METHODIST MINISTER TO BE GIVEN HEARING ON CHARGE OF IMMORALITY

Dr. Ashley Chappell, Pastor of the Central Methodist Church at Asheville to Face Committee of Church and Clergy to Answer for Alleged Presence at the House of Negroes; Counsel Believes Minister Victim of Circumstances

Asheville, June 18.—(AP)—Church and clergy prepared today to gather additional data for the trial of Dr. Ashley Chappell, pastor of the Central Methodist Church here, on a charge of immoral conduct. A committee of fifteen ministers will hear the case at Statesville, opening July 20. Dr. Chappell was arrested in Memphis, Tennessee on the night of May 8th in a raid on a negro house. His counsel, Dr. H. K. Boyer, of Shelby, today declared his belief in the minister's innocence and expressed the opinion that Dr. Chappell was a victim of unfortunate circumstances. Dr. Boyer said that while walking in a strange section of Memphis the Asheville minister, suffering from a physical ailment, had been forced to turn to the nearest house. Upon being admitted, after asking for a room for a few hours to recover, the place was raided, the statement said, and the minister carried to jail. The statement added that Dr. Chappell gave his name as J. S. Smith at the police station and was later released on bond. Police officers at Memphis have confirmed this and they say that the $10.00 was forfeited. The Central Methodist Church of which Dr. Chappell is pastor, is one of the most fashionable in the state.

The board of Stewards is said to be supporting the minister, declaring belief in his innocence. However, he has been suspended until after the hearing. Dr. Chappell was a delegate to the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church Conference at Memphis, and it was at that time the arrest was made.

Efforts at that time were made by high officials of the church attending the conference to get the minister to surrender his credentials, but he declined protesting his innocence.

The case was recently investigated by a committee of North Carolina ministers, who went to Memphis to look into the affair. They returned and recommended suspension and trial. No statement has been made by the pastor since publication of his arrest.

The Desire for Antiques Has Now Become General

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The wealthy art and furniture collector in America has had to make room for his not-so-wealthy neighbor, who just a few years ago was satisfied with modernity.

Thousands of antique shops which have sprung up in towns and cities and along the highways and byways is one evidence that the love of old and beautiful things has become general, so New York's art row points out.

"Collecting has always been a hobby of the wealthy," said Otto Bernet, of the American Art Association, "and always will be. I remember, however, a period not so many years ago when there was a craze for modern things for the average home.

"The old chairs and tables and objects which had come down through the years were stored away in the cellars and attics of many homes or sold. Some were even thrown away.

"Then began the gradual change and out from obscurity came the old things. The demand became greater and naturally antique shops increased in number and the art auction houses did a larger business."

TODAY

(Copyright 1926) Not for Bosses. Your Rich Uncle. Rousing Religious Hate. The Abused Bolsheviki. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Mr. Vare, Pennsylvania boss, went after the senatorship. He and his friends contributed half a million to the big money scramble and Vare got it. Now he is warned that the senatorial powers will take away his seat.

The Senate's "best minds" evidently believe that political bosses should confine themselves to selling senatorships to their betters. A boss goes too far when he buys a senatorship himself.

Uncle Sam is certainly a rich old gentleman. His receipts yesterday amounted to more than five hundred million dollars just a small part of his income. In Tom Reed's day, people called it dreadfully for one Congress to spend a billion. Half of a Congress could spend that now in half a year, and ask for more. No wonder Wall Street and the big men are happy. The real money and real values are here.

Average weekly car loadings in May were above a million. They are expected to reach 1,100,000 in July. You are told "this means wonderful prosperity in the fall." But it isn't necessary to watch car loadings. This country has an income of more than seventy thousand million dollars a year. Those dollars are worth one hundred cents each. And the country isn't producing one per cent of the wealth that it might and that it eventually will produce. Why worry?

An anonymous letter, widely spread throughout the country, published in many newspapers yesterday, seeks to increase religious antagonism by attacks on Governor Smith of New York. The Ku Klux Klan is accused, but without proof, of sending a letter signed, "A Daughter of the Revolution," to every Congressman, to clergymen, school teachers and thousands of others. It is repudiated by the Daughters of the Revolution, as it should be.

