Revival Services Immanuel Church Begin October 18

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N. C. Dear Brother Editor:—We wish to remind our friends through the columns of your splendid paper, that beginning October 18th, and continuing through October 31st, we shall be assisted in our annual revival meeting by the Rev. Herman T. Stevens, of High Point, N. C.

Brother Stevens was for several years a great pastor; serving both in Virginia and Tennessee. He went to Belmont, Roanoke, Va., and carried that great church from a membership of three or four hundred, to more than a thousand in membership in just a few years. He was leading in a similar work when he was called back to the good state of North Carolina to become Superintendent of Evangelism for the Baptist State Convention of our state.

For four years our brother led the evangelistic hosts to great victory in North Carolina. There is hardly a spot in the state in which he has not labored with great success in revival meetings. But Brother Stevens is pre-eminently a pastor evangelist. The call to the pastorate led him to High Point some months ago and there he is winning men and women to Christ by the hundreds. For consecration of heart, originality and simplicity of style peculiar and forceful interpretation of God's Word, sympathy and warmth of heart, and a record of evangelistic success, he has no superior—if an equal—in our beloved state.

JAPANESE ROYALTY HAS OWN FRESH VEGETABLES

Tokyo, Oct. 2.—(AP)—All the fruits and vegetables for the dining tables of the Emperor and Empress, Prince Regent and Princess Nagako, are grown in the Shin'iku Palace gardens by expert gardeners and carefully inspected in order that no taint may be permitted to reach the Imperial stomachs.

MILLION DOLLARS NEEDED ENLARGE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Next Legislature Be Asked for Funds to Increase Capacity of Local College to Thousand Students

Classes started at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday. Reservation was made for 700 young women. This number will be registered by the end of the week.

The new members of the faculty for the year are as follows: Miss Luella Turner, English; Mr. E. C. Hollar, history; Mr. P. W. Picklesimer, geography; Miss Estelle Sargent, science; Miss Ella Wilkes, mathematics; Mr. J. H. Rose, education; Mrs. Jamie Bryan, critic teacher; Miss Wilbur M. Bomar, home economics; Miss Dorothy Dean, home economics.

President Robt. H. Wright in his biennial report to the board of trustees and to the coming session of the legislature, is asking for sufficient appropriations to increase the capacity of the college to at least one thousand students. This will require an additional unit to the dining room, an addition to the present practice school building, an infirmary and a new class room building, in addition to overhauling and making fit certain buildings that are now in use.

The total appropriation that will be asked for at the next session of the legislature will be $1,035,005.00. This amount will not provide for all students who want to attend the college, but it will remove the congestion to some extent. It is the hope of the college authorities to increase the capacity of the college approximately 300 per year until 1500 students can be accommodated.

The timely arrival of his brother with a shotgun aided McIlwain in putting the men to flight. They left behind a motor truck and three robes bearing the initials K.K.K.

IRISH FOX HUNTING IS POPULAR DESPITE CHANGE

Dublin, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Fox hunting in Ireland has been unaffected by the change in Irish government. The transfer of the land to the ownership of the farmers has not interfered with the sport, and the relations between the people and the members of the hunts which use their lands is more cordial than while landlordism existed. Each county has its Hunt Club and the office of Master of Foxhounds is much coveted.

New York, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The trial of Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Goss, of West Virginia, testified yesterday that he is an assistant to Daugherty, approved the claim for the Attorney General's Department and that Daugherty gave him no instructions concerning it. HERB PENNOCK PITCHES CHAMPIONS OF AMERICAN LEAGUE TO 2-1 VICTORY

Nearly Every State in Nation Will Practice Fire Prevention During the Coming Week

Raleigh, Oct. 2.—(AP)—North Carolina's great peace-time battle begins a new tomorrow. It is the fight against fire, the importance of which will be especially stressed during the week beginning tomorrow and ending next Saturday. Officially it is known as "Fire Prevention Week" and will be observed in practically every state in the union. In North Carolina it was set aside by a proclamation issued by Governor McLean, and the educational campaign incident to its observance is being waged by the State Insurance department.

The observance of the week is downed more important than ever this year, as the nation is rounding the fifth consecutive year during which fire losses have mounted over the half billion dollar mark. Last year the record breaking figure of $70,253,921 was reached. It meant a loss of $4.94 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

North Carolina's record, although appalling, was far better than the national figure. It amounted up to $6,914,014, or a loss of $2.46 each for each of the 2,812,900 inhabitants of the Old North State.

