ROUMANIAN QUEEN WILL RETURN HOME DURING NEXT WEEK

Grave Condition of King Ferdinand Makes It Necessary for Marie to Go to Bedside

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train, (in Louisville, Ky.) Nov. 18.—(INS)—Queen Marie of Roumania today cut short her triumphant tour of America when she received word that the days of King Ferdinand were numbered.

"My heart is heavy," said her majesty, with tears in her eyes. "I have heard unfortunate news. I must go home. I am a soldier and duty takes precedence."

The Balkan queen will take the first available liner that may carry her back to Bucharest where she may nurse her monarch. It is planned at present for her to sail from New York on the Herengaria, November 24. She had previously expected to sail December 11.

A cable in cipher from abroad reporting the grave condition of the King of Roumania caused her majesty to make the unexpected announcement. A state of temporary chaos reigned aboard the royal Roumanian special as sheaves of telegrams were dispatched cancelling all social engagements.

The proposed trip of Princess Ileana and Prince Nicolas to the Army-Navy football game in Chicago on November 27th, was cancelled today.

Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, Richmond, White Sulphur Springs and Atlantic City will be notified of her majesty's imposition.

The queen only a few days ago eliminated her proposed trip to North Carolina and Florida upon receipt of a message from the king pleading with her to "come home before Christmas."

Published stories say the king is suffering from cancer. The queen cabled to Roumania asking for full particulars regarding the true physical condition of the king. The reply, unrevealed in detail, led to the sudden decision of her majesty that she must hasten home.

With a tremble in her voice, Queen Marie told the guest, at the Columbia Club in Indianapolis that she had heard "unfortunate news that has made me very sad."

"I feel that this may be my farewell talk to the American people," Queen Marie said. "I have heard a most distressing piece of news. I am so full of emotion that I can hardly speak coherently. I deeply regret that my trip in your beautiful country is to be terminated so suddenly. I want to tell the Americans how much I love to be with them and appreciate their hospitality. I always want them to remember me. I do not know whether I will be able to come back to America, but I hope and hope that I may."

Another worry which weighed on the mind of Queen Marie was the physical condition of Princess Ileana.

Still unnerved from a close escape from serious injury when the roadster she was driving collided with a heavy motor truck on the road from Chicago to Indianapolis, the pretty princess was confined to bed today with a nurse in attendance.

The royal patient was officially reported as merely suffering from "excessive fatigue." Less official information revealed that her highness had an irregular pulse and was subject to fainting spells.

While the princess showed no outward signs of injuries from the accident, the possible after effects of the exposure to a driving snow and rain storm in an open car were carefully guarded against.

TODAY

To Harness the Moon. They All Wanted It. They'll Believe Foch. Spending $250,000,000.
(By Arthur Brisbane)

Professor George Claude, of Paris, inventor of synthetic ammonia, and a serious scientist, tells the French Academy of Science that he has found a cheap, efficient way to harness the ocean's tide power.

It is a complicated process, depending on utilization of the ocean's temperatures, varying at different depths. The main thing is that such an invention would supply the one thing that men need above all others, power unlimited, cheap and forever.

When you harness the tides, you really harness the power of the moon, that with its constant pull of gravity, raises and lowers the ocean's waters. Whether men are far enough advanced to deserve free power, use it well and not be made lazy by it, remains to be seen.

Now it is said, in connection with the Vanderbilt marriage annulment, that the lady in the case, Consuelo Vanderbilt Marlborough, now Mrs. Jacques Balsam, also wanted the annulment decree. Divorcing her duties, she married Balsam, a French Catholic, and as the Catholic Church admits no divorce, she is not exactly married to him, in the Catholic meaning of the word, although legally married.

The annulment decree, from Rome, it is said, straightens everybody out for everybody. With the original marriage declared null and void, never in fact real, everybody is now correctly married to everybody else. The duchess and her new husband, the duke and his new wife, everything is perfect in the eyes of the law and the eyes of the church.

Perhaps the children born of the marriage now declared void will feel that somebody overlooked them. And perhaps the late W. K. Vanderbilt, if here, would say some things to the Marlboroughs, collector that got seven Vanderbilt millions for his duke, before the latter consented, as Tad puts it, "to bump his head on the altar rail."

But NEARLY EVERYBODY is satisfied and that is much better than the average, in this life.

There arises a question of veracity between Marshall Foch, and the King of Belgium. Foch says he persuaded King Albert to let the Belgians retreat from the Yser. It is a fact that the king issued a proclamation, making any suggestion of retreat treason.

The king says Foch had nothing to do with it. The general public will trust to Foch's memory. Kings have a license to forget that is not permitted to commoners anyhow, but for Foch, and his management of the war, there wouldn't be any King Albert. Some young Hohenzollern would be sitting on the Belgian throne, nicely overstaffed, to make it comfortable for him.

The treasury surplus this year will be far above two hundred and fifty million, thanks to good management by President Coolidge and Mr. Mellon. And if you are an income tax payer on a fairly big scale, it means good news to you, a rebate of as much as fifteen per cent on what you paid last year.

Perhaps a way to spend the $250,000,000 could be found, better than giving it back. Part of that money would put this nation's fighting air fleet ahead of all others. At present, we have none.

Part of the money would connect the Great Lakes with the Gulf by a canal through the Mississippi Valley.

Much could be done with all or part of $250,000,000, more romantic and exciting than giving it back. But nothing, probably, could be done, that would suit better those that will get the money.

