BILL PRESENTED TO PERMIT $30,000,000 HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE

Bills Presented in Assembly Today Would Make $20,000,000 of Bonds Available During This Year

Raleigh, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Pills authorizing the issuance of $30,000,000 in highway bonds were introduced in both branches of the General Assembly today. The bill sponsored by the administration would provide that no more county loans may be accepted but do not exclude donations from this source. Provision is also made that all such obligations shall be clearly defined before any monies are expended from the new bond issue.

Known as the "Highway Bond Act of 1927," the 16 sections provide in part that not more than $1,000,000 of the bonds shall be issued in any one calendar year except that the Governor and Council of State may permit the issuance up to and including $20,000,000 of the bonds in 1927. The measure would go into effect immediately upon ratification by both branches of the Assembly.

The House passed the Senate the insurance measure which would exempt from medical examination applications of $5,000 insurance instead of $2,000 as at present. The measure was passed intact of all proposed amendments, which were aimed to increase exemption.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported favorably the two bank bills advocated by the Federal Land Bank, Columbia, S. C. One of these bills simply makes it possible to lend farmers money for production purposes with the loan running one year from date of loaning instead of to the end of the calendar year. The other bill would allow intermediate credit corporations to charge up to 20 per cent above what is charged by the Federal Land Bank and fiscal agents which lend money in the markets of the world.

The Senate deferred most of the controversial points by delaying consideration of several measures on the calendar until some future date.

The Associated Press learned that Senator Royal, of Wayne County, proposes tomorrow to introduce a measure calling for an election on a constitutional amendment to make some changes in the tax law.

A message from Governor McLean brought a report of pardons and paroles during the last two years.

Representative Haywood Montgomery presented a resolution to amend the House rule to prevent any committee to report a bill without giving the introducer of the bill ample time to appear before it. He claimed the Health Committee ratiocinated his anti-immunity bill to an adverse report without giving him a hearing. The bill had been framed to prohibit the sale of alleged immoral devices.

The Board of Trustees of State College Extension Division met with Governor McLean at noon today to consider items recommended for the institution. Through Dr. Brooks, president, the college presented its needs to the joint appropriation committee which took no action on the request for $40,000 for a home for the president or the campus and for additional amounts to those recommended for extension work.

Marking Streets For Better Parking

Authorities have begun the re-marking of the city streets designating parking spaces in an effort to facilitate the parking of automobiles and to make use of all available parking space. While the parking on Evans street in the business section is continue straight to the curb, as has been the custom for some time, a system of double marking has been adopted which will mean that if followed by the motorists, will permit the parking of more cars on the block.

Mayor J. C. Lanier has issued a statement urging all motorists to observe the parking lines on the city streets. When you park on Evans street head straight to the curb and see to it that your car is between the lines marked for it. In this way there will be room left for more cars and the present evil of lost space will be overcome.

TODAY

All Right, Now. Coolidge, Mellon, Hoover. Perhaps the Prince Reads. If Carnegie Knew It.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

The stock market, barometer that tells how the nation feels, a little seasick on Tuesday, reported its "industrials and railways" in excellent condition.

Don't gamble in stocks or you will lose money.

But if you have got anything worth keeping, KEEP IT. Some tell you, "people buy too many automobiles. The thing can't go on. Saturation must be reached some time."

Complete nonsense. When there were fewer than eighty million people in the United States, and the average man made $1.50 a day, this country bought 2,000,000 buggies each year. Why shouldn't 115,000,000 people, making $5 a day or better, buy three automobiles for every buggy the $1.50 U. S. A. used to buy? What applies to automobiles applies to other things.

This is the richest country in the world and is spending its money.

Senator Weller, of Maryland, says President Coolidge will be nominated and elected in 1928 and carry the Democratic state of Maryland. Not all will agree with that, but assuming that the President is willing to take a SECOND nomination, (there is no third-term question) it is not easy to see how he can be beaten, with the nation prosperous and wages high.

Should President Coolidge decide against a second nomination Washington thinks the candidate would be Secretary Mellon or Secretary Hoover.

