CAMPAIGN FUNDS COMMITTEE STILL QUIZZING UNION

Wants to Know More About $130,000 Enforcement Fund of Temperance Union

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—More information about the $130,000 dry law enforcement fund of the Pennsylvania Women's Christian Temperance Union was sought today by the Senate campaign committee.

W. B. Wright, deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania, was the witness.

Chairman Reed called first for George W. Woodruff, the State Attorney General, but Wright reported that he had been unable to locate him.

He went to the Harvard-Yale boat race yesterday, the deputy said, and he not returned to Harrisburg.

"You don't think he got in that scull, and kept going?" asked Senator Reed with a smile.

Wright explained that Woodruff went back for a reunion.

"I hope he has not suffered a relapse," said Reed.

Wright, whose home is in Baltimore, said he undertook dry law enforcement work in Pennsylvania in February, 1923, at the request of Governor Pinchot that he had received $3,000 for expenses.

This year Wright said his salary was increased to $8,000 but only expenses allowed were traveling, telephone and telegraph.

The witness said that up to August 1, 1923, his salary was paid out of State appropriations, but since that time it had come out of the W. C. T. U. fund.

CRAZED NEGRO SHOOTS COPS

Baltimore, Md., June 28.—(AP)—Riot squads were called out today when a crazed negro shot three policemen and probably two other persons before being killed by a wounded policeman in northwest Baltimore.

The negro, sitting on the front steps of a house, levelled a shot gun and fired point blank as a police car, containing three patrolmen passed along the street. The patrolmen were all wounded.

As the negroes started to run police reports said, a woman and girl crossed his path and he fired at them. They dropped to the sidewalk. One of the wounded patrolmen then shot the negro to death.

GIRL OFFERS SELF AS WIFE FOR $2,000

"Bride for sale—$2,000."

Because she wants to provide for the comfort of an invalid father, a mother and eight other children, Miss R. Simard, pretty 21-year-old shoe worker, offers to sell herself in matrimony to any man white and respectable who will sign a check for $2,000 and a marriage license on the same day.

The girl will reveal her first name to the man whose proposal meets with her final approval. With another sister, Miss Simard works in a shoe factory, but their combined earnings are hardly enough to keep the wolf from the door, hence her desire for a husband—and ready money.

"My sister and I are the only ones working in our family," she explains. "All the other children are young. I am ready to be a good, loyal wife to any man who will marry me. I cannot see my family continue in misery without doing what I can to help them."

Miss Simard is an extremely pretty girl, with light brown unbobbed hair. She is of French descent.

MRS. MARY ALLEN IS BURIED TODAY

Widow of Late Henry Allen Buried at the Family Burying Ground

Funeral services will be conducted from her late home this afternoon at four o'clock, by Rev. L. E. Ballard, pastor of the Free Will Baptist church, of this city. Burial will take place in the family burying ground, a short distance from the home.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Henry Edwards and Miss Nora Lee Allen, of Greenville; and one brother, N. W. Tyson. She is also survived by twelve grandchildren.

Mrs. Allen was a member of the Free Will Baptist church at Piney Grove.

ADJOURNMENT IS EXPECTED IN CONGRESS

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—Farm relief legislation having emerged into a clearer atmosphere congressional leaders again are heading hopefully toward the port of adjournment. Saturday is the date they have tentatively in mind for ending the legislative cruise, which began in December.

Administration leaders in the Senate expect to get a vote before tomorrow night on the Fess-Tincher credit measure, and the co-operative marketing bill, and the managers of the last deficiency bill in the house expect its passage on the same day.

CENTENNIAL UNDER WAY

Charleston, S. C., June 28.—(AP)—A reproduction of the Revolutionary War battle of Fort Mifflin, and a parade by midshipmen, soldiers, blue jackets, marines, and national guardsmen were the two principal features today of the Sesqui-Centennial anniversary of the historic engagement fought in Charleston harbor 150 years ago today.

WOMEN VOTERS OPEN SESSION

Asheville, June 28.—(AP)—A large delegation of officers and committee chairmen for the State League of Women Voters of the Southern Region, are gathered in Asheville today to attend the regional conference of the National League of Women Voters which opened at ten o'clock today with Mrs. Mary E. Cowper, of Durham, regional director of the National League, presiding.