NICARAGUA ASKS PROTECTION OF AMERICAN NAVY

New President of Nicaragua Says Intervention Necessary to Quell Revolutionary Activities

Washington, Nov. 18.—(INS)—An avenue apparently was opened today for the United States to maintain a semi-permanent naval force in Nicaraguan waters to combat what the State Department considers the active encroachment of 'Mexican radicalism' into the countries of the Caribbean.

Such a policy would amount, of course, to a virtual American protectorate over Nicaragua, and would not be displeasing to American concerns that have large interests in the country.

The avenue has been opened by the request of Adolfo Diaz, the new President of Nicaragua, for something very close to permanent intervention by the American Government into the disordered affairs of the little republic. Diaz has stated that this semi-intervention is necessary to prevent revolutionary activities in his country. The State Department has received his request sympathetically and is considering it.

Diaz was elevated to the Presidency of Nicaragua a few days ago and was promptly accorded recognition by the State Department, which for a year prior had refused to recognize the revolutionary government headed by Gen. Emilio Chamorro. The American Government's opposition to Chamorro ultimately forced his withdrawal, and under the guiding influence of the American charge at Managua, Diaz was chosen to succeed him.

The State Department has been concerned for some time over evidence of what it considers Mexican 'interference' in the affairs of Nicaragua, and also of Guatemala.

Official reports have disclosed that the liberal revolutionists had access to Mexican arms and ammunition. Filibustering ships, equipped with various assortments of flags, and loaded with rifles and ammunition and in some cases men were enabled to clear mysteriously from Mexican ports, and arrived just as mysteriously at Nicaraguan ports.

The Calles Government officially disavowed any connection with these activities. Nevertheless, it is accepted in Washington that they could not have gone on without the knowledge, if not the connivance of officials of the Mexican Government.

Some of these gun-running expeditions were halted by the American warships and Marines which the State Department rushed to Nicaraguan waters to protect the lives and property of American citizens. More of them succeeded than failed, however.

