AMERICAN LEGION SPONSORS ANNUAL RED CROSS DRIVE

Membership Drive to Be Staged in This City Under Legion Auspices Next Monday

Tentative plans for the Tenth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross were crystallized last night when members of the American Legion voted to sponsor it and Dr. A. M. Schultz was designated director of the membership campaign in Greenville, which will be staged on next Monday, November 22.

The Roll Call is being conducted according to the President's proclamation, from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving by chapters all over the United States and in the insular possessions.

After accepting the office Dr. Schultz said he would move immediately to complete organization for the campaign. The entire community will be divided into districts, he stated and thoroughly covered by teams of workers. These will issue personal invitations to everyone in the city.

This year's goal is 500 members, chapter officials state.

"If we can present our Red Cross arguments to the people as they should be presented," Dr. Schultz stated, "we will have no trouble in enlisting twice that number. The Red Cross is the nation's badge of mercy. It has been designated by Congressional charter as the government's agency for caring for the victims of disasters both in this country and in foreign lands.

"Into communities devastated by hurricanes, tornadoes, floods and fires, the Red Cross sends its workers to administer relief. The doughboy of the World War, still confined to government hospitals, is served by the organization and, in countless other ways, the organization daily demonstrates its value as the official relief agency of the American People."

U. D. C. Convention Opens in Richmond

Richmond, Va., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Sectional prejudice over the Civil War is disappearing. Mrs. St. John A. Lawton, President General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, declared today before the annual convention of the organization.

She substantiated the same opinion expressed recently by President Coolidge.

The organization, it was announced, will bestow service crosses upon General Mason M. Patrick, of West Virginia, Chief of the Army Air Corps, whose father was Dr. Alfred Spicer Patrick, assistant surgeon of the 22nd Virginia Infantry, C. S. A., and upon Col. George H. Jamerson, of Virginia, who was cited for gallantry in two wars.

Four delegates to the United Daughters of Confederacy convention, which opened here today were none the worse for having been peppered with bird shot from a hunter's gun while viewing battlefields near Petersburg.

The shot, fired at a bird over head, stung Mrs. P. H. Lane and Mrs. Edward Beach, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Lindsey Cellan of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Roy Meeks McKinney, of Paducah, Ky. Their heavy fur coats prevented worse injuries.

Seven Killed and Score Injured In Railroad Accidents

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Seven persons are dead and 25 others are in more or less a serious condition today as the result of two railroad accidents near here last night.

The first wreck occurred at Hendersonville, Tenn., when the Pan-American, Louisville & Nashville passenger train crashed into an automobile at a grade crossing, killing two and injuring six.

A few hours later, two rail motors rushing to the scene of the wreck from opposite directions, crashed head-on at Portland, and five workmen were killed, and nineteen others injured, six of whom may die.

CONGRESS TO GIVE ATTENTION RADIO COMING SESSION

Washington, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Machinery was set in motion today to break the Congressional deadlock over radio control and secure early enactment of legislation in the forthcoming session to cover every phase of radio broadcasting.

Senator C. C. Dill, Democrat of Washington and Rep. W. H. White, Republican of Maine, authors of conflicting bills and leaders in the fight which resulted in the whole subject being sent to conference committees of House and Senate, have agreed to meet within ten days and iron out all minor differences.

The big question, to be left for the conferees is whether one man or a commission shall rule radio. The Dill bill provides commission control, while Rep. White would give Secretary of Commerce Hoover authority to regulate broadcasting, subject to decisions of an appeal board.

Many members returning for the short session, which begins December 6, have declared their intention of pressing for immediate action. Painful personal experiences by Congressional radio fans since the break-down of temporary regulation several months ago, have resulted in a demand that radio legislation be given first consideration.

The only development of the summer which may affect the deliberations of Congress, White said, was a Federal Court decision declaring stations first in the field have a vested, prior right to wave lengths. Two or three years may elapse, however, before a final decision is obtained, he pointed out.

The Maine Representative declared that recent consolidation of stations did not indicate the need for legislation to prevent a monopoly of broadcasting. The largest number of stations now under the control of one corporation, he said, is eleven out of a total of more than 600 in the country.

Since he became merely a place for changing one's clothes prospective buyers are mainly interested in knowing the number of hats and wardrobe closets.

"We like people who can work without making too much noise."

Much Speculation as to President's Intentions Regarding Candidacy in 1928

Washington, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Senator Wm. M. Butler's acquiescence to the wishes of President Coolidge, that he retain the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee renewed in Washington today a wave of discussion among politicians as to Mr. Coolidge's political intentions for 1928.

A canvass among prominent Republicans now gathering for the opening of Congress, revealed a considerable divergence of opinion as to what significance, if any, should be attached to Butler's retention.

Some Republican leaders who have always believed that the President plans to be a candidate to succeed himself in 1928, accepted the announcement that Butler would continue as confirming this belief.

There are others, however, who attach no particular significance to the incident at this time. They point out that it is but natural for Mr. Coolidge to wish to see his friend continue in the job, wholly regardless of 1928. There is little for the committee to do during the next year, and to change at this time might promote disaffection in the party, or invite trouble where everything is now serene.

Still others expressed the opinion privately that the President desired to keep Senator Butler in his post in order that he might be secure in control of the organization until such time as the (Mr. Coolidge) must make up his mind about his candidacy for another term.

All this week there has been considerable politics discussed at the White House, for the President has had as his guests Col. George Harvey and Senator Butler, their presence at the executive mansion, together is not regarded as accidental.

