GERMANY GIVEN PERMANENT SEAT LEAGUE NATIONS

German Delegation Will Arrive Geneva Tomorrow to Take Part in Friday's Sessions

Geneva, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Europe buried the great war today when, amid applause which shook the hall of the League of Nations Assembly, Germany was unanimously elected a member of the League and also unanimously accorded a permanent seat on the League Council.

When the roll call of states was taken Foreign Minister Briand, of France, answered with a sonorous "Yes" and turned his eyes toward the press galleries as if he wanted the word to go for throughout the world that France was first and foremost to welcome her ancient enemy into the fold of conciliation and harmony.

Foreign Minister Vanderveelde, of Belgium, with equal enthusiasm gave his country's approval of Germany's admission while Sir Austin Chamberlain's contribution to unanimity on behalf of Great Britain was easily heard throughout the crowded auditorium. Despite protest from the Scandinavian state against the policy of linking Germany's election with approval of an increase in the number of non permanent council seats from 6 to 9, this increase was ratified unanimously. Three seats for Latin America on the council thus are assured.

President Nincitch, of the Assembly, was visibly moved when he announced Germany's unanimous admission. M. Nincitch is foreign minister of Yugoslavia, the country which now embraces the town of Sarajevo, the scene of the assassination of the Austrian Duke Ferdinand, which was the initial incident of the outbreak of the World War.

"It shows after all," he said, "that those men of faith were right when during the League's troubles of last March, when German election was blocked they were not disheartened by difficulties which seemed most overpowering. We have accomplished today, by voting Germany in, one of the most necessary, most delicate and most important tasks in the development of the League of Nations."

A German delegation is to arrive in Geneva tomorrow night to take part in Friday's session.

Butcher's Wife Didn't Eat Any Meat

"My wife suffered for five years and practically lived on toast and hot water. Doctors said she would have to be operated upon for gall stones. A lady advised her to try May's and after taking 4 bottles over two years ago, she has been entirely well ever since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and always by inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by all leading druggists.

TODAY

Peaceful Labor Day.
A Mother's Revenge.
Perhaps Not Prone.
Let Business Alone.
By ARTHUR BLISSMAN

Labor Day has gone peacefully. In Europe it is a day of unrest, a gathering of troops and police. Here it is only another holiday. Labor isn't paid as well as it will be paid, and hours of labor are longer than they will be. But labor is better off here than anywhere else, and is content.

Those that control labor through money should make it their business to increase wages and shorten hours proportionately with improvements in machinery, and economies in production, instead of waiting for strikes and violence to do the work.

Six years ago Andrew Ficarello killed Ignazio Cognino, and Cognino's mother said she would be revenged. Last Sunday she shot down with five bullets Ficarello, who by profession was a thief and counterfeiter.

Thirty-one hundred years ago Cyrus the Great captured the son of Tomyris, Queen of the Scythians, see the story in Herodotus, while he was drunk, and killed him, although Tomyris had warned him.

She caught Cyrus, chopped off his head, put it in a goat skin, filled with human blood, and said: "For once, drink all the blood you want."

The King of Spain, with one son ill, another weak in various ways, plans to have Parliament declare a third son heir to the throne. But there may be no throne.

While the king has played polo, hobnobbing with friends in London and Biarritz, and elsewhere, other men in Spain have played a different game.

The Spanish artillery revolt, and the king leaving his polo ponies, dashes back to Madrid to put the country under martial law. Primo de Rivera, to make the army more democratic, arranges to have officers elected, not ranked according to length of service. That started the row.

How it will end, nobody knows. The king's great physical courage, shown in four recent attempts to assassinate him, will help, but it will not stop a revolution or a bullet.

President Coolidge's message to Congress will recommend no new legislation about trusts. The President's friends say "He wants business let alone."

One thing is certain, big business should be allowed to glow as long as it can. In Europe entire nations unite to build up gigantic trusts in steel and other products. It would not be healthy for America to hamper big organizations here.

If the people haven't intelligence enough to protect themselves against a few big men, they certainly wouldn't have enough to protect themselves against the combination of many little men.

Watch the stock market this week, if high finance interests you. (Continued on page 7)

ONE MAN DEAD ANOTHER IN HOSPITAL AS RESULT BUS ACCIDENT YESTERDAY

Leon Ervin, 22, son of J. A. Ervin, of Jones county, died in a hospital at 5:30 o'clock this morning, and D. W. Gooding was in a hospital suffering severe injuries as a result of an accident near Grifton late yesterday, when the Kinston-Greenville bus, driven by Gooding, overturned and was completely wrecked. Woman and Daughter Succumb to Injuries Received When Car Overturned

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A Mrs. Wyndham and her daughter were fatally injured on the road between Wilson's Mill and Smith field Monday night when their automobile struck a sand bar and overturned, according to the sheriff of Johnston county. Mrs. Wyndham's son, who was driving the car, escaped practically unhurt. Mrs. Wyndham and her daughter died in a Smithfield hospital. Their full names and addresses could not be learned today.

Much Cotton Being Delivered

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Delivery of the first bale of cotton to the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association was seven days later this year than last. B. F. Ivey, of Maxton, Robeson county, was credited with bringing in the first bale of 1926 on August 26. Last year the first bale came in on August 19, and the second bale on August 24.

Anson county, which has heretofore enjoyed the distinction of getting in the first bale, lost the honor this year by five days. The Anson bale, grown by L. D. Robinson, of Wadesboro, was delivered to the association on August 31.

