NAMES WORKERS IN $3,000 CONTEST COMING IN DAILY

More Who Enter Reflector Drive the Less Votes it Will Take to Earn Automobiles

New entries are still being received by the campaign manager for The Reflector's subscription and prize campaign which carries with it at the close, February 12th over $3,000 in prizes and cash commissions.

The second list of contestants and their votes as published today, includes the names of four new contestants for one of the two automobiles or a good cash prize, while one worker has been dropped from the list at her own request making a net gain of three new workers.

Among the entries are two young ladies from Greenville, Miss Christine Pollard and Miss Louise Jones, both living on Evans Street. Miss Jones will be remembered as one of the winners of the California trips conducted by the merchants of the city some few months ago, and her good fortune at that time has encouraged her to try for another ride, this time in a Studebaker Custom Sedan that she delivered for $1,395, or in a Chevy let Coach. Other new names in the list today include one from Chicod and one from Leens, Miss Helen Tucker, former resident of Greenville but now living in the first mentioned town started active campaigning for the first time yesterday. Miss Martha Congleton of Leens with the aid of her many friends is about to start in earnest.

Names of those who would like to enter The Reflector contest and compete for the two cars mentioned or one of the cash prizes of $200, $75, $50 and $40, are now being received. The entry list will be closed on January 29th and no others will be allowed to enter after that date. On that date votes given on subscriptions will decrease for the first time. Other votes are clipped free from the paper, each coupon sent in by yourself or a friend will count 100 votes toward the prizes. The Entry Coupon good for 5,000 votes will be found in today's paper. All above the age of sixteen are eligible to enter without cost and be awarded one of the six prizes or a cash commission of ten per cent on any and all subscription money turned in.

Active workers in turning in subscriptions should make sure that the subscription stubs are properly filled out. In the case of renewed subscriptions be sure the same address is put on the receipt stub that comes to the campaign office as that now showing on the wrapper of the paper that goes by mail. If taking the paper mark "old" in order that the circulation department may change the old date for the new and avoid the error of sending two papers. If a new subscriber, mark it "new" and thus help the office to expedite the sending of the paper.

VOLSTEAD VIEWS 1926 AS PROHIBITION'S BEST YEAR

Minneapolis, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Andrew J. Volstead, father of the enforcement act which bears his name, believes that 1926 was "prohibition's best year."

New legal adviser to the north-west prohibition administrator, Volstead is now in intimate contact with the workings of the law that he wrote, and his faith in the amendment is unchanged.

TODAY

Busy Uncle Sam. Poisoning Alcohol. Three to the Electric Chair. A Real Miracle.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

Uncle Sam is enjoying busy, almost warlike days. By special request his soldiers in Nicaragua are protecting citizens of other nations—presumably in great danger. He has picked out his favorite in Nicaragua's civil war and won't let the other side get arms from the United States. If Uncle Sam had a guitar and a bandit costume he could make a comic opera out of it.

In China the thing is more serious. The natives hate the strangers as cats hate dogs. They are tired of watching foreigners spend money, having courts and territory of their own, and are glad when the time comes to murder a few. The murdering seems to be close at hand. Uncle Sam has some of his ships there, and unpleasant news may be expected.

After the Boxer rebellion, when the other nations compelled the Chinese to pay millions in damages this nation handed the money back.

But that won't help our popularity. When Europe was in trouble, Uncle Sam sent an army of two million men five billion dollars, and other thousands of millions since.

And in Europe they hate Uncle Sam and love Japan that never sent a dollar or a soldier. What will Uncle Sam do about industrial alcohol? At present he puts poison in it and many of his beloved children, that don't know enough to let bootleg whiskey alone are dying. Bootleggers redistill the poisonous alcohol, taking out part of the poison. There is enough left to kill some times quite suddenly. At other times only enough to ruin the kidneys and kill slowly.

