BRUNSWICK NEGRO JAILED ASSAULT ON WHITE WOMAN

John Gore Arrested After All-Night Search by Officers With Blood Hounds

Wilmington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Bloodhounds were said to have been placed in use early this morning on the trail of a negro, who is charged with an attempted attack on a prominent white woman of South Port last night.

The negro was said to have entered the woman's home about 11 o'clock. A posse of citizens was also engaged in the search.

Wilmington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—John Gore, negro, today was placed in the Brunswick county jail after an all-night search by sheriff deputies and blood hounds following his alleged attempt to attack a white woman at South Port last night.

Reports from the authorities at South Port were to the effect that the negro entered the home of the woman, but as he was approaching her she screamed and ran to a door. The negro became frightened and made his escape.

Blood hounds were rushed down from Smithfield and took up the trail. They were said to have followed the negro to his home, reaching there at five o'clock this morning. The authorities said that the dogs went directly to the negro's bed. In the meantime he had come out of a fishing boat for his day's work. A launch was obtained and he was later placed under arrest.

Gore told the authorities that he knew nothing of the matter.

SUNDAY BLUE LAW WILL BE ENFORCED IN PENNSYLVANIA

Sunday Baseball, Football, Tennis and Other Sports Must Cease Under District Attorney's Order

Pittsburgh, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's second largest city today faced the prospect of a 'sportless' Sunday with an additional ban on Sunday sales of tobacco and confections, a strong probability.

Involving the blue laws of 1794 which had been ignored for more than a century by police officials, James M. Clark, Pittsburgh director of Public Safety yesterday prohibited the playing of any Sunday sport, including baseball, football, golf, tennis and quilts, and then declared he would strictly enforce every phase of the blue laws which ban all Sunday activities but that "necessary for life."

Talk of applying for an injunction to prevent carrying out of his director's order was heard in football circles but nothing definite along that line has been heard. Doubt whether such an injunction should be obtained was expressed by Samuel H. Gardner, district attorney of Allegheny county.

Under the director's orders all Pittsburgh golf courses and tennis courts, whether on public or private property, will be closed on Sunday, unless legal efforts forestall Clark's move.

If Clark goes ahead with his plans to enforce literally all phases of the blue law all stores in the city will have to close with the exception of drug stores, which, however, will be allowed to sell only medical and sick room supplies. Some doubt was expressed whether he had the authority to issue such a drastic order.

The campaign against Sunday sports began a week ago when a minister protested against the playing of a football game near his church on Sunday.

On the Pennsylvania Flyer. Your Uncle's Pocketbook. 160 Minutes in Chicago. Two Things to See. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Written on the 'Broadway Limited,' the Pennsylvania Flyer, Chicago to New York, this long train of steel cars, rolling in 20 hours from one to the other of the two greatest cities in America, is a great credit to this country and its railroad men. It carries you through a thousand miles of intensive American industry and farming, one third of the country's width.

Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York. Those four city names mean everything that is solid, powerful, and heaven knows how many billions of dollars. This railroad is an almost straight line cut through the heart of the east. You just travel over it to see the inside of Uncle Sam's pocket.

You have two hours and forty minutes in Chicago, where you change from the Santa Fe to the Pennsylvania, travelling from the Pacific to the Atlantic. And in 169 minutes spent in Chicago you can see a great deal.

A city forever restlessly building and improving. A park system maintained for the people, whose children play on the grass, not for the few—as in New York City.

Great steel works and ninety per cent of the nation's packing industry. A wonderful waterfront, equaled nowhere in the world. Stupendous business buildings, and most valuable to all, absolute discount with everything accomplished this far.

Two things that you must see in Chicago are the full size reproductions of two great Etruscan statues of Chicago's art gallery on Michigan avenue. On the left as you enter is Colleon, sitting on his magnificent war horse, as he has sat in Venice for nearly 500 years. On the right that other magnificent 'Condottiere Gattamelata.' Give eighty of your one hundred and sixty minutes to these two statues, and you can afford to miss the stock yards and several other attractions.

The power in the two horses and two Venetian fighting men you will find nowhere else. Verrocchio made the statue of Colleon, Donatello that of Gattamelata. There is more power in Colleon's left shoulder thrown forward than in all the Mongrel prize fighters that the ring has ever bred.

There is more dignity in the older fighting man Gattamelata than you could extract from the bulldogged essence of our entire Senate and the House of Representatives thrown in.

Chicago should remember that those statues were made to stand in the open in the brilliant sun of Italy. Not hidden away in the dull gray light of a cloudy day.

Perhaps Samuel Insull, who raises good horses and owns Chicago's light and power, will provide an imitation of sunlight for those two most magnificent Etruscan statues in all the world.

Nothing has ever been done and nothing like them can ever be done again. For the individual fighting man is replaced by the demon in a gas mask and the war horse is gone to make room for the airplane and the tank.

Also, artistic Chicago, why do you tuck your reproduction of the Venus of Milo away in the corner of a storehouse? That immortal Greek lady was not made for such fate, never intended to 'balance' another plaster cast on the other side of the stairs.

Give her a fine room to herself, or cover her up. Show respect for the greatest woman ever created, if only to influence the army of little Chicago girls that sit copying with their cot in Russian smocks, their pink silk stockings, and their eager faces.