The state headquarters of the association here report that deliveries are now coming in from all sections for 1926. The cotton is being received at more than 30 warehouses and 300 receiving points.

Advances for the present are said to amount to about 60 per cent of the value of the delivery, and runs as follows: On bales weighing 500 pounds or more, $55; 481 to 499 pounds, $50; 451 to 480, $45; 401 to 450, $35; 351 to 400, $25.

LOCOMOTIVE SHIPMENTS SHOW AN INCREASE

Washington, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Shipments of railroad locomotives from the principal manufacturing plants in the United States total 141 1/2 during August, figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce disclose. In August of last year the total was 118, and for July of this year it reached 132.

THREE SENATORS ESTIMATE COTTON RE-NOMINATED IN CROP WILL EXCEED TUES. PRIMARIES 15 MILLION BALES

Washington, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Renomination of three Republican Senators and defeat of a fourth, Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, leader of the administration's successful fight for admission to the World Court, was indicated today on the basis of incomplete returns from the primaries of yesterday in Nevada, Arizona, Wisconsin and New Hampshire. In Wisconsin, the results of a struggle between Senator Lenroot and the LaFollette forces show that Governor John J. Blaine had overcome the early lead established by Senator Lenroot.

The returns from 1,992 precincts out of 2,788 in the state, gave Lenroot 151,312, Blaine, 166,983, and Kelly, 25,744.

In New Hampshire, Senator Moses was well ahead of Robert T. Vass, while in Nevada Senator Tasker L. Oddie, world court advocate, was leading two to one. Senator Raleigh Cameron was unopposed in Arizona.

Will Succeed Dr. C. L. Outland Who Leaves This City First of Next Month

At the regular meeting of the Greenville Rotary club held on Monday night, James T. Little was elected secretary of the club to succeed Dr. C. L. Outland, who on October 1 will move from this city to Richmond. Dr. Outland has been secretary of the local club for nearly three years and his club expressed appreciation for his faithful services and regret that he is to leave this city.

Monday night's program in addition to regular routine business, consisted of several short talks and an address by Rotarian Paul Frizzell, of Snow Hill. J. B. Kittrell reported the recent joint meeting held at Morehead and advised those who did not attend that they missed a treat.

L. P. Hall talked on "Who and What I Am." This is one of a series of talks being delivered on this subject by the various members of the club and was greatly enjoyed. Rotarian Frizzell in his address, urged the Rotarians to practice the ideals of Rotary in their everyday life. His talk was full of inspiration and timely advice.

Other guests of the club were Dr. S. M. Crisp, of this city, and Rotarian W. A. Wilcox, of Woburn, Mass., both of whom expressed pleasure at being present.

Instructs Verdict of "Not Guilty" in Wilson Murder Case

Wilson, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Judge Henry A. Grady today in Superior Court instructed a verdict of not guilty in the case of Sam Brentley charged with the murder of his father-in-law, Rev. E. Pearson.

The murder was alleged to have occurred on July 27, 1921. Judge Grady ruled that the evidence introduced yesterday and today did not warrant the case going to the jury.

FIND 5-POUND TOOTH PREHISTORIC ANIMAL

Washington, Sept. 8.—C. S. Gaylord, of Terra Ceia today brought a tooth of some prehistoric mastodon to the city and put it on display. The tooth roughly weighs five pounds and was turned up by Mr. Gaylord while dredging in a canal on his farm.

CAR TURNS TURTLE NEAR SALISBURY

Salisbury, Sept. 8.—Clarence Misenhelmer, a youth of Rockwell, was brought to the Salisbury hospital today suffering from a head wound received when a car in which he was riding, turned over.

From official figures made public today it is believed the Greenville Tobacco Market led the markets of the state yesterday when it sold 845,106 pounds of the "golden weed" for $219,935.79 cents, averaging $26.02 per hundred pounds. Nearly a million pounds of tobacco was on the initial sale of the season yesterday, the offerings representing twenty-five or more counties in this section. Persons who visited the market saw four sets of buyers in action here for the first time and realized that this addition was a great improvement for the market.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Husband of Greenville Woman Suffers Painful Injuries in Wreck Near Durham

Mrs. W. D. Poindexter, Jr., of Winston-Salem, who has been visiting her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Arthur, received a telephone call late last night announcing that her husband had received serious injuries in an automobile wreck near Durham. Accompanied by her father, she left immediately for that city, where her husband had been placed in a hospital.

The report stated that the automobile in which Mr. Poindexter was riding with E. K. Powe, went over a twenty foot embankment. Mr. Poindexter suffered a broken arm and both legs were broken, while Mr. Powe suffered several broken ribs. The accident occurred just beyond Durham on the highway, and was attributed to blinding headlights of an approaching car.

Reports from Poindexter's bedside this morning stated that he had reacted but that he was still in a critical condition. Physicians did not believe he had suffered any internal injuries, it was said.

County Court in Session Two Days

This week's county court that convened here yesterday morning was faced by one of the heaviest dockets in some time. Sessions continued throughout yesterday and another session was required today in order to clear up the docket. Many important cases were up for hearing. No county court was held during the past two weeks because of the term of Super or Court, which accounts for the heavy docket this week.

NOT EVEN A DUCHESS MAY RIDE MAN O'WAR

London, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Announcement that the Duchess of York will accompany the Duke on his visit to Australia makes it certain that the royal party will travel on a specially chartered mail liner.