The letter protests against Governor Smith being invited to make the principal address at Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's home, on July 4. The attack is based on the fact that Governor Smith is a Roman Catholic, speaks on his "invasion of the Solid South" as "the crowning step in the effort of Rome to put a Roman Catholic in the White House."

The writer of the anonymous letter ought to know that Governor Smith was working for the Democratic nomination as hard as he knew how, long before Rome ever heard of him.

And Governor Smith was invited to Monticello by Mr. Giboney, who is a McAdoo man, and the suggestion to invite Governor Smith came from Breckenridge Long, another supporter of McAdoo. Southern Democrats would like to win an election, and while a majority of them, perhaps, belong to McAdoo, they would like to win with Smith, if they can't win with McAdoo.

At the Fourth of July exercises at Monticello, the religious patriotic exercises will include a Protestant minister, a Rabbi, and a Catholic Priest. That ought to satisfy everybody.

Mr. Davis, Secretary of Labor, is sincerely agitated about "the red menace." Only communism threatens to undermine American ideals, he thinks. Time will show that the "American ideal" is threatened by a two million dollar election scandal, such as Pennsylvania produces, more seriously than by any Bolshevik demonstration in this land of gold dollars.

CROP CONDITIONS IN PITT COUNTY CONSIDERED GOOD

They Are Not Normal, But Visitors Say They Are Better Than in Most Places

Pitt county crop conditions are better than those in most sections of the state, and as good as any to be found in many states, of the South. This opinion is expressed by local men who have visited other parts of the country, and by many visitors coming here from various parts of the state.

J. C. Lanier, Bill Whedbee and Tom Timberlake have just returned from a trip which carried them through many parts of South Carolina and Georgia. They were surprised upon their return to find Pitt county crops in such good condition. The situation in South Carolina and Georgia forms a striking contrast to that prevailing in this immediate territory.

Cool weather and drought has had a telling effect upon all crops produced in the states which they visited. The outlook is not the best. Very little improvement is expected.

Visitors coming to Greenville from other farm centers of the state believe all crops in this county are in better condition than they had seen. They expressed surprise at the splendid growth of tobacco and cotton.

The crops in Pitt county are not normal by any means, but it will be gratifying to growers generally that they are a little above par, compared with other communities.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS PLAN TO QUIT SOON

Judge Notifies Attorneys That He Would Sign Final Order Tomorrow

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—Congressional leaders are planning to quit and go home a week from tomorrow. A number of important measures mangled up in churning currents of controversy probably will be abandoned until the next session. Some of the leaders oppose adjournment without final action on the Rivers and Harbors Bill, which has been passed by the House and has been the subject of a committee hearing on the Senate side.

Other leaders however, are confident that a majority would vote for adjournment sine die June 26. They are expecting to offer a resolution to this end in the House Monday and it will have the support of Speaker Longworth, Representative Tilson, and the Republican floor leaders and Chairman Snell, of the Rules Committee, who discussed adjournment plans yesterday with President Coolidge.

South Wales Women Hold to the Old World Motherhood

Treorchy, June 18.—(AP)—Mining and steel industries have not separated mothers in South Wales from their old-world methods of mothering.

Mother and baby share the same plaid shawl they did generations ago. The shawl is the emblem of maternity in this area and hardy a woman of marriageable age, but shelters a baby with it. Her left hand clutches it firm by half a day at a time, while her right is busy with household tasks in this nest on its mother's left arm the baby sleeps, eats or looks out cheerfully on the world. It takes the place of the perambulator and go-cart.

Little girls begin their mothering careers as soon as they are able to stagger under the burden of plump Welsh babies.

GREENVILLE GIRL HIGHLY HONORED

Miss Elizabeth Deal is Selected As Alternate to Sesqui-Centennial

Miss Elizabeth Deal, of this city, has been selected as alternate representative to the Sesqui-centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia. This award was made to the "North Carolina boy or girl who most conspicuously embody the highest ideals of American youth" and the recipients will be the guests of the directors of the Sesqui-centennial Exposition during the week of June 28 to July 5.

The selection was made from the high school students throughout the state and is considered the highest honor that can be conferred upon a North Carolina high school student.

