ILL HEALTH COSTS BILLION DOLLARS YEAR SAYS REPORT

Surgeon General Tells Congress 84 Per Ct. of Rural Population Without Health Service.

Washington, Dec. 11.—(INS)—Ill health costs the people of the United States $1,000,000,000 annually. Congress was told today by Surgeon General Hugh Cumming in his annual report on the Public Health Service.

"Approximately 84 per cent of the rural population of the country is unprotected with adequate official local health service, the lack of which causes a loss of human life and earnings estimated at a billion dollars each year," he said.

Some diseases—smallpox and diphtheria, for instance—could be practically eliminated if the public could be made to realize the advantages of using well known methods of prevention, the report said.

"Thousands of persons in the United States, suffer and die each year because of lack of available information of indifference which prevents the use of methods of prevention, the efficacy and safety of which have been proved," Cumming said.

One hundred cities have adopted the tentative milk ordinance developed by the public health service. In actual operation this ordinance has proved to be capable of enforcement, has improved the quality of milk and at the same time the amount of milk used has increased, the report said.

The death rate from tuberculosis in 36 states in 1925 was 81.8 per 100,000 population, while in 1924 in the same state, the rate was 84.8. This reduction is a continuation of the general trend of this disease for a quarter of a century.

"If the tuberculosis death rate of 1900 had prevailed in these 36 states during 1925, there would have been 189,000 deaths from this disease instead of 76,605."

RAPS AMERICAN POLICY TOWARD SOUTHERN GOV'TS

Beals Declares Government That Would Suit Kellogg Impossible in Mexico.

Washington, Dec. 11.—(INS)—The administration's foreign policy in central and south America, was rapped today at the conference for American concessions abroad.

Carlton Ebbels, of California, who recently returned from Mexico, said no government that would suit Mr. Kellogg, Secretary of State, could survive in Mexico without the support of American bayonets.

The Mexican Government, he declared, has not discriminated against Americans it is merely trying to enforce laws necessary for the social regeneration of the country and in the nefarious propaganda to discredit Mexico, our state department has proved a ready partner.

Norman Thomas, director of the league for industrial democracy, said the United States was formerly its own league of nations, in steadily asserting its economic power over that life of nations in all parts of the world.

We dominate 21 Latin American countries, 19 being completely under our influence, and in six of the 10 we have American financial agents backed by force or later threat of force, said Thomas.

Mexico Will Likely Refuse to Detain French Rum Ship

Mexico City, Dec. 11.—(INS)—The Mexican government probably will refuse the request of the American Embassy that the French rum running schooner Absence J. be detained in a Mexican port for extradition to the United States for violation of the American prohibition laws.

It was indicated that the foreign office would accede to the request of the French legation to liberate the ship, on which, it is charged by American officials, two American prohibition agents were kidnapped from American waters. The American authorities sought detention of the ship, punishment of the crew and confiscation of the cargo of liquor.

The foreign office decided that the American State Department has failed to show sufficient grounds to justify further detention of the ship.

FORMER JUDGE COMMITS SUICIDE

Atlanta, Dec. 11.—(INS)—Despondency over ill health is believed to have been the cause of the suicide of Judge E. Perry Thomas, 55, of Montgomery, Ala., who died at a hospital here late yesterday from injuries sustained when he leaped from an Atlanta bound train near Gainesville, Ga., earlier in the day.

Judge Thomas was attorney for the L. & N. Railroad at the time of his death, and served as president of the Alabama State Senate under Governor B. B. Comer from 1907-11. At one time he was judge of the Alabama Court of Appeals.

Interesting Session Held Here Friday Morning, Afternoon and Night.

The last of a hundred and fifty "One Day Stewardship Conventions," under the auspices of the United Christian Missionary Society, held in this section, convened in the Eighth Street Church of Christ here Friday morning at 10 o'clock, with a large percentage of the churches of the Southeast District represented. The principal speakers for the occasion were Rev. W. R. Holden, of Fort Worth, Texas; Dr. Elliott I. Osgood, returned missionary from China; Dr. A. E. Corey, of Kingston, who has spent several years on the China mission; Rev. E. B. Quick, of Atlanta, Ga., Regional Educational Supt.; President H. S. At six o'clock in the evening, the ladies of the church served an elegant turkey banquet. This session was devoted to the young people. Rev. E. B. Quick acted as toastmaster and short talks were made by Vic Forrest, Miss Ella Ruth Fleming and Miss Atkinson. At the close of the banquet Dr. Osgood delivered a very high address and Rev. Holden showed stereopticon slides, after which the convention closed.

