ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION WAS BIG EVENT HERE

Largest Armistice Day Crowd in History Gathered Here Yesterday for the Exercises

One of the greatest parades in the city's history, the presentation of a war trophy on the court house lawn, exercises at the East Carolina Teachers College, where Congressman Chas. L. Abernethy was the principal speaker, a barbecue dinner at the fair grounds, maneuvers by the 117th Field Artillery of the National Guards, a football game and a war picture all featured to make yesterday's celebration one of the most interesting Armistice Day programs and drew one of the largest crowds in the history of Pitt county. Much credit is due to the committee on arrangements from the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, under whose auspices the celebration was staged.

The parade formed at the A. C. L. Depot and moved down Dickinson Avenue and Evans street to the court house. Taking part in the parade were: the Greenville high school band, in naval uniforms; the high school pupils; police detachments; Boy Scouts; 117th Field Artillery of the National Guards; a large number of ex-service men; and members of the Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion and Civil War veterans in cars. The American flag displayed before a number of homes and all the business houses. Groups of school children along the sides of the sidewalks cheering and waving flags, the band, artillery and a number of ex-service men in uniforms made a gala scene.

J. B. Kittrell, chairman of the committee, was master of ceremonies for the day. After a band selection on the court house lawn Rev. James E. W. Cook offered prayer. Then Mr. Kittrell introduced Mayor D. M. Clark, who in a most happy manner, in behalf of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, presented an Austrian gun to the Pitt County Commissioners. J. B. James, in an equally pleasing manner, in behalf of the commissioners, accepted the trophy. At the conclusion of the exercises here, the parade re-formed and proceeded to the East Carolina Teachers College.

The college girls, in a row on either side of the entrance to the campus, awaited the parade and after the parade passed, fell in line at the rear. In the auditorium of the college, where the exercises were held, J. B. Kittrell again presided. Rev. H. Frederick Jones led in prayer. President Robert H. Wright in a few well-chosen words, welcomed the assemblage to the college. Special and appropriate music was furnished by the high school band and the young ladies of the college assisted by Miss Bessie Brown, J. C. Lanier, in a few appropriate remarks, introduced the principal speaker of the day, Hon. Chas. L. Abernethy, Congressman of the Third District. From his opening sentence, "At the eleventh hour, on the eleventh day, of the eleventh month, eight years ago the curtain rang down on the greatest conflict ever staged by mortals" until his closing words, he held his hearers spellbound. He recited the high purposes of the American Legion and traced the historical development of democracy, showing that the world war grew out of a conflict of two different ideas of government and that the task of fostering these principles of government for the future is as sacred and important a duty, calling at many times for the same type of courage and fortitude, that was necessary to win the war. He discussed the international relationships that have developed since the war. He closed with the hope that somehow out of the present turmoil and confusion the principles of the Prince of Peace would eventually reign.

QUEEN WILL NOT VISIT THIS STATE

Proposed Four-Day Visit of Royal Party Through North Carolina to Be Cancelled

Raleigh, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Queen Marie of Roumania has definitely decided to cancel her proposed four-day trip through North Carolina, it was learned on reliable authority by International News Service today.

The Roumanian sovereign's decision to cancel her North Carolina tour was made on account of Southern railroads refusing to give the Roumanian party free transportation, it was declared.

COOLIDGE SPEECH TAKES ATTENTION FOREIGN NATIONS

Press of European Nations Devote Much Space to Address But Refrain From Lengthy Comment

London, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Despite its nationalistic tone and sharp comments on European affairs, the speech of President Coolidge at the dedication of the Liberty War Memorial at Kansas City, yesterday, has met with general approval and comparatively little criticism in British Government circles.

One prominent government official who preferred that his name not be used, characterized the speech as follows:

"President Coolidge's address is an extremely sensible utterance made by a patriotic American. There is nothing in the speech to which we could legitimately object as a government."

"President Coolidge's remarks about the Armistice ending the war are eminently just. We agree perfectly with him regarding the necessity of dropping recriminations between nations."

"As to America's part in the war, Mr. Coolidge is perfectly right in taking the attitude he has adopted, while his criticisms upon the old-time 'armed camp' of Europe are unanswerable."

Great Britain is not surprised by President Coolidge's announcement that America is through with the World Court unless the Senate's reservations are adhered to.

"His announcement regarding the World Court doesn't take us by surprise," the official said. "We have known his attitude for months. The only point where the President does not step on open and debatable ground is in his reference to American prosperity, and his indirect reference to debts."

President Coolidge urged the American people, in his address, not to be ashamed of their prosperity, and ascribed the alleged unpopularity of Americans abroad to the fact that America was a creditor nation.

The British press took varying views of the President's speech. The London Chronicle thought the speech was not happily inspired, but was sure that Mr. Coolidge's intent was pacific.

