TWO GREENVILLE MEN SLAIN LAST NIGHT

SENATE TURNS DOWN PLAN FOR FARM RELIEF

Way Now Open for Action on the Co-Operative Marketing Bill

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—Like the House, the Senate has turned down the equalization fee plan of farm relief opening the way toward action on the co-operative marketing bill favored by Secretary Jardine.

Immediately a deluge of substitutes fell, some designed to save as much as possible from the wreckage of the equalization fee program, but such of these as were acted upon were defeated. Although many remained to provide fighting material for today's session, opponents were confident they could clear the way for a vote on the marketing bill and confine the Senate farm relief activities to that, unless a surplus crop solution more to their economic liking should be offered.

After a bitter struggle, in which the outcome was in doubt until the ballot was counted, the Senate late yesterday defeated the McNary measure by a vote of 45 to 39. Western proponents of the plan had obtained recruits among the Southern Democrats, but not enough to overcome the opposition of Eastern and other Southern Senators.

Governor McLean Thinks Reduction of Tax Premature

Raleigh, June 25.—(AP)—Any reduction of taxes by the next General Assembly on a basis of the surplus which is expected to be shown at the end of the present fiscal year would be premature, Governor McLean thinks.

He reiterated today the present fiscal system is based on the biennium and that it can be only judged on the biennium.

The Governor pointed out that a large share of the appropriations of the 1925 General Assembly are to be paid out during the next fiscal year. Then, too, a part at least of the surplus that is expected, may be attributed to the fact that Governor McLean has had in effect a horizontal five per cent cut in appropriation to Departments and institutions and during the next year they will receive their total appropriation, he has announced.

GREENVILLE MAN PASSES AWAY IN NEW ORLEANS LA

Benjamin Higgs Died Yesterday Afternoon As Result of High Blood Pressure

News was received here yesterday of death of J. Benjamin Higgs, former Greenville resident, who occurred yesterday afternoon at five o'clock in New Orleans. Although he had been ill for several weeks, death came as a distinct shock to friends and relatives, residing in Greenville. Death resulted from high blood pressure.

Only meager reports of the death were received here, but it is understood that burial will take place in Chicago, where Mrs. Higgs formerly resided.

The deceased was the son of the late late J. Benjamin Higgs, Mrs. Mary Dorcas Higgs. He was born and raised in Greenville, and was held in the highest esteem by a host of friends.

He is survived by his wife, one son, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Harding and Mrs. Hamlin Winstead, formerly of Greenville but who is now residing in China.

S-51 Above Water Once More

For a fleeting moment the nose of the S-51 was lifted above water off New London, Conn. It can be seen between two pontoons. Because of the rough seas, salvagers decided it was unwise to attempt to finish floating the submarine then, and Engineman William Badders volunteered to ride the pontoons to release the air from them. The sub was sunk on September 26 by a steamer.

WOMAN SAYS SHE WAS HELD CAPTIVE BY THREE PERSONS

Mrs. McPherson Tells Los Angeles Officials of Mysterious Disappearance

Douglas, Ariz., June 25.—(AP)—In the desolate desert wastes lying south of here in Mexico, the search continued today for the place in which Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, says she was held captive by three persons who kidnapped her at Ocea, Park, Cal., on May 18.

Mrs. McPherson, herself, joined Los Angeles and Douglas officers in the hunt through the desert for some trace of the place in the belief that information as to her alleged abductors might be obtained.

Abernethy Speaks to Highway Men

Wilmington, June 25.—(AP)—An address by Congressman C. L. Abernethy of the Third North Carolina District, and appointment of a safety committee were the features of this morning's session of the 6th annual meeting of the coastal highway commission in convention here. The final meeting will be held this afternoon.

RUM SHIP MAY BE BROUGHT TO NORTH CAROLINA

With No Case Against Vessel at Norfolk, Officials Puzzled As to What to Do

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—With no case against the ship at Norfolk, the Coast Guard cutter Manning may take the steamer loaded with rum to a North Carolina port in the hope of establishing a case there.

The Department of Justice has decided the vessel, which was captured Sunday 100 miles off the coast, could not be held at Norfolk because its seashore was outside the Treaty limit. Consequently, the Coast Guard cutter and rum ship have sailed for the open seas.

ENGLISH CHILDREN DO NOT HAVE THEIR CIRCUSES AS OF OLD

London, June 25.—(AP)—England is a circusless land. The small boys of John Bull's island have no opportunity with the advent of the spring to feed the elephant and watch the beautiful spangled ladies dance about on prancing horses in swaddis rings.

