MORE LIQUOR NOW IN SOUTH THAN IN PAST FOUR YEARS

Prohibition Director Blames Cut in Force for Condition in Georgia and Carolinas

Charlotte, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Framing the policy of Washington authorities in cutting his force, Ben C. Sharpe, federal prohibition administrator for the Carolinas and Georgia, has issued a statement "declaring there is more liquor in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia than there has been in the past four years."

Rum running, Mr. Sharpe has declared, has shifted from the mountains to the seaboard and Georgia is sending more liquor up the coast and overland by automobile than ever before.

The administrator said that the increased traffic was the natural result of Washington officials ordering him to cut his force to the equivalent of what was formerly an ample federal force for one state.

The far plane, which is being used in Florida, is an aid, he said in ferreting out rum runners at sea, but added that funds for this might be more advantageously used in other lines.

The statement of Mr. Sharpe was made after he said one to the contrary made by M. O. Dunning, personal representative in the southeast to Secretary Andrews, had been called to his attention.

CONVENTION OF R. R. BROTHERHOOD ENDS TOMORROW

Indications Are That Charleston Will Be Chosen As Next Year's Meeting Place

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The convention of the Bi-State Boosters Association of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and the Ladies' Auxiliary entered into its second day here today with an executive session of the organization.

During the session it is expected that W. G. Lee, Grand President of the Brotherhood, and other national officers will address the association. During the day officers for the next year will be selected and the Brotherhood will select its next meeting place.

Last night opinion was expressed that Charleston, S. C., would be named, although many other cities have played their bids. The convention will adjourn tomorrow after a business session.

Anti-Vice Crusade On In Atlanta

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 20.—(INS)—The Jeffersonian Democrats, who advocated personal liberty, would rest but fitfully in their graves were they permitted to scan legislation which is being considered by the Atlanta city council today, under the spur of an anti-vice crusade.

A proposed city ordinance would require all bell boys in hotels, and all janitors in apartment houses to take out a license from the city before engaging in these occupations.

The city fathers also were considering a vigorous protest by the city Sunday school association against "midnight matinees" given by a local motion picture show.

The Sunday school officials complained that young people would "require harmful stimulants" in order to sit up so late and that would be "unable to render an honest day's labor to their employers" after attending midnight movies.

CHICAGO MAN IN CLEVELAND LOSES CHECK FOR $275,000

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 20.—(INS)—To Leo J. Carlin, a Chicago business man, goes the record of having lost the most valuable object in the history of the local police department.

Carlin reported to the police that he lost a certified check for $275,000 somewhere in the city. He said the check was to have closed a big real estate transaction here.

CHURCH MAY TAKE MEXICAN TROUBLE TO SUPREME COURT

President Calls Will Stick to the Present Ruling Until the Law is Changed By Congress

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Catholic Episcopate today began a careful study of the question whether it shall petition Congress to ameliorate the religious regulations which have caused a cessation of mass and other ceremonies in the Catholic church or whether it shall make an appeal to the Supreme Court to pass upon the question of the validity of the religious provision of the constitution. The step is being taken following receipt by Archbishop Mora Del Rio of a letter from President Call in answer to a request from the Episcopate for a suspension of the regulations.

The President in his letter informed the Archbishop that he proposed to uphold the constitution as it relates to churches and deined because of his "political and philosophical convictions" to request Congress to amend the fundamental law.

The President suggests that if the Episcopate desires any modification of the law it may have recourse in an attempt to have Congress change it or appeal to the Supreme Court for relief.

He says that if the Episcopate should introduce an amendment still in Congress, he will not use his presidential prerogative to have it withdrawn.

Germany Coming Up. Air Business Pays. Russia Loses, Radical. A Fight Not Fought. By ARTHUR BISHOP

A New York firm, Dillon, Read and Co., buys an interest in one of the greatest German banks, the Buskono Gesellschaft, following a transaction in which the same firm undertook flotation of sixty million of bonds on German steel works.

Clarence Dillon, just back from Europe, has probably discovered what some Americans don't know: that Germany is making the most rapid recuperation after the war, and in five years will lead all of Europe industrially and financially.

The whole of Germany's debt is four billions of dollars, less than one-fifth of our national debt. "Winning a war" is not always profitable. Ask England or France.

Bigger business can pay where smaller business can't. Mr. Schulte, who has hundreds of retail stores, buys up a syndicate of drug stores that had paid only one dividend of thirty cents a share in five years, and agrees to pay 6 per cent regularly on the seven million dollars of stock.

In dividend initiative and energy still count. But the days of business on a small scale, with the owner standing at the front door "washing his hands with invisible soap in invisible water," has gone.

URGE NEW SET OF CANDIDATES IN COMING ELECTION

Campaign "Slush Funds" in Illinois May Result in Independent Candidates

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Expenditures of vast sums of money in the Illinois primary campaign last April by Senatorial nominees as revealed by the Senate Campaign Funds Committee, may result in the name of an independent candidate appearing on the November calendar.

An investigation down state, the Chicago Daily News says, discloses resentment against the Public Utilities "slush fund" of Colonel Frank L. Smith, Republican, and George E. Brannan, Democrat Senatorial nominees.

In the same story the newspaper printed a statement by Julius Rosenwald, Chicago philanthropist, in which he says that Republican voters of Illinois should reject Colonel Smith in the campaign, because he was financed by heads of public utilities.

Rosenwald, who is at the summer White House, conferring with President Coolidge, expressed doubt if Colonel Smith does not accept the inevitable and resign and the Republican voters should place in the field as a protest, a candidate that is a strong, clean Republican, on an administration anti-corporation platform.

Mrs. Rosenwald's statement said.

Informd of the story in the news, Colonel Smith, who is recuperating from illness near New London, Conn., said, "I don't feel that I am called upon to answer Julius Rosenwald or any other individual."

Beyond this he would not comment, but his spokesman here declared he would not resign.

TRANSPORTATION REFORM DISCUSSED

Members Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina Commissions in Session

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Members of the Corporation Commission of Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina, met here today in a general conference prior to presenting briefs on proposed reforms in transportation before a meeting of the Interstate Commerce Commission when it convenes in Asheville on September 15.

