions should be withdrawn and the matter left to the discretion of the officiating medical men and women. The Marquis of Salisbury, for the government, seconded by the Archbishop of Canterbury, opposed the motion, but it was nevertheless carried by 57 votes to 44. Such a decision by a body like the House of Lords is remarkable, when it is considered that less than fifty years ago people in England were sentenced to goal for advocacy of birth control in public.

ELABORATE DINNERS AND OVER EATING ARE LISTED AMONG OUR DEADLY SINS

Chicago, May 22.—(INS)—Elaborate dinners should be listed among the deadly sins, according to Miss Marie K. Johnson, director of the Better Health Bureau, in an address here in which she pointed out the widespread modern tendency to overeat. "No brain worker can consistently eat dinners of five or six courses and expect to live as long as nature planned he should," said Miss Johnson. "It isn't possible. Overeating is responsible for the noticeable increase in the last few years of the cardiac-vascular, renal disease, or heart, blood vessel, kidney diseases.

EVANGELIST HEIR MAY GET IMMENSE ESTATE

Jasper, Ala., May 22.—(INS)—Davis Samuel Kidd-Byrne, evangelist, formerly of Toronto, Canada, who is credited with redeeming a millionaire's daughter from the underworld probably will know July 15 whether or not he will inherit a supposed estate of $70,000,000 from the woman's father.

PARIS, MAY 22.—(AP)—Mildly no longer may dye her pet dog in a color to match her gown as she goes promening. An olive green Pekinese, led by an Englishwoman, started the fad on the promenade de anglais and soon poodles, pekes and other breeds in varied colors were seen on the beaches of their mistress or carried under their arms. Then the international humane society got busy and made an investigation. It was found that the ordinary dyes used on clothes, but very much weakened, were being used to furnish coats of the pet canines and the practice was ordered stopped. Patrolmen on the principal streets are said to have received orders to advise the owners of dyed dogs that it here that he is the sole surviving heir of William George Byrne.

After advertising all over the world for possible heirs to the estate, Kidd-Byrne will become sole heir unless a claim is made before the middle of July, under the laws of Florida.

JAPAN ANXIOUS TO FRAME NEW SEAL TREATIES

Tokyo, May 21.—(INS)—The Japanese government is awaiting with no little eagerness replies from the governments of the United States, Great Britain and Russia to its proposal that a new treaty be drafted for the protection of seals in the waters of the North Pacific.

The suggestion that a new treaty be negotiated was made by Japan last December when the old treaty technically expired. To date not one of the signatories to the old convention has replied to the Japanese note. Japan's anxiety in the matter is due to her belief that seals in the North Pacific have become a menace to an important item of her food supply, namely, the fish. Restrictions imposed by the old treaty, Japan contends, have allowed seals to multiply to such numbers that they now cause an annual loss to this nation of more than $5,000,000.

CABLE LETTER

London, May 22.—(AP)—How long should a man spend over a drink? Is a question which a galway court has decided in the case of six soldiers of the Irish speaking battalion of the national army. The troopers were prosecuted for remaining too long in a public house on Sunday afternoon tipping. The police contended that half an hour spent over the beverage was too long. The magistrate, however, held that if a man were socially inclined he easily could spend an hour over one drink. Therefore, he dismissed the case.

London boasts an actor who has never been forced to go barnstorming and who does not know the rigors of the one night stands. He is William H. Berry, who for twenty-two years was in musical comedy at Daly's and the Gaiety where he sang topical songs for delection of his auditors. He has now branched out as a variety, or vaudeville actor, and says he believes that even yet he will be able to "dodge the provinces." He is 54 years old and when not doing his turn on the stage claims he is a good golfer, fisherman and walker. His friends do not deny the latter allegation.

Twice a year is sufficient for a woman more than 40 years of age to visit the theatre. This is the opinion of St. John Ervine, the Irish dramatic critic who some time ago brewed considerable of a storm when he announced that the Prince of Wales spoke with a cockney accent, instead of using the puer, unadulterated king's English. The playwright added that the English theatre was being ruined by women. He found that the bulk of audiences are suggestive plays in London was composed of women.

