NEW YORK IS IN THROES GENERAL SUBWAY STRIKE

Motormen and Switchmen Struck at Midnight for Wage Increase; Curtailed Service Maintained

New York, July 6.—(AP)—This metropolis today was in the throes of a strike on its principal subway system which daily transports more passengers than the entire population of Chicago.

Reports assembled nine hours after the motormen and switchmen of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company went on strike at midnight for increased wages, showed that some congestion, especially at the morning rush hour. The services of Brooklyn was temporarily abandoned.

Some express trains were being operated at fifteen minute intervals instead of the three minute schedule.

The local service, where stops were made at every station, was faster than the express system.

No violence was reported. Nearly 7,000 policemen were assigned to the strategic traffic points to maintain order and policemen were on every train guarding the crews. Thousands of persons on their way to work anticipating delay, forsook their usual underground routes and took elevated lines, buses, railroad trains and trolleys. This caused over-crowding of surface equipment, but eased the task of the subway system.

New Mosul Treaty Ends A Long Dispute

London, July 6.—(INS)—The Mosul Treaty of Peace, recently signed between Great Britain and Turkey inaugurates a new era, which is expected to facilitate the British evacuation of Mesopotamia by 1929, or before. It settles the long and dangerous dispute between Britain and Turkey concerning the final delimitation of the boundary between Turkey and Mesopotamia.

The definite frontier to which the Angora Government has agreed follows the so-called Brussel line, laid down by the League of Nations in 1924, although in places Turkey secures a substantial modification in her favor.

Mosul and its oil fields remain in Mesopotamia, and under the British supervision until the British mandate ends.

Turkey will receive, as a reward for any loss of armor-plated territory, ten per cent of the royalties payable to the Mesopotamia by the international syndicate (composed of American, British, French and Dutch interests) for their enjoyment of their oil concession. On the other hand, if it wishes, the Turkish Government has the right, within the next three years, to capitalize its percentage for two and a half million dollars.

Submarine S-51 Enroute to Port

Aboard the U. S. S. Vestal, Off Fisher's Island, New York, July 6.—(AP)—All is going well with the convoy that is escorting the submarine S-51 on the trip from Block Island to Brooklyn Naval Yard, where naval officers expect to dock her Wednesday morning.

Buoyed by the huge pontoons which wrenched her from the ocean bed, 22 fathoms deep, the submarine is being towed approximately five miles an hour through Long Island Sound. On arrival at the dock yards acetylene torches will be used to burn their way into the steel hull in an effort to recover the bodies of the sailors who met death aboard the craft when she was rammed and sunk by a steamer fourteen miles off Block Island last September.

Pictures That Talk.
81 Stories High.
His Diamond Teeth.
Get a Car.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

In New York yesterday, William Fox exhibited talking and singing moving pictures, important to everyone in the great industry and to the public. The combination of sound, action and expression was not merely good. It was ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

The words and music are perforated at the edge of the film so that action and words cannot possibly be separated by mechanical defect.

Such a machine makes it possible to give a vaudeville performance, the audience seeing the actors, hearing the singing, and speaking without action or music. It is impossible to exaggerate the effect produced by hearing the actual voice and seeing the face and expression of the actor at the same time.

Detroit plans a building of eighty one stories, 873 feet high, another record broken by Detroit.

J. Book, Jr., responsible for the building, is to be congratulated. This mechanical age should show what it really can do, and get ready for the flying age, when machines will land on buildings a mile high and elevators will go down from the roof, not up from the ground.

This is new, and therefore new. The late Robert Fitzsimmons, a real fighter from Australia, had large diamonds set in some of his back teeth to increase his beauty. He showed them proudly, to the writer several years ago, holding his mouth up to the light and smiling his freckled face to one side, to reveal them.

Now his widow, who used to be in the circus, asks permission to dig up what is left of Fitzsimmons that she may remove the diamonds and platinum settings. She needs the money.

"Hop Alley" Boys Attending Chinese Summer School

St. Louis, July 6.—(INS)—The Mongolian section of St. Louis is not going to become "Americanized" at the sacrifice of the native script of China.

Fearful that the little Chinese boys, attending the American schools here, learning to read and write the English language will forsake their Chinese, all the yellow boys between the ages of 7 and 14 years have been rounded up in "Hop Alley" to attend school during the summer vacation.

