TODAY

(Copyright 1926) The Lioness Mothers. Our Sun a Cannon. Apathetic Citizens. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

This will interest all mothers and some fathers. Sir James Bland Burton, great British surgeon, and vice-president of the zoological society, interested himself in lionesses that had a terrible time when their babies were born.

Perhaps experiments on lionesses will eventually prove useful to human mothers. Dieting, if we understood it, might simplify child birth and reduce the mortality that accompanies it.

Professor Snyder of the Philadelphia observatory says the earth was shot into space by our sun, a sort of comic cannon.

It seems frightful gigantic to us, but a hen laying an egg would seem just as impressive to a microbe.

John Hays Hammond says "the citizens are apathetic," indifferent to public questions, and they are to go away with public apathy. That won't work.

The other day, in an American community above the average in intelligence, many citizens went to the polls to vote on a dog ordinance and returned without taking the trouble to vote, at the same primaries, for members of congress.

Ninety per cent of Americans unless you arouse them with religious or racial antipathy, or with the high price of coal, feel that government is somebody else's business.

Conditions are better in Europe and will continue improving, if our European friends resist the temptation to go to war.

If Uncle Sam will keep his assets and his pocketbook out of that situation it will improve steadily.

Very impressive and picturesque is the religious demonstration at Chicago's Eucharistic Congress. Fifty thousand of the faithful kneeling in the street outside of the holy name cathedral, 200,000 hearing mass at one time, many cardinals, each on a separate throne—with the cardinal legate of the pope ruling over all—a most impressive spectacle.

Cardinal Bonzano, urging him to Cardinal Orsani, urging him especially to bring all Christians back within the pale of the Roman Church, and the cardinal's appeal to "the lost sheep of Rome" interests all Christians and others.

Whatever your religion, you are bound to acknowledge that the Roman Church works ceaselessly, with energy and patience.

DAWES MAY HAVE TO CAST VOTE ON FARM RELIEF BILL

Show Down of Ballots So Closely Balanced That Deciding Vote Must Be Had

Washington, June 24.—(AP)—As the show-down of ballots on the McNary equalization fee proposal approached today the decision of Senators of this plan of farm relief was so closely balanced that consideration was being given to the possibility that Vice-President Dawes might be called up to cast the deciding vote.

Each side, while working desperately among the little group of doubtful Senators, claimed this potential ballot. The Vice-President, proponent of the measure pointed out, is one of the few economists identified with the administration, who have opposed the principles involved through his endorsement of the opinion written by a noted English economist, holding them to be sound.

Opponents expressed equal confidence that if called upon to break a deadlock he would vote with them. They also predicted that if the measure should be passed by the Senate and be approved by the House, President Coolidge would veto it.

Leaders hope to bring about a vote on the measure before the end of today's session with debate limited to five minutes for every Senator after one P. M. After this vote action must be taken on the Co-operative Marketing Bill already passed by the House. The McNary proposal was brought forward as an amendment to the marketing bill.

Read Walsh Letter At Investigation

Washington, June 24.—(AP)—A letter in which Peter P. Walsh, superintendent of police at Pittsburgh, Pa., "instructed" members of the force that "we expect a large majority in their respective districts for the Pepper-Fisher ticket" in the recent Pennsylvania primary, was produced today before the Senate campaign funds committee.

The letter was read by Chairman Walsh himself, called to the stand as a surprise witness, had insisted that no one asked him to support the Pepper-Fisher coalition and that he made no effort to line-up the force for the nomination of Senator Pepper as the selection of John S. Fisher for Governor. The police superintendent acknowledged his signature at the end of the letter but sent only to the detective force who, as a rule, had charge of "getting out" the votes.

Before resuming its public hearing, the committee today had another private conference with Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, regarding Wheeler's charges of expenditures of the liquor interest in the Pennsylvania primary.

The consultation was held at Wheeler's request and apparently was for discussion of a list of witnesses who might be called in connection with the liquor slush fund charge. The committee stenographer was admitted to the conference room. When the committee emerged, Chairman Reed announced that the subject under discussion would be disclosed later. He added that the conference held with Wheeler today and yesterday "have nothing to do with Mr. Wheeler's testimony."

CAN IT BE DONE? Can prohibition be enforced?

There are some who say it cannot. Other says it can. We believe it can. But flagrant violations of the prohibition law cannot be stopped without more concerted action by the courts.