Prohibitionists say those that break the law must take their chance and die if they insist on drinking what they shouldn't drink—drinkers of bootleg whiskey are close to Morons anyhow. A conscientious father would not leave poison around for his children to drink, much less put it in their milk ESPECIALLY if they were Morons.

But if Uncle Sam sends out in industrial alcohol free of poison that anybody can drink with no worse result than delirium tremens, that will add tens of thousands to the bootleg army and flood the country with whiskey.

In France, adulteration of wine, even harmless adulteration, is punishable with imprisonment. In Germany, such adulteration in the eighteenth century was punishable by death. But industrial alcohol is not wine.

Dispatches from Boston describe triple judicial killing in Charleston state prison, just after midnight yesterday. Three young men passed from the electric chair to another destination for clubbing an old night watchman to death.

Edward H. Heinlein was first to go. As he walked to the electric chair, repeating the words of a prayer by the Reverend Father Michael J. Murphy, great crowds gathered outside automobile horns were booming, photographers' flashlights lighted up the crowd, and at the rear exit from the prison another crowd was waiting to see the three bodies carried out. A special police force was obliged to fight the deeply interested crowd.

The crowds howled around the French guillotine, or that tilted up their gin bottles as they shouted encouragement to murderers on the British gallows, were not entirely different from human beings of today.

You can now talk to your friend in London over the telephone, recognize his voice, get an answer in the fraction of a second, as good a miracle as any anybody could ask.

What a change from times when men thought that if they went far enough on the ocean they would fall over the edge, when the sky was supposed to be solid resting upon the earth, which of course stood perfectly still, with heaven above the sky, and hell below the earth, waiting for those that doubted such an arrangement.

It is an honor for that small insect man, to be able to talk across three thousand miles of water. The next step will be to Mars.

STEPS TAKEN TO PREVENT SEATING VARE IN SENATE

Petition Declaring Vare of Pennsylvania, Was Illegally Elected Presented in Senate Today

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A petition in behalf of William B. Wilson, contesting the election of Senator-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, was presented to the Senate today by Democratic leader Senator Robinson, of Arkansas.

Wilson, a former Secretary of Labor, was the Democratic nominee against Vare. The proceedings started alleged Vare was not legally elected and is separate from the movement already under way to deny Vare a seat in the Senate because of excessive campaign contributions. If Vare were kept out of the Senate on the latter ground it would leave a vacancy but would not give the place to Wilson.

Senator Robinson served notice that a resolution would be offered urging a committee investigation of the charges made in the petition which declares that Wilson was chosen by a majority of the votes legally cast.

Mr. Vare admitted, before the Senate investigating committee, spending $71,000 of his personal funds, the petition said, and this constitutes a violation of the federal corrupt practices act of 1925 which limits expenditures of a candidate for the Senate to $25,000.

It was charged that widespread registration frauds were perpetrated in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other cities and that the names of the dead, voters who were sick and in hospitals, and of minors.

Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, told the Senate the people of Pennsylvania would welcome a judicial determination of this question which he said had been "obscured by rash and unwarranted statements."

State's Output of Electricity Is Increasing

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Electricity output in the State is increasing.

Major Wade H. Phillips, director of the State Department of Conservation and Development, today announced that the output of electricity from North Carolina generated current in the State for the periods of the two years in which it is shown that there was a total output of 1,242,426,734 kilowatt hours through September of last year as compared with 1,127,557,510 for the same number of months in 1925.

Increases were tabulated both in hydro and steam-developed power with the larger proportion being attributed to fuel power on account of the scarcity of rainfall during the year.

For the nine months of 1926, the hydro power amounted to 739,551,734 kilowatt hours and 462,975,000 of fuel power; while for the period during the previous year, the amount of water power production was 762,650,610 kilowatt hours and the fuel generated power amounted to 364,503,000 kilowatt hours.

In 1926 the output by waterpower increased 2.15 per cent; the output by fuel power 27.1 per cent; and the percentage of increase of both was 10.2 per cent on the nine-month basis of comparison.