Not alone was the great fire loss confined to property—last year nearly 15,000 persons lost their lives in the United States through burns.

"It appears that no channel leading to the public ear and eye, and through them to the public consciousness, is being overlooked this year in the endeavor to make upwards of one hundred and fifteen million people think and talk of fire, of its prevention and extinguishment, and not only for seven days but for 32 times a year," declared Stacy Wade, State Insurance Commissioner, in urging observance of the week. Elaborate preparations have been laid for the universal observance of the week. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has already advanced far in its cooperation. Rotary, Kiwanis, Lion, Civitan and other men's civic and women's clubs in many places have taken up the cudgel for fire prevention. In many instances money has been contributed for municipal observance. With all these widely diversified interests pledged to the cause, fire chiefs, local insurance agents, and other individual fire preventionists have signified intention of putting in their own missionary work over the routes envisioned by the organized efforts.

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Herb Pennock held the Cardinal, to three hits today while his Yankee teammates led by Babe Ruth, battling their way to a two to one victory over the National League champions in the opening game of the World Series.

An estimated record breaking crowd of 65,000 fans saw the American League title holders gain a close and exciting victory. O'Farrell coming in fast to take O'Farrell slow roll. Thevenow up. Lazzerri took Thevenow hopper and threw him out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pennant Never Floated Over the St. Louis Parks

St. Louis Oct. 2.—(AP)—St. Louis has never won a pennant in either the National or the American leagues.

The most recent opportunity was in 1922, when the Browns, batting, hurling and fielding superbly were runners-up to the Yankees in an exciting American League battle, that left St. Louis remaining in second place only a half-game margin.

The Cardinals before this season, rarely a first division team, here not fared so well. Beginning with 1870, records show that the Red Birds have finished third, four times; fourth, three times; fifth five times; sixth, seven times; seventh, five times; eighth, six times; ninth, once; tenth, once; eleventh, three times, and twelfth, twice.

St. Louis was not represented in the leagues from 1878 to 1884 and from 1887 to 1891, inclusive, and ranked the lowest during the period 1892 to 1898 when the league was composed of twelve clubs. During this time the Birds did not finish higher than ninth and ran eleventh, three times; twelfth, once; tenth, once, and ninth, once.

In 1922 St. Louis gathered a little more hope when the Cardinals tied for this place with Pittsburgh.