ELEVEN HUNDRED KILLED IN TRAFFIC ELEVEN STATES

Survey Dating From January to Present Also Shows 6,578 Injured

Automobile, railroad, steamboat, airplane, and horse drawn vehicle traffic killed 1127 persons and injured 6,578 in eleven southern states during the period from January 1, 1926, up to and including yesterday, a survey made by the Associated Press revealed today.

There were a number of outstanding accidents in all classes. A collision of two vessels in the Mississippi River Channel near New Orleans, several months ago claimed upward of a score of lives while train accidents in various sections in the south killed fully as many.

Estimates placed the number of grade crossing fatalities in the eleven states at 50, while airplane accidents at the various commercial, military and naval flying fields claimed a like number. Drivers of horse drawn vehicles killed were comparatively few by reason of their steadily diminishing number. The over a dozen killed were the results of collisions with automobiles.

There were more persons killed and injured during the month of January than in any other month of the period included with 233 deaths and 1272 persons injured. The January total is accounted for in the treacherous conditions of paved roads during the winter from snow and rain.

Florida led all southern states in the number of persons killed with 205. Florida also led in the number of persons injured with 1,284. North Carolina was second in the number of persons killed with an even 200, while Georgia was second in number of persons injured with 1,708.

The tabulation of states included: Virginia, 72 killed and 741 injured; North Carolina, 200 killed and 433 injured; South Carolina, 72 killed and 143 injured; Georgia, 133 killed and 1,078 injured; Florida, 205 killed and 1,284 injured.

In Buncombe, a regular term began last Monday, will continue this week. In Wake, a special two weeks' term was begun last week, and will be concluded during the present week.

Ottawa, Ontario, June 28.—(AP)—Premier Mackenzie King today announced the resignation of the Government.

TODAY

(Copyright 1926) California Wins. They Strangled Her. Mussolini's Daughter. Tearful. But Happy. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The Pacific Coast beat the Riviera yesterday. Elizabeth Ryan and Mary K. Browne, both of California, playing in doubles, defeated Suzanne Lenglen and Bibi Vlasto, both French. Seventeen thousand spectators saw the California girls win 3-6, 9-7, 6-2.

However, Mademoiselle Lenglen will get revenge when the time comes. She is undoubtedly an unbeatable wonder for the present, when at her best, and represents admirably the power of the French nation.

Mrs. Louise Calvert, thirty-two years old, was hanged by the neck in England and strangled to death. Her three children, including one baby, fortunately, did not understand what was happening. The woman protested to the last her innocence of the charge that she had strangled her landlady.

The hangman has now strangled her. The landlady and British justice are avenged.

Before they hanged her, the condemned woman said that she was to become a mother. British law does not allow an unborn child to be hanged, but doctors said the woman was mistaken, and she was strangled.

That law is foolish. Better to hang an unborn child than wait, and send it through life as "the child of a woman that was hanged." You may excuse hanging a woman, but how does a civilized nation excuse disgracing her children who have committed no crime?

The usual answer, "that's the mother's lookout," is worthy of an Apache.

It is said, perhaps without authority, that Mussolini plans to marry his daughter to the Italian Crown Prince.

The daughter is a fine young Italian girl, with her father's powerful chin, and the Italian royal family would be strengthened by such a marriage, and it would not be anything new.

Mussolini is no more of an upstart than Bonaparte was, and the Emperor of Austria, proud head of the ancient Hapsburg, was glad to marry his daughter to Bonaparte as his second wife.

News of finance, cheerful as usual. Yesterday freight car loading exceeded all records for five years, passing the million mark four weeks running. Those fearful securities, the railroad stocks, seem to be doing well.

New Jersey Central, which already paid eight per cent to stockholders, added an extra $2 to yesterday's quarterly dividend, making four dollars for three months, a rate of sixteen per cent a year.

The Lehigh & New England Road was leased to the Reading at a rental of more than a million a year for 99 years. In 990 years the railroad of today will be as much a transportation curiosity as the camel that carried the Queen of Sheba. In 999 years there will be no passenger travel on railroads, except for short distances. All other travel will be in the air, and cumbersome, wasteful carriages mounted on wheels will have disappeared.

Religious devotion is dangerous, carried to excess. That is proved by the horrors of the Middle Ages, when Christians burned and tortured each other because of religious differences.

