ANTI-EVOLUTION BILL INTRODUCED ASSEMBLY TODAY

Poole Bill Would Abolish Teaching of Evolution Theory in State Schools

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Presentation of the Education Commission report and the introduction of Rep. David Poole's anti-evolution bill marked the session of the North Carolina General Assembly here today.

There were also a number of state-wide bills introduced in the House.

One was in the form of a resolution from Rep. Stancil, Mecklenburg, which seeks abolition through Congress of federal estate taxes. Another from Rep. Price, Mecklenburg, would do away with the "Stop Law" and in its place would provide for motor vehicles to slow down to eight miles an hour when approaching crossings over which more than two trains pass daily.

A third bill from the Mecklenburg delegation was presented by Miss Carrie McLean. It would raise the commissions on collections by private employment agencies.

The Senate introduced eight new bills of minor importance passed several local bills and adjourned.

Governor McLean in presenting the Education Commission's report to the legislature expressed belief that the facts and statistics would be found of great value to members of the General Assembly and to all who are interested in education, the most important of all branches of public service.

The anti-evolution measure which would abolish the teaching in state supported schools of any doctrine or theory of evolution which contradicts or denies the divine origin of man or the universe as taught in the Holy Bible and would set a fine imprisonment in the discretion of the judge. The person convicted also could be disqualified from teaching for such a time as the judge might order. The North Carolina Bible League, of Charlotte, made preparations for the introduction of the bill and the league's legal advisor said the bill, given Mr. Poole for introduction, was legal under the state and federal constitutions.

Prior to the session, Rep. Poole told Associated Press here he was not a member of the North Carolina Bible League but that he was the friend of all who favored anti-evolution measures.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS STATE FLOGGING LAW

Reverse Decision of Judge A. M. Stack in Buncombe County Flogging Case

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The North Carolina Supreme Court today upheld the flogging law.

The Supreme Court reversed decision of Buncombe County Superior Court Judge A. M. Stack who fined Supt. L. B. Revis, of a prison camp in Buncombe county $25 and costs when he held that corporal punishment for prisoners was abolished by the state constitution and that the flogging law of the 1925 General Assembly was void.

The lower court's judgment, the higher court knocked out.

The law, upheld by the higher court, provides when any prisoner or convict becomes unruly so as to make it necessary to whip him the superintendent shall call in two persons of good moral character to witness the flogging.

Revis whipped Lee Cody, a prisoner, who sought to test the flogging law by refusing to obey any orders. The superintendent gave him six licks.

1926 PROVED BAD YEAR FOR COMPOSERS IN ITALY

Rome, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The year 1926 proved a bad one for Italian music, according to the Popolo D'roma, Italian newspaper which points out with some bitterness that not a single new work of note was produced, no new maestro came to light, and that the known maestros did not produce a single first-class opera during the year.

Cromwell and Mussolini. Goodbye, Bob. He Won't Talk. 17,000 New Laws.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

George Bernard Shaw compares Mussolini to the great Oliver Cromwell, and says British mockery is inspired by hypocrisy and fear.

The British, according to Shaw "did not dare call Mussolini's bluff at Corfu, and are clearly afraid of him."

If Mussolini is like Cromwell there is good reason to be afraid of him, Cromwell being the only great soldier of semi-modern times that never lost a battle.

The "bob" is going out. Those that have money abandon the bob because it is getting too common. Working girls that haven't much money give up the bob because it costs too much, takes too much time.

Women ought to wear both hair and skirts short, without being foolish about either, and will do so eventually. But they ought to cut their skirts off below the knee, not above, cut their hair sensibly, so that a hair cut might last a month at least, with a nice ribbon or old-fashioned round comb to hold it back. That's how women will arrange "hi" and skirts some day, and then will look pretty and sensible.

C. W. Noes, twenty-two years old, ended his medical studies at the University of Wisconsin by committing suicide and promised to talk from the grave to a fraternity friend at twelve o'clock yesterday and again next Friday.

He will not talk from the grave. Our talking is done here. What we do after we leave we don't yet know, except as faith answers our questions. The young man should have used all of this life before moving on to another. No matter how misal things may be today you never can be sure that they won't improve.

Senator Borah says we make many laws, this country will be "a republic in name, and but a bureaucracy in fact," if we don't check the wholesale lawmaking machine.

Not all laws are made in Washington. Forty-eight legislatures are busy. The total new laws suggested here and there number about 17,000, a fantastic figure.