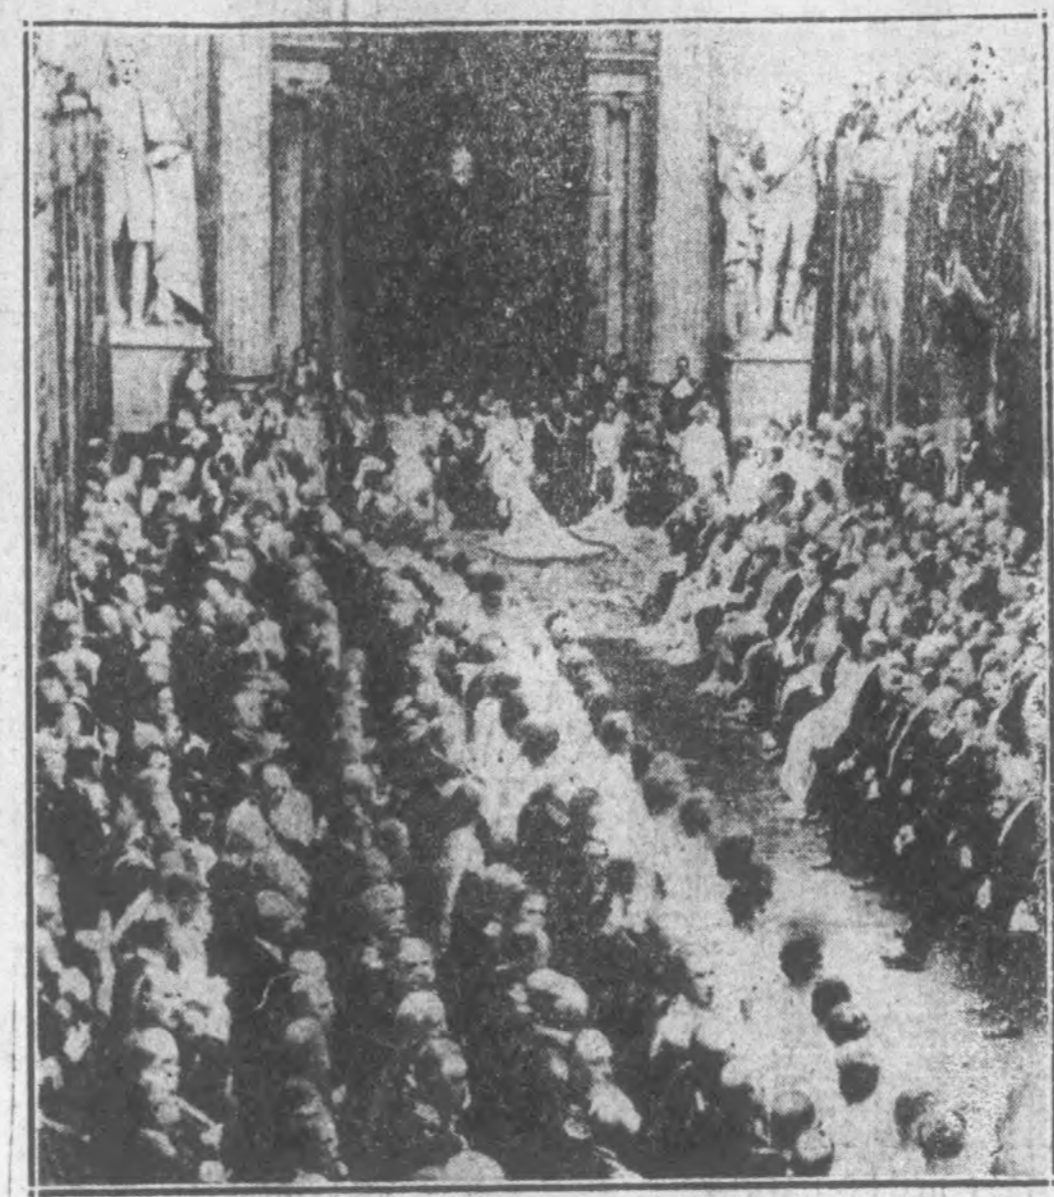

Coupled with the meagerness of the State Department over the general aspect of one Caribbean country 'interfering' with the internal affairs of a neighboring country, is the general distrust which some administration officials feel over the general political tendencies of the present government of Mexico. The words Bolshevism and Radicalism are frequently used by officials when talking privately about the political direction of the Calles Government.

LEGION MEMBERS BACK RED CROSS

Ex-Service Men Are First to Answer 10th Annual Roll Call of Red Cross

Members of the executive committee and the members of the American Legion were the first to answer the annual roll call of the American Red Cross in Greenville. Anticipating the opening of the drive next Monday they gave their dues at the meeting of the Legion held Tuesday night.

These Legionnaires were generous in their praise of Red Cross work conducted in North Carolina and in the nation at large and expressed pleasure at being able to participate in it.

One Legionnaire said: "It is with genuine pleasure that I renew my support of the Red Cross. I am well acquainted with the splendid work it is doing to help thousands of unfortunate people. The relief work now being conducted in Florida typifies the Red Cross spirit and should be an incentive to thousands of persons to join the ranks this fall."

"Every American should be proud to have a part in Red Cross work and, as I submit my dues, I want to assure you of my personal interest in the success of your campaign and express the hope that the appeal will meet with a generous response."

Detailed plans for the Roll Call, now completed, include plans for a canvass of the entire city. A corps of workers, operating under the direction of Dr. A. M. Schultz, Roll Call Chairman, will visit every person to extend a personal invitation to join.

"HOUSE OF DAVID" HEAD IS RELEASED

"King Ben" Purnell Permitted to Return to Cult Colony Under Bond of $70,000

Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 18.—(INS)—Suffering from a severe attack of diabetes, which has crippled him in the last year, "King Benjamin Purnell, aged leader of the House of David, was back in the colony today, a weak, sick man.

Purnell was released from jail late yesterday on $70,000 bond posted by local business men. His hearing on two serious charges made by former city members of the sect, has been set for December 1.

W. J. Barnard, attorney for the colony, announced that Purnell was determined to fight for final vindication in the courts. A defense fund of almost a million dollars will be available, if needed, it was reported.

In an official statement the House of David denounced the press as a poisoner of public opinion and issued orders barring newspapermen from the grounds.

Bowing in homage, "King Ben's" followers greeted him in royal fashion when he returned to the colony yesterday after being freed on bond. Some kissed his palsied hand. Only a few members of the colony were permitted to see him today.

Mrs. Bessie Daniels Woodworth, former girl member of the colony, whose tip to state police led to the arrest of the cult chief, recounted her experiences with Purnell.

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION TO ADJOURN TODAY

Reports of Activities of Various Departments Heard During Today's Sessions

Wilmington, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Routine matters took up the morning session of the State Baptist Convention here today. The convention adjourns following a session during the afternoon.

Reports on Sunday schools, Sunday School Board, Hospitals, Foreign Missions, Historical Commission and Ministerial Relief were to be heard during the day.

The 1927 convention will meet at Durham, and the convention sermon will be delivered by Dr. Zeno Wall, of Shelby, with Rev. F. N. Johnson as alternate.

A committee named at the request of J. Marcus Kester today considered protesting to Queen Marie of Roumania alleged 'outrages' committed against Baptist missionaries in Roumania. The committee was expected to make its report this afternoon.

A part of the morning session was given over to a discussion of the educational institutions of the Convention and means of improving their effectiveness.

Unification of the mission and education boards into a general board and the election of C. E. Maddy, of Raleigh, as Secretary are looked upon as the most important actions the Convention has taken this far.

The resignation of Dr. William Louis Poteat after 25 years as President of Wake Forest College, and his unanimous re-election as President Emeritus by the trustees board and the decision to inaugurate a campaign to raise $200,000 to fund the independence of the education board were the high spots of last night's session.

Famous Poet Takes Own Life

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—(INS)—All California was mourning the death of George Sterling today. The famous poet was found dead in his room at the Bohemian club.

On the bed by his side was a bottle, believed to have contained deadly poison, indicating that he selected the misty trail that so many other literary geniuses have trod before him.

Scattered about his rooms were fragments of paper—verses and letters he had written but which he destroyed before death came. Sterling had been ill for about a week before his death.

Sterling's death recalls the passing of two women he admired—Nora May French, who 17 years ago took poison, then walked into the sea at Carmel, and his divorced wife, Mrs. Carrie E. Sterling, who also took poison in 1918.

CHARGES BANK USED FOR "KITING" PURPOSES

Atlanta, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Charges by R. E. Bentley, State Auditor, that the Farmers and Traders Bank was maintained as "a clearing house for kiting purposes" by enterprises of W. D. Manley, on trial for fraudulent insolvency, drew a stubborn attack by the defense today.