It is generally accepted in political quarters here that the results of the recent election, in which the Republicans suffered reverses, have been thoroughly discussed and analyzed in conferences between the President and his guests.

So far as is known, President Coolidge has never stated to any man whether he intends to again be a candidate. His closest friends says he himself does not know yet. One of them said:

"Why should he decide now? There is no reason for it. Many things can happen in 1927."

Congress to Give Politicians at Sea as to What Coolidge Will Do

The choice apparently lies between routes one and two.

Representatives of Southern states are expected to confer with the Post Office Department to help select a route.

The Department of Commerce will ask Congress for funds to build lights and landing fields along the route selected.

It is the hope of the Post Office Department to have the service started shortly after the first of the year.

About two-thirty o'clock this morning, the home of W. D. Butler on Reid street between 2nd and 3rd streets was totally destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown, as the family were sleeping at the time and the home was in a blaze when they awakened. A window had to be broken for the family to escape and all the contents of the home were destroyed. The fire company quickly responded to the alarm, but the house was falling in when they arrived on the scene. It was only by their good work that other near by buildings were saved. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

The so-called annulment by the Catholic Church of the Duke of Marlborough's marriage to Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York, continues to agitate some, and Bishop Manning of the Protestant Episcopal Church promises a statement on the far reaching implications of the decision from Rome.

Catholics say the papal authorities have not nullified the Protestant marriage of any American millionaire's daughter to a British Duke.

The Catholic Church does not nullify marriages, but it does decide that a marriage for sufficient reasons has never been a marriage at all.

The decision of the Catholic Church may annoy the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, and the children.

TO ESTABLISH AIR MAIL ROUTE TO THE SOUTH

Post Office Department Soon to Seek Bids on Air Service From New York to Atlanta

Washington, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Post Office Department shortly will establish an air mail route between New York and Atlanta, it was announced today.

Bids will be called for as soon as a definite route from Washington to Atlanta is selected. Philadelphia and Baltimore will be included in the route.

Three routes are under consideration between Washington and Atlanta. They are:

1. Paralleling the Southern Railroad, Washington, Richmond, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, High Point, Charlotte, Greenville and Atlanta. This route is described as dangerous to flying because of terraced land and cuts, which would make it difficult to build emergency landing fields. But it is regarded as the best route for collection of revenue.
2. West to Roanoke, probably eliminating Richmond, Knoxville, Chattanooga, and Atlanta. This is the ideal flying route, according to the preliminary survey.
3. Along the East Line, Raleigh, Columbia, Augusta and Atlanta. It is believed that the revenue on this route would be less than on the others.

The flying machine, invented in America is a success, and this country could produce pilots by the thousand.

Why must the richest government in the world rely on private commercial enterprise, for its flying equipment?

Catherine Denino will be tried for murder. She is now 16, and married. When only twelve she had fallen into the hands of a villain named Louis Fino, and when she married, he wrote that unless she sent money he would tell her husband about her past.

The husband saw the letter and put her out. She travelled from Chicago to New York, and found Louis Fino, stepping out of a barber shop, neatly shaved, with a new hair cut. It was his last.

As she quietly handed her pistol to a policeman across Fino's dead body, Mrs. Denino illustrated an educational process that has been civilizing men for several hundred thousand years.

Of course she won't be convicted of murder. Killing anybody is wrong, but Mrs. Denino ought to be pensioned, not only on her own account, but for the protection she has given to many other girls.

The Catholic Church does not nullify marriages, but it does decide that a marriage for sufficient reasons has never been a marriage at all.

Dwelling Destroyed By Fire Today

Cotton Embargo At New Orleans

New Orleans, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The long threatened cotton embargo is a fact today. Averted for some weeks by the joint efforts of all New Orleans cotton interests, it was admitted these efforts have been unavailing and that the warehouses had issued orders they would receive no more cotton.

"It is true," said W. D. Livaudais, general freight agent of the Louisville and Nashville, "conditions have come to a show down. The dock board and all warehouses have notified the railroads they have no space for cotton and simply could not take any more. Not one bale can be stored at this time."

This embargo seriously threatened the city about two weeks ago, but an emergency program worked out by a special committee of the Merchant Spot Association provided additional space for the time. Today this space is all filled.

Hamburg, Germany, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The United States cruiser Memphis collided today with the Hamburg-American steamer Carsten Russ in the North Sea channel. The Memphis suffered a damaged propeller which will necessitate her going into dry dock at Hamburg for repairs.

CRUISER DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Washington, Nov. 17.—(INS)—America faces a herculean task in seeking the Olympic championships at Amsterdam in 1928, and Germany will offer the strongest rivalry, General Charles E. Sherrill told the American Olympic committee at a meeting here today.

Washington, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Eastern Seaboard, from Florida to Maine, was busy today tidying up the debris left by a series of hurricane winds and lashing rain which swept the section. Three lives were lost, scores were injured and a large amount of property damage was done.

The wind, coming up from the southeast, at times reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour, driving before it gusty sheets of rain which at times fell so heavily as to obscure vision. Telephone, telegraph and electric light wires everywhere suffered. Trees were blown down and windows broken.

A two-year-old child in New York was blown from a fire escape and killed.

A 15-year-old boy at Weehawken, N. J., was electrocuted when he touched a broken power wire. A woman was killed and a child injured, probably fatally, in Boston.

Several cities, and towns in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia were flooded.

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Despite the fact that Raleigh had a 1.46 inch rainfall yesterday, the heaviest since August 25, the Capital city's drastic conservation measures were still in effect today. While the downpour helped the water situation, it was said, conservation is still necessary.