Miss Deal is a member of this year's graduating class of the Greenville high school, was winner of the Woman's Club Scholarship prize, and was also one of the winners in the State-wide French contest recently held under the auspices of the State University, and winner of the Daughters of the Confederacy contest.

Her many friends in the city congratulate her upon this signal honor.

Miss Deal is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Deal. Prof. Deal is in charge of the Foreign Language Department of East Carolina Teachers College.

Butterflies and Moths Are This Woman's Business

Miami, Fla., June 18.—(AP)—Clad in a khaki skirt and a wide brimmed straw hat and armed with a net and bag, a serious little Miami woman of slight build and white hair goes forth each day in search of butterflies and moths.

For collecting and breeding beautifully marked specimens of this species of insect is a business with Mrs. Elizabeth O. Groves. She has one of the largest laboratories of its nature in the country.

She received orders for rare butterflies from scientific institutions and colleges that specialize in nature study from jewelers and collectors.

During her first season, she sold more than $400 worth of the tiny blue winged butterfly that feeds on the cotton. This is said to be a rare specimen in other sections, but common in Florida.

PREDICTS RAIN FOR DIFFERENT PARTS OF SOUTH

Thundershowers Are Predicted for Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama Today

Rain prayed for in South Carolina and much longed for in other states of the Southern group, will visit sections of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia and Alabama today if predictions of the Washington Weather Bureau come true. Relief to the harassed farmers and the sweltering residents of cities will come in the form of thunder showers, the official forecast says.

Regardless of official and unofficial forecasts, residents of South Carolina cities, towns and hamlets, have determined upon pray to an Almighty God to bring relief to their sun-parched lands, and prayer meetings and fasting will be continued as originally planned. Minor precipitations have visited several sections of the state but the supply is as yet far below the needs, reports stated.

BRYAN COLLEGE TO BE ERECTED

Construction Work On Memorial to the "Commoner" Planned for Next Year

Dayton, Tenn., June 18.—(INS)—Construction on the first unit of Bryan Memorial University, which will be erected in this little Tennessee town where the Commoner spent his last days, will get under way early in 1927. This was announced by Dr. Malcolm Lockhart, campaign manager.

Five sites have been offered for the university and one of these will be selected by a committee within the next 30 days, it was said.

Approximately $450,000 has been subscribed for the memorial university. Most of this, it was said, came from the communities in Tennessee and Florida.

The first two university buildings will be an administration building and an infirmary, it was announced.

Premier Baldwin Unable to Effect Cabinet Formation

Paris, June 18.—(AP)—Premier Baldwin this afternoon announced his inability to form a new cabinet. M. Briand told President Doumergue that in his opinion, former Premier Heriot, the radical leader, should be asked to constitute a ministry.

M. Briand decided that he was unable to form a ministry after M. Heriot had refused to enter the proposed Briand Cabinet.

President Doumergue invited M. Heriot, the leader of the Radical wing, to attempt the task of forming a new cabinet and M. Heriot accepted the mission late today and immediately began arrangements.

Pres. Coolidge Fails to Favor Tilson As Judge

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—President Coolidge today withdrew the nomination of William J. Tilson, brother of the Republican leader of the House, to be a Federal Judge in Georgia.

A Senate committee already had reported unfavorably and Senate leaders had told the president that confirmation would be denied by the Senate.

Mr. Tilson had been appointed Federal Judge for the newly created federal district of middle Georgia, but a wave of protest lead by the senators and representatives from Georgia resulted in the withdrawal.

TRUCK AND FRUIT SHIPMENTS SHOW GAIN OVER 1925

Carlot Shipments Up to June Total 209,876 Compared With 189,003

Raleigh, June 18.—(INS)—Car lot shipments of fruits and vegetables up to the middle of June this year totaled 209,876, as compared with 189,003 the corresponding date last year, it was announced at the State Department of Agriculture. These figures allude to the entire United States and were received at the Department over its co-operative leased wire from Washington.

There have been shipped to date, nine carlots of new apples, as compared with 43 the corresponding date last year. The late season also is reflected in tomato shipments. There have been only 6,179 carlots shipped this year, as compared with 11,572 last, while watermelons shipped to date total 2,229, as compared with 3,563 last year.