In many instances this lack of evidence is due to the unwillingness of citizens to do the duty of witnesses. In others, it is because those involved as witnesses happen to be of the same class as the blockader or the blind tiger operator, and decline to tell everything they know.

Right here now is where we desire to take our hats off to Pitt county people. Public sentiment in this county has always been against whiskey.

Judge Darden evidently realizes all these things. His action in sending a majority of prohibition violators to the roads has met with public approval. It will continue to meet with approbation. He is doing good work for civilization.

STARTING AND STOPPING Briand has formed his tenth cabinet. This is the most cheering news we have received lately.

Proves Mother is Your Closest Friend Jersey City, Mr. J. Paul writes: "I awakened each morning with an unpleasant taste and was often reminded by my Mother that my breath was disagreeable."

There are lots of things more discouraging than the retirement of a body of public officials. France should be thankful that it was not worse.

Premier Briand is the man to recognize the new body. He is familiar with conditions as they affect the nation at the present moment. He is more capable of relieving the financial difficulties than anyone else.

Members of the cabinet have realized by this time that the remedy for the situation is not repeated shirking of the job. The retirement of one official cannot be as bad as the retirement of the entire cabinet.

He should have learned by this time that it is unwise and futile to leave a job when it presents an unusually serious aspect. His experience in this and previous instances should teach him the wisdom of consistency and devotion to duty at all times.

The political horizon of all nations has always been filled with storms. It always will be. When we think the ship of state is running smoothly, a storm may be brewing in some unexpected quarter.

When France realizes these things, strife will cease and she will find a panacea for all of her afflictions.

Akron Will Build Auto Speed Oval

Akron, Ohio, June 24.—(INS)—Akron may become one of the centers of automobile racing in the United States if plans announced by Frank Nied, promoter, are carried out.

Nied said a group of Akron and Cleveland business men will finance the erection of a $750,000 one-and-one-half-mile wooden oval auto racing track on the state road between Akron and Cleveland.

The track, Nied stated, is sanctioned by the American Automobile Association and none but A. A. A. drivers will pilot cars in the races.

A grandstand seating 30,000 persons will be built in connection with the track, Nied said.

"Only the best known and greatest drivers in the world will take part in the races to be held at the new track," Nied said. "It will rival the speedways at Altoona and Atlantic City. The location is the best in the country, being close to Cleveland and Akron hotels and other accommodations."

A few more senatorial elections and the White House will become all the more mysterious.

Proves Mother is Your Closest Friend Jersey City, Mr. J. Paul writes: "I awakened each morning with an unpleasant taste and was often reminded by my Mother that my breath was disagreeable."

Red Grang Back to Ice Wagon Job

Urbana, Ill., June 24.—(INS)—Whatever the future has in store for Harold "Red" Grange, famous gridiron dash, it has nothing in the way of collegiate life for the Wheaton ice-man this fall.

Red now is on the coast learning the ways and wiles of life in the movies. He is due to return to his home town, Wheaton, Ill., this summer to resume his duties on an ice wagon, by which light labor he hopes to get in condition for the coming gridiron season.

Harold has at least one more semester at the University before he can expect a degree.

But the name Grange is not to be entirely scratched from the roster of the Illinois. For Garland, Red's younger brother, is expected to do the moleskins this fall and fight for a berth with the "Fightin' Illini." Garland sustained an injury last season and left school, re-entering in February. He devoted his time this spring to working with the track squad and developed no little ability as a sprinter, shining most brightly in the 220. Unlike his famed brother, however, he fails to scintillate in the backfield, playing his best game at end.

LARGE ACREAGE NOT NECESSARY TO FARM LIFE

State Department Declares Successful Farming May Be Had On Small Tract

Raleigh, June 24.—(AP)—Large acreage is by no means necessary to successful farming, it was pointed out at the State Department of Agriculture today, when attention was called to a letter from an Illinois man who said he was coming to this state and start business on a tract of three or five acres. It was stated in this connection that numerous letters from Northern and Eastern farmers who had contained the information that the inquirers wanted only small tracts.