Of the grand total of the output of the electric generating stations in North Carolina, 62.7 per cent was produced by waterpower and the remaining 37.33 per cent was fuel-generated power.

However, varying with the availability of the water supply in the State's streams the proportion of hydro-electric power changed, more being furnished during the times of ample rainfall.

England splashed through the wettest November, on record, Five inches of rain fell instead of the average two. Total sunshine, was 41 hours.

WILSON MERCHANT ATTEMPTS SUICIDE THIS AFTERNOON

W. B. Young, Brother of J. K. Young, of This City, in Wilson Hospital in Critical Condition

W. B. Young of Wilson, brother of J. K. Young, of this city, and member of the firm of Young's operating a chain of department stores in eastern North Carolina, this afternoon attempted suicide at his home in Wilson. He was immediately rushed to a hospital where his condition at three o'clock, was reported as very critical, physicians holding little hope for his recovery. No cause for the rash act is known by citizens of Wilson.

According to the telephone report received here this afternoon, Mr. Young upon arriving at his home about one o'clock for dinner, advised his wife he would be ready in just a few minutes, and he went upstairs to the bath room presumably to wash up.

A few minutes later the report from a revolver was heard and upon rushing upstairs, his wife found him huddled on the floor of the bath room. The bullet had taken effect in his right temple and the brains were oozing from the wound. Three physicians were immediately called to the scene of the tragedy and the victim was rushed to the hospital for further medical aid.

BUSINESS MEN TO STAGE DRIVE FOR ADVERTISING FUND

Committee Appointed to Formulate Plans to Advertise Town and Section

A fund to advertise Greenville and Pitt County to the world will be raised here as a result of action taken last night by the directors of the Merchants' Association. The matter of advertising the community was brought up and discussed by the mass meeting in the courthouse after the oil situation had been thoroughly discussed and action in that line taken.

Various business men of the city discussed Greenville and Pitt County's needs along the lines of outdoor advertising and were very enthusiastic for the raising of a fund to carry out the work. The program will consist of national advertising of the town and county to be backed up by attractive booklets on the section to be sent to those prospective newcomers who request same. The literature, it is understood, will present the many advantages offered by Greenville and Pitt County, in a most attractive manner and should be an incentive to persons seeking a new location to come to this section.

A committee to go into the proposition and ascertain just what the needs of such an advertising campaign will be and the amount of money needed to finance same, was early date to the Merchants' Association and will report at an session.

Question Right of Assembly to Employ Children

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Law governing ordinary mortals do not apply to legislators. This was brought out by Frank Nash, Assistant Attorney General, in an opinion stating that employment of children under 14 years of age as pages in the General Assembly was not illegal.

The question was raised before the Child Welfare Commission which sought the ruling. Except as restrained by the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of North Carolina the General Assembly of North Carolina is the supreme department of the State. In the matter of the employment of pages, it is a law unto itself. No subordinate of the State Government such as the Child Welfare Commission has or could have even by order of a previous General Assembly, any right or authority to interfere with the present General Assembly, he declared.

SHORTEST SESSION IN HISTORY STATE HELD BY ASSEMBLY

House Session Today Lasted But Nine Minutes While Senate Session Was Minute Long

Raleigh, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Sessions of both houses of the General Assembly were little more than formalities. Not a single bill was produced in either branch but Speaker Fountain, of the House, did announce additions to the three most important committees which he named yesterday.

Adjournment until eight o'clock Monday night was voted by both branches. Today the House met, heard prayer announcement of additions to committees, received a bill from the Senate granting the whole procedure consumed exactly nine minutes. Livingstone Johnston, Raleigh, editor of the Biblical Recorder, offered the opening prayer.