EVERETT IS SLOWLY RECOVERING FROM ATTACK OF HEART

Secretary of State Hopes to Be in Office Within Ten Days or More

Raleigh, June 18.—(AP)—Secretary of State W. N. Everett is receiving numerous letters from various parts of the state, congratulating him upon the fact that he is recovering from the recent heart attack which has kept him confined to his home for the past two weeks.

Mr. Everett now hopes to be able to be back in his office within a week or 10 days. He was able to be back in his office with the Council of State, held at his home, recently. This meeting was postponed until Mr. Everett was able to take part, Governor McLean having been insistent that the meeting not be held until all members of the council could be present.

The Secretary of State, whose recent attack is the second in some months, is able to spend most of his time out of bed now, and hopes to be back in his office shortly. He is impatient to be out again, it is reported from his home.

Lens of Air Camera Will Span 218 Miles, Says

Dayton, O., June 18.—(AP)—Some time this month Lieut. Geo. W. Goddard, McCook field army aviator, expects to scale the high reaches of the earth's atmosphere over Dayton and take a photograph of Detroit, 218 miles away. He will pilot the plane and also operate the camera.

When he hops off he will be equipped with many of the best instruments of aviation and photography. He expects to fly to an altitude of 32,000 feet. The ship itself must be an especially constructed one in order to withstand the strain of the high altitude to be has been allotted the plane used frequently by Lt. John A. Macready.

Sordid Anti-Climax Added to the Story of Heroism of B. B. Baker Who Gave His Life In An Attempt to Rescue Others In Hamlet Fire; Baker Had Planned to Kill and Rob One of the Victims of the Fire for His Insurance

Raleigh, June 18.—(AP)—Two weeks ago, B. B. Baker was hailed as a man who gave his life in an attempt to rescue others in a fire at Hamlet. Today he is branded as "not a hero, but a fire bug caught in his own trap."

To a tale of inspiring heroism that sordid anti-climax was added today by the report of Capt. W. A. Scott, Deputy Insurance Commissioner. The report was made to insurance commissioner Wade and was made public by him.

The report indicates that investigations show that Baker planned to kill and rob Louis O. Engleka, one of the victims just before or during the fire, that he planned the fire and made an attempt in advance to blame it upon the brother of a man whom he is alleged to have killed before coming to North Carolina and that his trips back into the house were made, not to rescue but to deliberately push along the flames. As a motive for the alleged crimes, Captain Scott says that his investigation indicates that Baker carried heavy insurance, which presumably he desired to collect.

The fire took a toll of five lives when the lodging house, run by Baker and his family, burned about three o'clock in the morning of June 4. Baker and Engleka were two of the four victims who lost their lives. Two other boarders also were burned to death.

Reports from Hamlet at the time stated that Baker made three trips into the burning structure in order to rescue those upstairs, finally falling down the steps and dying from severe burns. However, a coroner's jury, which was impeached and made an investigation, took no

WORLD SPRINT CLASSIC GOES TO CHARLOTTE

Event Planned for August 13; Two 65 Mile Races and Two Longer

Charlotte, June 18.—(INS)—The Charlotte speedway has been selected for the world sprint race classic August 13.

This was the announcement from Altoona, Pa., of C. W. Roberts, of Greensboro, general manager of the Charlotte Speedway.

Two races will be held, 25 miles long. These will be followed by a 50-mile and a 150-mile race.

Harry Hertz and Earl Cooper have officially entered the races. Others are expected to enter at an early date.

Republicans Agree to Adjourn Soon

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—The Republican House steering committee today agreed to ask for sine die adjournment of Congress on Wednesday, June 30, at five P. M.

A resolution proposing adjournment on this date will be called up in the House Monday and is expected to receive the approval of the leaders of both the Senate and House. The committee decided that to seek adjournment on Saturday, June 26 as at first contemplated would unduly hasten consideration of the deficiency appropriations bill which includes provision for the new federal buildings throughout the country to be started this year.

UNIVERSITY TO HELP TEACHERS SELECT BOOKS

Feature of Summer School Is to Aid Superintendents and Principals in Work

Chapel Hill, June 18.—A feature of the University summer school this year to aid the superintendents and principals in selecting textbooks and supplies for their schools is the exhibit by various publishers and school supply companies in the auditorium of Peabody building.