Prince Nicholas, driving another car in the lead, heard a crash, and turned to aid the princes.

"Am I gonna get paid for this?" asked Adolph Keefer, of Chicago, the truck driver, after the crash.

Members of the party told him the driver was the prince, Hens of Roumania.

"Well, I guess it's all right, then," said Keefer.

TODAY

Kelly Lined In.
His Last Hair Cut.
Those $7,000,000.
A Doer of the World.
(By Arthur Brisbane)

On the Los Angeles Flying Field at 12:30 Monday, Major Moseley and Kelly will be among any mile-a-hour.

There appears a speck in the sky and along comes Kelly, leaning over his right wing as he curves around the landing field, then taxis up with the roar of propeller and engine dying down.

A little Ford mail wagon picks up 250 pounds of mail, as a whippy bird might take a worm from an apple, and hurries away to the post office.

Out climbs the pilot, F. W. Kelly, and from the passenger seat down comes F. A. Hunt of the Salt Lake Telegram, "making the round trip, just for the ride."

They had left Salt Lake at 5:50 in the morning, stopped at Las Vegas, and made the 600 mile trip in five hours and 10 minutes, actual flying time.

Kelly's mind is not on flying. He is showing other men on the field a bright contrivance in which a baby can sit out of danger, suspended from the ceiling. It's for his small boy born the night before he started on this trip.

"Is flying safe," says he. Of course, much safer than you are, running around the city in that automobile the way they drive now."

Flying seems so natural that this pilot wonders why you ask about it.

Since he took this job, last April, Kelly has made the trip between Salt Lake City and the Pacific 110 times, 66,000 flying miles. He has two days rest between flights.

Before he flew Kelly held the world's record for high hurdles. He is taking higher hurdles now over the mountains that separate Salt Lake City and the Pacific.

His first hop as he starts east in the morning is 8,000 feet high over the Cajon Pass that leads up from the Pacific to the Mojave Valley.

The flying machine, invented in America is a success, and this country could produce pilots by the thousand.

Why must the richest government in the world rely on private commercial enterprise, for its flying equipment?

DENOUNCE SMITH AS PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY 1928

Johnsor Tells Baptists Election of Al Smith Means "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion"

Wilmington, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Politics, which wreaked its fury on the state Methodist Conference a turbulent week, has invaded the state Baptist Convention in session here.

The object of the Baptists' denunciation is the same as at the Methodist Conference. The attack on Governor Al Smith of New York, regarded as Presidential timber in 1928, came when Dr. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, editor of the Biblical Recorder, took the floor.

"Should Smith be nominated," Johnson declared, "his slogan will be rum, Romanism and rebellion. We don't endorse Smith because of his religion, but because of what his religion stands for."

Applause followed the declaration.

After a stormy session today the convention voted to amend its constitution in order that trustees of institutions nominated by a committee could be elected by the convention.

The amendment will become effective after the next convention and vacancies occurring before then will be filled in the usual manner.

Outside of the constitutional amendment, little other than routine matters occupied the attention of the convention this morning. Committees were heard from and the church's financial campaign was discussed briefly.

Motion to have the convention go on record as endorsing the address of Dr. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, editor of the Biblical Recorder, yesterday in which he bitterly attacked Gov. Al Smith of New York, was withdrawn today.

However, the convention voted its approval of parts of the address touching on fundamental doctrines. More than 500 delegates from all parts of the state are attending the convention. The meeting will continue through tomorrow.

Seaboard Recovering From Recent Storms

New York, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Eastern Seaboard, from Florida to Maine, was busy today tidying up the debris left by a series of hurricane winds and lashing rain which swept the section. Three lives were lost, scores were injured and a large amount of property damage was done.

PITT COUNTY POST AMERICAN LEGION MET LAST NIGHT

A business meeting, with several committee reports, a motion to give the High School Band $25.00, a talk by Miss McNeil, of the American Red Cross, a motion to sponsor the Red Cross drive and a good supper featured the regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, which was held in the Rotary building Tuesday evening.

Dr. A. M. Schultz, Post Commander, presided over the meeting, which was well attended. The different committees on Armistice Day made very interesting reports, in appreciation of the kindness and co-operation of the Greenville High School Band whenever they are called on to serve, the post unanimously voted to give $25.00 towards the purchase of their new uniforms.

Miss McNeil, representative of the American Red Cross, addressed the Post in behalf of the Red Cross Roll Call for Greenville. At the close of her remarks, the Post voted to sponsor and co-operate in every way possible with the Red Cross Roll Call.

A nice supper was served and a spirit of brotherhood prevailed in the meeting.

Princess Ileana Has Narrow Escape in Chicago Today

Grant Park, Ill., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Princess Ileana, of Roumania, narrowly escaped injury here today when the heavy roadster she was driving to Indianapolis, crashed into a truck during a blinding snowstorm.

Although the princess, two caskets from Culver Military Academy and Miss J. Marr, lady-in-waiting, were shaken up, they were uninjured and the car, bearing heavy scars of the encounter succeeded on its way, this time, driven by a chauffeur.

The accident occurred while the roadster was rounding a slippery curve.

Prince Nicolas, driving another car in the lead, heard a crash, and turned to aid the princes.

"Am I gonna get paid for this?" asked Adolph Keefer, of Chicago, the truck driver, after the crash.

Members of the party told him the driver was the prince, Hens of Roumania.

"Well, I guess it's all right, then," said Keefer.

