TOBACCO CO-OPS CASE HEARD IN FEDERAL COURT

The Association Must Show Cause Why It Should Not Be Dissolved; Directors Hold Meet

Raleigh, June 1.—(AP)—The board of directors of the Tri-State Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association adjourned here this afternoon after a three and a half hour meeting without coming to a definite decision as to whether or not 1923 deliveries should be received.

Shortly after adjournment of the meeting it was announced that the Association case in Federal Court formerly set for this evening would be heard at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Association must show cause why it should not be dissolved.

The directors of the Association were expected to meet again either late today or tomorrow morning after the Federal Court hearing.

George A. Norwood, of Goldsboro, was re-elected president and other officers were also re-elected at today's meeting.

The committee which has had charge of the Association's affairs since the resignation of R. R. Patterson, as general manager weeks ago, announced at today's meeting that tobacco sales totaling approximately $1,000,000 have been made since the committee took charge.

Editor is Given Jail Sentence and Is Fined $5,000

Baltimore, June 1.—(AP)—Managing Editor, Harold E. Eliston, of the Baltimore News, today was sentenced to one day in jail and fined $5,000 by criminal court Judge Eugene O'Dunne, for contempt of court in the publication of court room pictures of the Whittemore murder trial on May 21.

City editor, Harry Clark, of the News; managing editor Earl C. Deland, of the Baltimore American, and William Klem and William Sturn, photographers for the newspapers, each were sentenced to one day in jail with no fines. Counsel for the newspaper men filed notice of appeal and Judge O'Dunne admitted them to bail.

MAILER OF BOMB IS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE TODAY

Asa K. Bartlett Must Serve Life Imprisonment for Murder of Three People

Muskegon, Mich., June 1.—(AP)—Circuit Court Judge John Vanderwerp today sentenced Asa K. Bartlett to life imprisonment for the murder of August Krubaech, his daughter Janet, and her fiancé William Frank, who were killed by a bomb Thursday.

Judge Vanderwerp expressed regret that the state law does not provide for capital punishment. "You should be sentenced to death," Judge Vanderwerp said, "but it is useless for me to talk to you. Maybe in later years you will realize something of the dastardly crime you have committed. The sentence is that you be confined in the State House of Correction at Marquette, for the rest of your life."

Bartlett was secretly arraigned shortly after eight o'clock this morning and then was taken into Circuit Court. The prisoner wore his old army uniform, being a world war veteran. Judge Vanderwerp talked with him in private a few minutes and then imposed sentence. Bartlett, who admitted the mailing of the bomb because of political enmity toward Krubaech, who was township supervisor, showed no emotion and bowed politely to the judge as sentence was pronounced. He was immediately started on his trip to Marquette.

It was two years ago that township politics involved Krubaech and Bartlett in bitter opposition to each other. Bartlett, in his confession expressed regret that the bomb killed Janet and Frank. "It was for Krubaech alone," he said. "I conceived the idea only last Wednesday of sending the bomb through the mail, and so went to Montague and purchased the wrapper stickers and then brought the package directly to the Muskegon postoffice and mailed it," confessed Bartlett. "I did not know the bomb had killed Krubaech and the other two until I was informed by the officers early Friday morning."

Refusing the services of the attorneys engaged by his father, Bartlett told officers he wanted to be on his way to the prison as soon as possible. "It hate to leave my folks. They need me, but as far as my own life is concerned, it makes no difference. I am content," he said.

Muskegon, Mich., June 1.—(AP)—Asa K. Bartlett, 28 year old Blue Lake Township constable, started two years ago on construction of the bomb which he sent through the mails last Thursday, causing the death of August Krubaech, his daughter, Janet, and her fiancé, William Frank. This was revealed when Bartlett's confession was made public today.

"I thought that maybe I would want to use it," Bartlett explained.

Revival Services Close in Vanceboro

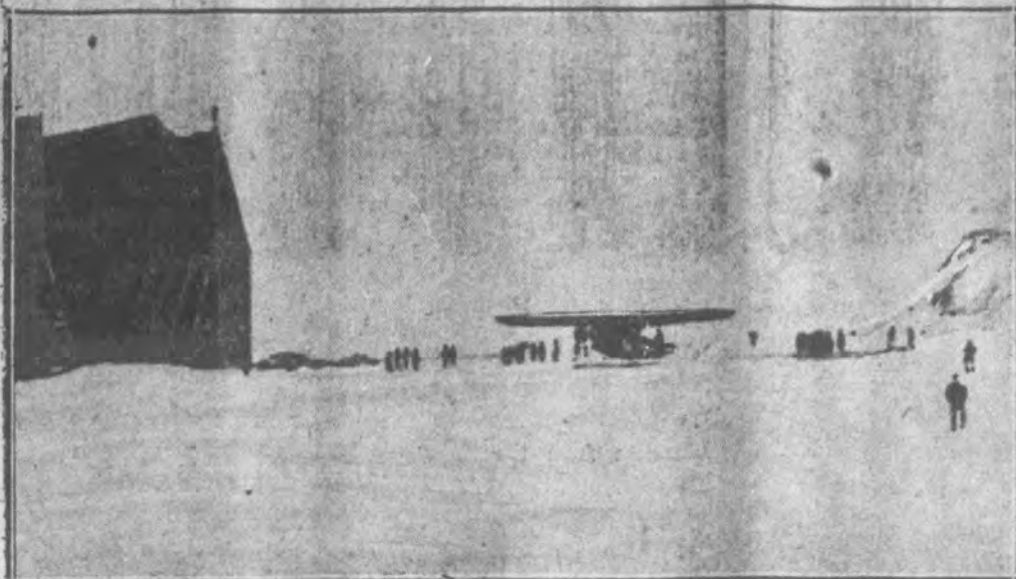

Rev. John C. Cowell, Jr., and his evangelistic party, on Sunday evening closed a most successful three-weeks revival services in Vanceboro. The services were largely attended by people within a distance of thirty miles. The entire community was stirred by the campaign and great interest was manifested.

There were over 400 professions of faith and 250 prayer services were held. Men's and women's Federations were organized and are doing good work. The party passed through Greenville today enroute to Fayetteville. On Sunday, June 13, the party will begin revival services in the Jacksonville court house.

MR. W. C. MONROE ROTARIANS HELD TO GIVE RECITAL TEACHERS COLLEGE

The Alumnae Association of the East Carolina Teachers College, will on Monday evening, June 7th, at 8:30 o'clock, in the college auditorium, present Mr. William Clegg Monroe, baritone, in a recital.

Mr. Monroe is a native North Carolinian and was born in Greensboro. He possesses a voice of an unusual lovely quality, at once sympathetic and powerful, and he commands a beautiful pianissimo which carries. His repertoire, complete in variety, includes operatic airs in original languages; modern art songs, especially French, in which he reveals a diction which sounds like a Frenchman born. His voice has made him hosts of admirers and friends wherever he has taken his appearances in New York City, where he gained in competition the position of baritone soloist at the Second Presbyterian church.