There were no petitions, resolutions or bills, except acknowledgment of a bill passed by the Senate yesterday to exempt J. V. M. Myers from peddler's tax, in Moore county. It was sent to committee. Speaker Fountain announced additions to the three committees named yesterday as follows:

Finance: Representatives, Bullard, Cumberland, Falls of Cleveland, Nicholson and Grant Johnson, of Davie; Education: Boyles of Stokes; Appropriations: Josas and Odum. Harry Nettles, of Buncombe, moved adjournment until Monday night at 8 o'clock and the motion carried.

The Senate met, was prayed for and adjourned today, thereby making history, for according to chief clerk Leroy Martin, this was the first time in nine years experience with the Senate that he has ever failed to record business during even the briefest session. Martin thought that no one of the journals in the archives of the state should show an entry so lacking in evidence of some work on the part of the upper body.

The Senate had adjourned on Friday with the understanding that no matters of general importance would be taken up. This left only local matters for consideration and the Senate calendar had been cleared of all local bills at the Friday session. None of the committees had met and there were no committee reports in response to the announcement of the Lieutenant Governor that he would entertain these reports.

"New bills, petitions and resolutions," the presiding officer asked. There were none.

"Gentlemen, I wish to inform the Senate that there is nothing on the calendar. What is the pleasure of the Senate?" "I move that we adjourn," said Senator Pat Williams of Pasquotank.

The motion was seconded and carried, and the Senate quit its session in less than a minute after it convened. Dr. J. L. Peacock, of Raleigh, who offered the prayer, made this petition a very brief one.

Convicted Slayer of Canton Editor Says They Don't Want the Truth on Stand

Cleveland, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Pat McDermott, convicted of the slaying of John R. Mellett, Canton editor, and important witness in the pending trials of Ben Ruder and Louis Mazer, declared in his prison cell here today that he would "tell the truth" if put on the stand.

"I will tell the truth if they will put me on the stand," McDermott said. "But they won't put me on the stand. They don't want the truth."

CONDITIONS IN HANKOW, CHINA MORE CRITICAL

Women and Children in Area Fleeing to Safety. Rioting and Disorder Spread Rapidly

London, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The British Foreign Office was advised today from Hankow that the Cantonesse authorities have agreed to withdraw all Chinese troops and pickets from the British concessions. The concessions will be policed jointly by the British and Russian and German concessions.

The rioting which has centered the eyes of the world on Hankow for a week now has moved down the river where conditions are described as absolutely intolerable. Chinese soldiers, presumably belonging to the Cantonesse faction which controls the region, are out of hand. They are engaged in looting, the dispatches said.

The British concession is said to have been evacuated by women and children the refugees being placed on gunboats for Shanghai.

The foreigners number normally about one hundred but recently there were about four hundred Americans and Britishers twenty miles inland. Sixty American women and children are reported removed from Hankow.

The Cantonesse foreign minister repeated his intention to maintain order but apparently the Americans doubted his power to do so and decided to remove the women and children to a place of safety.

Messages to London newspapers today reflected amazement in the part the Britishers in Peking that no attempt had been made to assert more authority in the face of the mob at Hankow.

"FLYING YANK" TO RUN 1380 MILES IN 20 DAYS TO SET WORLD RECORD

Atlanta, Jan. 8.—(INS)—John J. Seiler, the "Flying Yank" will attempt to set a new world's record when he will start a long distance run from Danville, Virginia to Miami, Fla., a distance of 1,380 miles, in 20 consecutive days, beginning January 10th.

Committee Appointed Last Night Ready to Make Report. Business Men May Form Drilling Company

The committee appointed at last night's mass meeting in the courthouse to investigate the oil situation here, announced this afternoon that they were ready to make their report and directors of the Merchants' Association have called another mass meeting for eight o'clock Monday night to hear the report.

A committee appointed at last night's mass meeting in the courthouse in investigating the oil situation here and upon the findings of this committee depends the action that is to be taken by local business men toward the organization of a company to drill for oil here. The main speaker of the meeting was State Geologist H. J. Bryson who explained fully to the audience as to the formation of oil and made a complete report on his findings here. He described the conditions here as the best that he has ever seen outside of a proven oil field.