Either would be hard to beat. Both understand the country's business, and until the big war shall have been thoroughly digested, business, including Mr. Mellon's job of paying for the war, will be the thing.

Old-fashioned Tories criticize the Prince of Wales, who goes among working people, joining their social enterprises, war reunions, etc. That is unworthy of royalty in Tory eyes.

The young prince may have found time to read royal history and doesn't want to imitate Louis the Sixteenth, who wrote in his diary one word, "Nothing," on July 14, when the bastille fell.

The prince going to a working girls' dance, may be doing more for the British royalty than all the Tories, with all their monies.

When Andrew Carnegie sold his mills to United States Steel, he wouldn't take preferred stock as a gift, laughed at the common stock, saying it wasn't even water it was "air." Recent figures would surprise and probably annoy Mr. Carnegie's Scotch thrift.

The steel company in 1926 earned $199,004,741, enough to pay $17.96 a share on the common stock, a new record of peace-time prosperity in the steel business.

Don't tell this country short.

Dreams of "perpetual peace" under the hovering wings of the League of Nations are pleasant, cold facts less pleasant.

Jugo-Slavia, alarmed by Italy's progress in the Balkans and her close alliance with Hungary, prepares for war. A bi garage is part of the plan, all reserve officers are called for intensive training, and factories have begun feverish production of rifles, machine-guns, cannon, and little Jugo-Slavia will build 200 fighting airplanes annually. Big, rich, fat, sleepy Uncle Same, take notice!

Bolshevik government of the Ukraine, whither Mazepa fled to join the Cossacks after his ride on the wild horse, has scattered the monks of the oldest monastery in Russia.

Established at Kiev more than 1,500 years ago, the monastery sheltered monks and priests thru good times and bad. The Ukrainian government drives out monks and priests, ordering them to engage in ordinary occupation.

Russia's effort to discourage human interest in religion evident by not abandoned, will succeed no better than such efforts have succeeded in the past. Man is by nature religious.

Dry raiders seize 25,000 worth of "blending" machinery used to manufacture benedictine, chartreuse, and other liquors. The "blending" has been going on, full blast, for four months. Many an American has damaged his mucous membrane, absorbing the product of that machinery.

Watch colds and look out for influenza, continuing its spread in Europe. In Sweden military training operations have been prevented by it. It may come here. Don't get it.

AMERICA SHOWS INTEREST TODAY IN BRITISH OFFER

Interest Turns to Great Britain's Offer of Peace Terms to Chinese Factions

Washington, Jan. 28.—(AP)—While the United States awaits reaction of the warring Peking and Cantonese factions in its peace overture extended to both in the form of an expressed willingness to negotiate new treaties with responsible delegates, interest turned today to Great Britain, now described as preparing to offer China generous terms in the hope of bringing order out of chaos.

Washington officials were keenly interested in any plan offered by the British. Secretary Kellogg said that the only question facing the United States was that until safety of American lives and property was absolutely assured in the Chinese civil war and naval disorders, American naval forces would stand by as a precautionary step.

Knight of Road Has Narrow Escape in Winterville Jail

A knight of the road, more commonly known in these parts as a tramp, had a narrow escape and harrowing experience in the Winterville guardhouse Wednesday night when the building caught fire, but when officers unlocked the jail yesterday morning, other than being smoked black, he was not much worse off for his experience.

Wednesday night the tramp reached Winterville, and as the mercury had taken a tremendous drop he feared it would be too cold to remain out of doors for the night and applied to officers for permission to sleep in the town lock-up. This permission was granted and after he entered he asked the officer to lock the door behind him in order that he might not be accused of any wrong doing that might take place in the city during the night.

When officers went down yesterday morning to turn the traveler out, they found the guard house on fire, and upon investigation, found him in a far corner of the room and smoked almost beyond recognition.

According to his version of the affair the bedclothing had caught fire from the oil stove that the officer had furnished him for heat and being unable to extinguish the blaze or to make his cries for help heard on the outside, he had retreated to the far corner of the lock-up to wait for what might happen.