"The President has a perfect right to be firm regarding the payment of the war debts," this journal said. "But nothing is to be gained by debating the ethics of the matter. We know, and many Americans agree with us, that more statesmen make speeches upon this subject, the more the creditors are apt to look like duffers and the debtors like defaulting scoundrels. The sooner these business matters are settled, the better."

Charlotte, Nov. 12.—(INS)—C. A. J. Cox, Mobile, Ala., and J. C. McNeely, Davidson students, today were recovering from painful injuries and lacerations sustained when they were thrown from a truck late yesterday.

London, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Hopes of an immediate settlement of the coal strike received a set-back today by the announcement of the Colliery owners that the Government's plan of settlement does not represent an agreement to which the owners would become a party.

TODAY

The Vengeance Flame. World Money Leader. Farmers Need Canals. In Japan and Here.

When the Bible says jealousy hath a most vehement flame, it doesn't exaggerate, horrible testimony given by a doctor as to the killing of Mrs. Mills in the Hall-Mills murder case proves it.

The unfortunate woman after three bullets had been fired into her head, was dreadfully mutilated. Her throat was cut twice, her tongue cut out, and there were other horrible wounds inflicted on the dead body. The tongue is supposed to have been cut out because the woman's singing had charmed her clergyman from his straight and narrow path.

The horrible case will again remind men that whoever stirs up jealousy, stirs up danger. They have been reminded of it, often enough, for five hundred thousand years, by blows on the head, with sharp flint, by poison in the Middle Ages, by pistols later. But they never seem to learn.

Wall Street is very proud of having 'supplanted London as the world's money leader.' This year the United States will lend more than a thousand million dollars in gold to foreign borrowers. In three years past this country has lent Europe four thousand million dollars. Gratifying of course, but when will they get that money back?

London as world money leader, charged usually moderate and always legal, rates of interest. Our financiers lend money to Europe on a basis that makes the borrower pay at the rate of 13 per cent for the first year, as much as seven and eight per cent thereafter.

The usurer in many states loses principal and interest. Some of those American lenders will get unpleasant replies later when they ask for their principal. Meanwhile it is profitable for middle men that get the 'rakeoff.'

All farmers and some Congressmen are wondering what can be done for the farmer. The farmer says 'guarantee me a definite price for my crops.' Common sense says that invites overproduction such as now breaks the price of cotton.

Whit wheat at $1.10, farmers will increase their acreage by fifteen per cent. How much wheat would they plant were the price $2.49 which the farmers feel they ought to have and where would the government get money to buy the surplus $2.49 wheat?

Farmers can help their wheat situation by backing Secretary Hoover's plan for a canal to the gulf through the Mississippi Valley and another from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Ocean.

That would make every bushel of wheat worth from six to eighteen cents more.

Since the war railroads have raised rates six to eighteen cents a bushel, and surplus American wheat on its way to Liverpool pays that tax.

Argentine and Australian wheat has the six to eighteen cents advantage per bushel over American wheat at Liverpool where the price is made.

Why not begin with something that you can do, and build the canals, by cutting freight rates, and increase that price actually received by the farmer. The increase would apply to the surplus wheat that goes abroad. Some railroads, not all, will fight light airway waterways as competitors. But they would interfere with railroad profits on foreign shipments only, less than two per cent of the railroad business.

A nine foot canal from the lakes to the gulf would send the freight in barges carrying a thousand tons as against box cars carrying fifty tons, hauled by a tugboat instead of a locomotive. And ten such barges, carrying ten (Continued on page eight)

N. C. METHODISTS VOTE OPPOSITION TO MILITARISM THIS AFTERNOON

Conference Passes Resolution Against Any Increase in Armaments to Be Used in War

Durham, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Voting at the conclusion of fiery debate the North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today unanimously adopted resolutions condemning militarism and against any increase in armaments which may be used in prosecution of war.

Compulsory military training anywhere was scathingly condemned, as was military training in schools supported by the church. The latter were called on to abandon such practice.

The conference denied the nation its moral support in time of war by going on record as approving the following resolution:

"We will not, as a church, undertake at any time to sanctify international strife and slaughter by asking God's blessing upon it."

A bitter debate occurred over the last declaration. Rev. W. A. Cade, Presiding Elder of the Wilkesboro district, offered an amendment which would have permitted the church to 'bless' the action of the country if forced into war. The amendment failed.

Battery Loses Foot Ball Game to State College

The football squad of the local battery of the National Guard on yesterday afternoon lost to State College Freshmen team by a score of seven to nothing. The visitors scored the 'one touchdown' in the first few minutes of play, after which the locals tightened their hold and did not again permit the freshmen to approach scoring range.

As the game progressed, each side played harder and harder for the honor of the day, but appeared to make any material gains over the opposing team and the end came with no further scoring. The game was thoroughly interesting for the large crowd that attended and the showing made against the fast college team by the locals brought forth words of praise from the crowds.

