No Silent Nights For International Radio Broadcast

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The silencing of American radio stations for international broadcasting was definitely banned today by the International Radio Week committee.

Opposition of both American and European broadcasters to remaining silent on alternate nights, while millions of listeners hug loudspeakers or ear-phones to hear little but cut calls and other howls was responsible for the decision.

L. A. Nixon, secretary of the committee, declared the results of the 126 international broadcast, held last January, "while interesting were not worth the loss of programs from American stations."

"Last January's test will be the last international broadcast sponsored by the committee," Nixon said.

Many reasons have been assigned to the lack of results obtained from the January tests, which took place at a time when radio reception was unusually poor due to atmospheric conditions.

Even Secretary of Commerce Hoover an ardent radio listener, equipped with a powerful set reported little better luck than co-operators of crude home-made receivers.

SAYS HARDING ENDORSED OIL LEASING PLAN

Defense Counsel Falling Doheny Trial Says Former President Endorsed Action In Message To Senate.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—President Harding was fully advised of the reasons for making the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, oil storage contract with the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, and so informed the Senate in a formal message in which he gave his endorsement to the transaction.

This fact was brought out today in the conspiracy trial of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and E. I. Doheny, millionaire oil operator, by Frank Hogan, chief defense counsel, who introduced into evidence a report to Harding from the Interior Department, under date of June 3, 1922, and Harding's message to the Senate under date of June 7, 1922.

Hogan did not read the Interior Department memorandum to the jury, stating he would do that when the defense began its case, but he did touch on Harding's message to the Senate, in which the former President said he knew all of the details of the contract and approved it.

The contract in question had been made with the Doheny Company six weeks prior to the Harding message.

"I think it is only fair to say in this connection that the policy which has been adopted by the Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of the Interior in dealing with these matters was submitted to me prior to the adoption thereof, and the policy decided upon and the subsequent acts have at all times had my entire approval," wrote Harding.

"I am sure I am correct in construing the impelling purpose of the Secretary of the Interior in making to me this report. It is not to be construed as a defense of either specific acts or the general policies followed in dealing with the problems incident to the handling of the naval reserves, but is designed to accord that explanation to which the Senate is entitled and which will prove helpful to the country generally and in appraising the administration of these matters of great public concern."

Hogan completed three and a half hours of cross-examination and turned Finney over to Mark B. Thompson, one of the Fall lawyers for further questioning. Finney, who had been called as a government witness, is banked on heavily to build up the defense case.

Thompson, who is a close friend of Finney's brought out for the second time, that the assistant Secretary of the Interior had played a far more prominent role in the making of the bases than had Fall.

The prolonged cross-examination of Finney precluded all possibility of the Government finishing its case today.

Concerned Over Safety of Americans At Hankow, China

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—Grave concern was felt here today over the safety of Americans and other foreigners in the Hankow district of China, due to revolutionary fighting.

Four hundred additional Marines aboard the destroyers Pope and Truxton, have reached the trouble zone to reinforce the regular Yangtze river forces. They will not be landed unless it is necessary to protect American lives and property.

The American forces at Hankow are under command of Admiral H. H. Dough, operating directly under orders from the commander of the Asiatic fleet. They have discretionary authority to land troops when in their opinion it becomes necessary. The policy of this government, however, is to proceed cautiously to avoid the further inflaming of Chinese nationalistic feeling.

MOSER DECLARES CONDITION FARMER IS VERY CRITICAL

Head Of Cotton Urges Closer Understanding Between Big Business And Farmer.

New York, Dec. 1.—(INS)—A plea for the American business man to understand and help solve the problems of the American farmer in order to prevent a political and economic conflict between agriculture and industry was made today by C. O. Moser, of Memphis, Tenn., president of the American Cotton Growers Exchange.

"Through no fault of the cotton grower other than he was efficient enough to produce 4,000,000 bales more than could be consumed, he is facing bankruptcy and the country as a whole has suffered a loss of $200,000,000," declared Moser. "It is more than a sectional debacle. It is inextricably interwoven with the nation's financial and industrial life."

"The wheat grower of the middle west has suffered a similar economic experience within the past few years. If the agricultural situation is not solved, 25,000,000 farmers will be ripe for radicalism."

"Such an economic catastrophe as the cotton debacle is a challenge to the intelligence of the country. A solution must be found either through private or through governmental agencies. The great mass of farmers, both of the south and the middle west, do not believe the administration has made any conscientious effort to aid their plight."

"The government has helped industry with its difficulties through legislation and there is no reason why it should not do the same for agriculture," asserted Moser. "The business man and the metropolitan newspaper apparently do not understand the attitude of the farmer. The agricultural problem is a national problem of serious import and needs their study and support."

