CONVICT BOSS FACES TRIAL IN SEPTEMBER

Cranford is Charged With Assault on Convict by Name of Henry Wooten

Raleigh, July 31.—(AP)—Nev in C. Cranford, former convict boss, of Stanley county, acquitted this week on a double charge of murder, will be placed on trial at the September term of court in Stanley county, on a charge of assault on Henry Wooten, a convict.

This statement was made over Long Distance today to the Associated Press by Solicitor Don Phillips at Rockingham. Mr. Phillips added that many persons were asking why Cranford had not been tried on other acts of cruelty, which were alleged during the trial this week. He answered this question with the declaration that except for the alleged attack upon Wooten, which was in 1925, and the murder charges which were felonies the cruelty charges were misdemeanors and were barred by the Statute of Limitation. Mr. Phillips stated that in his opinion the murder charges at Albemarle this week, "were fairly tried in every respect by a good jury from Anson county, and their verdict was not against the evidence."

He pointed out that Cranford could not be tried on charges of cruelty which were served several years ago, because the two year statute of limitation bars the charge of misdemeanors after the lapse of that time. The assault charge comes under the classification of a misdemeanor, but the murder charges were not barred, they being classed as felonies.

Surprise was expressed by R. L. Brown, one of the defense attorneys in the recent trial of Nevins C. Cranford, when told today that Solicitor Phillips intended to press an assault charge against the former convict boss. Mr. Brown said it was the understanding of defense counsel when Mr. Phillips left Albemarle, that the charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon Henry Wooten, a negro, would be dropped. "We will be ready, though," Mr. Brown declared.

Following is Solicitor Phillips' statement in full to the Associated Press:

"Many people over the state are asking the question 'why was Cranford not tried on other acts of cruelty which were brought out in the trial of this week?'"

"The reason for same was that other acts were barred by the Statute of Limitations. The homicide charge was not barred, it being a felony, but the assault charges being misdemeanors, were barred."

"When Judge McElroy had his investigation in November, 1925, he bound the defendant Cranford over to the court on the charges of murder of James Howell and James Terry, and for an assault with a deadly weapon upon Henry Wooten, the charge being that in 1925 the defendant assaulted the said Wooten by dragging him behind a motor drawn tractor and by whipping him with a leather strap, this charge being presented to the grand jury and a true bill found, the same being within the two year statute of limitation for misdemeanors."

"The same now stands for trial and will be tried, the other charges of cruelties being barred by the said statute of limitation."

"The homicide cases of this week were fairly tried in every respect by a good jury from Anson county, and their verdict was not against the weight of the evidence as to the cases that were on file."

Cranford is now at liberty on bond of $500, pending his trial of the alleged assault upon Wooten.

1,100,000 JAPANESE WOMEN NOW IN ACTIVE BUSINESS

Tokio, July 31.—(INS)—There are now 1,100,000 women in Japan engaged in business or professions, according to a survey made in the Social Welfare Bureau of the Home Office.

POLICE UNABLE TO LOCATE WIFE SLAIN MINISTER

Mrs. Hall Disappears From Home and Her Whereabouts Are Unknown

New Brunswick, N. J., July 31.—(AP)—After a night of speculation as to the whereabouts of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, reporters were today told that she had not left her home after her return to it from Somerville county jail, from whence she was released last night. Mrs. Hall was arrested Wednesday, charged with the murder four years ago of her husband, Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, pastor of a New Brunswick church, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, a choir singer.

Supreme Court Justice Gummere had set her bail at $1500. Doubt as to Mrs. Hall's whereabouts was caused by her chauffeur who said he had driven her to a railway station where she had entrained for New York. Today he admitted that he had been mistaken and that the woman he had driven to the station was a friend of Mrs. Hall.

McLean Deplores Effect of Case of Convict Boss

Raleigh, July 31.—(INS)—Governor McLean deplores as "one of the most unfortunate results" of the Cranford trial "the effort made by a few people in the state and by some newspapers outside of the state to create the impression that the charges made by convicts as to 'wholesale killing by Cranford' were not only true but typical of general conditions prevailing throughout the state under a system fostered by the state itself." Serious damage has been done to the reputation of the state by these efforts, declares Mr. McLean.

Harden to Speak At Union Services Tomorrow Night

Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will deliver the third sermon at the series of union services on the court house lawn tomorrow evening. His subject "Being Different" is a timely one, and will be one of the most forceful of the series.

BRITISH COAL STRIKE AFFECTED SHIPBUILDING LLOYD'S FIGURES SHOW

London, July 31.—(INS)—The disastrous effects of the British coal strike is reflected in Lloyd's shipbuilding statistics for the quarter ending June 30, which record was the lowest tonnage building in Britain for twenty years.

Tonnage building during that period in Great Britain totalled 841,000 tons, 250,000 tons less than the tonnage building during that period of 1925.

KANSAS VOTERS FACE LISTLESS PRIMARY TODAY

No Real Opposition Confronting Contestants in Senatorial Race

Topeka, Kansas, July 31.—(AP)—Kansas voters faced the most listless primary in a decade. With no real opposition confronting United States Senator Charles Curtis, or Governor Ben Paulen, both seeking Republican renomination for their respective offices, voters will go to the polls August 5 with interest centered in some state office races in one or two congressional contests, and red-hot local fights where law enforcement issues have brought flocks of candidates.

State-wide issues are lacking. Ringing in the ears of voters, however, is the appeal of two Republican candidates to look upon the primary as a referendum on the question whether the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Georgia, shall obtain a Kansas charter. These candidates are William A. Smith, Assistant Attorney General, who seeks the nomination for Attorney General and Frank J. Ryan, seeking renomination for Secretary of State.

