FACTORY WORKER ARRESTED IN HALL MURDER MYSTERY

Former Watchman at New Jersey College Accused of Killing Rector and Singer

Somerville, N. J., July 30.—(AP)—Applicants for the release of Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, held in jail here for the double murder four years ago of her clergyman husband and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, a singer in his choir, was mad today. This was announced by prosecutor Bergen of Somerset county.

Hearing on the application will be held this afternoon before Chief Justice Gummere, at Point Pleasant. The hearing will not be made public, Mr. Bergen said. Secrecy, he said, would attend the hearing so that the justices' summer home would not be flooded with reporters.

Mr. Bergen said he would not oppose the application. Somerville, N. J., July 30.—(AP)—William Phillips, factory worker, has joined Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall in the county jail where she is being held without bail today accused of the murder four years ago of her clergyman husband, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, wife of the sexton in her husband's church.

FOOD AND WORK SHORTAGE IS BRINGING HARD TIMES TO JAPANESE LABORERS NOW

Tokio, July 30.—(INS)—Because of the rising price of food and the scarcity of work, extreme poverty faces the laboring classes of Tokio, according to social workers. The price of rice is now $2.10 per half bushel and the average wage of a laborer barely exceeds 75 cents per day.

Shortage of food, the crowding together of several families in one same house to save rent, and similar conditions among the laborers are giving rise to grave problems. The infant death rate in one factory district of Tokio is approximately 35 per cent.

WOMAN RELEASED ON CHARGE KIDNAPPING HER OWN CHILDREN

New Orleans, July 30.—(INS)—Miss Dorothy Gasscock, unable to secure bondsmen to liberate her from jail on a charge of kidnapping her two children, was at liberty today on her own recognizance awaiting trial.

Winning the sympathy of the district attorney and Judge Echezabal, Miss Gasscock, self-confessed kidnaper of her two daughters, who had been awarded to their father and an orphanage at a divorce hearing, was released without bond a few days ago.

The mother attracted wide attention when she dressed the girls as boys and dyed their hair in an effort to conceal their identity from police.

Headless Butterflies. Mexico's Crisis. Wine Meats Old Age $1,000,000 (One Million) a Year By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The Abbe Camboue, French missionary in Madagascar, a learned biologist, cuts off heads of butterflies scientifically. Decapitated, they outlive normal butterflies, because they take less exercise and their vitality lasts longer. Butterflies eat nothing; their eating is done as caterpillars, and they live a gay life on their reserve strength.

The good Abbe Camboue might come here any try experiments with a few of our social butterflies. They would at least THINK just as well with their heads cut off, and if the operation were successful it would be interesting, enlightening, and good food, now wasted, would be saved.

In Mexico, thousands crowd the churches to attend short masses, to be held every thirty minutes until August 1 when new laws, for bidding religious teaching in the schools, and confiscation church property, go into effect.

The proposed boycott of luxuries and other commercial enterprises by indignant Catholics, President Calles answered by arresting and jailing leaders of the boycott movement. It is not believed that President Calles will proceed as far as imprisonment of the Archbishop.

The crush at the ancient cathedral of Mexico City is great, parents taking advantage of what may be the last opportunity to have their children baptised or confirmed. Outside the cathedral, five thousand fathers and mothers, with babies in their arms, await their turn.

News dispatches describe the pathetic deaths of four babies, one only four days old, killed by heat and the crushing crowd.

George Bernard Shaw enjoyed his seventieth birthday party, given by the British Labor Party. The humorous old Irishman may realize Hall Caine's birthday wish: May you live as long as Sophocles and, like him, write your best play at ninety.

You wonder that Shaw still keeps going at seventy. Think of Voltaire, who BEGAN his work at seventy, and at eighty-three travelled by stage coach from the Swiss border to Paris. Where he was received as king of the intellectual world.

Shaw said: 'My time is past, my bolt is short, and when his friends shouted, "No, no," he said: "I wish you could know what my arms feel like as I lift them up."

