FIRST OF SERIES REVIVAL SERVICES HERE LAST NIGHT

Rev. H. T. Stevens of High Point, Conducting Two Weeks' Revival at Immanuel Baptist Church

A two weeks' revival service began last night in the Immanuel Baptist church, with Rev. Herman T. Stevens, formerly State Supervisor of Evangelism of the Baptist denomination, and now pastor of the Green Street Baptist church, at High Point, as evangelist.

While Mr. Stevens has never held a meeting in this section of the state, he comes highly recommended, and those who heard him on last evening were delighted with his message, his eloquent style, forcefulness of speech, and the manner in which he brought out the various points of his sermon.

Mr. Stevens had as his subject "The Pre-eminence of Jesus," using as his text Colossians 1:15-19, and Philipians 2:9-11. He brought out and developed his theme, showing the pre-eminence of Jesus in every book in the Bible, in prayer, in doctrine, in the ordinances, in song, in judgments, and in heaven. The speaker stated that we, as a people, as servants, and as children of God, must, before we are ever able to accomplish the work we are commanded to do, first of all, recognize the pre-eminence of Jesus Christ.

"We must lift up our eyes to the heavens," continued Mr. Stevens, "and recognize first of all, that God sent down to us His beloved Son, to redeem a lost world, and that whoever believeth on Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life." We must keep the faith, push onward, with our eyes ever fixed on His face, if we hope to ever win the final reward that awaits us.

The speaker closed with a plea to the people to give Christ the pre-eminent place in their hearts and that He might occupy the pre-eminent place in this series of services.

Rev. L. R. O'Brien, pastor of the church, is conducting the song service, which was a feature of last night's services. He is making an effort to organize a Junior Chorus, composed of boys and girls of 16 years of age and under, and is urging that a child of this age, who can possibly do so, to attend. A special section has been reserved for the youngsters, and the pastor stated last night that he hopes to have a Junior chorus of at least one hundred by the end of the week.

Mr. O'Brien stated also, that although the Baptist church is sponsoring the revival, all denominations are urged to participate in order that the community at large may share in the benefits to be derived from the meeting. Services will be held each afternoon at four o'clock, and each evening at 7:30. While the afternoon service is mainly for the benefit of the college girls, who cannot attend in the evening, others are urged to come. This afternoon, Mr. Stevens spoke on "When the Tide Goes Out," and tonight his subject will be "The Lordship of Jesus." The public is urged to attend at these services.

SAYS FREE TRADE VIRGINIA PAYS ONLY WAY SOLVE EUROPE'S PROBLEM

International Bankers Will Meet London Tomorrow to Report on Their Findings

Paris, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Free trade is the only means by which Europe can be brought back to a normal economic condition, in the opinion of a group of prominent European bankers and industrial leaders, who tomorrow in London will make known the result of their intensive study of economic conditions on this side of the Atlantic.

Bankers and industrialists are expected to declare that a halt must be called upon what they term "hellish prosperity" in countries that resorted to inflation, and to say that if economic problems are to be solved stabilization must be linked with the breaking down of trade barriers. This they believe is the first and most important step toward opening the road to a healthy state of business.

The statement of this group will coincide with an address by Sir Allan G. Anderson, director of the Bank of England and acting president of the International Chamber of Commerce. Sir Allan will give the results of a detailed study of business and economic conditions throughout the world.

Officers Capture Still Yesterday

Officers yesterday captured a large whiskey still in Cleod township and poured out a quantity of whiskey and about 4,000 gallons of beer. The still was in operation when the officers arrived on the scene but the negro operator, observing the approach of the officers, was successful in making his getaway. The plant was of the steam type and was of a hundred gallons capacity.

NO ORGANIZATION CAUSE OF TROUBLE SOUTHERN STATES

Tennessee Senator Says Proper Organization Must Come Before Relief is Possible

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Lack of proper organization is largely the cause of "the trouble" in the south, cotton seed crusher, of the country were told here today by Kenneth E. McKellar, United States Senator, from Tennessee.

The seed crushers met here to consider plans for relieving the depression in the market for cotton and its products, and Mr. McKellar was asked to address the meeting before a round table discussion was opened.

The provisions of the Haynes McNary farm relief bill were described by Mr. McKellar.

MUCH INTEREST IN INVESTIGATION OF FERGUSON REGIME

Texas Investigating Charges That Ferguson Received Money for Awarding Road Contracts

Austin, Texas, Oct. 19.—(AP)—What the governor's selection regarded as a routine matter so far as major city offices are concerned, Democratic party leaders today centered their attention on the investigation of charges by a legislative committee that James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, received money in connection with the awarding of highway contracts during his office administration.

Charges of irregularities in highway affairs, a major issue in Texas politics since Ferguson was elected as governor several years ago, furnish the basis of one of the hardest fought campaigns in the state's history when Mrs. Ferguson was defeated for re-election by Attorney General Dan Moody.

With the Democratic nomination considered equivalent to election, party leaders carried the highway fight into the special session called by Mrs. Ferguson to validate $100,000,000 of state road bonds declared invalid by the United States Supreme Court. The Legislature adopted a new road bond measure and before adjournment last week appointed a committee which yesterday began its hearing on the charges of acceptance of bribes by former Governor Ferguson.

BIDS FOR NEW ROAD PROJECTS OPENED TODAY

The Hall of the House of Representatives was filled with contractors interested in the various bids. The bids will meet next week to award the contracts. A bridge over the Yadkin River between Montgomery and Stanley is included in the list of structures. The Carolina Power and Light Company's dam will flood the present bridge and power company will pay the cost of the new bridge. A bridge over the Haw River in Chatham county will also be let for contract.

Hendersonville, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Governor McLean today announced plans for the establishment of a mammoth broadcasting station at Raleigh which will reach to every corner of the state and to be used primarily by the various state departments in carrying on their activities, which at present are carried on by the use of printed matter. The announcement, it was said, represented the culmination of plans the Governor has had under consideration for more than a year.

What will be the size of America's great fortune 100 years hence, with billions begetting other billions? Stephen V. Hartness, in the early days a partner of John D. Rockefeller left his widow a modest Standard Oil fortune of fifty millions. Now Mrs. Hartness is dead, and her estate totals eighty-five millions.

She was an admirably benevolent woman, giving away large sums. There was no speculation, no sudden take, just money slowly increasing in this land of fabulous wealth, like a rolling snowball.

She owned Standard Oil stocks, hundreds of thousands of shares, also thousands of shares of General Electric, telephone and telegraph, Atchafalpa and other railroad stocks.

Inheritance taxes take sixteen millions of her fortune. Her son will get sixty millions. How much will he have, if he invests in the United States, and lets arithmetic and compound earnings take their course?

Paucity and many children help to dissipate great fortunes. The wealth of the American millionaires, of whom we have several, is piling up faster than it can be spent.

But don't worry, or join the Communists. It is not what one man owns, but how he spends it, that counts. If the money goes back into industry no harm is done—except that the children of the big business men, having no incentive to make their work, usually become parasites.

Courage overcomes disaster; the brave Japanese prove it. They have risen 20 per cent in a year on the bank of Japan reduce its discount rate, and the nation will soon join Britain and the United States on a gold basis.

Protective tariff, strict economy, and abstaining from foreign loans have enabled Japan in a few years to rise from the great earthquake calamity to high prosperity, a great and courageous nation.

This column long ago warned stock gamblers that the weaker motor stocks might cause trouble. Nothing is wrong with the motor industry, but there has been excessive stimulation of buying, by urging false credits.

Bring in your old car, pay down a few dollars and drive away a new car, is too tempting to the foolish. Now cars bought too hastily, see old hand cars junked too hastily, must now be digested.

Dr. Duntop, professor of experimental psychology at John's Hopkins says that smokers are more dependable than non-smokers.

It may be true. Smoking is a substitute for thinking. A man blowing smoke into the air is not thinking up mischief, or anything else—men smoke with chin tilted upward, they think with the chin down.

