TRUSTEES INSPECT CAMPUS BUILDING TEACHERS COLLEGE

New Building is to Accommodate the Social and Religious Life of Campus

The building committee of East Carolina Teachers College met on Thursday for the purpose of inspecting the new campus building which is ready to be received by the board of trustees of the college. The building committee recommended to the board of trustees that the building be accepted at its next meeting, to be held on June 3.

The contract for the campus building was let on June 11, 1925 to the J. E. Beaman Construction Company of Raleigh. The heating contract was let to the W. O. Mitcham Company, of Goldsboro.

The campus building is to accommodate the social and religious life of the campus. For many years there has been a need for such a building. The literary societies, and other social and religious organizations have not had a permanent home anywhere on the campus. The campus building will provide space to accommodate all of these organizations.

The size of the building is 108 by 140 feet, built of plain brick and concrete, with steel frame construction and tile roofing.

The first floor contains two society halls where the two literary societies, the Poe and Lanier, will hold their meetings, both literary and social. Each hall is 45 by 60 feet. Adjoining each society hall is a kitchenette that may be used for social functions.

This floor will also accommodate the Bible study classes which are conducted under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. These classes meet once a week for Bible study and are composed of a majority of the students.

The second floor contains an auditorium that will seat two thousand people, two storage rooms, two rest rooms and two committee rooms.

The third floor contains a balcony which will seat some five hundred people; a Y. W. C. A. assembly hall, 28 by 96 feet; a Y. W. C. A. kitchenette; committee room, and two Bible study class rooms.

This building is one of the newer type of construction, adopted by the board of trustees of the college. It consists of steel, concrete and brick, with wooden floors laid on concrete base, known as type B fireproof construction. The outside of the building is constructed of brick laid in brown mortar with sandstone trimmings and columns.

This building fills a long felt need of the college. Much of education is social and spiritual. Any college that fails to provide a place where this training can be acquired fails to provide a type of training that is often most needed, especially by the teacher. It had been hoped that the new building could be used for commencement, but the seats have not yet arrived for installation.

Baby Boy Born Within Walls of State Prison

Raleigh, May 28.—(AP)—A boy was born within the walls of state prison here today.

Ellen Carpenter, white woman sentenced from Macon county for disorderly conduct last week, is the mother. Superintendent Potts said the child would be turned over to the welfare department as soon as possible. The mother has a year's sentence to serve.

Will Appeal to McLean Commute Mansel's Sentence

Marion, N. C., May 28.—(AP)—Attorney A. J. Johnston, of Asheville, announced here today that he will appeal to Governor McLean to commute the death sentence of Alvin Mansel, Asheville negro, to life imprisonment. The State Supreme Court yesterday upheld the conviction of Mansel on a charge of attacking a Buncombe county white woman last September.

ANGRY FARMERS HANG WORK AND MEAD IN EFFIGY

Blame Secretary of Interior and Comm. of Reclamation for Failure Supply Irrigation

Scottsbluff, Neb., May 28.—(AP)—Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior and Dr. Elwood Mead, Commissioner of Reclamation, were hanged in effigy here last night by an angry group of farmers and citizens who blamed them for failure of the Government to supply the irrigated North Platte Valley with needed water from the Government project.

The two effigies were left dangling in front of the office of the Water Users' Association which is the central organization of the North Platte valley farmers, who are now seeking water. The effigy marking Dr. Work had a sign on it "for breaking his word and depriving a project of water."

The hangers of the effigies of the two Washington officials is the first intimation of violence or drastic action since the trouble of water started. But those conversant with the situation fear that unless relief is extended soon the farmers may attempt forcibly to gain control of the lateral gate of the vast irrigation system and feed water to their dry crops. Wednesday's rain gave the dry sugar beet regions a good soaking but growers feel it will be of no value if more water is not available.

Sending Power By Radio Is A Most Costly Hope

Ann Arbor, May 28.—(AP)—Rosy dreams of unlimited power possibilities for radio have failed to impress Prof. Benjamin Bailey, acting head of the Department of Electrical Engineering at the University of Michigan.

Transmission of power by radio predicted by many scientists, is only future hope, in the opinion of Prof. Bailey. "Nothing we know at present indicates the possibility of transmitting power by radio on a paying basis," he said. "Of course, we do transmit some power when ever we broadcast a concert, but no one runs his washing machine by radio yet."

"If an hydraulic engineer wishes to transmit water-power, he confines the water in a pipe. Similarly, the electrical engineer confines his current to a wire. Hydraulic power could be transmitted by throwing stones into a pond and allowing the waves to rock chips of wood upon the surface of the water. The difficulty is that only a small fraction of the energy used could be recovered."

"When the electrical engineer sends out a radio wave, he is doing to the ether what the small boy does to the pond when he throws a stone into it. He is creating ether waves which spread in every direction, and only a small part of the energy he is sending out will ever be recovered."

MARKER UNVEILED MEMORY COLONEL A. M'ALLISTER

Gov. A. W. McLean Paid Tribute to Fine Type Revolutionary Patriot

Lillington, N. C., May 28.—(AP)—It is altogether fitting that monuments be raised and histories recited commemorating the illustrious dead of a commonwealth who body and soul have passed into the tradition of our nation.

Such was the declaration of Governor A. W. McLean at the exercises at the unveiling of the marker to the memory of Colonel Alexander McAllister, Revolutionary patriot, near Old Bluff Presbyterian church in Harnett county, near here, today.

