OPENING DAY OF AUTO CONTEST FINDS MANY ANXIOUS TO COMPETE

Promising Workers From Both City and Outside Territory Enter Names for Rich Awards Free to All.

The Daily Reflector subscription contest got away yesterday to a flying start and was marked by the entering of many promising workers, both here in Greenville and from neighboring towns. Honors for being the first to enroll in the drive that this paper is going to conduct during the next six weeks, for a larger read influence, goes to Miss Rose Hadley, of Greenville, whose entry took place early yesterday morning before the campaign department had received from the printer, receipt books that are to be used by the workers in the gathering of both old and new subscriptions. Mrs. T. M. Gorman, Jr., was the second ambitious one to report while the entry of Miss Sara B. Ogletree was followed by the entering of several others.

Prizes that the Reflector offers for those who secure votes from paid subscriptions to the paper, and by saving and having friends save the free 100-vote coupons are worth the time and attention of all ambitious ones during the next few weeks. All taking the paper will gladly save the coupons clipped from each issue while subscriptions from both old and new subscribers may be had on every hand for the asking. Yesterday marked the opening day of the campaign and although several names were received for the more than $3,000 in prizes, there still remains room on the list for many more. The more who enter the less number of votes it will take on February 12th to earn the $1,595 Studebaker Sedan. It is expected that new entries will be received by the campaign department each day this week, for it is to the advantage of all to enter early and line up their friends before others see them first.

Prizes include the automobile mentioned above, a Chevrolet Coach that sells for $730.00, and four cash prizes of $200, $75, $50 and $40. In addition, to these prizes there will be given a ten per cent cash commission on all subscription money turned in to all who fail to finish within the first six places. All taking active parts receive something for their efforts.

The Entry Coupon, good for 5,000 votes will be found in today's paper. You can enter your own name or the name of a friend. A free 100-vote coupon which is also published today, is good for its face value in votes if returned to the campaign office, before the expiration date noted. There is no limit to the number of these votes a contestant or their friends may vote. A receipt book to be used in securing subscriptions may be had by applying at the Campaign Office, located on the second floor of The Reflector building. On the front cover is printed a voting schedule which gives the number of votes that each subscription from six months or more will earn.

Nearly Six Hundred Marriage Licenses Issued Last Year

Dan Cupid spent a busy 1926 here according to the records at the office of Register of Deeds J. C. Gaskins. The activities of the mythical winged little fellow resulted in the issuance of 582 sets of marriage licenses between January 1, 1926 and the end of the year.

As usual most of the activity in the license business took place during the Christmas holidays when three days totalled 31 sets. The 1925 record for a single day was broken on December 23, when eighteen licenses were issued. The two other biggest days during the holidays were the 24th when ten licenses were issued and the 29th with thirteen.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS DOUBLE THAT OF SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The treasury ended the first half of its fiscal year, with a surplus of $218,279,937 compared with $125,698,300 for the same period a year ago.

Issue No. 44,444 of the Times, famous London newspaper, has been printed.

Houses For 700 Years Investigating Science Shaw and the Poodle If Mussolini Moves (By Arthur Brisbane)

This is written in Arizona, with Flagstaff flourishing center of energy, just outside the car window. To the north is a mountain of the rock from which cement is made. How many houses will be ground out of that stone mountain when the time comes?

At Arcadia, near Los Angeles, there stands such a rock, much smaller. On its slopes men have established grinding machines, turning out dust of which cement is made. Engineers have measured in that one block of California stone enough rock to last 700 years.

From this car in Arizona—you see enough such rock to supply houses for all the 16 hundred million people on earth. And there is enough good land to feed them with water added to it. All that is needed in the United States is power to grind the stone, to pump water. Plenty of room and food here for a thousand million human beings, and more, and enough mountain tops to give them all isolation if they want it, with their flying machines.

According to Vincent Barazzari, Italian scientist, within ten years the heat of Mt. Etna will be harnessed, and soon volcanoes will furnish all Europe with power.

This moment science and engineering are harnessing one of the world's three highest tides, in the Bay of Fundy, and the British plan to harness another of the three, at the mouth of the Severn.