"Two farmers met in the office of one of the divisions of the Department," it was stated. "One informed the other that he had just purchased ten acres and was going to farm extensively and intensively on it. 'Can you make a living on ten acres?' he was asked. His reply was, 'Well, I am going to try it; at least I can't make a living on ten acres. I

PLAINS OF CATTLE REGION LIKE GARDEN THIS SPRING San Antonio, June 24.—The great cattle country of Southwest Texas, usually an expanse of sunburned plains and hills in fact as well as in the minds of readers of western fiction, this summer is a veritable garden. Due to the abnormal rains the grass is thick and long, and there is more range than is needed for the hundreds of thousands of grazing cattle. Cattlemen say that not in several years has there been so much vegetation in the country between San Antonio and El Paso. Last year was a year of severe and long drought. Cattle men anticipate better profits than have been their lot in several years.

INDIGESTION

North Carolina Lady Says She Had An Awful Time With Indigestion, Till She Took Black-Draught.

Pilot Mountain, N. C.—"For several years I suffered with a bad case of chronic indigestion," says Mrs. Sam C. Inman, of this place. "I had had spells with my stomach. At times I had severe pains in my right side. My stomach would get upset and I would have an awful time. It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I was in pretty bad shape.

"My husband had been using Theford's Black-Draught for some time for indigestion. He had spells of it too, so he suggested that I try Black-Draught. I took some from his box, just to see if it would help me, and I found it was the very thing for my trouble. It did me a great deal of good. My condition was brought on by a chronic case of constipation and, by getting relief from this, I found my general health was much better.

"We keep Black-Draught in the house all the time. Whenever I find I need it, I take several doses and thus avert a bad spell of indigestion. It is a splendid medicine and I am glad to say so."

"SPORTING LIFE" ROBS LYTELL OF MARTIAL BLISS

Bert Lytell was happy, of course, that he was chosen to play the featured role in "Sporting Life," the Universal-Jewel production which comes to Whites Theatre Friday.

He wondered, when he signed the contract, why fate should decree that his work should take him away as far as possible from Claire Windsor, his bride of a few weeks.

Lytell worked at Universal City, which is over the hills and away from Hollywood, on the road to San Francisco. Miss Windsor, on the other hand, was working at a studio in Culver City, in the opposite direction from the cinema capital, and even further away from Universal City.

Tourneur directed the production from Curtis Benton's adaptation of the stage play by Cecil Raleigh and Seymour Hicks.

TRAFFIC COPS IN MEXICO FREQUENTLY HIT WALKERS

Mexico City, June 24.—(AP)—Local newspapers complain that Mexico City traffic cops are too loose on the trigger. They urge the police to quit shooting at violators of traffic laws.

The objection is that the public is doubly imperiled. The pedestrian is not only apt to be run down by automobiles but he also hazards being killed by a police bullet intended for a motorist.

The newspapers say several persons have been killed in recent weeks by shots directed by police at traffic law violators.

CROWDER USES CHEAP PEN TO SIGN IMPORTANT PAPERS

Havana, June 24.—(AP)—An ordinary steel pen set in a simple red wooden staff with a soft rubber grip is one of the most jealously guarded objects in the possession of Mrs. Bertha Kendrick, private secretary to Major General Enoch H. Crowder, United States ambassador to Cuba.

With this pen and staff, which could be duplicated in the United States at almost any stationery store for ten cents, General Crowder has signed every important document since his appointment.

The contents of the weekly pay envelope or pay check may easily be increased and made to mean a great deal more to the family purse if one goes about the matter of regulating expenditures so that each dollar becomes an investment rather than an expense.

An advertisement is recalled that read "Buy wisely and often." Buying wisely has the right sound but buying often might be qualified by adding, "if goods are needed." Our advice is to "buy what you need and buy it wisely."

A workman walked into our Store at Bremerton, Washington, the other day, and told how he had literally raised his own pay since he had become a regular customer of the Store. The savings he and his family, enjoyed by buying from us had enabled the putting aside of more money for the possible rainy day. You can do the same thing.

GERMAN REPORTS SHOW BIG GAINS FOR INDUSTRIES

Favorable Indications in Increased Exports and Trade Promotions; Reduced Tax on Industry With New Commercial Treaties Boom Business

Washington, June 24.—(INS)—Frequent statements by high officials of the American government that German industry has passed the turning point and is on the upward road to recovery, apparently are born out by the tentative proposals to France that reparations bill will be settled in cash, and by advice to Secretary of Commerce Hoover from Commercial Attache F. W. Allport, of Berlin.

Allport reported that "a relaxation of industrial depression in Germany is evidenced by the continued decline in bankruptcy, receiverships, protested drafts and other business indicators."