Mrs. J. L. Westbrook, head of the Westbrook Drilling Company, advised the meeting that her organization was going ahead as rapidly as possible toward the preparations for the shaking of a test well on the Westbrook property. The Westbrook project has been under way here for some time and it has been the attitude of the business men to hold hands off and let the Westbrook Company go ahead with its drilling before any effort was made to drill on other property here but what has been described as undue delays in the completion of the Westbrook plans has caused citizens to seek more speedy action toward finding out for sure whether or not there is oil in commercial quantities here. The committee appointed last night is to confer with the Westbrook Company to determine just exactly what steps have been taken to complete the original project. In case of any doubt as to action on the part of the Westbrook Company, the committee has been instructed to report to the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association and a mass meeting for the purpose of definitely organizing a new company will be called.

The meeting last night was one of the largest mass meetings ever held in the courthouse which is indication that the citizens of the city and community are interested in the oil venture here. It has been stated from reliable sources that there will be no trouble in forming a drilling company providing conditions warrant the drilling. Several drilling sites have been tendered by different citizens but so far nothing has been done toward decision as where to sink the test well in case a new company is formed. Property of A. L. Potter, adjacent to the Westbrook estate, the C. W. Harvey property on the Winterville highway, and the Country Club property will all be given serious consideration as drilling sites if the new company is formed, it is understood.

CANADA RADIO FANS FIGHT INTERFERENCE

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 5.—Alleged pirating of Canadian radio channels by United States broadcasting stations is driving the radio listeners of the Dominion to desperation and bringing a flood of complaints to the radio branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

According to Lieutenant Commander C. P. Edwards, director of radio for the Dominion of Canada, the situation is steadily gaining from bad to worse.

Under the arrangements with the United States Department of Commerce, Canada is supposed to have use of 17 waves, six exclusive and 11 jointly with the United States stations, but since a radio station of Chicago flouted the order of the United States Department of Commerce to keep off the exclusive wave of 32.5 meters, and was vindicated by a United States court, Canadian broadcasting stations no longer enjoy freedom from interference.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"THE SECOND WATCH"

S. Luke 12:38:—"And if he shall come in the Second Watch."

In that day, the night was divided differently. The Romans had FOUR "watches" in the night, and, at the close of each period of three hours, the guards were relieved. Wherever the Roman guards were stationed, in city or in camp, every three hours they were relieved. Palestine was then a province of the Roman Empire and we find in the New Testament, naturally the Roman division of time in S. Matthew 14:25:—"And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea."

But the old Jewish reckoning was different. It divided the night into THREE watches. We are practically sure that, raised in a home that had no clocks, our Lord used the current time of the Jewish Jew. So that, when he speaks of "the second watch," he is speaking after the manner of the natives whom he lived.

If that be so, "the second watch" would cover the middle period of the night. And it is just like our Lord, who often spoke of the "beginning" of things, and of the "end of things," not to omit the intervening period.

The "second watch" is neither the beginning, nor the ending. It has lost the hopefulness of the new start and has not reached the gladness of completion. That is what makes "the second watch" so hard, in the actual affairs of daily life, as well as in the spiritual realm.

1. Think, for instance, how "the second watch" is the LONLIEST TIME IN THE TWENTY-FOUR HOURS. It is the period when the world is in deep slumber. In the FIRST WATCH men are not yet in bed; there is still the pleasant sense of human companionship. You can hear them walking in the streets, or, if you are yourself walking outside, you can see the lights of the table-lamp shining through the latticed window.

In the THIRD WATCH the cock begins to crow, and the first faint signs of dawn are on the hills, and the heart of man awakes with the glad stirrings and hopeful news of another day.