Reading newspapers rolling through the country the best headline is found in the Arizona Gazette, Phoenix, "1926 Passed Out So Did Several Local Citizens."

North Carolina will look into the theory of evolution "as it relates to the origin of man," and perhaps outlaw such teaching in North Carolina state colleges and public schools. "Fundamentalists" have hired lawyers.

They should also look into the theory that the earth is round, and travels around with and around the sun. In other days other fundamentalists not only questioned that theory, but burned men alive for supporting it. And Galileo, who made his little first telescope after reading about the Dutchman who "brought things nearer with double glasses" had to get down on his knees to be absolved, abhorred and detested the truth that he had given to the world.

Mr. Henderson says Bernard Shaw is "a mixture of Puck and St. Francis of Assisi, of Peter Pan and Euripides," quite accurate, if you leave out St. Francis and Euripides.

Mr. Shaw is shown playing with a fluffy white poodle, and that animal is as much like a black lamb as snow is like Euripides. Ten lines that the old Greek puts in the mouth of Medea, telling King Creon how men hate new knowledge, or describing a jealous woman's heart are worth all that Shaw has written. But Shaw has been a useful man, an active image breaker, and deserves honor and thanks.

All the talk about "Italy moving troops against the French frontier" ends in six "legions" of Fascist "Black Shirts" massed along the Franco-Italian border, 1400 fighting men to a legion. So the great Italian "massing of troops on the French border" amounts to 8,400 men.

About one good meal for half a dozen French artillery men.

If Mussolini ever moves across any border, he won't send "Black Shirts" as targets for airmen.

He will send Italian fliers, non-bolder in the world, and hundreds of them. And they won't stop at any border, but go straight to the biggest city. That is how the next war will start. If it happens to start against the United States, some statesmen not a hundred miles from the Washington monument will feel foolish.

More baseball scandals promised. If all the scandals could be uncovered, many professionals and managers would be like "Swede" Risberg, formerly of the White Sox, "milking cows in a dairy." The joke is on foolish fans that pay to be swindled, wasting their time watching others exercise, when they might be developing their own muscles, or in exceptional cases, improving their minds.

MANY CASES FOR HEARING IN COUNTY COURT HERE TODAY

Probably Today and Tomorrow Will Be Required to Dispose of Heavy Docket

Holding the first session of county court since early in December, Judge W. A. Darden was faced by a heavy docket this morning. So many cases are scheduled for hearing that all of today and a portion of tomorrow will be necessary to clear the docket.

Several cases were disposed of this morning with the result that road sentences and heavy fines were meted out to the offenders.

W. J. Palmer, found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon, was fined $50 and cost.

William Cutley, convicted of driving an automobile, while drunk was fined $100 and cost. Defendant appealed to Superior court under bond of $250.00.

J. F. Crawford, guilty of driving while drunk, was fined $100 and cost.

Amos Edwards plead guilty of possessing liquor for sale and was fined $50 and cost, and placed under bond of $100 for appearance in court each month to show good behavior.

I. N. Purefoy and Mrs. P. N. Purefoy faced charges of assault with a deadly weapon as a result of an automobile accident that occurred on the Grimesland highway several weeks ago. As a result of the hearing Purefoy was found guilty of driving a car while drunk and was sentenced to serve four months on the roads.

Mrs. Purefoy was found guilty of reckless driving and assault with a deadly weapon, and was fined $50 and cost. Both defendants appealed to superior court. Purefoy's appeal bond was fixed at $350 and that of Mrs. Purefoy was $100.

John Brown, guilty of leaving liquor for sale, sentenced to sixty days on the roads.

Moses Brown was found guilty of possessing liquor for sale, but sentence had not been passed when court adjourned for the noon recess.

PROHIBITION IS STORM CENTER IN CONGRESS TODAY

Five Resolutions Dealing With Poisoning of Alcohol Presented Yesterday

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Prohibition storm clouds, electrified during the recent holidays by deaths from poisoned liquor, have descended on Congress with a resounding crash.

Hardly had the saboteurs and representatives put their feet under their desks after the recess before the storm struck with hurricane force in both chambers and flung its pent up fury to the administration quarters of the city.