Among the favorable indicators are general prospects for increased exports resulting from the program of trade promotion launched by the Government. This includes federal and state guarantees on export credits to Russia totaling 300,000,000 marks, federal insurance on export credits in general and the stimulation of industrial reorganization to permit lower production costs.

Official approval is given to international agreements along the lines of the Polish pact, lessening the dangers of price-cutting and over-production in export industries.

The marked reduction in taxation on industry, and trade, to

GOV. J. B. ROBERTSON

Lincoln C. Andrews, dry czar, was to meet a Mexican committee to devise means of stopping liquor smuggling. Trapp, acting governor of Oklahoma, has been ruled eligible to succeed himself. He will be opposed by J. B. Robertson, former governor, in elections.

gether with vigorous negotiations for favorable commercial treaties, is expected to stimulate foreign trade," Allport said.

The conclusion of the treaty with Spain on May 7, is a notable example of this policy.

"During the past year, when provisional agreements were in effect with Spain, Germany's exports to that country had already exceeded pre-war figures.

"Further measures are planned toward a stricter control of the chattel price-fixing system, in order to permit a lower rice level on the domestic market. The revival of German bonds with German residents abroad is being effected through the centralization of German chambers of commerce abroad into one association, through the numerous German business delegations traveling in foreign countries."

Reports issued in Berlin by Chambers of Commerce, announce some improvement in industrial production, chiefly in textiles, electrical products, leather, shoes, lignite, chemicals and fertilizers, although a large part of this change is seasonal.

Total sales of automobiles are increasing. American interests in the market is shown by the opening of a new American assembling plant in Berlin with a daily production of about ten cars and an ultimate capacity of fifty cars.

The German dye trust has declared a 10 per cent dividend on its capital of 640,000,000 marks, according to Allport.

It was pointed out, however, that there are still unfavorable conditions in the various phases of German industry. The basis of the past year's depression, restricted markets, and lack of capital still remain. Unemployment remained widespread at 781,000 on May 1, though registering a 5 per cent decrease in two weeks prior thereto.

Resignations Take Airmen From Army

Washington, June 24.—(INS)—With one hundred and fifty vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant remaining after the addition of the June class of the West Point, Military Academy, high officials of the army are turning their attention to the increasing rate of resignations by officers. West Point is now furnishing fewer officers each year than are voluntarily giving up their bars. With the loss incurred from other causes, more than half of the new officers created each year must be obtained from the ranks or civilian life.

Many experienced aviators are being lost to the army in the wave of resignations from all branches. War Department reports disclose that while the Air Service officers' corps constitutes but one-fourteenth of the total number of officers, one-sixth of those resigning in the first five months of 1926 were from the air branch.

Some resignations of aviation officers have been traced to the same dissatisfaction that caused Colonel "Billy" Mitchell to launch his fight for a separate air force. Many aviators object to receiving orders from non-flying officers.

Ability to command higher salaries outside the army, unsatisfactory living conditions and slow promotion are among the causes assigned by veteran army officers for the present condition. One hundred and ten officers quit the army in 1924, 171 in 1925 and 95 resigned in the first five months

Red Russia Lives Up To Its Name

Moscow, June 24.—(INS)—Red Russia literally lives up to its name. From politics to flags, the color red is dominant. But of all the red things in Russia, the most frequent is red tape. Just now the population of Moscow is suffering from a shortage of clinical thermometers. Not a drug store in the city has a thermometer for sale. At the same time an enterprising investigator learned that 180,000 of the instruments were reposing in the Moscow customs house waiting for the officials to unwind the necessary red tape.

Promotion has become slow in the army since the national defense act was amended four years ago and the regular army slashed to 118,750 men, and the number of officers reduced from 14,000 to 11,683 at the present time. Reduction in grade for hundreds of officers has retarded promotion from three to five years.

The bulk of the resignations continue to be among the second lieutenants, who enter the army at a salary of $125 a month with allowances. Many of them are disillusioned, one veteran officer explained. Expecting to find an easy life, most of them find themselves either going to school or working longer hours than is required in civilian life.

Felix Djerjinsky, popularly considered the reddest of the Reds, because he was formerly head of the Tcheka, and is now head of its successor, the G. P. U., is in his capacity as head of the Supreme Economic Council, a foe of red tape. He has just ordered several of the largest trusts to put their reports on the scales and see how much they weighed. The annual fiscal report of the Oil Syndicate weighed one ton. That of the Stalin Mine Trust weighed one and one-quarter tons.