However civilization itself, to say nothing of this glorious republic, is an experiment, in its infancy. Children may try things all trying is useful. Even if they burn their fingers, that's useful. It teaches them to avoid fire.

Each law is an experiment, an effort to remedy something wrong or establish something good. Once men were hanged, by law, not by lynching for stealing a horse. Now they steal automobiles, and hanging for horse thieves automatically disappears. Not the foolish things we plan but what we actually do, counts.

Edward P. Mitchell, who worked sixty-six years on the Sun with Charles A. Dana, was one of the few great editorial writers that this country has developed. They are all dead, or working on small papers, unknown to the general public.

Mitchell made himself a power by anonymous writing, never signing his name, which is the test of editorial ability. It isn't necessary to label a genuine diamond, or a volcano in action.

Some industrial stocks going down, railroad stocks climbing to new high prices was the program yesterday on the stock exchange. Somebody bought and sold nearly 2,000,000 shares and, as regards anything fundamentally sound those that buy will be much happier in the long run than those that sell.

President Coolidge has put in few words the disagreement between this country and Mexico. We respect property right of the Mexicans here, and don't pass restrictive laws confiscating United States property legally acquired by Mexican citizens. The President asks: "Shall Mexico be allowed to confiscate Mexican property legally acquired by United States citizens?"

News papers, women's clubs, clergymen and speech-making individuals should not give the false impression that the President's attitude lacks support in this country. His policy is that of the nation.

Senator Edge says the government should not put poison in alcohol, knowing that citizens will drink it and die. His bill would make it a crime to distribute poisonous denatured alcohol. That is one side of it.

The other side is this: If the

FORMER CASHIER HENDERSON BANK GETS NEW TRIAL

Supreme Court Today Found Error in Trial of Crowder on Embezzlement Charge

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today granted a new trial to R. V. Crowder, former cashier of the defunct Farmers and Merchants Bank of Henderson, found guilty last spring of embezzlement of funds of the institution. The lower court's judgment set aside was in Vance County Superior Court and a sentence of twenty years in state prison had been generally considered the longest ever meted out in a case of this nature in the state.

The reversal was because the solicitor was in the grand jury room for an hour and advised the jurors as to the action to take in bringing the indictments against Crowder. There was no dissenting opinion.

Justice Adams declared, "We may be sure that the diligent and capable officer who prosecuted the action had in mind only a commendable purpose to render needed service within the province of his official duties and that what he did was an inadvertent departure from the principles announced but it is far better that new bills be drafted than that principles be rejected or disregarded."

The higher court in finding error on the lower court's proceeding, remanded the case for new trial after enunciating grand jury immunity from pressure from any outside source as a guiding principle.

"The grand jury findings must be their own and it is improper to attempt to influence grand jury's decisions," Justice Adams said. "The grand jury, alone, must consider and apply the evidence. The prosecuting officer must not attempt to give effect to the evidence adduced. This is a uniform rule."

government distributed unlimited quantities of alcohol for human consumption to all manufacturers that is industrial alcohol, this country would see where it was in Jefferson's time, on a whiskey basis, and bootlegging whiskey basis.

If one of the 17,000 new laws could discourage crime without cruel and unusual punishment that would be a blessing.

New York state, with more population and consequently more criminals than any other, is running short of prison room, only 75 more criminals can be housed in state prisons. The police of New York could pick them up overnight if prohibition were taken seriously.

BRITISH TROOPS MOVING TOWARD SHANGHAI TODAY

Land and Sea Forces for Protection of British Subjects Estimated Over 20,000

London, Jan. 26.—(AP)—British land and naval forces were converging on China today to protect British rights and property. When the ships ordered to proceed to Chinese waters join the battle-ships already on the scene there will be assembled the most impressive flotilla of fighting units since the armistice that ended the World War in 1918.

Estimates of the total number of effectives which will then be ready for eventualities, both on land and sea, placed them at between 19,900 and 21,000. The land forces will be under command of Major General Dungen, who had notable service in the World War. He left to board a transport just as 1,000 marines were leaving Portsmouth for Shanghai.

Before the end of the week it is expected that more than 11,000 infantrymen will be en route to China.

Although going about steadily with its preparations the officials of the government have not lost hope that a friendly settlement can be reached and it will not be necessary to resort to arms.