TWENTY GOLFERS STAY IN RACE FOR PRESIDENT'S CUP

Second Elimination Series to Be Played Off Between Now and Saturday

First day's elimination play leaves twenty golfers competing for the president's cup at the Greenleaf Country Club. Considerable interest is centered around second day's play, and eliminations are expected to occur rapidly.

The following matches are requested to be played between now and Saturday night in the second elimination series: J. I. Morgan, J. M. Henderson; W. W. Lee, John Flanagan; Roy Batchelor, N. O. Warren; Geo. Chapman, Graham Flanagan; Alton Dunn, E. G. Flanagan; W. H. Woolard, J. J. Sumrell; J. H. Rose, Luther Herling; W. L. Whitchard, J. F. Bowen; R. G. Little, E. B. Ferguson; Sam White and J. A. Keech.

Wilson Questioned By Sen. Committee

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor to Woodrow Wilson and now Democratic nomination for Senator in Pennsylvania, was questioned by the Senate campaign funds committee.

The witness said his personal expenses in the primary campaign amounted to $88.81. He added that he was associated in the campaign with William E. Porter, one of the defeated candidates for governor and that their campaign committee spent about $10,000.

"$4,000 of that has been paid," said Wilson, "and that $6,000 has been obligated to be paid later."

Picking up an itemized statement filed by Wilson, Chairman Reed mused over it smilingly and said:

"I see some startling accounts here for meals at the William Penn Hotel at Pittsburgh. Here is one for 90 cents, another 90 cents, another of 70 cents, another of 70 cents and another for 70 cents. You get as low as 60 cents for a restaurant meal."

After a laugh all around the former labor secretary said the $10,000 outlay of the Wilson-Porter committee included all money spent in the cities and counties. Did you have watchers at the poles at $10 a day or $5 a day?" asked Senator King, Democrat of Utah.

"Not that I know of," Wilson said.

"We got only about $4,500 and not very many watchers could be employed at that rate."

Perhaps the public will not mind the increase, if the barber doesn't insist on throwing in an extra dime's worth of talk.—Durham Sun.

ROSS CHILDREN REJECT CLAIMS OF DELLINGER

They Do Not Believe He Is Man Who Disappeared 52 Years Ago

Asheville, June 25.—(AP)—Walter L. Ross and Henry A. Ross, brothers, and Miss Marion Ross, sister of Charlie Ross, have rejected the claim of Julius C. Dellinger, of Denver, N. C. that he is the man who, as a boy, 52 years ago, was kidnapped from the Ross home in Pennsylvania, according to a special dispatch from Philadelphia, published today by the Asheville Times.

TODAY STANCILL BROTHERS ARE SHOT IN DISPUTE AT HOME NEAR HERE

(Copyright 1926)
The 1928 Fight.
Rockefeller Builds.
We Are Very Rich.
Don't Sell This Country.
By ARTHUR BRISHANE

Chicago saw yesterday a great gathering of women, perhaps the greatest in the world's history. 175,000 women assembled for a special religious service in a stadium and heard five thousand men singing in a choir of fifteen thousand voices.

Governor Al Smith of New York, visiting the Eucharistic Congress in Chicago, told Chicago that New York prides itself on being "free of bigotry" and joked about the frequent presidential nominations offered to him at the congress. He said to one gathering that nominated him, "I got that nomination this morning."

In Seattle, George W. Olvany, head of Tammany Hall, told reporters, "Al Smith will be the Democratic nominee for president in 1928, and will carry this nation by a margin on two vital issues."

The two issues, according to Mr. Olvany, are the World Court and the Volstead Act. The chief of Tammany Hall predicts that Governor Smith "will carry this nation against Coolidge or any other nominee of the Republican party."

That 1928 campaign will be interesting, and there will be more than two important issues involved.

John D. Rockefeller invests in decent homes for working people at reasonable rents. Details will be made public today.

Mr. Rockefeller's intention is to avoid charity, demonstrating that dwellings can be constructed on a big scale, with every comfort including playgrounds for children and private parks attached to the buildings. Bath rooms, resident doctors, etc., within moderate prices about $9 per room per month.

The thing will be done on a small scale at first sufficient for a few hundred families. Success might lead to the investment of hundreds of millions in such enterprises and enable families of small means to live in comfortable, healthful apartments at a rent no greater than has been charged by landlords in the slums. The plan won't please slum landlords.

An excellent example was set by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Mr. Haley Fiske, President of the company and Mr. Stabler, finance adviser, demonstrating that the company's money should be safely invested in dwellings that would prolong the lives of employees and others insured in the company.