Mr. Monroe has studied with W. Henri Zay and Mr. Frank La Forge in New York, besides attending the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore.

Mr. Eugene Craft, pianist, will accompany Mr. Monroe. The members of the Alumnae Association consider themselves indeed fortunate in securing Mr. Monroe and a cordial invitation is extended to the public. There will be no charge for admission.

Trustees of U. N. C. Hold Semi-Annual Session Today

Chapel Hill, June 1.—(AP)—The board of trustees of the University of North Carolina meeting here today in semi-annual session, elected Deans of the law and journalism schools, increased the salary of the University president and handled minor matters.

Dr. A. L. Greene, professor of law at the University of Texas, was elected dean of the law school to take office in the fall of 1927.

Oscar J. Coffin, formerly editor of the Raleigh Times, was elected Dean of the school of journalism to take office in the fall of 1926.

MR. W. C. MONROE ROTARIANS HELD TO GIVE RECITAL TEACHERS COLLEGE

The Hi Y club, Y. W. C. A. leaders and several members of the Washington Rotary club were guests of the local Rotarians last night. An interesting program was greatly enjoyed.

Rev. H. F. Jones gave a short talk on his recent visit to Texas, where he attended the Southern Baptist Convention. Following his talk Mr. R. H. Wright gave an interesting talk on the Jefferson Centennial Election and urged the support of the various organizations to this movement. He explained its purpose and commended the work.

The Hi Y club was welcomed by Mr. W. H. Dall, and the remainder of the program was in their charge. Messrs. K. T. Putrell and H. H. Duncan, leaders of the local Hi Y gave short and interesting talks. C. A. Witherspoon, Y. M. C. A. executive officer of this district told of the work which the Hi Y club is doing.

Joe Dresback, Jack Tripp and Albert Jones gave short talks regarding Hi Y work, its purposes and accomplishments.

Mr. Carl Goerch of the Washington Rotary Club in behalf of the members of his club, expressed great pleasure at being present at such a delightful meeting.

THEY DANCED CHARLESTON ON GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

Pittsfield, Mass., June 1.—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. William Haskins, 74 and 68, respectively, danced the Charleston on their golden wedding day anniversary.

Fifty guests were present, including children and grand-children, when the happy old couple created a sensation as they stepped into the center of the floor at Wayside Inn, Dalton, and tripped the light fantastic with the agility of youth.

MRS. E. W. HARPER DIED EARLY TODAY

Mrs. E. W. Harper died this morning in the Wilmington hospital following several days' illness. Funeral services will be conducted from the home of her son, Mr. Frank Brown, of this city, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Interment will take place in the City Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Harper was a daughter of the late Major Louis Latham of this city, and was twice married, her first husband being the late Dr. Frank Brown of this city. She made her home here for a number of years and is remembered by a host of friends.

The remains will reach Greenville tomorrow morning.

Reynolds Says He Will Carry 61 Counties

Raleigh, June 1.—(AP)—Robert R. Reynolds, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senate, claims that he will carry 61 counties and be nominated by a majority of 25,000 in the primary of Saturday, in a statement issued through the Union Herald Trade Union Journal. Mr. Reynolds opposes Senator Lee S. Overman for the nomination.

"I can state authoritatively that I will carry 61 counties," he said. "This my last statement before the primary and the knowledge of the state-wide situation after a conservative estimate I am sure of a majority of 25,000."

FILIPINO STUDENTS PLEDGE ASSISTANCE TO ILLITERATES

Manila, P. I., June 1.—(AP)—Members of the National Federation of Filipino students numbering about 5,000 have signed a pledge to teach at least one illiterate adult every year. Two text books are in preparation for use in the campaign.

One book will consist of reading and writing exercises; the other will embrace geography, history, civics, morals, hygiene and sanitation.

WYOMING COAL SUFFICIENT TO SUPPLY U. S. 2000 YEARS

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 1.—(AP)—Wyoming has coal beds sufficient at the present rate of consumption to supply the entire United States for 2,000 years, said Albert B. Bartlett, state geologist.

CHICAGO BANDIT GOES TO TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

Gauntlet Through Which Martin J. Durkin Shot Way to Freedom Leads Him to Court Room

Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—The gauntlet through which Martin J. Durkin, Chicago bandit, twice shot his way to freedom, today led him to the court room to face the first of two murder charges and to confront as possible witnesses against him, three former sweethearts.

The trial is for the fatal shooting of Edwin Shanahan, Federal agent, whose death started the long hunt for Durkin, which terminated as his capture in St. Louis several months ago. Shanahan was killed when he sought for an automobile theft in a garage here last fall. The defense contends that Durkin had a large sum of money on him at the time and that he shot in the belief that it was a bandit. The unknown element in the trial is the testimony of the three, two of them Durkin deserted, and the third as Irma Sullivan, 18-year-old girl who married the youth during a brief stop in his flight to the Pacific coast. She was with him when he was arrested at St. Louis.

Betty Werner, the girl who deserted her husband for Durkin, and who was in turn deserted by him, is relied upon by the state as one of its principal witnesses. The prosecution expects to obtain from her story of the Shanahan shooting, although she did not witness it. Irma Sullivan may testify if it is established that she is Durkin's legal wife. For which side she will appear, is uncertain. The state wants her to tell what Durkin related about his affairs on their visit to California.

The third feminine figure is Ruth Fieback, who appeared after Durkin was captured and announced herself as his legal wife and obtained a divorce.

Expresses Fear That Wild Life America Will Be Wiped Out

New York, June 1.—(AP)—Civilization will wipe out the wild life of America in 100 years, birds and fish unless protective measures are taken, in the opinion of Dr. William T. Hornaday, who retires after 30 years of service today as director of the New York Zoological Park.

Washington Irvin Rammed by Tanker

New York, June 1.—(AP)—With 600 passengers aboard, the Washington Irvin, prior of the Hudson River Albany New York Fleet, was rammed by a tanker off Hoboken, New Jersey today and sank. All passengers were reported rescued before the vessel sank.

Captain Derog reported that his boat was struck by a tanker which appeared suddenly in the fog and after the collision apparently continued on its way. The whole affair happened so quickly that no one on the passenger boat was able to obtain the name of the tanker. A large hole was ripped in the Washington Irvin just back of her port paddle.

SEES NO OPPORTUNITY ANOTHER TAX REDUCTION FOR SEVERAL YEARS

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—President Coolidge sees no opportunity for another tax reduction for several years despite the apparent surplus which will be available at the close of the fiscal year, June 30th.

TODAY

(Copyright 1926) One Ton Tom. No Church to Sue. The Jail Complains. Ask Lloyd George. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Ancient riders like tumbrels and strangely deformed creatures about them. In that respect the human race is not entirely changed.

In Los Angeles an undertaker builds an unusual coffin for Theodore Valenzuela, known to the circus as "One-Ton Tom." He weighed 845 pounds.

People paid to see him. If he had weighed only forty-five pounds they would have paid to see him, and if he had had two heads, far or thin, they would have paid more.