This morning's newspapers gave their pages a warlike appearance.

ONLY THREE CASES HEARD IN COURT HERE YESTERDAY

Long Drawn Out Cases Delay Action Yesterday But Today's Session Shows Speed

Two of the murder cases for hearing at this week's term of criminal court today were postponed until the April term of court by order of Judge E. H. Cramer, the case against P. O. Baker which grew out of the death of J. O. Fleming, when the car in which he was riding was struck by the Baker car, and the case against Elmer McLawhorn were continued until the April term. While there has been some speculation as to whether or not the murder charge against Edward Evans and Francis Johnson would be reached at this term, no definite announcement had been made at three o'clock this afternoon.

Yesterday's sessions were taken up with long drawn out cases and only three issues were settled during the day and night sessions.

The first case heard yesterday was the murder charge against George McRoy as a result of an automobile accident. Practically the entire day was taken up with the hearing, the jury receiving the case about three o'clock. After about two hours deliberation the jury returned a verdict of "Not Guilty."

Yesterday's second case was that against B. Hugh Highsmith, which was also a murder charge growing out of an automobile accident and a verdict similar to that in the McRoy case was returned.

The third and final case of yesterday's hearings was that against Amos Wooten, negro, who was convicted of stealing tobacco from the warehouse of Forbes and Morton here. In this case judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.

Calling for the jail cases this morning the court moved along more rapidly than on yesterday and a number of these cases had been disposed of when court recessed for the noon hour.

James Talmage plead guilty to a charge of assault with deadly weapon and was sentenced to eight months on the roads.

John Boyd was sentenced to six months on the roads on a charge of manufacturing liquor.

Bill Piner plead guilty to assault with a deadly weapon and was fined $50 and costs.

Jim Elks plead guilty to simple assault and judgement was suspended upon payment of costs.

William Thompson plead guilty to a charge of possessing liquor and was given six months on the roads.

Report of State Education Commission Presented to General Assmby Today

Majority and Minority Reports on "Eight Months School Term." Recommends Additional Normal School Within Year and Another in Five Years.

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Extension of the school term for all the children of the state would cost about one and a half million dollars more than is being spent for public education in the secondary field at present, the state educational commission today estimated, in a 272 page report made public.

Main features of the report may be listed under the following recommendations:

1. A new basis for the support of the six months term with a minimum property tax rate of 35c to be levied by the counties and the remaining amount necessary to be provided by the state.

2. A revaluation of all property in the state under the supervision of a permanent tax commission in the department of revenue.

3. A requirement that all counties participating in the equalizing fund keep a uniform system of books, use the minimum salary schedule, accept the assessment fixed by the tax commission and not increase expenditures more than five per cent a year.

4. A state equalizing fund of four million dollars next year and an additional million the following year.

5. A majority and minority recommendation on submitting the eight months term amendment to the constitution.

6. A recommendation that the present teacher training facilities be extended so as to increase the output of teachers and that high school teacher training classes be used as a temporary expedient. But that the state make preparations for the establishment of one additional normal school during the five successive years.

The 12 members of the commission were a unit on all phases of the report except for the recommendation for submitting the constitutional amendment.

Seven members, including chairman J. O. Carr, secretary J. Y. Joyner, J. K. Norfleet, Edgar W. Phar, Stanley Winborne, S. C. Lattimore, and Nathan O'Berry, signed the majority report which says:

"We do not approve or recommend a constitutional amendment fixing a minimum school term of eight months; but we do approve and recommend an extension of the school term by legislative enactment in all communities of the state to not less than eight months to take effect as rapidly as such extension may be adopted and utilized by the communities not having less than an eight months school term, always leaving opportunity for an expression of the public will of the communities as to the length of term beyond six months.

"We also recommend that the state give substantial and gradually increasing aid to financing such extended time in those communities which are unable to finance it themselves."

Supporting this position the majority members of the commission give the following as the reason behind the recommendation:

1. The eight months term as it now exists in the state has been secured by local initiative, and 68 per cent of the white children.

2. Now half a dozen states in the union have constitutions fixing their minimum requirements.

3. The present local tax burdens "and the deplorable financial conditions of local school systems" is attributed to the fact that the six months amendment was adopted "without providing a definite and constant source of revenue."

"The majority report states further that the members signing it had been unable to find sources of taxation which could be tapped for supporting the additional two months term, and suggests that the amendment should not be submitted unless a tax scheme is submitted with it. The report likewise suggests that taxation experts at the university be asked to make a study of the whole taxation scheme.

