NO DECISION IN TRI-STATE CO-OP SUIT YET REACHED

Judge Meekins Says He Will End Matter "One Way or Another" At An Early Date

Raleigh, June 4.—(AP)—With in a "reasonable time" Federal Judge I. M. Meekins hopes to be able to announce a decision in the Tri-State Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association receivership suit, he stated early this afternoon at the conclusion of argument. He expects to end it "one way or another," he said.

Colonel E. P. Buford argued to the court this morning that the members should be relieved from the obligation to deliver tobacco from the 1926 crop, and the undelivered portion of the 1925 crop, insisted that the members should have the protection of "the arm of this court" in the form of a receivership and concluded with an appeal to the court that if a receiver is not appointed the court at least name a man to serve on the executive board and for an accountant from time to time investigate and report to the court.

Colonel Buford told of the purchase by a bank of a warehouse at Albemarle, Va., for $600. That same warehouse now in the possession of the Association, is carried on its books as $3,000, he said. Where, he asked, did the $2,400 go? He urged that an investigation of warehouse purchases would show fraud. Judge Meekins declared this was a new phase of the matter to him and indicated he was interested.

Colonel Buford also discussed the striking reduction of salaries which in May 1925 was more than $170,000 a month and in May 1926 was $27,000, and said that this indicated one of two things, either culpable waste or definite evidence of voluntary dissolution. Both were denied by the defendants.

Says British Own Each Side Panama Canal

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—Documents proportioned to show that British interests have obtained concessions to large tracts of public land on each side of the Panama Canal, but some distance from the Canal, have been placed before Chairman Borah, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, by R. O. Marsh, of Brockport, N. Y.

Senator Borah said that he would study the papers and if he found the situation to be as represented he would introduce a resolution asking the State Department for information.

The information given to Senator Borah was that the lands were acquired for rubber culture.

Governor Ross' Son Rages Meas. Against Her Wish

Cheyenne, June 4.—(AP)—George Ross, 22 year old University of Wyoming senior and recipient of a Rhodes scholarship, is campaigning against his mother, the first woman governor. He favors the extension of the boundaries of the Yellowstone National Park; Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross opposes the extension.

Although his mother has declared her view that the extension "would not be advantageous to Wyoming," George Ross at the state convention of the Izaak Walton League proposed and advocated a resolution favoring the extension of the park's boundaries.

FARM MEASURES IN SPOTLIGHT IN THE SENATE

Bill Similar to Haugen Bill Which Was Recently Rejected by the House

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—Crop price stabilization which has claimed the attention of Congress in one way or another for some months is again formally in the spotlight.

This time it is in the Senate. Mostly resembling in principle the Haugen Bill recently rejected by the House, its state rests upon the ability of sponsors to convince Southern Senators that the equalization fee and other elements of the plan merit their support. Senator McNary, Republican of Oregon, leading the fight for the plan, drew remark from some of the Southern Democrats yesterday, which indicated strong doubts as to its wisdom, but he asserted that it would operate in favor of the producer and consumer. Opposition, he charged, was coming from the middle man and profiteer. Senator Ransdell, Democrat of Louisiana, contended that the views of only nine per cent of the producers had been obtained and that the remainder should be given an opportunity to express their opinions of the scheme before the equalization fee principle was applied.

Opposition was also voted by Senator Shipstead, Farmer Labor of Minnesota, who held that the plan involved a Government monopoly in wheat, and Senator Mayfield, Democrat of Texas, questioned the value of withholding products from the market through co-operative organizations, pointing out that the price of cotton had not been sustained although 1,500,000 bales had been turned over to these associations during the year.

The Texan's objections brought replies from Senator Gooding, Republican of Idaho, and Simmons, Democrat of South Carolina, to the effect that the co-operatives had not been able to keep the cotton off the market long enough because they were forced to advance their funds to producers in need of cash.

ALDERMEN HELD IMPORTANT MEET HERE LAST NIGHT

Filling Station Petition Deferred; Contract to Be Let for More Paved Streets

The hearing of a petition for permit to erect a filling station and the authorizing of advertising for bids for more street paving and guttering composed the chief business of the Board of Aldermen at the regular meeting held in the city hall last night.

In the absence of Mayor D. M. Clark, the meeting was presided over by Mayor pro tem, R. L. Carr. A petition presented by R. J. Cobb and the Standard Oil Company for permit to erect a gasoline filling station at the corner of Fifth and Pitt streets where the residence of the former is now located, was heard by the board and action deferred to an adjourned meeting to be held on the night of June 9th. The matter was deferred, it was explained, in order to give the public opportunity to be present at the hearing and present any protests that there might be to the erection of such station.