With "One-Ton Tom" and everybody else too fat, the trouble is over-eating or defective metabolism. Part of our energy creates new tissue. Another part gets rid of old tissue. When old tissue stays, you get fat.

Beware of fat after fifty. It shortens life.

The good Bishop William Montgomery Brown, put out of the Episcopal Church for doing his own thinking, tried to compel the church by legal procedure to take him back. His lawyers sued "the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America."

But the court says "here is no such organization, no such thing for Bishop Brown to sue to his suit falls to the ground."

The aged Bishop is puzzled to know how an organization could be real enough to throw him out, and not real enough to stand a lawsuit. There are more mysterious things than that in religion.

We are all influenced by them. Students have protested against "unfairness and cruelty" that forced human beings to be present at religious services every day. So university officials made chapel attendance no longer compulsory.

New the prisoners in jail at New Haven, Conn. say they also consider it "unfair and cruel" to make them go to chapel every day. They want the same rights as Yale students. But they are willing to go to church once a week, whereas the Yale men demanded the right to stay away altogether. This shows how cruel we should be to set a good example.

For about thirty years the British have tried to get rid of Lloyd George and then have begged him to get to work and save them.

When he made wealth bear a fair part of the costs of government, the Tory party said he was a curse, and the Liberals practically disowned him. They would all take their money from England to the Continent. But England had such a boom as it never had before, and they changed their minds about Lloyd George.

War came, Lloyd George first supplied the money, then supplied munitions, then brought about the end of the war by compelling the allies to unite under a French marshal. Then Lloyd George was the great, glorious saviour of Great Britain.

Now because he tells the truth about a dangerous strike, the Liberal party wants to get rid of him. Presently, there will be more serious trouble. Then they will say, "Lloyd George, we didn't mean it. Please go to work again." For information about "man's ingratitude" ask Lloyd George.

King George, wise enough not to do or say anything, is the most popular man in Britain.

SEARCH LINVILLE GORGE IN EFFORT LOCATE FUGITIVE

Officers Enter Pocket of Hills Searching for Melton Hotchkiss Wanted for Murder

Morganton, June 1.—(AP)—Linville gorge, an almost inaccessible pocket of the hills near here, was the scene of the search today for Melton Hotchkiss, who is wanted for the murder of Robert Burleson, in whose home at Linville Falls young Hotchkiss was a boarder up until the fatal shooting Sunday night. Two deputy sheriffs of Burke county, with a group of citizens entered the gorge at dawn heavily armed. They were confident that they would come upon the fugitive in his place of hiding before night-fall.

Mrs. Burleson insists that her husband shot himself when he returned home about nine o'clock Sunday evening. The sheriff's office says, but her story is discredited by the authorities.

The coroner's jury found Burleson could not have fired the shot which caused his death. According to the sheriff of Avery county, the theory of the officers of the two counties investigating the case is that Burleson returned to his home and was shot down without warning as he struck a match to light a lamp. When the sheriff arrived, Mrs. Burleson told him she was in bed when the shooting occurred. Hotchkiss, who was known to have been in the house at the time, and fled. Friends of the two men say they knew of no trouble between them.

Greenville Women Meet in Interest of Jefferson Memorial

Monday afternoon a number of the women of Greenville met in the basement auditorium of the Memorial Baptist church in the interest of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial. Miss Grace Davis, of the State Headquarters made an inspiring talk on the Foundation. She explained that it is an incorporation directed by some of the most prominent men of the country, and that the Foundation's object is to restore Monticello, to free it of all debt, and to endow it heavily enough to keep it in perfect condition. It is the hope of the Foundation that Monticello, free and endowed, may be presented to the Nation during 1926, our country's 160th birthday year.

Miss Davis explained the method the Foundation is using to raise the necessary money for this undertaking. Each state has a chairman. North Carolina's is the Hon. Walter Murphy, of Salisbury. As an inducement to workers, a free trip to Europe is given to a daughter of the state for every $5,000 raised. This trip is more than an ordinary trip to Europe because the young ladies elected, are invited to go as honor delegates on America's birthday party, which is to be a tour composed of strictly representative citizens of the United States.

Miss Davis explained that not a penny of the money contributed to the Jefferson Memorial goes to pay the honor delegate's expenses on the trip. For every ninth person who joins America's birthday party, the company conducting the tour, gives a free passage. In this way the honor delegates go with no expense to the Jefferson Memorial Foundation.

Miss Davis urged the women of Greenville to cooperate in every way possible with the local chairman and committees in helping Eastern North Carolina take a worthy part in establishing a memorial to the birth of Independence, and in having East Carolina represented at America's birthday party.

Immediately after Miss Davis spoke, Mrs. E. W. Harvey was elected chairman of the women's work in Greenville. Mrs. Harvey said she would do all she could to further this patriotic undertaking and she hoped that the women whom she would appoint on various committees would also willingly best their efforts to promote this national project.

Descendants of Sioux and Old Seventh to Join in Big Tribute

Denver, May 29.—(AP)—An anniversary has seen the signal fire of the three mighty Sioux burn blazing in the valley of the Little Big Horn.

Time has erased the ridge pole trails for the pillars of the Rosebud and the passing years have quenched the flame kindled at the battle of the Little Big Horn. But the story of the heroic struggle remains one of the romantic chapters in frontier life.

Next month in the valley of the Little Big Horn river, in southern Montana, where on June 25, 1876, General George Armstrong Custer led five companies of the Seventh cavalry to slaughter the new Seventh, under command of General Porcupine Lee, will face 3,000 descendants of these Sioux and Cheyenne warriors who killed Custer's battalions. But these Indians and cavalrymen will unite in a grand tribute to the memory of the Red and white man's dead. The ceremony under the auspices of the Custer Memorial Association will be in commemoration of the centennial of the famous battle.

A thousand Crow, allies of Custer for reasons of their hatred of the Sioux, who gathered upon the battle-hunting ground, will be remembered nearby. They will participate in the revel of dances, social ceremonies, sports and customs of half century ago.

Both this and the Sioux, a reproduction of the battle scene on the Rosebud, the strategy, with regiments hand holding torches "Garry Coward" the Seventh's famous fighting time, will swing on to the battle battleground. As the troopers approach the knoll where Custer, with his five detachments made their last stand, the band will play a funeral dirge. From the valley below will come the Indians, chanting their death songs. At the crest of the hill, near a great monument on which has been carved the names of the fallen whites, these two forces will meet in friendship.

General Lee and Chauncey Yellow Robe, a nephew of Sitting Bull, will smoke the pipe of peace and bury the tomahawk. Memorial addresses will follow, with General E. S. Godfrey, one of the four surviving officers of Custer's Seventh, as one of the speakers. A message is expected from Mrs. Custer, the general's widow, who has always declined to visit the battleground because of the emotions she has feared it would arouse.

At the field where Reno's two battalions stood off the wily Chief Gail and his Hunopapa braves, a memorial will be dedicated to the men who fell there. Then tape will sound once more down the valley.

