Higher Fare, Or Wages? Florida's Condition. Flying Bicycles. Gov. Smith's Nomination By ARTHUR BRISBANE

New York City has a subway strike. Citizens are walking, while education in the intelligent use of the ballot. They should walk until they learn to control public necessities by the use of their vote.

Wall Street, always sceptical, evidently thinks the subway strike means a higher fare. It celebrated by putting up the price of interborough subway stock three points. The strike will not last long, unless the American Federation of Labor takes a hand in it.

If you are worrying about Florida, you needn't. If you worry about Florida's foolish land speculators, buying what they never saw, playing the "follow your leader" game, you are worrying about poor geese that need your sympathy.

Florida is in good shape, as disclosed by Colonel Peter O. Kilgus, of Tampa, and by David S. Warfield, President of the Seaboard Air Line. On June 1, Florida's state treasury contained $16,000,000; on July 1, $17,955,317.32. And Florida does not owe one cent and has no bonded indebtedness.

If real estate speculators could say as much, everybody would be happy. A French mechanic has invented a flying bicycle and has ridden it at an altitude of 150 feet in the air. He predicts that everybody will be able to fly economically.

You ride the bicycle along the ground, then by a simple transformation wings spread out, and taking advantage of your momentum, you rise and paddle through the air 150 feet above the ground.

How many have dreamed of doing exactly that without a bicycle; running swiftly, starting to jump a small puddle of water, spreading out the arms and flying over fields and fences?

Evolutionists tell you that such dreams call lack faint memories of days when we used to be birds, just as the frequent dream of falling through space recalls a time when we lived in trees and fell off a limb occasionally.

New York's Tammany Hall on July 5 celebrated the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence and the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson with great enthusiasm.

For the first time in its history Tammany includes the Governor of New York and the Mayor of New York City as members of the Tammany Society.

John R. Voorshies, venerable grand scribe, passed his ninety-ninth birthday, nominated Governor Smith for President of the United States and asked him to attend Tammany's celebration on July 4, 1926, as President of the United States.

Governor Smith is unquestionably an active candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination of 1928, and any candidate that hopes to beat him has a hard fight ahead. Governor Smith's friends say that if he is defeated, it will be due to his Catholic religion, that objection to a man's religious belief is not an American reason for rejecting his candidacy, and that, if Governor Smith is rejected on that account, whoever gets the nomination will also get a beating from Governor Smith's friends.

Walsh.

Raleigh, July 9.—(AP)—Governor McLean announced today the appointment of special counsel to assist Solicitor Don Phillips in the prosecution of N. C. Cranford, former Stanley County convict boss, charged with beating two prisoners to death.

T. L. Cloutier, of Wadesboro, was the special counsel named. Cranford goes on trial at Albemarle next week. At the governor's office it was said the appointment was made on recommendation of Attorney General Brummitt, who advised the governor his office could not spare a prosecuting officer at this time to assist Solicitor Phillips.

SCOTLAND'S GREYNA GREEN WEDDINGS NOW VERY RARE

London, July 9.—(AP)—Greytna Green weddings are so rare now in Scotland that the recent appearance in an English divorce court of a couple who had presumably been married by a Scottish blacksmith over his anvil has provoked much discussion of the old custom of getting married by the mere adjulation of marriage before a hired person.

Three men who were later to become Lord Chancellors of England, Eldon, Brougham and Erskine were married in this informal manner, which still is legal in Scotland. The couple which sought dissolution of the marriage was certified to by a blacksmith produced the blacksmith's certificate. The court did not question the legality of the marriage, as it complied with the requirements of the Scottish law.

While the blacksmith had no authority to perform a ceremony, the wedding was legalized by the admission of the couple before him that they were married, of which the blacksmith's certificate was evidence. A written statement by any other properly identified person to whom the young couple admitted their marriage would have been just as important a document.

THOMPSON SAYS AMERICA NEEDS NEW FARM POLICY

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—(AP)—America's greatest need today is a new agricultural policy, Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said here today in an address before the Tennessee Farm Bureau Federation.

