TYPHOON TAKES HEAVY TOLL IN THE PHILIPPINES

Two Hundred Known to Have Lost Lives Early Today and Property Damage Will Run High

Manila, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Two hundred dead, several hundred missing and property damage that will reach a staggering figure was the toll taken today of the terrific typhoon, followed by tidal waves, that swept over the province of Batangas. Another typhoon was reported to be sweeping toward the Philippine Islands today. It was reported 3000 miles off the coast of Luzon and moving in a westerly direction. Hurting in from the direction of the island of Samar, the typhoon struck the southern end of Batangas with a fury that carried death and destruction in its wake. Returning army planes reported that a strip of territory, three miles wide and fifteen miles long, at the south end of the province had been particularly hit hard. Most of the deaths occurred in this vicinity. On the heels of the typhoon huge waves rolled over the beach and hurled tons of water inland, crushing houses, uprooting trees and spreading death. The returning airplanes reported that the town of Batangas appeared to be almost wholly destroyed. Most of the buildings had been leveled by the gale. Most of those who lost their lives were residing along the beach at the south end of Batangas. The full fury of the typhoon was felt there. Many of these persons were killed in a building when the typhoon broke on the island. The toll mounted upward as the waves washed in from the sea, scattering the debris of the houses and sweeping the occupants away in the great rollers. Other sections of the Philippines were also struck by the storm. Entire groves of coconut trees were leveled to the ground by the fury of the storm. These trees had withstood every storm for the past thirty years. With communications cut off from other sections in the typhoon area, it was impossible to estimate the full damage of the storm today. Special Red Cross trains, carrying food, nurses, medical supplies and doctors, have left for the stricken areas. Care for the injured, whose number is thought to be great, will tax these resources to the utmost. Other relief units are being organized and will be dispatched as soon as they are ready. A message was received here today which was signed by Governor Castillo of Batangas. It said that seventy persons were dead, one hundred missing and that 500 houses had been destroyed. Returning airplanes reported that the water had subsided from Batangas and that the inhabitants "seemingly appeared to be clearing up wreckage. Few persons were injured by the typhoon itself. It was disclosed today when Major Parker Hitchens, medical aide to Governor General Wood, returned from the stricken area in a seaplane. Major Hitchens declared that drowning caused most of the 200 deaths reported. Following the typhoon, a tidal wave swept inland a distance of a quarter mile. The death and injury toll from the gale itself, he said, was negligible. The food supply in the typhoon belt is plentiful Hitchens declared, and but little outside assistance will be needed. Danger of an epidemic is not at all probable. The typhoon which wrought such havoc at Batangas was travelling in a westerly direction today and will strike in the vicinity of Cebu in China, some time this morning, it was thought. The Filipino legislature today voted a sum of $25,000 for the assistance of those in the typhoon belt.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR CUTTING OF COTTON ACREAGE

Steps to Be Taken to Solve Cotton Problem Discussed in Raleigh During Today

Raleigh, Nov. 8.—(INS)—A revised plan, embodying many new details, for solution of the cotton problem was presented to Governor McLean's cotton conference this afternoon by the special committee appointed by the cotton finance committee and the warehouse committee here last week. The plan, in addition to calling for a 33 1-3 per cent reduction in acreage next year, suggests for a more balanced system of agriculture, a campaign for improved farming, support of bankers and supply merchants, better provision for marketing surplus crops, and the appointment of a committee to execute the agricultural program. The committee recommended a more balanced system of agriculture in the state to effect a "necessary reduction" of at least 33 1-3 per cent in cotton acreage. This system, the committee pointed out, already is in operation to some extent, but should be further developed. The committee told the Governor's conference that a campaign should be inaugurated immediately in every county to urge farmers to adopt a better system of farming. This, too, the committee reported, would provide a material reduction in acreage. Each farmer cultivating more than five acres should be requested to adopt a diversified program, and to sign statements telling the committee of his plan. The support of bankers and supply merchants would be effective if they would extend credit to farmers who adopt the suggested program, and to discourage systems of farming which "violate the elementary principles of good business management," the committee declared. The State Department of Agriculture and State Agricultural College were urged to use every means to increase marketing facilities essential to diversification. A method of rating farms, in order to induce farmers to strive for a good rating, also was proposed. Under the plan a committee would be appointed to carry out the gigantic program, this to consist of a representative of the Department of Agriculture, the Cotton Association, leading farmers, and others. The special cotton committee consist of Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of State College, Commissioners of Agriculture Graham, U. B. Blalock and others. In addition to this, a sub-committee would be appointed in appointed in each county, the committee consisting of county agents, commissioners, cotton association field agents, bankers and representative farmers.