The city clerk and city engineer were authorized by the board to advertise for bids for the paving of Clark street between Ninth and Tenth streets and Greene street between Tenth and Twelfth streets and for curb and gutter on the following streets: Washington, between Second and Third; Clark, between Dickinson Avenue and Bonner's Lane; Read, between Ninth and Tenth; Chestnut between Paris Avenue and city limits; Eleventh, between Evans street and the Norfolk Southern Railroad; Washington, between Tenth and Twelfth and connecting link on Myrtle between Paris and Grande Avenue. It is estimated that these proposed improvements will be carried out at a cost of approximately $50,000.

Mr. J. I. Smith, chairman of the cemetery committee, reported to the board that he work of developing the front or first section of the new cemetery located east of this city, was progressing rapidly and satisfactorily.

Boyhood Baseball Reclaiming Game

Chicago, June 4.—(AP)—Amateur baseball, a waning pastime for more than a decade, is rallying to resume its place as the great American game.

Only about a year ago did the nation awaken to the plight of this sport. The sandlots of the cities were sprouting apartment houses and the pastures of the small towns were growing up to weeds while American boyhood abandoned the mitt for the midiron, the motor car and other implements of recreation alien to an earlier generation.

But last year saw a turn. The game got a new footing in amateur circles, and for the first time in more than ten years, held its own. This year, according to Major John Griffith of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, more boys will play baseball than have played the game in any year since the war. Colleges reported a four per cent increase in baseball this spring.

The biggest single factor in the revival of amateur baseball is the organization of leagues by the American Legion for boys of seventeen or under. This movement had its impetus in South Dakota, where Frank McCormick state Legion commander, rostered formation of leagues for boys by every post in the state. The plan was taken up in several hundred communities of the state, and a thousand teams are competing this season for the state boys' title, which will be determined at a state tournament at which leading teams will meet.

TODAY

(Copyright 1926) $600,000 For $3.75. Pilsudski and Moscicki. Unloading Lloyd George. A Cheerful Market. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CORONACH won the Derby yesterday. Robert Bishop, clerk on a small salary, paid $3.75 for a ticket in the Calcutta Sweepstakes and won $600,000.

This will increase gambling that always ends in disaster, and cause millions to be dissatisfied with the rewards of ordinary work. Robert Bishop, who won the $600,000 probably will decide that nature created him a great financier, in which men that really were created financiers will get his $600,000.

Another dictator seems to have arrived—Marshal Pilsudski. Poland elected him president; he refused the election, and put up his friend, Professor Moscicki. Pilsudski will now invite Poland's Parliament to take a long rest, while he, standing behind Moscicki, will run the country, as Mussolini runs Italy, or as Primo Rivera runs Spain, each standing behind his King.

Americans, lending their millions to Poland under the impression that Poland represents conservatism as a barrier against Russia, may be shocked to learn that Pilsudski's President, Moscicki, was exiled by Russia for revolutionary activities in 1892, and began his political career as a Socialist.

Some of the British Liberal Party want to "unload" Lloyd George, but don't know how.

Lloyd George might repeat what Dante said when asked to go on an important errand from Florence. "If I go, who will remain? If I remain, who is there to go?"

The Liberal party is weak enough already. Take Lloyd George out and it would be a political dirigible, rising up by its own light weight.

Stocks in Wall Street and elsewhere closed yesterday with a cheerful tone. Money was cheap and plentiful—if you had "security." Stocks were up again and bears had "a tear in the eye though the lip may be gay." Farmers are expected to get a thousand million dollars for this year's wheat. It isn't enough, but as a cautious farmer speculator remarked, "it is better than being hit on the head with a sharp stone."

A bad spot for farmers and for Republicans that want to get elected this year is the price of corn. Our "best financial minds" that like to see Republicans elected, would do well to improve corn prices between now and election, and not rely on bad weather and a small crop to put up the price.

Dr. Jagger, government volcanologist, brings from Hawaii an interesting device, stored in basement or cellar, this household seismograph will warn the family of any coming earthquake sufficiently in advance. That interests New Yorkers, told that a big earthquake fault runs from the Statue of Liberty up the Hudson River. But many little earthquake rumbles means nothing and after a few warnings families will become as indifferent to earthquake warnings as workmen do to bars of dynamite.

The Vacuum Oil Company buys 120,000 tons of kerosene from Russia. The Bolshevik hope this means a "step toward Soviet and American business relations."

Commander Byrd, first to fly over the North Pole, gives credit to Floyd Bennett, his pilot, and "star of the team," that did the flying. That shows good spirit. RIVERS, HARBORS BILL PASSED BY HOUSE TODAY

$36,000,000 Omnibus Bill Passes House After One of Most Spectacular Filibusters

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—The $36,000,000 Omnibus Rivers and Harbors Bill was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

Surviving a rough and tumble fight that kept the House at turmoil for many hours and held it in session for most of last night, the measure finally came through the deciding roll call untouched, as to its major features.

The project for passage in the Senate at this session however, is problematical. Indulging in an open filibuster during the final period of debate a group of House members from Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin and other states exhausted every parliamentary means to prevent passage and held the House in session until after one o'clock this morning.