"The United States has no well defined and recognized national policy for agriculture at the present," Mr. Thompson says. "It has an economic policy and industrial policy and a foreign policy but no agricultural policy in step with the present period. It has had such a policy in the past that was satisfactory and workable and in harmony with the requirements of the time, but at present there is no well defined and continuous policy which is recognized by the national or state governments on the one hand and by the farmers on the other."

The farmer cannot successfully overcome this tremendous obstacle until the condition is frankly recognized and remedy sought in a real agricultural policy for America which brings the products of the labor of the farmer into fair relationship that of the labor and of other groups."

DECREASE IS SHOWN IN NUMBER WOMEN M. D.'s

Philadelphia, July 9.—(INS)—Women physicians are showing a decrease, according to Dr. Mary E. Hanks, of Chicago, who visited here recently. "Contrary to popular notion, there is a marked decrease in the number of women taking up the study of medicine," Dr. Hanks said. "There are some very definite reasons for this. First and foremost the economic problem. A family does not take kindly as a rule to sending a girl to a medical college. This means that if a woman wants to become a physician she must do it by her own efforts and earn her way through college."

He was notified by wire and promised to depart for the East at once.

MEN ABOARD S-51 DIED LIKE HEROES AVOWS ELLSBERG

Positions of Bodies Found in Hull of the Submersible Shows That Men Died At Their Posts

New York, July 9.—(AP)—Lieutenant Frederick D. Foster, of Nutley, N. Y., was the first of the dead in the U. S. Submarine S-51 to be identified when the bodies were removed from the battered hull today. The second identification was that of J. D. McCarthy, first class seaman of New York. The body of Charles C. Thomas, first class fireman of El Paso, Texas, was the third to be identified.

Soon after four other bodies were recovered. Naval authorities said the bodies were in better shape than had been expected and it was hoped identification would be attempted by a board of naval surgeons headed by J. H. Taylor, civilian, finger print expert of Washington, who is attached to the Naval Bureau of Identification.

New York, July 9.—(AP)—Men of the submarine S-51 died like heroes at their posts and will be given hero's burial at Arlington Cemetery at their homes. "Every man was at his post and died a hero's death," said Lieutenant Commander Richard Ellsberg, who had charge of the raising of the craft 132 feet from the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

"The position of the men, many of whom were found with their hands on valves, indicates that to the very last moment they stuck to their posts. They were trying to avoid collision with the steamship City of Rome. The periscope was turned aft, which suggests that they were watching the steamship."

Secretary of the Navy, Wilbur Wood, said that he would be present today at the removal of the heroes' bodies from the wreck, above which floats at half mast, the flag for which the men died. As sailors and marines stood at attention the submarine flagstaff was lashed to her radio mast yesterday and the colors raised. Commander Ellsberg said it would not be necessary to cut through the side of the wrecked submarine with acetylene torches. Divers entered through the hatch while at work off Block Island, at the bottom of the sea, he said, and they could enter the same way more easily now that the submarine is in dry dock.

When the S-51 was lifted into dry dock yesterday by derrick, a huge hole just aft of the Conning tower where the prow of the City of Rome had pierced the steel plating of the submarine was revealed. Shortly afterward Commander Ellsberg ordered the work stopped for the day.

The salvage work had progressed sufficiently for the divers to determine where the bodies lay.

Avery is said to be an old offender, and has already served a term.

ALCOHOLISM IN FRANCE REPORTED ON INCREASE

Paris, July 9.—(INS)—Alcoholism in France is on a rampant increase. In a report made by Dr. Labbe, famous French surgeon, it was revealed that consumption of alcoholic drinks had increased more than one hundred per cent since the war. The re-establishment of small distillers is believed partially responsible, there being 2,376,285 of these in the country today.

MURDER CHARGES TO BE PREFERRED WOUNDED YOUTH

Physicians Believe Sonner Will Recover to Face Charges for Killing of Tyron Girl

Tyron, N. C., July 9.—(AP)—Q. C. Sonner, Jr., after lingering at the point of death in a local hospital since early yesterday, today was recovering from two bullet wounds above and below the heart. In the opinion of doctors, he will live to face charges that he shot and killed Miss Anna Braswell, 16, of Charlotte and Tyron, and then attempted to commit suicide shortly after midnight Wednesday at a secluded spot on the Green River Cove road, two miles from Saluda.