This is really the land of opportunity now as in the past. Consider Henry Ford's case. Twenty-five years ago he was night engineer in the Detroit electric light plant earning $125 a month. Now he is probably the richest man in the world. He makes. (Continued on page 8)

EXTENDS THIRTY MILLION CREDIT COTTON GROWERS

Chairman of Federal Farm Board Assures Cotton Association Government Will Extend Credit

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Government has extended a $30,000,000 credit to co-operative marketing associations for the orderly marketing of the cotton crop.

A. C. Williams, chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board, assured the co-operative associations in a message today that the government was willing to extend any amount of credit for marketing of the crop. Of the $30,000,000 in commitments made by the intermediate credit banks, $7,000,000 in aid already has been drawn. The average of Mr. Williams to one of the managers of the co-operative marketing association read as follows:

"Intermediate credit banks are the only willing to extend proper credit for the orderly marketing of cotton through soundly organized and properly managed co-operative marketing associations.

"I am confident you will find a willingness on the part of all interested to co-operate in any sound plan for marketing this year's cotton crop."

While it is believed by some officials that perhaps more than $30,000,000 will be required to market the crop satisfactorily, none would state how far the Federal and Banks or the Intermediate credit banks would go in this regard.

MUST WAGE WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS AMONG CHILDREN

Speakers at National Meeting Urge Protection for Babies and School Children

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Protection of school children and babies against tuberculosis was urged today as the most immediate and viable method for controlling the ravages of that disease by speakers at the 22nd annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. J. H. Elliott, of Toronto, said a program for control of the disease in childhood must include the discovery and supervision of all open cases, isolation of far advanced cases in contact with children, examination of all children of school age and those younger than school age, and the adequate treatment of all physical defects in childhood. This system, he added, had reduced the tuberculosis death rate among children in Toronto from 240 per 100,000 to as low as 65 per cent 100,000.

Couple Injured In Auto Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Pagett, of Beaufort county, suffered painful injuries late yesterday afternoon when their automobile collided with a school truck near Farmville. Mr. and Mrs. Paggett were rushed here to the Pitt Community hospital, where they received medical attention and were soon able to leave for their home.

England Fails in Effort to Settle Long Coal Strike

London, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Government's last attempt to settle the long drawn out coal strike has failed. A conference of the Miners' Federation today unanimously adopted a resolution rejecting the proposals of the Government after the announcement had been made that a district vote favored rejection 737,000 to 42,000.

FUNERAL SERVICES OFFICER NOBLES HELD YESTERDAY

Motorcycle Officer Died Tuesday From Injuries Received Last Saturday Night

Funeral services for Officer J. L. Nobles, who died Tuesday morning as a result of injuries received Saturday night, were conducted in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church yesterday afternoon, followed by interment in Greenwood cemetery, the new cemetery located just east of this city on the Washington highway. According to first announcements made interment was to have been in Bethel cemetery, but it was decided later that it was fitting that the Greenville police officer who lost his life while on duty should be the first to be buried in the new cemetery, and funeral arrangements were changed accordingly.

The services in the church were conducted by Rev. L. B. Jones, pastor, while those at the grave were in charge of Bethel Masonic Lodge, of which the deceased was a member. Members of Wilson, Rocky Mount, Farmville and Greenville police departments were the active pall bearers.

$106,900.00 Paid to People of Greenville

The Home Building and Loan Association is now maturing its 29th series. Fifty-four savers that believe in the Building and Loan way of saving, have carried 1069 shares to maturity, which means $106,900 will be paid to these savers in canceled mortgages on their homes and cash to those who did not borrow.

The four series matured by this association in the last two years totaled 4010 shares. That means the savers of our city have been paid $401,000 by this association in two years.

The Home Building and Loan Association was organized in 1906 and since that time has made it possible for many of our people to own their homes that could never own them otherwise.

Two Families Furnish Seven Students College

Misses Viola, Eloise, Irene and Eva Scott, all sisters, are students at East Carolina Teachers College this year. They are daughters of J. B. Scott, a well-to-do farmer from Rocky Point, Pender county.

There are nine children in this family. Two brothers graduated from college last spring; one from the University of North Carolina and another from the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering. Previous to that time another brother had graduated from a business college in Wilmington. These four girls are all registered in the four-year course at East Carolina Teachers College.

The college has three representatives from another family, Misses Lois, Lizzie and Katy Mann, daughters of Dr. J. E. Mann of Middleton, Hyde County, N. C. It is rather unusual for two families to furnish 7 students for all to be at the college at the same time.

JUDGE DECLARES BE NO CHANGE IN PROHIBITION LAW

Tennessee Jurist Says Prohibition Here to Stay and Flays Violators and Their Backers

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 7.—(INS)—Modification of the prohibition law will never occur and rightfully not, Judge John M. Gore told a federal grand jury here today in his charge, officially opening the fall term of the state's Tennessee federal court.

The judge was plain in his criticism of the so-called non-believers of the prohibition act, adding that if the courts, trial judges, and attorney generals are honest in their endeavor the law can be enforced.

"The prohibition law will never be repealed or modified," said the judge. "It is here to stay and eventually should be."

Judge Gore scolded those who tried to protect violators, of the liquor laws and prevent them from receiving punishment. Even lawyers were tempted to protect wealthy members of their congregations, he said, because of their liberal contribution to the church.