The professor says there is no proof that tobacco hurts women more than men. There is proof that it makes women smell of tobacco, and that hurts their marriage chances.

SPEED ADDRESSED ROTARY MEMBERS HERE LAST NIGHT

Declared Farmers Must "Idealize the Job" if South to Get Ahead

Declaring that farmers must idealize the job if the South is to come into its own, and urging those present to get behind the farmers and help them to see the beauty and fine qualities in their work, John Speed, Editor of Southern Agriculturist, addressed the meeting of the Rotary Club here last night.

He pointed out that the South is primarily an agricultural center of the nation and that farming is one of the greatest vocations. Referring to the diaries of George Washington, the speaker showed how this first farmer of the nation took delight in his work, studied every detail and kept records that enabled him at all times to know just what he had and the progress he was making in this chosen work.

As a result of this, he said, George Washington died leaving three quarters of a million dollars he had earned from his farms. The South has most of the pure Anglo-Saxon blood that is left in this country, he declared, and in time if our nation is to live it is the South that must make it possible. The farmers must be made to see the flowers in their work and must stick to the farms if the South is to be prepared to take its proper place in the affairs of the nation, he said.

Prior to the address by Mr. Speed, the club transacted routine matters and inducted one new member into the club. F. C. Harding, recently elected to the club was present and the address of induction was delivered by J. B. Kittrell.

A special committee reports the club voted unanimously to have a "Ladies' Night" in the near future and the entertainment committee was instructed to make arrangements for same.

J. J. White delivered a short address on Who and What I Am. One address is being altered on this subject each meeting, night and the series has been greatly enjoyed.

In the absence of W. H. Ball, president, and Curtis Perkins, vice president, the meeting was presided over by W. W. Lee.

BELIEVE ATTEMPT MADE TO POISON SCHOOL CHILDREN

Teacher Almost Strangled When She Lifted Top From Cooler Containing Sulphuric Acid

Somerset, Ky., Oct. 19.—(AP)—An apparent effort to poison school children here is being investigated today by parents and school authorities. Mrs. Betha Mize, the teacher, when she arrived in the school yesterday, discovered several window panes had been broken and the door was open. When she lifted the top from a water cooler she was almost strangled by the smoke. Further investigation revealed that the water cooler had been poisoned with sulphuric acid.

The Short Creek neighborhood is a farming and timbering community and residents of the section can offer no reason for a wholesale attack on their children.

185TH EDENTON CONVOCAION IN SESSION HERE

Opening Session Held Last Night; Hundreds of Delegates in Attendance

The Edenton Convocation convened in St. Paul's Episcopal Church yesterday at 7:30 p. m., with sermon by Rev. G. F. Cameron, rector of St. James Church, Ayden, who spoke on the text, "Where There is No Vision the People Perish," and pointed out that our country is still largely pagan in the fields of industry and agriculture. Mr. Cameron especially deplored the fact that many of our political and industrial leaders opposed the proposed industrial survey of working conditions for women in North Carolina, and the fact that a state of practical peonage exists in many of our farming districts. At this service the Rev. H. M. Green, of Winston, and the Rev. J. N. Bynum, of Belhaven, read the Evening Prayer.

Holy Communion was celebrated this morning by the Rev. R. B. Dwyer, D. D., of Edenton, assisted by the Rev. F. T. Jilson, of Hertford.

The Convocation was duly opened this evening at 9:30 by the Dean, the Rev. J. N. Bynum, of Belhaven. Reports were made by the various clergymen, showing that continued progress is being made in the rural work of the church. The Rev. Alexander Miller, rector of St. Paul's Church, Wilmington, discussed the state of the church, and emphasized the importance of rendering accurate reports. The Rev. Walter B. Noe, executive secretary of the Diocese of East Carolina, Wilmington, explained the Every Member Campaign, and stated that its success was due, in large measure to the support and industry of the clergy.

At 12:30 p. m. the Convocation adjourned and went to the Rotary Club building where the women of St. Paul's Church served a bountiful dinner.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of East Carolina is meeting in the Memorial Baptist Church simultaneously with the clerical part of the Convocation. Their leader is Mrs. Henry J. MacMillan, of Wilmington; their vice-president is Mrs. Richard Williams, of Greenville. Social Service was presented by Mrs. Carl Bowers, and Educational Work by Mrs. Mae Wood Winslow, of Hertford.

Social service was presented by Mrs. Carl Bowers and educational work by Mrs. Mae Wood Winslow, of Hertford.

Close to Million Pounds of Tobacco Sold Here Yesterday at Average of $34.70 Per Hundred Pounds

The Greenville Tobacco Market yesterday eclipsed all prices records of the season when the entire sale averaged $34.70 per hundred pounds, and growers who sold here were delighted with the outcome of their sales. Offerings today will reach the million pound mark but indications at the noon hour were that all sales would finish before the closing hour this afternoon.

Official figures on yesterday's sales made public by K. W. Coak, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade, showed that 934,375 pounds sold for $32,405.50 at an average of $34.70 per hundred pounds. This is two cents per pound higher than the season's highest average here prior to yesterday, and it is believed to be much higher than the average made by any market in the state this season.

For the season to date the market has sold close to twenty-three million pounds at an average of approximately twenty-seven cents a pound. Sales to date this season have surpassed sales of the same period last season by 10 million pounds, which is indication of the rapid growth of the Greenville Tobacco Market.

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The auto license bureau today announced the setting of a contract for 514,000 license plates for automobiles to be used next year. The contract was let on a basis of $49.12 per thousand. This year 154,000 plates were purchased at $59.02 per thousand.

The 1927-28 plates will have a grey background and the numbering will be in red. Instead of being the monogram "N. C." as at present, the plate letters "N. C." will be used, it was stated.

Palmetto Tree Being Turned To Furniture

Atlanta, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The noble palmetto tree, emblematic of the state of South Carolina, is about to attain its second place in the history of the United States. This time it will be chronicled in the annals of furniture manufacturing.

The tree received first historical mention as a protection for the American colonists in their defense of Fort Moultrie, where the shot from the British fleet sank harmlessly in the soft, spongy logs.

His attention prompted by the unique porous quality of the tree, a large industrialist acquired a 200,000 acre tract of groves and initiated the building of twelve laboratories of furniture companies in an attempt to apply a veneer finish. After all had failed the work was assigned to the work department of the Georgia School of Technology, which, after a two-year period of research, has just succeeded in applying a glass-like veneered surface and is now producing actual samples. It is only use in the past has been for deck pilings and the building of special structures for aviation.

EDITOR SPEAKS AT TEACHERS COLLEGE HERE LAST NIGHT

Editor of Southern Agriculturist Delivers Address on Subject "Keep Your Eyes Wide Open"

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium, Mr. James Speed, editor of the Southern Agriculturist, talked to the faculty and student body of East Carolina Teachers College. His subject, "Keep Your Eyes Wide Open," was short, snappy, and up to the minute. It has been said of Mr. Speed that "he is that rare individual who can teach us to sing sermons in stanzas, songs in rhyming couplets, and good in everything in nature," and after his clever mimicry of the many voices of nature, we sincerely agree.

Mr. Speed gave the "eyes" a place of tremendous value in the field of education. "Use your eyes. Don't remain in doubt about a thing. See it, and, seeing it, know it. Take one position and stick to it."

Our eyes are living kodaks, so in our faces, and these kodaks are continually taking pictures of the persons, things and incidents that make up our physical environment. With our eyes we take single pictures, combine them into one great motion picture film, store them up, and later we play those pictures on the silver screen of memory. So, use your eyes, keep them wide open.

Mr. Speed says that we are constantly making records not only with the eyes, but with the ear, also. We hear things, small, insignificant things, but even the little animal sounds mean a great deal to us. Through them we receive a vivid interest in so many things, an appreciation of everyday life. We interpret the language of nature and animal life, we bring back memories of a childhood spent in God's great outdoors.