The minority report is considerably longer than the one signed by the seven members, and it answers almost paragraph by paragraph the contention of the majority in supporting the majority position.

This report is signed by Mrs. J. A. Brown, Mrs. E. L. McKee, Mrs. James G. Fearing, C. E. Teague and T. Wingate Andrews. This report says that "the issue is joined as between an eight months term by constitutional amendment and an eight months term by legislative enactment."

The minority disagree not only with the main proposition of the majority, "but also with substantially every statement submitted in support of this proposition."

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 26.—(AP)—The Browning separation trial which has moved with the rapidity of a vaudeville show, seemed likely to close within 48 hours in the estimation of attorneys.

The testimony of Mrs. "Peaches" Browning, 16-year-old wife of Edward W. Browning 51 years old wealthy real estate operators was being completed today. Two neurologists testified as to how Mrs. Browning's nerve had been affected.

Numerous photographs of the two in their bonds of their country and city homes were introduced. All these pictures, she testified, were at Mr. Browning's request.

Mr. Browning, she said, brought home trick spoons, trick cigars, rubber eggs and other toys and amused himself, but she contended nobody else. Her life, she said, was threatened one.

Browning, as he motored down Main Street today, was followed by hundreds of yelling and cheering men, women, girls and boys and twelve women with baby carriages.

MANY CHANGES IN STANDING LOOKED FOR END OF WEEK

All Entered in Reflector Subscription and Prize Contest Hard at Work

It can hardly be doubted but that there will be many surprises and changes in standings of those entered in the Daily Reflector subscription contest before this week is out. Already the results of obtained by a few workers for the first two days of the week led by far previous Monday and Tuesday reports for any one of the past three weeks.

Mrs. T. M. Gorman, Jr., started the week off with a very substantial offering in the way of subscriptions to the Daily Reflector and for which she received many votes to go toward earning the $1,500 Studebaker Sedan, the Chevrolet Coach or a cash price. This report was followed by an increased one from Miss Rose Hadley, while Mrs. Sugg Fleming completed the calls and reports checked by the Campaign Manager for Monday.

The ball toward the more than $3,000 in prizes offered by The Reflector to the ambitious ones started rolling yesterday morning bright and early. Both Mrs. Blanche Cherry and Mrs. Sugg Fleming turned in the same amount in subscriptions and a fair report was received from Miss Irma Cox.

The remaining days between now and Saturday will be the big ones. The above mentioned contestants will so doubt make another report while those who have not reported as yet for the week will turn in their accumulations. All previous records for the drive are expected to be broken this week as contestants and their friends realize that this week has more bearing on their ultimate standing.

Work secured during the remaining two weeks that will be left after Saturday. Don't let any promises for help in the way of paid subscriptions stay outside the fold; don't let the thought of your not winning one of the two automobiles deter you from putting every ounce of energy into your campaign.

The campaign office on the second floor of The Reflector Bldg., will be opened a little later than usual Saturday night, closing at 8 o'clock. Subscriptions sent through the mail will be counted as having been received during the big voting period if the postmark on the envelope bears Saturday's date.

From now until further notice contestants may vote 50,000 of their reserve votes in each list. For example a contestant trailing the leader of the list last published by 20,000 votes may publish this number to equal the high standing of the leader and then 50,000 additional. Those who have the votes to publish should try to keep their name well toward the top of the list as the public in general judges the work being done by the standings of the workers in the published list.

TEXAS MINISTER IS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Austin, Texas, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The Reverend J. Frank Norris today resumed active leadership of his large British congregation at Fort Worth today. He was acquitted of the charge of murder for the slaying of Dexter E. Chipps in the church study last July. Dr. Dr. Norris today declined to make a statement but announced through his friends that he would preside at the weekly prayer meeting at his church tonight.

The trial was the third for Dr. Norris since he started evangelistic work in Texas nearly 20 years ago. Indicted in 1912 and 1913 on charges of arson and perjury following the burning of his church and home, he was tried and acquitted on each charge and the third case was dismissed.

Statement of Kellogg Regarding Policies in China Being Eagerly Awaited

Washington, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Kellogg's promised Chinese policy declaration which will be published in the next few days will be the nature of a reply to policy suggestions advanced by Great Britain, is being awaited with added interest here in view of the White House forecast of a divergent between the two viewpoints.