After approved today by a vote of 219 to 217 with the House divided on non-partisan lines, the bill contained all of the items of which the House was divided. These included the Illinois River project, the all-American Canal Survey for New York State, purchase of the Cape Cod Canal, and authorization for survey of the upper Missouri River.

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—The $36,000,000 omnibus rivers and harbors bill with the bitterly contested Illinois River development project and other major provisions intact, was ready for a vote on passage today after one of the most spectacular filibusters in the House in recent years had been beaten down on a continuous fourteen-hour session.

Opponents of the bill, chiefly from Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin, still had ammunition left today including a motion to recommend the bill to committee with instructions to strike out the Illinois River provision, but leaders were confident that a vote and passage could be obtained before adjournment tonight.

Major provisions of the bill include one for purchase of the Cape Cod Canal in Massachusetts for $11,500,000 and an amendment calling for a survey of the all-American canal route from the Lakes to the sea, a project which has been urged with great vigor by Representatives Dempsey, of New York, in and out of Congress. No appropriation was incorporated in this amendment. In all, nearly 50 projects and more than 120 surveys were approved.

ABSENCE OF FAMILY NAMES SHOW THE TURKISH DEMOCRACY

Constantinople, June 4.—(AP)—That the Turkish people have long been democrats at heart is indicated by the absence throughout Turkish history of family names.

No Turk receives the tag of a famous or infamous ancestor, but each starts fresh with the new name whispered in his ear at his birth by his parents.

President Kemal, for instance, is known to the world as Gazi Moustapha Kemal Pasha. Only one of these four names, that of Moustapha, was given him at his birth, and as plain Moustapha he passed his boyhood. As this is a common name in Turkey, one of his schoolmasters added "Kemal" to distinguish him from the numerous other Moustaphas in the class. His other names were added for various accomplishments.

Some Senators are already hearing the call of the public, but alas, it is calling them home.—Durham Sun.

FOUR PERISH IN FIRE AT HAMLET

Fire of Unknown Origin Sweeps Rooming House As Guests Sleep; Others May Have Perished

Hamlet, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—B. B. Baker, 39; Bernis Joyner, 19; and Louis C. Engleka, 43, are dead and R. J. Kelly, 42, is in a local hospital horribly burned as a result of fire of undetermined origin which destroyed the Baker boarding house here this morning about four o'clock. The four made it difficult to get help and when the fire company responded to the alarm the building already was falling.

Baker, a mechanic, operated the house. His wife and six children left yesterday morning for Columbia, S. C., on a visit and a small son was the only member of the family at home besides the father. Baker made several trips into the burning building, one for his boy and again for a young woman, Berder, both of whom were saved without injury. A third trip was made but he was unable to rescue any of the others and died from the effects of the flames as he came back on the porch.

Hamlet, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—Four persons are known to have perished when fire swept a rooming house here early this morning.

Among the victims, whose charred bodies were taken from the ruins was B. B. Baker, manager of the rooming house. The ruins were being searched this morning for other bodies. The known dead are Baker, a mechanic named Kelly, a railway mail clerk named Eagleska, and an unidentified man. Ten persons are believed to have been in the house, but a check was hampered by the death of Baker, who was probably the only person knowing the entire roster of the guests.

The origin of the fire has not been determined. Virtually the entire building was afire when the alarm given about four o'clock and there were several narrow escapes reported.

Observe 150th Anniversary of Moultrie Battle

Charleston, S. C., June 4.—High government and state officials of the army and navy, and the entire corps of Annapolis midshipmen will participate in Charleston's celebration, June 27 to 29, of the 150th anniversary of the battle of Fort Moultrie.

One feature of the celebration will be a tribute to Sergeant William Jasper, whose monument on Charleston's famous Battery now looks out over the harbor toward the modern Fort Moultrie, successor to the palmetto log fortifications, where he won a hero's name by his rescue and raising of the Palmetto flag under severe fire.

STORES OBSERVE HALF HOLIDAYS

Beginning Next Wednesday Many Local Houses Will Observe Half Holiday Each Week

Cards have today been placed on display in a large number of local business establishments announcing that beginning next Wednesday those firms would observe half holiday each Wednesday during the summer months. Other cities in this section have joined in the movement for summer half holidays and several put the practice into effect on the past Wednesday.

Last summer the Wednesday half holiday was observed by business firms in this city for the first time and from all reports was very satisfactory to employers and the chance for recreation was gratefully received by employees. A complete canvass of this city has not yet been completed, therefore announcement as to what firms will be closed on Wednesday afternoons during this summer cannot yet be made.

Lutheran Synod Features Dedication of the Seminary

St. Louis, June 4.—(AP)—The new $3,500,000 Concordia Seminary, described by its builders as the largest Protestant theological seminary in the world, will be formally dedicated here June 13 as a feature of the international triennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states.