Both Smith and Ryan are open and bitter foes of the Klan and as members of the state charter board, repeatedly have voted against the granting of the charter for a charter.

Should they be elected in this fall, they would control the charter board and the Attorney General and Secretary of State are ex-officio members of that board of three. The Bank Commissioner and appointee of the Governor, is the third member.

Three Cases Heard In Mayor's Court

Three cases were disposed of by Mayor D. M. Clark in this morning's session of city court. Leadie Taylor and Clara Vines charged with mutual assault, were fined $10 and costs each. J. S. Higgs was released upon payment of cost, for permitting a mule to run at large. George James was fined $10 and cost for assault.

BULGARIA PASSES BILL TO HELP AMERICAN SCHOOLS

Sofia, July 31.—(INS)—The Bulgarian National Assembly has just passed a bill granting to American colleges in Bulgaria three thousand cubic metres of lumber for rebuilding purposes.

Answering a protest made by a deputy that the government helps alien schools and not Bulgarian institutions Premier Lyapcheff said: "I do not care whether they be alien or not. What I do know is that they are good Anglo-Saxon institutions and are helping our best citizens."

MILITARY UNIT OFF FOR CAMP EARLY MONDAY

Local Boys to Leave On Special Train at Norfolk - Southern Station at 8 o'clock

Battery E, local unit of 117th Field Artillery, North Carolina National Guard, will leave Greenville Monday morning for a fifteen day training period at Fort Bragg, N. C.

A special train conveying the units from other towns in Eastern Carolina will leave the Norfolk-Southern passenger station at ten o'clock Monday morning. Lester Jones, commanding officer of the Greenville unit, stated today that everything was in readiness and that the boys were expected to make a good showing.

H. L. Macklin, 1st lieutenant, and A. B. Corey, 2nd lieutenant, left the first of the week for four days' training in the special school for officers now being held at Fort Bragg. They will join the unit upon arrival.

Captain Jones said today that business firms of Greenville employing members of the organization, have shown a splendid attitude toward activities of the company. Many of the boys have been released with full pay.

Keen competition exists among the various military units of the State. Captain Jones stated, and it is expected the encampment will be one of the best in years. The boys here have been training unrelentingly for the last two or three weeks, and officers are expecting them to rank up with the best of them, despite the fact that many are young and have had no previous experience in military duties.

PITTSBURGH PIRATES WILL NOT JOIN FIGHT FOR SUNDAY BASEBALL

Pittsburgh, July 31.—(INS)—The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates will not attempt to play Sunday baseball in Pennsylvania until Sunday baseball has been legalized, if ever, Sam Dreyfuss, treasurer of the baseball club, declared.

Dreyfuss' statement was in reply to reports from Philadelphia to the effect that the Pirates were expected to join the Philadelphia American League club in endeavoring to play Sunday baseball in that state.

Common Pleas Judge T. D. Finletter's decision, refusing to issue an injunction against the Sesqui-Centennial Association to prevent it from charging admission to attractions on the Sabbath started them overment of the Philadelphia club.

MAN AND WIFE ARRESTED FOR SPOONING IN AUTO FIGHT CASE IN COURT

Cleveland, O., July 31.—(INS)—Municipal Judge Tom Green has under advisement the case of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mack, 22 and 23 years old respectively, which involves the momentous question of whether man and wife may in this free United States spoon in an automobile upon a public highway.

BRITISH ROYALTY GANS POMP WHILE TRAVELING

London, July 31.—(INS)—There is no pomp now in royal travel, according to T. D. Truscott, fifty years station-master at Paddington railroad station, who is retiring shortly.

The tradition set up by Queen Victoria that when royalty travels it must travel in pomp and style is dead. Truscott said in an interesting view. The present king and queen and the Prince of Wales, like as little fuss as possible and if they could send a train without being observed I think they would be far happier, he said.

SAYS REVAMPING OF CREDIT WOULD AID THE FARMER

Governor McLean Discusses Way of Relieving the Southern Grower

Raleigh, July 31.—(AP)—A revamping of the system of credits under which American soils goods to foreign nations, Governor McLean believes, will aid in solving the problems of the American farmer, especially the Southern farmer.

The executive points out that while there may be a surplus of a certain crop this year, that within a year or two a shortage is the case. He believes a first of all, if American farmers were organized to handle a product for the market over a period of years—say five years—that the demand in that time would absorb the supply—that while there might be a short year, there would be a corresponding good year to offset it. This method he thinks, would eliminate the dangers which arise from an over supply one year with resulting low prices, disastrous to the farmers. If the farmers would work out their plans so as to conserve in the fat years and have the surplus for the lean years, their condition would improve. The Governor refers to this as the "marshalling of resources" holding back crops when the market is flooded and turning them loose when there is a shortage.

W. H. Nichols, aged white man of Beaver Dam township, was arrested today by sheriff Whitehurst, charged with receiving, transporting and possessing whiskey for sale. He was released under bond of $100 until the next term of county court.

New Embassy in London Is Ready for Houghtons

Washington, July 31.—(INS)—America's new and palatial Embassy in the Prince's Gate district of London will be opened for business and as the residence of the United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James when Ambassador Houghton returns from his summer vacation about two months hence.

The ambassador and his family have gone north to Haddingtonshire, where they have taken the famous historical estate of Lennox-love for the summer season. While he is away his private effects will be moved from Crewe House to the new Embassy, and it is anticipated that he will take up residence there when he returns.