Eight of the foremost publishers and school supply companies in the country have sent their representatives to the University with copies of textbooks, from first grade through high school and teachers' technical books, recommended by the State Board of Education, and a full line of supplies and equipment ranging from imitation grass to teachers' desks and tables.

The entire auditorium in Peabody building has been turned over to the exhibitors for the summer session, different sections being set apart for exhibition of text books, latest materials for primary grades (children's songs, games, art materials). The school officials attending the summer school are showing keen interest in the exhibit, judging from the large number reviewing the exhibits. The purpose of the exhibit is to put on display and illustrate new texts and new ideas in education rather than as a means of making sales, although at the request of officials, orders are taken for immediate or fall delivery.

recreation. This is the most encouraging news we have had in some time. A progressive people must be taught that it is as essential to play as it is to work. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." This saying is as true today as it was yesterday. The people of all ages learned the lesson.
And the time has come when all Americans must begin to realize that they cannot do their work as effectively as they should without giving a certain amount of time to diversion.

There are many ways for one to find recreation. The cities are providing it in the form of parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and other ways. This kind of entertainment will be exactly what some people desire.
They get more out of outdoor sports than anything else. Other people require other things. It depends upon their temperament and the things which appeal to them.

Recreation may not be as imperatively necessary in the case of adults as in the child. But in the latter, it is not only imperative, but a necessity. The child of today cannot stand the excitement and strain of modern life without having given considerable attention to the training of their bodies.
Healthy minds and bodies go hand in hand. The one depends upon the other. One cannot be expected to function as it should without the other being in the best of condition.

A child's mind may be exceptionally brilliant, yet it cannot be expected to perform brilliantly or actively without the aid of a sound and healthy body. It is true that some of the greatest minds of the nation are those belonging to deformed or imperfect bodies. But these cases are unusual. They are the result of extraordinary circumstances and occur infrequently.

All parents should see that their children receive a certain amount of recreation daily. In other words, see to it that the mind is diverted from the mediocre things of life; that the interesting and entertaining is provided. Splendid results are assured.

STARTLING EVIDENCE
EXPECTED IN HEARING

Gray, Ga., June 17.—(INS)—
As a result of a nine months' investigation by county officers, startling new evidence is expected to be unearthed in the Malone-Tucker murder case.
Felton Wilkinson and Austin Pitts, the latter a negro, are held incommunicado in the Bibb coun-

THE PRAIRIE PIRATE MAKES EXCELLENT DRAMA

The current bill at White's theatre Saturday, provides real entertainment by that most genuine of Westerners, Harry Carey. In all, the screen can best produce excitement and adventure, and this new Carey picture, "The Prairie Pirate" released through Producers Distributing Corporation does that to perfection.

The working out of the story through its various complications keeps the audience intensely interested every minute, and the picture has many quirks and twists which made it decidedly different.

Lloyd Whitlock and Fred Kohare are two very excellent screen players, and Jean Dumas and Le Ducray complete one of the best cast ever assembled for a Western production. Direction under Edmund Mortimer with cinematography by George Berolt.

Native Indian Teepees Seldom Seen These Days

Oklahoma City, June 18—(AP)—Native teepees with their blanketed Indian occupants seldom are seen any more on the Oklahoma prairies. The modern Indian lives as does the white brother, in comparatively comfortable surroundings. So says Houston B. Teehee, a Cherokee himself and assistant attorney general of the state.

In the Osage country of northern Oklahoma there still may be seen a few Indians wearing brightly colored blankets, long braided hair and Indian finery, but for the most part they drive high-priced automobiles and live in modern houses.

Those who wear blankets are of the older generation. The young squaws and bucks attire themselves in white man's fashion, and a large number hold responsible positions with business firms and in offices at the state capital.

GRIM DEATH SEALED SECRET OF MYSTERY MAN

Memphis, Tenn., June 18.—(INS)—Grim death has sealed forever the secret of Memphis' "mystery man."

Why Henry C. Koehnemann, former Philadelphia shoe merchant; suddenly disappeared from his home 26 years ago and what led him to Memphis to spend his last days on earth in a "sunshine home" for aged and infirm men now probably will never be revealed. For Koehnemann died in a hospital here without divulging his secret. He lived here for many years, but he made few acquaintances and no confidants.