Bentley was subjected to a relentless cross-examination by Marion Smith, chief defense counsel, who challenged the witness to produce definite evidence of "kiting" or other irregularities.

The defense sought to prove that the indebtedness of Manley and his enterprises had been cancelled when the bank closed.

Smith brought out that the Farmers and Traders Bank owed Manley $36,000 when it closed and the direct indebtedness of all the Manley subsidiaries on that date was only $13,765.20.

The case may go to the jury tomorrow as the defense will offer few witnesses, it was understood.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT AT MOROCCO

FARM LEGISLATION HOLDS ATTENTION OF NEXT CONGRESS

Leaders Indicate Special Session Be Demanded if Coming Session Fails in Farm Relief

Washington, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The spectre of farm relief legislation flashed across the congressional horizon today to threaten the Coolidge administration anew with the possibility of an extra session of Congress next spring. The Democrats already are demanding an extra session for tax reduction.

Enact the McNary-Haugen bill by next March 4, was the cry of returning farm bloc leaders, or Congress will be held in session until it is enacted. The bloc leaders, while avoiding an open threat of filibustering tactics, made it plain they considered farm relief more important than any other legislation likely to confront Congress during the coming winter.

The action of the St. Louis farm conference in demanding early passage of a bill, providing for a government export corporation to be financed by an equalization fee, was pointed to as indicating the necessity for enactment of the McNary-Haugen bill. The latter provides, just such a corporation and calls for an equalization fee to be paid by the farmer.

The farm bloc will be reorganized and open its offensive passage of the bill as soon as Congress convenes, according to Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho. Gooding declared he felt there was time enough to pass the measure before March 4. If not, he added, "I shall be glad to do anything to get the bill enacted."

If the farm bloc attempts filibuster, it is certain to provoke an extra session of Congress. The Democrats with their demands for immediate tax reduction already are agitating for a special session next spring while the disagreement over the Illinois waterway project—which the administration plans to push this winter—will provide additional recruits.

The farm bloc will go into the new fight in a stronger position than in the last session, where it met defeat. The recent price deflation in cotton, with its resultant hardships upon the South, has won over many converts. In fact, one provision of the bill last spring would have set aside a huge fund to be used solely to stabilize cotton prices in event of a bumper crop. Had the bill been in force now, its advocates contend present cotton depression could have been averted.

"With increased reduction of wheat throughout the world and with Russia coming back, wheat faces the danger of a similar condition of over-production such as characterized the cotton crop this year," said Gooding. "If we can pass legislation bringing about an orderly marketing of farm products, we can bring about orderly production. This can be accomplished through an export corporation to take care of surplus crops."

"There is no reason why the McNary-Haugen bill should not be passed in the coming short session. There have been more hearings held on it and more investigations made than on any other piece of legislation before Congress. It is time to write it into law for the average price of farm products is lower now than a year ago."

"We have no intention of disturbing the present prosperity in industry or commerce. Our only purpose is to aid agriculture on the same self-sustaining basis now enjoyed by the rest of American industry."

HADLEY-MOYE

(Reported)

One of the loveliest weddings of the fall was solemnized last evening at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church when Miss Marjorie Hadley and Mr. George Moye were married. The wedding, uniting two families of cultural and social prominence, was of much interest to their friends in this and other sections of the state.

The spacious church was most impressive in its nuptial decorations. Long-leaved pines, southern smilax, and stately palms were used artistically and in abundance with seven branched candelabra holding white cathedral candles. These tall tapered casting their mellow glow were interspersed with baskets of white chrysanthemums, forming a beautiful background for the wedding party.

Prior to the ceremony, a delightful musical programme was rendered by Mrs. Raymond Tyson, organist, who wore a pink satin dress and shoulderette of pink rose, and Mesdames Helene Higgs and Bessie Brown. Miss Brown was gowned in an orchid georgette and velvet and sang "O, Promise Me," of de Koven, while Miss Higgs, wearing a nice green velvet with slashed draperies, sang "The Wedding Song." Together they gave, with fine interpretation, the ever-loved Schubert's "Serenade." Both carried arm bouquets of Columbia roses.

With the musical prelude ended, the mother of the bride entered; her brunette beauty enhanced by a gown of lustrous white satin embroidered in pearls. She carried Pernet roses.

Immediately following there sounded the triumphant strains of Tanhauser's "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as the usher, entered in pairs. They were, Edwards S. Williams, Curtis Perkins, Reid Perkins, of Stokes; Foster Young, of Wilson; Dr. John Cotton Taylor, of Washington; William White, Bert Moye, Lee Hannah, and Howard Moye. Down opposite aisles came Miss Rose Hadley, sister of the groom, wearing a smart frock of yellow crepe Elizabeth trimmed with rhinestone studs ornaments and slippers and hose to match, carrying an arm bouquet of Columbia roses showered with flesh sweet peas and Mr. Joe Moye, groomsmen, only brother of the bride.

Following came the dame-of-honor, Mrs. Edward Sutherland Williams, sister of the bride, gowned in a picturesque green crepe Elizabeth dress spangled with silver brilliants, wearing green slippers and hose, and carrying an arm bouquet of Columbia roses showered with pink sweet peas. Miss Jessie Moye, sister of the bride, and maid-of-honor, came next, wearing a diaphanous dress of flesh chiffon ornamented with flame sequins in high shades wearing flesh slippers and hose, and carrying an arm bouquet of Premiere roses, showered with flesh sweet peas. She was followed by Herbert Hadley, brother of the groom, an attractive little page, in flesh carrying small satin pillows. Then came two graceful flower girls. They were Mary Dorcas Harding, cousin of the bride, in yellow chiffon effectively trimmed with pastel shades of velvet, and Francis Carter in a befful frock of flesh chiffon, wearing slippers and hose to match. They carried off chiffon baskets of pink sweet peas, dropping petals along the pathway of the bride. Jane Forbes, mat. cousin of the groom, ring-bearer, followed. She was wearing a gown of white silk with a ring of pearls and carried the ring on a pale pink satin pillow.