ARREST HEAD OF "HOUSE OF DAVID"

Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 17.—(INS)—"King Ben" Par-nell, erstwhile leader of the House of David, was taken into custody at the Cult headquarters here early today after Michigan state police had been "tipped" of his presence here.

"King Ben" has been the object of a nation-wide search for years. He disappeared in 1922 after a grand jury which investigated alleged immorality at the House of David, voted a true bill against him.

The tip that the fugitive leader was again living in the colony was given by Mrs. Woodworth, a former member of the community.

Entrance to "King Ben's" house was forced by smashing doors and windows with axes.

The "King" was arrested with eight of his followers by Inspector I. H. Harmon and 15 of his state troopers in the Administration building of the Shiloh colony.

Wearing only his underwear and a heavy sweater, King Ben appeared a sick man, since his arrest he has sat mute in his cell in the Benton county jail, his eyes down cast and refusing to answer any of the many queries of his questioners. He still wore his long, gray, flowing whiskers.

Efforts of his followers early today to get him out on small bond were balked by Prosecutor George Bookwalter, who demanded $50,000 bond for his release.

"King Ben's" arrest followed a four-year international search, which grew out of the sensational charges brought against him by girl members of his cult. During all this time, the cult leader has been under the protection of his followers at the House of David, according to tips furnished Allen G. Straight, State Commissioner of Public Safety.

DEMANDS CONGRESSIONAL PROBE INTO ALLEGED TICKET SCANDAL ARMY-NAVY GAME

Washington, Nov. 17. — (INS) — A Congressional investigation into the distribution of tickets to the annual Army and Navy football classic, to be played in Chicago this year, was demanded today by Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr., Republican of New York, as a result of charges of ticket speculation. Incensed by his failure to get tickets at the usual price while thousands of pasteboards had been bought at higher prices, Fish declared he was considering the introduction of a resolution, calling for an inquiry, as soon as Congress convenes. The principal complaint against the sale of the game was that they reduced the Congressional allotment without warning. In all, 235 Congressmen and 106 Senators will get but 2,124 tickets out of the 100,000 placed on sale. If this quota had been set originally there might have been much grumbling but peace might have been preserved. Under present conditions, however, Senator and Representatives were promised six tickets apiece. The purchasers then sent in their checks for six tickets and over the last week-end, they received their pasteboards. They learned then that someone had secured the individual allotments of tickets, while retaining the price of the other two tickets. Somewhere, somebody is making about $3,500 of Congressmen's money, as the tickets were for $3.50 each. Top of this bad news, Senators and Congressmen received notice they could buy anywhere up to twenty tickets if they are willing to pay $10 and $15 each. To the Congressional mind, this smacked of evidence that a scam might be hidden in the football woodpile. The reduction of their tickets, too, led to a serious commotion in the political families of a good many Senators. Where two months ago, Senators invited their favorite lieutenants or social friends to be their guests — planning on the six ticket allotment — now they must either buy two $15 seats, located a half mile from the gridiron, miss the game themselves or offend a very valuable friend. Hence the Senatorial rage. Representative Fish, however, went a step further. He declared he had heard that some Congressional secretaries were in the "market," buying and selling tickets to the game. "Certain reports have come to me," said Fish, "indicating that there have been violations of the rules under which tickets have been sold by Congressmen's secretaries without the knowledge of their Congressmen. I am now considering the introduction of a resolution, as soon as the House convenes, calling for a Congressional investigation of the ticket distribution." Chicago, Nov. 17. — (INS) — "What do you mean, ticket scandal?" That was the angry retort today of Col. H. C. Carbaugh in charge of tickets for the coming Army-Navy game here, when asked what he knew of the reported scandal in connection with distribution of the treasured duclats. "If there is any ticket scandal I know nothing about it. I suppose the rumors were started by some of the many thousands of persons to who I had to say 'no'." George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the South Park Commission, which has charge of Memorial Stadium where the game will be played, explained the ticket situation. He said: "We decided this game should be sold by the general public, and American crowd that it is possible to assemble. We also decided that Congressmen and Senators could pick that crowd better than any other persons. "So we have sold 100 tickets each Illinois Congressmen and Senator, Congressmen from the neighboring states got fewer and the number allotted to these states, men dwindled the farther they lived away from Illinois. "One Congressman wanted 1, 743 tickets for friends, relatives and supporters, but the Colonel thundered his emphatic 'no' and the Congressman had to be satisfied with his allotment."

May Use State Troops in Trappers' War in Louisiana

New Orleans, Nov. 17. — (INS) — Governor Simpson of Louisiana arrived here today to take personal charge of the tense situation growing out of the trappers' war on De La Croix Island, which resulted in the death of Sam Grantham, Deputy Sheriff, and injuries to eleven. Armed men patrolled the highway leading to the island and turned back persons whom they considered had no business there. The trappers, meanwhile, declared they would have 1,000 men in readiness to combat any attempt to oust them from their village. Governor Simpson will confer with local authorities, with regard to furnishing state troops as an effort to stop the poisoning trappers from carrying on their business. The majority of the trappers are notorious rum runners, it is alleged. The battle with machine guns, shot guns and pistols started when a boat load of deputies and guards approached the island, and sought to force the trappers to leave. In time of severest emotional distress we find relief in the humblest activities — working, walking and so on. Some fellows get more kick out of dreaming than others get out of making dreams come true. Soft jobs make soft people. What did people blame for their unpopularity before hitlorski was invented? ### CAPTURE STILL IN BELVOIR TOWNSHIP

Constable J. O. Bryan, of Belvoir township, on Monday captured a moonshine whiskey still. The outfit was of copper and of fifty gallons capacity. It appeared to have been in operation with in a couple of days prior to the raid, the officer said. About four hundred gallons of beer, taken with the still, was destroyed.