Moser said that while the southern farmer felt his problems to be distinctive in many ways from that of the middle-western farmer that if the present cotton disaster were repeated often enough it would force a political alliance between the two sections of the country.

Moser was asked his opinion on the drafting of the new McNary-Hangen bill for the stabilization of agriculture through the creation of a government corporation to export surplus farm products.

Moser said he did not believe the members of his organization would be interested in the export feature of the bill.

"Cotton is unlike other agricultural products in that it needs a world stabilization of prices," he said. "It cannot have a domestic price and another export price."

Moser, who had just returned from a inspection of the European textile industry, said he had found the textile business abroad in poor shape, with the British market in the worst condition and France doing better than other countries.

"In all countries the low price of American raw cotton had unsettled the market and affected the mills adversely," he said. "Owners said that the low price of the raw material had forced them to sell the finished product at a low figure."

Posse Searching For Boy's Slayer

Asheville, Dec. 1.—(INS)—A posse early today was reported to be scouring the Black Mountain range near here for Lat Hagan, lumberjack, alleged to have shot and killed Marion Wyatt, 17 year old farm boy, yesterday afternoon. No motive for the killing was advanced.

QUEEN MARIE WILL LEAVE PARIS TONIGHT

DOUBT BERGDOLL IS COMING HOME

Officials Don't Believe Report That Noted Draft Dodger Coming To America For Christmas.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The government won't believe that Grover Cleveland Bergdall is coming home by Christmas to take his medicine for evading the draft until he actually appears and surrenders himself to authorities.

Justice officials particularly were skeptical today over the reported statement of Bergdall's mother that he was returning from Germany.

"Once he sets foot in America however, the government immediately will prosecute him. He faces a long prison sentence. Bergdall escaped from soldiers who were taking him to Maryland to locate a 'pot of gold' he said he had buried."

Several alleged attempts were made to kidnap him in Germany. Bergdoll is the most noted of the war's draft dodgers. He was tried for desertion by a military court and convicted. War Department officials said Bergdoll not only must serve the sentence for desertion but is liable for trial for breaking arrest and other infractions. They do not believe he could be tried in civil court.

Says Dempsey Poisoned Before Bout With Tunney

Baltimore, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The definite charge that Jack Dempsey was poisoned just before his fight with Gene Tunney, in which he lost the heavyweight championship of the world, was made today by Capt. Charles J. Mabbitt, one of Dempsey's friends, who was at the training camp.

In a signed article appearing in the Baltimore News today, Capt. Mabbitt said that the champion and members of his training staff were taken suddenly ill after breakfast and that he was convinced the poison was contained in cream used at that meal.

COOLIDGE ACTION MAY BLOCK PEACE IN G. O. P. RANKS

Appointment Of Political Foe Of Frazier and Nye Halts Peace Negotiations.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—With Republican control of the seventieth Congress trembling in the balance, a political faux pas by President Coolidge today threatened to disrupt the carefully nurtured peace negotiations between administration leaders and the insurgent bloc in the Senate.

Just as peace apparently had been restored among the Republicans in Congress, it was learned, the President named Colonel C. P. Mudgett, a political foe of both Senator Lynn J. Frazier and Senator Gerald P. Nye to the office of United States Marshal in North Dakota. The appointment was made at the solicitation. It was said of former Governor L. B. Hanna, who opposed Nye in the recent primary and who has fought Frazier for years.

The President's action, it was learned, brought to a temporary halt the trend of peace in Republican ranks on Capitol Hill. Unless the break can be repaired, the Republicans will face the possibility not only of losing their paper control of the seventieth Congress, but perhaps of watching the Democrat organize the new Senate with the resultant possession of all committee chairmanships.

Both Frazier and Nye have voiced strenuous opposition to Mudgett's appointment. Their friends have urged them to oppose confirmation of the appointment. If either should carry his fight to the extent of refusing to help the Republicans organize the new Senate, the Democrats would win the control.

County Court Held Session Here Tuesday

Only a few cases were up for hearing before Judge W. A. Darden in yesterday's session of the County Court and only a short time was required to clear up the docket. Several fines and a jail sentence were meted out by Judge Darden to the offenders.

The cases disposed of were as follows: W. B. Pollard and J. Pollard, assault and battery, nol pro.

W. B. Pollard and Garland Pollard, assault and battery, nol pro.

Albert Williams, driving automobile while drunk, fined $100 and costs.

James Ennis, driving automobile while drunk failed to appear for trial and his bond of $100 was declared forfeited.

Lawrence Peterson, assault with deadly weapon, sentenced to 90 days in jail.

James Holliday, possessing whiskey, judgment suspended for two years on good behavior and payment of costs.

