SECOND ATTEMPTED REVOLUTIONARY MOVE MEXICO FRUSTRATED

Authorities Investigating Connection Between Uprising in Mexico City and Estrada Project

Mexico City, Aug. 17.—(AP)—With two alleged revolutionary projects announced almost simultaneously, Mexican officials today began an investigation to determine if any connection existed between the movement headed by General Enrique Estrada near the Mexican border in California and a projected uprising in Mexico City.

News of the break-up of the Estrada movement by the United States authorities has occasioned a great sensation in the capital, although later President Calles stated that he knew of the project for the past two months and that measures had been taken to frustrate it.

The Mexican city police reported that about 50 persons, mostly prominent Catholics, have been arrested in the last two days in Mexico City and nearby towns. Fourteen were discharged last night. The police assert that those arrested had plotted for armed uprisings in various parts of the republic on Sunday.

Dynamite, fire arms and revolutionary propaganda plans were confiscated in the homes of those arrested, the police charged. The Roman Catholic episcopate, which has constantly found upon violence in connection with the present religious controversy and has specifically declared that only peaceful measures are authorized by the church, declares it has no information that Catholics were plotting a rebellion.

Kills Two and Wounds Another Over Gold Claim

Merced, Cal., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Paul Baran, 51, a veteran of the Gold Camp of the old West, matched marksmanship with three men yesterday during a quarrel over a mining claim and won.

Today he leaves in custody of Deputy Sheriff for Marposa to face two charges of murder and possibly three. Two of those with whom he quarreled were killed outright while the third is conceded only a slight chance to recover. Victor Schinoniass and T. Shastin are dead, while the body of the third man, H. Clark, is riddled with bullets.

Baran claimed that the trio threatened to kill me, so when I got give his gold claim to them. "They killed my dog and they threatened to kill me, so when I saw them coming up to my cabin with a rifle, I opened fire," he told officers. "It was a case of shoot and shoot quick, so I let them have it."

Sink to Inspect State Institutions

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Parole Commissioner H. Hoyle Sink leaves Wednesday, August 18, for a tour of inspection of convict camps throughout the state. The commissioner estimates that the trip will take him one week or ten days and he plans to look thoroughly into a number of applications for pardons from applicants in camps as far west as Bryson City.

While on the tour Mr. Sink plans to visit a number of other state institutions as secretary of the Salary and Wage Commission.

The commissioner will make the trip by automobile and will complete a tour which he started several weeks ago when bad weather conditions forced him to return.

Too Scantly Clad

Genoa, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Several hundred men and women must tell the judge why they haven't worn as much clothing in swimming as the Fascist think is necessary for modesty. There was quite some fighting when the new costume censor got on the job.

MAZER DENIES HE KILLED PUBLISHER OF CANTON PAPER

Underworld Leader of Canton Under Fire of District Attorney's Questioning Today

Cleveland, Aug. 17.—(AP)—All the iron clad evidence that Joseph R. Beach, famous Chicago clean-up attorney has gathered in his efforts to solve the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, was being hurled against the denial of Louis Mazer, underworld character that he committed the murder, early this afternoon.

After his break down before the direct accusation by the District Attorney, Mazer stiffened and stoutly denied any knowledge of the crime.

"It's a lie, I did not do it," Mazer shouted over and over again. "Carl Studer, Canton underworld leader, and alleged confederate of Mazer in various illicit trafficking, was brought before the accused man. Mazer did not know his former partner in the ownership of a Canton poolroom was being detained in the inquiry."

Parker to Attend Agriculture Meet

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Frank Parker, crop statistician for the Department of Agriculture, leaves here next Friday, August 20, to attend a meeting of the crop reporting board in Washington. Mr. Parker will carry with him North Carolina crop conditions as of August 15 and the board will compile the country's general crop condition report.

Prior to leaving Mr. Parker will make a two day tour of crop producing areas of the state with a view to obtaining a late report on which to base figures he will submit to the board.

In order to obtain a complete crop condition report William H. Rhodes, Jr., of the crop reporting staff, is leaving for a tour of eastern and southern North Carolina to inspect late cotton conditions.

KELLOGG DENIES HE WILL RESIGN

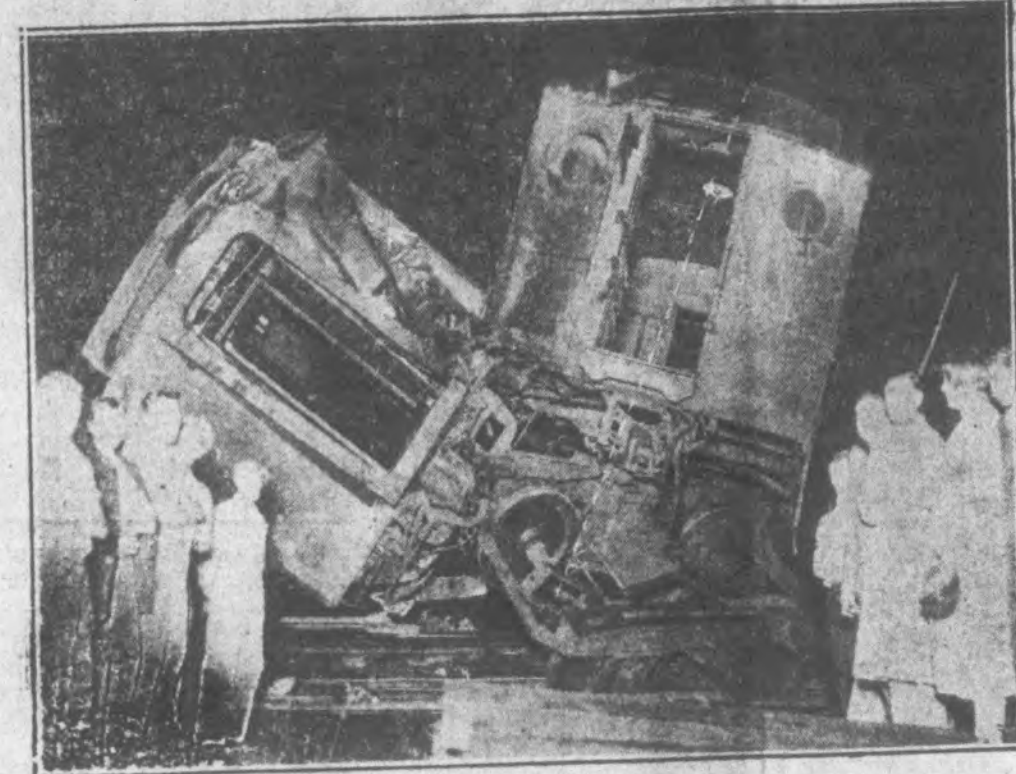

Report From Washington Had Indicated Secretary of State Would Quit Office

Paul Smith, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Secretary of State, Kellogg, today flatly denied a news paper report that he contemplated resigning. The dispatch emanating from Washington said the purpose of the Secretary's visit to President Coolidge at White Pine Camp was to clear up pending departmental business prior to his retirement.