Play Baseball As of Old on Texas Plains

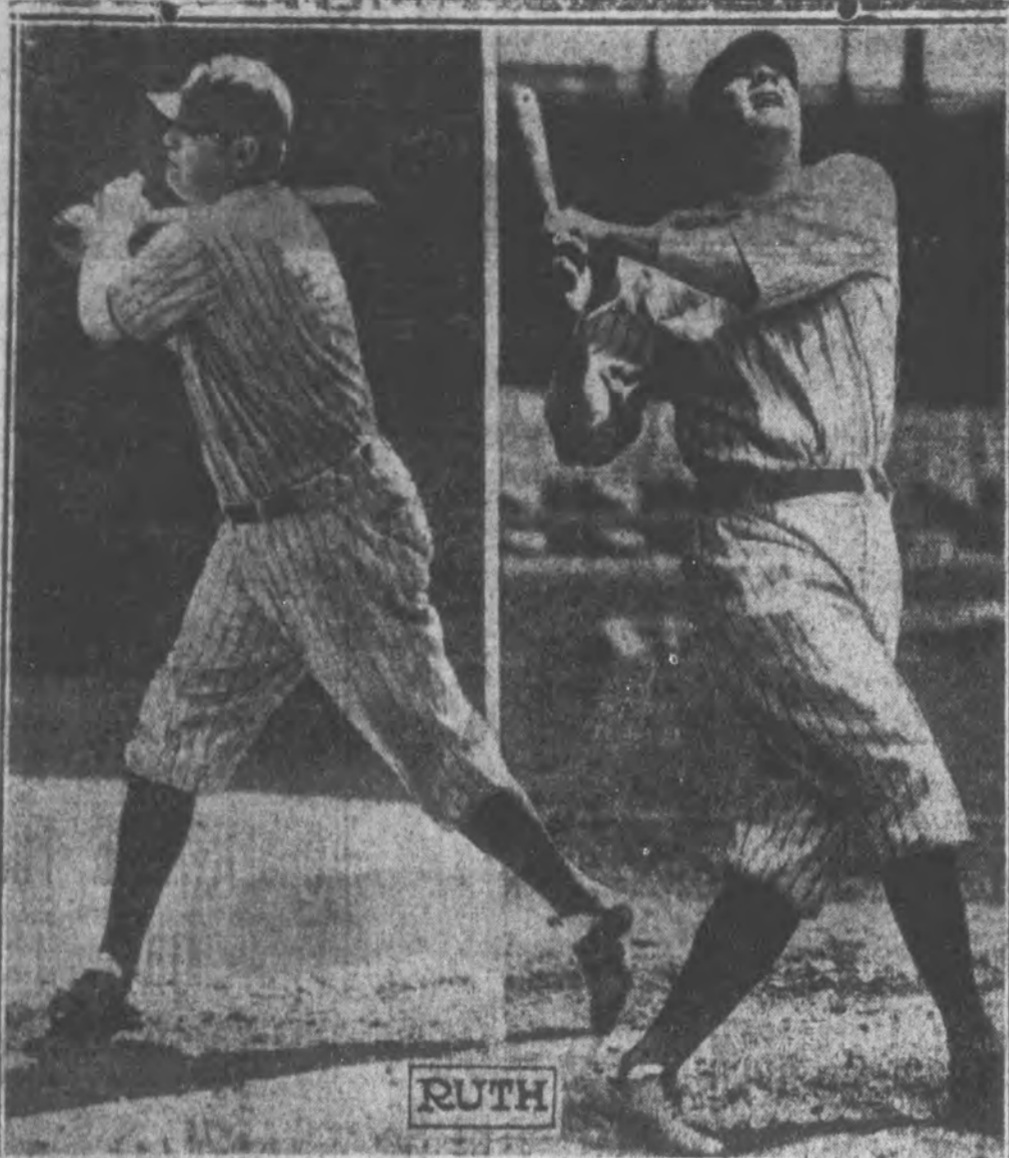

San Antonio, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Because the cowpunchers of La Salle county's open spaces take their baseball seriously, a team of boys from Laredo has broken relations with a team from Encinal, thirty-six miles north of the border city.

Baseball, about the only sport near Encinal, is played there as it was throughout the country in the good old days and victory is everything to the home fans.

In the last game, the Laredo boys won, 3 to 2, whereupon two Laredo players were put in the Encinal jail for arguing on the diamond. That night the other Laredo youths broke open the jail and set their comrades free, and all returned to Laredo.

Film Markers Seeking Audiences Which Are Rude

Hollywood, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Film producers are looking for a movie audience rude enough and sufficiently discriminating to 'boo' a picture.

Motion picture crowds throughout the Hollywood district were since the early days of the industry, films have been previewed, have become too courteous to turn down their thumbs on a picture which even its stars might admit had flaws.

Since the purpose of the preview is to obtain the reaction of a typical motion picture audience in order that faults may be corrected before the film is released, the applause of a too friendly spectator is not appreciated by producers. They are combining the hinterland for new and less sophisticated audiences and the frontier of the preview, once limited to the neighborhood theaters of Hollywood, has been pushed back a hundred miles.

OLD ARISTOCRATIC FAMILIES IN FRANCE FIND VISITS TO PAWNSHOPS A NECESSITY

Paris, Oct. 1.—(INS)—If the franc continues to fall and prices keep going up, Paris will soon see as many shabbily dressed bourgeois on the street, as Ven-na, Berlin and Moscow.

The aristocratic class, the "best families" of old France, are finding themselves hard put these days to make both ends meet. Outwardly they put up a brave front. They have sent away most of their servants, and many women who have never washed a dish in their lifetimes, are doing all of their own housework.

They try to conceal their poverty from their friends. Sometimes they engage a sewing girl for a few hours during the day to keep up appearances. Obligated to do their own marketing, they carry a smart traveling bag of provisions, thinking or at least, hoping, that no one will guess the truth.

What they are unable to hide are their shiny elbows and thread bare clothes, long out of date. They have been turned and returned and made over many times. But even good material has an end to it.