Feeling against young Sonner, who is a son of a wealthy and influential resident of Saluda, ran high here today. Sheriff McFarlane reported he might be forced to prepare against mob violence should word spread that young Sonner was recovered.

The authorities were making strong effort today to learn from Doctor E. M. Sully, who attended the wounded boy yesterday, the statement which Dr. Sully said young Sonner made to him regarding the tragedy. The physician, however, refused to make public the statement saying he was not ready to divulge what the boy told him.

In event Sonner recovers charges of murder will be brought against him. Sheriff McFarlane said today.

TURKISH WOMEN ARE STILL WITHOUT POLITICAL PARTIES

Constantinople, July 9.—(AP)—In spite of all that has been written about feminine emancipation and intellectual advancement in Turkey, Moslem women still are refused admission to political parties and play a very small role in the social, political and intellectual life of the new republic.

They do not yet enjoy the right to vote nor to hold political office Halide Edib Hanoum, wife of the former Mayor of Constantinople, who was educated at the American Girls' College in Constantinople is the only exception to this. She held a post in the Ministry of Education under Mustafa Kemal Pasha. All other Turkish women remain in political obscurity.

President Continues Fishing Activities

Paul Smith, N. Y., July 9.—(AP)—The White House spokesman was at the summer White House in the Adirondacks, and he had an engagement to meet correspondents today.

Among the questions for submission to the spokesman was one concerning the length and weight and fighting qualities of the pike President Coolidge caught in Lake Okauchee the day of his arrival and of any other fish he may have caught.

The President, who since he was a boy had abandoned fishing as a sport has resumed it with zest. In a lively shower yesterday he cast for a time from a bridge but it is understood without the good fortune which rewarded his efforts of Wednesday.

Collectors Seeking Speech of Lincoln

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—(INS)—Lincoln collectors again are baffled.

For they are unable to locate any official copies of Abraham Lincoln's famous Cooper Union speech, which he delivered at Cooper Union, N. Y., setting forth his policies and views on the public question of that day. Lincoln at that time was considered as a "comer" in the political world and Republicans were anxious to know just where he stood.

Following its publication in New York, two hundred fifty copies of the address were sent to Lincoln which he distributed to his friends. The letter from C. C. Nott, chairman of the committee, which caused the speech to be printed, mailed with the copies is still in existence. What of the copies?

No doubt this vicinity would yield some of the copies if old attics, trunks, libraries and desks were searched thoroughly, but collectors fail to derive satisfaction from this hazard. Clues for such a search are entirely lacking.

The New York Tribune printed the speech, after it had been written and carefully edited by Lincoln, who also read proof on the address. When Lincoln had read the proof he tossed the original manuscript into the wastebasket. Not one, not even Lincoln, dreamed that some day men would be searching for an authentic reprint of the talk. There are men, one collector declares, who would gladly pay $100,000 if they could obtain the speech mere for the satisfaction of being its owner.

BRITISH ARMY BLAMED FOR DURKIN'S TRAINING

Chicago, July 8.—(INS)—British army training methods are blamed to some extent for the alleged, criminal tendencies of Martin Durkin, sheik bandit, on trial here for the murder of Edwin Shanahan, a former federal officer, by former "buddies," of Durkin.

Durkin ran away from home and joined the British army in Canada. He was then 15 years old, and had been rejected for service in the American army because of his age. His weight—only 115 pounds—also was against him in the United States.

Men who served alongside "Marty" or "Slim" as he was then known, do not attempt to minimize his acts, but they express the belief that the things he saw and was taught, and the conditions under which he lived during the war, should be taken into consideration by the court and the jury.

highways to provide for their comfort, and to woo their patronage, have begun to come from various rural organizations along the Red Star route, south to Texas, and the Victory Highway, U. S. No. 40, the west coast route.

"We are heavily taxed to pay highways that are of advantage chiefly to tourists who cut up the roads, and bring no advantage to the farmer" is the criticism of one of the officials of a Kansas farmer's organization.

"For every legitimate tourist there are three auto nomads, of a low class, and in whose make follows a wave of petty thievery, and misdemeanors that makes the property of farmers, and residents of smaller communities unsafe, and necessitates constant watch" is the complaint of the head of one of the Missouri farm associations.

