FIRST PERIOD OF CONTEST CLOSES BLAZE OF GLORY

Contestants Vie With One Another For Lead as Votes De- crease for First Time

True to predictions made days ago, the first period of the Reflector subscription and prize contest came to a close last Saturday night in a blaze of glory. Previous records for votes earned through paid in advance subscriptions were shattered time after time as the greatest array of ambitious workers ever assembled by the paper for a like campaign made their reports.

All of the thirteen entrants reported. Some reported for the first time for the week on Saturday while the final report of others on that day was but the last of several splendid offerings made during the course of the week.

At this writing the winners of the $1,250 Studebaker, Chevrolet Coach and the cash prizes seem more uncertain than ever. No idea may be had either as to who the probable ones will be that will finish outside the first six places and thereby earn a commission check. Actual leadership between city and outside contenders for the more than $3,000 in prizes seems to hang in the balance.

It would be hard to single out any one particular contestant of the thirteen entered and praise them individually for their fine work since the contest started, and particularly for their efforts during the past week. All have done so wonderfully. Of course there are some listed who have done much more work than others but there is no way of telling if they will continue. The records of the campaign are filled with upsets in the standings caused by the slackening of some and the spurring of others. The two remaining weeks of the drive will tell the story.

Those who did their best last week may feel satisfied in the knowledge that they did their best when the best meant so much. Never again will votes given on subscriptions to The Reflector during the remainder of the contest count for so much. Remember, it is not the amount of subscription money earned but the number of votes secured that earn the prizes.

Today the Second Period of the contest opens, and closes on Saturday. This week marks the fifth one since the inauguration of the drive on the part of The Reflector for a larger reader influence. While votes given this week count less than those to be had last week, still they mean a whole lot more than next week when the contest comes to a close. Less votes will be given during the final contest week than any other week of the campaign. Nothing in the way of extra votes will be offered now or any other time other than those that the contestants know about.

Workers should keep in mind the opportunity cards given on three year subscriptions. In addition to the votes shown on the schedule each three year subscription will earn 50,000 additional votes. But fifteen of these cards will be allowed during the entire campaign. They may be filled out all in one period or scattered throughout the length of the contest.

North Carolina to Have Official Song

Raleigh, N. C. Jan. 31.—(AP)—North Carolina will at last have an official song if a bill introduced in the General Assembly last week becomes law.

The bill was introduced by Judge Francis D. Winston, Bertie, at the request of Mrs. John O. Anderson, Fayetteville, historian of the N. C. Division of the U. D. C.

Mrs. Anderson was in the assembly hall for the introduction of the bill, and related something of the history of the song, "The Old North State."

She said that it was during the Whig convention in August, 1840 that Judge Gaston wrote the song. The convention, assembled in the open air on the west side of the capitol, heard an air produced by a foreign minstrel that was so beautiful that the convention expressed its desire to have appropriate words for it.

To gratify the body and the children of General J. F. Taylor, Judge Gaston wrote the word on the night of August 5.

TODAY

Harsh Words, Mister.
Gladstone's Bones.
A Dying Drink.
The Leisured Woman.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

The 1928 convention and nomination, so far as the Democrats are concerned, is starting already Mr. McAdoo, from out of the west, tells eastern lawyers that the effort of individual states to set aside prohibition laws means embarking on the slippery side of anarchy.

This is, of course, aimed at New York's wetness, with Governor Smith presiding over it.

Mr. McAdoo even says that the effort to modify the Volstead law is "a concerted advance upon the national government by the forces which since the days of Tweed and Croker have been mainly responsible for selling protection against the law to crime and criminals." It looks like a fight.

"Them is harsh words," as the wife said when the philosopher called her "an isosceles parallelo-epideon."

Cyrus H. K. Curtis' paper says Messrs. Baruch and Chadbourne, who were the big fighting men in the McAdoo camp of 1924, have moved over to the Governor Smith camp, and are for him now.

A suit is brought against Lord Gladstone, son of the great home ruler, by the author of a black-guard book attacking Gladstone's memory.

That British law should allow the name of Gladstone, dead 25 years, to be dragged into the mud, is amazing. As to Gladstone's morals, this writer can testify from the regular work of the House of Commons at three in the morning or later, night after night, his old wife waited for him at the door under the clock tower to wrap a big muffler about his neck and take him home. That was when he made his fight for home rule on the opposition bench.

That suit digging into Gladstone's grave brings out the statement that for love of a pretty Russian spy, sent to England to get hold of him and influence him, Gladstone prevented wars. That sounds more like Hollywood history than real history. But if the thing really happened it would be worth while to find some of that spy's younger sisters and scatter them around in Europe, or possibly even on this side of the ocean.

Fireman Angelone, of New York, died with bricks and mortar sticking him down, one hand sticking out. Father Alexander McCarthy, a Catholic priest, crawled across a bridge formed by two firemen, administered the last rites. The fireman said, "Thank you, Father, could you give me a drink? I am freezing."