"Freedom by self-government" continued the Governor, "is ever an act of character; it comes from the character of those who placed their trust under the grim chances of war and suffering to establish it. It survives by the character of those who maintain it in entirety. And truth as the expression of the will of free men. Without a posterity equally as resourceful and determined, a great ancestry has collapsed already."

The Governor paid tribute to Colonel McAllister as "a conspicuous example of that fine type of Revolutionary patriot who feared neither King nor Government."

The speaker traced the settlement of the Scotch settlers in America, and told of how the settlers from Scot' and came to North Carolina.

Sweetser Reaches Semi-Finals British Golf Championship

Muirfield, Scotland, May 28.—(AP)—Jesse Sweetser, of New York, former amateur champion, is the sole American to reach the semi-finals of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Bobby Jones, his magic extended against Robert Harris in their match yesterday, will before Arthur Jamieson, a Scotch lad, four and three this morning. Sweetser came through against Robert Scott, Jr., by the margin of two holes.

Buncombe County Man Given Prison Number 20,000

Raleigh, May 28.—(AP)—Aden Proctor, of Buncombe county, arrived at State Prison today to begin serving a five-year sentence for burglary. He was given prison number 20,000, this being the number of prisoners received at the prison since its establishment in 1869. Superintendent Potts called attention to the fact that of the 20,000 in 57 years approximately seven and one-half per cent are still confined at the institution.

Proctor, a negro, is an unusual prisoner. He is 22 years old at that time has attained a height of but four feet nine and one-half inches. He weighs only 95 pounds, but has a voice which is described to be similar to the "proverbial fog horn."

STATE BUILDINGS TO BE CONSTRUCTED ACCEPTABLE TO INSURANCE DEPT.

Raleigh, May 28.—(AP)—All state buildings now under construction or which shall hereafter be constructed "under the Public Improvement Appropriation of 1925 or others" shall be so constructed with reference to fire proofing as to be acceptable to the State Insurance Department, Governor McLean said today. This means, according to Stacey W. Wade, Insurance Commissioner, that State buildings constructed in the future will be fire proof. Mr. Wade expressed great gratification at the issuance of the order. The order, which is in the form of a memorandum to the institution heads follows a series of fire in state buildings, the most disastrous of which was the fire in the State Hospital for the insane here.

JEFFERSON CENTENNIAL ELECTION NAT. MOVEMENT

The election in North Carolina is being conducted by a committee of sponsors, under the leadership of Walter Murphy of Salisbury, as state chairman, and outstanding citizens headed by Governor Angus W. McLean, in behalf of the Jefferson Memorial Foundation.

The women of Greenville are asked to meet in the interest of the movement Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the basement of the Memorial Baptist Church.

The purpose of the election is to clear that property of debt and establish it as a National Memorial to the true ideals of America, in time for the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the 100th anniversary of the death of Jefferson, July 4, 1926.

From May 18 to June 18 votes will be credited to the candidates on the basis of one for every 10¢ contributed toward Monticello. All money obtained and deposited with local treasurers throughout the state will be turned into the Raleigh Citizens National Bank. The standing of the candidates will be announced every Sunday in the News and Observer and other North Carolina publications.

North Carolina has 17 candidates. The 17 young women working with their committees are doing their utmost to help North Carolina do its share in the National movement.

The Thomas Jefferson Memorial will reward every young woman and her community, when $5,000 has been raised to free Monticello from debt. The candidate then becomes an honor delegate and is invited to go on a trip to Europe as a guest of the Foundation. Special receptions in various European Capitals are being arranged for this party.

It is Walter Murphy's desire that every one of the 17 girls receive the necessary 50,000 votes which will appear on the $5,000 raised for payment of the debt. He feels that North Carolina will be decidedly benefited by this educational tour. These trips do not cost the Foundation anything because of the fact that the members through their prominent governing boards, have been able to get the necessary concessions to free them from expense.

The Pitt county candidate, Miss Jennie Long, represents the extreme Eastern part of North Carolina. Colonel James, in speaking of Pitt county, said that it always did its share and that in this time of patriotic undertaking of freeing the old home of Thomas Jefferson from debt, he felt that it would generously respond. Pitt county will appeal to nearby counties to help in this state-wide movement. The Greenville committee will be completed next week.

EXPLOSION OF MAIL BOMB CAUSE OF THREE DEATHS

Mail Bomb Explosion in Lobby of Hotel Is Heard for Two Miles

Muskegon, Mich., May 28.—(AP)—Miss Janet Krubach, 19-years old, died here today, the third victim of a mail bomb which exploded in the lobby of her father's resort hotel, the Three Lakes Tavern, yesterday. William R. Frank, 22, of Chicago, who was to have been married Saturday to Miss Krubach, was killed instantly and August Krubach, her father, died shortly after the explosion.

Officers promised an arrest some time today. They have learned that the small package, much the same as would be used in sending a box of cigars, was mailed at the Muskegon Post-office Wednesday afternoon. Only one theory is held, that the bomb was inspired and mailed because of political hatred of Krubach, who was supervisor of Blue Lake township. The package containing the bomb was delivered by a rural mail carrier yesterday, at a time when members of the Krubach family were preparing for the wedding of Janet and Frank. Janet met the mail man and carried the package in to her father and about the same time Frank arrived, planning to take Janet to get their marriage license.