Sees Transmission Of Power By Radio Future Possibility

London, Dec. 11.—(IN)—Transmission of power by Radio waves and television are possibilities of the future, which Senator Guglielmo Marconi predicts today as he celebrates the twenty-fifth anniversary of his first success in wireless transmission.

It will be a quarter century since Marconi sat in a small shack in Newfoundland and received the first message ever transmitted through the air across the Atlantic.

As to the future, said Senator Marconi in an interview, there is the possibility that transmission of power over moderate distances may be developed and that Television should be an actuality. These things will be as wonderful as anything we have experienced.

The only trouble in the automobile industry is selling cars on a basis of reckless financing.

Farm Agents Committee Recommend That Pledge Plan Be Adopted.

Raleigh, Dec. 11.—(INS)—Machinery for carrying out North Carolina's farm diversification program, designed to cut cotton acreage 25 per cent in 1927, was put in motion here today.

The committee's report further recommended that a series of meetings be held in each county in order that the plan may be thoroughly explained to the farmers. These meetings probably will be held early in January, it was said.

News, Cannibalism, Etc. Mellon's Report New Ford Car? Not Now. Judges' Salaries

(By Arthur Brisbane)

War seems more unpleasant in China than elsewhere—and it's bad enough everywhere.

In the besieged city of Sianfu people buy and eat horse flesh, as they recently ate horse and dog meat in Europe. Streets are lined with men and women, dead of hunger.

Blessed is this country compared with all others.

Secretary Mellon, reporting to Congress, says there is no chance in our high wave of prosperity.

The nation's income is at a record level. Spending increases also saving, accounts, life insurance writing and purchase of sound investment securities by small investors—all as it should be.

"We have worked hard, and we have progressed," Mr. Mellon says, reporting the national debt reduced by more than five billion eight hundred millions of dollars.

Mr. Mellon works hard, and much progress, for which the nation should be grateful, is due to his work. He rejoices, that the railroads have been restored to their proper place in the community, and call that "the most notable improvement."

The Egyptian Chamber of Deputies has passed a cotton limitation law, and for three years all cotton planting in Egypt will be cut down two-thirds.

The government thinks that the best way to solve low price problem. Some may starve—but that is part of the game.

Here, thus far, government decides that the best thing to do about cotton farmers is to do nothing. That also works, sometimes.

Clergymen protest against the abbreviated Xmas, which reduce the name of Christ to "X."

The abbreviation is disrespectful to the most beautiful word in history, and it is disrespectful to the English language. Anybody in too much of a hurry to write out "Christmas" should not use the word.

Osman Digma, called "Osman the Ugly," is dead in Cairo, aged 90. Forty years ago he was leading a "holy war" against the British, started by the Mahdi, in the Sudan. That holy war as a holy protest against Britain's abolition of slavery in the Sudan.

Treachery delivered Osman to the British. He had escaped death narrowly a thousand times. And in addition Kipling wrote a poem about him. He spent 22 years in a solitary cell—and still lived on, to 90.

Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis newspaper announce, a terrible war coming among automobile manufacturers. Henry Ford is to put out a six or eight cylinder car "to sell about $600, etc."

All that is not good for the automobile industry. The fact is that Henry Ford is not going to put out any kind of a new car for the present, except the two and a half ton truck, which will appear presently, and will haul six tons.

Ford's mind just now is on improvements in Ford cars. He has sold 1,000,000 of them to date and considers that car a success.

Several years ago Henry Ford showed this writer the engine for a small car to go fifty miles an hour, saying that he could manufacture and sell that car for $250. It would use little gas, and Ford should make and export it to countries where gasoline costs 50 to 60 cents a gallon.

The only trouble in the automobile industry is selling cars on a basis of reckless financing.

Moscow, Dec. 11.—(INS)—The American Federation of Labor was bitterly assailed today for its opposition to recognition of the Soviet Union, in the course of a speech by M. Lossoffsky, President of the Soviet Trade Union International, before the congress of Russian trade union delegates.

LITTLE HOPE NOW FOR TAX REDUCTION AT SHORT SESSION

Death Knell For President Coolidge's Re-fund Proposal Sound ed Today.

Washington, Dec. 11.—(INS)—The death knell of President Coolidge's tax refund proposal was sounded today when Rep. Tilson, of Conn., Republican leader in the House, declared himself in favor of applying the surplus to reduction of the public debt.

The Republican leader also put his foot down upon the Democrat proposal for a permanent revision is proposal for a permanent revision of the revenue laws at the short session, of Congress.