The bride, petite and spirituelle entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man and brother, Jake Hadley.

Mrs. Moye was exquisite in a charming gown of duchess satin, designed by Jenny, embroidered in pearls and crystals, and having a court train. Her veil, trimmed with rose point lace and orange blossoms, was arranged with a coronet of lace held in place by a band of tiny French pearls. Her bouquet was valley lilies, bride's roses, and white orchids.

The marriage vows were spoken before their pastor, Rev. Lloyd B. Jones, who read the ceremony from the prayer book at the marriage of the parents of the bride.

The bride, because of her genuine worth and sweet graciousness is one of the most highly esteemed young ladies of this city and the state. She is an alumna of Salem College, where her scholarship was attested when she was graduated with honors. Born and reared in Greenville, she has always taken an active part in the social life of the town, as has the groom, who was a leader in the Kappa Sigma fraternity at Duke University; he also attended the Virginia Military Institute. Mr. Hadley is a prominent young business man, holding a responsible position with the National Bank. In the happy culmination of their romance, the much-admired young couple have the hearty good wishes of the community.

The wedding gifts were displayed in the charmingly decorated home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bountree Moye, where an elaborate largely-attended reception was held immediately after the marriage.

Out-of-town guests present were:

Misses Mildred Barnes and Hester Banks, and Mrs. Bart Ritter, of Wilson; Miss Snow Hendron, Winston-Salem; Mrs. Sam Lee, Monroe; Miss Josephine Lyerly, Hickory; Miss Maudie Bissinger, Wilmington; Miss Elizabeth Dunn, Kinston; Miss Anna Sutherland, Mt. Olive; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moye, Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. Walter LaRoue, Kinston; Miss Mary Hadley, Raleigh; Dr. John Cotton Taylor, Washington; Mrs. L. Bruce Williams, Winston-Salem; Mr. Ben Winfield, Chowan; Mr. Louie Crisp, Fairland; Mr. Foster Young, Wilson; Miss Jane Hadley, Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, Va.; Messrs. Jake and Sydney Skinner and Joe Howard and Jesse Moye, of Chapel Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kohler, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. J. A. Hadley, of Mt. Airy; and Messrs. J. R. Smith and York, of Mount Airy; and Reid Perkins, of Stokes.

EDUCATIONAL COOKING CLASS

In the educational cooking class on Wednesday morning, Mrs. Grimes gave a most helpful and a very artistic demonstration of the preparation, cooking and serving of a crown roast and plank steak with the appropriate vegetable, for each.

For the crown roast the lamb chops were cut, trimmed and served so as to form a circle with meat inside, then stuffed with hamburger seasoned to taste. A variety of vegetable, were prepared showing the wide range of choice a hostess might have in selecting vegetables to serve with this crown roast. Stuffed turnips, green peppers filled with cream cabbage, asparagus tips decorated with strips of red pepper or pimento, green peas, carrots decorated with Irish potato balls, and green pepper, stuffed with a parage, were prepared. After placing the beautifully browned crown roast on a large handsome platter, Mrs. Grimes topped the chop bones with white frilled paper caps then piled parsley high on the meat, then arranged the vegetables around the meat using small bits of parsley and red pepper for decoration and color.

For the plank steak the beef from the tee bone was made tender than seared a rich brown and placed on the hot plank in the oven and cooked at just the right temperature until ready for the vegetables, to be arranged on the plank. Dutchess potatoes were used in a pastry bag to decorate the plank then slipped back in the oven to brown slightly.

SUSPECT ULTERIOR MOTIVES
 Why is it that a big man is suspected of having some ulterior or selfish motive when he advocates applying private, common honesty to public affairs? In his excellent Armistice Day speech at Chicago last week, General Pershing, taking his cue from the matter made paramount at the Legion convention in Philadelphia, spoke out strongly for more interest in government and the mobilization of good men that "the evils of lawlessness, political corruption and careless citizenship could be overcome and put to rout if the American citizen would vote with the same energy and ingenuity he manifested in war time."

At the Legion convention, in the very precinct of the most corrupt politics in the world, able men spoke out strongly against slackers in citizenship and corruption in politics. It was not aimed at Ware particularly, but hit him where he lives. At Chicago, where public service corporations bought a toga for an official whose decisions had pleased and enriched them. General Pershing spoke brave and much needed words. He was not personal to Smith and Insull but he hit them where they live and all others who are bartering government for gold. Hardly had the echoes of General Pershing's rigorous and statesman-like address died away before the suggestion was broadcasted that "Pershing has heard the buzzing of the Presidential bee." This originated with those who think no man can rise above indifference to evils without a motive of self advancement. It was a grave injustice to the head of the American Expeditionary forces in the world's greatest crisis. General Pershing has done nothing to justify such reflection upon his unselfish patriotism. He has not sought to profit by his honorable military record. Indeed, in 1920, when Nebraska and Missouri wished to present him for the Presidency, he gave it no encouragement. It would have been the best thing for the country if General Pershing instead of Mr. Harding had been called to the Presidency. Both parties that year had able men who had won their spurs by their high service in war. Instead of urging their nomination, the Republicans put up an Ohio politician and so did the Democrats. Harding's failure in the high office was lamentable. Cox would have made an excellent Chief Executive and carried out Wilson's noble ideals. But General Pershing was better fitted than Taylor, Harrison or Grant who went from military victory to the White House. If General had been the type of man indicated by the intimation that he wishes to end corruption in politics because of personal ambition, he would have been an active candidate in 1920 when there was much sentiment in favor of his elevation. It is honorable to aspire to high position and General Pershing had the right. The fact that he has never tried to "cash in" for his great military service should protect him from the unworthy suggestion of selfish interest in standing for Common Honesty.