Shaw is a vegetarian, and total abstainer. Voltaire, who watched the production of his new play when he was 85 years old, drank light wine and ate meat, temperately, as did Pope Leo, who at 99 was in his prime.

You will observe with amazement how many men live long WITHOUT the blessing of vegetarianism or total abstinence. King Alexander of Jugoslavia has his salary raised to $1,000,000, nearly fourteen times the pay of our president, biggest royal salary in Europe except that of King George.

A million a year is nothing compared with the annual income of the late Czar, of Russia, and is five hundred times as much as the accepted salary by Lenin, who put the Czar off the throne and into the ground.

That is one reason why the memory of Lenin ranks above that of the Czar of Russia. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s two sons came from Europe travelling third class, fare $100 for each. It is hard, as the late Mr. Leeds, tin plate king, said, to keep the son of a very rich man from growing up a fool. Mr. Rockefeller is one of the rich men doing their best. He makes it a point to have his children study and play with those of moderate wealth or no wealth, that they may become acquainted with American conditions.

JURY ACQUITS FORMER POLICE IN CALIFORNIA

Three Others Also Exonerated of Charges to Begin Informal Celebration

Tijuana, Lower Cal., July 30.—(AP)—The acquittal of former chief of police Zenado Ilanos and three other residents of Tijuana of charges of having drugged and attacked Clyde and Audrey Petee here last February, as the signal for an informal celebration last night when the jury returned a verdict after deliberating about two hours.

The alleged attack resulted in the suicide of Thomas Petee, his wife and their daughters at San Diego, after the family had visited the Mexican race track town.

The basis for the charges was contained in notes left by members of the family. Jose Kelly, an investigator for the Mexican Federation of Labor, testified at the trial yesterday that he had investigated the character of the Petee family at San Diego, Los Angeles and Kansas City, where they had lived, and his investigation disclosed that the young women were indiscreet.

NEW COOLIDGE STORY IS TOLD BY STEARNS

Washington, July 30.—(INS)—Just another little story concerning the garrulousness of our President, as told by his most intimate friend, Frank W. Stearns, of Boston.

"When President Coolidge was elected Governor of Massachusetts, he had seventy major appointments to make. For two weeks I sat in his office, listening to discussions of the various candidates and hearing various men urged for appointment.

"One night the President came in and said: 'Frank, here's something that might interest you. It's the patronage slate. I've already given it to the newspapers.'

"I took the list, still folded, to my room and for two hours conducted a little guessing contest with myself to see whether, on the basis of what I had heard, I could name the appointees. Finally I completed my list and compared the two.

"Of the seventy names, I had exactly three right, but unfortunately had been unable to pick the right job for any of the three."

PACTOLUS AND FERRY BRIDGES TO BE CLOSED

This is to give the public notice that the bridge at Pactolus, across Grindle Creek, will be closed Monday for about three days for the dredge digging the Grindle Creek canal to pass thru same. This bridge will be replaced as soon as possible after the passing of the dredge. The public using this bridge, should try and arrange their business so as not to have to cross here if possible during this time.

Traffic to Pactolus after Monday should go by Stokes or Whitechards to Pactolus. The Boyd's Ferry Bridge will be closed to traffic Tuesday or Wednesday in order that it can be rebuilt. This bridge will be closed about three weeks as the whole sub structure has to be rebuilt. The necessary signs will be placed on each end of the road leading to the bridge to notify the public when it is closed.

Traffic will have to cross the river at Greenville or Washington while this bridge is closed. The Boyd's ferry bridge is the bridge across the river at Grimesland, N. C.

DURANT MAKES THIRD FORTUNE ON WALL STREET

Mr. Durant is credited with having made a $1,500,000 paper profit yesterday, when stock in the General Motors Corporation which he founded, soared to a record of $191. He is also credited with having profited $20,000,000 in the past year thru his undaunted faith in the company.