Edie Tyson, larceny, not guilty.

Harlee Lee Washington and John Jones, receiving and possessing and transporting liquor. Jones not guilty. Washington fined $20 and costs.

TAX REDUCTION MAY COME UP IN NEXT CONGRESS

Democrats Declare Rebate Plan Has No Chance And Urge Tax Bill Be Opened To Revision.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—Republican leaders of Congress today added to the uncertainty existing over tax legislation in the coming session by failing to include President Coolidge's rebate proposal in the first measure to be considered.

Democratic leaders meantime continued to assert that there is no chance of the administration plan succeeding and urged that the entire tax bill be opened to revision. Rep. Finis J. Garrett, of Tennessee, Democratic leader, declared the minority would co-operate only on this basis.

Under the present plans of the House leaders, the following measures will be given first consideration: Alien Property bill, the Appropriation bill, the Dill-White Radio measures, the McFadden branch banking bill, and the bill to raise salaries of federal judges.

The Ways and Means committee struggling over the Alien Property bill. It is unlikely that the committee will consider tax legislation until the session is well under way. The tax bill enacted last year was ready when Congress convened, and was passed only after a long struggle in both House and Senate.

Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations committee announced that treasury and postoffice, agriculture and Navy department bills probably would be ready for introduction on the opening day of Congress next Monday.

Both the radio and branch banking bills are in conference and leaders are hopeful of bringing them on the floor for discussion and passage before the Christmas recess.

Burlington, N. C., Dec. 1.—(INS)—The funeral of O. F. Crowson, editor and publisher of the Burlington Times, will be held here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be held from the Front Street Methodist Church.

The prominent North Carolina editor was ill only a few days, and was at his desk until he went to Charlotte last Tuesday to consult a specialist there. He became ill while at Charlotte.

Death was the result of kidney disease, followed by complications.

Crowson was born at Morganton, N. C., on July 7, 1873. He was in the newspaper business here for more than 30 years. A wife and three sons survive.

Believe Man Perished In Fire Lenoir Yesterday

Lenoir, N. C., Dec. 1.—(INS)—One man believed perished, an estimated damage of $350,000 and two men seriously injured, was the toll today of a fire which swept the plant of the Bernhardt Chair Company here late yesterday.

The man who has not been accounted for is Joe King, one of the employees of the company. Two men sustained injuries when they jumped from windows. The injured are Floyd Goble and Willie Cronson.

MISTRIAL MOTION DENIED BY COURT

Simpson Asked For Mistrial On Grounds That Jury Had Talked Outside And Slept In Court.

Courthouse, Somerville, N. C., Dec. 1.—(INS)—The State's motion for a mistrial in the Halls-Mill case was denied by Judge Charles W. Parker this afternoon.

"I have considered this motion of the state for a mistrial and it is denied," said Judge Parker, as soon as court convened after the luncheon recess.

Prosecutor Alexander Simpson in making motion for mistrial this morning had charged that the jury is biased and has a preconceived opinion on the verdict. Simpson presented affidavits from citizens of Somerville stating that the jurors were not properly guarded, that they slept in court, that they freely discussed the case among themselves and with outsiders and that two of them had talked to members of the counsel for the defense.

The members of the "Million Dollar" defense, seven of them sitting in a Phoenix around their table, looked immensely relieved.

Mrs. Frances Stevens, Hall and her two brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, turned to each other and smiled broadly.

The jury was then summoned back in the courtroom. They had been ordered out shortly before the judge announced his decision on the mistrial motion.

Eleven Prisoners Break For Freedom

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 1.—(INS)—Using a hacksaw and a monkey wrench with which to "attle holes" in their cells, eleven prisoners staged a daring break from the city jail here early today.

Three of the escapes were recaptured before they could make their way out of the jail alley.

Four of the prisoners are negroes. The plot apparently had been well planned as the negroes broke from their cells on one floor while the whites freed themselves on another floor. All then sawed a bar from a rear window of the jail building and fled.

Six other prisoners in the jail failed to participate in the break.

Included in those escaping were a Ray, held as an escapee from the Alabama State penitentiary; H. B. G. Tim, violating liquor law as an automobile thief and a forger.

Alien Deportation Reaches High Mark

Washington, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The high water mark in the deportation of undesirable aliens was reached during the last fiscal year, when 10,000 aliens were arrested and deported to their country of origin. Secretary of Labor announced today that this is 1,400 more than were deported last year.

"The aim of the department is to deport every alien whose departure the law requires," Davis said. "At the same time we are mindful that the most urgent cases are those of aliens whose presence in the United States are inimical to our best interests. This includes aliens who have become public charge; and aliens who have served time feeble-minded and insane aliens, who are a menace to our national stamina."