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED SUNDAY IN AUTO WRECK

Robersonville Youth Instantly Killed and Two Companions Hurt When Car Overturns Near Bethel

Norwood Highsmith, 16, is dead and Leary Warren and Hector Lupton are in Pitt Community Hospital here suffering injuries as a result of an automobile accident near Bethel yesterday afternoon. Highsmith, the son of Milton Highsmith, of Robersonville, was driving the car at the time of the accident. According to reports, the car was being driven at a high rate of speed and overturned when young Highsmith swerved off the road to avoid collision with another car at a cross road. The car overturned and Highsmith's skull was crushed when he was thrown clear of the car. His death was instantaneous. Persons who arrived on the scene immediately following the accident helped the two injured boys from beneath the wreckage and brought them to the hospital here for treatment. A report from the hospital this morning stated that the boys rested well during the night and were getting along nicely today. Relative of the dead youth, arrived on the scene shortly after receiving word of the accident and his body was carried to Robersonville for preparation for burial. California voters beat by almost two to one the proposition to make the bible part of the public school curriculum, and by more than two to one, the proposition to license race track gambling. People with so much common sense deserve to own the finest country in the world. Madame Kollontay goes to Mexico representing Russia, but she is told "don't dare set foot on United States soil. No, not even passing through." She might bite us, and anyhow, we are too pure for such a she. If her government would buy Luck Kerensky's bonds, purchased by silly American financiers, that would be another matter. We are not unwilling to hear sound argument and money talks logically. Two Italians, fired perhaps by the Mussolini spirit, plan for New York a building worth mentioning. It would be one third of a mile long, 5000 feet wide, more than twice as tall as the tallest building on earth, 81,000 rooms; 5,000 stores would be contained in the building and a working day population of 243,000 human beings not far from the population of Washington, D. C. Such buildings, and bigger ones, with flying fields on top will come, whether these energetic Italians, or some one else, does the work. Mr. Book has made a start in Detroit, with a building more than eighty stories high. We shall have eventually one city for each trade, one building for each city. "High art" will mourn, until it gets used to it, but that is surely coming. "The Modern View," a Jewish weekly of St. Louis will dedicate a bronze bust of Emile Zola, in honor of the fight he made in the Dreyfus case. For that fight Zola deserves honor, of his writings generally, it may be said that the world would have been at least as well off without them. Zola's work was an elaboration of his theory Every man has within him, a hog asleep, and he wrote too often in a way to wake up that hog. The world needs writers that allow the hog to sleep on, emphasizing the good in men, and increasing it. In the Sacramento Valley, glory of Northern California, the Zuckerman brothers are making this old earth work, as she would work. They plan next year to beat the world's potato growing record, which belongs to them, by increasing their record to 1,500 bushels per acre, from 1,028, the present record. With such production, one corner of California or Texas would feed the world. Making 600,000 pounds of food grow on an acre, where by food grew a little while ago, is worth while. The Zuckermans are not making any little laboratory experiment. Their crop last year was 375,000 sacks of number one and 25,000 sacks of number two potatoes, enough to winter 20,000 families. Rupert Hughes annoys good people by writing that George Washington married for money and land, also manufactured alcoholic drinks. That is not important. The thing is that Washington beat the British. All men drank in his day and cursed and swore, except a few Quakers, who didn't curse.