WILL TAKE LEGAL STEPS TO SECURE LICENSE FOR DEMPSEY-TUNNEY FIGHT

New York, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Losing no time in his efforts to clear the way for the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight battle here on September 16, Tex Rickard today marshalled an array of legal talent to consider court action that would compel the state license committee to issue a permit to the champion.

Six Die in Wreck of "Millionaires' Special"

This shows the wreckage of the "Millionaires' Special," at Calverton, Long Island, in which six persons were killed and scores injured. The train was said to have been traveling at a high rate of speed when it split a switch.

DESIRE FOR POWER CAUSE ATTEMPTED INVASION MEXICO

Hope for Wealth and Not Concern for Religious Plight Was Cause of Estrada Expedition

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Desire for wealth and power and not concern for Mexico's religious plight, was the moving force behind the plot of General Enrique Estrada and his associates to overthrow the government of Lower California, officials of that state believe.

The plot went awry when agents of the United States Department of Justice and county and city officials of Southern California took approximately 175 men into custody Sunday together with a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

A blanket complaint has been filed against the men arrested. They are filed in violation of the neutrality of the United States, and with conspiracy to violate that neutrality. In addition, they face a charge of violating a section of the criminal code prohibiting an organized military movement against a friendly government.

The possibility that at least some of the ring leaders would face a firing squad also claimed as investigation was started to learn if any of them are subject to deportation. Conviction of any of the charges against them would warrant deportation and it was pointed out that once in Mexico they would receive little sympathy from the Mexican authorities.

TWO MEN KILLED BY WATER SPOUT

Glencove, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—A water spout, sweeping in from Long Island sound, about 9 o'clock last night caused extensive property damage for a distance of about half a mile along the creek. Two men were killed, another was said to be missing and two men were injured.

The spot traveled at terrific speed, uprooting trees, demolishing cottages on the road which fronts the long island sound, breaking telephone poles.

TODAY

Mr. Dempsey's Rest. Farmers' Fairy Story. All Cheerful Here. Black Bread and White Bread. By ARTHUR BLISSBANE

Jack Dempsey describes with affection two detective sergeants from Chicago that will be his body guard; one at night one by day, while he trains for his coming fight.

It would be a pity to have anybody hurt Mr. Dempsey, or as he puts it "disturb my rest," while he is engaged in delicate and important preparations to knock out Mr. Tanney. Many in Chicago, whose nights and days and mental rest are disturbed by hand-to-hand possibilities, must wish that they were heavyweight champions, and could have two picked men of the Chicago force to watch over them.

Mr. Hoover tells farmers of the Middle West they need water ways, and lower freight rates, to compete with the Panama Canal. Farmers in the Canadian Northwest ship their wheat to Europe by water and save heavily on the freight charges, as compared with Middle West United States farms. American ships, thanks to official idiosyncrasy and a desire to please Britain, must pay the same as foreign ships, to use the Panama Canal. And the American farmers were taxed to build it.

Mr. Hoover's suggestion of water ways and low freight rates to the ocean will impress intelligent farmers as an excellent fairy story. They know, as Mr. Hoover knows, that the railroads will not permit any such competition. In a short time, they will not permit the public to use its own highways for omnibus routes. Watch the railroads win that fight.

Next will come regulation of air routes, forbidding competition with "rival interests" above ground. If we think that a preposterous suggestion, watch developments. Water air lines are reaped out, and the government assumes mail, passenger and express carrying rights and contracts over those routes, others will be varied off.

Another weekling week begins, with business cheerful. The business very cheerful. Wall Street went home last Saturday noon, in pleasant mood. That summer slump seems far away and market leaders still lead upward and onward, like the exultant young man in the poem. In this country, there is nothing to frighten us, unless we frighten ourselves.

Even the poor farmer, whose untutored mind never seems to get anything from officials that he elects, is promised something. There is said to be a scheme planned by Mr. Hoover, approved by President Coolidge, to make the farmer happy. Private capital is to provide a fund of $100,000,000 and all that money will be used, in some mysterious way, to make

COMPLETE PLANS FOR CELEBRATION ROANOKE ISLAND

For First Time in Many Years British Join in Celebrating Birthday of Virginia Dare

Roanoke Island, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Plans were completed today for the celebration tomorrow of the 339th anniversary of the birth of Virginia Dare. The principal event on the program will be an address by the British Ambassador, Sir Esme Howard. Tomorrow's festivities will be the principal vent of Dare county homecoming week which is now being celebrated.

For the first time in the many years the birthday of the first born English child on American soil has been celebrated two nations across the sea from one another will be linked in the presence of officials of both nations. Sir Esme's appearance marks the first time an English official has appeared at the ceremonies and taken a part. In addition many Congressmen from Virginia and North Carolina are expected to be present tomorrow and the Governors of the two states or their representatives are to be on hand.

Tomorrow's program will start with the arrival at the island of a government cutter, which will convey the high officials of government and the officers of the Roanoke Colony Memorial Association, under whose auspices the celebration is staged each year.

The Right Reverend Joseph B. Cheshire, venerable but active bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, will lead the gathered thousands to the spot where tradition has it Virginia Dare received the baptism of the English church. Bishop Cheshire is president of the memorial association.

Identify Body of Dead Youth

Salisbury, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The body of the young white man held at a local undertaking establishment since shortly after midnight Saturday after the man was found dead in the middle of the Statesville-Salisbury highway five miles from this city was identified last night as that of Boyd Edison, of Statesville. Two sisters came to Salisbury and positively identified the body as that of their brother, who they said was a little over 17 years of age.

WADE ADDRESSES STATE FIREMEN AT MOREHEAD TODAY

Insurance Commissioner Urges Full Co-operation in Cutting Down Fire Loss in State

Morehead City, Aug. 17.—(INS)—A ringing challenge to North Carolina firemen to cooperate to the fullest extent in cutting down fire loss and ferreting out the fire bug was sounded here today by State Insurance Commissioner Stacey W. Wade, in an address before the annual convention of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association.

The insurance commissioner, picturing the fire fiend as an arch enemy to the nation, urged the fire fighters to investigate thoroughly the origin of every fire. "Incendiary fires are so common that you have a right to suspect the origin of every fire unless a natural cause appears on the fact of it," Commissioner Wade declared. "The fire bug is tricky and hard to catch, and it is a good policy to take nothing for granted."

"If there is evidence of incendiarism, preserve it carefully, examine available witnesses, before they have had time to confer with one another about it, and wire your insurance department immediately. Incendiarism follows in the wake of over-insurance. Be sure that you look into this phase of every suspicious fire."