Has the condoning of the Teapot Dome steal and the purchase of senatorships so leadened the public conscience that if a man says, "Thou shalt not steal in politics" he is to be branded as selfish and denied the just tribute of the same courage in peace he displayed in war? — News and Observer.

FAMOUS FRENCH RECIPES
 Paris, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Artichoke Bearnaise make a good vegetable dish.
 Prepare with care the hearts of artichokes and let cook in boiling salt water. Drain and place carefully in the serving dish. Do not put one on top of the other.
 Make a good Bearnaise sauce. Put into a casserole the yolks of three eggs and a good piece of butter. Place it in boiling water and stir well until the sauce is thick but do not let boil. Add a little meat-juice or bouillon and just before serving the juice of a lemon.
 Cover the artichokes with this sauce and serve immediately.

U. S. AGENTS SEEK SOVIET ALUMINUM
 Moscow, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Agents of the American Aluminum Company, in which Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, is said to have a large interest, report progress in their exploration of the bauxite deposits of the Soviet Union.
 Upon completion of their investigations the American Aluminum Company is expected to bring to a close the negotiations now going on between it and the Soviet gov-

SICK HEADACHE
 No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.
 Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."
 "About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three nights in succession if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life. It surely is splendid."
 Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Theford's Black-Draught.

ernment for a concession to exploit the bauxite fields.
 The chief concessions committee, following the policy laid down by the government, refuses any information about negotiations until they are concluded, but from their sources it is learned that the American Aluminum Company has good prospects to obtain a virtual monopoly of the Russian deposits, considered among the richest in the world.
 If the prospects now in sight are fulfilled, the American Aluminum Company will erect a refining plant near the principal Russian bauxite deposits, just south of Leningrad. This site is considered especially favorable, since it will be possible to make use of hydro-electric power.
 Agents of the American company have just reported the discovery of rich deposits of bauxite in Handjinsk. They are now exploring in the vicinity of Adjarastan.
 Conclusion of the negotiations with the American Aluminum Company will be regarded here as a distinctly favorable gesture from the United States business world since it is believed that if a company in which Mellon is interested enter business relationships with the Soviet Union (time cannot be far distant when American capital will flow toward this country in considerable quantities).

ENGLAND'S GREAT LAWYERS JOIN IN LEGAL BATTLE IN DERHAM MURDER CASE
 London, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Some of the most eminent lawyers in England will indulge in a great battle when the extraordinary triangle drama of 'Stella Maris' comes before the judge at the Kent assizes at Maidstone.
 Alfonso Francis Austin Smith, a former officer in the English Dragon Guards who ran through a fortune of $200,000, left to him by his father, is accused of the murder of his college friend, John Adam Tyler Derham, aged 40, at Stella Maris, a house at Whitstable.
 The story of the prosecution is that Smith, who is a former Canadian, was furiously jealous of Derham's attentions to his wife, and it is alleged that the shooting took place in the presence of Mrs. Smith, a woman of great beauty and charm.

What Are You Doing for Your Puny Child?
 One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and is Now Strong and Healthy
 For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.
 But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.
 One boy gained 11-2 pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.
 Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Denton Drug Co., and all druggists and money back if not satisfied—always insist on McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Great To Be Alive
 Gee! but it's great to be alive today! The saying, "A man's home is his castle," has come true. Today any man's home can be a castle, and a far more pleasant and comfortable castle than were the castles of the olden days.
 Today the workman, the clerk, the banker—all can have the same comforts, enjoy the same good health and live a life that is worth the living.
 Why, think of it. The lowliest worker of today can have a better home, a more healthful home, a more convenient home than could Washington or Napoleon.
 A 1 this has come about through the science of plumbing and heating.
 A home that is well plumbed and heated is a home of health and happiness. A house without good plumbing and heating is nothing but four walls and a roof.

Royal Party Fails Put in Appearance

Danville, Ill., Nov. 18.—(INS)—Danville society folk who thought they were going to rub elbows with the royalty when Prince Nicolas of Roumania and his sister the Princess Elena, were expected to lunch here on their way by motor from Chicago to Indianapolis, were feeling foolish today. They do not yet know whether they were victims of a hoax, or a mere chain of unusual circumstances.

The new Hotel Lincoln received a phone call stating that the royal party would stop there for luncheon. Immediately there was a scurrying. The news spread all over town. Every man who had a dress suit believed himself invited. So did a large number of society women.

The florist of the city donated all of the flowers needed. Other business men sent their window decorators to put the Roumanian colors and other decorations in proper condition for the royal eyes.