Scalded Men Taken Ashore

Lewes, Del., July 31.—(AP)—The coast guard station here was advised by radio this morning that patrol boat number 217, of the Cap May Coast Guard Station, was proceeding to Lewes with three men who had been scalded on a steamship. Neither the name of the vessel nor any particulars of the accident were known at the local station, but it was reported the name of the ship was the Munplace, from New York for Cuba.

500 BUSHELS OF WHEAT ON ONE 10-ACRE FARM

Wooster, O., July 31.—(INS)—Five hundred bushels of wheat from ten acres of land is the record just made by Chat Alexander. His wheat raised on bottom land on the John Jones farm just west of the city, made an average of 50 bushels per acre of wheat that tested 69 pounds per bushel.

TODAY

Wall Street Was Happy. We Have the Gold. Mexico's Religious War. Safan, and the Lady. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

A happy Wall Street yesterday for wise ones. The "street" read President Coolidge's prosperity talk, went to work with its check book and up went prices. Some bought 127,000 shares of steel common up, three points to 143.

Others, including Mr. Durant, bought 197,400 shares of General Motors, up more than seven points to 179, a record for all time. There were other records.

Don't gamble; that never pays; but above all, don't sell this country short. The President's statement on prosperity was confirmed by great corporations. The big steel company in the last six months earned more than $2,000,000. General Motors more than $93,000,000. Thus in the net profits one single automobile concern eclipses the great steel company, biggest industrial unit in the world.

Lord Beaverbrook doubts the gold standard's value, calls it a financial medicine often fatal to the patient. Europe turns against the gold standard, for the reason that this country has the gold.

They forget that we also have the goods, for which gold is spent. All the gold in creation wouldn't help us or keep us where we are if we didn't have mills, factories, farms, mines, oil wells, and especially inventive and industrial genius.

Henry Ford is worth probably two thousand million dollars in gold. It would hurt him if you took that away from him. But if you took away four letters, F-o-r-d—he would really suffer.

President Calles, of Mexico, orders seizure of all Catholic Churches if the priests leave them on August 1, and forbids priests to turn over the church properties to committees of laymen. The Mexican Government will consider the churches "as abandoned" and use them for public schools and other purposes.

News dispatches report the first death due to the anti-Catholic laws. The mayor of a small town was hanged because of attack on a Catholic priest. This is probably the beginning of much violence throughout Mexico.

The authorities seek to locate the authors and distributors of the pamphlet, addressed "To Men Who Are Not Cowards, to Women Who Have No Fear of the Firemen or the Jail of Martyrdom," entitled: "Catholics! Nero ended Caligula died. I, Caligula disappeared. And so, also, will end all the enemies of the church. Only God does not die, nor will His church ever die. Christ lives, Christ reigns, Christ rules."

MARL DEPOSITS FOUND IN SWAMP NEAR PACTOLUS

Shells and Other Fossiliferous Matter Are Found in Grindle Creek Drainage

Only a short time ago—something like 40,000,000 or 50,000,000 years—waters of the mighty Atlantic surged their way over what is now known as Pactolus township, Pitt county, North Carolina.

This fact isn't new to the majority of people. Science has attempted to prove it from time to time by the discovery of certain fossiliferous matter lying along the lower parts of the state.

But Pitt county can put it all over the scientists now. And it all results from the draining of three hundred thousand acres of swamp land lying along Grindle Creek.

Workers engaged in dredging the swamp land in the Pactolus section have reported the finding of actual sea shells, in all sizes and shapes, a seemingly inexhaustible deposit of marl, and other things showing that the section was once the bed of the stormy Atlantic.

Several shells, together with a large lump of marl, were brought to the Reflector office today by a man whose sense of scientific value has not been dulled by existence in a community where science has been slow in finding its way.

He stated that dredging had reached a depth of eight feet when the deposit of marl was reached. Most of the shell deposit was in a state of decay, but numbers of them were found to be in excellent state of preservation. There were clam shells, oyster shells, barnacles, and other kinds which none but scientist would be capable of naming.

Reclamation of three hundred thousand acres of swamp lands lying along Grindle Creek is one of the greatest drainage projects undertaken in this immediate section of the state. It will open up what is believed to be one of the most fertile areas or farming land in Pitt county. The discovery of the marl deposit increases the fertility of the soil, and makes it the best to be found anywhere.

The earth may have had its birthday something like 150,000,000 years ago. The first man may have left his footprints on the sands of time about 40,000,000 years ago. The ocean may have covered this part of the state 40 or 50 millions years ago—we don't know—but we do know that Pitt county at one time was submerged. We leave it to the scientist to say exactly how long.

President Calles, of Mexico, orders seizure of all Catholic Churches if the priests leave them on August 1, and forbids priests to turn over the church properties to committees of laymen. The Mexican Government will consider the churches "as abandoned" and use them for public schools and other purposes.

N. Y. - Mexico Airmail May Be Established

New York, July 31.—(INS)—As the result of the recent establishment of the Dallas-Chicago airmail service, which brings both of these cities within twelve hours of each other, a campaign has been launched in this city to bring about the creation of a Mexico City-New York mail route.

The culmination for the establishment of this new route has been undertaken by the Association for the Advancement of Commerce and Industry in Mexico, with headquarters in this city, and has the cooperation of the Mexican government.

At the present time all mail from Mexico City destined to this city takes from eight to ten days, and with the inauguration of the contemplated airmail service between these two points, would make both cities accessible within 36 hours.

Ten Million Catholics Without Benefit of Clergy As Result of the Putting Into Effect of the Government Religious Regulations; Officials Stoned by Mobs Gathered in Public Places

Mexico City, July 31.—(AP)—10,000,000 or more Catholics throughout Mexico today were without benefit of clergy. The putting into effect of the government's new religious regulations was marked by isolated shooting affrays, the stoning of officials and the turning of fire hose on the crowds. These occurrences started last night when officials began to take control of treasures and other articles in church buildings other than the churches themselves. Ten persons were wounded in the shooting affray at the capital.