More than one thousand accredited delegates from all parts of the world and thousands of visitors are expected to attend the convention and dedication. The seminary buildings, which are virtually complete, include an administration building, two lecture halls, auditorium, library, service building, power house, two dining halls, eight dormitory units and twelve faculty buildings. The architecture is Tudor-Gothic and the material is a combination of vari-colored limestone.

Construction of the seminary is part of an extensive educational program inaugurated in the last two years by the Lutheran church for which $5,000,000 was subscribed in a general campaign.

Annapolis Graduate Refuses to Take the Oath of Allegiance

Annapolis, Md., June 4.—(AP)—As a result of his refusal to take the oath of allegiance to the United States and accept an ensign's commission, Earl B. Zirkle, graduate yesterday from the Naval Academy, today was aboard the battleship New York, still a midshipman and under orders to participate in annual cruise of the lower class men. Meanwhile, his 445 classmates, now officers in the Navy, or Marine Corps, have scattered about the country on leave of absence before taking up their duties.

DEMOCRATS GO TO POLLS THROUGHOUT STATE TOMORROW

Primary Will Close Quietest of Election Years; Candidates Are Confident

Raleigh, June 4.—(AP)—Democrats and Republicans of North Carolina will go to the polls tomorrow to nominate candidates to enter the general election of November. The primary will close one of the quietest of election years in the recent history of the state.

Candidates will be nominated or certified for one seat in the United States Senate, ten seats in Congress, Chief Justice, and three Associate Judges of the Supreme Court, twenty Solicitors, one Corporation Commissioner, fourteen Superior Court Judges, and a full General Assembly.

However, the state ballots will be short in most localities for all candidates without opposition under the law, will be certified as nominees and their names will not appear on the tickets at all. Thus there will be contests on only for the Senate seat, two Congressional seats, four Superior Court judgeships, twelve Solicitorships and a full General Assembly.

Except for the General Assembly and county officials who they will participate in naming, the Republicans will have a rather quiet time tomorrow. All of the contests for state and national offices are on the Democratic tickets. In addition the Attorney General has ruled that so-called "National Republicans" but "State Democrats" may not participate in the selecting of Democratic candidates, and has placed responsibility on the elected man's political affiliation before allowing him to vote. The polls will open at 7 o'clock and close at 6 o'clock. The Attorney General has defined the law on absentee ballots to allow all such ballots received before the closing of the polls to be counted.

The candidates for the Democratic nomination as Senator are Lee S. Overman, incumbent and R. R. Reynolds, of Asheville, both are confident on the eve of the primary. Reynolds has issued a statement that he will carry the state by 25,000 majority while Overman headquarters, under the direction of Walter D. Siler, it is felt that Mr. Overman will be victorious although no estimate in terms of votes is given. The campaign has been devoid of issues, Overman's campaign being conducted on his long record in the Senate, while Reynolds has accepted what he believes to be a "need for a change" and "prime new blood" in the Senate from North Carolina.

Congressman A. L. Bulwinkle, of Gastonia, in the 9th district, is opposed for re-nomination by J. A. Binnette, of the same city. In the 10th district Congressman Zebulon Weaver, of Asheville, is opposed by Felix Alley of Waynesville.

Other contests which will be decided, all on the Democratic ticket, are as follows: Superior Court Judge, Fifth District: R. A. Nunn, of New Bern and Julius Brown, of Greenville.

at Police Meet

Chicago, Jun 4.—(INS)—Big stars, a thousand of them will be assembled in Chicago from July 19 to 22. Not stars of the stage or screen, but the kind worn on the under coats of coppers.

The occasion will be the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and for the first time in the history of the organization will provide a complete exhibit of equipment used by police departments over the country, as well as rare specimens of equipments used by crooks.

The equipment exhibit is being prepared by a committee headed by William A. Witterberger, chief of police of Evanston, Ill., appointed at the convention at Indianapolis last year by Samuel J. Dickson, chief constable of Toronto, Can., and newly elected president of the organization. General plans for the convention are in charge of Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins of Chicago.

One of the chief exhibits will be a section devoted to the historical development of police work. The committee already has arranged for the first finger print cabinet ever used in the country, brought from England, and for the first "He-detecter" ever put into general use.

The committee also is arranging for a display of handcuffs and shackles of both Convention and unusual design, of straight jackets and trapezoids, all sort of cell equipment, firearms of all descriptions and bullet proof vests. The same section will have exhibiting of tear gas, grenades and other equipment available to police departments for use in making dangerous raids.

Commercial equipment also will include traffic devices, safety deposit vaults and boxes, all sorts of special locks and safety devices, patrol wagons and ambulances, armored cars and equipment for such motor cars, including pneumatic tires.