Janet however, delayed her departure eager to learn what was in the box. August Krubach opened the box and there was a blast heard for two miles. When Mrs. Krubach and others ran in to the room Janed, with both eyes blown out, pleaded with her mother to be calm. Frank was dead, his body being badly mangled.

Krubach survived only two hours. Janet lay dead through yesterday and last night, regaining consciousness at intervals when she called for her father, her mother and for "Ggie," her pet name for the man whose bride she was to have become tomorrow.

Asa K. Bartlett, Blue Lake township constable and leader of the political opposition to August Krubach, supervisor of the town ship, was arrested today in connection with the bomb outrage which cost the lives of Krubach, his daughter, Janet and fiance, William Frank, at Three Lakes Tavern, yesterday.

Women's Law Enforcement Group Urges More Force

Atlantic City, May 28.—(AP)—Claiming that the respectable individual who buys a drink today is tending to make crime respectable, Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indianapolis, chairman of the Law Observance division of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, today entreated the women of the federation, assembled in convention, to "put the force in enforcement and the punish in punishment."

"The whole question of law observance is on trial, with regard to the prohibition law, generating a disregard for other laws, until our country has at last awakened to the necessity of meeting the epidemic by a strict quarantine," said Mrs. White. "Did you ever hear it proposed that a deadly scourge could best be controlled by lifting the quarantine, here a little, there a little, letting some escape from its restrictions, and letting the public generally take it or leave it, just as they preferred?"

Mrs. White said the prohibition law is the only one having open and highly organized opposition, with "some forty odd organizations" in Washington and elsewhere encouraging its violation and manufacturing and spreading propaganda.

"America has undertaken to throw off the tremendous burden of intoxicating liquor with all its attendant evils. Have you entertained for the duration of the war, or are you going to quit after the first battle is won and before absolute victory is ascertained?"

It Was Real Champagne.
Truth From Henry Ford.
Better Than Cocaine.
Some Read Books.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE famous champagne bath case in New York draws its way way. Miss Joyce Hawley, lady in the tub, admitted to the court Tuesday that she was in the tub, had taken three or four drinks of the champagne in the tub as she bathed in it; "also some drinks from other sources." "It got me drunk," the lady, weeping, told the court. And then she sprained her ankle trying to run away. And she had not been paid the $500 "pension" her for the stunt. On the whole, the party was a failure, in her opinion.

The curious thing is that the man responsible is pronounced a party and for violating the prohibition law. Nobody says anything about his bringing a woman to disgrace and degrade herself and violate the laws of decency.

No wonder Lady Cathcart accused of "moral turpitude" and removed from Ellis Island in time to attend that party, says we Americans should not throw stones.

Henry Ford says, concerning the Muscle Shoals Power plan: "A series of victories by the power combine over agriculture and the national defense, constitute the history to date of that great government war and peace enterprise."

And every word of that is true. "First," says Henry Ford, the power gentlemen said "scrap the Muscle Shoals Plant." Then (after Ford offered one hundred million dollars for it, promising to give the farmers cheap fertilizer), the power gentlemen suddenly discovered that it ought to be developed by the government.

Henry Ford concludes his editorial as follows: "The farmers can go to Chile for their nitrates as in the past, and the electro-chemical industry can go to Canada or Norway, as it has been doing, and the water power of the Tennessee river can go to waste until the power combine gets ready to exploit its use."

If the people have the power they would do something about that Muscle Shoals scandal—at least the farmers would do something. But they have no way of doing it, not having much to do with government.

University of Wisconsin chemists announce a new local anesthetic better than cocaine, developed in three years of hard work by Professor S. M. McElvain, helped by Ralph Jones. The new drug is two and a half times as powerful as cocaine, with only one-tenth of its poisonous quality, and is said to produce surface anaesthesia without hypodermic injection.

It ought to be a blessing to dentists, and to surgeons in minor operations. That is really important news. The original discovery of anaesthesia made in America only recently, by the way, was more important to the comfort of the human race, perhaps, than any other one discovery.

Some people still read books. Ten thousand visit New York's big public library every day, and seven thousand actually read. The library lent 9,000,000 books last year. Brooklyn's library nearly 6,000,000. Reading does not keep up with the population since the radio has come in. But a few do read, and some of them think. And that is hopeful.

President Dummerque warns the world that if there is a smash in French finance something else will smash with it.

He is worried about Alsace Lorraine, where religious trouble, and, above all, financial trouble came suddenly from Germans back into Frenchmen, find their money worth less than four sous to the franc, while the German mark across the border has old value.

French socialists threaten trouble for Briand if he doesn't do something to help the sick franc, and demand "heavy hand on capital," meaning confiscation of the (Continued on page 6)

Dies From Injuries Received in Fight With Five Negroes

Asheville, May 28.—(AP)—The victim of the attack by several negroes following an altercation on the street J. W. Bank, 44, conductor on the Southern Railway, died here early today of spinal meningitis resulting from a fractured skull.

Although the fight occurred Monday night Bank was released from a local hospital shortly after he entered. He returned to the hospital later and physicians learned that spinal meningitis had developed. Bank and a friend, Carl Pinner, were walking along the street in Asheville when an automobile containing five negroes drove on to the side walk. Bank ordered them to back off but they refused. Words led to blows and one of the negroes said to have struck Bank on the head with a rock. Pinner was slightly injured. All five negroes, one of whom is only fifteen years old, are being held without bond in the city jail and will be turned over to the Superior Court following the coroner's inquest.