The "mystery man's" identity and the story of his strange disappearance became known here a little more than a year ago when he was stricken with apoplexy and was taken to a hospital. Koehnemann was 68 years old when he died.

"We Sure Believe In Karnak At Our House"

Veteran Southern Ry. Conductor, Eakins, of Spencer, N. C., His Wife and Little Boy All Report Most Gratifying Results

"Yes, sir, I gave Karnak a hard run in my case and it has certainly come through on schedule time. This medicine sure does what's claimed for it all right," declared B. A. Eakins, of 403 8th St., Spencer, N. C., conductor on Southern train No. 61 and No. 62, Salisbury to Charlotte.

"I had been troubled with indigestion for several years. I guess it must have been caused from my long runs on the railroad, and eating irregular like I did. I know I suffered a lot with it and got into a general rundown condition all over.

"Well, sir, some of the boys told me to try Karnak, and as I stated before it did the work in short order for me. I improved the fastest kind, and three bottles relieved me of the indigestion completely, and made me eat and feel like my real self.

"My wife took Karnak with splendid results, too, and she also gave the medicine to a boy of ours who was in a rundown condition. Yes, sir, we believe in Karnak at our house, and just consider it our medicine. I am more than glad to recommend it."

Karnak is sold in Greenville by B. S. Warren, and all leading druggists.

"We Keep Your Feet Happy"

It should be remembered that what we seek to protect here in a government politely called a democracy, that is in reality a well-managed plutocracy. In it, the big men get what they want, the little men get enough to keep them going and are satisfied. The one thing necessary is to keep those "little men" satisfied by letting them "get theirs" and never letting them know that they have nothing to say about government.
Lord Dunsen is dead, large type in newspapers tell about it, because he built sailing boats that were good racing boats.
Somewhere in Australia some old native without any title is at work perfecting a boomerang that will go farther than any other and come back more surely. That native is just as important to the world as Lord Dunsen was. Sailing yachts and boomerangs are out of date.

Mussolini's senate refused to sanction gambling clubs, and forbids any imitations of the Monte Carlo life on Italian soil. Such gambling clubs would attract Americans and other foreigners spending liberally. The Italian senate was told. But Fascism replies that it intends to stamp out gambling. If it does that, it will render a great service to Italy and set a good example before other nations, especially the United States which permits race track gambling, because rich "gentlemen" demand it, and to England, where the race track gambling "turn over" amounts to three hundred million pounds a year.

English Explorer Reports New Kind of Slum Life

London, June 18.—(INS)—Those people who moralize about the overcrowding in the densely populated slum areas of the world's big cities should pay a visit to the Amazon River district of South America, where, according to Dr. William McGovern, noted English explorer and anthropologist, it is nothing unusual to find 200 or 300 people living in one room.

Dr. McGovern is just back in London after a year on the Amazon looking for—and finding—hitherto undiscovered tribes. He came across natives who had only heard of white men. Some were civilized tribes with culture, and an elaborate political and religious organization of their own.

Others were so primitive and wild that they had no houses, could not even swim dug up roots for their nourishment, and only showed themselves higher than the animals by their use of fire.

"Our party consisted of three, besides four Brazilians and a number of Indians servants" Dr. McGovern told International News Service. "We traveled mainly by canoe, but sometimes had to use our legs to penetrate the jungles where the most primitive tribes live.

"All the tribes were antagonistic to white men but although we were several times attacked, we came through safely. We were well armed, but the only weapons the natives had were their bows and poisoned arrows. The blowpipes are only used on wild animals, but their arrows are very poisonous, and there is no antidote.

"Our chief food was peccari, or wild boar, monkey flesh, and roasts ants, while the staple food of the natives is the mandioca—a sort of poisonous potato from which the poison is extracted by a process of evaporation. Their drink is mandioca beer. They chew the mandioca, and then spit the juice, in which fermentation is set up by the saliva, into a trough. The contents of the trough are then watered down and this is their beer.