The president in a thoughtful speech on the budget, says: "Your Uncle Sam is rich, that's true. We have actually $390,000,000 more than we need for 1926. But that is no excuse for squandering. We must be more economical, cut down expenses every year."

Another cut of $836,193 reduces the public debt of nineteen billion six hundred and eighty millions of dollars.

If necessary, Uncle Sam could pay all that debt by using one-third of the national income for one year.

We are rich, but, as the president says, that is no excuse for waste.

Summer has begun and poor Wall Street bears, expecting the "usual summer slump," are still waiting for that slump. Stocks were up again yesterday, steel, oils, railroads, automobiles. Gambling at Monte Carlo, or on the stock ticker means ruin. But whatever you do, don't sell American values short. A country with a revenue of seventy-five billion dollars a year, owing only nineteen billions, isn't exactly "a sell."

In Society

The very boyish bob apparently entered the realm of highest society. This is how Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt appeared on her return from Europe. Incidentally, she denied she planned a divorce.

CONGRESSMEN BEGIN TALKING ADJOURNMENT

President Coolidge Standing Pat On Marketing Plan of Administration

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—With the farm relief bill controversy approaching a conclusive stages fight, the leaders in Congress again are beginning to talk of adjournment.

Some of them sought light from the White House today, but apparently they find nothing they did not already know about the attitude of President Coolidge. He is standing pat in his support of the administration's co-operative marketing bill, is willing also to accept the Tincher-Price stabilization; proposal and is putting forward no new plan of his own.

He hopes it will be possible to do something before Congress adjourns, but neither on that question or on the adjournment date itself is he undertaking to lay down any definite policy.

Before the Senate met to resume its consideration of substitutes for the rejected McNary farm equalization fee, the Secretary to the President discussed the situation with the Republican Senate leader and the Republican House floor leader, but it was reiterated that the proposition of the administration remains unchanged.

Beside farm relief the only obstacles to adjournment are the rivers and harbors bills, with its many authorizations for navigation projects in various parts of the country, and the deficiency appropriation bill which carries funds for many new public buildings and for other purposes. The former measure has passed the House and is waiting for the Senate calendar while the deficiency bill must pass both houses.

INDIANA MINISTER WILL SPEAK HERE SUNDAY, JUNE 27

The Christian Church Choir Planning Musical Program for Services

Rev. C. R. Barket, of Indiana, will fill the pulpit at the Eighth Street Christian church next Sunday. He will preach at both morning and evening services. He is considered one of the most forceful speakers of the denomination, and Greenville people will do well to hear him.

The choir of the Christian church has prepared a splendid musical program for the occasion. At the morning service a part of the program given over the radio by Bethlehem Commandary at Richmond, Va., will be rendered.

Mrs. Harper Holliday, of Dunn, will sing at the evening service. Miss Emma Mallison, of the Methodist church, will assist the choir in the morning service.

KING COTTON IS REPRESENTED IN ASHEVILLE TODAY

Manufacturers of Staple Begin Two-Day Convention in Mountain City

Asheville, June 25.—(AP)—More than 100 North Carolina cotton manufacturers met here today for a two-day convention. The key note of the meetings during the day was co-operation in buying and manufacturing cotton and marketing textiles.

The initial session was opened at ten o'clock by J. M. Gamewell of Lexington, acting president of the North Carolina Towns Manufacturers' Association.

James A. Emery, general counsel for the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers' of Washington, D. C., gave the first address of the morning.

The morning session was adjourned shortly after lunch following an address on North Carolina's part in the developing of the New South, by Thomas Dixon, author and orator.

A banquet tonight will be the principal feature of the evening with an address by Judge F. D. Winston, of Windsor.

Labor Members Break Up Session of British Board

London, June 25.—(AP)—Persistent interruption by Labor members today during the course of a debate on a motion to revoke the British Trade Agreement with Soviet Russia resulted in suspension of the sitting by Deputy Speaker Hoje, who was presiding.

Railroads use the block system for safety, while many motorists use the blockhead system at the crossings.—Knoxville Sentinel.

Edward Evans and Francis Johnson, Half Brothers Held in County Jail Today Pending Investigation of Coroner's Jury Tomorrow Morning at Nine O'Clock; Many Conflicting Reports As to Cause of Tragedy, But Nothing Definite At Noon Hour Today

Leland and Wilfred Stancill, 31 and 25, respectively, sons of T. J. Stancill, prominent farmer of this county, are dead as a result of a shooting affray which occurred on the farm where Leland Stancill resided, about 8:30 last night. Edward Evans, 23, and Francis Johnson, 12, half-brothers, are being held in the county jail today pending investigation by the county coroner.