At the close of the Civil war, Custer, Devin and Merritt, Sheridan's divisional commanders, were commissioned lieutenant colonels and brevetted brigadier generals in the U. S. Army. On July 28, 1866, the Seventh cavalry was organized with Custer as lieutenant colonel, A. J. Smith, Col. Alfred Gibbs, Maj. and such names as Benton, Keosh, West, Barnitz, Moylan, Comgere and Thomas W. Custer, among the commissioned personnel.

Following an expedition into the Black Hills to protect the hundreds pouring into the new Eldorado in 1874, an outbreak of the Sioux claimed Custer's presence in the field. In 1875, his services on the northern plains began opposite the mouth of the Tongue river in Montana. On June 22, 1876, he set out from old Fort Lincoln on his ill-fated expedition in search of the village of hostile Sioux; moved twelve miles up the Rosebud and camped. The next day the march continued for thirty-three miles, passing many dim lodge pole trails.

On June 24, the column again moved forward, making camp at twenty-four miles. Indian signs were growing fresher. At eleven o'clock that night the column was called out and ordered ahead, turning to the right near the divide between the Rosebud and Little Big Horn. About 2 a. m. June 25, the column halted for three hours, made coffee, then resumed its forced march. It crossed the divide and by eight a. m. was in the valley of one of the branches of Little Big Horn. By this time the Indians had been sighted, and as it now was certain that they could not be surprised, it was determined to attack.

Nude Paintings in Paris Cause Press to Call It Bedroom

Paris, May 31.—(INS)—"It isn't a salon, but a bedroom," is one of the press comments on the Spring Salon of 1926 which has just opened at the Grand Palais with an array of nude paintings such as the public has become accustomed to expect from the original artists in Paris.

But if a large number of the 3,500 works exhibited are of women with scanty clothing, all visitors agree that most of them reach a fair level of excellence. The greatest number of those exhibiting are foreigners and Americans are not too few. Perhaps one of the most beautiful things in the sculpture section is Rudolph Evans' bronze "Aphrodite." It is pure Greek in feeling, a standing nude figure with one arm raised above the head and a classic turn partly covered by folds of drapery at her side.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is showing the plaster group from the memorial commemorating the landing of the American troops at Saint-Nazaire. It is a gigantic statue, thirty metres high, representing an American soldier perched on the back of an eagle with outstretched wings in the act of alighting upon French soil. The statue will be set up at the entry of the port where the first American troops disembarked in 1917.

Barbara Herbert, of New York, another young American artist, has sent a lovely marble bust and a plastic bath.

Among the painters, is the dean of American artists in Paris, F. A. Bridgman, showing "Un sold de Mard a Touggourt" and "Femmes d'Alger," two brilliant small canvases. George Howland has a most remarkable study of the landscape of the Pas de Calais and Gertraud Hill a "Tea on the Balcony."

Alexander Harrison, a well-known figure in the art life of Paris, has four pictures of great merit: "La Marse," "Solitudes," "Images," and "Le Midi." Anna Klumpke, a pupil of Rosa Bonheur, shows a stunning flower study in brilliant color.

Among the landscapists, there is Miss B. Cummings with marines Mr. Doskey, with an autumn scene and Mr. Hamilton, with a study of the austere beauty of Toledo.

There are also many portraits which should not escape notice. Every subject under the sun has been treated by the artists this year. There are fishing scenes, in occasions, equestrian, crosses, St. Anthony in a dozen different other monument will be dedicated. This one is constructed of Kettle River Sandstone. It also bears historical inscriptions.

The expedition is sponsored by the Governors and historical societies of Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

German Crown Family Lives In Quiet and Ease

Berlin, May 28.—(AP)—Prince and Princess Joachim of Hohenzollern were having tea at one of the embassies. This Joachim is a second cousin of the former Kaiser and of the same name is the son who committed suicide. The Princess, during a pause in the conversation, turned to her husband and said:

"Don't you think we had better go now? You know, I have to put the children to bed."

"O yes, so you do," he replied. "It's the girl's night out."

Prince and Princess Joachim live simply in a small apartment with one servant, probably on an allowance from the Kaiser's family on his payroll.

The Crown Prince is not one of those receiving a dote from the head of the house. He has more private property than any other German royal except his father and Ruprecht of Bavaria.

The four other sons of the Kaiser live comfortably on their allowances of 24,000 marks each from their father. Each is understood to have some fragments of private income and they pay no house rent. Eitel Fritz and his wife have the villa Inghelheim at Potsdam, which was built for the morganatic wife of King Frederick William II of Prussia.

Prince Albrecht bought a house at Hamburg and lives there. Prince and Princess August William have the villa Liegnitz in Potsdam. This villa also has a plot. It was the residence of the morganatic wife of Frederick William III, a Countess von Harich who was created a princess on her marriage.

Prince Ostar, the fifth son of the Kaiser, was expelled from the family by his father under the requirements of the so-called house law of the Hohenzollerns for having married beneath him. His wife was a daughter of the Count von Basewitz-Lewetow, the prime minister of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. However, Ostar was reinstated by his father in 1920. Oscar and his wife also live in Potsdam. He worked until recently in a Berlin bank.

It is not easy for a prince to obtain employment just because he is a prince. One of the young grand-dukes of the Baden family applied to a magnet factory at Karlsruhe for a position. He brought a letter of introduction from an intimate friend of the manager.

"I regret that I cannot employ you," said the manager in substance. "We have 2,000 men on the waiting list. If we gave a job to a prince they would tear down the factory."

AIRDALE MAMMA MOTHERS SILVER FOX PUPPIES

Wausau, Wis., May 29.—(INS)—A litter of silver fox pups, valued at $500 each, has been adopted by an airdale female on a silver fox farm near here, it was revealed today by Dr. L. J. O'Reilly, registrar of the American National Fox Breeders' Association.

When the mother fox deserted her litter the ranches transferred the little foxes to the care of the airdale by removing one of her puppies at a time and substituting foxes. The airdale is not mothering three silver foxes and three small airdales.

Proves Mother Is Your Closest Friend

Jersey City, Mr. J. Paul writes: "I awakened each morning with an unpleasant taste and was often reminded by my Mother that my breath was disagreeable. I tried perfumed tablets, mouth washes and other camouflages which gave temporary relief. After consulting my dentist and finding my teeth in good condition, a friend suggested my trouble was constipation. After taking a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills my stomach and bowels were relieved, foul and impure gases eliminated." Druggists, 25 & 75c red packages.

EAT TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. I made no very unfavorable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164

VOTE FOR M. K. BLOUNT FOR STATE SENATE

The great agricultural county of Pitt ought to have in the Senate of North Carolina a man who understands thoroughly the conditions of the farmer—not merely THEORETICALLY but PRACTICALLY.

He should have a direct personal interest in the farmer; he should know his needs; his cares; his grinding, burdensome taxes, and his inherent rights.

He should be so closely identified with the farming interest that he will be able to see that the farmer has a "square deal"—nothing more, nothing less. Of course he should stand for all the important interest of the county and see that none of them in any way suffer.