King Alfonso of Spain this summer will show his kinsmen, the Prince of Wales, how to mount a horse and keep his seat. Alfonso is to play polo at Hurlingham and some of the other fashionable clubs in England. He plays the game with the utmost nerve, dashing with zest into tight places after the ball notwithstanding the flying mallets and plunging ponies. The king has been injured several times by his daring and in consequence of pleas in Spain that he be more careful he gave assurances that he would slacken up somewhat on the spirit he threw into the game.

It has not been recorded, however, that he has lost his vim and consequently English followers of the sport are expecting this summer to see him chasing the ball down the field with his usual vigor.

Alfonso, who has been to London in years, will be accompanied by Queen Victoria and Princess Beatrix, their elder daughter. The princess is 17 years old and is a good horsewoman.

Paris, May 22.—(AP)—Mildly no longer may dye her pet dog in a color to match her gown as she goes promening. Flower shaped parasols which enable women to make a giant display of her favorite blossom are fashionable in the Bois de Bologne and other promenades this spring. Huge roses, carnations and anemones shades pretty faces from the sun. Mere man now is having good reason for studying the language of the flowers.

The months cold spell has shaken French faith in one of the strongest popular traditions by continuing after the waning of the "lune rouge." This is the "red brown moon." After Easter it is credited with turning young vegetation a rusty color. No Frenchman, educated or uneducated, expects fine weather until its reign is over. Its departure this year, however, failed to bring the confidently expected change.

What makes it seem worse, in pure prohibition America is the correspondent's statement, "The French soldiers are well supplied with good red wine, which keeps them cheerful, healthy, protects them from diseases prevalent in the East."
Think of sailing through the clouds drinking red wine, and bombarding Mohammedans, forbidden by the prophet to drink anything alcoholic.

Sailors in our navy are feeling proud and happy, probably. An order issued grants them "a chewing gum ration," while on sea duty. No frog, or any wicked thing like that, of course, but when bombs are bursting in air, the American sailor remembers Paul Jones and Dewey, pull' out a stick of Spear-

Berlin, May 22.—(AP)—About 150 Buxum Bavarian barmaids, garbed in their picturesque highland costumes and two Bavarian bands accompanied by Yodelers and dancers executing the historic "chuplatzer" probably will be the only evidence at the Philadelphia world's fair in 1927 that Germany is on the map. Manufacturers have declined to send exhibits, the people are chagrined to learn that barmaids, wind instrument manipulators and peasant dancers may be the sole representatives of German culture.

It is argued that the antics of the highlanders may give an erroneous picture of the German character and certainly provide hot ammunition for the American cartoonists. The barmaids' friends are asking how they will be able to put pep into their work serving only near beer.

Senator Reed of Missouri suggests that millions were spent in the Illinois and Pennsylvania Senatorial campaigns, and he will investigate. If his fears are justified, all concerned should go to jail, says he, and "a condition of corruption and rottenness exists in this country that ought to arouse to extreme vigilance every man who loves his country and adores its flag."

Corruption OUGHT to stir up great excitement, but it won't, and nobody will go to jail. Who went to jail for the money spent before the Republican convention that nominated Harding?
It may sound cynical, but this country is hardened to the fact that money plays a big part in our government, and is used to carry out "big money's" plans.

Noble, the Italian on Amundsen's dirigible trip to the North Pole was first to tell the world about it, in a radio message to Mussolini in Rome.
Considering that Noble designed the Norge, directed the construction of that dirigible, and piloted it over the North Pole and back, carrying Amundsen and the others as his passengers it would seem that he might be allowed to tell it. It is an Italian dirigible in spite of its Norwegian name.

DREADFUL PAINS
Georgia Lady, Who Had Lost Too Much Weight, Was Advised to Take Cardui and Is Now Well.

Columbus, Ga.—Mrs. George S. Hunter, of this city, writes:
"After I married, thirteen months ago, I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during... My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.
"I got very thin—I went from 115 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.
"My side hurt less and I began to improve in health... The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.
"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."