It all began over the controversy stirred up over the use of the government formula for denaturing industrial alcohol, much of which has gone into the hands of bootleggers and eventually to other than commercial consumers or drinkers. While the storm rages at the capital the treasury is pushing forward a new formula which will make such alcohol non-poisonous but very obnoxious to the palate.

The debate in the issue, in which the personal conduct of members of both houses was questioned, brought a contest of resolutions, four in the House and one in the Senate, all of the House proposals nested today in the judiciary committee, while that in the Senate carried over the rules was up today for disposal.

Duke Estate Worth Close to Half Billion

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The estate of the late James B. Duke, tobacco manufacturer and philanthropist, was worth $429,704,859.66 at his death according to a petition for a first accounting filed in surrogate court today.

Money paid out for taxes, administration expenses, legacies and trust funds since Mr. Duke's death in 1925, but the value to $453,451,770.76.

General Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans' Bureau, campaigned to induce veterans to reinstate or convert their War insurance before the time limit expires in July. Lord Lascelles, husband of Princess Mary, was to be made a peer by his father-in-law, King George. The famous income tax dispute between Senator James Couzens and the Treasury Department over $10,000,000 in income taxes was to come to a head at a hearing in Detroit, January 11. Representative Thomas S. Butler, of Pennsylvania, lead the "big navy" faction in Congress.

INVESTIGATION OF BALL SCANDAL TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Players From All Parts of Country Will Appear at Hearing in Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Many acceptances have been received by Commissioner Landis for the hearing at 122 South Michigan Ave. tomorrow when Charles A. (Swede) Risberg will divulge before his former White Sox teammates and members of the Detroit Tigers the baseball skeletons of ten years ago.

Poking up the dead centers of the late weeks of the 1917 American League season is expected to cost organized baseball at least $29,000. Thirty-eight men have been asked to be present when Risberg narrows before the most of diamond scandal. Some of the players and former players will travel 2,000 miles to reach the commissioner's office with their expenses guaranteed.

Commissioner Landis invitation to the ball players to appear at his office indicated that both the 1917 and 1919 scandal charges would be aired. The commissioner will conduct a hearing, said his telegram to players, respecting charges of irregularity in connection with the Detroit-Chicago series, September 1917 and 1919.

Tobacco Markets In West Re-open

Winston-Salem, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Winston-Salem auction leaf tobacco market reopened this morning after the Christmas holidays with about 400,000 pounds of the weed on the market. Averages are expected to be around prices registered before the closing for the holiday $20 per hundred.

Supervisor of sales McFarland estimated this market will sell from 10 to 12 million pounds more before the season closes.

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Tobacco sales on the dark leaf market here today aggregated about 40,000 pounds. Prices continued low, the hoped for rise after the holidays, not having materialized. The trade looks for an increase in the breaks after today.

CALL MASS MEETING TO DISCUSS FORMING OF OIL DRILLING CO.

SPEAKER OF HOUSE WILL BE SELECTED TONIGHT'S CAUCUS

Stage All Set For Beginning of 1927 General Assembly Tomorrow

Raleigh, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Crowded hotel lobbies and close consultation marked the campaign of whippers through today into tonight's scheduled Democratic caucus of House members, to select the speaker of the 1927 Legislature.

The House hall in the capitol at eight o'clock tonight was the center towards which all interest pointed, for from the speaker would come that presiding officer's appointment of house committees. In the committee lies the guidance of legislative machinery.

H. G. Connor, Jr., of Wilson; N. A. Townsend of Dunn; and R. T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount, were the three candidates openly in the field and their backers admitted victory. No outward signs of yielding support or compromise was in the air. Virtually all lawmakers had arrived with a few stragglers coming in late. A full voting strength in tonight's caucus seemed likely. To nominate is equivalent to election at tomorrow's opening session, 52 votes were required. With the three candidates, not voting, 50 votes would put the House leader over the top.

The Westbrook Company has been invited to have representatives at the mass meeting to set forth a report on the plans of the company and developments toward drilling for oil so far. Since no definite decision has been reached as to the location of the first test well which must not necessarily be in this city, the association directors have urged that all persons throughout the county who have sites to offer or who are in any way interested in the oil venture here, be present at the mass meeting to be held in the court house.