MARKET LETTER

New York, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Practically every department of the industrial stock list contributed to the reactionary price movement today. The professionals directed their spirited attacks against the market leaders in the steel, oil and motor groups, and after a show of resistance in the first hour, these stocks could no longer hold their ground and were swept along to the lowest price levels of the week, representing in some cases accumulated losses of 3 to 6 points from Tuesday's peak.

A rather top heavy speculative position had been built up in United States Steel, General Motors, etc., which over the course of three weeks had recovered 10 to 20 points. Such a movement invited profit taking and a more cautious attitude in buying stocks, particularly in view of the reported decline in steel buying and the definite downward trend in oil and cotton prices.

On the whole the market demonstrated its ability to absorb a large volume of stock without any serious breaks in any section.

A mild spirit in American Woolen and Consolidated Textile reflected the better feeling in the textile trades. Copper and Independent Steel stocks as a rule were able to hold their ground.

Call money ruled at 4 1-2 per cent. The professionals threw in a heavy volume of selling orders in the final period. Many of the industrial stocks declined to the lowest price levels of the day, following which sharp recoveries took place, cutting down the actual losses to a point or less.

UNCLE SAM'S SOLDIERS HAVE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Washington, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Uncle Sam's soldiers are saving money. Deposits of savings by 24,964 men in the service with the finance section of the army at the end of the last fiscal year totaled $1,463,447.10. This was an average of $190.86 per depositor. Salary allotments made by 7,012 officers aggregated $942,724.84 and by 4,308 enlisted men $727,000.59.

REINH/ RDT CELEBRATES HIS 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Vienna, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Max Reinhardt, the famous Viennese producer, has just celebrated his 25th anniversary in his profession. His first production was a musical comedy show "Sound and Smoke" which was so advanced for the theatre goers of that day that it lasted only five nights. Since then Reinhardt has continued his habit of startling the Viennese but with the change of time that his ideas at once become popular. He was entirely responsible for the popularity of Shakespeare, Wild, Shaw and Galsworthy in his native city, as task for a genius.

CHILD SUICIDES ALARM WORRY AUSTRIAN OFFICIALS

Budapest, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Child suicide is increasing in Hungary at an alarming rate. As many as seven suicides by minors are being reported daily and most of them for unimportant reasons.

TODAY

(Continued from page 1) the money be used for the national defense? The Greeks voted the money away from their own pockets to national defense. But they were old fashioned people. Mussolini, as is usual with one in power, now combats treachery in his own ranks, as well as conspiracy at home and abroad. A high Fascist official, close to the king who 'reigns' under Mussolini's sheltering hand, is moved from his important position. Should Mussolini become suspicious of the royal family that might necessitate another usual step in the course of dictatorship, and put Mussolini on the throne.

Cromwell kept away from it, and his power lasted until long after he died. It might have been better for his family and England had he gone the whole way from 'Lord Protector' to 'King by the grace of God.'

Somebody should have a cheerful Christmas. Treasury officials estimate that United States banks now contain about fifty billions of dollars.

That sounds like a great deal, fifty times one thousand million dollars, yet it is less than the income of the United States for one year. And already we have several billion each worth his first billion and trudging courageously toward the second billion.

Eight thousand Spiritualists suffered in London, and three thousand rose when Conan Doyle asked 'all who are sure that they have been in touch with their dead to rise and testify.'

The three thousand were sincere probably, but they had not been in touch with their dead.

Conan Doyle says 'we are not testifying to faith but fact.' That is what leaders of every religion say, but they cannot all be right. As for the spirits, without lungs, or breath, they could not form in our material air sound waves that would carry any message, to our material ears.

If bodiless spirits could talk, it would not have been necessary to tie the particles of electric power into electrons, atoms, molecules, and under the form of matter produce a visible tangible universe of this minute size.

Strauss Says Gov't. Should Supervise All Securities

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Federal and state supervision of all investment securities not now subject to such regulation is the crying need of the financial world today, according to S. W. Strauss, investment authority, who in an interview with International News Service, declared that a new era in connection with the issuance and sale of investment securities has been reached.

"As a result of the tremendous growth of the investment field, the day of complete governmental supervision is not far off. Such forms however," he said, "should be approached most cautiously and in such manner as neither to interfere with the rightful flow of capital in business nor dampen the ardor of personal initiative."

"We are today standing upon the threshold of a new era in the entire investment field and I believe the day is not far off when the methods of creating and selling the every type of investment offered to the American public will be in some manner under strict State or Federal government supervision and control. How soon that day will come I know not, but it is as certain as tomorrow's sun!"

Although admitting the fact that business can be hampered to a dangerous extent by over-regulating and over-supervision, Mr. Strauss said: "There should be the exercise of absolute fairness and great caution in approaching these grave problems, for the normal and rightful flow of capital should by no means be impeded by the intrusion of too many restrictive or regulatory laws. "But the tremendous growth of the investment field, especially with the advent of millions of Americans as investors in our Liberty Loan flotations makes it necessary that the public be offered every possible protection."

Indiana to Spend $1,000,000 Make Park on Dunes

Indianapolis, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Tourists from all over the United States who have heard of the famous sand dunes on the southern shores of Lake Michigan will be given an opportunity to see and enjoy them in comfort, if the million dollar appropriation asked by the State Conservation Commission from the next legislation is approved.

Fully half of the sum will be used in building a first class modern hotel and bath house for the benefit of the pleasure seekers who annually swarm into the area and the Dunes park, according to the Commission's plans.