TODAY

He, He, Too Much Money. Wise Californians. She Might Bite. A City in One Building. (By Arthur Brisbane)

The Grand Jury in last week's term of criminal court here commended Judge N. A. Sinclair for his action in making out sentences to offenders brought before him and declared that if all judges did likewise there would be fewer appeals from the decisions of magistrate and county courts. The body also approved the suggestion of Judge Sinclair that grand juries serve for a term of six months instead of a new jury for each term of court as at present and urged that the next legislature enact a measure to make same possible. The report which was submitted just prior to adjournment of the term Saturday was as follows: "To the Honorable N. A. Sinclair, Judge Presiding: We, the Grand Jurors of this, the November term of the Superior Court of Pitt County, do hereby submit the following report: First: We have passed on all bills that have come before us and made presentments in all cases that we deemed it just and proper to do so. Second: We have visited the various offices and institutions of the county as required by law viz: the County Home, Convict Camp, Jail, Sheriff's Office, Clerk of Court, Register of Deeds, Auditor's, Board of Education, Treasurer and Welfare Offices. All of these with exception of a few minor things are in excellent condition, and most carefully maintained. In the jail we found the water works to be giving trouble but were assured by the sheriff and auditor that new valves had been purchased and would be installed at once. At the County Home we found one inmate who upon examination was found to be insane, and were advised by Mr. Corbett that he was dangerous. We recommend that he be incarcerated in the common jail while action is being taken upon the application presented to the insane ward of the state by our ever alert welfare officer, Mr. Futrell. We, the Grand Jurors of this term of court, must confess the lack of sufficient time to make thorough investigation into the county's affairs as a conscientious jury should do, and, if not before we are thoroughly convinced that the longer term either the twelve or six months grand jury as advocated and recommended by our presiding Judge, N. A. Sinclair is to be desired and hope our Representatives in the next assembly will make it possible. We would not dare close this report without commending the presiding judge for the manner in which he has conducted his court and are frank to confess that if every Superior Court Judge in our state would emulate the example set by our presiding judge in giving sentences in commensurate to the crime committed to those convicted in his court, we would have less appeals from the Recorder's Court, and Magistrate and hence our docket would not be congested as it is at the present time. We must earnestly ask the cooperation of the local bar in order that the docket may be cleared up as early as possible and if deemed necessary that a special term of court be requested. Here endeth our most voluminous report: F. E. COX, Foreman. PREDICT LARGEST COTTON CROP IN HISTORY-NATION

Government Census Bureau Report Estimates Crop Will Reach 17,918,000 Bales

Washington, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Based on reports up to November 1, the United States will have a cotton crop this year of about 17,918,000 bales of 50 pounds per bale, the Census Bureau reported today. A yield of 18 1/2 pounds of lint cotton per acre is expected from the 47,207,000 acres to be harvested. The Census Bureau reported that 11,259,038 running bales, counting round or half bales, had been ginned from the 1926 crop prior to Nov. 1, as compared with 11,207,197 for 1925. The final ginnings for the season will depend upon whether the various influences, affecting the maturing and harvesting of the portion of the crop still in the field, will be more or less favorable than usual. Cotton production last year amounted to 16,103,679 bales, the yield per acre being 167.2 pounds. North Carolina is in eighth place with a crop of 2,036,900 bales. FREMONT YOUTH MURDERED FOR LOAD TOBACCO

Officers Searching for Three Men Believed to Have Murdered Boy Near Farmville

Officers today were continuing their search for a white man and two negroes, alleged slayers, of Gordon Yelverton, 17 year old Fremont youth, whose body was found late Saturday about six miles from Farmville. Investigation revealed that the youth had been murdered and robbed of a truck load of tobacco last Thursday night and that the tobacco had been offered for sale on the Farmville market during Friday. Young Yelverton was the son of J. B. Yelverton, of Fremont, and the body was taken to that place for burial. Yelverton was engaged in trucking tobacco from the Williamston tobacco market to the Wilson market and on Thursday afternoon left the former place for the latter with a large truck load of tobacco. During Friday two negroes, and a white man offered the load of tobacco for sale on the floor of one of the Farmville warehouses, but failed to call for the check of approximately $1,400, after the sale had been made. It is believed that the criminals lost their nerve or feared discovery of their crime and therefore left the check uncalled for. The mystery of the uncalled for check and the abandoned truck in the warehouse was not unraveled until late Saturday when investigation followed the finding of the boy's body a short distance from the highway six miles from Farmville. There was a bullet wound in the middle of the boy's forehead and the back of his head had been beaten in.