CIVIL REBELLION SEEN IN ALSACE-LORRAINE

Paris, July 8.—(INS)—The disciplinary action taken by the French Government against the signers of a manifesto making a number of demands, distinctly separatist in character, threatens to plunge the recaptured provinces of Alsace and Lorraine into the throes of civil strife and avert rebellion.

An autonomist organization, the Heimathund, sponsored the manifesto. One of its demands was the erection of a customs barrier between the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine and the remainder of France, to protect the local agriculture, commerce and industry from competition. The manifesto was signed by about sixty persons, including municipal officials and clergymen.

The officials were suspended because of the document.

MRS. M. O. SPEIGHT IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. M. O. Speight, of Winterville, is very ill in a Goldsboro hospital.

HISTORY OF THE SILVER FOX PATROL

The Silver Fox Patrol was organized in the fall of 1923, when V. M. Davis was Scoutmaster, with eight members. Troy Burnett was patrol leader, and in the patrol were seven new scouts. These seven boys worked to become second class scouts and in a short while realized their desire.

In 1924 this patrol won first place in the Boy Scout track meet, with a large majority of points.

In a contest with the other patrols the Silver Fox patrol won second place, being beaten by the Panther patrol only by a small majority. This patrol also boasts of having one of the first first-class scouts in the Pamlico Council area.

In the summer of last year, the patrol was somewhat reorganized under the new scoutmaster, Dr. M. B. Massey. Edward Thomas was chosen as patrol leader, and six other hustlers formed the patrol. Since that time the patrol has been one of the most active and efficiently working patrols in the city. One of its members has 20 merit badges and the patrol has also produced one star scout. This patrol does not claim to be the highest in rank, but it claims to be as active in boy scout work as any patrol could be. It is an example of an efficient group of boys training to be good citizens.

NEW YORK CONSOLIDATES 187 BUREAUS INTO 18

Albany, N. Y., July 9.—(INS)—Although New York State's governmental activities will be consolidated into 18 main departments on January 1, next, a commission is now studying further changes in the government. Under the reorganization proposal, sponsored by Governor Al Smith, the 187 scattered bureaus and agencies of the state will be consolidated into 18 departments. The head of each department will be appointed by the Governor and will be directly responsible to the Chief Executive.

If Governor Smith could have had his way last winter with the Republican Legislature, the changes would have taken place July 1, this year, instead of the first of next year. The Governor took the position there was no need to wait six months to put these changes into effect but the reorganization commission, which was headed by former Governor Charles E. Hughes, suggested January 1, 1927, and that was adopted.

TIMBER IS A NECESSARY CROP

Concerted efforts of state, federal and private agencies to plan to secure the general application of practical methods of forest taxation which will promote timber conservation and reforestation through private enterprise, are absolutely necessary.

The National Resources Department of the United States Chamber of Commerce recommends that taxes should not be imposed upon the growing trees, but upon the harvest or yield of forest lands.

"The absence of forestry policies to encourage the replacing of old crops with new," says the report, "has resulted in the virtual abandonment of large areas of forest land. At present there are over 80,000,000 acres of cutover land, without seed trees, not producing, and classed as waste lands. There are over 135,000,000 acres of inferior second-growth timber which is not considered merchantable. If an adequate supply of domestic timber is to be developed for future needs, it is essential that these areas be brought back into production."

CAN WE STAND THE PRESSURE OF PROSPERITY?

Money in the average man's pocket burns its way out. Prosperity too often brings discontent.

As with the individual, so it is with states and nations. People will struggle against adversity and be drawn closer together by hardships. But when the necessity for self-preservation is removed, dissatisfaction, envy, jealousy and agitation creep in. That is the greatest danger our country faces today. We have been unusually prosperous. We have had more money than the necessities of life required.

The "cure-all doctor", with his caldron of steaming political theories, offers us a remedy for our real or imaginary problems. Like the magician who can produce a bowl of gold fish out of a silk hat, he offers us laws to help this class or that class, at the expense of another class. But when the curtain goes down on his act, he has our tax money, and we have had the pleasure of seeing him do his political tricks.