On next Thursday afternoon the battery team will meet the Asheville high school team here and a good game is promised. No doubt the showing made in yesterday's game will bring out a large attendance for the game next Thursday.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS BEAMAN THIS AFTERNOON

Assistant Dean of Women at Teachers College Died This Morning Result of Injuries

Miss Mittie Beaman, 65, Assistant Dean of Women at East Carolina Teachers College, died in Pitt Community Hospital at 10 o'clock this morning, as a result of injuries received Wednesday.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 this afternoon in the Presbyterian church here, after which the body was taken to Clinton for burial.

Miss Beaman received fatal injuries Wednesday afternoon when she was struck by an automobile as she was attempting to cross the street at Five Points. She was knocked down by the car and dragged a distance of several feet.

Miss Beaman, a native of Clinton, Sampson county, has been connected with the school here for about 15 years and enjoyed a host of friends in this city. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. S. G. Worth, of Orlando, Fla., and a number of nieces and nephews.

Twelve Religions Represented Among College Students

The students of East Carolina Teachers College represent exactly one dozen different religions. Out of the 676 young women registered at the college, 222 are Methodists, 207 Baptists, 61 Presbyterians, 53 Christians, 31 Episcopalians, 8 Free Will Baptists, 5 Lutherans, 4 Friends, 2 Methodist Protestants, and one each Catholic, Jewish and Associate Reform Presbyterian. There are 80 members of the student body who belong to no church at all.

Only five denominations are represented in the faculty. There are 1 Lutheran, 4 Christian, 6 Presbyterians, 11 Baptist, and 18 Methodists.

The religious life of the campus is largely under the supervision of the Young Women's Christian Association. The student body by a large majority belongs to this organization. It holds regular weekly prayer services, Bible study classes and other functions of a social religious nature.

REPUBLICANS TO FIGHT BACK FOR SENATE CONTROL

Will Make Effort to Unseat Democrats if Democrats Successful Against Smith and Vare

Washington, Nov. 12.—(INS)—An unique defense against the Democratic threat to bar Senators-elect William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Frank L. Sulth, of Illinois, from taking their seats in the Senate was being considered today by administration leaders.

Fearing the Democrats may gain control of the Senate in the Secretary's Congress by disbarring Smith and Vare on the opening day, administration chieftains are considering a move to mete out the same treatment to at least two newly-elected Democrats. If the Democrats carry out their threat, and the Republicans are able to retaliate, the latter would still retain control of the new Senate by the single-vote margin.

The line-up then would be 46 Republicans, 45 Democrats and 1 Farmer-Laborite.

The Republicans, however, face still opposition before they can retaliate. First, they must establish contest against several Democratic Senators-elect, and second, they must command sufficient votes in the new Senate to bar these newcomers until the Smith and Vare cases are disposed of finally.

As the Democrats have control of the hold-over Senate—which by that portion of the membership not up for re-election this year plus the short term Senators elected Tuesday of next week who take office at once—the Republicans have all the odds against them. The 'hold-over' Senate lines up with 34 Democrats, 28 Republicans and 1 Farmer-Laborite.

This Democratic majority of 'holdovers' might spell the doom of Smith and Vare. If the two are summoned to take their oaths of office under the 'call of the alphabet,' as has been the traditional custom for a hundred years, the Democrats will retain a party plurality of three votes when Smith's name is called and a 46-45-1 plurality when Vare's name is called. As Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite, favors the exclusion of both men, there appears little likelihood of their being seated unless the Republicans can retaliate.

The Republican outlook will be even more gloomy if Republican insurgents are persuaded to vote with the Democrats in blocking Smith and Vare from being seated. This procedure consists of sending their credentials to the Senate elections committee without permitting them to take their oaths of office. Consequently, neither can vote, enter debate or serve on committees until their cases are finally decided and the Democrats now boast of a majority of the Senate. Ready to declare their elections null and void. Thus, both men may never serve a day in the Senate.

To block this action, the Republican defense plan must include some precedent-shattering arrangement by which all uncontested Republican Senators-elect—eighteen in number—can be seated before the incoming Democrats are admitted.

If this can not be done, Republican leaders propose to retaliate against some incoming Democrats, their present plan would include the filing of contests and moves to refer the credentials of the Democratic 'victims' to the elections committee.

If the Democrats win all down the line and finally disbar both Smith and Vare, the Republicans' best hope in retaining control of the new Senate will be to hold every Republican, regular and insurgent in line, win over Shipstead, the Farmer-Laborite, and toss up a 47 to 47 tie vote upon the Vice President's desk for Charles G. Dawes to decide.

Consider China. They are having a war there and no bootlegging problem, either.—Danville Bee.

UNCLE JOE CANNON DIED THIS MORNING AT THE AGE OF 90

Death of Veteran Statesman Marks Passing of One of Country's Most Brilliant Politicians

Danville, Ill., Nov. 12.—(INS)—Uncle Joe Cannon is dead. The veteran American statesman, who for 46 years was a member of the House of Representatives, passed away at his home here today at the age of 90.