Meeting with the corporation members were railroad and bus men and a number of shippers from the three states who presented recommendations to the conference and questioned members on reforms, to be proposed.

BOY SCOUTS IN BUDAPEST PARADE IN SILENCE TO PROTEST TRIANON TREATY

Budapest, Aug. 20.—(INS)—A protest against the treaty of Trianon which made peace between the Allies and Hungary, has been made by 10,000 Boy Scouts recruited from the victors and the vanquished represented by the Treaty. During the recent international scout gathering near here, the Hungarian scouts passed in salute and silence before monuments erected to commemorate the treaty. After they had filed past the scouts of Italy, Bulgaria, Germany and Romania voluntarily followed and registered their dissatisfaction with the pact.

The scouts in the protest evinced countless other Hungarian societies who rarely miss an opportunity when meeting to make a similar protest at the monument which was erected for this purpose. The monument is a tall column on the exterior of which are four reliefs they representing temporal directions, East, North, West and South, in which the kingdom lost territory by the treaty.

LOCAL MAN JAILED LATE YESTERDAY ON ARSON CHARGE

J. A. Wingate, of this city, was placed in jail yesterday in default of $3,000 bond, on charges of arson, growing out of the burning early yesterday morning of the dwelling house in which he and his family lived.

The house is situated at the intersection of the Farmville and Ayden highways, just west of this city, was the property of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hooker, of this city, and was partially covered by insurance.

On information previously furnished the sheriff's office, the arrest was made yesterday and the State Insurance Commissioner notified. Upon arrival of the commissioner in this city, arrangements for a preliminary hearing will be made.

DR. POTEAT SPEAKS AT E. C. T. COLLEGE

Dr. William Louis Poteat, president of Wake Forest College, lectured last night to the students of East Carolina Teachers College summer school on "The Value of Ignorance." He followed his usual style of presenting his subject in an entertaining manner. This was the last of a series of lectures and entertainments given for the benefit of the summer school students.

He commented on the scientific and unscientific attitudes of the public in general and raised the question as to what use is being made of the great bulk of scientific knowledge that the world has at its disposal. He talked entertainingly of our superstitions and the part they play in our everyday life.

The lecture was instructive and entertaining throughout and in spite of the fact that a raging thunderstorm happened along at the same time the lecture was to begin, a fair sized crowd was out to hear him.

Two Arrested in Liquor Raids By Officers Yesterday

A. R. Stepp and his son, Jarvis Stepp, were arrested yesterday afternoon when Deputy Sheriff Sellers and Chief of Police Jones raided Stepp's Filling Station located on the Winterville road, a short distance from this city.

About five gallons of whiskey were found in the station and on the premises. The offenders were placed under bond pending hearing of their case in court on September 7.

Seek Death Penalty for Hold Up Men

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 20.—(INS)—Declaring bandits are potential murderers and when they hold up they want your money or your life, Senator Roy V. Wallace will make a fight in the next legislature of the state for making a law to make highway robbery punishable by death in Tennessee.

Citing the recent bank robbery in Nashville, in which one man was killed and another wounded by bandits who got $10,000, Senator Wallace is preparing a bill to be presented at the next session of the legislature, seeking the death penalty for holdups.

CABINET OUTLINES DRASTIC PROGRAM TO RESTORE FRANC

Would Curtail Importation of All Necessities That Can Be Raised in France

Paris, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Poincare cabinet today outlined a drastic program of restrictions in an effort to prevent exportation of French money abroad and to restore the franc to stability. The restrictions deal with the importation of grain and other products as well as curtailment in the use of necessities produced within France.

Additional limitation of the importation of wheat by the compulsory introduction of other flour, into bread as outlined at yesterday's meeting of the cabinet is part of the present program.

The cabinet has appealed to the patriotism of the nation to aid it in its campaign, and proposes by a strict scrutiny of imported products to cut down the amount of necessities brought into the country. The ministry plans at the same time to set up machinery to insure fair prices for all food products and to encourage the strict economy in private as well as public expenditures.

Among the measures to be taken will be those to provide ways and means for the economical marketing of all products, to cheapen the cost of distribution to consumers and to avoid the waste.

While only the outline of the present program was made public today, it is expected that the complete details will be formulated within a few days and that the program will be put into effect as soon as possible.

Negro Woman Held for Forging Checks

Willie Jones, 25 year old negro, who gives her home as Coffield, was jailed here yesterday on a charge of forging checks on Johnnie Price, negro of this city to the extent of about $200.

According to information, the forgeries have been in progress for some time and have been in small amounts. The exact extent of the forgeries cannot be ascertained until the bank concludes its checkup with Price to verify signatures. The negro woman, from reports, is intelligent and educated and therefore experienced no trouble in obtaining cash for the checks.

Three Old Books Sell for $1,000

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 20.—(INS)—Three dusty old books, have been sold by Tusculum College to a Boston dealer for about $1,100.

The books are early American and rare; consequently their high value. Two of them were sermons, and one was printed on the first American printing press and was owned by the printer's wife, Sarah Green.

The college has about 2,000 rare old books. Book collectors from all parts of the country are preparing to visit the college and bid on some of the books. A duplicate copy of the books so far are kept by the college.

NEWS OF WOMEN

By the Associated Press

Sex Lost Her Titles
London, Aug. 20.—If the Duchess of Montrose, one of the wealthiest women in Great Britain, had been a boy, she would have been the holder of ten British and two Scottish titles, including that of Scotland's premier duke.

The Duchess was Lady Mary Douglas-Hamilton before her marriage to the Marquis of Graham who succeeded to the dukedom on the death of his father, and therefore is now the wife, as well as the daughter of a duke, her father having been the Duke of Hamilton.

Landed owned by the Duchess include Arran, the wildest and most picturesque island on the Clyde, and the Easton Park estate in Suffolk, and rentals from which amount to 27,000 pounds a year.

The Duchess was one of the first women to undertake the duties of master of the hounds and is an enthusiastic deer-stalker, having as many as twenty stags to her credit in one season. She is a hard horse woman, and is unusually popular among all classes in the hunting field.

Rotary Plan for Women
Buenos Aires, Aug. 20.—The formation of women's organizations in the principal cities in Argentina with virtually the same aims as the International Rotary clubs is being urged by Senora Carlotta de la Pena, of Rosario.