Our country is ripe for the "cure-all doctors." They can show us what is wrong with our present prosperity, and how by adopting their courses of treatment we can put two dollars in our pocket where we now have one, and better yet, make "the other fellow" pay the bill. We should be thankful for the prosperity which is now ours. The dog with the bone that saw his shadow in the water tried to grab the bone of the other dog, and lost the one he had.

We not only have a bone but a juicy steak in our teeth today. Our banks are full of money, our workmen are the highest paid on earth, most of our farm crops are bringing good prices. Transportation is above normal, building is at record figures, power development has broken all records, our homes are filled with electric lights, telephones, radios, automobiles and every modern convenience under the sun.

As a nation, can we stand prosperity, or will we allow ourselves to be duped by the "cure-alls" who would offer visionary theories in trade for proven advantages which we now enjoy?

Foxy Ferdinand May Visit His Old Capital Soon

Sofia, July 2.—(INS)—Ex-King Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, the famous "Foxy Ferdinand" of World War days, is spending the declining years of his life in the famous Ebnthal Castle, Austria, where he used to spend his summers when he was King of Bulgaria.

The Bulgarian press credits him with the ardent desire of wishing to revisit Bulgaria and spend a few days with his son and daughter.

Nothing of this desire is known in official circles here, but it is more certain that if he asked for permission of the Bulgarian Government to make the visit, it would be granted.

At one time it was rumored that Ferdinand was to come with his second son, Prince Cyril, for the purpose of holding a family reunion in Sofia, but this turned out to be a mere rumor.

The Bulgarian population as a whole, notwithstanding the disastrous ending of the World War for them, still place great faith in Ferdinand, and he is just as popular today as he was in the early war years.

AIRLINE LIGHTHOUSES IS NEWEST U. S. PLAN

Washington, July 2.—(INS)—Lighthouses for airplanes is one of the newest developments of aviation.

Having established an experimental seaplane airway between Washington and Norfolk, Va., government agencies now are engaged in thoroughly marking the route.

Marks which will enable pilots to distinguish lighthouses or similar structures along the coast in thick weather are being placed by the Lighthouse Bureau in cooperation with the Navy Department.

The present plan calls for the use of white markings on the roofs of lighthouses, with the number given each lighthouse in letter, eight feet in length. In the future it is planned to install lights with vertical beams and distinctive characteristics for the use of aviators flying at night.

NEW ZEALAND LATEST SILVER FOX MARKET

Minneapolis, July 2.—(INS)—New Zealand is the latest sphere to loom up as a potential market for American raised silver foxes and other fur bearing animals successfully domesticated and improved by American ranchers.

Dr. L. J. O'Reilly, registrar of the American National Fox Breeders, is authority for the statement, which has attracted much interest among American ranchers.

A prominent fox rancher in Vermont recently returned from an extended visit to the antipodes during which time a complete analysis of fur ranching possibilities was made.

The climate has been found ideal for the enterprise and compare favorably to that of the northern tier of states in America where more than 160,000 silver foxes are being successfully ranchered and representing a total investment of nearly $100,000,000.

10,000,000 TREES PLANTED BY PENNSYLVANIA

Pittsburgh, July 2.—(INS)—Nearly ten million trees were planted in the spring of 1926, figures made public by the state forestry department, disclosed.

This is the largest number of trees planted in a single season since the department began distributing trees to private planters in Cambria county alone, 25,550 trees were planted.

For forestry officials expressed satisfaction with the progress in reforestation being made by interested private planters in the work.

NEW BODY TO INTERPRET MRS. EDDY'S TEACHINGS

London, July 2.—(INS)—An organization to "interpret" the teachings of Mary Baker Eddy has been formed here by Mrs. Annie C. Hill, wife of a retired English major and a keen believer in the Christian Science movement.

The organization is known as "The Christian Science Parent Church of the New Generation." The primary aims of the organization are the abolition of all compulsory legislation and the modification or repeal of the United States prohibition law, "which are against the direct teachings of Mrs. Eddy," according to Mrs. Hill.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

London, July 9.—(INS)—The attempt of those who govern dancing in England to kill off the Charleston has failed.

Now that the Prince of Wales has given his approval to the eccentric American steps by sanctioning them at several recent parties, notices forbidding the Charleston have been removed from a number of leading hotel ballrooms, while authorities declare that the new dance has apparently come to stay.