The jurist called attention to a recent visit of a clergyman who called upon his court in the interest of a liquor violator, adding that the minister made a special plea on the grounds that the offender was one of his most liberal contributors to his church.

It is up to the Governor to enforce the prohibition law, the judge continued. Failure, he said, would be an admission to the Reds and Bolsheviks that their laws could not be enforced.

The judge impressed upon the jury that he had no sympathy for the big or "white collar" hoodlums, who are a menace to the community and an enemy to the American flag, he said.

DEFENSE WARSAW BANK CASE WILL TAKE STAND TODAY

Knoxville, N. C., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The state gathered up the loose ends this morning of its case against H. L. Stevens, Sr., and J. K. Powell, charged with fraud in connection with the issuance of $25,000 in alleged spurious notes of the town of Warsaw. Meanwhile the defense prepared for its lining in behalf of the accused men with the expectation that the state would close its case by noon. Court officials expressed the opinion the case would continue throughout this week.

DEFENSE COUNSEL BEGIN ARGUMENT DAUGHERTY CASE

Lawyers Begin Summing Up of Evidence in Daugherty - Miller Conspiracy Case

New York, Oct. 7.—(AP)—In a voice barely audible in a hushed and expectant court room Max D. Steuer, counsel for Harry M. Daugherty, began his summary of the former Attorney General's case in the Daugherty - Miller conspiracy trial today.

Daugherty, the first cabinet member to be brought to trial for alleged criminal acts supposed to have been committed during his tenure of office, sat in the middle of the packed court room with a folded handkerchief held constantly to his left eye, which is inflamed by cold.

Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former Allen Property Custodian, are on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States in connection with the case of $7,900,000 of impounded enemy assets.

Just before Daugherty's counsel began the summary of his case, William Hand, counsel for Miller, had committed no crime when he handed Richard Merton, the German metal magnate, two checks totaling $6,543,000 at a campaign dinner in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

Yesterday Raup analyzed the law and part of the evidence in the case.

"This campaign dinner was nothing," Raup said. "Mr. Miller was coming to New York anyway. He just brought these checks along to save time, otherwise they would have been laying around on someone's desk at Washington. That's the trouble with Washington—there's always something laying around on some one's desk."

Mrs. Gus Crandall Hurt in Auto Wreck

Mrs. Gus Crandall, who resides near Stokes, was painfully injured in an automobile wreck yesterday afternoon, while enroute to Greenville to attend the funeral of the late J. L. Nobles. Mrs. Crandall is a half-sister of Mr. Nobles. She was injured by flying glass, and while her injuries were not considered of a serious nature, she was unable to attend the funeral.

SEND RADIO SIGNATURE FROM SAN FRANCISCO FOR DOCUMENTS IN HONOLULU

Honolulu, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Radio photography was called in to use recently to transfer the signature of Robert D. Shingle, territorial senator from San Francisco to Hawaii. Shingle, who desired to run for re-election had previously forwarded his application papers by mail from San Francisco, but had forgotten to sign them.

The papers could not be accepted in this shape and as only a few hours remained until the period for filing would elapse, it looked as if Shingle would have to be left out of the running.

It was at this point that he thought of the radio and immediately set about having the photograph of his signature sent over the wireless. The signature came in perfectly clear and readable, and was accepted by the election officials.

YANKEES TAKE FIFTH GAME WORLD SERIES TODAY BY SCORE 3-2

Ninth Inning Rally By Yankees Ties Score and Carries Pitchers' Duel Between Pennock and Sherdell Into the Tenth Inning

Sportsman's Park, St. Louis.—(AP)—Rallying at the close of a hard fought pitcher's duel between Sherdell and Pennock, the Yankees defeated the Cardinals 3 to 2 in ten innings in the fifth world series game here today. The American Leaguers led the score in the ninth and sent over the winning run in the tenth inning.

Yankees—A cheer went up when Eddie Southworth who is leading the Cardinals in hitting went out into the right field. Sherdell went to the box and sprinkled his hands with resin. Combs up. Strike on it was called; ball one, low and outside. Combs bled out to Hafey. Kouss up. Therenow threw out Kouss at first after the latter had lightly tapped the first ball. Ruth up. The crowd gave him a big cheer. Ball one; strike one, called. It was a slow inside curve. Ball two, high and inside. Hornsby threw out Ruth at first as the Babe went after a slow ball. No runs, no hits, no errors.

the regular state and county primary. To away with one of them, hold them both at the same time, and save the state $750,000 quadrennially, the committee will urge the legislature.

The committee also will suggest that the regular state and county primary be held in May instead of in August, as is now the custom. This, the members contend, would give the candidates for elective offices three months additional time in which to wage their campaigns.

The presidential primary every fourth year also would be held in May, of the same time.

SAYS COORDINATED CAR AND BUS SERVICE BUILDS

Cleveland, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Local transportation is being strengthened nationally by coordinated car and bus service, Frank R. Coates, of New York, president of the American Electric Railway Association, told its convention here today.

"The street railway has shown itself to be a necessity, but it is the duty of electric railway managements to use the bus in rendering the best form of coordinated service," he said.