A resident directed a prosperous outlook to "speakeasy," a bottle of whiskey was bought and passed to the dying fireman. What chance would there be of convicting the buyer or seller of that lady Rhonda, British woman, said "existence of the leisured woman constitutes a grave message to civilization," but it really does not. Eve, a leisured woman, "might have kept out of mischief with a sewing machine or typewriter to keep her busy. Her descendants have done fairly well, however."

A woman must have twenty-five years of study and leisure, then twenty years to produce and bring up children. The rest of her life should include leisure to inspire men with ambitious energy. Women ought not to work, only create, and inspire dull male workers.

It may confront you to know that there is prosperity somewhere. New York's Park Avenue Association says that street leads the world for "concentrated private buying power." A prosperous little group living in Park Avenue has $200,000,000 to spend on luxuries, on things pleasant, but not necessary. The average annual income in that modern canyon of fashion and wealth is $75,000. Where money is, business goes.

Mr. Franklia Simon, of New York, a merchant who knows business, has said that Park Avenue, before long, will be one of the greatest retail streets in the whole world. You might buy yourself a lot there.

Russian population is increasing and Russia means to keep the new young Russians, not offer them up to any warlike moloch or Asiatic minotaur.

Russia, under the Czar, had 182,000,000 population. Twenty-

BUSY WEEK AHEAD FOR MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Many Important Mea- sures Will Receive Consideration Dur- ing Present Week

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Nearing the halfway mark of the session the State Legislature had its fifth week beginning today after week-end recess. Procedure began to point more directly toward final legislation.

In sight were major committee reports to both houses on the backbone of the 60-day biennial session, Appropriations, Revenue, Roads, Education, Courts.

The all-important question, taxes, lay a little in the background, linked with the school question.

The Senate had before it tonight probably its busiest session for two measures that provoked opposition were down as special orders for consideration and another measure that was considered as possibly provoking a fight was put on for special order at request of the author of the measure.

First of the special orders was the bill providing for increase of the pay of Superior Court Judges. This would represent an increase of $1,500 over the present compensation for the judges.

Second special order was proposed to change the automobile license year from the fiscal year and the measure had been held up last week when Senator Hargett read an estimate from the highway commission indicating that the change would involve an expense to the State of about $150,000.

The House was ready to pick up work where it had left off following passage in the Senate the measure of Representative Woodard, of Nash, endorsed by State Insurance Department which would increase non-medical examination insurance from $2,000 to $5,000.

Reeves Resigns as Farm Demonstrator For Pitt County

L. B. Reeves, for the past four years Pitt County Farm Demonstration Agent, has resigned his position with the county and left today for Raleigh. He has accepted a position with Barrett and Company and will be in charge of the Agricultural Extension Service of the company in this State.

No announcement has yet been made as to who will succeed Mr. Reeves here in the capacity of Farm Demonstration Agent.

THREE OFFICERS SHOT YESTERDAY BY MOONSHINERS

Sheriff of Lee County and Two Deputies in Hospital as Result of Wounds

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Three alleged moonshiners were arrested 20 miles from here today and jailed here, following the shooting of Sheriff Turner, of Lee county yesterday. The three, Macon Harrison, New Ray and Bus-ton Tilley, were later in the day taken to Sanford on warrants in connection with the shooting.

Tom Davis, a fourth, was captured and held in Durham jail.

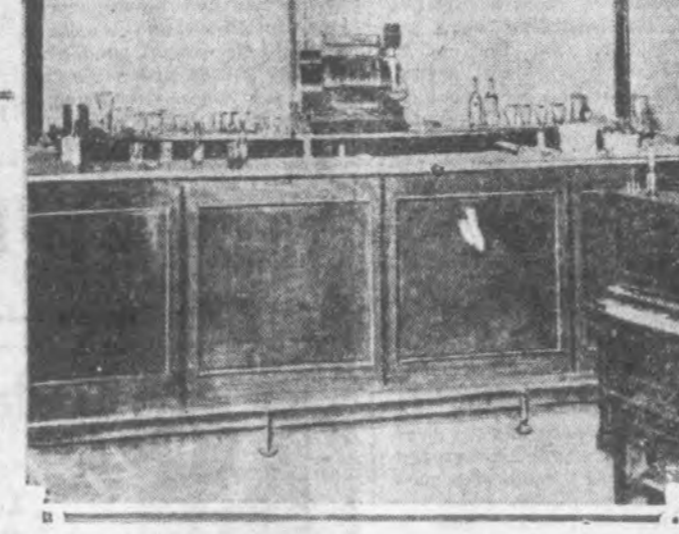

Sanford, Jan. 31.—(AP)—While the sheriff's office was closed today, the condition of Sheriff James L. Turner, of Lee county, and his two deputies were reported better at the hospital. The sheriff and deputies William Huntley and Leonard Craig were wounded by moonshiners Sunday at a still near here.

All three will recover if no complications set in, doctors said.

Five per cent of that was lost when the war took Poland and the Balkan countries. Russia's population, then cut to 110,000,000, has already gone up to 165,000,000.