Attorney General Ortega was among the officials stoned as they were closing the annex, of St. Catherine's church, once reputed among the wealthiest churches of Mexico, but which has lost the bulk of its wealth. Disturbances also occurred in several other sections of the capital. Police and firemen were called out to disperse the crowd, which had clashed with the police guarding churches.

The priests had been ordered by the government to withdraw from the churches today as a protest against the regulations.

Also effective today was an economic boycott of the National League for Defense of Religious Liberty.

Catholics are requested to cease spending money on anything except absolute necessities, the object being to bring about an economic crisis which will influence the government to modify its religious attitude.

Officials reiterated today that it was the intention of President Calles and government officials strictly to enforce the constitutional clauses with regard to religions, which has virtually been a dead letter for years.

With a view to preventing or putting down any disturbances the government ordered troops to strategic points. They were ordered to maintain a state of constant readiness for any eventualities.

The matter of the establishment of this route already has been brought to the attention of the Postmaster General at Washington as the result of an investigation recently made by the postmaster of Houston, Texas, who spent several weeks in Mexico City discussing the proposed route with Senator Cramer Hlanjos, postmaster general of Mexico.

BORAH MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

Washington, July 31.—(INS)—Practical politicians in Washington now accept it as a fact that Senator Wm. E. Borah is an active candidate for the Presidency in 1928.

The last vestige of their doubts on this score has been dispelled by the Johnson's militant assumption of the dry leadership of Congress in his Baltimore and Augusta speeches, and by the announcement that followed that he will speak elsewhere in the South this summer visiting New Orleans, Memphis, Dallas and other cities.

It is in the southern states that delegates to Republican National Conventions are most easily procurable, and it is there, too, that Prohibition sentiment is most strongly entrenched.

The hard-headed, far-seeing politicians of the capital consider Borah's assumption of the dry leadership as his bid for the Presidency. One of his friends in the Senate, who, incidentally, supports him if the test comes, summarized it thus:

"Senator Borah's worst enemy will concede that he is politically acute. Borah is no longer young. He will be 63 in 1928. If he is to realize the Presidency it must be now. In 1932 it probably will be too late.

He knows that if President Coolidge is a candidate in 1928—and on that there is no assurance—Mr. Coolidge's position will be almost impregnable. He knows that Governor Lowden is now, to all practical purposes, the farmers' candidate. There is but one issue left—Prohibition. He knows that on this issue he can win the south, the west and the middle west.

Senator Borah is engaging in political strategy of a very high order. He knows that if Al Smith wins the Democratic nomination or if Smith goes into the Democratic convention looking like a winner, the Republicans cannot help but nominate a dry, and a pronounced dry at that. Borah knows that Smith, wet and Catholic, will have a hard time winning the dry and Protestant south. So should the Democrats nominate Smith, and Coolidge, perhaps, decides not to be a candidate, who is left left but Borah? Who will be in so favorable a position? Lowden, maybe, he is strong with the farmers. Hoover? Weak in the west, the farmers are not fond of him. Longworth or Watson? A chance, but a small one.

Remember, too, that Borah is placing this prohibition issue on a high plane. He is making his fight purely on the constitutional aspect of the question, and not upon the more controversial aspect whether drinking is right or wrong. Besides, he can point to his record of being willing to submit the whole question to the people on a vote to amend the Constitution."

The most popular fiction the past few weeks: "Blue Window" "Flapper Anne," "Keeper of the Bees," "Sporting Chance." Non-fiction has kept O'Henry and Joel Chandler Harris rather busy and also the biographies of contemporary novelists.

"Hounds of Spring" by Selma Thompson, masterly interpreted is "Dogs of War." It is the pre-war, war, and after-war story of the Renner family of England. Pre-war takes an Sir Edgar Renner with his Lady Cynthia and their only child Emily of John, the eldest Zina, the older daughter who is handily employed to a worthy country man, Colin Powell; and little Wendy of thirteen and a half years, whom they call "Sausage" because she is so roly-poly. With such an ideal family and the beautiful setting of the country home where they are spending the summer, we have the beginnings of a fascinating story ending happily for every body. But a letter from Sir Edgar's brother from Austria, hints of war which comes on rapidly, involving England, so of course both John and Colin enlist and are sent into the thick of battle. Months of anxiety follow and then the report of John's death and Colin's name among the missing, with the supposition that he is also dead. Colin's death seems the end of all for Zina. But after a time of despair and grief, thinking that she is unable to struggle alone and that nothing matters a way, she marries Mr. Barrett-Sanderson, who has divorced his wife. And so Zina is settled into the humdrum life of her husband's political career for he lives only to attain some distinction in politics.

In the meantime, "Sausage" has grown from thirteen and a half years to seventeen and a half, and we judge she has smoked sufficient cigarettes and drunk enough champagne, and used swear words enough, that she might well be called Flapper Wendy. And so enters the period "Peace on Earth" which in reality brings more storm and stress into the lives of the Renners for they learn that Colin is not dead but alive, after a horrible experience of shell shock and of being prisoner in Germany. Sir Edgar goes to him in Paris in response to a message and has to tell him of Zina's marriage, but promises to keep Zina from knowing that Colin is alive. But finally through an incidental meeting of Wendy and Colin, the latter is persuaded to see Zina. This follows the tragedy of Zina's leaving her husband and little boy and her marriage to Colin.