According to all information available this afternoon, the tragedy was the result of a controversy occurring between the parties involved. Many rumors were in circulation last night and this morning. But nothing definite had been determined late this afternoon.

An investigation will be conducted by Coroner S. J. Wilkerson tomorrow morning at nine o'clock. Solicitor Jesse Davis, who was in the city last night, conducted a private investigation but declined to give out the result of his inquiry.

Leland Stancill was born and raised in Pitt county. He was married to Miss Luella Lancaster of Rocky Mount, October, 1919. Beside Leland's wife and one child, the two men are survived by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stancill; four brothers, J. Russell and Claxton, of Los Angeles, California; Robert and Offie J. Stancill, of Greenville; two sisters, Mrs. S. S. Arthur, of St. Augustine, Fla., and Miss Lela Brown Stancill, of Greenville.

Both were members of Mount Pleasant Christian church, where the funeral will take place, announcement of which will be made at a later date.

MANY DELEGATES EXPECTED TO BE AT CONVENTION

Several States Will Be Represented At Christian Convention at Daytona

Daytona Beach, Fla., June 25.—(INS)—More than 5,000 delegates from 10 Southern states are expected to attend the All-South Christian Endeavor convention here July 1 to 5.

States which will be represented include Virginia, North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Among the speakers who will address the convention, are Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, internationally known lecturer; Dr. Roy J. Dye, one of the founders of the Mission Station of the Disciples of Christ, at Bolingee, South Africa, and Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. Classes of instruction will feature several sessions of the meeting.

Electric Shovel Removes Fossils Under Cleveland

Cleveland, June 25.—(AP)—The Cleveland Museum of Natural History is digging prehistoric records out of the earth with an electric shovel here.

Since May 13, Prof. Jesse E. Hyde, curator of geology, and Petr Alf Bengari, collector and preparator, have supervised the operations of the efficient shovel out of whose maw comes beautifully preserved fishes, sharks of the primitive Caldoselache type, and other fossils and mementoes of important episodes in the Devonian history.

The excavations will continue all summer. They are being made at Big Creek and West 12th St. which soon will be made inaccessible for explorations by the growth of the city.

The fossils are enclosed in smooth, almond-shaped masses of rock three to five feet across, called concretions. They are harder than the shale, through which they are scattered like raisins in a cake.

A twelve-foot tree trunk was found, which had become water-logged, imbedded in the mud of Ohio's ancient sea, flattened and turned to a film of coal, one-fourth inch thick.

N. Y. Will Beautify Old Battle Fields

Albany, N. Y., June 25.—(INS)—New York State is preparing to spend upwards of $150,000 this summer to rehabilitate and improve the battlefields which figured in the defeat and surrender of General Burgoyne in Revolutionary days.

For years some of these battlefields have been used as cow pastures.

Mayor George D. Slingerland, of Mechanicville, has been selected chairman of the committee which will plan the rehabilitation of these ancient scenes of battle.

Four farms comprising the Bemis Heights battlefield site shortly will be purchased by the State for $55,000.

The appropriation made by the last Legislature for the improvement of these historic battle scenes came after a fight of several years.

Black Lobo, Fear of Cattlemen, Been Captured

Alpine, Tex., June 25.—(AP)—The Black Lobo of Brewster county, marauder extraordinary, which for years has eluded the cunning of man, finally has been captured by the simple means of his own whelp and a gunny sack.

The fear of this big wolf has lain over the Big Bend country of Southwest Texas for years. Black as night and swift as thought, year in and year out the strange creature had defied man, and was credited with having destroyed $30,000 worth of livestock and killed two men.

So disastrous were the incursions of the cunning animal, that the cattlemen offered a bounty of $500 for his capture. Then came W. I. Evans, of Wichita Falls, Texas, veteran trapper, who for twenty years trapped wild animals for the United States Government. After months of effort, in which he employed every bait, trick and scent known to trapping lore, he took the wolf alive, winning the $500.

The Black Lobo, as she was called, ranged in a 450 mile circle. Until a year ago there were a pair of them, but the mate was killed, and as though bent on vengeance, the female became more deadly.

Evans tried science. By carefully studying tracks he learned that the wolf and her whelp always circled to the right when they encountered a trap. He measured and averaged the distance and direction of the circle they made, selected a spot frequented by the animal, and in addition to his regular trap, set out two other to the right of the first. His efforts were partly rewarded, for the captured whelp, but not the wily mother.