In the "holy" Mohammedan city of Mecca, Egyptian soldiers escorted the "holy carpet," the band playing a tune. Wahabis, strict Mohammedans, attacked the band, because Mohammed objected to music. Twenty-five Wahabis were shot dead, and the party was spoiled.

The holy carpet covers the holy black stone in the Kaaba, the stone on which Mohammed stood when he rode to Heaven on his white mare and saw angels so big that their eyes were several days' journey apart.

Mohammedans tell you that the black stone in the Kaaba is a ruby brought down from Heaven, and the Kaaba was built by Abraham. Tell a good Mohammedan that no (Continued on page 4)

BEAVER DAM MAN UNDER BOND ON WHISKEY CHARGE

Henry Anderson Will Appear in Court Tomorrow As Result of Raid at His Home

Henry Anderson, white, of Beaver Dam, is being held under bond for his appearance at tomorrow's session of county court as a result of the finding of whiskey at his home Saturday afternoon.

The search was conducted by Deputies Sellers, Pierce and Savage, and netted five and a half gallons of contraband liquor. Five gallons of the beverage was stored away in a ten-gallon keg. The half gallon was found in a jug.

Out of four raids conducted Saturday, this was the only one that netted any returns.

OWNERSHIP OF RUM SHIP IS UNESTABLISHED

Wilmington, June 28.—(AP)—The ownership of the rum-laden steamer, Elma, which was towed into Wilmington late Saturday by the United States coast guard cutter Manning, with a cargo of more than 4,000 cases of various liquors, was not established at a preliminary meeting held before United States Commissioner Goodman, in the Federal Court room here this morning.

When District Attorney Tucker, asked each of the fourteen members of the crew separately, to declare the vessel as to owner, captain, or anyone in official capacity, all refused to reply. The warrant charges that the crew had conspired to violate the customs laws, internal revenue laws, the national prohibition laws by transporting, possessing and importing liquor, and also the navigation laws.

On motion of the District Attorney, the date for the trial was fixed at 2 P. M., Thursday, July 1. Bond was fixed at $10,000 for each of the men.

20,000 CHINESE REDS FOUND IN BUDAPEST

Budapest, June 28.—(INS)—The presence of great numbers of Chinese street-sellers in the city has been engaging the attention of the Hungarian police for some time, because previously the Chinese population had never exceeded one hundred.

Investigations by detectives showed that 20,000 shabbily dressed Chinese were living in hotels and lodgings in Budapest traveling at the most expensive rates on the trains, and, when arrested, for street trading without a license were usually found to have around $20 in their possession, and Bolshevik literature in false compartments in their baggage.

Ill influx of Chinese was also reported from towns in the provinces, and the number of Chinese in the whole country was discovered to have risen to over seventy thousand.

It has now been ascertained that these Asiatics were expelled from England, France, Italy and Germany, for circulating Bolshevik propaganda and trafficking in white slaves, and ten thousand have already been deported from Hungary to Bukharest, Sofia and Constantinople. The remainder will shortly follow them.

DANNUNZIO URGES HIS PRODIGY LOVE ART FIRST

Brescia, June 28.—(AP)—"From one infant prodigy to another" was the inscription on a beautiful silver box, set with precious stones, presented by Brielle d'Annunzio to Bronislava Gimpel, youthful Polish violinist.

Another gift was a picture of the poet when he was a young student with the words, in his own handwriting, "To the infant prodigy, Bronislava Gimpel, from the infant prodigy of another century, d'Annunzio, (1897)."

LISTED AS DEAD, SAILOR RESTORED ALIVE TO FAMILY

Thomas Perry of Kingsland, Ga., Returned to Family After Big Search

Atlanta, June 28.—(INS)—Listed as dead eight years ago, Thomas W. Perry, of Kingsland, Ga., sailor in the World War, has been restored alive to his family.

The discovery that Perry was alive came as a result of a nationwide search by his mother, who refused to believe the Government report that her son was "lost at sea."

The Atlanta Veterans Bureau now is endeavoring to make official the identification of Perry which his family no longer doubts.

Perry was listed officially as one of the men lost at sea in 1918 when the steamship Arca was sunk. His mother, accepting this as unauthentic, made an investigation of seven years' duration, and ended in locating the man whom she positively identified as her son in the State Insane Asylum at Kankakee, Ill.