But in the "SECOND WATCH" everything is different. There is a great loneliness abroad. You wake—and no human voice comforts you. You feel alone; bereft of fellowship and sympathy. The "second watch" is the dark night of the soul, untouched by any hopefulness of the morning, and, worst of all, the Master is away! No wonder we find it so hard to keep our lamp trimmed and burning in "the second watch"!

2. Think again, how in "the second watch" THERE IS ALWAYS A LOWERING OF VITALITY. Life is never at its fullest then; the tide is not at the flood, but at the ebb.

The most dreadful hours we experience are those when we lie tossing on our beds, unable to sleep, and the darkness is peopled with visions, real and unreal.

It is easy to be victorious at noon-day. In the sunlight, even a child can master fear. But in the dark, dead hours before the dawn, the haunted hours of the "second watch," when fearfulness seizes us, and spectres meet us, while the fires of life are burning low, it is not easy for any of us to possess our souls in confidence and in peace.

3. The "second watch" is JUST THE TIME WHEN NOTHING SEEMS TO HAPPEN.

We never read of it again in the New Testament. In the first watch wonderful things happened, for we read how Jesus healed the folk at eventide. In the last watch also wonderful things happened; for then it was that Jesus came to his disciples walking on the sea. But in the "second watch" we hear of never a miracle, nor of any event to startle or arrest us. It is the flat time of the soul.

And Jesus intimates that THEN He might return. Great things happen when we never look for them. The greatest thing of all—Christ's reappearance—is going to happen just like that.

God's hours are often unexpected hours. Love has a splendid fondness for surprises; and so Jesus bids us ever to "Watch."

"And if He shall come in the second watch"—watch! Watching for Him will relieve the tedium and enlighten the gloom of the darkest hours.

CONGRESS AND THE CRUISERS

If the flare-up in Congress over the cruiser program does not carry home to American, British and Japanese diplomatic authorities the need for an additional understanding upon naval limitation, then nothing can. The Administration naval bill is no sooner introduced than Floor Leader Tilson hurries to the White House. He emerges with the announcement that he is considering offering an amendment for building three cruisers. The House Naval Committee simultaneously goes on record as favoring the elevation of battleship guns. In a heated debate Chairman Butler declares that "the race is on" and that "the spirit of the treaty has already been violated, ignored, trampled on." Even so responsible a Representative as A. Piatt Andrew asserts that since we have accomplished nothing by speaking softly we must turn to "a language that can be better understood."

Wants

All this is unfortunate; but it is a logical consequence of events since the Washington Conference. All four of the other powers, signing the naval treaty have built or appropriated for many more auxiliary ships than we. This expansion of the navies of other signatories while ours remains almost at a standstill is certain, if continued, to arouse resentment. There are two alternative remedies. Either the other powers can be induced to restrict their programs or Congress can act to expand ours. The second alternative is easy for our rich Government. We authorized eight cruisers in 1924; we are building five of them, and Mr. Tilson would now appropriate for the other three; while the Butler bill authorizes ten more. Many Congressmen would like to rush ahead with a big navy program.

But the first alternative—all around restriction—is infinitely preferable. We have a right to expect Mr. Coolidge and the State Department to labor steadily for it. Meanwhile, the President might well cool the feelings of Congress by informing the leaders just what was the basis of his request for delay. He must have had more than a pious hope for a new naval limitation conference; he must have known of definite moves toward an agreement. It would do no harm and much good to tell Mr. Tilson and Mr. Butler what they are.—N. Y. World.

New and Marvelously Beautiful Fisher Bodies
 —a host of Mechanical Improvements—New Features found only on the costliest cars
 —plus an Amazing Reduction in Prices!

America has always expected great things from its greatest industry. But the announcement of the Most Beautiful Chevrolet has been the automotive sensation of all time!

Here is a car which in beauty, luxury, quality and modern design challenges the costliest creations of the day.

Here, in a price class where average standards have been the rule, is now offered a car so far beyond all expectation that comparisons cease to exist.