Thirteen days later he placed the whelp in a sack and standing on a wolf hide to kill the human scent, dragged the whelp around on the ground near his snare, rolled the young wolf in the jaws of the trap and slipped away.

The following morning the great Black Lobo was caught fast in the trap.

She weighed more than 150 pounds, twice the size of the average female lobo. Evans expects to place her in a zoo.

Still, why not call these second primaries secondaries and avoid clumsy and questionable names? Greensboro Record.

MISSOURI WILL VOTE IN AUGUST ON DRY ISSUE

Voters Will Learn Stand of Candidates On the 18th Amendment

St. Louis, June 25.—(INS)—Although prohibition was not expected to be a paramount issue in August primary in Missouri, the battle lines are being drawn tightly by both the wet and dry forces in the state so that the voters will know the position of all candidates on the question that they may mark their ballots accordingly if they wish.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union is out actively in the field already to see that no candidate for State Legislature, Congress, or the United States Senate will dodge the issue entirely.

A set of seven questions sent out to each of the candidates who have filed for the primary which, if answered, will give the candidate's position as to how moist or arid he may be.

Counting the activities of the temperance union, the forces of the Missouri Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment, with eyes looking ahead to the November election, expect to have the ballot contain the question: "Do you favor repeal of the Missouri State law?"

The association is circulating petitions throughout the State asking for signers to a petition which will demand a vote on the question next fall. Recently they announced they had practically one-third the required number of names (100,000) or 5 per cent of the vote for Supreme Court judges at the last election in two-thirds of the State's sixteen Congressional districts.

The "wet" forces say there is no doubt but that the question will come to a vote.

Anticipating that the "wets" do not amiss in making this prediction, the temperance union's questionaire will ask each candidate in the state the following:

1. Do you favor strengthening the Volstead law?
  2. Are you an observer of the law?
  3. Will you defend it by voice and vote if it is referred?
  4. If elected to the State Legislature, will you vote for amendments to strengthen the present law? (This question to candidates for the Legislature.)
  5. Would you assess maximum penalties for violation?
  6. Will you lend assistance to enforcement of all laws as well as dry laws?
  7. What is your attitude on the Eighteenth Amendment?
- An indirect vote on the prohibition question might be seen in the candidacy of Congressman Harry B. Howe, of St. Louis for the United States Senate. Howe long has been identified with the "wet" forces and his campaign no doubt will be waged to some extent on this issue and likewise fought by the dry forces.

Howes will open his political guns in Missouri on the eve of Independence Day when he will make an address at Excelsior Springs. While he will discuss the faro relief question, the World Court and other issues he also is said to be prepared to tell the voters that he will work for a limited modification of the Volstead in who permit the manufacture and sale of beer not intoxicating "in fact."

CONVICTED MURDERERS RELEASED UNDER BOND

Tallahassee, Fla., June 24.—(INS)—Pending decision of the court of appeals, Foster and George Wade, convicted of murder in the second degree in connection with the death of Ben Purvis, were released from the county jail on bonds of $5,000 each.

Judge R. B. Carr listened to a motion for a new trial by defense counsel, but overruled the motion and sentenced the men to 10 years in the State Penitentiary, as specified in the jury's verdict.

Appeal to the Court of Appeals was made, bond was made and the two prisoners were released.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt County, made by J. F. Harrington, Clerk, on the 16th day of June, 1926, in that certain civil action entitled, The Federal Land Bank of Columbia, plaintiff, vs. Joseph James and wife, Minnie James, and the Pitt National Farm Loan Association, defendants, the undersigned commissioner will on Monday, the 19th day of July, 1926, at 12 o'clock noon, before the court house door, in Greenville, N. C., expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate:

U. S. Travel Jumps to New High Record

Washington, June 25.—(INS)—Americans are swarming across the seas this year in record numbers.

Even though the British strike and the Polish revolution put a definite crimp in the European tourist flow, applications for passports made thus far indicate that a record for overseas travel, excepting war time, will be broken.

It is estimated by officials issuing passports, that more than 200,000 Americans will cross either the Atlantic or Pacific this year, with 80 to 90 per cent finding their way to the bright lights of Paris or the beauty and historical spots of England.

REFORMS ORDERED BY MUSTAPHA KEMAL GIVING MODERN TOUCH NEAR EAST

Jerusalem, June 25.—(INS)—Enlightenment is growing throughout the East, as a result of Mustafa Kemal Pasha's striking reforms at Angora.

Now that young Moslems don what is referred to as "civilized headgear," the women are beginning to follow suit in adopting their apparel to modern styles.