She believes that clubs of Argentine women, organized along similar lines, could accomplish much toward forming an intelligent patriotism and promoting civic pride and good fellowship among women in the interior cities of the republic.

Bethberg's Bob in Opera
Chicago, Aug. 20.—A chance to try the effect of an audience of her blond curls be' instead of a heavy blond wig, as Marguerite, in Gounod's Faust, is the ambition of Madame Elizabeth Bethberg, of the Metropolitan and Havana Opera Companies.

Bobbed hair has been universally recognized, so why not let one naturally equipped with the color of hair required for the part appear in a bob instead of a ponderous braided wig? she asked.

Back of the desire to appear with her own hair exhibited, is the fear all artists are said to feel—that their wigs may some day slip or fall off and create consternation, confusion and ridicule.

I would like some day to sing Marguerite without a wig and I feel sure that no audience would take offense, she declared.

Tradition seems to demand that the artists of the opera fulfill the mediaeval mode of the scene to the last detail. Few are endowed by nature with tresses appropriate to the occasion, but one striking exception is Madame Taki Miura, the Japanese prima donna, whose Cho-Cho San in Madame Butterfly is absolutely true to life.

In the new opera in English produced here last winter, Madame Miura took the name part of Nani-ko San, costumed and coiffured as her girlhood days.

Queen Mary No Flier
London, Aug. 20.—Queen Mary has never been up in an aeroplane, and, what's more, she says, 'I'm not going.'

The King has never flown, either, but both are fond of attending air meets as spectators.

The Queen is not a good sailor, and avers that she would feel far worse if she went up in an aeroplane or airship.

The Queen was opposed to the Duke of York joining the Royal Air Force, but this objection was overcome by the fact that it was not necessary for the Duke, in his position, to do much actual flying.

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE AND SERVICE OF THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER AND NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

SELLING SERVICE AND IDEALS

AS the market place of the community the advertising columns of the newspaper do save time for the shopper; they do lower prices to the buyer; they do insure larger income to the merchant. Yet significant as these services are, they yield even greater values which, while ultimately social in their outcome, are founded upon a firm economic basis.

For example, if America has become a nation of home-owners, it is due in large measure to the persistence with which the desire for home-ownership has been stimulated through newspaper advertising. It was only a few years ago that the real estate business moved slowly along in a succession of individual transactions, until dealers awakened to the possibility of making their offerings known simultaneously to multitudes. A man with property to sell might rub elbows with several possible customers in the course of ten minutes' walk, but without occult powers, how was he to know that impulses toward ownership were present in their minds? He could not brook them one after another, for busy modern life does not permit it.

But finally the real estate merchant—the realtor, as he is now called—awakened to the fact that all these unlabeled passersby were alike in one important respect—they were newspaper readers. At first timidly and then more boldly he ventured into the market place of the community and took his stand. And immediately those who had homes to sell came into personal contact with those who were looking for homes to buy. Whether for purchase or renting, whether for a home as business, or ultimately for larger operation, a new interest was aroused so that today newspapers devote substantial space to all phases of real estate, both in their news and editorial columns.

Therefore, aside from contributing materially to the development of what has come to be one of the important business activities of every community, the newspaper has likewise given tremendous impetus to one of the great stabilizing influences in American social life—home ownership.

Similarly, in the field of banking and in the promotion of individual thrift the advertising and news columns of the American newspaper have worked a magic transformation. Compare the atmosphere of the average bank today with that of a quarter of a century ago, before the banker had come to realize that the newspaper was a market place for the products of agriculture, commerce and industry, but for service, ideas, goodwill and other intangible factors which influence the activities and promote the material welfare of the individual and the community as a whole.

When the banker emerged from the old-time seclusion of his private office and entered the market place of the community as a merchandiser of service he made himself accessible to the smallest depositor. The attitude of the public toward the bank has undergone a similar change. The old feeling that the bank was an exclusive institution for the favored few disappeared when advertising brought to the public a new understanding of its service. Today, more than forty million savings bank depositors alone testify not only to this change in attitude toward the bank but also to the amazing growth of the thrift and savings idea. These savings, in turn, are producing far-reaching economic results, flowing as they do in all directions, stimulating industry, building homes and promoting the prosperity of the community and the country in a thousand ways.

Bank of the Manhattan Co., N. Y. In banking as in other fields the news and advertising columns have worked a magic transformation.

The public utility field offers still another striking example of how the newspaper as the market place of the community has been utilized not only to sell goods and service, but to promote popular understanding and goodwill. There are few, if any industries, unless agriculture may be so classified, in which the aggregate capital employed exceeds that of the five important utilities which supply electricity, gas, water, street railway and telephone service to the local communities of the country. It has been estimated that newspaper advertising has shortened by one-half the process of selling the services of such utilities.

But this is only half the story. As in the case of banks, and aside from the sale of products, there has come a complete transformation in the attitude of the public toward the public utility and in that of the public toward them.

In many other ways does this inclusive market place minister to the needs and desires of its users. One has only to glance at the columns which contain the announcements of the theatres, the churches, the schools and colleges, the steamship lines and railroads, or the classified want advertisements to realize how various and vast are the services, ideas and ideals which are presented in their alone.

WHEN THE WIND BLOWS THE WEATHER CHANGES; THERE'S NO HEAT WAVE

Paris, Aug. 20.—(INS)—There is no such thing as a heat wave according to an explanation made by Gabriel Guilbert, celebrated French meteorologist.

Head does not travel in waves says Monsieur Guilbert, but takes its origin in a specific spot and is solely dependent on barometric pressure and the wind. The sun itself does not make heat as was clearly illustrated in France during the month of June. Although it was the month of the summer solstice, the temperature was very low and snow observed in many parts because of the west and northwest winds which affected the temperature much more than the sun.

In winter the southeast wind whistles around the corner and makes everyone turn up his coat collar, there is no "wave". When the wind shifts to the west there is a thaw immediately. The position of the sun does not influence the local temperature conditions from day to day. The wind is the all important fellow in question.

Radio waves, M. Guilbert goes on to say, do not have any influence on weather conditions either and have nothing at all to do with bringing about rain, as many people believe. America is not dry nor Europe wet because of the numerous radio waves in the air.