Seven superb models styled as low priced cars were never styled before and offering such marks of fine car distinction as: full crown one-piece fenders, bullet type lamps and "fish tail" rear deck modeling! New and supremely beautiful bodies by Fisher! And, above all, infinitely finer quality—the result of a host of additional improvements such as AC oil filter, AC air cleaner, coincidental steering and ignition lock, larger 17" steering wheel, gasoline gauge and many, many others!

All this is combined to a supreme degree in the long famous leader of the Chevrolet line—the Coach. It would be a brilliant achievement for any manufacturer merely to design such a splendid car to sell at ANY reasonably low price. But to sell it at the amazing price of $595 is a feat of history making proportions. This one price reduction alone would suffice to center worldwide attention on Chevrolet. But due to economies of tremendous production plus the vast resources of General Motors, Chevrolet also announces striking price reductions on other models.

For years Chevrolet has led the world in providing Quality at Low Cost. But now with a new and more beautiful car—with a car infinitely finer in quality and greatly lower in price Chevrolet stands supreme and unchallenged in dollar-for-dollar value!

No matter in what price class you intend to buy, or whether you plan to spend more or less than the price of a Chevrolet, come in today and see the most beautiful low priced Coach ever designed. Admire its marvelous style and grace! Mark its many new finer car features! Learn for yourself by personal inspection why, at its new low price, it is the greatest sensation of America's greatest industry!

TO OUR PATRONS

It is our earnest desire to render the best service at all times, and in order to attain a degree of efficiency toward both our advertisers and our subscribers, we find it necessary to adhere to a strict deadline rule hereafter. When the paper is published on time the subscribers receive it on time with the result that it is read with more interest and the advertisers benefit to a greater extent from their announcements.

We have found it an impossibility to hold our advertising columns open as late as has been our custom in the past and get the paper out on time, therefore we have adopted the following rules regarding the acceptance of advertising:

All advertisements of half page size or over, or ads the nature of which require an unusual amount of composition, must be in the hands of our advertising department on the afternoon of the day prior to publication of same. All other advertisements must be in the hands of the advertising department before ten o'clock on the day of publication, and subject to our ability to handle.

In the future, one of our representatives will call upon the merchants in the afternoons instead of the mornings as heretofore. Any desired assistance in the preparation and arrangement of your advertisements will be gladly furnished by our representatives.

We are as close to you as your telephone, and a call to 56 will bring the advertising man to you.

MARKETS

COTTON

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Jan., 12.80; March 12.94; May 13.15; July 13.32; Oct. 13.49

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 76 points, on covering and some commission house buying which appeared to be inspired by the more favorable character of recent trade advices from England and rather unsettled weather conditions in the southwest. March sold up at 12.95 and July 13.33, but there seemed to be increased offerings at these prices with the south a moderate seller here. The market reacted to about yesterday's closing prices featured by the end of the first hour.

STOCKS

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The main price movement was still upward at the opening of today's stock market. The publicity given to the inauguration of the new trans-Atlantic telephone service brought further inquiries for common stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which touched 151 1/4, the highest price since 1911. DuPont opened 13 points higher and most of the standard industrials and rails improved fractionally.

Charles E. Kartark, mayor and Jim Lewis, postmaster of Birchwood, Alaska, trudged 21 miles to Anchorage to cast the two qualified votes of their district at the last general election.

Because of the increasing crimes violence throughout Japan, the police of the largest cities may be armed with pistols. Most policemen in Japan are now armed only with short swords. "Main Street of Mayfair" is the new nickname for Bond street fashionable London shopping thoroughfare.

And Father Did The Washing Once.
This incident was told of a local man:
The laundress failed to show up—his wife was indisposed—something had to be done about the washing. So of an evening he decided he'd be laundress himself.
For an hour he sloped and lugged—and in the morning he phoned 602 for us.
We have been calling regularly since his hour in the cellar convinced him that washing is indeed no work for a woman's hand.
But we do more than lighten labor—we give saving, sanitary service. PHONE us today.