Navy to Show the Growth of the American Vessels

Philadelphia, May 28.—(AP)—The evolution of Uncle Sam's sea fighting machinery will be displayed in Philadelphia's historic shipyard as one of the many features of the Sesqui-centennial Exposition.

The frigate Constellation will represent the period of the Tripolitan and French wars and the War of 1812, at a time when the pride of the fleet was mounted with 32-pound carronades. A full crew will be aboard to explain the ancient workings of the vessel.

Nearby will be the Monitor Chenyenne, last of this type of ship and the connecting link between the Monitor of the Civil War and the present dreadnaught. At the same dock will be moored the Olympia, flagship of Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila.

Alongside in striking contrast will float a modern destroyer and submarine, huge vessels undergoing repairs, a battleship being modernized, scout cruisers, and auxiliary craft being overhauled. The navy's exhibit, besides the ships, will consist of a comprehensive collection of historical uniforms, models of famous ships, pictures and implements of warfare.

3,000,000 FEET TIMBER NEAR CEDAR MOUNTAIN DESTROYED BY FIRE

Greenville, S. C., May 28.—(AP)—3,000,000 feet of timber within a few miles of Cedar Mountain, N. C., has been destroyed by fire during the past week and four fires were raging today, it was reported here.

No systematic efforts were being made to combat the flames, it was said, although mountaineers and tourists were vainly endeavoring to save the woods near their homes.

Golf Season Is Late But Fits Advanced Dates

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—Crowding of the various major American golf champions will come later than usual this year, owing to the plan to allow participation by the stars of the United States in the British meets.

This scheme, which was deemed justified on account of the large number of leading linksmen who declined to enter the Transatlantic contests, pushed the National open championship over into late June.

Nature seemed to approve of the arrangement for the season was about a month late, with grass just recently beginning to grow in the northern states. In addition to the delay, a protest was made for the thirty leaders in last year's national open, so that holders of Europe would not have to hasten back for the championship rounds in seventeen cities on June 14.

The curtain raisers in the United States, in addition to the southern tourneys, are the qualifying rounds for the national open the middle of June and the Transatlantic championship at the Algonquin club, St. Louis, June 21-26. This midwest title will be defended by Clarence Wolf of St. Louis, who won a thrilling match at Omaha Field club last year from Arthur Bartlett of Ottumwa, both taking several strokes off par.

The east has most of the national meets, but the open will be played on the links of the Scots club at Columbus, July 8-10. The tournament this year will adopt the plan used in the Western open for a long time. All the field plays eighteen holes for two days, and then the sixty-four survivors play thirty-six holes on the final day. Macfarlane, who won last year at Worcester in a remarkable overtime playoff, has had trouble with his eyes since then, and may have difficulty in retaining the honor.

The Western Amateur championship has set its venue at the scenic course of the White Bear Yacht club, St. Paul, July 19-24. Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City, who won the title last year at Detroit, plans to defend his crown.

The Public Links event comes next at Buffalo municipal course this week of August 3, and the rapid increase in the number of city courses throughout the country promises a record entry list.

The only conflict in dates is that between the Western open and the Women's Western. The women whose queen now is Mrs. Elaine Rosenthal Reinhart of Dallas, are to decide whether to change their dates of August 23-28, while the Western open, which has virtually the same contenders as the National open, takes place at High lands club, Indianapolis the latter half of the same week. Macdonald and Smith of New York is king of that realm, and plans to defend his throne.

World and Society Opened for Flyers

Paris, May 27.—(INS)—An International Aviators' Aid Society has just been inaugurated through the generosity of Clifford B. Harmon, of New York, who has joined the American col only after making a fortune in real estate. Mr. Harmon's donation has provided a magnificent-ly equipped club house in the Bois de Boulogne, assure a life insurance policy of 50,000 francs for an insignificant premium, two free beds with the services of eminent specialists at the American Hospital for all members of the society.

The corporate name of the society is the International League of Aviators and groups of the League have been started in the following countries: Italy, Belgium, Roumania, United States, Canada, Finland, Sweden, Poland and Japan. France's oldest aeronautical society, "The Old Boys" consisting of aviators who received licenses before 1914, have unanimously voted membership in Mr. Harmon's organization.

The noble ideal of the League: grouping all aviators of every country into one powerful organization to renew the spirit of fraternity and chivalry that has always been associated with the flyers, is hoped may win the association the backing and encouragement of the Society of Nations.

Composers See New American Music of Melody, Rhythm

New York, May 27.—(AP)—American composers and lyricists are believe that out of all the Blues, Jazz and Rag of recent years is coming a new American music of melody and rhythm.

The development has been gradual, but from now on it may be expected to become pronounced. For composers are devoting themselves more and more to music of a serious vein.

"Jazz," in the opinion of George Gershwin, whose "Symphony in Blue" has attracted wide attention, "will always be with us, even though it may change its form and color. Any music typical of America will feel and express its influence.