AGED MAN FILED DIVORCE ACTION

Tragedy of Civil War Days Brought Out in Court Circles At Senatobia

Senatobia, Miss., July 30.—(INS)—A tragedy of the Civil War, when a husband was separated from his wife and children will be heard in a divorce proceeding here in September.

Samuel D. Wolf, 79, has filed suit against his wife, 79. Wolf states in his petition that he and his wife, married in Kentucky, came here, where young.

At the outbreak of the war, he went north and joined of the Union forces, fought through the war, returned home to find his wife and children, at her father's home and vainly tried to get them to return to him, he asserts.

Now she has petitioned the government to split his pension with her, although her sympathies, he says, have always been with the south, and he objects.

SPEAKS FOR FIRST TIME IN NINE YEARS

Policeman's 'Nicht-Stick' and Slammer of Door Causes Veteran to Hear Again

Lawrence, Mass. July 30.—(INS)—Life is once again worth living to George Hayden Gibbs, world war veteran.

For Gibbs, shell-shocked, deaf and dumb for nine years, has recovered both hearing and speech. Gibbs was wounded while fighting with the famous Princess Patricia's Canadian Regiment at Neu-Chateau.

Life was found to be suffering from shell shock and ten body wounds. Physicians worked in vain to restore his lost senses. A few days ago Gibbs appeared in Lawrence and secured a position as a watchman for Herrick Aiken, guarding a building that was being moved from Pine street to Chestnut street.

But life was lonesome in the building and early one morning he fell into a sound sleep. Patrolman Henry Roche, making his rounds discovered him there. In belief that Gibbs was just a tramp, played a flashlight on the sleeping veteran, and tapped the soles of his shoes with a nightstick.

DECLARE SALE OF ALCOHOL IS GREATEST EVIL

Temperance Union Passes Resolutions at World's Conference Today

Dorpat, Estonia, July 30.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Richmond, Virginia, said today the World Temperance Congress, which has concluded its work, was the most fertile of any temperance gathering within his memory. 20 nations were represented by 390 delegates.

At the final session yesterday a resolution was passed affirming that the sale of alcohol was one of the chief social evils of the world and urging that although the temperance congress had not decided respecting means for removing the evil, society would not underrate it.

The resolution also appealed to the League of Nations to examine into the question of alcohol in a similar manner to its investigation to opium traffic. It supported local prohibition and urged more thorough investigation into the result of prohibition in the United States.

NEGRO WOMEN STAGE BATTLE OVER A SHEIK

Women have been fighting over men since the dawn of history. And they are still fighting over them.

Lella Taylor, colored, fought Clara Vines, because both of them happened to have the same idea about a dusky man's endearing young charms.

As a result, the Taylor woman is in the city jail awaiting trial on an alleged charge of assault and battery. Clara Vines was not arrested. She got the worst end of the battle, and today carries several scars of the conflict. However, she will be a maternal witness before Mayor Clark tomorrow morning.

The fight occurred in Skinner's Ravine. The arrest was made by traffic officer J. L. Nobles.

PARSON JONES LANDS ANOTHER SLY OLD FOX

Every man has his hobby. Rev. H. Frederick Jones, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church of Greenville, has two. One is raising giant-like cucumbers; the other is hunting foxes.

His hunt hobby led him into the Blount's Creek community at an early hour this morning. He had a long chase with a wily old fox, and caught him. It was the culmination of several days' labor. The fox had afforded many a lively chase, and was skilled in the game of hide and seek.

But when he met Parson Jones accompanied by Gus Forbes and Snodde Mills, he met his Waterloo. It was the end of a wonderful chase.

Wilson, July 30.—(AP)—The Eastern North Carolina Wholesale Dealers and Manufacturers will meet here August 11, to discuss the proposed rates on goods moving from Virginia and North Carolina cities. The proposals has been made by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Association will discuss goods moving from Virginia to this state and goods moving from city to city within the state, following a proposal by an examiner for the commission that freight rates, in the two places be put on a more equal basis.