They come "Remembrance Day," which seems to redeem the story by the way the author brings out the true meaning of November through the thoughts and words of Wendy as she and a company are celebrating the day as a certain class are accustomed to celebrate the whole world round—in debauchery. Wendy keeps thinking of her last talk with Colin when he asks her to help repair the damage of country and now the world celebrates—but how?

cleaner and purer, because she is young and has her whole life before her but he has had to ruin his own and Zina's life and has no more influence. So while Wendy celebrates she thinks of this and tells her companion that here they are celebrating in debauchery but what for? Why to commemorate the death of her brother John, and the life-long blindness of her companion's brother, both gave all for the country and now the world celebrates—but how?

FIRM IN PUBLIC FAVOR NOW MADE BETTER THAN EVER

Dual Air Cleaning In this new Oldsmobile, a master air cleaner eliminates the injurious particles from two-thirds of the air before it enters the carburetor directly—while the second cleaner, in connection with crankcase ventilation, cleans the balance of the air.

Crankcase Ventilation In all internal combustion engines water is formed by condensation. Cold engines do not burn all of the fuel on starting. This water and liquid fuel pass into the crankcase and form crankcase dilution. Excessive dilution is eliminated by crankcase ventilation. It draws off water vapor and unburned fuel that may have passed into the crankcase. Crankcase ventilation improves performance and gives longer life to the engine and oil.

Oil Filter An oil filter has been added to this Oldsmobile, prolonging still more the life of the engine and the useful life of the oil. Should the filter become clogged with sediment, the lubricating system functions in the common manner. All principle parts are pressure lubricated.

Harmonic Balancer The Harmonic Balancer, developed by General Motors engineers, counteracts vibration and gives Oldsmobile a smoothness at both low and high speeds, you will quickly recognize when you take the wheel.

Twin-Beam Light Control Head lamps have double-filament bulbs, one filament for "bright action" and one for "dim action". On "dim action" the light is bright but thrown at a downward angle that protects the oncoming driver and gives ample vision to the Oldsmobile driver.

Larger L-Head Engines, Two-Way Cooling, Three-Way Pressure Lubrication, Full Automatic Spark Control, Thermostatic Charging Control, Tapered Dome-Shaped Combustion Chambers, High Velocity Hot-Section Manifold, Special Design Light Cast-Iron Pistons, Honed Cylinders, Silent Chain Drive, Balloon Tires, Exclusive Chromium Plating, Disco Finish, new heavy-duty of line and appointments of Fisher Bodies; many other features of demonstrated worth, at no increase in standard prices, with G.M.A.C. Time Payment Plan, if desired.

THE NEW LANDAU Ready by Fisher $1190 F.O.B. LANSING

OVER the span of months and miles, in the hands of thousands of owners, Oldsmobile power and performance, dash and endurance, comfort and driving ease, demonstrated Oldsmobile's unchallengeable right to the now familiar praise... "The car you can recommend to your best friend—it asks no favors, fears no road!"

But even that could not satisfy a policy pledged to progress.

Today Oldsmobile embodies new features of known value... improvements of demonstrated worth.

Providing even greater power, even longer life, even smoother performance; offering added driving ease and security; added qualities of luxury and comfort...

... the car so firm in public favor is now made better than ever.

NOTED BARITONE PLEASURES AUDIENCE AT THE COLLEGE

(By Lucy Cherry Crisp) The concert given by Edwin Swain, baritone, at East Carolina Teachers' College on Thursday evening, proved an hour of genuine enjoyment for a large audience of music-lovers.

The program was made up of four groups of songs—a well-chosen selection from the classic folk songs and modern ballads with Valentine's Recitative and Aria, O Santa Medaglia and Dic Possente, from Gounod's Faust, representing the field of opera. Numbers that were particularly pleasing to the audience included Passing By, by Purcell; Le Mirior, by Ferrari; Joy of the Morning, by Ware; Kashmiri Song, by Finden; and Oh, Miss Hannah, a charming little Southern song by Jessie Deppen, which Mr. Swain, at the insistent request of the audience sang a second time. In addition to his regular program, Mr. Swain obligingly sang as encores an old Scotch song, Down Here; Morning, by Strauss; Moussorgsky's Song of the Flea; the popular Road to Mandalay; by Oley Speaks; an old Irish song, Kitty, My Love.

Throughout his concert, Mr. Swain displayed a most satisfying combination of a voice of lovely tonal quality and unusual wide range; excellent diction; an exceptional power of control and an artistic sincerity of interpretation, a combination which charmed his audience. Miss Louise Burton, instructor in piano at the college, was the able accompanist for the concert.

'ROMOLA' ACCEPTED AS MOST BEAUTIFUL FILM

Acclaimed as being the most beautiful picture yet produced, 'Romola' the latest Lillian Gish production, comes to White's Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

New York critics were tremendously enthusiastic over the picture at its premiere, pointing out that artistic worth had been combined with romance and thrills in perfect fashion, and their favorable verdict was borne out in the very successful run of the film at the George M. Cohan Theatre at two-dollar rates, and in special runs in other cities.

JEWISH ZEALOTS SEEK TO REVIVE 'SACRIFICES' AT OLD MOSQUE OF OMAH

Jerusalem, July 30.—(INS)—Permission to bring a burn offering to Mount Moriah, where the Mosque of Omah stands, is being sought by a small faction of Jewish zealots.

They have asked their lawyer to endeavor to persuade the Supreme Moslem Council to allow the erection of altars where a temple once stood in order to revive the sacrifices interrupted when the temple was destroyed 2,000 years ago.

Several Hebrew ritual animal slaughters are suspected of conducting secret animal sacrifices in anticipation of a revival of sacrificial worship.