Mrs. J. Westbrook, of the Westbrook Drilling Company, following last night's meeting, advised the association members that plans for the project of the Westbrook Company were being rushed to completion as speedily as possible, and urged that the company be heard before any definite action is taken.

Rains Worth Great Deal to Timber Owners in State

Raleigh, Jan. 4.—Heavy general rains of last week will mean a saving of thousands of dollars to timber owners through the prevention of forest fires. C. H. Flory, district forester of the fourth district, has reported to Wade H. Phillips, director of the Department of Conservation and Development.

Although the rains have been greatly beneficial, District Forester Flory reported, more fall would soak the forest soil to a greater extent and would be helpful.

Before the rains of the last week, declared District Forester Flory, there had not been heavy precipitation since last summer, and as a result the forest fires in the eastern part of the State were greater in number during the fall than for some years. November experienced the peak.

So dry has been the eastern section of the State that lumbering operations have been carried on in one of the swamps for the first time in a score of years.

As a result of the forest fires, the service has been unusually active during the fall months. The number of wardens was extended and the patrol areas extended. Operations of the fields force have prevented the spread of the fires, and have saved valuable timber.

The district forester reports that many counties in the section which have not heretofore cooperated with the State Forest Service in forest fire prevention work are planning to do so this year. Many large landowners are also making preparations to join the co-operating forces during 1927.

In England and Wales six out of every hundred of the estimated population, receive some sort of poor relief from the government.

Ante-legislative scenes are about the same as usual. The post-holiday quiet of hotel lobbies has been broken by the hum of voices. Button-holes are slightly more in use than a while back and are becoming less sensitive to the touch of thumbs and forefingers. But that is natural, with so many athletes to be appointed. A feeling of good fellowship is evident everywhere. The general falls tomorrow. All minor details will be removed, as usual, by the secretaries-at-arms, and the will begin the manufacturing history.

Predicts Great Road Building Program 1927

Raleigh, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Prediction that starting in 1927, 55,000 miles of new roadway systems ranging from 20 to more than 200 feet wide will spread themselves over the United States was made by Charles M. Upham, former state highway engineer upon leaving for Chicago, where he will supervise the 24th annual road convention and machinery show Jan. 10 to 15.

"A new era of prosperity in the United States will follow the construction of an efficient and modern highway system," he said.

"These highways will enhance the value of rural lands alone more than $2,400,000,000, and besides will give the United States millions of dollars annually in reduced congestion."

"At present there are in this country twenty million automobiles, which is one for every seven persons. In California one man in three owns a machine. As a result that state has one of the most modern highway systems in the world. In twenty years it is possible that there will be 50,000,000 cars in the United States—one for every three persons, as a result the present highway system must be increased and many methods will be revolutionized," he said.

Feng's Army Shows Benefit of Teaching

Peking, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Marshal Feng Yu-shiang, the pride of the missionaries in China is an outstanding example of the Christianized Chinese, undoubtedly has exerted a good influence upon the thousands of young men who have constituted his army.

Whether the amount of instruction he has been able to give them really has implanted in their minds the conception of the Christian religion, is uncertain. But his efforts at teaching his soldiers the rudiments of clean living and morality obviously have borne fruit. Smoking, obscenity and dissolute habits of all sorts are tabooed under the rigid rules enforced. The value of athletics and of bodily cleanliness has been emphasized. Industry and a desire for learning have been encouraged.

Mottoes of the purport that he who will not work does not deserve to eat and knowledge and industry are the roads to prosperity and happiness were painted in large characters on walls and gates around the barracks.

The men were given religious training en masse and at intervals baptized in the Christian faith in lots running into the thousands.

At the time of the battles between Peking and Tientsin, which resulted in Feng's evacuation of the capital, these troops most of whom heretofore had done no serious fighting, amazed foreigners and Chinese alike by their courage and the loyalty they showed toward their officers.

Marshall Feng physically nearly meets the current conception of a distinguished military leader than any other high Chinese officer. He is over six feet in height and weighs more than 200 pounds.

Britons Appear in Mid-Victorian Dress

London, Jan. 4.—(AP)—British men seem to be going back to the mid-Victorian fashions in their dress.