TOBACCO MARKET OBSERVE HOLIDAY

No Sales Thursday, Armistice Day; Sales Today Heavy With Prices Stronger

On next Thursday, Armistice Day, the local tobacco market with all other markets of the belt, will observe holiday. This is in keeping with the action of the Eastern Carolina Tobacco Warehousemen's Association at its annual meeting held sometime ago. In order to avoid any delay on account of the holiday, the local market will begin sales on Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock and the same schedule will be carried out again on Friday, the day after the holiday. Offerings on the market today totaled about 800,000 pounds and prices appeared somewhat stronger than at the close of last week. Today's sales bring the season's total above thirty three million pounds and the average price for the season close to twenty-nine cents a pound.

FIRE DESTROYS FAMOUS SHRINE

Basilica of St. Anne De Beaupre Swept by Flames Early This Morning

Quebec, Nov. 8.—(INS)—The Basilica of St. Anne De Beaupre—shrine of the lame and blind—was swept by flames early today for the second time in four years. The statue of St. Anne and priceless relics were lost. The flames threatened to spread but villagers joined the fire brigade in combatting the onrush of the fire. The Basilica destroyed today was a temporary wooden structure that was erected when the second Basilica was destroyed in 1923. Crutches, canes and other articles discarded by cripples, filled two large racks, and these went up in smoke. The shrine—the objective of pilgrims from all parts of the world, where they liberally throw away their crutches and walked—stood in the tiny village of St. Anne De Beaupre, fifteen miles from this city. The village consists mainly of small shops for the manufacture and sale of replicas of the famous statue.

Coal Strike Resulting Damage to Essential Business of Nation; Newspaper Inquiry Shows Extent of Injuries to Manufacturing

London, Nov. 5.—(INS)—With the continuance of the coal stoppage, it is becoming increasingly evident that a condition akin to paralysis is steadily but surely gripping the essential industries of Great Britain.

In an attempt to obtain really satisfactory information as to the extent of the damage done, several London newspapers have recently conducted exhaustive inquiries in the various industrial districts. Nearly all are agreed that it will take years before Britain can ex-

From all parts of industrial Britain, says the Herald in publishing its findings, reports come of idle shipyards, closed textile mills and factories, and damped furnaces. Other subservient industries are compelled to work short time because of the shortage of coal, and traders generally are feeling the pinch because of the reduced purchasing power of the people.

Quoting an official of the Iron and Steel Confederation, the Herald says: There were 8 blast furnaces in operation in the West of Scotland when the stoppage began, employing about 5,000 men. All these blast furnaces have been shut down, mainly for lack of fuel and the men are idle. The heavy steel industry in this district, which employed between 8,000 and 10,000 men, is practically at a standstill, only two or three small rolling mills remaining active.

A vice-president of David Colville and Sons, the great Scottish iron and steel concern allied to Harland and Wolff's told the Herald that the Scottish iron and steel trade has been paralyzed for five months, and that it was impossible to estimate the amount lost in wages and orders.

The River Clyde shipbuilding and engineering industries are almost totally owing to shortage of fuel, states the newspaper. Harland and Wolff state that most of their men are suspended and that many of their best craftsmen have gone abroad. Other shipbuilding and engineering firms have a similar tale to tell. Many shipyard employees are suspended at Clydebank, Ayr, Troon, Greenock, Dumbarton, Greenock, Irvine, Ardrossan and Old Kilpatrick.

In the Middleborough district, continues the Herald's report, trade is all but strangled. In normal times close upon 25,000 men are employed in the various works, but there are barely 3,000 working at the moment. Of thirteen ironworks in the area only one is at present working.

On the Tyne River there are 98 shipbuilding berths and only 17 occupied. Work is proceeding in four cases only. One the Wear River there are 57 berths and only ten occupied. On the River Tees there are 57 berths and only nine occupied.

Works with contracts which must be completed are paying such extortionate prices for foreign coal that in many cases the contracts, which bring a profitable job, will be a losing proposition, the newspaper revealed.

FRENCHMAN SETS RECORD FOR BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

Paris, Nov. 5.—(INS)—France has a new record holder, Raymond Briez, who, during his twenty-nine years of existence has given his blood to those in need on 101 occasions.

Recipients of Briez' blood are said to include the president of a South American Republic, several princes of the blood and many titled persons. At least half, however, have been poor neglected persons without friends.

Briez exacts no money for his services. He cherishes, however, dozens of touching letters of thanks.