Uniforms, badges and personal equipment of officers also will be shown, and an effort is being made to provide a complete library on criminology, criminal investigations, finger print work, handwriting, police microscopy methods and police practices and procedure. Special devices will include "He-detecter," special police microscopes, magnifying glasses and instruments for measuring type-

Radio Experts
Open Campaign

Washington, June 4.—(INS)—Ironing the season characteristics out of radio is the objective of a campaign launched by some of the experts in a pastime that more or less has been relegated to the background during the hot months of the year.

After last winter's fearful flop in radio reception—listening in from October until March wasn't much better than during the preceding summer—the authorities have arrived at the conclusion that radio is coming to be a round-the-year indoor sport.

Several government experts predict that the coming summer will find receptions fully as good as during the winter.

The winter's failure to consistently pick up DX or distant stations is now attributed to a maximum cycle of activity present in the sun, with the approach of a "spot period." The electrical activity of the sun ionized the atmosphere and the result was a periodic absence of reception more than 100 miles distant from the receiver and an unusual "fading" tendency.

Natural static was particularly pronounced during the winter. Some experts contend that static will be little more troublesome during the coming summer and that there will be many nights when excellent reception conditions will be afforded the listener.

A real deal of so-called static is of the man-made variety.

The Department of Commerce recently announced the results of interference by the various radio inspectors.

Among the causes of interference were defective electrical heating stoves, flour grinders, heating pads, refrigerators and a host of other apparatus. Once traced this interference was eliminated through correction of the defective machine.

Officials said that the power companies and other corporations using or distributing electrical powers are showing satisfactory cooperation in endeavoring to locate the cause of man-made interference.

Interference caused by the harmonics of government and other code and ship stations is being eliminated gradually. Correction of the transmission machinery of these stations has subdued or altogether eliminated the harmonics, and the major signal, transmitted usually on wave lengths above or below the normal entertainment broadcasting frequencies, gives the listener no trouble.

Most of the large entertainment stations likewise have corrected their apparatus to do away with harmonics, thus improving reception in the band of wave lengths between 200 and 350 meters.

Although the legal tangle involving the regulation of radio appears to be without immediate chance of solution, the gradual scientific developments in transmitting and receiving sets is bringing about a tremendous improvement in the situation, according to experts here.

Champions of the Fatherland who have made previous trips across the Atlantic have wanted to remain there, and athletic officials are beginning to doubt the wisdom of such invasions.

STUDENTS AT MINNESOTA ASK ADOPTION OF ROWING
Minneapolis, June 4.—(AP)—Minnesota, the home of the internationally known Duluth Boat Club, would be represented in intercollegiate rowing circles under a student-backed movement initiated at the University of Minnesota.

To give the campaign an auspicious start two crews, wearing the colors of honorary senior societies, recently staged a race over the Mississippi river course which skirts the campus. Although contesting in two old work boats borrowed from the St. Paul Boat Club, the ambitious oarsmen provoked considerable enthusiasm and 2,500 students signed a petition urging the adoption of rowing as an intercollegiate sport. Minnesota has been deprived of rowing because of limited funds.

DO YOUR DUTY

It is not the policy of The Reflector to designate any certain candidate for whom you should cast your vote in a Democratic Primary other than to request that you consider each candidate from every angle and determine which is the most capable both from the standpoint of character and ability to perform the duties of the office which he seeks. No county can be better than the calibre of men in whose hands is entrusted its public affairs, and our county is no exception. If Pitt county is to be a model for others to follow God-fearing and capable men must be at the helm and the duty of placing such men there is up to the citizens. A good citizen is one who takes part in the selection of our officers and uses his or her influence to see that the right men are chosen. Tomorrow is the day for the Democrats of this county to perform this duty. If you are a good citizen you will vote, and vote for the right men and urge others to do so.

HELP PREVENT ACCIDENTS AND THEFTS

During 1925, 250,000 automobiles were stolen in 41 principal cities of the United States. But last month, Portland police recovered 104 out of the 106 cars stolen there, and three others stolen during a previous month; making their record more than 100 per cent perfect.

Most cars are stolen as a result of the owner's carelessness. Most accidents are caused as the result of a driver's or pedestrian's carelessness. Insurance companies can pay for lost cars and broken bones, but unless the public co-operates in protecting both life and property, the insurance companies are powerless to reduce losses or insurance rates.

It pays to be careful.

BALANCED BUDGETS ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS

Every well managed and successful business constantly makes improvements and borrows money, but it does so on a predetermined plan which keeps a safe ratio between its liabilities and its earnings, or ability to pay its debts.

The same system must apply to government. Constant borrowings without repayment piles up a permanent overhead of interest which absorbs too great a proportion of the earning power of the taxpayers (the government).

From January 1, 1920, to January 1, 1926, our national debt was reduced by about 4 1-4 billion dollars, but during the same period state and local governments increased their debts by 6 3-4 billion dollars. State governments contracted new debts about 20 times as fast as they paid off old ones.

The states are going into debt about 4 1-2 times as fast as they did before the war. Our total public debts are being organized at the rate of about 1 1-4 billion dollars a year.