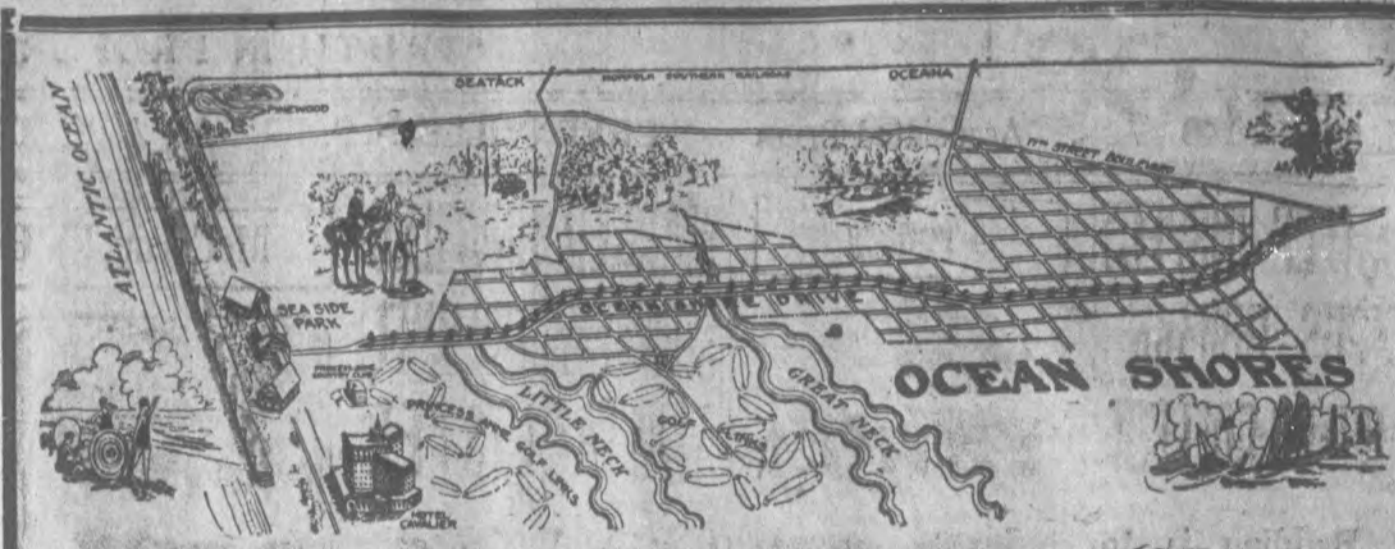

"Jazz has been looked down upon by many people, and rightly so, because in a majority of instances it has been incorrectly played. Properly presented, it is very hard to play. The real jazz compositions of today can hardly be recognized as related to those of the past."

On the other hand, Jerome Kern, who wrote "Smack" and "Sally" and "Stepping Stones," looks upon jazz as merely a treatment of music. Since it is generally recognized that classical music, as well as popular work, may be jazzed, he believes composers now are turning to the writing of more serious compositions.

Signald Romer, famous for "Blossom Time," "The Student Prince" and "Princess Flavia," is convinced the old type of jazz is lying out and the trend is toward something more serious and beautiful. The jazz that remains, he said, is of a higher and better type than the old.

"For the last five or six years, our composers have been interested in finding new rhythms," said Dr. Harbach, who wrote the lyrics for "Sunny," "Rose Marie" and "Song of the Flame," the last two especially noted for their approach toward the grand opera type of music.

"They have developed a lot of beautiful new melodies and beautiful lyrics. In this connection, it seems to me we are having a very beautiful re-birth of the kind

Feet Are as Varied as Faces

No. 3 This is one of a series of twenty illustrated advertisements explaining the difference between the many types of feet, and suggesting the proper footwear for each.

THE BROAD FOOT

It's a mistaken idea on the part of some people (including some shoe merchants) that a broad foot crowded into a narrow shoe looks well.

The deception is evident from the start. A wide foot in a narrow shoe shows its unfitness at once. There are two types of wide feet—the thin, square-toed wide foot and the broad, fat muscular wide foot. While the former is more troublesome and requires greater attention in fitting, each must have shoes that are correctly fashioned for the broad foot if health and comfort are to be enjoyed.

Pitt Shoe Co. salespeople have studied feet; they know how to fit shoes so that you may enjoy complete comfort and resulting better general health.

Let us fit you in a pair of Arch Preserver Shoes. The shoe that we can recommend to cure most foot troubles. Pretty styles for men and women carried in stock all the time.

Six tables for bridge were arranged in the reception and living rooms, and several progressions insuring an evening of enjoyment to the hard-working school teacher and his likewise busy wife. This group proved that all good times are not monopolized by the "young folks," and great was the rejoicing when the announcement was made that in the future, their friend and associate, J. H. Rose, would be eligible to that group.

Mirth-provoking prizes rewarded the score winners. A delicious ice course was served. The party was given especially for Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Frank, who will be temporarily absent from the college pursuing study courses for the next few months.

HENNIE E. LONG DRIVE BECOMING ACTIVE

Long is an enthusiastic and popular member, announce their next performance to be given at White's Theatre, Friday night, June 4th, as a benefit to the Jefferson Memorial fund and in harmony with the drive that is now being made in Miss Long's behalf.

The play selected for the occasion is one of the recent New York successes from the pen of Sidney Toler, entitled "Going Straight," in prologue and three acts.

Miss Margaret Cook will necessarily drop out of the cast of the Community Players during the presentation of this program, to accompany Rev. Cook and family on his vacation trip, while Miss Hannah Dixon will make her first appearance with the local organization, sharing honors with Miss Long. A complete list of the players and additional details will be announced later.