China, India and Russia now lead the world in population. Official figures, 4,000,000, does not include men too old and babies too young to pay taxes. The total population probably exceeds 500,000,000, and that population is waking up.

Prohibition agents, raiding a New York night club, took these pictures. Patrons hid their faces from the camera to avoid identification.

CRIMINAL TERM SUPERIOR COURT ENDED SATURDAY

Many Road Sentences Meted Out by Judge Cramer During the Week

After hearing several cases Saturday and passing sentence in the Evans case Judge E. H. Cramer adjourned the regular term of court here. Following a week of civil cases Judge Cramer last week meted out a calendar of about a hundred criminal cases. Several of the cases were long drawn out and the week ended without the calendar being cleared. During the week a number of road and prison sentences were handed out to defendants by Judge Cramer.

Late Friday afternoon after the Evans case had gone to the jury, Thomas Elks and Hyman Hunt were found guilty on a larceny charge and sentenced to three months on the roads.

While most of the interest in court Saturday centered about the sentencing of Edward Evans, which was not passed until shortly after three o'clock, several cases were heard that resulted in road and prison sentences.

Sam Wilson, negro, was found guilty of abduction and sentenced to State prison for fifteen months. Clara May Whitfield plead guilty of assault and judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.

John Jones, negro, known as "Skin John" was convicted of larceny and given thirty days on the roads.

John Robertson, white man, plead guilty to secret assault with a deadly weapon upon his brother, and was given eighteen months in State prison.

Herbert Garris, white, charged with being a nuisance, was acquitted.

James McClain, convicted of larceny was sentenced to eight months in the roads.

Estimate Nation's Population Will Be
118,620,000 by July

Washington, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Computations of the government's census experts indicate that the population of continental United States on July 1, 1927 will be 118,620,000. That is an increase of 1,492,000 over the estimate for July 1, 1926 and an increase of 12,317,380 over the figure for January 1, 1920, when the last actual census was taken.

NO SENSATIONS APPEARED TODAY IN BROWNING SUIT

Testimony Quite Dif- ferent from What Crowded Courtroom Expected to Hear

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Edward W. Browning, New York real estate man and center in his separation suit with Frances Heenan Browning, opened his rebuttal today of his wife's charges. The court's ruling, however, kept much of the expected sensation out of today's hearing when a letter written by the young wife to a girl friend prior to the marriage was ruled out a severance by Justice Seeger as being irrelevant to what happened during the marriage of the real estate man and the 16-year-old girl.

Thousands who had crowded trial to the courtroom to hear a trial of most unspoken testimony stood up in the halls or jammed the courtroom to listen to testimony far from exciting.

Six witnesses had been called, four of whom took up the allegation that Mr. Browning suggested to Marian Tussey, girl friend of Mrs. Browning, that she try to recollect something adverse to Mrs. Browning and prior to her marriage. Miss Tussey herself testified that Browning had asked her if she had not seen Mrs. Browning before her marriage act improperly.

Steamer Sinks From Collision

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—The American steamship Juvity was sunk in the Delaware Bay early today when she collided with the British freighter Valmore.

The crew of thirty men was saved. A heavy fog was hanging over the bay at the time of the collision. The Valmore is bringing the rescued men to this city.

TO TRY GIRL FOR AUTO KILLING

High Point, N. C., Jan. 31.—(INS)—Trial of Miss Louise Crowder, 15-year-old High Point school girl charged with murder as a result of the killing of R. L. Crawley, Roanoke, Va., furniture dealer, will start here on February 1. Crawley was killed when he was struck by an automobile driven by the school girl. The school girl claimed that the accident was unavoidable.

At the same time, the girl's father, M. J. Crowder, is scheduled to be given a hearing on a charge of allowing a girl under age to drive an automobile.

FORMER HEAD OF STATE BANK ASSN. DIED YESTERDAY

Joseph G. Brown, Ra- leigh, Suffered Stroke as He Presid- ed Over Sunday School

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Funeral services were set for four o'clock this afternoon for Joseph G. Brown, prominent local banker and former president of the North Carolina Bankers Association. He died at his home here last night.

He was stricken with apoplexy as he was making an announcement about the cradle roll at the close of Sunday School at Edenton Street Methodist Church. He had presided as usual as superintendent, in which capacity he had served for many years.

They were his last words. He had steeled himself by holding to his chair and his words were not clearly audible. When his niece, Miss Mary Brown, spoke to him, he did not answer. The power of speech was gone, and he did not again regain consciousness.

He was 72 years old on his last birthday, November 4, and had been connected with the Citizens National Bank, of which he had been president for 32 years, since shortly after he left Trinity College in 1872. He was a former president of the State Bankers' Association a past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, and president of the board of trustees of Duke University.

He held many positions of prominence in the Methodist Church, but he prized most the position of superintendent of the Edenton Street Methodist Church Sunday School. He was elected superintendent of the board of trustees of the church. For 51 years he had been an official of the Sunday School. He died as he would have wished to die, as he presided over the Sunday School.