This decision, reached by Tilson after consulting the rank and file of the Republicans in the House, is regarded as definitely ending all hope for tax reduction legislation at this session.

Personally, I should feel inclined toward making a temporary tax reduction for the first six months of 1927, but if found some opposition to this proposal among Republican members of the House from all over the country, and an apparent determination on the part of Democratic members that there shall be no tax reduction unless the entire question is opened up and a permanent revision of our tax laws made.

Under present conditions with a little over two months of the present session of Congress ahead of us, I think it would be unwise to attempt a general revision of our revenue law, at this session. The fact is that in present tax has been in effect such a short time that it has not been sufficiently demonstrated just what its permanent revenue producing qualities are.

This and the further fact that a considerable effort in the collection of such taxes may be attempted reduction now. It is almost certain that any attempt to make a temporary reduction for the first six months of 1927 would bring on a prolonged congestion for a general revision, at this time.

I have therefore, come to the conclusion that the best thing to be done at this session of congress is to immediately apply any surplus above the actual needs of the government to a reduction of the public debt which as the President so well says in his message, is itself a permanent tax reduction.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

Isaiah: 40:3—"Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

There has been of recent years a growing sense of the need in the church of a revival of the Gospel story with all its winsome beauty, attractive power, and dramatic appeal.

Too many Christians have been "lying down on their job," and need to be aroused to their privilege and responsibility as messengers of the glad news of salvation through Christ Jesus. We need a new emphasis upon the value and necessity of personal evangelism in the lives of church members.

If our Lord Jesus has saved YOU—that is the last reason why you should be satisfied and content to sit down. If He has saved you it is not simply because He loves you, but because He loves those by whom you are surrounded, and He wants to use you as the channel of His grace to them. THAT is the supreme reason why you should do all in your power to spread the knowledge of God's infinite love and so to "Prepare... the way of the Lord."

It might be an awkward question if I should ask you, "To how many have you spoken during the year now closing, of their soul's salvation?" You are ready to give advice, even to strangers, when their ears stall before your door. You can tell a farmer the best time to harvest and the best market for his cotton or his tobacco. You have had a thousand opportunities to recommend your Best Friend to others; and yet so many of us have not even introduced Him to these we love most. There is a false modesty in the religious and social world that prevents so many of us from bearing witness to our loving and saving Lord—and thus to prepare His way in their hearts.

Did you ever stop to think of how long it took God to prepare the world for Christ's first coming? He called Abram out of Ur of the Chaldees, and through him and his descendants made a prepared people in a promised and prepared land: He sent prophets and law givers to lead the people and psalmists to inspire their souls with hopeful songs. And even that did not suffice. He made the Greek language the common speech of the then civilized world. He made the Roman Empire with its good roads and its wonderful law—so that at no time since has it been as easy and safe to travel through Europe as it was then. Then, at last, "in the fullness of time," Christ came.

And He has come again and again in every social upheaval, in every national crisis, and in every personal and individual experience.

Job had things pretty comfortably fixed, and he congratulated himself on his possessions and luxuries, and said, "I shall die in my nest,"—but his nest was utterly destroyed, and he was driven out. What did it mean? It meant the preparation of the way of the Lord to Job. He admitted later that he had been satisfied with mere hearsay knowledge of God, but that his trials had brought a personal knowledge and vision of God.

How can we prepare our hearts for His advent again?

1. We should, first of all, REPENT of all our past sins of commission and of omission. I believe the things we have left undone are, for most of us, more damnable than those we have done. "Inasmuch as ye did not"—will be the preamble of the sentence most of us will receive at last. Let us "Repent for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

2. Then let us exercise the FAITH that is creative. Let us develop—you and I—a believing, hopeful, expectant attitude for all men.

The world is full of problems and difficulties that puzzle and perplex the Chancelleries of Europe and of our own government; but they cannot baffle my Savior. He is able to cope with every problem in their lands as in ours, and with every problem in your life as in mine.

The knowledge of the ability of the Son of God to regulate the actions of the sons of men should give us unshakable confidence in His re-appearing, and strengthen our resolve to "Prepare... the way of the Lord."

Jesus Christ is able and willing to bless our lives today. He can and will come to us if we sincerely ask Him. So let us resort to PRAYER.

His coming again may cause us pain and sacrifice. We may have to give up some things which we prize; but that will be nothing compared to the peace and glory and strength His presence will bring.

"Prepare ye the way of the Lord"—first in your own hearts: by Repentance, by Faith and by Prayer; then—in the lives of others by your faithful and true witness.