Mr. Coates predicted that in the future street railway and bus riders would pay in fares only the actual cost of carrying passengers. Expenditure, for plant and depreciation, he said, would be met by taxes levied on property owners who holdings were made more valuable by the presence of transportation lines.

Columbus, O., Oct. 7.—(INS)—Ohio only dispense with the extra presidential preference primary held every four years, coinciding with the regular state and county primary, and thus save the voters hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mexico Tries to Exterminate the Yaqui Indians

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Engaged in a bitter and unrelenting fight for more than a century, with horrors and atrocities so barbaric as to be almost incomprehensible to the mind of the north, the citizens of Mexico and the lawless, musty Yaqui Indians are locked in their final struggle to the death. Now the feud that has boiled between the two races for years in culminating in a war for the extermination of the Yaquis, and as the campaign under the command of the much killed General Alvaro makes its way into the Yaqui a new light is breaking on the causes of the enmity.

That new light is the discovery that stark fear of the savages has preyed upon the minds of the easy going Mexicans for years, that the mere phrase "the Yaquils are coming" has become a watchword dreaded throughout the northwest of Mexico. Now 15,000 men are constantly being augmented by infantry and cavalry.

No accurate information is available as to the exact force of the Indians. Reports vary from 2,000 to 12,000.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

JOHN ROBINSON'S CIRCUS TO VISIT THIS SECTION DURING NEXT WEEK

The earth's pioneer circus, John Robinson's, will soon be in our midst, as the billboard, throughout the country proclaims in loud and lurid colors, its coming to Wilson, Wednesday, October 13; Kingston, October 14th, and Washington, October 16th, for afternoon and night performances.

Hundreds of circus lovers of this community are making plans to attend the circus that day, as the merit and superiority of John Robinson's circus is well known here.

John Robinson comes this year with an entirely new performance from the opening of the gorgeous spectacle, to the sensational and thrilling finishing number, Europe and the Orient were sacked for stovettes and features by representatives of the circus last winter, and the foremost wild animal acts of the universe were purchased and added to the Robinson double menagerie.

Such noted trainers of the steel arena as C. P. Theodor, Theo. Schroeder, Joe Carle, Bert Noyes, Margaret Thompson, Carl Bruce and Dewey Butler will send their juggle charge, through remarkable routines, another special attraction will be Carlo's Caroon contingent of Wild West Champions, including cowboys, cowgirls and a tribe of Sioux Indians from the Pine Ridge reservations in South Dakota.

Regular circus features and acts will also have prominent places on the lengthy program. The Rudy Rodyboff Family of Teeserian, from Austria; the Ben Mohamid Arabs from Arabia; the Four Barron Girls from England; Senzita Piedad Morales, from Mexico; Reno McCree Troupe from Australia; Petite Tena from Japan, and the Eddys from London, are but a few of the noted acts.

Clown tricks will have a contingent of fifty famous fun makers, boys who know the art of extracting chuckles and grins from young and old. Shivers Johnson, Jack Harris, Abe Goldstein, George Herman, the Simpson Twins, Jack Tenon, Joe O'Brien, and Joe Wilds are but a few of the famous "meny" makers.

but we will answer for you, "NO."
Greenville and Pitt county offer advantages surpassed by no other section in the country but apparently we are satisfied to rest on our laurels of past growth and accomplishments and are making no effort to add to our progress. We are ASLEEP.

The Reflector for a long time has realized that our city is making no effort to attract outside attention and from time to time has urged through these columns the organization of a Chamber of Commerce or the establishment of a fund for use by the Merchants' Association in telling Greenville's advantages to the world. To date no definite action has resulted from the suggestions and appeals, and today we find ourselves standing still with no means of furnishing desired information to persons who seek same.

Every week numbers of letters are received, asking information about Greenville but all the information that can be furnished is just a brief outline in letter form as there is no such thing as an attractively gotten up booklet or pamphlet on Greenville and its advantages.

Just a day or two ago, the mayor of our city received a letter from a Chamber of Commerce in the middle west, containing information that there were industries in that section better suited economically to eastern North Carolina and information on Greenville was desired. The writer stated that he was requesting this information from the mayor, due to the fact that Greenville had no Chamber of Commerce and he knew not whom to write.

Such is the condition here. We are letting opportunities pass because we are making no effort to take advantage of them.
The local Merchants' Association has kindly consented to take charge of and distribute such information on Greenville, provided interested citizens would provide them with funds for the printing of same, but apparently no one is interested as no help has come forward.

In another effort to carry on the work of putting Greenville to the front, The Reflector desires to ask for public contributions of money to be turned over to the Merchants' Association to be used in this work. Let your contributions come in. Public acknowledgement through our columns will be made, and the funds will be placed in the hands of men familiar with the work of properly advertising a community and the returns on your investment will be in the form of new business enterprises and residents for Greenville.

If you have an opinion in the matter, be on hand at tonight's meeting and make your opinion known. If you do not attend the meeting and voice your opinion in the matter later, criticism of the action taken by the board would be useless and unjust. Let the men you have chosen to run your city know how you desire it run.