Mr. Brown's health had not been good for the last four years, but he had continued active in business as well as in church affairs. Only in the last few weeks he had taken an active part in the consolidation of the Citizens National Bank and the Raleigh Savings Bank and Trust Company, being president also of the latter bank, which was agreed upon at the annual meeting of the stockholders the first part of January.

Plans had been worked out by Mr. Brown and other officials of the two banks to erect a new home for the Raleigh Savings Bank and Trust Company similar to the ten story building occupied by the Citizens Bank.

Wilson May Go To Piedmont League

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 31.—(INS)—The 1927 make-up of the Virginia League, which heretofore has contained one or two Carolina berths will remain uncertain until February 5.

The Virginia League moguls will meet on that day at Norfolk, Va., according to an announcement by William G. Bramham, of Durham, president of the Virginia League.

The meeting of the league directors was postponed for a few weeks in order to allow Lynchburg, Danville and Roanoke, Va., the three cities contemplating bidding for the open Kingston, N. C., franchise, ample time to take over the berth.

Provided a Tar Heel successor to Klinton is not found at the time the league directors meet at Norfolk, it is believed that Wilson, N. C., which is anxious to obtain a berth in the Piedmont League, will make an attempt to get permission from the Old Dominion League to withdraw its franchise.

If the Wilson club is permitted to withdraw from the Virginia League and is refused admittance to the Piedmont loop, President Bramham will be faced with the necessity of making the Virginia League an all-Virginia circuit. Heretofore it has included two or more North Carolina towns.

ASSEMBLY QUARTET ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Assembly quartet is getting into action.

Half an hour before sessions its harmony may be heard reverberating through the capitol corridors.

WHEELER DECLARES NATION HEADING TO WAR WITH MEXICO

Says Unless Policies Changed War Will Result Within Next Two Years

New York, Jan. 31.—War with Mexico within two years is predicted by U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat Montana, unless policies of the present administration are changed.

Senator Wheeler believes the disturbed situation in Central America is made more difficult by the temperance of Secretary of State Kellogg who sees a Bolshevik under every sage brush between Washington and Mexico City.

"We are held back on the meanest kind of imperialistic policy," he said. "I predict if the policy of this administration is pursued there will be a war in two years. I predict unless public sentiment is aroused that when Congress is adjourned Secretary Kellogg will withdraw recognition from Mexico. The arms embargo will be lifted. There will be revolution. Marines will be sent to Mexico to protect our property. Somebody will get shot. Then we will be at war with Mexico and maybe with all Central and South America."

"It is impossible to stand behind President Coolidge in the crisis unless one had St. Vitus' dance."

URGE ENGLAND TO WITHHOLD TROOPS FROM SHANGHAI

Foreign Minister of Chinese Government Asks Great Britain Stop Sending Troops

Peking, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Wellington Koo, foreign minister of the northern government, today addressed a note to the British legation here protesting against dispatching British forces to Shanghai and asked that it be transmitted to London in the hope that the British government would give the necessary instruction for immediate withdrawal of troops dispatched to China so that nothing untoward may happen to mar the friendly relations of the two nations.

The foreign minister's note declared the dispatch of additional naval and military forces to China is contrary to the spirit of the League of Nations covenant. The military movement on the part of the British government is liable to lead to serious misunderstanding.

Dr. Koo further declared that "if the object of the expedition was merely to protect the Shanghai international settlement, such is unnecessary" and maintains that "Chinese authorities are capable of doing that while the presence of a large number of foreign troops might lead to unforeseen complications for which the Chinese government could not be held responsible."

Rebellion in Mexico Dealt Its Death Blow

Mexico City, Jan. 31.—(AP)—While all Catholic priests of the State of Jalisco have been notified to report daily to the Department of Interior in Mexico City after February 1, so far as was known today priests in other States will not be molested. Special dispatches say the action was taken because of Catholic agitation in Jalisco.

A report to the War Department tells that after a sharp combat the rebellion in Jalisco has received its death blow. The report described how a large group of rebels was overtaken by federal soldiers. The rebels fled and were pursued by the federal forces. The number of casualties was not mentioned.

TO INQUIRE INTO KILLING NEAR RALEIGH

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 31.—(INS)—Inquest into the death of Oris Pace, Neuse farmer, will be held here Thursday. It has been announced by Coroner L. M. Waring.

Pace was killed near here in an automobile accident. James Hanan, alleged driver of the automobile which turned turtle and resulted in Pace's death, is being held under heavy bond pending the hearing.

EVOLUTION BILL TO REACH FLOOR OF THE ASSEMBLY

Unofficial Poll of Leg- islators Indicates That Bill Will Get Small Vote

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—(AP)—North Carolina will not become a "Monkey" state, but its General Assembly will hear full quotas of "Evolution" argument, both pro and con.