"Charlie," a waiter at one of the city's many chop suey restaurants, is the teacher.

The movement has been started by the On Leong Ton, an association of local Chinese merchants and laborers. From 7 to 9 o'clock each evening, pencils used in the public schools are discarded for bamboo brushes and the children are made to master the intricacies of the characters in the Chinese alphabet.

After the children have become proficient in writing Charlie takes them through Chinese history.

"Cap." White Dies Of Broken Heart

New York, July 6.—(INS)—"Captain" O. K. White, manager for more than 35 years of Zip, the famous show freak, is dead of a broken heart.

Zip, whose strange conical head has amazed the millions for two generations, died last April, and the Captain felt that he had nothing left to live for. He grieved continually, and finally died in the Coney Island Hospital within a stone's throw of many of the "strange people" he has known.

White took over Zip's management soon after Barnum found the freak, who was a negro. He arranged for what the little man would eat, invited his salary of $100 a week and generally saw that his affairs were kept in order.

White was 75, and has a wife and two sons who live in Cleveland. It is said that he had a large fortune, which probably will be divided among the three survivors.

The Van Sweringen plan to combine five railroads—Erie, Nickel Plate, Chesapeake & Ohio, Hooking Valley and Pere Marquette—will probably go through.

SUPERIOR COURT CLERKS TO MEET IN WRIGHTSVILLE

Ninth Annual Convention Will Open Three-Day Meeting at Resort Tonight

Wrightsville Beach, July 6.—(AP)—Clerks of the Superior Court of North Carolina will convene in their ninth annual convention here tonight at 8 o'clock, for a three-day session.

The sessions will be held to-night, tomorrow morning, afternoon, and evening, and Thursday morning.

The address of Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt at the banquet on the program for tomorrow evening is expected to be one of the features of the session. At the same time, there will be stunts of various sorts, and prizes will be awarded for attendance, etc.

At tonight's session, the court clerks will be extended a word of welcome by W. N. Harris, of New Hanover, to which E. C. Byerly, of Davidson county, president of the organization, will respond. A brief business session will follow.

The morning and afternoon sessions tomorrow will be devoted largely to discussions of problems of the office of a clerk of the Superior court, as seen from the angle of the clerks themselves. There are also addresses and round table discussions on the program for the day.

Boating, fishing, surf bathing, etc., will feature the recreational features, to which most of tomorrow afternoon will be given. Officers will be chosen, and the place of the 1927 convention will be decided at the morning session Thursday. At that time, too, business matters will be concluded.

WHITAKER BANKER WENT ON TRIAL IN TARBORO TODAY

D. B. Gaskill Faces Charges On Fifteen Counts in Connection With Closing of Bank

Tarboro, July 6.—(AP)—D. B. Gaskill, president and director of the defunct Bank of Whitaker, charged on fifteen counts with embezzlement, forgery, false entries, and abstraction of funds, entered a plea of nolo contendere in all these cases with the exception of two charges in Superior court here today.

On the charges involving transactions with the New Hanover Bank, and with a Mrs. Barnes, these charges being forgery, a plea of not guilty was entered.

The bank was closed on January 3, last, following an examination of bank examiners. Officials of the banking department swore out warrants against the bank president, served him with indictments January 12, and bond was fixed at $20,000. This was later reduced to $10,000 and was furnished.

Including loans which have been characterized as "bad" the shortage at the bank was found to be approximately $70,000, when the institution was closed.

The trial of Gaskill has been slated twice previously, but each time the case has been continued. When it was continued at the last term of Edgecombe Superior court, the county commissioners, upon the request of Solicitor Don Gilliam, asked the Governor to call a special term which began today.

The case is expected to occupy the larger part of the week, as it is understood that a mass of evidence will be presented by both sides.

Condor Responsible for Child's Death

Mendoza, Argentina, July 6.—(AP)—A condor, one of the huge birds of prey, common to this region, is believed to have been responsible for the death of a two-year old boy whose bones were found in the foot hills near here Sunday.

The baby disappeared from his home here a month ago and identification was established by remnants of clothing.