A refreshing dip in Pamlico Sound, a wholesome variety of well prepared food for supper, a congenial dance with music by a colored orchestra, and then a refreshing rest, fanned by an invigorating breeze. Pamlico Beach offers all these for the week-end. And it's only $3.00 per day, American plan.

CHILD FATALITIES ALARMING ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—(INS)—As part of a campaign to check the amazing increase in the number of fatalities of children in street accidents, 28 drivers whose motor cars killed children, were brought before a special committee of the St. Louis Safety Council.

This plan was decided upon when at a meeting here it was brought out that seven children had been killed the first nine days of August by automobile.

To get at the other apparent cause for the number of accidents, speakers will appear before mothers' clubs at the public schools and meetings of the parents teachers association and talk to mothers on warning children of the dangers of playing in the streets. The council believes that the two fold education will cut down the automobile mortality rate.

And now they are calling Dempsey and others of his profession price-fighters.—Atlanta Georgian.

PRODUCTION MUST DETERMINE WAGES

Every employer wants to see and contribute to good working conditions and proper wages. Proper wages have been defined not as "living" wages or even "saving" wages, but as "producing" wages.

The amount any employer can pay out in wages, depends entirely upon the amount labor produces. The foundation principle of wage payment is, that no employer can pay more for work than the total added value such work provides.

YOU CAN'T BE LOYAL TO TWO COUNTRIES

"The Good Book says that you cannot serve two masters. By the same token one cannot hold sincere allegiance to two countries; he cannot hold aloft two flags and be loyal to both at the same time.

"President Coolidge says that the greatest danger to our Government today, lies among those who are here, but who are unassimilated in heart and spirit, and whose greater love is still for the foreign lands they left to better their condition in the United States.

"It is not unnatural, nor even cause for criticism, that a person coming to the United States from some foreign country, should retain a certain degree of love for the land of his birth. All citizens of the United States descended from foreign lands, and there is no disrespect in this. We love to trace our ancestry back to the Pilgrim Fathers, and even beyond. But there is a limit to ancestral boastfulness.

"Martial laws remove a young man or a young woman from the paternal home and a new home is chosen. This does not mean that love and respect for the old home should be obliterated; but it does mean that a new altar has been erected—a new hearthstone built and dedicated to a new life, and this is the altar and this is the hearthstone that demands loyalty above all others.

"So it is with the country of one's adoption. No man ever came to the United States of America except of his own volition, urged by a desire to obtain greater temporal blessings. The high ways of the seas are never closed against his return, if he finds himself unhappy under the laws and under the constitution of this country.

"Loyalty to God, to country, to home and to one's self commands confidence of others and bespeaks good citizenship."

Bryan Memorial Campaign to Open in Ohio Sept. 1

Dayton, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Governor Victor Donahue, of Ohio, has invited the Field Force of the Bryan Memorial University to open the campaign for funds in Ohio.

Governor Donahue has promised his personal attention to the campaign in Ohio. He was the first man to accept a place on the national committee of the Bryan University Memorial Association. Director Malcolm Lockhart of the Bryan Memorial campaign, and Governor Donahue will be assisted by several prominent men in the Ohio campaign.

Lockhart is at present conducting a campaign in North Carolina, which will close in Asheville Sept. 1. Asheville has subscribed within the past ten days $18,000. Lockhart says the entire field force will be transferred to Ohio Sept. 1.

One of the most systematic drives ever launched in the state will be inaugurated. Office, in the state will be opened in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus in the state wide drive.

MAIL ORDER FIANCE HAS HIS UPS AND DOWNS

Gardner, Mass., Aug. 20.—(INS)—Miss Anita Desmarais, 20, jilted at the portals of the church, has forgiven her "mail order" fiance, and they will be married after a while.

The girl's broken heart was quickly mended when Anthony G. Meuer, of West Allis, Wis., reached her ear for the first time in his life and convinced her that it was all an accident.

And although she has fore sworn all men forever, the young lady changed her mind, as girls sometimes do, and took him back.

Many months ago Anita began a correspondence with Meuer, an electrician in the western city making his acquaintance through the medium of a publication.

Letters were exchanged and photographs followed. Eventually a proposal was made eastward. The girl sent back her written "yes" but in all the months they wrote they never met.

On their wedding morning a telegram came. Somehow Meuer had lost his money, became stranded in Chicago and called it off.

Meuer arrived in Gardner a few days ago, having recouped his loss—and according to last reports—all is well.

Seek Private Homes for Baptist Orphans

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The constant flow of applications for admission to the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville in face of the crowded conditions, has led to a careful system of searching out relatives of all applicants, according to Dr. M. L. Kestler, superintendent.

Dr. Kestler reported the last meeting of the orphanage board of trustees that he worked constantly to make thorough investigations of every application in order to see if there is not some way that the child can be cared for outside the orphanage. In this work he keeps in touch with the Children's Bureau of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, which aids in ferreting out the worthy from among the hundreds of applications.

Changes in County Welfare Officers

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Changes in the ranks of county superintendents of public welfare have been announced by Miss Mary F. Camp, head of the county bureau organization, as follows:

Mrs. Gertrude K. Kellar to succeed Mrs. C. C. Harmon, who was formerly Miss Fay Davenport, as welfare superintendent in Gaston county.

The appointment of Miss Lucy Leach as part time welfare superintendent in Warren county.

The resignation of Miss Helen Lock, acting superintendent in Guilford county, in order to accept a position in New York. Her successor has not been named.

NOON IN WALL STREET REVEALS HUMAN SIDE OF DEALERS NATION'S WEALTH

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Money is King in Wall Street but the people there are far from being the pawns of the continual game which popular conjecture pictures them. They are very human, apparently more so in their hour of relaxation than members of other business groups.

Noon is akin to the proverbial Saturday night in a small town, with only the slight differences caused by custom and environment. The streets are only canons between walls of memory, but then the sunlight shines straight down into the voids and its brightness is reflected on the crowds. There are no bustling shoppers here, no persons rushing to appointments, or the hurly-burly of business hours. Noon is a time to relax.