SOUTH TO EXPERIMENT WITH BANANA CROP

New York, July 30.—(INS)—The Southern tier of States may lead the world some day in the production of bananas, according to Dr. T. J. Harris, agronomist, who introduced the first banana seeds into Florida.

Dr. Harris plans to put his seeds in Alabama, Georgia, Texas and Mississippi, later invading Tennessee, Kentucky and South Carolina.

The discovery of the banana seed by Dr. Harris represents seven years of agricultural experiments in the West Indies, he said.

"I only need a temperate zone with six months of the year free from frost in order to plant these seeds successfully," Dr. Harris said. "One acre of bananas yields a greater food supply than twenty acres of wheat."

The agriculturist said that with Southern planters having their cotton crops ruined by the boll weevil they might convert their lands into banana plantations. Dr. Harris said that banana flour is as good as wheat flour.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"NO MORE SEA"

Rev. 21: part verse 1:—
"And there was no more sea."

It is said that at the foot of a cliff under the windows of the castle of Miramar, formerly the residence of Maximilian, the Mexican Emperor, at a depth of eighty feet below the surface of the Adriatic's clear waters, is a kind of cage fashioned by divers in the face of the rock.

In that cage are some of the most precious and magnificent pearls in existence. They belong, or did belong, to the Archduchess Rainer. Having been left unworn for a long time, and so neglected, the gems lost their color and became "sick."

Experts unanimously agreed that the only way to restore their original brilliancy was to submit the pearls to a prolonged submersion in the depths of the sea. They have been lying there now for a number of years and are gradually regaining their former unrivaled beauty.

In a similar way, though from a different cause, thou sands of our people seek restoration by the magic of the sea.

The jewels of the Archduchess lost their color through having been left unworn. We seek the revivifying influence of the grand old ocean because we have been worn too much. Confinement to city offices and stores, the monotonous routine of industrial life, the same ever-recurring problems of domestic cares, soon take the bloom from the cheek, and the vigor from the mind.

So to the beaches we go for rest, recreation and health; and seek the recovery of the lost lustre of life by saturating ourselves in the ozone of the briny deep. In its changing tints from deepest blue to palest green, tipped with crests of purest white, the eyes, used to dust and bricks and mortar, find rest. It awakes in us the sleeping love of beauty that holds enthralled the soul of the artist. Its purity, its freedom and its awful mightiness, its wealth of treasure in shell, and weed and fish—all appeal to our interest and curiosity, and coax us to join the procession of those who, age after age,

"go down to the sea." Let the dry land appear: Lord Byron never wrote and it was so. I have seen, what Leonardo da Vinci first pointed out, the sediment of the sea in the shell layers of the Apennine mountains of Italy—and in the blocks of the Colosseum at Rome.

A microscope will show minute shells in the pyramids at Ghizeh. Those great mountain ranges, the Alps and the Andes, are but so much hardened ocean ash; and perhaps the whole earth is but the compact mold of dead things. Our love of the sea is thus traced to the natural affection of a child for its mother. So my text "No More Sea," at first awakes a chord of sorrow and regret. We wonder why St. John, when he described the glories of the New Era, should picture a sea-less heaven. Take the sea out of the picture and much of its music is marred. Take the sea out of the picture of Heaven, and we are sensible of the loss of a most attractive feature. For the comfort of those who feel thus, let it be said that these words are FIGURATIVE only, and can only be understood when we put ourselves in the Apostles position and know what he meant by "the sea;" what "the SEA" meant to him. This we will try to find out in our next "MEDITATION."

This attractiveness of the sea, rising in some to the heights of passionate love, has been thought by some to be due to the fact that the ocean is the womb of organic life which sprang from the "opalescent mucus" that drifts in skeins through every sea.

Instead of speaking of Mother Earth, we ought to speak of Mother Ocean. This planet was cradled on the wave; all those beautiful living organisms that laid the foundations of the earth were nurtured in the bosom of the deep; the earth, indeed, with all her living beauty, is the offspring of the sea; and we go back to the moving waters that we may dip our whole being into the vital elements out of which it first arose. "God said....."

Sumrell Motor Car Company, Inc. Invites You to Attend the First Showing of the Studebaker Custom Sedans

Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan $1385 Big Six Custom Brougham $1975 The President, a Big Six Custom Sedan (for women), broadcloth or Chase Mohair upholstery... $2445 Prices f. o. b. factory, including full equipment, wheel brakes and accessories.

Equipment No-draft ventilating windshield, bumper and bumperettes, engine heat indicator and gasoline gauge on the dash, coincidental lock, oil filter and air purifier, automatic windshield cleaner, automatic spark control, rear vision mirror, and two-beam headlights, controlled from steering wheel.

FOR the first time in an automobile of economical production, these Studebaker Custom Sedans duplicate the master creations of custom design! Swung low in the body—close-hauled in the coachwork—fleet and flowing in their lines—resplendent with the lacquered loveliness of duotone color schemes—and replete with every detail of correct custom treatment, from broad-lace trim, Butler finish hardware and Chase Mohair interiors to the silvered figure of Atalanta poised on the radiator. These Custom Sedans combine the lines that appeal to a woman with the stamina that appeals to a man—add custom refinements to the ruggedness of Studebaker performance—offer disc wheels and four-wheel brakes—reaffirm the inflexible standards of Studebaker quality—and invoke anew the great Studebaker tradition of making good with the public by continually making better in the plant! They are the latest examples of the Studebaker policy of progressive betterments. To the smoothness and power of the quiet Studebaker L-Head motor is added the custom symmetry of line and treatment that would be absolutely impossible, at the Studebaker price, without Studebaker One-Profit facilities. These Studebaker Custom Sedans are now on view at our display rooms. You are invited to come in and see them.