It is claimed that cities within a radius of 200 miles of Virginia have suffered under the present scheme of rates.

MINNESOTA CITY STARTS CLEAN-UP BOOTLEGGERS

Austin, Minn., July 29.—(INS)—A clean up of bootleggers was started here by city and county authorities. Hot weather has brought a recurrence of booze vending and every corner of the county is being searched.

EXPLORERS FIND COMPLETE STORY OF PALESTINE

Expedition to Old Land's Dig Up Evidence of Early History There: Ancient Fenced City of Kirjath Sopher, Believed to Be City of Judah

St. Louis, July 30.—(INS)—The most complete unbroken history of civilization in Palestine revealed by any city of the land yet uncovered—a history that reached before 200 B. C.—was unearthed by explorers last April and May, according to an interesting letter just received here from Dr. M. G. Kyle, president of the Xenia Theological Seminary, who assisted in the research work.

Dr. Kyle, who will return to the United States soon, was aided in his explorations by the American School of Oriental Research at Jerusalem. His letter tells of the finding of great quantities of ancient pottery and the discovery of quinine gates and an ingenious water supply system in the ancient city of the Canaanites and Israelites.

The site selected as that of the ancient 'fenced city' Kirjath Sopher, proved beyond cavil to be that greatest 'fenced city of Judah,' and the last to fall before the 'whole army' of Joshua, the letter reveals.

There are eleven points, requirements indeed, which the identification of this city at any place must meet, five archaeological and six topographical. Tell Beit Mirsim, the site selected as Kirjath Sopher, satisfies completely each one of these eleven requirements and there is no other ruin that satisfactorily meets even one of these eleven. Dabereh, the place marked on maps of Palestine as Kirjath Sopher, has nothing whatever to commend it, except that it is a convenient place for travelers to visit.

The item in the identification of Tell Beit Mirsim as Kirjath Sopher that is most interesting to the public is that the two wells, the upper spring and the nether spring mentioned in Joshua (15:13-19) are here and unmistakable. Their age can only be reckoned by milleniums. Six successive cuts have been put around these wells, each in turn worn in to deep grooves by the running of the ropes in drawing water; these grooves in hard limestone are sometimes three or four inches deep.

But what makes this place so interesting even when identified? It was a typical 'fenced city' of the old Canaanites and of the Israelites—and in such a complete state of preservation that is possible to see, by clearing away the rubbish, exactly what the falls and the gateway were like.

The city crowns a conical, isolated hill that seems as if it had been dropped down in the midst of a valley. The wall sloping in the lower part and with perpendicular parapet, still stands about thirty feet high, though the parapet has been almost wholly thrown down; so that with the parapet, the whole wall must have been between forty and fifty feet in height, states the letter.

DARING ARMY AVIATORS MAKE RISKY DIVES

Washington, July 30.—(INS)—Acrobatic parachute leaps are the latest sport of daring army aviators. Sergeant C. K. Travis and corporal E. A. Brown at Kelly Field now hold the record for the most annual leaps.

Travis made an old-fashioned swimming hole dive plunging head-downward for 500 feet before pulling the rip-cord and opening the chute.

Brown turned a back flip-flop from the fuselage of his machine, also plunging several hundred feet before opening up the parachute.

MIDNIGHT JOY RIDERS WITH UKULELES KEEP THE ANIMALS AWAKE

Honolulu, July 30.—(INS)—Midnight joy riders make so much noise with their ukuleles, steel guitars and vocal organs along the road in front of the Kaplani Park Zoo at Waikiki that the wild animals housed in the cages are unable to get a full quota of sleep and as a result have become restless.

Such is the complaint that has been made to city planning officials by the zoo keepers, and as a result the present road is to be closed and a new one opened which will pass at considerable distance from the park animals. Now apartment dwellers near the beach are wondering if a similar complaint registered by them with the planning commission will close the adjoining highway to native troubadours who like to stroll up and down the thoroughfare under the coco palms singing songs about Hawaiian love.