COCHRAN, FAMOUS FALIF. BILLIARDIST, QUITS SMOKE AND STAGING COMEBACK

Los Angeles, July 6.—(INS)—Welker Cochran, famous California billiard expert, is coming back. Cochran proved it by his recent victories in exhibition matches here over Erich Hagenbacher, the German star and present holder of the world's 182 talk-line title.

Not so long ago, Cochran was an inveterate cigarette smoker. Believing, however, that they hurt his game, Cochran cut it out. Now he has taken roadwork in the Hollywood hills and no boxer ever trained more religiously. His nerves and his game show the results.

The Pitt County Highway Commission has let a contract for the rebuilding of Boyd's Ferry Bridge across Tar River just below Grimesland and work on the project is to be begun as soon as material already ordered arrives.

The contract was awarded Marshall Jones, of Washington, the cost to be $126,453. The bridge will be wood with a concrete structure. About three weeks will be required to complete the work and during such period no traffic will be able to cross the river by this route. As soon as the material arrives announcement of the closing of the route will be made.

CAILLAUX ASKS FULL POWER FOR FRENCH MINISTRY

Finance Minister Declares Government Proceed By Decree If Franc is to Be Saved

Paris, July 6.—(AP)—Finance Minister Caillaux today demanded of the Chamber of Deputies full powers for the Government to issue decrees to solve the financial situation.

The Deputies were told that they would have to renounce, for the time being, discussions of measures for renovating the country's finances and turn the task over to the ministry.

Caillaux categorically declared that the Government must be authorized to proceed by decrees to effect economies, apply restrictions in consumption and arrange the details of a scheme for stabilizing the franc. This must be done secretly, he asserted in order to succeed.

The whole Government's financial program, as outlined by the ministry, is founded upon stabilization of the franc with the settlement of the nation's debts as a prerequisite.

Minister Caillaux's program was generally conceded to have a fair chance of approval by the Chamber of Deputies at today's session.

The program includes a plan, it is said, for stabilizing the franc and increasing revenue and the ratification of the American debt.

The Cabinet agreed with the conclusion of the experts that restoration of the franc should not be realized without the aid of former credit which would not be forthcoming unless the Washington and London debt accords were ratified.

MAINE'S SPRING WEATHER COLDEST FOR 52 YEARS

Portland, Me., July 6.—(INS)—The coldest spring in Maine in 52 years was disclosed by weather reports made public for the first six months of 1926.

The maximum temperature was 77 degrees, and this low figure has been equaled only once, in 1916. All other years have reached 80 degrees or better for maximum.

SENATE PROBE OF PA. CAMPAIGN IS STILL UNDER WAY

Records in the Case Against F. X. O'Connor Will Be Turned Over to the District Attorney for Action

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—The Senate campaign funds committee decided today to turn over to the District Attorney of the District of Columbia, the record of the testimony in the case of F. X. O'Connor, a South Philadelphia Magistrate, for such action as he might deem advisable.

O'Connor recently denied before the committee the testimony of Senator Pepper and three Philadelphia newspaper men that he had told them the W. S. Vare organization had offered to purchase his support in the recent Pennsylvania Senatorial primary.

This decision was made after the committee had opened its session for today with the expectation that John H. Morin, western campaign manager for Representative Vare in his campaign failed to put in an appearance after being called before the committee. Chairman King threatened to have a warrant issued for Morin if he did not show up.

"Find out where he is," Senator King, acting in place of the prominent chairman, Senator Reed, told the secretary of the committee.

"We will have to issue a warrant for him if we can not get him any other way," he said.

Resuming its inquiry the committee was told by T. H. Walnut, a Philadelphia lawyer, that 600 paid watchers were employed at the polls by the organization in Philadelphia of Governor Pinchot in the race for the Senate.

Walnut, who was Philadelphia manager for Pinchot, said $5 a day was paid for women watchers and $10 for the men on the theory that the men were more valuable.

The witness estimated that "the Republican organization" which supported Vare, had approximately 15,000 paid watchers in Philadelphia. Senator Pepper's organization undertook to employ watchers at all the poles, but did not get "benefit of their services" Walnut added.

COAST GUARD BOATS HELP CURB CANADA RUM FLOW

Erie, Pa., July 6.—(INS)—Two U. S. Coast Guard vessels patrolled the lake in the vicinity of Erie today, offering the first real interference in many months to rum-runners from the Canadian side.