The old clothes men and women who sing their songs, along the streets, have changed their

Mrs. G. J. Woodward and Mrs. W. D. Pruitt delightfully entertained a hundred or more friends at the Woodward home on Greene street Friday at a barbecue. The home was attractively decorated for the occasion, carrying out the Halloween idea. A profusion of fall flowers, in which yellow predominated, were used in the decorations, while black cats, witches and Jack O' Lanterns were much in evidence. Yellow shaded light, added a soft glow to the scene. The dining table was especially attractive with its lace cover and Jack O' Lantern centerpiece.

TOLBERT SHOW OPENS MONDAY

Has Splendid Jazz Orchestra—Will Play to Packed Tent for Week's Engagement. Tent Will Be Located Side Post Office.

(Press Agent)
Comedy, drama, musical comedy, a band and orchestra that will strike enthusiasm in Greenville is what is promised by the big Milt Tolbert show which opens for a week's engagement next Monday.

The big Tolbert show comes in its own private cars which are the biggest of any dramatic show on the road, with its 47 people, sixteen of who appear upon the big standard stage every night of the week.

"Magnificent, stupendous, the biggest attraction of the season" are some of the things that will be on every tongue when this big show hits town. They will not exaggerate in the least for Greenville has never before had the opportunity to witness such a complete staging of well known and popular plays as are presented nightly at this big modern tent theatre.

Hear the big Tolbert concert band every evening before the evening of the big tent theatre; hear the celebrated Tolbert jazz orchestra in its concert from 7:45 to 8 o'clock every evening and between the acts of the performance. You'll be enthusiastic too when you do.

You may have attended tent theatre performances before, but you have never had the opportunity of witnessing such plays as are presented by this big company in such a manner as you'll see here next week.

HARRELL-CLARK

(By Rev. C. J. Harris)
Yesterday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, in Belvoir township, near the Belvoir high school building, a quiet and very impressive marriage was celebrated by the writer in the presence of a few friends, when Miss Alice L. Clark, the beautiful and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Clark, became the loving bride of Mr. John V. Harrell.

Miss Clark is one of Belvoir's most attractive girls, and numbers her friends by the score.

Mr. Harrell is the son of the late Jesse Harrell and resides near Conetoe. He is a young farmer. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harrell went joy riding. They will make their home for the present with Mrs. Ruth Harrell, the mother of the bridegroom.

Their many friends wish for them a long, prosperous and happy life.

"Marriage is honorable, in all" said the great and learned Paul. Women can do more to correct the faults of a man, to hush the storms of passion, to curb a mad ambition, and more to lead man to truth, justice, purity, benevolence, and honor than any other merely human influence. Therefore, the man who takes a wife, reaps the choice flower of Paradise. Hence, to her, the following lines are most peculiarly appropriate:

The sweetness of her woman's face,
The crown of her shining hair,
The subtle of her feminine grace,
Haunts us affectionately everywhere.

The marriage bells are ringing,
The pretty girls are singing,
The boys all look willing,
And love, yes, love is thrilling.

BIBS AND MORE BIBS FOR PRINCESS MARY'S SONS

London, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Masters George and Gerald Lascelles, sons of Princess Mary, have more bibs probably than any other boys in the world.

Not only their mother cannot resist buying nice new bibs whenever she sees them, but the boys' grandmother, Queen Mary, also has a leaning in the same direction. She buys the boys a bib every time she visits a charity bazaar or a shop where such articles are displayed.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE"

I S. Peter 2:17: — "Honor the King."

This is an Apostolic injunction which we cannot literally obey. The King is the ruler and representative of a monarchy; but our beloved land, being a Republic, has no King.

We should not throw the text aside, however, as if it had no message for us. The principle involved in the command of S. Peter is just as binding upon us as though we lived in England, Norway or Spain.

Adapting the words to our present condition we may say that they mean "Honor the President," and are illustrative of S. Paul's statement to the Romans, "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers."

Even in monarchies it was not always easy to obey this command. Many a brave heart suffered because of the apparent impossibility of honoring the King and honoring God at the same time.

Robert Atkins, one of the clergy ejected from his living, in 1662, for conscience's sake, thus defends himself: — "Let him never be accounted a sound Christian that doth not both fear God and honor the King. I beg that you would not interpret our nonconformity to be an act of impeachableness and disloyalty. We will do anything for His Majesty but sin. We will hazard anything for him but our souls. We hope we could die for him, only we dare not be named for him. We make no question, however we may be accounted of here, we shall be found loyal and obedient subjects at our appearance before God's tribunal."