TIME TO FACE THE FACES

So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that I have had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments, I was said to possess, I was encouraged to try Myrrh's, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted. I also was entirely relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all any more than is claimed for it. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by all druggists.

Has Stood The Test of Time

Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh Made Since 1846

Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh, famous as an antiseptic and healing ointment, has been made since 1846. A remedy which can stand that test of time and find its popularity ever growing must surely be of real worth. It has proved to be remarkably successful for treating all open wounds, such as cuts, sores, burns, etc. It is antiseptic and when applied to a wound leaves a thin protective coating which cleanses and tends to keep out infectious germs. It is, moreover, highly successful as a rubbing liniment and when used on sprains and strains gives good results. Manufactured by the G. C. Hanford Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Sold at drug stores.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 17. (INS)—Harvard's had an average of 110 persons at its voluntary chapel service since October, 1886, while Yale, with voluntary chapel a year old has been getting congregations ranging from 160 to 325 persons.

There were croakers abroad when Yale announced that the 220-year-old voluntary chapel was to be abolished. After a month's trial Dr. Tweedy reports a better filled auditorium than in most city churches, faces him every lay in Battel chapel, Yale, which can seat 1200 individuals.

Harvard has kept a deliberate record of chapel attendance since 1886 and Yale started a similar record on October 1, 1926, jotting down the state of weather along with the count. Queerly enough the low attendance came on a perfectly clear day.

But small attendance doesn't bother Dr. Tweedy, a noted professor in Yale divinity school. The spirit of the congregation is more than its numbers, he insists in reporting to his superiors. Three hundred sing with more spirit and better harmony than twelve hundred used to sing in the compulsory days.

And now Dr. Tweedy is trying to get students from other departments of the University to take in the daily services. So he announces the days are real gone when a person can say that while religion is good for a bachelor of arts, the bachelor of science is out of place in a religious atmosphere.

That grew out of the fact that the founder of the Sheffield Scientific School insisted its students should not be compelled to go to church.

In opening a hunt for $20,000,000 Yale authorities declare they aren't seeking to get more students in Yale, but are merely trying to make Yale a better place for those already enrolled.

In its formal announcement of attendance, issued on November 10, is the statement "the school of fine arts has reached its limit, having 368 students." Professor George Peirce Baker's school of the drama which now is hitched onto the art school, as a department, has 103 students working in a million dollar plant learning to do all the things the theatre demands of its wage earners, whether they be managers, producers, or stage hands. There are 141 persons studying painting in the art school and laying the foundations for a real artist colony in New Haven. Then there are 105 poetical architects, and 19 learning the sculptor's work.

All these students except those of the drama department, appear to be keeping an eye on the enormous plant being erected for the art school's priceless collections of pictures. When that is done the school will have a real plant, one of which Yale may boast loudly and not be very far wrong as to its claims. When Yale gets through with her art school a new law school is expected to be started.

Yale University's budget for the past year totaled $4,573,441. To meet the budget Yale had an endowment fund totalling $45,603,713. Deficit stared Yale in the face. Alumni came to the rescue and furnished enough money so that Yale could have an additional $326,586 and thus balance her budget.

Poison Hemlock Found Growing In Iowa Recently

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Poison hemlock, the plant from which Socrates made the draught that he quaffed in ending his life 400 years before the birth of Christ, has been found growing in Iowa.

Dr. L. H. Pammell, head of the botany department of Iowa State College here, is authority for the statement.

Professor Pammell stated that he had found the poison plant growing at two places in Iowa on three occasions. At Strawberry Point, in the northeastern part of the state, he had found it twice. The people there, he said, did not know its true species, and were calling it "California Fern."

The poison of the plant produces paralysis, convulsions and death. Dr. Pammell stated. He declared many poisonous plants are sold in the United States under various names which mislead plant lovers who are not scientifically familiar with the specimens they handle.

With or Without

Do you eat potatoes with or without salt? With, of course. Just so. Potatoes without salt are flat, lifeless, stale.

It's the same with folks who miss their morning bath or shower.

Do you doubt this? All right, try a splash every morning for a week. Then skip a morning. You'll see. As sure as you're alive, a bath is to the human body what salt is to potatoes.

All the family can't enjoy the benefits of daily bathing if there is only one bathroom to bathe in. You need more than one bathroom, just as you need more than one bedroom.

The cost of an extra bath or shower isn't so much. Health, pep and happiness considered, the cost is next to nothing.

MRS. S. T. WHITE ENTERTAINS

Brilliant Reception in Honor of Miss Emily Moyer, Bride-Elect

Mrs. S. T. White entertained a large number of friends on Tuesday afternoon, at her handsome home on Seventh street, at one of the prettiest receptions of the season, complimentary to Miss Emily Moyer, bride-elect. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Silver baskets of chrysanthemums, snap dragons and ferns were used in profusion. The lights were shaded with gold and numerous candles were used. A Madeira cover was used on the punch table, which was prettily decorated with baskets of flowers and candles. The dining table was especially pretty with its filet lace cover. A large silver basket filled with yellow and white chrysanthemums and pink and white snap dragons formed the centerpiece. Candles in the silver holders were used on the table and a large silver service at each end of the table. An orchestra furnished music throughout the entertainment.