OFFICERS SEEK TWO CONNECTED WITH SLAYING

Mysterious "Mr. X" And Robert Stephen son Wanted In Connection With Forsythe Killing.

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The coroner's inquest into the murder of L. G. Forsythe has been postponed from today until tomorrow morning. Coroner L. M. Waring said today.

The postponement of the continuation of the inquest, which was started last week, was taken to indicate that officials believed they could capture a fourth suspect in the case, who is being widely sought before the inquest is resumed tomorrow.

The testimony of this fourth suspect, whose name has not been divulged, is regarded as vitally important by officials investigating the Forsythe murder mystery.

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—(INS)—Police men and sheriff's deputies, twenty in all, were scouring Raleigh and its vicinity early today for a mysterious "Mr. X," wanted in connection with the murder of L. G. (Mighty) Forsythe.

The unnamed suspect had not been apprehended when the coroner's jury, holding an inquest into the slaying, resumed its hearing of evidence this morning. According to Coroner L. M. Waring, the arrest of the fourth man in the case was expected at any minute.

The fourth suspect now being sought already has been charged with murder in a warrant issued by the coroner. The coroner refused to divulge the name of the suspect until he has been arrested.

The coroner said, however, that the man being sought lives in Raleigh, and is a bootlegger.

Widespread search also is being made for Robert Stephenson, alleged to have been an occupant of the car Forsythe was driving when he was killed. The coroner said he had additional information regarding Stephenson's whereabouts an expected his arrest momentarily.

Robert Separk and Evelyn Britt young Durham girl, already have been arrested in connection with the case. They are alleged to have been in an automobile with Forsythe when he was killed near Clayton with some sharp-edged instrument. The girl has been released on $5,000 bond.

All indications now point to the case eventually being tried in the Johnston county court, where, from all evidence introduced at the inquest so far, the Forsythe murder was committed, according to Solicitor W. F. Evans.

It could not be ascertained this morning whether Evelyn Britt, the Durham girl arrested in connection with the case, would be placed on the stand during the inquest. Her counsel declared she was ready to tell how Forsythe met his death, but not so long as she was a defendant in the case.

According to solicitor Evans, the Durham girl will remain a defendant as long as the case is in Wake county. He believed, however, that the case would be transferred to Johnston county.

South Carolina Governor To Visit State Tomorrow

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—(INS)—What did the Governor of North Carolina say to the Governor of South Carolina?

Whatever they said, maybe they'll say it again here tomorrow. Thomas G. McLeod, the Palmetto executive, will arrive here at noon Thursday and will be the guest of Governor McLean at the Governor's mansion during the day.

In the late afternoon the two Governors will go to Greensboro, where they will attend a dinner given in honor of Julian Price, president of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company.

Heads of all departments of the state government and the advisory board of education have been invited to Governor's McLean's luncheon to meet the South Carolina Chief Executive.

Laxity of Parents And The Automobile Cause Girls' Downfall

Denver, Dec. 1. (INS.)—Laxity of parents—and the automobile—are the causes of the downfall of most girls in this modern age, in the opinion of Adjutant Maude Lee, of the Salvation Army.

Adjutant Lee, for many years engaged in social service work, came to Denver recently from the White Shield Home, in Portland, Ore. She will have charge of the new Woman's Home and hospital being constructed here by the Salvation Army for the care of maternity cases. The institution will house thirty-five girls.

"The automobile, in my opinion, the chief contributing cause for delinquency among modern girls," Adjutant Lee said. "Modern girls, too, mature earlier than their mothers did," she continued. "And that is, of course, a result of the times. Life for the modern generation is infinitely more free than it ever was for former generations. There is very little to restrain a girl of today from acquiring information on any subject concerning which she is curious. She naturally takes advantage of the situation and has accordingly become the girl she is."

This early maturity, Miss Lee declared, has led to sex irregularities at an earlier age.

"A generation ago the women who needed the assistance of rescue missions were old enough to know better," Miss Lee said. "They were usually beyond the age of consent. Now we often get grade school girls, 13 to 14 years old."

Miss Lee believes, however, that where the modern girl is given proper, sympathetic guidance, there is every reason to believe she will develop into a fine type of womanhood.

"The fact that the modern girl knows more than her mother knew at her age, does not mean the girl of today is less fine," Adjutant Lee said. "With her education have come, of course, many more temptations. That she is able to resist them in the manner the doe, is indication of her character. The girls who fail today are no more numerous than they have always been and whatever the civilization standard, there will always find it impossible to resist temptation."

Miss Lee believes, that the courage and self reliance which her own freedom gives her, will enable the modern girl to furnish the stepping stone to a higher quality of manhood.