Had the Duke gone alone, a warship would have been used but the traditions of the navy are against any infraction of the rule: No women, not even a Duchess, allowed.

When the King and Queen went to Australia in 1901 to inaugurate the Commonwealth Parliament they traveled on the liner Ophir instead of a warship. The Duke is going on to Australia next spring to open the new Parliament at Canberra which becomes the federal capital.

OPHTHALMOLOGIST GIVES FORTUNE TO RESEARCH

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(AP)—If scientists of generations yet unborn ever succeed in transplanting human eyes, it may be due to the pioneer work done by Dr. Lucien Howe. The research in the science of ophthalmology which Dr. Howe carried on for 50 years in Buffalo will be continued long after he completes his personal work through his recent endowment of $250,000 to Harvard University for the establishment of a laboratory for further study of the mysteries of the eye.

During the past several years the Greenville market has served a wider territory each year and with good roads leading in from all directions, with four sets of buyers, eight large warehouses and increased handling and re-drying, no doubt this year will be the best in the history of the market and judging from the prices yesterday the tobacco farmers of Eastern North Carolina, this season will come into their own. Offerings on today's market totaled about half a million pounds and prices were reported as strong as on the opening yesterday. It was reported at noon that all sales would be completed this afternoon.

New Bern Sells 100,000 Pounds Today's Opening

New Bern, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Approximately 100,000 pounds of tobacco were sold on the local market here today when it opened. The week brought an average of 25 to 33 cents a pound. The lower grades were greatly in demand and sold fast. Growers were delighted with prices.

TWO FIRST EDITIONS OF PILGRIMS PROGRESS

London, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A peculiar mixup has occurred over the copy of the first edition of Pilgrim's Progress for which 6,800 pounds was recently paid in a London auction room. Examination of the volume by the purchasers, a firm of antiquarian book dealers, revealed the fact, hitherto unknown, that there were two different issues of the first edition and that this copy was one of the second issue which has a five-line extra at the end of the last page of the text.

This discovery caused the cancellation of the sale, but the work was resold almost immediately to the original purchaser by private arrangement with the auctioneers.

KRONE AT PAR

Copenhagen, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Danish krone today is able to "keep its hat on" in the presence of the big time currencies like the American dollar and English pound sterling, because it has reached full parity value. This makes the export of minted Danish gold no longer a paying business for valuta gamblers, and it is a question of time, probably months only, when gold will be reintroduced as currency, at least in Denmark's dealings with foreign countries.

AMERICAN SINGLES MEN PREMINENT 44 OF 45 YEARS' PLAY

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—America's racquet cohorts rally to defend the National singles championship and the International Davis Cup this year with a remarkable record of past triumphs against threatening foreign invasions.

Not only have they retained the team trophy for six successive years against vigorous foreign opposition, but records reveal that only once in 45 years of singles play has the National crown passed from American shores. Hugh L. Doherty, one of two famous English brothers, lifted the title in 1903. With it, he took the double championship, partnered with his brother, R. F. Doherty.

Since then, the foremost racquet-players of the world have sought in vain to break through America's formidable tennis bulwarks. Norman E. Brookes, James O. Anderson, Anthony Wilding, Gerald Patterson and other famous players from the Antipodes, Ichiji Kumagata and Zenzo Shimizu of Japan, F. Gordon Lowe, of England, Manuel Alonso of Spain, and more recently, Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste of France, have led futile foreign drives for what is now looked upon as the most coveted singles trophy in tennis.

Moreover, a review of performances in this historic competition discloses that since the conquest of Doherty no foreign star has advanced even as far as the final round. Frequently the invasions have penetrated to the semi-finals, however. Two years ago, Patterson progressed to the round before the final, where he suffered decisive defeat at the hands of Billy Johnston, who had vanquished Rene Lacoste of France in the preceding round. In the previous year, Brian L. C. Norton of South Africa was stopped in the semi-finals by Tilden in straight sets.

Three foreign players were in the round of eight in 1922, but two went out in straight set defeats. James O. Anderson of Australia before Vincent Richards, and Manuel Alonso, before Johnston. Patterson hammered his way past another member of America's "Big Four," defeating R. Norris Williams in straight sets, but he bowed to the mastery of Tilden in the semi-final after capturing the first set.

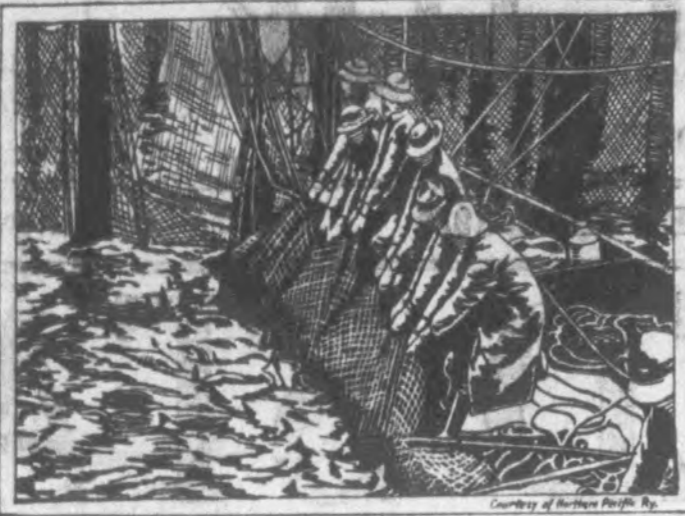

F. Gordon Lowe and James O. Anderson made plucky fights in 1921, the latter reaching the semi-finals. There he was disposed of in four sets by the chop-stroke veteran from Philadelphia, Wallace F. Johnson, who later was overwhelmed by Tilden.