PRESS COMMENT

TRAINED TEACHERS

(Newbernian)
There is a great scarcity of teachers who have had two to four years of professional training in addition to a high school education, complains the secretary of the National Education association. In one state there are nearly 3000 teachers who have had schooling only from the sixth to the tenth grade.
Of course, a bright, intelligent girl with a knack for handling young people, might get more real work out of some of these little sluggards and dunces than one with better education who was naturally phlegmatic. No amount of training can make a real teacher out of a slow-witted young woman.
But professional training shows a teacher how to use the tools of her trade. She learns the methods by which in all ages teachers have aroused sleepy pupils from their indifference. The states must all be generous with normal school privileges, so shall not be a costly proposition to obtain this training.

TRYING CASES IN PUBLIC

(News & Observer)
The worst of scandals and stealing and errors in this country in recent years has been around the alien property matters. The trial in New York proves how rotten that transaction was. It is only typical of many others.
The Government, believing there was something wrong in the sale of the old Bosch Magneto company, which was German-owned and which had been taken over by the alien property custodian, brought suit for five million dollars against the firm of Hornblower and Weeks, bankers, who were concerned in the reorganization of the company after the custodian's sale of the business. The case ought to be determined by the evidence, but the remarkable thing is seen when the senior member of the firm of Hornblower and Weeks declares the Attorney General is guilty of "unfounded harassment" in bringing the suit and Elihu Root, Jr., joins Mr. Hornblower in a public attack on the government for its action. Mr. Root finds that the department of justice is pursuing the defendant with "relentless hostility." He is a member of the New York law firm that has charge of the defendants' legal interests.
Such bitter denunciation indicates there is "something rotten in Denmark." Lawyers who are confident of their case do not abuse the government. Certainly the Department of Justice cannot be charged with hostility to big bankers. Quite the contrary. When it brings a suit of this character it is not to be doubted that it believes it is doing its plain duty. Mr. Root and Mr. Hornblower are injuring their case by abusing the Attorney General. If they have a good case, let them present it with out abuse. Everything connected with the alien property custodian business is under suspicion, some of it doubtless unfounded, but the courts will separate the honest from the dishonest transactions.

CHILDREN'S ILLS

Arkansas Lady Says She Has Never Found a Better Laxative Than Theford's Black-Draught.

Mineral Springs, Ark.—"We use Black-Draught in our family of six children," says Mrs. C. E. Nutt, of this place, "and we find it a good bowel regulator. I give it to my children for colds and constipation, or any other stomach disorders, and it certainly is very helpful. I have never known it to fail them. Where there are so many children, it is a good idea to keep a laxative on hand, and Black-Draught is what we use."
"I have taken it myself for indigestion. I would feel dizzy, have gas and sour stomach. I would also feel a tightness in my chest. I took a good dose of Theford's Black-Draught when I felt that way and it would relieve me. I would feel better for days."
"My husband takes Black-Draught for biliousness. He says he has never found its equal. When he has been tired, heavy feeling, he takes Black-Draught night and morning for a few days and he doesn't complain any more. I sure do recommend Black-Draught."
Sold everywhere. Get a package of Black-Draught, today. Cost only one cent a dose.

This Season They Are Wearing

This black frock of sheer crepe, emphasizing the uneven hem line and slight blousing, is trimmed with erca lace. It is typical of the varied models which emphasize the popularity of black in both crepes and satins.

LACE AND BLACK CREPE

With this frock one might appropriately wear one of the very smart small velvet hats, light colored silk hose and shoes of patent leather in one of the stunning strip or step-in models featured by Pitt Shoe Co., at $7.50 to $10.50.

That "shoes are a part of the picture" is understood and appreciated by every smartly dressed woman. That Pitt Shoe Co. also appreciate the importance of correct footwear and has chosen shoes with careful regard for garment fashions is emphasized by our Fall showing of footwear for every costume and occasion of the new season.

Says Anti-Rum Forces at Work Early as 1805

Simsbury, Conn., Oct. 7.—AP—Hard liquor drinking in the young United States was frowned upon by cold water advocates as early as 1805 for correspondence just brought to light tells of the formation of a temperance society in that year claim for which is made that it was the first of its kind in the country.

The body called itself the Simsbury Aquatic Society, although it had nothing to do with swimming.

The correspondence was brought out by Nathan L. Miller, of Bloomfield, grandson of Benjamin, Ely, author of the records and letters and clerk of the society. The letter showed that the "drys" of 1805 were fully as earnest in their efforts to promote sobriety through non-use of liquors as those of the present generation, and they had the fighting spirit in trying to enforce their rules. The notes tell of early skirmishes of prohibitionists of that day, who were treated with contempt and scorn of most of their neighbors. Although the letters fail to reveal the total membership of the society, one dated August 13, 1805, showed that three kept their vows.

In an early letter Mr. Ely suggested that the cooperation of school teachers be sought in the movement, saying: "There would be an end of balls, gambling, tavern hunting, etc., and the money now wasted in these wicked vanities would be laid out in the purchase of useful books and the time spent in dance, would be employed in reading."

Another exhibit is one "to Asa Humphrey—about June 25, 1805" entitled, "First Book of Chronicles of the Aquatics, Chapt. 31." This letter, written in biblical phraseology told of a neighbor who, having taken the pledge fared much better physically, mentally and financially. It warned against one Jesse who "hath joined himself to R. U. M."