"The thing that life has taught the modern girl," she concluded, "she will in turn teach her sons and daughters. Her own youth will cause her to understand the instinctive revolt of all youth and will prepare her for the proper guidance of her own young."

Miss Lee is a graduate of the Army Training College at Chicago, and has been engaged in welfare work for the past 12 years, having had charge of various relief homes in St. Paul, Minn., Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles, Cal.

Late Style Hints From Hollywood

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 1. (INS.)—If designed and cut properly, the straight line frock is not too severe for young women.

This fashion dictum comes directly from Eleanor Boardman, featured players in M-G-M productions. Miss Boardman, qualified her statement with the explanation that the straight line frock looks best on the young figure when it is trimmed with embroidery, beads or fringe.

"I have a good many frocks severe in cut, but they are all trimmed in a youthful manner," Miss Boardman confided. "The skirt of a dark blue broadcloth is embroidered in peasant colors. This does not detract from the line but gives the gown life and color."

"Wings will relieve a straight frock. A band of fur or several bands of fur on the skirt, also make it attractive. For evening wear, heads break the monotony.

Coast Guard Dry Officers Jubilant at Getting New Boat

Seattle, Dec. 1. (INS.)—Liquor pirates and run-runners on Puget Sound were proceeding cautiously today. For the 729-M, at one time the fastest and most famous liquor carrier on the Sound, has been armed with machine guns and placed in service against the run-runners.

By virtue of an order signed by Federal Judge Jeremiah Netter, upon request of Assistant United States Attorney Paul D. Coles, the 729-M has been transferred to the coast guard service. Authorization for this transfer was received from Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon.

"The 729-M has plenty of speed and run-runners had best watch their step now," declared Lieutenant Commander Cecil M. Gabbett, commanding the coast guard here. The 729-M came to grief a year ago when she was seized near Rocky Point, San Juan Islands. The catch was one of the most valuable on record here, the boat herself being valued at $7,500 and her cargo of assorted liquors at more than $8,000. Her skipper, Christopher Skronkahl, was arrested and charged before United States Commissioner A. C. Bowman with possessing and transporting liquor, and refused an $1,500 bond.

'SNOWY OWL' ON CHURCH STEEPLE STOPS TRAFFIC

Middletown, Conn., Dec. 1.—INS—What with snowy owl and goshawks residents of the suburbs of this ancient city have been troubled during the late autumn this year to keep their poultry alive, and have been giving thought to the prospect of a cold winter ahead.

On four occasions in one week snowy owls were located, one causing a traffic jam when it chose to roost on the 150 foot high cross of St. John's Catholic church, for a whole day.

Popping guns were required in the same period to save turkeys from goshawks, and several hawks were slain at times when their talons were buried deep in turkeys. Twice the snowy owls harbingers of cold weather, been found dead along Connecticut River meadows. They and the goshawks are seldom seen in Connecticut.

Badly Bruised and Swollen Hand Healed

Relief After Few Applications of Remedy Known Since Bible Days

A careless stroke with his hammer caused a carpenter's hand to swell to incredible size accompanied by such extreme pain that the poor man was almost frantic, still tortured by the excruciating pain, after other remedies had failed to bring relief the man applied Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh, a few hours the swelling disappeared and the pain was soon gone.

Healing qualities of myrrh have been known since Bible days, but when myrrh is scientifically combined with other healing and antiseptic ingredients, as it is in Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh, it is small wonder its effects are sensational. Sold at drug stores.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mr. Lester E. Turnage, of Farmville, brother of Mr. D. L. Turnage, of this city, underwent an appendicitis operation at Pitt Community Hospital yesterday. His friends will be glad to know that he is reported to be getting along nicely.

A CORRECTION

In the advertisement of Woltz Bakery appearing in yesterday's issue it was stated that with each 5 cent purchase card would be issued and that same would represent 25 miles in the auto race now being staged by the concern. The advertisement should have stated that "100 cards" represent 25 miles in the auto race. The advertisement in its correct form appears in today's issue.

IMPROVING AFTER OPERATION

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 1.—Miss Mamie E. Jenkins of E. C. T. C. who was operated on for appendicitis November 23, at Mary Elizabeth Hospital, is getting along nicely.

PUBLIC STENOGRAPHERS

We wish to announce that we will do public stenographic work and are located on the second floor of the Reflector building. Office hours 9 to 5. Will appreciate your patronage. Miss Helen Joyner, Miss Lillian Hooker.

BASKET BALL TEAMS BEING TRAINED FOR ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The G. H. S. football season has closed and basket ball practice is now in progress. So far as can be seen present prospects for a bright season are in view.

Greenville high school has always had a very successful basket ball team, known to visiting teams as clean and honest basketeers.