All traffic except that essential to the district is diverted at that hour and curbstone boundaries are forgotten. Then the statue of Washington looks down on Nassau street, one of the few wide ones, where girls in fairs, groups of youths, or here and there a lad and the girl friend, promenade. Lunch is brief and they saunter about in the middle of the street until the clock strikes one. It is the same on Wall Street itself—which is hardly more than a narrow alley—or on New street, which a wide truck would fill from curb to curb.

There is a sociability about it all, and an excavation for a new building is sufficient attraction for as many persons as can crowd around the guard rail.

Patrolling the streets during this time are the hawkers who reap their fortunes in nickels and dimes—newspapers, combs, novelties—anything that strikes the fancy.

The scene is entirely at variance with the activity of the street which makes a million dollars only small change.

Money is a commodity here, and all realize the futility of excessive display, except for the standard "prosperous looking" clothes which are affected both by bank presidents and twenty dollar a week clerks.

The president and clerk eat side by side in the same lunch rooms, particularly those where you wait on yourself and then figure your own bill.

This action of the banker, however, may be construed as carefulness, as even small sums now are guarded closely. This practice was evolved only recently after a series of holdups.

The same boyish looking messengers still carry the little black bags, but the bags are fastened to wrists by handcuffs and chains, making it virtually impossible for them to be snatched away. The kidnapping of the messenger is precluded by the presence of two or three armed guards walking behind him with weapons in hand in coat pockets, while the guards try to look as little like detectives as possible.

This quiet protection marks the street, for about the only visible policemen are traffic officers. For the rest is an abundance of plain clothemen and private guards in every establishment.

Aids in Mastering Culinary Art

MAKING an art of cookery means putting all the household engineering on an efficient basis, and saving oneself effort and time for adding the extra touches that make dishes appetizing. No housewife should be without these simple mechanical aids, scales to weigh and check her supplies, improved can openers, mixing spoons, knife sharpeners. And nearly all housewives make generous use of canned foods, those easy sources of individual touches which are safe, economical and remarkable time savers.

An indispensable staple is shortening. Lard, vegetable oils and such good shortenings keep the expensive butter bill where it belongs. When purchased in cans they need no other container and the easy resealing cover of the can keeps the shortening sweet and clean. These shortenings can be used in pies, cakes, for frying and basting, as the housewife well knows. Don't turn aside from a good recipe because it calls for stock, for now stock comes in cans and canned bouillon, consommé or julienne are also equally productive of excellent flavoring.

Culinary art consists also in using good sauces. Cans of mushrooms kept on the supply shelf will provide delicious sauces for almost any meat dish and a combination food for many dishes. Canned tomato sauce is an excellent source of flavoring, again for meats or for vegetables.

Canned fruits and berries constitute delicious fillings for pies. Jams and jellies may also be easily made from canned fruits almost at a moment's notice.

are clearly the same: to exploit if not provoke internal dissensions. It seeks to divide and penetrate the Labor movement in order to capture and control it—not for its purposes get out in the Constitution of the Labor Party, but for purposes alien to it, the Labor Press Service stated.

At least a dozen members of the present Labor Party in the House of Commons are officially on record as welcoming the Communists to full membership.

The Left Wing program officially adopted by the Communist Party and which it wants the Labor Party to adopt contemplates the abolition of the Monarchy and the House of Lords, establishment of a Democratic Republic, nationalization of the land, mines, railways, shipping and all manufacturing industries.

Amos C. Jackson Notice of Summons and Warrant of Attachment

The defendant above named will take notice that a summons in the above entitled action was issued against said defendant on the 19th day of August, 1926, by C. B. Rowlett, a justice of the peace, of Pitt County, North Carolina, for the sum of $109.00 due said plaintiff by account, which summons is returnable before said justice at his office at Greenville in said county, and in Greenville Township, on the 19th day of September, 1926, at 2:30 o'clock, P. M. The defendant will also take notice that a warrant of attachment was issued by said justice on the 19th day of August, 1926, against the real estate property of said defendant which warrant is returnable before the said justice, at the time and place above named for the return of the summons, when and where the defendant is required to appear and answer or demur to the complaint, or the relief demanded will be granted.

This 19th day of August, 1926. C. B. Rowlett, Justice of the Peace

Left Wingers Would Rule the Labor Party London, Aug. 19.—(INS)—The Labor Party, having barred the Communists from membership, is now up against a new campaign of "peaceful penetration" on the part of the Left Wingers.

Political and industrial organizations of the labor movement have been warned by the Labor Press Service, an official publication of the Labor Party, of the new tactics and maneuvers of the Communists, who have set out to obtain the direction and control of trade union activities.

The Communist Party will stand in the background, and the Left Wing Movement is to occupy the stage. In addition to the now celebrated Communist "nuclei" about which has been heard in recent years, there is a new development in the formation of "fractions" in the ranks of the working class organizations, the publication stated.

The Left Wing Movement which the Communist Party is interested in, is to be the Communist Party, or a portion of it, under a less suspicious title. But its aims

The defendant James A. Clark is hereby required to take notice that a special proceedings entitled as above has been begun in this Court for the purpose of selling for division two tracts of the land located in Belvoir township, containing about 120 acres together, known as the J. H. Clark land and being his property, the petition being for the appointment of a commissioner to sell the said land.

And he is hereby required to take further notice that he shall appear and answer or demur to the petition on or before the 24th day of September, 1926, or the relief asked for will be granted and a commissioner appointed to sell the land to be divided between the parties to said proceedings, and interested in the same the ratio of one-tenth each.

Baron Krupp Says Iron Works Never Be Aid for War

Denver, Aug. 20.—(INS)—War is foolish and destructive. If the same energy were turned towards the arts of peace and in thereby this world could be made a very fine place for all manner of people, and there would be no such thing as poverty. You can assure the world that the Krupp Steel Works will never again be used in the service of the God of War.

This was the declaration here of Baron George Krupp, 20 year old scion of the famous Krupp family of Essen, Germany.

Young Krupp, whose full name is Baron George Friedrich Alexander Leopold Krupp von Bohlen, heir to the Krupp millions, spent several days in the Rocky Mountain region recently. He has traveled through the west in a Ford automobile, a personal present from the Detroit auto king.