Mr. Speed's talk was full of his great love for the life in the "open spaces." He moved his audience to humor and a keen sense of the speaker's love of little things by his story of the game

This map shows the route of the dirigible Los Angeles from New York to the Ford mooring mast at Detroit, the destination of the ill-fated Shenandoah.

"Sposin' in Mother's Back Yard." The little fellow, who, when he knew he could not explore the real Amazon River, "pretended" he was exploring it in his mother's back yard, was not really playing "Sposin'" at all; he was doing something real. That long blue grass in the back yard had never been explored before.

"As a personal friend," he said, "with nature. Love her myriad voices, learn to translate them. Go out into the great universe God has given you, not technically, but with the love of nature in your heart, and have a good time. Hear the great Symphony of Spring. Go deep into the forests and see enthroned there the Idea of Deity—the Greek's the unknown God, to us the one God, glorified in Nature."

Women "Sir" if Take Business Too Seriously

New York, Oct. 19, (AP)—The tendency of women in business to take themselves too seriously is in the eyes of the executive secretary of some 47,000 women who belong to the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"Women cannot close the office door and forget business when they go home," said this executive, Miss Emma Dot Partridge.

Her explanation is that women take business as a challenge to make good in a man-made world and still struggle with a feeling of insecurity.

"Consequently, they work too hard—in vulgarly women in executive positions," Miss Partridge declared. "Where a man will knock off work, forget it and play horse, a woman is unable to throw herself into the relaxation of recreation. In all of my immediate acquaintances, I do not know a single woman who plays golf."

Miss Partridge has women listed in her files who are horse breeders, dentists, sheriffs, brokers, varnish manufacturers, and all description of professions.

"In all they are much more conscientious than men," she continued. "That is another quality that develops woman's tendency to seriousness. This quality is no serious as a situation that we are contemplating a department whereby recreation may be urged upon the business women."

Women business executives Partridge said.

"Busy men are great, why not should not be any more courteous busy women? Not that I approve gruffness. The world is used to expecting the woman to act the hostess and, if she's anything less than gracious, comment is made."

Miss Partridge says that it is not college women who are filling the highest positions held by business women today, but the girls who have gone through the labor-

Children's Mind As Best Movie Critic

Hollywood, Oct. 19, (AP)—A child's mind unrestrained by any sense of consideration for feelings of others, qualifies its owner as the best critic for motion picture scenarios.

This is the conclusion of Walter Woods, the separatist who prepared and adapted the screen version of "The Coward Baron," "Pony Express," "Old Ironsides," and other film productions.

"Children are far more frank than grown-ups," Woods says. "As a child will say exactly what he thinks. When it comes to testing a story's worth, give me a kid audience every time."

Woods believe that a child's mind also is far more receptive than a grown-up's and things that impress them remain, while things that do not are quickly erased from his memory.

"Another thing I find is that children spot story weaknesses far more rapidly than grown-ups. Frequently they find flaws that I have completely overlooked. Instead of searching for hidden meanings, they face a story squarely and find faults a grown-up would not see."

Shaw, Barrie, Et Al Put Plays in Storage

London, Oct. 19, (AP)—Shaw, Barrie, Henry Arthur Jones, Pinero and other veteran British dramatists are reported to have the pigeon holes of their desks stuffed with plays, either fully or partly written. But at present there seems to be no likelihood of new plays from any of them being produced this season.

Barrie is said to have a number of pessimistic plays which probably never will be performed. The public does not clamor wildly for pessimism, and there is probably nobody in the world who knows that better than the author of Peter Pan.

Emperor's Son Shows Skill in Alpine Climb

Chamonix, France, Oct. 19, (AP)—Prince Chichibu, second son of the Emperor of Japan, was one of the thousands who gratified their desire to scale high mountains and made 1926 a banner year in Alpine climbing.

The Prince proved his skill as a climber by conquering the Finsteraarhorn—the highest in the Bernese Oberland, the Gross Schreckhorn and the Matterhorn. The last ascent took place on the birthday of his father, the Mikado, and the Prince had the unusual experience of celebrating the great national Japanese festival "Tenchoshetsu" on the summit of one of the highest peaks in the Alps.

Within almost a stone's throw of Paris partridges, hares and other game may be brought down in the environs of Versailles, a prolific hunting ground.

Is Prepared for Open Windows Gilbert's Butler Master's Guests

Hollywood, Oct. 19, (AP)—Few people have war heroes for butlers, but such is Emil, Belgian soldier who "battles" for John Gilbert, the movie actor.

Emil has learned that his master is liable at most any hour to walk into the house with one to fifty guests without any warning. Being a real heroic butler, Emil is prepared for such surprise attacks. He keeps canned goods on the shelves and has arranged classified provision order which he can phone to the grocer and have delivered in twenty minutes.

For instance, Emil says to the grocer, "I want Number One." The grocer fills order number one that contains everything for a dinner that Emil cannot keep on the pantry shelves. Order No. Two is a totally different menu, and so are three four and so on.

Let in Curing Effect of Sun

New York, Oct. 19, (AP)—Sun rays as the housewife's friend, especially in the kitchen, is a new representation of medical science to the every-day world.

"The housewife who would have her home freer from the dangerous forms of germ life should let the sun in through the open window," said Dr. William Benjamin Snow of New York, at a conference on ultra-violet rays. "Ultra violet rays do not penetrate glass and they are the beneficent rays that destroy bacteria."

Certain foods may be exposed to the sun with profit of another sort, Dr. Snow added.

"Various foods exposed to ultra-violet rays are rendered vitaminic active, possessing effects which otherwise would not be present," he said.

"Flour, milk and some other food that are subjected for periods to ultra-violet rays, to the sun's rays, receive derive properties from the radiations which cause them to become more active in the processes of body building."

Other properties of these powerful invisible light rays Dr. Snow summarized as follows: they penetrate running water and rid of bacteria life that might cause infection; they act upon the lime salts in circulation in the blood so that it can be used in bone building; and in this way they are specific cure for rickets.

British Salders Art Aided By U. S. Demand

London, Oct. 19, (AP)—Thanks to the demand from the United States for bits, spurs and bridles the "oriner" or saddlers art is not yet dead in England.

Speaking at the lively dinner of the Loriner's Company, Daniel Hone said the chief loriner at Walsall told him that the people of the United State insisted on having English forged loriner's work at any price, despite the enormous tariff against it.

Edouard Herroit's Book Is Used for Opera Store

Paris, Oct. 19, (AP)—The "Life of Madame Recamier" by former premier Edouard Herroit, now Minister of Education, has been used to supply a libretto for an opera. The music has been written by Charles Pons, the composer who wrote the music for Clemenceau's "Veil of Happiness" when it was made into an opera.

Lille is to produce the new work with M. Herroit present as the guest of the municipality.

New Greek Minister Not New to Folio

Athens, Oct. 19, (AP)—Perikles Argyropoulos, the new Greek foreign minister, is not new to foreign affairs. A member of a very old aristocratic Phanariote family, he speaks French perfectly, and was governor-general in Macedonia, became in 1923 a member of the Refugee Settlement of green.

Commissioner appointed General Secretary at the Foreign Office in 1924 and Greek minister to Angola in 1925.

He is a cousin of the Perikles Argyropoulos, who was Minister of Communications in the Eftaxias cabinet, but, unlike his cousin he is Republican.

Berlin's "Rotten Row" of Fame Soon a Memory

Berlin, Oct. 19, (AP)—The "Rotten row" of Berlin, which runs through the middle of Kurfurstendamm, the Broadway of the aristocratic West end, will soon be a memory.

Car tracks are being removed from the street and laid on the bridge path where once rode members of the House of Hohenzollern and the nobility. "Rotten row" lost its glamor when Wilhelm II fled to Holland. And the increasing traffic made necessary the replacement of the car tracks. But the two lanes of elms will remain so that in summer street cars will travel through a bowler of the Refugee Settlement of green.

THIN, NERVOUS

Virginia Lady Tells of Taking Cardui and Says She Has Since Recovered Perfect Health.