While nothing is known of Perry's movements from the time of the sinking of his ship until he suddenly appeared in Illinois, the fact that he sometimes bursts into a strange Italian gibberish has led to the theory that he was picked up in a physically and mentally exhausted condition by some Italian vessel, or was carried to some Italian port, from which he worked his way home over a period of seven years.

SEMPLER SAYS DEVIL CAUSED AWFUL PLIGHT

Los Angeles, June 28.—(AP)—Who's the District Attorney and the police today studied a mass of information on the alleged abduction of Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of the $1,000,000 Angelus temple here, the evangelist congregation is pondering her assertion that "the devil" is responsible for her unfortunate experience.

Addressing more than 7,000 persons yesterday in her first sermon at the temple, Mrs. McPherson said that because of her unyielding stand on moral questions, Satan plotted her destruction. She said she had laughed at newspaper accounts of reputed plots to kidnap her prior to her disappearance last May, but that she now realized "that even then the devil was laying his plans."

ORDERS SURVEY OF LAND ALONG THE CONTENTNEA

Farmers Between Farmville and Ballads Petition Drainage of Lands

Clerk of Superior Court J. F. Harrington, this morning heard a petition regarding the drainage of several hundred acres of land lying along Contentnea Creek, in the Farmville and Ballard's Cross Roads communities.

The petition was presented by a committee representing both districts. It was found that a sufficient number of acres of land were involved to justify a survey of the land involved.

They will make an investigation within the next several days and file their report with the Clerk of Court.

MEDITERRANEAN COUNTRY SHOOK BY EARTHQUAKE

Thousands of Buildings Collapse, and Many Casualties Are Expected

London, June 28.—(AP)—Meagre details were available today regarding casualties in a severe earthquake or a series of quakes which shook the Mediterranean country Saturday evening.

In view of reports of the collapse of thousands of buildings it would seem probable that casualties were numerous.

Advice are that more than 2000 houses on the island of Rhodes in the Aegean Sea were destroyed and that several villages suffered severely. The center of the disturbance was in or near the vicinity of Crete.

The shocks are thought to have been due to the sudden activity of a volcano on a Greek island.

The archaeological museum in Crete containing many antiquities, was wrecked. At Athens communications apparently were broken by the shocks. The quakes shook northern Egypt severely causing great alarm. Some advice are that many buildings were blown down while other had their walls cracked. Few casualties were reported. There were several fatalities in the Egyptian countryside.

Palestine, including Jerusalem were blown down while others had casualties have been reported.

Late reports from Rome say 2,000 houses collapsed in four villages of the Province of Foggia. Nothing was said in the dispatch about casualties.

NEW EVIDENCE PRESENTED IN MANSEL CASE

Raleigh, June 28.—(AP)—Newly discovered evidence which the nature of the trial prevented being given a Buncombe county jury in behalf of Alvin Mansel, negro, accused of attacking a white woman was presented to Governor McLean today by A. Hall Johnson, Buncombe county attorney. The evidence tended to establish an alibi for the negro.

As the negro has been denied a new trial by the Supreme Court the matter of his fate now rests entirely in the hands of the executive. The governor was presented with signatures of five of the members of the jury signed to a statement to the effect that, had the newly found evidence been presented to them at the trial that they would have rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Perhaps the outstanding evidence presented was an affidavit by C. P. Rymond, in whose front yard the victim of the attack was found on the morning, on which it was alleged to have been perpetrated. Mr. Rymond swore that the woman told him that the attack was committed by "a large yellow negro about 35 years old." The prisoner was later identified by the victim as a small black boy not more than 18 years of age.

MUSSOLINI FIFTEEN YEARS AGO WAS BEGGING WORK

Bergamo, June 28.—(AP)—Mussolini, only fifteen years ago was in such straits poverty that he wandered the streets of Lauseanne, Switzerland, stopping persons who seemed to be Italians, asking them if they could not give him enough work to allow him to earn at least a meal.

This sidelight on the Premier's early life was furnished by Pietro Nava, a stone mason. He wrote Mussolini if he remembered who he was. An answer said: "I remember mighty well."

"ADOPTED SONS' CABINET NOW BEING IN JAPAN

Tokio, June 28.—(INS)—Japan's present ministry is popularly known as the "Yoshi" or "adopted sons' cabinet. Six members of the cabinet, including Premier Kijuro Wakatsuki, have married their names and been adopted by their fathers-in-law, a practice which is common in Japan.

WILL HE BREAK FAITH?