Richard Lieber, director, announced he will make a special plea for that section of the appropriation, in order to accommodate the throngs that visit the park over week-ends, to say nothing of those who spend weeks enjoying the weird beauty of the Dunes.

The hotel and bath house will not be the only things built in the Dunes park, if the request is approved. The commission plans to spend an additional $250,000 to construct a parking area in the sand, besides building a mile and a half of paved roadway and sidewalk leading into the playground. Portions of Fort Creek, a small creek meandering through the park, will be placed in concrete.

The popularity of the Dunes park, not only as a national playground, but also as a permanent educational study in geological formations, and strange vegetation, has caused unusual stress on the development of this state park immediately.

Guides, thoroughly acquainted with the great variety of different forms of vegetation and geological formations in the park have been provided by the state. These have been prepared to explain the causes resulting in the weird, haunting effect produced in the otherwise waste regions.

GERMAN WOMEN IN TYROL PROTEST MUSSOLINI ORDER

Innsbruck, Nov. 18.—(INS)—More than 30,000 German women living in the Italian Tyrol, which was Austrian territory before the war, have signed a protest against the attempt of the government to Italianize the schools. The government has issued orders that Italian will be the language of the schools and no German will be allowed.

The protest demands that German be taught and spoken until the fourth grade and they demand German teachers for religious studies.

LOWDEN SPEECH TO VOICE VIEWS ON FARM NEEDS

Agriculturists Will Meet at Chicago On December 5 to Study Problems; Discourse May Be Aired Regarding Conditions in Their Business

Chicago, Nov. 18.—(INS)—American farmers will assemble here December 5 for the opening of what is expected to be the outstanding agricultural demonstration of a decade—the eight annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The grievances from which a large bunch of farmers from all sections of the country assert they are suffering as a result of tariff and other government acts, will be thoroughly aired with a view to drafting a definite legislative program behind which a majority can unite. The meeting will run for three days, winding up Wednesday when former governor of Illinois Frank R. Lowden will deliver an address. That Lowden's talk will echo the discontent of the farmers with present conditions was believed to be a foregone conclusion today.

Lowden is the outstanding farm candidate for president, whether he will or not formally announce himself and with a representative group of farmers waiting such word it is believed possible he may come out strongly for some definite form of relief.

Gathered together in the Councils of the Federation will be Federation officials from every state, county and community of importance, supplemented by county agents, vocational agricultural teachers, home demonstration agents and community workers.

In sending out his call for full representation, President Thompson declared that "everyone is needed so that with balanced judgment a policy will be adopted which will assure an equality of opportunity that agriculture sorely needs."

A new feature of the meeting will be the First National Farm Bureau Agricultural Exposition, featuring exhibits from outstanding co-operative marketing associations, the Farm Bureau county, state and national and products of commercial firms presenting new ideas, applicable to agriculture.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is installing five distinct educational exhibits, including one showing the work of the newly created marketing department.

SEASICKNESS BENEFICIAL BELGIAN DOCTOR INSISTS

Brussels, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Seasickness is sometimes beneficial, ac-ording to Dr. Bernard, one of Belgium's best doctors, who says that it drains the organism by the digestive tube.

He adds that sojourns at seaside resorts are very often injurious, while a stay out in the middle of the sea proves a remedy for many evils.

The constant meteorological variations which characterize the climate of almost every coast tend to keep awake all visceral and nervous excitability. One the contrary the air out in mid-sea presents great chemical stability conducive to the best of health, the doctor said.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creosolium, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creosolium is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creosolium contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and infection, while the creosolium goes on to be absorbed, and enters into the blood, and attacks the source of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creosolium is quite an satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial catarrhs, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time

Brooklyn. Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes: "I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy, I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stopped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me. Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels and relieve the system of its poisonous matter." Druggists, 25 & 25c red packages

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

Brought Back from Death!

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Paris, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Down with the old-time marriage dowry and long live a profession! This is the new cry of young Frenchmen seeking soul mates.

An investigation recently made among young couples now getting married established the amazing but interesting fact that Frenchmen are no longer demanding the proverbial bag of money with their brides, and this is simply because they have discovered that the young wife with money is not as good an investment as the one who can make it. After bitter experience, they have lost confidence in the coppers of Poper and find that a nice salary made by the young wife is much more to be depended upon.

The "dot" which the bride has been in the habit of bringing to her husband has always been a cause of family contention, long after the wedding bells stopped ringing. Its evaluation, inventory and transfer gave place to quarrels and discussions with which French history is well peppered. The offices of notaries have been the center of many regrettable scenes at the moment of signing the marriage contracts. No one will be sorry to see the old order changed.

Naturally, the abolishment of the "dot" system is a decided step in advance, a rise in the esteem and consideration of every French woman entering matrimony. The men are showing that they now have faith in the intellectual capacity of the ones they have selected for life partners and households established on such principles are bound to bring about more happy results than those of the old regime.

Yesterday, an old-fashioned father disinherited his son for falling in love with a poor working girl and refusing to marry one of his own class, educated in a convent and bringing with her a big bag of money. Today the situation is reversed and anathema falls upon the young man who wants to marry the daughter of a good bourgeois, possessing only francs, when he might have aspired to the hand of a pretty clerk in a large shop who is certain to become the head of the department within a short time.

The stone railings around the lovely Tuileries Gardens, which were once the royal promenade of famous French kings became the clothesline of a poor French woman for a few hours who hung out her meagre washing there and stood patiently waiting for it to dry. It was not long before a