Gentlemen Prefer Bachelorhood; Resist Attack by Tex. Maids

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—(INS)—"Bachelorhood is the insignia of superiority. Bachelors are not fooled by silk stockings, henna hair or lipstick. It is far more enjoyable to have a strong drink with twenty women than to sip tea with one woman forever. The thing we need is more girls and less wives."

William H. McCarthy, Pacific Coast baseball magnate, bachelor de luxe, was talking. He was replying to the lady down in Texas who said that men ought to get married as soon as possible and not permit women to pass into miserable and disillusioned spinsterhood.

What You Can Do With A Can of Salmon

THE cool delicate color of canned salmon as well as its delicious flavor and rich nutriment content, makes it one of the most attractive of foods. Canned salmon may be served an infinite variety of ways, creamed on toast, as croquettes, cutlets, salmon cakes, or as a chowder, in salad, sandwiches, soufflé, patties in cocktails, au gratin with macaroni, peas, or spaghetti, in ramikins with tomato sauce, baked in pepper cases, scalloped a la creole, and in salmon loaf.

Casseroles of Rice with Salmon

Line the bottom and sides of a mould with cold boiled rice one half inch thick, fill the cavity with creamed canned salmon and cover with rice. Steam forty-five minutes, turn out on a hot platter, pour either white sauce or Hollandaise sauce over and around it. Serve hot. This dish serves as an entire course for dinner.

Salmon with Macaroni

This is another meat substitute dish. Pick one can of salmon into small pieces. Make two cups of ordinary white sauce. Put a layer of boiled macaroni broken into one inch lengths in the bottom of a baking dish, next a layer of sauce, then a layer of salmon and continue this process until dish is filled. Sauce should come last and be sprinkled with buttered crumbs. Bake until brown.

Sliced Salmon Salad

A particularly attractive looking salad is made by slicing the canned salmon with a very sharp knife, laying the slices in a circle on crisp lettuce and putting lumps of mayonnaise dotted with green capers between the slices.

probably scared the wits out of the entire membership of the Texas Bachelors' Club, and instead of converting them, confirmed them in their misbeliefs. You cannot 'Carrie Nation' a man into a lucky wedding ring.

"Don't treat the bachelors rough. Be kind to them. Girls should remember that you can tame almost any kind of an animal with gentle words. After all, a bachelor is only a lonely brother stranded by the way-side."

George Sterling, famous California poet and another much angled for bachelor, agrees heartily with McCarthy.

School for 'Booze Sleuths' Run By Pittsburg Dry Agt.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Here's one school where nobody "plays hooky."

John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for Western Pennsylvania, sends his men to school every morning to learn the A B C's of dry law enforcement. Bright and early each day Pennington's booze sleuths troop into the classroom here to hear W. H. McNaugher, legal aide to the administrator, and a corps of enforcement experts hold forth inherent rights of bootleg vendors.

Here are a few of the subjects taught: Duties and Procedure; Search Warrants and Seizures; Offenses and Jurisdiction; Permits; Transportation; Vehicles; Injunctions; Proof; Pay Vouchers and Expense Accounts; Affidavits for Warrant.

As a final lecture—a sort of commencement address for the prohibition school U. S. District Attorney John D. Meyer will speak on "The Relationship Between the United States District Attorney's Office and the Prohibition Unit."

Pennington's plan, conceived shortly after he came out of retirement as a former Lieutenant Commander in the United States Navy to take over the reins of prohibition enforcement in the western half of the Quaker State calls for an intensive course of training in the legal twists and technicalities of enforcement.

"We want our agents to understand that their job is law enforcement," Pennington said in outlining his idea. "We are not reformers."

"The need for the schooling of agents in the restriction which the law places about them frequently has been demonstrated. Rightly or wrongly, many persons, not bootleggers, believe that Federal Agents are less considerate of constitutional rights of citizens, than are police of any other organization. Indeed, there are many instances which are freely admitted, in which prohibition squads have displayed either ignorance, or contempt for the legal safeguards."

"All this, I feel, has contributed in no small measure to reasonable resentment against everything connected with prohibition administration."

"In my school, agents are taught the limits as well as the extent of their authority and are told wherein the law protects persons suspected."

"I feel that this school is making agents more respectful of the law and the constitution, thus helping to arouse less angry antagonism."

McNaugher and his staff play teacher in the approved style. Topics after topic are outlined on a blackboard in the improvised class room at enforcement headquarters, and go over their subject matter point by point, explaining such legal loopholes and technicalities. Occasionally the instructor is halted by a raised hand and stops to answer a pertinent question. Then the lesson goes on.

"The best way to enforce the law is to know it," is Pennington's motto.

Men have certainly made their preference clear!

REMEMBER just a few years back you saw but few Chesterfields?

Mighty different today! You see them everywhere! But it's not that fact, but the reason, that's the interesting thing.

Natural tobacco taste—a taste secured by matching one fine variety against another—a taste which retains tobacco character—that's why Chesterfield is America's fastest-growing cigarette, and has been for four consecutive years. Not much doubt nowadays about what smokers want!

BLUE AND GRAY MEET AT LEGION REUNION

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—INS—Once foes in the bitterest struggle a nation has ever known, the leaders of the Hosts of the Confederacy and the leader of the "Boys in Blue" will meet, exchanging a friendly handclasp and join in a prayer for the future of the nation.