ENGLAND MAKES GENEROUS TERMS TO THE CHINESE

Colonial Secretary Declares He Cannot Conceive of Chinese Rejection Terms

London, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Another indication that the British government is doing everything possible to avoid armed conflict with the Chinese was seen today in the word of the Secretary of the Colonial Department. Following up the announcement that the government had formulated generous terms in the hope of arriving at settlement, he declared that non-acceptance of the terms was inconceivable.

Only the influence of Bolsheviki agents over the real will of China he believed could account for their rejection. It was not the government's intention, he said, to declare war, to seek conquest, to have a part in the internal struggles in China, nor a desire to influence negotiations through the forces sent to China.

DEMOCRATS RENEW THEIR FIGHT FOR REDUCTION TAXES

Harrison Introduces Resolution to Put Senate on Record as Favoring Action Now.

Washington, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The Democratic fight to attach a tax reduction proposal to the $184,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill finally failed today when the Senate raised the appropriation bill without any tax amendment.

SUB COMMITTEE TO STUDY NEEDS OF COLLEGE HERE

Appeal by Dr. Wright Brings Action on Part of Appropriations Committee of Assembly

Raleigh, Jan. 28.—Following the making of what several legislators regarded as the most convincing appeal yet made before the joint Senate and House Appropriations Committee, Chairman Zeb Turlington and Pat Williams yesterday named a sub-committee to go to Greenville and investigate the needs of the East Carolina Teachers' College.

The members of the sub-committee are Chairman Turlington, Representative Price and Makepeace, and Senators Salmon and Royal. They will go down to Greenville Wednesday morning and intend to make a thorough investigation into the needs of the school.

The needs of the college were presented by its president Dr. Robert H. Wright and F. C. Harding, chairman of the building committee. Both declared the amounts recommended by the advisory budget commission were insufficient to take care of half that needs to be done at the school.

Dr. Wright did not lower the amount of his original request, but told the legislators if they could not see their way clear to appropriate the entire amount of $1,035,005 asked for permanent improvements, to give what they could. The budget commission recommended that $280,000 be appropriated for improvements at the school, but specified that the amount be used for seven specific purposes.

The restrictions thus placed on the $280,000, declared Mr. Harding, would prevent the use of the money in making improvements to and enlarging the laundry facilities at the school. He mentioned a number of other things he said that needed to be done. But they could not be done unless the committee removed the restrictions.

If the school, he said, is to receive only the amount recommended by the budget commission it wanted the money "without any strings tied to it."

Dr. Wright said the Administration building needed repairing and fire-proofing as well as other physical parts of the school plant. These things cannot be done, he said, with the amounts recommended. He was, however, willing to leave the matter with the members of the committee and let them decide what they thought the school should have in the way of an appropriation for the next biennium.

The amount recommended will not be sufficient, he said, to provide for enlargement of the school facilities so as to provide for all those who want to enter the college to take training to become teachers.

"Thousands of little children are holding up their hands and crying out to us to send them some one to lead them out of darkness," said Dr. Wright. Half of the rural teachers are not properly trained and the net result is that the State loses money annually because the children do not get started right in school.

East Carolina Teachers' College he said, does nothing but turn out teachers, who are prepared to teach. Some of them get married and quit teaching, others pass away, others quit teaching profession, but of all those who have graduated from the school 61-12 per cent of them were still in teaching business last year.

This percentage had the effect of quite astounding the legislators, who declared they were more than satisfied that good work is being done by Dr. Wright and his associates.

Dr. Wright said he had no fight to make on the recommendation of the budget commission and wanted to co-operate with that body, but he thought something ought to be done for education, North Carolina some day, he said would reach the point where it could not issue any more bonds.

"And if we don't do something to educate these children who will have to pay for the bonds we are now buying, may the Lord have mercy upon us," he said.