That is the consensus gathered by the Associated Press in an informal poll of legislature leaders returning to the capital today for the fifth assembly week. The poll took in members known to be both for the Poole bill and against it. On one thing they agreed:

The measure will most probably reach the floor of the house. None was bold enough to predict that it would get there on a favorable report after its hearing before the education committee on February 10, but it was generally agreed that whether it was stamped without prejudice or "unfavorable" it would be brought into debate.

"The measure will have much greater support than it got last session," averred one of the outstanding leaders for the bill.

"It probably will get more support than last year," admitted a veteran house leader whose sympathies are known to be against the measure.

"It won't get more than 20 votes," asserted a young member from one of the more populous counties. Discussion, in interview, was authentic but private, reported to reflect trend more or less.

The matter, although little discussed just now, is expressly recognized as one of grave import. Not a few representatives personally against any interference with freedom of thought, will have to vote for it if they keep faith with their constituents. Just how strong sentiment is for the bill in some parts of the state was demonstrated more or less in the election last fall when Will Neal, veteran from McDowell, was defeated by a Republican. Other Democrats won out, but Representative Neal's adverse vote on the 1925 Poole bill was used against him with deadly effect in the rural communities of his county.

More than one lawmaker expressly realizes that his hold on a seat in 1929 may depend upon the way he is recorded as voting on the measure.

Generally, it is realized too, that the Hoke county editor's meaner comes up in better shape than it did last time. There is no secret that it was drawn by Tam Bowie and has the approval of the North Carolina Bible League, an organization busily at work for the bill.

That the measure would be constitutional, is vouched for by Mr. Bowie, and that chances of its passage are better for Mr. Bowie's connection with it is not denied.

The prowess of the Ashe county politician is known to everyone who has followed Tar Heel political doings. The manner in which he traded and cajoled the last assembly over of a railroad for the so-called "Lost Provinces" has not been forgotten even if the Supreme Court did kill the railroad act on the grounds of unconstitutionality.

Universally legislative circles ready to plunge into real work of lawmaking tonight, are facing the prospect of an early "Monkey fight" in the house.

But the Senate.

That question, put to an observer since the nineties, brought only a smile.

"The Senate, God bless it," he said, "will save the state."

Which meant it may pass or defeat the bill—or not receive it.

Four Miners Were Killed Today by Gas Explosion

Isey, Ky., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Four miners were killed in an explosion in the mine of the Isey Coal Company here today. The explosion occurred when the electric current was turned on. An electric spark probably ignited a gas pocket, according to reports.

 Lots of self-made men for get their wives bossed the job.
 Modern bad men count victims by notches on their fingers.
 If one wasn't born every minute this would be a dull world.
 A little kindness has to go a long way because the supply is short.
 It pays to be good, but even the good dollar often is drawn and quartered.
 Some folks' idea of politeness is to put "please" in front of "remit at once."

CROP OR PRICE
 We feel it not amiss to again call to the attention of the farmers of this section against the planting of large tobacco and cotton crops this year. What happened to the price of last year's cotton crop will no doubt be duplicated in this year's tobacco prices if the crop is too large and the farmers who increase their cotton and tobacco acreage this year are but inviting safe disaster. Either the crop or the price must suffer a cut, and the wise farmer will see to it that the cut is in crop rather than in price.
 It takes a lot of hard knock and a lot of teaching to make us change old habits and practices. But let us hope that the knock-out blow that low-priced cotton has dealt the average farmer of this section will lead to the adoption of a program embracing a variety of crops. In no other way can we permanently build prosperity in this great agricultural country. Agriculture may be helped by temporary measures but it can only be saved by placing it on the firm foundation of a variety of crops, building it gradually from the bottom up.

TIME
 It is not time—seconds, minutes, hours, even years—but the use that men make of time that makes the difference in man's fortunes.
 Nature is absolutely impartial in the distribution of her hours. She gives to no man time that she does not give to another. The same morning gives every man an equal start with his fellow and the same night finds each another day further on the journey or lost by the wayside.
 But all the time that nature gives to any man is the present. Man makes his own past and future. Grasp the opportunity of the golden present that the past may not bring regrets nor the future be without hope.

 The great promising but evanescent NOW must be grasped in its potent whole to secure the future and free the past of regret.
 Are six, eight, ten, twelve or eighteen hours a day a man's allotted work? Not by all eternity. There are twenty-four hours on the clock and in man's working day. Man's work is twenty-four hours of sleep, recreation eating and labor. There are no hours in the diurnal circuit for idleness misguided recreation and intemperance in eating or sleeping. After the day's wage has been earned there is still life's wage, the dues of evolution which must be earned in fruitful reading, healthful thought and deep-delving introspection.
 Too many work-a-day men end work with the eight hours and wish for less, sleep ten hours and crave for more, eat to fullness and leave the table unsatisfied, hope in vain for the "luck in leisure," accept no opportunities to improve mind and body and see not that those who are getting ahead in this life are those for whom every "waking hour" is "working hour."
 Working hours are found for the unwise, but the wise find hours in which to work.