Mr. M. K. Blount of Greenville is eminently fitted for this important and responsible position. He is in the prime of vigorous young manhood; alert, and progressive. He is learned in the law and familiar with parliamentary usage. This gives him a great advantage in a deliberate body. He owns and operates a farm and has an interest in a number of others. This gives him full and accurate knowledge of the farmer's condition.

Into one brand—Camel—we put the utmost quality

THE largest tobacco organization in the world makes one cigarette—Camel. Into this one brand goes all of the desire to please, all of the skill to serve of the world's largest organization of tobacco experts.

The day Camel went on the market, it found favor with smokers. Each year new millions have claimed it the one and only smoke. Never before or since in the history of smoking has there been a success like Camels.

Only a cigarette of utmost quality could make and keep so many millions of friends. Only a cigarette containing the choicest tobaccos grown could merit world leadership in cigarette sales. Camel tobaccos are the finest—and they are so carefully blended that they never tire the taste, no matter how liberally you smoke them, Camels never leave a cigarette after-taste.

We believe you will find in Camels the thrill of pleasure that only the world's finest and best can give. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made, at any price.

Have a Camel! R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

The life of Zack P. Vandyke is the story of a life of devotion to high standards. Coming to this county while still a boy, he early showed the splendid characteristics which made him successful in business, esteemed as a citizen, and beloved as a friend. He was born in Vance county in 1876, but lived in Greenville after the year 1895. He was happily married to Miss Adelaide Taft in 1906, and besides his widow, he leaves five children. His devotion to his family was one of the beautiful chapters of his life.

The life of few men, day by day, was cleaner and more useful than his. Though diligent in his business interests, he had time to serve his community, and was always interested in public advancement. For many years prior to his death he was a city alderman, establishing by his upright ideals, a reputation for cleanness and honest service in public affairs.

To be generally liked and to hold the confidence of many is a privilege that is rarely enjoyed, but Zack P. Vandyke was one of the privileged few. His ready sympathy, his fine sense of equity, and his lively optimism made him a friend sought after and loved.

His genuineness of his smile and handclasp carried conviction. Unobtrusive, yet possessed of forcefulness and strength, retiring, yet capable, he was a man to command admiration and respect.

Perhaps in no organization will these attributes be missed more deeply than in the church of which he was a member. As a deacon, and as treasurer, he worthily served his Master and his church. No personal sacrifice was too great for him to make in filling his offices.

His fine spirit was felt in all the departments of church life which is richer for his sustained interest in it and active service to it.

Zack P. Vandyke, the Christian gentleman, has passed on, but the memory of his faithful, useful life will linger on through the years to bless and to inspire.

Whereas, Zack P. Vandyke, member of this church, holding the offices of Deacon and Treasurer, died on April 15th, 1926.

And Whereas, brother Vandyke was a loyal, influential, active and dependable member of this church and filled the offices conferred upon him in a most acceptable and praiseworthy manner.

And Whereas, it is our desire to express in a formal way our gratitude to God for his life and service as a member of our church and his Christian spirit as a citizen and a man and for his faithfulness and affection as a father.

Be it now resolved:

1st.—That we do hereby embody these sentiments as an expression of our appreciation of him, his life and service.

2nd.—That we do extend to the family our sympathy and love.

3rd.—That we place upon the minutes of our church these resolutions with a short sketch of his life to be prepared by this committee as a part of the same.

LIBRARY NEWS

The year 1926 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the American Library Association and in many respects the birth of the American Library movement. To signalize this year, the Association will hold an anniversary conference in Atlantic City and Philadelphia, the week of October 4, 1926. Every country in the world has been invited and reports say that many foreign countries are already making plans for representative attendance. The Historic Society of Pennsylvania, which was host to the American Library Association when it was organized October 6, 1876, will again receive the A. L. A. at a special meeting in Philadelphia on October 6.

The investigation of the A. L. A. reveals the startling fact that there are still 51 million people in the United States and Canada who do not have access to public libraries which fact shows that there is much still to be done in library development, and so the anniversary conference will spend more time in planning the future than in voicing past achievements. Greenville should feel proud to be outside the 51 millions lacking library privileges and to be among those who are marking progress. But continued progress will come, not by voicing our has been a busy month for outside activities, there has been a circulation of 1,688 books and of this number, there have been 251 non-fiction, 567 for juniors, and 36 sent from the State Library Commission. 104 people have done reference work in the library for the month and 35 new names and renewals have been added to the readers' list.

Now that school is closing and hot weather is approaching, all of you will plan to do one of three things: not to touch a book until next fall; or, just to pick up a book now and then on rainy days; or, to decide that while taking a vacation there will be pleasure and profit in a moderate amount of well planned summer reading. If you have time and energy and two or three months' freedom, you will be wise to set some sort of goal for the summer's reading, with the goal reached, you will find a certain enjoyment in the added treasures to your mental equipment.

The past week, one girl made the remark in the library that she intended to use the high school reading course this summer and probably write up some of her next year's requirements. We do not urge the latter part of the plan, but we should like to see more young people select some of the books that will be required next year and read them this summer, for pure pleasure, and we know they will find pleasure in reading them if the thought of requirement is left out. Then, when they come up in the course of the year's work there will be a certain satisfaction in making the necessary report. The Reserve Shelf will be continued for the summer and we shall add some new ones to the list so if you want to adopt a "summer plan" of going ahead of the high school course you may do so.

HON. S. J. EVERETT MADE FINE RECORD IN SENATE

Senator S. J. Everett who has served two terms in the upper house of the North Carolina State Legislature, made a fine record while attending the two sessions, which honor he accepted as a personal sacrifice to himself financially, and now that he has consented to be a candidate for the third term at the request of many of his friends, it is the opinion of this paper that the county would lose valuable legislation should Mr. Everett not be elected for the third term.

When a new man goes to the legislature it takes some time for him to become familiar with the workings of that body and he cannot possibly get through legislation for his constituents that one man can who is acquainted with the grinding order of the legislative mill.

Mr. Everett was appointed to revise and bring up-to-date the laws of the State and index all of the Statutory laws, and he, as a member of the Senate, together with two members of the House, supervised and did the work. This was one of the most honorable positions given to any member of the Senate during the term. Mr. Everett also held prominent positions on highways, finance and appropriations committees, was chairman of Committee on Propositions and Grievances, to which all promiscuous bills were assigned and he was recognized as one of the leading members of the Senate.

Mr. Everett started the work on some legislation for Pitt county that would mean much to this section if put through and we would like to see him re-elected for the third term. It is not our policy to take any active part in the election of any particular candidate who is running for office but we believe that the voters would be doing an unwise thing in not returning Mr. Everett to the Senate. The legislators are not rewarded financially and it is only with a desire of serving their fellow man that they accept the responsibility.

VOTE VOTE RIGHT VOTE EARLY

Next Saturday is the day on which every citizen has the privilege to express his or her desire as to the officers who are to administer the laws in our county, state and nation during the next few years, and it is the duty of every citizen to take a part in this choice. First of all, it is imperative that men of character and ability be chosen to office if our affairs are to be properly administered and this should be the first consideration of the voters.