WYATT C. TUCKER

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF OF PITT COUNTY I STAND FOR THE REASONABLE ENFORCEMENT OF ALL THE LAWS

If you believe that the political plumb should be passed around and that the Sheriff's office should have a new force and if you think I am the man for the place, I will highly appreciate your vote and influence. Should I be elected I will do my very best to measure up to your expectations. I do not believe in an extremist or radical policy in anything. For an extremist, on any subject, can never secure the cooperation of conservative people, which I realize is absolutely necessary to put over successfully any kind of a program.
However, I do stand for a reasonable enforcement policy, based on fact, sense and sound principles. I hope you will see fit to elect me to the office of Sheriff and permit me to prove to you my worthiness, as your humble servant.
Yours to serve,
WYATT C. TUCKER

We, the undersigned citizens of Farmville Township, Pitt County, knowing Wyatt C. Tucker to be a man of good moral character and business ability, heartily endorse his candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Pitt County:

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"GOD BEFORE US"

—II— Isaiah 52:12: — "For the Lord will go before you"

Last week we saw that we have every right to make this promise our own, if we fulfill the simple conditions laid down.

The promise signifies that God is willing to become our guide for THREE purposes. 1st. TO SHOW US THE WAY.

There is a plan in our lives, a Power and Will superior to our own; an object to be attained running through the minute circumstances of our common daily existence. But through ignorance, blindness, stupidity or stubbornness, we may defeat the noble aim God has in view. We need a Guide to show us the way. Every man has to begin life for himself, as truly as did Adam in the Garden of Eden; and there are times when we are perplexed and know not which way to go; which step to take. We come to the fork in the road, the parting of the ways, and know not whether to turn to the right or left. We need a guide. Here is our encouragement: "The Lord will go before you" to direct and lead; to show us the way.

2nd. God is willing to go before us TO REMOVE THE DIFFICULTIES OUT OF OUR PATH.

We know, sometimes the rain must fall; some days must be dark and dreary.

How often trouble has come near to some of us! We have felt the chill of the iceberg as it floated by us in the darkness. We have heard the roar of the lions in our paths, and we feared that we should be devoured. We have not understood how we escaped; but Someone had gone before us, and the lions' mouths were shut. The Lord had gone before us and removed the difficulties and dangers out of our way.

Life has its burdens that cannot be borne without God. The sorrows of life are too overwhelming, the difficulties of life too perplexing, the disappointments of life too distressing, and its burdens too heavy to be borne alone. We need not only a Leader and Guide; we equally need a Succorer and Friend. Here is One: "The Lord will go before you" to remove the difficulties out of your path.

3rd. God is willing to go before us TO DIVIDE THE JORDAN AND GIVE HIS CHILDREN AN INHERITANCE IN THE PROMISED LAND. We all need this assurance, for we all long for sympathy as we near the banks of the River Jordan of Death. But our feet need not touch the cold waters. The Lord HAS gone before us, and we shall pass over dryshod. He will lead us by a way we know not of. He goes before the lowliest of His people to divide the flood and give them an inheritance in the better land. What a different thing life seems when we lay hold on a promise like this, and make it our own!

You ask the question: "What is Life?" and you get many differing answers. If you ask the pleasure-seeker, he will say, "Life is a sweet and juicy orange." Ask the worldling, and he will reply, "Life is the market for driving good bargains." Ask the sensualist, and his answer will be, "Life is the time to eat, dress and be admired." Ask the scientist, and he will respond, "Life is a force." But ask the Christian and his reply will be "Life is a march under the leadership of God, 'for the Lord will go before you'."

It is the knowledge of this truth that strengthens us for every sacrifice, prepares for every duty, and fits us for the exigencies of life. "Ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight," says the Prophet. Fear cannot quicken us, nor the secrecy of escape. Elsewhere it says: "They that believe shall not make haste." There is no need for it; for Faith always brings with it quietness, calmness, peace.

Have you ever seen a little child playing with her toys in a room downstairs while her mother is engaged with household duties above? For awhile everything goes on alright, then the little one runs to the foot of the stairs and calls out, "Mother, are you there?" and the mother replies, "Yes, dear, I am here"—and the child returns to her playthings satisfied and secure in the sense of her mother's nearness.

So some, God's little ones, looking up to Heaven, cry out from the midst of their business, sorrow and care, "Father, art Thou there?" and our text is His answer: "My child, I am here; to lead and guide, to succor and protect: for the Lord will go before you."