Young Krupp is a junior at Harvard, and is accompanied on the trip by Charles Taitch, son of an aristocratic German family, who is a fellow student of the embryo "iron master."

"My father and mother are going to make a tour of America in September, with Henry Ford and a party of friends," said Krupp, "and I expect to be with them. I am just going over the route they plan to cover."

"I love America very much," continued the lad, "particularly the west."

In reply to questions, he said he was the only child and sole heir of the Krupp family, who were given permission by former Kaiser Wilhelm to link their names into one when they were married. In all probability, he said, he would inherit command of the huge Essen steel works.

Movies Recruit For Young Screen Actors

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Film producers have torn a sheet from the book of baseball managers and college football coaches and now each large motion picture company carries a squad of rookies, promising young players destined to succeed in the places of the retiring veterans.

This season has seen the end of the beauty contest era in motion pictures, a period during which producers often made their stars with quantities of pulchritude and scarcely a favoring of histrionic talent.

Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford and Colleen Moore are stars of today who learned their trade by apprenticeship to stage and screen in days when probation periods for film stars were unusual. Among the hundred or more of today's rookies who are in the final stages of their schooling and are waiting to make the final break into the front rank of film actors are such players as Dolores Costello, Clara Bow, William Haines, Ben Lyon and Lawrence Gray.

Natalie Kingston, great-granddaughter of California's first governor, is the latest addition to First National's unofficial school of acting. The training she is being given, typical of that of others, will include appearances in support of prominent players and featured stars. As she becomes versed in screen technique she will play more and more important roles until at last she may succeed to stardom.

Banker's Wife Gets Big Jaipur Diamond

Denver, Aug. 20.—(INS)—The Maharajah of Jaipur diamonds, one of the world's most valuable gems, has been acquired by Mrs. Claude K. Boettcher, Denver social favorite, it became known here today.

The diamond, weighing more than 40 karats, is said to be valued at $150,000. It was presented to Mrs. Boettcher by her husband Claude K. Boettcher, widely known banker of this city.

The diamond was originally the largest on in the Orient, but was cut into two pieces, some years ago. The other half has been reported at various times to be in possession of a Russian nobleman.

Acquisition of the Maharajah of Jaipur stone was confirmed by the Boettcher family following rumors that Boettcher had purchased the ill-fated Hope diamond. Boettcher denied this.

The Jaipur diamond has a long history, but is believed to be lacking in the tragic tale involved in the story of the Hope diamond. The ill fate that followed the latter stone came to the surface several years ago when it was

Here Are Vitamins and Minerals

Advertisement for vitamins and minerals. Includes lists of foods rich in iron, calcium, and vitamins. Text: 'VITAMINS IN FOODS', 'FOOD-IRON', 'FOOD-CALCIUM', 'IRON IS A NECESSARY PART OF THE DIET BECAUSE IT BUILDS UP THE BLOOD'.

WIDESPREAD discussion of food properties in the press of the country has awakened the housewife to the need of applying science and its theories to the ever present question of feeding her family. To many the charts pictured above will be of great help in making understandable much of the theory that, in the past, has seemed undecipherable, too far away for plain every day use. These charts are prepared from statistics gathered by the health experts, and thus have authority back of them.

Once the housewife knows the sources of minerals and vitamins essential in the diet, she has only to include those vitamin and mineral containing foods in her menu. This is greatly simplified by the use of canned foods, which give her the best mineral and vitamin sources the year 'round. Of the best are spinach, stringless beans, peas, containing both kinds of minerals indicated and large percentages of vitamins A, B, C and D. The housewife need never worry about pea or bean season, for either are available, cooked, needing only re-heating before serving. All of the foods mentioned above may be obtained in canned form and the diet need never be without them.

One of the important points about mineral and vitamin contents of canned foods has been established by careful and extensive research, namely, that the methods of cooking foods employed by canneries, preserve both minerals and vitamins far better than the methods used by the average housewife. Canned sauerkraut, for instance, contains four or five times the amount of vitamins found in cabbage that has been cooked according to the usual household methods. Canned tomatoes, peaches, and many more foods are correspondingly better than the same foods cooked in the unscientific home methods. This is the opinion of experts.

Though most of us know the reasons for the inclusion of minerals in the diet, namely, their tonic properties and their stimulus to the digestive organs, why vitamins are included is not so easily explained. No one has ever been able to isolate a vitamin, yet its presence is of equal proportion to its air of mystery. The best way to define the function of a vitamin is to compare it to the spark plug in the automobile which explodes the gas. The energy produced in the spark plug does not aid in propelling the engine. Nor is the fuel of any account in running the engine so long as it remains in the form of gasoline vapor. The spark plug, however, ignites it, producing a change whereby it does become useful as a source of energy. By some means, still unknown to us, the vitamins enable the body to utilize the energy producing and tissue building components of our foods, which would be useless to us without the vitamins. They regulate the assimilation of the tissue building portions of the diet.

Vitamin A assists growth and development and prevents tuberculosis. Vitamins B and D assist in giving vitality and lack of these undermines the health generally. Vitamin C prevents scurvy.

The housewife who plans meals for growing children should pay particular attention to the chart which indicates calcium contents.

cases, including the German ship litigation and the battle over the German chemical and dye patents. Many cases in these groups are likely to be decided soon after the court recesses in October, while others still are in the earlier stages of litigation.

NORTH CAROLINA GIVES NATIONAL PARK AT SITE OF FIRST REVOLUTION VICTORY

New Bern, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Another historic old battlefield—this time the site of the first American victory during the war of the Revolution—will be formally turned over to the United States Government August 24.

Somewhere in the neighborhood of 10,000 persons are expected to trek to Moore's Creek Bridge Battleground on that day, making, as it does, one of the final steps towards the ultimate conversion of the site into a National Military Park.

Daredevil Dick Out of Prison After 20 Years

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 20.—(INS)—"Daredevil Dick" is out again. And this time the police are not looking for him.

For a few days ago the iron gates swung open at the Nashville penitentiary and an old man hobbling on a cane, walked from behind the gray prison wall's.

Twenty years—the best part of his life—had been spent behind those stone walls, and again he took a breath of freedom's air.

"Daredevil Dick" will be remembered here as the daring, dapper, burglar who terrorized this town 20 years ago with a series of more than a hundred house robberies.