Declaring that the old firemen who lived in an "ox cart age" and maintained that "you can't learn nothin' about fire fightin' out of books and papers," is rapidly passing out of existence, Commissioner Wade urged the firemen to keep studying all the while, reading "fye fighting magazin", book on the subject and articles by experts.

The insurance commissioner appealed to the firemen to take an intelligent interest in fire insurance rates in order that they may be able to discuss the matter with citizens of the community. "Most of us know," he said, "that fire losses for the past five years have been enormous. Because of these losses the insurance companies operating in the Southeastern states have been forced to increase fire rates on mercantile risks 10 per cent and on other un sprinkled industrial risks 25 per cent."

"I would also have you realize that publicity is one of the most vital and pressing needs of the fire fighting business that we are all engaged in. It is not only an aid to efficiency in the fire department, but it helps to keep alive an interested our fire fight reserve. No matter how small your town is, some man in your department should be assigned to the duty of reporting to the newspapers in your town all the news about your fire department."

BERLIN POLICE BAFFLED BY ODD SIGNS ON WALLS

Berlin, Aug. 17.—(INS)—The word of "Devotion" painted in white on numerous walls, preferably on those of government buildings by mysterious hands, puzzles the public and the authorities. It is believed that the adherents of some mysterious new prophet by this word want to attract attention and prepare the public for a campaign.

SCREEN STAR IN DESPERATE FIGHT WITH GRIM REAPER

Condition of Rudolph Valentino Considered Critical by Attending Physicians

New York, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Rudolph Valentino, shiek of the silver screen, was fighting desperately for his million dollar life today in a bower of roses at the Polyclinic Hospital. His physicians have revealed that local peritonitis had already developed when the film star was operated on Sunday night for appendicitis and a gastric ulcer. Peritonitis poisoning, the doctors say, usually becomes general, and when it does, the patient dies. The strong resistance of the serene actor's splendid physique is regarded as his only hope.

Valentino has the most expensive and one of the largest suites in the hospital, but there was not enough room in it for all the flowers sent him by admirers. The telephone switchboard was swamped with inquiries about him and a special waiting room was set aside for his callers.

Pola Negri, who announced recently that she was engaged to Valentino on trial, said in Los Angeles, that she would take the first train to New York to see him after she finished the picture on which she was working.

THREE PRISONERS BREAK FROM CAMP

Two Life Termers and One Serving 22 Years Escaped From Camp Near Durham

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Three prisoners, two of them up for murder, and the other serving a life sentence for attack, escaped from a prison camp near Durham late last night, prison officials here learned this morning. The three men were negroes. No details of the escape were available.

FREIGHT RATES ON ALL FERTILIZER MATERIALS COMPLETELY REVISED

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—A wide-spread revision of freight rates on fertilizer and fertilizer material was decided upon today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Railroads were ordered to put the new scale of rate into effect by January 1, 1927.

Unless Individual Rights of American Citizens Are Infringed Upon Washington Government Will Take No Part

Paul Smith, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—While the petitions of the Knights of Columbus asking that the United States intervene in Mexico to protect the Catholic churchmen in their religious dispute with President Calles was not referred to directly, it was reiterated today at the summer executive offices on behalf of President Coolidge that the Washington government has no authority under diplomatic usage, international law, or treaty right, to interfere in the purely domestic affairs of Mexico.

Whenever the rights of American citizen in person or property have been infringed, it was added, the American government will do what it can to see that these rights are duly respected.

Secretary Kellogg, of the State Department, who is a guest at the summer White House, has informed President Coolidge that he had knowledge of but one specific complaint concerning the taking of church property in Mexico. This was lodged with James R. Sheffield, the American Ambassador to that country, and the latter upon making representation to the Mexico City government, has been informed the case would be adjusted.

It is difficult to say, it was said on Mr. Coolidge's behalf, whether American citizens have suffered in Mexico, for this is a broad term. Some have been expelled under Article 33 of the Mexican constitution, it was added, but whenever this measure is resorted to without any action on the part of the American against whom it is used, it has been the practice of the American Ambassador to intervene, sometime successfully, and at other time unsuccessfully.

National Guard Unit Back Home

The local unit of the 117th Field Artillery returned yesterday afternoon from Fort Bragg where they have been in training for the past two weeks.

The boys got a touch of real army life, gained much military knowledge and report as a whole a good time.

Referring to the work of the local unit, the News and Observer has the following to say: "While practically every unit of the 117th Field Artillery, which concluded its summer training today at Fort Bragg, made a splendid record, the 'baby' outfit from Greenville made an exceptionally fine record," said Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts, upon his return from the artillery post where he spent a few days with the Tar Heel artillery men.

"That was certainly fine shooting the Monroe men did last Friday" added General Metts. "Regular army officers, who observed the shooting, praised the men."

The General was of the opinion that the 1926 encampment of Colonel W. T. Joyner's men was one of the best that the regiment has ever had.

LIBRARY NEWS

Our Slogan: "Let the Library Serve Greenville"

Library Hours: 9 to 12 Noon and 4:30 to 7 P. M.

The American Library Association is arranging for a series of graphically illustrated exhibits of Library Progress for the Sesqui Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia as a part of the association's fiftieth anniversary observance. The exhibit consists of two electrically operated maps, one of which will illustrate book distribution from a county library to branches and stations in villages, county schools—general stores, and other rural centers. The other will show the operation of a complete city library system. A model book truck will show how books are sent to people everywhere in the community.

The close relation between public libraries and public schools will be shown. Methods of book selection will be shown, also book service in hospitals, reformatories, prisons, and other institutions. An equipped and furnished children's library will be of interest to fathers and mothers of the land.

Technical and reference libraries maintained by business houses, insurance companies, engineering firms and banks will comprise another exhibit.

These exhibits at the Centennial on October 6th, which is the American Library Association day at the exposition, will show the nation's progress in library service during the past fifty years. Greenville, N. C., we think, can proudly lift her head among the celebrators of this anniversary as one little city making progress, for she continues her financial support to the library for 1926-27 and adds there to a committee from the Aldermen to help in the library plans for the year.

Maybe North Carolina does rank 42nd of the United States in library service, but it is not Greenville's fault that she ranks so low.

Following we give another excellent review written by Rev. James E. W. Cook. This is another of the International Mind Above books which we urge our readers to use for they are not only interesting, but they are highly informative on the international peace situation about which America must inform herself if she continues to hold her position among the world powers.

"The Arab at Home"
by Paul W. Harrison, M.D.
(Published by Thos. Y. Crowell Company, New York)

This book, written by a medical missionary who spent over twelve years among the Arabs, is one of the most informative and illuminating it has been our pleasure to read.