Lynchburg, Va.—"I have taken Cardui several times for a run-down condition and have found it perfectly splendid," says Mrs. Leo T. Marsh, 715 First Street, this city.

"About ten years ago," she explains, "I became so weak I could not go about. I looked like a skeleton and... was dreadfully worried about myself. A friend suggested Cardui and I decided to try it."

"I kept up the medicine until I had taken six bottles. It regulated and built me up. I improved greatly."

"Last year we drove up here through the country from Florida. I was exposed to the weather and must have taken cold, for I became ill... I got run-down, lost flesh... could not sleep and had no appetite at all. I was so nervous that I did not know what to do."

"I thought of Cardui. I began to take it regularly and it was not long before I began to feel better. I took six bottles, one after another, and at the finish of the last one was perfectly well again. Since then I have continued gaining in weight and all winter have been in perfect health."

FASHION PARADE

Gold-plated furs are the latest sensation in exclusive English fur shops. Stoles and neck pieces of fox, each hair of which has been tipped with gold, are being worn by women of discriminating taste. Other furs are being silvered.

The furs are immersed in a bath of eighteen-carat gold or a solution of silver, and are subjected to the same treatment that is applied in electro-plating.

Lovelord Hat, for Town Wear

A pair of green and yellow feathered lovelords, sitting on a slender fledge twig, decorated the front of a high-crowned black felt hat seen in London. Nearby a high class shop displayed hats decorated with realistic partridges and pheasants made from real feathers. Birds are wearing jewelled brooches and badges as hat ornaments.

The latest evening dress, as exemplified by a woman at the Kit-Cat Club, carried a little train at the back. It was so tiny it appeared to be trying very hard to reach the floor. It was a plain sheaf affair of silver gauze, with a square neck and a back that broke into a little pointed train covered with flat flowers of apple-green tulle. A single flower worn on the left shoulder repeated the scheme in front.

Another evening frock, showing the same idea, was carried out in sequins. Black sequins trailed over the shoulder of a black georgette evening frock, and were repeated on the edge of the scalloped skirt, which was slightly longer behind than in front.

Military Mode in Back

Milady of Mayfair has been seen lately in the old military styles which come and go periodically. Jumpers with epaulettes are the medium through which the military tendency is being expressed. These jumpers are a cross between a military and naval jacket.

One, seen on a young society matron, was made in heavy navy blue crepe-de-chine and was severely "upright" in line. The epaulettes were of scarlet and gold. There is a "catch," however. To wear these jumpers successfully a woman must have a military carriage or else resort to padding.

Orchid Effect in Jewelry

Miniature designs of fruit in jewelry are being exhibited in London's jewelry shops. An original necklace is composed of an assortment of blackberries, pears, currants and grapes, hung at intervals on a thin gold chain and clasped at the back by a gold banana. The blackberries are made of jet, the grapes from deep-toned amethysts, the pears from amber and the red currants from rubies.

Brooches to match are also a vogue. A charming brooch exhibited is a clasp of four ruby-red currants set in gold with three emerald leaves. An autumn "leaf" first finger ring was carried out in painted enamel, with the coloring at its tip produced by a ruby and its veins worked in tiny seed pearls. Fruit earrings are another novelty and are usually in the form of clumps of grapes.

Baby Frocks as Heirlooms

Baby frocks are being made with a view to handing them down as heirlooms. Many of the dresses in English shops require constant attention of two skilled needle-women over a period of eight weeks. Each tuck is stitched by hand and often there are twelve to the inch from yoke to hem.

Pussycat Bow Scarfs

Among many novelists of women's wear are long and narrow scarves, to be twisted round the neck and tied in a "pussycat" bow under the chin. Made in beaver, moleskin or some other close haired pelt, the tie is suitable for wear with the new trim short-coated tailored suits for the fall season.

The attraction is in the bow and real art is necessary to fix it properly.

Lying Mirrors of Mayfair

London society women are up in arms over the "lying mirrors" of Mayfair. The expression is said to have been coined to designate

Noted Royal Theatre Goes Into Repertory

Cambridge, England, Oct. 19. (AP)—The Old Royal Theatre, Barmwell, the only regency theatre still intact in which Macready, Kemble, Charles Mathews, F. C. Fontaine and Sheridan Knowles played, is under reconstruction and will be converted into a repertory theatre for Cambridge.

Plans gave readings in this old theatre, but for the last forty years it has been used as a mission hall.

A professional company of fifteen has been engaged and will be supplemented by amateurs.

To Exhibit First of Two New World Pianos

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 19. (AP)—Though its strings have long since become corroded and from its keyboard resounds horrible discords, a little piano, said to be one of the first two to reach the New World, will be a feature exhibit at the Mississippi State Fair.

The instrument is the property of City Commissioner R. M. Taylor, who secured it from Miss Rosa Fisher, octogenarian of this city, in whose family it has been for generations. The mate to the piano is said by Miss Fisher to be in Mount Vernon, home of George Washington. Visitors to Mount Vernon describe the pianos as identical.

It is of French make, about 15 inches thick, 28 inches wide and about 60 inches long. There are twenty-three keys, connected in a vastly different manner from the pianos of today.

Atlanta Man Makes Candle-Sticks for Queen

Atlanta, Oct. 19. (INS)—When Queen Marie of Roumania comes to Atlanta next month, it is very likely that a simple iron worker of Rome, Ga., will deliver to her a set of hand-made candlesticks which the Queen, in a personal letter, already has ordered from him.

W. A. McCormack, who has done hand wrought iron work for many residences in the south, recently sent a photograph of some of his work to Queen Marie, expressing the hope that she might like some of his candlesticks for her famous "room of memories" in the royal palace at Bucharest.

The craftsman received the following letter from the Queen:

"So many thanks for your kind letter. I think your little candlesticks are lovely and have cut out the one I like best, so if you will kindly make them for me they will stand in my room of memories. I love that hand-made iron work."

hope to be in America in October. (Signed) "Marie."

The letter was written in English, in a frank, free hand. McCormack started work at once on the order and hopes to have it finished when she arrives.

Energetic preparations are under way here to entertain the royal Roumanian party during their brief stay here. Governor Walker has appointed an official committee which will greet the Queen on her arrival, while other committees are charged with her entertainment.

WHY PROCRASTINATE?

For some time we have proclaimed the need of a community chest for Greenville to take the place of the haphazard method of whole sale street begging, drives, benefit performances and the like to raise funds for worthy causes in this city, but so far the appeals have brought forth no response and we are no nearer a community chest than at the beginning.

We have talked to members of the various women's organizations in our city on the subject and all agree that the community chest plan is the proper way to take care of the causes that are worthy of our consideration and donations, and members of the men's organizations are of the same opinion, but apparently each organization is waiting for someone else to start the movement. The community chest plan has been thoroughly tried out in other cities and has proven the best way to meet the needs of the community, why should a similar plan not be best for us?

We must first send out our ship before it can come in, and the same is the case with our community chest. There must be a beginning before there can be a completion of the work. Each of the organizations in our city claim to be working for the benefit of the community and no doubt each is accomplishing an untold amount of good, but why should this procrastination toward the community chest continue when all the organizations seem to agree that it is the one plan that will, if carried to perfection, mean much to the community.

All that is necessary to make a community chest here a reality is for one of the civic organizations to take the initial step. If you are a member of one of these clubs urge your club to take over this proposition and you will be rendering a great service to your city and community.

LIVING UP TO IT

Each day the Greenville Tobacco Market is shattering the record established the day before, and yesterday's sale was the highest of the season. In addition to a record for high averages the market this season is six million pounds ahead of the corresponding period last season. Growers throughout the tobacco belt are beginning to realize that "Greenville, The Best Tobacco Market In The State" is a reality and not an idle boast; and that it is this realization that is responsible for the unparalleled record the market is making this season.