How we love to sing:—"Jesus, still lead on, Till our rest be won; And although the way be cheerless, We will follow, calm and fearless. Guide us by Thy hand To our Father-land"

BUT THE QUESTION OF CHARACTER MUST BE SETTLED FIRST. The promise is not unconditional. "Depart yet . . . be ye clean . . . touch no unclean thing." A pure heart is better to a man than a prophet's message. "Blessed are the pure in heart for THEY SHALL SEE GOD."

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

London, May 21.—(INS)—Oxford the pleasant English riverside city famous for its renowned university, is in the grip of a Mussolini.

He is Alderman John Carter, the new mayor, and he is ruling Oxford as it has never been ruled before—incidentally much to the dismay of the dignified and patrician councillors of the city. Adopting the slogan 'efficiency in public service,' Mayor Carter has announced that he refuses to be a puppet in the hands of his council, and that he, as head of the municipal government of the city, it out to govern with a capital "G."

Canadian born, Mayor Carter has democratic ideas about his job. He declined to hold the traditional mayor's banquet after he had assumed office, on the grounds of unnecessary expense, and instead entertained his chamberman, hall-attendant and officeboys to a dinner.

"Local government in England has become on thing to an old man's hobby," Mayor Carter declared in an interview. "I am out for the young men. I want young blood—young men with ideas. I am going to insist that elderly councillors and civic employees retire at the age of 65 to make room for the young ideas. But if they can the council will try their hardest to defeat me. They simply will not resign," he declared. "Once a member is a chairman of committee, on this council he remains there until he dies."

Finances are another sore point with Mayor Carter. "In the past," he stated, "this office has been held by men of wealth—men who could afford to entertain and pay for their hospitality out of their own pockets. I am a poor man. I live in the slums of Oxford. So this is how I do it. I forego the traditional mayor's banquet, where 500 or 600 people used to assemble for a feast of turkey and champagne, and I give little parties instead. I entertain in groups or professions. One Monday I have seven or eight of the town grocers, the next the blacksmiths, and so on. I can talk to them then, I hear what they have to say about my administration, and it does not cost me much."

Friars of the Order of Saint Francis of Assisi from all parts of the world will assemble in the little town of Assisi, Italy, on October 4 to celebrate the seventieth, centenary of the death of the founder of the order.

Premier Benito Mussolini has ordered Italy to take a holiday for the day in honor of "the father of the poor."

Guarantees His Medicine to End Rheumatic Pains—Twinges Or Money Back

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poisons Start to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Pitt Drug company and every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if the first pint bottle of ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison from the body through the kidneys and bowels.

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he has instructed Pitt Drug Co., and druggists everywhere to guarantee it as above in every instance and that it will not affect the heart or upset the stomach.

ADVANCE OF YEN TOWARDS PARITY CAUSES CONCERN

Japan's Money Surprises World's Financiers Who Study Situation

Tokyo, May 21.—(INS)—The rapid advance of the Japanese yen toward parity has been one of the outstanding features of international finance during the past year.

At the beginning of 1925 the value of the yen was about $38.50 per hundred. Since then it has risen gradually until, as this is written, the official quotation of the Yokohama Specie Bank, the leading financial institution of Japan, stands at $47.25. Par value for the yen is $40.85 and since the exchange rate is still rising there is good reason to believe that the yen will come very close to par within the next few months.

Speculation undoubtedly has been responsible in some degree for this rise. There has been heavy buying of yen for months by speculative interests in New York and also in China. Lack of confidence in the future of certain European currencies, it is declared, has caused dealers in foreign exchange to turn their attention to the yen as offering the best speculative prospects.

Exportation of specie abroad, particularly to the United States, by the Japanese government, has been another factor in the yen's advance. The primary purpose of this export of specie was to check the decline of the yen. How great a factor it was, however, may be judged by the fact that when the government, alarmed that the yen might be forced into artificial values and a consequent stamp issue, halted shipment of specie abroad, the value of the yen continued to rise.

Financial authorities in Japan are now convinced, however, that the advance in the yen is due chiefly to legitimate causes. They believe that the currency of the nation is on a firm basis in the international exchange market and are confident that no important decline will occur.