Death came quietly with members of his family by his bed. With him were his two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Le Seare and Miss Helen Cannon.

For the past several days Uncle Joe had been failing. He experienced great difficulty in swallowing and while his pulse continued comparatively strong, his general condition was such that members of his family were hurriedly summoned by Dr. Charles E. Wilkinson.

Cannon's death marked the passing of one of America's most brilliant politicians.

While speaker of the House he ruled that body with an iron hand. He was known as 'Czar Joe' at times for the manner in which he held the house in order.

The sunset of life was radiant with many colors for Uncle Joe Cannon.

Through his banking enterprises he had reached the ranks of millionaires. His long political life—38 years in the House—was one of the most brilliant ever enjoyed by any American statesman.

To all the world he was known as Uncle Joe.

Born at Guilford, N. C., May 7, 1836, the son of Dr. Horace F. and Guilietta C. Cannon, he was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1858.

He first entered active politics in 1861 when he was elected State Attorney of the Twenty-Seventh Judicial District, Illinois, holding office until 1868.

Uncle Joe first entered Congress in 1873.

He was elected Speaker of the House in 1903, serving until 1911. He received 58 votes for the Presidential nomination at the 1908 Republican National Convention at Chicago.

He preferred to remain in so far as it was possible behind the scenes and his greatest political successes were in securing political advancement for those whom he regarded as worthy.

Cannon was married to Mary B. Reed of Canfield, Ohio.

BANDITS STAGE DARING BANK ROBBERY IN INDIANA TODAY

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 12.—(INS)—Five unmasked bandits, armed with revolvers and sawed-off shotguns swooped down on the Peoples Trust and Savings Bank here just before noon today, forcing teller bank employees and four customers to lie on the floor seized $40,000 in cash and $100,000 in negotiable securities. They fled in a large touring car.

GREENVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

(By J. H. Rose, Staff)

The Greenville graded schools were chartered by the Legislature February 19, 1903 and school opened in October 1903. The first board of trustees, had four members, as follows: Charles Cobb, J. E. Nobles, W. L. Brown, E. R. Ficklen, J. I. Little, F. C. Harding, W. B. Wilson, J. R. Moore, Thomas J. Jarvis, M. A. Allen, R. J. Cobb, G. E. Harris, D. S. Spivey, W. J. Bagwell, Thomas J. Jarvis, was the first chairman of the Board and G. E. Harris was the first secretary.

W. B. Davis, who later became Secretary of State for South Carolina, was the first superintendent of schools. The school opened in temporary quarters on Cecil street, the present Evans street school building was not completed until some time in December.

Ten thousand dollars in bonds were issued for the payment of Evans street school building, how ever, the building cost $12,112.00, the money was borrowed to make up the deficiency.

During the past ten years the school has shown a remarkable growth. In 1915, the whole enrollment, both white and colored was 1172; today the total enrollment for both races is 2351. The enrollment figures for the past ten years are as follows: 1915-16, 1172; 1916-17, 1274; 1917-18, 1283; 1918-19, 1293; 1919-20, 1498; 1920-21, 1657; 1921-22, 1923-24, 1924, 1925, 2172; in fact, the enrollment this year, as stated above, is 2351. The best evidence of growth is the number of graduates at the close of each year.

In 1915, there were only six graduates, in one year, last year there were 21 graduates. This year's class will turn out around 60 graduates.

In 1915, there were 22 teachers employed, 16 white and 6 colored; today there are 68 teachers in the schools, 53 white and 15 colored.

In 1915 the school property of the town, consisted of the Evans street school building, a four-room building at the Model school and a six-room frame building for the colored school; worth, all told, around $30,000.00. Today the school have the following buildings: Evans street school, West Greenville school, Intermediate school, Model school, new high school, negro school, and the 5000 House. This property is worth around $275,000.00.

To build and equip the building the schools have issued bonds as follows: $10,000.00 in 1907; $20,000.00 in 1916; and $20,000.00 in 1925. The total bonded indebtedness of the town for the schools, being $250,000. The school rate is 55 cents.

The Greenville high school is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools and has been since 1917. The high school has a 1-3-A rating with the State Department of Education. All the members of the faculty are graduates of an A college, and some of them hold M. A. degrees, others have attended numbers of summer school to further themselves for their work. The high school enrollment this year is 333, the freshmen class alone is 170.

The elementary school, are on the accredited list of the State Department of Education and have been there continually since the State Department began standardizing the elementary schools a few years ago. They were all given the 2-A rating by the State Department of Education. To meet this standard, the teachers had to have at least two years of work above high school graduation, the school term had to be 180 days, exclusive of holidays, libraries had to be sufficient in each building, and the enrollment had to come up to a certain high standard. The fact that practically all the graduates of the seventh grade enter high school is a good indication of the efficient work the elementary school are doing. Also, another evidence of the good work done in the elementary schools is the fact that practically all the grades in the elementary schools have the same enrollment save the first grade. This shows that retardation has been reduced to a minimum.