CASE AGAINST EDWARD EVANS EXPECTED TO BE GIVEN JURY LATE TODAY

ONLY FEW HOURS REMAIN OF HIGH VOTING PERIOD

Votes Given in Subscription Contest Decrease Tomorrow and Entry Lists Closes

Those who hope to be in any way successful in the Daily Reflector subscription campaign, must make the most of those few remaining hours of the big voting week which closes at eight tomorrow night. The golden opportunity of the entire campaign is at hand. Work accomplished this week will have more bearing on the ultimate outcome than any work that may be done in the remaining two weeks of the contest.

At the present writing the race for the top of the list and the leading prize of a Studebaker Custom Sedan valued at $1,295, is very close. More than half a dozen contestants out of the thirteen entrants have it within their power to do the work before Saturday that will place them in the lead over all others. Any legal establishment this week will mean a lot in securing victory. Next week with the votes given on subscriptions counting a fifth less means a lot more work to accomplish the same results this week.

Big things are looked for from every body on the list between now and the closing hour of this most important period on Saturday. Two more weeks' worth of votes are counted before the awarding of the two automobiles and the various cash prizes takes place.

Almost an hour now reports are looked for from such splendid canvassers as Miss Martha Congleton of Lees who did so well during the past week; Miss Annie Mayo of Falkland who with the able assistance of her friend and co-worker Mrs. Ethel Mayo, have making rapid strides toward one of the cars. Where will the Greenville contestants for the more than $4,000 in prizes stand on the list when such workers as Mrs. John Carroll of Winterville and Mrs. Sugg Fleming of Pictious make their final report for the week?

Records galore are looked for from the city candidates. Word comes over the phone from Mrs. R. T. Cox that she will report this week after having handicapped a week through sickness. With the exception of this one week Mrs. Cox has done exceptionally fine work and will direct effort during the remainder of the contest should place her name well toward the top of the list when the judges make their announcement.

Other city candidates expected to include Mrs. T. M. Gorman, Jr., Miss Rose Hadley, Mrs. Blanche Cherry, Miss Louise Jones, Miss Christine Pollard, Miss Irma Cox, Mrs. Wade Holmes and Mrs. J. B. Roberts.

Along with the first decrease in votes given on paid subscription to The Reflector, tomorrow will go the close of the entry list. At the present time there are thirteen entrants listed for the Studebaker (Chevrolet Coach) and the cash prizes of $200, $75, $50 and $40. No others will be allowed to enter and compete for these prizes after tomorrow night.

THREE NEW YORK FIREMEN KILLED

Five Others Seriously Hurt When Building Collapses Early This Morning

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The body of a third fireman was being sought today in the fire-swept ruins of a seven story loft building in the lower eastside in which two men lost their lives when three floors collapsed. Five other firemen of the ten caught in the wreckage were in the hospital today suffering from fractures and burns.

Final Arguments in Second Degree Murder Case Being Made by Counsel Members This Afternoon

Arguments in the case against Edward Evans, 24, who is being tried for second degree murder as an outgrowth of an affray in which Leland and Wilfred Stancill lost their lives, will be completed this afternoon and following the judge's charge the case will probably reach the jury late today. Hearings in the case began yesterday morning and all the evidence was in shortly after court opened today.

Evans is charged with the killing of Leland Stancill while his half brother, Francis Johnson 13, is charged with the killing of Wilfred Stancill. The present trial is that of Evans and no announcement has yet been made as to the action that will be taken against Johnson in view of the fact that his age will not permit his being tried in Superior Court.

The death of the two Stancill brothers was the result of an affray that followed an argument between Evans and Leland Stancill, who lived in the same house with Evans, as to who should park their automobile under a shed on the place.

According to witnesses, Leland Stancill, after an argument with Evans regarding the use of the shed, placed his shotgun in his car and went off to get his brothers. When he returned with his brothers Evans proceeded them to the shelter to protect his automobile and when they reached the spot where he stood a fight between them ensued. During the struggle Leland Stancill's gun was discharged the lead taking effect in his body. Stancill was holding the gun at the time the shot was discharged and the contention of the prosecution in the case was that Evans got his hands on the trigger of the gun and fired it into Stancill's body. The defense contended that Stancill in an effort to knock Evans out with the butt of the gun struck the barn and also that the discharge of the gun was caused by the impact. The broken shot gun was presented in the court as evidence.