A second primary will be held in Greenville next Saturday.

Pitt county is interested in the election of a district solicitor, a sheriff and a township constable.

It is not our purpose to assume the position of a political oracle. We shall not ask our readers to vote for any particular candidate.
That is a matter for each individual to decide for himself. It is a prerogative every man and woman should take advantage of.

The election to our public offices of conscientious men will do much towards the moulding of a constructive sentiment in the future. We should give proper attention to the moral side of a candidate's life as well as to his political and business qualifications.

We should choose men
whom we believe will enforce the law; men who will render service above self;
men who are not afraid of duty and who will remain at their post regardless of consequences to themselves.
It is the duty of public officers
to carry out the desires of the people. It has always been their duty, but they have not always recognized
it as such.

What we desire above all things is to see men at the head of government who will forget themselves in their service to humanity.
This is asking more than we expect anytime soon, but sooner or later we believe the ambition will become an actuality.

As men and women become more enlightened they naturally become more exacting in their demands.
They are more capable of
knowing what they want.
And in knowing what they want they have an inborn
desire to see things materialize.

In casting your vote next Saturday, remember your duty to humanity. The men
you elect will be your representatives. Be sure they will not break faith.

PRESERVE THE SHADE
TREES

Many of the most beautiful shade trees in Greenville are either dead or dying. They are being poisoned by gas escaping from the main in different parts of the city.

If there is anything in the world that can be done to protect and preserve the lives of the trees, we would be glad to see it started.
These trees not only afford wonderful shade during the hot summer months, but also beautify the parts of the city they happen to be in.

Them, too, they were planted by loving hands.
Many of them were set out
by forms which have vanished with the continued march of time. They were placed there that they might render certain service to humanity even as other works
of nature are doing.

It is a pity indeed that they cannot be preserved. It is a pity so many have already been killed, and that some way cannot be found
to protect their life.

No beautification project
can become possible without the aid of shade trees. Certain parts of the city are beautified by the trees. They do not need the aid of any landscape architect to perfect the original plans. Those who planted them long years ago had a vision of what their sections of the town
would be. They wanted it to be so.

As loyal and devoted citizens we should do everything possible to see that the ideals of beauty made extant by our forefathers are perpetuated. We may try in vain in this case. But there is nothing like trying.
The escaping gas cannot be stopped easily. We realize that fact. Much time and attention may be required.
But it is worth it.

It would be advisable to give this matter attention
now. It would cost no more than in the future. The city must be beautified in the years to come. Money will have to be spent to make this possible. Why not save the money now by trying to protect the lives of some of our finest trees?

BRITISH TRADE
SEES BIG DROP
AFTER STRIKE

London, June 28.—(INS)—A drop of $24,000,000 in the volume of British trade during the month of May is the first direct result of the coal strike. It follows a drop of $100,000,000 during April when the strike was threatening.

Bad as these figures are, they are nothing to what is expected to come during July. The full effect of the strike has not yet begun to be realized. The above figures only relate to goods manufactured long before the strike. At present, manufacturing everywhere
is dying to nothing.

Most industrial concerns started the strike with a certain reserve
of coal upon which they could work on a restricted basis. But reports from all parts of the country show that these supplies have become exhausted or that exhaustion is setting in.

The contrast between British trade in May, 1925, and May 1926
can be best realized from these figures:

Table with 2 columns: Month/Year and Value. Rows for Imports, Exports, Re-exports, Excess of Imports, and Excess of Exports for May 1924, May 1925, and May 1926.

Each day this creeping paralysis
on British industry grows worse
and worse.

In some of the busiest manufacturing districts of the North and North East of England practically whole cities are standing idle.
Each trade and industry as it shuts down affects others until the stratification effect is becoming almost complete.

As for the actual loss caused by cessation of the coal industry, it can be reckoned at $60,000,000 a week, apart from the loss caused to the pits themselves through non-working and neglect. This figure is based on an average output in Britain of 5,000,000 and an average selling price of $3 per ton.
The strike came into operation on May 3rd.

As we get it, the League of Nations wanted Brazil to occupy the "cellar," but the bottom dropped out.—Durham Sun.

BALLOON PANTS BRING
TROUBLE TO COLLEGIATE
New York, June 25.—(INS)—It is dangerous at times to be "collegiate" in New York.