While it is the American Government's intention to accord full protection to American lives and property in the Chinese factional fighting and during any anti-foreign disorders, President Coolidge believes there is some grounds for difference with England as to policy in the fact that England has extensive territorial concessions in China while this country has not. It is believed unlikely that the United States will send any extensive military force to China.

IN DEFENSE OF AMERICAN HONOR

Hard, as it is to believe it, nevertheless it seems to be true that President Coolidge is opposed to the popular demand in this country that failing a settlement by negotiation with Mexico the oil dispute should finally be decided by arbitration. He is said to feel that the American public has failed to grasp the importance of the principles involved and that the position taken by the State Department is based on such clear principles of equity and justice, international good faith and fair dealing that there is nothing to arbitrate. If this is the President's position, then the complete answer is to be found in the telegram of Will Rogers to the New York Times: "He says he feels so sure we are right that there is no one he would trust to decide it in our favor."

In all seriousness, it is difficult to see how the President can take the position that the dispute with Mexico is not justifiable. He asserts that the provision of the Mexican Petroleum Law with respect to property acquired before 1917 are confiscatory. The Mexican government maintains that they are not confiscatory, that no confiscation is intended, and that its purpose is to confirm the owners of the property in the undisturbed use of that property, without new conditions, for a period of at least fifty years, and perhaps even longer. That there is a change in the legal status is not denied. That this change is meant to cause any material loss is strenuously denied, and for any loss that may be suffered the Mexican government offers reparation. It is, therefore, an arguable matter whether the law is in truth confiscatory, and if it is confiscatory, the amount of the compensation due to the American owners is certainly justifiable.

If the American case is as strong as the President believes it is, how can he possibly refuse to submit to an impartial tribunal? Let us remember that the one clear precept of international morality now accepted by the civilized opinion of mankind is that a nation which refuses an impartial adjudication of its claims is to be regarded as an aggressor. That is the test which disinterested public opinion throughout the world now applies to every international dispute. When two nations are quarreling, world opinion may be divided as to which is right and which is wrong. But if one of the nations, however good its case, refuses a peaceful settlement before an impartial tribunal it puts itself in the wrong and the condemnation of the civilized world is visited upon it. Those Americans who are

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Chicago Jan. 26.—(INS)—Naughty Chicago with its machine gun killers, its warring beer barons, its countless thugs and villains generally, is showing another side today.

The city is in an uproar because a ferocious hawk has attacked a group of pigeons which for years thrived at the Chicago Art Institute.

For days the hawk has defied the city's most able sharpshooters and continued his attacks on the doves, despite thousands of demands by bird lovers that the pigeons be protected.

Such an intense fury has been created over the hawk's ravages that Chicago's crowded newspapers have devoted columns to the incident.

Hundreds of letters have been received by city officials and newspapers daily, begging the hawk be killed.

One lone man wrote that this provoked a new avalanche of letters, many readers demanding court action against the writer who opposed the pigeons' survival.

A girl wrote one newspaper for years she had visited the downtown sections of Chicago, three or four times each week and that always she brought a five pound sack of food for the pigeons.

Scores of others wrote that for many seasons, in and out, they had watched the pigeons being fed by the man with the VanDyke beard. They related the bearded person daily fed the pigeons from his hand and that he had trained several of the doves to climb on his shoulders in the street and receive their meals unmindful of the thousands of passersby surging down Michigan Boulevard.

Several women writers demanded men held in jails pending investigation of machine gun killings in Chicago, be taken from their cells for a day and ordered to kill the hawk.

Mayor Dever has been asked to assign the best shots in the police department to a chase of the hawk, which is reported to have killed scores of the doves.

Various awards of from $100 up have been offered by citizens to the person killing the hawk.

Every winter more than 75,000 homeless, jobless men flock to Chicago and daily during the cold season 4,000 men are cared for at the municipal lodging house.

Study of the inmates of the house indicate, according to officials, that lack of education and training account for the men be-

TO DARKEN HAIR
APPLY SAGE TEA

Common garden sage brewed in a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use for only 75 cents. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

ing forced to depend on charity. A study of 500 men at the city lodgings showed only seven earned $1,000 in a year. More than 25 per cent of the 500 said they were paid less than $250 for the work they did in a year. One-third of the 500 closely studied were of foreign birth, made up largely of Scandinavians, Irish, Polish or German immigrants.