In the impressive service, to be held at Lincoln's tomb Monday in connection with the state convention of the American Legion, General M. D. Vance, Little Rock Ark., commander of the United Confederate Veterans, and Capt. John B. Inman, Springfield, Ill., will meet and probably will make short talks.

It will be the first time the two commanders have ever met. Thousands of veterans from all over the state of Illinois are moving toward the capital for the state convention of the American Legion, department of Illinois, which will open officially September 13 and continue thru September 14. From advance arrivals and reservations the convention will set a new state attendance record, officials declare.

TREBLE BAPTISM AT HOLLYWOOD BEACH

(By Rev. J. C. Harris) Treble baptism took place Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock four miles from Greenville, at Hollywood Beach. The administration was as follows:

The Rev. C. J. Harris, of Greenville baptised 25 converts from the Piney Grove Free Will Baptist church.

The Rev. Warren Davis, of Washington, baptised one convert from Mount Pleasant Disciple church; and the Disciple minister from Ayden, baptised four converts from Red Oak Grove Disciple church.

There was a very large crowd in attendance. Everything worked together joyfully. Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard; that went down to the skirts of his garments; as the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion; for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life forevermore.—Psalms 133.

French Again Stage Racquet Game Invasion

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Thrice frustrated in their quest, the "Three Musketeers" of the court—Jean Borotra, Rene Lacoste, and Jacques Brugnon—once more have been called upon by France to storm the American tennis ramparts this year for the National championship and the coveted Davis Cup.

A fourth countryman whose early season successes have added new interest to the invasion is expected to lend strong support to the drive. Henri Cochet, with two 1923 triumphs over Vincent Richards during the latter's European tour, has made an impressive comeback this year, although his string of victories was snapped at Wimbledon by Borotra in the final round.

Cochet made his last appearance in this country in 1922, but failed to achieve the success which later fell to the racquets of Borotra and Lacoste, who share No. 1 ranking in their own country. Each extended Tilden to five sets last year in the Davis Cup challenge round, while later they returned here for the national indoor championships and an indoor team match to add even greater laurels.

Tilden, absorbed in stage work, lost to both players indoors. Richards also bowed to Lacoste, against whom he had scored a straight set victory in the National championships last year.

No French player ever has reached the final round of the premier American singles competition. Lacoste, eliminated last fall in the quarter-finals, suffered the same fate the previous year at the hands of Billy Johnston. In 1923 he reached only as far as the second round, where he failed to get past Francis T. Hunter after extending the powerful New York driver to five sets.

Borotra and Brugnon have not fared quite as well as Lacoste, but success of the latter this year will depend to a considerable degree on ability to recover his sensational form of last winter. With the National indoor trophy, Lacoste also carried back to France, a severe cold which so weakened him that he has done little playing so far this summer.

Cochet, Brugnon and Borotra, however, appear to be at the height of their form and tennis critics look for the French invasion of 1926 to test American net supremacy as it has not been tested since the visit of the Doherty's from England more than two decades ago.

Famous Battles for Heavyweight Title in the Past

By Associated Press Meeting for the second time, James J. Jeffries knocked out James J. Corbett in ten rounds at San Francisco, August 14, 1903. Corbett's seconds threw in the sponge as he was being counted out in the tenth.

The bout drew a record crowd of approximately 12,000 and a record gate of $89,000. A cut of 70 per cent was allotted the principals, 65 per cent of that going to the winner with 35 per cent left for the loser.

Reports of the fray indicated that there was little early betting on the result. But "as soon" as the crowd became engulged it was recorded, betting on the outcome began in real earnest. The snugglers had the correct information for Jeffries was promptly made a two to one favorite.

BEST MARKET IN STATE

From information obtainable on yesterday's opening tobacco sales throughout
the bright tobacco belt, Greenville led the state for quantity handled and prices paid. Offerings on the market represented approximat-ly thirty counties, and the thousands of farmers and other visitors on the market voiced satisfaction and declared that in truth Greenville was the "Best Tobacco Market in the State."

DON'T LOCK YOUR DOOR

Should we advise the merchants of our city not to lock their doors on business we would immediately informed that to suggest such action on the part of the merchants is absurd and yet
business houses of this city are practically keeping would-be purchasers from their stores. We all admit that there is insufficient parking space on our city streets, and as a rule, all available space is taken up by cars belonging to the people of this city. A survey of the business section reveals that the majority of automobiles on our streets belong to the business men and their employees and these cars remain parked in front of the stores practically the entire day.

Merchants spend hundreds of dollars to improve their store fronts and put in attractive windows and then cut off the view of the contents of these windows
by parking their automobiles in front of them. Not only does this parking hide the store from those who pass on the street and who might be attracted to the store by the window, but this practice also makes it difficult for your patrons to reach your store as they must spend much time looking for a place to park their cars, and in many cases they must leave them on one of the back streets and walk back to the stores.

Prepare Combat
Forest Fire Epidemic

Asheville, Sept. 8.—(AP)— Preparations are now underway to combat the epidemic of forest fire, which usually strikes the mountain country beginning with October, M. A. Mattoon, supervisor of Pisgah National Forest, has stated.

Mr. Mattoon emphasized that this year fire fighters will not be trained altogether in ways of extinguishing blazes but will get course in prevention.

Bulletins, urging care on the part of campers and tourists, are being prepared and will be placed in conspicuous places in all forests.