The Greenville school Board was the first school board to solve the question of taking care of their teachers. In 1919, the board purchased the Vinea House and its operation has been a success since the opening.

The Greenville School Board has always been aware of its obligation to the colored people. This is proved by the $50,000.00 building erected for the colored people and the group of fine teachers which has been employed to carry on the work. The school board is composed of the following members: J. L. Hill, chairman; B. S. Spivey, W. E. Hodges, J. F. Wilson, Mrs. E. W. Harvey, E. G. Ewing, F. J. Forbes and J. H. Rose, secretary.

COOKING SCHOOL (Reported)

Much enthusiasm is shown in the cooking classes given by Mrs. Anna L. Gones, Wednesday afternoon, she began the courses in every day foods and their preparation. Many points in nutrition were discussed. She emphasized the importance of certain foods which contain vitamins a, b and c. Frequently people have rheumatism, when it is only the lack of vitamin c in their diet. Vitamins are made simple in her classes, because she explains which foods contain certain vitamins, why our bodies need them; then she prepares these foods in the most appetizing way. The proper cooking of a number of cereals and vegetables was shown. From the foods prepared several well-balanced meals were served. She stressed the point that many of the popular priced foods have great nutritive value.

KINSTON MINISTER NOW ON TRIAL FOR KILLING CONVICT

Jury to Try Rev. Geo. Wood for Slaying of J. B. Vickers Selected This Morning

Raleigh, Nov. 12.—(INS)—A jury of 12 men was selected shortly before noon today to decide the fate of Rev. George Wood, Universalist Divine and volunteer deputy.

The Kinston minister's deputy pleaded "not guilty" this morning when he was arraigned in Wake Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the slaying here August 28 of J. B. Vickers, convict-murderer.

Selection of a jury by approximately an hour's time gave indication that the trial would be a speedy affair, and that proposed night sessions to complete the trial this week might not have to be called; it was not, however, indicated this morning whether or not the night sessions would be put into effect.

An imposing array of counsel led the attack, to believe that the trial would be featured by legal skirmishes such as have not been heard in Wake Superior Court for several years.

The state's staff is headed by Solicitor W. F. Evans, while John G. Lawson, State Democratic Chairman, is chief of defense counsel. Dawson is from the defendant's home town, Kinston.

A battery of witnesses were on hand to testify regarding the fatal wounding of the escaped convict whom the minister was bringing back to state's prison here from Spartanburg, S. C.

Vickers was shot after he had made an attempt to escape and was cornered by the volunteer deputy. It was brought out at a preliminary hearing, Vickers was said to have exonerated Rev. Wood in a dying statement.

The small court room was jammed to its full capacity since early morning. The trial was started after a few routine matters, left over from a week's term, were moved out of the way.

In selection of the jury the defense contested eight veniremen on the ground that they had read unfair reports of the Vickers shooting in a Raleigh newspaper. The defense won its point.

Another victory was won by the defense when it admitted that the Rev. Wood shot the convict, thus throwing the burden of proof on the state, and winning the right to close testimony and argument.

WELCOME TEACHERS

Greenville is proud of the fact that today and tomorrow the town is host to hundreds of school teachers gathered in-conference here.

To say that the teachers are welcome and that we are glad they came, is but a mild expression of our real feeling.

GO EAST, YOUNG MAN

Declaring that the youth of today seeking opportunity will find it in the east instead of the west, and describing Eastern North Carolina as an "Unknown Paradise," a recent visitor to this section has contributed the following to one of the publications of the state:

"For the past two or three months I have been a visitor in the Pine Lands of North Carolina. Eastern Carolina embraces many counties running a line from the South Carolina line by way of Hamlet across by Raleigh on by Weldon.

"The resources of this part of the state are really wonderful. For payning crops with good returns it lays the west in the shade. Here are a few of the crops which are making this eastern section the most inviting for farmers in my knowledge.

"Cucumbers pay fine. English peas pay fine. Butter beans can be as profitable as cotton or tobacco. Cornfield peas can be raised for market or converted into hay. Watermelons and cantaloupes can find remunerative prices for early markets.

"Thousands of acres of land are begging for cultivation. I have not named ground peas which are large ly raised for profit.

"Eastern Carolina is an unknown Paradise. It will lay the west in the shade, because the climate is mild and the pine trees are easily started and the warmth is luxurious. Horace Greeley said 'Go West, young man,' but the Shibleth now is go East. The people now are Southern almost exclusively.

The Woman Who Is Astounding America

Reveals Sensational Secrets of New York's Society

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG—the first wife of the late W. E. D. Stokes, a New York social leader, and descendant through her mother of the Spanish Duke d'Alba

MRS. LYDIG SCORES LOVELESS UNIONS MRS. LYDIG WARNS OF LOVELESS UNIONS SAYS LOVELESS UNION IS FATAL MRS. LYDIG SCORES MARRIAGES WITH FOREIGNER

Mrs. Philip Lydig is astounding America. At last she opens the door to her life-time of experience—her associations with the men and women of New York's ultra-smart society. Tragedies that make you gasp are given in boldest relief—and in the next breath she tells you of the ridiculous and often amusing aspects of smart New York society.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle—the man who threatened to expose her methods and even bring her husband to financial failure?