MR. AND MRS. E. L. HENDERSON GIVE SHOWER FOR BRIDE ELECT

On Tuesday evening, of this On Tuesday evening, of this E. L. Henderson was the scene of a beautiful party given to the Junior class of the East Carolina Teachers' College, with Miss Priscilla Austin, popular member of the class as honoree. Miss Austin is to be married on June second to Mr. Raymond W. Johnson, of Holden, Mass., and the bridal thought pervaded the evening.

The house was tastefully decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses and lighted with pink tapers, the color scheme of pink and white being strictly adhered to, even by the guest of honor, who unwittingly matched the color chosen by the hostess, by wearing a lovely gown of delicate pink crepe de chine, trimmed with rosettes of cream lace and pink rose buds.

Rook was the game of the evening and the score cards had brides on them. Several progressions were enjoyed when the game was halted by the appearance of Master Kenneth Lane Henderson, adorable in a white silk suit, rolling a snail wheel barrow decorated with the class colors of purple and gold, and laden with packages of many sizes and shapes. Great was the surprise and pleasure of Miss Austin, as she gracefully unwrapped and accepted the gifts of her friends and classmates. Dainty wearables, useful articles for the new home, and even the rolling pin were included in the "shower."

Miss Gladys Tingle, who won the score prize, a beautiful flower bowl, presented that to Miss Austin, followed by the "hoop" winner, Miss Eloise Riggs, whose prize was a large and valuable "nut."

After all had examined and exclaimed over the many pretty things, the rooms suddenly darkened, and the door to the dining room opened, revealing a table lighted with pink candles, on which stood a pyramid cake, entwined with pink roses and green vines of icing, and topped with a tiny bride and groom. It looked too pretty to be eaten, but the hostess said it contained at least five fortunes, and so, must be cut.

The bride-to-be had the first piece, after which each young lady cut a piece, each one of course (?) hoping to find the rings in hers, and endeavoring to avoid the penny and the thimble. Miss Beaddenfeld, a guest of the class, won the ring, and the penny fell to Miss Meringo.

Pink and white ices were served.

The happy evening came to an end, and the guests reluctantly said "au revoir," wishing their friend and classmate a life filled with good things, thanking their hostess for the pleasure she had given them, and carrying away another pleasant memory of happy school days.

Mrs. H. E. Austin, mother of the bride-elect, was a guest of the evening.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church celebrated their fourteenth birthday, Monday afternoon, May the twenty-fourth at the Y. W. C. A. hut on the college campus.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and presented a most attractive appearance.

The devotional for the afternoon consisted in the installation of the new officers of the Auxiliary and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Harden.

After a short business session presided over by the president, Mrs. N. O. Warren, a pageant entitled "Indian Trails," was presented.

At one end of the room, an attractive living room had been arranged, which was used for the settling for the pageant. The characters were as follows: Grandmother Gordon, Mrs. Wm. Triplett; Faith Gordon, Mary Council Home; Dick Gordon, Ralph Deal; Dorothy Gordon, Annie Boney.

The pageant presented the most of the Southern Presbyterian Church among the Indians and was both instructive and impressive. All four characters were splendid in their respective parts and much of the success of the birthday celebration was due to them.

Mrs. Knott Proctor, accompanied by Miss Ward Bertolet, sang during the pageant "In the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" and "By the Waters of Minnie-Tonka," and this added much to the beauty and success of the pageant.

At the close of the pageant an offering was taken which goes to endow a chair and a Bible in the Presbyterian Oklahoma College for Indian Girls. Miss Cora Jane Boney and Miss Frances Harvey dressed in Indian costumes, had charge of the offering, which was very generous.

At the close of the meeting, a birthday cake, decorated with fourteen candles was brought in and the guests were served an ice course during the social hour. About thirty-five ladies were present.

COBB GETS HIS LAUGH

Irvin S. Cobb, in testifying at the Carroll trial, simply had to get his laugh. "You are one of the foremost writers in New York?" asked counsel for the defense. "In my own opinion, I am," said Mr. Cobb, and the gag went across for a wow. As for us, we join in the chorus, and add that this was the only conceivable reply to make to a silly question.—N. Y. World.

NORTH CAROLINA EXPORTS

The Federal Department of Commerce announces that for the year 1925 exports from the United States originating in North Carolina, were valued at $62,529,940. North Carolina ranks nineteenth in the value of exports. Southern states ranking ahead of North Carolina were Virginia, Georgia and Mississippi.

Unmanufactured cotton constituted the principal item of export during the year, foreign shipments of this commodity amounting to $29,772,384. Leaf tobacco foreign shipments finished second in the list, and totalled $17,827,609, and manufactured cotton third with a value of $10,460,298. Crude cotton seed oil made up the only other commodity recorded during the year. It is generally thought that much of our manufactured tobacco is shipped abroad, but no records of such exports are given.

This is the second time in history of government foreign trade statistics that an attempt has been made to show the relative yearly standing of the different states in the competition for foreign trade. The statistics are based on through bills of lading, and, therefore, in the case of some states, they reflect a part of their total foreign trade and for others include goods produced elsewhere.

Very likely North Carolina does not get full credit for her foreign exports. When leaf tobacco, for instance, is shipped direct from Wilson to England on a through bill of lading the state gets credit for the value of the tobacco exported. But when North Carolina products are assembled in points outside the state and then shipped abroad, probably the identity of the state or origin is lost. Thus Virginia, which ranks far below North Carolina in both farm and factory output, is credited with exports valued at more than twice the value credited to North Carolina. Exports from the United States originating in North Carolina are sufficient to maintain a first-class deep-sea port. They are much larger than the Department of Commerce announces, whose totals are based on through bills of lading.