As the many guests arrived, they were cordially welcomed by Mrs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse and Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Jr. In the reception hall, Mrs. R. S. Warren and Mrs. J. B. Kittrell were receiving. Here Mrs. J. B. James and Mrs. L. C. Skinner served orange ice with ginger ale from the punch bowls, while Mrs. W. L. Whitehead, Miss Anna Long, Mrs. Curtis Perkins, Miss Margaret Fleming, Miss Lillian Hooker and Miss Ada James passed it to the guests.

Mrs. C. J. Ellen and Mrs. M. K. Blount showed the guests to the receiving room, where Mrs. C. S.

Forbes and Mrs. J. H. Blount introduced them to the receiving line. In the receiving line were Mrs. S. T. White, Miss Emily Moyer, Miss Helen White, Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley, Mrs. C. J. Forbes, Mrs. Sam Lee, of Monroe, Mrs. Frank Kohler, of Philadelphia, Mrs. George Lay, of Beaufort, and Mrs. C. A. White. From the receiving line the guests passed through the den, where they were received by Mrs. Lee Hannah, Mrs. Jack Overman and her house guest, Miss Dorothy Grayson, of Savannah, Ga., and Miss Dorothy Willard.

Mrs. L. B. Jones and Mrs. E. L. Baker showed them to the rear hall, where Mrs. W. B. Greene and Mrs. A. C. Corbett presided over the register.

Mrs. Hatlie White and Miss Jane Lyerly directed the guests to the dining room. Seated at either end of the table were Mrs. J. B. White and Mrs. Hortense Moyer pouring tea, and Mrs. L. W. Gaylord, Mrs. L. G. Cooper, Mrs. J. Key Brown and Mrs. R. L. Smith passed the tea. Misses Martha Moyer, Mary Forbes and Annie Dare Hooker passed chicken salad sandwiches, and Misses Jane Hadley and Mary Lou White passed stuffed dates.

At the left French door from the dining room to the music room, Mrs. Ray Tyson, Mrs. W. H. Horne and Mrs. C. W. Hearne were receiving. At the right French door Mrs. H. L. Rivers, Mrs. J. H. Waldrop and Mrs. W. E. Hooker were receiving and introduced the guests to the second receiving line in the music room. In this receiving line were Mrs. W. L. Best, Miss Helene Higgs, Miss Bessie Brown, Miss Mabel Glenn Best, Mrs. J. Person Nicholson, a recent bride, Mrs. E. S. Williams, Mrs. Bruce Williams, of Winston-Salem, a recent bride, Miss Jessie Moyer, Miss Mary Hadley, of Raleigh, Miss Elizabeth Dunn, of Winston, Miss Sutherland, of Miss Josephine Lyerly, of Hickory, Mrs. W. ## MRS. J. PERSON NICHOLSON ENTERTAINS

Complimentary to Mrs. Bruce Williams and Miss Emily Moyer

Mrs. J. Person Nicholson delightfully entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. G. Minnagan, on Tuesday morning at a bridge luncheon, complimentary to Mrs. Bruce Williams, of Winston-Salem, a recent bride and Miss Emily Moyer, bride-elect, also having Miss Adelaide Taft, December bride-elect, as honor guest.

The home was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, and a pink and green color scheme was effectively used. Nine tables for the game were arranged in the drawing room, sun parlor and dining room and the places were marked with bride place cards. As the guests arrived, they were welcomed by Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Williams, Miss Emily Moyer and Miss Adelaide Taft.

Mrs. Dall Laughinghouse, making top score, was awarded a chest of imported soap. Miss Mary Hadley, of Raleigh, was awarded the visitors prize, a perfume bottle with ivory trimmings. Miss Jane Hadley, making low score, was presented a tape measure to represent a deck of cards. Miss Emily Moyer was presented a silver platter. Mrs. Bruce Williams was presented a box of imported powder in a leaded basket, and Miss Adelaide Taft was presented lingerie.

At the conclusion of the games, an elegant two course luncheon was served, prettily carrying out the pink and green color scheme.

MR. AND MRS. HADLEY ENTERTAINS

Complimentary to the Hadley-Moyer Bridal Party

On Tuesday evening, after the Hadley-Moyer wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley parents of the groom-elect, entertained the members of the bridal party, the members of both families, and the out-of-town guests, here for the wedding, at a delightfully informal reception, at their home on Evans street. The lower floor of the home was used, and was effectively decorated to carry out a green and yellow color scheme. Yellow pompons were used in profusion interspersed with sauberg ivy and ferns. The lights were shaded with yellow and a number of yellow candles were used.

About eleven o'clock, as the guests arrived, they were given a hearty greeting by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Forbes, F. J. Forbes, and Mrs. Hortense Moyer. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Hadley, Miss Emily Moyer, George Hadley, Mrs. C. J. Forbes, Mrs. Frank Kohler, of Philadelphia, Miss Rose Hadley, Miss Jane Hadley, Jake Hadley, Mrs. George Lay, of Beaufort, and Miss Mary Hadley, of Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Jr., directed the guests to the punch room, where Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Best served punch from a beautifully decorated punch table, carrying out the green and yellow color scheme.

Miss Anna Sutherland, of Mount Olive and Miss Elizabeth Dunn, of Winston, house guests of Mrs. Hadley, with Jack Spain and Wil Whedbee, showed the guests to the dining room. The color scheme here was white, carrying out the wedding idea. The table was especially attractive with a Madeira cover. A beautifully decorated wedding cake, surmounted with miniature bride and groom, formed the centerpiece. A large wedding bell was suspended from the chandelier above the table, and streamers of maline intertwined with smilax were draped from the light and tied in bows to the four silver candelsticks on each corner of the table. Miniature bride and grooms added attractiveness to the table.