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

As Discussed by JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered. People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs. For example, he says—The love triangle is often a happy solution to marriage problems! One's love-life is his own and as long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn. That infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy. That Freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamous marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored. You will suddenly wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you! It is a vital issue—and will be thrust into your own life with tremendous force, if it has not entered already. Which side of the fence are you on—have you the courage to agree with Judge Lindsey? Who understands people in all their pretenses and sham, groping and floundering, better than the author—the real author—who does not exaggerate or color—but who paints word-pictures as true and realistic as any snapshot of life! And never before have we been able to offer you a group of such popular and beloved writers as in this December Red Book Magazine—authors who write of the people of today with a shrewd, understanding that is uncanny in its realism. Such as Rupert Hughes, Owen Johnson, Rita Weiman, Leroy Scott, Virginia Dale, Struthers Burt, Samuel Spewack and others—all names that mean stories that live for you, packed with the pulsating romance of Life—its ecstasies and tragedies.

How's Your Vent? A young woman was singing. Her voice sounded flat and dead. A friend said, "The trouble is the acoustics." The young woman gasped, "Law, I didn't know I had such a thing!" Maybe you don't know you have a vent in your plumbing system? But you have. And unless your vents are good, your plumbing is bad. All plumbing fixtures must be vented. A vent is an outlet—an outlet for foul odors and disease-breeding waste. If you have old plumbing—old fixtures—chances are your vents are old and bad and out-of-date. Get rid of the old vents. Have new ones installed. The better your vents, the better your health. The best is always the cheapest. S. T. HICKS PLUMBER PHONE 60

WOMEN'S CLUBS ACTIVE FORCE IN SHAPING PUBLIC OPINIONS

(By Mrs. Palmer Jerman) and with its branches is functioning in practically every city and town in the state. It has helped establish educational, cultural, and athletic standards from the mountains to the sea. Many requirements that we accept now as part of the regular routine of civic life were first heard of on the club program. Briefly, the Federation's greatest contribution to the state has been as a molder of public opinion. Its members have asked questions; they have been told the answers, and have all been willing to work patiently for results. Often defeated they have seen each defeat set them a little nearer their goal and this has given club women a sublime courage and today their ideal is to help North Carolina reach spiritual heights.

Altruistic in its purpose, its methods are practical, its principles, democratic and from these groups rural and urban, there is going out a power that can hardly be overestimated in North Carolina's progress.

When North Carolina women were enfranchised in 1900 the members of the old suffrage association knew that politically women had much to learn. Hence the old association almost automatically went into the new organization known as the League of Women Voters. To this organization came also many women who had not been interested in enfranchisement, but with the vote an accomplished fact, they wanted to use it intelligently. Pledged to nonpartisanship, its objectives have been political education, schools of citizenship getting out the vote improved legislation to women and children.

It publishes monthly a bulletin which has a large number of subscribers and is a means of information on all topics of interest to North Carolina women. This organization makes an especial appeal to young college women who come to it well equipped to make it, influence effective.

This is among the younger organization of women, but its growth has proved that it meets a real need. Organized for the specific purpose of "better business" women for a better business world there has been no uncertainty in its program. Composed of keen, alert women, it has shown its ability in the clear-cut manner in which it has handled its problems. It has emphasized the fact that better trained women would make for better business, and insisted on its members being trained for their work, extending its loan fund to make this possible for many. Having attained certain standards of efficiency, this organization believes that women should receive a certain standard of pay based on efficiency and not on a fact that they are women.

"Dynasties are easier overthrown than prejudices are grown" but this young organization has victories by its credit and high faith to meet the future. It proved it right to its name at the beginning. Leader as the writer knows, this is the only organization of women far-sighted enough to put its dues high enough at the start to take care of its needs.

The figures relate to the west-Canadian Pacific. They cover the period from January 1 to August 31, 1926. The main fact that emerges is that these companies have carried to the United States or Canada 37,776 more passengers than in the corresponding period of last year, in spite of the fact that there have been fewer sailings. For 1926 the total is 240,720 against 219,053.

Observations

(By Miss Myrtle Brogden, Pitt County Rural Schools)

Pitt County's Latest Boom

Five hundred children of the Carolina Township of Pitt County are to be accommodated with a modern school as a result of the bond election which took place Tuesday, November 9th, in the town of Stokes.

When the plan of the county and local boards of education is realized, the six small schools of this township will merge into one modern elementary and high school. At present the school term in five of the Carolina township schools is six months, but the recent bond election gives to the children a term of eight months.