PRESS COMMENT

HOLD TIGHT TO YOUR COTTON

(Manufacturers Record)
To every cotton grower in the South should be sent the message "Hold tight to your cotton and then hold still tighter, and keep on holding tight to it so long as present low prices prevail."

The farmers have it in their power to stem this downward movement of cotton by holding their cotton off the market and absolutely refusing to sell it at present prices.

Cotton is selling below the actual cost of production. Unlike wheat or corn or other products of the farm, which are ruined by long standing, cotton can stand for 50 years, if well protected from the weather and still be good and substantial cotton.

At present farmers are acting like men in a crowded house when somebody cries "Fire!" even where there is no fire, and then they all rush pell-mell trampling each other to death in getting out when an orderly movement from the building would have been infinitely better. As though they were actually afraid that to hold a bale of cotton would burn their fingers, farmers are rushing to get rid of their staple, dumping it on a declining market, each farmer apparently trying to out do the other in the speed with which he gets his cotton sold. It is no wonder that cotton declines under such circumstances. Every newspaper and every business man in the country ought to do all in his power to stem this panic condition of cotton growers and persuade them to hold their cotton, and hold it tight, until prices react.

Harvie Jordan, a cotton grower of many years' standing and the managing director of the American Cotton Association, has issued an appeal to the farmers of the South in which some striking statements are made as to the extent which the cotton mills of the world are buying cotton at present prices. These mills know that cotton is below the cost of production, and therefore they know they are buying an absolute certainty in stocking up at low prices. In his statement Mr. Jordan says:

"It is reported in reliable press dispatches that foreign and domestic spinners are taking advantage of present low prices for cotton to secure supplies for several years' consumption. This act is based upon the well-established trade rule to 'buy any staple commodity when it is below the actual cost of production.'"

"Spot cotton occupies that position in the daily channels of domestic and international commerce. The into sight movement and sale of spot cotton this season has been unprecedented and exceeded the heavy movement to date of one year ago. The growers appear to be panic stricken in the face of rapidly falling prices and are rushing the staple to market in unheard-of quantity."

"The present estimates of a large crop, unprecedented sales and consequent heavy heading of purchases by buyers on the cotton exchanges is paralyzing the market. Until these heavy sales by the growers are checked there can be no stability of the market or check to the depressing prices. Every daily and weekly paper in the South should hammer these facts before the farmers in every county of the cotton belt. That mills are buying heavily for future requirements there is substantial evidence in the daily news."

"That this is a matter for serious consideration as an outstanding factor for heavy cotton average reduction in 1927 there is no question of argument. If the crop is sold as fast as ginned, the effect now being made to finance a large portion of the crop will be a failure. There is no danger in holding cotton when the price of the staple is so far below the actual cost of production as at present."

"The banker and every other agency in the South should promptly combine to finance and hold off the market every bale possible. The next effective move of the growers is to plant a largely increased acreage in oats and wheat during the next 30 days. The slogan should be 'Make the South green with small grain.' There is no occasion for a panic even in the face of another large crop. The world must have cotton in ever-increasing quantity each year."

"The present large surplus will soon be absorbed by decreasing production in 1927, just as happened in 1924. The purchasing power of the growers and the South is being largely destroyed by the present panic disposition of the farmers to sell. Stop selling. Finance the crop in storage until the mills need the staple next year by making the South green with grain in October and November. Fight to win, and not to surrender."

"Hold tight to your cotton" should be the South's motto just now, and show wheat and oats and other crops this fall as never before.

Seventy Thousand Corporations Use Delaware Charter

Dover, Del., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Attracted to this state by one of the most liberal general incorporation laws found in the Union, between 65,000 and 70,000 corporations throughout the United States are doing business under Delaware charters.

The features of the law which has made the state a Mecca to incorporators, are few, but compelling. It is easy to comply with it, it is speedy in operation, and it restricts the state's interest in and supervision over its charter holders to the apparent minimum compatible with the protection of stockholders.

Financially, Delaware requires an organization fee of ten cents per $1,000 for the first $2,000, 000 of authorized capitalization and five cents per $1,000 thereafter. Upon issues of no-par stock an arbitrary value of $100 per share is set for the purpose of taxation only. Because of a latter provision, the total corporate value of Delaware charters is undeterminable.

The actual tax also is levied on the basis of authorized capitalization. Simple annual reports are necessary, but they do not require disclosure of the corporation's financial affairs. Of all the company's books and records only an original or duplicate stock ledger must be kept in Delaware. Here, except for provisions safeguarding stockholders, the state's interest ceases.

Stock held by non-residents is not taxed, nor is it subject to an inheritance levy. The corporation itself has no income tax to pay.

association, which will convene in Raleigh December 2, with a two day session.

Dr. Dodd will speak Friday evening, December 2, at the final meeting of the association in the ball room of the Sir Walter Hotel. His subject will be "Liberty and Restraint in the American Democracy."

He was educated at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and at the University of Leipzig in Germany, where he received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1900, and has been professor of American history at Randolph Macon until 1908, and has been professor of American History at the University of Chicago since 1908.

Besides being well known as a lecturer he is the biographer of Nathaniel Macon, Jefferson Davis and Woodrow Wilson. Dr. Dodd has written extensively of the history of the South. At the present he is on a leave of absence from the University of Chicago and is at work upon a new book on American history.

Use Violet Rays With Great Success In Eye Test

London, Oct. 19. (AP)—Surgeons have succeeded in restoring sight to diseased eyes and by standardizing the methods of treatment have opened up the way for a new attack on blindness, said A. J. M. Tarant, secretary of Moorfield, the biggest eye hospital in the British Empire. A year's experiment with a mercury vapor lamp throwing out ultra-violet rays, has just been successfully concluded there.

The secretary said the violet-ray treatment had been successfully used in cases of threatened total blindness, the eye trouble in these instances being due to tubercular disease.

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

In the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorsers who acclaim the merit of Doan's. French More Money Mad Than U. S., Dreiser Says

Paris, Oct. 19. (AP)—The United States may be a Shylock in the eyes of some Frenchmen, but in the view of one prominent American author Paris is more "money mad" than New York.

Theodore Dreiser told a French interviewer that Paris is owned by money.

"It is even worse than New York in that respect," he said, on his first visit to Paris since 1912. "The old intellectual, artistic Paris has been swallowed up by a commercialism more intense even than America's."

"Nor is the evil limited to France. There is not a corner of European soil that is free from it. The fault is partly ours. We Americans have been 'showing off' our wealth so ostentatiously."

America and Europe are moving in opposite directions—America towards idealism, Europe towards materialism, Dreiser said.

Marquess of Reading to Head Palestine Company
London, Oct. 19. (INS)—The Marquess of Reading, ex-Viceroy of India, ex-Ambassador to the United States, ex-Chief Justice of England, is to be the new chairman of the Palestine Electric Corporation.

This company is to carry out the scheme for the electrification of Palestine which was put forward by Pinhas Rutenberg three years ago. The main feature is the harnessing of the 600 feet waterfall in the River Jordan for the manufacture of electric power and the irrigation of the Jordan basin.

Lord Plummer, representing the British Government, last signed a concession for the operation of the scheme for an amount of $10,000,000.

The total subscribed capital of the corporation amounts to $4,175,000 including the expenditure already incurred on the installation at Jaffa, Haifa and Tiberias. The work is expected to be fully under way by the spring of 1927. About 1,500 men will be employed. Rutenberg, who will be in charge, was formerly chief of police at Petrograd under Kerensky.

Winnsboro Mills, Winnsboro, S. C.

These cotton mills, controlled by the United States Rubber Company, specialize in cord for United States Tires.

Answering some Questions about the Cord in United States Tires

Q—How important is cord in a tire?

A—Cord provides the strength for the tire. It is the framework and the reinforcement which gives to the tire its form and structure. Rubber saturates, insulates and webs the cords together and supplies the tire with its wear-resisting surface.

Q—Who makes the cord for United States Tires?