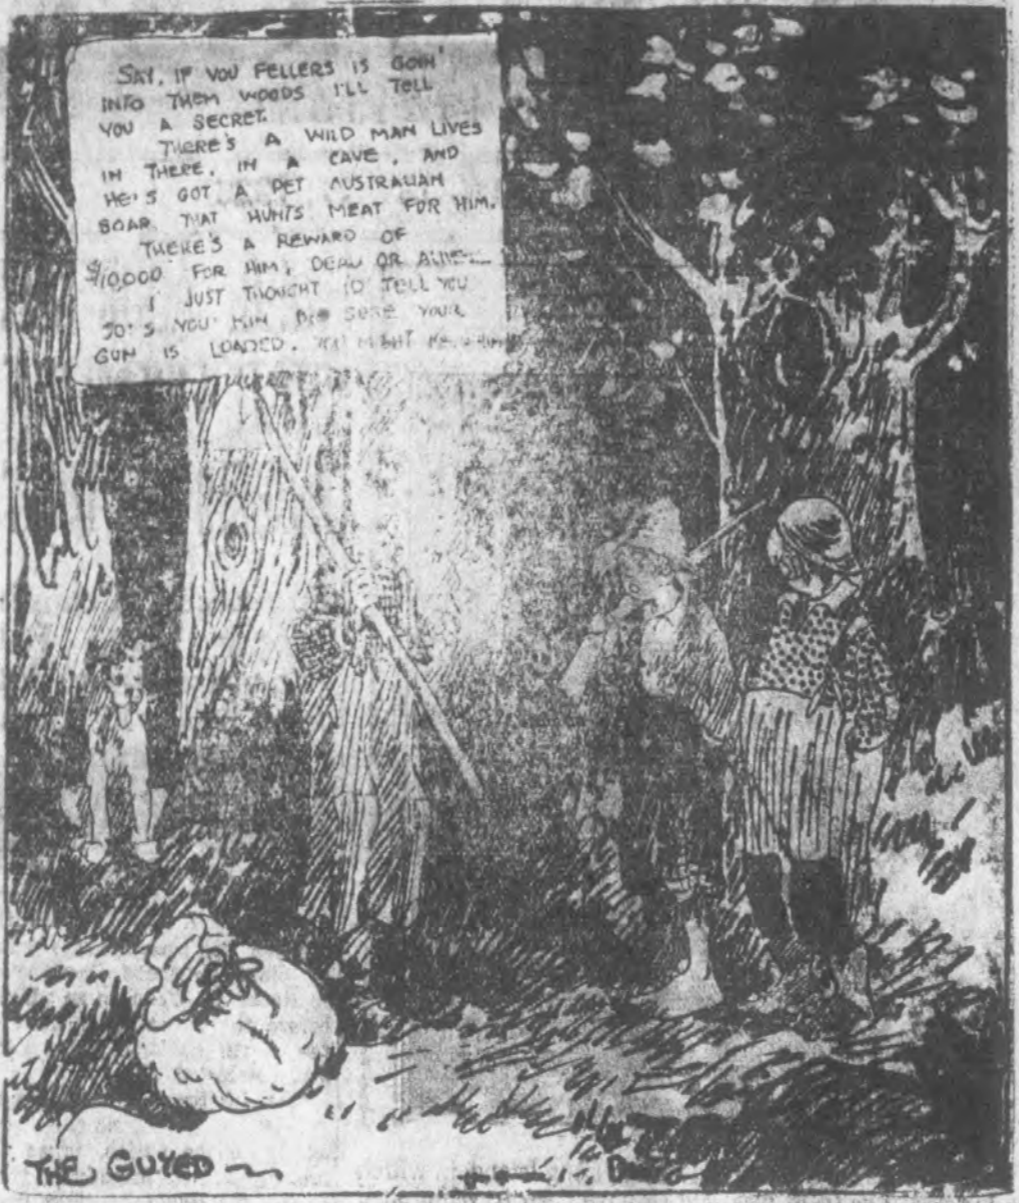

Doctor Harrison knows his subject well and writes clearly and convincingly. In the first chapter he gives one's "first impressions of the Arabs"—which, of course, are usually superficial and wrong. In the next six chapters he describes "The Bedouin of the Desert," "The Crus. Community," "Pearl Divers of the East Coast," "The Arabs of Mesopotamia" and "The Arab Sheik." In these ten portraits the characteristics of each class are brought out with distinctness, and the strong and weak points faithfully shown. Balancing the account, I venture to say that no one can read these six chapters without gaining a higher opinion of the Arab race, and a just appreciation of its magnificent possibilities.

Chapters 8, 9 and 10 are devoted to the story of "The Rule of the Turk," "The British Regime," and "Great Empires of Islam," and the weaknesses of the governments which have tried to rule the Arabs are frankly exposed.

The next five chapters deal with the Mohammedan religion, and form a valuable contribution to those who are interested in the great religions of the world. These chapters are entitled "The Mohammedan Faith," "The Five Pillars," "An Appraisal of Mohammedanism," "The Religion of Western Heathenism" and "The Arab and Christianity."

SCHOOL DAYS

The 10th chapter deals with "Bringing medicine and surgery into Arabia" and is interesting even to the layman; and the closing chapter, on "The future of the Arab," concludes with the prophetic vision, and Arabia will take her place in the great brotherhood of nations, one of the most richly endowed of them all.

Dr. Harrison is to be congratulated on having written a book, which cannot but remove prejudices and misunderstandings, and cannot but promote international amity and good will. The time of anyone reading this book will be well spent.

Liquor Questions at Court Rank Near Top

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Controversies arising out of the enforcement of the Volstead act and interpretations of rum treatise now constitute one of the most prolific sources of litigation reaching the Supreme Court.

While many important and highly interesting problems arising under the prohibition amendment have been decided, others crucial in enforcement remain to be solved.

Some may be decided soon after the court convenes in October. Others will be presented in oral arguments early next term.

The cases pending cover a wide range, from attempts to nullify rum treatise which General Andrews regards as one of the most effective instruments in combating bootlegging, to technical questions in rather ordinary cases.

Seizure of the Canadian steamer Quadra off the Farallone Islands, liquor laden, on the ground that she was within one hour's sailing by her own power of the California coast, will be the basis for testing the jurisdiction of federal courts to try cases alleged to have originated outside the territorial limits of the United States.

Dr. Samuel W. Lambert of New York, with the support of the American Medical Association, has challenged the Volstead act restriction upon physician's prescriptions. William E. Dodge and others, owners of the Rav of Block Island, have attacked the right of federal government to forfeit a boat seized by the Rhode Island police.

Automobile companies in Alabama and Washington state are questioning the right of the government to sell automobiles that are seized in illicit traffic when title to the cars has not passed to those purchasing them on deferred payments. The authority of Oregon to prohibit insurance companies from issuing policies to indemnify automobile companies against loss through such seizures, also is under litigation.