"Uncle Tom" Gwartney, retired veteran policeman, was the proud captor of Daredevil Dick.

Uncle Tom was a copper in blue in those days.

Daredevil Dick was an unusual type of burglar. He suffered with a publicity complex. It would be called nowadays. Daredevil Dick engraved on a cuff or collar of a shirt in a house would be the message left for all his victims.

Shortly after midnight one morning Uncle Tom was strolling down his beat. He passed another copper.

"I'm gonna get Daredevil Dick tonight. I have a funny feeling to that effect," said Tom.

"If you do they'll make you chief of police," laughed the other copper.

A few blocks away Tom was passing a house.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Tom ran into the house. A man in his pajamas stood in front of a dressing screen firing rapidly into the screen.

Tom ran out of the front door and to the side of the house.

Just as he expected, Daredevil Dick leaped from a window on the second floor right into Tom's arms. A tussle and Daredevil Dick was a prisoner.

Uncle Tom took him back into the house.

The excited resident was still firing into the screen.

A jury gave Daredevil Dick 35 years.

Dick's "good time" in the penitentiary was always cut down by his escapes. Once he locked himself in a coffin and was shipped to Atlanta, Ga., where he was captured. Once he went over the walls. He was captured again.

But the parole board had seen Daredevil Dick's hair turn gray and now a helpless old man, he has been turned out into the world—alone. The state has taken its toll.

He has no known relatives. Dick says he will go from here to Illinois, where he will be cared for by an old pal in crime, who has gone straight and mad: good.

Under and by virtue of power vested in us by that decree of the Superior Court of Pitt county, entered in the above entitled action at the March Term, 1926, the bid at the sale on the 1st Monday in June having been raised, the undersigned commissioners will offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, at the Court House door in the Town of Greenville, at 12 o'clock, Noon, on Monday, August 30th, 1926, it being the first

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 20.—(INS)—Yanked from the driver's seat of a New York truck, John Philip Kolb, with 255 pounds of brown distributed over a 6 foot 7 inch frame, arrived in Hollywood as manual labor's latest contribution to the screen.

Kolb was pressed into service in an emergency to battle Milton Sills when his truck was parked outside the First National studio in New York City. Now he owns an iron clad contract and a dressing room in the same row with Sills, Harry Langdon, Colleen Moore, Lewis Stone, Anna Q. Nilsson and other celebrities.

The giant Kolb was preceded in Hollywood by many others who have earned their "three squares" by the sweat of their brow. Noah Beery used to pilot a cable car in Kansas City. Wallace, his brother, was a circus elephant trainer. Neil Hamilton worked in the assembling department of the Ford factory in Detroit. Walter Long was a butcher in Menominee, Mich. The handsome Bull Montana, now a successful movie star, was a New York ice man.

Richard Arlen, well known leading man, was a motorcycle delivery man in Los Angeles, and even Erich von Stroheim, the director did manual labor for the railroads in California.

The stage has lost another one of its favorites to the screen. Eddie Cantor, one of Broadway's favorites, has just announced that he is going to stay in Hollywood and leave the legitimate flat.

Cantor is now appearing in the screen version of his famous stage play "Kid Boots." Clara Bow, Billie Dove and Lawrence Grey are featured in the production with him.

Everything within the compass of a high board fence is the motto of the modern movie studio. More and more studios are attempting to eliminate unnecessary "location" trips, which are always expensive, even if to a point somewhere within the city.

The interior of the new 26 acre Paramount lot is finished in a phantasmagoria of architectural styles. There is Spanish, old English, Dutch, Moorish, Byzantine and Cathedral Gothic. There are doorways, and windows of all varieties.

The studio hopes to eliminate many location trips in this manner. With a lawn and hedges facing the interior of the building, it is possible to take almost any kind of an outdoor scene against almost any kind of a background.

After forty-three years on the legitimate, May Robson will make her screen debut in "Pals in Paradise" a Peter B. Kyne story. Miss Robson was recently signed by Cecil B. DeMille and it was intimated that she would appear in her original role in the "Reinvention of Aunt Mary." This picture, however, will not be filmed until later. John Bowers and Marguerite de la Motte will play in "Pals in Paradise."

Rabbi Henry Radlin of New York City, will assist in the research for the forthcoming film production based upon the life of Christ, "The King of Kings." Rabbi Radlin is an authority on Jewish history and has made a comprehensive study of the life of Christ.

A deal has just been consummated between Warner Bros. Film corporation and the Public Theatres, a chain of movie houses, in eleven Southern states, whereby the Public Theatres will show the twenty-six feature picture on the Warner 1926-27 schedule.

Eastern houses also recently signed to handle the 25 productions, include Robinson and Fay theatres in Rochester; the Empire in Syracuse; Mark Strand of Albany and Troy, N. Y.; the Colonial theatres of Akron and Ashtabula, Ohio; and the Kunsky theatres in Detroit, Mich.

Harry Langdon, film comedian worked 58 nights in making "The Strong Man," his present starring vehicle. This is a nocturnal comedy record.

William Russell, Virginia Brown Faire and Reed Howes will make "Wings of the Storm" on Mount Rainer, Wash., according to an announcement by Sol. M. Wurtzel, general superintendent for Fox.

The scenes are laid in the far North and for this reason, the most famous, peak in the United States was selected as the ideal scenic setting for the production.

DOOMED TOMB AT MEDEA YIELDS ANCIENT RELICS

Athens, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Important archaeological finds are announced in advices to the Ministry of Education from the ancient site of Medea, in Peloponnesus.

In a domed tomb of the Mycenaean period, there were found a gold bottle ornamented with Mycenaean, bulls' heads in silver and other decorations; a golden neck lace of a very rare and beautiful type; a finely carved gold ring; three copper swords with gold ornaments; and various other gold articles.

Medea and surrounding districts was the chief center on the mainland of the ancient Aegean civilization, which reached its highest pitch about a thousand years before Christ.

Leaps to Death From Airplane

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 20.—(INS)—"Practice makes perfect" is an old adage, but it doesn't apply to the business of airplane stunt flying.