"The women of the tribes do all the work, except the hunting and fishing, they wear not a stitch of clothing, and the men only wear a loincloth. A kind of freemasonry—called the Jurupari rites—binds the different tribes together. This is entirely a man's affair and for a woman to see the instruments used at the ceremonies means instant death for her. Boys and men have to suffer a very severe initiation; they are whipped until they bleed.

"The Indians carry on the practice of eating the bones of their ancestors. After fifteen or twenty years the bones are disinterred, pounded to powder and mixed with the drink taken at certain festivals, apparently with the thought that the souls and power of their ancestors will be communicated to the bodies of their descendants.

"The men for the most part, have finer figures than the women who are apt to be small and stumpy. Deformed persons are unknown, and twins are killed at birth as evil things. I found the diet of ants and monkeys very nice. Ants taste like crisp bacon, while monkey tastes like a cross between chicken and pork."

BEST BALLYHOO LURES GOTHAM TO BUSINESS

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Enterprise and business ingenuity probably pay higher cash dividends in Gotham than any other city. Manhattan is ready to flock, not to the man who makes the best mousetrap, but to the one who ballyhoo his mousetrap in the most effective manner.

Thus one restaurateur has come to a secure place on "Easy Street" through putting his patrons on an honor system. His plan is simple. The patron eats and then on the way out of the restaurant stops at the cashier's cage to name the amount of his own check. There is no supervision. Yet the restaurateur says his percentage of loss is so small that he actually saves money through the elimination of help required for a checking system. Besides, he says, the idea attracts new patrons.

The audacity of his plan is the more apparent when compared with that of a chain soda fountain organization which requires all patrons to pay in advance for their orders before they will be served.

The Manhattanite has a strong leaning for "atmosphere." The soft, Southern drawl is very popular on the island, so much so that it is frequently exaggerated by those who would not give it a thought in their home towns. One man made a fortune by capitalizing the idea. He opened an old-fashioned, Southern waffle house and hired young lady waitresses who were fortunate enough to possess a real or pseudo-Southern accent.

Ideas even extend to popular restaurants, the latest lounge being to add $2 to the covert charges for tables located near electric fairs.

There is a former bartender who is quietly amassing a fortune down in the "palook" district by the unique idea of requiring the patrons of his little cafe to obey the prohibition law. Neither will he serve any food unless a soft drink order is also given. His rule is arbitrary. No person will be served who does not order the prescribed beverage, or who comes in under the influence of liquor.

The pitch men are others who do they capitalize every occasion. If a land office business on the streets it rains they sell cheap umbrellas at about four times their value. If it is a parade they can be depended upon to supply the American flags.

Times Square is their popular rendezvous but Park Row is also a favorite haunt. One Park Row pitch man has sold leather shoe strings on the same corner for fifteen years. He tells all his customers confidentially that his brand of shoestrings is the secret brand with which so many fellows have started in business. He supports a family and owns a comfortable little home out on Staten Island.

Lots of men go in the hole because of their efforts to get a little white ball in the hole.—Gadsden, Ala., Times.

A tre fossil has been found in New York, 45 feet below the street. Human fossils can be found above ground without any digging.—Miami Tribune.

STATE EDUCATORS TO DISCUSS FIVE PHASES OF STUDY

Elementary Education to Receive Attention at Conference June 24-26

Raleigh, June 18.—(AP)—North Carolina elementary teachers, when they gather at Chapel Hill June 24, 25 and 26, for the second conference on elementary education, will discuss five distinct phases of elementary education, the preliminary program shows.

These five problems have been given detailed study by committees appointed by A. T. Allen, state superintendent of public instruction, and N. W. Walker, director of the University of North Carolina summer school. And the discussions of these questions are to be led by the committee chairmen.

Each phase will be discussed at a separate session.

At the first session the subject of discussion will be: "Present educational status of the children in the elementary schools," with Dr. A. M. Jordan, of the University department of education, who is chairman of the committee studying this particular subject, presiding.

The second subject to be dealt with is the question of the relation of the county superintendent and the rural supervisor to the organization and administration of elementary schools. The question will be discussed from two angles, that of the county superintendent, and that of the rural supervisor. John C. Lockhart, superintendent in Wake county, will preside at the first half of the discussion, and L. C. Brogden, State supervisor of elementary schools, at the second.