The CG-142 and the CG-2307 with Capt. Daniel Copin in command of the former and the latter commanded by Chief Boatswain Ullness, were assigned to the Erie port to check the rampant smuggling of Canadian rum runners.

Even the most severe weather cannot interfere with the operations of the CG-2307, 75-footer, its crew stated. "The craft is too large to go far inland, but the CG-142, a 36-footer, is of light draught as to be able to pursue her quarry into the surf."

WHITEHURST AND CLARK ARE WINNERS IN SECOND PRIMARY

Presbyterian Church Withdraws Support Sequi-Centennial

Philadelphia, July 6.—(AP)—The Presbyterian Church, through Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, its clerk, today notified Mayor Kendrick that the denomination has withdrawn its support from the Sequi-Centennial Exposition because of the policy of keeping the exposition open on Sundays.

Dr. Mudge resigned from committee, withdrew resolutions that the Presbyterian General Assembly adopted in May applauding the exposition for its then declared policy of Sabbath observance and severed all relations of an official character between the Presbyterian Church of America and the Sequi-Centennial Exposition.

The church also abandoned participation in a tropical exhibit on the exposition ground and also the denomination exhibit which was about to be opened.

JUDGE HORTON MAKES MORE IMPROVEMENT

Raleigh, July 6.—Although still seriously ill, Judge J. Lloyd Horton was reported last night as being very much improved and his physicians believed that he would recover. His response to the treatment for meningitis is declared to have been remarkable. His mind continued to be more rational yesterday, and his condition continued to improve.

Crowds Attend Opening of New Summer Resort

Hundreds of persons from this city joined the thousands who thronged the beach, walks and casino at Bayview at the formal opening Friday night and over the week-end and four of July holiday.

Many of those who took advantage of the holiday to visit the new resort located on Pamlico river, below Washington, were there for the first time and were well pleased with the remarkable development that has taken place and with the many advantages offered by the resort for those who seek rest or pleasure.

The hotel is modern and offers every desired convenience, while the arcade along the caseway to the casino a thousand feet out in the water, gives the appearance of a miniature Coney Island and has something to offer for the amusement of both young and old.

ONE MICHIGAN BABY HAS 4 GREAT GRAND PARENTS

Marshall, Mich., July 6.—(INS)—The celebration held for Barbara Jean Case to mark the fourth month of her existence, was attended by Barbara Jean's four great grandfathers.

As far as is known, she is the only child in Michigan to boast four great grandparents surviving.

The celebration was held at the home of the child's maternal grandparents.

Workmen Cut 'Phone Cable In Goldsboro

Goldsboro, July 6.—(AP)—Announced by a lead cable, which was in their way as it swung across the old Acme Theatre building, they were tearing it down preparatory to remodeling the building, workmen wrenched the cable in two putting approximately 200 telephones out of commission and seriously embarrassing service to the business district and southern residential sections of the city.

Different from most holidays, there have been no reports of any serious accidents in this county over the week-end and the Fourth which indicates that the citizens indeed spent a safe and sane Fourth.

With the Fourth passed, the second primary over and Chautauqua gone, the populace today settled down again to the business of making a living.

Pitt county's vote in the primary held Saturday was the largest ever cast in the history of the county, which indicates that the citizens are becoming more and more interested in public affairs and are taking a part in the choosing of the men who must administer the affairs of our public offices.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

The good woman who did not want the "Star Spangled Banner" sung at a celebration of independence because she thought it was "written in hate and some of its stanzas might offend the British people, and any others holding such views, should read the following editorial in yesterday's New York World:

"The latest effort to scrap 'The Star Spangled Banner' has come to grief, and we are glad of it. Our national anthem, it is true, has the defect of all patriotic poetry. Resting on a set of fixed values, it lacks the free play of imagination which is the mark of all really noble art. Nevertheless, if it is not quite the masterpiece that our orators imagine, it is far from being the doggerel which our intellectuals allege. What it has to say is obvious. The manner of the saying, however, is considerably dignified, and in spots eloquent; there is nothing about it which should offend the sensibilities of the most exquisite."