Other questions before the court include: The use which federal officers can make of evidence obtained by state officers; which or leaves to property can be cancelled when a part of the premises had been padlocked; whether certain San Francisco policemen were attempting to arrest or violate the law who arrested on a dock which liquor had been landed; whether Joshua F. Russell, former prohibition director for Ohio, was involved in a conspiracy to unlawfully transport and sell liquor in Cleveland and other places; and whether a former prohibition director for Nevada committed an offense punishable under the law when he failed to report to the United States attorney alleged violations near Reno.

That any person parking an automobile or any other vehicle and leaving same unattended, in said reserved space, as defined in the foregoing section, shall upon conviction be fined $10.00 for each offense.

SECTION (3)

That it shall be unlawful for any bus driver, owner or operator to park or stop a bus for taking on or discharging passengers or for any purpose in a street outside the parking lines and it shall be unlawful for any bus to make any stop whatsoever at said Proctor Hotel except in the space reserved for said purpose as defined in section one of this ordinance. Any bus driver or operator violating this ordinance shall upon conviction be fined $10.00 for each offense.

Passed by the Board of Aldermen in regular session assembled on the 8th day of July, 1926.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time
Brooklyn. Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes: "I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me." Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels and relieve the system of its poisonous matter. Druggists, 25 & 75c red packages.

Bed-Bugs—Smothered by Liquid Fire

A liquid fire applied to bed-bugs, roaches and fleas. That's the new chemical discovery—P. D. Q. Can do no damage to your springs or furniture; won't rot or stain clothing. P. D. Q. is used and recommended by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads as the quickest and safest way of getting rid of pesky insects. Instantly it smotheres and kills the living creature, coats their eggs, and stops them from hatching and multiplying. A 35c package of this golden chemical will make a quart of mixture—so readily it will kill a million bed-bugs. P. D. Q. can also be used in double-strength liquid form—ready for use. Free patent spoon enables you to reach hard-to-get-places with ease. Get P. D. Q. at your druggist today. Your money back, if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

A COMPLETE NOVELLETTE WITH NEXT SUNDAY WORLD

In "The Last Survivor," by Peter B. Kyne, we have the element of a fascinating weirdness that compels an unwavering interest from the beginning to end. It is a wonder story that solves the mystery of the bark Geneva, found adrift and unmanned in the Indian Ocean, and suggests that supposedly extinct monsters of the Reptilian Age still are very much alive.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has called unto Himself our friend and fellow-member, Mrs. J. B. Kid, we, the members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Greenville, offer the following tribute to her memory.

Resolved, first, that God in His all-wise providence doeth all things well, and we bow in humble submission to His divine will.

Second, that in her death we lose a sincere friend and a true Christian.

Third, that she being taken to her reward so early in life, we strive to be more diligent and watchful, keeping ever in view our motto, "Laborers together with Christ."

Fourth, that we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and pray that the Great Comforter may soothe their sorrow, heal their aching hearts and grant them the peace that passeth all understanding.

Printer's Golf Meet Feature At Ball Tourney

St. Louis, Aug. 17.—(AP)—St. Louis printers, who will be hosts to the Union Printers' International Baseball League annual tournament here, August 21 to 27, hope to see the Type International Golf League meet established two years ago at Chicago, take its place alongside the baseball meet in importance with type athletics.

A 72-hole medal play tournament has been planned and two private clubs have opened their links to the visitors. Sixty have entered, and newspaper men have been admitted in addition to the printers. Silver cups and iron and wood clubs will be given as trophies, with the Chicago union donating a trophy for the winning two-man team from any city. The tournament will be on an amateur basis.

The baseball tournament will occupy the entire week. Last year the pennant went to the Washington, D. C. team.

WILD LIFE STILL ROAMS VIRGIN SUPERIOR FOREST

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Primeval forests, where moose deer and bear roam, and eagles fly, may still be found untouched by logger's axe, in parts of the Superior National forest.

Situated along the Canadian boundary line, just west of Lake Superior in Lak and Cook counties, the National forest covers 1,250,000 acres. Each year some mature timber is harvested, but it is all done under direction of the U. S. Forest Service, by private companies. No more is cut than the annual growth, so the forest may be perpetuated, and much of the vast district has never heard the ring of an axe.

Crop Conditions Eastern Carolina Unusually Good

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Crop conditions in eastern North Carolina are unusually good, considering the early setback caused by the drought in June, declared Frank Parker, crop statistician, on his return from a tour of that section of the state. Mr. Parker made the inspection when he went to Morehead last week to address the annual convention of county commissioners.

"Tobacco, cotton, corn, beans and other crops are looking better than at any other time this season," said Mr. Parker. "To say that the farmers are pleased is putting it mildly. They are immensely happy. Earlier in the season every crop appeared to be a total loss."

Mr. Parker expressed pleasure not only that agricultural products show improvement, but also declared that the large peach crop was a source of satisfaction. This year's crop has already exceeded that of last. Early predictions, he said, from the producing areas were that the crop would not exceed 1,800 car loads. Already more than 2,000 cars have been moved.

CINCINNATI MAN PROPOSES TO TEACH BANJO PLAYING BY ELECTRICITY; ASKS PATENT

Cincinnati, Aug. 17.—(INS)—George W. Colbert, this city, has applied for a patent on a system to teach the playing of the banjo by a unique arrangement that flashes the notes before the student in electric lights at the fingering position on the frets of the instrument.

The instructor plays the music on a regulation size banjo. As his fingers move up and down the neck of the instrument contact between the strings and the frets is formed which lights a bulb in the same position on a dummy banjo six feet tall, at the opposite side of the room. The student watches these lights and moves his fingers into position on his own banjo accordingly.

The New Bolero as Sponsored by Peggy Paige

May or may not be open in front, but it chooses a Bodice in determined contrast to itself.

Gold embroidery is used with great effectiveness on the Bodice of the Canton Frock on the left—with Bolero front and new, tightly banded bloused back. A double piping, one White, one Wine colored, outlines Sleeve, Cuff, Collar and Bolero front.

A double Sash, and a double Jabot at the new square Collar, is outlined with tiny silver Spangles in the Bolero at the right—of Black Flat Crepe over White or Tan. The Skirt, plaited at the edges, is slashed front and back to show the light underskirt.

RECKLESS OR
WRECKLESS

Again North Carolina
leads but it is a leadership of which she should be ashamed rather than proud.
North Carolina in the past week led the Southern states in the number of fatalities from accident the majority of which were the result of automobile accidents. With the ever increasing number of automobiles and the fast pace that is now being maintained along nearly all lines, we have reached a stage of recklessness that is more than alarming. Last year the toll taken by automobiles in this country was greater than the toll America paid on the battlefield
during the entire World War and North Carolina came in for more than her proportionate part and at the present rate her percentage will run ever higher during this year. We have reached the point where drastic steps must be taken if our highways are to be in any way safe for travel and the sooner the people of this state begin to take the sane view of the situation the sooner we will pass from the reckless to the wreckless age.