Year-round operation of the city's lodging house and establishment of a farm colony for the jobless workers drifting in and out of Chicago is planned.

College presidents and deans attending the annual meeting of the Association of American colleges in Chicago, revealed they are alarmed by the so-called revolt of youth.

Because young men of today act differently at college than years ago is a good sign, the college heads said, showing initiative and a willingness to lead and not to be led.

Colleges where no more than 200 students are admitted were urged as a solution of some of the college evil of today by Dr. K. D. Macmillan of Wells College, Aurora, N. Y.

CLEVELAND COUPLES GO TO SOUTH CAROLINA TO GET MARRIED

Shelby Jan. 26.—(INS)—Cleveland County magistrates have been deprived of a flourishing business since the State's marriage license fees have been raised 55.

Records here show that marriages in the border county are fast decreasing. A jeweler here reported that he sold 75 rings to lovers in Cleveland youths in December. Licenses were issued to only one-third that number during the month.

Meanwhile each South Carolina border town is becoming a Gretna Green, it was pointed out.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT
 Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

ZURICH'S SUICIDE CLUB HAS "SUCCESSFUL" YEAR
 Zurich, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The "Suicide Club" which was organized in this city a little more than a year ago, has just published a very successful report of its annual work. It has dealt with six hundred "candidates" for suicide, two of whom had already tried to end their lives twice before. In all cases, the desperate ones have been prevented from killing themselves.

Members of the club believe that misery is the cause of the largest number of suicides and urges everyone to report a likely case.

A Good Housekeeper Is Always Busy

So well occupied is she that but little time is left for anything else other than her household duties. By the time one thing is finished something else must be done.

So it is with a good storekeeper who, like the good housewife, he, too, must keep constantly at it if he is to prevent cobwebs from gathering in his store.

An item here and an item there. A pair of this and a pair of that—all good merchandise, you understand. Just as good as it would be if there were a hundred of each. Worth just as much to you. But it wouldn't be good storekeeping if we held on to them.

So, here we are in January as busy as bees, looking for odds and ends and small lots, bringing them forward to the bargain counter where they are sold very cheaply. But it's good to be busy and we like to be this way because it keeps our stocks cleaned out. You will find it well worth your while to visit Eastern Carolina's biggest store.

Are You One of the 963 who are using our convenient TEN-PAY-BUDGET-BUYING PLAN?

If not, you should investigate its many advantages—NOW!

The End of the Century Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. L. Hassell on Tuesday afternoon.

There was an unusually large number present, despite the inclement weather, and a most interesting program was furnished.

Mrs. Hassell gave a very humorous sketch of the life and work of Josephine Preston Peabody, and Mrs. C. A. Bowen sketched some of the contemporary women poets: Amy Lowell, Sara Teasdale and Edna St. Vincent Millay—and gave short readings of some of their best known works.

The club was glad to welcome Mrs. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse, who is now making her home in Raleigh.

There will be no prayer service in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church tonight, and the congregation is asked to attend the prayer service at the Memorial Baptist church to hear Judge Cranmer speak.

JUDGE CRANMER ADDRESSED MEN'S FEDERATION

The men of the city were given a rare treat this morning at the Woodmen's Hall, when Judge E. H. Cranmer addressed the Men's Federation at their regular morning prayer service. Judge Cranmer is a most pleasing speaker. He chose as his theme this morning, "Exemplifying the Christian Life in Our Daily Walk," and developed inspiring thoughts from it.

The Judge is one man, who lives and practices what he preaches, which makes his remarks more effective. He quotes the scriptures as fluently as he does law.

Judge Cranmer will speak again tonight at the prayer service at the Memorial Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

Greenville High School Victorious Over Newbern

The G. H. S. team of basketballers won its first victory by taking an exciting game from the invading Newbernians. This, the second game of the season, proved that the local team was on the road to fame, as was last year.

Superb playing was shown by every player of the local squad. Curry shooting ten points of Greenville's fifteen. Passing featured the game. Greenville's defensive playing could hardly be equaled by any team of the same rating.

New Bern's points were well divided between each player but Gaskill gained over his team mates by making four of the nine points registered for them.