LET MAULTSBY REPAIR YOUR shoes. Mumford's building. 31-5t

NOTICE TO HORSE AND MULE owners of Pitt and adjoining counties—I am now prepared, with a horse shoeing shop, on wheels, to meet you at any point in these counties, to do shoeing or trimming of feet. No team should be plowed with long feet. They are subjected to split and hol-filth which created sand grave, and thrush. Sand gravel will not enter a short sound foot. As I could not afford to drive ten or twelve miles to trim two or three set of feet, see your neighbors and get them to co-operate with you. Sincerely, C. Madrin, Phone No. 334-W, Post Office Box 179. 27-6t

COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL
 Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
 Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
 Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if your cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Paris, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Paris is fast becoming the center of artistic American photographers.
 Maurice Abbot, who hails from Cleveland, Ohio, is the latest one to open a studio on the Left Bank, and already shows signs of becoming a serious rival of her well-known professor Man Ray, an American who has built up an enviable reputation in the French capital.
 Miss Abbott first studied sculpture in her native city, then went to Paris for a year, and finally landed in Paris three years ago. She happened to meet Man Ray at this time, who by chance, nestled in assistant and she accepted the place, doing what any other person would have named pure drudgery and not even holding a camera in her hands for an entire year. When that time came, however, she showed what she had learned.
 From the very first day almost, her pictures were unusually good, showing a strong and simple sense of sincerity. Miss Abbott does not strive for the effect of a pretty picture. There are no elaborate backgrounds and no trick lighting effects. Her portraits, which are now considered the best to be found in Paris, are most natural and convincing and have what one likes to see, good old "folksiness."
 The walls of her studio are covered with portraits of celebrities who have paid her the honor to sit for her. This young American is a good example of her theory that women make the best photographers because of their native intuition and ability to give attention to details.

The last fine old residence on the avenue des Champs Elysees will shortly be torn down and the pleasant bit of green garden surrounding it will make way for some modern commercial palace.
 The "hotel du Duc de Massa" as this little "bijou" of the eighteenth century has long been called, was built in 1769 by Thiroux de Montsaugue, of the Postal administration. When the Italian Minister, Mareschall, took possession of it, it became the center of some of the most brilliant fetes and balls Paris has ever seen. At one in the year, 1809, the Queen of Naples organized the quadrille which represented a chess-board, with the highest personages of the court taking the place of the ivory men.
 At another memorable ball in 1811, the Emperor Napoleon was the hero. Masked as a domino he tried in vain to have an intrigue, but one dancer recognized him by his short stature, another by his familiar habit of keeping his hands behind his back. Three times he attempted without success and the great General had to avow he was a failure that night in the little hotel de Massa.
 At this epoch there existed only three houses all along the great avenue, and this little house was one of them. In 1814, the Russian Cossacks camped on the grass and tied their horses to the trees. Under Napoleon III a few concert halls and balls were set up at the Round-Point and in 1871 the Prussians marched down from the Arc de Triomphe, past the little hotel to the Place de la Concorde.

 French royalists are rejoicing over the recent event which makes the Duc de Guise, pretender to the throne of France, the grandfather of twins. The two little girl babies who thus are in the direct line of descent of the former royal family of France, are the daughters of Conte and Comtesse Bruno d'Har-court. Their mother as a Princess of the royal house, still bears the title of Princess Isabelle de France.
 The father, Count Bruno d'Har-court, is descended from one of the oldest Norman feudal families, and some of his ancestors accompanied William the Conqueror to England in 1066. The d'Harcourts possess large estates in the Calvados department in Normandy and they usually reside at Versailles, but the twins came into the world on the Duc de Guise's large Moroccan estate at Larache.
 French women are gradually coming into their own. From now on they will be able to take seats in the "parterre" of the first National Theatre, the Comedie Francaise, the five last rows of seats always reserved for men only.
 No reason was ever given why they were prohibited from these precincts and now no explanation is made for the change of mind on the part of the general administration. The women are not asking for any they are only too happy to sit in one of the best places in the famous old "house of Moliere" for a very small number of francs.

PATRIOTS CHAPTER D. A. R. MEETS WITH MRS. BAKER

The Greenville Patriots Chapter of the D. A. R., held their January meeting with Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. H. F. Jones, Mrs. J. E. Nobles and Mrs. J. R. Barker as assisting hostesses.

The meeting was opened with the flag salute and the American's Creed by the chapter, led by the regent, Mrs. R. L. Smith. Roll call and treasurer's report were followed by reports from committees. Mrs. J. J. Summerell, chairman of the Ellis Island committee, read a letter requesting a shower for immigrants detained at Ellis Island for long periods of time. The chapter voted that this be held in February—the date to be announced later. This concluded the business and a delightful program was then given.

"A New Year's Resolution," by the president general, Mrs. Broseau was read by Mrs. Sam White. A most interesting paper on Benjamin Franklin, written by Mrs. J. B. James was read by Mrs. L. G. Cooper.

Following this was a minuet by six children in costume, Warren Scoville, Martha Scoville, Alice Dickinson, Janice McGowan, Lillie Mayo Jones, Florence Jones. The next number was presented by Mrs. J. B. Moye, who read the tender love stories of Dorothy Quincy and Pocahontas, while the two characters were posed in authentic costume by Mrs. George Hadley and Miss Helen Gray James.