THE CONGREGATION
OF THE DEAD

In the present age of merchandising no one thing is more an important factor than is the newspaper in that it carries the message of the progressive merchant directly to the heart of the home in such a manner as is not possible in any other way. The newspaper is in the home while the family is together and as it passes from one member to the other each finds something interesting to himself or herself and it is these gatherings that the family needs are discussed. It is then that the advertisements in the newspaper are as salesmen crying the wares of the firms they represent. In a pleasing and appealing manner one of the advertisements tells mother of the wonderful values being offered in just the articles the younger children need, while in another sister finds just the coat, dress or shoes that she desires, attractively illustrated and the same is true in the case of brother and father and their necessities and it is from these stores represented in the newspaper that they decide to supply their every need.
The merchant who is passing up this opportunity to plead his cause and cry his wares under the favorable circumstances of the family circle is indeed turning his back on business and locking his doors to keep the dollar out and it has truthfully been said that "The man who wandereth out of the way of advertising shall remain in the congregation of the dead."

SAFETY FIRST

A few weeks hence the tobacco markets of this section will be open for business which will mean greatly increased traffic over the highways of this section and much of this traffic will consist of animal drawn vehicles. During the past two sessions of the General Assembly of North Carolina the lawmakers of this state have had an opportunity to enact legislation that would free
the state from the menace
of the unlighted vehicle,
but for reasons unknown,
they failed to perform this duty and now it seems that it is entirely up to the common sense and judgment of the individual to take care of himself. Past records of this and other counties show that hundreds of accidents,
many of them fatal, have occurred as a result of unlighted vehicles on the public highways and it is to be hoped that the farmers of the state will realize the necessity of lighting their animal drawn vehicles on the highways at night both for their own protection as well as that of the other fellow. While legally the unlighted animal drawn vehicles has a perfect right on the highway after dark, it has been proven in the past that it is a dangerous practice and the legal right will not put life back into the person who has been killed because of the vehicle without lights and the person who drives an unlighted vehicle is indeed taking his life into his own hands.

DESIGNS AIRPLANE MORE DIFFICULT TO "CRACK UP"

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 17.—(AP)
—An airplane that will be harder to "crack up" than most of those now flying has been designed by D. E. Dunlap, aeronautical engineer, and will soon be ready for test flights.
Two of the fruitful causes of trouble when an airplane goes into a nose dive are the propeller and heavy power plant, which often are forced back upon the pilot, injuring or killing him.
Dunlap's ship will have two motors placed between the wings and at the sides and back of the pilot and his companion. They are "pushers" with the propellers in the rear. This eliminates dirt from the engine, and the terrible noise and gives passengers a clear view directly ahead.
Of more importance, it permits
the ship to be built with a blunt metal nose. When it comes down on its nose, it will simply "nose
over," Dunlap says.
The ship will be amphibian,
with both land and water landing gears, which in later models will be arranged so that they may be switched by the pilot from his cockpit while flying. The landing gear also will be equipped with a brake, and will be able to land and take off in twice its own length.
Following the trial flights it will be put into commercial production.

BLUE LAW ADVOCATES IN PENNSYLVANIA FIND STERN
ORDINANCES STILL ON BOOK

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—(INS)—
Since the advocates of a closed Sunday are invoking the Blue Law passed in 1794 in the State of Pennsylvania, to support their demand that the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition be closed Sundays, the opposition have cited some other laws that are still on the statute books which they might have enforced including:
Sixty-seven cents fine for every curse-word, according to a city ordinance passed in 1794.
Sixty-seven cents is also the price of getting intoxicated, according to a measure passed the same year.
Target practice is forbidden on shot on the Sabbath.
A barber may keep his shop open on Sunday, but he must not ply
his trade.
Dueling is forbidden, $500 or three years imprisonment being the penalty for infraction of this ordinance.
Adulteration of any liquid used for drinking, including spirits, wines, and beer, exacts a fine of $100 or six months imprisonment.

No driver of a horse car can be placed under arrest for cruelty to animals until the end of his run, reads another ordinance.
The penalty for throwing hoopskirts onto the sidewalk is $5, according to a measure passed in 1873.

QUAKER CITY IS VICTIMIZED BY 'WE BOYS' GANG

Sharper, Work in Paris on Well Known People and Get a Big Harvest; Thousands of Dollars Toll Taken Daily by Latest Schemes

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Business and professional men in this city are having their pockets picked of thousands of dollars daily. This 'picking' is not done by the common 'dips,' who work in crowds—it is done by a new type known to detectives as 'We Boys.'

These 'We Boys' according to city and county detectives who have been investigating 'fake' advertising schemes being operated here now are veritable 'sheiks' in regard to wearing clothes and they have plenty of nerve.

Two members of this new type have recently been arrested and convicted following investigations in Philadelphia and Camden. Many of them since have given up their handsomely furnished apartments and fled to New York and Chicago, it was reported.

'We Boys' have got the regular 'dip' beat a mile when it comes to capturing them, declared a county detective.

Naive and unsophisticated they do not look any different than an ordinary business man. They mix with the better classes and their operations net them sufficient money to live like kings and entertain like millionaires.

'We Boys' work in pairs. There is the 'phone man' who calls up a prospective victim on the phone and under the guise of an influential citizen he informs his prospect, who may be the president of a bank, that a group of citizens are conducting a campaign to raise funds for the erection of a new hospital or church. After explaining the benefits to be derived by the masses he informs Mr. President that the committee expects him to donate $100.

The 'phone man's' work is finished. The other member of the duo then starts. He is known as the 'take-man.' Within two hours after the phone call he presents himself to Mr. Prospect and says he has been sent by the committee for the donation, promised to the campaign. A check usually is waiting.

I am informed that a good days' work nets a dip about $300 and entails about seven or eight calls.

'WIZARD' PONZI GIVES TERMS TO BOSTON COURTS

Offers to Return For Sentence if Conditions Are Accepted; Asks Commonwealth to Support Wife and Family While He is in Jail

Boston, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Charles Ponzi, ex-financial 'wizard' is willing to return to the Hub—that is, if he can have his own way.

All he asks is that he be permitted to tell the judges what sentence to impose and where he shall serve it, and that the State support his wife and family while he is in prison.

The noted 'common and notorious' wanted all this guaranteed in writing before he would consent to leave the protecting bounds of Texas, according to Assistant Attorney General Alfred R. Shrigley, who with Inspectors John F. Mitchell and Harry W. Pierce returned here after fighting for Ponzi's extradition.

According to the officers Ponzi insisted that everything must be put in black and white before he would consent to return.

Ponzi told the officers he wanted:

A written agreement that the Commonwealth will support my wife and family while I am in prison.