Isadore Tanenbaum, 18, walked
his bell-bottomed trousers through a Brooklyn street.

A gang of boys took a deep interest in Isadore's sartorial make-up.

"Get hep to the balloon tires,"
shouted one.

Isadore walked over to the gang
and demanded an apology.

When the fight was over Isadore was lying on the sidewalk with a stab wound. He will recover.

ABANDON MOVE
FOR FARM AID

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—
The Senate supporters of the defeated McNary Equalization fee bill agreed today to abandon their move to lay aside all farm relief legislation. The change in plans was attributed to the statement issued late yesterday by President Coolidge to urge Congress to pass
the Tinscher farm credit bill.

While not favoring the Tinscher bill, the McNary group decided not to attempt to block a vote in view of the President's request.

In accordance with the new agreement Senator Watson, Republican of Indiana, withdrew today the motion he made yesterday
to lay aside all farm relief legislation in the Senate and proceed to the consideration of veterans relief.

U. S. OF EUROPE
NEXT BIG MOVE
WORLD STAGE

London, June 28.—(INS)—Exit
the League of Nations—
Enter: the Federated States of Europe.

That is what many of Europ's leading statesmen look upon as the next big move on the world's political stage. It will not come hurriedly and it will not happen speculatively, but it is foreseen as the inevitable consequence of the continued aloofness of the United States from the councils at Geneva, and as a development approaching nearer to a conclusion
by South American suspicion of the League, now clearly demonstrated by the unconditional withdrawal of Brazil.

Suffering since its beginning by the non-membership and coldness of the United States and by the antagonism of Soviet Russia, the League in recent months has receded under blow after blow, chiefly through internal quarrels over the admission of Germany, culminating in the Brazilian decision to retreat from the European council table.

The League loses by the apathy
of the nations of North and South America, because its world influence is diminished in proportion to the decrease in its sphere of operation.

Reading and realizing the meaning of the writing on the wall, the best political minds of Great Britain and the Continent see that the League's loss may not necessarily hurt European prestige, but that Europe may gain much out of the wreckage by consolidating its own interests in an association of nations almost wholly European in membership and outlook. It matters little whether this new association retains the title of League of Nations, or whether it becomes a League of Europe, the Federated States of the United States of Europe. The important fact is that the nations of Europe, left alone to solve their own problems, must either unite
in the development of an independent European confederation or split up into the system of ententes and alliances which existed
before the war.

Frank discussion of this evolutionary movement is going on in responsible quarters throughout Europe. The general conclusion is that the lesser League, rightly directed, will be able to do more for its membership than the old League
if it turns its energies particularly to European problems,
and puts Europe's house in order without mixing in the affairs of the United States and South America.

Abd-El-Krim may be exiled to Madagascar. Which is the first intimation of strained relations between France and the Island.

ting never has been recognized

HALLUX DOLOROSUS, OR CORN ON THUMB, IS
DISEASE FROM LIGHTER

San Francisco, June 28.—(INS)—
Do you suffer from "hallux dol-orosus?"

You don't know what it is?
Read this:

"Hallux dolorosus" means corn on the thumb and it's one of the latest ailments.

It is caused by a new type of cigar lighter. The lighter is supposed to be flipped with a careful, negligent motion.

This flipping is hard on the thumb—and in time a corn results.

The man with the bandaged
thumb has not mashed it in a window. He is a victim of
"hallux dolorosus."

In other words, the bandaged
thumb means that he has a cigar
lighter that works.

REAL LIFE ACCIDENT IN "THE RAINMAKER"

After lining the horses up before the barrier for "The Rainmaker," a racetrack story, and sending them away several times without getting the exact results he desired, Director Clarence Badger sensed the difficulty as resting with the jockey who seemed unable to control his mount.

Investigation revealed that the jockey was R. Rice, famous as a rider on the Canadian tracks, at New Orleans and in Kentucky. Jockey Rice finally admitted to Badger that he had overestimated his strength when he signed to ride in the race. He was only a week out of the hospital where he had lain six months with several broken ribs, a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Badger relieved the boy of his mount and found some other work for him with the Paramount company. Rice won the Kentucky Derby in 1920 and his career was brilliant until the fall in Canada. See the "Rainmaker" at White's Theatre, today.