In conclusion a flag song, Betsy Ross, was sung by the children who had given the minuet.

A delicious ice course in national colors was served by the hostesses. The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Lulu Fleming, Mrs. W. S. Harden, Mrs. T. A. Person, Mrs. Edgeworth Smith of New York; Mrs. Earl Jeannette of Henderson, and Mrs. L. B. Jones.

Greenville High Loses to New Bern

Friday night the Greenville high school basketball squad journeyed to New Bern to play the high school team, and were defeated 33 to 17.

In the first quarter of play, Captain Jones was removed from the game on account of four personal fouls, and this seemed to take the "pep" out of the local team. It seemed that we were unable to find the basket while New Bern could easily do so. As New Bern won the game, the series with them is evenly divided, we having won over them last Tuesday.

For Greenville, Hicks and Curry led in the offensive work, with six points each. Good shooting for the opponents was displayed by Henry.

The line-up follows:

Greenville	New Bern
Denton	Forward
Burnette	Forward
Jones (c)	Center
Hicks	Guard
Curry	Guard

Substitutes: Respass for Jones.

The next game for the locals will be held Tuesday night with Rocky Mount high school. The game is predicted to be a close one as both teams are considered fast. The local squad is hoping that everyone will be present to support them. The game will be played at 8 o'clock at Gorman's warehouse.

GOVERNOR REVOKES PRISONER'S PAROLE

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Edgar Williams has been sent back to the roads after living the life of a free citizen since September 19, 1925.

Williams didn't escape, he simply made a better record as a prisoner than he did on the outside, and Governor McLean revoked his parole.

He was sent to the roads of Davidson County in December, 1922, for an assault with a deadly weapon and for carrying a concealed weapon. His total sentence was three years.

Parole was granted upon request of the Mayor of Lexington and a host of prominent Davidson County citizens.

It was revoked when reports reached the Governor that he had violated grossly the provisions under which he was granted his freedom.

Litter of Pigs at County Home May Get Medal for Size

The old saying is that "Pigs is Pigs," but according to Supt. R. E. Corbett, at the county home, "Pigs is soon Hogs" if they are all like those he is raising at the home. A litter of ten, five months old pigs at the home now weigh 1900 pounds and if their combined weights reach the ton mark by the 28th day of February a medal for the litter will be awarded by the Agricultural and Industrial Division of Extension Service of North Carolina.

The division awards medals for each litter of pigs that reach a combined weight of a ton by the end of the sixth month and the litter at the county home has at 44 pounds to gain within the next thirty days to be entitled to the medal. There are ten pigs in the litter which means that each pig must show a gain in weight of a fraction over four pounds during the month.

Officials from the Extension Division will be on hand for the final weighing.

The following are the weights recorded by Supt. Corbett at the various ages of the litter: 816 pounds at three months; 1331 pounds at four months; 1900 pounds at five months.

Can I afford to sacrifice my pleasure and appearance for the sake of a little time and small cost?

Read the announcement of our offer below, before you attempt to answer the question above, and then ask yourself this frank question—

"CAN I AFFORD NOT TO AFFORD TO ACCEPT THIS OFFER?"

THEIR Reason!

When you mention the word "Beauty Shoppe" to many women, they quickly say, "Oh, I can do my work just as well at home" or "I just can't afford it!" Then ask a man about his Barber Shop—and note the difference in his answer. The REAL question is—

Can Any Woman Afford NOT to Afford It?

Ask any woman who completes her own toilette-at home—if she knows what the content of the various creams or shampoo soap she uses, and just as quickly she will say "NO," but she knows it is all right, because the label SAYS SO.

Then ask us if WE know what creams and shampoo soap we use, and even more quickly we will answer, "YES." Because we make it a profession. We have STUDIED our work and materials that we use, therefore we KNOW.

Every cream, hair tonic, or soap we use is absolutely 100 PER CENT PURE. All our instruments are sterilized so that no germ can escape.

Ask any druggist if full strength Formalin is strong enough to kill germs. Then ask him if Imported Castile Soap is not the purest soap that is made—and he will answer, "yes."

If you were ill, would you send for a few bottles of Patent Medicines, or would you call in a doctor? Certainly, the latter course? Why? Because you have been taught that patent medicines are something to shun, unless you are absolutely sure as to what they contain.

The same rule applies, more or less, to the various hundreds of beauty preparations. Don't ruin your skin, scalp or hair by using something you know absolutely nothing about—but let one who has spent years in the study of Beauty Culture advise you—and note the difference in your appearance.

BEGINNING TOMORROW

February 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5th

Simply make a $10.00 purchase of anything in our Shoppe, and we will present you absolutely free, a—

$5.00 Service Card

This offer is an inducement to you to become acquainted with the service we render in our Beauty Shoppe, and positively will end Saturday night, February 5th. We cannot afford to extend the time limit, and this is the last offer of its kind we will make this year.