The fall fire season is not regarded as being as disastrous as the spring season, but special precautions are being taken this year in account of the dry summer. The season, which starts in October, usually lasts until December when the first heavy snows fall.

BRITAIN FEARS
NEW AGITATION
IN RED CIRCLES

Release of Five Leaders of Communist Party From Jail
Brings Anxiety

London, Sept. 8.—(INS)—
Communist agitation on a wide and increasing scale is feared by the Government this month when five of Great Britain's leading Communists are released from the prison where they have been confined since last November for sedition.

An official warning has been issued to the country by the Home Office that a new Communist propaganda campaign is in the making, and that is the plan of the agitators to provoke a further series of strikes and other labor disturbances to prevent the return of industrial peace.

Among the Communists soon to be at liberty again is Albert S.
Jenkins, secretary of the Communist Party of Great Britain, who has been in numerous clashes with the police and other civil authorities.

The others are Harry Pollitt, secretary of the Minority Movement and a member of the Red International; William C. Rust, secretary of the Young Communist League; Walter Hanington,
secretary of the Communist Unemployed Workers Committee Movement; and William Gallacher
a member of the Communist Executive.

Pending their release, the party propaganda in Great Britain is said to be under the direction of George Hardy, a former general secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World in the United States. Hardy is the secretary of the National Minority Movement which has been described by Sir
William Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, as a branch of the British Communist Party.

Hardy recently organized a national conference of the Minority Movement for the purpose of discussing the alleged inability of the present Trade Union leaders to look after the needs of the working classes. The conference decided to make an effort toward altering present policies of the Trade Union Congress, and has set out to take the lead "in emphasizing the need for unity,
nationally and internationally."

The view of Lord Rothermere's
Daily Mail on Hardy's activities is that he is engineering a "renewed and more intensive attempt to destroy British industry."

"Several hundred factory committees," the Daily Mail said,
"have been formed to foster
trouble, and the preliminary agitation is to be carried on largely by means of an increased number of workshop papers. The chief object of the mischief-makers is to provoke a repetition of the disturbance they caused in the mercantile marine a year ago, when a vast tonnage of British tonnage was held up, and they are to concentrate also on forcing strikes in the engineering, iron and steel and textile industries."

It is also declared that the Moscow Communist International has shown some irritation with the failure of the British Communists to promote a real revolution, and have therefore decided upon a new offensive through the agency of the National Minority Movement.

Revenue Returns
Break All Records

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Revenue paid into the treasury of the state of North Carolina by the Secretary of State's office for the fiscal year ending last June 30, broke all records, it was disclosed in the biennial report just issued from the office of Secretary W. N. Everett.

The report shows that last year
Secretary Everett's office turned over $282,452.26 to the treasury as against $1193,253.38 for the previous year. The corporation tax furnished $226,673.22 of the total, and amounts paid in by foreign corporations ran up to $25,117.00. Both these amounts were in excess of last year's totals, but the corporation tax was aided by the single payment of $130,000 by the Carolina Power and Light Company when it was consolidated and reincor-porated last year.

The increase in the foreign corporations tax was from $9-521.18 in 1924-25 to $25,117.20 last year. Other items showing increases were land grants, from $876.77 to $10,785.41; corporation fees, from $5,598.30 to $7-695.10, and corporation seals from $1,889.00 to $2,407.00. Land grant seals and fees also showed a slight increase.

The item showing the most marked decrease was the sale of legal books. Proceeds from the sale of Supreme Court Reports dropped off from $10,977.07 in 1924-25, to $7,780.78 during the past fiscal year. Sale of Code, Laws, and Journals registered a decline from $9,157.87 to $6-404.23.

In the booklet Dr. John R.
Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, explains how the public may derive greatest benefits from the inspection service.
He says that there is prevalent,
but incorrect, belief that Federal inspection applies to all meat whereas the law limits Federal supervision only to the meat from establishments engaged in interstate or foreign commerce.

The booklet further discusses the inspection of meats and by-products from the standpoint of housewives, retail butchers, livestock producers, city health officials, sanitarians, and restaurant owners. The United States Department of Agriculture outlines its course of encouraging local inspection of include meats which do not come under Federal supervision.

The booklet is available upon application to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture at Washington.

Railroad and Utilities

Asheville, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The 38th annual convention of the National Railroad and Public Utilities Association will convene here on November 9th for a four day session. More than 250 delegates from virtually every state

Members of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, in

of the association, are now engaged in working out a program for the meeting. Commissioners

sion, were in Washington last week perfecting preliminary plans for the gathering.

Housewives Careless
About Selecting Meat
Says Department

Washington, Sept. 8.—(AP)— Housewives in the United States select the meat to feed their families with less care than they pick the millinery that adorns their heads, an expert of the staff of the U. S. Department of Agriculture declares in calling the public's attention to a recent department publication "The Inspection
Stamp as a Guide to Wholesome Meat," which is now being reprinted in its second edition.

guished guests at the convention.

Labor Policies Not
Dictated by Banks,
Capitalist Writes

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)— Bankers and Wall Street capitalists do not control the labor policies of most large corporations,
contrary to general opinion, says Sam A. Lewisohn, chairman of The American Management Association, and Vice-President of the Miami Copper company.

Mr. Lewisohn states in his book,
"The New Leadership in Industry," that the common practice is to leave necessary decisions in this regard to local managements of plants as long as the business is run efficiently.