In the church of St. Lawrence at Ludlow, in Shropshire, England, I have seen the memorial to the Salwey family of Puritan fame, which bears their motto: — "Pro fege saepe pro republica semper." — "For the King, for the country always."

We should be thankful that we live in a land where no such conflict between conscience and "the divine right of Kings" will ever trouble us. Yet, the call to render honor to our Chief Executive is not unneeded today. We have not always been fair to our Presidents. No sooner is the election over, and our Chief Magistrate is sworn in, than nearly half the people begin to question his motives, criticize his acts, and cover him with epithets of contempt and abuse.

Allan L. Benson, in the September number of "The Dearborn Independent," says, "Washington so suffered from the unscrupulous politicians of his day that he said he would rather be in his grave than in office."

Yet more recently, within living memory, was not the immortal Woodrow Wilson the object of the bitterest vituperation and grossest calumny, even from leaders of the people whose intelligence and political position would have led us to expect fair play if not respect?

When Senators and Representatives so far forget themselves in their political calumny, even from lead expected from the common people?

Even in lands where Kings rule for life, and, as in the case of Rome in the Apostles' day, bad Kings at that, Christians were exhorted by both Peter and Paul to show respect to those in authority over them.

In our day and country there is absolutely no excuse for the all-too-common discourtesy shown to our President, why, by our will and vote he can be removed from office if we so determine.

We should honor our President irrespective of his personal character. We should honor him for the office he fills by the sovereign will of the people. We should honor him because he yields more power and carries heavier responsibilities than any "mere King;" and, in our own history, that power has been almost invariably used for the good of the whole people, and the upbuilding of our national greatness. We should honor him because "there is no power but of God; the powers that be "are ordained of God."

Another consideration may be mentioned. When one impugns a ruler unjustly, one condemns the majority of one's fellowmen who elected him. That is not LESE MAJESTE, but it is a sin against the Brotherhood which Christ established among men. When we deny honesty and integrity to the majority, we undermine "the fellowship" and befool our own nest!

In the morning and evening service of the Book of Common Prayer, "God is asked to bless the President "and all others in authority." Our proudest boast is that our firm constitutional government is second to none in all the world. Our patriotism is based on the belief that God is with us and for us, and that He gives His blessing to all those who, in the spirit of loyalty and with pure motives, seek to do His will.

We who render "honor to whom honor is due," and who pray for all "in authority" over us, will ourselves be active in making our prayers come true.

In the 16th Century the central part of London burned down. The suffering of the people was terrific, but one hope buoyed up their spirits: they would rebuild a new and better London.

Sir Christopher Wren drew up the plans. St. Paul's Cathedral was to be the center of the restored city. But when the plan was to be put into practical effect so many people insisted that their homes must be placed exactly where they were before the fire that the whole project was abandoned, and the new and better London was not built. They reared the city once again upon the old foundations.

If our city is to become a city of God, the work must begin in our own lives. As S. John of old saw the version of the new Jerusalem, the old city cleansed and beautified, so we need to see the vision of our city made new by the grace of God and the social service of His people. Having once glimpsed the vision let us seek to surely make it a reality. The first step will be to "honor all others in authority."

"No mystic voices from the heavens above No satisfy the souls which Christ confess;

Their heavenly vision is in works of love, A new age summons to new saintliness.

Before th' uncloistered shrine of human needs And all unconscious of the worth or price, They lay their fragrant gifts of gracious deeds Upon the altar of self-sacrifice."

London, Oct. 2.—(AP)—London is in for a vogue of pink if modistes and women's dress arbiters have their way.

Bond street has developed the pink wave and is showing it in its exclusive stores the daintiest of garments, from outdoor costumes to "undies" all in shades of pink.

After 30 years Shakespeare has at last arrived in London's dockland Sir Frank Benson, the veteran actor who has toured the United States and Canada with a Shakespearean repertoire has introduced "The Bard of Avon" to an audience of the Canningtown branch of the Dockland settlement.

Jack Beckett, former champion heavyweight prize fighter of Great Britain, has adopted the profession of race track book maker.

With a bookie's satchel swinging from his neck, a sign telling the world of his new calling and a roaring voice bawling odds on horses, Beckett is a familiar figure at the race meetings.