Does This Offer Appeal to You?

If you think so, come down any day this week and let us prove to you that The Vanitie Boxe renders a complete service to the woman of today who realizes that she must appear at her best on all occasions.

To the woman who says she can complete her toilette "just as well" at home, without the aid of a trained Beautician, we say—

Can you really clean house with a worn-out broom and hit-and-miss methods?

OUR Reason!

During 1926 The Vanitie Boxe went forward with rapid strides. We made hundreds of new friends and customers—even friends who had never before patronized a Beauty Shop—ask those some people now, and they will tell you that The Vanitie Boxe is just as necessary to women of this section today, as the Barber Shop is to men—AND IT IS!

During 1927 we have resolved to add new patrons to our already growing list, and for this reason we are making this offer—all but giving away merchandise, in order to induce you to try our service, because we have faith enough in our patrons and faith enough in ourselves, to know that once you try our service, you will realize that a woman cannot complete her toilette in the home, unaided, any more than she could REALLY CLEAN a rug without a vacuum cleaner!

Legislature Side Lights

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Dr. J. E. Hart, "adjourning Representative from Anson," insists that he is saving the state when he ends House sessions.

Tam Bowie, former speaker of the House, and who hails from the wilds of Ashe county, has been extended the privileges of the floor. Tam came down out of the hills with the People's Evolution bill in his pocket, and his official O. K. as attorney for the North Carolina Bible League.

Ralph Simmerson, former page but now Senate committee clerk was exhibiting an autoerographed portrait of Governor Vic Donahay of Ohio in the assembly halls last week. The versatile Simmerson said he met the Ohio chief executive in Washington while attending a convention and that they became quite chummy.

"Let them forget," bound copier of the proposed budget for the next biennium have been presented to all assemblymen.

Personnel of the State Board of Health failed to express any great apprehension over losing their jobs as a result of a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Poole, of evolution fame, to abolish the whole business and put in a Health Commissioner in their stead. The opinion was expressed that the Hoke county man did not have much support in assembly halls this year.

The "Hell Raiser from Currituck" is on the job. Never was there a school marm more diligent in keeping order among derelict charges. "Rap, rap, rap," sounds Speaker Fountain's gavel when the house members engage in too much sub-rosa conversation. "There must be order in the House," shouts the "Hell-raiser" shaking his fists at offenders. Usually he gets it. That's a way he says they have down in the country where fish are caught by the boat load and sold by the ton.

Wake Forest, Duke, Davidson, Elin, Guilford and other names of denominational schools in this state will no longer appear in connection with public dances without dire consequences. The Lee-Nettles bill has passed both houses. It provides a minimum fine of $100 or imprisonment for using the denominational college names without permission of the deans.

Wildcat scalps are worth no money in Macon county now. The bill providing for the repeal of a bounty for them has been passed in both houses.

Rep. Boyd, Haywood, insists that it is just as much his right to go without a necktie as it is the Governor's to wear a "Jim-swingler" out. Consequently the lawmaker from beyond the mountain does not wear one. His only neck ornament is a stiff collar fastened in front with a gold collar button.

Two hours is the maximum session of either house so far. Meeting at noon, the members appear to get extremely restless after the routine of introducing bills is passed and try to hurry through passing local bills on the calendar.

MARKETS

COTTON

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. March 13.31; May 13.51; July 13.70; October 13.95; December 14.10.

New York, Jan. 31.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of three to four points under Southern selling and realizing on liquidation, prices easing off to 13.09 for March and 13.70 for July during the first few minutes or about four or five points net lower.

Trading was quiet after. At midday May was selling around 13.50 and October 13.93 for about four to five points net lower.

STOCKS

New York, Jan. 31.—A rising tendency ushered in the new week on the New York Stock Exchange. Oils assumed the leadership of the early advance. Pan-American B opened a point higher and a number of others showed fractional improvements on initial sales. Collins and Aikman resumed its advance by moving up a point in the first few minutes of trading.

Peaches Evades Crowds

Frances (Peaches) Browning (left), accompanied by her mother and another companion, left the courthouse at White Plains, N. Y., by a side door to avoid crowds that jammed the main entrance to see her and Edward W. (Daddy) Browning, principals in the noted separation action.

YOUTHFUL BANDITS

SLAY FORT WORTH THEATRE TREASURER

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Roscoe Wilson, treasurer of the Majestic Theatre here, was shot and killed today by two youths who were attempting to rob the theatre. Wilson resisted and was shot in the mouth. The youths escaped.

The British Ministry of Agriculture says the sweetness of sugarbeets has a peculiar attraction for rats, causing them to overrun the great sugar beet producing centers in the eastern counties of England.

TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power and authority contained in a certain deed of trust dated April 29th, 1925, recorded in Book V-15, page 203, in the office of the Register of Deeds for Pitt county, North Carolina, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, the undersigned trustee will, at noon on Tuesday, March 1st, 1927, at the court house door in the town of Greenville, Pitt county, N.