There is just one outcome for a business that borrows too rapidly—financial difficulties; and the same situation will overtake governments, whether local or national, which fail to balance their budgets. Now is the time for this nation to act in every tax-levying department. We must not wait until the tax load affects adversely the investment of capital, the employment of labor and the operation of industry.

Sheep "Drives" This Year Taking Profit in Rains

Prescott, Ariz., June 4.—(AP)—Arizona stockmen, owning more than a million head of sheep, will "save on both ends of their annual spring "drive" from the deserts of southern Arizona to the high mountain plateaus of the north because of the unprecedented spring rains this year.

Leaving the lowlands two weeks beyond the usual date, May 14, the herdsmen will use up the abundant feed there and will also give the mountain pastures a fortnight's more growing season which forest service officials say will greatly increase the quantity of grass.

Surplus herds on the northern forest grazing areas during the last few years have resulted in some damage to the grass. Stockmen have been pressed by the forest service to reduce their herds and thus give the range a chance to recuperate. This season presents the opportunity.

Cattle-sheep wars of a past generation have been settled for all time by the creation by law of "drive-ways." These long lanes running north and south, provide four passage ways across recognized cattle ranges for the sheep on their twice-a-year journeys from the mountains to the plains

HER 10 YEARS TROUBLES ARE STOPPED BY KARNAK

Glendale Woman Suffers Misery From A Bad Stomach But Is Like a New Person Since Taking This Celebrated Medicine

"Karnak has fixed my wife up so fine that we have gotten five or six others to taking the medicine and they all say it just beats anything they ever heard of," declared J. P. Dillard, of Glendale, S. C., while in Spartanburg recently.

"My wife suffered with indigestion and a bad stomach the past ten years, and we had paid out I don't know how much money trying to find something that would give her some relief," continued Mr. Dillard. "Why, she hadn't been able to eat meats or vegetables for years, and had gotten where she could hardly eat enough of anything to keep her on her feet.

"It just seemed that everything hurt her. She suffered misery from gas bloating, and became so nervous that she was unable to sleep nights. She simply kept getting weaker and more rundown until she was unable to do her housework, and we couldn't find a thing that did her any good.

"Well, sir, it was sure a lucky day that she began taking Karnak. She has used six bottles of Karnak now and two boxes of the Karnak Pills and they have just at the same as made a new person of her.

"She is no longer troubled with gas on her stomach or indigestion, has a good healthy appetite, and just eats anything put on the table. She has gained every bit of ten pounds, too, sleeps sound and restful, and just thinks there's nothing on earth like Karnak."

Karnak is sold in Greenville by B. S. Warren and all leading druggists.

VOTE FOR M. K. BLOUNT FOR STATE SENATE

The great agricultural county of Pitt ought to have in the Senate of North Carolina a man who understands thoroughly the conditions of the farmer—not merely THEORETICALLY but PRACTICALLY.

He should have a direct personal interest in the farmer; he should know his needs; his cares; his grinding, burdensome taxes, and his inherent rights.

He should be so closely identified with the farming interest that he will be able to see that the farmer has a "square deal"—nothing more, nothing less. Of course he should stand for all the important interest of the county and see that none of them in any way suffer.

Mr. M. K. Blount of Greenville is eminently fitted for this important and responsible position. He is in the prime of vigorous young manhood; alert, and progressive. He is learned in the law and familiar with parliamentary usage. This gives him a great advantage in a deliberate body. He owns and operates a farm and has an interest in a number of others. This gives him full and accurate knowledge of the farmer's condition.

Vote for M. K. Blount for State Senator. He will be sure to protect your interest.

FOR SHERIFF
As a candidate for the important office of Sheriff of Pitt County, I earnestly solicit your vote. If elected, I pledge to execute the duties of the office in a courteous, efficient, capable manner. The outlook for my nomination in the June Primary is good, and it all depends upon your not being misled. I am gaining ground every day.

Golden Wheat Waits the Song of Harvest

Kansas City, Mo., June 4.—(AP)—As far as eye can see, then added leagues beyond the fields of green growing wheat ripple gently in the breeze as it plays over the great prairies of the Southwest.

A tinge of yellow is becoming noticeable in favored spots in fields here and yon. The golden yellow glow of harvest is impending. Soon it will burst over all the land and from break of dawn to fading day the song of the harvest will be heard.

On the Texas plains and in Oklahoma the throbs of harvest time already is being felt. Then, as the wheat ripens farther north the crews will push on into Kansas, where wheat will be ready for the mower the last week in June. This premier winter wheat state will be in the throbs of harvest at its full bay middle of July.

In these three states about 16,932,000 acres of wheat will be harvested, according to government crop experts. This exceeds the combined acreage of the other leading winter wheat states. In Kansas alone 10,688,000 acres will be harvested, with 4,500,000 in Oklahoma and 1,744,000 in Texas. The latest official production forecast for this vast territory was 231,000,000 bushels, nearly half the estimated production of winter wheat for the entire country.