Paris, July 31.—(AP)—The dressmaking world of Paris is wondering whether the visit of Mu'ai Youssef, sultan of Morocco, will have an effect on future styles. Will the Burnous, or the hooded Bjalaba influence the attire of the women of Paris and so of the women of all the world, thanks to the present Moroccan invasion of Paris? Will women's fashions allow the little red chequies or fuzzy-like headwear to have any influence over their own styles? Past experiences leads dress designers to the belief that something along these lines may be expected. Ministers of France may change frequently, but stay officials remain in office fairly steadily. Pierre Laval had this truth brought home to him after his nomination in Briand's tenth and now extinct cabinet, when a head secretary of the department of justice came to say good by on his retirement from service. "Have you been here long?" asked M. Laval. "Thirty years," replied the official. "And how many ministers of justice have you known?" "Thirty." "Fine," commented the minister, and he added "I am sure that I shall never see thirty chief secretaries of the department." Berlin, July 31.—(AP)—Herald before coming to Berlin as the "dollar prince" Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., recently lived up to expectations by admitting to newspaper men here that he always carried no less than 250 marks, about $60, in his vest pocket. Asked why so wealthy a young man as he should bother about having to make pictorial newspaper pay, the young American publisher replied that he worked because journalism fascinated him. "What would you do if you were poor?" he was asked. "Be a newspaper man just the same," he replied. Five o'clock tea will pass out of existence in Germany. There will be tea, but they will be called 17 o'clock affairs. The German National Railways and the post office department, following the lead of several European countries, have decided to adopt the 24 hour time system beginning next May. Clocks in railroad stations and post offices will receive an extra circle of numerals so that five p. m. will be 17 and midnight 24 o'clock. The system may be extended generally. The German air service already operates on 24 hour time and reports that it eliminates confusion, and simplifies printing of time tables. The campaign of a Berlin daily newspaper to lighten the summer clothing of men by doffing coats and wearing shirt waists is being endorsed in principle by women. They do not object but especially corpulent ones, ask "how are we going to hold

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Los Angeles, July 31.—(INS)—Country newspapers, editors of the United States are distinctly dry in sentiment, a report submitted to the convention of the National Editorial Association here indicated.

The report was presented by J. C. Birmingham, editor of the Newton, Mass., Graphic, who questioned 145 members of the association in 31 states.

One hundred and nine editors believed there was less drunkenness since prohibition than before; fifteen declared there was an increase.

They're fighting the campaign in the Philippines all over again on the Warner lot. After weeks of research on the part of a technical staff, General Funston's headquarters on the far eastern islands during the Spanish-American War has been reproduced for Monte Blue's picture, Across the Pacific.

Among the latest are Gertrude Olmsted and Robert Z. Elaine Hammerstein and her husband have just returned from a wedding trip to Alaska.

Mary Astor and Rene Adotes are reported to be thinking things over, too.

Fidel LaBarbera's next fight in defense of his flyweight title will probably be in New York some time this fall, George Blake, his Wisely and properly, the Rev. lady refuses to exhibit her finger prints. In all this earth there are no two sets of finger prints exactly alike. But don't forget Satan is ever seeking to discredit his enemies. He can do almost anything. Nothing easier for him than to plant on walls and furniture of some cottage "love nest" finger prints of a lady who never saw the cottage in her life.

The "All-Asia Conference" is off. Japan government doesn't like it. That All-Asia idea was to organize Asiatic nations, arranging for them to rise in their might, overcome, and if necessary punish white races for their superciliousness.

Japanese statesmen, wise gentlemen, realize that it is easier to start an All-Asia movement than to end it. China hates Japan, objected to Japanese leadership in the conference, and it is abandoned.

Foolish white races that kill and bankrupt each other may be grateful that Asiatic nations, outnumbering them more than two to one, are unable to agree among themselves.

Professors of fifty-two colleges who sailed yesterday to study international peace might learn as much about international peace if they stayed at home and studied human nature. The statement, man is by nature a beast, does not apply to all, but does apply to a magnificent majority.

All beasts fight. And men will fight, until a very powerful minority finds a way to stop fighting. We need airplanes more than we need peace sentimentalists.

The Swiss prepare for trouble and can't have trouble. Each man is trained to fight; every man strong enough to use it has his gun and ammunition, subject to inspection by the government.

Recently officers of the Swiss army led young recruits up Devil's Mountain, a peak 10,650 feet high, as part of their training, and the ascent was made at night.

The great war raged all around Switzerland, but there was no intrusion on Swiss soil. It would have been too expensive. Unless, San, might learn something from this Swiss behavior.

New Quotas May Change Course of Immigration

Washington, July 31.—(INS)—Great Britain and northern Ireland may furnish sixty per cent of the annual immigration to the United States if new quotas are proclaimed next April 1 by President Coolidge, as directed by the immigration law.

This prospect has brought so many protests of discrimination that a committee of the state, labor and commerce departments now engaged in preparing the new quotas will endeavor to complete a report to the President in time to permit congressional action next winter.

Sharp changes from the present system of allotting the covet visas are provided under the immigration act. At the outset the total number of immigrants permitted to enter the country is reduced from 164,667 to 150,000 a year.

Quotas now are based on two per cent of the foreign-born people of any nationality as shown by the census of 1890. Under the national origins provision effective next year the 150,000 permits to enter the United States will be based on the proportionate strength of the various nationalities in the United States as shown by the 1920 census.