For some unknown reason spirit has hung at low ebb in attendance at football games causing the Athletic Association to doubt athletics are desired in Greenville high school or if they should be discharged.

Couch Porter, in answering questions as to the outlook for the team quoted, "The boys have been working hard to equal their team of last year, and so far as can be seen, I hold brilliant prospects. In order to have a team of this kind it will take more spirit, both from students and patrons of the school than has been shown at football games. The main reason for our football teams' poor showing was that they had nothing behind them to make them fight, and without any spirit any team will be a failure."

Mr. Porter is new in Greenville and is one of the best coaches that has prompted athletics in Greenville high school. In return students and patrons should show appreciation for his work by attendance at games sponsored by the school. Too much enthusiasm can not be shown in any school event.

There are quite a few season tickets, each good for ten home events in the high school office. These are printed for students and patrons of the school. If you wish to secure one of these a telephone call to the office will insure its delivery.

The girls, under Miss Lawrence are likewise showing splendid progress. There is no doubt as to the question that this team will be better, as practices have revealed.

There are several new players, and with the old team many victories are expected to be added to the list. Their schedule has been completed with teams as Robersonville, Washington and Wilson.

Unded no consideration should any of these games be missed, show your spirit, stay behind your teams and help them fight.

ROUND TABLE CLUB

On Tuesday afternoon the Round Table Club met with Mrs. Class Hurren. The president, Mrs. Luther Herring, called the meeting to order. The club decided to send twenty Christmas stockings to Oteen. Also to give the library donation now instead of in the spring, as usual. The business session was closed and the program turned over to Mrs. W. C. Vincent.

The subject for the afternoon was "The Conquest of the Peaks." Mrs. J. E. Winslow read a very interesting and entertaining paper telling us about the highest mountains in the world. She described the hardships of the early climbers and how they were repaid by the wondrous scenery which they viewed from the heights.

Current events were then enjoyed and much information huand wit to the occasion. At the conclusion of the program the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. E. Harris, the guest of the afternoon served a delicious salad course.

INTERESTING SCOUT MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

Preparation for the December Court of Honor, reorganization of patrol and competitive drill were the principal activities of the happy meeting of Troop One of the Greenville Scouts held last night at the Intermediate School under the leadership of John H. Wilcox, local scout master.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony followed by roll call. The appointment of new patrol leaders was then announced and patrols were reorganized. Under the direction of the new patrol leaders, patrol yells and calls were practiced and a yell contest was held which furnished some very unique yells.

During the fun period Jimmy Johnson proved himself to be the champion rooster fighter of the troop while Hubert Register captured the cellar honors in this sport. The Scout, showed themselves to be exceptionally well drilled for the competitive drill was held for some minutes several of the boys refused to be stumped and were still standing at the expiration of the time allotted.

The meeting was closed at eight thirty with the Scout Oath.

Daily News Letter
 Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 1, (INS)—While other Texas and Southwestern cities are trying to raise "Community Chests" charity funds, with which to care for the indigent and the needy for 1927, Fort Worth is sitting back, watching an innovation it has started in this part of the country.

Instead of a campaign by combined charity organizations as in former years, the city treasury will care for necessary charity work here in 1927. Instead of contributions solicited by an array of workers every taxpayer will contribute.

On a suggestion from City Health Officers Martin, the city council appropriated $50,000 for charity work to be included in the city budget for next year. This is less than a third of the goal formerly sought by the Community Chest, but city officials believe it will be sufficient to meet all necessary cases.

The overhead of the Community Chest campaigns, which was enormous, will be eliminated with the money dispensed through the channels of the City Welfare Board. Various organizations will not participate in the city fund, as they did in the community chest. The city council held that money for the Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations does not come under the head of necessary charity.

With Texas' popular young attorney general, Dan Moody, due to replace Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as governor in January, political strategists here and in other cities of Texas, have started the 1928 political bee buzzing with Moody mentioned as a possible national "hope."

The talk is centering around the desirability of having Moody on the Democratic ticket as a candidate for the vice-presidential nomination. He is mentioned mostly by those who consider Gov. Al Smith of New York, as a serious contender for presidential honors.

The argument is that a team of Democrats can win in 1928 only as a long shot entry. The Democrats must have two candidates who will appeal to popular opinion, instead of one strong candidate, it is said. Due to the publicity given to Moody in the colorful campaigns between him and Mrs. Ferguson, Texas politicians feel that young Moody now is known nationally.

Moody would come into the picture as a natural balance. If religion enters into the campaign, Moody is a Baptist. Both Smith and Moody are anti-Klux Klan which would help, as only one or two states are left in the "klan" column. Where Smith may be classed as a wet, Moody is borne dry, never having taken a drink, he says.