Harvest machinery has been augmented by much new machinery. Huge "combines" that cut and thresh at a single operation, are used on the great grain farms where thousands of acres must be harvested. Pulled by tractors, these huge machines rapidly transfix the rolling wheat fields into vast expanses of stubble land.

Burgess Again to Train Ederle: Has Engaged Tug

Bologne, June 4.—(AP)—Two American girls who will attempt to swim the English Channel this year have engaged T. W. Borzett who conquered the treacherous waters in 1911, to supervise their training.

In addition to Gertrude Ederle who failed in her effort last year,

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

Burgess also will coach Miss Cannon, of Baltimore. Miss Ederle already has engaged the tug "Alcace" to accompany her on the attempt, while Miss Cannon will be conveyed by the tug "LaMorinie." The latter is expected to make one of the earliest tries in July, if the weather is suitable.

Dunkirk, the home town of Jeanne Sion, who reacted with in two miles of the English coast in her channel effort last year has placed at her disposal the tug "La France," commanded by Captain Lemaire, who conveyed Tirabocchi, the Argentine, in his successful swim of 1923.

Channel experts believe the Miss Ederle and Madame Sion have the best chances among the women accomplishing the feat this year.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE IS NOT A LOCAL OFFICE

Candidates for Judges of our Superior Courts are nominated in district primaries, but they are elected by the whole people of the State in the general election, and are in fact State officers and under our present system of rotation each Superior Court Judge holds court in half the counties of the State during his term.

The office of Superior Court Judge is therefore not a local office, and selection of nominees for this office should not be influenced or governed by purely local considerations. The friends of Judge R. A. Nunn ask the voters of the Fifth Judicial district to give him their support in the primary next Saturday because:

- 1st.—He was selected by the Governor of the State for this office.
- 2nd.—He has filled this office since his appointment last January so acceptably that his official conduct has been generally approved by the bar of the district, and only one appeal from a trial in his court has gone to the Supreme Court and in that case the appeal was not sustained.
- 3rd.—He is well equipped in legal training, experience at the bar, and in judicial temperament for this high office, and should be permitted to continue a career of high public service which he has so auspiciously begun.

DAILY NEWS LETTER

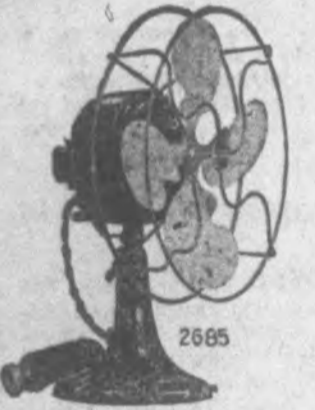

Leningrad, June 4.—(INS)—Nightlife in the former capital of the Czar is no just a shadeless gray and monotonous than night light in its sister city, Moscow. Whether it is because Leningrad is a night's trade ride removed from the Kremlin, where sit the ascetic directors of the Soviet's destiny, or whether it is because the once gay city cannot completely shake off its century-old habits, the fact remains that the hour between dark and dawn can be more amusing here than in Moscow.

It would be a parody to call the "Vladimirsk Club" the center of Leningrad's "bright lights" because Leningrad hasn't any "bright lights." But they are bright compared to Moscow's and the "Vladimirsk Club" is the center of them.

for weird and wanton characters the "Vladimirsk Club" is a startling phenomenon to come upon in this proletarian land. Business begins at midnight. It ends when sunshine drowns the colored lights which play all night on the waters of the fountain.

Has a Fountain
For the Vladimirsk Club has a fountain, and a rock grotto, and everything which once was necessary to make up a fashionable resort for the wealth young lords of aristocratic Petrograd. Tonight the rocks in the grotto are the only relics of the past which are still what they used to be.

Threading through the tables which surround the fountain, a visitor to the club is invited first to drop in the gaming room. A ten cent fee obtains admission. The management is pretty sure to make it's money's worth if the visitor once gets inside.

At the door a glance over a long, wide hall reveals a crowd of two or three hundred persons sitting and standing at a row of tables along the sides and down the middle. To the left is a game of "Boo", a Russian variety of roulette. Instead of the regulation wheel, the ball spins in a stationary inclined disc, and comes to rest on one of a series of depressions numbered from 1 to 0. The players throw their money on a green table bearing chalked numbers. One rouble, two, sometimes ten, but seldom more. The play is low, as befits a proletarian Monte Carlo.

For Bigger Stakes
But this is a false impression. At the next table, where a game of "chemin de fer" is in progress the stakes run higher, and one bearded gambler, whose rough jacket and leather boots may be only the expression of a Neptunian wish to pass as a workman, throws on the board a roll of chervontz large enough to burn up a wet dog.