Much fun and merriment was made over cutting the cake. Miss Emily Moyer, bride-elect, cut the heart; Miss Mary Forbes, the wishbone; Will Whedbee, the button; Miss Jane Hadley the ring; Miss Maude Bissinger, of Wilmington, the thimble; Mrs. Lee Hannah, the dime; and Miss Anna Sutherland, the horseshoe.

In the dining room Misses Helen White, Mabel Glenn Best, Annie Dare Hooker and Mary Forbes served an ice course, carrying out the wedding idea, with orange blossoms.

Music was furnished throughout the evening and the younger couples enjoyed dancing.

ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Kinston, Nov. 15.—Outstanding in attractiveness and beauty was a bride party and henderchief shower given by Miss Matilda Harrell Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Mercer Parrott on North College street, honoring Miss Martha Harly, extensively feted bride of the week. Gold was the prevailing color in the decorations, emphasizing the autumn colors. Chrysanthemums were used with dainty effect. Thanksgiving covers for the tables and napkins of similar design were unique and attractive. The same motif was noted in the other appointments.

Mrs. John C. Drewry, Jr., of Raleigh, sister of the honoree, and Mrs. Person Nicholson, of Greenville, were honored guests and were remembered with appropriate gifts. Mrs. Drewry was given a vanity dresser (bell of Colonial design, and Mrs. Nicholson a rose hound ash tray. The hostess' gift to the bride-elect was a hand-mirror Indian copper fret bowl with ebony base. Mrs. Mason Grainger, holding top score, was presented a rose-leaf sachet of French make, cleverly wrapped to denote the spirit of autumn.

Little Miss Hennie Greene Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wallace, demure in a frock of flesh chiffon, brought in the shower. This was a Dutch doll made of beautiful handkerchiefs. A delectable salad course, in harmony with the season, was served. Following this dainty homemade canapés were passed. Six tables were entertained.

North Carolina University Glee Club at College

The University of North Carolina Glee Club delightfully entertained the students and visitors at East Carolina Teachers College Tuesday evening. The program was attractively arranged, and each number was rendered in a manner to do credit to this widely known musical organization.

folk songs of different countries. The group of folk songs in the first part of the program were from the British Isles, from Finland, and from old sacred folk songs. Each of these groups was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Mr. Nelson O. Kenedy, the guest artist, gave two pleasing piano solos. They were: Nocturne in F, by Schumann, and Gavotte, by Sevitki. Each of these numbers was good because of the clear tones and artistic interpretation.

The second part of the program consisted of American negro songs. Sons from Russia, and a piano solo, Rhapsody in G Minor, by Brahms. The glee club allowed the audience to select the negro song, it wanted sung. The following were selected: "Gonna Hear Nobody Pray;" "Dat Suits Me;" "Go Down Moses;" "O, Mary, Don't You Weep;" "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Each number on the program was interesting, and was sung with good tone, technical accuracy and finish. The glee club had a real appreciation for the spirit of the music which was revealed in the artistic shading. The good fellowship between the leader and members of the club was evident throughout the program.

At the close of the program the glee club sang their college song, this being followed by three cheers for Teacher, College.

The audience showed its appreciation by rising as the glee club sang "Carolina."

Iowa Department Store Stages 'Pep' Meetings as Adv.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Concerted cheering, such as marks university, college and high school athletic contests, and considered almost as important in college life as the track or football team, has invaded the field of commerce.

Whether college cheer leaders may look forward to the time when they, after a career at college, may turn professional and put their talent for emitting blood curdling yells and performing strange gymnastic figures to further use, remains to be seen. But the fact that cheering and pep meetings, has been introduced into business life is established.

A large department store here is using the plan in order to instill enthusiasm into the sales forces, and according to W. G. Cunningham, assistant superintendent, the results are gratifying.

"We adopted this idea after observing results of concerted cheering at football and basketball games," he said. "Everyone has noted that cheering at a football game reacts on the players. It seems to give a sagging team new life, and put fight into the men that often means victory that otherwise would be lost. I was suggested that the same idea might work in business. That the sales force might strive harder for sales, if they were divided into groups and organizations. The plan was tried and we consider it successful."

Mr. Cunningham said so far as he knew, the local store was the only organization holding pep meetings.

In the Des Moines store there are from 800 to 1,200 employees. They are divided into seven or eight sections according to the merchandise they handle. Each section has its cheers and songs and its cheer leaders. The sections vie with each other for originality in their cheers and the banners they carry when a pep rally is staged.

Snake dances are also in order. Such rallies are held just before the store opens in the morning. They are not held every day, but usually before a sale is to start. Community singing by the employees also is featured. Prizes for the best record in selling of various kind, of merchandise also are offered to stimulate competition.

Excitement Reigns In Oklahoma Oil Circles Today

Tulsa, Okla., (INS)—Excitement in oil circles is rising to a frenzied pitch over the new production records being set up almost daily in Seminole field, Oklahoma, most sensational oil area today.

This pool, in western Seminole County, passed the 120,000 barrel mark a few days ago and field men of the major companies watching developments there are predicting that it will go as high as 200,000 barrels a day.

The enthusiasm over the field can easily be understood, considering that only two months ago its production had not reached 15,000 barrels.

Threatens to Kill Roumanian Queen

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Police today were seeking a man apparently demented, who threatened to kill Queen Marie of Roumania.

Accosting Mrs. B. E. De Murg, wife of the hotel manager, the stranger said he was thinking of killing her and Queen Marie. Mrs.