The following is the line-up for both teams.
Greenville: R.F. New Bern: R.F.
Denton R.F. Graney
Burnette L.F. Henry
Jones C. Gaskill
Hicks R.F. Perebee
Curry L.F. Godfrey

Substitutes: Greenville, Respass for Denton, New Bern, none.
The home team goes to New Bern Friday night for a battle on the court there. It is hoped that as many Greenville people will follow the team as can possibly do so. A large number was present at the game last night. Seeing that the team is out for laurels they deserve all support that can be secured.

Paris Style Hints

Paris, Jan. 26.—(INS)—That Paris has always been the Paradise for women, everyone knows but this does not mean that children are neglected, as far as frocks are concerned at least. They have their couturiers as well as the grown-ups and are fitted out in the very latest fashion like every chic Parisienne.

One of the designers who specializes in children's styles is showing rayon pyjamas in rose "fleur" with white revers and belt placed quite high on the jacket. The deep patch pockets are low on the coat and bring decorative value through embroidery. Linen frocks for playtime have applique patterns usually in white, with the frock in pink, green or blue. The same idea is brought out in shawl or embroidery used in white applique motifs. Play frocks are also seen in natural jersey which is made most interesting by means of the embroidered motifs in front. They are usually animals or fawns in simple outline to amuse the child.

The dressier type of knitted frock comes in bright pink silk embroidered with blue wool around the bottom. The theme of knitting gives the yoke idea in this frock. Fine soutache braid in white silk looks as if it were crocheted for the finest tut. Wee blue silk flowers are it round the neck and sleeves.

OLD FASHIONED GIRL WINS OVER FLAPPER IN VOTE

Santa Clara, Cal., Jan. 26.—(INS)—The modern flapper is not the collegiate ideal of a perfect helpmeet.

Three hundred students of the masculine persuasion, attending Santa Clara University were asked their type preferences in the matter of a wife.

Two hundred and eighty-four students replied, but only 7 per cent voted for flappers. That ethereal creature known as the old-fashioned girl won the election with topheavy majority of 64 per cent.

Fifteen per cent declared themselves in favor of the medium type—a girl combining the fire and fervor of the flapper with the demure, modest nature of the old-fashioned girl. The other 14 per cent of male students replying hadn't yet decided just what type they did prefer, if any.

Comments ran the gamut of poetic idealism to cynical pragmatism.

"A flapper—there ain't no old-fashioned girls."

"Something in between, a good-looking, educated girl with a rich old man."

"The old-fashioned type, though I want her up-to-date and not eccentric that knows how to cook."

In an automobile designed like a tent on wheels she proposes to drive around the world, under the official observation of the Royal Automobile Club of England.

The trip will occupy about five months, about 14,000 miles being covered.

The trip will be more in the nature of a reliability trial than a stunt.

COTTON

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady today. March 13.30; May 13.50; July 13.71; October 13.90; December 14.10.

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The cotton market opened barely steady today as a decline of 6 to 9 points in response to lower Liverpool cables.

A bearish sentiment seemed to have developed since the passing of January contracts yesterday and offerings increased after the opening prices selling off to 13.46 for May and 13.88 for October, of about 10 to 12 points net lower.

STOCKS

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Mixed price movements characterized the opening of today's stock market leading industrial points upward but further heaviness developed in several of merger rails. Motors continued to rally on what appeared to be short coverings. Mack Trucks opened 1 1/4 points higher. Southern Pacific and Pittsburgh and West Virginia also showed initial gains of a point each.

State Game Bill Would Establish Preserves for Deer

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Now the legislature has opportunity to save the thrill of the swift crash of deer through the North Carolina forests which has threatened to join the phantom thunder of the buffalo which formerly roamed the Western plain. The Statewide game bill, introduced into the House, would enable the State to establish preserves for replenishing wild game. The bill sets up such machinery as is necessary for the self-support of a program of propagation of game with which to restock parts of the State where various species of wild life are now virtually extinct.

Sportsmen and conservationists have lined up solidly behind the proposed legislation and are pressing for its adoption by the General Assembly.

Supporters of the bill point to the Burleson private preserve near Spruce Pine as an example of the preserves whose plentiful supply of wild game would be kept intact under provision of the bill.

Spruce Pine, N. C., Jan. 26.—Up in the Blue Ridge Mountains in Mitchell County near Spruce Pine roams a herd variously estimated, but which is thought to contain as many as 500 of deer.

The graceful creatures are on a private preserve belonging to former State Senator J. M. Burleson, who has zealously guarded them from destruction for years.