There is unquestionably a great deal of exaggeration on this idea of capitalist unity of action. The people who entertain this theory
have a vision that Wall Street
makes decisions on all questions.
The corollary is that if Wall Street should suddenly change its views, the executives of the plants in the country at once would change theirs. The notion makes it appear that the obstacle to better labor relations is solely that of a small financial oligarchy.

However, local production executives are the determining factors in local management. If the financial group is interested in anything it is profits, and there is no surer way of disturbing profits than by disturbing the existing managerial group who are making these profits, continues the volume published by Duttons.

POLISH BREWERS POLISH BARS TO RAW DRINKERS

Public Houses To Be Made More Attractive - Lunch Rooms Added

London, Sept. 8.—(INS)—The brewers of England have set out to make the public houses more attractive. Brightening of bar parlors with flowers and paint, and the addition of luncheon and tea rooms will not only stop the abuse of alcohol, according to leading brewers, but will actually promote temperance.

Sir H. Cosmo Bonsor, whose company alone sold 66,000,000 pints of beer in glass last year, leads the trade in bottles and labels, and authority for the state meant that less drunkenness has been the immediate result in all places where the old tradition of sawdust floors and dark, musty drinking rooms has been abandoned in favor of the modern innovations.

All of the big brewing companies have just made their annual reports to their stockholders, and through all of these can be traced a feeling among the producers that people are not drinking enough beer and that something should be done about it.

Sir William Waters Butler, the Birmingham brewer, blames high taxation among other things for the decrease in the consumption of beer, which has fell off 35 per cent during the past ten years, dropping from 30,000,000 barrels in 1914 to 19,500,000 barrels in 25.

Sir William pointed out that the average family of five persons consumed the same amount of alcoholic beverages now as they did before the war, taxation could increase the cost of beverages by $150 per family.

Stecher Meets Lewis to Settle Wrestling Feud

Chicago, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A year controversy over the heavyweight wrestling championship will be settled by the match between Joe Stecher, Nebraska scissor king, and Ed "Strangler" Lewis, of Kansas City.

In these two years, the eastern and western wrestling "trusts" have waged war all over the country, with Lewis as the chief figure of the western group and Stecher the principal drawing card of the eastern syndicate. The territorial division relates to their management only, as each has toured the entire country.

Until two years ago, Lewis was conceded a clear deed to the title. When Wayne "Big" Munn threw Lewis out of the ring at Kansas City, and flopped him again to win the championship, the conflict of claims began.

"Big" Munn, an ex-Nebraska football star, at once started on a triumphant tour of the country, meeting all comers. Within a few months he encountered Stanislaus Zbyszko at Philadelphia and was thrown twice within fifteen minutes. Not long after, Stecher conquered Zbyszko to succeed to the crown.

The western "trust," having apparently lost its heavyweight title, then set up charges that Munn's victory over Lewis at Kansas City was contrary to the rules, as Lewis had been thrown out of the ring and Munn should have been disqualified. Lewis and Munn met in Michigan City to settle the championship and Lewis won, thereby retaining his championship belt.

The famous headlock of Lewis has so far crumpled the resistance of every wrestler Lewis has faced, and the same is true of Stecher's leg scissors.

LONDON FASHION NOTES

London, Sept. 8.—(INS)—"Skyscraper" hats are the latest vogue of feminine fashion, and as a result with twelve inches of crown and half an inch of impudent brim will be all the vogue here in a few weeks, according to the smartest milliners.

Tall military hats of mediæval and modern history have contributed to the new designs, which include chimney pots, funnel shapes, and director's period of silk tile, the drum major type, and the bear skin mod; worn by the British infantry.

Tam O' Shanter's are made with tall crowns, the summits being made to overhang, while among the more peculiar of the modistes is the modistes version of the Flatiron building, a tall crown made three cornered, with one corner rising in the front.

The crowns are stiff and square, as the milliner terms a hat that is not rounded at the top, and some of them are waisted after the style of the male "topper." They are nearly all very expensive, and range from $10 upwards.

The new hats are still close fitting, probably for the reason that if they were pulled right on they would totally extinguish the wearer's face. Although so tall, the hats are very light in weight being generally made of soft muslin.

They will be worn a little on the side, according to the modistes, partly hiding one eye. Brims may be turned up all around, entirely absent at the back, or with a tiny half inch brim. The skyscraper suggest height when worn setting off the short skirt.

Gene Tunney Is Marked by Unusual Personality

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Mild-mannered and of studious frame of mind, Gene Tunney, challenger for Jack Dempsey's world heavyweight title, represents an unusual type in the boxing game.

Except for his fine build, the high step and tanned, rugged appearance of the trained athlete, Tunney would scarcely be taken by the casual observer as one of the foremost pugilists of his day.

In spite of seven pretty active years in the professional ring, the former Marine has few outwardly visible marks to testify to his conflicts in the roped arena. His nose is straight—naturally and not by any synthetic process—and his ears are far from the cauliflower variety so common among veterans of the padded fists.

Frank blue eyes and a mop of brown hair, worn in closely-clipped pompadour style, complete Tunney's pleasing facial characteristics—handsomeness, in a square-jawed, gladiatorial fashion.

At 28 Tunney is the picture of health and vigor. Army life with Marines hardened his muscles, trained his eye and nerves before he was of voting age. Outdoor life has kept him in robust condition.