Manxmen Seek New Governor

Douglas, Isle of Man, May 27.—(INS)—The Manx people want a new Governor of the island, but, incidentally, they seem to want an "Admirable Crichton." They are ready to pay him well but there is doubt they will keep him busy.

Pooh-Bah would have had nothing on the Governor of the Isle of Man. Any man who can get away with the job successfully will be something right out of the common.

"The Governor is the most autocratic chief under the British Crown," states Samuel Norris, leading member of the House of Keys—the Manx legislature.

"He calls the Manx legislature together and must preside at every meeting of the Legislative Council—the Manx Senate—and of the Tynwald Court, which is both branches of the House meeting as one body. He must summon the House of Keys, and dissolve that body.

"He is Chancellor of the Exchequer and has a veto on all expenditure. He is captain-general of the island's military forces, and make all insular military appointments, which is solely responsible to him; head of the prison which is staffed by him and under his control; he appoints the magistrates and the justices of the peace; he admits members of the Manx Bar.

"He has the appointment of many other Government officials, including fourteen out of seventeen ministers of the old parish churches.

"He is leader of the island's social life, representative of King George, and practical head of the Church and State in the island. He also has the prerogative of pardon, even of murderers."

The island offers $10,000 a year for the right man. But, if necessary to get the man of their choice, they are prepared to bid a little higher.

How You May Have a Really Fine Complexion

Says Buttermilk Cream and Soap Used Each Night Before Retiring Makes Complexion Soft, Smooth and Beautifully Clear. The old time application of buttermilk and cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and new sallowness was grandmother's recipe, but women throughout the country are again using it, but this time in the form of a delightful new vanishing cream and soap that ensures a beautiful complexion and snow white hands and arms.

Both of these truly wonderful toilet preparations can be obtained at any first-class drug or toilet goods store. Write for a sample for Howard's Buttermilk Cream or Howard's Buttermilk Cream Soap. Each night before retiring the face should be cleansed with warm water, just hot enough for the heat to be pleasant to the skin, and using Howard's Buttermilk Cream Soap. Dry and rub gently, using a little friction. When the skin looks pink and feels soft and warm apply a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream, rubbing well into the pores until completely absorbed. You will find this treatment all that is necessary to keep away fine lines and dangerous wrinkles. Simply use your favorite drug or toilet goods counter for Howard's Buttermilk Cream. Pitt Drug Co., is selling lots of it.

Seamen Like Highbrow Books In Ship Library

New York, May 28.—(AP)—A third mate calling on "The Lady of the Lake" and "The Lay of the Last Minstrel" to add strength to his sea-going remarks is something new under the ocean sun.

Yet these are among the softening changes wrought by the American Merchant Marine Library Association, which, according to its director, Carl W. Shattuck, has scattered a quarter of a million books aboard 75,000 ships riding the seven seas. "Tankers bound for the Far East with oil, coaters off for the Pacific coast, fruit liners trading with South America—anything flying the American flag carries our little cargo of a box of 50 to 100 books along," said Mr. Shattuck. Sometimes four months at a stretch without touching shore, the sailors of the charter are thus able to alternate their "skipping on the decks" by "lying down below" with books that range in price from a Meville's First Reader or a Zane Grey thriller to Wells' "Outline of History" or Willa Cather's "The Professor's House."

The worn looking boxes that bring the "finished" library for exchange into the New York despatch office tell interesting stories of the men and the life aboard ship. Among ships recently fitted out with libraries of over 200 books against the long days at sea were the "Chantier," bound for Spitzbergen with Byrd's expedition, and the "Modoc" the U. S. Coast Guard cutter assigned for international duty.

Just Thought His Wife Could Never Get Well

"Why, Her Recovery is the Most Remarkable I Ever Witnessed, and Has Been the Cause of Hundreds in Our Neighborhood Taking Karnak," Says Rogers

"I don't really believe my wife would ever have been able to have gotten out of bed again if it had not been for Karnak, and words can never express our gratitude for her wonderful recovery," declares L. R. Rogers, of Route No. 5, Spartanburg, S. C.

"I tell you, I just didn't see how my wife could ever be a well person again, and all who know her condition thought the same as I did," continues Mr. Rogers. "I just spent hundreds of dollars but never found anything that did her a particle of good 'til I got Karnak for her."

"Why, her stomach was in such awful condition that she couldn't eat anything but what caused her suffering. Even boiled milk would sour on her stomach, and she would blout with gas 'til she could hardly breathe, and pains would just almost draw her double. She was so nervous she couldn't rest and was so weak and miserable she wasn't able to do a bit of her housework. You don't know how discouraged we were over her condition."

"Well, finally we started on three bottles of the medicine she began improving so fast we could hardly believe it ourselves. She began eating hearty of things she hadn't dared touch before, all the gas and pain left her stomach, and now she eats meats, vegetables and just anything she wants."

"Why, she has simply been restored to perfect health and goes about her work cheerful and happy all the time. I tell you, her recovery has been the most remarkable I ever witnessed, and I guess her case has been the cause of hundreds of people in our neighborhood taking Karnak." Karnak is sold in Greenville by B. S. Warren, and all leading druggists.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Paris, May 28.—(INS)—Woman in woman's favorite topic, judging from the Salon des Femmes Peintres recently opened in the Grand Palais. There are women, women everywhere. Women stare from oval, round or square, oil, pastel and water-color portraits. Society women, fisher-women, blushing girls, old Scandinavians and black negroes are there in frames of every description.