With Moody on the ticket, he and Smith would carry the South it is prognosticated, while a "balance" from the North might endanger Smith's chances in the South.

The talk has gone so far as to hope the probable lineup at the Democratic convention. New York has 90 votes and Texas has 40 Smith's following is believed to be strong enough to carry Illinois' 58 votes and Pennsylvania's 76, with the possibility of including Ohio. Moody should draw the support of Missouri's 36, and the two possibilities should gain the support of the Massachusetts delegates. This tentative lineup almost could control the convention, the politically wary of Texas believes.

Hellum, the non-inflammable gas use the inflator Uncle Sam's cruisers of the air, is a source of much consideration in Fort Worth, although the city rarely has seen the product used. Interest, however, is centered around the Hellum manufacturing plant, the only one in the country, located here.

The latest point in the helium discussion is the increased cost of production, as if Fort Worth should worry any more than another city. But the fact remains that the cost is higher now than when the plant began operation, although the actual manufacturing cost is less due to improvements in machinery and methods.

Causing the increase is the exhaustion of the gas supply in the Petrolia field, from which the helium is extracted. The increase will be eliminated when the new pipeline to the Texas Panhandle field is laid. Plans for the new pipeline are expected to be completed soon.

That Christmas List

Most of us are working overtime these days trying to think of unusual gifts. Everything the stores offer seems just the same as last year, and the year before.

Wouldn't it be unusual to drop into the plumber's to get what he has to offer? A gift from his shop would be different, wouldn't it?

And it would meet completely the common sense idea that has grown in Christmas buying since the war—it would be useful and practical.

For Christmas, give your family one of the many conveniences offered by this up-to-the-minute plumbing and heating establishment. It will contribute for years to the health and happiness.

PUBLIC LAND TO CAUSE FIGHT IN NEXT CONGRESS

400,000,000 Acres Of Open Land In Western States In Battle.

Denver, Dec. 1. (INS.)—The twentieth congress to be convened shortly in Washington, will probably witness a battle staged by representatives from the west for restoration to state sovereignty of about 400,000,000 acres of public lands on which the so-called bureaucrats in the national capital are charged with planning a permanent grip.

This was the declaration here of Judge Charles E. Winters, congressman-at-large from Wyoming, who is known in Washington and throughout the nation as the champion of state rights as regards public lands.

Enroute to Washington, Congressman Winters, in an interview here, strongly advocated legislative action in the next congress that would restore public lands to various western states, and suggested that the three Pacific coast states should lead the aid in bringing this about.

The legal rights of these western states to the ownership of their land are one thing—but the moral rights are another, said Judge Winters. "Our legal rights, assured to us in the Louisiana Treaty and others by which the domain came into the territory of the United States, were violated by the federal government, and the United States supreme court has held that it has no jurisdiction as the treaties were international and any violation of their terms was a violation of agreement with foreign parties."

"So while on a legal basis we are out of court," the congressman said, "this very fact makes our rights in equity and the stronger and our moral rights all the more impressive."

Congressman Winters declared that the United States should return to the several states full jurisdiction of our 400,000,000 acres of land, including all mineral lands, and not excepting even the Indian reservations, for the Indians have now been given the franchise and their lands should be theirs.

Judge Winters severely criticized an asserted move by the "Washington bureaucrats," now pending, which would place all the remaining public lands under one class—the grazing class.

"They wish to put the entire public domain into the great natural pasture," Winters said, "to be leased out for grazing purposes in perpetuity—making our Uncle Sam our permanent landlord."

A cheering list of news that has bolstered the hopes of the western states to govern their lands, Representative Winters pointed out is the report of a commission recently named by Secretary of the Interior Work. This commission, appointed to inquire into the status of the Indian reservation lands, after an exhaustive investigation, "recommended the relinquishment of all Indian lands to state control."

"The fact is," Winters concluded, "that so long as the present system prevails the public land states are not covered in states in the sense that the constitution guaranteed them but are vital dependencies of a centralized bureaucracy."

Morgenthau Sees Constantinople Lose Prestige In Near East

Chicago, Dec. 1. (INS.)—Constantinople, historic portal between the east and west, has lost its position to Athens, according to Henry Morgenthau, philanthropist and former ambassador to Turkey.

"The center of near eastern trade and commerce," said Morgenthau, "has been moved from Constantinople to Athens. Exclusion of the Christians and Jews from Turkey is the cause."

Morgenthau painted a gloomy picture of the modern Turkey of Kemal Pasha. He said Turkish commerce and industry had been so greatly reduced that the new eastern republic had become again a nation of nomads.

Constantinople's famous Golden Horn harbor has become since the later days of the Roman empire the shape of west and east led to its wharves.