Wilfred Stancill, who was engaged with his brothers in the affray with Evans met his death at the hands of Francis Johnson, 13, who in the excitement is alleged to have run into the house, procured a rifle and shot Stancill as he and his brothers and Evans were all piled on the ground in a scuffle. The action against the Johnson had not yet been announced.

Brick and Tile Business in State On the Increase

Raleigh, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Ceramic industries in North Carolina have gone forward by leaps and bounds since the close of the World War.

This is revealed in figures garnered from records of the United States Department of Commerce and made public today by the Department of Ceramic engineering at State College.

Common brick, face brick and hollow tile were the principal products reflecting increases.

Rise in the value of face brick produced in 1918 to $624,570 from $3,090 in 1918 to $624,570 in 1925, an increase of 6,939 per cent. Hollow tile ran up in value from $19,650 to $61,125 or an increase of 211 per cent. Common brick increased in value from $1,289,073 to $2,375,229 and in percentage 84 points.

College officials attributed a large part of the increase to the efforts of the ceramic engineering department during its operations over the last three years. They predict that the figures for 1926 will show even greater increases in the production of the products mentioned, especially in the case of hollow tile, as two new plants have recently been put into operation with a capacity ten times as great as the total amount reported in 1925.

Observers at the college predict that if building in North Carolina keeps up with the record set in former years, there will be a steady increased demand for native clay products, as most projected building is of the fire-proof construction type.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Kansas City, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Now that inspiration is cheaper, the light on top of the huge Liberty War Memorial here, which was dedicated by President Coolidge last Armistice Day, may soon be burning again.

This light, which is architecturally termed "the flame of inspiration," was discontinued recently, owing to the heavy expense of maintaining it.

To explain it resembles an actual flame of fire, but is produced by a shaft of reddish amber light thrown on a cloud of steam emerging from the top of the high pillar in the center of the memorial.

It cost $5.35 an hour to keep the flame of inspiration burning an audit revealed, and the board of governors thought the figure a little high. But engineers came to the rescue, tinkered with the machinery a few days and announced that henceforth the Liberty Memorial could dispense inspiration at $1.50 an hour—a gratifying result to the board of governors.

"Little Italy" in Kansas City's north end—the heart of the city's underworld and the seat of the bootlegging industry—has derived its latest boost from the constitutional dry forces in the Missouri legislature at Jefferson City.

The most recent attempt to enforce Missouri's home dry law is by making the carrying of a hip pocket flask a penitentiary offense—imprisonable by a fine. Such a bill was introduced at Jefferson City by Senator A. L. McCarty, dry leader in the upper house.

Another legislative measure, however is hailed enthusiastically by Kansas citizens. It would provide penitentiary sentences of from two to five years for theatre owners who sell more tickets than there are seats in the house. This city has always been a patronizing show town—too patronizing, often for the capacities of its theatres.

"We want you to tax each of us $100 a year," said the city's master painters and decorators recently.

The city manager scratched his head, but promised them, nevertheless, that he would ask the city council to grant the annual request.

Now the joker has been discovered.

When the council examined the tax ordinance desired by the decorators, they found an innocent appearing paragraph sandwiched into its clauses, which stated that all old paper, paint and canvas must be scraped from walls before new paper could be applied.

Scratching paper off a wall is a bigger job than putting it on some one revealed, and customers are charged accordingly.

Thus, by marking behind the $100 a year tax, the painters and decorators were, under the ordinance, doubling their profit on each job.

Ship Building in Yards of U. S. Is On Up Grade

Washington, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Shipbuilding, for the first time since 1924, apparently is on the up-grade, according to the Commerce Department.

For the first time in three years an increase in world shipbuilding was shown by returns from all maritime countries for the quarter ending December 31.