Gene prefers as much quiet and solitude as he can get when he is training for an important fight. I like the woods for my conditioning, he says. Rough and ready work, away from the crowds and any excitement, is the thing that puts me in shape. Under such conditions I plan out my battle, figure what I'm going to do. Then when I'm ready to hop into the ring, my mind is clear and my body ready. I'm not bothered by any last minute doubts or indecisions, he declared.

Tunney dodged bullets in France at Belleau Wood. Consequently he has little fear of an opponent's punches. Bullets can floor you without any chance for a counter, he remarks, but fists can be blocked and punches absorbed without taking a count I never worry about them.

Gene is an ardent golfer although he hasn't yet given Old Man Par much to worry about. Hitting the little white missile is good training for the eye, he thinks.

The challenger is something of a book-worm too. Mornings, out on the road at sun-up, he usually tucks a volume under his arm to read when he takes a rest. Omar Khayyam, Emerson and H. G. Wells are among his favorite authors. He can fling quotations from them with as much ease and facility as he tosses his punches.

It isn't so much the campaign speaking as it is the junior baritone that comes after all—Democrat, Little Rock, Ark.

Sitting Bull Used Magic Tricks to Win People's Respect

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 8.—(AP)—A savage Sioux brave astride an Indian pony, blood in his eye and on his tomahawk, urging his intrepid red skinned warriors on to ruthless massacre of the whites, presents the common conception of the nationally famous Sitting Bull.

On the contrary, Sitting Bull, in all the works of history, is merely a peaceable high priest who eschewed personal combat, who prayed much more than he fought, and gained his power among his people by judicious use of a bagful of conjuror's tricks.

Regardless, the old chieftain was the leader of the Hunkpapa Sioux, and largely responsible, historians say, for their hostility toward the white people from 1898 to 1876.

Sitting Bull was commonly supposed to have killed Custer, while he really took no hand in the Battle of the Little Bighorn, a feat which his grand nephew, Channery Yellow Robe, an educated, full-blooded Sioux of Rapid City, has sought to emphasize repeatedly.

Sitting Bull was handicapped by low caste parentage in his ambitions for distinction. However, as Doane Robinson, former state historian, aptly puts it, he was not slow in discovering he possessed unusual gifts as a horse thief and an orator.

His native craft turned him more and more to the tricks of the conjuror. He developed his subtle talents and soon began to acquire fame as a prophet; astuteness, luck and some advance information assisted him to prognosticate certain events with a precision which confounded the big chiefs who had so profoundly ignored him. They were compelled to recognize his medicine.

As Sitting Bull grew older he increased his power with fervid oratory and impressive tricks, became more imbued with heathen religion and hate for the white people. He excited his braves to many valorous deeds, but invariably retired to make medicine when combat began.

He is supposed to have been gentle and refined at home, but fierce in his diatribes against the whites. Because he spent several years as an attraction with Buffalo Bill's wild west show, Sitting Bull saw only the seamy side of white life. When he returned home he made the famous emphatic declaration: 'I would rather die a Dakotan than to live a white man.'

The company contemplates development of traffic up the Ohio river to Cincinnati, up the Mississippi to Burlington, Ia., and Quincy, Ill., and up the Missouri to Omaha or Sioux City, as well as throughout the waterway route. The Illinois waterway from Chicago to the Mississippi river is made up of the "Chicago drainage canal, now navigable, and the Illinois river from Lockport to the Mississippi. MILITANT-MARY

A Dollar Dinner for Four

Variation in the daily dinner menu, while still keeping within the household budget, is one of the housewife's hardest problems. The following suggestions for a $1.00 menu which will serve four people may prove helpful.

Jellied Consomme Kidney Bean Croquettes Bread and Butter Stewed Tomatoes

Fruit Cake Coffee

FOR warm September days jellied consomme is often preferable to hot soup. A can of consomme costs 10 cents. Add 1 cup of boiling water. Soak 1/2 ounce gelatin a few minutes in cold water; season and add to boiling soup. The cost of gelatin may be estimated at about 5 cents.

The croquettes require one No. 2 size can of kidney beans costing 17 cents, 1 egg costing about 4 cents, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, seasoning, and breadcrumbs. Mash the beans through a colander, add parsley and seasoning, and make into croquettes, adding a few breadcrumbs if not thick enough. Dip in well-beaten egg, then in crumbs, and fry in deep, boiling fat. A large can of tomatoes, sufficient for four people can be purchased for 13 cents. A loaf of bread costs 10 cents.

A delicious fruit cake put up in an attractive tin box costs $1.75 cents. It should be cut into about 25 slices making four slices cost 28 cents (7 cents each). Enough coffee for four people, at an average cost of 40 cents a pound, is about 4 cents.

The various items of food listed above come to a total cost of 91 cents allowing 9 cents to cover the cost of butter and sugar for the salad parsley and fat for frying.

North Carolina, for the sum of Two Hundred Dollars, ($200.00) due said plaintiff upon a contract to furnish the said defendant board in the Greenville Cafe, of Greenville, N. C., of which the said plaintiff is the proprietor, which summons is returnable before said justice, at his office in Greenville, in said county, and in Greenville township, on the 10th day of September, 1926, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

The defendant will also take notice that a warrant of attachment was issued by said justice on the 10th day of August, 1926 against the property of the said defendant, consisting of that stock of goods, wares and merchandise and fixtures in that certain store on the west side of Evans street in the town of Greenville, known as the Carolina Shoe Store, which warrant is returnable before the said justice, at the time and place above named for the return of the summons, when and where the defendant is required to appear and answer or demur to the complaint, or the relief demanded will be granted.