To support this confidence it is pointed out that the relation of Japan's gold reserve to her paper money issue is at about the same or perhaps a slightly better, ratio than it was in pre-war days when the yen was at par. The country's trade balance, that is the ratio of imports to exports, also is in about the same proportion as before the war.

EX-CROWN PRINCE SEES NO CHOICE BETWEEN TYRANNY OF KING OR TYRANNY

Berlin, May 21.—(INS)—Germany's ex-Crown Prince has become a philosopher.

There is nothing to choose, he believes, between the "dogma of royal infallibility and virtue and the myth of democratic freedom."

"Both are tyrants of a kind," said the ex-Crown Prince, "but the masses can only be ruled by tyranny. It is for the people to choose the tyranny they prefer."

These remarks were made in explanation of his approval of the treaty recently concluded between Russia and Germany. The ex-Crown Prince declaring that he had no objection to the Soviet, despite its drastic opposition to monarchism.

"I cannot see," he said, "why there should be any fuss over this simple treaty. It is the natural consequence of the Treaty of Rapallo, and the most open, honest treaty that any European country has made with another for years."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO CONVENE AT SYRACUSE

Syracuse, May 21.—(INS)—Men high in the councils of the Knights of Columbus from all parts of New York State will convene at Syracuse for the annual convention of New York State Council, May 27, 28 and 29. Plans are being made to entertain at least 800 knights, who will be accompanied by more than 400 guests.

to the winner, and in addition the new champion will have his name engraved upon the "perpetual" cup. A gold medal also will go to the winner. Other prizes are offered for other events.

Technique Is Important In Training Men

Haver, N. H., May 21.—(AP)—When he sped over the 120-yard high hurdles in the world's, as well as intercollegiate record time of 14 2-5 seconds in Philadelphia in 1920, Earl J. Thomson of Dartmouth set a mark which is not likely to be equalled nor surpassed (for a long time), in the opinion of Harry L. Hillman, Dartmouth track and field coach.

"It will take an athlete of Thomson's type to make such a performance and the hurdler will have similar conditions to make it possible for the chance to equal this record," said Hillman, in commenting on the intercollegiate championships at the Harvard Stadium, May 28 and 29.

"The day Thomson made his record he was in his best physical condition; he had an exceptionally good bunch of hurdlers to force him; and the day was ideal for record-breaking performances.

"In forty-nine meets the high hurdles have been won by athletes from fourteen colleges. Yale in the olden days had a monopoly in the high hurdles but in recent years it has changed so that any college may turn out the winner."

British Labor Would Limit Large Estates

London, May 21.—(INS)—Calling attention to the disparity in wealth of the British population, Thomas Griffiths, Member for Pontypool, introduced the following motion in the House of Commons:

"That this House condemns the legal and social arrangements whereby large fortunes are inherited by a very small minority of the community as being morally indefensible, economically wasteful, and productive of gross and unproductive inequality; and to appoint a committee to inquire into the important proposals already made for reform."

Griffiths made several important points in favor of his resolution. The resolution has the support of the labor party.

"At the top of the ladder," he said, speaking of recent fortunes left "one estate was assessed at a capital value of $25,000,000."

"At the bottom of the ladder, 25,000 estates were assessed at the total of $25,000,000."

"At the last British census, the population totaled 42 million; ten million of those were on the bread line."

"Of the national income of $10,000,000,000 thirty millions of the British population took one-third in wages. The remainder went to the other 12 millions in rent, interest and profits. "While the poor get poorer, the rich get richer every year, the average total income of super-tax payers in 1913-14 was $375,000,000."

Tax Collector's Land Sale for 1925 Taxes

By virtue of authority vested in me as tax collector for the Town of Greenville, and by order of the Board of Aldermen, I will on Monday, June 7, 1926, at noon in front of the Court House door in the Town of Greenville, sell to the highest bidder for cash the following real estate for town taxes for the year of 1925.

All persons paying said taxes prior to the date of sale will have their names dropped from the list and save additional cost.

Interest will begin on the date of sale and be charged against the sale taxes at the legal rate, whether taxes are bought by individuals or bid in by the town.

This the 5th day of May, 1926. J. O. DUVAL Town Tax Collector.