CALIFORNIA SUBS FOR N. CAROLINA TO GREAT EFFECT

Few pictures present such stark realism as "Sun-Up" the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production directed by Edmund Goulding, which is coming to White's Theatre Saturday. But while the interior scenes of the picture are rough and crude, the exterior scenes have mirrored mountain beauty beyond description. The locale of the story is laid in the mountains of North Carolina. A duplicate of nature's handiwork in these hilly land, of the south was found in the Tehachapi mountains in California and they rander of this rugged country has been transferred to the screen with awe-impelling results.

The cast of "Sun-Up" includes Lucille LaVerne, who plays the same role she made famous in the stage version of the piece, Paul in Starke, Conrad Nagel, Same de Grasse, George K. Arthur, Arthur Rankin, Edward Connelly and Bairard Beckwith.

handling the situation for the next few years at least.

MORE FACTORIES ARE WHAT WE NEED

N. G. Bartlett, secretary of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, is of the opinion that we need more factories. He says we raise the raw products, and there is no reason why we should sit still and let some other section do all the manufacturing.

He has stated a great truth.

The organization of which Mr. Bartlett is secretary, is doing much to bring before the people the unlimited possibilities of this section of the country. Considerable information has been compiled dealing with the potential power of the various communities of Eastern North Carolina. There is no reason why the average man and woman should remain in ignorance of the wonderful opportunities which the future holds forth for this wonderfully blessed land of ours.

Most of the manufacturing in this state is done in Western North Carolina. Many Eastern Carolina towns have enterprises on a small scale. They have been merely experimenting. Their experiments have been a great success. They have proved beyond question that manufacturing may be carried on in North Carolina as cheaply and advantageously as any other state in the union.

To get down to brass tacks, as the old saying goes, we are in far better position to manufacture what we produce than many other sections. The reason we haven't gained any prominence in the manufacturing world is simply because the majority of financiers have been interested in other parts of the country where manufacturing was the only way the people had of gaining a livelihood.

However, things have undergone a great change today. Speculators and investors in all parts of the nation are turning their eyes toward North Carolina. They realize that natural resources here make it one of the most ideal industrial and commercial sections of the world. Opportunities cover every mile between mountains of the west and the seashore of the east.

The little farm sections which have been experiencing periods of depression during the long summer months, are at the turning of the road. In a few short years there will be no seasons of "hard times". Prosperity has come to North Carolina, and it has come to stay.

HITTING 'EM IN HIGH

The American people are hitting 'em in high. To be more explicit, they are going at a pace which is becoming dizzy in the extreme. The time has come for slowing down, and the sooner a halt is called, the better off the majority of people will be.

We are hitting 'em high in every walk of life. We are squandering every cent we can get our hands on, and raise sand if we can't get more to spend. We are setting a pace the rest of the world finds hard to follow. A part of the world is not inclined to follow. It is due largely to this part of the world that we are able to preserve our equilibrium and to keep our heads above the water.

The reckoning time at last has come. It comes on the wings of a period of depression which has become appalling in some sections. Yet, it is remarkable the situation is no worse than it is. When we look around us and note the enormous sums of money being spent for pleasure, we begin to wonder where we get enough to pay for our necessities.

The average woman spends more today for cosmetics and candy than it used to take to run the whole house. These expenses are insignificant compared with that of the automobile, the entertaining of numerous guests at parties and dinners, and other kinds of social affairs. Yet, they count largely against the average bank account at the end of the year.

Suppose for a moment the average American family would do without some of their pleasures for a period of six months. Suppose spending of all kind except for necessities would be abandoned. How long would be required to do away with the present spell of depression? Far less time than was required to bring it on.

It is nice to have lots of money and to enjoy myriads of pleasures of the times. It is nice to go wheeling away in a large automobile with a good-looking man or woman at our side. It is nice to find life's broad pathway strewn with primroses instead of thorns. But life is not intended to be so for everybody. Someone must bear the burden of existence. Someone must remain at the post of duty, and someone must provide funds for all our pleasures.