During the 101 blood transfusion operations to which he has submitted Briez has given approximately six gallons of blood. He gave blood seventeen times during the month of July, and three times in one day.

More Witnesses Testify Today In Hall-Mills Case

Court House, Somerville, N. J., Nov. 8.—(INS)—Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's star witness in the Hall-Mills murder trial was at the scene of the murder of Rev. Edward W. Hall and his pretty young choir singer, Mrs. Florence Eleanor Mills, it was testified by Robert Erling, a millwright.

Erling was there in a parked automobile and Mrs. Gibson rode by on her mule Jenny.

Mrs. Gibson claimed four years ago, and also again when the investigation was recently renewed, that she was at the scene of the fatal night of Sept. 14, 1922, and that she saw who was there and heard four shots fired. She testified under oath at a preliminary hearing recently that one of those she saw there was Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, who with 'Willie' and Henry Stevens are on trial for the murder. She also said Willie was there.

Ralph Gorsline, vertyman in the slain Rector's church, came to Wil-

Edward S. Schwartz, fingerprint expert of Newark, N. J., is shown on the stand holding the calling card found at the scene of the Hall-Mills murder. He told jurors that the card bore the fingerprint of Willie Stevens, one of the three accused of the crime.

Han Garvin, former manager of the Burns Detective Agency in New York City, three weeks after the slaying of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills, told him he was conscience-stricken and had a story to tell, garvin testified on the witness stand this afternoon.

The story was that he had seen Henry Stevens, one of the defendants, at the scene of the murder on the night of Sept. 14, 1922; that Stevens fired two shots at him and said: 'Get the hell out of here' and that subsequently he was taken to a lodge room and told not to open his mouth about what he saw in the 'lovers' lane.'

Gorsline, last week denied on the stand he had seen Henry Stevens at the scene of the murder, although he admitted he (Gorsline) was in De Russey's Lane the fatal night in his automobile with Miss Catherine Rasjall.

As Garvin reported what Gorsline had said, Henry Stevens sat upright in his chair, his hands tightly clenching his sides. His florid face was grimly set.

Juarez, Moves to Become Modern White Light City

El Paso, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Juarez, last foothold of ancient world touching the United States, rapidly is assuming the identification marks of "Main Street."

Only recently, this so-called "den of iniquity" where vice was supposed to have been flaunted in letters of scarlet and where Mexicans sold whiskey openly to Americans, received its charter in Rotary International. All of the high lords of the luncheon fraternity attended the charter granting and learned something new about hand-shaking.

Juarez, too, resembled many American cities recently with its streets a mass of trenches, where progressive politicians were installing modern water and sewer connections.

But the final blow, now has been struck.

The Juarez which formerly bathed each night in the pale glow of the Mexican moon and whose total other illumination consisted of the brilliant signs before every saloon on Commerce Street, soon is to become as well lighted on its principal streets as any Texas city.

A new white way, which will cost more than $25,000 to install is being fostered by Mayor Alberto B. Alameda and residents of the Chihuahua city are planning a gigantic festa to open the new lighting system formally.

SHOOT AMPHIBIAN PLANE FROM GUNBOAT TURRET; NAVY ADOPTS NEW IDEA

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—(INS)—As a result of the recent successful catapulting of a Loening amphibian biplane from the gun turret of a battleship by a powder explosion, the Navy Department will order every battleship in the fleet equipped with the catapults, it was learned today.

The experiment, made aboard the U. S. S. West Virginia marked the first time that a 5100 pound

'amphibian' plane has been launched by means of a powder catapult. A charge of powder equivalent to that used in an eight inch shell, shot the ship into space and, without a falter the plane soared over Los Angeles harbor.

Navy officers declared that the success of the experiment will more closely link together the battleship and the airplane.

HOLLYWOOD STYLE HINTS

Hollywood, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The beginning of the rainy season in Hollywood has turned the screen stars' fancies to novelty umbrellas.

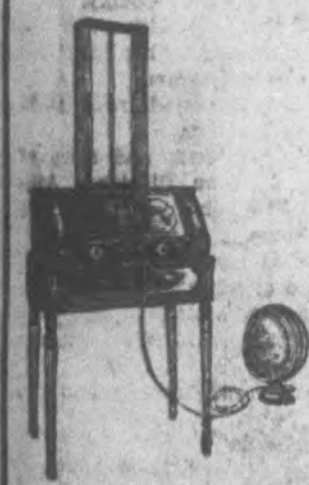

They are shorter this year than ever before—some being only six-ten inches long.