The existing herd has grown from stock which was obtained by Mr. Burleson around 12 years ago after a previous one had died out. The preserve, a beauty spot to visitors, consists of 500 acres of mountainous land which has been fenced in for protection of the deer from dogs.

Mr. Burleson has kept up the practice of the protection of the animals, started by his grandfather and a neighbor around the middle of last century. He allowed only a limited number of deer to be killed.

Eight Men Wait for Death Electric Chair

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Eight men are on 'Death Row,' but only three have doom days set.

Seven of the occupants of the grim colony are negroes. The other is W. L. Ross, Warren county murderer, who is awaiting the new trial awarded him recently by the Supreme Court.

The first man to die, unless he appeals in the meantime is the last man to arrive. He is Pearl Mitchell convicted of killing a storekeeper in Chatham county last week, and sentenced to be electrocuted Friday, February 11.

FAMOUS FRENCH RECIPES

Paris, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Cut a piece of pumpkin into small pieces and put into a casserole with a little water and sugar. Make a thick purée and beat with five eggs. Salt slightly. Add a spoonful of flour and beat all well. Finish as for an ordinary omelette turned into a pan with hot oil. Bake in the usual manner and fold over. Serve immediately alone or with baked potatoes.

Charter Airplane Concern Rocky Mt.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Commercial aviation approached status of a regular Tar Heel business here today with the issuance of a certificate of incorporation to the Eagle Airplane Company, Rocky Mount, by Secretary of State W. N. Everett.

The concern was authorized to engage in commercial flying and to buy and sell airplanes. Authorized capital was placed at $5,000 with $2,000 subscribed by J. D. Winstead, J. D. Winstead, Jr., and A. J. Williams, all of Rocky Mount.

Great Work Being Done for Cripples Throughout State

Gastonia, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The cost for one child treated at the State Orthopaedic Hospital is $2.86 a day.

This figure is distinctly lower than usual in a hospital of this sort, since it is common for the cost to reach $3.50 or even $4.00 in such hospitals. Mrs. Edith Reeves Solenberger of the United States Children's Bureau, says in the biennial report of the hospital, just issued.

The report was prepared by R. B. Babington, president of the board of trustees, and Dr. Oscar L. Miller, surgeon of the hospital.

Expressing great need for additional beds at the hospital here, Mrs. Solenberger says those workers who constantly handle crippled children agree that 75 per cent of children could be made free of disease and of serious deformity "so that they could look forward to self support instead of being a burden to their families or to charity."

During the biennial period, 443 children were dismissed in an improved condition, and only 20 in an unimproved condition. The waiting list each day remains around 250.

Reference is made to the clinics for crippled children which have been held in conjunction with the Division of Child Welfare of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.

These have proved to be clearing houses for determining the children amenable to treatment and their eligibility to the hospital, as well as a convenience for reviewing old cases.

Special mention is made gift from the Edwin D. Latta estate and the gift from B. N. Duke of a ward for treatment of negro crippled children. The ward was opened last March.

MALARIA IS DOOMED TO LOSE ITS DANGER BY NEW PREVENTIVE

Washington, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Malaria once a malady which caused thousands of deaths throughout the United States every year, will cease to be of public health importance within the next 50 years in this country, if the present progress in attacking the ravages of the disease are maintained, according to Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming.

During the past year an intensive study of malaria has been conducted throughout the South, featured by an investigation of fish control of mosquito production.

Many larva-eating fish were studied in Southern waters, resulting in the discovery that the 'gambusia affinis' is the most efficient of American fishes in clearing ponds and streams of mosquito-larvae.

KARPEN LIVING ROOM SUITES

Masterpieces of Furniture Bear the Nameplate

Sometimes, great beauty fills you with an emotion that is almost reverence. The vibrant strains of an organ inspire it. You feel it in the presence of a grand sunset. It wells up within you as you view furniture of the Karpen make.

Almost everyone pays for furniture as fine as this. A very few there are who get it. Too many, seeking bargains, dig no deeper than surface beauty; and soon comes a day of disillusionment when they realize that their bargain costs double. For it must be replaced. But those, whose wise first consideration is true quality, gain the lasting satisfaction of furniture that is really fine, actually saving money in the end.

The Karpen nameplate is their guide. Finding it, they know, too, they have found the utmost value possible to give in furniture for living room, library, sun room, and reception hall.

Distinctive and lasting beauty at prices that mean most value assured by the Karpen nameplate.