On that date gross tonnage of vessels under construction totaled 1,932,927 tons, an increase of more than 85,000 tons as compared with the end of the preceding quarter.

No other quarter since that ending June 30, 1924, has shown a gain over the preceding period, but in comparison with the 1924 figure the present total marks a decline of more than 500,000 tons, the statement said.

Several changes occurred in the ranking of the various countries during the quarter under survey.

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

Although the total for Great Britain and Ireland showed a small decline in the first quarter of 1927, Italy ranked next, also showing a decline from its figure of September.

Italy's hold on second place is threatened by Germany which scored a sharp advance during the quarter. At the end of September Germany was building about 150,000 tons less than Italy. Germany then stood in fifth place, but by nearly doubling her September figure, is now in third place—only 28,000 tons behind Italy.

The United States which ranked sixth in September, moved up to fourth place, while the Netherlands with a former ranking of third dropped fifty.

The returns show a sharp contrast between Great Britain and Ireland and other maritime countries in the matter of new work begun during the last quarter and work being pushed toward completion in the same period. While only 67,853 gross tons of steamers and motorships were launched in Britain and Ireland, construction was started on 151,974 tons.

With the other maritime countries combined, however, new work was considerably less than the total represented by launchings, vessel for which keels were laid representing 260,442 tons, as against 329,295 tons of shipping launched.

New work represented 411,496 tons with 397,148 tons launched in the world in the last quarter.

The Commerce Department statement showed that building of tanker vessels which for sometime has been on the decline, increased fifty per cent from the September to December quarters. Of this gain nearly 50,000 tons represented the increase in Great Britain and Ireland.

Construction of motor ships showed a gain of 75,000 tons, although Great Britain, Ireland and Italy which have been the leaders in this class of building, reported decreases.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Literary Department of the Woman's Club was entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. T. Futrell. Mrs. W. H. Woolard, chairman, presided. Each member answered the roll call with a current event or an item of interest. The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved. Having no further business the meeting was turned over to the program.

Mrs. J. H. Randolph read an interesting biography of the life of Mrs. Burtan Harrison. The club was fortunate and pleased to have Miss Turner of the college on the program. She charmed and delighted us all with an interesting talk on what the South had given to the world in authors, literary poems and folk tales. After her half hour talk, we felt very much enlightened on Southern writers. The club had as guest, Miss Turner and Mrs. H. W. White. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. White, served tea and sandwiches.

SENIOR BOYS HOLD FIRST MEETING AND BANQUET

(Reported)

Last night at seven o'clock, the Senior Boys' Club held its first meeting and banquet at the Rotary Club. The real spirit of Seniors prevailed throughout the evening.

The meeting was opened by the president, Archie Sage. This was followed by a prayer by James Skinner. When these were finished, the fun began. An elaborate banquet was laid before the club, and for fear that the faculty would eat too much, they were asked to make speeches. Mr. Porter chose for his subject "How I Keep Thin." As he is trying to take on a little weight, he cut his topic short in order that he might resume doing away with his part of the banquet.

Principal Keech had no time to prepare a speech so he followed Mr. Porter by telling the club how he kept fat. He, too, seemed to be trying to gain weight, so he told all that he had to say in a very few words.

On behalf of the guest Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen, Joseph Dixon expressed delight in being a member. Joseph was about to change his mind when it was suggested that they be initiated. One way of initiating is by the whipping method, but this did not hurt half as bad as the motion that they receive their degree by refraining to eat the pie set before them. They were kept in suspense for a few minutes, then the president announced that they might proceed to devour the pie.

Mr. Oakes, teacher of sciences, was then asked to say a few words. He also gave a few words of appreciation for being invited into the club.

Next it was decided that the honor members and faculty sing for the Seniors. Mr. Porter arose and made light to the fact that examinations were near and that it was best to leave the faculty out. This made no difference, examinations have to come anyhow, so the three faculty members walked out to the middle of the floor where they were joined by the honor members. The song was very much enjoyed (???)

When "Sweet Adeline" was played, the boys departed, looking forward to the next meeting.