Paris, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Restaurant menus are to be recognized as works of art in the great restaurants of Paris.

Demands from the customers for the names of the men who have prepared supper dishes that have pleased as well as a realization on the part of the proprietors that it is good business to make the names known, have led to the step.

Some proprietors fear, however, that the removal of a Hon-dred chef from one restaurant to another will have the effect of taking away patronage. The move, at any rate, is considered likely to raise the salaries of cooks who already have achieved enviable reputations with a discriminating clientele.

That French Cardinals and prelates of the church are to be permitted to wear artificial silk stockings is the welcome news from Rome received at headquarters of the church here, where the high cost of living has struck as hard as in the homes of humble wage earners.

Permission also has been granted for the dignitaries of the church to wear artificial furs instead of real ones, which are becoming exceedingly rare. The order applies to all prelates.

M. Poincare, like most noted men, has his double. He has even several. The most striking came into a boulevard cafe. He had the same closely trimmed pointed white beard, the same vigorous carriage, the same piercing glance. Only the waist line was a little more pronounced than that of France's premier but so little that several of those present really believed that it was M. Poincare himself and stood up to do him honor. Then the man began to talk. He spoke German.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—(AP)—President Von Hindenburg today is celebrating his 79th birthday. The field marshal has a record of not having missed a single day from attending to the duties of his office, which is better than any of his cabinet ministers can claim.

During his summer vacation last year and the present year the President daily attended to his correspondence and received reports from governmental departments. Despite his age he scorned the idea of a physician being in attendance upon him. He believes, regular living is the best recipe for health. Well washers, as well as critics, who feared the executive duties, especially those of a social nature, would prove too onerous, for the aged field marshal now admit they were Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Charles Puffy, the rotund Hungarian comedian, will graduate into the featured comedian class at the conclusion of his present series of two reels.

Whenever a foreign director, player or camera man shows signs of talent, he is offered a fat contract in Hollywood.

Although Robert Ober, the former husband of Maude Fulton, famous actress and playwright, was a prominent leading man on the stage, he has been playing the roles of villains in motion pictures.

Bull Montana has a rival. George Kotsanos, Greek wrestler, signed for the role of 'The Monk', a half-wit brute of the London underworld in 'The Tin Tin's' new picture, 'White London Sleeps'.

Montana was a wrestler before he entered the films. Believing his blunt nose and cauliflower ears may also have a feature in the movies, Kotsanos cancelled wrestling engagements in Columbus, Ohio; Atlanta, Ga., and El Paso, Texas.

Jan Hersholt, well-known character actor, has started work on his first farce comedy, 'The Wrong Mr. Wright'.

Hersholt, although only 31 in real life, is noted for his portrayals of aged men. In 'The Wrong Wright', he is rich but reluctant 'button king' who falls into the hands of the Broadway 'gimmie' girls.

Cecil B. DeMille, noted director and producer, has completed selection of actors to portray the Twelve Apostles in his story of the life of Christ.

Judas Iscariot will be played by Joseph Schildkraut; Peter by Ernest Torrence; John the beloved disciple, by Joseph Striker, and Matthew, the publican, by Robert Edson.

DeMille wanted Charlie Ray for the role of John, but was unable to complete negotiations for the borrowing of Ray from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Considering the enormous quantities of petroleum products that are transported—in a number of states they actually constitute the greatest single item of tonnage by rail—so low a ratio is remarkable, and proves the effectiveness of the precautionary measures.

TRY OUR WANT ADS INDIGESTION

North Carolina Lady Says She Had An Awful Time With Indigestion, Till She Took Black-Draught.

Pilot Mountain, N. C.—'For several years I suffered with a bad case of chronic indigestion,' says Mrs. Sam C. Inman, of this place. 'I had bad spells with my stomach. At times I had severe pains in my right side. My stomach would get upset and I would have an awful time. It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I was in pretty bad shape.

'My husband had been using Theford's Black-Draught for some time for indigestion. He had spells of it too, so he suggested that I try Black-Draught. I took some from his box, just to see if it would help me, and I found it was the very thing for my trouble. It did me a great deal of good. My condition was brought on by a chronic case of constipation and, by getting relief from this, I found my general health was much better.

'We keep Black-Draught in the house all the time. Whenever I find I need it, I take several doses and thus avert a bad spell of indigestion. It is a splendid medicine and I am glad to say so.'