The music is better than the critics allow. To begin with, it is unsingable except by professionals, and this means that on the ceremonial occasions when it is given it is rendered smartly by trained musicians. Again, it is in three-four time, which relieves it of the jiggish march step that so detracts from the anthems of other nations. In the opening phrase there is something almost Wagnerian; it bursts on the ear with a never-failing freshness, and one snaps to attention as automatically as if a Top Sergeant had barked. After this imperious beginning, it lapses into lyric tenderness on those notes beginning "And the rocket's red glare." Here one does not feel a cheap gloat over the flag but a real affection for it; and it is with a sigh of relief that one learns that "our flag was still there." Then comes the triumphant finale. This would be a bit red-white-and-blue-ish were it not for the custom of playing it against the roll of a drum, which add a solemnity not supplied by the notes themselves. When the final high note is reached, if a good band is playing, one has a feeling of real exaltation.

The move to substitute "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," was simply silly. If ever there was a cheap, highfalutin, banal, idiotic song, this is it. It is filled with wind and nothing else, and the music is so atrocious it would pass for a burlesque.

It is good to see that great paper assert that "when the final high note is reached, one has a feeling of real exaltation." Who has not had his pulses thrill when the noble and inspiring anthem has been sung by a real artist, or who has not been lifted into a higher realm of patriotism when a great band rendered

There never was a smoke so pleasing as Camel

There never was a smoke so pleasing as Camel

IN LIFE'S supreme moments no cigarette can compare with Camel. No other cigarette ever was made so good, for Camel excellence is the result of skill. Skill in finding the world's choicest tobaccos—in blending, as only the world's largest organization of experts can.

From the beginning Camel took its stand on the quality platform, and nothing could ever induce its makers to change Camel tobaccos. No expense is spared, no care is too great to make Camel the world's most satisfying smoke, regardless of price.

In popularity with smokers, no cigarette made can touch Camels.

Camel quality has been rewarded with the greatest demand, the largest sales any cigarette ever enjoyed. Since smoking began, there was never such a growing preference as for Camels. Camel rewards its friends with enjoyment that never ends, for Camels never tire the taste, simply never leave a cigarette after-taste.

If you have never tried Camels, if you do not know how good, how satisfying a cigarette can be, we invite you to try them now for the utmost in smoking pleasure. Have the best that's made—we invite you—

Have a Camel!

OLD SCREEN ACTRESS SIGHS FOR EARLIEST DAYS OF THE MOVIES

The halcyon days of the movies are over.
That's the plaint of Kat Price, veteran screen character actress, who plays a prominent role in "His People," which comes to White's Theatre, Wednesday.
The good old days of working in pictures are gone forever. Miss Price declares. She has seen more than twelve years, and before that spent years on the stage and in vaudeville.
"Nobody had discovered art in the movies then. It was just a business of making entertainment—getting real money every Saturday noon."

NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL STOPS KNOCKS PUTS CARBON TO WORK

PUTTING the old demon, carbon, to work sounds like a paradox—nevertheless that's just what GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel does and here's how it happens: Compression is power. The more compression the more power. Greater compression is secured by reducing the displacement or space in the combustion chamber. Carbon deposits materially reduce this space—old time gasoline would not withstand this added carbon compression—clicks—knocks—pings or detonations of distress quickly following sudden acceleration or heavy pulls.

No-Nox withstands higher compression—stops the knocks or detonations, thereby increasing engine efficiency. GULF No-Nox and Carbon Deposits work together for more power and greater mileage.

Turns Mountains Into Mole Hills

This guarantee goes with it: GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—that it positively will not heat the motor, winter or summer.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

Paris, July 6.—(INS)—Tourists to St. Malo, one of the most picturesque spots on the coast of Brittany, will soon be able to visit the old kennels in which the famous watch-dogs of St. Malo were once kept.

The dogs, immortalized by Chateaubriand, were not dogs of war, but kept guard over the richly-laden vessels from India and stranded barks on the seashore. In the early years of the seventeenth century they were dispensed with, for economical reasons. The dogs had such healthy appetites it cost too much to keep them. The kennels have remained in obscurity ever since but the old land mark is being restored and made ready for those who would like to see it.

Jeanne Herbert, young nurse at the Lariboisiere Hospital was the heroine of Paris recently when she offered 1,100 grams of her own blood to save a woman dying of an internal hemorrhage. More than that, in spite of her weakness, she went about her work as if nothing at all had happened to her.