A—The superior cord used in United States Tires is made in the Winnsboro Mills at Winnsboro, South Carolina. These mills are controlled by the United States Rubber Company and have been since 1917.

Q—Why does the United States Rubber Company consider it advantageous to operate its own cord mills?

A—This is in keeping with the Company's policy of ensuring absolute uniformity and high quality in all the materials which go into its tires. For the same reason the Company grows its own rubber on its great plantations in the Far East.

Q—Then, this cord from the Winnsboro Mills is uniform and of high quality?

A—Yes. These one-product mills use machinery especially adapted to making cord for United States Tires. The operators are specialists in their work and the entire energy of the mills is devoted to making the best tire cord that can be made.

Q—How is the quality of the cord assured?

A—Tests are made at each step in manufacture at the mills. Further tests are made of each carload received at the tire factories. A third series of control tests are made periodically at the Central Textile Development Department, the Company's technical organization specializing in the development of cotton goods for the United States Rubber Company.

"ADS" IN THE REFLECTOR PAY

MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Four barrels of camphor balls which went to Calgary, Canada, with Thomas Meighan and a company of players making "The Canadian," returned to New York with the company. These are probably the only camphor balls which ever traveled seven thousand miles without being opened for use. It had been intended to use them for an irrigation hall storm in the wheat fields, but the second day after the company arrived it snowed and hail was unnecessary.

American movie lack the finishing touch that speaks genius. "Pattern movies," produced by film makers with one eye on the shooting schedule and the other on the box office are hurrying the future of the cinema.

These are the impressions of Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the Russian novelist, who is in California acting as literary advisor in the filming of his father's masterpiece, "Resurrection."

Thomas Jefferson, who plays the part of King Heakon in "Gabby," the Fox film based on the life of Gaby Deslys, dancer and throne-toppler, has among his properties the old gun, the ragged suit and the dilapidated ker used by the Jeffersons in legitimate stage productions of "Rip Van Winkle."

A nine month's screen career does not sound like much, but it means a lot to Nat Carr. Brother of Alexander Carr, who created the Perlmutter role of Potash and Perlmutter and for years a favorite on the stage, Carr began his screen career in Hollywood just nine months ago. Since that time, he has been a constant demand as a character comedian for Warners.

Nationality and rank mingle and are leveled by the magnet which draws aspirant for fame and fortune to the mile of picture studios in Southern California.

In a cast of "Hotel Imperial," a feature picture by Paramount, twelve countries were represented on the set—Poland, Sweden, Russia, Austria, Germany, Hungary, Spain, France, Italy, England, Australia and the United States.

The foreign invasion of film dom by distinguished European actresses move apace. First Count, Ilya Tolstoy, son of Leo Tolstoy, author of "Resurrection," went to Hollywood to help film his father's classic. Then Vladimir Nezhovitch-Dantchesko, co-founder of the Moscow Art Theatre, was added and now Konrad Veidt, prominent German actor of the Cabinet of Dr. Caligari, has joined John Barrymore to play King Louis XI in Barrymore's first United Artists picture.

One of the most interesting personalities at First National's New York studios is not an actor, actress or executive. It's Mary, waitress extraordinary. Although she has been at the studio since it opened some fourteen years ago, and has taken care of the lunch wants of hundreds of players, perkins not a half dozen can tell her last name. To everyone she is just plain Mary.

"And that name's good enough without any fixing," she says. Stardom means nothing to her.

After an absence of eight years from the film, Raymond Hackett, has come back to play the role of Gloria Swansons brother in

Husbandless

Peaches' Browning and her mother, Mrs. Frances Heaton, were snapped at a New York hotel, where the girl was living apart from her middle-aged husband, Edward N. Browning.

"Sunya," Hackett still is playing in "Cradle Snatchers," the stage play but it has been arranged so that the actor can alternate between the Cosmopolitan Studios and the Broadway Theatre.

To produce an effect of day light on an interior street scene in Herbert Brenson's picture, "God Gave Me Twenty Cents," now being made by Paramount, sixty high-tension lamps were used, generating 60,000,000 candle power of light. This illumination is sufficient to cover all street business and residential lighting facilities of a town of 25,000 inhabitants, was concentrated on a set 200 feet long by 50 feet wide.

When a motion picture director turns author, how does he feel about delivering his brain child into the hands of another director for picturization? Monta Bell, author of Florence Vidor's latest comedy, "The Poular Sin" suffered no qualms nor feared any mutilation of his idea. For it was Bell himself who voted Malcolm St. Clair to be the telephone welder.

Michigan Mat Men Are Training Hard

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 18.—(INS)—Michigan wrestlers are hard at work in preparation for the conference mat competition this winter. Coach Clifford Keene has veterans in all but the heavy-weight divisions, but a large crop of sophomores make prospects appear exceedingly bright.

Russel Baker, who never has been thrown in this division, Kates and Doester are other veterans available in this division. Miller, who won the all campus title last year, will try for Baker's crown as will two newcomers, Reubins and Sullivan.

In the 125 pound class will be Solomon who lost but a single match last year. K. G. Moore, Freshman champion last year, Nagelkirk, Hardin, Embree and Holmes, Watson, a veteran in the 135 pound class will have his hands full beating out W. Durant, Larzmont, Polite, Hineberger and Gillard.

Coach Keene has Golester and R. F. Warren, a promising sophomore in the 158 pound class. Capt. Donahoe who won the western conference title at 158 pounds will undoubtedly head the contenders in this class. George Itch, varsity football player, tops the candidates for the 175 pound division, with Lombardi, Smith, Hager and Brown as likely aspirants.

CALIFORNIA COUNTS ITS AUTOMOBILES; FINES WORTH $220,210,385

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 19.—(INS)—California's great fleet of automobiles, second only to that of New York, number 1,061,272 passenger cars, the State Board of Equalization has just announced. Assessed valuation of these vehicles is set at $220,210,286.

The number of pleasure cars showed an increase of 126,768 over last year, the board announced, and the assessed valuation jumped $11,146,574.

Los Angeles County led the state, reporting 421,017 cars, with an assessed value of $91,983,215. Alameda County (Oakland), with 35,000 cars assessed at $19,000,000, was second in number of machines. San Francisco with a high assessment rate, reported 72,325 autos with an assessed valuation of $20,975,410.

"KITE CAMERA" SHOOTS SCENES AT LONG RANGE

San Antonio, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A "kite camera" operated by the pulling power of 100-foot centipede type bamboo and paper kite has just been used successfully for the first time in making motion picture long shots of troop movements at Camp Stanley, near here.

The camera, wound up with a spring, is set and released at a height of seven feet, grinding away all the time as it ascends a kite string to a height of 1,000 feet. The camera weighs seven pounds and is carried up by a butterfly contrivance with a trap, catches of rubber bands. When it strikes the kite the catch breaks the wing, automatically fold, and the camera is carried back by its own weight to be reloaded.

A "baton camera" also is being developed for some battle scenes. A gas jar twenty feet in circumference will have a carrying power of eighty pounds. It will hold a 60-pound camera suspended in a cradle and operated by two men, being held by handles and then released on signal to rise to a height of 100 feet, shooting down on the action for a scant 100 feet of film, grinding automatically.

LANG NOT A SIGN OF DEGENERATION; ENRICHES LANGUAGE, HE SAYS

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Slang is all right, according to Professor G. R. Potter of the University of California English department.

"Slang is not the sign of a degeneration of the tongue," the professor asserted. "It is a development of expression which enriches rather than cheapens the language."

Shakespeare used slang words and phrases in his writings, Professor Potter contended, and so did O. Henry and a number of other writers whose productions are now considered the classics of literature.

"Language must change constantly to express the feelings of the people," Professor Potter declared. "Many colloquialisms and phrases are more workable and vivid than those grammatically sanctioned."

"Grammar is not scientific and it is natural that it changes according to the times. Of course, many of the slang expressions of the day soon die, but the really worthwhile ones, those which best express a certain thought, live and become incorporated into the language."