THE SAME OLD GAG

Does Mr. Coolidge realize the position in which he will find himself if he refuses to follow the unanimous advice of the Senate that the dispute with Mexico be arbitrated? Has Mr. Coolidge made any inquiries as to who these gentlemen are in whose behalf he is threatening to break off diplomatic relations, raise the embargo on arms, precipitate a revolution and perhaps ultimately intervene with the navy and the army of the United States? We do not believe Mr. Coolidge can have made these inquiries. For if he had made these inquiries he would have discovered the very startling fact that the opposition to the Mexican law originates in and is largely confined to the very same oil interests and the very same oil men who brought disgrace upon the Harding Administration.

The facts are now available and there is no further excuse for silence or for mincing words. On Tuesday the New York Evening Post published a dispatch from Mexico City sent by Secretary Hoover's old associate during the war, Commander George Barr Baker. It was on Mr. Baker's investigations that a large part of the policy of the Belgian, Austrian, Russian and German relief work was based. He is a trained investigator and a man of very wide experience in governmental affairs. The information he sends back from Mexico City is entitled to credence. The World gives it credence not only because of Mr. Baker's personal reputation, but because the information he has sent back agrees with the information now at this office.

The information is this:

There are approximately 28,500,000 acres of oil lands on which rights were acquired before May 1, 1917. This is the total acreage about which there is any dispute. The rights to this acreage are held by 666 foreign oil companies.

Of these 666 foreign oil companies, all but twenty-two have obeyed the law by applying for a "confirmatory concession." The twenty-two companies which have thus far refused to obey the law claim rights on about 1,600,000 acres, less than 6 per cent of the total.

Of these 1,600,000 acres, 750,000 acres, or over 46 per cent, are owned by a company in which Edward L. Doheny has a large interest.

So much for the information now available through Mr. Baker's despatch to the New York Evening Post. To this we have information of our own to add. Not only does the opposition to the law centre chiefly in Mr. Doheny and his well-known partners in the Standard Oil of Indiana, but they have taken along with them in support of their protest the large and powerful interests of Harry F. Sinclair. The heart of the opposition is the same group of oil men who engineered Teapot Dome and Elk Hills. It is a significant fact that these gentlemen have not obeyed the law, while those American oil interests who were not involved in the scandals of the Harding regime have in large part, obeyed the law. Why is it that of all the property involved only 5 per cent is disobeying the law, and that half of this irremediable property is owned by Mr. Doheny and the Standard Oil of Indiana?

It is not our purpose to argue that Mr. Doheny should be denied protection, for any legitimate rights which may be injured. But we do argue that before the President of the United States commits himself irrevocably to a quarrel with another nation in which Mr. Doheny and his associates are the chief protagonists, he should make doubly and triply sure that Mr. Doheny's case is a good one. The people of the United States cannot forget how Mr. Doheny acted when he was dealing with his own Government. They will expect Calvin Coolidge to remember that a man who will do what Mr. Doheny has done needs to be watched with the utmost care.

Let Mr. Coolidge look out. Let Mr. Coolidge be cautious. If ever in his whole career he needed to be prudent now. He is in greater danger at this moment of ruining himself and his party than he has ever been before. The American people have not forgotten the Harding Administration. It has not forgotten that Albert B. Fall not only helped Edward L. Doheny to obtain the naval oil reserve "by fraud and conspiracy," to use the language of the United States District Court, but that Fall, the friend of Doheny, was a persistent advocate of war with Mexico. The American people have not forgotten that Edward L. Doheny did not hesitate to cover his transactions with the cloak of patriotism and to instigate trouble between the United States and Japan.

Let Mr. Coolidge beware of reviving an association with a group of oil interests who have brought nothing but humiliation to the Republican Party and to the Government of the United States. These gentlemen have once defrauded the United States Government out of its most valuable oil properties. They are now engaged in a quarrel with the Mexican Government about some other oil properties. Let Mr. Coolidge take care that after all that they have already done they do not also involve this country in a war. —N. Y. World.