The hope that the society may "continue and increase till all the Copper Stills in America shall be coined into cents" is expressed in another letter. The letters showed that a temperance pledge was renewed monthly. Other requirements for membership were: that a member guilty of profane swearing should be admonished for the first offense and expelled for the second; that each member should read at least thirty-one chapters of the Bible monthly, and that each should read something imposed by himself, or relate a story he had read in some book, or pay a fine of three cents.

Infant Immunity in Tuberculosis Test

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Infants have been successfully vaccinated against tuberculosis, Dr. B. West, director of the child welfare of the College of Medicine, Paris, said today before the National Tuberculosis convention. "B. C. G." is the name given the substance used in vaccinating infants, and the doctor said it has resulted in the reduction of mortality to less than one per hundred the first years of life, whereas the mortality among children of the same age, not so vaccinated and reared in contaminated families, is at least twenty-five per hundred.

The reports were based on the experience among infants in France, Great Britain, Belgium, and Sweden.

"This treatment is not a cure for tuberculosis," the doctor continued. "The vaccination is performed only upon infants and immediately after birth. Up to the present, only a very small number of deaths from tuberculosis is reported, or of diseases presumed to be tuberculosis. Our data as yet is insufficient to determine the probable duration of immunity. We know only that very precise experiments with calves and monkeys, as well as observations on children vaccinated since 1921, show that resistance to infection due to cohabitation with contagious tuberculosis persons continues for three years and perhaps longer."

The preparation of the vaccine used is highly technical and must be safeguarded by many precautions in the laboratories. Prof. Calmette's original vaccine was propagated through 200 generations, thus attenuating its virulence. The result was a living tuberculosis germ so weakened that it no longer possessed the faculty of forming tubercles, but retaining its ability to create a body—substance having an antagonistic effect upon the germs of the disease.

Among those who will agree that all the fools are not dead yet are the physicians—Hemphill Scribner.

Brilliant Performance and Greatly Improved Gas Mileage

"Performance like Hudson's" has long been the goal of fine car builders.

Only the costliest approach its brilliancy of action, smoothness and effortless power. The lesser cars talk of everything except performance when Hudson is mentioned.

Now with even greater performance the new model Hudsons give vastly improved gasoline mileage. They are even smoother. Power is increased. No car surpasses Hudson's reputation for acceleration, speed and flexibility. Yet fuel consumption compares with light cars of no performance distinction.

These great Hudson results are not accidental. They are the sum of years of alert pace-making leadership.

The famous Super-Six principle eliminates vibration and makes possible sustained top performance without injury to the car.

With its greater chassis, greater performance and greater economy the new model Hudsons are more beautiful in line, colors and appointment. They are the greatest values in Hudson history.

SECRECY SHROUDS PLANS TRIAL REV. NORRIS ON MURDER CHARGE

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Behind a heavy curtain of secrecy, scenes are being shifted for the southwest's greatest court drama since the trial of Santa Smith for the slaying of Chad Hadden, at Ardmore, Okla., five years ago—the trial of November 1 of Rev. R. J. Frank Norris.

Rev. Norris, militant Baptist divine, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth and nationally known fundamentalist leader will be tried on a charge of murder in the shooting to death of D. K. Chipps, prominent Fort Worth lumberman.

Chipps was slain by Norris in the latter's study, shortly before 10 p.m. July 17.

Legal proceedings at the trial are promised by both sides in the case, and both insist the trial will not be postponed, nor the case transferred to any other county, despite rumors to the contrary.

The state's case, according to its attorneys, first will be to prove that Rev. Norris killed Chipps in the pastor's study and that Chipps was married. When the state plants at the noon hour.

Rev. Norris' church paper, the Secretlight, also is conducting a circulation campaign. Many subscribers are at work in the county, obtaining subscriptions and becoming acquainted with residents of the county communities.

Arrayed on both sides of the case, when it comes to trial, will be the ablest counsel in the city, including many colorful figures of the local bar. No small part in the prosecution will be played by W. P. 'Popes' McLean, who played a stellar role in the Clara Smith-Hammon case and has been retained by relatives of Chipps to assist in the prosecution.

This month, Rev. Norris will go before his congregation to appeal for a defense fund to match the prosecution fund raised by powerful individuals backing the prosecution.

Some years ago, Rev. Norris was tried and acquitted on charges of burning his church and of perjury in testimony before the grand jury in the investigation of the arson charge.

In that case, women of Rev. Norris' church held prayer and song services in the court room. Judge George F. Hosey, one of the prosecution attorneys in that case, who will preside at the November trial, has declared that such will not be allowed in the trial in his court.

Just as irreconcilable against him. For that reason, the rumor has prevailed that the state will ask the death penalty for the minister, but that will not be known until the first prospective juror takes the stand for questioning at the trial.

Intimate friends of the pastor-slayer say that he is laboring under great worry and mental strain as the time for the trial draws near. However he continues to occupy his pulpit regularly as he did on the day after the killing.

All of Rev. Norris' witnesses were hailed before the grand jury immediately after the killing and the state has their versions in writing and under oath. It also has the written, sworn statement of Rev. Norris, given about one hour after the killing. So far, publicly known, witnesses have been composed of Norris' adherents, but the state's plan of battle avowedly has been one of no publicity.

Let Norris do all the talking now, one of the state's attorneys declared.

The state's attorneys will go no further than to say that they are prepared to expect to obtain a conviction if a good jury is selected.