There are other suggestions that, if followed, will aid greatly in the handling at the polls here Saturday and will to great extent, avoid the congestion experienced in former years.

Indications are that the largest number of women on record will cast their vote in this city Saturday and suitable arrangement for taking care of these voters should be made. The registration books are reported to be arranged in such a way that it would be possible to maintain separate voting boxes for the women and men voters, and this by all means, should be done. Local voters are also urged to do their voting early in the day as far as possible in order that congestion during the latter hours of the day might be avoided.

In brief, when Saturday comes, by all means VOTE, VOTE RIGHT, AND VOTE EARLY!

A WAR OF INVENTIONS

In his speech at the unveiling of the memorial to John Ericsson, President Coolidge declared that the victory of the Monitor "did for the Union cause on the sea what the Battle of Gettysburg was later to do for it on land." This tribute to the man who invented the turreted ironclad is in accord with the matured judgment of historians. Indeed, it would hardly be overstating the case to say that the Civil War was won by two mechanical inventions. Ericsson's Monitor assured the maintenance of the blockade just as it was seriously threatened by the Confederate ironclad Merrimac; and the blockade was one of the Union's most effective weapons in subduing the Confederacy.

But the Federal fighting strength was enormously increased by another invention, whose service was less spectacular. This was the McCormick reaper. It helped the Northern farmers to raise bumper crops of grain and forage despite the drawing of much labor supply into the military service. At the height of the conflict this improved machinery enabled the country to supply its full war requirements and also to export more foodstuffs than in any preceding peace years. Between 1861 and 1863 Europe experienced crop failures and the United States was actually saving overseas people from famine while fighting the greatest war in its history.

Inventions helped win the war; an invention caused it. The part which Eli Whitney's cotton gin played in perpetuating and spreading slavery, thereby producing an economic, political and social differentiation between the sections which eventually resulted in disunion and bloodshed, is something which every high-school pupil should understand.

The Civil War was a war of inventions. The World War was prolific of new mechanical and chemical devices, offensive and defensive, but none of these had such a far-reaching effect on the course of that struggle as did the inventions of Ericsson and McCormick on the War Between the States. —New York World.

U. S. C. Squad Promises Heavy Battle for Title

Los Angeles, May 31.—(INS)—With six weeks of spring training rounding them off to a brilliant polish, Coach Howard Jones' football men today begin to resemble the Pacific Coast College Champions of 1926. The University of Southern California, although represented by wonder teams in the past, has never won the Far West title.

This year, with an excellent mess of material, a good coach and a wisely arranged schedule, the Trojans feel themselves the preordained leaders of the Pacific coast conference. The U. S. C. team last year finished a checked twelve-game schedule by dropping a 17 to 2 decision to Washington State. The Cougars thus retrieved a disastrous season at the expense of the Trojans and the latter blamed the unwieldy schedule.

The present schedule calls for only nine games—six of which are with members of the Pacific Coast conference—Washington State, Stanford, California, Oregon Aggies, Idaho and Montana. If the Trojans can eliminate this redoubtable half a dozen they will have earned their first Pacific Coast title.

Boston Preacher Advocates Flogging

Boston, May 29.—(INS)—Flogging for youthful robbers, patrons of bootleggers, wife-beaters and sinners against children is recommended by Rev. William Harman Van Allen.

The famous clergyman does not believe bobbed hair is responsible for feminine crime as represented by bobbed-haired girl bandits.

Dr. Van Allen believes in the case of young bandits that flogging would be much more beneficial than to imprison them with older, more hardened criminals. He is against capital punishment because the sentence cannot be rescinded in case of discovery of new evidence after execution of sentence. He favors placing under restraint any person possessed of homicidal tendencies, even though in prison, rather than be free to attack innocent persons.

Dr. Van Allen denounced motion picture women who show warm interest in criminals who are clearly unworthy of sympathy.

Great indignation was expressed by the preacher at the charge that prohibition had increased crime. The only possible way this could be true, he said, was in the sense that criminals would show more intelligence in their nefarious work when without whisky.

Dr. Van Allen was speaking on "Crime and Punishment" in the chapel of the Church of the Advent.

INDIANA CANDIDATE SETS FASTEST PACE

Vincennes, Ind., May 31.—(AP)—The mantle of seventy-three years hangs lightly on the shoulders of William A. Cullop, who received more votes than any other Democrat for the long term United States Senatorial nomination in the Indiana primary. He is a former congressman.

Prior to the primary he conducted the most vigorous campaign of any of the fourteen candidates for the Democratic and Republican nominations. He failed of nomination because his total of votes was not greater than the combined total of his five opponents. Therefore the Democratic nominee will be determined at the state convention in Indianapolis June 3.

As a former Congressman, Mr. Cullop was the author of a bill

Collegians Stage Greek Drama In Style of Old

Worcester, Mass., May 29.—(AP)—The Holy Cross dramatic association has been dabbling in extremes. A short time ago the student presented Shakespeare's "Macbeth" in modern garb. On Memorial Day, these same students will present a Greek drama 2,000 years old, Euripides' "Hecuba."

The Grecian ambassador to the United States and his staff will attend "Hecuba," which will be presented in the Greek language. The ghost of the old Greek chorus will be there in the shape of a group coach in dancing movements by Miss Helen A. Cortin of the Buffalo School of Harmonic and Rhythmic Expression. The Holy Cross Glee Club will assist, singing music as old as the play itself.

Notes to the "Hymn to Apollo," carved in stone and excavated at the ruins of Athens, have been used as the basis for the score of the play. This hymn was first sung in America a year ago by the Greek Academy of Boston College. The costumes have been especially designed from drawings found in the ruins of the ancient classical theater, while the football stadium has been transformed to resemble the original theatre at Athens in which the drama was first presented.

The orchestra circle will be sixty feet, and the stage will be at a distance of eighty feet from the first row. Amplifiers will be the only evidence of modernity.

Britain Will Retain Stage Censorship

London, May 29.—(INS)—The Government has decided that St. James' Palace will remain headquarters for British play censorship.

Confronted on one hand by the demands of such dramatists as George Bernard Shaw, that theatrical censorship be abolished, and on the other by the recommendations of a committee headed by the Bishop of London that the duty of censorship be transferred from the King's Lord Chamberlain to the London County Council, the Home Office concluded that adherence to the custom of two centuries was better than a jump in the dark.

National conservatism thus triumphs, but the agitation over censorship continues, an organization known as the London Public Morality Council, taking the lead in a campaign to "clean up the stage and the bookstalls."

Although the Council's proposals for the creation of a new official censorship body were rejected by the Home Secretary, he suggested in a letter to the Bishop of London that those who were urging stricter censorship probably could best accomplish their purpose by mobilizing public opinion against the production of plays and books of an "immoral tendency."