J. C. Squire, editor of the London Mercury, is appearing these days in a dark gray jacket cut away over his waistcoat and buttoned closely up under a large wing collar.

Thomas Hardy sometimes wears coats like those of Squire. So does Hugh William Ellis, the architect.

Probably the most sartorially daring man in London is Stephen Gaselee, the librarian of the Foreign Office, who wears leather waistcoats topped by jackets cut after the fashions of the sixties. Gaselee has always been noted for being extraordinary. He had kangaroo steaks served at his twenty-first birthday dinner at Cambridge and the clothes he was seen wearing at the university were even more surprising than those in which he appears at Whitehall.

He is a believer in ancient rites and ceremonies and is credited with reviving the custom at Cambridge of drinking from loving cups filled with copas. Copas is an extraordinary, old ale and sherry, all daintily unpalatable brew made of milled together and served with pieces of burned toast floating on the top.

Members of the House of Commons who have adopted the style of appearing with orchids in buttonholes are increasing. Sir Harry Brittain has been indulging himself in pink orchids of late but the most regular wearer is Sir Vansittart Bowater. He probably wears a greater variety of flowers during the year than any other member.

The Prince of Wales has revived the yellow hunting shirts worn by his ancestors in the sixteenth century. The yellow shirt

TERRIBLE PAIN

Alabama Lady Tells How She Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui. Feels Fine and Enjoys Life Now, She Says.