Previously published versions of the killing have been based mainly, if not solely, on the two eye-witnesses—Rev. Norris and his denou, L. H. Nutt. The state promises to drive its opening wedge to shatter the defense, through the alleged discrepancies in the statements of Norris and Nutt. Each was made just after the slaying and neither contains more than 200 words.

On those statements, Rev. Norris was allowed to make $10,000 long and never has been in jail on the murder charge.

Without revealing any details of their plans of war, the special prosecutors have stated that they will be prepared to wreck Rev. Norris' version of the killing. They have said that more than one witness—Nutt—saw at least a part of the drama, climaxed by the shooting to death of Chipps.

Boone Plantation To Become Lake

Lexington, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The Daniel Boone plantation, where the pioneer erected his first home after he married Rebecca Bryan—the 1,300 acres where deer once roamed at will and fed upon the marshes of the Yadkin River—soon will become a feeding ground for perch.

The T. J. Asse Power Company has just acquired the Boone home place, as a part of the basin for a large dam to be erected on the river in the near future.

Rev. Norris, for years an apostle of sensationalism and of the Jehovah of the Old Testament, until recent weeks has gone through a stormy career. Not the least of his troubles has been that with the Southern Baptist convention and the county and state conventions.

Because of his alleged unethical practices as a pastor, Rev. Norris has been ousted from the county and state Baptist conventions. He has been in and out of the Southern association for the last several years.

On strict orders of his attorneys Norris' sensational wars against his enemies have been abated in a large measure pending the murder trial. The result of his activities, noised abroad by means of the pulpit, his own newspaper and his own powerful radio station, has been to form two definitely drawn factions in this section of the state.

The Norrisites are irreconcilable zealots of fundamentalism, and all that their pastor advocates and does. The anti-Norrisites are

FREEDOM OF AIR IS BIG PROBLEM IN NEAR FUTURE

World's Radio Conference Next Spring to Draft World Regulations; To Assign Wave Lengths for Various Nations and Provide Licenses

Washington, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Future freedom of the air has taken its place as an important international problem. American delegates to the world radio conference to be held in Washington next spring have drafted a complete set of regulations designed to meet the many complex questions growing out of increasing use of the radio. Crowding of the air, control of interference and assigning of wave lengths to be used both for radio-telegraph and for voice broadcasting are included in the program to be laid down. The American representatives will propose that each nation assign wave lengths for voice broadcasting, issue licenses for international radio stations and thus prevent the chaos which has often threatened radio broadcasting in the United States. The radio conference to be held here is regarded as of especial importance, since it is the first to consider radio-telegraph conditions since the London conference of 1912. It is called under a resolution of Congress and probably will convene in Washington about May 1. To prepare an American program for consideration an inter-departmental committee was created composed of seven representatives of the state, war navy, commerce, postoffice and agriculture departments, and U. S. Coast Guard and the U. S. Shipping Board, with Leland Harrison, assistant secretary of state as chairman. After months of work the committee has drafted its recommendations, which will go to the International Radio Union at Bern, Switzerland, for distribution to the 42 nations to be represented at the parley here. The American committee will propose that the old agreement which limited ships to wave lengths of 300,450 and 600 meters be abolished and instead certain fixed wave lengths assigned for special services such radio compass work. For general radio service the American policy will be that there should be a complete freedom of the air so long as the general radio service is not impeded. Broadcasting stations would be allowed to take any wave lengths not prohibited by their own government regulations but should interference result the matter would become a subject for international discussion. The possibility of future limitation of voice broadcasting stations in international communication will be considered. United States experts contend that the radio-telephone uses several times the amount of ether required for the radio-telegraph. The latter, they hold, must be the chief means of international radio if there is the vast development predicted by scientists. How to provide secrecy for messages also will be taken up at the conference. Revision of the international code of signals will be considered upon the report of delegates from Great Britain, who were assigned the task of reviewing the International Signal Book.

Water Situation Raleigh Getting More Serious

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Raleigh's water situation is becoming more serious daily, according to E. B. Bain, superintendent. The city's present water supply is sufficient to last the capital for 45 days, Bain estimated. This supply would be considerably diminished in case of a tremendous fire, Bain declared. Regulations have been issued prohibiting waste of water.

Somebody will do with flying machines what Ford has done in automobiles. Very likely it will be Edsel Ford, Henry Ford's son. The two pay more attention to airplanes than anybody else. Not excepting the United States government, which ought to think of nothing else for some time to come.