Constantinople's famous Golden Horn harbor has become since the later days of the Roman empire the shape of west and east led to its wharves.

Emperor Constantine made of it a rival of Rome by establishing it as the eastern capital of the empire. Constantinople has been one of the great trading cities of the world.

Athens was the center of civilization more than a thousand years before Constantinople was founded.

With the rise in power of the Roman empire, Athens declined to a minor position among the leading cities of the then civilized world.

More than 1,500,000 Greeks, expelled by the Turks from the peninsula, have begun to be an economic asset to the land of their fathers, Morgenthau said.

The former ambassador is now writing a history of his work as head of the League of Nations commission which supervised the rehabilitation and repatriation.

Plain Facts About Investments

New York, Dec. 1. (INS.)—Recent studies of the effect of the fluctuations of stock and bond prices on income yields are interesting and profitable.

The average income yield today on the thirty-three representative industrial common stocks traded in on the New York Stock Exchange is about 10 per cent, compared with 4.86 per cent a year ago. In the year-long period between 1914 and 1921, the returns on the same stocks were never less than 4 per cent, which means that the actual selling or market price of the stocks has, rated higher.

The large increase in the volume of investment money in the post-war period has brought an enormous amount of buying power to the security markets, absorbing the floating supply of "orphan" stocks. As the process of buying continues, these investors must be satisfied with lower and lower yields on their "invested funds," and gradually the opportunity for purchasing the best grade of bonds, preferred stocks and attractive common stocks advantageously disappears.

The average yield on twenty high grade industrial preferred stocks for October 1926 was 5.88 per cent, practically unchanged from a year ago, when the figure was 5.87 per cent. Twenty unseasoned or second grade industrial preferred stocks afford an average yield of 6.74 per cent, also approximately the same as a year ago.

The best grade of preferred stocks stand about midway between common stocks and the unseasoned bond issued of the corporations under review. Their dividend returns to investor, secured by the comfortable margin of net earnings over requirements for expenses and bond interest, while occasionally the holder of the stocks receive the benefit of a special dividend, are given the preference in the offering of new bonds or stocks.

Quite often these high grade preferred stocks are held in place by the provisions of the business corporation to call and redeem them at a stipulated price. Take, for example, the 7 per cent preferred stock of the Standard Oil of New Jersey called for payment a March 1, 1927, the percentage of which in the four year period from 1922 to the present has been between 117 and 117.4—a remarkable record.

The average yield of fifteen high grade industrial bonds in October was 4.91 per cent, comparing with 5.03 per cent in the same month last year. Each month since January as the prices of bonds have advanced, the income yields have worked progressively lower.

The average yield of a representative group of railroad bonds was 4.51 per cent, a rate which cannot be otherwise than complementary to the railroad companies. Public utility bonds, in the same period, sold on a price basis to yield 4.87 per cent to the investor. Of course, only high grade bonds of the highly rated companies are considered, but even here the income yields appear to be below the "going good" for money and therefore complementary to the credit standing of the companies.

King George Is Planning New Race Track Program

London, Dec. 1. (INS.)—As a result of one of the leanest years in his experience as a racehorse owner, King George is understood to be contemplating change in the royal stud and stable at Egerton House, Newmarket.

Prominent racehorse owner's estimates that the King has lost upwards of $100,000 on the stud since he took over from his father. King Edward's success as an owner has not been repeated by his son, and King George's victories on the turf have been few and very far between of late.

Trust Companies Show Business Gains During Year

North Carolina Trust Companies have total resources of $185,915,368, an increase of $20,257,306 over 1925 according to "Trust Companies of the United States" just issued as of June 30 by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York.

The total for the South Atlantic States was $819,781,366, and the country $19,335,250,000, the latter showing an increase of one billion one hundred ninety million over 1925. Deposits were approximately sixteen billions, a gain of nine hundred millions.

In analyzing the figures just made public, John W. Platten, president of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company says: "The present strong position of the trust companies, attended thru a steady continued progress, reflects a healthy condition in the Trust Company field. Further development along the lines now so clearly marked can not fail to result in a much wider acceptance of the trust principle, with a corresponding increase in the volume of business entrusted to fiduciary institutions."

HIBISCUS FROM HAWAII TO DECORATE LOS ANGELES

Honolulu, Dec. 1. (INS.)—Hawaii's territorial flower, the hibiscus, is to be transplanted in large numbers to Exposition park, Los Angeles, as a result of the present gift of business men from that city to the island. Prof. William Atkinson, Boyan, first professor of botany at the college of Hawaii and for the last several years curator of the Exposition park museum, has been designated to make a selection from the hundreds of varieties of Hawaiian hibiscus for transplanting in the park grounds.