MORNING!
 Somewhere away off, so we've been told, people rise early and bow low to worship the morning sun. This ceremony strange as it may seem, is a part of their religion.
 But is it so strange? Here in America we are growing a habit, which, though different, is not so different after all. This habit is close to a religion.
 Our Americans may rise early or late—perhaps late—and instead of bowing low to the sun, they lift their arms skyward and sense the joy of living in a rush of water over their bodies.
 This morning bath is a religion. For it is health, cleanliness, and is not clean next to profligacy?
 "Bathe your bodies in running water," commanded a prophet of old.
 Well, then, a shower is running water in the home. And to stand under a shower every morning for a minute or two is to start the day about as well as a day can be started.

"The Black Pirate," This Season's Tremendous Success of the Star, Coming.

Good news! Douglas Fairbanks comes to White's Theatre Monday and Tuesday in "The Black Pirate."

This picture, a new Fairbanks super-production, is laid in that part of the southern seas known in the seventeenth century as the Pirate's Main, where Morgan and his blood thirsty rover, had their tribute exacted at gun's point on traders and travelers.

It is said that Fairbanks has never before had such a fitting vehicle for his blithe sort of adventuring. He plays the part of a young nobleman, who swears to avenge the killing of his father by pirates. This, he does in a series of exciting episodes, that demand every known variety of cleverness. He captures a big ship from the villains, and fights his way through the ranks of the cutthroats.

"The Black Pirate" is rated the fastest moving story Fairbanks ever made, and this is a promise of considerable speed. Starting with the blowing up of a ship and maintaining an explosive tempo throughout, this picture should afford all the interest and suspense forecast for it.

YOUNG PEOPLES' LEAGUE

The Young Peoples Service League of St. Paul's Episcopal church has recently reorganized and is progressing most encouragingly.

At our first meeting, the following officers were elected: James Albritton, president; Eloise Hyde secretary; William Hearne, treasurer.

Our programs have been interesting and our membership growing rapidly.

At our meeting on December 5 we selected a name for our Service League, which was the "James Cook Service League," in honor of our beloved rector. We chose for our motto, "Service and Love," two things for which our League stands.

Mrs. Martin gave us a most interesting talk, telling us something about the children at the Thompson Orphanage which she has recently visited. We have decided to devote our Christmas work to the help of these little orphans. In connection with this work, we are going to present a Christmas pageant sometime during Christmas week.

regular $2 quarterly dividend. Chile was a leader in the copper stocks, advancing 1 1/2 to 36 1/4. Anaconda and American Smelting were strong and active. Universal Pipe common was a feature in the specialties, with large scale buying above 30.

Great Western, Cuban American, America, Sugar Refining and other sugar stocks resumed the spectacular forward movement which was in evidence a few weeks ago. New forward moves were also inaugurated by a few of the public utility stocks, the independent steel shares and equipments.

The week-end commodity markets were fairly steady, with cotton, wheat, rubber and copper unchanged, sugar and oil inclined slightly higher.

After a brief period of profit taking, the market developed a strong tone near the close and final prices were in most cases the highest for the session. The rise of Chrysler motor to 39 1/2 in active trading was the feature of the motor list, while Montgomery Ward led the rally in the mercantile shares. Copper stocks and independent steel shares retained their buoyancy until the close.

"SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER" A SUCCESS AT THE COLLEGE FRIDAY EVENING

The senior class of East Carolina College presented to the packed house Thursday night the well known classic "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. In spite of the fact that there were no men in the senior class to conquer, enough male characters were impressed to take all of the male parts, Miss Gladys Kilpatrick in the role of Mr. Marlow, acted the part of a real hero. Mrs. Ella Wheeler Tucker took the part of Harry Lumpkin as if she had had real experience in an ale house. The part of the heroine by Miss Gertrude Mercer, was rendered with ease and dignity. The cast throughout showed good training and rare stage ability, and the large audience followed the performance from beginning to end with the closest attention although the play lasted well over two hours. The whole play was full of humor, and the audience was swept from one gale of laughter to another. Much praise is due the entire cast and to Miss Lucie Turner, a member of the college faculty, who coached the play. The cast appears below:

Mr. Hardcastle—Gladys Kilpatrick.
Mrs. Hardcastle—Louise Robinson.
Tony Lumpkin (Mrs. Hardcastle's son)—Ella Wheeler Tucker.
Kate Hardcastle (Mr. Hardcastle's daughter)—Gertrude Mercer.