Other townships may find oil, some may even find precious minerals, but it is believed that Carolina Township has made a discovery of far greater value. "A little child shall lead them" and in doing so there will be a greater Carolina township and a greater Pitt county.

"Blind Alley" Occupations

Do you know what a blind alley is? Did you ever, in walking about a town, turn into a little street and find that there was no way to get out at the other end—that a house or a fence blocked the way? That is it must turn back and retrace his steps, taking another street instead that does lead on to something else.

Well, many occupations are just like that. One can learn how to do the work in a short time and then finds that his work does not secure him promotion to a better job. Such occupations are "blind alleys." For example, being a messenger boy, or running an elevator, or cleaning floors and hallways in a factory. There are the kinds of jobs that employers want boys to fill. They can't pay enough to hire men for such work. Yet a boy who goes into such a "blind alley" job must leave it and go into a different kind before he can advance to do more and more important

Luxuries Versus Education

There is no doubt at all that our country has made great improvements in the way she educates her millions of future citizens. Yet many people, who want even better schools and more of them, believe that America is miserably behind her schools. One way to study the matter is to learn how much she spends on education, and compare it with what she spends for movies, amusements, chewing gum, jewelry, cosmetics, sport, toy rides, etc.

Last year for all kinds of seloops America spent about a billion dollars. This included elementary schools and high schools (22,000,000 children), evening schools, normal schools for the training of teachers, colleges and universities, engineering schools to train those who build our bridges, our cities, our railroads, canals, tunnels, irrigate our arid lands and drain our swamp lands, law schools, and medical schools. Now in the same year the American people spent more than twenty times that amount for luxuries.

For luxuries of all kinds we spend yearly $22,700,000,000. Against this we spend yearly for all education, $1,000,000,000.

What Counts In Ayden

The town of Ayden was alive yesterday with the school a center of activity. The teachers of the school, during the entire morning demonstrated lessons for several visiting teachers from the surrounding smaller schools, for the rural supervisor, and for Miss Lucy Gage.

At twelve o'clock the members of the school board and several ladies of the town, together with the visitors of the day, observed a fifth grade geography lesson taught by Miss Julia Elliott. This was followed by an attractive luncheon served by the Parent-Teachers Association. Miss Lucy Gage of George Peabody College for Teachers, pictured in a most attractive and vivid manner a modern school building, filled with living children and led by a great personality—the teacher. The school board made response to Miss Gage's address which revealed the vision which they held for a greater school and an understanding of what it would mean to their community.

The teachers assembled immediately after the luncheon and were in conference until 3:30, adjournment taking place at this hour so that they might attend the Parent-Teachers Association gathering. Miss Ferguson spoke concerning a supervised lunch period for the children remaining at school. Miss Gage made an appealing address for a human and intelligent understanding of children.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOLS REPRESENT HUGE INVESTMENT

(By L. H. Jobe)
 Director of Publication,
 Dept. of Education.

An outstanding figure in the history of education in North Carolina is Gov. Charles B. Aycock. Soon after taking office in January, 1901, he and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction began a canvass of the state in behalf of its educational interests. Such an impetus was given public education during the period from his inauguration till 1912 that it has taken the name of the Aycock Revival. Under the leadership of such men as State Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. Y. Joyner, Dr. Charles D. Iver and Governor Aycock, the state made the great strides in the new beginning of a great state system of public schools.

No progress has been as rapid in the history of education in North Carolina as that period during the last ten years. A few of the leaders instrumental in the building up and strengthening the system of education are E. C. Brooks, State Supt. of Public Instruction from 1919 to 1923, now president of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Engineering; E. K. Graham, formerly president of the State University; Dr. N. W. Walter, the first State Supervisor of High schools, now dean of the school of education of the State University; M. C. S. Noble, one of the original pioneers in the field of education, and now engaged in collecting the data relating to it; H. W. Chase, president of the State University, whose stand for freedom in the search for truth won for him nation-wide renown; and the present State Superintendent of Public Instruction, A. T. Allen, whose program of giving an equal opportunity for every child in the state to obtain at least a minimum of an eight month school term each year under an adequately trained teacher is furthering the improvement of educational conditions in the state.

Progress in Recent Years
 Public schools in North Carolina are supported largely by a county ad valorem tax levy sufficient to meet the constitutional requirements for a minimum term of six months. When the county tax levy is sufficient, the state aids in the payment of teachers salaries, by what is known as an Equalizing Fund. This fund, which amounted to $1,500,000 during 1924-25, is a direct appropriation from the State Treasury for this purpose. The school fund thus provided is supplemented by a great many school dis-

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Manila, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Rev. Leslie Wolfe and two Filipino champions of fundamentalism are on their way to fight for their faith at the annual convention of the churches of Christ at Memphis, Tennessee.

Because he insisted on the enforcement of total immersion as a requisite to church membership, Rev. Wolfe was ousted from his place as missionary by the local board, controlled by modernists. The Filipino members of the church are standing by Rev. Wolfe, and refuse to let the modernist substitute of Rev. Wolfe preach in the church.