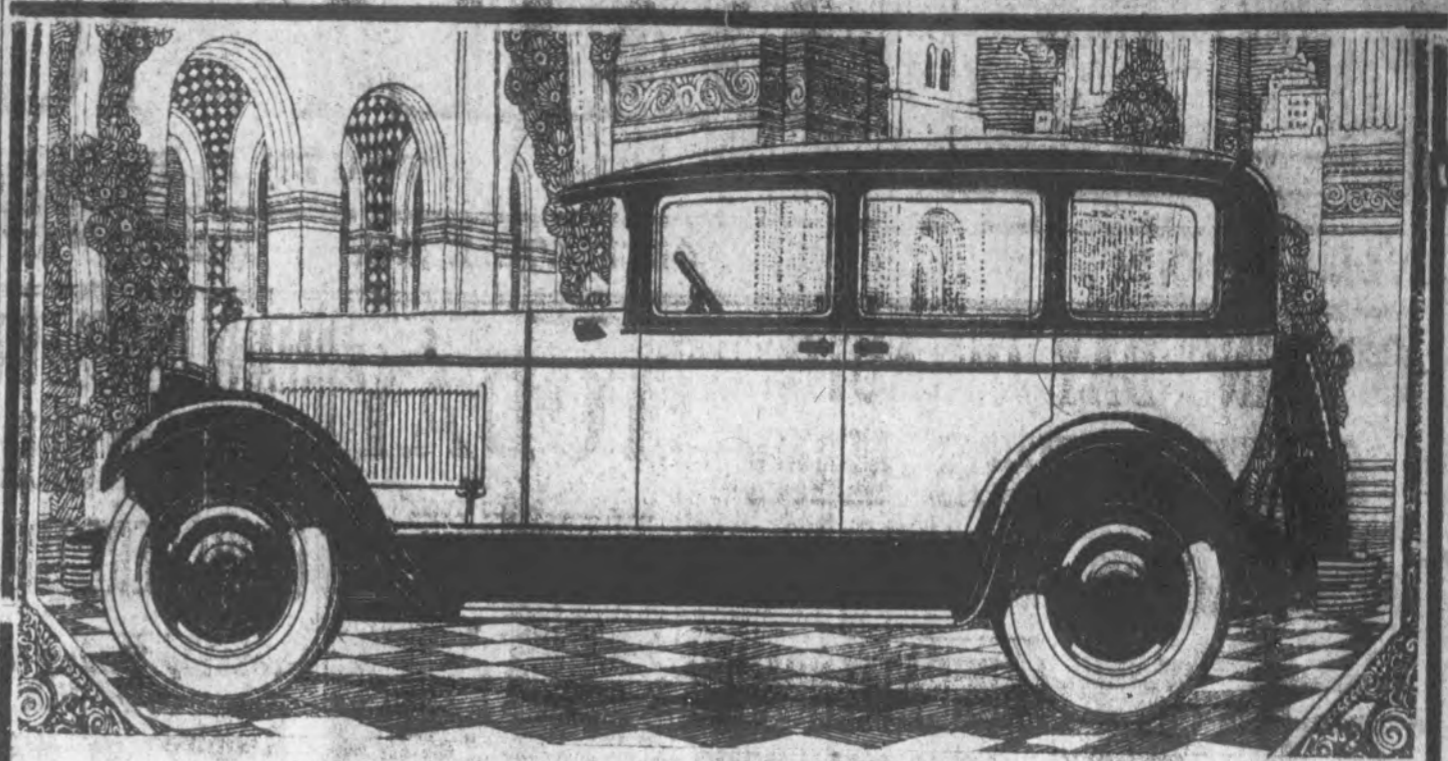

Talladega, Ala.—Mrs. Mary Hardy, 406 Henderson Avenue, this city, says that seven years ago she "got down sick" and was unable to attend to her housework.

"I have never been so weak before or since," she says. "I had a terrible pain in my side—so sore in my side and the lower part of my body.

"Across my back ached, and I was so nervous I couldn't stand up. I had just about given up when some one who came to see me began talking about Cardui. This caused me to get it. I took about two bottles before I saw much improvement.

"After this, though, I picked up right away. I slept better at night. I was hungry, enjoyed my food, which I hadn't done for some time. The pain and soreness gradually left my side. I regained my strength. I took about six bottles and left off for awhile, then took two or three more. . . I feel just fine, enjoy life and can work now, too."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. It has helped thousands of suffering women and should help you, too. NC-168

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Master Bert Darden, little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Darden, Jr., entertained about a dozen of his little neighborhood friends, Monday afternoon, to celebrate his sixth birthday. The little people gathered at the Darden home and enjoyed a number of merry games after which Mrs. Darden carried them to the Chas. O'H. Horne Drug Store, where they were served ice cream cones. The little guests were remembered with baskets of peanut and candies. Master Bert was the recipient of a number of attractive gifts.

GORMAN'S MARKET REPORT

The Greenville Tobacco Market will open January 11th and while a definite date to close has not been fixed. It is generally understood that we will close January 28th. The weather between now and the 28th will have something to do with the closing date. We look for better prices than prevailed around and after Thanksgiving, as there has recently been a lot of trading in hoghead lots held by the dealers.

Greenville sold up to closing Christmas was 48,493,290 pounds averaging $28.45 for all sold. Gorman's new house sold of this 8,720,612 pounds, averaging $28.66. We averaged 21c per hundred more for all we sold and this in the face of selling a larger percent of common tobacco than any warehouse in Greenville.

There is a reason! GORMAN'S SELLS ALL GRADES HIGHER. Don't let a trucker, who is paid by a warehouse mislead you. Gorman's has no paid trucker, no neighborhood drummer and pays no rebates. We do our work on the sales floor. Satisfied customers have made us the Leaders of Greenville Market. Send us your tobacco, and you will be satisfied with your sales.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time

Brooklyn. Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes: "I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me. Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels and relieve the system of its poisonous matter. Guaranteed, 35¢ and 75¢ packages."

A FREE PRESS
 Pointing out that President Coolidge is not altogether pleased at the American newspapers in that many have seen fit to criticize the action of the administration in its policy toward Nicaragua and the Latin-American countries, the New York World calls to the attention of the chief executive that never, even during the late war, has the government or any other group been permitted to dictate the policies of the free press of the nation nor is it probable that such will come to pass so long as America remains a free nation. In its comment on the address of the President, delivered to the American Press, the World says:

"Speaking indirectly through his Official Spokesman, Mr. Coolidge on Friday delivered a lecture to the American press. It is not easy to tell from his unquotable remarks exactly what he objected to in the conduct of the American newspapers, or exactly what he would like them to do that they are not doing. Most of the correspondents seem to have had the impression, however, that he resented the criticisms of the conduct of foreign policy in Mexico, in Nicaragua, and elsewhere, any many of them go so far as to suggest that Mr. Coolidge thinks it is the duty of the press to applaud dumbly any course of action which the State Department sees fit to take.