KWIKDETH KILLS FLIES

When the room is full of buzzing, dangerous flies and life doesn't seem worth living when your nerves are on edge, and you feel that the next "swat" you take at a fly will take with it all the good temper you possess—

TRY KWIKDETH

Fill your sprayer with Kwikdeth, then spray a cloud of Kwikdeth into the room until the room is completely full, being careful to first close tightly all doors and windows. How nice it smells and how harmless it is to wallpaper, furniture, humans and animals! It leaves no dirt, no mess, and in a few minutes every fly will be dead.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Paris, June 28.—(AP)—If the immortal Fagin could come to Paris today he would feel quite at home in the old rue Mouffetard, one of the busiest marketing thoroughfares which still retains its old-time animated complexion. A Pickpockets School has just been discovered in this dingy quarter. Shopkeepers and housewives have been complaining of the sneak thievery that has been going on for a long time and the police here at last made a couple of arrests leading to the discovery of systematic operations by light-fingered girls and women. They acknowledged that they belong to a school of pickpockets made up of a number of pupils who have thrived well for over a year.

Paris newspaper reporters are sad. The "Cour d'Honneur" in the Elysee Palace which is their waiting room when the Cabinet deliberates at the President's residence, is very hot in summer and very cold in winter. The men have thus been in the habit of sitting in a little cafe opposite the main entrance where they could indulge in refreshing (literally) inter-course while keeping an alert eye out for in or outgoing ministers across the way until the time came to pick up information intended for the public. Now, it is announced that the little "pub" is about to disappear and the journalists will have to look around for a new hang-out.

Advance efficiency. Over the window in the Bourse Post Office is a sign which reads: "With a book of Postage stamps Your Stamps are intact And you save time On sale at every window." But if you try to buy them you are told that they are not yet prepared and the employee adds cheerfully that the booklets of 40-centime stamps will probably be ready by the time the postage rate goes up to 50-centimes. Another pictorial postage-stamp will soon be issued, bearing the portrait of the famous physician Laennec, whose name will ever be associated with the crusade against tuberculosis. The centenary of his death will be celebrated this year and the Faculte de Medicine, the College de France, the Hospital Necker and the Hospita Laennec are collaborating on this occasion with the Anti-Tuberculosis Committee in a revival crusade against the disease from which, by a curious stroke of fate, the physician died on hundred years ago.

(Continued from page 1) white mare could possibly have carried Mohammed through the seven Heavens, and he will answer: "Oh, that was an unusual mare, belonging to the Angel Gabriel, who lent her to Mohammed. And by the way, why do you Christians doubt Mohammed's trip on a white mare and ask up to believe that your saint Elijah went to Heaven in a chariot of fire, before flying machines were invented?"

TO SELL OFF ORPEN'S PEACE PORTRAITS

London, June 28.—(IN8)—The famous series of portraits made by Sir William Orpen, the eminent English painter, of the world statesmen who attended the signing of the Treaty of Versailles will be offered for sale at Christie's salesrooms here July 16. The collection forms one of the most interesting series of portraits ever made of great men in modern times, and is being offered for sale by Sir James Dunn, to whom Sir William sold them after completion. Sir William specially attended the signing of the treaty in order to paint the delegates' portraits and work them into one large canvas that was to commemorate the gathering, and which was exhibited under the titles of "The Signing of Peace in the Hall of Mirrors" at the Royal Academy of 1920. Each portrait has been painted on a canvas of about thirty by twenty-five inches. Lloyd George is depicted looking happy and hopeful, with his eyes twinkling.

The late President Wilson does not appear so optimistic. His rimless eyeglasses flash out like diamonds; his mouth is serious and obstinate. His tie-pin, with its red tip, and his signet ring rise evenly from the canvas. One of the most brilliant portraits in the collection is that of the English Admiral Memys, who has a smile on his face, a monocle in his eye, and his uniform is brilliant with gold braid and decorations.

"G. B. S." IS UNION MAN; INSISTS ON BEING PAID

London, June 28.—(IN8)—Bernard Shaw taught the organizers of a labor demonstration here a little lesson in real trade unionism when they asked him for free permission to include "The Showing Up of Blanco Posnet" in their entertainment. "G. B. S." wrote: "Under no circumstances can any play of mine be performed without payment of the standard author's fee. A Labor Advisory Council ought to understand this as a point of trade unionism. "It is hard enough for my poor or fellow-authors to meet the competition of my play without the additional handicap of having them performed gratuitously. You see the point, I hope."