Believe I would have been able to have stayed up many days longer. "I was sure suffering and just about down and out when I noticed a statement about Karnak in the papers that just fitted by case. The way this man described the troubles that Karnak relieved him of was just the way I felt, so I went right over to the drug store for some of the medicine myself.

"And three bottles have sure done the work for me. Why, it gave me relief from the very start, and just stopped all those gas pains and indigestion. My nerves have become steady, I just sleep a heap better, and am getting along the best kind now in every way. I'm gaining weight and building up every day. Karnak is undoubtedly the best medicine I ever heard of, and I'll always keep it in the house. I'll tell the world there's nothing else like it."

CLARK FOR SOLICITOR

I take this means of expressing my very great appreciation of the splendid vote given me for Solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District in the recent primary. My lead over Mr. Jesse H. Davis, the present Solicitor, and my nearest opponent was 1756 votes in Pitt County and 1272 votes in the entire district. Anything you may do in my behalf in the second primary on July 3rd will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,

GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE

American government is run by the people. When a man is placed in office he has the power of the people behind him.

In other words, he is generally governed by public sentiment. Sometime public sentiment is in the wrong.

Many public officials have been suddenly swept into office by a rapid change of sentiment.

This business of choosing public officers is a serious one. It is more serious today than ever before.

Our politicians must learn this fact. Our voters must learn it. For not until the fact forms an indelible impress upon the public mind can we expect to be as great as we should be.

Our politicians must learn this fact. Our voters must learn it. For not until the fact forms an indelible impress upon the public mind can we expect to be as great as we should be.

Curbing Crime The pulpit and the press are seriously concerned over the general increase of crime reported from day to day.

are too many loopholes through which they may evade justice; by which they may escape punishment.

Crime in Britain is discouraged in a most effective way. Justice is meted out immediately. There is no letting up in investigating prosecution until the criminal has been brought to justice.

There is only one way to stop crime. That is to prosecute the criminal. There is only one way to prosecute the criminal. That is to bring him before the courts.

Members of the bar should be fair with themselves. They should be fair with humanity.

ZANHISER-JONES (Reported)

Last night, at eight o'clock, the marriage of Miss Henrietta Zanhiser to Mr. Elvin Jones took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. M. Zanhiser, on the corner of Second and Cotanch streets. Rev. L. B. Jones, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, officiated, using the ring ceremony. While Mrs. J. G. Hough, of Washington, N. C., played Tanhauser's wedding march on the piano, Misses Olefa and Esie Zanhiser, sisters of the bride, the bride's maids, marched in the living room which was beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride's maids were followed in the procession by the dame of honor, Mrs. R. M. Zanhiser; Miss Maybelle Beauchamp, of Aurora, the maid of honor, came next and was followed by little Miss Pearl Lauterbach, who gracefully bore the ring in a fragrant, newly opened magnolia bud. Then, the bride and groom came in—the bride on the arm of her brother, Mr. Chandler Zanhiser, of Baltimore, Md., who gave the bride away; the groom, on the arm of Mr. B. T. Clark, his best man.

During the ceremony, Mrs. Hough rendered Disila's "Souvernir," with a soft lingering touch which, together with the soft glow of the green, shaded lights, which blended so charmingly with the beautiful decorations of pink, green and white.

The procession left the room while Mendessson's wedding march was being played.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful green, flat silk crepe, with accessories to match. She carried a beautiful corsage of sweet peas and roses. Miss Olefa Zanhiser was dressed in a fetching little dress of white crepe, and Miss Esie Zanhiser wore a very becoming dress of orchid—the bride's maids, each carried a basket of daisies. The dame of honor was also dressed in an orchid silk dress; as was the maid of honor; the maid of honor carried a beautiful corsage of sweet peas and roses. Hough, at the piano, was also clad in the patrician folds of orchid silk which brought out her corsage of sweet peas and roses in sweet relief.

These lots are most desirably located, overlooking a wide expanse of water, and could not be surpassed for the man who wants a summer home in this rapidly developing community.

Remember the date, Friday, July 2nd. Sale starts at 10:30 A. M. The public is cordially invited to be the guests of Coastal Estates on this occasion.—(Adv)

MRS. TROTMAN ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MRS. WILLIAMS

Smith's Coffee Shop was the scene of a very pretty party yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. J. Q. Trotman entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. H. S. Williams, of Monroe. A yellow and white color scheme was carried out. There were twelve tables of bridge and one table of rock.