Supt. W. A. Graham, of New Hanover county, will preside at the third session, when the teachers will consider the question of the length of the rural school term.

At the fourth session, President Robert H. Wright, of the East Carolina Teachers College, will preside over a discussion of the question of a more adequate supply of specifically trained teachers. On Saturday morning, at the conference's concluding session, the standardization of elementary schools will be the subject for consideration. Dr. John M. Cook, professor of education at the N. C. College for Women, will preside at this session.

Indian Priest Protests Ban on Tribal Dances

Superior Wis., June 18.—(AP)—Official interference with tribal Indian dances "is downright stupidity," asserted the Rev. Fr. Phillip Gordon, a full-blood Chipewa, and one of the few ordained Indian Catholic priests in the United States.

"The last few months have been the saddest in the fight of the Indians for elemental human rights," said Father Gordon. "It may be true that unsupervised, long-continued, unseasonable dances may lead to ill effects, but to connect these with the ordinary recreation amusements of the so-called war dance is nothing short of cruelty and prejudice. Some of these dances, it is true, are a part of pagan worship but most of them are nothing more than a form of recreation."

Futurist Painting Is Recognized By the Facists

Rome, June 18.—(AP)—Futurist painting has been recognized by the Fascist government as worthy of a place in the state museum.

Eight works by leaders in the most advanced school of painting including Enrico Prampolini and Fortunato Depero, were purchased for permanent exhibition at the National Gallery at Rome. They included such suggestive canvases as "War-Feast," "The Distracted Pelican" and "Rhythm of Velocity."

WHAT IS THE WEIGHT OF A FLY? ASKS KILLER

Charlotte, June 17.—(INS)—What is the weight of a fly? Or, rather, how many flies does it take to make a pound?

An old trusty negro, known as the "Fly Killer" because of his untiring efforts in exterminating the pests claims to know.

According to George Ross Pout state supt. of prisons, this old negro has found out exactly how many dead flies it takes to weigh one pound.

The number is 142,080.

GUM-DIPPING the Extra Process for Extra Miles! Breaks all Tire Records

The 500 Mile Speed Classic at Indianapolis has always been a Battle of Tires. In 1911, Firestone won with fabric tires at 74.59 miles per hour. In 1920, Firestone won with cord tires at 88.55 miles per hour. In 1925, Firestone won with Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons at the record breaking average speed of 101.13 miles per hour.

In 1926, Firestone again won with Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. The ten cars to finish "in the money" were all Firestone-equipped. They went the distance without a single blowout and with but two tire failures—one due to a puncture and the other to a leaky valve.

This performance is even more remarkable when you consider the terrific speeds at which the cars traveled over this fifteen-year-old, rough brick track.

Experienced race drivers will not risk their lives or chances of victory on any other tires. And in the commercial field, large truck, motorbus and taxicab fleet operators, who keep careful cost records are among the big users of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

The City Transportation Co., of Tacoma, Wash., writes: "One of our 12 buses on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires has gone over 40,600 miles and still looks good for many miles of extra service. For all around tire safety and mileage, Firestone cannot be beat."

From Calumet Motor Coach Co., Hammond, Ind., the following: "We operate 40 buses all equipped with Gum-Dipped Tires. The very low cost per mile on which these tires operate is considerably less than that of any other make." Hayes Bus Lines, Columbia, S. C., says: "We operate 19 buses equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. A number of these tires have run over 45,000 miles without ever having been removed from the rim."

The largest taxicab companies in the world standardize on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. W. R. Rothwell, taxicab operator, Detroit, Mich., writes: "Two of my Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have run 76,000 miles." Hundreds of thousands of car owners voluntarily testify to the safety, comfort and economy of Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. W. H. Peacock, Birmingham, Ala., testifies: "I have had Firestone Balloons for thirteen months and they have delivered in that time 24,469 miles." H. C. Staebler, Minneapolis, Minn., says: "My Firestone Balloons have gone 49,900 miles and are still in good condition."

These records of endurance, speed, safety and mileage could only have been made because of Firestone development of the Gum-Dipping process which insulates and saturates every fiber of every cord with rubber, reducing friction and heat and building greater strength and endurance in the cords—assuring you at all times—