The modernist-fundamentalist fight has been waged vigorously for the past six months. Each side has started publications that are of a virile, not to say scolding tone. The modernist organ is an editorial dubbed by the fundamentalists with the title of "tomcats," and said the opposition editor was wielding a "poison pen" and accused the fundamentalist writers as "theological sharpshooters and doctrinal gunmen."

Sumatra Rubber Men Are Now Using Tractors

Honolulu, Nov. 3. (INS)—Agricultural methods along the lines developed for the sugar plantation of Hawaii, especially as regards plowing and cultivating the soil, are proving effective on Hawaiian owned rubber plantations in Sumatra, according to Dr. E. C. Waterhouse, president of the Hawaiian Sumatra Plantations, Limited. He is spending a few weeks in Honolulu.

"We are the first rubber plantation in that part of the world to use tractors and give our soil the same thorough preparation specially equipped for spraying as is practiced by the Hawaiian with powdered insecticide.

USE AIRPLANES TO SPRAY FORESTS AGAINST INSECTS

Strasbourg, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Following in footsteps of the State Forestry Department in America which has used airplanes for a number of years to spray woods, attacked by pests and diseases, the same department in Alsace and use tractors and give our soil the same thorough preparation specially equipped for spraying as is practiced by the Hawaiian with powdered insecticide.

The plane will spray the pine forests in the region of Hanguenan which are suffering from the ravages of insects.

Christmas Seal Sale Begins Day After Thanksgiving

Southern Pines, N. C., Nov. 4.—Fifteen million penny Tuberculosis Christmas Seals have been received at the office of the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association. They will be distributed throughout every county in the state and sold during the annual Christmas Seal campaign which opens formally the day after Thanksgiving.

Seventy-five per cent of the proceeds of the Seal Sale are used in the locality where they are sold for child health education, nutrition work, in the prevention of tuberculosis and in care of tuberculosis patients. The remaining 25 per cent goes to the state and national association to be used for workers to help conquer tuberculosis by lectures, demonstrations, magazine articles, clinics and general information about tuberculosis, its prevention and cure, also research work in every phase of the tuberculosis problem.

This is the nineteenth annual Christmas Seal sale. During this period in which the money thus raised has been used in preventing disease and promoting health the tuberculosis death rate has been reduced 55 per cent, infant mortality 20 per cent and the general death rate 10 per cent.

North Carolina has a low death rate from tuberculosis as compared with nearly all the other southern states, but it still is alarmingly high. The Christmas Seal fund will help to reduce it the coming year.

Wall Street's response to the General Motor's extra dividend, and the forecast by President Sloan of the continuation of large scale business in the motor trade, was an aggressive buying moment for the market favorites in the motor and high prices industrial and specialty groups.

The awakening of Baldwin locomotive, and its sharp advance to 135 against last week's low at 117, accompanied by 10 to 25 point rises in Woolworth, east have played a very inconspicuous part in speculative activities. The trend of price, was higher, with the "right people" having finally faced themselves squarely behind the new forward movement in stocks. For the first time since January, the oil stocks appear to be reflecting the large increase in net earnings of the independent oil companies have enjoyed record-breaking business, at steady prices.

Speculative interest was centered on U. S. Steel common when that stock raced up to 151 1-2, crossing its market rival General Motors by about a point. Last week steel closed at 151 1-4, while General Motors closed at 150 1-4.

Directors of Standard Oil of New Jersey announced officially that they had come to no definite conclusion as to the manner in which they would finance the retirement of the $200,000,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock outstanding. The stock advanced fractionally today but the principal market movements in the oils were confined to Phillips Skelly and Marland.

Additional to the active list included Phillips Morris Tobacco, Central Leather referred, International Harvester, Brown Boveri, American Zinc. The coppers and the sugars continued to advance as also did the leaders in the mercantile shares, the equipments and the specialties. The volume of trading in the first three hours, was 1,100,000 shares against 710,000 shares in the same period yesterday.

New York Central sold up to 137 1-2 for a 2 point gain as the rest of the publication of a compilation of its principal stockholders, showing that powerful financial interests had materially increased their holdings of the stock in the last two years.

Call money was unchanged at 4 1-4 per cent, but banks reported an abundance of speculative money, and the bond market told the same story. Commodity markets were slightly irregular.

most matters can be settled and the talk concerning them dropped, the manner will mutual respect between nations be restored.

The only comment made by the Times was on the fact that the Coolidge speech destroyed Europe's expectation that the United States would eventually adhere to the World Court tribunal.

The general regret which this prospect must inspire will only be sharpened by the reflection that the United States has always professed devotion to the principles of international arbitration, said the Times.

A former cabinet minister, who declined to have his name used, said the speech was "bombastic, particularly described as follows: Lying and being on the Main Street of Farmville, which was formerly the Snow Hill road and beings lots Nos. 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 as shown on that certain map made by V.