Reduce the sentence to two and one-half years.

Agree that I may serve my term at the prison camp.

If these conditions are not complied with Ponzi threatens to commit suicide. 'I will commit suicide down here before I will ever leave for the North,' he is credited with saying.

Meanwhile Ponzi is in jail in Houston, Tex., waiting trial for the Court of Appeals to sit on his case in October.

NOTICE OF RESALE

North Carolina—Pitt County In the Superior Court C. B. West and Ruby M. West, Trading as C. B. West & Co., vs. Elizabeth Burnette.

Whereas pursuant to the terms of a judgment rendered at the March Civil Term of the Pitt County Superior Court by His Honor, R. A. Nunn, the undersigned Commissioners offered for sale to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Greenville, N. C., on Monday the 21st day of June, 1926, the following described parcel of land to-wit:

Situate in the Town of Greenville, N. C., in the County of Pitt and more particularly described as follows: In the Southeast corner of the intersection of First and Short streets and being bounded on the West by Short street, on the North by First street, on the East by Yellowly Branch and on the South by the lot of Sue Boyd; said lot being the same upon which the said Elizabeth Burnette formerly resided and fronting 87 1/2 feet on Short street and being the same lot in which the said C. B. West and Co., erected two buildings for the said Elizabeth Burnette.

And whereas the last and highest bidder at said sale has failed to make good the bid last offered. Now, therefore, pursuant to the terms of said final judgment rendered in the above entitled cause, the undersigned Commissioners will again offer the above described property for sale at the Court House door in the Town of Greenville, on Monday the 30th day of August, at 12 o'clock noon, to the highest bidder for cash. It being the first Monday of a term of court commencing August 30, 1926.

A deposit of 10 per cent of said bid will be required to the time to await the confirmation of the sale.

This the 27th day of July, 1926. L. W. Gaylord & W. L. Whedbee Commissioners 28-1tw-4wk.

U. S. SUPREME COURT MUST DECIDE POWER OF POLICE IN WHISKEY CASES, SOON

Washington, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Among the interesting prohibition questions to come before the United States supreme court at the next session involves the question whether a vessel containing illicit liquor, when seized by the police authorities of a municipality, may subsequently be forfeited, notwithstanding seizure by city rather than by federal authorities.

In making public details of the case—that of William Earl Dodge and others, arising at Providence, R. I.—the department of justice explained that questions of law probably will be determined that will be an important factor in anti-smuggling operations by cities along the various coast lines of the United States.

The Dodge case comes before the supreme court on a petition of certiorari. The department joined petition for the writ because of the desirability of having the question settled by the supreme court, circuit court of appeals having rendered conflicting opinions.

It appears, the department's statement said, that William Earl Dodge was the owner of a motorboat 'Ray of Block Island' which was alleged to be transporting liquor in the Providence river, a navigable water of the United States but within the limits of the city of Providence.

The motorboat was seized by the Providence police and turned over to federal officials. In a trial of this case the United States district court held that the words 'any officer of the law,' used in Section 26 of the prohibition law, embraced only federal officers of the law, and therefore, did not authorize the seizure by state officials of a vessel for violation of the federal prohibition law.

GLADWAY, 80-ACRE PLAYGROUND, BRINGS ORIENT TO THE SESQUI

A skills is the same in all languages, and Germany, Roumania, Egypt and the Orient are next door neighbors in the Gladway, the 80-acre playground which is the entertainment center of the Sesqui-Centennial now in progress in Philadelphia in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Stepping into 'Through the Orient' the visitor is transported to the underside of the world, gathered up in the mystery, the magnificence of the Orient. Treasure Island, five acres of paradise for youngsters, has every trick swing, giant stride, loop-the-loop and shoot-the-chutes dear to the heart of boys and girls. The Rhineland of the Middle Ages comes to life in The Nunburg Market, showing the life and customs of medieval Germany.

A Roumanian Village, with its quaint houses, its market place, its gay shawls and petticoats, shows the matter of fact American a world almost entirely unknown to him. The Streets of Cairo, revivifying the exotic splendor of Egypt and the Queen of the Nile, faithfully reproduces that ancient city.

Los Angeles, Aug. 17.—(INS)—A clown in Germany: a great motion picture director in the United States.

That is the surprising story of Ernest Lubitsch.

Lubitsch, after completing three more pictures for Warner Brothers will start work under a long-term contract with Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

Another all-star cast has been signed up for Marshall Neilan's next picture, which will soon get under production near San Francisco Bay.

Among the players in 'Everybody's Acting' are Betty Bronson, Henry Hathall, Ford Sterling, Louis Dresser, Raymond Hitchcock and Lawrence Grey, the latter leading man, for Gloria Swanson and Bobe Daniels.

Mount Whitney, the highest peak in Continental United States, will be used as location for an Erich Von Stroheim company filming 'The Wedding March.'

Lumber and building materials were taken to the high Sierras by pack train and the company of 100 persons, including the director, himself, Fay Wray, Matthew Betz and Zasu Pitts.

Mildred Harris, the divorced wife of Charles Chaplin, will return to the screen from vaudeville. The blonde beauty has signed as leading lady for Reg Lallouche in 'The Cruise of the Jasper B,' a farce written by Don Marquis.

Most of the old ships used in the pictures of the sea nowadays have had an intriguing past.

The frigate Constitution, which played the title role in James Cruze's 'Old Ironsides,' plied between the South Sea islands and San Francisco Bay in the early days of copra trading, and the clipper ships, 'Indiana' and 'Bonhemis,' were purchased by Cecil B. DeMille from the Alaska Packers recently. The ancient vessels, after more than a half century of varied maritime experience, will be used in Rupert Julian's 'The Tanquer Clipper.'

They will leave Los Angeles harbor for the longest movie cruise since the filming of 'Down to the Sea in Ships.'

Tinkabanshabtin sounds like the name of a Welsh village but it's only the Navajo word for 'wagon road.' It is the ancient Indian highway along which Kit Carson, pioneer scout, rode 65 years ago in his daring incursions upon the Navajo territory.

This same highway was used for the production of 'The Last Frontier,' a pioneer epic, featuring William Boyd and Marguerite de la Motte. The Metropolitan company on location declare the highway will probably be unchanged 100 years from now as it is doubtful if civilization's long arm will reclaim the arid country that now serves as the homeland of Navajo, Hopi and Piute.

The oldest actor and the oldest actress—at least in point of service—will play in 'Fals of Paradise,' a movie adaptation of the Peter B. Kyne story. Rudolph Schildkraut has been on the stage for 52 years, while May Robson, perennial favorite, has acted on the stage for 43 years. It is May Robson's first picture in the movies.

David Warfield's famous vehicle on the stage, 'The Return of Peter Grimm,' is being made into a movie. Alec B. Francis, white-haired actor, has the title role.