During the game refreshing orangeade and sandwiches were served. Miss Jane Hadley, making the top rock score, was presented with Yardley's bath salts tablets. (Mrs. W. L. Whichard was given a boudoir pillow as the bridge prize. The low score prize, bath salts, went to Mrs. R. Brunson. The honoree, Mrs. Williams, was remembered with attractive menus for dinners and salads, and an embroidered towel.

Mrs. David J. Whichard, Jr., who was recently married, was given a silver lemon fork.

An ice course, carrying out a yellow and white color scheme, was served.

MRS. DAIL ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Haywood Dail was hostess to her bridge club Thursday morning at her home on Third street. Garden flowers were used for decorations.

Mrs. Charles Forbes, making the top score, was given an attractive vanity. Following the game, a tempting luncheon was served. Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. Sam White, Mrs. Charles Forbes, Mrs. R. L. Carr, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell and Miss Margaret Blow were guests of the club.

Tennessee Man Says He Had Lots of Trouble, But That He Loved His Wife

Athens, Tenn., June 25.—(INS)—"I'm only sorry that I didn't succeed in ending my own life when I killed my wife."

This was the statement made here today by E. S. Pate, who killed his wife, and then, turning the pistol on himself, tried to commit suicide, according to charges placed against him.

Thin and hollow-eyed, the prisoner was removed from the sanitarium where he was taken after the shooting June 9, and now is occupying a cell in McMinn county jail, charged with first degree murder.

"I had lots of trouble," Pate explained ruefully. "I loved my wife and I'm only sorry that I didn't go with her."

The date for Pate's trial has not been set.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE

Miss Mary Lee Pittman entertained this morning at a most attractive bridge luncheon, having as honor guest, Miss Rebecca Short, of Rocky Mount. Four tables for the game were arranged on the porch, and summer flowers were used for decorations.

High score was made by Miss Mary Forbes who received a bridge set. The low score prize, "What I Know About Bridge," was won by Miss Georgia Smith. Miss Short was presented an attractive package of bath salts. The surprise of the morning came when each guest found on their plate a miniature bride's bouquet, with card "Guilford and Dove—August 14th." This announced the engagement and approaching marriage of Mr. Guilford Smith and Miss Dove Burnette, two of Greenville's most popular young people. Miss Burnette is the pretty and attractive daughter of Mrs. R. T. Burnette. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, and is cashier of the Grimesland branch of the Greenville Banking & Trust Co.

Following the games, a delightful luncheon was served. Miss Burnette was remembered with a piece of lingerie.

Crops have been damaged throughout this section by drought.

HANGS UP AN OATS PRODUCTION RECORD

Rome, Ga., June 25.—(INS)—Eighty bushels of oats to the acre.

That was the production record hung up on a 70-acre field at Berry School, where threshing has been completed.

The average per acre yield for the United States is 30 bushels, while the average in Georgia is considerably lower than that.

DECIDES CASE AGAINST TOBACCO ASSOCIATION

Knoxville, Tenn., June 25.—(INS)—A decision in the case of the State against the Burley Tobacco Association, involving the granting to the association permission to operate in Tennessee, is expected to be handed down by the Court of Appeal, at an opinion session to be held here July 3. The State claimed the Tennessee anti-trust laws would be violated by the association's operation, which the association denies.

FAKE BEAUTY SCHOOLS CHARGE GIRLS BIG FEES

Providence, R. I., June 25.—(INS)—Revelation of the existence of fake beauty schools, who charge Rhode Island girls $100 for values, courses and an additional $10 for a worthless diploma, have been made by State board examinations in beauty culture now in progress here.

From one of those schools, which has been operating for five years, not one girl has succeeded in passing the State test, it was learned.

Possibly we might approximate the truth in the matter if the late candidates in Pennsylvania were ordered to investigate one another.—Danville Bee.

One man can handle this locomotive that will pull an express train with ease at more than 100 miles an hour.

Will it run between the Atlantic and the Pacific cutting the time to two days? No, unfortunately, it will run in Switzerland, where government owns railroads and seems to do well, in spite of our theory that government ownership cannot succeed. Perhaps the Swiss are able than we are, perhaps more honest. Perhaps both.

We talk airplanes, Europe builds and uses them. A London newspaper reporter visited seven European capitals in seven days, and reports air travel "more convenient and cheaper than any other." The one discomfort is noise. Some American mechanic in Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo, Indianapolis, or elsewhere in this country, ought to remedy that.

Yesterday French cannons were still pounding at Damascus and the Druse rebels.