To those who urged her to take some rest, she replied:

"Oh, no, my health is very robust, and I simply must stay around to look after my patient. Tomorrow she will take her first bouillon."

On the door of the young nurse's room, is the little sign:

"Mademoiselle Jeanne Herbert, Modes."

For during her few spare moments, she amuses herself making French hats, and chic ones at that, for herself as well as her patients.

Black clouds rolled up on the horizon of the "Blackbirds of 1926" the American company which is attracting all of Paris to its doors these days.

The Musicians Union threatened to stop the American show by calling out the French part of the cast. There are thirty-four American negroes in the Blackbird Revue, but a number of Frenchmen engaged is sufficient to keep up the two to one ration required between native and foreign talent. So the storm has passed over.

On the facade of a famous Music-Hall of Montmartre is a little blue sign reading "Danger of Death."

Under the plaque by chance happens to be the photographs of some charming artists, vedettes of this Music-hall. Two Americans stopped before it recently, read it, looked at the delightful faces beneath and murmured with regret: "Perfect shame, such pretty girls."

That every French girl was not made just to get married and settle down forever, has once more been proved in the life of Mademoiselle Marthe Oulle which reads like any thrilling adventure one picks up at the book-counter.

Instead of the "Rose" series which correspond to the American "Elsie Dinsmores," when she was about twelve years old, this little French girl chose sea-tales and dreamed of adventures on the ocean. Her dreams really did come true, when accompanied by another French girl, Mademoiselle de Saussure, a splendid sailor, she cruised 1700 nautical miles in a seven-meter yawl, "La Perlette," through the winding Aegean Sea, despite the warnings of ancient mariners who predicted that the two girls would never live through the adventure.

They did, however, and more than that, they discovered the remains of the ancient city of Mallia, the first capital of Crete, where kings lived two thousand years before Christ.

Mademoiselle Oulle had always loved archaeology and this is how it came about that she just recently received her Doctorate of Letters at the University of Paris. Seated at a little desk facing the semi-circle of the jury, composed of seven wise Frenchmen, Mademoiselle Oulle read out her thesis in a firm voice. The main dissertation was on "Le Cosmopolitisme du Prince de Ligne" who, among other things, had the imprudence to write that he scorned the judgment of women for they never travelled. He did not foresee the coming of this French girl. The accessory thesis was on "The Animals in the painting of Prehistoric Crete."

economy, if properly managed, and should be encouraged, especially if the people get part of the economy.
The time has gone by for being afraid of "big units." The nations of Europe compete as single units, and we need units of at least equal size.

Belgian and French francs fell yesterday to a new low price for all time, the situation is serious. French statesmanship is in a dilemma. Unless the enormous gold reserve of France is used to steady the franc, it may fade away like the cat in Alice in Wonderland. If the gold is used, France fears the metal will be sent out of the country, leaving France stripped of gold.

Nobody really knows anything about finance, and therefore France, one of the most industrious and economical, and one of the richest countries in the world produces nobody with a plan to protect the national currency.

ALABAMA "FISH" TO TRY
CHANNEL SWIM IN 1927
Mobil, Ala., July 6.—(INS)—W. C. Jackson, the Flomaton fish, will try to swim the English

Channel next year.

The Alabamian eliminated the final obstacle in his way towards his ultimate goal when he accomplished the longest salt water swim in American history here.

Jackson survived the long grind from Mobile to Fort Morgan, a distance of 30 miles, in 18 hours and 27 minutes. He covered fully 40 miles on account of a fierce crosstide sweeping him eastward.

After he swam Mobil Bay summer, the Flomaton man has been in training for his chance to swim the English Channel, conquered by but five men, only two of them Americans.

CAROLINA TOWN OPENS CANVASS FOR MANY NEW TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS

Huntersville, N. C., July 6.—(INS)—This little Carolina hamlet now boasts of a world record but it is soon to lose that distinction.

For almost a year Huntersville has had only one telephone. It was a long-distance phone in a local store.

But now Huntersville citizens are determined that their town shall have a modern, up-to-date, seven-day week, 24-hour day telephone service.

At a conference of the townspeople a committee was named to canvass the town for subscribers for telephone service.