"There are ample precedents to justify a self-respecting newspaper for refusing to let Mr. Coolidge tell it what it ought to think and what it ought to say. Not during the period of American neutrality, nor during the actual military operations, nor at the Peace Conference did the American press give to Woodrow Wilson that unquestioning and undivided support which Mr. Coolidge now demands for his dealing with Mexico and Nicaragua. It has not been the custom in America to let Government officials edit newspapers. It is not going to become the custom.

There is a name for the kind of press Mr. Coolidge seems to desire. It is called a reptile press. This is a press which takes its inspiration from Government officials and from great business interests. It prints what those in power wish to have printed. It suppresses what they wish to have suppressed. It puts out as news those facts which help its masters to accomplish what they are after. Its comment on affairs consists in putting a good face on whatever the interests which control it are doing. It has no conscience of its own. It has no opinion of its own. It makes no independent investigation of the facts. It takes what is handed to it and it does what it is told to do.

 "The World has never been that kind of a newspaper and it does not propose to begin to be that kind of a newspaper. Nor, if we know our contemporaries, do they intend to abdicate their role as the free reporters and the free critics of events. There are sinister developments in American journalism which must disquiet any man of taste and conscience and public spirit. But the great newspapers still have the confidence of the thinking people of this country, and in our judgment they will not now forfeit that confidence by allowing the White House, or any other interest, to dictate what their policy shall be.

"The conduct of a newspaper in a free country is a task that no man can take lightly. There can be no responsible Government unless there is a press which is fundamentally disinterested in its motives, tireless in its search for truth, vigilant of abuses, tolerant and more than tolerant, hospitable to those who disagree, yet fearless in the expression of what it believes. A newspaper may be wrong. The truth is often hard to get. Judgments are often difficult to make. No one newspaper can pretend to know it all or be right always. But any newspaper can if it washes, be honest with itself and therefore honest with its public. And in that kind of honesty it can have opinions without pride of opinion it can fight without fanaticism for its convictions, and when it is wrong it can say so. As long as there are newspapers which are afraid neither of dictation from the outside nor of corruption from within, a healthy public opinion will be expressed and in the test of open debate the right may ultimately prevail."

Less Love, More War For Film's New Year

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Love clinches for his final fade-out will be fewer in next year's crop of motion picture films. What's more, the sheiks and sheikas are going to have a hard time to hold their place through the season while the comedy crowd...

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW BIGGEST CHRISTMAS

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Santa Claus' messenger, Uncle Sam, raked in a neat bit of money for his services this Christmas. The exact amount he has not had time to calculate, but his workers estimate the American public paid approximately $18,000,000 to the postal service for handling gifts and greetings.

Never before had such a huge sum been paid to the postal service for handling Christmas mail. For had such a quantity of gifts ever been handled during the holiday season. Postmaster General New, proud of his postal workers in distributing the vast quantity, at the same time gives credit to the public for its co-operation in mailing early.

Their conversations are usually serious, far removed from childish question-and-answer talks. Wanda's hobby is a military one, her favorite study being strategy.

TOURING PLANES ARE DISPLAYED IN FRANCE

Paris, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Little two-seated airplanes, just the thing for a trip out to the golf course or to a weekend rendezvous, are on sale in France for less than $3,000, at recent exchange rates. Two of these "touring planes" as the French call them, were displayed at the Aeronautic Show. "So far orders are few and far between," said the salesman, "but we expect to get enough to justify mass production. Then we will have low priced air fliers."

Raleigh, Jan. 4.—(INS)—Indications are that the blue law controversy, which was touched off last summer by the Association opposed to the Blue Laws, will leave its indelible imprint, one way or another, on the January meeting of the North Carolina Legislature.

While the anti-blue law association apparently abandoned its campaign in North Carolina several months ago, without furnishing the state with its promised "test case," the issue now has been revived by the blue law supporter, and very likely will reach the 1927 General Assembly. The Charlotte Ministerial Association, already has made a move toward this aim, and has petitioned to be presented to the solons requesting more drastic Sunday laws and stricter enforcement of them.