MAD COWS GALLOP THRU STREETS BITING PEOPLE OF RUSSIAN VILLAGE

Leningrad, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Gallop through the streets of the village and attacking savagely every living creature in sight, a herd of cows, infected with rabies after being bitten by a mad dog, kept by the inhabitants of the Leningrad suburb Lesnoi in a panic for twenty-four hours. Mihita corralled the mad bovines and sent for officials from the Veterinary Institute in Leningrad.

Professor Kongo, rector of the Institute, and his assistants, responding to the call, incautiously approached the cows and were bitten badly. The doctors returned to Leningrad for treatment and ordered the cows shot.

FIRST COMMERCIAL AND FOR ENDER DEN LINDEN

Berlin, Oct. 19.—(AP)—For the first time in its history the famous avenue, Unter den Linden, has had an advertising streamer stretched across its broad expanse. The occasion was the international police exhibition organized by the Prussian Ministry of the Interior.

The state permitted its cops to do what no business firm, however influential, has succeeded in accomplishing. Unter den Linden, from its earliest times, has been maintained in an atmosphere devoid of such commercial or "unrefined" decorations.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time Brooklyn, Mr. Fred G. Marqu writes:—"I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy, couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me. ONE CENT SALE

What a REXALL One Cent Sale Is

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Kleenzo Dental Creme is 50c, you can buy a tube at this price and by paying one cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, knowing the goods will please you.

15 Frenchmen in North Pole Crew Off to Spitzbergen

Le Havre, France, Oct. 18.—(INS)—France's expedition to the North Pole will leave here soon for Spitzbergen to prepare for the exploration of polar regions. Fifteen persons, five scientists, two air pilots, six mechanics, one wireless operator and one film operator make up the party. They are equipped with six special 50 horse power motor sledges of special construction never before utilized for polar exploration and twenty airplanes for reconnoitering purposes. Two French infantry officers, Lieutenant Georges Duris and Lieutenant Blanchard are in command of the expedition which has the moral if not the financial support of the French government. The expedition is of both a scientific and a sporting nature. Scientists with the party expect to bring back detailed reports on all characteristics of the Arctic wastes. The sporting end of the venture will be an attempt to follow on land, snow and ice, the path which Amundsen, Ellsworth, and Noble made by air. The sledges have been constructed so that they can be adjusted to travel on land, snow or ice. They will not be assembled until the expedition reaches Spitzbergen. The airplanes are of wood and can be assembled and disassembled in twenty minutes. When not in use for reconnoitering purposes they will be carried by the motor sledges. One sledge carries a wireless sending set with a radius of 1000 miles. Leaders of the expedition hope to keep in constant communication with the civilized world throughout the trip. Food and provisions for a year are being carried but it is hoped that the trip from Spitzbergen to Point Barrow, Alaska, can be made in three months. Members of the expedition and the equipment will sail from here to Spitzbergen in the Norwegian ice breaker "Munia." After three or four months at Spitzbergen spent in making tests and experimenting with sledges the expedition will set out in the direction of the Pole.

Kentucky Pioneer Buried According to His Own Wishes

Middlesboro, Ky., Oct. 18.—(INS)—John C. Robbins, 83, picturesque hunter of Devil's Garden, requested that when he died he be buried in a coffin made of rough timber, in the clothes that he wore around the house on Sundays and in Devil's Garden with his hat on. His wishes were fulfilled by members of the family who live in this section. The old hunter died October 15. Robbins came here as one of the early settlers. He hunted bear in Devil's Garden and other big game in the mountains before civilization had drove game from their homes. Robbins favorite story of olden days was the bear hunt where he cornered a bear on Big Cliffs. The animal leaped over the cliffs over 100 feet to the bottom, but as Robbins raced down the mountain side he raised his rifle and fired. He killed the bear. Robbins always said that Devil's Garden was called by that name when he came to these parts and that old timers here said their stags had told them that it was always known by that name. Devil's Garden is a garden located in the Cumberland and is visited by many tourists every year.

CONFERENCE MAY SOLVE THE SMOKE PROBLEM OF CITIES

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Science will be called upon to solve the smoke problem of the large industrial cities at the International Conference on Birmingham Coal, called by Thomas S. Baker, president of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, for November 15.

Here in the iron and steel capital of the world, scientific minds from every division of the universe will match their wits against the smoke evil, which has brought

Pittsburgh even more notoriety than its thirty miles of steel mills, overcoming the smoke menace will be only one of a score of important subjects considered by the authorities of bituminous coal, but President Baker believes that particular problem of sufficient importance to warrant special attention.

Hence, invitations went out today to the mayors or city managers of the sixty largest cities and to governors of the forty-eight states to send delegates to the conference.

Difficulty in producing good coals from soft coal at a price within the reach of the domestic consumer has been the stumbling block in the path of scientists for many years. Now, it is reported, the possibility of pre-treating soft coal to produce oils and by-products, has come to the fore.

Although there still is a question whether such processes are feasible commercially, President Baker and his associates in the great coal conference hope to establish a clearing house for expert opinion next month.

worthy of his rank. Since his arrival in Kreia he has been confined to his bed and has requested a nerve specialist be sent from Athens to care for him.

Meanwhile the new government has decided to keep him until his ultimate fate is agreed upon. This rests largely with the attitude his followers take during the next few weeks.

Club Women Make Pine Needle Gifts a Trade

Wiggins, Miss., Oct. 19. (AP)—In that section of Mississippi where the tall long leaf pine casts its shadow on the hillsides, busy fingers are picking, sorting and polishing the long pine needles to be made into gift baskets and other art objects for the Christmas trade.

Vase, baskets, floor lamps, jewel caskets and boxes of various types are woven from the homely pine needles. Thousands of dollars were brought into the state last year by what has become known as the "fire-side industry," and women members of county demonstration clubs who have become experts at the art were unable to fill all orders.

The demand for the woven objects has lifted the work from a part-time furnishing club members with "pin money," into an actual commercial class. The work is distributed among members and the proceeds are divided according to the time and work put in. With materials free, all of the income is clear profit.

Weaving of native materials began during the war between the states, when manufactured articles were scarce and the need for them great. Mrs. J. M. McFee, of West Point, Ga., who made both hats and baskets, was credited with having originated the work.

Gen. Pangalos Asks Old Friends to Stop Feared Executiton

Athens, Oct. 18.—(INS)—General Pangalos, the deposed Greek dictator is taking his change of fortune with a heavy heart. Since his failure to escape from the revolutionists, it is said he has been despondent and has written appealing letters by the score to his former supporters urging their intervention in his behalf.

He fears that he will be executed, according to his friends, and when being transported into temporary exile, wept during the entire voyage. Almost daily, it is further stated, he delivers long speeches to his guards declaring that his government and its policies were dedicated to the good of Greece, however, severe they might have been.

The former dictator has written a letter to General Kondiliss protesting against his treatment in prison and demanding that he be given privileges and surroundings

Berlin's Historic Kaiserhof May, It Is Said

Berlin, Oct. 19. (AP)—The German government has decided to purchase the historic Kaiserhof Hotel on Wilhelmstrasse and to convert it into an office building.

Berlin society thereby is greatly disturbed and from every quarter protests are descending upon the ministry of finance. Parliament is being bombarded with pleas to veto the arrangement. Many Berliners feel that one of the chief connecting links between the old and the new Germany would thus be destroyed.

The Kaiserhof during the fifty years of its existence has been the scene of some of the most brilliant functions under the imperial regime. Here the wedding of the smart set were held. When over a large festival took place at court, to which potentate came from foreign countries, some of the guests were lodged in the Kaiserhof, as the accommodations at the royal palaces were limited. For many years Prince von Bulow, former chancellor, was its star guest.

The greatest aggregation of blue-bloods which the Kaiserhof housed stopped there during the marriage of Princess Victoria Louise, only daughter of William II, to Ernst August, Duke of Brunswick, in 1913. The Emperor's brother, Prince Henry, the grandduke of Hessen, and many other royal personages then lived at the Kaiserhof, and among those who paid them formal visits were Czar Nicholas of Russia and King George and Queen Mary of England.