Beyond the "chemin de fer" comes more "chemin de fer" and then the baccarat games. At a few small tables old men are playing "preference," an antique kind of bridge.

Out With the Drunks
Attention fades from the female impersonator, and suddenly is concentrated on the efforts of a waiter to mave a dead-drunk client. The waiter summons to his aid a person who evidently performs the duties of a female bouncer. It is her job to lure the besotted wretch to the door, where he can conveniently be kicked down stairs. Not all the wiles of Cleopatra could do the job. The occupants of nearby tables cheer her efforts but the stupefied client relapses into snores. Then the waiter produced a unique medium, calculated to stir the senses of a hysterical. Disappearing for a moment into the kitchen, he returns with a tumbler half full of hot ammonia. Skillfully maneuvering he slips the tumbler under the nose of the sleeping man. The victim snorts, straightens up, gives the waiter one short "dirty" look then bangs the glass to smithereens.

Fumes of ammonia spread over the cabaret. A few shift their tables. Others glance at the clock and hastily depart.

It is only five o'clock, but already the fountain's color have paled beneath the brow dawn sifting through the skylight. The Vladimirsk Club is about to close its owner, the Commissariat of the Interior of the Russian Socialist Soviet Republic, disapproves of late hours.

"BETTER TO LOSE TIME THAN PATIENCE

An Envious Record on the Bench by Judge R. A. Nunn

In this space yesterday the friends of Judge R. A. Nunn presented one reason why they are asking for him the support of Democratic voters in the primary next Saturday the fact that he was selected for this important office by Governor McLean, and that a vote for Judge Nunn is a vote of approval of the action of Governor McLean.

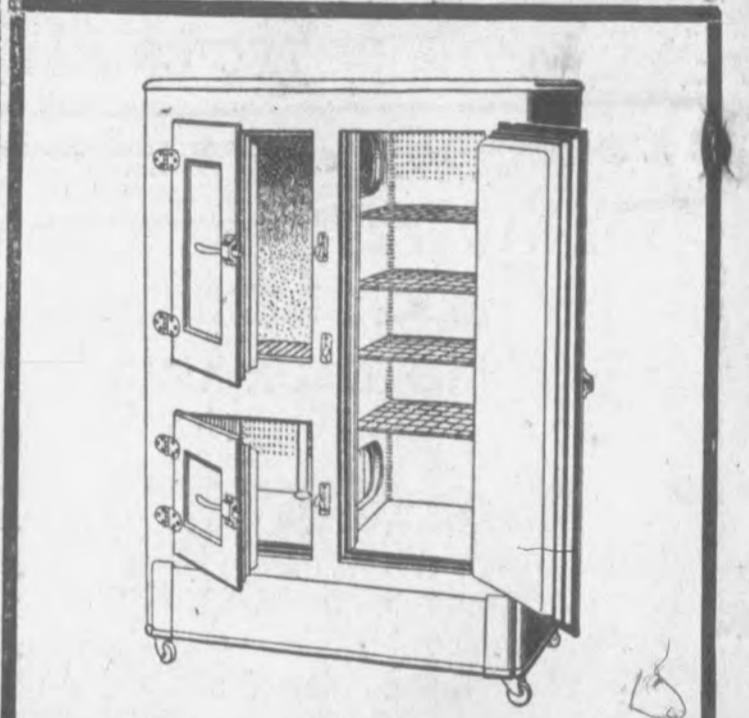

Admittedly, this would not be a good argument if the official conduct of Judge Nunn had not been such as to commend and approve his selection by the Governor. It is highly gratifying to his friends that Judge Nunn has met their highest expectations in this respect, and fortunately, also, the greater part of his term has been spent in holding courts in the counties of his own district, and in Pitt and other counties his official conduct has been highly commended in resolutions adopted by the members of the bar practicing in court over which he has presided.

He has been efficient in the dispatch of business, but even more important he has been patient and thorough, and causes tried before him have been heard and settled with such eminent fairness that only one case tried before him since he has been on the bench has been appealed to the Supreme Court, and in that case the trial in the Superior Court was sustained. He is making the kind of Judge his friends were confident he would make. They know of his thorough training and knowledge of the law. They know of his association, after he was admitted to the practice, with such eminent lawyers as F. M. Simmons, A. D. Ward, James H. Poy and Edward W. Poy.

Suits tried before him have not been appealed because with his thorough knowledge of the law and practice no proper cause of appeal is found in his rulings. In addition to his ripe knowledge of the law he believes thoroughly in the wisdom of the maxim, "It is better to lose time than patience," and actions tried before him are carefully and thoroughly tried, as well as accurately and fairly tried, and when so tried they are settled, and litigants and tax payers are saved the expenses and delay of appeals and of retrials after appeals.

The friends of Judge Nunn who know of his character and of his eminent equipment for this office believe that the record he has made in the courts of this district in the short time he has been on the bench in such as to commend him to the support of the Democratic voters of the district in the primary next Saturday.