This view has the approval of Bernard Shaw, who has advocated the abolition of the censorship for forty years and who does not believe that any official censorship would be trustworthy.

French Women Are Entering New Business Lines

Paris, May 29.—(INS)—French women are invading every field of business. Long since departed is the old idea that women's place is in the home. The war and all that came with it, took even the sheltered, chaperoned French girl away from her hearth side.

In the famous old "Manufacture des Gobelins," where during four centuries only men did the fine, slow work of weaving and tying the beautiful carpets and tapestries, Made-moiselle Marguerite Leger, a slim dark-haired French girl of seventeen, has taken her place in front of a row of heavy threads which will be a beautiful carpet years from now.

For the past few years, Made-moiselle Leger has been following a course in design granted free to all young boys and girls. A recent contest revealed that she was the best designed among all the competitors and gave her the honored place. For two years more she will continue as a student, choosing the wools, knotting them on the frame, cutting the into form the velour, combing and cratching them to form the exact shading.

Then will follow ten years of apprenticeship at work on the great pieces which demand so much patience. Each thread must be knotted separately on the back ground. One worker cannot finish more than a square yard of such a carpet in a year. After these ten years she will hold the official title of "artiste."

The methods of weaving have scarcely changed since the mediaeval days of Jean and Philibert Gobelins, who founded the tapestry manufacture. Mile Leger sits on a low bench with a large box behind her from which she chooses the threads that match best a color sketch of the finished carpet. She picks up a thread, knots it on the point which she fixed for it on the heavy basic net work, then after tying a number of them, cuts them to a certain length. And thus the tapestry grows slowly but surely.

ment rather than the inherently malicious," the priest declared. "We have the local cut-up who wants to live riotously for an evening when there is a periodic recurrence of the urge to make an impression on his neighbors of his being superior in matters of petty conventions. He wants to tell the boys in the office or shop what a mad wag he was last night and is willing to spend two days income for the thrill of the recital.

"Then there is the one who comes to town to collect experiences. He wants to carry back narratives of wild adventure to be dispensed to the boys gathered around the stove or radiator in the village or town postoffice. He is a hero when he confides to them stories of the wild women he met—over the footlights. If he does not return broke, his trip has been a sad failure. Incidentally, if he saved the money spent many a degenerate production would be a failure.

"Then there are some naughty husbands who get together with the old frat cronies when the wife is away and fight for the privilege of lavishing their hard earned income on wild doings."

It is to be expected that there

French Women Demand for Sex Plays Is Laid to 'Town Sports'

New York, May 28.—(AP)—The local "man about town" and his "sporting" neighbor from the provinces make up the audience that gives the most encouragement to New York's "sensationally rotten" stage productions, concludes the Catholic Writers Guild.

The Rev. John B. Kelly, spiritual director of the Guild, said a survey showed that artistic and financial success in the city's theatrical field was in decent productions, and that only a "minor part of the theatre-going public paid big prices for choice bits of dramatic degeneracy."

"And most of this patronage represents the thoughtless ele-

Dandurand Tells Of Canada's Friendship

Montreal, May 29.—(INS)—"When I am in Geneva I feel that in some sense I represent New England also, because I represent peace and a sense of security between Canada and America, maintained by means of arbitration, which needs no army for its enforcement. We are friends and I hope New England will remain forever friendly to New France."

Senator Raoul Dandurand, veteran Canadian statesman and president of the League of Nations, thus capped the keynote of welcome to a large group of prominent New Englanders here. Cheered to the echo was Senator Dandurand when he emphasized the closer relationship between Canada and the United States. He recalled 111 days when New England was feared by New France. But today he said, both are good neighbors through "inter-penetrating" in ming and thought."

During the Taft administration said Senator Dandurand, Canada felt that the United States turned her back on Canada and faced Mexico. This brought the response, said the speaker, that Mexico had to be faced, but in turning its back to Canada Uncle Sam paid the provinces of the North a compliment of trust, that Canada did not have to be watched.

Consecrated Auto Goes to Church On Sundays

Canton, O., May 29.—(INS)—Not so long ago the automobile was frowned upon by many churchmen as an instrument of evil, but the First Baptist Church of this city, will formally and officially recognize autos as agencies for good at a special service Sunday morning when the cars of members of the church will be consecrated at a dedicatory service on the church lawn.

The service will be held between the Sunday School and preaching hours and it is expected that in the neighborhood of 100 cars will be presented for consecration. A committee of the churchmen will assist in parking them for the special service. Cars so dedicated are expected to head churchward on pleasant summer Sundays instead of turning to picnic grounds and pleasure places.

Borah finished abreast with Paddock and the fans thought the collegian won the race.

Feet Are as Varied as Faces
No. 4
This is one of a series of twenty illustrated advertisements explaining the difference between the many types of feet, and suggesting the proper footwear for each.

The five cords in the foot must be free to function, especially the one running over the great toe joint. The other cords are towards the outside of the foot, and if you will study the question you will observe that most trouble caused by the vamp seam cutting into the top of the foot is usually over the great toe joint.

Shoe that need "breaking in" often bind at this point—but "breaking in" is unnecessary when shoes are understandingly fitted. Pitt Shoe Co. specialists have studied feet; they know feet; they know how to fit shoes so that you may enjoy complete foot comfort every time the foot is in general health.

Vote For WYATT C. TUCKER For Sheriff Of Pitt County

The question has been asked what was the purpose of using the word reasonable enforcement of all the laws. I wish to say in explanation that I am for 100 per cent law enforcement. But not a fanatic on any one law. But believe in all the laws being enforced in a fair and impartial way,

I do not believe in an extreme or radical policy in anything, for an extremist can never secure the co-operation of conservative people, which I realize is absolutely necessary to put over successfully any kind of a program. But I do believe in a reasonable enforcement policy, based on safe, sane, and sound principles.

My business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy for common humanity. My ambition and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my highest duties as your sheriff. In every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before me, my chief thought shall be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so when I have ended my term of office I shall have lifted the lever of human ideals and achievement. In view of this it will be my duty as Sheriff of Pitt County:

- 1st—To consider my vocation worthy and as affording me distinct opportunity to serve the people.
- 2nd—To realize that I am first an ethical man, and wish no success that is not found on the highest justice and morality.
- 3rd—To conduct the Sheriff's Office in such a manner that I can give to the people of Pitt County

DOES HIM GOOD TO TELL PEOPLE ABOUT KARNAK

"Why, It Was Six Months Ago I Took the Medicine, and I Am Still Praising It—That's How Fine It Was in My Case," Says Spartanburg Man

"It just does me good to have this chance to tell folks about something that will fix them up like Karnak will," declares W. H. Pasco, of 185 N. Liberty St., Spartanburg, S. C.

"I say this because I know what Karnak will do," continues Mr. Pasco. "Why this medicine has done me such a world of good I only regret that I didn't get started on it sooner."

"Yes, sir, I was in bad shape when I began using Karnak two years. Deprived of their newspapers, millions of people turned to the radio for information, and the result was that the radio industry in England experienced its greatest boom since its inception.