Abd-El-Krim, who recently surrendered to France has put in a hurry order for European clothes for himself and his two sons, including fashionable summer flannels. That is more sensible than trying to fight airplanes from the back of a beautiful Arab steed.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Moscow, June 25.—(INS)—The most useless book in Russia today is the "Almanach de Gotha." Once on the drawing room table of every family of quality, this guide to the noble houses of Europe can no longer give the faintest indication of the whereabouts of any of the Russian aristocrats whose names fill many of its pages.

If it were possible to revise the Almanach de Gotha up to date, and trace the fate of all its Russian notabilities, from Nicholas down to the smallest princeling, the result would be a work comparable only to Balzac's "Comedie Humaine." But it would take a Balzac to be the editor.

Only stray bits of information about the former Russian nobility ever come to light in the Soviet press, which prides itself on cold indifference to the fate of the old regime.

"Why are you interested in princesses?" asked a department chief of the Moscow criminal police when the International News Service correspondent made inquiries about a woman whose name once graced court invitation lists, but now was posted on the station blotter.

"We don't pay as much attention to them as we do to working women who every now and then get mixed up in trouble," he said, with a touch of pride. "Our rogues' gallery is full of noble faces, if you want to call them noble. Anyway, they are all good names. You can have all the princess and princesses you want.

"Most of them go for petty crime, picking pockets, peddling dope, thieving.

"You see," he declared, stressing the orthodox Marxist standpoint, "they were parasites, and don't know how to do anything to make a living, and after that, money was taken from them they couldn't even learn."

In the story of Prince Vladimir Milgunov, just come to light, is revealed a cross section of the double careers created for themselves by many of the former aristocracy after fortune turned its hand against them.

Prince Milgunov, owner of the village Novospassk, and of a vast estate surrounding it in the Tartar republic, managed somehow to survive when the revolution dispersed him. He lived from hand to mouth in the larger cities of Russia, selling what few effects he had been able to save, and finally eking out a living by peddling candles on the streets of Moscow.

The first touch of spring this year aroused a flood of homesickness in him, and he determined to revisit his old estate. Spending his last penny for train fare, he arrived near Novospassk, stony, tired, hungry and wondering why he had been so foolish.

The first man he saw at the station was an old peasant, whom he remembered well. Afraid at first

KING KNEELS TO PRINCE

to reveal his identity, he could not refrain from venturing a few words with the old man. In a moment his fears were both quieted and redoubled, for the old moustik, recognizing his former master, went down on his knees and kissed his hands, crying "Eia batushka Barin."—"It's the little father, Lord."

Like a flash the news went about that the former master had returned. The older peasants were in a blaze of excitement. They met and conferred, and that night they visited him in a body, each bringing the traditional present of a loaf of bread and dish of salt, emblematic of the duty, owed by every peasant to the lord of the estate.

Next day they cleared out the best house in the village and presented it to him, and during the next two days the peasants filled the spare room with several hundred bushels of grain. They told him it was part of the back taxes they owed him.

All this made the Prince Milgunov very happy, but likewise nervous. He knew it could not last. Sure enough, within a week the village soviet met in solemn convocation and decreed that citizen Milgunov must return to the peasants all they had given him, and must go to work, or clear out.

WET or DRY?

The new Texaco is a "dry gas." Petroleum engineers have been trying for years to perfect a motor gasoline which would vaporize to a dry gas under engine conditions and overcome the bad effects of a wet mixture. The new Texaco forms a dry gas at a temperature much lower than others on the market.

A wet gas, as it would appear in the engine manifold, is a mixture of gasoline vapor and fine drops of liquid gasoline. It is the cause of unequal cylinder distribution and excessive crankcase dilution, and the result of high "endpoint" and low volatility. A wet gas chokes power. Liquid drops separate from the mixture at every bend of the manifold, and following the straightest path, concentrate at the end cylinders. That is why the spark plugs of the end cylinders are fouled more frequently than the others. A dry gas, no matter how greatly magnified, is absolutely invisible—a perfect mixture of vapor and air. Dry gas conserves power. It equalizes cylinder distribution and reduces crankcase dilution to a minimum, and is the result of low end point and high volatility.

The new and better Texaco, with its new low boiling point and low end point, its higher volatility and balanced distillation range, now provides an entirely new motor fuel—a dry gas of unequalled qualities.

The result is a far better manifold distribution, which permits a leaner carburetor setting, and means no flooded cylinders, less crankcase dilution, easier starting, maximum acceleration and more mileage.

Start today with a stop at the pump displaying the Texaco Red Star and Green T. You don't have to ask for the new Texaco—it's there at the regular place from the regular pump. And there, too, you can get the clean, clear, golden Texaco Motor Oil, famed for its lubricating value and freedom from carbon formation.