But all of us must slow down. The time has come for a halt. The slowing up will be rather difficult after such fast traveling. But we must tighten our breaks and go in the business of stopping for awhile, at least.

ASSASSINATION OF CANTON, O. EDITOR, MAY BRING NEW FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Canton, O., July 30.—(INS)—Canton may have a city manager form of government in the near future as the result of the assassination of Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Canton Daily News.

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce who are anxious to devise ways and means of making Canton a cleaner city have been studying the city manager form of government closely since the tragedy that focused the attention of the world on present evils here.

NEW GILBOA DAM TO STORE WATER FOR METROPOLIS

$182,000,000 Project Will Insure Supply for Ten More Years; To Control One Billion Gallons a Day for a Population of 6,000,000

New York, July 27.—(INS)—The completion of the new Gilboa Dam in the Catskill Mountains marks the culmination of one of civilization's greatest engineering feats. Twenty years of work, the longest tunnel in the world, the destruction of eleven villages, and the expenditure of $182,000,000 are some of the outstanding factors involved in this gigantic water project. When the gates of Gilboa Dam have been closed, New York City will have a potential water supply of one billion gallons a day with which to satisfy the needs of six million people. At present the city consumes eight hundred million gallons a day, or looking at it from a standpoint of density, eight pounds of water for each pound of human flesh.

Ten villages have been effaced by that gentle but firm device of the law—Eminent Domain, to make room for an allow the unhindered functioning of the great system. An eleventh, Gilboa, is now undergoing the process of demolition. Gilboa, about 120 miles north-west of New York City, lies on both sides of the Schoharie River. The dam bisects the village and when closed will reverse the northward flow of the river. Then, the waters piling up against the dam will form a new reservoir about six miles long and one wide.

At the furthest end of the reservoir, the waters will rush into the eighteen mile Shandaken Tunnel for a long, dark ride under the mountains. This tunnel, the longest in the world, is in some places as much as 630 feet below the surface of the valley.

From the tunnel, the waters of the Schoharie flow into the Esopus River. Together they flow southward for a distance of fifteen miles until obstructed by the Ashokan Dam, forming great storage reservoirs. The Ashokan Reservoir is about fourteen miles west of Kingston in Ulster county.

After aeration and chlorination at Ashokan, they travel eighty miles through the Catskill Aqueduct, crossing the Hudson River a few miles above West Point, thru solid rock 1,900 feet below its surface. Reaching the Késcúse Reservoir in Westchester County, thirty miles north of New York City, purification again takes place and distribution through city water mains is the next and last step.

Compulsion, caused by the ever growing needs of a rapidly increasing population of this mighty system. In the nineties, the city was so often faced by shortages of water that in 1902 definite steps were taken to formulate plans to avert these.

In 1905, the Board of Water Supply of the State was created by the legislature and in the following year work on the project was begun. With the closing of the Gilboa Dam, New York is provided with a supply which will be ample until 1935.

HONOLULU SHIPPING SHOWS BIG INCREASE OVER 1925

The figures for the year ending June 30 have been announced by the harbor master as 6,198,604 tons, or 228,500 tons greater than for 1925. Exports for the calendar year 1925 amounted to $104,625,291 and imports to $83,840,608.

Daily News Letter

Paris, July 28.—(INS)—After the hat and the shirt, Napoleon's handkerchiefs which was used during his exile at St. Helena, has recently been sold for nine hundred and fifty francs, a foolish sum according to the French press.

Even at the price of ordinary handkerchiefs today, says 'D' in 'L'Ouvre', this is an exaggeration. On the leather lining of the little three-cornered hat recently sold, there were traces of sweat of the little emperor. But the handkerchief had certainly been washed a dozen times since the last cold in the head of Napoleon at St. Helena and it takes a good deal of imagination to attach such a price to a little ragged bit of linen.