And the women are very generous to their sex, rarely exposing the feminine body to the spectator, only the attractive faces. Nudes are rare in this Salon. One sees only a few nude backs here and there and but one entirely nude figure. Even bathing women are shown in suits to which no American policeman could make objections. One is shown just barely raising her head above the wild waves. Flowers are popular subjects with the women, the Salon presenting the aspect of a veritable little garden in certain corners.

Although elementary education has been nominally compulsory in France for over forty years there are still a number of mayors who do not know how to write. At government offices in Paris which have to deal with local administrative matters, it is not unusual to find official documents on which the space left for the Mayor's signature is marked by a cross which means that the gentleman cannot write. In general, these illiterate mayors belong to small and remote villages, but it is not rare to find the Mayor of a good-sized town almost unable to write a simple discourse.

An international exposition of canary-birds is being planned and will take place in Paris toward the end of the year. French breeders have recently been greatly increasing their commerce of the little yellow song-birds, but France can not yet claim the record for output. Holland is at the head of the list with 100,000 and Germany sells 40,000 annually.

Just where the canary exposition will be held has not yet been decided. One journalist suggests the Palais Bourbon, otherwise known as the Chamber of Deputies. Another thinks that since it is to be an international affair, why not have it at Geneva, in connection with the League of Nations?

Until the very last few years, to don a cap in Paris was to don oneself an apache. For the cap, that most comfortable of all men's headgear, has never enjoyed anything like the popular favor it has always had in America and Great Britain. The Apache has always favored it, while even the little French schoolboy wears a funny little stiff hat set on the top of his head very much like that of his father. The Englishman has always been caricatured wearing a cap, even to going to the Opera in it. Only recently the cap has triumphed with the popularizing of Anglo-Saxon sports in France. But it is still regarded with a certain amount of suspicion and there are many places where one is not welcome in a cap.

Another corner of old Paris is disappearing now that a group of buildings situated between the Quai du Louvre, the rue de la Monnaie and the Place de l'Ecole is being cleared away to make room for the enlargement of a large popular department store. The famous Cafe de Parnasse, owned by Charpentier whose daughter married Danton in 1787 and the Cafe Manoury, the Cabaret of Mother Moreau and "Au Soleil d'Or" which dates from the beginning of the 16th century, are some of the famous buildings which have tumbled.

French wealth with heavy taxation on all speculation. Which is a plan to kill the goose, instead of collecting her golden eggs in taxes.

Germany has good money, but many worries. She wants the League of Nations to disarm every country sufficiently to make every nation too weak to defy the League.

That is impossible. The nations wouldn't consent. And in any case the size of standing armies no longer counts. A flock of flying machines would enable one country to defy half a dozen other countries. And they can be built quickly.

Sir C. G. Walpole, one of Britain's greatest jurists, killed himself yesterday at the age of eighty-eight. Death would have saved him the trouble had he waited a little. But the aged grow impatient.

In Greece and Rome old men committed suicide frequently. One distinguished Greek philosopher, nearing one hundred, tumbled and fell as he left his class, and killed himself because he thought a man unable to keep his feet should not live any longer.

In those days suicide was a matter of taste, and quite respectable.

Shriners Start Parade as Sesquicentennial Opens Philadelphia

Philadelphia, May 28.—(AP)—With all the glamour of a Moroccan fair where ranks are denoted by the number of yards of gold braid worn, the 52nd Imperial Session Council of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will open here on May 30. Starting the day preceding the opening of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, the convention will continue until the following Friday. Each day will see numerous parades and exhibitions, most of them to take place in Philadelphia's new stadium, which will seat 85,000 people.

The program for the first two days consists of sight seeing tours which will include all the principal historical spots in the city. The climax of color and music will come Tuesday morning when a massed band of 1,500 musicians under nationally known leaders appear in a concert. The evening will see a pageant comprising forty floats, depicting scenes from American history and allegorically displaying the progress of Shrinedom. A similar pageant, representing the industries of Philadelphia, has been arranged for Thursday evening.

Thousands of private homes will be thrown open to the visitors while at least 30,000 others plan to live in Pullman cars.

Business sessions will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. During that time the Imperial Council will act on petitions for Temple charters, elect national officers, hear reports, and formulate plans for the next twelve months.

Shrine Clubs have been in existence for more than fifty years the first temple being Mecca Temple, New York, formed in 1872. At present there are 158 temples in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Reprinting Stories, Authors Complain

Cambridge, Mass., May 28.—(AP)—That magazine publishers are reprinting without remuneration or explanation stories from issues ten years dead, is disclosed in a letter from Perriton Maxwell, which is commented upon in "The Writer."

This is another phase of the battle which authors have been conducting before the committee on the new copyright law.

Maxwell, a former editor of several magazines, said that one of his stories which first appeared in 1908 was reprinted in the May issue of another magazine. When Maxwell applied for further remuneration he learned that when he endorsed his first payment check he signed away all rights to the story. "The author is justified in complaining when one of his maiden efforts re-appears without explanation, when he is doing more polished work," said W. D. Kennedy, editor of "The Writer." "Of course Mr. Maxwell has no legal standing. This practice should be combatted before it gains recognition by precedent. "Since the success of the two magazines which are composed entirely of reprinted material—