De Murg fled and police unsuccessfully searched the building.

HIPLESS, BOYISH GIRLS SOON OUT OF STYLE

Burbank, Cal., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Plump figures will be fashionable next year, according to Cora McGeachy, creator of costumes for Norma Talmadge, Colleen Moore, Corinne Griffith, Anna Q. Nilsson, Billie Dove, Natalie Kingston and other screen beauties.

Miss McGeachy declared today that the hipless, boyish feminine figure will be out next year as the tendency toward Russian styles, the return of the basque, and leanings toward the trotteur modes demand a buxom figure.

MARKET LETTER

New York, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Speculative interest was largely confined to a few of the industrial market leaders in a dull and featureless session of the stock market today.

With the call loan rate at 5 per cent, speculative funds were offered in such a volume that a decline to 4-1/2 per cent lately followed shortly after the noon period.

The day's activities represented chiefly the give-and-take of the professionals.

The mid-week steel trade surveys promised little in the way of immediate developments in the industry. Steel consumers provided for their wants in September and October, according to the iron age, which looks for a tapering off in demand in the next few weeks.

Railroad executives meeting in New York issued a statement in which the grand total of revenue freight car loadings for the year was placed at 52,700,000, an increase of 1,332,079 over 1925. Price cuts in crude oil were announced by the Sinclair and Ohio Oil Companies.

General Motors once again and Phillips petroleum. Mercantile stocks lost practically all of their day's gains. Stewart Warner was a strong spot in the specialties near the close and sold in volume above 66. Low-priced motor stocks were erratic in the final period. Call money closed at 4-1/2 per cent.

Case Threshing Machine dropped 11 points to 141 in the final period, following rumors that the orders from implement manufacturers were on the decline.

PROMINENT MARYLAND DEMOCRAT DEAD

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Col. John Keating, 61, for many years prominent in Democratic politics in Maryland, died at his home here early today following an operation performed Monday. He was a native of Winchester, Va. Col. Keating made a fortune in the brewing and distilling business.

TWO CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE EARLY TODAY

Elyria, Ohio, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Arlene, 2, and Myron, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Dennison, of Birmingham, Erie county, were burned to death in their home this morning. Mrs. Dennison was so severely burned in attempting to save her children, that she may die.

REVOKE LICENSE OF DEATH CAR DRIVER FOR FIVE YEARS

Atlanta, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Pleading guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, Mrs. A. H. Turner today was fined $500 given 12 months suspended sentence, on the chain gang and prohibited from driving an automobile for the next five years.

Mrs. Turner's plea of guilty was entered in connection with the death of Andrew Owen, aged eight, who was killed by an automobile driven by her last September 10.

TUGS SEARCH FOR MISSING STEAMER

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 17.—INS—Several tugs today were searching a wide area of the Gulf of Mexico for traces of the disabled steamer Leroy, locally owned which last night radiated for aid but failed to indicate its true position.

The ship, according to the owners here, should have been approximately fifteen miles east of Panama City, Fla.

A naval seaplane picked up distress calls and reported them immediately through the local station and tugs were rushed into the Gulf to search for the missing boat which was used in towing barges to Cuba but was light on its present voyage.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS BOYS TEACH FLYING TO PAY COLLEGE EXPENSES

Austin, Tex., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Ambitious students desiring college education at one time or another have tried practically every means of earning expense money. There are six students attending the University of Texas here, who have launched a new plan.

Being experienced in aeronautics the students have opened a flying school and a commercial aviation center near Austin. Comprising a 100-acre tract, two miles north of Austin, the venture will be called the University School of Aeronautics.

The school has seven planes, and intends to build a $15,000 hangar, planned to house 15 planes. It should be completed in six months.

SCIENCE AND ART IN VIOLENT DISPUTE OVER NEW SHAPES FOR WOMEN

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Science and art are in violent disagreement in Chicago these days over suitable shapes for women.

Science in the person of Dr. John Richards of Rush Medical College, opened up the debate by declaring that women of the popular willow type, with the prevailing flat chests, are more prone to tuberculosis than are their more robust sisters.

Lorado Tatt the sculptor promptly launched into a defense of the fashion advertisement women, flatly declaring they were as healthy as those who employ a surgeon to assist their dressmakers.

Both are agreed, however that today's woman is far healthier than her forbears of even a generation ago largely because she dresses more sensibly—with fewer clothes.

Girls are healthier these days than boys, said Dr. Richards. The minute frost appears on the ground men rush into the red flannels. The girls stand by their summer raiment and if it is not carried to excess, are the healthier for it.

WARSAW SOON TO UNVEIL NEW MONUMENT TO CHOPIN

Prague, Nov. 17.—(INS)—At last, after year of waiting and much hesitation, the city of Warsaw is to erect a monument to Chopin.

The actual statue was prepared some time ago by the sculptor, Vaclav Szymahowski, in Paris, and has now been conveyed to Warsaw. It is being placed in the Avenue de Ujazdow, the Champs Elysee of Warsaw, not far from the Belvedere Palace.

The unveiling will be celebrated by a great international musical festival.

TODAY

born of her wedding to Marlborough. But it affects in no way the legal status of the wedding performed according to law in America, or the legal legitimacy of the Marlborough-Vanderbilt children. If Marlborough should have a son by another marriage England's law would still give the title to the Vanderbilt son.

But what about the seven million dollars that Marlborough got with his Vanderbilt bride, now pronounced no bride at all?

How about a law suit to get back the seven million? Consult Max B. Steiner and Louis Levy. They know.