North Carolina, which, unlike its pugnacious little twin state, does not permit divorce, will do so on a considerably smaller scale. The ministerial body has its way about things when the Legislature meets. The association also has drawn attention to the solons, asking that divorce grounds be limited to only "unfaithfulness." The association has called a state-wide conference of ministers to discuss the proposed divorce legislation.

A death a day at least was claimed by the automobile in North Carolina during the year 1926. Although the figures for the entire 12 months have not been compiled, more than 365 deaths were caused in automobile accidents during the first 11 months of the year.

This fact has aroused more than one automotive association to propose measures which the Legislature might enact to alleviate the enormous death toll. The Carolina Motor Club has placed fourteen items on its program that it will submit to the

Minister Makes Movie to Spread the Gospel

Garnaville, Iowa, Jan. 4.—AP—The Rev. K. W. Braun, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church here, has turned movie producer to gain the same end he seeks from the pulpit—spreading the gospel. He produced and directed a film of the life of Henry Francis Lyte, author of "Abide With Me," started it on an exhibition tour of the country and now awaits the verdict of the public in his effort to popularize religion thru motion pictures. Picturesque Clayton county was the setting for the film, which was made in four parts. The first portrayed Christ's meeting with the disciples at Emmaus. The others are arranged about the theme, "Hallowed by Thy Name," "Thy Kingdom Come," and "Thy Will Be Done." A film corporation cooperated

Aim to Remove Slur From Southerners

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—In the files of the War Department is an old, unsigned document listing some of the proudest names of the South as deserters from the Confederate army and because their relatives and friends, believe they have been wrongfully accused, a movement has been initiated to clear them.

But the way of vindication may be difficult because it lies through the uncertain channels of legislative action by Congress, which usually turns its ear to more urgent things. When hostilities ceased between the North and the South in 1865, the War department received a list of the confederate soldiers then incarcerated in the United States Military (Libby) Prison at Richmond, Va. It bore no signature nor identifying marks but it went into the files of the War honor several hundred Southern deserters because after their names was written: "deserter". One day a Southern patriot chanced to run across the document, and discerning that some of the names were those of men believed to have been captured and imprisoned and not deserters, took the word back home to find ready acknowledgment that the honor of the south had been assailed and restitution was due. But while the War department was eager to right a wrong, it demanded proof; and proof in this case, it appeared must be presented to the department under a special dispensation from Congress. According to Representative Moore in the house and Senate Swanson in the senate, democrats of Virginia, introduced a bill directing the Secretary of War to hear evidence which might tend to clear the Southern soldiers. While they realize that the present session will be "swamped with urgent business, they consider its members "gentlemen enough" to pass their bill and thus open the way to expunge an "obnoxious and untruthful record" from the files of the government.

New and Unequaled a year ago - and still unequalled today

When the Pontiac Six was introduced a year ago it represented an automotive development so new and revolutionary that the public was literally overwhelmed.

At the almost unbelievable price of $825, it offered qualities of beauty, comfort, performance and reliability previously undreamed-of among low-priced sixes.

Although it was new in the public sense it was then actually over three years old. For it represented more than thirty-six months of continuous development on the part of General Motors and Oakland engineers—development carried out, not only in the finest research laboratories of the industry, but also at the great General Motors Proving Ground.

Since then over 76,000 Pontiac Sixes have been built—the largest first year production ever achieved by a new make of car. And that wildfire buying enthusiasm continues unabated—because no other car gives what Pontiac Six does at the price.

abated—because no other car gives what Pontiac Six does at the price.

Search the whole field of low-priced sixes and you simply cannot find at Pontiac prices such features as Fisher Bodies of surpassing beauty, style and ruggedness; 46 lb. crankshaft; full pressure oiling; the costliest type of interchangeable bronze-backed bearings and semi-steel pistons.

Go even into the medium-priced field and you will not find any six-cylinder power plant giving such definite assurance of long life and thrilling performance—for the Pontiac Six engine is the largest used in any six selling up to $1,000.

The blunt truth is, that wherever you go and however you compare, you cannot find in any other low-priced six so many instances of sound design and sound construction—such definite assurance of lasting satisfaction.

For the Pontiac Six is just as new and unequalled today as it was a year ago!

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.