Since a large proportion of the British ancestry, a distinct gain in then number of immigrants from Great Britain and northern Ireland—the Irish Free State having a separate quota—is expected. Protests are being made. Some experts declaring that under the new law 90,000 of the 150,000 immigrants each year will be British.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S BICYCLE GIVEN TO MUSEUM

Marion, O., July 31.—(INS)—B. D. Keeler, a local bicycle dealer, has in his possession today a bicycle owned by the late President Warren G. Harding.

The late President rode this wheel near a quarter of a century ago. Today it is just as he used it.

President Harding bought it in 1889 when bicycling was the greatest outdoor sport. He got it from his brother-in-law, C. B. Kling, who operated a hardware store here in the old days.

When Harding turned to automobiles, he gave the bike to his chauffeur who rode it for five years. Later it was stored in an old barn owned by Mr. Kling.

Shortly after the departure of the Hardings for Washington, F. J. Longshore, grocer, moved his home to the Kling residence. He wanted the barn in which to store his delivery trucks and gave the bicycle to his clerk Louis Dinnig.

Dennig gave the wheel to Mr. Keeler in 1920. It was exhibited during the summer of Harding's presidential campaign and in the fall of 1920 was taken to Chicago and exhibited among the curios at the Chicago Cycle Show.

The wheel is of Eclipse make. It is equipped with the first and original model coaster pedal brake, a forerunner of the modern coaster brake. The frame is 26 inches high.

Keeler plans to present it to the Harding Memorial Association when the Harding Museum is erected.

POLAR TRAVEL IS NOW TOO LUXURIOUS TO BE INTERESTING

Los Angeles, July 31.—(AP)—Polar travel, like the famed gray mule, is not what is used to be, according to James W. Davidson, whose part 18 months in the Arctic region with Commander Peary in 1893 and 1894.

"Its getting to be too luxurious to be interesting," Davidson said. "Commander Byrd went to the Pole in twelve hours flying time. A trip like that would have taken weeks with dog sleds."

Future journeys, Davidson predicted, will be made with even less difficulty corresponding to the advancement of science.

ALIEN TEACHERS IN TURKEY TO TAKE LANGUAGE TESTS

Sofia, July 31.—(INS)—Consternation has been created among the foreign colonies and population of Turkey following the introduction of a measure by the Turkish Minister of Education that all alien teachers in future must pass an examination in the Turkish language.

Any failure to pass such an examination will mean that an alien teacher will not be allowed to teach within the Turkish domains.

This measure will affect thousands of alien teachers, in particular those of Greek, Armenian and Bulgarian birth, as well as the American colleges.

SPRINT CLASSIS, PUSH AUTOMOBILE CONTEST BILLED AT CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, July 31.—(INS)—The world sprint classic at the Charlotte Speedway isn't the only thing that's coming off here late in August.

The National pushmobile title also will be decided here August 23, prior to the automobile races. Cities from all parts of the country will send contestants to vie for the title, according to C. C. Coddington, president of the Speedway.

New Prohibition Head in Pa. Will Make State Dry

Pittsburgh, July 31.—(INS)—Taking up a task left unfinished by a railroad executive and later by the head of a private detective agency, John D. Pennington, retired naval officer, is prepared to dry up Pennsylvania, if that can be accomplished under existing laws. He believes it can.

While many obstacles in the path of the administrations of Frederick C. Bird, Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad official, and Edgar R. Ray, professional sleuth, have been removed by congress, Pennington realizes the difficulty of his task. He hopes to be able to surmount remaining obstacles and profit by the experience of his predecessors.

Pennington has $500,000 with which to combat the illicit liquor industry in all but five counties of Keystone state during the present fiscal year, considerably more than his predecessors had. This appropriation by congress makes possible a greatly increased staff of dry agents for this district, considered by many the wettest in the country.

The new administrator is out to bring in the big fellows, depending upon the various local police departments to curb activities of petty violators. The big malt and mash men, as the powers of the rum trust are known in Pennsylvania, will be dealt with under the rigid discipline of the U. S. Navy, from which Pennington resigned eight months ago.

It will not be an easy task to get the big fellows, Pennington declared. Their political influence usually is great and they are shielded by their social standing, but we will go after them with every resource at our command.

Pennington sincerely believes the prohibition law can be enforced, he says, but he does not think congress has done its full share. Give the money and organization he asked for, Pennington said, General L. C. Andrews could make prohibition a fact in the nation.

Mild of manner, but with his every act bespeaking the snap characteristic of the navy, the new Pennsylvania dry chief is only 45 years old, yet his experiences are of such magnitude as befits a man much older.

$500,000,000 Worth Machines to Get the Wheat for This Year

Chicago, July 31.—(INS)—The nation's bread bill is paying its annual charge on a little realized investment that probably exceeds the amount spent year for year for butter, the Sears, Roebuck Agricultural Foundation has reported.

A survey recently completed disclosed $500,000,000 tied up in the little heralded or known business of threshing wheat.

The total bread crop of the United States is about 34,500,000,000 one pound loaves, or about 182 pound loaves per American. To thresh this from the grain, the farmers of the nation have purchased 140,000 individual threshing outfits. These work at top speed just three weeks out of the year, and the rest of the time must lay idle entailing a heavy carrying charge

OUR COURSE IS SET

Through the high tides of prosperity and the low tides of depression, this association has kept straight on its course. It began to serve the people of this community on May 6th, 1906—over twenty years ago. During these years our country has passed through the period of expansion in the days of the World War when the good American dollar declined in value. Immediately following the war we passed through the period of deflation when fortunes were lost, yet in all these years we have never lost a dollar—We have never foreclosed a mortgage—Our shareholders have profited. A new series is again open to the public.