Factories working on the mass-production principle worked day and night to cope with the demand, while the retail dealers were sold out of complete sets three days after the strike began.

A conservative estimate places the number of new radio fans enrolled through the strike at two millions, and, if they all take out licenses, the receipts from this source to the Government will contribute not a little to the cost of gathering and broadcasting the immense amount of strike news.

The collecting and disseminating of this news involved not a little ingenuity on the part of 2 L O, the London radio station, from whence all the news was broadcast at regular intervals during the day.

News was received from all over the country by telephone, telegram, and tape-machines, while special messengers collected and brought in the official announcements from the Government and the Trades Union Congress.

All this matter was compiled into one gigantic bulletin, sifted, rewritten, and then struck off at last it reached a widely and presentable form. The staff at 2 L O worked at top speed throughout the strike, eating and sleeping at nearby hotels. The station was guarded throughout by detectives and special police.

The results of the first real and independent test of Sir Oliver Lodge's new N-circuit have been published here. This circuit, it will be remembered, is designed to eliminate howling, and yet to retain all the efficiency of the type of set in which reaction is employed.

The tests showed that the circuit is eminently practical, and it is claimed that the tone purity was remarkable, the volume much greater, and the results generally very satisfactory.

Among other claims made for the circuit are that its distance-getting properties are normal, that it is fairly simple to handle and that the selectivity is about the average.

The French minister of Industry discovers that fashion can affect a nation's prosperity. France makes silks, velvets, feathers, ruffs, fashions. Women have been using little material in their dresses, and the French industries have suffered. That is to change. Soon American women will find themselves wearing longer skirts, fashion calling for many yards of goods.

It was a great thing, for France when Francis the First and Henry the Eighth gave their party on the field of the cloth of gold, where ruffian extravagance of French nobles caused the intelligent French government to build up velvet, silk and glass manufactures in France by shutting out all foreign competition.

Popular Farmville Man in the Race for Sheriff

The following from the Farmville Enterprise shows the high esteem in which Mr. Wyatt C. Tucker, a candidate for Sheriff of Pitt county, is held by his home people. "In the opinion of his home people, not a more worthy man ever entered the race for the office of Sheriff of Pitt county, than Mr. Wyatt C. Tucker, of this city, who is now asking the voters of the county to honor him with this position.

Mr. Tucker is a man of unquestionable character, and is today the same high type of citizen as of yesterday and will be found the same on tomorrow, whether elected to office or not. He is a man worthy of the support of every voter of this grand old county; and, if elected, as now seems he will be, those of his supporters will never have cause for regret.

"Mr. Tucker is a Pitt County man in every sense of the word, having been born and reared within its borders, and has made good as a farmer, the profession he was taught from childhood, and the business of which he is now engaged.

Canada Reduces Tax On Incomes By $12,000,000

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—Important changes in the Canadian income tax laws are now under consideration by the Dominion government with a view toward general relief to business and citizens.

Assistant Trade Commissioner Thomas R. Wilson, of Ottawa, has informed the Department of Commerce that the outstanding changes would involve an increase in the general exemption for all persons, reductions in the rate of taxable incomes, removal of surtax and super-tax, application of tax to unearned income, taxation of personal corporations, and a reduction in the corporation tax.

Since there are many American dollars invested in the agriculture and industry of the Dominion officials point out that the taxation relief will carry a considerable benefit to citizens of this country.

"These suggested changes, which are intended to be applicable to incomes of 1925, and thereafter, are embodied in resolutions now before the House of Commons to amend the income war tax act of 1917," Wilson said.

"It has been estimated that the proposed reductions would entail a total falling off in receipts by about $12,000,000, one-half of which, it is said, will represent lowered receipts from smaller incomes."

Wilson said that the net results of all the proposed changes are difficult to determine. The reduction in corporation tax means a lower production cost, which should be reflected to a slight degree in reduced prices of articles manufactured in Canada. This, in turn, would place manufacturers of such articles in a more advantageous competi-

German Poet Is Driven Out By Russian Press

Moscow, May 31.—(INS)—Ernest Toller, probably the most famous "revolutionary poet in Europe," and ranked as one of the best of the younger generation of German writers, received a bitter lesson in Bolshevism when he came to Moscow. His visit here provides one more instance, of the contempt in which the Bolsheviks hold any idealist matter hog devoted, if his ideals do not coincide completely with the communist faith in violence.

Toller's poems are cherished by their admirers as much for the romance which attaches to his revolutionary career as to their intrinsic worth. He was head of the first revolutionary Soviet in Bavaria and spent a long term of imprisonment in a Bavarian penitentiary after the fall of the second Soviet government in Munich. His volume of poems dealing with prison life is well-known in America.

With this background it was natural that the Soviet press should welcome him enthusiastically. His picture was printed on every front page, with the customary laudatory comment bestowed upon any visitor who had shown friendship for the "proletariat."

But just a week after his arrival, after he had been dated up for a series of lectures, and was the guest of honor at various dinners and entertainments, like a bomb a denunciatory article in "Pravda," the official organ of the Communist Party, declaring that Toller was "an illusionist, a demagogue and a traitor," charging that he had aided the death of the Bavarian soviet republic," and concluding with a note from the editors of "Pravda" apologizing to their readers for having given any publicity to "this alleged revolutionist."

VICTORIAN STYLES RETURN TO HOME AND MUSIC HALL

London, June 1.—(AP)—Side whiskers are reappearing in England, and fashion experts forecast the return of short tailcoats and almost brimless top hats of the type which dandies all wore in the palmy days of the Victorian era.

In spite of the efforts of the intelligentsia to poke fun at "East Lynne" and the music hall ballads of fifty years ago, decorators say the Victorian period is certainly coming back.

Even Victorian furniture which ten years ago was supposed to be hideous, is now in great demand and the prices are soaring. Wax fruits, hair cloth furniture and green glass vases which our great grandmothers treasured, are coming out of dusty attics and commanding fabulous prices at antique shops.

Anyway, the farmer is relieved to see that at last Congress is thinking about granting him some kind of relief.—Miami Tribune.

A Judge On Trial

Last January, upon the resignation of Judge Albion Dunn, Governor Angus W. McLean appointed Honorable R. A. Nunn, of New Bern, Judge of the Superior Court, to fill the vacancy caused originally by the resignation of Honorable J. Lloyd Horton.

Since Judge Nunn's appointment he has been holding court, very largely in his own district. He has held three two-week terms in Pitt county. The people of Pitt have had an opportunity to see Judge Nunn preside and to pass upon his ability as a Judge.

If you have been attending his courts and noticed any of the many cases that have come up before him, you can readily see how fair and impartial he has judged each case and there have been very few appeals from his decisions. Judge Nunn is a man of clean life, sound judgment, learned in the law, fair and just to all.

The voters of Pitt County are asked to look into the past life of Judge Nunn—also to keep up with his courts and see if the Governor was not discreet in his appointment.

Judge Nunn has just completed a two-week term of Civil court here. He is due your careful consideration in the Primary.