Norma Shearer carries an umbrella with a compact vanity kit, consisting of mirror, rouge, powder puff and powder, concealed in the handle. Carmel Myers has an umbrella the handle of which is a miniature motion picture camera. When the crank is turned, the umbrella opens.

Speaking of the stuff that dreams are made of, how about good old corned beef and cabbage for supper?—Atlanta Georgian.

ANNUAL ACHIEVEMENT DAY FOR PITT COUNTY

By B. L. Ferguson)

Friday, November 5, Home Demonstration Clubs held their first Annual Achievement Day at East Carolina Teachers College, with 125 people in attendance. The program was opened by singing "Come, Thou Almighty King," after which Dr. James E. W. Cook delivered the invocation. Mr. R. H. Wright, president of the college, made us all welcome to "our college," and told the girls when they had finished high school there would be a place for them there. Mr. R. G. Fitzgerald speaking for the Board of Education, expressed the pride the Board had in the world the club girls had done, and their pleasure in having a part in the work. Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, State Home Demonstration Agent, made an inspirational address to the girls, with her theme, their duty as the future home makers of the country. After this, certificates were delivered to 65 girls who had successfully completed their first unit of work in the girls' clubs.

When the girls' part of the program was finished, the Home Demonstration Agent gave a brief review of the work that had been done in the kitchens entered in the kitchen improvement contest that has just closed, after which the prizes were awarded. We are indebted to the following firms for the prizes which they contributed:

Greenville Banking & Trust Co., $25.00; J. J. Perkins, Hardware, $10.00 in trade; Miller's, $2.00 collection of aluminum; Bowen's, silk hose; Willard's Grocery, Emergency Shelf; Smith Electric Co., Hot Plate; Daily Reflector, 6 mos. subscription; Edward's Hardware, Enamelled garbage can; Forbes and Baker, Aluminum Roaster; C. Heber Forbes Silk Hose.

The first prize was awarded to Mrs. Rosa Briley, who raised the score of her kitchen 35 points by the expenditure of $25.00 in money. She and her husband did the work.

After adjournment, a picnic dinner was enjoyed in one of the halls of the new students' building, where president Wright had had tables arranged.

In the afternoon there was a short tour to some of the kitchens that had been improved.

FIRST ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

(Reported)

The Fall Flower Show of the Garden Club which was an eagerly anticipated event in the civic life of the community was held in the Munford store, Friday, Nov. 5th. This place was turned into a veritable flowerland by the use of autumn leaves and ferns interspersed with chrysanthemums, dahlias, asters, snap dragons, roses and other fall flowers.

The exhibit was unusually pretty, though not so large because of the severe drought during the summer months.

Blue ribbons were given Mesdames E. L. Baker, J. Key Brown, C. T. Munford, A. B. Ellington, Ed Harvey, W. M. Moore, H. S. Ragsdale, J. H. B. Moore, Jow. Dixon, S. T. White, Geo. Dall and S. E. Gates. The Greenville Floral Co., also had a very pretty collection of flowers on display.

The Garden club plans to make the flower show an annual affair and it is hoped that all flower lovers will join this club and help to beautify our town by taking a more active interest in growing flowers and shrubs around our homes.

St. Peters Catholic Chapel Dedicated

The new and beautiful chapel of St. Peter was the scene of the inspiring ceremony of dedication yesterday morning. At 8 o'clock Rev. Henry Christ, of Lancaster, Pa., with Lawrence Dudley as acolyte, and Rev. Charles J. Gable as master of ceremonies, appeared at the front of the church and in the presence of the waiting congregation blessed the exterior. The doors were then opened and the procession entered the church. The prayers for the dedication of the altar and interior were then said, by which the devotional building became the house of prayer—house of God.

The altar was then decorated with flowers and candles and Father Christ began the mass. After reading the gospel Father Christ spoke to the congregation of the significance of the words the "House of God." He said the place where we are brought as children and through the waters of baptism are freed from original sin, where we come to worship God and to offer up our petitions; where as one believe Jesus Christ is present in the Blessed Sacrament; that place must be the House of God. During his life on earth, Jesus Christ showed a great zeal for the temple, in that He drove the money changers from its doors. So, too, must we ever entertain a high regard for the place set apart for God's honor.