Other historic occasions were the arrival of the Boer generals De Wet, Botha, and Delare after the defeat of the Boer armies in South Africa in 1901; the dinner arranged in honor of Count Walderssee and the other officers who served against the Boxers in China, in 1900 and the benefit Bazaar held under the protection of Empress Auguste-Victoria in 1900.

The occasions were not devoid of humor. Thus, as the Empress arrived with her two boys, the ex-crown prince and Prince Oscar, to open the bazaar, young Oscar espied the brilliant red uniform with golden buttons worn by the hotel pages. Stamping his foot, he declared emphatically to his imperial mother, "I want to have such a red coat, too, mother." To avoid a scene the empress replied, "Very well, you shall have one."

The Kaiserhof, the first really modern and luxurious hotel to be erected in Berlin, so impressed the aged first German emperor, William I, that he remarked to his brother Prince Karl, on being shown through the rooms, "That's better than anything we can afford."

Son of Dickens Finds Name Has a Handicap

London, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Bearing the name of an honored celebrity is something of a handicap. When celebrating his golden wedding, Sir Henry F. Dickens, son of the novelist, said the name he bore had been an advantage to him in some ways, but in others it had been a disadvantage because people had expected so much of him.

In making a presentation, Sir E. Marshall Hall said Sir Henry Hall combined in himself all the lovable qualities of the many lovable characters created by Charles Dickens, his father.

CHINESE RESPONSIBLE FOR FAMILY'S CONDUCT

Foochow, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An ancient principle in China which is that each family shall bear responsibility for the acts of any of its members, has been applied in Foochow in a modified form to German residents.

Otto Heinsohn was jailed for the delinquencies of his employer William Pfeng, charged with illegal traffic in arms. Pfeng left the post suddenly, and although his young countryman had been only recently employed, and there appeared to be no evidence connecting him with the affair, Heinsohn was arrested. The Germans having lost their extraterritorial rights, there is no appeal.

"HAVE A CAMEL" IS MUSIC TO YOUR EARS

Camel is totally different from any other smoke. . . . It is more than a cigarette. . . . A lighted Camel is smoking enjoyment realized—the closest thing to the perfection of taste this old earth ever knew.

Camel's popularity has no equal. Camel demand exceeds any other cigarette preference ever known. To say "Camel" is to ask for the world's most popular cigarette. And to light a Camel is to taste the best.

For there's a solid reason back of the fame and the enjoyment of Camels. Quality. Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos money can buy . . . blended for matchless taste and fragrance.

If you would know how mild and mellow a smoke can really be, just treat yourself to a pack of Camels. Once you know what these words mean, they're music. . . . "Have a Camel!"

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—(INS)—A blond actor will follow Rudolph Valentino as the screen's great lover, according to June Mathis, the writer and producer who introduced the unknown Valentino to the motion picture public by selecting him for the role of Julio in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

"The first three great screen heroes, judging from their fan popularity, are Maurice Costello, who was dark," Miss Mathis explained, "then, Francis X. Bushman, a light complected blond; The trend then swung to the brunet Valentino. I don't believe any of the dark-haired actors who have been named as Valentino's successor will really take his place because the public loved Valentino so much that they will not approve of a substitute. They will want someone entirely different."

Several dark-haired men have been named as possible "successors" to Valentino—John Gilbert, Ronald Colman and Ramon Novarro.

"The first religious service ever held on a motion picture set" was said recently when Father D. A. Lord, a Jesuit priest of St. Louis University, celebrated mass in a "movie" but representing the carpenter shop of Jesus Christ. The mass was chanted Sunday morning while a company from the DeMille studio were filming a scene for "The King of Kings" on Catalina Island. Father Lord is acting in an advisory capacity.

Gang Victim

W. W. O'Brien, Chicago attorney, was shot and seriously wounded by gangsters operating a machine gun.

In connection with filming of the picture,

The motion picture, "The Volga Boatman" was inspired by the melancholy throbbing of the well-known musical classic; Annie Laurie, just completed at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was borrowed from the famous Scotch song, but a picture has been completed with one of Irving Berlin's jazz compositions for a background. The picture is "The Better Way" starring Dorothy Phillips, which was taken from Berlin's "Remember."

Denny has just bought a special 80-pound hunting bow and believes it will be great sport to shoot at stray wild cats in the mountainous country near here. Denny's friend, Ben Hendrick Jr., will accompany him—and carry several powerful rifles for safety's sake.

"Resurrection," the Count Leo Tolstoy masterpiece which is now being filmed by Edwin Carewe, is the only Tolstoy book copyrighted. Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the famous Russian writer, revealed, "Since 1883 my father refused to have his writing copyrighted," Count Tolstoy explained, "hoping that they might find the wider influence."

"In 1889, however, he made an exception to this rule, moved by sympathy for a religious sect known as the Dughabors, who were severely persecuted by the Czar because of their beliefs, ran against government policies."

"The Czarist government determined to wipe out this sect and hundreds were sent to the steppes of Siberia. My father raised 20,000 roubles from the copyright to 'Resurrection' and sent a colony of Dughabors to Brilliant British Columbia, where they still live."

Among the delegates were six Premiers, the President of the Irish Free State Executive Council and the Maharajahpraja Bahadur, of Burdwan, India—all of them representing some 471,000,000 people or about one-fourth of the world's population.

The Premier's presence was from Great Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Newfoundland and the Union of South Africa.

Today's proceedings were concerned with the formalities of the opening. The program was arranged to conclude with a great state dinner in Lancaster House with Premier Baldwin presiding.

HOLLYWOOD STYLE FINTS

Hollywood, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Dame Fashion this fall will ride abreast of the Cosacks!

In the evens worn by screen stars and players a strong Russian accent is detected. No-ma Shearer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, heartily approves the mode. "For winter Russian fads are appropriate," Miss Shearer declared. "I have just bought a hat of gray suede with a high Cosack crown trimmed with bands of grey fur."

My favorite winter coat is one of brown velvet with a fitted bodice and a flare skirt edged with red fox fur. The cut of the coat and the wide leather belt, with its gold buckle, make it typically Russian.

Frocks of the same pattern with the broad belt of leather or suede at the natural waist line carry out the Russian idea. The sleeves of these frocks are long and the necks are high. Both are Professors Hussey and Hossiter, of Michigan University, leave for South Africa next Saturday to study double stars in the Southern Hemisphere.

On a hill in the Orange Free State they will erect a 27 inch telescope and work in wonderfully clear atmosphere.

That interests the average citizen less than any new detail in the world of crime, divorce, football, or pugilism. It will interest future ages more than the Little of Waterloo or any other human dought.

Lloyd George praises Asquith like a conquering game cock crowing on the body of a defeated foe. He praises prohibition also, but will never persuade Britons to adopt it. They retain the theory that the individual should decide personal questions for himself. They even maintain that enjoyment of a glass of beer is more important than increased savings. Think of that for depravity.

Crew of Elma Be Tried November 8

Wilmington, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The final chapter in the ill-starred career of the rum boat Elma will be written here on November 8.

Thirteen members of the crew of the rum ship will go on trial in Federal court charged with violation of the prohibition and other laws.

The members of the Elma's crew have been held here since the rum laden argosy was seized off the Virginia coast early in June and brought to Wilmington by the Coast Guard Cutter Manning.

Already the $400,000 cargo of the Elma—4,000 gallons of Scotch and assorted liquors—has been destroyed here by a force of laborers under the direction of United States Marshals. A court order for the destruction of the cargo was issued by Federal Judge I. M. Meekins.

It was almost a three-day job, but the liquor was destroyed—all of it, except for a case of each brand. These few bottles will be used as evidence against the members of the crew when they stand trial.

Then, on November 15, the rum boat Elma, which has seen better days, will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. However, it is thought that the sale may be postponed on account of the libel for wages placed against the ship by members of the crew.