Then too, how does one really know it did belong to the general? A handkerchief is like a book, borrowed and never returned. Who knows but that some marshal had loaned it to Napoleon for the day?

Josephine Baker, the American negroess starring at the Folies Bergere, is probably one of the quietest artists in the gay city. Covered with success, as well as sponges, the young dancer has taken a simple apartment on the third floor in one of the calmest streets of Passy and here she passes all her free hours with her numerous cats, goldfish, and enormous phonograph. She rarely goes out except to her theatre and she is always in bed by one-thirty.

I like my zoubous so much, she says, meaning her birds of all varieties.

Postmark propaganda is gradually growing in France. The resources of art are now harnessed to literature and postage stamps are now obliterated by a small design and the advice 'Let us cultivate hygiene and the care of infants in order to protect the health and lives of our children.' 'Put the stamp on the right corner and post your letters as soon as they are ready,' is the maximum that has been used for many years and which is perhaps much easier to read and follow than the injunction to cultivate hygiene.

Modern drama. Place des Victoires in Paris: An old coachman, pipe in hand, is seated high on his seat, scrutinizing carefully every woman passing by.

'I declare there's not one left,' he murmurs discouragedly. Suddenly his fact lights up and he addresses a young Parisienne approaching his cab.

'Oh pardon, Mademoiselle, but could you loan me for just one minute one of your hairpins?' And to enlighten the very much surprised maiden, he added: 'You see my pipe is clogged up and I've been waiting an hour for some one to come by with a hairpin in her head. Merci beaucoup.'

Bruges in Belgium is one of the most popular cities with the French. They love the charming old city, 'Little Venice,' 'la ville morte,' the city of chimneys and mystery and lovely faces. In fact, Bruges has always been half French because streets bore the French signs as well as Flemish. Just recently the communal administration decided to suppress the French text and not only the French, but the Belgians themselves, are protesting against this action.

King Albert, of Belgium, eats black bread to set a good example and help the Belgian franc. If that's the best thing you can do, that is the thing to do. One good idea would be worth more than eating ten tons of black bread. Napoleon Bonaparte ate white bread, wore velvet and ermine, but kept putting France ahead until his British enemies got him.

California Sports Want Horse Racing Legalized in State

Los Angeles, July 22.—(INS)—California sportsmen were confident today that horse-racing will be legalized by the voters at the November election. An initiative measure known as the 'Breeders' Bill' will provide for the return of 'the sport of kings' to the state. The pari-mutuel system of betting will be allowed, under the terms of the bill, but was declared, touts and dishonest book-makers will be taboo.

Plans for the reformation of a $1,900,000 Southern California jockey club have already been discussed. A mammoth race track will be built near Los Angeles by the jockey club if the initiative measure is favorably voted upon. Optimistic prediction of the success of the 'Breeders' Bill' followed withdrawal of the 'Brown Bill,' another measure providing for the return of horse-racing to that state, from the November ballot. California sportsmen supporting the project believe that success is inevitable if they place all their resources behind one measure.

Rudolph Spreckels, San Francisco capitalist and sportsman, is one of the moving spirits in the campaign. Horse racing in California will provide clean, legal amusement which will be enjoyed by thousands of people, including tourists, each year, Spreckels declared. One track will be maintained at Tauroran, near San Francisco, and another will be built near Los Angeles. Northern California sportsmen will have a half interest in the Los Angeles track; Southern California supporters of the legalized horseracing will have half share in the Tauroran track. Profits on the investment will be limited to 9 per cent and any revenues in excess of this percentage will be given to the state agricultural board for the promotion of farm and stock exhibitions and to the disabled veterans' welfare board, he added.

The sportsmen, organized in support of the 'Breeders' Bill' have opened headquarters in Los Angeles and have launched an active campaign to recruit supporters for the measure. H. J. Macomber, chairman of the racing board campaign committee, and Frank B. Anderson, campaign manager, are in charge of the drive.