Go the Limit, Says the Boss

SELL THE STOCK REGARDLESS SELL IT I WILL, AND DON'T MEAN MAYBE
That is all I do—A Meat and Bread proposition. I have come here to demonstrate to you the power of a Sales Manager that has no conscience when it comes to cutting prices. I have orders to go the limit and sell the stock straight from the shoulder. I am going to hand it to you, Don't buy a nickel's worth of anything here unless you can buy it cheaper than you can buy it elsewhere. This is a bold challenge, but I will make it hold. I have made the prices so low on these stocks that it will make this store the scene of the Biggest Scramble for Bargains ever witnessed by the people of this section. A free hand is what I have, and you can't be wrong, for I will sell Nothing But Bargains. Don't come unless you can stand the trills of the Biggest and cheapest Sale in the history of our lives. For prices will be so low that your dollar will speak out loud and grab them.

SPREAD THE NEWS FAR AND WIDE—
REMEMBER THERE IS ONLY A FEW DAYS
It Is All Doomed to Go!

Go the Limit—Sell the Stock—Says Mr. Hatem.
From the day that I set began business up to the present time, it has been my highest aim to give the people of this city the biggest dollar's worth of merchandise possible. The rapid growth of my business, and the liberal patronage that I have enjoyed has been very gratifying to me. This, the beginning of a New Year, finds me with too many goods, so I have decided to close them out. My loss will be great, but I am going to take my medicine cheerfully. This entire Stock (both shoes and clothing) is now in the hands of a sales organization who have strict orders to GO THE LIMIT and sell it. Not a pair of shoes or a suit of clothes shall remain on my racks and shelves if low prices will move them. I am not going out of business, but I am making the prices just the same as if I were. No use leaving this sticking around. Better get a little than get nothing, so that I will be able to greet you with new and reasonable merchandise for spring.

 New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)— Cotton futures opened steady today. March 13.24; May 13.24; July 13.65; October 13.84; December 14.00.

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—
 The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 4 to 6 points in response to higher Liverpool cables. Some Southern selling and some local selling on a bearish interpretation of a report from the Department of Agriculture on drastic reductions in acreage, were absorbed with in a point or two of the opening prices. The market showed net gains of about 6 to 8 points at the end of the first hour, March selling at 13.07 and October 13.38.

STOCKS
 New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—
 Stock prices moved irregular higher at the opening of today's stock market. Wheeling and Lake Erie common, opened three points high or at 57 and jumped on the next sale to 58 1/4 on further buying influenced by the demand for delivery of the stock large blocks of which have been sold short in the last few weeks. Eastman Kodak dropped 1 3/4 points on the first sale and Kresge yielded fractionally to the lowest prices in about two years.

British Trade Boom Promises Good Year

London, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The first month of 1927 has passed with the bright prospect of far better days ahead for the industries of Britain.

The coal miners have re-started work with a terrific punch. Coal constitutes the basic industry of the country. Frank Hodges, Secretary of the International Miners' Federation, who knows as much about the industry, predicts that, with hard work, British coal trade can be won back, and that a substantial move towards recovery and prosperity will be made within the next two years.

Engineering, which has suffered badly through the coal shortage, looks forward to a keen revival. J. H. Brownlie, head of the Trade Union, in his annual statement, speaks optimistically about the immediate future of the industry. Many valuable orders have already been obtained.
 The Southern Railroad alone started the ball rolling by giving a $30,000,000 order for work in connection with its electrification scheme.

One comparatively small engineering firm at Darlington has already booked a $3,000,000 order for the year.
 The withdrawal of short-time restrictions in the cotton trade is bound to bring about a big improvement in Lancashire. Once the China trade is regained the cotton industry looks forward to a boom in the industry.

South Wales has never started a year under such favorable auspices. Owners say that the stoppage of their supplies during and after the strike gave their coal the great boost it ever had owing to the failure of foreign substitutes.

In the Welsh anthracite area gigantic developments are taking place, and this coal field, today the smallest in Britain, is expected to rank as one of the wealthiest and most important in the country by the end of the year.