At eleven o'clock, Rev. Joseph Hatem offered up the mass in the Syrian rite and delivered an elo-

November 11, 1918, when the Armistice bringing to an end hostilities between the Allies and Germans was signed, the day was indeed one of rejoicing and next Thursday, the eighth anniversary of the occasion, should also be one of celebration and rejoicing. While the boys were "Over There" those on this side of the great ocean could well rejoice to know that no more would be called upon to pay the supreme price, but as soon as the boys had returned home, and peace had been definitely signed, many people soon forgot the war and went ahead with their own affairs.

The signing of the Armistice was an important event in the future life and history of every inhabitant of the civilized world, and if ever an event justified the celebration of its anniversaries it was the Armistice.

Members of the local post of the American Legion have made arrangements for a big celebration by ex-service men here next Thursday and have urged and invited the entire population of our city and county to observe the day as a holiday and take part in the celebration. It is to be hoped that the citizens will gladly respond to this invitation from the Legion.

If you believe that the boys who gave their services during the world war for the sake of humanity and that the cessation of hostilities in the war marked the beginning of a new and better era for the civilized world, show it by your celebration of Armistice Day. Let everyone in the city observe the day as a holiday, display the American flag, attend the exercises and devote a portion of the day to prayers of thanksgiving for what the Armistice has meant to the world and prayers for the souls of those brave lads who gave their all to make the world a better place in which to live.

Armistice Day is an important event in our lives. Let us treat it as such.

MAKE THEM WELCOME

Next Friday and Saturday Greenville will be the host when hundreds of school teachers gather here for the district meeting of the North Carolina Education Association. The impression of our city that these visitors carry away with them when the conference closes is one that will mean much to the future of our city, and it behooves every citizen to lend his or her effort to make these impressions of the sort that will be beneficial rather than a detriment to the city's progress. By attitude and action let those who attend the teachers' conference know that we are indeed glad they came and that Greenville always has a warm welcome in store for its visitors.

AMERICAN ACTOR DIED PARIS TODAY

James Hackett, Famous Actor and Producer, Died Suddenly From Heart Attack

Paris, Nov. 8.—(INS)—James K. Hackett, famous American actor and producer, died here today.

Hackett died at 4:45 this morning. His death was sudden and was due to a heart attack, although he had been in ill health since September.

For the past two weeks he had been confined to his bed by an internal malady, and had decided to abandon his plans to go to London next week to appear in a command performance before the King and Queen of Great Britain, for the benefit of the new Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.

James K. Hackett was born in Ontario, of American parents. Sept. 6, 1869. He was educated in the public schools of New York.

He attended the New York Law School, but after a few months gave up the study of the law to go upon the stage. He made his theatrical debut in Philadelphia in 1892 and a short time later was leading man at the Lyceum in New York.

Hackett married Mary Manning in 1897, but they were divorced and in 1911 he married Miss Beatrice Beckley of London.

Hackett's early triumphs included "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Rupert of Hentzau," and "The Pride of Jennico."

After having firmly established himself as one of the most popular leading men in America, Hackett essayed Shakespearean roles and his production of "Macbeth" staged in New York was a notable achievement. He soon became known as one of the best of the modern interpreters of Shakespeare, and at the invitation of foreign governments gave performance of "Othello" and "Macbeth" in Paris and London.

Los Angeles, Nov. 4 (INS)—The 1927 program of the Pacific Coast Polo Association, recently announced, indicates another brilliant polo season is in prospect for California for next year.

The modern snights of the mallet will joust in the opening tournament at the Midwick Country Club on January 28 and competition for the Pacific coast high goal handicap championship will continue till February 13.

A total of 68 days of polo will be played the schedule reveals divided into four-17 day series.

A three month practice and conditioning period will start at the Midwick club early in November.

Inspectors for the boxing commission have lately been governed by more equity than by the law, and, in consequence, "the broken hand of Hollywood" are mending. At one time more than twenty boxers were idle with the cracked hands due to the stingy allotment of adhesive tape given them by the inspectors.