This was illustrated when Jimmy Calhoun, well known throughout the south as a stunt flyer, made a leap from an airplane in a parachute, and was instantly killed, when he struck the waters of a small lake in Lakewood park as thousands of holiday visitors gaped with horror, and looked on helplessly.

Calhoun had made 128 successful leaps from planes, but this time his hand slipped and he lost his hold on the parachute.

He was engaged in a novel exhibition, the object being to leap from the wings of a speeding plane several thousand feet up and then race with the plane to see which could land first. Calhoun had been jumping from the parachute when about 500 feet above the lake, and diving gracefully into the water. But this time he lost his hold while still 500 feet above the lake, and the concussion when his body struck the lake, boardlike killed him instantly.

Calhoun's young wife was among the crowd which saw him fall to his death. His home is in Savannah, and he had given exhibitions in many southern cities.

Lady Astor Visits the Mother Church

Boston, Aug. 19.—(INS)—Lady Nancy Astor, M. P., made a journey of nearly 500 miles from Dark Harbor, Me., to this city, solely to attend a service at the Mother Church of Christian Science.

Accompanied by her daughter Phyllis Astor, the distinguished visitor slipped quietly away from the steamship wharf in an attempt to avoid recognition in keeping with her purpose of shunning publicity. The former American girl was discovered, however, before she was in the city more than a few hours.

Lady Astor embraced Christian Science several years ago and since that time she has been desirous of attending a service at the Mother Church.

1925 Auto Roads Add 23,152 Miles

Washington, Aug. 20.—(INS)—There is good news for America's millions of automobile drivers in the announcement of the Department of Agriculture that nearly 18,000 miles of road were surfaced last year. In addition, 5,316 miles of earth road was graded and drained according to engineering standards, making a total of 23,152 miles improved during the year, of which slightly more than 10,000 miles was constructed with federal aid.

At the end of the year the total surfaced mileage in the State systems has reached 145,508 miles, and there were 32,218 miles of earth road, graded and drained.

JEWISH CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE IN PALESTINE

Jerusalem, Aug. 20.—(NS)—The Jewish population in Palestine has increased by 56,000 during the last 30 months, according to official figures published here. In January 1924, Jews numbered 91,000, or eleven per cent of the total population, while by June 1926, the number had increased to 147,000, or 17 per cent of the total population.

The largest gain was registered during 1925, when 34,000 Jews were admitted to the country.

CHANGE HAT STYLES TO DEFEAT VOGUE OF BOB

Paris, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The hat, simple and unadorned, be it the toque such as Queen Mary wears, the bell or the pot shape, has had its day. So, at least, think the guiding intelligences of the Parisian millinery world, who have declared war on the hat as a mere utilitarian head-covering, only made possible by the prevalent custom of bobbing.

The campaign will open in the fall. The first hats are now being prepared. They are elaborate in form and distinctive in style, but the bobbing habit is growing rather than waning, and the average Parisian shows no inclination of returning to long hair.

Hair Turns White As Woman Drowns

Milledgeville, Ga., Aug. 20.—(INS)—How a woman's hair, which had been raven-black, turned white during a few minutes as she struggled in the waters of Oconee river here, with her life at the stake, was revealed here recently, when her body was recovered from the river.

Miss Eunice Smith, 18, a nurse at the Georgia State Sanitarium, and Miss Mary Youngblood, another nurse, were wading in the river during a Sunday half holiday. They went beyond their depth, and William Layfield, 14, went to their rescue.

He dragged Miss Youngblood to safety, but the other girl sank before he could return to her aid. When his brother, to whom the nurse was engaged, recovered her body from the water half an hour later, her long black locks had turned entirely white, evidently during the few terror-stricken moments before she was drowned.

SERAJAVO CHAUFFEUR DIES IN CZECHO-SLOVAKIA TOWN

Vienna, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Leopold Nohk, the driver of the automobile in which the Archduke Francis Ferdinand was murdered at Serajavo in June, 1914—the crime which led to the World War—has just died at Brunn, in Czecho-Slovakia.

After the death of the Archduke he acted as chauffeur to the ex-Emperor Charles of Austria.

GREAT FOREST BLAZE TOPS ALL THRILLS IN "COMBAT"

House Peters is at his best in "Combat" the Universal Jewel, which is the feature attraction at White's theatre Saturday. The big, rugged star of outdoor dramas has in this another of the roles that has made him popular. Blended with an exceedingly strong personality that few stars possess Peters transfers this personality to his screen characters, which gives an unusually strong interpretation of the rowdy lumberjack which this tar portrays.

The action of the picture is cyclonic. Action starts in the opening reel and grows more and more intense until the climax, which is the trapping of the principals in a forest fire.

The picture as a whole is well done due to the work of Lynn Reynolds, director, and is one of those rarities that does not drag dreadfully in spots.

DIAMOND RING WASHED MILES THROUGH SEWER IS RESTORED TO OWNER

Covington, Ky., Aug. 20.—(INS)—Service is the motto of William E. Blackburn, public works commissioner here. When there is anything to be done Bill finds a way to do it or knows the reason why.

So the other day when Mrs. Elmer Wadsworth dropped her $500 diamond ring into the drain pipe of a lavatory—she called Bill.

Blackburn block off a section of sewers and stationed a man with a fine mesh screen at the outfall of the line. He then had a fire hose laid from a plug to the drain trap in the Wadsworth basement and began pouring a four inch stream of water, thru the system. A few minutes later the man with the screen caught the ring several miles from the Wadsworth home.

BAD RAINS OF RECENT DAYS FLOOD CELLARS OF 'BOHEMIANS' IN VILLAGE

New York, Aug. 20.—(INS)—It isn't always fair weather when good fellows get together in Greenwich Village, haunt of New York's Bohemians and would-be Bohemians. Cellar retreats of artists and writers become mighty unpleasant when storm-clouds drench Manhattan.

During a recent summer storm, streets in the village became rivers and water poured into the studios and apartments located far below the sidewalks. Drenched villagers in bedraggled smocks poured out of their ordinarily cozy homes to seek refuge in warmer and dryer quarters.

The majority of the cellars in Greenwich Village have been made over apartments and bring light rents. Few are equipped with drains or pumps to take care of flood waters.

Several sub-surface restaurants, usually popular because of their "wetness" were vacated because of excessive moisture.