Protests are still made by non-Charlestoners that the violent kicking of the dancers is dangerous and should be prohibited, and it is possible that a Charleston Conference will be held in London in the autumn to draw up a code for the Charleston and specify just what steps will be permitted in public ballrooms.

The Dancing Times, official organ of professional dancing circles, summing up the Charleston situation, says that all arguments on the subject must be based upon two incontrovertible facts:—First, a very large section of the dancing public wish to dance the Charleston, and second, the majority of those who do Charleston are not only a nuisance, but even a source of danger to other dancers.

Dancing authorities who recognize that they are powerless to forbid the Charleston because of its popularity among all classes of society, including "rascals" and that the least they can do is to guide its execution into something quieter and more sedate.

Air communications with the British Empire are being developed so rapidly that definite schedules have been worked out for flying from London to the leading dominions. These include: To India, four days; to Australia, ten days; to New Zealand, twelve days; to Cape Town, six days; to Canada, two and a half days.

Constant experiments are being carried out with ships designed to operate on these routes, although it is expected that a few years will elapse before regular services for passengers and light freight are established. In the case of Canada, the competition of the fast steamships makes it difficult to establish a trans-Atlantic route.

The Bribery and Secret Commissions Prevention League has opened a campaign against blackmailing servants who compel firms to give them commissions for letting them have the trade of their employers.

E. L. Vinton, a South Kensington florist, alleged in a statement to the league that an organization exists among cooks and other servants in fashionable households with the sole object of extorting commissions from tradesmen, the petty blackmailers waxing rich on their daily graft.

"If a tradesman refuses to pay toll," said Vinton, "the cook deliberately spoils the food he supplies. She puts soda in the meat and waters the milk, while the maid tears and soils the laundry sent by any launderer who refuses to pay the usual five per cent commission for custom."

"Then the cook and maid complain to the mistress and her orders are placed elsewhere. There is hardly a single business in the West End which is not being bled by servants."

TODAY

It is an ingenious arrangement. Let us hope two things:

First, that the farmer who milks the cow and weans the calf will get something out of it; second, that super-heated steam or some other agent will keep tanks and connecting pipes absolutely clean.

Advocates of light wine and beer will sigh when they read this:

The city of Munich, possessing the Hofbrau, with such extraordinarily good beer, has rejected a proposition to tax beer in order to build houses for the people.

Munich decides that it is wrong to tax "a necessity of life" and will not tax the beer, but it will put a tax of $500,000 a year on Munich's water supply, on the theory that men can do without water. But not without beer.

President's Niece Keeping House in Small Apartment

Fort Worth, Texas, July 9.—(INS)—In a small apartment here live Senora and Senora Augustin Delgado, newlyweds.

Senora Delgado is starting her married life by keeping house and cooking meals for herself and spouse. She came from a household that had half a dozen or more servants. But she says, "all the women in America work, so why not I?" Her husband protests, but she is keeping house, just the same.

She is the former Senora Margarita Calles, niece of President Calles of Mexico. She came to Fort Worth several months ago and entered St. Joseph's Infirmary as a student nurse. After finishing the course she had planned to become a nun.

But then came to Fort Worth Senor Delgado, a gramatic tenor. He had known her since childhood in Mexico City. The acquaintance was renewed and the friendship soon ripened into courtship, and a few weeks ago they were married.

Senora Delgado is 21 years of age. She has large brown eyes and bobs her hair.

Delgado studied music in Italy for a number of years. He speaks and sings in three languages, Spanish, Italian and French. He has appeared in grand opera in Europe.

BUFFALO FOOTBALLERS FEED ON BANANAS

Buffalo, N. Y., July 9.—(INS)—"Yes, we have no bananas," Buffalo fruit dealers were crying out louder than usual today.

Head Football Coach Russ Carrick of the University of Buffalo has issued an edict that all Boston grid candidates must consume many bananas in order to obtain the proper amount of calories.

Fed on bananas, Carrick declared his team will be in the pink of condition by the time the oval slinging season rolls around. "I looked for a vegetable easy to digest," Carrick said. "I found that vegetable marrow filled the bill, but since I couldn't get that, I am going to use in-