There was an epidemic of smashed knuckles after the 10-round boxing law went into effect, as the boys, who had pulled through four rounds with a regulation amount of adhesive, couldn't go the longer distance.

Major Goodsell, world's champion sculler, has accepted the challenge of Pat Haemmon of New Zealand to defend his sculling title. The race will be held a round Christmas Day. It was announced, and in Southern California waters. A $10,000 stake will be up.

Coach Bill Spaulding's football team at the University of California, southern branch, known as the "Bruins" hereafter.

In the past the Southern Branch eleven has been referred to as the "Grizzlies," but the University of Montana claimed a copyright on that name and even threatened court action if the local school did not get another nickname.

"Bruins" is a fitting title for the Branch, as the University of California at Berkeley is known as the "Golden Bear."

Maurie McLoughlin, the "California Comet" of tennis fame, now plays golf to the exclusion of tennis.

Fifteen years ago McLoughlin was to Americans and international tennis what Tilden is today. His slashing, slicing play popularized aggressive tennis tactics. Up to McLoughlin's time he orthodox style had been a useline game, in which the player carefully returned the ball until an opponent erred.

McLoughlin is now an ardent golf fan and is a member of seven clubs.

If 70,000 persons turn out again to watch "Red" Grange play in Los Angeles, it will be due to the fact that Grange is playing against "Buck" Muller and not because the former Illinois half-back is still an irresistible magnet.

The proposed contest between Grange and Muller will afford local fans an opportunity to compare the two famous red-heads. Grange and Muller are expected to meet in the local Coliseum in January.

In spite of the pessimistic noons about the future of baseball, the 1926 Pacific Coast League baseball season just closed showed the attendance was the third largest in the history of the circuit. One million nine hundred thousand fans paid admission. President Harry Williams reported. This number, like the steamer's casualty list, does not include the woman and child.

(By W. S. Cousins, INS Financial Editor)
New York, Nov. 8.—Industrial stocks displayed considerable irregularity in a dull and featureless market today. The railroad stocks made only an indifferent response to the array of favorable factors presented on behalf of the transportation companies.

Professionals pushed the industrial stock leaders back and forth, with an occasional spurt followed by a prompt and vigorous decline. Short selling of the motor stocks was met by bullish spots.

The cotton market took heart when the government crop estimate fell below 18,000,000 bales. This, combined with an increase of about a million bales in exports to the end of October as compared with last year, strengthened the buying position of cotton.

Estimates made in the financial district today placed the increase of the monthly unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation for October at 200,000 tons.

Bearish traders concentrated on the motor stocks in the forenoon period, pouring in a flood of selling orders in General Motors, Nash and a few of the low-priced motors. General Motors broke to 146 1/2 for a 4 point loss, but selling orders were well absorbed and the recovery was as prompt

Almost Human
Maybe you never thought of this in just this way: A plumbing system is very much like the human system. It does its work as our bodies do their work.
Your body is full of pipes, traps and vents. So is your plumbing system.
Each fixture has its trap, and each trap must be properly vented. It must be properly vented, or bad health is likely to get hold of the whole family.
Old plumbing has old traps and old vents. You should have them changed for new and better ones. The change will cost a few dollars. But what are a few dollars when the health and happiness of a home are at stake.
Replace your old traps and vents! Do it now!

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the source of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial catarrh, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

How they Know
An ill-timed turn of the eye would mean death to a racer who is cutting saucer air at 140 mph! How does he know the wheelbarrow standing on when to exert that last bit of possible human and reserve motor power? Clock-like team work between racer and mechanic is the answer. From the pit the mechanic flashes signals of warning. Credit for many a classic victory is due men whose cryptic messages in chalk inspired renowned pilots on to world honors and fortunes.

Recommend Consuls for Port Wilmington

Wilmington, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Appointment of Alex Hoffman, of Heide and Company, shipping agents, as German vice-consul here today was recommended to the German Ambassador at Washington by Immigration Inspector H. H. Ford.

He also suggested H. Pier Giovanni, the painter and decorator, as Italian vice-consul at Wilmington.

Inspector Ford said Immigration and shipping warranted the appointments.

The last German vice-consul here was the late John G. L. Geschen. Only England and Norway now maintain vice-consuls here.