Dick Barthelmess has joined the jaunty gang of sea-going movie folk. Not to be outdone by Hal Roach, Reginald Denny, John Barrymore, Tom Mix, Dustin Farnum, etc., Dick bought the two-masted forty-eight foot yacht 'Pegasus,' from Harry Carey and is now trying to find out the difference between a 'jib' and a 'cockpit.'

Cissy Fitzgerald, who claims the distinction of being the first actress before a motion picture camera, abandoned a projected trip to Europe as a result of the pressure of film engagements. Cissy, who first posed before a camera for Thomas A. Edison in 1896, rejected offers from London music hall producers when she decided to remain in Hollywood.

Those that eat black bread are not men that save a country. Anybody intelligent enough for that job, knows how to let white bread in the French Republic while saved France from worthless kings and nobility, the work was done by eaters of white bread. The black bread eaters only bowed around the guillotine, as it cut off heads, and later went to be shot, when Napoleon sent them. Belgium might get better help from some clever banker of Frankfurt, and that gentleman would do his work without giving up his white bread, or his pate afoitegras.

RED MAN THREE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-FIVE DAYS IN THE YEAR

Past Schem J. F. Harrington Of Mohican Tribe No. 56 of Winterville, North Carolina

(The following article from the official organ of the Red Men will be read with interest throughout this county):

'News from Headquarters' from time to time has made requests for biographical sketches of prominent members of the Order, but nevertheless it should be considered in determining prominence that important consideration should be accorded to those who have rendered significant service in their respective tribes.

Such a member is Brother Harrington, who became a Red Man upon the institution of Mohican Tribe No. 56 of Winterville, North Carolina, in 1905, of which he was the first Prophet. At the expiration of his term he was elected Keeper of Wampum, which chieftaincy he held for fourteen great suns when his election as Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County and his removal to the County Seat at Greenville made it necessary for him to decline further election.

During the early life of Mohican tribe there were many times when its fortune hung in the balance. A depleted wampum belt often threatened the dissolution of the tribe, but Brother Harrington often provided funds from his private wampum and gave the necessary encouragement to cause the brothers to carry on.

Brother Harrington achieved success in political and civic life, but his interest in the tribe and the Order which it represents, has not waned. It finds pleasure in its association and is always ready and willing to do his bit in furthering the principles of Freedom, Friendship and Charity.

START BEAR RANCH FOR WEALTH IS LATEST ADVICE OF "DOC" FREDERICK COOK

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 17.—(INS)—If you want to get a kick out of life, why not start a bear ranch?

So asks Dr. Frederick A. Cook, inmate of the federal penitentiary here, writing for the 'New Era,' official prison paper of, for and by the inhabitants of Wall City, of which he has recently been made editor.

A ranch stocked with 1,000 bears would keep a big group of movie artists and other adventurers in perpetual motion for all time, the 'discoverer' of the North Pole and former Texas oil promoter declares in his article in the current issue under the caption 'Other Worlds to Conquer.'

With bear skins selling at $200 each, estimated by the former Arctic explorer to be a fair price in this day and age, he believes a huge profit can be made.

Because of the priceless charm of his skin, the polar bear offers good economic rewards, the editor writes.

There are thousands of islands in the cold Northern and Southern regions upon which the bears can be farmed. To be successful a bear ranch should be located on an island against which the sea ice does not drift. For drifting ice offers an easy way of escape.

About islands of this kind, there is usually a great variety of large sea animals to serve as cheap food.

From the stand point of preservation of this remarkable North Polar bear, islands should be selected in the South Atlantic and South Pacific to which the enemies of the white bear could be moved.

He who undertakes this will confer a great advantage to future generations. Who will father this great new task in the call of other worlds to conquer?

For ages we have been told of the bad traits of the bear. As children we have had the pangs of fear drilled in us to the point that now even the sight of bruin brings out all the guns of the neighborhood. The poor overhunted creature has no defenders. Does the bear really merit this unusual condemnation?

If one takes the time and patience to get an intimate personal acquaintance with a bear; one learns to love and respect the creature as the Eskimo does, he says. The former explorer, who still maintains he discovered the North Pole and some day records of later explorations will bear my story out, declared a bear one time saved his life during the trek back through the snowy wastes from his polar trip.

Dr. Cook continues: Of course, it is a bold step to advocate the breeding and ranching of bears as an agreeable occupation, but nevertheless I believe it can be done with great profit. Furthermore it will furnish that kick of zest to life that the coming generations are seeking. Bear families should double in number yearly. There-

CUPID SETTLES WORCESTER BARBER FEUD WHEN RIVAL BEAUTY HEADS TIE UP

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Cupid has settled a business rivalry here. Ernest L. Trahan, hung out his barber sign on Pleasant street and waited for the girls to come and get their hair bobbed.

Miss Jane A. Roche likewise hung out a sign just across the street telling Worcester that within was a woman's beauty shop.

Trahan watched the girls enter the rival business place and Miss Roche looked to see other girls go into that Trahan shop.

Some wise once said that great minds think alike. An idea dawned on Trahan, and it apparently also dawned on Miss Roche. The rivals, they bowed pleasantly when they met.

The idea eventually found its way into words, and the two shops were combined. Thus was born the Peacock Beauty Shop at No. 2 Foster street, with Trahan president and Miss Roche, manager.

But that does not end the story. Miss Roche stepped to the altar in St. Peter's Church and became Mrs. Ernest L. Trahan.

BRITISH HOME SECRETARY URGES MERCHANTS TO SEE N. S. AMERICA FOR IDEAS

London, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Sir William Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, believes that one of the greatest obstacles to British trade recovery is the conservation of the average British business man.

In a statement on the British industries fair, which is to be held next year, he said: It is innate conservatism which leads the British business man to the old routine, to go on exhorting as his father did before him and grand father before that, and to be suspicious of what he would call American methods, of selling and advertising. The home secretary recommends that British industrialists go to North and South America to acquaint themselves personally with how things are done there.

Special Radio Programs Again To Go to Arctic

Hastings, Neb., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Radio again will play a leading role in breaking the dull monotony of cold, bitter nights in the Arctic Circle posts.

So satisfactory were the special experimental Arctic Circle broadcasts by radio station KFKX and other stations last winter, that special programs have been arranged for the coming winter months. The best equipment already has been dispatched to the various circle posts to insure the proper reception.

KFKX special programs will be broadcast for Arctic circle points on November 19, December 24, January 14 and February 25. These programs will be broadcast on a 288.3 meters wave length and will start at 9 P. M. central time, each program lasting about four hours.

KFKX will broadcast personal messages from friends and relatives to the men of the far north as well as messages and bulletins of an official nature from departments of the Canadian government. These messages and bulletins will take about an hour of the program's time. The balance of the program will be devoted to special musical and entertainment features.