If you want to be richer than Ford, find a way, as the oil supply dies out, to utilize and extract easily the oil stored up in shale rock. Bonilla of the Denver Post tells you that Colorado alone has two thousand square miles of shale, a gigantic 900,000 acre oil farm, bearing at least 79 billion barrels of oil. And the shale is piled up in the air in mountains, in thin layers. Like thin books slow curve over the plate. Ball two, inside. Sherdell kicked on this one, claiming it was a strike. He came in and talked to umpire Dineen. Babe went after a wide curve for his second strike. Ruth fanned and the crowd was in an uproar. He also swung for the third strike. Meusel up. Strike one was called. O'Farrell threw a throw to the pitcher, struck Sherdell on one of his pitching fingers. Time was called and he went to the bench where the trainer looked it over. Hornsby also went to the bench to inspect the finger. Sherdell returned to the pitcher's mound after a minute or two and then it was announced the first finger on his pitching hand had been bruised. Sherdell warmed up a bit and then resumed pitching. Meusel flies out to Southworth. Combs went to third base on the catch. Gehrig up. Ball one, outside; ball two, outside; foul, strike one; ball three, low and outside. Gehrig walked. Sherdell kicked against the decision, claiming the ball was a strike. Hornsby also came over toward the home plate but went back again. The bases were now filled. Lazzari up. Strike one was called. Strike two he swung at it; ball one, outside; ball two, it hit the ground. Lazzari sent out a long one to right field but Southworth backed up against the wall and made a pretty catch. A foot further and it would have been a home run. One Cardinals—Bell up. The crowd was cheering for a rally. Bell socked the ball for two bases on the first ball pitched. Hafey up. Ball one, inside. Hafey fled out to Ruth. O'Farrell up. Ball one, inside; strike one was called; ball two, inside and low; ball three outside; foul, strike two. Bell scored when O'Farrell singled off Koenig's glove. It was O'Farrell's third hit. Thevenow up. Thevenow sent out his fly to Lazzari. Sherdell up. Strike one, he struck at it; foul, strike two; ball one, outside. Gehrig took Sherdell's grounder and touched first base. One run, two hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Yankees—Combs up. Ball two, too high; strike one was called. Combs singled over second. Koenig up. Strike one was called; foul, strike two; ball one, wide; O'Farrell saved Sherdell from a wild pitch on this one. Koenig fled out to Hafey. Ruth up. Foul, strike one. Ruth forced Combs, the play being Sherdell to Thevenow. Meusel up. Ball one, inside; ball two, outside; foul, strike one; strike two was called; ball three, too low. Sherdell was feeding Meusel some slow curves. Foul Meusel sent out a long one to left field but it fell just outside the foul line. Bell threw out Meusel at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Cardinals—Holm up. Ball one, too low; ball two, high and outside; ball three, too low; strike one was called. Holm walked. Southworth up. Foul, strike one; ball one, inside; foul, strike two. Southworth was trying to sacrifice. Southworth forced Holm, the play being Penneck to Lazzari. Hornsby up. Strike one, it was called; strike two, he swung at it; ball one, too low. Hornsby hit into a double play, the play being Lazzari to Koenig, to Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Yankees—Gehrig up. Ball one, outside. Gehrig got a two bagger into left field. It was a high fly that fell back of third base. Lazzari up. Strike one was called. Lazzari claimed he did not swing at the ball, and manager Huggins made a protest at the plate. The umpire would not listen to the protest. Lazzari bunted safely and Gehrig went to third. Dugan up. When Dugan came to the plate he was withdrawn and Paschal took his place. Paschal up. Strike one was called. Foul, strike two; ball one, outside; ball two. Gehrig scored on Paschal's Texas leaguer to second. Lazzari stopped at second. Severoid up. Severoid forced Lazzari the play being O'Farrell to Bell. Penneck up. Strike one called; ball one, outside and high; foul, strike two; ball two, outside. Penneck forced Severoid, the play being Thevenow to Hornsby. Paschal went to third. Combs up. Hornsby threw out Combs. One run, three hits, no errors.

GOOD-BYE TO CHARLESTON, WELCOME 'BOBBY JONES'

Cleveland, O., Oct. 7.—(INS)—Good-bye Charleston and Valencia, here comes the latest dance step the 'Bobby Jones' named after the Emperor of Masbie and Driver, who it is claimed originated the new ballroom feature.
Jones was seen using his new step by some members of the Ohio Dancing Teachers Association while attending a dance at the Scioto Country Club Columbus, O., during the American Open tournament. They pronounced it a decided feature and will attempt to popularize the step, which is a stamp tap dance, comprising several double time steps of Jones' origin and augmented by a combination of the Charleston and Toddle.

Cardinals—Gazella went to third base for New York. Bottomly up. Ball one, inside. Bottomly sent out a fly to Lazzari who raced back into right field to make the catch. Bell up. Foul, strike one. Gazella tossed out Bell at first. Hafey up. Koenig gathered in Hafey's pop fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.
The game went into an extra inning.
Tenth Inning
Yankees—Koenig up. Foul, strike one; ball one, low and inside; strike two, it was called. Koenig singled into left field. Ruth up. Foul, strike one. Ruth tried to sacrifice. Ball one, outside; foul, strike two. Ruth fanned off a slow ball; ball two. Koenig went to second on a wild pitch. Ball three, outside. Ruth got a base on balls, the fourth one being outside. Meusel up. O'Farrell went down to talk to Sherdell and Bell at third base. Ball one, outside; foul strike one. Meusel sacrificed Sherdell to Bottomly. Gehrig up. Hornsby came in and talked to O'Farrell. Ball one, high and outside; ball two, way outside; ball three, outside. Ball four. Gehrig was purposely walked. Lazzari up. Hornsby went over and talked with Sherdell and O'Farrell. Koenig scored on Lazzari's sacrifice fly to Hafey. Ruth held second. Gazella was hit by a pitched ball and the bases were filled. Severoid up. Ball one. Severoid flies out to Hornsby. One run, one hit, no errors.
